Summary

“If you want to change that, just let me know and I will help you” the black haired boy suddenly said and leaned against the counter.

“Sex, Jimin, I can teach you”

What starts as something being totally platonic and sex related, becomes difficult once both boys get closer with each of their meetings.
or Jungkook offers to teach and guide Jimin in sex after Jimin is being made fun of for being a virgin.

Notes

Hi! :)

Okay, so first of all, I am the writer of the story “Never Be The Same”. If you were a reader of the story, you will have noticed that I have taken the story down. I have done this because of continuous false accusations of me copying another story. I have repeatedly said that I did not read the other story nor was I inspired by it or copied it.

However, the harassment continued until it started to affect my mental health and took away the enjoyment of writing the story. That is why I decided to take the story down. I'm sorry to everyone who really enjoyed the story and left nice comments for me. :(

Then I decided to write this story. I changed parts of the concept, but I kept my idea of Jungkook teaching Jimin in sex. I have not taken this idea from anybody else. I have not read any story were Jungkook teaches Jimin in sex so please don't tell me that I have. Please stop sending me hate, too, thank you :(

Parts of this story, like the characterisation or some scenes, will be similar to my previous story "Never Be The Same" as I didn't want to lose all of my already written parts and the overall story line is still similar. I hope you enjoy this story :) <3

Furthermore, I'm sorry about having posted the story like 14 times. I kept getting an error message so I tried to upload it again and again. Turns out the story got posted every single time :') It was a mess to delete all the other uploads again and I lost some kudos and hits, but most unfortunately, I lost your comments :( Sorry that I couldn't reply to you, but thank you so much for your comments even if they are gone now :(

I hope you enjoy this story. Any wishes or feedback are welcome <3
Prologue

Chapter Summary

Yoongi throws a party in celebration of getting a new job. At said party, Jimin meets Jungkook for the first time. He makes Jimin an offer that shocks the smaller boy.

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

Jimin pulled his sleeves over his hands as he entered the crowded house, people dancing and screaming around him. Immediately a feeling of insecurity and anxiety overcame him, feeling totally out of place. He pushed his blond – yet almost silver – hair out of his face as he walked past all those people making out or dancing beside him.

The blond boy didn't really like parties. He was shy and wasn't that good at socialising. It had taken some time to warm up to his friends he had now. He felt comfortable with them and loved spending time with them rather than going to these huge parties.

However, today was a big day. Yoongi, one of his friends, had just gotten a job at a big entertainment company as a producer and song writer and he invited a lot of people to celebrate that news, one of them being Jimin. At first, Jimin had hesitated, but it was Yoongi and he always took care and looked after Jimin, like a big brother, so it was only right for Jimin to appear, too. It had taken him a lot of courage actually, to step out of his comfort zone like this. So many people he didn't even know were here, but he tried to focus on his friends solely.

“Hey, finally!” A brown haired boy screamed out and waved at Jimin, trying to make him notice him.

Relief bloomed in the smaller boy as he recognised his best friend, “Tae” He replied and walked over to where he was sitting on a sofa, plastic cup in his hand.

“I really thought you wouldn't come” The taller boy revealed and smiled brightly as he pointed at the seat next to him for Jimin to sit down, which he did.

“I'm so happy for him, he really wanted that job”

Jemin nodded. Yoongi was very hard working and had dreamed about people hearing his music and he finally got the chance to do that now. The smaller boy was very proud and happy for him. Actually, he even inspired and motivated Jimin to work harder.

“Where is he?” The blond boy wanted to know and scanned the living room, only seeing faces he didn't recognise. Bodies were grinding against each other to the music, some people were making out in the corners of the room and some were playing a game of spin the bottle in a small circle.

“Outside with some of his friends. He asked me where you were” Tae said and smiled lightly before he took a sip of his drink. Now that Jimin stared at his best friend, he noticed that he was dressed really nicely. Slim fitted black pants that always defined his butt, white shirt that was a bit see through and a big jeans jacket. Taehyung really knew a lot about fashion, no wonder as he was trying to become a model and had an internship at a fashion company. Jimin glanced down on himself. He was dressed pretty ordinarily, as to not attract much attention. Not that anyone would even spare him a glance anyway.

“Go for it. Wait, I will accompany you. There was this cute dude with him that I have never seen before. Gotta figure out who that is” The brown haired boy grinned as he got up, Jimin following him as he swallowed hard. He wasn't sure if he would be able to get a word out with new people around him, especially if they were as good looking as Taehyung was saying.

They walked outside in the backyard where more people were dancing, some smoking illegal substances as Jimin smelled when he walked past them. He coughed as he followed Taehyung who seemed to have already found Yoongi.

Jimin looked up and saw two other people stand next to Yoongi, heart beating faster at the realisation. One of them was only slightly taller than Yoongi, brown hair slightly curled on top of his head and features bright and smiley. The other one, however, was taller than all of them except maybe Taehyung, strong features and no smile on his face. He was staring right at Jimin, making the smaller boy avert his eyes to the ground as he kept walking over to them.

“Jiminnie, finally, glad you came” Yoongi uttered as he patted his head gently.

“Of course, hyung, congratulations. I'm so happy for you” Jimin replied, voice soft and genuine as he gave a slight smile.

“How was work today?”

“Good. Well, quiet” Jimin answered and shrugged his shoulders, Taehyung and Yoongi chuckling like it was a joke just between them.

The other two boys glanced between Yoongi and Jimin, confusion on their face.

“Guys, this is Jimin” Yoongi introduced and pointed at the boy, “And this is Taehyung. Two of my dongsaengs. I have told you about them before”

“Really? I hope only good stuff” Taehyung grinned as he arched an eyebrow up. He stared right at the boy with the bright features and smile on his face.

“This is Hoseok. My dongsaeng I have known for a long time now. He lived in Gwanju for a while, but moved back to Seoul recently.” Yoongi uttered and pointed at the bright boy who waved slightly and let out a happy “Hey” He pointed at the more serious looking one. Jimin risked a glimpse but regret washed over him when he noticed that the boy was already staring at him, quickly averting his eyes again, “This is Jungkook, another dongsaeng of mine. In fact, he's the youngest among all of us, but don't let that fool you, guy could crush you in a fight, right?” Yoongi chuckled as he swatted his arm slightly, the other one – Jungkook as Jimin had just learned – smirking slightly.

“I did martial arts when I was younger, not that much anymore though” The black haired boy talked, Jimin swallowing hard at his low voice. The small boy found himself blushing when he looked at Jungkook, handsome features and muscular body intimidating him.

“Oh, he's from Busan by the way, Jimin-ah. Just like you” Jimin looked up at that, smiling slightly as he gave a nod and glanced at Jungkook once more who was looking him up and down. Jimin wanted to run away under that intense stare.

“I-I haven't been to Busan in a while” The smaller boy stuttered and looked back to Yoongi who nodded knowingly.

“Well, do you want a drink, Jimin-ah?” Yoongi wanted to know as he pushed his black hair out of his face.

“Uhm, just... I will get myself a coke or something like that”

“Okay, you know where the stuff is.”

Jimin nodded as he looked over at Taehyung, who was still staring seductively at Hoseok and walked closer to him now to have a conversation. The blond boy chuckled slightly as shook his head and made his way over to walk back inside.

The blond boy walked past the other people again and went into the kitchen where he grabbed a plastic cup and opened the fridge to take out the coke. Carefully, to not spill anything, he filled his cup with the drink and put the bottle in the fridge afterwards.

As the smaller boy took a sip and walked over to the living room again, he scanned the room. He choked on his drink as he saw Jungkook staring at him. This was getting creepy now. Why was he looking at Jimin so intensely? Was there something on his face? The smaller boy wiped his sleeve over his cheeks just to make sure.

Quickly, Jimin fixed his eyes on something else, glancing at the people who were playing truth or dare next to him. Suddenly, a girl locked eyes with him and grinned. “Hey, why don't you play with us? We need one more person!”

Jimin looked around to figure out who she meant. However, he was the only one standing there. “M-Me?” He wanted to make sure and pointed at himself.

She nodded and grabbed him by his wrist, pulling him down on the floor next to her.

Oh god, this was not good. Jimin didn't like these games. They were just there to expose or humiliate people. Jimin was the perfect target for that as he was already awkward around people to begin with.

However, it didn't go so bad at first – at least not for Jimin. He wasn't chosen so far – which he was glad about, but had also expected as no one here knew him. Some people had to make out, a girl exposed how often she had given a blowjob and two people were sent off to a room for 20 minutes to do god knows what. Jimin's cheeks were flushed and he just wanted to end the game before anything bad happened.

He decided to just say that he had to go use the restroom after the next round, scared of having to do something he didn't want to.

“J-Jimin”

“Truth or Dare”

Here it was. Honestly, choosing truth was safer, wasn't it? He didn't want to be dared to go into a room with someone or make out with any of these people who were already so drunk and some of them probably high.

“Truth”

“Booooring” One girl shouted and the others laughed. Jimin blushed and looked down on the floor.

“Okay, so, how often did a person ever make you come in a row?”

Oh god.

Jumin opened his mouth in shock at the question. What kind of question was that? That was incredibly private and intimate. It was none of their business how often – zero. The answer was zero. The blond boy was still a virgin.

“I-I'm... Zero. I have never... never had sex”

“What about handjobs? Blowjobs?”

The smaller boy shook his head. It was quiet for a moment until everyone bursted out into laughs.

“Oh my god, never? You're a fucking virgin?”

Jumin felt tears swell up in his eyes. Why were they so mean? The smaller boy had his reasons for not having had sex so far. It was personal to him. He did want to change that fact, but there was no one he trusted.

“We can change that right now if you want” One guy said and cocked his eyebrows up, licking his lips in a seductive way.

“Fuck off, Sooyang” A voiced behind Jumin said. The smaller boy looked up and saw none other than Jungkook. Great, he was here to laugh at Jimin, too, “Jimin, get up. Yoongi wants to see you”

Relief went through the boy as he got up, thanking god for being saved from this situation, thanking Jungkook even though he kind of scared him.

The black haired boy placed his hand on his back and they walked away, a shiver running down Jumin's back at the slight touch.

“Don't listen to them” The taller boy said as they walked into the kitchen that was empty.

Jumin wiped away the tears and turned away from Jungkook, not wanting the other male to see him cry, “As if you didn't laugh, as well” The blond boy said, voice shaky.

“Why would I laugh about that? You decide when to have sex. No need to rush things”

“It's not that... It's just that I don't... Argh, I don't know. It's difficult to explain” The blond boy groaned in frustration and turned around again, locking eyes with Jungkook. His eyes were big and brown, the opposite to Jumin's small eyes, “I'm just... tired of people making fun of me for that”

“Don't let their words get to you, Jimin-sssi. They are hormonal teenage kids, they don't do anything other than fuck each other's brains out”

Jumin's cheeks started to heat up at his choice of words. Jungkook stared at him intently, glancing back and forth between his eyes. It seemed as if he wanted to say more, but he didn't.

“I don't know anything about sex” Jumin revealed for whatever reason. He didn't even know the boy, but he was friends with Yoongi and Yoongi was very selective with who he calls his friend. That must mean that Jungkook is trustworthy and loyal and wouldn't judge him.

“If you want to change that, just let me know and I will help you with that” The black haired boy suddenly said and leaned against the counter. Was he serious? What exactly did he mean? Why did he even suggest that to Jimin?

“Sex, Jimin-ssi, I can teach you”

With that, he exited the kitchen, leaving behind a very confused and flustered Jimin.

Chapter End Notes

Sooo, I know this is quite short. The next chapters will be longer :)

Why do you think Jungkook made that offer? :) Also, why do you think Jungkook kept watching Jimin? :)

I hope you enjoy the story and aren't too sad that I deleted the other one. Some sex scenes will be similar <3
Jimin talks to Taehyung about Jungkook's offer and makes a decision. Hopefully, it is the right one...

Chapter Notes

Hi :)

I just wanted to thank you all so much for all the love on the first chapter. You were so kind to me and I loved all of your comments <3

Enjoy this chapter :)

Jimin was literally frozen in his place, not moving nor blinking. He must have misunderstood Jungkook. That was the only explanation... The taller boy didn't even know him. Why did he make that offer?

Letting out a shaky breath, the blond boy pushed his hair back and exited the kitchen. He should go. The small boy was tired anyway and all he had wanted to do was congratulate Yoongi and appear at his party for a short while. However, Jungkook had mentioned that Yoongi wanted to talk to him.

Quickly, Jimin walked past all those other people, back outside into the backyard. He found Yoongi fairly fast. The black haired guy was standing next to some other people, singing a song he didn't know at the top of his lungs. Jimin couldn't help but smile at the image, walking over to his friend to say goodbye.

“Hyung, I'm gonna head home. I'm tired and I want to practice early in the morning” Jimin tried to get his attention. Yoongi shut up immediately and smiled at the other male, nodding slightly.

“Jungkook said you wanted to talk to me?" Confused, Yoongi cocked his head to the side, furrowing his eyebrows. “I haven't seen Jungkook since I introduced you to him and Hoseok”

Opening his mouth in suprise, Jimin let out a small “O-Oh”

Why had he made that up?

Suddenly, it hit him. He had done that to have a reason for taking Jimin with him, away from those laughing people. Something warm bloomed in Jimin's chest at the realisation, making him shudder.

“Glad you were here regardless, Jimin-ah” The man mumbled, seemingly even drunker than earlier as his thick Daegu accent came through. He threw his arm around Jimin and hugged him tightly, “Give Hoseok-ah and Jungkook-ah a chance, they are good kids, trust me on this” The boy almost whispered before he broke away from the hug, giving Jimin's head a small pat.

“Text me when you get home”

“Will do, hyung, and congrats again. Good night”

“Thanks, Jiminie. G’night”

With that, Jimin gave a slight wave before he turned around and walked away. He should probably take Taehyung with him, considering Tae would kill him if Jimin would leave without him or at least without a notice. However, as Jimin found the other boy, he thought that over.

His best friend was still spending time with Hoseok, both sitting cross-legged on the grass, laughing at something. They seemed to get on well even though they only knew each other for like two hours. Taehyung was smiling brightly, a boxed smile – as Jimin called it – and swatted Hoseok's arm. Jimin unconsciously mirrored the smile. He loved seeing his best friend so genuinely happy.

Eventually, he decided to not go over to Taehyung and rather text him on his way home, not wanting to interrupt the moment or whatever conversation they were having. Jimin was sure that Tae would tell him all about it tomorrow anyway.

Finally, the blond boy left the backyard, making his way home.

“Do you think you can love someone by first sight?” Taehyung uttered, voice soft and genuine as his head layed in Jimin's lap, legs spread on the sofa.

“Of course, it is. Who else would it be? Dude is a literal angel. I don't just want him to take my body and fuck me senseless, I want him to take my heart all the same.”

Jimin blushed at his choice of words and slapped his arm, Taehyung sucking in a breath at the hit. “Ouch, what was that for? I'm just honest. I don't just want him to take my body and fuck me senseless, I want him to take my heart all the same.”

Jimin blushed at his choice of words and slapped his arm, Taehyung sucking in a breath at the hit. “Ouch, what was that for? I'm just honest. I don't just want him to just fuck me. Well, I do want that as well, but I want to know where he grew up, what his favourite song is, how he likes his eggs in the morning. You know? That deep kind of shit. I want all of it” His best friend clarified as he let out a sigh, still rubbing at his arm.

“Well, maybe not. I don't know what to call this. It's a crush. A deep crush”

Taehyung sat up abruptly, turning around just to be able to look at Jimin shocked. “Are you out of your mind? I can't just tell him! What if he doesn't feel the same? What if I'm just some random dongsaeng of Yoongi hyung's that he thinks he needs to look out for?”

“I don't think that's the case. Well, then again, I don't really know. He seemed very nice so I'm sure he would be nice to you even if he didn't feel the same way” Jimin tried to reason as he locked eyes with his best friend.

“I don't want him to reject me, Jiminie. That's the thing. I guess I will just have to pull out bigger guns and make him like me, too”

“Like what?”

“Oh, you know, send him signals, try to seduce him in a subtle way, all that stuff. Problem is, guy literally makes me stutter and blush. That never happens to me. You know me. Usually I have an amazing game, can get numbers just like that” Taehyung rambled and snapped his fingers to emphasise, “But with him, I couldn't even ask for his number”

“Maybe Yoongi hyung will give you his number”

The brown haired boy looked at him as if he had just taken all the stars out of the sky. “Jiminie, you are a genius. I will just make some random shit up as to why I need his number. I'm an intern at a fashion company! I will just ask him about his clothes or something, say that I liked what he wore and ask where he got it.” He seemed very keen on getting closer to Hoseok.

The blond boy chuckled at Taehyung's excitement. “You really do like him”

“You have no idea” The other boy whined and literally slumped back down in the sofa, head landing in Jimin’s lap.

“Can I ask you something?” Jimin finally got the courage to speak up, suddenly shy again.

“Uhm, do you remember Jungkook from yesterday? Hyung's friend?”

The brown haired boy furrowed his brows, cocking his head to the side as he let last night reminisce in his mind. “Eh, tall, handsome and younger than us?”

Jimin gave a faint nod.

Taehyung widened his eyes and his eyebrows shot up as he smiled brightly. “Oh my god, do you like him?”

Quickly, Jimin shook his head as his cheeks started to heat up. “N-No, why would you say that?”

The other boy pouted as he shrugged his shoulders slightly. “You never really talked to me about anybody you ever liked. As he was very attractive, I just assumed that you might like him a tiny bit because you want to talk about him”

“N-No, that's not, I mean he i-” The blond boy stuttered as he shook his head, “Whatever, that's not why I ask you. Something weird happened last night”

“Oooh, tell me” Taehyung said excited as he clapped his hands.

“Well, yesterday at the party there where some people who were playing Truth or Dare and they asked me to participate” Jimin started, Taehyung's excitement falling immediatley and instead being replaced by concern, “I did and at first it was fine, but then I got picked and I chose truth and they... and they asked me some weird intimate question. They found out that I am a virgin and started laughing.”
“Jimin-ah, don’t listen to-”

“Jungkook was there, too. Well, not in the group that played, but he got there after. I guess he heard what they did and saw them laughing. He made up a reason to pull me away and took me to the kitchen”

“He offered me something, Tae.”

“What is it?” The other male asked, concern blooming in him as he saw Jimin's expression, sitting up immediately.

“He offered to teach me in sex”

The smaller boy blushed even deeper as the words had left his mouth. Frankly, Jimin had thought that last night was just a dream and that that particular incident didn't happen. However, he was very sure it did. Could remember the intense stare of Jungkook and his low tone when he said those words so vividly, it couldn't have been just a dream. That actually happened.

“He offered me... well, yeah”

“Oh my god, this is...”

“Do you think he was making fun of me? Do you think he was joking?” Jimin asked, voice unsure. He looked very vulnerable, having been made fun off so often in his life now.

“No, I don't think so, honestly. I mean, I don't know him, but he's friends with Yoongi hyung and he trusts him. He would never let anyone near you who he thinks could potentially harm you in any way, especially as he knows what you have been through.”

“So you think he was genuine? That offer was genuine?”

The brown haired boy bit down on his bottom lip, thinking hard. “I don't see a reason why not. Did it sound sarcastic?”

“No, that's why I was confused. I even asked him to clarify and he just repeated it, explaining what he meant exactly”

“Mhm, well, maybe he is interested in you” Taehyung suggested, locking eyes with Jimin again who immediately blushed at his words.

“I don't think so. He barely spoke a word with me”

“Jimin-ah, you are attractive, see it for what it is. It's not far-fetched to think that he might be infatuated by you.”

“I highly doubt it. And wouldn't he have asked me to go on a date or something? Or try to make a move on me there at the party? Instead, he offered to help and teach me”

Taehyung pursed his lips. “Maybe that's just it. Maybe he wants to help you because he felt bad for you and because you are friends with Yoongi hyung?” His voice became softer.

“That's what I started to assume... Do you think I can trust him?”
The other male sighed, leaning his head on the sofa as he clicked his tongue, considering. “Honestly, yes. As I said, hyung would never let anyone come close to us who he thinks would harm us. He has been friends with Yoongi hyung for a long while. Hoseok hyung told me that they have all known each other for a long while, but they didn't live in Seoul for some time. That's why we never met them before. So, I say, he is immensely trustworthy if Yoongi hyung introduced him to us.”

Jimin bit onto his bottom lip, processing his words. He really wasn't so keen on the idea. How could he trust a stranger? But Yoongi was literally a good people reader, selective with the people he let close and would consider his friend. Jungkook and Hoseok must mean a lot to him and must have gained his trust if he spoke highly of them and introduced them to Jimin and Tae.

“He told me in the backyard that I should give them a chance, that they are nice kids”

“See, what more confirmation do you need? Hyung trusts them so I’m sure we can, too” Taehyung smiled brightly and nodded.

“Wouldn’t that be weird, though?” Jimin mumbled, voice so quiet and soft Tae could barely register his words.

“It's the perfect arrangement, actually, if you ask me. He will literally be like a teacher. No strings attached, no feelings whatsoever. He will just teach you. Also, he will have to be nice to you and if he hurts you, Yoongi hyung or I will beat his ass. Moreover, you can trust him because of Yoongi hyung, so there will already be an established trust bond between you, too, making it easier for you to let yourself fall and trust him with your body, getting comfortable with it.”

The way Tae made it sound, it really seemed like a good idea.

“I know that you want to try it” His best friend uttered, sympathising smile on his face, “You said that you really want to try it especially because of what happened in your childhood. However, you are just too shy to get to know and get close to people and if anyone ever tried to make a move on you, you didn't notice or understand what they were trying to do or you didn't trust them”

Jimin nodded, remembering it all too well whenever he talked with Taehyung about this topic. Especially after all the times the other one got home from one of his one night stands. There were some inner struggles and obstacles the smaller boy had to fight. He thought if he would just finally do this, he could overcome this struggle completely.

At one point, Yoongi and Tae had even offered to sleep with him to help him, knowing what he went through, but Jimin had declined their offer. He had been grateful about their support and their attempt to help him, but Jimin was sure it would be weird between them after that and he really didn't want anything to affect their friendship or brotherhood.

However, this idea seemed so frightening and strange. Jimin really doesn't know what to think of it. Then again, Taehyung makes it sound like such a good idea and the blond boy found himself agreeing more and more with Tae.

“Furthermore, you don't have the fear of making things weird between you two, either. There is not any kind of relationship between you two so there is nothing you can even make weird between you to begin with. Just plain sex, in a teaching manner, with a trust bond and he is attractive. Damn, this literally sounds like the best scenario ever, Jiminie. This is perfect for you. A perfect opportunity”

The smaller boy bit on the inside of his cheek, thinking over Taehyung’s words. He didn't know why, but the more he thought about it, the more he found himself liking the idea and agreeing with it.
“I mean, you could at least try. You don't have to fuck right away. Start with something smaller and just take it step by step. Also, talk to him and clarify what exactly he means. If he was just referring to literal sex, as in your first time, or if this is supposed to be a long term thing where he teaches you several things”

The way Taehyung talked about this, it seemed like he had already figured it all out, understood the idea and everything behind it. It scared the smaller boy a bit, but he was also grateful because it seemed like he could help Jimin out and give him advice.

“You wouldn't... you wouldn't judge me if I did that?” The blond boy whispered and averted his eyes.

There was silence for a moment. Suddenly, Taehyung started chuckling, “Me? Do you really think that? I'm no stranger to casual sex. In fact, I would consider myself quite the expert. It's just sex, Jiminie, I would never judge you about that.”

The smaller boy smiled shyly, grateful for his best friend.

“Thank you”

“Nothing to thank for”

Tae pulled him into a hug, embracing him tightly.

Hey, Jimin-ssi. This is Jungkook, Yoongi hyung’s friend. - Unknown

Jimin has been staring at this message for what feels like an hour now. His heart was beating incredibly fast and his mouth had become dry. Was this real?

He had written and deleted several messages, not knowing what to text back.

Hey, Jungkook. This is Jimin. - Jimin

Wow. He had thought for so long and this is what he ended up with? Wow, Jimin, good work there, buddy. Not like he didn't already know who you are.

The smaller boy hid his face in his hands, cheeks heating up in embarrassment, even if there was nobody to even see him.

Have you thought about my offer? - Jungkook

Jimin bit down on his lip and considered what to write next.

Where did you get my number from? - Jimin

Hyung gave it to me. I hope that's okay – Jungkook

Yeah, that's fine – Jimin

So? - Jungkook

Jimin let out a frustrated sigh. So this was serious, this was real. It was happening right now. What should he do? Oh, what should he do?
All he could think about was his conversation with Taehyung. However, now and then some memories from his childhood lingered in his mind, Jimin quickly shaking his head in hope to get rid of them.

Yes. - Jimin

Well, he should probably elaborate that one a bit more.

I mean, yes, I have thought about it. And yes, I want that. I mean, I want you to teach me – Jimin

Good. When are you free? - Jungkook

Jimin froze as he read over the message, cheeks heating up. Already? He already wanted to meet up?

Tomorrow night, I have work, but I'm free after – Jimin

Good. Is my place fine with you? Or would you prefer yours? - Jungkook

The blond boy scanned his small living room. Honestly, he would probably feel more comfortable in his own flat, wouldn't he? But he wasn't so keen on the idea of having Jungkook here, only trusting a few people to come into his apartment. Also, if it was at Jungkook's, he could just leave whenever he wanted.

Yours, please – Jimin

Good. I will send you my address. Is 8 fine with you? - Jungkook

This was so surreal and strange. It seemed so formal, the way they were talking about it.

Wait. I have some questions – Jimin

Go ahead. - Jungkook

Well, first of all, do you want anything in return? And what exactly do you mean in ‘teaching’? - Jimin

I mean teaching as in I will show you how sex works and anything that relates to it, whatever you wish to learn. No, I don't want anything in return – Jungkook

Why? I mean, why are you doing this – Jimin

It took a while for his next message to appear.

Do I need a reason? - Jungkook

Jimin bit on the inside of his cheeks. Well, he didn't really need one, but Jimin was sure he must have one. Why would anybody just do this for the sake of it?

I was just curious. No, you don't, sorry – Jimin

Do you not feel comfortable with this idea? It was just an offer, don't feel pressured, Jimin-ssi. - Jungkook

It's not that. It's just... I don't know what to think about this. I do want to try, though – Jimin

Okay, how about, we meet up and you see if you feel comfortable and want to keep going with it? If not, that's fine, too – Jungkook

That sounds good. Okay, thank you – Jimin

See you tomorrow then. - Jungkook

Yes, see you tomorrow – Jimin

The small boy let out a breath he didn't even know he had been holding. Tomorrow. This was really going to happen tomorrow.

Even though there was anxiety growing in Jimin, he also felt something else bloom inside of him... Anticipation.

Chapter End Notes

Hey! :)

Sorry, this chapter isn't as long as I wanted it to be. I was so busy these past two days that I didn't have much time to write, but I really wanted to update so I hope you aren't too sad and enjoy this chapter regardless :) I will try to update tomorrow again or after tomorrow. It's going to be their first, well, "lesson" :)
First Lesson

Chapter Summary

Jimin is nervous, yet excited about his first lesson with Jungkook, quite a few things happen.

Chapter Notes

Hi :)

Finally, the chapter is a little bit longer, like I promised :) I hope you enjoy it <3

Just to clarify: Yes, some sex scenes will be similar to the ones from my previous story “Never Be The Same” I have said that at the beginning of the story :) I just don't want these scenes to be wasted because it took me a while to write them and I really like them. I hope you understand <3

See the end of the chapter for more notes.

Jimin raised his hand, but quickly dropped it again, his heart suddenly beating faster. He swallowed as he closed his eyes, taking a deep breath in. He wanted this. He was going to do this. He could do this.

Taking a glance at his phone again to make sure this was the right address, the small boy raised his hand again and rang the bell next to the little label with Jungkook's name on it. He was living in one of the better areas in Seoul, seemingly able to afford to live in a place like this. Jimin hadn't even been scared to come here at night. It was that safe kind of area.

Jimin definitely couldn't afford to live in this area, especially not in one of those expensive apartment buildings with high security like the one Jungkook was living in. No, him and Taehyung were living in a rather smaller and, well, cheaper area of Seoul.

Even though Taehyung was an intern at a fashion company, he didn't make much money there. Jimin did have money, but, well that was another story.

In fact, Taehyung and Jimin were neighbours, having considered to just move in together, but they couldn't find a three-room apartment they could afford or they particularly liked, deciding to just stay living next to each other and hanging out at each other's places whenever.

There was a buzzing noise and suddenly, the door opened. Jimin was sure that there was a camera where Jungkook could watch through to see who was ringing the bell. Nervously, Jimin stepped into the big hallway where the lights turned on immediately.

The walls seemed to be out of marble – a dark one, while he was walking on gray carpet. That surely hadn't been the best idea, Jimin assumed, as a carpet got dirty quickly and was more difficult to clean than, let's say, stone. However, the perks of it were that it truly looked beautiful. Moreover, it wasn't really dirty and if it was, it was hidden by the dark colour. Jimin also suspected that there was someone who cleaned here often as he was sure this area could afford a service like that.

The blond boy stepped into the elevator and pressed the button with the number five on it, as Jungkook had texted him earlier.

Jimin wondered how the younger man was affording to live in a place like this. Not that it was any of his business, but what job did he have that paid this good? Jungkook was younger than him, so he was like, what, 21 or 22? Was he still studying? At university? Was he working already and that's how he could afford this? Then again, maybe his parents were paying for it? Jimin really had no clue. It hit him once again that he was going to meet up with a stranger. Someone who he had completely close to none information about was going to teach him in sex. It truly was surreal and absurd, wasn't it?

Taking a deep breath, Jimin closed his eyes and tried to calm himself, anxiety getting the best of him.

With a bing the elevator doors opened, revealing a short hallway that lead to only one door.

Wait, Jungkook was the only one living on this floor?

Swallowing hard, the nervous boy walked up to the door and raised his shaky hand to ring the bell, jumping at the sound.

You can do this, you can do this, you can do th-

It didn't take long until the door opened, revealing a tall man standing behind it. Jungkook.

Jimin had almost forgotten how he looked like, handsome appearance making him blush immediately: Black hair that was slightly parted, revealing parts of his forehead, big brown eyes, soft looking pink lips, strong features, defined chin, muscular body. Overall, incredibly handsome. Honestly, Jimin still couldn't believe he was younger than him, looking this mature and there was some kind of... authoritative demeanor he had.

He was wearing a black button up shirt and skinny black jeans. Jimin, on the other hand, was wearing a long sleeved white shirt and some black skinny jeans with his old black converse shoes.

Swallowing hard, the small boy just stared at the younger man.

Oh god, Jimin should probably turn around and run away as quickly as he could. How was he even supposed to talk to the man who looked at him with this intense gaze, intimidating the smaller boy.

This was hyung’s friend. Nothing was going to happen. This was hyung’s friend. Nothing was going to happen. This was-

Interrupting his thoughts, Jungkook stepped to the side, gesturing for Jimin to enter, which he did, knees feeling slightly wobbly. The taller boy shut the door close behind him as Jimin took a look around the room. He assumed this was the living room even though it was almost as big as Jimin's whole apartment. It was huge, the whole wall in front of him being solely out of glass with pretty light gray curtains at either side of the ends of the wall. The floor was out of wood, a dark shade of gray complimenting the room.

There was a piano in front of the big glass wall, pointed towards it. Did Jungkook play the piano? Moreover, there was a big seating area with a gray sofa and two armchairs placed on the right side of the wall, pointed at a big TV on the wall, a small dresser below the TV. There also seemed to be another hallway leading to, well, Jimin didn't know. Next to Jimin on his left side was a dining table with six chairs, all in gray, too. Jimin saw a pattern. Then, Jimin saw some stairs at the left side of the room, close to the glass wall, leading upstairs.

Wait. Jungkook was living in an apartment with more than one floor? Wow. Jimin couldn't hide his shock, mouth hanging open and eyes widened.

“Take you shoes off, please” Jungkook voiced, startling Jimin. He had forgotten how his voice sounded like, low tone making the boy jump.

“O-oh, of course” His backpack fell to the floor as he bent down swiftly to take off his shoes, pulling them off and placing them next to the door.

As he straightened his back again, he looked directly at Jungkook who had his eyes already fixated on him, making the boy blush and avert his gaze.

How was he supposed to do anything with the boy if he couldn't even look him in the eyes? That's one of Jimin's problems. He had difficulties with getting close to people, was bad at socialising and his shyness always got in the way.

“How did you get here? Was it easy to find?” The taller boy wanted to know as he picked up Jimin's backpack that had fallen down and placed it on one of the chairs at the dining table.

“I-I took the public transportation. Didn't take that long. The area is nice. Yes, it was easy to find” Jimin replied and nodded slightly.

“Don't you have a car?”

Jimin shook his head. “I have my driver's licence, but I don't own a car. I prefer to walk or take the bus. I like Seoul and like to see the city.” The boy rambled, feeling himself get less nervous and more comfortable. Maybe that was what Jungkook intened with his questions, having noticed Jimin's anxiety and wanted to ease him.

“Seoul is a beautiful city indeed”

The smaller boy smiled slightly and gave a faint nod as he pulled his sleeves over his hands, hiding them. Jungkook's eyes followed his motion before he locked eyes with Jimin again. The blond boy felt vulnerable under the intense stare, feeling himself blush once more.

Averting his eyes, he walked over to the big glass wall and looked down at the city. The sun was already down, pretty city lights turned on and illuminating Seoul, emphasising it's beauty.

"Wow" Jimin breathed out, "Beautiful"

"Do you want a drink?” Jungkook asked.

"Just... w-water” Jimin stuttered, "Please" He quickly added.

“I will be right back. Get comfortable”

The smaller boy nodded, not looking in his direction as he heard Jungkook move.

His heart was beating incredibly fast and Jimin was trying to tell it to calm down, begging it to stop making such a fuss. This was fine. It was going well so far, wasn't it? It had only been five minutes since he arrived, but hey, he hadn't done anything stupid or embarrassing in this time so far, that was a good sign, no?

Jimin let out a shaky breath and kept repeating what Taehyung had told him. This was the perfect scenario for him. He could trust Jungkook as Yoongi trusted him.

The smaller boy walked back over to his backpack and opened it as Jungkook entered the room again, walking straight up to him and handing him a glass of water.

The shorter boy felt his stare on him and put the glass down on the table, clearing his throat.

"You don't drink alcohol?” Jungkook wanted to know.

"No, not really. I... I have never, actually."

"Never? You are 23 and have never-" He didn't finish his sentence, thinking about something for a moment, his gaze never leaving Jimin. Said boy blushed under the intense stare of the man, averting his eyes, taking his backpack and walking towards the seating area.

How did he know how old Jimin was? Maybe Yoongi had told him.

"Do you?” He asked, finally.

Jimin nodded and pointed at the big sofa, "May I?” He asked and Jungkook raised an eyebrow again.

"Of course” He replied and approached Jimin.

It was silent for a while. The shorter boy stared at the floor and Jungkook’s eyes were fixated on him.

“So, how is this gonna go?” Jimin mumbled, “I mean... how- where do we start?”

Jungkook put his glass down on the table and crossed his arms over his chest, leaning against the wall. “Well, you accepted the offer so I'm assuming there is something you are looking to get out of this?” The man responded, arching up his eyebrows.

Jimin wondered how he looked like when he smiled, not having seen him do it yet once. Would he still look serious or nonchalant as he did now? The smaller boy doubted it, figuring he would look even more beautiful.

“Just... I wanna learn about it, all of it. I want you to teach me” The blond boy revealed, voice soft and genuine.

“Where do you want to start then?”

The smaller boy puffed up his cheeks, considering. Well, he had no idea, literally. Like, none experience at all.

“Wait” Jimin suddenly said and got up abruptly, waddling over to his backpack to take out his notebook and a pen. Then, he went back over to the sofa and opened his notebook, locking eyes with Jungkook again.

The other male looked taken aback, mouth hanging open and eyes not blinking.

“T-Taking notes, so I don’t forget anything”

For the first time, the taller man smiled. At least, that’s what Jimin thought he saw. He could swear he had seen Jungkook smirk for a second, but as soon as he had seen it, it was gone again. “You don’t have to take notes. In fact, I don’t think you will even have time, when I’m teaching you and we are practicing. If there is something I want you to remember, I will let you know, don’t worry. However, this is all about learning first, Jimin. Don’t do that with your head, let your body think for you, feel for you, okay? Your body will learn how to and later know how to act in certain... situations. It will remember what to do.”

The smaller boy processed his words, nodding eventually. “O-Okay” He shut his notebook and put it down on the small coffee table.

“There are some basic rules I want to set, okay?”

Rules? Jimin found himself nodding even though he wasn’t sure what Jungkook was referring to.

“First of all, the goal is to get you comfortable with sex and guide you into it, make you learn things. I'm gonna be your teacher, I will show you different things and practice with you. If there is anything you want to try, ask me and we can figure out how to realise it. There are certain things I won't do at all, but I will let you know about that at some point. So, do not be scared to ask about or request anything. No need to be uncomfortable. Second rule, no strings attached. Meaning: no feelings, not anything romantic. This ends whenever we decide to, whenever one of us feels uncomfortable or until there is nothing you are curious about anymore, nothing you want to practice anymore. Third rule, no staying over night. We can talk about how long we want each... well, let's call it lesson for now, to be. Of course we might go over or under that time at some point, but I've got stuff to do so I don't have unlimited free time and I'm sure you are busy with other stuff, too. Fourth rule, whenever I initiate something and you don't feel comfortable with it, tell me immediataly. Do not be scared to speak up and don't feel obligated to go through with it. First and for most this about teaching you. Alright. I think that's everything for now. Is there anything you want to add? Of course, we can add more rules over time”

The other boy tried to process all of that information. He was sure he was going to forget all of those rules. Oh, he really wanted to just take his notebook and write them down. But he was sure that he could always just ask Jungkook if he forgot something.

Well, those were all appropriate rules, Jimin figured.

“I'm fine with these. There is nothing I want to add as of now, but I have... I still have a question”

“Go ahead”

“Why are you doing this? I mean, I'm grateful that you are, but I'm just wondering, why?”

Jungkook hesitated, eyes fixated on the smaller male. “I want to help you. That's all. No more questions about that, though. It's not really important, now, is it?”

The shorter boy shook his head slightly, dropping the topic. It was nice that he wanted to help him, but just why? He didn't even know him that much.

“How experienced are you?” Jimin suddenly blurted out, surprised and embarrassed by his mouth that was quicker than his brain.

Again, a slight smirk. At least, Jimin thought that it was. However, it was gone quickly all the same.

“Well, I do have quite the experience, let’s just leave it at that”

A slight nod by Jimin.

“What about you, though? How much experience do you have?”

"Have you done anything at all?" The other male wanted to know.

Jimin swallowed and shook his head, "No"

"Kissing?"

"Uhm.. yes, I kissed. I mean, I have made out before, yes"

"Kissed or made out?" Jungkook got closer to Jimin, eyes fixed on him.

"Is there a difference?"

There it was again. A faint smirk, that disappeared as quickly as it had appeared. "There is a difference. Kissing, well kissing is just the touch of lips on lips" Jungkook explained, "While making out is more... it involves more. You start touching each other, maybe grind on one another, kiss down to the neck, and so on"

"Oh" Jimin blushed, "Well, then... just kissing."

Something flashed in Jungsokook's eyes and the blond boy averted his gaze, looking down on the floor while unconsciously pulling his sweater over his hands again.

“Okay, noted. Nothing else then? No physical contact whatsoever?”

“N-No, nothing like that”

“Alright. I will remember that. I know where we stand then. As you have no experience at all, it will be difficult for you to request stuff. Of course, you could always google things, but honestly some weird stuff pops up there sometimes and it might scare you away or be a bit disturbing for you. I suggest that I will write some words down of things that I'm experienced in and then I will give you the list so you can have a look at it and decide what of these things you want to try. If you don't know anything, just ask me, okay?"

Jimin thought his words over and nodded eventually, faint smile on his face.

“I will text you the list then so you can have a look at it. Are you free tomorrow? I would suggest our first lesson to be tomorrow then. I'm free around the same time as today”

For a moment, Jimin reconsidered everything. Was this really such a good idea? Until now, there wasn't anything that made him feel uncomfortable. The rules were fine and Jungkook didn't seem mean or rude, was actually respectful. Yes, he didn't smile much and he didn't really seem infatuated by Jimin, but he didn't have to. He was doing this to help Jimin, probably because he was friends with Yoongi. So, as of right now, Jimin didn't find anything that would speak against this idea.

To some people this whole idea might seem absolutely absurd. Having someone teach you in sex, no strings attached and no feelings involved whatsoever. In fact, some years ago, Jimin would have thought that, too. Would have never imagined to have sex with a person he didn't love or at least like, wanted to never have sex to be exact, then later wanted to but only with someone he loved.

However, that all changed the longer he lived in Seoul, the more he learned that you don't necessarily need to love someone to have sex with them. And no one would judge you for that. At least not where they were living. Casual sex was no taboo, was not uncommon. Many people did it and they weren't judged. Taehyung had casual sex, Yoongi probably, too.

Jimin also learned that first times didn't have to be special. They could be, but they don't have to. At some point, Jimin just felt like he didn't need to make such a big fuss about his first time. The importance of it was just something society created, but Jimin could and should be able to decide how much importance he weighs in his first time – and to him, it didn't need to be special or anything like that.

It just served a certain purpose to him, something intimate and personal, something he hoped would make it possible for him to finally heal.

“Jimin-ssi” The other male interrupted his thoughts. Jimin shook his head and stared at the other male with big eyes.

“Sorry, yes, that's fine with me, too. At yours again?”

“Yes, same time, same place. Look at the list that I will send you later beforehand. Maybe there is something you heard about before and want to try”

The smaller boy got up and grabbed his notebook and pen. “Okay” He stuffed his things into his backpack and closed it, reaching for his shoes to put them on.

“You know your way back?”

Jimin nodded as he had put his shoes on, pulling his backpack over his right shoulder.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah. I will see you tomorrow then”

“See you tomorrow”

With that, Jimin left, heart still beating as fast as when he had entered, actually excited for tomorrow, yet nervous all the same.

It was the same time and, of course, same place again the next day. Jimin was swinging his legs back and forth on the sofa, waiting for Jungkook to reappear. He was incredibly anxious, but there was also anticipation rising inside of him. It was a weird feeling.

He hadn't even talked to Taehyung yet. After yesterday, he had went home right away and went to bed, too tired to do anything else. When he had woken up this morning he had went straight to practice and then work afterwards. Now, well, now he was here at Jungkook's.

The man had opened the door without a word, walking away into the other hallway and leaving Jimin alone. The smaller boy had shut the door close and had taken his shoes off, standing there awkwardly and waiting for Jungkook to come back.

He did, eventually, with two glasses of water. Jimin took one of them and thanked him quietly, walking over to the glass wall. It was dark outside again.

“Have you thought over everything again? Still feel comfortable with it?”

The smaller boy had turned around and had given a small nod, faint smile painting his face. Jungkook had nodded and had went back into the hallway, leaving Jimin alone once more who had then taken a seat on the sofa, sitting there with only dimmed lights on.

"Stand up" Jungkook suddenly insisted as he walked back in. The smaller boy looked up with a confused expression, "Please" Jungkook added.

Jimin got up and Jungkook moved closer.

"Did you take a look at the list that I sent you?"

Oh, god, that list. Jimin was blushing at the mere mention of it. He had almost choked on air when he had opened the message from Jungkook earlier and had seen all those words, reading over them and blushing without even knowing what the majority of them meant: Blowjobs, spanking, rimming, choking,...

The list went on and on and on. Jungkook really wasn't lying when he said that he had quite the experience.

"I-I did. I don't know what most of it means though.”

“That's fine. You can ask whenever you wanna try any of these. Other than that, I will suggest and initiate certain things, so we can see what you like and what not. Does that sound good?”

The smaller boy gave a slight nod, already thinking about what was going to happen next. Well, he didn't know what exactly it was, but it was their first real lesson so it must be something, anything. Even though he was anxious, he was excited all the same.

"How about we start with what we talked about yesterday then?"

"K-Kissing?” Jimin stutterted and wet his lips.

The other male nodded and suddenly, he was right in front of Jimin, as close as he's ever been. Jimin could feel the warmth that was radiating from Jungkook.

"May I?” The taller boy whispered and raised his hand. Jimin didn't know what he was asking for, but he was nodding nevertheless.

Slowly, Jungkook placed his hand on Jimin's cheek, which startled the nervous boy for a moment. His breath hitched in his throat and he swallowed hard. Jungkook's hand was soft and warm, it was bigger than his own hand. Well, that wasn't really surprising to Jimin as he had tiny hands and Jungkook was taller than him anyway. As the black haired boy leaned down slowly, he stroked over Jimin's cheek with his thumb gently. Jimin's heart started beating faster and he shut his eyes, wating for Jungkook's lip to meet his own.

He could feel Jungkook's breath on his skin. He smelled like mint. The shorter male could practically feel Jungkook's lips on his, but there was still some tiny space between them. Why wasn't he kissing him? Jimin's anticipation got the best of him and he let out a small whine, didn't even have time to feel embarrassed about that. He swore he could feel the taller boy smirk against him before he finally felt his lips land on his own.

His breath hitched in his throat as Jungkook's soft lips were pressed on his. They really were as soft as Jimin had imagine. For a moment, they just stayed like that.

Jimin had kissed someone before, but in this moment he seemed to completely have forgotten about what to do next. The younger boy's lips left him for a moment and were pressed against his own lips just a second later. Jimin moved his mouth against his, or at least that's what he tried.

After some moments, the black haired boy broke the kiss and looked down at Jimin, "Try to part your lips a bit, move them against mine" Jimin nodded, wanting to do this right. The man in front of him pressed his lips on his again, moving his hand to the back of Jimin's neck. The smaller boy got up on his tippy toes to move against Jungkook's mouth easier, following his advice and parting his lips slightly.

Jungskook's lips pressed between his, catching his bottom lip and pulling on it slowly. In response, the smaller boy let out a breath and lifted his hands as Jungkook licked slowly over his bottom lip, "Press your tongue against mine" The other male advised in between kisses. Jimin didn't know where to put his hands and just clenched them into fists, leaving them hang in the air.

Their tongues moved against one another, meeting and licking over each other. What had started as a slow kiss became faster and more demanding. Jungkook suddenly pulled at Jimin's bottom lip again, causing the smaller man to let out a whimper and cling onto Jungkook's shirt.

The taller man broke the kiss and looked down at Jimin whose cheeks were flushed, both men were a little out of breath. "Want to stop?"

The blond boy quickly shook his head. He definitely did not want to stop. Kissing felt amazing. Well, kissing Jungkook did. He didn't know if kissing like this itself felt always this good. He didn't really have much comparison.

Jungkook smirked again, this time longer for Jimin to register and really be sure that it actually was a smirk, but it was gone as quickly all the same. He really was an attractive man. So, so handsome, yet there was something beautiful and pure about him when he smiled. Jimin couldn't believe he was kissing him right now, kissing a man this handsome.

The smaller boy had never imagined himself to kiss someone this intimidatingly gorgeous like Jungkook. He was just so shy and self-conscious that it was difficult to even hold a conversation with anyone he found attractive, fearing they wouldn't even spare him a glance or reject him immediately.

Then again, Jimin did become a blushing and stuttering mess when he talked to Jungkook while the other male was looking at him intently. However, the more they talked to each other, the easier it fell Jimin. The blond boy really could call himself lucky as he could have never initiated to get intimate or physical with anybody, especially someone this handsome.

Taehyung had said that, too. That it was a perk that Jungkook was attractive, as well. Frankly, it really was. Maybe it would be easier for Jimin at some point to talk to someone he thought was gorgeous.

"I just.. don't know where to put my hands" The shy boy admitted.
"Put them wherever you feel comfortable. You can put them in the back of my neck, in my hair, on my shoulders, waist, just try different parts" Jungkook suggested. The shorter male nodded and got back on his tippy toes, pursing his lips. Just moments later he felt Jungkook's lips against his again.

The older boy placed his left hand on Jungkook’s chest and grabbed his shirt again while he put his other hand on his shoulder. The black haired boy had one of his hands pressed against the back of Jimin's neck while the other one was holding him close by his waist.

Suddenly, Jungkook turned them around and started pushing Jimin backwards, never breaking the kiss. The smaller boy hit against something with his legs, falling backwards and pulling Jungkook right with him. He let out a squeak but was surprised when he landed softly on top of the sofa. The taller boy was on top of him, but holding his weight up with one arm that was placed next to Jimin's head. The other hand found it's way on the blond boy's cheek again as he pressed his lips on Jimin's once more.

It took a moment for the shorter male to register that Jungkook was holding his whole weight up with one arm alone, as not to crush Jimin. The younger man was well built and seemed fit, but Jimin hadn't expected him to be this strong, holding himself up this effortlessly. Jimin lifted his hand and grabbed the arm that Jungkook was holding himself up with. He could feel his biceps, the smaller boy whimpering slightly.

They made out like this for a while, lips moving against each other and tongues touching. It was only when Jimin noticed something that he broke away from the kiss. He blushed as he looked down on himself, realising what had happened. Jungkook glanced down as well.

Quickly, Jimin pushed Jungkook off of himself and sat up, "S-Sorry" He stuttered and turned away.

"Why are you apologising?" The taller boy asked.

Jimin closed his eyes.

This was his problem. He couldn't say it, though. Not ready to talk about this with Jungkook just yet. That's one of the reasons for his decision, why he wanted this... One of the reasons he was doing this.

"That's what happens when it feels good" The other male informed him.

"I-I know... I just..." He turned to Jungkook again, eyes glassy.

Jungkook studied his face and sat up, as well, thinking about something.

"Do you want to take care of it?" The younger boy suddenly wanted to know.

"Take care of it?" Jimin asked and tilted his head to the side.

"Yes, do you want me to touch you?"

Jungkook seemed to be serious, expression neutral as always. The smaller boy looked back and forth between his eyes, trying to find any kind of sign that he was joking. However, there was no emotion behind his eyes. At least none that Jimin could define right now.

He didn't really show any emotions, ever so far. On top of that, he screamed authority. Nevertheless, kissing Jungkook had felt good... had made him feel... safe.

Jimin blushed and looked away, "I-I..."
"Unless that is too fast? Do you rather want to touch yourself?"

Flustered, the blond boy looked at him again with big shocked eyes. "I-I have... have never..."

Jungkook was the one to look taken aback now, even if it was only for a slight moment, returning to his usual expression right after. "You have never touched yourself? Not once?" Jimin didn't say anything. "So you never got yourself off? Never had an orgasm in your life?"

The smaller boy felt himself blush deeper, biting down on his bottom lip as he shook his head.

It was quiet for a moment. He heard the other male move, watching him sit down against the sofa, "Come here" He said and pointed at the spot in front of him. Jimin hesitated for a moment, but eventually crawled up the sofa. He stopped in front of the black haired boy, locking eyes with him. The taller man grabbed Jimin by the hips and turned him around so Jimin was facing away, sitting in between Jungkook's legs.

"W-what are you... W-what are we doing?" The nervous boy stuttered as he felt his heartbeat quicken again.

"Teaching you how to get yourself off" He simply answered and pulled Jimin against his chest.

The shy boy bit his lip, feeling himself get anxious. He could feel Jungkook right against himself, strong arms holding him closer by the chest. He had to admit that it felt good, but nonetheless he was scared about what was going to happen next. Jungkook seemed to realise.

"Hey, sshh, relax" He said quietly, "You are shaking"

"I-I... I have never done this. I don't know... how... and I feel- I feel bad just... just thinking about it" Jimin finally admitted.

This all was so odd to the poor boy. This man behind him was close to a stranger. He barely knew him, only knew that he was Yoongi's friend and that he trusted him, that Jimin could trust him, too. It was even stranger, though, that Jimin had felt good when he had kissed Jungkook. Had felt safe in his proximity.

Of course the thought of being able to trust Jungkook helped. However, just because he knew he could, didn't mean he fully did just yet. Obviously, Jimin did kind of trust Jungkook, he wouldn't be here if he didn't, and had for some reason felt safe when kissing him. Then again, the trust bond between them wasn't as deep yet, but Jimin felt like it would deepen over time, making it easier to trust Jungkook with his body and let himself fall completely.

It was immensely helpful and comforting to know, however, that he could at least trust him and that Jungkook couldn't or at least wouldn't do him any harm as Yoongi would definitely beat him up for that, always having protected Jimin.

There had been silence for a while and Jimin had been so caught up in his thoughts that Jungkook's voice startled him. "You don't have to feel guilty, Jimin-ssi" He stated. Jimin didn't know why, but for some reason he liked hearing Jungkook say his name, "This is something completely normal. Everyone does it."

"I know, it's just..." The smaller boy did know that. There was just this annoying inner obstacle that he was fighting against, he was trying to overcome. It was just not that easy. Jimin wanted to explain to Jungkook, why he felt the way he did, but he thought that it was too early for that so he shut his mouth and left it at that.
"Don't feel bad for feeling like this, for wanting this. This is natural, Jimin-ssi" Jimin wet his lips and nodded.

"But I understand if you want to stop. We can leave it at that for today if you want" The taller boy voiced.

"No" Jimin protested and shook his head, "P-Please"

"Okay" The other male whispered and started rubbing Jimin's stomach softly, "Open your pants then"

The older boy started opening his skinny jeans with shaky hands, having difficulty to breathe properly.

"Lift your hips" Jungkook muttered. The smaller boy grabbed Jungkook's thighs as he lifted his hips, the other male pulling his pants down and revealing Jimin's black briefs. He stopped when the pants were just below the blond boy's butt.

Both of the boys could see how hard Jimin was through his underwear. The shorter boy placed his hands above his underwear, trying to cover himself.

"Hey, don't feel ashamed" Jungkook whispered and pulled his arms away, "Again, this is natural, okay?" Jimin nodded. "Do you want me to touch you? Or do you want to touch yourself and I talk you through it?"

The older boy thought about his offer for a moment, but decided to touch himself first, feeling more comfortable about that thought, "I want to touch myself first- I mean, I want you to talk me through it while I touch... myself" Jimin voiced his wish with a shaky voice.

"Okay, take a deep breath for me" Jimin did, "Move your hand into your briefs and grab your dick"

Slowly, the shorter male obeyed, body twitching at the touch. Jimin pulled his hand around himself and let out a shaky breath. Nervously, he grabbed Jungkook's thigh with his other hand again, needing to hold onto something. The taller male placed his head on Jimin's shoulder, his hands not touching the other male though. "Now" He began and Jimin swallowed hard as he could feel Jungkook's breath against his own skin, feel him be so close and know that he was about to watch Jimin get himself off. The blond boy's head started spinning. He felt dizzy.

"Move your hand up and down slowly while keeping your hand wrapped around your dick"

Jimin gasped as he started to move his hand, eyes fluttering shut. It felt... weird, but also really good simultaneously. Curiously, the smaller boy tried to concentrate on the feeling, wanting to figure out whether or not he liked it.

He just kept stroking himself like that for a while because Jungkook didn't say anything else. While Jimin was touching himself, he let out little pants and licked his lips, starting to get lost in the feeling.

"Now rub your thumb over the head" Jungkook instructed, voice a bit huskier. The smaller boy followed what he said and let out a breathy moan, body twitching at the feeling. He threw his head back and gripped Jungkook's thigh harder. "How does it feel?" The taller boy whispered and placed a kiss at the back of Jimin's neck, raising goosebumps on Jimin's skin and a shiver running down his back.

"G-good." The smaller boy mewled with a trembling voice and bucked his hips up, head landing on Jungkook's shoulder, "So good"

"Go a little faster"

Jimin did and bit down on his bottom lip, trying to contain the sounds he made. He had only just now realised what sounds were leaving his lips, being embarrassed by it.

"Don't bite your lip" Jungkook whispered, "Let me hear you" Jimin immediately stopped biting his lip, his little whimpers filling the room.

The smaller boy kept tugging on his penis, chasing the incredible feeling. Jungkook kept placing small kisses in his neck, Jimin letting out breathy whimpers and whines that he couldn't control. At first, the blond boy had been embarrassed about the idea of Jungkook watching him do this, embarrassed about doing this at all, but all of that was forgotten now.

"J-Jungkook-ah" Jimin cried out and he heard Jungkook curse behind him.

"Are you close?"

"I-I don't know" The older boy admitted, head spinning. Everything felt so good, but also too much at the same time. He didn't know what to do with himself, just got lost in the feeling, "It feels weird, feels like... like peeing"

"Just let go, Jimin-ssi" Jungkook growled in his ear, "Make a mess all over yourself"

Jimin cried out as the feeling overwhelmed him, bursting and expanding through his whole body. The poor boy was shaking violently, letting out little whines over and over again. Jungkook kept holding him through it. It felt like he was floating, he couldn't explain it. It was so good.

He felt his hand get wet, having just come all over himself. His chest quickly rose and fell as he pulled his hand out of his underwear, revealing his sperm on his own hand. He grimaced at the sight and looked back at Jungkook who was looking right back at him, pupils dilated. "Where do I..."

The other male got up and left the room to go and get him a tissue, returning with several only moments later. He cleaned Jimin's hand for him, handing him another one after.

"Clean yourself" He uttered and pointed at his underwear. Jimin did, little whines leaving his lips as the contact with his penis hurt a bit. While he was cleaning himself, Jungkook picked something from the coffee table. From the corner of his eyes, it looked like a smartphone.

"Was that good?" Jungkook wanted to know, not glancing at him though but rather looking at his phone and typing something.

Jimin quickly nodded. "Yes. Thank you. It felt... good"

"As time goes by you will learn more about what you like and learn to touch yourself differently. But for now, you know how to do it, so when you get horny you can get yourself off" Jungkook voiced and stared at him again. He had a thoughtful expression on his face, "What did you do when you were horny? If you were, ever?" The taller boy curiously asked.

The smaller boy felt his cheeks heat up again, "I haven't felt like that often. And if I did, I just took a cold shower"

"Why?" Jungkook wanted to know, "I mean, why did you never touch yourself?"
Jimin averted his gaze and looked down on the floor again, not ready to answer just yet.

"You don't have to answer"

Thankful, the blond boy locked eyes with him again and smiled slightly.

"I have some work to do now. I think this is enough for today.” The taller boy let him know and Jimin put his pants back on, "If you want to meet again, just text me. I would recommend afternoon or night, but we can talk about different times, considering what fits you best, as well. That is, of course, if you even want to go on. Again, no strings attached, just text me so I will know. We could go through the list next time and see what you want to try and what not, figuring out what you like and what your limits are. I will explain what all of it means”

Jimin nodded slightly and got up, suddenly feeling weird. For a moment he had forgotten that this was just... well, a lesson essentially. He wasn't going to hang out with Jungkook after, wasn't going to stay the night. They were only going to spend time together to do this. "Was I... Was my kissing okay?" The blond boy asked shyly, pulling his sweater over his hands and biting down on his lip.

For a moment, Jungkook just looked at him. "Your kissing was good. There is still room to improvement, but you were good"

Jimin smiled at the compliment like a real student, Jungkook studying his face and seemingly thinking about something. Snapping out of it, he shook his head and went over to the door, the other boy following him to put his shoes back on.

“It's quite late now, how are you getting home?” The taller boy asked as the other one tied his shoes and straightened his back again.

“I will take a bus and walk the rest home”

The other male looked down at his phone again. “It's almost 11pm” He let him know, raised an eyebrow and Jimin shrugged slightly with his shoulders.

“That's fine. The bus drives irregularly during night, but I will manage”

The taller boy seemed to think over something, jaw locking slightly. It was as if he wanted to say something, but was trying to hold his tongue.

“Alright. Text me then, when you wanna meet again”

The blond-silver haired boy nodded and walked up to Jungkook. "Thank you for today. I will... text you somewhen during the next days"

For a moment, both men were just staring at each other.

"See you soon then" Jungkook finally uttered and nodded slightly, opening the door.

"See you soon" Jimin muttered quietly, waving weakly before he went out the door, making his way home and oddly feeling a bit empty.

Did you enjoy the chapter? :)

Why do you think Jungkook doesn't tell Jimin a real reason as to why he is doing this? Do you think there even is another reason behind it or do you believe in what Jungkook says? If you think there is another reason then please let me know, I'm really curious! :)

If there is any request you have, you can leave them in the comment section and I will see if I can fit it into the story somehow, but please don't be mad if I can't realise your request :) <3
Something New

Chapter Summary

Taehyung recommends something to Jimin which the other boy cannot stop thinking about... Eventually trying it with Jungkook.

"You did what?" Taehyung screamed as his eyes widened. He had just taken a sip of his iced Americano, coughing a bit as he tried to swallow it.

Jimin blushed as he looked around, thankful that no one seemed to listen or look at them. They were in a small coffee shop, right around the corner of their apartments. Taehyung and him hung out here sometimes. They loved this place because it was never really crowded, was a very cozy place and was obviously very close to where they lived.

"We made out and he showed me how to... get myself off" The blond boy repeated quietly.

The brown haired boy smiled big, excitement shining in his eyes, "Oh my god, how was it? Is he a good kisser? Did he touch you, too?"

Jimin smiled slightly at Taehyung's excitement, "He is kind of... I don't know, but he seems a bit authoritative, like, he hasn't really smiled yet or showed any kind of emotion, at that. I mean, I wasn't expecting that, really, he clarified that there should be no feelings involved. I'm actually glad that we set some rules. And Tae, he is really... I mean, I knew that, but he is so handsome. I keep forgetting that he is younger than me because he really doesn't seem younger. However, when I was with him I felt... safe. I can't explain it. I liked it. And kissing him was... amazing. I didn't want it to stop."

"I mean, I haven't talked to him much and honestly, I have already kind of forgotten how exactly he looks like and how his demeanor is..."

"Handsome, so incredibly handsome, honestly, Tae. Authoritative, mature, a bit intimidating, yet – and that's what I think is odd – he made me feel so safe and comfortable when he kissed me and talked me through... well you know. There is just something about him that did that to me, does that to me. I can't even explain it. I didn't think it would be like this. I thought I would want to stop after our first 'lesson' yet here I am, wanting to meet him again. Is that weird?"

"He sounds hot. And no, It's not weird at all. That is actually a good sign. Means that neither Hyung or I have to beat him up"

They both chuckled slightly.

"How was his place?" The brown haired boy wanted to know and cocked his head to the side.

"Apartment building with high security, two story apartment at that and his living room was basically the size of my whole apartment. It was huge. I liked the way it was decorated, it felt cozy. I'm just wondering how he pays for that, you know? Not that it is any of my business, but he is younger than us and I thought he's still studying, but I didn't want to be nosy and ask him too many questions. He didn't really want to give me an answer when I asked about why he was doing this to begin with”

“Wow” Tae breathed and opened his mouth at the information, “Rich area?” The smaller boy nodded, “Wow, he really must have some money then. Hyung probably knows more, we could subtly dig a bit at some point. Maybe he just really doesn't have a deeper reason for why he wants to teach you? I really don't know” The boy pursed his lips, thinking, “It is a bit suspicious, though, that he doesn't want to give you an answer to that. However, I don't think you should dig too deep”

The smaller boy nodded. “Well, I won't ask him again. I will just leave it at that. He said he just wants to help me and that's enough for me. It was a good first 'lesson' I would say. Jungkook-ah wasn't mean or rude. Actually, he seems to take this very seriously, having set rules and sticking to them, preparing a list for me that, well…”

Jimin blushed at the mere thought about that list and nodded. “Y-Yeah, well he texted me some words of things that he is experienced in and that we could try out, but I don't know what most of it means. However, he said I can just ask him what they mean and we can see which of those things we will do.”

“Wow, he really does take this serious. That's a good thing, though, means you can trust his words. He said he was gonna teach you and he is keeping his word!” The taller boy smiled.

“Yeah, I guess. I just don't know if I can even ask to do these things with him when I figure out what they mean”

Taehyung smirked cheekily and his eyes glistened with amusement. “Oh, trust me, you will. Well, I don't know what exactly those things are, but I'm assuming it's amazing stuff.”

Jimin's blush deepened and he cleared his throat as he took another sip of his drink.

“You could just ask me what they mean, but I don't know everything there is either. I guess, just ask Jungkook if you want to know something or Google can probably help, too. But be careful with that, can lead you to dark places which can be kind of disturbing. The internet can be horrible sometimes”

“Yeah, Jungkook warned me, too” Jimin mumbled, taking a mental note to definitely not google any of that stuff.

“Just ask him then or you can ask me and I will see if I know what it means.”

“I'm happy this seems to be working out and you are comfortable and feel good.” His best friend smiled big and took another sip, but then his smile disappeared, expression on his face as if he wanted to say something.

“What is it, Tae?” Jimin wanted to know, being able to read his best friend like a book. Perks of knowing him for so long, being his soulmate at that.

“Remember our conversation about Hoseok hyung?” The smaller boy nodded, “I asked Yoongi hyung for his number that same night and he gave it to me. Well, we started texting, talked for a while and decided to meet up to get a coffee together. However, he cancelled on me just some hours before we were supposed to meet up.”

His best friend looked heart broken, Jimin feeling just like him at the image of Tae. “Oh, Tae, I'm so sorry”

“It's fine” He sighed and shrugged his shoulders, “He apologised and said we should meet up tomorrow, promising to pay for whatever I wanted” There it was again, his smile, “I guess he is interested after all then? Well, when he cancelled I was bummed out and really doubted that he has interest, but he wants to meet me now and was insistend on me meeting him tomorrow so I think that is a good sign”

“That is good” Jimin agreed, big smile on his face, and nodded, “I'm happy for you, Tae, that does sound wonderful”

“Yeah, I thought so, too”

They smiled at each other and both took a sip of their drink, Taehyung suddenly sighing again.

"I just really want to suck him off or let him suck me off, preferably at the same time" Taehyung revealed, Jimin the one widening his eyes this time. The taller boy chuckled at Jimin's expression, "What? You're gonna do that, too, with Jungkook, no? I'm sure that is on his list, too. Unless he doesn't do that which would be such a bummer or you don't want it of course, but honestly 10 out of 10 would recommend. Great experience to get your dick sucked, but sucking dick is great all the same. Amazing feeling. That's what I really wanna do with Hyung... God, I couldn't stop thinking about it yesterday, I even dreamed about it, I had to mastur-""}

Jimin shook his head at his best friend. Taehyung was very blunt and straightforward, never afraid to state his opinion or whatever went on in his head. The smaller boy really admired him for that. However, sometimes Jimin had to stop his best friend because it got a bit too much for his liking.

You probably wouldn't expect someone as shy as Jimin to have a friend like Tae. Then again, Jimin was really trying to be less shy and more open so he was kind of thankful that Tae was this open, talkative and confident.

“Jungkook? Why?”

"Well, he doesn't call me hyung just yet, I didn't tell him he could because I don't really know him that well yet?" The shorter man said contemplatively, "Maybe I should allow him to do that... to feel closer to him?"

"I mean, I call Hoseok hyung, too, even though I don't know him that well yet, but he said I could. If it helps you to be more comfortable, why not?" Taehyung took a sip of his iced Americano again, looking at the other one expectant.

"You're right" Jimin confirmed and nodded, "I will tell him next time that he can call me hyung if he wants to"

"By the way, when are you having your next little 'lesson'?” The taller male wanted to know and raised an eyebrow.

“I haven't texted him about that yet. Actually, we haven't texted at all since our last lesson. I thought I would ask him later when he is free and would be able to meet.”

Jimin had debated about when to text him and when to meet up next since the minute he had left Jungkook’s apartment. It has been two days since they had spend time in his apartment, so maybe he should text him some time soon.

"Did you talk about what you are going to do?"

“Well, not really. He said I can always just ask or request something, but he suggested that we could go through his list next time.”

"No, I... You know I barely know anything.”

Taehyung smirked, “Well...”

“Just saying, getting your dick sucked and sucking on some nice dick is an amazing experience”

"I'm just letting you know, Jiminnie. I'm doing you a favour with my recommendation” The other male voiced and held his hands up in surrender.

The blond boy shook his head at his best friend.

Taehyung smirked cheekily, “Blowjooooob” He then whispered and took the straw into his mouth again, staring at Jimin teasingly.

The smaller boy swatted his arm and both of them started laughing.

Hey – Jimin

The smaller boy sat down on his sofa, pulling his legs close and placing his head on his knees while staring at his phone display.

Hey – Jungkook

It had been three days since they had last seen each other, where they made out and Jungkook had shown him... well, how to get himself off. The blond boy had thought about when to text him next, for some reason not finding the courage to do so. He had focused on practice and his work, had only talked to Taehyung about this so far.

Honestly, Jimin didn't know if he should even tell Yoongi. Yes, he was his friend- In fact, more like a big brother and he could talk to him about anything, but this... well, this was a bit odd, wasn't it? Considering Jungkook was Yoongi’s friend to begin with and he had just introduced him to Jimin and now they were already having this... kind of student-teacher relationship. The small boy wasn't sure if Yoongi would even want to know about this.

How have you been? - Jimin

He didn't just want to get right to the point, feeling like that would be a bit impolite.
Jungkook

Good, busy, but good. Yourself? - Jungkook

Good, thanks. I miss you-

Jimin read over that again, biting down on his bottom lip. That sounded kind of wrong, kind of... clingy. He didn't even mean it in that sense. Well, at least that's what he told himself. The small boy couldn't explain it. He had not stopped thinking about the last time he had seen Jungkook and what they had done, hadn't been able to stop. Maybe because it had been the first real physical, kind of very intimate contact he had ever gotten. He craved more, was longing for more.

He rewrote the message.

Good, thanks. Are you free tomorrow, maybe? - Jimin

The smaller boy felt his cheeks heat up. He really hoped that Jungkook didn't think he was desperate or something like that. Then again, it had been three days so he had taken some time.

Sure, I'm free from like 8pm for like two hours – Jungkook

Can we meet for... well, you know – Jimin

He felt his blush deepen, hiding his face behind his knees. Jungkook probably thought he was very desperate and the small boy felt really rude for straight up asking him with such bluntness.

Of course. My place again, then – Jungkook

Okay. At 8pm then? - Jimin

Yes – Jungkook

Should I bring something? Do I need something? - Jimin

Is there anything specific you want to do where you assume you need something to? - Jungkook

The shy boy furrowed his brows, contemplating. There wasn't... He had no idea what they should do next. However, Taehyung's remarks came back lingering in his mind. Jimin shook his head and tried to get rid of them.

No... - Jimin

Then no, you don't need anything. Just yourself. - Jungkook

Okay. See you tomorrow :) - Jimin

There came no further message from Jungkook.

The short boy sighed, letting his phone drop next to him on the sofa and falling onto his side while hugging his legs close.

Anxiety and excitement were bubbling inside of him. A faint smile found it's way onto his face.

The door opened and revealed a seemingly stressed Jungkook who was talking on the phone, gesturing for him to come in, yet not saying anything.
The smaller boy entered the apartment and shut the door close as the other male walked towards the hallway.

“You can go upstairs already” The man told him, glancing at him swiftly and pointing towards those stairs before he disappeared in the hallway. Jimin assumed that it was leading to the kitchen and a bathroom maybe. Well, he really had no idea.

Standing there awkwardly, the shorter boy scanned the room before he took his shoes off. He really didn't know if he should just go upstairs alone. It felt like he would be invading Jungkook's privacy, doing something prohibited, even though the taller man had given him permission.

Slowly, he walked over to the stairs on his tippy toes and stared up. There were lights on upstairs, so Jimin decided to just go for it. Eventually, he walked up.

To his surprise, it was another short yet wide hallway. There were two doors, right across from each other and a big window in front of him. One door was opened while the other one was closed. Jimin assumed he was supposed to go into the room that was opened.

He was a bit surprised that Jungkook just trusted him to walk around in his apartment like this, allowed him to go into his bedroom without being with him. It made the smaller boy smile, his chest swelling up with happiness at that fact.

The room was bigger than Jimin's bedroom. Big windows on the wall, but they were covered by gray curtains. The taller boy really seemed to like that colour. Well, it did look good and Jimin really liked the way his whole apartment was decorated, how everything fit so well together. The smaller boy wondered if Jungkook had coordinated, organised and decorated all of this by himself or if he had let someone do that for him. Anyway, Jimin really liked it, made him feel cozy.

A big king sized bed was placed against the wall on his right with two nightstands on each headside. Then, there was a white rug laying in front of the bed and for some reason, Jimin just wanted to run over to it and lay down as it looked so soft and comfortable. He didn't, though.

On his left side was a big dresser placed against the wall, a large TV hanging above it. Only now Jimin realised that he was actually inside of Jungkook's bedroom and he blushed at the thought about what they were going to do in here. Last time they had stayed downstairs and had only moved as far as to the sofa, but this time... well, this time it was all going to happen here.

Lastly, there was another door near the bed and the small boy assumed that it lead to a bathroom.

It was really bizarre to stand in an apartment like this, at least to Jimin it was. He remembered how shocked he had been when he had first stepped foot into Yoongi's house back then, it being huge. He felt just like that yet again.

The blond boy scanned the room once more and then walked over to the windows, pulling the curtains to the side slightly to look outside. It had started to rain, raindrops falling down from the dark sky and hitting the ground. Jimin had always liked the smell of rain for some reason - He still did.

As he let go of the curtain again, he went over to the bed and let his hand run over the soft blanket. Carefully, he sat down at the edge of the bed and started swinging his legs back and forth, waiting for Jungkook to appear.

He didn't know how long he waited, probably just a couple of minutes, but it felt like hours to the small boy. Jimin fell back down on his back and stared up at the ceiling, closing his eyes. What took him so long? Well, he had been on the phone so something important must be going on.
“Hey, sorry, I had to have that phone call right now.” Jimin suddenly heard Jungkook say and jerked slightly at the sudden noise, sitting up startled immediately.

The taller boy was standing in the doorway, arms crossed over his chest and leaning against the frame.

“I-It's okay” The blond boy assured him stuttering and got up, suddenly feeling rude for just having laid down on his bed without asking for permission, “Sorry, I didn't know where to si-”

“That's fine. Get comfortable” The other male interrupted and let his arms fall, walking into the room and dimming the lights on his way in with a touch on the light switch next to the door.

Jimin swallowed hard and felt his heart beat quicken at the mere sight of Jungkook, feeling flustered right away.

The other male was wearing a long sleeved button up shirt again and some black jeans, Jimin wondered if this was a hint at his profession. Then again, maybe he just liked wearing those kind of shirts. The smaller boy, on the other hand, was wearing a black hoodie and his ripped jeans, shoes already taken off at the door.

“How was your way here?” The taller boy wanted to know and arched up an eyebrow, coming closer slowly.

“G-Good. I... Barely any traffic” Jimin responded, cheeks heating at Jungkook's intense stare. Oh, boy, the smaller male couldn't keep staring at him, had to avert his gaze.

“Have you had a look at the list again? Anything in particular that interested you?” The younger man suddenly asked.

Oh, god. That list was truly something else.

“N-Not... I don't know”

All Jimin could think about were Taehyung's words, his... recommendation. The poor boy couldn't get himself to think about anything else than his best friend's remarks about that particular thing.

“The first rule is that the goal of this is to make you feel comfortable with sex, to guide you into sex and for you to learn about it. We are doing this by me teaching you, us practicing and seeing what you like and what not.”

“So, I want you to feel comfortable. Don't rush into anything and don't do anything you don't want to do, understood?”

Again, a small nod by Jimin.

“Let's take this step by step. We don't have to start with the big stuff, let's go with some smaller stuff first and see if you are comfortable with that and gradually, steadily we will do more and more, okay?”

“O-Okay”
The taller man studied his features, nodding slightly. "Well, then let's have a look at the list and if anything catches your eye, just ask me, okay? Don't feel uncomfortable or embarrassed. No need to"

The older boy nodded slightly, sitting down on the bed again.

"Have you got your phone with you?"

Jimin shook his head and Jungkook pulled out his phone from his pocket, typing something before walking over to him and handing him his phone. Confused, the shorter boy looked up at him with big eyes, taking the phone from him.

"Go ahead" Jungkook encouraged and the other boy looked down at the phone and read right over the first word on that list: Blowjob.

The list went on, of course, with words Jimin now had heard of, but still had no clue what they meant, at least not the majority of them.

He kept coming back to the first word, biting down on his bottom lip. The older boy felt Jungkook stare intently at him, making him blush.

"Uhmm"

"Yeah?"

"There is something... something I might want to try" Jimin whispered, voice unsure and shy, he looked so vulnerable.

"Yeah, what is it?"

God, why was this so hard. The shy boy couldn't get himself to say it, looking up at Jungkook and only pointing at the word.

"A blowjob?" Jimin nodded, quickly averting his gaze as the taller one had stared right at him, "Receiving or giving?"

"B-both" The boy replied and bit down on his lip.

Jungkook didn't take his eyes off of him, taking a glimpse at Jimin's full pink lips, "Yes, okay"

"Actually, can we... can we do that today?" The blond boy finally got the courage to ask, looking up at Jungkook with big eyes, voice soft. The taller man seemed surprised for a moment.

Honestly, Jimin couldn't even believe that he had just suggested this. Was he really ready for that? Taehyung seems to love it that much so Jimin thought that it must feel amazing. He really wanted to try.

"Take your pants off then" Jungkook ordered while he opened the buttons on his wrists of his button up shirt and started to roll his sleeves up.

Swallowing hard, Jimin pulled down the zipper of his pants with shaky hands and pushed them down to his ankles, stepping out of them. Jungkook kicked them to the side. "Sit down" He insisted and the smaller boy obeyed, sitting back down on the edge of the bed.

"Relax, take a deep breath for me" The taller boy requested as he got down on his knees, grabbing Jimin by the thighs. The poor boy jerked at the touch, letting out a yelp, "No need to be scared"
Trying to calm himself down, Jimin took a deep breath and nodded as he closed his eyes for a moment, feeling Jungkook spread his legs and move inbetween them. As he opened his eyes again, the younger man was already staring at him.

His thighs were trembling because he was so nervous. Why couldn't he just calm down?

"Breathe in" Jungkook instructed and Jimin did, "Breathe out." He opened his mouth and obeyed, "Repeat."

He kept doing this, while Jungkook kept stroking his thighs up and down, his hands warm and soft against Jimin's skin.

"No one else has ever touched you here?" The black haired boy asked as his hands got closer to Jimin's briefs, his voice noticeably lower.

"N-No" Jimin confirmed, "You are the first one"

Something flashed in Jungkook's eyes as he said that, a shiver running down Jimin's back. Slowly, the black haired boy started to pull on Jimin's briefs. "Ready?" He asked and when the smaller one nodded and lifted his hips, Jungkook pulled them down to his ankles, taking them off completely. Jimin immediatley covered himself, suddenly feeling shy again.

"Don't" The taller male whispered and grabbed his wrists gently. He pulled them away and placed them back on the bed, revealing Jimin's semi erection. The older boy was a bit embarrassed by that fact. Jungkook had barely touched him, merely had stroked his thighs and here he was already getting hard.

"Pretty" Jungkook commented and Jimin blushed. His penis was average in size. Nervously, the blond boy placed his hands behind himself on the bed and leaned back, his big hoodie falling over and covering his erection.

"Thank you" Jimin muttered quietly and looked down at the other male who wet his lips.

"Have you touched yourself since last time?" The taller man wanted to know, suddenly wrapping his hand around Jimin's penis. The boy's body twitched in response and he let out a whimper, biting down on his bottom lip. He had not been prepared for that contact. It felt odd to know and see that Jungkook was touching him. No one has ever touched Jimin down there. In fact, he hadn't even touched himself in this way before their last encounter. It was a little scary for Jimin and a lot to take in. However, as Jungkook started moving his hand up and down, slightly squeezing when he got to the top and the base, it felt good. Really good.

"No" Jimin moaned and his eyes fluttered shut, "H-Have not"

"Where you not turned on or hard since then?"

The blond boy bit down on his lip, opening his eyes again. He had been hard. It was embarrassing, but Jimin had gotten hard when he had thought about their first lesson. However, he couldn't touch himself. Not because he thought it would be wrong, but just because... he didn't want to, not alone.

"I was" He admitted, "But I didn't... didn't want to" Jimin's voice had become higher in pitch as Jungkook had rubbed his thumb over the head of Jimin's penis, making the smaller boy gasp.

"Why not?" The taller boy was just teasing him at this point. Slowly moving his hand up and down, squeezing the head from time to time and staring right at Jimin. Jungkook could not take his eyes off of Jimin's face.
It was driving the blond boy crazy. His head was spinning and he couldn't seem to think properly, taking his time to register what Jungkook had asked and then taking his time to try and form a sentence.

"D-Didn't... not without you. Didn't want to touch myself alone"

The other male hummed and sped the motion of his hand up.

“I'm gonna suck your dick now, Jimin-ssi, is that okay?”

“Y-Yes” The boy whined, voice high and close to a yelp, his hands clenching into fists in the bedsheets.

Jimin placed his hand over his mouth as he felt Jungkook's breath hit his erection. He was so so close, almost touching him with his lips.

"P-Please" The desperate boy whimpered through his hand.

"What did you say?" Jungkook asked and raised an eyebrow.

Jimin whined. Jungkook was mean. He knew that the other man had heard what he said, that he knew what Jimin wanted.

"Please" The small boy panted again, moving his hand away, "Please, Jungkook-ah"

Jimin's eyes rolled back as he felt Jungkook's wet mouth wrap around his penis, letting out a silent scream, but quickly placing his hand over his mouth again to keep quiet. He let out breathy moans against his hand as Jungkook twirled his tongue around the head and started to take more of him into his mouth while still stroking what didn't fit into his mouth just yet.

The smaller boy's moans got louder, more high pitched and became more frequent the more Jungkook took into his mouth, the taller man bobbing his head up and down.

It was a very intense feeling. Very different from just a hand being wrapped around his erection and stroking it. The poor boy didn't know what to do with himself, getting completely lost in the feeling.

As Jimin looked down at the other male, he let out a whimper, something so obscene about the imagine of his own penis disappearing in Jungkook's mouth.

It didn't take long until Jimin felt that weird feeling again, approaching it quickly, "Jungkook-ah" He cried out through his hand, "I'm gonna- I think I'm gonna-"

The younger man pulled off and quickly kept tugging on his erection, looking straight at Jimin again. The poor boy was drooling all over himself, little whimpers and moans escaping his lips as he had his eyes pressed shut. Jungkook swallowed at the sight.

"Come on, baby, come for me"

That was all it took for the small boy to let go, the pet name doing something to him. Jimin screamed as he came all over Jungkook's hand, the overwhelming pleasure being too much and running through his whole body, making him feel like he was floating all over again. His body was shaking violently as he fell back on the bed, back arching as he tried to close his legs while Jungkook was stroking him through his orgasm.

Jimin whined as it started to hurt, grabbing Jungkook's wrist and begging him to stop. The other male pulled his hand away and stared at the little boy who was looking so out of it.

"Taehyung was right" Jimin mumbled as he had trouble keeping his eyes open, "Amazing" He whispered and smiled.

For the first time, he heard Jungkook chuckle, or maybe he was imagining that. Frankly, Jimin couldn't tell if he was already sleeping or still awake. He felt... incredible, body still trembling slightly from the aftershock.

He felt Jungkook get up and walk through the door close to the bed, moments later water was being turned on. So it was in fact a bathroom, the boy thought.

Jimin sighed. This has felt way better than when he had touched himself. He didn't know if it was because Jungkook was more experienced or because, well, it was just Jungkook who had touched him.

Slowly, the blond boy sat up again and looked for his briefs, putting them on quickly. He was proud of himself for having done this, that he didn't back out half way through because of the fear and realisation that someone else was touching him and looking at something this private. The more time went by, the more comfortable he felt with Jungkook.

That's what he had hoped for. That he would feel more comfortable over time. Oddly enough, he had felt comfortable and safe in Jungkook's proximity upon their first meeting at his place. Even though he could seem kind of intimidating, there was also another aura radiating from him that had an effect on Jimin, that just pulled him in, pulled him closer. The smaller boy found himself wanting more, not being scared.

Jimin felt safe when he was with him. He didn't judge him or laugh at him because of his inexperience. Well, he hadn't done that even back then at the party and instead had offered to help him. The blond boy was really grateful for that. It felt comforting to know that he could trust him with that, especially because he had the knowledge of Yoongi who would beat Jungkook up if he made fun of him or harmed him in any way.

Jungkook walked back into the room, gaze fixated on Jimin who was playing with his hands.

"So?" He spoke up and the shorter male stared at him, his blond hair being a fluffy mess on top of his head, "Did you like that?"

The small boy nodded quickly. As if Jungkook couldn't have guessed that from the sounds Jimin has made or the way he - well, just came extremely hard. "Yes, I liked it" The boy smiled slightly.

"It's nice to give a blowjob just as it is nice to receive one. However, some people prefer only to give and some people prefer only to receive. It really depends"

"What do you like?" Jimin found the courage to ask, voice soft yet a bit hoarse from the screaming and moaning.

"Both. I think both have their own perks, both can feel amazing and you can always connect it with other things and expand the experience, but I will tell you all about that another time."

Jimin gave a small nod, cheeks flushing at the other's fixated gaze on him.

The younger boy leaned against the wall and crossed his arms over his chest. Biting down on his lip, Jimin stared at him, eyes widening when he saw that Jungkook was... hard.
"Can I-" The blond male breathed, "Can you-" The boy sat up on his knees and cleared his throat, "Teach me how to do that, please"

"How to suck someone off?" Jungkook clarified and raised an eyebrow.

"Yes, how to... yes, how to do that" There it was again. The courage Jimin just had felt faded away under Jungkook's intense gaze on him. His cheeks heated up and the boy looked down once more.

"Are you sure?" The taller one wanted to know and approached Jimin again, sitting down next to him.

"Yes" He assured him and got up from the bed, "I want to, please"

Jimin wanted to learn how to make someone feel the way Jungkook had just made him feel with his mouth. Well, he wanted to make Jungkook feel like that right now. Had an urge to make him feel pleasure, too. Maybe just to learn how to do this, maybe to say thank you, maybe because he just wanted to please him, maybe because he felt bad that Jungkook hadn't come at all at any of their encounters yet while Jimin had come two times already. Maybe especially because this was not only about helping Jimin to get comfortable with sex, but also to teach him and how was he supposed to learn anything without practicing?

The thing is, Jimin didn't really know why he wanted to do this. He just knew that he did.

"On you knees then" The smaller boy dropped on his knees immediately, knees connecting with the soft rug on the floor. It really was as soft as he had imagined. Jungkook opened his pants and pushed them down, Jimin swallowing hard, realisation hitting him of what he was going to do in just a moment.

The taller man never broke their eye contact as he took his pants off, throwing them to the side. Jimin, however, averted his gaze at the intense stare, feeling nervous.

"Have you ever touched another dick?"

The smaller boy blushed and shook his head quickly. He hadn't even touched himself like this before their last encounter, let alone someone else.

Jungkook took Jimin's shaky hand and pulled the boy between his legs. "If you ever want to stop, just stop, okay? Don't feel obligated to do this, don't think you can't stop once you started. If you don't feel comfortable, tell me and we will stop. Don't feel guilty for wanting to stop, either, understood?" The younger boy seemed to already know this fact about Jimin, having read him correct already. Jimin always felt bad or guilty for many reasons, having difficulty saying no. He was grateful that Jungkook has said this, has assured him that he can back down whenever.

With that, the taller one took Jimin's hand again and softly put it over his own briefs. Jimin's breath hitched in his throat and he swallowed as he felt Jungkook's erection below his hand. He was a lot bigger than the shorter boy, that was obvious even through Jungkook's briefs. The blond boy grabbed him through his briefs and wet his lip.

"B-Big" He breathed out and looked up at Jungkook. The black haired man stared back and forth between Jimin's eyes, something flashing in his own again.

Dropping his gaze, Jimin squeezed his penis slightly, the other one letting out a breath. Jimin felt like he did something good, wanted to do that again so Jungkook would make more sounds like that.
"Take them off" The younger one instructed and the smaller male nodded, grabbing the briefs and slowly pulling them down. Jungkook's big penis sprang free, veins defined and head pink, he was already so hard. Jimin wondered if it was because of him, wanted to be the reason for it. He wrapped his hand around him and blushed when he realised that his hand was too tiny to wrap around all of it.

"Whenever you're ready, take the head in your mouth first. Open your mouth as wide as you can and be careful with your teeth. Try to get as much in as you can. Your gag reflex will probably resist and you might start gagging or coughing, just pull off if it's uncomfortable and try again after. Don't forget to breathe through your nose, but always just pull off and take a deep breath if you need more. Take your time. Don't try too hard, do it step by step, understood?"

Jimin nodded and opened his mouth, leaning forward and stopping right above Jungkook's erection. He was scared but also... excited. He really wanted to do well.

Instead of putting him into his mouth, the smaller boy licked over the head first, humming at the taste. Jungkook must have showered not long ago because it tasted like soap. Thinking about it, Jungkook always smelled incredibly good, his cologne lingering in Jimin's mind and nose even after he was gone.

Finally, the blond boy opened his mouth wide and wrapped his lips around the head. For a moment, he just remained like that, trying to get used to the feeling. Slowly, he started moving his head down to fit more into his mouth. Jimin squeezed his eyes shut and grabbed Jungkook's thigh with his hand while the other one was still stroking the part of his erection that didn't fit into his mouth just yet. The small boy tried to twirl his tongue around the head the way Jungkook had done earlier, but it turned out to be difficult. In fact, it was difficult to take more of Jungkook into his mouth, Jimin having to stop every couple of seconds to adjust.

Suddenly, he started gagging and had to pull off, a long streak of spit connecting his mouth and Jungkook's penis. Jimin coughed and wiped the back of his hand over his mouth. He felt the taller one's hand on his head, stroking him slowly. "That was good for the first time. Took a lot into your mouth" He praised and pushed Jimins blond-silver streaks out of his face.

The praise made Jimin determined to try again, wanting Jungkook to feel the same way he did. He took him back into his mouth and moved his head down to where he was before. "Relax your throat" Jungkook advised and Jimin tried to. He really did.

He tried to take more in and Jungkook sucked in a breath. "Fuck, Jimin-ssi, don't force me down. You will hurt yourself. Just do as much as you can fit. There are other times where you can try to deepthroat, okay?" The taller man groaned and stroked his cheek.

Jimin was a little bummed out, really having wanted to try to fit all of him in, but Jungkook was simply too big. He would have to learn how to do that with time, he guessed. For now, he bobbed his head up and down over what could fit into his mouth while stroking the rest with his hand. He was drooling all over Jungkook's penis, which was actually kind of helpful while stroking, but was also making a big mess.

"Just like that" The younger one breathed and leaned back. The only sounds in the room were Jimin's little gags and sucking noises he made when he moved his head up and down, "Fuck, Jimin-ssi, you're doing good"

He loved the praises and quickened his pace. Jungkook wasn't as loud as him, but he didn't expect him to be. He was telling him that it felt good and Jungkook didn't seem like he would lie or fake something just to not hurt someone. He seemed honest so Jimin believed him even if he didn't moan and whimper like he did. Maybe he just wasn't a person that did. The blond boy just couldn't help himself, having no control over the sounds that left him.

The smaller boy looked up at Jungkook with watery eyes. His jaw was getting sore and so were his knees, but he didn't want to stop. For some reason, he liked the feeling of having Jungkook's penis in his mouth. Jimin wasn't sure if he just liked the feeling of having something in his mouth or because it was Jungkook and he wanted him to feel good.

He was determined to make the taller one feel good, had an urge to make him come just like Jungkook had make him come. The smaller boy sucked harder, bobbing his head even faster.

Jungkook cursed again as he looked down at Jimin. The boy looking so innocent doing something that was the complete opposite. The wet sounds he made didn't help either, everything just being utterly obscene. Jungkook couldn't help himself and grabbed Jimin's hair, "I'm getting close" He warned, "If you don't want me to come in your mouth just pull off now"

Jimin thought about it for a moment. He was curious about how it tasted, wondered if it was good. "You don't have to swallow" The younger male let him know as he cursed again.

The smaller boy sucked hard and bobbed his head up and down two, three more times and Jungkook was coming into his mouth, "Fuck, Jimin" He cursed and threw his head back.

Jimin coughed as it was so much that had spurted into his mouth. He tried to swallow it all, but some of it started running down his lips and chin, falling back onto Jungkook's penis. There was a big mess of sperm and spit over it, Jimin still stroking him through his orgasm, his hand now even dirtier. Quickly, Jimin licked over his penis again, trying to clean it. He didn't know whether or not he liked the taste of it. It didn't taste bad, but Jimin just didn't know if he liked it. Still, he licked at Jungkook's penis until there was no cum left, sitting upright again and looking up at the taller man.

Jungkook was looking at him, staring right at his full lips and chin that still had some cum on them. He lifted his hand and ran his thumb over Jimin's chin and bottom lip, collecting the left sperm and holding his thumb out to Jimin. The smaller boy seemed to understand as he wrapped his lips around Jungkook's thumb and twirled his tongue around it, cleaning it. He pulled off with a pop and smiled shyly.

"Fuck" Jungkook cursed breathy.

Realising what had just happened, Jimin's cheeks flushed and he got up. "Was that... okay?" He asked nervously and grabbed a tissue from the nightstand, cleaning his hand and mouth. He took another one and gave that to Jungkook.

"That was... Yes, that was definitely good for your first time" The taller one uttered and cleared his throat, still staring at Jimin. He was a little surprised by the way the innocent and shy boy had just sucked him off, taking him into his mouth so determined and ready to please, licking up any left over cum. The blond boy was completely oblivious to the fact what kind of an effect he has had on the taller one in that moment.

Jimin smiled slightly and threw the tissue into the trashcan. He felt good. He felt really good. For one because he just had an amazing orgasm, but also because he had made Jungkook feel good, too. He had done that. He was the one who had made him feel like that. Pride swelled in his chest.

The taller man stood up and put his briefs back on.

“Did you like that? Did you like sucking my- giving a blowjob? Did that feel good to you, too?”
The shorter male was a bit embarrassed by that fact, but yes, he had liked this, liked that he had been the one to make him feel like this, to please him like this. Shyly, Jimin nodded as his cheeks flushed.

“Did you like it more than receiving one?” He asked and studied his features. It was fascinating how the smaller boy was this shy and innocent looking again now, almost vulnerable even when he had just sucked his dick with such determination in his eyes.

The blond boy contemplated both options for a moment. He had felt incredible when Jungkook had given him a blowjob, body shaking from head to toe, but there was also something so fascinating and exciting about being the one to make him feel that way and to give a blowjob himself.

“I can't decide” He answered genuinely, voice quiet and a little hoarse from all the screaming, moaning and the blowjob just now.

“Well, you can like both equally, but you might prefer one over the other over time.”

The blond boy nodded as he put his pants back on, Jungkook doing the same. As Jimin was trying to fix his hair, the other male reached for his phone again and stared down at it, letting out a slight sigh.

“I have to do some work now.” He let Jimin know, who nodded and went over to the door, Jungkook following him.

“I have to go now anyways” The smaller one replied as they walked down the stairs. It was probably already close to 10pm.

“How are you getting home?” Jungkook asked as they reached the door and Jimin started to put his shoes on.

The taller one stared at him intently, looking as if he wanted to say something more, but was biting his tongue to not do that.

"Are you free this friday?" Jimin asked quietly.

“I don't know yet. I will text you to let you know”

The blond boy nodded and bit down on his lip, feeling shy again.

"You can call me hyung by the way” He burst out, feeling stupid for suddenly having said that.

Jungkook raised an eyebrow.

"I mean, I-I have noticed how you always call me Jimin-ssi. I think... I just thought you might... well, you can call me hyung if you want to”

The taller man studied his face for a while and then smirked, "Alright, noted" He said and nodded. Jimin returned the smile.

The small boy frowned.

Did he do that on purpose or did he just not want to call him hyung?

Chapter End Notes

Hi :)

The chapter is a little longer again, I hope you enjoyed it :)

Do you think Jimin should just tell Yoongi?

Thanks for all your love for the last chapters, really motivates me <3

“Why can't I get this right?” Jimin mumbled and let out a frustrated sigh as he turned the music off to start all over.

The small boy had been practicing for hours now, trying to come up with a new choreography and perfecting it really was not easy. He was sweating quite a lot, visible drops trailing down his face, hair damp.

You see, Jimin was a dancer. Well, he loved dancing and was passionate about it. He had even graduated from an arts school, focus being in dance – contemporary dancing to be exact. Then again, Jimin found himself liking all kinds of different genres of dancing, each and every kind owning something beautiful. However, he wanted it to be more than just a hobby, wanted and dreamed of it being his profession and something he could live off of.

Right now the blond boy was working at a library and paying his bills with the money he made there, as well as the heritage that was left behind from his grandmother. She had been the only good person in the beginning of Jimin's childhood - an angel, really. Frankly, she had been the only person that had shone a light in his dark childhood – making it bearable to live through each day. She had been so supportive of his dream, even back then, and you could say that Jimin was also doing this for her, always having her in his mind when he danced. You can imagine how heartbroken Jimin had been when she passed away, leaving him all alone, having to fight his battles without her.

The woman had passed everything she had owned onto Jimin: money, furniture, even her house. However, Jimin didn't stay there for long, leaving Busan and moving to Seoul because he-“Jiminie, don't overwork yourself” A voice interrupted his thoughts, startling the smaller boy as he turned around.

“Tae” He smiled, grabbed his water bottle and brushed his hair out of his face, waving at his best friend.

“You're an angel” Jimin commented, walking over to his friend and sitting down on the floor, Tae joining him and sitting down cross-legged. “How did you know that I would be here?”

“Because you are always here” The brown haired boy snickered and pulled out two lunch boxes, handing one to Jimin who's mouth started watering immediately, stomach grumbling. He hadn't eaten anything at all today, forgetting about it this morning and having been so busy all day.

“Thank you, you're the best” The shorter boy told his friend and opened the lunch box. Taehyung really was an angel, always taking care of Jimin and knowing what he needed without him even having to say anything – a true soulmate indeed.

“I know” Taehyung chuckled and grabbed his chopsticks, picking up a piece of meat with them, “But you can do me a favour in return”

Jimin had just stuffed a lot of rice into his mouth, chewing on his delicious food happily, but as those words had left Taehyung's mouth he stilled his movement, looking up suspiciously at his best friend.

“Okay... Tell me what it is first, though”

“Come hang out with us tomorrow night. Hyung wants to meet up at Jaebum's diner tomorrow. We haven't seen each other since his party. He said he misses us and I should drag you to our hang out. Come on, I'm sure you miss him, too. He probably has a lot of cool stories already about his first couple of days of working at an entertainment company!”

The smaller boy sighed, biting down on his bottom lip. He did miss Yoongi as he hadn't seen him since his party. However, Jaebum's diner wasn't his favourite place in the world. Yes, they had really tasty milkshakes and fries there which Jimin loved, but the owner's son – who was a waiter there - wasn't the nicest person, always staring at the blond boy with a weird expression. Jimin felt like the owner's son – Chen - didn't particularly like him.

Also, and an even more important objection to this idea was that Jimin and Jungkook were going to meet up tomorrow night again. However, this time it was going to be a bit later – at 10pm – due to Jungkook being busy before that.

“I... I don't know. I want to, but I'm already meeting Jungkook tomorrow night at 10pm”

Taehyung smirked teasingly and amusement flashed in his eyes as he nodded slightly. “I see”

“What?”

“Nothing. I'm just... happy for you. You seem to be comfortable with him and excited to see him again”

“What?” Jimin snorted and shook his head in protest, “That's- I mean- Okay, yes I feel more comfortable, but- You don't even-”

Taehyung chuckled at his best friend's attempt to defend himself, being a stuttering and blushing mess. “Don't worry. I was just teasing you. I'm joking. I didn't mean it like that. I'm just happy that you are comfortable around him, that is all”

The smaller boy swallowed and shut his mouth, staring down at his food. Just for the record, yes, he did feel more comfortable around Jungkook, but that's all it was. There was nothing more to it.

“Well, we could meet before that? When are you hanging out?”

“10pm”

“Great. Then we can meet at like 8pm at Jaebum's. Leaves still enough time for you to get there to meet up with him after” The taller boy suggested, raising his eyebrows.

“I guess that could do. Okay, yes”

“Yaay. Great” He smiled bright, his boxed smile.
Jimin returned the smile and picked up a piece of meat to stuff it into his mouth.

“How was your date with Hoseok hyung?” The blond boy wanted to know after they had eaten in silence for a while.

His best friend’s face lit up immediately as he bit down on his bottom lip, happiness glistening in his eyes.

“It was... Just, everything. We just started talking and clicked immediately again just like we did at the party. Oh, Jimin, he is such an amazing and interesting person, I couldn’t stop staring at him and wanting to know more about him. Do you know what? He is a dancer just like you, Jiminie. He has been an underground dancer in Gwanju and has opened his own dance studio here in Seoul now, isn’t that amazing? I asked him to invite me to one of his classes and he promised to do that. You should come with me, Jimin-ah. Maybe you could become part of his dance class, wouldn’t that be cool?”

Jimin opened his mouth in awe. Wow, he really hadn’t imagined Hoseok to be a dancer. He didn’t even know why, had only seen him for brief moments and hadn’t even really had time to paint a picture about him, but for some reason he would have never guessed him to be a dancer. The blond boy really was impressed, wanting to meet and talk to the man now, too.

“That would be awesome. I love watching other people dance and see how they just let their body follow the music, getting lost in their passion. It really is impressive that he has opened his own dance studio, he must be amazing.”

“I will let you know once he invites me” His best friend grinned, “That is all, though, we just spend like the whole afternoon and then he had to leave, but he dropped me off at home. He said we should hang out again, so I guess that is a good sign?” His expression was thoughtful for a moment, then it fell a little, “Do you think this is one-sided? Am I just imagining that he likes me, too, when in reality he just sees me as a dongsaeng?”

“I don’t think so. I think he likes you, too, Tae. How could he not?” Jimin responded and smiled, leaning over to take Taehyung’s hand. “Maybe he just needs some time and wants to go slow? You are Yoongi hyung’s dongsaeng after all so he might just be careful”

“I guess” The other male sighed, chopsticks pushing his food from side to side, “I don’t want him to be careful though. I really wanted to kiss him every time he looked at me, but I just didn’t have the balls.”

“You are right” Taehyung nodded his head and smiled, almost shyly, “I will have to drop more hints then, I guess”

Jimin chuckled, “Careful with that, though, don’t scare the guy with your seductiveness”

The taller boy grinned and swatted his arm.

“I just like him a lot. I mean, we have only properly met like two times, but we have been texting every day and it feels like I know him so well already, you know? It’s odd, but I have never felt this way with anyone ever before.”

“I’m happy for you, Tae, really. I hope it all works out for you two”

They both stared at each other, genuine smiles on their faces, before they continued to eat their food.
Jimin placed his hand on the door handle and opened the door, walking inside the diner. As he scanned the room, he pulled his sleeves over his hands and walked slower. Finally, he found his friends in the booth they were almost always sitting in. However, he was surprised to see four people being there. The smaller boy recognised his both friends, Tae and Yoongi, right away, but there were two other people that he could only see the back of their head off sitting next to them, as well.

Nervously, he walked over to them, Taehyung looking up and waving at him. The other men all looked up as well, turning their heads back to be able to see Jimin.

Oh no.

Jimin froze, almost tripping over air as he saw a familiar face. How could he not have estimated this? Jungkook stared at him intently for a moment, looking the smaller boy up and down before he fixated his eyes on Yoongi, saying something.

The blond boy swallowed hard, heart beating like crazy as he approached them. For a short moment he had considered to just turn around and get out of here as quick as possible, but they had already seen him so it was no use.

“Hey, Jiminie, glad you could make it” Taehyung smiled big, but there was something else in his eyes as he took a glimpse at Jungkook, a silent apology maybe because he hadn't been able to warn him.

“Hey” The smaller boy replied, voice almost as quiet as a whisper as Yoongi scooted over a bit to make room for him.

“Yes, I would've beaten your ass if you were going to leave us hanging, kid” Yoongi joked and ruffled his hair, Jimin smiling slighty as he pushed his hand away, a giggle escaping his mouth.

Jungkook looked up immediataly, staring right at him. The blond boy shut up right away and cleared his throat. He didn't know why he was this nervous, this incredibly anxious. The taller man wasn't that much of a stranger anymore – they had made out and had even given each other a blowjob for god's sake. However, Yoongi didn't know about that and Jimin wasn't sure if he even wanted him to know about it, fearing that he might be mad that he was doing this – this, what should he even call it? A student-teacher kind of thing? - with his friend. Then again, Yoongi didn't seem like a person that would be mad about something like that, considering that him and Tae had even offered to sleep with him, too.

It was just odd to hang out with him like this, without doing anything sexual, outside of their 'lesson'. It was even more odd to see him here at all considering that he told him he would be busy before their meeting – Oh god, that meeting. They would be hanging out after this at Jungkook's again. Won't it be really suspicious when both of them leave together at the same time?

The smaller boy looked over at his best friend. However, he was lost in Hoseok's eyes already as the older one spoke. Tae was the only one who knew what was going on between Jimin and Jungkook and for now, that was for the best.

The oldest of them lifted his hand and called over the waiter and to Jimin's luck – yes, he really was a lucky one, wasn't he – it was Chen who came over.

“Hey, Yoongi” He greeted them with a smile as he walked over to them, little notebook in his hand. However, his smile disappeared when his eyes landed on Jimin, said boy biting down on his tongue, having expected such a reaction.

He really didn't know what he had done wrong for Chen to treat him like this.

“Hey, how are you? We would like to order”

“What can I get you?”

“I will take a coke and steak” Jungkook said, Jimin hearing his voice for the first time that day, a shiver running down his back.

Everyone was staring at the blond boy who had his eyes fixated on the black haired boy. Snapping out of it, Jimin shook his head and looked up at Chen. “A strawberry milkshake please and some fries with mayo, no ketchup please”

The waiter wrote all of it down. “Anything else?”

“That's all”

Chen nodded and turned around after, making his way back to the counter where he gave their order along.

“So, hyung, tell us, how has it been there so far?” Taehyung asked, drawing the attention to him.

“Amazing, seriously. They let me just work on my own. They let me have my freedom in my music and don't force me in a certain direction. I am working on a nice fucking song right now. Maybe I will show it to you guys soon. Oh, but what's also amazing is who else is working there. His name is Namjoon. We have both been in the underground rap scene before and he kind of helped me out a bit back then. It was nice to meet him again, talking about our past and shit, and to know that we will work together. Might make some good fucking songs together.” Yoongi revealed, gummy smile appearing on his face. He seemed genuinely excited and happy, the others mirroring his appearance involuntarily, “I invited him today, too, but he was busy already. Don't worry though, I will introduce you to him soon. Really smart and funny kid”

“Kook-ah, thanks for your help by the way, I hope it didn't take too much of your time. I might need your help soon again, would you be up for that?” Yoongi voiced.

Everyone looked at the youngest, the blond boy catching him staring at him and blushing at the realisation. The taller man locked eyes with Yoongi and nodded.

“Thanks, kid”
“Hey, Jimin, Taehyung told me you dance, too?” Hoseok suddenly commented.

Now everyone's attention was drawn back to Jimin, the smaller boy squirming in his seat at their stares. “Yes” He answered and nodded, slight smile appearing on his face, “I have graduated in contemporary dance”

“Really?” Hoseok voiced, eyes widened in awe, “That is impressive. It's a difficult genre. You must be damn good in controlling your body”

“And flexible” Taehyung pointed out, everyone looking back at him, “What? He can literally bend his body in half, I have seen it with my own two eyes.” He continued and shrugged his shoulders, Yoongi chuckling slighty and giving his head a little pat. Jimin felt Jungkook stare at him again.

“Yeah, well, I just learned that over time. I have always loved dancing, even as a kid”

“Me too” Hoseok smiled, “There is just something healing about it. I'm more into hip hop and street dance, like some popping, too, but I have a lot of respect for contemporary dance. Amazing art”

“Thank you. Yes, I love contemporary dance, but I respect every kind of dance and would love to try all different kinds” The smaller boy smiled bright, happy to talk about something he loved, especially with someone who loved the same thing.

“I would love for you to come by sometime and show me what you got. I have a dance studio where I teach dance everyday”

“I would absolutely love that. Thank you. Anytime, really”

“Fantastic. I invited Taehyung, too, so you can both tag along”

“Sure” He replied and grinned, looking over at his best friend who was staring at Hoseok with big heart eyes. Oh, Tae, you really did fall head over heels for that guy.

The waiter arrived with their drinks, placing them down in front of each of them. Well, he placed every drink in front of the right person, except for Jimin. Chen just left his milkshake standing in the middle of the table, the blond boy having to reach for it on his own. It wasn't a big deal, but Jimin knew that he did that on purpose – he just wished he knew, why.

As Jimin pulled the straw between his lips, he felt Jungkook's eyes fixated on him, looking up at him involuntarily as he sucked on the straw to take a sip. The taller man wet his lips, gaze rushing down to Jimin's full lips wrapped around the straw. Quickly, the blond boy averted his eyes and let go of the straw immediataly, almost choking at the fast motion of his.

Blushing slightly, the small boy stared over at Taehyung and his eyes widened when he saw how his best friend was sucking on the straw while looking up at Hoseok purposely who was staring right at him, eyebrows arched up and wetting his lips. The older male didn't seem to know what to do with himself and where to look, mesmerised by Taehyung's action. That were the subtle hints the boy had talked about, Jimin assumed.

Giggling quietly, the blond male took another sip

It didn't take long for the rest of their order to arrive. Jimin scanned the room just to see Chen walk over to them with their remaining order.

“There you go” Chen said as he placed down the burgers in front of the others and then the steak in front of Jungkook. However, as he put the fries down in front of Jimin, the smaller male bit down on his bottom lip. Chen had put ketchup on the fries instead of mayo. Looking up at him and seeing his sickening smirk, he just knew that he had done that on purpose. Unfortunately, Jimin didn't have the courage to speak up and say anything, didn't want to make a scene because of some ketchup. He just really didn't like the taste of ketchup for some reason.

Everyone started eating right away, the shorter male just looking down at his food. Well, everyone except for Jungkook who was glancing at him, not touching his own food yet.

“Hey, come back” The black haired boy suddenly called out to the waiter, said man turning around and cocking his head to the side, pointing at himself in a questioning manner, “Yes, who else?”

Chen walked back over to them, the other boys at the table halting their movements with their burgers in their hands, looking at the scene evolving in front of them.

Oh no, he had noticed. The other boys seemed to have been too focused on their own food to realise that Jimin had gotten a wrong order, but Jungkook hadn't. Not only had he noticed the mistake, but he was standing up for him. The smaller boy really didn't want to make such a big deal out of this.

“It's fine, I can just eat the ones without any ketch-” The blond boy tried to utter as he reached out for some fries.

“Don’t” Jungkook interrupted sharply, looking back at Chen, “So?”

“Well, he ordered some damn fries which I got him” The waiter responded, annoyed by Jungkook calling him back.

“That wasn't his full order, try again” Jimin looked at the younger boy. There was something flashing in his eyes, but Jimin couldn't define what it was, just knew that he would never want that to be directed at him.

“No, asshole, he ordered fries with mayo and you know damn well he did.” Jimin had never heard Jungkook talk this pissed – it wasn't loud or anything, there was just anger behind it - it was kind of intimidating.

“The deal is that you know damn well what exactly he ordered and just decided to be a dick and get him the wrong thing. Treat your costumers with some fucking respect. Now, get your annoying ass back and bring him some new fries with mayo”

“What if I don't?”

Silence for a moment. Everyone held their breath.

Chen held his hands up in defense, seemingly not wanting to cause a fight – especially not as this was his father's place – and grabbed the fries to walk back to the kitchen.

Everyone was staring at the black haired boy, the others still holding their burgers in their hands, not having taken a bite yet. Jungkook just took a sip of his coke as if this all didn't just happen.
“Thank you” Jimin whispered, squirming in his seat, cheeks flushed. This was all a bit embarrassing to him, yet he was thankful that Jungkook had spoken up for him.

It took a moment for Chen to come back, the others having eventually started to eat their food while Jungkook was still not touching his.

Finally, he arrived and dropped the fries in front of Jimin without a care, a couple of them falling out of the box onto the table. “There you go” He said annoyed, looked disgusted at Jimin and turned around while muttering “Fucking annoying bitch” under his breath.

Oh no.

Jimin swallowed hard. He didn't know what to do and neither seemed the others, all of them just staring at the scene with big shocked eyes.

“Say it again and I swear I will-”

He shut up as he felt a small hand on his arm. Jimin hadn't even realised that he had gotten up and had walked closer to them, placing his hand softly on Jungkook's arm.

“Please, it's okay, don't do this” Jimin pleaded quietly, scanning the room and seeing everyone looking at them.

“It's not okay, Jimin-ssi, he is fucking disrespectful and thinks he can get away with anything, well think again, bastard.”

“And that makes it okay to say shit like that? Don't fucking think so. Learn to fucking respect your costumers. If you talk to him like this again, believe me, you will regret that”

Chen raised his hands in defense and walked back into the kitchen, not saying another word.

Jungkook waited until he was gone completely and then sat back down at the table, Jimin joining him shortly after.

“Y-Yeah, I'm fine” The smaller boy nodded, looking at Jungkook who took another sip from his coke, “Thank you, Jungkook-ah.”

“I hate people that can't show some decent respect.”

The blond boy nodded. Of course he hadn't just done this because of Jimin. No, he had done this because Chen was just a mean person and Jungkook wanted to put him back into this place – this really wasn't about Jimin.

Nevertheless, the smaller boy felt like Jungkook had protected him, something warm blooming in his chest. However, his subconscious came right back and told him to shut it, that it wasn't about him and that Jungkook would have done this for everyone – Jimin wasn't special.
He took one of his fries and put it into his mouth, the others continuing to eat again as well.

The night went by with laughter, conversation and more food. After that incident with Chen, the atmosphere had been kind of awkward, but Hoseok had been quick to jump in and start a conversation to change the topic – succeeding perfectly. He really seemed to be good at reading the mood and knew how to change it to the better.

Even Jungkook had talked more, still giving Jimin an intent glance now and then however.

Jimin found himself become more comfortable, talking more and laughing a lot. He really grew to like Hoseok who told them all of these funny stories. The blond boy could really understand why Tae liked him so much.

“I'm telling you, he just turned up there with only his briefs on after he cheated on his girlfriend and she locked him out of their shared apartment” He snickered, the others looking at him in disbelief.

“And he just danced like that?”

“Yes, he just danced like that. To be fair, he did that himself so he has to deal with the consequences, I reckon. Well, one of the other students eventually gave him some sweatpants as he had an extra one with him. I just don't get why he came to class in the first place and didn't try to somehow get his stuff back first”

They all laughed collectively.

“It was funny, though, how he danced like that for the first half hour of the lesson”

Giggling slightly, but feeling a little pity somehow as well, Jimin took a glance down at his phone at the words 'lesson'. It was getting close to when Jungkok and him where supposed to meet at his place.

Where they not going to do that anymore? Maybe they should just rearrange their plans.

As Yoongi started telling a funny story from his past, the small boy clicked on Jungkook's name on his phone to write a message.

Should we not meet later? Should we maybe rearrange our plans? - Jimin

The blond boy locked his phone again as he heard a buzzing noise, presumably Jungkook's phone giving him a notice that he had received a message. The man pulled his phone down, glanced at the display and furrowed his eyebrows, looking up at Jimin.

However, he pretended to not notice his stare, but rather payed attention to Yoongi's story.

Then, his phone vibrated in his hand, startling him. The smaller male unlocked his phone and opened the message.

Why are you texting me? I'm sitting right across from you – Jungkook

Well, I don't want Yoongi to know about this yet. - Jimin

Why? - Jungkook

I don't know... Feels wrong. - Jimin
There is nothing wrong about it, Jimin-ssi. - Jungkook

Just, please, Jungkook-ah, respect my decision. – Jimin

Fine. You still wanna hang out at mine? - Jungkook

Jimin bit down on his bottom lip, cheeks heating up as he felt Jungkook’s gaze on him again.

Yes, please. - Jimin

You wanna leave now? - Jungkook

The smaller boy looked up at the younger one, locking eyes with him. He nodded slightly and swallowed hard, Jungkook studying his face.

Right, just go along with me. - Jungkook

What did he mean-

“Yah, Jimin-ah, stop texting” Yoongi scolded him, making the blond boy jump startled. Quickly locking his phone again, he looked up at his friend, cheeks flushing as he felt like he had been caught doing something he shouldn't be doing.

“S-Sorry”

Yoongi's features softened and he ruffled Jimin's hair in apology as he had just been joking in the first place.

“Anyway, so Namjoon and I had just spat some fire as those guys suddenly broke out into a massive fight and-”

“Sorry, guys, I have to leave now. I got some work to do” Jungkook interrupted and got up, pulling out his wallet. “Sorry, hyung, didn't want to interrupt you”

“It's fine” Yoongi assured him and shook his head, “I know how busy you are. Thanks for coming at all, was nice to hang out as a group, definitely have to do that soon again. I will invite Namjoon next time, you will all love him”

“Sounds great, hyung” The black haired boy voiced and gave a genuine smile as he put down some money on the table.

“Hyung, it's fine, I want to-”

Jungkook nodded and took his money back. “Thanks, hyung. Text me about that help you said you need and we can work something out”

Yoongi gave him a thumbs up and a slight nod. “Will do. Have a good night”

The black haired boy looked at Jimin now who had been mesmerised by the scene in front of him, confused and trying to make sense of it.

“Does anyone need a ride?”
It was directed at Jimin. The small boy widened his eyes and finally realised what Jungkook was doing. Raising his hand slightly the blond boy got up.

“It is pretty late and I got to be in the studio fairly early, so I should leave soon as well” Yoongi let them know.

“Jungkook-ah, can you drop me off at home, too, after dropping Jimin off? It's not that far from Jimin's and Taehyung's apartment building”

The smaller boy widened his eyes, almost choking on air, but playing it off as a cough while looking at Taehyung who was mirroring his expression. Their apartment building was in a whole other direction than Jungkook's one. It would be quite a detour. Taehyung knew that fact, was the only one who knew about Jungkook and Jimin and also knew that the blond boy didn't want Yoongi to know about it yet.

“Ah, but Jimin-ah, you wanted to go practice, right?” His best friend suddenly voiced, “Hyung, you are here with a car, too, can you drop me and Hoseok hyung off?” Taehyung quickly came to rescue, Jimin letting out a sigh in relief.

“Sure, no problem. Jimin-ah, should I drop you off at your practice studio or are you fine with Jungkook taking you?”

“Are you sure you wanna go practice now though? It's pretty late and I don't want you to overwork yourself. I don't want history to repeat itself. Remember what happened when” Yoongi tried to voice his concern.

“I won't overwork myself, hyung.” Jimin interrupted Yoongi, “I promise. Don't worry”

“Okay. Let's go then”

Yoongi placed some money on the table and they all collectively made their way outside, fresh air blowing around them in the dark night.

“I parked over there” Jungkook let them know and pointed into their left direction, thankfully Yoongi told them that he had parked in the opposite direction.

They all said their goodbyes, Jimin hugging Taehyung extra tightly and whispering a small thank you, then Yoongi, Hoseok and Tae left to walk to Yoongi's car, Jimin waving at them with a smile.

As they were out of sight, Jimin let out a little breath he hadn't even notice he had been holding. However, anxiety filled him as he realised that he was all alone with Jungkook now, yet there was another emotion bubbling inside of him, spreading warmth in his chest.

Swallowing hard, he turned around to look at the younger boy who was already starting to make his way to his car, Jimin following him with small steps.

“I will meet you at yours then” The small boy uttered as they had arrived at Jungkook's black Range Rover.

The taller boy stared at him confused. “What do you mean?” He asked as he unlocked the car, lights coming on for a moment in response.
“I will take the bus and meet you at yours” The blond boy clarified, Jungkook just staring at him for a moment.

Hesitant, Jimin opened the door to the passenger's seat and got into the car as well, shutting the door as he sat down.

The younger boy put his key into the ignition and started the car as the blond boy put his seatbelt on. He placed his shaky hands on his thighs, never having been alone with Jungkook without their lessons being the reason for it. Well, essentially it was the reason now as well.

As he pulled out of the parking spot, Jimin glanced outside the window, seeing the diner flashing by, leaving it behind.

“Would have been unnecessary for you to take the bus as I'm driving to mine anyway”

The blond boy simply nodded as he looked outside the window again.

It was quiet as the radio wasn't turned on and they didn't talk. The only sound being the car while driving. Jimin looked over at Jungkook again, seeing him hold the steering wheel with only one hand, while the other one was placed on the gear shift. He had rolled the sleeves of his hoodie up, revealing his strong arms and defined veins. Involuntarily, Jimin bit down on his lip and drew his thighs together.

He only noticed now that it was the first time that he saw Jungkook wearing a hoodie instead of his usual button up shirt. Even though Jimin thought that he looked handsome with those shirts on, it was a nice change. Frankly, the taller one looked good in anything he wore, could literally pull off any look, Jimin reckoned.

The blond boy glanced at Jungkook's handsome face, studying his features. He still couldn't get over how intimidatingly gorgeous the man was. Today had been really refreshing as Jimin had seem Jungkook smile and laugh quite often. It had been utterly odd at first, as he was not used to it, but now he just couldn't stop thinking about it, wanting to see the man smile again. He looked so beautiful when he did.

Averting his gaze quickly, the smaller boy squirmed in his seat as he blushed. “Nothing”

The other male hummed.

“His name is Chen, he's my age” Jimin replied, voice quiet and unsure, not really wanting to think about him right now – or ever at that.

“Where do you know him from?”

The smaller boy sighed, pulling at the hem of his hoodie as he tried to look for words.

“School. We both went to the same arts school. He was in my year, but he wasn't into dance. Frankly, I don't know what he studied there. I saw him every now and then and for some reason he doesn't seem to particularly like me. I don't know why.”

The other male hummed again.

“Does he treat you like that often?”

The blond boy thought for a moment. “Well, not like this exactly. Often it's just disgusted or annoyed stares, sometimes he takes longer to get my food than for the others, sometimes he purposely doesn't place my order in front of me when he does for the others. It's just small things, but I know that he does that to hurt me” His voice was only a whisper at the end, Jungkook almost not catching his words. The hurt was visible in his voice.

The taller male glanced over at the vulnerable looking boy.

“Did he ever touch you? Did he hurt you physically?” Jungkook's voice had become a bit lower, serious. It seemed as if he tried to control his voice, grabbing the steering wheel only slightly tighter.

“N-No, never physically”

“Do the others know? Hyung?”

“No, they never noticed. I never said anything, though, either. It's just small things and at first I thought he just did them on accident, not purposely. However, it just happened so often that I assumed he does do them on purpose, but I didn't want to make a scene because of it.”

“You should, though, don't let that fucking bastard treat you like that. You have literally done nothing. He should learn to treat his customers with some fucking respect or-”

Jimin had placed his small hand on Jungkook's thigh, trying to calm him. “Please don't get mad because of something like this. It's fine” He pleaded, voice soft.

The younger one looked over at him, expression softening as he studied Jimin's delicate features. He opened his mouth to say something, but shut it right after, shaking his head and looking back on the road.

“It's not fine, though, Jimin-ssi. Don't tell yourself that” Jungkook uttered, voice containted again.

The smaller boy nodded slightly, taking his hand away to place it in his own lap.

“Thank you for standing up for me. That was nice”

Jungkook simply nodded, concentrating on driving again.

It was quiet for the rest of the drive.

They didn't say a word to each other until they entered Jungkook's apartment.

The younger boy turned the lights on and took his shoes off, Jimin following his action. Both placed their shoes next to the door before the taller one walked over to the big glass wall and pressed a button on the wall, curtains closing in response.

“No, thank you” The smaller one declined and shook his head, pulling his sleeves over his delicate hands as he walked further into the room.

“Should we go upstairs then?” The younger male wanted to know as he arched up an eyebrow, waiting for Jimin’s answer.

“Have you got anything in mind in particular that you wanna try today?” Jungkook asked as they arrived upstairs and entered his bedroom, the taller one turning the lights on, dimming them slightly however.

“N-Not really” Jimin admitted and looked down at the floor. His long sleeves covered his petite hands, making him appear even smaller. Well, actually, he did have a look at that famous list again. Some words had caught his interest and he kind of wanted to know what they meant, having an idea about one of their meanings already himself. Then again, he could be totally off with his assumption.

Jungkook didn’t say anything for a moment, just stared at the older boy. “Do you want to go through the list? Do you want to try something, anything in mind?” He asked and went over to the windows to draw the curtains together, hiding them from the world.

"Uhm..." The blond boy walked towards the bed and sat down, feet not quite reaching the floor, "I’m a bit... a bit tired, actually" Jimin let the younger man know, "Can we.... maybe, just make out? I mean, you said there is still room to improve, right? Maybe we could practice a bit more." He suggested, not looking the younger man in the eyes.

"Have you kissed anyone since we last kissed?" The black haired boy asked and walked closer. There it was again, that intense stare that made Jimin nervous, but also... excited.

"N-No" The shorter boy stuttered. He had not kissed anyone since last friday where he had kissed Jungkook for the first time. Of course he hadn’t. For a moment, Jimin wanted to ask him, too, but he held his tongue - knowing better. Certainly, well, at least it was highly possible that Jungkook had kissed someone else since then.

For the first time ever Jimin wondered if Jungkook was taken. He hadn’t even thought about that possibility yet, had not even imagined that. The smaller boy doubted that he was because essentially, the taller one would be cheating on his partner then. Even if this was platonic and only to help Jimin – it was still intimate physical contact.

"Whatever you want to do" Jungkook simply said and looked down at the shorter boy.

"Can we go through the list after that, too? There was something I wanted to ask” These words really didn’t leave his mind. Well, he had wondered about all of those words, but these particular ones made him curious because he had an idea about what one of it meant. He wasn’t sure if he was right and he had been too scared to google it - Taehyung’s and Jungkook’s mentions of seeing some disturbing stuff after googling a couple of words lingering in his mind.

"Sure, you can ask right now, if you want to" The black haired male suggested.

"I-I-“ Jimin cleared his throat and got up, standing right in front of Jungkook, too close for his liking. He could feel the warmth radiating from the taller man and quickly broke the eye contact, walking away slightly to take his phone out of his pocket. When he finally got it, he jumped up, startled as he felt Jungkook stand right behind him, chest almost touching his back.

He unlocked his phone and opened the message with the list. "What is it?" The taller man asked quietly and turned Jimin around.

"Spanking" The older one eventually mumbled. "I mean, I know what the word means, but I don't really... I thought that hurts, why would someone want that?"

Jungkook looked at him for a moment, studying his face. "Some people enjoy pain. They feel pleasure with or after the pain. It can be used during sex, but also before or after in a punishing way" He explained. Jimin titled his head to the side, trying to understand. "Some people feel humiliated when they get spanked, but they enjoy that, too. Humiliation turns some people on as well, just like pain does"

Jimin bit down on his lip, trying to process the new information. "O-Oh" He said eventually, glancing down again, blush creeping up on his cheeks.

"Is that something you can see yourself liking? Do you think you want to try that or do you not want to do that at all?"

Thinking for a moment, the smaller boy narrowed his eyes. He wanted to be open and try a lot of different ideas, just wanted be comfortable about all of this. Honestly, he didn't know if he would like it, but for some reason he had felt anticipation rise up as Jungkook had explained the meaning behind the word, imagining Jungkook do that to him.

"I don't know" Jimin answered truthfully and looked up at him again. He pushed his hair out of his face and cleared his throat, "I think..." He didn't finish his sentence, leaving it hanging in the air between them.

"If you were to imagine yourself doing this, would you want to receive the spanks or be the one spanking?"

"Receive" The blond boy answered without even thinking about it. Maybe that was a little too fast. Jungkook seemed to think so, as well, as he raised an eyebrow and smirked slightly. It was so slight that it was gone as quick as it had appeared. For some reason, Jimin could not imagine himself spanking Jungkook - or anyone really. Being spanked on the other hand... that was something Jimin might be open to try.

"Okay, how about we set that as a soft limit then, yes?" As Jungkook saw Jimin's confused expression he clarified, "A soft limit is something you don't want to try as of now. That doesn't mean you won't ever want to try it. A hard limit, on the other hand, is something you don't ever want to do and we will never cross that line"

The older boy nodded.

"Alright, then spanning on the soft limit list?"

"Yes, that sounds good" Jimin answered and smiled.

"Next one"

Nervously, he looked down at his phone again, feeling Jungkook's gaze still fixated on him, still standing so close in his proximity.

"It's this one" He uttered and pointed at the word, "Aftercare. I mean, I think I kind of know what the word means? Well, it's pretty self explanatory, I guess. So, you take care of someone after... sex, I assume?" Jimin asked and raised an eyebrow. He looked at Jungkook expectant, hoping to have guessed the meaning correctly.
"Correct. Well, almost. It's mostly common in BDSM or dom and sub play. After a 'scene' the sub, most likely, needs aftercare. However, not exclusively. Sometimes the dom can need aftercare, too." Jimin tried to process the information, but couldn't really make sense of it. Reading Jimin's confused expression and looking into his big, curious eyes, Jungkook continued, "It involves cuddling and talking, anything that helps to return to the real world and make sure both parts are comfortable and good. It's very important."

"Real world?" Jimin asked confused and tilted his head to the side. He didn't really understand that if he was being honest, "So you don't always do that after sex?"

The taller one shook his head, "No, not necessarily. You can, of course, if you want to. It's just more common in BDSM, but that doesn't mean it can only be used there. If you want that, you can always ask for aftercare after whatever we do. Some people just need it after any sexual interaction." Jimin really wanted to ask what BDSM was, what a dom and a sub was, but he was a bit scared and honestly, he had to process what he had learned right now first, his tired brain having difficulty to understand all of it.

"So, after anything we do we can have aftercare?" The small boy asked quietly, voice unsure and shy.

"If that's what you want then we can do that. However, I'm only used to doing it after certain sexual action so if I don't initiate it and you want it in a specific situation just let me know, okay? Don't be afraid to ask, ever, understood?"

Jemin gave a light nod and smiled slightly, "I understand.

"Also, do you remember what I told you last time? About when you feel uncomfortable?"

Jemin nodded again, "Yes, that we can stop whenever I feel uncomfortable. I just have to tell you and we will stop right away"

"Good"

As Jungkook walked back to the bed, Jimin wondered about something. This time, he couldn't stop himself, "What about you?" He voiced and put his phone down, "I mean, what if you get uncomfortable?"

"What do you mean?" The taller one asked and studied his face.

"You will let me know, too, okay?" Jimin said gently and glanced down at the floor again.

There was silence for a moment, Jungkook just staring at Jimin, looking back and forth between his eyes. Suddenly, he smiled even if it was gone as fast as it had appeared, "This is about you, Jiminssi. I want to help you get comfortable in sex and learn about all kinds of it. But yes, there are certain things that I won't do and I will let you know if there is. However, I don't really get uncomfortable in situations like this" Jimin felt his cheeks heat up and he nodded, still not looking at the taller man.

"But thank you" Jungkook said, voice a bit softer. At that, the blond one locked eyes with him again, smiling shyly.

"Come here now" Jungkook insisted softly and held his hand out.

Heart beating faster, Jimin approached him and stopped right in front of him, stomach twisting in excitement. The taller man grabbed Jimin by the hips and slowly ran them down to his thighs, pulling the smaller one forward. The shy boy let out a yelp as Jungkook pulled him on his lap so Jimin was straddling him, his hands holding him by the waist.
Their faces were so close that they could feel each other's breath on their skin. Jimin squeezed his eyes shut and let out a shaky breath as Jungkook's hands started stroking his sides.

"Still nervous?" The black haired boy wanted to know, voice quieter.

Jimin bit down on his lip and nodded, looking down.

Jungkook grabbed his chin gently and forced him to lock eyes with him, "Deep breath for me, come on" He requested and the older boy did, "No need to be nervous, huh? Have done this before" The bigger one whispered and slowly pressed his lips on Jimin's.

The smaller boy clenched his hands into fists as he felt Jungkook's soft lips on his, realising he had missed that feeling. A whimper escaped his lips as they moved their mouths against each other, Jimin placing his hands on Jungkook's shoulders.

"Use your tongue more" Jungkook instructed, Jimin doing as told.

Their lips moved against one another as Jungkook licked with his tongue over Jimin's, making the smaller boy whimper. They kissed like this for a while, pace steady. That was until Jimin became needier and tried to deepen the kiss, moving his lips in a quicker pace. Jungkook squeezed his hips and kissed right back, pulling Jimin impossibly closer.

After some more kisses, Jungkook pulled away, both men having to catch their breath. Jimin's pupils were dilated, pretty full lips red due to the kissing and he looked at Jungkook expectant, wanting to continue.

Jungkook raised his hand and stroked over Jimin's cheek with his thumb. The smaller boy's eyes flutterd shut and he nuzzled against the touch involuntarily, "I want to do something" the taller one suddenly uttered. Jimin opened his eyes and looked at the taller boy expectant.

"You can do whatever you want" The smaller one allowed quietly.

It was bad. Jimin became putty in Jungkook's hands. All there was needed was a mere stare or a simple word from the younger one and Jimin found himself obeying on cue, ready to do anything. It was utterly odd, wasn't it? How Jimin could barely stop himself from blushing or stuttering when he looked at him, but was so needy for his physical attention, getting lost in it completely, not embarrassed at all in these moments.

However, the blond boy thought it was odd as well how different Jungkook somehow became in these moments, too. Wasn't he? Perhaps Jimin just imagined it, but instead of being quite distant or almost ignoring the boy except for some occasional stares like earlier at the diner, he was touching the boy a lot, holding him so close, kissing him with passion rather than just in a teaching manner. It was almost as if they both brought another side out when they were together. Then again, the small boy was most likely just imagining these things.

Something flashed in Jungkook's eyes, pupils dilating. "Don't say that" The taller one warned, tone deeper and huskier as he squeezed Jimin's hips harder, "Won't be able to hold myself back" He continued, voice quieter as he started kissing at Jimin's neck. For some reason Jimin felt like he wasn't supposed to hear that. But before the boy could even register the words and think about them, Jungkook's lips demanded his full attention as he started sucking on Jimin's skin, making the smaller boy let out a breathy moan and grab Jungkook's shoulders harder.

"J-Jungkook-ah" The blond haired boy gasped as Jungkook sucked harder, right on his neck. Jimin pressed his thighs together as it started to hurt a bit, but he didn't want Jungkook to stop. The boy squeezes his eyes shut and let out little whines as the taller one continued his work on Jimin's neck, only stopping once he was satisfied with what he did, tongue licking over it slowly.

"That's a hickey" The younger male informed him, voice still deeper than usual. In fact, now that Jimin thought about it, Jungkook's voice always seemed to be deeper when they were doing anything sexual. "It's a mark you can give someone by sucking on their skin. The harder you suck, the deeper it will be."

"A-A mark?" Jimin asked and opened his eyes again, feeling a bit dizzy. Jungkook nodded as he traced his thumb over the mark he had left on Jimin's neck, making the smaller boy suck a breath in at the slight pain.

"Yes"

"Will it... go away again?"

Jungkook glanced at the older boy, amusement in his eyes. "Yes, it will go away. Depending on how hard you suck it can take a while, though"

"May I... May I try?" Jimin asked. For some reason, he really wanted to do that on Jungkook, too. Wanted there to be something on his body that Jimin would have done, something to remind him of Jimin - even if it was temporarily. He immediately understood why people did this and liked this.

Jungkook looked back and forth between his eyes, considering for a moment, "Sure" He said eventually, pulling down his hoodie and revealing more skin.

"H-How do I..."

"It's like kissing at first, open mouthed kisses" Jungkook began to explain, "Once you find a spot you like, you start sucking on the skin. You have to suck for a while, the harder you do it, the deeper the hickey will be".

The smaller boy bit down on his lip as he nodded, leaning forward and titling his head to the side. He placed his lips on Jungkook's throat, leaving open mouthed kisses on his skin. His skin smelled so good, Jimin's head started spinning, forgetting for a moment what he had wanted to do. He continued kissing the taller one and stopped eventually at a spot on the right side of his neck.

"Here" He whispered and grabbed Jungkook's shoulders, starting to suck on the skin the way he had told him to do. Jungkook let out a breath as Jimin began to suck harder, wanting to do well.

"Just like that" The younger one breathed and rubbed over Jimin's sides again. The praises made Jimin more determined, the boy sucking even harder. "Okay, baby, enough" Jungkook muttered after a moment and Jimin stopped right away, licking over the spot slowly to ease the pain.

He pulled back and looked at his work. There it was: A small but visible hickey Jimin had just created. He felt pride swell up in his chest and was happy, liking the sight of it on Jungkook's skin.

"Finished" He said proudly.

"Well done" Jungkook praised and grabbed him by the chin again, pressing his lips on Jimin's once more.

They started to make out again, fast and passionate, not getting enough of one another. Jungkook felt how hard the blond one had become and started moving Jimin by the hips.
Said boy whimpered at the feeling, clothed penis rubbing against Jungkook's. The friction felt good, but was barely there and just not enough. Jimin wanted more.

He started to grind against Jungkook carefully, scared that Jungkook didn't want this. "Keep going" The taller one urged inbetween kisses and groaned, crushing Jimin's doubts and the boy began to grind against Jungkook faster. He didn't really know what he was doing, just did what felt good and chased that feeling.

The sounds Jimin made were obscene, small and breathy whines and whimpers that got louder the more the smaller boy was rocking his hips against Jungkook. He needed more, wanted more, but it just wasn't enough.

"J-Jungkook-ah" Jimin moaned and whined, desperately trying to get off on top of Jungkook. "P-Please"

The black haired boy helped Jimin by moving his hips faster while simultaneously moving his own hips upwards to meet Jimin's. Both men were grinding against each other, Jungkook falling back on his back and pulling Jimin with him. They didn't break the kiss as their hips moved against each other, position allowing Jimin to go faster.

"Tell me how it feels" The younger male ordered and pulled away, wanting to look at the desperate boy on top of him. Jimin was out of it already, flushed cheeks, rocking his hips irregularly and grabbing whatever he could get of Jungkook, mewling and moaning incoherent words. Jungkook wondered how it would be to actually fuck the smaller boy. How out of it he would be then, how Jungkook would make him feel so good to make him lose his mind.

The taller boy gripped Jimin's hips harder and stopped his movements, making him whine high in his throat in protest, locking eyes with Jungkook.

"Answer me" He insisted and Jimin actually felt like he was going to cry. He couldn't think straight, didn't know what had happened to him, but all he could think about was Jungkook, Jungkook, Jungkook and how desperately he wanted to come.

"P-Pleeease, feels so good, Jungkook-ah, so good. More, please“ The smaller boy cried out and tried to hump Jungkook once more.

Having mercy, Jungkook started grinding against him again, a scream escaping the older boy's lips. Jimin had been very responsive and loud every time, reacted in an intense way because all of these feelings had overwhelmed him - having felt like this for the first time. Jungkook hadn't been surprised by the way Jimin had felt and reacted.

He was so so out of it at this point, having been hard for a while now and not knowing how to deal with it, while having been touched and kissed for so long. Everything was too much, but also not enough, the feeling overwhelming the smaller boy who had come very quickly the past times. This time, however, he didn't come as quickly as the friction simply wasn't enough.

"Jungkookie, Jungkookie, I want to- please" Jimin bit down on his lip as he tried not to moan too loudly.

The shorter boy rocked his hips harder and quicker, messy rhythm and breathy whines leaving his soft lips. He felt so hot, everything was too much. He didn't know how long he had been grinding against Jungkook now, just knew that he wanted to come so badly.

"Go on, baby, come for me and make a mess" Jungkook whispered in his ear in a low voice.
Jimin hid his face in the crook of Jungkook's neck as the feeling overwhelmed him. He moved his hips three, four more times and suddenly the pleasure burst inside of him, the poor boy crying out Jungkook's name over and over, eyes squeezing shut as he gripped the sheets of the bed next to where they both were laying, body shaking from head to toe. Jimin had come in his pants and whimpered as he started to feel pain due to the sensitivity from continuing to rock his hips against Jungkook, small body trembling from the stimulation.

Jungkook halted his hips and placed a small kiss on his temple. "There you go"

Jimin's chest rose and fell quickly, the boy breathing heavy through his mouth. His body was shaking all over. He was floating again, eyes feeling heavy as he tried to catch his breath. Jungkook caressed his back slowly, making Jimin feel safe and close.

"A-Aftercare" The little boy pleaded and Jungkook nodded, already having guessed it at Jimin's appearance. The last two times Jimin had come, he had only needed a couple of seconds to collect himself and get back down. Jungkook's help hadn't been necessary, Jimin feeling fine just some moments later and had been ready to go on with whatever right after - this time, however, was a bit different, probably because the stimulation had been longer this time, making his orgasm more intense.

He didn't want to leave Jungkook's embrace.

"You did good. Came so well for me"

Jimin smiled slightly and hid his face in the crook of Jungkook's neck again.

"Thank you. You made me feel so good"

"I'm glad" He hummed in response.

They just stayed like this for a while, Jungkook never stopping with stroking Jimin's back, said boy trying to steady his breath. The blond boy concentrated on Jungkook's heartbeat, trying to follow it.

He barely noticed how the taller male pulled out his own phone, typing something for a while and then placing it on the nightstand.

"Jungkook-ah" The small boy whispered after some minutes and lifted his head. Jungkook arched up an eyebrow, waiting for what the boy had to say while brushing Jimin's hair out of his face, rubbing his thumb over his cheek slowly, "Can we... Can we have sex next time? Can we... I want to have my first time"

The taller man hesitated, just studying Jimin's face. Eventually, he responded, "If that's what you want to do, we will do that"

Jimin smiled shyly and gave a nod, putting his head back down on Jungkook's chest.

"Are you feeling better?"

The blond boy knew that it wouldn't be long until the other one was going to ask him to leave now, their little... lesson coming to an end for today soon. However, he really didn't want to get up right now, loving the feeling of being held so close by Jungkook, felt warm and safe in his embrace.

"Yes" The shorter boy nodded eventually as Jungkook stopped stroking his back and sat up, Jimin having to follow him. He gently pushed the small boy off of him and rolled him onto his back, placing a pillow beneath his head for him to rest on. He got up and reached for his phone, the older... boy following his every move, curious about what he was going to do.

"Are you sure you are okay now?" Jungkook wanted to know as he glanced at the boy on his bed before fixating his gaze on his phone again, a slight sigh leaving his lips.

“Yes, I am. Thank you” The blond boy assured him and sat up, ruffling his own hair and rubbing over his tired eyes. It had been quite a long day and he was quite sleepy, especially after having such an intense orgasm. He just wanted to lay back down in Jungkook's bed and hide himself in the covers, nuzzling his face against the soft pillows and fall asleep with Jungkook's smell lingering in his nose.

However, he couldn't do that. Essentially, because it was part of their rules – Not staying over night. Jungkook must have decided on that rule for a reason and it was probably for the best. The small boy was brought back to reality quite swiftly.

“Sorry, but my father wants to call me. It's gonna be quite a long phone call. If you are sure you are fine, I have to ask you to leave now” The taller one let him know. It was the first time Jungkook had revealed something personal about him.

"Oh" Jimin muttered, "Sorry, yeah, I'm fine, I will leave of course." He assured quietly.

Jungkook seemed to have wanted to say something more, opening his mouth in the process, but closing it shortly after, clearing his throat. “Let's go downstairs then”

Jimin nodded as he got up, following the other male downstairs, not saying a word to each other. Why was he feeling like this so suddenly? Just moments ago he had felt incredible, euphoric and now... all of that was gone.

"Next time will need to be a little longer as it's your first time, so we should pick a day and a time where we both have quite a bit of free time."

"O-Okay, we can just text and decide on the perfect time”

Jungkook nodded as they arrived at his door, glancing at his phone again as Jimin reached for his shoes.

"Do I need to bring anything? Prepare anything?" The blond boy wanted to know as the other male walked over to his bag on the sofa, looking for something.

For a moment, Jungkook seemed to think, but then shook his head, glancing back at Jimin, "No, I will get everything."

"Okay" Jimin whispered and put on his shoes, tying them up.

“Here, take this” The black haired boy suddenly insisted and held his hand out, the smaller one getting back up.

“I called you a taxi” The bigger male responded and reached for Jimin's hand, turning it around and placing the money in his palm, “It's already downstairs”

When did he do that?

“N-No, Jungkook-ah, the bus is just-”
“Take it” He insisted and wrapped Jimin's fingers around the money, “It's late. You shouldn't take the bus this late and walk around, you're looking pretty tired, too”

Something warm was blooming in Jimin's chest again, making his heart jump weirdly. He couldn't define the feeling, but it made him swallow hard and dizzy.

"We will text about the perfect time to meet up then" Jungkook voiced, opening his door. Jimin gave a nod. "See you then."

"See you" The blond boy replied and waved, making his way outside the apartment.

The feeling in his chest didn't leave him.

Chapter End Notes

Hi! :)

This chapter is a little longer than the others so I hope you are fine with the next chapter taking a little more time, maybe three days :)

Furthermore, this is the last chapter with similar scenes from my previous, now deleted story 'Never Be The Same'. From now on, all the chapters will be completely new :)

Thank you so much again for your love on the last chaptes. I really appreciate all of your feedback. <3

What do you think about Jungkook standing up for Jimin? Do you think it is going to be difficult for Jimin to stick to the rules as he showed signs already that it is?
First Try

Chapter Summary

Jimin is ready for his first time. However, things don't really go as planned....

Warning: This will include homophobia, mental/emotional abuse and manipulation. I did tag those things, but not from the beginning of the story so for anyone who hasn't seen it, this is just another warning. From now on those will be possibly mentioned in further chapters as well. I do not support these things.

Chapter Notes

Hi! :)

Please read the warning in the summary of the chapter!

Thank you so much for the love on the previous chapters <3

Enjoy this one, it's a little longer again :)

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Jimin reached for the book Taehyung was handing him, taking it in his own hand and placing it back on the shelf. “Did it hurt?” The shorter boy mumbled, not looking the taller boy into the eyes as he grabbed another book. Jimin's cheeks were heating up, but he had wanted to ask Tae for a while now.

“I mean, you know... your first time” The blond boy whispered, glancing around to make sure no one was listening or looking. Well, they had to be quiet anyway as they were in a library after all and Jimin did not want to get fired for violating one of the rules at his work place.

“Oooh” The boy said, mouth forming a circle. He smiled at the shorter boy, sympathy in his eyes, “Don't worry, I'm sure he will make sure you're ready. If you're scared though, just ask him to finger you open for-”

Taehyung hadn't finished his sentence as Jimin had slapped his arm with the book he was holding.

“Ouch, what was that for?” The boy asked pouting, rubbing at his arm.

“Ssshh!” Was heard loudly through the big room.

“Sorry” Taehyung whispered back at no one in particular, but rolled his eyes after, “Not like no one here talks” He muttered.
“Well, be quieter, though, or you will get me fired. Also, I don't want everyone to know what I'm gonna do soon” Jimin mumbled quietly, blush deepening.

“Rather what will be done to you” Taehyung said cheekily and winked at Jimin, earning just another slap on the arm, “Stop that” Tae whined and rubbed his arm again, trying to soothe the pain. “That's unfair because I can't fight back, you're too small and too cute to fight, would feel like I'm fighting a child”

The small boy opened his mouth, offended by Tae's words, but not really because – could you blame him? Jimin didn't really look intimidating in the slightest.

“Sorry” Taehyung apologised and held up his hands in defense, “I will be quieter now”

“Thanks” Jimin uttered under his breath as he placed another book on the shelf, thinking about what Tae had said, “So if he... if he does that well then it won't hurt?”

“Finger you?” The taller boy wanted to know and raised an eyebrow. Jimin gave a small nod, not locking eyes with the other male as he was embarrassed. He wished he was as confident and open as Taehyung who always shared every detail – sometimes too much for Jimin's liking, but still – without being ashamed, “Well, honestly, it will probably still hurt a bit or be uncomfortable at first, but just tell him to go slow and give you time then it's gonna be fine”

The shorter boy swallowed hard. He was actually really nervous and anxious about their next meet up. Surely, he really wanted to do it, but he couldn't help having these thoughts nonetheless. The blond haired boy had tried to tell himself that his first time wasn't that big of a deal, but he was still a bit scared. However, he thought that Jungkook would help and guide him through it, praying for him to be especially cautious and careful.

“Is his dick huge?” Taehyung wanted to know all of a sudden, Jimin coughing in surprise and widening his eyes. The brown haired boy snickered at the boy's expression, shaking his head, “Right, I just remembered what you told me about sucking him off, so he must be huge.”

“Taehyung, oh my god” Jimin breathed shocked and looked around again.

The taller boy rolled his eyes and brushed his brown hair out of his face. “What? That was a justified question”

Jimin bit down on his lip and turned away, continuing with his work.

“Don't worry” His friend uttered suddenly, tone softer. “It will be fine. He will take care of you and be gentle and if he isn't I will tell Yoongi hyung or Hoseok hyung to beat his ass”

Jimin giggled at that, locking eyes with his best friend again. “Do you think Hoseok hyung knows Jungkook even that well? I mean, Yoongi hyung does, but has Hoseok hyung mentioned anything?”

Taehyung cocked his head to the side, putting a finger on his chin. “I think I told you, didn't I? That they all know each other for a while now, like years back. I never actually asked how they met though. I mean, they do seem pretty close, no?” He shrugged his shoulders, reaching for another book to hand it to the smaller boy.

“But do you think Hoseok hyung and Jungkook-ah are very close?” Jimin voiced his thoughts and grabbed for the book, placing it on the shelf.

“No, stupid, whether or not he is close with Jungkook. But whether he is or not and Jungkook hurts you during your first time, I will tell him to beat his ass- or, if he doesn't, I will beat his ass personally” The brown haired boy promised, clenching his hands into fists and pushing them together.

“Don’t” Jimin giggled and shook his head, “He won't hurt me. Well, not intentionally at that, I'm sure about that.”

“You have helped me for like ten minutes, only having sorted five books” The shorter boy whispered loudly.

“Yes, and that's very exhausting” Tae let out a breath and yawned. “Also, Hoseok hyung and I texted the whole last night and it got a little steamy so I had to masturbate and I came so fucking-”

He didn't finish his sentence as he had to dodge Jimin's hand that had tried to slap his arm again.

“I said stop that” Taehyung whined and huffed.

“Then stop with what you are doing, too”

“Oh, just wait until Jungkook fucks your brain out, you won't shut up about that I can already tell”

Jimin narrowed his eyes and looked at his friend madly – well, he tried to. To Taehyung Jimin just looked like a small kitten attempting to look intimidating and failing miserably. His fists were clenched and lips were pouting, he looked way too cute.

The shorter boy seemed to realise that, too, as both boys started chuckling right after, bodies falling over.

“Sssshh!” Was heard loudly throughout the room again, both males shutting up immediately, looking at each other with humour in their eyes.

-----

Where are you? – Jungkook

The blond boy sat down cross-legged on the floor as he read over the message, wiping away the sweat that was trailing down his face.

Practicing. - Jimin

The small male grabbed his towel and wiped it over his face to get rid of the sweat, ruffling his hair after. Honestly, he hadn't even practiced for that long yet, but it was very hot today and he had barely slept so everything was just exhausting him way more than usual.

I wanted to ask whether or not you wanted to meet today? I was able to make some arrangements in my schedule so I am free tonight. - Jungkook

Jimin swallowed hard, looking up and watching himself in the mirror. Without a warning, his heartbeat quickened. Frankly, the blond boy had been nervous yet anticipant when thinking about their next meet up, but they had decided to do it tomorrow. He had not expected it to be today. The spontaneous suggestion made his stomach twist.
It's fine if you want it to be tomorrow, though. - Jungkook

If Jimin was being honest, he wanted nothing more than to go home and finally get that sleep that he had been missing the last days. It's not that he hadn't tried, though. The poor boy had tossed and turned in his bed for the last two days, thoughts not quieting down inside of his head. His soon to happen first time was invading all of his thoughts and it held him back from falling asleep. Moreover, he had not eaten much today, craving that cup of instant noodles that was awaiting him at home – even if it wasn't the most exquisite meal, he really loved the taste of it.

However, the thought of meeting Jungkook again and to do that thing overweight his sleepiness, a new wave of energy blossoming inside of him.

Sure. What time? - Jimin

8pm, at mine? - Jungkook

I will be there. - Jimin

See you later then. - Jungkook

The small boy had already gotten up and packed his stuff, ready to leave. He had to go home quickly as it was already 6pm and he had to take a shower, shave and change into some new and clean clothes. There was no time to be wasted so the blond boy hurried up and exited the practice room swiftly.

As Jimin entered the apartment, he felt his stomach twist. He was extremely nervous, had not been able to sleep nor eat that day at all because his anxiety had gotten the best of him. The smaller boy tried to maintain a brave face, tried not to let his anxiety take over but that wasn't as easy as he had hoped.

“Hello” Jungkook welcomed him and shut the door close, glancing at Jimin. They locked eyes and the shorter boy let out a breathy whimper at the mere sight of the handsome man he was going to have sex with in just some moments.

This seemed unreal. Was he ready? Jimin didn't know if we was, but he wanted it all the same.

The taller man got closer to him, grabbing the bag that Jimin was still clinging on to, lost in his thoughts. “Jimin-ssi” Jungkook whispered and the blond boy snapped out of it, shaking his head and glancing at the younger man.

“Hello” He stuttered and cleared his throat, voice raspy from not having said much today. Jimin's eyes were puffed and red from having been up all night. He had tossed and moved around in his bed the previous night, desperately trying to find some sleep that did not welcome him. As if on cue, the smaller boy yawned and put his hand in front of his mouth.

While placing Jimin's bag on the sofa, the taller boy arched up an eyebrow, staring at the other male intently. “Tired?” He asked and crossed his arms over his chest.

“N-No” Jimin lied and bit down on his lip, taking his shoes off and then walking past Jungkook and over to the big windows where he looked outside.

“Jimin-ssi”
The smaller boy sighed and pouted. “Well, okay, yes” He admitted quietly and took a glimpse at Jungkook who was still staring at him with strong eyes. “I couldn't sleep” Jimin mumbled and went over to the sofa where he sat down.

“Y-Yeah” Jimin breathed, “But also nervous” He continued, voice quieter, barely able for Jungkook to register.

There was silence for a moment as Jungkook was just glancing at the smaller boy, studying his features. “Don't be” He uttered eventually, tone softer, “I will be careful”

“It's not that, really” Jimin murmured, but Jungkook didn't hear him as his voice had been too quiet for him to understand this time.

“So you want to go upstairs then?”

Taking a deep breath, the smaller one nodded, hiding his sweaty palms in his long sleeves as he followed the other male upstairs into his bedroom. A smell of freshness and something Jimin could only describe as Jungkook filled his nostrils, making him dizzy. He loved the scent of the other male, it lingered in his nose even long after he was gone.

“I think it's time to introduce you to something. Maybe I should have done it sooner, but I thought I should wait until you have become a bit familiar with sex.” The taller man suddenly explained, Jimin looking up at him again, “A safeword” “Safeword?” The confused boy echoed and cocked his head to the side.

Jungkook gave a nod as he wet his lips, Jimin's eyes following the movement. The smaller boy swallowed hard and tugged at his sleeves so his petite hands were hidden beneath as he took a seat on the edge of the bed.

“Whenever we do anything at all and you don't feel comfortable or you want to stop, take a break, whatever it is, you can use that and we will stop immediately with whatever it is that you don't like”

Jimin puffed up his cheeks, processing what Jungkook had explained to him. That was something very useful, would actually cause him to feel more comfortable, knowing that he could stop whenever it was too much for him or he didn't feel well.

“What if we are... I mean, what if we are having sex and you are close and I want to stop?” Jimin whispered, averting his gaze.

“Even if you're close to coming?”

Jungkook furrowed his brows. “Of course, Jimin-ssi. Whatever it is, whenever. You say the word and I will stop with whatever we are doing, understood?”

“D-Do you have one, too?” Jimin wanted to know and locked eyes with the younger again. His voice was soft and unsure.

The taller boy just looked at him for a moment, slight smile creeping up on his face, but leaving as soon as it had appeared. There was something in his eyes left, though, that Jimin thought to be fondness, but maybe that was just his subconscious' wishing. “Well, I usually use the traffic system with people. Red for stop. Yellow for pause or slow down. Green for continue, keep going.” Jungkook informed him, “But I don't really use them myself. I will ask you though whenever I feel there might be something that could bother you or make you feel uncomfortable and when I feel like you wouldn't speak up, but you are free to use them on your own whenever you need to.”

“Red, yellow, green” Jimin recited and nodded everytime he said a word, “That's easy to remember”
He smiled slightly, “But why not just 'stop'?”

“Well, sometimes people say stop during a, well, scene, but they are just using it in a playful manner in that moment and don't actually mean it, but if they say red that's the cue to stop immediately. I will respect that and stop right away, making sure you feel comfortable again.”

Processing the information, even though he still didn't really know what he meant by scene, Jimin gave a slight nod, narrowing his eyes. Why would someone say stop and not mean it? Then again, sometimes Jimin said stuff that he didn't really mean, either. And when he thought about it, the past times he had been aroused, it had been difficult for him to think straight.

Jimin nodded. “Yes” He assured the other male and gave a small smile.

“Good”

They both just looked at each other for a moment, Jimin squirming in his seat at the intense stare of the younger.

The older boy bit down on his lip and looked up, eyes big as he shook his head, “No, I-I still want it”

Jungkook walked over to the curtains, closing them.

Jimin's stomach dropped. For a moment he had forgotten what was going to happen, having been so lost in the conversation with Jungkook. Now everything came back crashing down, reality slapping him in the face. Anticipation rose in Jimin, but so did his anxiety.

All of a sudden, he felt a warm hand softly touch his cheek. The smaller boy jerked at the contact as he had not noticed Jungkook moving over to him, having been lost in his thoughts again. He looked up at Jungkook and swallowed hard, the other male rubbing his cheek slowly with his thumb. “Take a deep breath again for me, Jimin-ssi” Jungkook insisted and Jimin did as he was told.

He felt his chest rise and fall, concentrating on that and the feeling of Jungkook rubbing his cheek gently. The only thing he listened to was Jungkook who was telling him in a quiet and soft voice to breathe, over and over again. The smaller boy felt himself relax, being calmed down by the younger boy. Jimin was grateful that Jungkook didn't push him and was not annoyed by his nervousness, shyness or anxiety. He was actually kind, helpful and supportive. The thing that surprised Jimin was not only how good Jungkook was handling him, but that it actually worked. He seemed to know how to react to Jimin's nervousness and anxiety. That made Jimin feel safe and he was grateful for that.

He gave a small nod and smiled, nuzzling against the touch of Jungkook's hand.

“Thank you”
The black haired boy straightened his back. “Lie back down” He instructed and Jimin fell back on his back, not leaving Jungkook's eyes.

The taller man got on top of him, placing his hands next to Jimin's head. Slowly, he leaned down, moving closer to Jimin's lips. The smaller boy's eyes fluttered shut, a soft breath leaving his full lips.

There it was again. The anticipation. Jungkook just lingered above his lips, not quite touching, yet enough for Jimin to crave more. The smaller boy whined high in his throat, Jungkook smiling against him as he pressed his lips on Jimin's.

The older male let out a sigh at the contact, wrapping his hands around Jungkook's neck and having the courage to pull him closer. Their lips moved against each other, tongues meeting in the middle. The wet sounds of their kisses and their little breaths filled the room, both boys deepening the kiss.

Jungkook moved one of his hands down to Jimin's side, rubbing it slowly. The smaller boy let out a whimper as Jungkook started trailing kisses down his neck, Jimin stretching his neck for Jungkook to have better access.

“G-Give me another one” Jimin breathed out, biting down on his lip as Jungkook started sucking on his skin immediately, right on the same spot his previous hickey had existed. It had only taken three days for it to be fully gone, Jimin being a bit bummed out about how quickly it had disappeared. He didn't know why, but he liked the feeling of having a mark by Jungkook on him. It didn't even need to be visible for others, just for Jimin to know and see that there was. He had wanted to suppress the urge of asking Jungkook to give him another one, but - well, that didn't work out so well now, did it?

The shorter boy whined loudly as Jungkook licked over his work on Jimin's skin, seemingly satisfied with his creation. Jimin wondered if the hickey he had placed on Jungkook was still there, doubting it as the taller male had sucked way harder on Jimin's skin than he had.

Jimin quickly found Jungkook's lips again, capturing them in a kiss. The younger boy slowly grabbed the hem of Jimin's long sleeved shirt, carefully starting to pull it up causing the shorter male to gasp and break the kiss, suddenly feeling scared again.

“Too early?” Jungkook asked, genuine concern in his eyes. It was at times like this, where Jungkook showed genuine emotions, other than his neutral or serious expression, that Jimin felt warmth run through his body. He was grateful for Jungkook's concern, knowing he didn't have to do that.

“I-It's okay” The blond boy muttered, swallowing hard as he sat up a bit, making it easier for Jungkook to pull his shirt off.

As it was off and thrown on the floor by Jungkook, Jimin fell back down on his back, hair falling on his forehead.

Jungkook just stared at Jimin. The smaller boy wasn't as muscular as Jungkook, but he was fit, slight image of abs visible – well, Jimin was a dancer after all, so he didn't especially work out to have abs, but they just developed through his passion of dance.

Then, Jungkook traced his hand over Jimin's stomach slowly, causing the older boy to arch his back and let out a small breath, goosebumps rising on his skin.

“Y-You too” Jimin requested, voice soft and shy.

The taller one spread Jimin's legs and kneeled inbetween them, slowly starting to button down his shirt. The shorter boy swallowed hard and tried not to moan at the sight of Jungkook. As he reached the last button and his shirt fell open completely, Jimin couldn’t help himself as a small whimper escaped his lips.

A greek god. That’s the only way Jimin could describe Jungkook when the boy threw his shirt on the floor, revealing his upper body: defined abs, v line, strong muscular arms – gosh, he must be immensely strong, Jimin thought – and broad shoulders. Jimin felt even smaller, petite body laying beneath Jungkook’s. Well, Jimin did have abs, too, even if they weren’t as defined as Jungkook’s. He was fit, just not as buff.

“Oh my god... a greek god” The smaller boy breathed out, not even noticing of having said that out loud. It was only when Jungkook smirked down at him that he realised of actually having done it, cheeks heating up and hands moving up to cover his face.

The taller man chuckled, the sound warming Jimin deep within, and grabbed Jimin's wrists, pulling them down again. “You are the one talking” Jungkook muttered, voice soft, and brushed Jimin’s hair out of his face slowly. Jimin didn’t know what he meant by that but before he could ask the other male, said boy pressed his lips on Jimin’s once again.

As they continued to kiss, Jungkook opened Jimin’s jeans, pulling down the zipper slowly. “Hips up” He ordered between kisses and Jimin did what he was told. The taller boy tugged on his trousers until they were off, letting them drop on the floor. He grabbed Jimin by the hips and pushed him up with ease so the shorter boy was closer to the headboard, able to lie his head down on some pillows.

Their lips were attached on one another quickly again, Jungkook now getting rid of his own trousers and throwing them somewhere behind them on the floor. Their was a visible tent in Jimin’s underwear, Jungkook could also feel it against his thigh. Slowly, he started to grind down against Jimin resulting in the older boy letting out little pants and whimpers.

“Ah, J-Jungkook-ah” He mewled and bit down on his lip, eyes fluttering shut.

“I’m gonna take them off now, alright?” The younger boy let him know and locked eyes with him again, ensuring that Jimin had no protest.

Said male took a deep breath and nodded, Jungkook pulling off his briefs and dropping them on the floor behind them.

The taller man just remained like that, kneeling inbetween Jimin’s legs and looking down on him. It was the first time he was seeing the smaller boy completely naked and he was – a vision. Hair lying perfectly on top of his head - some streaks falling into his face, full pink lips parted - leaving out little pants as he was trying to catch his breath from kissing so much, chest rising and falling quickly, hands clenched into little fists, legs spread wide open – revealing his pretty dick and the bottom of his butt, his skin pale and soft as Jungkook ran his hand over Jimin's inner thigh, goosebumps immediately rising, the boy letting out a moan. Jungkook swallowed hard, taking the sight in.

“Pretty” He whispered, voice soft and earnest as he traced his fingertips over Jimin's inner thigh, the boy jerking at the touch and whining high in his throat.

The black haired man licked his lips as he caressed the soft skin of the smaller male. He was completely shaved, everywhere, and his skin smelled like vanilla and strawberry. Jungkook shut his eyes close as he placed a small kiss on Jimin's inner thigh, said boy twitching at the contact.
The other male parted his lips and let out tiny breaths, hands gripping the sheets he was lying on top of the closer Jungkook moved to his penis. The taller boy placed open mouthed kisses on his skin, moving closer and closer to where Jimin needed him the most. Suddenly, Jungkook sucked hard on his skin causing Jimin to gasp and draw his legs together, trying to close them due to the shock and the pain, but Jungkook grabbed his thighs and spread them wide open again, continuing to suck a mark on Jimin's skin.

“A-Ah! J-Jungkook-ah!” Jimin cried out and arched his back, penis twitching as Jungkook licked over his skin, soothing the pain.

Then, the taller man straightened his back again, eying his creation on the soft skin. Satisfied, he traced his thumb over it slowly, loving the way the red mark was a contrast to the pale skin.

“Jungkook... Jungkook” The shy boy whispered, grabby hands reaching out for Jungkook, “Please”

With fondness in his eyes – which Jimin was sure to seeing this time – he leaned down and pressed a small peck on the pink lips of the other male.

“Jimin-ah, I will stretch you open now, okay? I assume you have never done this?” Jungkook informed him, voice soft but sure as he reached for something in the top drawer of the nightstand.

The smaller boy shook his head, “No, never” He confirmed, cheeks heating up at the thought of Jungkook doing this to him.

“Okay, it will feel weird, maybe even hurt a little, but I will stretch you open carefully and slowly” The man assured him and opened the thing he had just grabbed, “I won't be able to fuck you without stretching you open first and I don't want to hurt you. This is lube, that makes it easier and less painful to stretch and fuck you” Jungkook explained and revealed to him what he was holding in his hand.

Jimin was so aroused already, it took a while for him to contemplate what the other male informed him about, but eventually he gave a small nod and cleared his throat, “I trust you” the shy boy whispered honestly, voice gentle.

The blond boy really did. He didn't just say it like that. Frankly, there had already been some kind of trusting bond between them from the get go. The more they saw each other and got intimate, the more established and stronger the bond became. Essentially, well, Jimin didn't really know how it came to this point. He just knew that Jungkook hadn't done anything so far to break his trust, but has been rather careful and caring when it came to their intimate moments. Honestly, he just had that effect on Jimin for god knows what reason. He had something about him that made the smaller boy trust him and let him do whatever he wants, drawing him in and making him long and crave for more.

The taller boy studied his features and then he nodded, sitting down on his knees. “Do you want to stay lying on your back? I think it would be easier for you to lie on your stomach, ass up in the air.”

The blond haired boy considered for a moment. He didn't know which position would be more comfortable and make all of this easier, but eventually he decided to follow Jungkook's recommendation and rolled over on his stomach.

“Fuck” He heard Jungkook breathe out and looked back over his shoulder, curiosity in his eyes. The younger boy was glancing at his butt, hand reaching out and tracing over it with the tips of his fingers, causing goosebumps to rise on his skin. Jimin let out a soft breath and bit down on his lip, head falling back down on the pillows.
“Give me a pillow” Confused, Jimin reached for a pillow next to him and held it out to Jungkook who took it and grabbed Jimin by the hips with his other hand, “Hips up”

The boy obeyed even if he was perplexed and lifted his hips, Jungkook placing the pillow beneath him.

“You will be quite overwhelmed by everything so it's gonna be difficult to stay on your knees for that long. This will be more comfortable” Jungkook reasoned as Jimin put his hips down again, penis touching the soft pillow.

The friction caused Jimin to let out a small moan and he rocked his hips against the pillow, clenching his hands into fists as his eyes fluttered shut, “Sssh, stop, Jiminie”

Jimin whined high in his throat at the way Jungkook called him, halting his hips immediatley.

Jungkook had said his name in an informal way before – which could be considered disrespectful – but frankly, Jimin did not care about that at all. In fact, it actually had an effect on him. The shorter boy couldn't really define what it was exactly, he just knew that it was a positive effect. Hence, he didn't mind being referred to informally by Jungkook.

“Deep breath for me” The boy insisted as his left hand gripped Jimin's buttheek carefully. He pushed it to the side, revealing Jimin's clean shaved pink hole that seemed extremely tight.

“Shit” He cursed in awe and let go of Jimin's butt, squirting some lube on the index finger of his right hand, “Jimin-ssi, can you hold yourself open for me? Do you think you can do that?” Jungkook asked, leaning over Jimin and whispering right in his ear.

“I-I will try” The shorter man murmured, voice small and unsure. His eyes fluttered shut when Jungkook placed a small kiss on his shoulder, getting back into his previous position behind the other male. He was sitting in between Jimin's legs that were parted, but Jimin's butt was big and round, hiding his small hole.

The petite boy grabbed his buttcheeks and parted them, revealing his pink hole once more. “Like t-this?” He asked and placed his cheek on the pillow, breathing becoming more difficult the closer they got to the big moment. Jimin's cheeks were flushed and his head was spinning again. He was aroused, but also so anxious and nervous.

“Perfect” Jungkook praised and rubbed his fingers against one another to warm the lube on them, as to not make it even more uncomfortable for the poor boy, “Ready?”

Jimin bit down on his lip and took a deep breath. It was going to happen. Right now. Well, almost.

“Y-Yes” He murmured.

“Remember the safeword?”

Jimin hesitated, but Jungkook gave him time to think.

“Good”

Suddenly, he felt something touch him right on his entrance. The poor boy gasped and squeezed his eyes shut, waiting for Jungkook's finger to enter him. “Colour?” He wanted to know as he started circling Jimin's rim with his finger.

“A-ah, Jungkook-ah!” He whimpered and bit into the pillow, hands clenching into fists next to his small body.

“Sssh, I know, I know” Jungkook tried to soothe as he pushed his finger in deeper causing Jimin to whine high in his throat and move away from the touch, eyes falling shut.

“It hurts” The older boy whined and screamed again when Jungkook pulled his finger out and pushed it right back inside.

“Does it hurt so bad that you want to stop?” Jungkook wanted to know, movement halting.

The smaller boy parted his lips, trying to catch his breath. He didn't even realise that he had gripped a pillow and was clinging onto it now, face pressed into another pillow and letting out little mewls and whimpers.

“N-No, keep going” Jimin was determined. At this point, he didn't know what the fuss about sex was about. This did not feel as good as people made it out to be, the poor boy thought. This was not something that felt amazing or something to look forward, too. However, Jimin also knew that this was his first time and that he must be incredibly tight. It will take some time for him to be stretched out and for it to feel good.

“Why don’t you play with your cock a little bit, hmm?” Jungkook suggested as he started moving his finger again, “That will distract you from this feeling. Once this starts to feel better and comfortable again, you can stop”

Jimin nodded, letting go of his buttcheek that he had been holding with his right hand and wrapping his tiny hand around his penis that had become softer again. Slowly, he started tugging on it as Jungkook grasped his right buttcheek now to hold him open and continued to stretch him open.

As time went by, it didn't hurt anymore. It still felt weird, but Jungkook could move his finger around without Jimin feeling any kind of pain. Actually, it started to feel good after a while. The way Jungkook moved his finger against his walls, circling his rim when he pulled the finger out, Jimin found himself moaning.

“There you go” The black haired boy muttered and rubbed over Jimin's buttcheek that he was holding, “Feels better?”

The smaller boy nodded quickly as he let out another breathy moan.

“I'm gonna put another finger inside, okay?”

Jimin nuzzled his face against the pillow and hummed. The taller boy stared at the other male for a moment: flushed cheeks, pupils blown wide, hair messy on top of his head, pretty full lips parted. He looked so fucked out already and Jungkook hadn't even really started yet.

The man couldn't take his eyes off of Jimin when he entered another finger alongside the one that was already penetrating him. His face scrunched up in discomfort, but was quickly replaced by pleasure as he let out a high whimper, gripping the bedsheets beneath him.

“Aaah! Oh my god” Jimin cried out and his eyes fluttered shut at the intensity of the feeling. He felt so full, with only two fingers of Jungkook being inside of him. How was his whole penis supposed to fit inside of him?
Slight panic arose in Jimin as he bit his lip. It was quickly forgotten when Jungkook hit something inside of him that caused Jimin to jump and let out a high pitched moan.

“O-Oh my god, what was that?” He cried out and his eyes rolled back, clinging on to the pillow again. The feeling was intense, drawing out breathy loud whines and whimpers from Jimin.

“There it is” Jungkook voiced, “This is your prostate” He informed him and as if to prove a point, he pushed against it hard on purpose causing Jimin's body to twitch and make him scream high pitched again.

“Jungkook-aaaah!” Jimin mewled and felt himself drool all over himself, “Feels sooo good”

“Yeah?” The taller man breathed out and fucked him harder with his fingers, scissoring them slightly to stretch him further open, “Will feel even better with my dick pressed deep inside of you”

Jimin whimpered at the promise, anticipation and arousal rising in his body. His head felt dizzy. There was nothing else he could think about except Jungkook, Jungkook, Jungkook. The black haired boy was lingering in and demanding all of his senses.

“I'm gonna push another one inside of you, yeah?” Jungkook whispered and leaned over Jimin, attaching his lips with the smaller boy’s ones as he gave him a nod. Carefully, he pulled the third finger inside of the shorter boy who gasped inbetween their kiss, making it possible for Jungkook to slip his tongue inside of his mouth.

They kissed as Jungkook kept stretching him open, only breaking apart as Jimin's neck started to ache due to the position. Gently, he pressed his forehead against Jungkook’s, capturing his lips in one last peck before his head fell back down on the pillows.

The taller boy got back into his previous position and pressed right against Jimin's prostate, fingers staying right there, only moving in slight firm circle motions.

Jimin was going to pass out. That's what he thought when the intense feeling overwhelmed him. He felt too sensitive, everything was way too much, yet just not quite enough. His screams were muffled by the pillows and he gripped the sheets harder, knuckles starting to turn white as Jungkook had no mercy on his prostate and kept pushing and rubbing firmly against it.

“Stop!” Jimin screamed, body shaking due to the intense feeling, “Please, I'm gonna come, stop, Jungkook-ah”

Not wanting the smaller boy to come just yet, he pulled his fingers out slowly, wet sounds and Jimin's breathy whines filling the room. His hole was shining with lube, wider than before, and suddenly Jimin felt extremely empty. It was weird. At first he didn't like the feeling of having something inside of him, scared of not being able to fit anything more inside. But now he didn't like the feeling of being empty, wanting to be filled again. He must have gone crazy. The arousal and anxiety must have messed with his head. That was the only explanation, Jimin thought.

“Feels good now, doesn't it? You are very responsive, Jimin-ah. I bet I could make you come without touching your dick, just by playing with your little hole” Jungkook said, tone low and sure.

Jimin blushed, stomach twisting at his words and penis twitching. If Jungkook was going to keep talking like this to him, Jimin wasn't sure if he could hold back his orgasm. It was scary what kind of effect Jungkook had on him. Simple words, stares or touches driving the poor boy wild already.
His body was shaking from the stimulation and sensitivity, small breaths leaving his lips as Jungkook caressed his buttcheeks.

“I will enter you now. Is that okay?” Jungkook wanted to know and the shorter boy heard rustling behind him, presumably Jungkook who took of his briefs.

His heart was beating fast in his chest. He was ready. He really wanted this.

“Y-Yes” Jimin assured him.

“Can you get up on your knees, baby?”

A tiny breath left his lips at the pet name as he got up on his knees, butt up in the air and head staying down on the pillows.

“Like this?”

“Perfect”

Jimin heard something being teared open which he assumed was a condom. His own penis was just hanging in the air, hurting from being stimulated for so long, but still having not found any release. This was going to change fairly soon. Honestly, Jimin was right on the edge, he didn't know how much longer he could suppress the feeling.

The smaller boy felt Jungkook move behind him, his penis being guided and pressed against his entrance. He sucked in a breath and bit down on his lip, gripping the sheets again tightly. Anxiously, he closed his eyes and tried to get ready for the pain.

“Keep taking deep breaths for me, okay?” Jungkook insisted as he pushed the head inside slowly, Jimin whining high in his throat and gripping the sheets even harder, knuckles turning white, “Fuck” Jungkook cursed and grabbed Jimin's hips, “You're so fucking tight, Jiminnie, shit”

It did hurt, but not as bad as he had imagine. Well, that was until Jungkook pushed in deeper, Jimin letting out a silent scream and hiding his face in the pillow. The taller boy halted and gave him time to adjust to the feeling, waiting for Jimin to give him the okay to move deeper.

“O-Okay” The boy said after a while, Jungkook moving deeper carefully again. It wasn't easy for Jungkook to contain himself, the tightness of Jimin's hole feeling heavenly. He had the urge to just fuck into the smaller boy hard, but he didn't want to hurt Jimin, thus maintaining a slow and steady pace.

Once he was finally inside of Jimin wholly, he was gripping his hips so hard he was sure there were going to be bruises left. Jimin was breathing heavy against the pillow, hands still clenched into the bedsheets. His face was hidden in the pillow, body shaking from the stimulation and discomfort.

“Colour?” The taller boy was a bit concerned as Jimin had become fairly quiet, only letting out small breaths rather than his cute little whimpers and whines.

Jimin didn't say anything for a moment, trying to adjust to the feeling of Jungkook's penis being inside of him completely. He felt so full, stretched out and for a second he had thought Jungkook was going to tear his hole apart which – of course – didn't happen. It was slightly painful, but honestly it just felt uncomfortable. However, Jungkook had pushed himself perfectly inside of him, pressing right against his prostate.

“G-Green” He finally replied and moved his head to the side, making it easier to breathe properly.
“Can I move?”

The younger boy pulled out of him carefully and trusted back into him slowly but with force. Jimin fell forward a bit, a moan leaving his lips. Jungkook repeated his action, making Jimin whine and bite his lip.

“F-Feels good”

“Yeah? Do you feel full?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and bit into the pillow at the force of Jungkook's trust, body rocking forward, “So full. You're so big” He continued, voice soft but hoarse.

“Gosh, Jimin-ah, you're so fucking tight around me” Jungkook groaned and Jimin's chest swelled up in pride, having Jungkook groan and let out little grunts with each trust made him proud. It was all because of him. He was the one making Jungkook feel this good.

The shorter boy clenched around his penis, Jungkook cursing and gripping his hips harder.

“Fuck, baby, so damn tight for me”

The younger boy quickened his pace, the sound of skin slapping on skin echoing in the room as well as Jimin's high pitched moans and Jungkook's groans. The smaller male moved back and forth with the force of Jungkook's trusts, loving the way he pressed against his prostate in the perfect way. He could feel himself getting closer, was sure that he wasn't gonna last much longer.

Eyes pressed shut tightly, he wet his lips. This was actually happening. Jimin was having his first time. Jimin was having sex. He was having sex and it felt good, he was enjoying it – the opposite to what his father had taught him.

Suddenly, Jimin's memories came crashing down, hitting him like a truck...

“Fucking disgusting f” Jimin heard his father curse as he looked at two men holding hands, walking past them.

The small boy stared up at his father with big eyes, confusion running through them, “What is that, appa?”

His father looked down at him, still disgusted by the way those two men had been holding hands, “People that will go to hell” His father simply said, grabbing Jimin's arm and dragging him home...

Jimin had a friend over, both boys sitting on the floor in Jimin's room and playing with his toy cars. Suddenly, his friend twisted his own hand, trying to show Jimin an impressive move with two of his cars.

“Ouch” He cried out and let both toys fall down on the floor.

“Are you okay?” Jimin voiced out concerned and reached for his friend's hand, “I can make it better” The young boy assured him and blew onto his injury, thinking it would fly away like that, “My eomma always did this when I hurt myself” Jimin explained and the other boy smiled grateful.

Jimin placed a kiss in his friend's wrist, the way his mother had always done in a soothing and affectionate manner. All of a sudden, the door burst open, Jimin's father stumbling inside.

His eyes went wide when he saw his son being affectionate towards another boy, storming over to the pair and picking Jimin up by the arm. “Don't do that” He warned, “Boys don't touch other boys like this, do you understand?” His voice was loud and firm, Jimin only being able to nod.

“Who needs sex? You don't need that ever, understand? No one needs that. People go to hell for that” His father slurred and took another sip of his beer, already so drunk but not stopping, “Don't ever do that, Jim. You don't want to go to hell, now, do you?”

Jimin shook his head, not wanting to anger his father and really, he didn't want to go to hell. Then again, he didn't even know what his father was talking about. Too young to understand any of it, but it would leave a scar on the small boy, haunting him even years later....

Jimin hadn't realised that he had started crying. It was only when he felt the wetness on the pillow, his vision being blurry and his lower lip wobbling that he noticed it.

He didn't even really know why he was crying. Was it because of his memories? His father? Couldn't be the sole and only reason... Was the sex too intense? His lack of sleep? Maybe, he should have slept more last night – or at all. The fact is, he really didn't know why he was crying. Everything just seemed to be too much.

The taller boy didn't notice any of it, kept fucking into Jimin in a fast pace, chasing both of their orgasms. The shorter boy's body had become slack. He was only moving due to the force of the thrusts, having completely zero resistance. The crying boy was just lying there, taking it.

His body was shaking, not due to the stimulation but due to his crying. He was full on sobbing at this point, not able to contain his cries anymore. The smaller boy couldn't stop. The mental imagine of his father and his childhood that had scarred him haunting him in this exact moment.

The shorter boy grabbed the pillow and hugged it tightly to his chest, clinging on to it and wailing loudly.

Suddenly, Jungkook halted.

“Jimin-ssi” He called out, voice out of breath.

Jimin didn't answer.

“Jimin-ah, tell me your colour”

Still no answer, just loud and paining cries.

“Jimin-ah” His voice had gotten louder, worried. Eventually, he pulled out of Jimin and turned the boy on his back, revealing his tear drenched face and his uncontrollably rising and falling chest – the poor boy couldn't breathe properly due to his heavy crying. The image made something in Jungkook’s chest pang, concern blooming, “Baby, listen to me”
He leaned over the crying boy, trying to get his attention. They locked eyes, but it was as if Jimin wasn't present – at least not mentally.

“Hey, baby, can you hear me? Did I hurt you? What is wrong?” The taller boy uttered quietly, tone soft as he caressed the shorter boy's cheek, wiping away his tears.

Jimin trying to speak, really wanted to say that it wasn't Jungkook's fault, but only more cries left his lips, the smaller boy rolling onto his side into a ball, hugging his legs closely.

“Jimin-ah, please, tell me, what is wrong? Take a deep breath for me, come on. What did I do? Tell me how I can fix it, I will do whatever” Jungkook's tone was soft and he seemed so concerned and... and scared? Jimin didn't know what it was, but he knew that he didn't want Jungkook to feel like this – especially not because of him.

However, Jimin was having a panic attack and he couldn't stop himself, couldn't fix this just because he wanted to.

Suddenly, Jungkook got up from the bed, placed one hand beneath Jimin's knee and the other under his back, lifting the crying boy up with ease. Jimin clung to his chest immediately, hiding his face on his skin. He didn't know where they were going, only realised it once he heard water being turned on.

“Jimin-ah, I'm gonna pull you under the shower now, okay? This will be cold, but I need you to breathe, you are not breathing properly right now.”

Then, cold water hit him as Jungkook stepped under the shower with Jimin still being held in his arms. The crying boy gasped for air at the shock, air finally filling his lungs again. He was placed down on his feet, knees wobbly. That's why Jungkook was holding him up, hugging him tight against his chest and standing right under the cold water with him.

Carefully, the taller boy brushed the hair out of Jimin's face and made sure he was getting enough air. The water was extremely cold, but Jimin only cared about being able to breathe again. He was still sobbing a bit and started hiccupping, but at least he wasn't full on crying anymore.

They just stood there together, Jimin didn't know how long, just tried to concentrate on the feeling of air filling his lungs and Jungkook's strong arms holding him close.

Eventually, the cold water was too much for the smaller boy, pushing against Jungkook to signal that he wanted to get out. The younger boy turned the shower off and lifted Jimin up again, carrying him outside the shower and grabbing a towel that way lying on the counter. He pulled the towel around Jimin, placing the boy on the floor to dry him.

His chest was still falling and rising quickly, hiccups not seeming to stop, but he felt better. Better than just moments ago.

When Jungkook had finished drying him, he picked up the small boy again and carried him back into the room. He pulled the blanket back and placed Jimin softly down on the bed. The blond boy looked up at him with big apologetic eyes, trying to make him understand how grateful he was and that he was sorry that Jungkook just had to see and experience that.

The taller boy placed a small kiss on his temple, his own body still wet. He tugged Jimin into bed and went back into the bathroom to dry himself.

Jimin didn't like being alone, thoughts beginning to creep back up. He gripped the duvet tightly, almost wanting to call out for Jungkook to come back. As if on cue, said boy walked back into the
The smaller boy pulled the duvet to the side, wanting him to get into the bed, too. Jungkook hesitated for a moment, but as he studied Jimin's face, he moved into the bed next to him, pulling him close to his chest.

Jimin almost wanted to cry at the touch. The softness of it, the warmth that was radiating from him even though he had just been standing beneath a cold shower, Jimin felt safe in his embrace. He didn't want to leave.

“Do you want to talk about what just happened?”

The smaller boy swallowed hard, quickly shaking his head. He was definitely, evidently not ready for that.

“Okay” Jungkook respected and started stroking his hair slowly and gently. “Did I hurt you?”

“No!” The smaller boy quickly protested, voice sounding foreign and hoarse as he had screamed and cried so much. Maybe everything had just been too much. Jimin had not properly slept the previous two nights, nor had he eaten anything at all for the past 30 hours, the memories that had haunted him again and the intense feeling of pleasure and excitement during sex – all of this combined had just overwhelmed the poor boy too much, eventually causing him to break down, “You didn't do anything wrong” The boy assured him and placed his hands over Jungkook's. “Can you just.” His voice broke, “Can you just hold me tight, please” He whispered.

A kiss was placed on his shoulder as Jungkook pulled him even closer, Jimin being able to feel his steady heartbeat. It was soothing – all of this was.

Jimin felt his eyes become heavier. The exhaustion from everything eventually came crashing down. His breathing became steadier, heartbeat falling alongside of Jungkook's.

Finally, the sleep Jimin had so desperately longed for the past two days welcomed him, the smaller boy drifting away into his dreams.

“Hey, yes, sorry about the short notice”

Jimin opened his eyes at the voice, sleep still heavy in them. The tired boy was confused for a moment, realising he was all alone in the bed, a bed that was not his own. It felt cold, lonely and the small boy found himself be scared for a moment, thinking Jungkook had just left him all alone without a word.

“Yes, that's right”

Relief bloomed in his body at the realisation of Jungkook still being here. The taller boy was talking to someone, presumably on the phone. His voice was quiet, probably as to not wake up Jimin.

The blond boy rubbed at his eyes. How long had he been sleeping? It couldn't have been long as it was still pitch dark outside. Jimin whimpered slightly as he only now noticed the pain in his body: muscles aching, sore throat. He didn't feel that well.

“You have to cancel my next meeting. I can't do the video call with him”

Jimin froze.
“Yes, I was supposed to do that in an hour, but-” He paused, Jimin swallowed hard, “Something came up”

What was happening?

“I know, yes, I know. Just reschedule it, Jin-ssi” Jungkook told the person, “Well, I don't know, say that something important came up. Just don't tell my father. I can't take that video call with Clarke later today so either tell Clarke beforehand or he will show up without me being there”

Jimin's heart began beating faster.

“Stop asking so many questions” Jungkook's voice was firm now, “Please, Jin hyung. Yes, tomorrow is fine. Will do. Thank you. And please, no words to my father. Thanks. Good night”

The blond boy's brain was racing. Had Jungkook just cancelled one of his meetings because of Jimin? Something important about his work? The small boy really wondered what it was exactly that he called his job. He seemed to have to work quite often, was busy even during the night sometimes. As far as Jimin was concerned, that seemed like an intense job.

However, had he actually just done that because of him? No, there was probably another reason for that. Why would he do that? His subconscious was telling him one thing, his brain another. It was confusing.

Jimin wanted to turn around and scan the room, wanted to try looking for Jungkook and see what he was doing. However, he didn't want the other male to know that he was awake and had been listening to his conversation. It was pitch dark so he wasn't sure if he was going to make out Jungkook's figure anyway.

Then, he felt the bed dip down behind him, the blanket being pulled away slightly. Jungkook got back into the bed and moved close to him, pulling him against his chest. Jimin swallowed hard, heart beating like crazy. Earlier, his brain had been too tired and caught up with his anxiety and other thoughts that he hadn't have time to contemplate about what was happening. He was cuddling with Jungkook.

There was nothing sexual about this. This was just pure, soft and comforting. Jimin had never cuddled with anyone. Yes, he has hugged people before or has been held closely for minutes at a time when he had needed it or had cried. But never had he been lying down like this and had cuddled with someone through the night, never had he been snuggled in his sleep. This was new. It was soothing and Jimin loved everything about this.

He didn't want Jungkook to let go, but he knew that eventually he would, at the very last when they were going to get up in the morning. The small boy realised that for once, he didn't want morning to come. He wanted time to stop and just stay like this, safe in Jungkook's embrace, the other male's breath being felt on his neck, soft fingers tracing his skin.

Jimin was so extremely grateful that Jungkook had stayed with him through what had happened during and after sex, that he had known what to do and how to help Jimin rather than just looking at him annoyed or weirded out and leaving Jimin to fix it on his own – or tell him to leave his apartment in this state.

The small boy still didn't fully understand himself why he had started crying hysterically the way he had done. The only explanation being that everything all together had just been too much: His father, his past, his fear, having his first time, the lack of sleep and food. All of it combined had just overwhelmed him.
A single tear rolled down his cheek, landing on the pillow his head was nuzzling against. He didn't want to think about his father, had tried to get rid of the memories of the man who had scarred him so deeply. His dark childhood was something Jimin had tried to forget, at least the stuff that was bad, mostly happening in his first childhood years. It was unfair how the bad memories always came back crashing down and evidently left an impression on the boy when his later childhood and adolescence had been so happy and full of love. Jimin had been showered with love, affection and support after the dark first years of his childhood. He had been such a happy person – he still was.

However, there were struggles he was still fighting that were due to his father and other bad incidents that had happened in his childhood. And even though it had gotten better, he still had to learn to overcome them fully.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook whispered and pressed his hand on the smaller boy's cheek, feeling the wetness on them and turning his head to the side slightly, “Hey, you're crying”

Swallowing the lump in his throat, Jimin turned over on his back. He hadn't even noticed that he had started crying again. It wasn't as bad as earlier, only some small tears rolling down his cheeks, he wasn't full on sobbing.

Jungkook lifted himself up on his elbow to be able to stare at the boy better, “What's wrong?” He wanted to know, voice soft as he caressed Jimin's cheek.

The blond boy smiled slightly, “I'm just thinking about some stuff” He replied quietly, his voice still sounding foreign to him.

“Were you thinking about that stuff earlier, too?”

Jimin gave a small nod.

“Do you want to talk about it?”

It was weird, but Jimin didn't know if he wanted to talk about it with Jungkook. Even though he felt safe with him and trusted him, he didn't know if he could trust him with this information, sharing something this intimate and private with Jungkook was difficult. It had been difficult to talk with Taehyung and Yoongi about it, but he has known Taehyung for ten years now, Yoongi for six, eventually trusting them – but especially Tae - with his whole life now. He could share anything with his best friend and Yoongi. Jungkook, on the other hand, was still close to a stranger, only having known him for three weeks.

Jimin couldn't explain it. Didn't even understand it himself how he could trust someone this much with his body, but not with that kind of personal information, how he felt safe and good with Jungkook without knowing much about him. Jungkook just had that about him, that effect, he just made him feel that way.

“I-I don't know. It's difficult... I don't know if you would...”

“Would understand you?”

Would want to hear it, would understand it, yes, all of that. Jungkook wasn't his therapist. He wasn't here to talk about Jimin's past with the boy, wasn't here to fix Jimin. He was just here to teach and guide him into sex.

“I-I... Yes, It's difficult to talk about.” Jimin admitted and looked down.

“I understand. I won't push you. I just want you to know that talking about it might help and that you can talk to me. I won’t judge you, okay?”

The smaller boy looked up at Jungkook again and gave a small smile, leaning up to place a soft kiss on his cheek.

Suddenly, Jimin's stomach grumbled loudly, reminding him that he has not eaten in a very long time. He blushed as he pressed down on his tummy, feeling Jungkook smile against him.

“Are you hungry?”

“What?” Jungkook uttered shocked and sat up slightly, “Jimin-ssi, why?”

The taller boy sat up, turning the light on the nightstand on.

“What are you doing?” Jimin asked as Jungkook reached for his phone. His eyes widened when he realised what Jungkook was up to, “It's fine, Jungkook-ah. Don’t”

The younger boy didn't listen as he put the phone against his ear and waited for someone to pick up.

“Yes, hello, I would like to order some food.”

Jimin opened his mouth, ready to protest again, but the other male raised his hand, shushing him.

“Yes, what's on your recommendation list for today?”

The shorter boy pouted, arms crossing over his chest. He didn't want Jungkook to order food for him, didn't want him to worry about something like this. He could eat later when he went home... However, his stomach thought differently and grumbled loudly in response to the mention of food. Well, he was really hungry after all.

“Thank you. Yes, exactly”

Jimin had been so caught up in his thoughts that he did not hear what Jungkook had ordered, nor had he heard him tell the person his address. The taller boy hung up and placed the phone on the nightstand again. Then, he got up from the bed and walked into the bathroom.

The smaller boy sat up and sighed, a tiny smile creeping up on his face due to Jungkook's kind gesture. Startled, Jimin jumped a bit as he suddenly heard water being turned on. It had been so quiet so the sudden noise had scared him. Well, he should have expected it after all as the taller man had just entered the bathroom.

Thinking about water, Jimin scrunched up his nose as he felt something sticky between his butcheek. The left over lube was still present, has not been showered away under the cold water. He felt dirty and should probably go and wash up, too.

The blond boy tried to get up, but his body ached and he just couldn't bring himself to do it, falling back down and rolling onto his side. He puffed up his cheeks, annoyed by his tired body, and let out a breath.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook called, head peeking out from the bathroom. Said boy looked up immediately, eyebrows raised in a curious manner, “Do you have clothes with you, clean ones?”
Jimin shook his head. The taller boy nodded and went over to his dresser, pulling out a fresh pair of underwear. Then, he walked back over to Jimin, said boy noticing that he was holding something else in his hand, too.

“I'm gonna clean you now” The younger boy said and moved onto the bed. Jimin glanced at him confused, Jungkook halting his motion immediatley, “Is that okay? Can I touch you?”

Of course, Jimin thought, I would let you do anything. The boy nodded and the other male parted Jimin's buttcheeks gently, a wet cloth touching him at his entrance. It was warm and Jimin let out a content breath at the touch.

The area was still kind of sensitive. The blond boy bit down on his lip and whimpered slightly as Jungkook cleaned him carefully. It was then that Jimin realised that neither of them had come, being interrupted by Jimin's panic attack. He felt sorry towards Jungkook for getting him worked up and then not finding any release. As he looked down, he realised the taller one was wearing clean briefs now, penis soft again and tugged in them.

He was flipped over onto his back as Jungkook put his clean briefs on for him, Jimin lifting his hips to help him.

The younger man raised his head and looked up at him with arched up eyebrows, “For what?”

“For... stopping before you came”

The black haired boy furrowed his brows as he let go of his briefs that were finally on. Jimin put his hips down on the bed again, still looking at Jungkook. The taller boy studied his features, not saying anything for a while.

“Jimin-ssi, what have I told you earlier? You can stop whenever you want, for whatever reason.” The taller man uttered, voice soft but firm, “You don't ever have to feel bad for stopping or not feeling comfortable, okay? This is not about me. It's about helping you”

“I know” Jimin mumbled, “I just... I thought it felt good for you, too, and I felt guilty for stopping”

“It did feel good, but it's not worth your pain or discomfort, okay? I don't need to always come, do you understand? I want to help and teach you.”

The small boy nodded, locking eyes with the other male again. It was a surreal experience, Jimin must say. A surreal kind of relationship, wasn't it? To teach someone in sex, help them get comfortable with it without there being any kind of feelings involved. It had been difficult for Jimin to wrap his head around this concept and it still kind of was, but he had gotten used to it now, knowing how common it was for people to have casual sex, sleeping with someone they have no feelings for.

This had been Jungkook's offer. For the first time the blond boy wondered how many other people Jungkook had made that offer to, how many other people he might be seeing and sleeping with besides him – not that it was any of Jimin's business as he was in no way entitled to care about that considering that they were not in a committed relationship. No strings attached, right? That's what the taller one had decided.

Suddenly, the older boy thought about the cancellation of Jungkook's meetings again. An urge to ask the other male why he had done it overcame him, but he was too shy to ask, also feeling like it was none of his business.
“Thank you, Jungkook-ah, for... everything.”

In a moment where sudden courage bloomed in Jimin, the boy sat up and captured Jungkook's lips in a kiss. The other male hesitated, but eventually leaned into the touch and kissed right back.

Jungkook gripped Jimin’s hips and pushed him back down on the bed, falling on top of him, never breaking the kiss. The blond boy liked this, just simply kissing without it leading to anything more. He liked the feeling of Jungkook’s lips on his.

They made out like this for a while, only stopping whenever they had to catch their breath or one was trailing kisses down the other one's neck. Jimin let out little pants when Jungkook started nibbling on the skin at his throat and neck, sucking only very lightly.

Suddenly, a bell was ringing, both boys breaking apart and glancing towards the bedroom door. Placing a swift peck on Jimin's lips, Jungkook got up from the bed and walked over to the door, exiting the bedroom to go downstairs.

The blond boy sat up, feeling a bit cold now that he was alone. He stared down at his legs and discovered some red marks on his inner thighs, hickeys that the taller one had placed on his skin. For some reason, Jimin couldn't help but smile, drawing his legs back together and brushing his hair out of his face.

There were some muffled voices downstairs, but the small boy couldn't figure out what they were saying. The food must have arrived, fairly quickly as far as Jimin thought. The restaurant must be quite close to where Jungkook lived, the boy reckoned.

Scanning the room, the male tried to find his shirt, eventually finding it lie close to the dresser. Their clothes were all just scattered across the room, Jimin not knowing for sure what of it belonged to which of them. Biting down on his lip, he contemplated whether or not he should get up and grab his shirt as he was a bit cold and felt quite exposed – which was silly as Jungkook had literally seen him naked already, but the small boy couldn't help this feeling – but on the other hand, his body was aching and he really didn't want to move right now. A sigh escaped him as Jungkook walked back into the room, holding two plastic bags and a big box in his hand.

“That smells so good” Jimin hummed and licked his lips, the scent of the different kinds of dishes filling the room, his stomach grumbling loudly again.

The other man smiled slightly as he placed down the food on the bed. “I don’t know what you like and you were persistend on me not getting anything at all, so I just got a lot of different kinds of meals. It's from a restaurant really close to where I live, amazing food, many choices and great service.”

The blond boy gave a slight nod, smiling at the other as he sat down cross-legged, Jungkook walking into the bathroom. Jimin didn't touch the food, but waited until the taller one returned, now dressed in a black shirt.

“Arms up” The younger male insisted and Jimin obeyed, lifting his arms up. Jungkook pulled a shirt over his head and helped him dress, the shirt covering his upper body and some parts of his thighs. It was a bit big on him, they both realised. Jimin let out a giggle, the taller boy smiling in response, fondness in his eyes. “It's a little too big on you” He pointed out, like it wasn't obvious, the shirt almost falling from his shoulder. However, the blond boy was grateful nonetheless.

It was a bit bizarre to the blond boy how much Jungkook was smiling, how comfortable and not in the slightest bit intimidated he was himself nor nervous in the taller male's presence. All of it just felt... cozy and safe and pure. Maybe that experience from earlier had done that to them. Maybe it was just because it was pretty late, they were both tired and out of their minds, hungry as well. Maybe it just was a natural consequence of them seeing each other again and again, becoming more intimate with each meeting. The small boy didn't know why, but he liked the feeling, liked this.

The black haired boy just stared at Jimin's delicate figure in his way too big shirt of his, lips slightly parted and trying to take the image in. There was something flashing in his eyes for a moment, but Jimin couldn't catch what it was.

Snapping out of it, the younger boy shook his head and sat down on the bed against the headboard, Jimin having to turn around to be able to look at him, food inbetween them.

Then, Jungkook took everything out of the plastic bags and opened the box, revealing a big pizza with extra cheese. As he was uncovering all of the dishes, a whine escaped Jimin at the sight. He was extremely hungry and really couldn't wait any longer.

“Go ahead” The taller one allowed, watching the smaller boy with amusement in his eyes as he grabbed some fried rice immediatealy.

It tasted like heaven. Maybe because it was his first meal in over 32 hours, maybe because they were just that good at cooking at the restaurant. Jimin didn't know why, but it just tasted amazing. There were so many dishes on the bed, the smaller boy's eyes widened. That must be so expensive...

“I'm paying” The younger boy seemed to have read his mind or his expression. He wanted him to enjoy the meal, not worry about the price, “Enjoy it”

“No, I can't let you do that, I will-”

“Jimin-ah, be quiet and eat. I'm paying” Jungkook interrupted, voice stern but there was also amusement behind it.

The shorter boy shut his mouth and continued chewing on the food, “You eat, too. When have you last eaten?” Jimin asked, mouth full with food.

Jungkook smiled at the image, amusement in his eyes. The shorter boy held out his spoon with fried rice to him, wanting him to eat, too. Expectantly, he waited for him to open his mouth. Eventually, the taller one did and Jimin pushed the spoon inside carefully, feeding him some of the delicious food.

“Good, huh?” The blond boy smiled wide and stuffed more food in his mouth. He felt a bit like a pig, stuffing different kinds of foods into his mouth before he had even finished chewing and swallowing his last bite. It was weird, usually Jimin was reserved and shy in front of Jungkook and he was sure he were right now if he wasn't so hungry. Jimin usually ate very slowly and carefully in public or where strangers were present, but with people he knew or just in general when he was alone, he ate without a care in the word. He loved food, he really did.

The taller man was seeing a side of him that he usually didn't, that Jimin didn't show to a lot of people, scared of being judged. Right now, he just couldn't hold himself back, way too hungry to care.

Jungkook didn't seem to mind, though, was just glad the boy was finally eating something. He grabbed some chopsticks and started eating some noodles himself now.
There was silence as they ate, except for the sounds of their spoons and chopsticks touching the plates. It didn't take that long for Jimin to feel full, slowing down with the stuffing. He drank a lot of water and only took a few small more bites.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin spoke up after a moment, playing with the food on the plate. “Did that count as my first time?” His voice was small and unsure, question sudden. He had thought about this ever since they woke up. His first time had stopped after not too long so he didn't know if it counted, didn't know if he wanted it to. He had always thought he would feel different after having his first time. Taehyung had seemed different. Not a lot, but still. He had been so happy and confident the next day. It was like Taehyung was a walking sunshine, radiating warmth, light, and happiness. Jimin wanted that, too. Had wanted to feel different, too.

“Do you want it to count as your first time?” Jungkook replied with a question, locking eyes with the older male.

Jimin really didn't know if he wanted this to be his first time, didn't know if he wanted to remember his first time going down like this. Frankly, Jimin had always said that his first time wasn't as important, that he didn't care much about it, but in reality, he kind of did. Not much. He didn't make a big fuss about it, but he had wanted to feel like Taehyung. Had wanted to feel different, too, feel that happiness and confidence, too. Right now, he wasn't feeling any of that.

He really didn't want to remember his first time as him crying and breaking down a couple of seconds after Jungkook had entered him, having a full on panic attack. Even if it wasn't important, even if he didn't care that much, he had at least hoped it to be a little like Taehyung had told him.

“I don't know... Honestly, I don't think so” Jimin whispered, “I don't want to remember it as me having a panic attack only some moments after you entered me.”

“Well, first times aren't always as perfect as people make it out to be, and that's fine, too”

“I know, it's just... I don't know if I want to remember it going down like this” The boy replied, voice soft and unsure.

“Then we just don't count it as your first time” Jungkook simply said, shoulders shrugging.

“What should we call it then?”

“An attempt at your first time”

Jimin giggled, the taller boy smiling at the sound and imagine of it. It was the first time he had ever heard Jimin giggle because of something he said.

“I'm sorry it didn't go so well. I know it was supposed to be your first time and-”

“No, please don't apologise. You did nothing wrong. You were so great, Jungkook-ah. Really, you did more than you had to do. Honestly, I'm grateful for how you handled it. Thank you. No need to apologise. It felt so good until, well... you know” Jimin interrupted him, protesting against his remark.

Jungkook gave a nod. “Next time will be easier and better” He paused, “If you want there to be a next time, if you want to try again”

“I do” The blond boy assured, nodding to prove his point, “I just... Yes, I want to try again another time”

Jimin smiled slightly, Jungkook just staring at him. The taller boy seemed to snap out of something as he shook his head and looked back to the food.

“Are you finished with eating?”

Nodding, Jimin placed his spoon on the plate. “Yes, it was delicious, thank you”

“Next time, eat something beforehand. That's important, I don't want you to pass out or get sick” Jungkook insisted.

“I tried to eat, I just couldn't. Maybe that's one of the reasons I cried...”

Jungkook got up and grabbed the food, starting to clean up a bit while Jimin took a glance at the clock, 3:33 am. “It's pretty late” The smaller boy said in shock.

The younger boy looked back at him, nodding slightly. “I know, that's okay though.” He moved back into the bed, joining Jimin.

“Don't you have to work?” There it was. Jimin just couldn't hold himself back this time, mouth quicker than his brain.

The other male hesitated for a moment. “No, no work for now, at least not anytime soon”

The smaller boy nodded. He didn't want to keep digging so he just left it at that. It really wasn't any of his business anyway. Jimin laid down next to Jungkook and pulled the blanket over them both.

Both men just stayed there on their backs, staring up at the ceiling. They shut their eyes almost simultaneously, the smaller boy placing his petite hand between them.

As their eyes got heavier and sleep started to welcome them, they moved a little closer. Finally, Jimin drifted off into his dreams, but not before feeling Jungkook place his bigger hand on top of his, grasping it softly.

Chapter Summary

Jimin seeks comfort in Taehyung as they talk about what happened between him and Jungkook while Jungkook is busy at work. Later, Jimin and Jungkook try to have his first time again... will it go well this time?

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes.

A buzzing noise was heard throughout the room. At first, Jimin thought it was part of his dream, but he quickly realised that it wasn't. His eyes shot open and he sat up quickly, staring over at the nightstand where his phone was vibrating. The blond boy grabbed it in a swift motion and rubbed at his eyes as he stared down at the display.

Hey, are you awake? - Tae

Jiminie, answer meeeeee! - Tae

Jimin-ah, let's meet up! Call or text me back - Tae

Chimchim, are you okay? You don't sleep this long usually... - Tae

Boy, if you don't answer in the next couple of minutes, I'm gonna come over and break your door down! - Tae

With confusion in his eyes, Jimin took a look at the clock. Why was Taehyung making such a fuss? It was only – 3pm. Wait, 3pm? The boy's eyes widened at the realisation. How was it already past noon? He can't remember to have ever slept that long.

Abruptly, he stumbled out of the bed, almost falling at the quick motion. He should probably wake Jungkook up, too. However, as Jimin turned around to glance at the bed, it was empty.

“Jungkook-ah?” The boy called out and searched for the boy, walking into the bathroom that was empty as well.

Had he just left?

The smaller male exited the room and went over to the stairs, looking down into the empty living room. “Jungkook-ah?” He shouted again, but there came no answer back.

Furrowing his eyebrows, Jimin walked back into the bedroom, scanning the room.

Had he actually left? He had left without saying goodbye or waking Jimin? Did he seriously trust him that much to leave him alone in his apartment? When had he left, though? Jimin had not felt him move, must have passed out completely without getting notice of anything else.

Something bloomed in his chest, a feeling that Jimin didn't like, but he couldn't define what it was- or maybe he didn't want to.
Then again, Jimin had expected it, had known that the night would eventually end.

The small boy bit on the inside of his cheek as he looked over at the bed again, suddenly noticing a piece of paper on the nightstand. He walked over to it and picked it up.

I had to leave. Didn't want to wake you, you looked so peaceful. I left you some money for a taxi. Text me when you want our next time to be. - Jungkook

So he didn't just leave without a word. Jimin smiled slightly as he looked down at the note. A part of him wanted to arrange their next time immediately, but he should wait. At least, a day or two, no?

The small boy put the note into his bag, leaving the money on the nightstand, and collected his clothes from on top of the dresser – where Jungkook must have placed them - to put them on. He kept Jungkook’s shirt on, just stuffed his old shirt into his backpack before he made the bed and tried to clean all the mess they had made the previous night.

Satisfied with how the room looked, he exited it and jogged down the stairs to put his shoes on, texting Tae on his way to let him know he was alive and well and that they could meet up later.

------

“Soooo” Taehyung sang, eyebrow arched up and eyes glistening in a teasing manner, “Your first time, huh? How was it then?”

Jimin bit on the inside of his cheek, shaking his head slightly, “It didn't... Well, it was good at first, but it ended pretty quickly”

“That's okay Jimin. It's your first time, of course you are excited. Don't feel bad for coming quickly” Taehyung swiftly tried to comfort him, reaching his hand out to capture Jimin's in a soothing manner.

“No” The smaller boy responded, “It wasn't that. I... I cried.”

“Oh. Why?” His best friend wanted to know as he cocked his head to the side, confusion visible in his eyes, “Did it feel that good?”

“No, I had a... I don't know, I broke down. I had a panic attack just seconds after he entered me”

“Oh” The brown haired boy looked at him with pity in his eyes, “Why, Jimin-ah?” He asked, but he already seemed to know.

The other boy shrugged his shoulders, lump forming in his throat. He looked away as he felt tears swelling up in his eyes, frustrated with the situation.

“Hey, Jimin-ah, talk to me”

His friend turned the TV off and joined Jimin on the sofa, looking at him concerned.

“I think everything was just too much. I had not slept and I had not eaten, I was so nervous and then... then I just had to think about my father. How unfair is that? In that exact moment, he just had to make me suffer again, even now. I was starting to get better, tried to move on from it and fix that left over scar, but he just won't let me” Jimin sobbed, wiping away the tears that had fallen on his cheeks.

“Some scars take long to heal, Jimin-ah, that's just the way it is” Tae voiced softly, stroking Jimin's hair in a comforting manner, “You just have to keep telling yourself that he was a bad person and that whatever he said was a lie or his way of trying to manipulate and hurt you. He wanted to hurt you and make you suffer because of your mother. That's what your grandmother told you, too, didn't she? You have to remember that, Jimin-ah. His words hold no weight, his words shouldn't control you like this. I know you don't believe in his words, I know you don't think the way he does. Just keep reminding yourself of that and don't stop fighting. Keep fighting against that voice inside your head, against those memories. One day you will be able to let them go and heal completely.”

The blond boy looked at his best friend – well, you could honestly call him soulmate, or brother – and hugged him tightly as he cried against his shoulder.

“It's so hard” Jimin sobbed, “I'm trying, Tae, I'm really trying but he just won't let me move on. It always comes back. I feel so guilty”

“I know, love, I know” The taller boy whispered and placed a small kiss on his temple, Jimin closing his eyes at the comforting contact.

They have talked about this topic, about Jimin's past, very often. Taehyung was always there for him, always listened to him and gave him advice with whatever was concerning him, same as Yoongi. Frankly, Taehyung and Yoongi were a big part of Jimin getting better, feeling better and trying to move on. However, there were some battles left he must fight on his own it seemed, while being supported by Tae, Yoongi and others from the side line.

“Thank you, Tae”

“Always”

They just remained like that for they didn't know how long, clutched in each other's embrace. Only starting to break apart once Jimin had calmed down, no more tears leaving his eyes.

“At least let him know that it wasn't his fault.”

“I did. I told him he didn't do anything wrong. He said I could talk to him about it whenever I want to, I just don't know if I can. I mean, I don't even know him that well, you know?” The boy said and locked eyes with his best friend again.

“Time is not a factor for trusting bonds, don't you think? I mean, I trusted your fairly quickly, as well. And what you and Jungkook are doing anyway, that involves a lot of trust, too, right?”

The taller boy had a point.

“That's the weird thing. I do trust him with my body, but... I don't know, it's difficult for me to talk about this topic. It took me a while to open up about it with you and Yoongi, too, and you are my bestest friends in the world”

Taehyung smiled slightly and gave a nod. “I understand. You don't have to tell him. Take your time with it. But maybe he would understand you better, if you told him. Not that he has to understand you. He's just helping you with sex. He made that offer to you so you set the pace and it's none of his business why you do things the way you do or why you are the way you are. You decide how close you actually want him to be with you”

Jemin bit down on his bottom lip, nodding slightly. Maybe another reason for Jimin not being able to tell him was that he was scared of Jungkook being weirded out by him, thinking that he was a broken and messed up boy.
“He stayed with me the whole night.” The smaller boy revealed suddenly, voice soft, smiling slightly at the memory involuntarily.

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded. “After he calmed me down, he cuddled with me and we fell asleep together. We woke up during the night and I heard him cancel a meeting. When I told him I hadn’t eaten yet, he ordered food for us and we ate together. Then, we fell asleep together again. However, when I woke up this morning, he was gone, only leaving a small note for me”

Jimin felt his cheeks heat up.

“Do you think?”

“Why did he do that, though? Isn’t that one of your rules? So you both violated a rule? What now? I thought you shouldn’t do that? Jungkook even literally cancelled his meeting for you so he voluntarily stayed with you and knowingly fell asleep with you two times at that? Wow.”

“I don’t know if he cancelled it for me”

“Did you hear what he said when he cancelled it?”

“Just that something came up. Could be anything”

Taehyung’s eyebrows shot up. “Jimin-ah, oh my god, of course he cancelled it for you. He stayed with you after cancelling it so obviously you were the reason. The bigger question is, what even is his job that requires him to have a meeting at that hour?”

Tae’s face lit up as if he had just discovered something amazing. “Maybe because the person doesn’t live in Seoul?”

“Well, no one- I mean, I have never heard of anyone having a meeting at like 3 in the morning. Have you? That would be quite bizarre, don’t you think? So, what if he was supposed to have a meeting with someone that early in the morning because it was day or afternoon for the other person – just in another time zone”

Both boys furrowed their eyebrows contemplatively, faces lighting up just moments after.

“That does sound plausible!” Jimin assured and nodded his head, finally being a step closer to knowing more about Jungkook.

“Have you ever talked to him about his job? Do you know anything about it? I mean, we could probably just ask hyung, but he might find it suspicious, don’t you think?”

The blond boy hummed. “Well, I’ve never really asked him because any time I tried to ask for anything personal, he shut me down completely and either didn’t answer or changed the topic. Remember when I asked about the reason why he was helping me? He didn’t give me a real answer. I think he doesn’t want us to share too much personal information between us because he doesn’t want either of us to catch feelings and keep this... rather professional”
“Hmm, well then we are back at square one, still not knowing much about that mysterious boy.” Tae sighed and pouted slightly.

“We do know that he is from Busan and friends with hyung for a very long time”

“Ooh, yeah, I talked to Hoseok hyung and asked about how long they knew each other. He said their parents know each other, which means that they have been friends with each other since they were children. However, throughout the years they didn't see each other for sometime when one of them had moved to another place, but they always got back together again quickly. They are basically childhood friends, they must know each other quite well and trust each other a lot”

“Wow” Jimin breathed in awe, fascinated by that information. Jungkook knew Yoongi longer than he did. If Jimin was this close to Yoongi, trusting him with his life, and vice versa, Jungkook and Yoongi must have that kind of relationship, too, if not even stronger.

“No!” The shorter boy quickly protested, “Better don't. He might tell Jungkook and I don't want him to think that I'm snooping behind his back. If he wants me to know more about him, he will tell me eventually.”

“Well, we do know that he has been in Busan for a while, as hyung said when he introduced him. Odd, isn't it? Really a coincidence that you are both from there. Do you think you have ever seen him in Busan without even knowing?” The brown haired boy asked, leaning his head against the sofa as he stared at Jimin expectantly, slight smile on his face.

The blond boy furrowed his brows. “I doubt it. I haven't been to Busan in more than 10 years. Hasn't he been there just recently?”

“No, he is born there, no? At least that's what I thought. Who knows, though”

“Still, he could have moved somewhere else right away”

Taehyung shrugged his shoulders. “Was just a thought, could be possible”

Jimin stared at the wall, intent expression on his face. It was very unlikely that Jimin has ever seen Jungkook before. He would have remembered that for sure. Also, Busan wasn't that small so the possibility of them having lived close in their childhood years was very small.

“I don't know. I never asked”

The brown haired boy glanced at him, eyebrows raised and expression of disbelief on his face. “You let him stick his dick inside of you and don't even know.”

The shorter male swatted his arm, shutting him up. “Do you know the surnames of all of your hook ups?”

“Well, no, because I only need to scream their first name or something else that I'll tell you about another time, but that's just because they are just that – hook ups. That's different. I usually don't see them after the night whereas you have kind of an established thing there going on with Jungkook, no? How many times have you seen each other now?”

“It's not established. The rule is 'no strings attached'”
“Well, the rules also included 'not staying over night' and we see how that worked out. Clearly, rules can be broken” Tae pointed out and sat up.

“How?”

“Well, I think he just did it out of manners, like, staying with me? Certainly, that was kind of him to not leave me when I was having a mild panic attack, but he just didn't want to be rude, probably, and tell me to leave in that kind of state”

The brown haired boy just stared at him with an unimpressed expression.

“Right, whatever. I don't care why he did what he did. I'm just really glad he did it and stayed with me during that moment”

Jimin smiled again, Taehyung suddenly arching up his eyebrows and shaking his head, “Don't” He warned.

“Don't fall for him”

“I'm just warning you now, Jimin-ah. It's not gonna end well”

“I'm not gonna fall for him, don't be absurd. He is just helping me, this is totally platonic” The smaller boy defended himself, clearing his throat, “So, how are things with Hoseok hyung going?”

Taehyung stared at him in disbelief, swatting his arm. “Don't change the topic”

“Ouch” Jimin whined and rubbed his arm where Taehyung had just hit him “I was just wondering. We have been talking about me quite a while now and you never said what happened with you and Hoseok hyung after that night at the diner – which, again, thank you so much for that. To be exact, you never even specifically told me what happened that night”

“You're welcome. Well, nothing much. Hyung dropped me off at our building and then drove Hoseok hyung home.” The brown haired boy shrugged his shoulders.

“Nothing. We just texted at night”

“You said something about steamy? What did you mean by that?” The smaller boy digged and raised an eyebrow.

Taehyung smirked and shook his head. “Do you really wanna know?”

Well, if he was asking that, maybe Jimin shouldn't want to know about this, he assumed.

“Go ahead.”

“Well, we just started with usual texts, like what we are doing, how we are and so on and I sent him a picture of me lying in my bed to answer his question of what I was doing. But, well, I was posing quite seductive, of course, to send some hints, you know?”
Jimin nodded to indicate that he understood. His best friend was really photogenic so he always looked as handsome in pictures as he did in real life.

“He complimented me, saying that I looked beautiful, but I didn't want him to think I'm just beautiful. I wanted him to think that I'm sexy and make him want me, too. I sent him another picture of me being a bit more seductive, sucking on my finger and asking if I was only beautiful.”

“Tae!” Jimin screamed and giggled, Taehyung looking pleased with himself. “What did he say?”

“It took a while for his next message, but eventually he texted back, telling me I was bad.”

“Bad?”

“Yeah, bad for making him feel like that, even earlier in the diner, sucking on my straw the way I did while looking at him. I texted him that I would like to suck on something else, too, so he replied that I was being very bad right now and that I should better stop”

“Oh” The smaller boy mumbled sadly, pity in his eyes, but it was replaced by confusion at Tae's big smirk.

“I told him to make me. Well, then he asked if I was serious and sure about this and I responded with a yes, so he sent me a picture of him, half naked in his bed, and a text telling me to take my clothes off”

“Oh my god” The shorter male squeaked, hand falling over his mouth at Tae's story.

The taller boy snickered at that. “I did what he asked me to and he told me to start playing with myself, teasing myself and how he was going to punish me for being-”

Taehyung giggled. “I warned you”

“Well, I didn't know it was going to go down like this!”

“What did you expect? I told you it was steamy and that I masturbated like-”

“Sssh!” The blond boy interrupted, slapping his arm resulting in Tae to hiss at the pain and rub at his arm again.

“Stop that for fuck's sake”

They both stared at each other madly. However, there was no sincerity behind that and soon they found themselves breaking out in chuckles.

“Sorry, just don't continue with that please”

“Fine. It was just a good night, let's leave it at that. It happened again yesterday, but I don't know what this is between us and what to call it because we haven't like talked about it? It just kind of happened, but we never really mentioned it again after, so I don't really know what's going on. If this is just something platonic or if he actually likes me. But for right now, this is fine by me.”

Tae's face lit up, mirroring his smile and pulling him into an embrace.

He knew he was gonna get shit for rearranging the meeting with Clarke – for changing the schedule at all, but especially this shortly before it was supposed to happen. Jungkook just hoped that Jin had kept his word and hadn't told his father, not in the mood to get shit from his father right now either.

The new arranged meeting with Clarke was supposed to be happening soon. He was a possible new investor that they were trying to get signed as well as another business idea to talk about. Jungkook just prayed that he didn't screw that all over by changing the schedule, hoping to be convincing and able to pull out some of his charme. However, Jin had wanted him to come meet him in his office before the meeting starts.

Usually, his father has had all of these kinds of meeting. Jungkook hadn't been necessary or even allowed in those meetings, just some months ago having started to be present in these meetings, just to watch and learn, only recently having started to lead those meetings himself now.

Jeon entertainment was possibly one of the biggest entertainment and management companies in South Korea, for models, actors and singers. His father had started this business a long time ago, built his way up to the top and was now one of the most popular and powerful men in South Korea. It was only right for Jungkook to follow in his foot steps, being the heir of this huge company and eventually going to become the CEO one day. That's what his father wanted. That's how his father had painted his future to be.

Jungkook had known Jin for a long while now, Jin having been an intern at the company at first and quickly becoming friends during that time. Especially because Jin was good at lifting the mood, cracking jokes way too often and just being supportive of Jungkook. They had met back in Busan, some years ago where Jungkook had been for a couple of months to learn more about his father's job and be guided into it. Jin had worked there for a while, but now that the company had expanded to Seoul, a Jeon entertainment company building now standing in the heart of the city, Jin had been promoted to this place. He was now working with Jungkook, handling his schedule, telling him about his fathers plans and wishes and essentially being his left hand. Frankly, the younger male figured that his father had just sent over Jin to keep an eye on Jungkook, knowing that they were friends and that Jin was good at handling Jungkook, but he didn't mind as he really liked Jin and wanted him to be here.

As his father was absent from this particular place, you could say Jungkook had the most power in this building, being the heir of the CEO. However, his father was still the owner of this company and the CEO, so Jungkook still had to listen to his father and couldn't just do and act how ever he pleased. He had to follow his orders and talk to him about business plans and moves, their schedules and so on. It was quite a lot, honestly.

However, Jungkook never sees himself as Jin's boss or above him, essentially or especially because they are friends. Certainly, the black haired boy is also respectful with his hyung, having been raised with manners. Then again, that didn't stop him from teasing Jin or treating him like an equal, their relationship was just like that.

The black haired boy didn't even knock as he walked into Jin's office, going straight for the seat in front of his desk. “Hey, you wanted to see me?” The boy said as he opened the button of his suit jacket and sat down.
“Brat, what have I told you about knocking” Jin scolded him, but there was no heat behind it, instead affection glistening in his eyes.

“Sorry, forgot about that” The younger one lied and smiled, Jin shaking his head but mirroring the smile.

“Just wanted to hang out with you before the meeting” Jin stated and leaned back in his seat, sighing.

The other male raised an eyebrow. “Okay, that is suspicious, what are you up to?”

“Yah, what is that supposed to mean?” Jin uttered firm and looked at him angry, but it was clear that he didn't really mean it. “I haven't properly seen you in a while as you were so busy, in and out of my office so quickly”

“I know, that's not my fault, though. I have meetings to attend, calls to make, just a lot of shit to do. Also, we can hang out later if you want. Yoongi and Hoseok hyung wanna see you again. You have been back in Seoul for quite a while now and you haven't even hung out with us yet”

Jin sighed. “That sounds good, but today is inconvenient. There is another group of employees for the management sector coming in today. Your father is expanding in every sector, a lot more people each. Might have to run you through all of that after the meeting with Clarke”

“Sorry, that's my fault. He told me a couple of days ago, but it had been so busy that I forgot to tell you.” Jin apologised genuinely.

“It's fine. Just give me a quick run through after Clarke.”

“Will do. Great, so there actually are a few things I wanted to talk to you about”

“Knew it” Jungkook laughed and leaned back in his seat, “What is it?”

“There are more applications for trainees. Your father requested for you to have a look at the profiles and only sent the names of people that are interesting and actually talented over to him so he can have a look at them. I'll invite them to an audition then” Jin pointed at a pile of papers. “I sent you an e-mail with their audition tapes already. I know your schedule is already so damn packed, but your father asked you to because there are too many applications and he can't go through all of them. At least he is trusting you, that is good, as he literally usually wants to do that all by himself, not letting anyone else choose”

“That's only until the audition. He lets other people evaluate those, too”

“Well, but he does have the last say in it all the time”

“The kids do all work hard, though. I wish they could all go further and succeed.”

“You know I call almost everyone kid who's younger than me. You are a kid, too, you brat.”

“No wonder when everyone here is younger than you” Jungkook teased and chuckled. Jin stared at him in disbelief.
“Yah, don't make me throw my shoe at your handsome face”

They both laughed and Jungkook raised his hands in defense.

“Sorry, just teasing you, you know that.”

Jungkook took the pile with profiles of trainees and flicked through them. “I'll look through them carefully and let you know by tomorrow or after tomorrow” He voiced absentmindedly, putting the pile on the desk to talk comfortably again.

The other male nodded.

“Alright, you should head to the conference room for the meeting now. We shouldn't leave Clarke hanging again”

They both got up, straightening their suit jackets.

“Did you tell my father?”

“Of course, not” He snorted as they walked towards the door, “I don't want us both to get killed”

They chuckled simultaneously as they walked to the conference room.

“Thanks, Jin hyung”

“No problem. Just don't do that again unless you want me to kick your ass. You better win this thing for us or we are screwed.” The taller male warned as he patted Jungkook's back, “You got this, I believe in you. Give me your phone”

Jungkook smiled, letting out a sigh as he handed him his phone. “You are behaving like my babysitter, aren't you?”

“No, I'm just your hyung and co worker that looks out for you. Don't be distracted by your phone and focus on this meeting”

The younger let out a breath and straightened his back, walking into the conference meeting to get that deal sealt.

Everyone was applauding as Jungkook walked past them, bowing slightly to thank them as he went over to Jin's office again. It had been a successful meeting, his father was going to be proud.

“Thanks, hyung.”

“We should celebrate that, but we have got work to do first”

They both let out a sigh, but nodded as Jungkook took a seat in front of the deks again.

“You received quite a lot of messages” Jin let him know as he pushed his blond hair out of his face, handing Jungkook a sheet of paper with the names of the new employees.

As the black haired boy read over the names to get back on track with everything again, Jin read out his messages.
“Only if you aren't too busy, Kook-ah, thanks' from Yoongi, 'I don't know, call me back later please' from Hoseok, 'When are you free? Could we meet at yours somewhen the next days?' from Jiminie and 'Do you mind-'

The blond haired boy locked eyes with him. “What? Which one?”

“The third one. Wait, give me my phone”

“When are-” Jin didn't finish his sentence as Jungkook had snatched the phone out of his hand, placing the sheet of paper on the desk to look at the message.

“Who is Jiminie? I assume that's not someone we are working with, is it? Oooh, one of your hook ups?” The older one teased.

“What?” He snorted and laughed at the absurdity “No, he's just Yoongi's dongsaeng and friend”

“Ooh, then I'll meet him soon, won't I?”

“I guess. He's very important to hyung”

“Is he nice? Good looking?”

Jungkook furrowed his brows. “He's alright, I guess. He's... yeah, he's beautiful” His voice softened a bit as the image of Jimin appeared in his mind. Clearing his throat, he shook his head and locked eyes with Jin again, “You know you can trust Yoongi hyung when it comes to people”

“Amen to that”

“Well, let's not talk about him, though, let's rather get over this run through”

------

“Hey, sorry for mentioning Jiminie. I didn't know that was a sensitive topic” Jin apologised once Jungkook got up to leave.

“His name is Jimin. He's not a sensitive topic. I just don't want to talk about him. It's fine, really”

Jin gave a nod.

“Can I ask you something else?”

Jungkook hesitated, but nodded eventually.

“What was it that came up that you had to cancel the meeting? I don't think you ever cancelled one of your meetings. I mean, except if you were really sick, but even then you were difficult to convince to even cancel it.”

The other man opened his mouth, but no words came out.

“That’s none of your business, hyung. It was important and Clarke was fine with the reschedule. So it doesn't even matter, everything worked out in the end.” Jungkook answered before he could stop himself, wondering why he got so defensive.

“Sorry, I just thought something happened that you might want to talk about. I just worried about you”

Jungkook sighed. “I get that. Thank you, hyung, but there was nothing like that. It was important, but nothing to talk about”

Jin nodded and got up, looking at his watch around his wrist. “I gotta get ready for the employees now. I’ll see you tomorrow then. Let me know about those trainees.”

After, Jungkook gave a small nod and opened the door, “See you tomorrow, hyung” With that, he left the office room.

Jimin entered the now very familiar apartment and shut the door close behind himself. The taller male handed him some water and excused himself right away, walking into the other hallway as the blond male took off his shoes.

He placed his bag on the sofa, walking over to the big glass wall to look down on the city while taking a sip from the water. Pretty lights were turned on as it was night already, emphasising the beauty of Seoul.

Jimin could still remember it like yesterday when he had first stepped foot into the city, big buildings and heavy streets scaring, but also exciting the small boy. Back then everything had seemed so big and foreign, but now he knew his way around Seoul, knew certain streets and had found certain places he grew to love with all his heart, feeling welcome and cozy. He loved Han River, for example, especially at night. Loved taking walks there or riding a bike, together with Taehyung or Yoongi usually, eating instant noodles and talking about everything but nothing at he same time. He loved those times. He loved this city and was so happy to have moved here, even if back then the change had scared him.

“Sorry about that” The shorter male suddenly heard, jumping up in shock and surprise, causing to spill water all over himself, but thankfully not dropping the cup.

“Oh my god, you scared me” Jimin cried out and placed his hand over his heart which was beating incredibly fast.

“Sorry, I thought you heard me enter the room” Jungkook apologised and smiled slightly as he pointed over to the hallway.

The small boy followed his direction and shook his head.

“Your clothes will come off in a moment anyway” The taller boy pointed out, making Jimin blush and avert his gaze.

“Hey” Jungkook welcomed him then and leaned against the wall.

“Are you good? Have you eaten? Have you slept?”

The smaller boy nodded. “Yes, I ate a bit and I was able to sleep, too.”

“Great.”

They just stared at each other, Jimin averting his eyes eventually, not able to lock eyes with Jungkook for too long. The intense stares made his cheeks heat up.

“Do you want to start right away? Should we go upstairs?”

Jimin bit down on his lip and swallowed hard. He did. He really wanted to finally do it. Honestly, though, he was scared of history repeating itself. The poor boy didn't want to have a break down again.

Giving a small nod, they both went upstairs in the taller one's bedroom, heart beating fast in Jimin's chest.

“I'm nervous” He admitted and finally glanced at Jungkook again as the other male sat down on the edge of the bed.

“That's okay. That's totally normal. However, you know the process already now, huh? You know how it feels like”

Jimin nodded as Jungkook held out his hand for him. He didn't even need to say anything and Jimin was already walking over to him, letting Jungkook grip his hips softly.

“I think I'm even more nervous now, though” The blond boy whispered as the other male placed his hands on the back of his thighs and pulled him forward so Jimin sat on his lap again, straddling the taller man.

“Why?”

“Because of what happened. I don't want it to happen again” The boy mumbled, voice soft and unsure. “I don't want to have a break down again”

The younger male lifted his hand and brushed blond streaks of hair out of Jimin's face, looking him deep into the eyes. Slowly, the younger boy caressed his cheek, Jimin involuntarily nuzzling against the touch, “Is there anything I can do to help you so it doesn't happen again?”

The shorter boy let out a shaky breath and pushed his forehead softly against Jungkook's, closing his eyes at the motion. “It wasn't your fault so there really isn't much you can do. It was just everything altogether. It was just too much, I guess.”

Jungkook grabbed his hips and started to rub his hands up and down slowly and softly.

“I-I thought about my father” The blond boy revealed eventually. It felt weird, had been so hard to actually let the words fall out of his mouth, “I thought about my past and what he told me, how he raised and treated me”

The other male halted, tensing slightly. Jimin feared of having said too much, that Jungkook would say that he didn't care.

“Jimin-ah, what exactly did he do to you?” The taller boy wanted to know, voice a bit lower, but it seemed like he tried to control it.
“Just... just everything. The way he always treated me, the way he raised me. It just left a scar, Jungkookie. I don't want him to control my life anymore, but he still lingers in my memory. I want to get rid of it, Jungkook-ah, and I thought for some reason this might help” The smaller boy tried to explain, voice trembling as he sniffed.

“Has he hurt you, Jimin-ah? Physically? Has he hit you or raped you? Did he abuse you?”

So many questions. Jimin took a shaky breath. “Mentally. He abused me verbally and mentally. He manipulated me and just... he wanted me to suffer. I don't want to give him that power anymore. He was a bad person and I don't want to let him control me or my life anymore. I want to move on.”

“Where is your father now?” He wanted to know. Jungkook's jaw locked and he looked pissed, Jimin was intimidated, but he knew that it wasn't directed at him, wasn't because of him. The other male kept caressing his back. However, there was something else flashing in his eyes. For a short moment the smaller boy thought it was guilt that he saw glistening in his eyes, but it was gone so swiftly, replaced by anger again, that he wasn't so sure anymore – probably having misinterpreted it. Jimin hesitated. “Not... I'm not with him anymore. He's nowhere close. He's out of my life”

The taller boy placed a small kiss on his forehead.

“Do not let his words define you, okay? Whatever he told you, whatever is haunting you, let that go and move on from it. Those words mean nothing, don't let them come close to you. He's gone now, so let his words go, too.”

“I-I'm trying” Jimin promised, voice shaky. He really was. Frankly, Jungkook didn't even really know what exactly his father had done in detail, what words or actions there had been that had scarred the blond boy this deeply, but he was still comforting him earnestly.

“Good. You're doing good” He uttered and his voice became gentle again, features turning softer again, too.

Jimin wrapped his arms around Jungkook and hid his face in the curve of his neck, eyes falling shut.

“-If I can't stop these memories from coming back and start crying again, can you... maybe, just distract me? Kiss me or talk to me, whatever. If that's not too much to ask” Jimin pleaded, voice so soft Jungkook held him closer.

“I'll do that”

They remained in that position for a while, trying to find comfort and be ready to move on.

It took a couple of minutes for Jimin to get himself together again, trying to get out of that sad headspace and return to the now. Jungkook waited patiently for him, kept stroking his back and petting his hair. It was like aftercare, the older male thought, but before the actual sex.

The black haired boy wasted no time and attached his lips to the other male's, Jimin letting out a breath in surprise and clenching his hands into little fists. He quickly kissed back, opening his mouth immedialaly to welcome Jungkook's tongue.

Jungkook fell back on his back and pulled Jimin right with him, not breaking apart from each other. Slowly, the smaller one started to rock his hips down against Jungkook the way he had showed him before. The other boy let out a groan and gripped Jimin's hips tightly, helping him grind down against him.

Jimin let out the most beautiful sounds again, little breathy whimpers and whines escaping his soft lips inbetween kisses. The other male flipped them over, causing Jimin to let out a surprised yelp that was quickly muffled by Jungkook's mouth on his.

Slowly, the taller boy grasped the hem of Jimin's shirt that was still wet with water from when he had spilled it on himself. Carefully, he started to pull it up without breaking the kiss.

Jimin was still nervous and anxious, but not as bad as last time as he kind of knew what was going to happen now step by step. He kind of knew the feeling of something entering him now, too, and could prepare himself for the uncomfortable but then also pleasureable feeling.

“Jungkook-ah” The blond boy moaned as Jungkook broke the kiss to pull off Jimin's shirt, tossing it behind them on the floor. He took off his own shirt, too, letting it fall to the floor next to them. Jimin whimpered at the sight of Jungkook's muscular body, swallowing hard and heart beating faster as he thought about how strong he must be. He looked a bit intimidating, with his abs and his strong muscular arms, could probably crush Jimin's slim figure. However, his features were soft when he smiled, Jimin had noticed, the opposite to his strong body. Then again, when Jungkook looked serious or pissed – which Jimin had seen more than once now and honestly, that was kind of scary, but also... oddly attractive for Jimin didn't know why – it fit right with his strong body.

A greek god. He really was. That's the only thing Jimin could think about when he stared at him. Jungkook was simply the most handsome man he had ever laid his eyes on.

“Jimin-ssi”

“Huh?” The smaller boy said, his thoughts being interrupted. He blushed as Jungkook smirked slightly, seemingly knowing that Jimin had been distracted by his beautiful body and catching him doing it.

“Lift you hips up for me, baby”

Jimin did as he was told immediately, Jungkook pulling off his trousers that he had already opened before which the blond male hadn't even noticed as he had stared at Jungkook's body. Quickly, he took off his own trousers, too, and threw them on the floor as well.

Both in just their briefs now, they continued kissing, Jungkook placing himself inbetween Jimin's spread legs, grinding against him slowly to hear Jimin make those beautiful soft whimpers.

“Have you played with your hole since last time?” The taller boy suddenly asked as he placed open mouthed kisses on his neck, nibbling on his skin lightly.

“N-No” Jimin stutterted, blushing at the mention of that. He hadn't done anything sexual since their attempt at his first time.

“Then I'm gonna have to strecht you open again, yeah? Or do you wanna do it to yourself?”

Jungkook sat up and reached for the bottle of lube he had placed on the nightstand earlier.

“Hmm? Wanna finger yourself open for me?” The black haired boy asked as he traced his fingers over Jimin's inner thigh, the boy jerking at the light touch and letting out a breathy moan.

“N-No, you do it.”
“You like my fingers inside of you? They're long, aren't they? Hit all the right places inside of you, don't they?”

Okay, this was new. Well, Jungkook had said dirty stuff to him before, but this was another level higher. The blond boy blushed and let out a whimper. However, at the twitch of Jimin's penis, he realised he seemed to like it.

“Aren't you going to answer me?”

Jimin opened his mouth to answer but could only gasp as Jungkook suddenly grabbed his penis through his briefs. The smaller boy bucked up his hips against the touch and gripped the sheets beneath him at the sudden contact, clenching his hands into little fists.

“J-Jungkook-ah” The smaller man whimpered and bit down on his lip, trying to contain the sounds.

“I'm gonna take your briefs off now, okay?”

Quickly, the shorter male nodded.

“Do you remember your safewords?” He asked as he pulled down Jimin's briefs, his erection sprang free and a breathy mewl escaped his plump lips.

“Y-Yes”

“Tell me”

“Red for stop, yellow for pause, green for okay” Jimin recited as Jungkook dropped his briefs on the floor, glancing down at the beautiful boy beneath him. His chest was quickly rising and falling, cheeks flushed and eyes closed, his hands gripping the sheets tightly, legs spread wide for Jungkook, skin pale and shaved. Gosh, he really was a vision. Jimin's features were so delicate, fitting perfectly with his petite body.

“Very good” Jungkook praised and traced his finger tips over Jimin's legs. Goosebumps formed on his skin and Jungkook had the urge to just tease the boy, for hours at that, make him let out those beautiful sounds that would turn slowly into cries and begging. His cock twitched at the thought. However, now was not the time for that, “Do you want to lie on your stomach again?”

The shorter boy hummed and rolled over on his stomach, already placing a pillow beneath his hips this time. He couldn't help himself, but just like last time he started to rock himself against the pillow, in search of more friction and chasing his orgasm.

Then, he heard a bottle being opened, presumably Jungkook who had just opened the bottle of lube and was now squirting some of it on his fingers.

“Stop” The younger one ordered as he gripped Jimin's hip with one hand, halting his movement. The other boy let out a frustrated whine high in his throat, but still stilled his motion, “Can you hold yourself open for me again?”

Jimin reached behind himself and parted his buttccheeks, revealing his tight pink hole to Jungkook who groaned at the side.

“If you want to stop, what do you say?” The taller boy wanted to know as Jimin felt his finger against his entrance. He sucked in a breath and bit down on his lip as he placed his cheek on the pillow.
“R-Red” Jimin answered, voice becoming high pitched as Jungkook entered his finger slowly, rubbing the back of his thigh softly with his other hand.

“There you go” He said and Jimin whined high in his throat at the uncomfortable feeling. He bit down on the pillow as Jungkook pulled his finger out again just to push it back inside. It didn't hurt as bad as last time, was only uncomfortable now.

“I know” Jungkook uttered, “Wanna play with your little cock again?”

Gosh, if Jungkook was going to keep talking like this he would come on the spot. Jimin didn't even know why. The way Jungkook talked to him in an obscene and dirty way made him blush and he shouldn't like it, but for some reason he did, even if he was embarrassed. It did something to the smaller boy. Jungkook had done this previously before and Jimin had always noticed how his penis had twitched at his words, but it only now seemed to really hit him what Jungkook was doing to him.

The blond boy hummed as he let go of his buttcheek and reached for his penis, closing his tiny hand around it and tugging on it slowly.

“I'm gonna enter another one now, okay?”

“O-Okay” Jimin breathed out and his eyes flutterted shut as the other boy pushed another finger inside of him.

“There you go, almost there”

It only felt uncomfortable for a couple more seconds. That was until Jungkook found his prostate, causing Jimin to let out a scream at the sudden touch, hands clenching in the sheets beneath him and hips moving back against the touch involuntarily.

“There it is” Jungkook commented, voice low, as he kept fucking his fingers in and out of Jimin who let out loud moans and whimpers that were muffled by the pillow.

“A-ah, yes, Jungkook-ah!” Jimin cried out as Jungkook entered his third finger and pushed right against his prostate. Slowly, he kept rubbing against it firmly in a circle motion, driving Jimin wild. It was too much, he was too overwhelmed by the feeling and was sure to come any moment now if Jungkook was going to keep going with that, “Stop, please, I'm gonna come if you don't stop” The boy warned and moaned as he let go of his penis.

Jungkook didn't stop, but rubbed faster.

“Jungkook-ah!” The blond male cried out and he was so close, almost coming, but suddenly Jungkook's fingers were gone. Jimin's body was trembling, he was right at the edge. It felt like only one small touch would make him come.

“Jimin-ah, I thought another position might be better for today. Gives you more control of the situation so you can set the pace, yeah? Do you like that idea?” Jungkook suggested as he brushed Jimin's hair out of his face gently, trying to see his face. The boy was breathing heavily, still hadn't let go of the sheets and was drooling over the pillow as he let out little breaths, “Mhm? Does that sound good?” Jungkook asked as he leaned over Jimin, placing a kiss on his shoulder.

The smaller boy had heard him, but he didn't want to move. Jungkook grabbed his hips and lifted him with ease. He turned him around and placed him on the bed as he went to sit against the headboard himself. Jimin just stared at him with a blank expression, eyes blown wide and cheeks flushed.

Jungkook chuckled as he pulled Jimin over and made him straddle his lap. “Is that okay?” He wanted to ensure.

The shorter boy nodded and placed his hands on Jungkook’s shoulders. “I just don't know... what to do” Jimin admitted.

“Don't worry, I'll help you. You are going to ride me, okay? Remember when you humped against me? Try it like that”

Jimin blushed, but nodded as Jungkook reached for the condom on the nightstand and opened the package, throwing it on the nightstand before pulling the condom over his erection. Then, he grabbed the lube and poured some of it over his penis to make sure it would be easier to enter Jimin.

“Okay, now whenever you are ready”

Jimin swallowed hard as he locked eyes with the other male. Even when he liked the idea of being able to set the pace, this position scared him a bit. This way, Jungkook was constantly looking at him and Jimin was constantly looking at him, too. It was a very intimate position, Jimin thought.

Taking a deep breath, he reached behind himself and wrapped his tiny hand around Jungkook’s hard length as he lifted his hips, placing the head against his entrance.

“Deep breath for me”

Jimin did and then he pushed the head inside carefully while simultaneously lowering his hips a bit. He opened his mouth in a silent scream and squeezed his eyes shut as he was stretched by Jungkook’s penis.

“There you go, you're doing well, Jimin-ah”

The shorter boy whimpered as he kept lowering himself, taking his time to adjust with each part that entered him. Jungkook grabbed his hips tighter the deeper he entered Jimin, but he didn't rush the boy, let him set his own pace.

“Jimin-ah, shit, you're so fucking tight around me” Jungkook cursed and let his head fall back against the wall as Jimin finally sat back down on his lap, penis inside of him completely.

It did feel uncomfortable to be stretched out like this, but Jimin remembered how good it had felt only a couple of seconds after the last time, so he took his time to adjust.

He felt a hand brush his hair out of his face, opening his eyes to stare right at Jungkook who's pupils were dilated, yet there was not only lust but also fondness in his eyes. The taller male waited patiently for the older one to be ready.

“Good?”

The smaller boy hummed and gave a small nod.

“Colour?”

“Green” He assured as Jungkook placed his hands on his butt resulting in Jimin to let out a pant and swallow hard.

“Move whenever you are ready”
The problem was that Jimin didn't really know how he was supposed to move. The taller one had mentioned something about rocking his hips against him the way he had done a couple of days ago so that's what he did.

Carefully, he lifted his hips only slightly and moved forward, just to sit back down a moment later. It felt weird, was stretching him open even more, yet there was pleasure when Jungkook's penis pressed against his walls.

Trying again, he lifted his hips a bit and moved back and forth this time, but sitting back down again right after.

Jungkook was rubbing his thumb over Jimin's butt gently, trying to comfort him and not rush him. That wasn't that easy though. The smaller boy was just so tight around him and whenever he moved in the slightest, the urge to just thrust up into him overcame him, but he controlled it, not wanting to hurt the boy.

The taller male moved his hands up to grasp his hips and pulled the boy towards him and pushed him back away again.

“Start like this, maybe try circle motions to see what feels good”

Jimin obeyed and moved his hips back and forth, left and right, but it just didn't feel as good as when Jungkook had touched him or had have the control of the situation. The smaller boy just couldn't find that special spot inside of him.

Letting out a frustrated whine, the blond male lifted his hips and sat back down, a moan escaping him at the motion. That felt better, he thought and tried again, this time quicker.

“There you go” The other male groaned and grasped his hips harder, “Just like that. So tight around me, Jimin-ssi”

Gripping Jungkook tighter by the shoulders, he lifted himself up and dropped back down, suddenly hitting something inside of him that made him scream, hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck quickly.

“Found your prostate, hmm?” The other male murmured in his ear, helping Jimin lift his hips until almost having Jungkook slip out of him, just to drop him back down on his cock, causing the smaller boy to whimper and his body to twitch at the intense feeling of his prostate being stimulated, “Right there?”

The smaller male nodded swiftly and hummed, “Y-Yes, there” His voice broke into a high pitched moan as Jungkok repeated the action, the older boy shaking all over.

“Can you move your hips up and down like this?”

Jimin raised his hips and dropped them back down, quickly repeating the motion again and again while letting out the most beautiful yet obscene noises right against Jungkook's ear.

“Yeah, exactly like this, baby, bounce up and down on my cock”

Whimpering at his words, the shorter male moved faster, bouncing up and down and hitting his prostate every single time. It was the most intense feeling he had ever felt during anything sexual they had done, the feeling was overwhelmingly pleasureable, yet it almost seemed to be too much.
“Shit, if you could see yourself right now” Jungkook growled in his ear as he thrusted up once against Jimin, resulting in said boy to let out a silent scream, body shaking all over as he was close to coming again.

However, his mind had other plans for him as the image of his father appeared again.

_No, no, not now_. He didn't want to think about him, wanted to forget about him. The small boy kept repeating Taehyung's and Jungkook's words in his mind, hoping to be able to make those horrible memories disappear.

“Jimin-ssi”

No answer.

“Hey, Jimin-ah, what's your colour, hmm?” Jimin was hearing his voice, but it was as if he wasn't present, the smaller boy being captured in his mind, locked within his memories and the real world was muffled, “Jiminnie?” The blond boy could feel a soft hand against his cheek, wanted to nuzzle against the touch, but his father was screaming at him inside of his head for how disgusting he was behaving, what a disgrace to his family he was for acting like this.

“You're not what? Jimin-ah, babe, don't listen to those words, okay? Do you hear me?”

The caress against his skin was so gentle, Jimin just tried to focus on that.

“Just listen to my voice, focus on me, babe, yeah? He is gone, okay? This is not real. He won't hurt you anymore, not ever again. His words hold no truth, no meaning at all. Whatever he told you, the only purpose was to make you suffer and to manipulate you. There was never a good intention, so don't tell yourself that you have to keep listening to him. He was wrong and you know that. You know that his words hold no weight. They don't have any power anymore. Let them go, just let go of them”

“Let go” Jimin echoed absentmindedly. “He was bad, just wanted to hurt me”

“Exactly. He was wrong with whatever he told you”

“Wrong” The smaller boy repeated and nodded slightly, opening his eyes to stare right at Jungkook who was looking at him concerned. “He was wrong”

The younger one gave a nod while brushing Jimin's hair out of his face and capturing his lips in a soft peck, “Good?”

The blond boy nodded. “T-Thank you, Jungkook-ah”

Closing his arms around Jungkook's neck, the shorter one attached his lips on the younger male's ones and just kissed him gently but deeply, hoping to not be pulled back into his memories but rather distract himself with the soft lips of the taller one.

They remained like that, only kissing, but not moving beside that just yet. Jimin was immensely grateful that Jungkook had helped him, had been able to pull him out of his memories and make him feel better again. It just proved to the smaller boy once again what kind of effect the younger one had on him.

“Do you want to stop?” The taller male wanted to know as he broke the kiss, nose softly nudging his cheek.

Jimin quickly shook his head, “No”

The black haired one hummed and caressed his hips, “Do you want to change the position?”

Contemplating for a moment, he eventually shook his head again, “No, I want to try it like this again, please”

Nodding, Jungkook wet his lips and pressed a peck on his lips, whispering “Move when you are ready”

Placing his hands on Jungkook’s shoulder again, Jimin lifted his hips slowly and dropped them back down, causing both males to let out a breath. The smaller one just fixated his gaze on Jungkook’s eyes. Looking at them for too long usually made him incredibly nervous and blush immediately, but right now there was something soothing and comforting about it because it made him focus solely on the boy in front of him instead of his horrible memories. There was only Jungkook right now, staring right back at him.

The older boy quickened his pace, in search of that special spot inside of him as he kept bouncing up and down, never breaking eye contact with Jungkook.

“Fuck, you look so beautiful like this, Jiminie” The other male cursed and grasped his hips tighter, helping him move them up and down on his cock. Seeing the small boy fuck himself on his cock was doing things to him. The way he bounced up and down while letting out those high pitched whimpers and whines, desperately chasing both of their releases, was an unreal sight to see, especially considering how shy and reserved the boy usually was. Jimin always looked so innocent, even know, angelic features being the total opposite to the obscene way he was bouncing on his dick.

“T-Thank you” The blond boy whimpered, voice becoming high pitched as he hit his own prostate, body shaking and eyes squeezing shut as he kept bouncing up and down in that exact way to hit his prostate dead on continuously.

His plump pink lips where parted and his eyes pressed shut as he quickened his pace, soft whimpers leaving his mouth, cheeks were flushed and he just looked so fucked out. Frankly, Jungkook just wanted to save that image in his mind. Even more than that, it gave him ideas of what he wanted to do to the smaller boy, thinking about pleasing him for hours to hear those pretty sounds and see his delicate face scrunched up in pleasure, yet never letting him come, keeping him on edge for hours- or making him come multiple times until those pretty sounds turn into cries and begging, the smaller one pleading for him to stop.

“Fuck” Jungkook cursed at those thoughts, an urge to just go ahead and do those things blooming inside of him, but there were other times for that.

“Oh, ah! Oh my god, Jungkook-ah” The smaller boy cried out and hid his face in the curve of the other male’s neck as he kept rocking his body against him. He felt so full, so overwhelmed by the intense feeling of his prostate being hit continuously, “H-Hurts” He whimpered then and slowed down, his thighs aching from bouncing this much for so long. Sure, Jimin was a dancer and was used to exhausting his body for hours, thighs included, but this was a little different, tiring him out after moving like this for a while.

“What hurts, baby?”

“Want me to help you, hmm? Should I fuck up into you?”

Moaning, Jimin nodded as Jungkook scooted down the bed a bit, placed his feet on the bed and gripped his hips tighter, thrusting up while the smaller one moved his hips down.

“Oh g-god” Jimin screamed and wrapped his hands around the taller one’s neck at the intense force of the thrust and the pleasure that blossomed inside of him. Jungkook fell back on his back causing the blond boy to fall on top of him.

He had enjoyed the sensual pace, had enjoyed to be able to set his own rhythm, but this, oh god, this was something else. Jungkook kept ramming up into him again and again, rough thrusts hitting his prostate dead on with force.

The smaller boy let out a silent scream, hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck while breathy whimpers escaped his soft lips. His body rocked back and forth with the force of the taller one's thrusts, his rhythm relentless.

The younger one closed his arms around the shorter boy's body, pulling him even closer and holding him tight while moving his hips impossibly faster.

“Jungkook-ah, oh my god, yes, please” He whined and squeezed his eyes shut, his erection pressed between their bodies, receiving friction with every move.

“Are you close, Jimin-ah?” The taller one growled and sucked on Jimin's skin at his neck resulting in said boy to whine.

“Y-Yeees” He mewled and nodded quickly, body trembling due to the stimulation and force of the thrusts.

Everything was just too much, the feeling completely overwhelming him. It was too intense, the pleasure on his penis and prostate simultaneously drove him crazy. He could feel himself getting closer and closer, but he was scared of his orgasm, felt like he was going to pass out from the pleasure. He had never felt like this, never had been this overwhelmed during anything sexual they had done. Finally, he understood what the fuss about sex was about. This feeling was incredible.

Jungkook stilled and placed his legs back down on the bed, chest rising and falling quickly as he caught his breath, “Is everything okay?”

Jimin gave a swift nod, placing his hands on Jungkook's chest. “I just want to come like this, please” He whispered and blushed, suddenly shy.

Even though he had enjoyed the rough pace of the other male, he really wanted to come in this way, slow and sensual, for his real first time.

“Whatever you want” He nodded and smiled encouraging as Jimin lifted his hips just to drop them back down.

The blond boy quickly established a pace, bouncing up and down with force, yet not too fast. Searching for his special spot, he simultaneously moved his hips back and forth, a whimper escaping his lips as he found it eventually.

It didn't take long for him to be close to coming again. Locking eyes with Jungkook, the smaller boy caught his lip between his teeth as the feeling began to overwhelm him, hinting at his orgasm being very close.

“C-Close, Jungkook-ah”

“Me too, go on, baby, come for me whenever you are ready”

Jungkook closed his hand around Jimin's erection that had been bouncing up and down while Jimin had moved the whole time, yet had been neglected other than that, causing the blond one to whimper and his body to shake. The taller boy quickly pulled on his cock to help him get over the edge.

“Oh my goood, Jungkook, yes!” He screamed as he felt his orgasm hit him hard, the feeling bursting inside of him and filling his whole body. Sperm spurted out of his hard length, landing on Jungkook's chest as the smaller boy fell forward on top of him, grabbing the sheets beneath them and clenching his hands into little fists.

“Fuck, Jimin-ah!” Jungkook gritted through his teeth as he felt the other male clench around him, finally finding his own release, too, and coming hard.

Jimin's whole body was trembling violently from the aftershock, Jungkook still moving inside of him and stimulating him, thus prolonging his orgasm. It didn't stop, the intense feeling kept hitting him with a new wave after wave.

“J-Jungkook-ah, hurts” Jimin whimpered at the sensitivity.

Carefully, Jungkook pulled out of him, causing the blond boy to feel incredibly empty. He didn't like the feeling, yet having Jungkook inside of him had been too much, as well, the stimulation overwhelming him.

Both boys were breathing rapidly, chests rising and falling quickly as they stayed in their position, neither of them moving an inch. Their sweaty bodies were pressed against each other, but they didn't care. Well, that was until Jimin felt his own cum between them, grimacing at the realisation. However, he really didn't want to move, way too content and relaxed, felt like he was floating again. As if on cue, his eyes became heavy and he was sure that he could just fall asleep like this, on top of Jungkook while the other one was holding him tight. That wish increased as the other male started to trace his fingertips over his back softly. They remained like that fairly long, Jimin feeling like he was so close to falling asleep.

“Jimin-ah, are you here with me, hmm? Are you okay?” The taller one asked eventually, voice still low, yet gentle.

“I'm okay” He assured and nodded, eventually lifting his head to be able to look at the other. “Thank you. I feel really good”

Honestly, he did feel good, incredible really. He finally has had his first time. Wasn't that amazing? The small boy was really happy, yet a little sad as he didn't feel much different. Maybe that was going to happen later after it only really hits him that he has actually done this.

“I'm glad. We gotta clean you though before your cum dries”

Jungkook sat up causing Jimin to do the same. There was cum sticking on both of their stomachs, Jimin's cum. The taller one pulled his condom off and got up from the bed, walking into the bathroom.

The blond boy fell back down on the bed as he heard water being turned on, looking up at the ceiling. Unconsciously, he was smiling. There was happiness and something else that he couldn't define blooming inside of him.

“Did you enjoy your first time, Jimin-ssi?” Jungkook asked as he entered the bedroom again, startling Jimin. The blond boy locked eyes with him and nodded.

“I did. A lot. Thank you, Jungkook-ah” He smiled as his cheeks flushed. The taller one was wearing fresh briefs already, the other male still being completely bare and feeling exposed.

“You're welcome” The younger one replied as he cleaned Jimin's stomach, getting rid of the cum, “Turn on your side for me” The shorter male rolled onto his side so Jungkook could part his buttclefts and clean the left over lube, Jimin sucking in a breath at the touch, whining high in his throat due to the sensitivity.

“Did you?” Jimin suddenly wanted to know as he rolled back onto his back, Jungkook disappearing into the bathroom for a moment to put the wet cloth away.

Jungkook only stared at him for a moment, studying his features. “You made me come so yes, you were good. You were riding me a little clumsily and messy at first, but it got better after a while. Of course it depends on what kind of pace you set, so sometimes moving in circular motion is best and sometimes bouncing up and down is better. It's whatever makes you feel good, just move accordingly to that’

The smaller male blushed, but nodded as Jungkook picked up his shirt and briefs for him, handing them to Jimin so he could put them on.

“What pace did you enjoy more? Rough and fast or rather slower?”

Jimin put the shirt over his head and blushed deeper at the question.

“I-I…” He locked eyes with Jungkook, but quickly averted his gaze at the intent stare of the younger one, “Both. I liked it slower for now... but I... but I liked the way you did it a lot, too”

Suddenly, a thought appeared in Jimin's mind, bringing him back to reality and slapping him in the face. Wasn't this over then now? This thing between them? He has had sex now, so that's it, no?

Catching his lip between his teeth, the smaller boy played with the hem of his shirt.

“What is it?”

Jimin looked up at the other male who seemed to have read his expression.

“Is this over now, then? I mean, this thing between us?” He voiced his thought, for some reason sounding very sad.
Jungkook arched up his eyebrows in surprise. “Do you want it to be over?”

Jimin opened his mouth, but shut it right after. Of course not, his mind screamed at him.

“What makes you say that?” Jungkook interrupted his thoughts as he leaned against the wall, looking at the smaller one intently and curiously.

“I-I don’t know. I just thought... I had sex now, so there isn't anything to learn now, is it?”

The younger one just looked at him for a moment. Suddenly a faint smirk appeared on his face, fondness or amusement glistening in his eyes, Jimin wasn't sure.

“Jimin-ah, believe me, there are many more things to learn. Did you forget the list? Certainly, you don't have to do or learn any of those things, but they are possibilities. Even things you have done already, there is way more to them, ways and tips of how you can improve them. Unless, of course, you don't want to go on. If you want this to end, that is totally fine”

To be fair, Jimin had forgotten about that list, so caught up in his first time and solely focusing on that. Frankly, the mere mention of that list made his stomach twist, yet it excited him because it meant that this wasn't over, that there were more things to learn and discover.

“Whatever you want to do, you're the student” Jungkook responded and shrugged his shoulders, walking towards him, “If you don't know what you want to do though, we could have a look at the list next time and just try something from there, hmm?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin gave a faint nod, not sure what they were going to do from now on. Well, they could practice some things they have previously done, right? Suddenly, Jimin thought about blowjobs again and about how he had wanted to take all of Jungkook's hard on inside of his mouth. The urge to try that overcame him, exciting him. Shooking his head, the small boy drew his thighs together and locked eyes with the taller one again.

“That sounds good.”

"Any more questions?"

"No, we can just text on what to do next time or decide right on the day" He suggested and Jungkook nodded.

There was silence for a moment where they both just looked at each other.

“Right, if you are feeling okay, I have to ask you to leave now. You can't stay today. In fact, last time was a one time thing, an exception. I made the rules for a reason and from now on: no more violation of the rules, no exceptions. I'm not blaming you, we broke the rule together, I just wanted to talk about that. It shouldn't and it won't happen again”

Of course, it had been a one time thing. He had been aware of that, had assumed that because the rules were set for a reason and shouldn't be broken. However, it was odd to hear Jungkook say it, made him realise once more how this was casual - with no feelings whatsoever.

He didn't want to break the rules either, knew that it was safer and that they only existed to protect both of them, so this was fine.
“Good”

Jimin got up and picked up his pants from where Jungkook had tossed them earlier and put them on. Then, he ruffled his hair slightly to make it appear somewhat less messier.

“You didn't take the money on the nightstand for a taxi the last time” Jungkook pointed out as they made their way downstairs into the living room.

“I know. I don't like taking your money. I just took the bus, it was day anyway” He replied as he put his shoes on.

“No, not necessary, really, Jungkook-ah. I don't mind taking the bus”

Letting out a sigh, the smaller boy gave up, knowing now that there was no point in arguing with the younger one as he would be persistent.

“There is one not too far from here, will be downstairs pretty quick” The taller male let him know as he placed his phone on the table and went over to his bag to pull out his wallet.

“No” Jimin protested and shook his head, “Please, Junkook-ah, I feel bad when you pay for the taxi. I decided to come here. I really don't mind taking the bus”

“And I don't mind calling you a taxi and paying for it. It's late”

The taller one looked back and forth between his eyes.

“Because” He simply answered and gripped his hand to turn it over and place the money in his palm, closing Jimin's fist around it.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah” The smaller one muttered and put the money in his pocket as he grabbed his backpack, pulling it over his right shoulder, “And really, genuinely, thank you for today. It was better than I imagined and hoped it would be” He revealed, voice soft and genuine.

Jungkook had been careful, respectful and patient with him. More than that, he had been able to free him from his horrible memories inside of his mind, had been able to pull him back to reality.

Everything that Jimin had hoped for – for having sex to show and prove to him that his father had been wrong, that it wasn't anything he was going to go to hell for, but that it was beautiful instead, for it to help him heal – steps of that had been achieved and Jimin couldn't be happier.

“I'm glad to hear that, Jimin-ssi.” There was a slight smile on his face, but it was gone quickly all the same.

“Yes” He confirmed as the smaller one stepped outside, “Good night, Jimin-ssi.”
“Good night, Jungkook-ah”

They looked at each other for a moment. Eventually, Jungkook shook his head as if he had snapped out of a trance and Jimin turned around to leave, hearing the door shut behind him.

He left with a smile on his face and a warm feeling blossoming inside of his chest, making him feel all bubbly inside.

Chapter End Notes

Finally a little more insight on what Jungkook does :)

This chapter was a little longer again. :) I hope that makes up for my updates being a little irregular the next couple of days as I’m gonna be really busy. Sorry about that, but I hope you can understand :) <3

Thanks for all the love on the last chapters. I loved reading about what your favourite moments in the story are so far. <3

What do you think they are going to try next? :) If you have any kind of wishes, you can leave them in the comments and I will see whether I can include them in the story somehow. Please don’t be mad if it takes a while though or they won’t appear :) <3
A Change

Chapter Summary

Taehyung suggests a change for Jimin, but that doesn't really go as planned... Later, Jungkook helps Jimin with a little problem he has.

Chapter Notes

Hi!

I'm really sorry for not being able to post that frequently anymore. I'm very busy right now, but I will still try to update as often as possible. It's only gonna be this irregular for the next two weeks approximately, then you will get a chapter very frequently again. Hopefully, you can understand :)

Thanks for all the love and your understanding <3 Enjoy the chapter :)

“Tae, are you sure this is right?” Jimin mumbled concerned as the taller one picked up the instructions and read over them again.

“It's not so difficult, is it? I just have to spread the hair dye all over and let it rest for a while. Done” His best friend responded nonchalantly and shrugged his shoulders, dropping the instructions on the floor again and grabbing the bottle with the hair dye.

“Tae!” The smaller one cried out in disbelief and tried to look back, but Taehyung turned his head back around.

“Don't move so much or I'll drop some of the hair dye and hyung is going to kill us both” Taehyung warned.

As if on cue, Yoongi walked right inside of the living room. “Damn right I will. You better not drop any of that shit on my floor” The black haired boy scolded and crossed his arms over his chest, “Why are you doing this shit in my house again?”

“Because your house has more space and your restroom has an actual bathtub which is easier to use when you only want to rinse out your hair” Taehyung reasoned and fixated his towel on top of his head. They had previously already bleached Taehyung's hair. Well, his best friend had done that himself as he didn't let anyone else touch his hair. Jimin on the other hand had only ever dyed his hair in a hair salon, by professionals to be exact. This time, however, Taehyung had volunteered or rather begged him to dye his hair for him.

“And why are you doing this shit at all?”

To be fair, that was a justified question as Jimin had only ever dyed his hair blond and stayed with that colour for like a year now. Him and Taehyung had both decided to dye their hair when they had graduated from their arts school, figuring that it was going to be a new step in their life and demanded a change in their appearance as well. Jimin had chosen blond while his best friend had went for brown.

This time, however... well, Tae had suggested it.

“You look different, Minnie” He commented as he studied his face, “You look all happy again and you haven't stopped smiling ever since I saw you today”

Jimin blushed at that and smiled shyly, yet their was still happiness glistening in his eyes. Taehyung mirrored his expression and tilted his head to the side, smile growing and eyes shining with fondness.

“I guess your first time was successful then?”

The blond boy nodded at that, catching his bottom lip between his teeth and locking eyes with his best friend again. “It was... better than I had imagined. I liked it a lot. For some reason, I just can't stop smiling when I think about it”

The brown haired boy looked at him with affection in his eyes, happy that his best friend has had such a beautiful experience while knowing how anxious he had been.

“Well, that's good to hear. Means that I don't have to beat up Jungkook” His best friend joked and cracked his knuckles, both boys chuckling.

“No, silly, you don't have to do that. To be fair, Jungkook would probably crush you anyway” He snickered.

Taehyung opened his mouth and placed his hand over his heart, staring at his best friend as if he had offended him. “Excuse me? Have you ever heard about adrenaline that arises inside of your body when it comes to protecting or saving your loved ones? Boy, the adrenaline would make me knock him out if he ever hurt you”

They just stared at each other for a moment, but both broke out into chuckles shortly after. “Thank you, Taetae, that you would do something like that for me. Jungkook is really strong. I have seen his body” The shorter male muttered, voice becoming quieter at the end as the image of Jungkook's naked body appeared inside of his head, making him blush immediataly.

“What, are you saying I'm weak? If you keep insulting me like this, I might reconsider protecting your ass.” He huffed and crossed his arms over his chest, but there was no heat behind it, amusement glistening in his eyes, “Don't come at me with your strength kink”

At that, Jimin opened his mouth in shock and swatted his arm. “I don't even have- whatever that is” Taehyung rubbed over his arm and stared at him unimpressed, shaking his head, “Believe me, you do have a strength kink. Your eyes give you away, Jimin-ah. I saw your expression when you mentioned how strong he is, the way you blushed. That is definitely something that gets you goi-”

“Be quiet” Jimin mumbled and swatted his arm again, however Tae dodging his hand this time and looking pleased with that.

“What? I'm just letting you know. There is nothing wrong with that. He is pretty muscular and hot. I would let him fuck me up against a wall, too, if I was you”

“Oh my god, Tae!” He screamed and his eyes widened at his best friend's words, said boy just sneering at the cute reaction of Jimin, “I don't even know if he is actually that strong.” The smaller boy mumbled.

“Do you think that boy is weak? Have you seen his arms? I'm telling you, that boy can lift you with ease.” Well, that fact was true as Jimin thought about it. He had lifted Jimin plenty of times, had been able to move him around however he pleased so effortlessly. The blond boy swallowed hard at the thought. Maybe there was a little truth to Taehyung's words then... However, Jimin had not even known that something like that existed, only finding out about it now. He reckoned that there were all kinds of names for things people liked in sex.

“What even is a kink?” The smaller one asked eventually and cocked his head to the side in a curious manner.

“Hasn't Jungkook talked about that with you?” His best friend responded surprised and arched up his eyebrows. Jimin shook his head. “A kink is... just a fetish, I guess. Well, a sexual taste I would rather say. Something that you might enjoy during sex, but not all people necessarily do.”

“How do I find out if I have a kink?”

Taehyung pursed his lips, thinking for a moment, “I guess you just have to try it out. You will definitely know if there is something you like or not like. I mean, how did you realise you have a strength kink?”

“I do not have a strength kink!” Jimin protested and shook his head quickly, pouting at his best friend who just chuckled in response.

“Well, you have that list from Jungkook, don't you? There must be many kinks on there, too, so just try some things from there and you will see whether or not you have that kink” The brown haired boy advised, “Oh, and for the record: you do have a strength kink. Just see it as it is. It's fine, Jimin, don't be ashamed by that. Many people, if not everyone has kinks and that's totally fine. I have a fair share of kinks myself, too.”

“No, of course not” Taehyung quickly assured. “That's not weird at all, Jimin-ah.”

Smiling shyly, Jimin nodded faintly and cleared his throat. “Thanks, Tae.”

“You're welcome, Minnie” He grinned and leaned against the sofa, just staring at his best friend, “You know what? This calls for a change”

“A change?”

His best friend hummed and sat back up again.

“You are no longer a virgin, that's a big part and step in your life. You are not only no virgin anymore, but you are also on your way to healing completely now that you know that sex isn't something you are not allowed to do yourself or something that doesn't feel good. This is a big deal, Jimin-ah.” Taehyung explained and smiled brightly, “So, as something in your life changed, a big part at that, and you are feeling a little different, too, don't you think that calls for a change in your appearance, as well?”

“My appearance?” The smaller boy echoed and titled his head to the side, already having an idea of what his best friend was referring to.
Excitedly, Tae nodded and his smile grew bigger, “Yes, a new hair colour. I’m gonna join you, too, now that I’m making progress in that Hoseok hyung case, I’m longing for a change in my hair colour as well!”

Jimin giggled and shook his head, “What hair colours are you thinking about?”

“Well, I don’t know yet. We can still decide later. The best thing, though, is that I’m going to do it” He grinned.

Well, and that's how they found themselves here now in Yoongi's living room, dyeing their hair.

“Because it's time for a change up, hyung.” Taehyung simply answered as he squirted some of the hair dye on Jimin's head.

“You do look different, Jimin-ah” Yoongi pointed out and titled his head to the side, “I don't know what it is, but I have noticed it ever since you walked into my house”

Jimin blushed a little at that and smiled shyly, “Thanks, hyung. I do feel a little different, a tiny bit”

The older boy smiled affectionate at him and nodded slightly, “Just don't drop any of that shit on my floor” He warned again as he walked into the kitchen, Namjoon suddenly entering the living room, too.

“Still going?” The taller boy asked as he brushed his dark blond hair out of his face and watched the scene in front of him. Jimin was placed on a chair near the sofa and a towel was wrapped around his shoulders so that the hair dye wouldn't make his clothes dirty in case anything would drop down. The other boy was standing behind him and rubbing his hand through Jimin's hair to spread the hair dye, biting on his tongue in a concentrated manner.

“Well, I am done. Now it's Jimin's turn” Taehyung replied and smiled as Namjoon walked over to them to get a closer look.

They had met earlier for the first time as they had somewhat surprised Yoongi and had just invited themselves into his house without telling him beforehand or asking for permission at that. To be fair, Yoongi always had his door open for them and welcomed them in his home so it wasn't that big of a deal. However, Yoongi had actually been working – technically he still was – with Namjoon on a song. Yoongi had a small studio in his basement where he worked on songs sometimes and both boys had decided to work here rather than the company today.

As Yoongi had introduced Namjoon to them it had seemed as if they had known each other for years – well, they did, but you could really see that just by them talking about each other. The black haired boy had talked about him in such an affectionate way, convicting the feeling that they were really close, that Namjoon was very special to him and that he adored him, too. Yoongi had told them about old times, when they were still both in underground rap, just like he had talked about his time with Namjoon back at the diner – now they were able to picture a face with those stories. Namjoon really was an amazing and impressive person, as Jimin learned through all of the stories they both shared with him and Taehyung – laughing now and then, but looking very sad sometimes, too, when they talked about how much they struggled or the day they moved apart because Namjoon went back to Ilsan because his mother became sick – she was fine now, thankfully. Overall, both boys immediately found themselves become comfortable with the taller boy and grew to like him quickly.
“Did you shake the bottle before you started?”

“It looks very light, doesn't it? Like orange-y” Namjoon commented and titled his head to the side as Yoongi walked back inside the living room with a water bottle inside of his hand.

“What?!” Jimin screamed shocked and tried to turn around again, but Taehyung turned his head right back.

“Stop moving. It just looks like this now. The colour is going to rest on your head for a while and it will change colour later. Don't worry” His best friend tried to calm him, Jimin swallowing hard, but trusting his friend.

“How many times have you done this before, Tae?” Jimin wanted to know, “I mean, besides that time just earlier. I mean on other people”

“Oh, well then, uhm, zero”

“Chill. This isn't so hard. It will be fine. I just have to spread some of this hair dye which I am almost done with now, then we let it rest and later we will rinse it out with water. As easy as that and boom, you have your new hair, a beautiful hazel colour”

“Oh my god!” Yoongi laughed and came over, Taehyung halting his action and following his gaze.

“What are you talking about? I bought hazel hair dye for Jiminie” His best friend uttered, voice sure.

Yoongi and Namjoon started laughing at Taehyung's expression as said boy swallowed hard, “Oh shit” He then muttered.

“What?!” Jimin cried out and wanted to turn around, but Tae stopped him by placing his hand on his head.

“Jimin, I need you to be very calm right now. I'm really sorry, but don't freak out.” Taehyung warned him cautiously, his voice giving away that he was a little scared, Jimin's heart beating faster, “It's fine, really, it's not that bad. It's actually going to be a very-”

The other boy's broke out into laughter again and fell down on the sofa while Jimin's jaw dropped.

This was not real. This was definitely not real. How could this have happened?

“W-What?”

“I'm sure it will look really nice. It's just an unusual colour, but it will suit you just fine, right boys?”

They shut up immediataly and got back up, clearing their throats. “Yes, of course” Yoongi assured and walked over so Jimin could see him. As he studied the smaller boy's expression and saw his concern, Yoongi's features softened immediataly, “You will look gorgeous as always, Jimin-ah”

“What? Should I just leave it unfinished now? The damage is already done so I might as well finish it so you don’t walk around with some blond dots on your head”

The other two boys were trying to control their laughter now, Jimin pouting. He could not believe what was happening. He had just wanted to dye his hair - in a hazel colour to be exact. Certainly, it probably would have been better to let a professional do this. Then again, the colour might still turn out good – it's just the wrong one.

“I don't even know how this happened. I'm sure I picked up a hazel hair dye…” Taehyung mumbled, “I guess I must have picked the one beside that or something like that. To be fair, my boss had just called me at that moment so I was a little distracted”

The smaller boy sighed, shutting his eyes close and shaking his head. This was unreal. Maybe it was just a dream?

Then again, as they had said, it might not even look so bad.

“You're right”

The other boys broke out into snickering again, Jimin involuntarily joining them as this was just an absurd situation, something he had not even imagine to happen.

This was his fate now, wasn't it?

“It does look good” Yoongi commented after Taehyung had rubbed over Jimin's head with a towel to dry his hair.

“Oh my god, I actually love it” His best friend breathed out in awe. He was now blond himself, having blowdried and styled his hair already. It actually fit him really well, especially as he had kept his eyebrows in a dark colour and they were somewhat emphasised. He just looked incredibly good with that hair, well, he always did.

“You're just saying that because you made the mistake” Jimin mumbled, insecure as he locked eyes with his best friend.

“No, Jiminie, it actually suits you really well” Yoongi assured and looked at him in awe as well, a little shocked, if he was being honest, how good he looked with that colour.

“I'm not shitting you, Minnie. You look gorgeous” Taehyung complimented and turned him around so he could look at himself in the mirror, “It's not blowdried or styled yet, but even now it already looks so good on you. I actually adore the colour on you”

The smaller boy stared at himself, mouth opening in shock. He pushed his hand through his hair as it looked unreal when he glanced at himself in the mirror, like he could just get rid of the colour with his hand. It didn't go away though. Of course, it didn't. His fair fell back down and it was still orange indeed.

“Oh” He breathed and the others snickered at his reaction.

“Are you mad? Do you not like it?”

Contemplating for a moment, the shorter one furrowed his brows. It was definitely weird to see himself like this and would take time to get used to, but he didn't hate it. In fact, he felt like he would grow to like it over time.

“I'm not mad. I don't hate it, but it will take some time to get used to this” Jimin admitted and smiled slightly, “Thanks, Tae, even though you got the wrong colour.”

“Well, it is a big change in your appearance matching with a big change in your life”

They both chuckled and Jimin nodded faintly.

“Right, I'm hungry now, let's get some food” Yoongi suggested as they all exited the restroom to go downstairs.

------

Hey, are you busy today? - Jungkook

The small boy sat down on his bed, drying his hair with the towel after the shower he had taken as he read over the message.

Just came home from practicing. - Jimin

You seem to practice quite a lot. - Jungkook

I want to get better. - Jimin

It took a while for the other one to text back.

Don't overwork yourself. - Jungkook

I won't. Promise. - Jimin

Good. So, you want to meet up? - Jungkook

The older one catched his bottom lip between his teeth as he thought about that question for a moment. To be honest, Jimin would have to get up pretty early in the morning as he had promised Somi to help her with the new delivery of books they were going to get at the library tomorrow. However, he really wanted to see Jungkook as they hadn't met up in like three days.

I have to get up early in the morning. - Jimin

I understand. - Jungkook

Jimin's considerate and smart side of the brain had won over his longing to meet up with Jungkook. He should feel proud of himself for doing what would be considered right, but he was pouting a little as he wished the other side had won.

We could just text for a little and decide what we should do at our next meet up? - Jungkook
The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip as he fell back down on the bed, head landing softly on top of his pillows.

Okay. - Jimin

You have had a little time to think about what you want to do. Is there anything on your mind? - Jungkook

The orange haired boy blushed even though the other male could not even see him. Yes, there were some things, but he was too embarrassed to admit that.

Not really... - Jimin

Would you prefer to practice some things you are already familiar with or learn some new stuff? - Jungkook

Sighing frustrated, Jimin kicked his legs. He should just be honest. This was based on trust and how was Jungkook supposed to help him if he didn't talk to him. Frankly, this was easier because he couldn't actually see the other one and feel his intent stare on himself.

There is something I want to try again, but I also want to learn new things. – Jimin

Yeah? What is it? - Jungkook

Giving a blowjob. – Jimin

Letting out a squeak, the boy dropped his phone on the bed and hid his face in his hands, blush deepening. He felt his phone vibrate, indicating that Jungkook had texted back. Carefully, he picked it up again and opened the message.

Yeah? Wanna suck on my dick again? - Jungkook

Oh god. Jimin felt his penis twitch, cheeks heating up even more at that. Was he brave enough to answer that?

Yes. Please – Jimin

Want to try to deepthroat me, hmm? - Jungkook

Deepthroat? - Jimin

When you take my dick all the way down your throat. That's what you want to try, right? - Jungkook Swallowing hard, Jimin felt his penis harden at Jungkook's words. That was actually something he wanted to try.

Did you like the feeling of having something in your mouth? - Jungkook

You. I liked having you in my mouth. – Jimin

The small boy looked down at his crotch, a visible tent there, however his attention was brought back to his phone as it vibrated in his hand.

Fuck, okay, yes, we can definitely try that again next time. - Jungkook

Now, his erection started to hurt a bit as it called for attention. Jimin bit down on his bottom lip.
Jungkook-ah, hurts :( - Jimin

What hurts? - Jungkook

My... down there – Jimin

He felt silly for not even being able to write the actual word, but it was embarrassing to admit.

Your dick? Did I make you hard? - Jungkook

Yes. - Jimin

Where are you now? - Jungkook

My bed. I'm lying in my bed. - Jimin

His breathing became a bit more uneven as he whined at the pain in his pants.

Have you played with yourself ever since I showed you how to do that? - Jungkook

No, I haven't. - Jimin

Do you have lube with you? - Jungkook

Why was he asking that? Nevertheless, Jimin didn't have any lube. They had only ever needed that at his first time. He didn't need that for himself alone, did he?

No, I don't have lube. - Jimin

Do you want to get rid of that pain in your pants, hmm? Want to practice how to play with yourself? - Jungkook

Yes, please :( - Jimin

Take of your pants for me then, baby – Jungkook

The smaller boy swallowed hard as he put down his phone and pulled down his pants and kicked them down the bed.

Done. - Jimin

Can you tell me your colour, baby? - Jungkook

Green. Green. Green. - Jimin

Anticipation and arousal bloomed inside of the orange haired boy. He didn't know what was going too happen, but it excited him all the same.

I want you to trace your fingers over your stomach now, slowly closer to your crotch, but only teasing – Jungkook

Jimin obeyed, running his fingers over his stomach down to his crotch just to trace them back up, arousal increasing as he let out a breath. However, it only made him more desperate and didn't release any of the pain. God, he wished Jungkook was here to touch him.

More, please, hurts more now :( - Jimin
Pull down your underwear, don't touch your cock just yet – Jungkook

The shorter male placed his phone down again and pulled down his underwear, his erection springing free against his stomach. He let out a content sigh as he kicked his underwear down the bed.

Okay, they are off. - Jimin

Close your hand around your pretty dick now and move your hand up and down very slowly while squeezing – Jungkook

The orange haired boy did as he was told and whimpered, body twitching at the touch. He almost dropped his phone, but gladly didn't, and squeezed his eyes shut. Slowly, he moved his hand up while squeezing, rubbing his thumb over the slit where pre-cum had already started to leak out.

Feels good? - Jungkook

Yes, but not enough : ( - Jimin

Move your hand a little faster – Jungkook

Jimin obeyed and sped up his movement, moaning at the touch and thus biting down on his bottom lip. He didn't want any of his neighbours to hear him – especially not Tae.

Are your nipples sensitive? - Jungkook

I don't know. I never really touched them. - Jimin

Okay, don't touch them then. I want to try that out next time. – Jungkook

The smaller boy whined at his words and wet his lips, wanting nothing more than for Jungkook to be the one to touch him right now. He squeezed his eyes shut and tried to imagine that Jungkook was the one doing this to him now. Suddenly, he thought about Taehyung's remarks about him having a strength kink. Involuntarily, he imagined Jungkook to take him up against a wall, holding him up against it and thrusting inside of him.

“Oh god, Jungkook-ah” Jimin mewled.

I wish you were touching me right now – Jimin

I wish I could hear you right now – Jungkook

Jimin caught his lip between his teeth, a sudden wave of courage hitting him.

Call me – Jimin

Are you sure? – Jungkook

Yes, please, wanna hear your voice, too. – Jimin

Not even seconds later Jungkook was calling him, for the first time ever at that. Jimin picked up immediately and placed the phone against his ear.

“J-Jungkook-ah” He breathed and whined high in his throat as he rubbed over the slit again, collecting more pre-cum on his thumb.
“Fuck, Jimin-ah.” The other male cursed as the first thing he heard was his own name being moaned by the cute boy, “Put me on speaker so you don't have to worry about your phone”

Jimin obeyed and placed his phone down next to him on a pillow.

“Shit, yes, perfectly fine” Merely hearing the low voice of the other male alone was doing things to him already.

“Feels so good” Jimin whimpered and quickened his pace, hips bucking up into the touch, “I wish it was you”

“You, wish it was my hand tugging on your pretty dick?”

The smaller boy whined, eyes squeezing shut.

“Answer me, baby”

“Y-Yes, please”

“Would you fuck up into my hand? Hmm? That's what you wanna do?”

He could feel his orgasm approaching him, Jungkook's words so dirty, yet doing things to him and increasing his arousal.

“Y-Yes, want that. Want you”

“You're naughtier than I had thought at the beginning, Jiminnie”

Said boy whined at his words, bucking his hips up again.

“N-No, I'm good, right?” He sniffed, the feeling of everything overwhelming him. It all felt like it wasn't real, like it was a dream. He didn't even know what he was saying, didn't know for sure what Jungkook was saying. The poor boy was way too aroused to understand everything fully.

“Fuck, yes, Jimin-ah, you are good. My good boy”

Suddenly, he came without a warning, cum spurting out of his hard length all over his stomach, some shooting up to his chest. His whole body was shaking as he cried out Jungkook's name again and again.

“There you go, came all over yourself for me, hmm?”

Jimin whined as his body was still trembling violently as he stroke himself through his orgasm until it hurt, whimpering at the pain and quickly pulling his hand away, his penis dropping on his stomach again, a wet sound filling the room for a moment as it hit the puddle of cum.

“Jiminnie?”

“Jungkook-ah” The orange haired boy whispered and picked up the phone, putting him off speaker again and placing the phone against his ear, “Jungkook-ah” He whispered softly again, “I came”

The other male chuckled. “I heard that” He commented, Jimin blushing. He just hoped his neighbours didn't hear him, “Sounded so pretty for me.”
Jimin smiled at that while his blush deepened.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah”

“No more pain then?”

“No, no more pain”

“Okay, I'll let you get your sleep then now. We are still meeting tomorrow night then?”

“Yes, please”

“Alright. See you tomorrow then. Go-”

“What do you mean?”

“Don't worry about me. I'll take care of it. You sleep now. I'll see you tomorrow. Good night”

“Good night, Jungkook”

The other one ended the call before Jimin had finished his sentence.

He glanced down at his phone, still smiling and a content sigh leaving his lips.

“And one, two, three, stop” Hoseok instructed while showing a different step of the choreography each time, “Again” The students followed his movements while Hoseok watched them in the mirror, looking for mistakes.

“He looks so hot, doesn't he?” Taehyung whispered and sighed, leaning his head on Jimin's shoulder. They were both sitting on the floor in the back, watching the dance class be taught a new choreography by their friend.

The small boy snickered, “Tae, you always say that, no matter what he does”

“That's because he always looks hot. How is that fair? He walks around like that, hurting my heart like this.” His best friend uttered dramatically and shook his head.

“He makes you happy, though”

“He does. He really does. Last night he invited me over to his place and cooked for me, I sucked him off after dinner and he did the same to me. Such a magical moment, I promise you”

“Tae!” The orange haired boy whispered and swatted his arm, “What if someone hears you?”

“They won't. And if they do, they will know to better stay away from hyung because I am already sucking his cock” The blond boy responded determined and looked at the people dancing in front of them with narrowed eyes even though they were not even paying attention to the two boys in the back.

Jimin shook his head and chuckled, amused by his best friend, yet fondness glistening in his eyes. He just adored Taehyung a lot.

“Dongha, would you actually pay attention to the choreography?” Hoseok scolded, Jimin and Taehyung looking up to the boy he was referring to. They caught him looking at them, but he averted his gaze to glance at Hoseok, giving a bow in apology.

“Sorry, won't happen again”

“From the start again. Three, two, one”

-----

“See you on thursday, guys” Hoseok waved goodbye to his students with a bright smile on his face, the opposite to his somewhat serious and concentrated expression while teaching.
Jimin and Taehyung got up as the boy who got scolded earlier walked past them. The boy was as tall as Tae, had dark brown hair and hazel eyes as well as a strong body.

“Nice hair colour” He commented and smirked at Jimin while checking him out, “Unusal colour, but you look gorgeous with it”

“T-Thanks” The small boy stutterted in response, just staring at the boy who glanced back at him and winked before exiting the practice room.

“Oh my god” Taehyung squeaked and nudged him excitedly, Jimin still a little perplexed, “Your hair colour is gorgeous, I told you. It's even attracting attention. Oh my god, did you see how he looked at you? He was already checking you out earlier, Jimin-ah.”

“I don't want someone to be attracted to me solely because of my hair colour” The orange haired boy mumbled.

“Jimin-ah, he thinks you are hot. He just needed a reason to talk to you. You do have an unusual hair colour, so that was his way to smoothly compliment your beauty. I mean, did you see his expression? The boy was full on flirting with you!” Tae jumped up and down, more excited than Jimin. Well, probably because the small boy disagreed with that statement.

“He was just being nice, Tae”

“Oh my god. How are you still this oblivious? I cannot believe you. People have been trying to make a move on you for years now and you never even realised it. He was full on flirting with you, Jimin-ah.”

“People have not been trying to make a move on me for years. No one ever really looked at me in that way” The orange haired one protested, shaking his head.

His best friend sighed and grabbed his chin softly. “That's just your innocent eyes not seeing it for what it is - Or it's due to your insecurity and fear you had. Jimin-ah, you are gorgeous.”

Jimin averted his gaze, biting down on his bottom lip. He had never thought of himself as particularly beautiful or handsome. Frankly, he didn't think he was ugly either as he believed that every person was somewhat beautiful in their own way. However, he was just... somewhere in the middle. Nothing special.

“You're welcome, Minnie. Okay, so here is the pla-”

“Jimin-ah, are you ready then?” Hoseok interrupted Tae and caught their attention, both boys looking over to him. He was leaning against the big mirror wall, arms crossed in front of his chest, “I would love to see you dance. Taehyung-ah mentioned something about you looking for a dance class.”

“I-I do” Jimin confirmed and nodded, “I don't know if I would fit in your class, though.”

“We do different kinds of genres. Hip hop, street, popping, so on – I'm sure you have slight experience in some of them. A contemporary dancer like you will know how to control his body and I'm sure you would bring new colour to my crew and might even bring some inspiration from modern dance into our choreography. I'm all open for that” He smiled and waved Jimin over.

“However, I do understand if my style is not for you at all. That's totally fine”
Quickly shaking his head, the small boy walked over. “No, I am interested in your style and your class. You dance really well and you are a good teacher. I just thought I should mention and warn you that I’m not as experienced in those styles of dancing”

“That's fine. Would you be up to do some freestyle dancing? I want to see how your body reacts and moves to music without anything you studied and remembered beforehand. However, you could show me a choreography of yours after that, too, if you'd like”

Swallowing hard, the orange haired boy gave a faint nod. “O-Okay”

He took off his jacket as Hoseok picked up his phone to put on some music. After he handed his jacket to Tae, he stretched his legs and arms, bending over once and straightening his back afterwards again.

Honestly, Jimin was a little nervous. Taehyung had seen him dance plenty of times already, but Hoseok has never and Hoseok was actually experienced in dance, was a teacher to be exact and the thought of Hoseok disapproving of his dancing scared him a little.

Suddenly, music filled the room – a song Jimin didn't know. He had picked a soft, quiet song, one that caused Jimin to close his eyes and just feel and listen. All of his nervousness had disappeared, replaced by passion. Without having to think, Jimin started to move his body to the music.

That's how it was with him and music – him and dance, his passion. He just became another person when he danced, wasn't shy anymore. Certainly, he became just fully focused and absorbed by his passion, blurring out everything else. There was only the music and his body, moving to the rhythm and feeling the music coming natural to him. It was similar to what Jungkook had told him about sex – that he shouldn't think with his head, but with his body and to feel rather than to think.

He didn't know for how long he danced, the song being over eventually and silence filling the room. The small boy opened his eyes and his gaze landed right on Hoseok who was looking back at him with a blank expression, not giving away any of his thoughts or emotions.

Then, his face lit up in a smile. “You're in – if you want to. However, I won't be nice on you just because I know you and you're Yoongi's dongsaeng. I'll treat you like every other student and point out mistakes if you make them. I can be a little strict sometimes, but that's only because I see how much potential each of the students have and I know that they can do better. I adore my students”

Jimin opened his mouth in shock – not having expected to get this offer by Hoseok. He had tried to get into a dance class for so long now, had been unsuccessful in finding a good one that sparked his interest. This wasn't just a dance class, this was a dance crew. Not everyone could come here, Hoseok chose the people himself. They all seemed very close and it would be a little difficult for Jimin at first to fit in, but at least he knew Hoseok. This is what he had wanted, a dance class where the people are close with each other.

“Yes, seriously. You have to apply formally with an application sheet and all that, but that's just the paper stuff. You are in, there is a spot in my team if you want it. You really have potential, Jimin-ssi. The way you move comes so natural, it looks effortlessly. I would love for you to join me”

“Yes, I- Oh my god, yes, I would love that” The small boy beamed and nodded quickly.

“Great. I give classes every two days, but you are free to use this practice room or any other in the building any day once you joined.”
Jimin opened his mouth in shock. These practice rooms were so much bigger and better than the one he had been using this far. This one was so modern, had a nice music equipment, a huge mirror wall and actual windows to let in the beautiful sunlight as well as some fresh air. The orange haired boy couldn't believe this.

Hoseok chuckled and ruffled through his hair. “No need to bow, Jimin-ah. Now, let's get some food. I'm hungry after class”

-----

“No need to apologise” The black haired boy assured as he took the shirt and walked into his bathroom to put it away.

Jimin started to swing his legs back and forth on the bed, involuntarily thinking about the moment Jungkook had opened the door and laid his eyes on him just some minutes ago.

The door swung open, revealing the taller boy who suddenly froze in his place for a moment, lips parting in shock as he studied Jimin's appearance, but his expression was quickly back to his old usual one – not giving away much emotion. Jungkook was really hard to read.

"Your hair" The younger one commented and cleared his throat as Jimin entered the apartment, the smaller boy blushing a little.

"Y-Yeah, well, it was supposed to be hazel, but Tae bought the wrong one and only realised after it wa-”

“Looks good” Jungkook interrupted after he had shut the door, locking eyes with the smaller one, “Will have to get used to it, but it suits you”

“T-Thank you” The orange haired boy muttered and blushed deeper as he averted his gaze, shy after the compliment and the intent stare of the other male.

Jimin was smiling unconsciously again, happy for some reason that Jungkook liked the colour, too.

“Should we go through the list then?” The black haired boy suggested as he walked back into the room, leaning against the wall as he pulled out his phone, “We could just go down the list really and every time I mention a word, we can sort them in a list that you want to try and in a list that you don't want to to try. We might not go through all of them, but some so we have an idea of what to do and what not”

The orange haired boy considered that option for a moment and nodded eventually. Suddenly, Jungkook furrowed his brows and looked back up from his phone.

“Actually, I want to ask you something first. Jimin-ssi, do you know what a kink is?”

Jimin's cheeks heated up at that question. Well, thanks to Taehyung, he did now.

“Y-Yes, Taehyung explained to me what that is a couple of days ago” The shy boy answered truthfully, Jungkook studying his face intently.
“Do you think you have any? Is there anything that we have done or that you have heard of, seen somewhere, that you think might be one of your kinks?”

Oh god. There it was. Maybe, well maybe Jimin might have a little... strength kink. Frankly, he wasn't so sure if he actually did have that kink, but he had not been able to get that image Taehyung had planted inside of his mind out of his head. Perhaps, there was truth to it. However, the problem was: is Jimin really brave enough to admit that to Jungkook? To share that information with him?

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook voiced softly to get his attention, “This is a safe place for you to let yourself fall without having to worry about anyone judging you. I want you to learn about and be able to try and discover different things in order to see what you like and what not. So, whatever it might be – if there is – you can be honest with me. I need to know what you might want to try so we can actually realise it. Do not feel ashamed. Ever.”

Jimin let out a shaky breath, catching his lip between his teeth. Slowly, he glanced at the taller man again who was already staring at him, gaze fixated on his face.

“I-I... Well, I'm not actually sure. Taehyung said... Taehyung mentioned that I might have a... s-strength kink” The shorter male finally revealed, voice becoming quieter with each word, barely able for Jungkook to register, yet he did.

“A strength kink?” The younger one echoed, not laughing at Jimin like a tiny part in him had feared. In fact, Jungkook's expression didn't change at all, still looking at him curiously. However, as Jimin kept staring at him he saw his eyes darkening, pupils dilating slightly, “There are definitely ways in which we can realise that to see if there is any truth to it.”

The smaller boy swallowed hard at his words and averted his gaze.

“Hey, don't feel embarrassed about that, Jimin-ah. A lot of people have kinks. There is nothing to be ashamed about. It's totally natural.”

Jimin looked up again, expression still full of insecurity. “D-Do you? I mean, do you have kinks?”

The other one just stared at him for a moment until a smirk appeared on his face, “Have you seen the list, Jimin-ah?” He asked and raised an eyebrow, a small laugh escaping his lips that warmed Jimin's heart.

“Well, no. I have experience with all of these things, but I don't particularly enjoy all of them – not that I don't like to do them at all, just wouldn't call them a kink. However, there are definitely kinks of mine on there, too” Jungkook explained.

“O-Oh” Jimin nodded. He really wanted to know what the taller one's kinks were, but he didn't have the courage to ask.

“Any more you think you might have?” The younger male then wanted to know as he leaned back against the wall.

The smaller one narrowed his eyes as he thought for a moment. Honestly, he couldn't think of anything else. Well, he hadn't even known that he had a strength kink until Taehyung had mentioned it to him. Was the urge to give someone a blowjob considered a kink? Oh god, why was he thinking about that? He had also not been able to stop thinking about giving Jungkook another blowjob.
Frankly, he didn’t know why, but the thought did just not leave his mind.

Jungkook only stared at him for a moment before he approached him slowly.

“Jimin-ah, I have noticed some things where you and your body reacted in a certain way, implying that you definitely like what I did or seemed to enjoy it.” The shorter male swallowed hard as Jungkook halted right in front of him, Jimin having to lean his head back a little to be able to stare up at the man.

“For one, you reacted a certain way when I praised you. You were especially responsive last night when I called you a good boy.” The taller male uttered, voice a little lower, and grasped Jimin's chin softly, “Isn't that true? Do you think you like being called a good boy? Your body was very responsive to that, in fact, every time I praised you.”

It was as if a truck hit him. Reflecting on all those times Jungkook had praised him, the orange haired boy realised that it certainly did have an effect on him every single time. Frankly, he had wanted to be praised more, it had made him determined to do good – to do better. And last night just took the cake as he actually came right after Jungkook had called him a good boy. How had he been this oblivious the whole time? Then again, Jimin had no idea about kinks – barely had any experience in anything sexual to begin with – thus it wasn't easy for him to figure things like this out himself, the strength kink just being another example.

“I do. I think I do like that” The small boy answered, voice quiet and shy as he locked eyes with the taller one again who was stroking his thumb over Jimin's chin slowly, still holding it gently.

Jungkook hummed at his response, something flashing in his eyes as they darkened a litte. “Is there anything else you especially liked? Doesn't have to be a kink necessarily, you might not think that it is one to begin with, but just an action or behaviour that affected you?”

Now, there were a lot of things that Jimin had enjoyed when he thought about it. The problem was that the boy was way too shy to say all of that out loud, a little embarrassed.

“Whatever it is, you can trust me. No need to be ashamed. Could be small things, too. I mean, I have noticed how your body reacted at certain times so I definitely have an idea about what you like already, but I could have read you wrong and I don't want to do anything that you don't like at all”

Jimin swallowed hard and nodded, taking a shaky breath.

“N-Names. I like... like when you called me... well, pet names”

“Baby?”

The small boy blushed at the pet name and nodded, trying to avert his gaze, but Jungkook pulled his chin back up to lock eyes with him again.

“I had figured that.” He smirked slightly, “I'll definitely keep doing that then. We can try other names, too, and if you don't like them you just tell me and I won't use them”

“O-Okay”

“Next one”
The stare of the taller one was so intent, so fixated and interested on what Jimin was going to say and how his expression was going to change when the words left his mouth, it made Jimin nervous, yet grateful that Jungkook was listening to him patiently.

“Uhm... I... No, it's embarrassing” Jimin mumbled and closed his petite hand around Jungkook's wrist to pull it away in order to be able to look away.

“Don't be embarrassed, Jimin-ah. Whatever it is, I won't judge you. You're probably just thinking that it's something unusual, but it might just be the most harmless thing there is. Strength kink, pet names, praise kink those are all pretty soft if you ask me, so really, no need to be ashamed or embarrassed.”

“This one is... I shouldn't like it” The shorter one mumbled as he felt Jungkook softly grasp his chin again and forced him to look up at him gently.

“It's... The way you talk to me sometimes. I like it when you talk to me in a certain way. At first, I didn't even realise what kind of an effect it had on me, but it really does. It's so different from my usual personality so it's just confusing on why my body likes it” He revealed, voice insecure, almost vulnerable as he stated his concern.

“You are referring to me talking dirty to you, right? When I tell you what to do?”

The smaller boy nodded, shaky breath leaving his lips.

“I've figured that already, too. You obeyed immediately every time and let out those cute little noises when I talked dirty to you.” Jungkook let him know and stroked over his chin with his thumb again, “Jimin-ah, there is nothing wrong with this. In fact, the person you are when you are aroused or when you are having sex might be a little different than the person you usually are. You might be completely different in real life - outside - than you are when you have sex or are turned on, you might behave different in bed. What I'm trying to say is that the things you like when you have sex might not be things you enjoy in your usual life. Not only is that influenced by your natural behaviour and being, but it can also be influenced by your mood. Do you understand what I'm trying to say?”

The small boy tried to process the information, “I g-guess”

“Let me give you an explanation. Remember when I talked to you about humiliation? Some people like to be humiliated during sex. However, outside of the bedroom, in their usual everyday life, they might not want to be humiliated at all. Do you understand what I'm trying to say? I know all of this is very new to you, Jimin-ah, but just know that this happens to many people. It takes time to get used to the idea of you still being you, but liking completely different things considering where you are, what you are doing and who you are with. In fact, it is due to a lot of factors. I have mentioned your mood and natural behaviour already, but it can also be influenced by trust. Certainly, if you trust someone, it is easier for you to let yourself fall.”

The orange haired one titled his head to the side as he tried to make sense of the information.

“I think I understand now.” Jimin uttered, but then there was concern on his face again, “So... it's not weird if I like it even if it's the opposite to my personality?”

“No, it's not weird, Jimin-ssi.” The taller one assured and smiled faintly as he caressed Jimin's cheek with his thumb, “You are very... well, you are an innocent and pure person by nature. That is convicted during anything sexual we have done, too. Certainly, you are still similar to your usual self, somewhat at least. You behave, well, submissive by nature – in a lot of ways”

The smaller one titled his head to the side. That was true, he figured, as he thought it over. That's just who he was. Jimin was a very shy and reserved person, didn’t have a lot of experience so you could consider him innocent.

“Submissive” He echoed and Jungkook nodded as his pupils dilated a little, lust flashing in his eyes. The older male wasn't sure how to feel about that word. However, he certainly already obeyed to whatever Jungkook requested from him, became putty in his hands with a mere stare, so there might be a little truth to that after all, too.

“Is there anything else that comes to your head?” Jungkook interrupted his thoughts, the shorter boy looking up at him again.

“Not right now, no” He shook his head as the other one moved his thumb closer to his mouth, suddenly running it over his bottom lip slowly, resulting in Jimin to unconsciously part his lips immediately.

“Alright. If you don't have anything you want to try right now, I would suggest us to see if there is any truth to you having a strength kink, hmm?” The taller boy suggested and arched up an eyebrow, voice already lower and lust flashing in his eyes as he stared at Jimin's plump pink lips. Jungkook had the urge to just push his thumb inside and watch him suck on his finger- no, even better, to push his dick between those pretty lips and slowly fuck into his mouth.

“O-Okay” Jimin answered and nodded faintly, swallowing hard as Jungkook dropped his hand and went over to the nightstand to get something.

“Clothes off then, baby”

Letting out a shaky breath, Jimin got up, causing his sleeves to fall over his petite hands and hide them. The delicate features in his face were giving away his slight nervousness as he didn't know what was going to happen next, yet there was anticipation all the same.

The shorter boy took off his jeans and went over to put them on the sofa. Carefully, he gripped the hem of his long sleeved shirt, but was hesitant to pull it up, catching his lip between his teeth.

“You can leave your shirt on if you feel more comfortable.” He heard Jungkook say, voice gentle, and locked eyes with him, “However, I have seen you naked before and there is nothing you need to be ashamed of. Honestly, Jimin-ah, you are beautiful” The smaller boy studied his face and tried to look for something that would give away that he wasn’t being truthful, that he didn't actually mean that – yet there was only sincerity behind his eyes. There was something blooming in his chest, slowly filling his whole body with warmth as he blushed a little.

“T-Thank you”

“Come here” The younger boy muttered as he held out his hand for him, Jimin walking over to him immediately, “I assume we will have to stretch you open again? Have you played with your hole since last time?”

“N-No” Jimin shook his head as he blushed deeper. Was he supposed to do that? Did people do that? The shorter boy was a little confused, yet as he thought it over it did make sense for people to do that as it essentially was just another way of masturbating, right? Frankly, when Jungkook had stretched him open it had felt good even with only his fingers being inside of him.
“Take off your briefs then and lie down on your back”

The smaller boy stared at him with big eyes for a moment, but got up eventually to pull down his briefs and step out of them. Perhaps Jimin should ask what they were going to do, but he was so excited that he honestly didn't care – just wanted Jungkook to touch him and would be fine with anything.

Jimin laid down on his back, head landing on the soft pillows as he pulled down the hem of his shirt to cover his penis. Jungkook's eyes travelled down the body of the little boy on his bed and he wet his lips as he joined him on the bed, sitting down on his knees and gripping Jimin's ankles softly to push them forward and to the side in order to spread his legs.

The orange haired boy gasped and his body twitched a little as he felt Jungkook move inbetween his spread legs, feeling exposed as his penis and parts of his butt were on full display.

A shiver ran down Jimin's back as he saw Jungkook look at him with dark eyes, hands slowly caressing his inner thighs causing his legs to twitch at the soft touch and goosebumps to rise on his skin.

“Jimin-ah, do you want to try it yourself today? Hmm? Want to try to stretch yourself open for me?”

The shorter one whimpered at his words, swallowing hard. Honestly, he wanted nothing more than for Jungkook to touch him – everywhere. Then again, he was a little curious about how it felt if he would do that to himself.

“I-I'm not sure how” He whispered, voice unsure as his heart started to beat faster.

“I'll help you” The black haired man assured as he grabbed the lube from the nightstand, “Could you move up your hips a little”

Jimin did, revealing his tight pink hole to Jungkook who cursed at the sight. The taller one grasped his wrist softly and pulled him up a little, squirting lube on his index finger a moment later. It felt cold and sticky on his finger, Jimin grimacing a little.

“Very carefully move your finger down to your rim now. Don't rush, you need to relax and slowly push in whenever you feel ready”

His heart was beating hard in his chest as he swallowed and moved his hand down to his hole, placing his finger against his entrance. Honestly, it was a little embarrassing to have Jungkook watch him do this, yet as he saw Jungkook's face, how focused and attentive – almost mesmerised – he was, excitement bubbled inside of him.

Biting down on his bottom lip, Jimin pushed his finger inside carefully and slowly, hole opening up a little and welcoming his finger. The smaller boy parted his lips, little soft breaths leaving them as he pushed his finger in completely, feeling the softness of his walls.

“There you go. Well done” Jungkook praised and traced his fingertips over Jimin's inner thigh gently, “Finger yourself now. Pull your finger out and push it back in. While doing that, move your finger from side to side also in order to stretch yourself open.”

“O-Okay” The orange haired boy whispered as he pulled out his finger and pushed it back in, still feeling a little uncomfortable. He repeated the motion a couple of times while letting out soft whimpers, searching for that special spot inside of him, yet his finger was too short to reach it, he assumed.

“More lube first” The taller one squirted lube over his middle and index finger that Jimin held out to him. The other boy didn't waste any time and pushed them back inside, hissing a little as his hole opened up more to be able to fit two fingers inside. Carefully, he pushed them inside completely, adjusting to the fullness for a moment, only little breaths leaving his lips.

Slowly, he pulled them out and pushed them back in, whining high in his throat at the feeling of being so full. He kept moving his fingers in and out of his hole, still searching for that special spot inside of him, scissoring his fingers from time to time the way Jungkook had done the previous times to stretch hims open.

“Fuck” Jungkook cursed as Jimin sped up his movement, wet sounds of the motion of his fingers and his little whimpers filling the room. The smaller boy wet his lips and looked at Jungkook, catching his penis harden, a tent visible in his crotch area. His own penis twitched at that image and he let out a whine.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin mewled and his eyes flutterted shut. It felt good, just not as good as when Jungkook had done it to him.

“Your fingers are too short, aren't they? Can't reach your prostate, no?”

The shorter male whined at his words as he nodded, blushing as he saw Jungkook's fixated gaze on him.

“One more. Come on, for me. Need you to be stretched a little more, baby”

Whining, Jimin pulled out his fingers and held them out to the other one who squirted some more lube on his ring finger, the orange haired man taking a deep breath before he pushed all three fingers inside of him slowly, a loud squealch filling the room at which both of their dicks twitched, Jungkook cursing again.

“Keep going, baby”

“Ah, ah, Jungkook” The boy cried out as he pushed them inside fully, a silent scream leaving him as he squeezed his eyes shut, body shaking. He wasterd no time and pulled his fingers out just to push them back in, gasping at the feeling. He felt so full, head starting to spin, yet it just didn't feel as good as when Jungkook had done it. The intense pleasure was nowhere to be found.

“Please, can you, Jungkook-ah, please help” He sniffed and pulled his fingers out, placing his hands behind himself and leaning back on them, pushing his hips in Jungkook's direction.

“Want my fingers inside of you?” The taller one smirked as he squirted lube on three of his fingers right away, keen on helping the other male out as he looked so desperate and cute begging for help. It gave him an idea about how the smaller one would look when he begged for so many other things – dick twitching at all the possibilities they would hopefully get to at one point or another.

“Y-Yes, please” Jimin quickly nodded as he felt Jungkook's fingers against his entrance, circling it teasingly. “P-Please- aaah!” The shorter one tried to beg, but started moaning as Jungkook thrusted his fingers inside of him without a warning. “Jungkook!” He whimpered high pitched as he felt so full again, Jungkook's long fingers filling him so nicely, touching all the right places. Arousal bloomed inside of him, penis hardening as Jungkook started to move his fingers in and out of him.
As expected, it didn't take long for the taller one to find his prostate, Jimin's whole body trembling and a scream leaving him at the touch. “Ah, oh my god!” The orange haired one cried out and shuddered, falling back on his back, head landing softly on the pillow.

“Ah, there it is” Jungkook commented, amusement in his voice as he pushed right against it.

“Jungkook-ah!” The smaller boy moaned and his eyes fluttered shut at the intense feeling. There it was. That feeling that drove him crazy, that made him forget who he was and made him dizzy, Jungkook filling all of his senses and making him crave and long for more.

“This is what you were looking for, weren't you?” The other one interrupted his thoughts as he moved his fingers in slow firm circle motions against his prostate, drawing out those cute little whimpers and whines from the smaller one.

Jimin could only nod as he kept whimpering, body shaking as he unconsciously tried to close his legs at the intense feeling.

“No, keep them spread, baby” The younger one ordered as he pushed against his inner thigh so Jimin would spread his legs again, which he did immediataly.

Jungkook pulled his fingers out and circled his rim, Jimin whining high in his throat as he felt so empty. The taller boy chuckled as he pushed his fingers back inside, right against his prostate and kept rubbing against it quickly.

A silent scream escaped Jimin as he clenched his hands into little fists while grasping the bedsheets. The overwhelming feeling bloomed inside of him, signaling that his orgasm was very close. His penis was leaking pre-cum on his stomach, a little puddle forming. That's how far he was gone already – way too aroused to think straight at this point.

“Your dick is leaking so much, baby” Jungkook commented, voice low as he pressed his thumb against the head of Jimin's penis, squeezing out more pre-cum. “That's because I keep pressing against your prostate, increases the pre-cum that leaks out of your dick.”

Jimin's body twitched and he yelped at the touch, feeling like he was almost coming already. It got worse when Jungkook took the head between his index finger and thumb and squeezed the head so more pre-cum would leak from the slit while he kept rubbing against his prostate.

“Jungkook-ah!” Jimin screamed as his eyes rolled back inside his head, body trembling due to the intensity of the feeling. Lifting his shaky hand, the orange haired boy wrapped it around Jungkook's wrist that was playing with his hard length and tried to move it away. “P-Please” He whimpered, “Not there or I will come”

Jungkook didn't stop, however, contemplating over something for a moment. He kept rubbing against his prostate fast while playing with Jimin's dick. The smaller boy screamed and arched his back, almost over the edge to his orgasm.

Eventually, Jungkook had mercy and moved his hand away. He had thought about making Jimin come and then have him come again later, but he wasn't sure if the other one would be able to do that so he had to keep that thought in mind for another time. He definitely was going to have Jimin have multiple orgasms and watch him fall apart even more than this at one point. If he looked like this – breathing rapidly, eyes shut, full soft lips parted and leaving the cutest little whimpers, cheeks flushed and hands clenched into little fists – after playing with his hole and dick for a little bit alone, how was he going to look after having had three orgasms and still being stimulated? The poor boy would be so fucked out, crying and begging for Jungkook to stop. God, his dick twitched at the mere thought.
He couldn't wait to do that.

Jimin's chest was rising and falling quickly as he stretched his legs out, still having them spread, yet too tired to keep his knees up. “Jungkook-ah” He whispered as he came down from the edge he had almost crossed. It felt weird as he had been so close to his release, but now there was no stimulation at all and he came back down, calming a little, yet still hungry for Jungkook's touch and finding his release.

“Mhm” The smaller one hummed and nodded a little as he sat up, head still dizzy.

“I'm going to fuck you now, Jimin-ah” The younger one told him as he rolled a condom over his big erection, Jimin swallowing hard at the sight – the urge to drop down on his knees and suck on it filling him. Quickly, he shook his head. Now was not the time for that.

Jimin locked eyes with him, titling his head to the side. “O-Okay”

The taller one stepped out of his briefs and squirted some lube on his erection, spreading it around.

“Stand up”

Immediataly obeying, Jimin got up from the bed, legs wobbly as he fell forward a litte – thankfully saved by Jungkook who moved his strong arm around him to catch him.

“Careful”

“S-Sorry”

The younger boy brushed Jimin's hair out of his face and ran his thumb over his cheek softly, the other one nuzzling his face against the touch. Slowly, Jungkook leaned down and captured his lips in a kiss, surprising the smaller boy as he had not expected the kiss. In fact, they hadn't kissed at all today, Jimin welcoming the soft lips of the taller one immediataly.

While they continued to kiss, Jungkook turned them around and pushed Jimin a little, both starting to walk back. As the taller one pressed his tongue into his mouth, Jimin whimpered and suddenly hit against a wall, a yelp leaving his lips.

“What's your safeword?” Jungkook asked as he broke the kiss, placing his hands on the back of Jimin's thighs and suddenly lifting him with ease, the other one squeaking and quickly gripping his shoulders. The younger boy wrapped Jimin's legs around his waist and pushed him up against the wall, the smaller one gasping as their erections pressed against each other.

“Red for stop, yellow for pause and g-green for okay” The orange haired boy barely got out, too overwhelmed by the fact that Jungkook was holding him up against the wall – exactly like he had been dreaming about the past days. Oh god.

“Very good” He praised and took an arm away to close it around his own penis, essentially only holding Jimin up with one arm now, the smaller boy whimpering at that realisation.

“You weigh like nothing” Jungkook assured as he pressed the head of his hard on against Jimin's entrance, said boy's eyes fluttering shut as he bit down on his bottom lip. However, the other one didn't push his erection inside, only circled it around his entrance, basically only teasing the poor boy.

“J-Jungkook-ah, please” He whimpered and wrapped his arms around Jungkook's neck as he pressed his forehead gently against his.

“What do you want?” The taller one asked, slight smirk on his face. Jimin could honestly cry at this point. The other male knew exactly what he wanted and was just teasing him.

“I'm right here, Jimin-ah” He simply replied, amusement in his voice as he moved his dick up and down between Jimin's buttcheeks, pushing the head inside his entrance only very slightly every now and then just to be gone a second later.

“P-Please” Jimin whined against his ear, letting out little pants as he was way too aroused and excited, “You know what I want. I want you, Jungkook-ah, please.” He sniffed.

Without a warning he rammed his hard on inside of Jimin, causing said boy to scream high pitched and quickly hide his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck, squeezing his eyes shut at the intense feeling of being filled again.

“I'll never get over how tight you are” The younger one growled as he pulled out, almost until he slipped out completely, only to thrust back inside of Jimin slowly but with force, resulting in the boy in his arms to rock back against the wall.

“Jungkoo-ah” Jimin mewled and lifted his head to look into the other's eyes. They were full of desire, staring right back at him, “F-Feels so good”

The taller one smirked as he thrusted hard back inside of him, repeating the motion again and again, causing Jimin to move back and forth with each movement of his. Instead of holding Jimin up bis his thighs, the younger boy placed his hands on Jimin's butt now, grasping his cheeks and pushing Jimin against himself.

The shorter boy could not believe that Jungkook was holding him up against the wall while thrusting this relentlessly in and out of him. His stamina was impressive, his strength, too. The smaller one whimpered as he saw Jungkook's biceps, penis twitching at the sight.

“Oh god!” Jimin suddenly cried out as he felt Jungkook hit his prostate dead on continuously with each thrust now, rhythm relentless. The taller boy rocked Jimin by his butt against himself while ramming inside of him to reach deeper, hitting that special spot perfectly.

Jimin's whole body was shaking at the intensity of the feeling. His head was spinning and he could not think about anything else other than Jungkook: how strong he was, how good he looked and how amazing he made Jimin feel.

In a moment where courage – or honestly, his aroused mind was a little different from his usual brain as it did and said things the boy usually probably wouldn't - the older boy moved one of his hands down unconsciously and gripped the hem of Jungkook's shirt to pull it up a bit, exposing his defined abs. A whimper escaped his full lips at the sight, feeling Jungkook smirk against his cheek.
“Want to take it off?” He growled against Jimin's ear and nibbled on his earlobe, causing the other one to gasp.

“Mmhm” The small boy hummed and whined as Jungkook halted his movement while he pushed Jimin against the wall harder so he wasn't going to fall as he let go with both hands.

“Go on”

Wasting no time, Jimin pulled his shirt up and over his head, dropping it to the floor as Jungkook grasped his buttcheeks again.

Jimin blushed, but nodded as he fixated his gaze on his upper body, whimpering at the sight. However, as Jungkook thrusted against him again, his eyes fluttered shut as the beautiful intense feeling inside of him took over once more.

“Right there, Jungkook-ah, it feels so good” He whimpered high pitched and gripped his shoulders again.

“Yeah? Exactly how you wanted it, right? Wanted me to fuck you up against a wall, hold your little body up alone and fuck you senseless, hmm?”

The orange haired male blushed deeper at his words, whine leaving his lips as he nodded. The younger one moved one of his hands below Jimin's shirt and ran it up and down his stomach, causing goosebumps to rise on his skin and Jimin to arch his back against the touch, a shiver running down his back.

“What do you say when you want to stop?” Jungkook asked, a little out of breath, sweat visible on his face and chest.

“R-Red” The smaller boy answered and suddenly there was a finger tracing over his left nipple resulting in Jimin to yelp and jump at the touch.

“You will use it whenever you want me to stop, okay?” The younger one wanted to make sure as he rubbed over Jimin's nipple, feeling it harden beneath his thumb.

“Mhm” He hummed and his penis twitched as Jungkook kept rubbing over his nipple. Frankly, Jimin was a little confused by the touch, but even more surprised by how his body reacted to it, penis twitching and arousal increasing inside of him.

Little pants left his mouth as Jungkook thrusted in him slowly, but forcefully, focused on playing with Jimin's nipple now. Carefully, he grasped the hem of Jimin's shirt and pulled it up a little, exposing his hardened nub and cursing at the sight.

“Can you hold your shirt up for me, baby?”

The smaller one obeyed immediataly and grabbed his own shirt, lifting it a little more so his nipples were exposed to Jungkook who wet his lips and suddenly leaned down, licking over his left nipple.

“A-ah” Jimin breathed, body shaking at the surprising touch - he definitely had not expected this. However, he had to admit that it felt incredibly good, his whole body shuddering as Jungkook kept licking over his hardened nub, twirling his tongue around to draw out those cute little whimpers from Jimin.
“So sensitive and responsive for me” He growled against his skin and thrusted harder and faster inside of Jimin again, hitting his prostate dead on while continuing to rub his thumb over Jimin's nipple.

There were too many sensations – Jimin couldn't focus. It was all just a big puddle of intense feelings that were crashing over him. The poor boy couldn't stop whimpering, body just wouldn't stop shaking and his little cock just didn't stop leaking pre-cum, trailing down his length. It all just became too much.

“Jungkook-ah! Please, I-I'm close” The small boy cried out and hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck.

“Yeah? Are you gonna make a big mess for me, baby?”

Jimin whined at his words and nodded, so close to the edge and almost, just almost crossing it.

“Go on, be a good boy and come for me, baby”

Squeezing his eyes shut, he felt his orgasm hit him hard, feeling overwhelming him and bursting inside of him, filling him wholly. His whole body was trembling violently due to the sensation, cum spurting out of his penis between them, making a mess over both of them.

“Fuck, Jimin-ah, you feel so good around me.” Jungkook cursed and kept thrusting inside of him, prolonging Jimin's orgasm, causing wave after wave of the overwhelming feeling to hit him. Jimin collapsed against him, body going slack in his arms and breathing heavily.

“Aaaah!” He cried out as his penis kept leaking cum and his body continued to shake. “Hurts” The poor boy whimpered. How close was Jungkook? Was he going to come soon? Jimin didn't want him to come inside of him – well, he did, but he wanted something else even more.

“Were so good for me, baby, such a good boy”

“Jungkook-ah, stop, please, wanna...” Was he brave enough to say it? “Wanna... suck you off” He blushed as the words left his mouth. Jungkook halted immediataly, breathing heavily.

“Are you sure?”

Quickly nodding, he lifted his head to lock eyes with him.

“Wanna try again, please” The smaller boy mumbled and averted his gaze as he felt Jungkook's intense stare on him.

“I'm not gonna last much longer, though” Jungkook warned and walked over to the bed to sit down, Jimin straddling his lap in the process. Carefully, the shorter male lifted his hips, the other's erection slipping out of him and slapping against Jungkook's thigh, wet sound filling the room for a moment.

“Are you really sure?” He wanted to make sure again and brushed Jimin's hair out of his face gently, caressing his cheek with his thumb.

The small boy nodded quickly, excited and anticipant to finally do what he had thought about the last couple of days – honestly, ever since he had done it the first time.

“On your knees then” Jungkook told him, voice low and the eager boy got up just to drop down on his knees a moment later, gently touching the soft rug beneath him, ready to please.

The black haired one pulled of the condom and tossed it on the nighstand, placing his hands behind himself on the bed and leaning back, eyes fixated on the small boy between his legs.

“Do you remember what to do?”

Quickly nodding, Jimin lifted his petite hand to wrap it around Jungkook’s hard length, cheeks heating up as it didn’t close around the whole erection. The taller boy let out a breath in response, watching the orange haired one lean over his dick and stick his tongue out to lick over the slit, tasting the pre-cum.

For some reason, Jimin really liked the taste, twirling his tongue around the slit to collect more of it, swallowing it curiously. His heart was beating fast in his chest as he opened his mouth further to take the head into his mouth, wrapping his plump lips around it and sucking slightly.

Determined, he took more of his length into his mouth, trying to relax his throat as the heavy head pressed against his tongue. Slowly, he kept stroking over the part that didn't fit in his mouth just yet with his hand while the other hand was grasping Jungkook’s thigh for support.

“Relax, Jimin-ah, don’t force it down too quickly” Jungkook warned and cursed a moment later as Jimin sucked on his hard on while he bobbed his head down to fit more of Jungkook inside of his mouth.

He wasn't going to give up this time. The determined and eager boy really wanted to do well this time and fit all of him inside of his mouth, up until the base. However, that wasn't as easy as he had hoped, gag reflex rejecting a moment later and he had to pull off, coughing as a long streak of spit connected the hard length with his mouth.

“Careful, baby” The taller boy warned softly and wiped away the spit from his chin, caressing his cheek a second later.

“I want to fit all of you inside of me” Jimin found himself whining, even a pout appearing on his face as he fixated his eyes on the heavy length in his hand.

“This is only your second time, Jimin-ah. It takes a lot of practice to train your gag reflex not to reject. There are ways to force me down your throat, but that is painful and I definitely won't hurt you”

As he felt Jungkook stroke his thumb over his cheek, his pout increased. Why was this so difficult?

“Stop pouting” Jungkook uttered softly and lifted Jimin's chin up in order to lock eyes with him. There was a slight smile on his face. “You'll be able to deepthroat one day, Jimin-ah. It just takes time”

“Do you want to stop?”

“No” Jimin protested quickly as he started stroking Jungkook's erection again, moving his hand up and down while squeezing softly, “Want to continue” He voiced before he leaned forward to wrap his lips around the head again, sucking slightly and twirling his tongue over the slit to taste the pre-cum.

“Jimin-ah, shit, your mouth” Jungkook cursed as Jimin pushed down his head to fit more of his hard on into his mouth, squeezing his eyes shut as he felt his gag reflex reject, however he didn't pull off this time, but remained in the position as he started coughing and sputtering around the length, drooling all over the erection and his own hand. He felt his throat relax, opening up a bit more to fit another part of the hard length into his mouth, halting to adjust for a moment. The eager boy was breathing heavily through his nose, feeling himself become dizzy, jaw starting to ache a little, but he didn't want to stop, “So good for me, Jiminie, such a good boy”

Jimin whined around his erection and bobbed his head up and down, more spit trailing down the length. Wet and obscene sucking sounds filled the room as Jimin continued to move his head up and down, gurgling now and then, Jungkook cursing at the noises. The small boy’s jaw really started to ache after a while, eyes becoming watery as he forced more and more down his throat, so eager to please.

Jimin felt Jungkook's penis twitch inside of his mouth, indicating that he was very close. He sped up his movement, causing Jungkook to curse and growl his name.

“Jimin-ah, I'm close.” He warned and Jimin hummed as he pulled off, stroking the hard length faster.

“Was that better? Was I good?” The small boy on his knees wanted to know, looking up at the younger one, voice soft yet a little hoarse from the sucking.

“Shit, yes, Jiminie, always my good boy. Took so much of me into your pretty mouth, baby”

Smiling a little, Jimin licked over the head, twirling his tongue around the slit to taste more pre-cum. As he was just about to wrap his lips around the head, cum spurted out of Jungkook's length and hit Jimin in the face as the taller one cursed, only some of it landing on his tongue as he had just opened his mouth. Squeaking, the little boy shut his eyes close as it had startled him.

“Fuck, Jiminie” The younger boy cursed and breathed heavily, Jimin carefully opening his eyes again to stare up at him, “Sorry, Jimin-ah” Jungkook apologised as he ran his thumb over Jimin's cheek to collect the cum. He was about to lean over and grab a tissue, but Jimin grasped his wrist and pulled his hand towards himself, wrapping his lips around Jungkook's thumb to lick the cum off.

Jungkook opened his mouth, mesmerised as the innocent boy in front of him licked his thumb clean and then leaned over his dick again to lick it clean from any cum as well. He would probably never get over the fact how innocent and angelic looking the boy was while doing these obscene things, not even realising what kind of an effect he had on the taller boy.

Jimin blushed as Jungkook kept looking at him intently, seemingly lost in his thoughts. Eventually, he averted his own gaze and got up, knees wobbly and a little sore as he almost collapsed, but thankfully Jungkook was there to grip his hips and pull him onto his lap softly.

“That was very good, Jimin-ah.” The taller boy praised and Jimin's blush deepened, yet he smiled a little.

“Thank you” However, a pout appeared on his face again as he played with the hem of his shirt, “But I didn't fit all of you inside of me”
“You don’t have to do that” Jungkook assured as he brushed Jimin’s orange streaks out of his face, thumb stroking over his cheek, “It felt good the way you just did it. I came because of you, Jimin-ssi. If you really want to try though, you can practice and one day you’ll be able to fit all of me down your throat, hmm?” Jimin nodded slightly, “Stop pouting now” Suddenly, Jungkook tickled his side, the smaller boy breaking out into a giggle immediately, eyes turning into little crescents.

“You look pretty when you smile” He uttered softly, barely loud enough for Jimin to register, yet he did, blushing at the words.

Jungkook halted his movement and cleared his throat.

“Let’s clean you up” The taller boy suggested and pushed Jimin off of him softly, getting up and walking into the bathroom. The orange haired male started swinging his legs back and forth while waiting for the other one to return.

“What made you decide to change your hair colour?” Jungkook suddenly wanted to know as he walked back into the room, now wearing a fresh pair of briefs while carrying a wet cloth to clean Jimin with.

“Uhm, well, Taehyung suggested a change. He dyed his hair, too, but blond. Actually, mine was supposed to be hazel, but Taehyung bought the wrong one” The smaller boy explained, giggling a little at the end.

Jungkook hummed as Jimin rolled over onto his side, the taller one parting his buttcheeks to clean him up, area still sensitive as the warm cloth brushed against his entrance.

“Jimin-ah, how do you feel about sex toys?”

“S-Sex toys?” He echoed and tilted his head to the side, sitting up straight again as Jungkook went back into the bathroom to put the cloth away.

“Yes, do you know what those are? I don’t want to rush anything, you set the pace, I’m just trying to see what possibilities we have and what knowledge you have.” The younger boy explained as he walked back into the room, leaning against the wall as he crossed his arms over his chest.

“Well, I guess they are toys one uses during sex?” Jimin reasoned, a smirk appearing on Jungkook’s face, amusement glistening in his eyes.

“Yes, there are a lot of different kinds of sex toys. Would you ever consider to use one? Or have me use one on you?” Jungkook asked and arched up and eyebrow.

“M-Maybe... I don’t really know exactly what they do, but...” He left the remaining sentence hanging in the air. To be fair, Jimin trusted Jungkook a lot so whatever he suggested for them to do was most likely going to be fine with Jimin – even more than that, was surely going to make him feel good.

“Let’s set it as a soft limit then?”

Jimin nodded, fine with that idea.

“Any idea or wish on what to do next time?”

The smaller boy contemplated for a moment. Honestly, his head was still a little dizzy so it was difficult for him to think at all, just wanted to lie down and hide under the soft covers, nuzzle his face against the pillow and fall asleep while the smell of Jungkook lingers in his nose.

Certainly, his wish of Jungkook taking him up against a wall has been granted and proven that there was truth to his strength kink. The small boy really didn't know why he liked that so much, liked that Jungkook was so much bigger and stronger than him, could lift him up with ease or move him around however he pleased, effortless to manhandle Jimin.

As well as that, he had been able to practice to deepthroat Jungkook which had also lingered in his mind for a long time now. Really, there wasn't anything new he could think of that he wanted to try. Surely, he would have to go through the list and find something on there.

“No, not really” The older one answered eventually, shaking his head slightly as Jungkook picked up his clothes and handed them to Jimin who took them while thanking him quietly.

“We might just decide on the day or you could let me know through text if you want anything.” The taller boy suggested and opened his nightstand to take out a bottle of lube as Jimin pulled the zipper of his pants up. “Here, this is for you”

Jimin hesitated, only staring from the bottle up to Jungkook's eyes and back down. “For what?”

“For you. In case you wanna play with yourself or I might give you a little homework”

“H-Homework?” The orange haired one echoed and blushed as he locked eyes with the other one.

“It would save some time if you stretched yourself open before coming here, but of course, you don't have to do that if you don't want to. Still, you might want to play with your little hole sometimes” Jungkook smirked, Jimin blushing deeper as he swallowed hard.

“I like it more when you... when you do it” He admitted, voice soft and barely able for Jungkook to register, yet he did.

“Mhm, like it more when I play with your hole?” The taller one uttered, grabbing Jimin's chin softly as the boy nodded. “Okay, but still, take it. That might change when you get a little desperate at home and just want to touch yourself.”

“T-Thank you” He muttered and took the lube, knowing already that he wasn't going to use it. Frankly, he didn't know why, but when he touched himself it just didn't make him feel as good as when Jungkook touched him. Certainly, that was due to the fact that Jungkook had more experience and more skill in what he did. Yes, definitely, that must be the reason. Surely, there was no other explanation for that.

“You're welcome”

Jungkook grabbed his phone and typed something while walking into the bathroom as Jimin tried to fix his hair on top of his head to make it appear somewhat less messier.

“Are you okay? Any more questions?” The younger boy asked as he walked back into the bedroom, now wearing a blach shirt and some sweatpants.

“I'm okay. No more questions”

“Let's go downstairs then”

They both exited the room and went downstairs where Jimin put on his shoes.
“I have somebody waiting downstairs for you to drive you home”

Jimin halted his movement, locking eyes with the taller one, titling his head to the side in a confused and surprised manner.

“Oh? Who?”

“A person that works for me. A personal driver” He answered and placed his phone on the table. “So we don't have to call a taxi everytime where I don't know who those people are and won't have to wait until it arrives”

“A personal driver?” Jimin echoed, mouth opening in shock and eyes widening. Okay, what exactly was his job? What did he need a personal driver for?

“Yes, he is trustworthy so I know you'll get home safely.” The younger boy explained, suddenly biting his tongue like he had said too much, clearing his throat, “Right, have you got everything?”

Jimin nodded, still shocked – honestly even that shocked that he wasn't able to protest. How could he protest to go with Jungkook's driver when he still hadn't even fully fathomed that fact, his tired brain not being any help.

“I trust him. You can trust him, too. I'll make sure you get home safely.”

They only stared at each other for a moment, Jimin nodding eventually and stepping outside the apartment.

“Good night, Jungkook-ah”

“Good night, Jimin-ssi”

Chapter End Notes

Did you like the chapter? :) What do you think about Dongha? Do you think he could play a bigger role in the story?

Thank you so much for all the love on the previous chapters <3

I'll be back to more frequent updates soon :)

Love you <3
Chapter Summary

Taehyung plants a wish in Jimin's head that he can't get rid of, eventually asking Jungkook to try it. However, things don't really go as planned...

Chapter Notes

Hi! :)

Thank you so much for all the love and for your patience <3 I'm sorry that it takes a little longer for the chapters, but my busy schedule is almost over and I'm excited to be able to post more frequently again then :)

Hopefully, you will enjoy this chapter :)

“A personal driver?” Taehyung echoed, eyes widening at the information Jimin just shared with him as they continued walking. “What does he need a fucking driver for? I'm so curious about his job”

“I don't know” The orange haired boy shrugged and sighed, “I didn't ask him because I was so tired. The personal driver was really nice, though. Well, we didn't talk that much, but he was friendly and waited until I was inside the building.”

“This is some next level shit. He's making sure you get home safely by letting his personal driver get you home? Wow”

Jimin smiled faintly as they crossed the street. They were on their way to Hoseok's dance class. Well, Jimin was essentially, but Taehyung accompanied him because he wanted to see Hoseok again.

“Let's go grab a coffee” His best friend suggested as they walked past a small coffe shop, halting their steps.

Suddenly, Jimin's phone vibrated inside of his pocket and he pulled it out. “I'll order already. The usual?” Taehyung asked as he saw Jimin looking down on his phone.

“Yes, thank you”

I'm free saturday night. – Jungkook

The message read, being an answer to Jimin's previous question regarding when Jungkook would be able to meet up next.
I'm free, too, that night. At yours? - Jimin

Yes, 8 pm? - Jungkook

Okay, see you then :) - Jimin

See you. - Jungkook

Something was blossoming inside of Jimin’s chest, expanding and filling his whole upper body with warmth. Was that excitement to see the taller one again? He really couldn't define the feeling.

“Why are you smiling?” Taehyung interrupted his thoughts, startling the smaller boy. Quickly, he put his phone back into his pocket and locked eyes with the taller one.

“J-Just... because”

“Hmm, let me guess, Jungkook texted you?” His best friend assumed, smug smirk appearing on his face as he arched up and eyebrow and handed him his iced Americano.

“W-Why would you think that?” Jimin mumbled, blush creeping up on his cheeks as he took the cup and put the straw between his lips to suck on the drink.

“So I was right” The blond boy chuckled as they exited the coffee shop and continued to walk to the dance studio. It was a beautiful day, the sun was shining and it wasn't too warm – just right that they wouldn't sweat too much, but could still walk around without a jacket.

“Whatever” The small boy muttered, causing his best friend to snicker again as he threw an arm around Jimin.

“I'm just teasing you. I'm happy you enjoy your little... lessons. What did you do last night?” Tae wanted to know as he titled his head to the side in a curious manner.

Jimin's blush deepened as he looked around, people walking past them yet not paying much attention to them.

“Well... stuff” The shy boy simply answered and shrugged his shoulders, too embarrassed and ashamed to share the information about how desperate and eager he had wanted to give Jungkook a blowjob and how said boy had taken him up against a wall roughly, yet sensually. The thoughts alone made the smaller boy swallow hard, remembering the way Jungkook had touched him, had invaded all of his senses and leave Jimin crave and long for more. He really became putty in his hands. Oh god, what was Jungkook doing to him?

“Mhm, and what kind of stuff?”

“We... we now know that there is truth to your assumption of me having a strength kink” Jimin whispered.

“He fucked you up against a wall?” Taehyung almost yelled, shock and surprise visible on his face as he stilled his steps.

Jimin almost tripped over his own two feet as the words had left his best friends mouth, quickly turning around and looking at him in horror.

“Tae!” He cried out as people had stared at them weirdly, cheeks heating up as he swatted his best friends arm.
“Sorry” Tae apologised, yet snickered a little as they continued walking, “I was just very surprised. Oh my god, that sounds so fucking hot.”

The orange haired boy glanced down at the ground while walking, too embarrassed to look up again.

“Hey, sorry, Minnie” The taller boy apologised and placed his hand on Jimin’s shoulder, squeezing lightly, “Please, I didn’t mean to say it that loudly”

“It’s okay” Jimin sighed, “They don’t know me anyway and they might not even have heard it”

Taehyung smiled apologetic and ruffled through Jimin's hair.

“Well, let me tell you a story about my night.”

“Please, don't” The small boy whispered, but Taehyung didn't hear him and went on with his story.

“I'm telling you that last night was the hottest sex I’ve ever had in my entire life” His best friend stated as they reached the dance studio. Jimin opened the door and they entered. “Hyung tied up my hands behind my back, blindfolded me and then fucked me hard from behind, spanking me every now and then. I'm telling you, I've never had that kind of an intense orgasm. I came so hard I almost wanted to cry.”

“What? I need to talk to someone about this. Honestly, sex with him makes me wonder if I ever even had sex before. It's like a whole different word. He makes me come so hard everytime.”

“I don't want to know these things about Hoseok hyung, especially as he is my teacher now” The shorter male whined as they walked up the stairs, yet the story had made him a little curious. Being tied up? Blindfolded? Spanking? Jimin had asked Jungkook before what exactly spanking was and why people would want that. Well, and here was his best friend getting pleasure from exactly that. Somehow, he found himself wonder how it felt like, if he would like that, too.

“I'm just sharing useful information with you. This shit feels incredible. Like, you can only focus on the feeling of him being inside of you because you can littlerally not do anything else but lie there and take it. At first I didn't think I would like it because I love touching him, but when we did it and my senses where solely invaded by him- it was just pure pleasure. Even spanking. I mean, I have been spanked before, but it never felt that good. Shit made me come so hard”

Jimin swallowed hard as he processed the information his best friend shared with him. The thought of his hands being tied up so he couldn't touch- couldn't move them, scared the smaller boy a little bit, yet the way Taehyung talked about it made him extremely curious. How would it feel like to just lie there and take whatever Jungkook would give him, whatever he would want to do to Jimin? The shorter male would be completely at his mercy – well, frankly, he already was – and would only be able to focus on Jungkook and his touch. The taller one could do anything to him and Jimin would just let him. Anticipation and excitement bloomed inside of him at the thought.

He could still remember Jungkook explaining to him what exactly spanking was and why people liked it. Even back then he had felt a little excited at the thought of Jungkook doing that to him, yet he had been hesitant and reluctant – fearing that he might not like that at all because essentially, it did kind of hurt, didn't it?

“Well, depends, I guess. As I said, I have been spanked before, but not really, only like one slap on the butt while fucking. It hurt only for a moment, but I was more focused on the sex so I didn't really care. This time, however, was totally different. He spanked me repeatedly and I don't know why, but the pain kind of felt good? I can't explain it and I don't even know why, I just know that there was so much pleasure when he did that. I figure you just gotta try it out to see if you like it’ His best friend stated and shrugged his shoulders slightly as they entered the practice room, Hoseok greeting them with a big smile on his face.

Jimin imagined his hands being tied behind his back while Jungkook thrusted in and out of him, telling him what a good boy he was.

Oh god. Great. Now he probably wasn't going to be able to stop thinking about this...

------

“You have good control over your body” Jimin heard a low voice comment and turned around, eyes landing on the boy that had complimented his hair the last time. The boy was already staring at him, smile on his face.

“O-oh, thank you” The smaller boy uttered and smiled faintly, blushing a little at the compliment. “I still have a little trouble following the steps, though.”

Jimin glanced at the mirror and saw Taehyung in the reflection. He was standing next to Hoseok, yet he was watching the smaller boy talk to the stranger with an excited expression and a big smile on his face.

“You're doing pretty good if you'd ask me. However, if you ever need it, I could help you out and go through the steps with you” The boy suggested, smiling at Jimin. The shorter male swallowed hard and returned the smile.

“O-oh. That's nice. Thank you.”

“I'm Dongha, by the way, in case you don't remember” He introduced himself once more and frankly, Jimin had actually forgotten his name. The taller boy held out his hand and Jimin glanced at it for a moment before putting his smaller one in his and shaking his hand.

“Jimin” The orange haired one smiled.

“Jimin” Dongha echoed, smirking as the name rolled of his tongue. “Cute name fitting for a cute boy”

The smaller one blushed at the words and pulled his hand away, averting his gaze while he smiled shyly. His heart started to beat a little faster. Was this flirting? Was Taehyung right? Jimin genuinely had no idea what was happening right now. Honestly, he just figured that the brown haired boy was being nice to him, but the way he was staring at him made him think otherwise. There was something glistening in his eyes and the tone of his voice was rather suggestive.

“Adorable” Dongha snickered and Jimin locked eyes with him again. “Let me know whenever you want to meet so I can help you with the steps or... for whatever other reason” The taller boy winked at him before he turned around and exited the room, leaving behind a rather baffled Jimin.

“What did he say?” Taehyung was suddenly there, right up in his face and bouncing up and down excitedly, startling the smaller boy.
“He just complimented the control I have over my body and offered to help me whenever I'm in need of help to learn the steps or... or for any other reason”

The blond boy smiled brightly and swatted his arm. “See, I told you he was flirting with you. What else did he say?”

“Nothing.” Jimin answered and shrugged his shoulders, “Just that my name was cute and fitting for... for a cute boy”

“Oh my god, this is getting better and better.” His best friend grinned and clapped his hands together. “You basically have a date now, Minnie”

Jimin rolled his eyes at the taller one, “I do not have a date now. He only offered me his help. That's not a date”

“It could be. He was definitely suggesting that it could be. Jimin-ah, come on, he was flirting with you. He has interest in you so why don't you see where this could go? Even if it only ends up being a friendship. It could very well be something more as he definitely is attracted to you. I saw his face. He didn't take away his eyes from you for even one second. Unless, of course, you are not interested at all. He is hot, though, isn't he? And he seems nice” The blond one reasoned.

The smaller boy caught his bottom lip between his teeth, contemplating. “Well, he is attractive, but I don't even know him so I can't really say whether I'm interested. He did seem nice so far, too, so... so I don't know. If I need help, I might ask him about his offer”

His best friend smirked smugly, nodding at the words, “Sounds perfect”

-------

Where are you? - Jimin

The small boy caught his bottom lip between his teeth as he looked up from his phone to glance at the closed front door to Jungkook’s apartment. He had been waiting for some minutes now, ringing the bell and knocking repeatedly, yet there was no answer. Jimin assumed that he wasn't home because even if he was on the phone or doing something else at home he must have heard the knocks or at least the bell ring?

Maybe he had forgotten about their meet up? A small part in his brain brought that fear up, making him feel insecure.

Suddenly, the elevator doors opened, revealing a Jungkook that was a little out of breath as he approached Jimin.

“Sorry, Jimin-ssi. I got caught up during work and then was stuck in traffic on my way here” He apologised as he opened the door, Jimin seeing now for the first time that you had to open it with a password lock next to the door, “I thought I would still make it on time. I hope you didn't wait too long.”

They entered the apartment and Jungkook shut the door close. “No, it's fine. Don't worry. I understand” The shorter male assured and gave a faint smile, taking his shoes off.

“Is it okay for you to wait a little longer?” The black haired boy wanted to know as he signaled Jimin to follow him upstairs, “I need to take a shower”

Jimin nodded, even though he had the urge to say that Jungkook didn't even smell bad, in fact, his cologne was already filling Jimin's senses again, making him dizzy. There was just something about his smell that affected Jimin in a way he couldn't explain. The mixture of his cologne and something that he could only describe as Jungkook caused his heart to beat faster and filled him with warmth. Frankly, the small boy had no idea why, assumed that the reason was that he associated the smell with Jungkook and... - No, that wasn't the reason. Jimin shook his head, not wanting to continue that thought.

“It's fine. I'll wait” The orange haired boy assured as they entered the bedroom, Jungkook dropping his bag on the floor and approaching the bathroom while opening his tie.

“If you want to start already, go ahead. Lube is in the top drawer of the nightstand” Jungkook let him know, slight smirk on his face as he pointed to the nightstand.

The shorter boy blushed and averted his gaze, nodding slightly. “I-I'll just wait”

“I won't take long” The taller one promised as he entered the bathroom, water being turned on a moment later.

Jimin's blush deepened as he realised that Jungkook hadn't even shut the door close, was in there now, taking his clothes off and stepping into the shower, water running down his strong body. The smaller male swallowed hard as he sat down on the bed, drawing his legs together as he felt his penis twitch. Swiftly, he shook his head. He shouldn't think about that.

He fell back down on his back, gently landing on the soft bedsheets as he stared up at the ceiling. Shutting his eyes, he let out a content sigh, stretching his arms out next to his petite body.

Possibilities of what they could do today were running through his head, yet always coming back to the image that Taehyung had planted inside of his mind. Honestly, he should tell his best friend to stop talking about his sex life and suggesting things, planting these ideas in the smaller boy's mind where he couldn't stop them!

Frankly, Jimin had never imagined or thought about things like this before meeting Jungkook. Certainly, he had thought about having sex before, but there had never been a person he had imagined himself to do that with. Jungkook was illuminating that side in him, made him crave and long for his touch, made him want to do all of these things with the taller one.

Unconsciously, he placed his hands above his head and put one wrist above the other, imagining to be tied up like this. A soft breath escaped his lips as he imagined Jungkook to kiss him slowly, trailing kisses down his body – everywhere on his skin, sucking and nibbling lightly every now and then. Jimin let out a whimper as he then imagined Jungkook to thrust into him, fast pace as Jimin would just lie there and take it.

“Jungkook-ah” The orange haired boy mewled as he felt his penis harden, drawing his legs together. Involuntarily, he moved his hand down to his crotch area, slipping it inside of his pants and closing it around his erection. His body twitched at the touch, whine escaping him as he ran his thumb over the slit.

The now aroused boy totally forgot about his surroundings, that he wasn't alone, that he was in Jungkook's bed and said boy would walk in any second now.

While playing with himself and being so caught up in his dreams, Jimin didn't even hear the water being turned off, didn't even notice Jungkook walk back inside the room.

“J-Jungkook-ah” The older one whimpered and arched his back, hips bucking up into the touch. It was frustrating how touching himself never felt as good as when jungkook touched him.

“Mhm, I thought you wanted to wait, baby?” Jimin suddenly heard a voice say, startling him as he pulled his hand out of his pants, sitting up immediately and blushing.

“I-I..” He glanced at the taller boy who was approaching him, only having a towel wrapped around his waist, eyes darkened as he wet his lips.

“What were you thinking about?” The black haired boy wanted to know, voice low as his fresh smell filled Jimin's nostrils, eyes fluttering shut when he felt Jungkook's soft hand grab his chin gently.

“Y-You” The shy boy admitted, voice quiet and soft.

The taller boy hummed as he ran his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip. “What was I doing to you, hmm?”

Jimin swallowed hard as a shaky breath left his mouth. Nervously, he locked eyes with the other male, not able to say the words.

“You can trust me, remember? I won't judge you, whatever it is. This is a safe place for you, Jimin-ah.”

“I... I was... My hands were tied up and you were... touching me. Everywhere.” His voice had become quieter with each word, blush deepening.

For a moment, Jungkook did look a bit taken aback – even though Jimin might just have interpreted that wrongly - but was back to his attentive expression a second later. Instead, there was lust flashing in his eyes now as they darkened, hinting at him liking that thought as well.

Jimin's heart skipped a beat, then beating faster against his chest. Honestly, it did take a lot of trust to do something like this as Jimin was going to be tied up, essentially- no, definitely not able to move his hands and Jungkook would be able to do whatever he wanted to the smaller boy. Was he ready for that? It was a step further, needed a little more trust, yet Jimin found himself trusting the younger one so much at this point that the fear vanished as he locked eyes with the taller boy.

Jungkook glanced at his lips, but then up again at his eyes. “I understand. It does take some trust to let someone tie your hands up and being at their mercy. In your head those things always sound hot and good, but realising them can be a little scary.” The younger boy stated, voice softer again, “I would never do anything to hurt you, though. If there is any moment you want to stop, you just use your safe word and I will immediately free you and make sure you are alright.”

The smaller boy let out a shaky breath. Taehyung had made it sound like such a good idea, such an incredible feeling to just being able to lie there and feel, feel all of the other person and only being able to focus on them solely, invading all of their senses.

“I-I want to try it, please” He eventually uttered, locking eyes with the other one again.

“R-Red for stop, yellow for pause and green for g-go” The shy boy recited and Jungkook hummed before disappearing in the bathroom.

The orange haired boy just stood there, not knowing what he was supposed to do so he just waited. It only took a moment for Jungkook to reappear, now dressed in a pair of briefs and holding something in his hand that looked like a tie to Jimin.

“Only your hands, right?” He wanted to make sure as he stillled in front of Jimin, hand softly pressed against his cheek causing Jimin to unconsciously nuzzle against the touch.

“Yes, only my hands” The older boy nodded as Jungkook grabbed the hem of his shirt, Jimin gasping and biting down on his lip.

“Okay?”

Jimin gave a faint nod as the black haired one leaned down to press his soft lips against his own, kissing him gently which made the smaller boy's eyes flutter shut as he clenched his hands into little fists, welcoming the soft kiss – longing for it.

Slowly, Jungkook pulled up the shirt and broke the kiss to pull it off completely, dropping it to the floor before capturing Jimin's lips in another kiss. Jimin wrapped his arms around Jungkook's neck and got up on his tippy toes to be able to move his lips against the other one's better as Jungkook started opening his pants, pulling them down slowly. Breaking the kiss again, the taller one pulled down the pants to his ankles so Jimin could step out of them, leaning on the younger boy as not to fall over.

Jungkook grabbed his hips gently and attached his lips to Jimin's once more as he moved them back, the smaller boy hitting against the bed and falling back down, pulling Jungkook with him. The black haired boy quickly placed his hands next to Jimin's head as to not crush the smaller one, pushing himself up to stand back up.

“Any specific way you want it?” The younger boy asked as he gripped Jimin by the hips and pulled him up with ease to place him down softly on the bed, head now landing on the pillows.

“L-Like this” He stuttered softly and placed one wrist above the other while Jungkook grabbed the tie. Then, the taller boy got back on the bed and spread Jimin's legs to sit on his knees inbetween them.

“Colour?” Jungkook wanted to make sure as he arched up an eyebrow while pulling the tie around his wrists.

“Too tight? Does it hurt?”

Jimin pulled against it, not able to move his hands much. His heart started beating faster at the realisation, yet anticipation blooming inside of him. “I-It's okay” He assured, voice quiet and soft as Jungkook's eyes darkened.

“Whenever I do something you don't like or that makes you feel uncomfortable, you use your safe words immediately, understood?”

The small boy nodded slightly, biting down on his lips as Jungkook pulled on his briefs without a warning. Jimin yelped at the touch, watching the younger one toss them to the floor as he grabbed his tied up hands and placed them above his head.
“These are going to stay here, okay? No touching yourself.”

The nervous boy gave a small nod.

Jimin cleared his throat. “O-Okay, I won't touch myself”

“Good boy” Jungkook smirked, the orange haired boy whimpering as his penis twitched. He felt his breathing become more uneven, too excited and nervous for what was going to happen. The shorter male was lying there, fully naked and exposed while his hands were tied above his head. He was fully at Jungkook's mercy, just lying there for him to do whatever he wanted to him.

Frankly, thinking about their first lesson, this was a huge difference. Back then, even though Jimin had been able to touch himself while Jungkook was looking at him, it was only due to the fact that the taller one had been sitting behind him and Jimin forgetting or blurring out once in a while that Jungkook was watching him. Since then a lot of time had passed and he had made some progress in feeling more comfortable. The older one had never imagined to do something like this and not feel uncomfortable. Certainly, he was a little nervous and slightly embarrassed, yet there was no discomfort about it, rather excitement and slight arousal.

“Did you play with yourself earlier on purpose?” Jungkook wanted to know as he closed his hand around Jimin's erection, squeezing it lightly and the stroking his hand up and down teasingly, “Wanted me to catch you touch yourself like that, hmm? How often have you played with yourself since last time?”

Jimin's body twitched at the sudden touch, soft pant escaping his parted lips as he arched his back. “I-I don't like to touch myself without you” He admitted as Jungkook ran his thumb over the slit, causing Jimin to whine high pitched and buck his hips up.

“Stay down” The taller boy ordered and pushed his hips down again, Jimin whining, yet obeying. “Why don't you like playing with your little dick without me?”

“N-Not the same. Doesn't feel that good”

Jungkook hummed as he leaned over to open the top drawer of the nightstand, picking out a bottle of lube. “Only I can make you feel this good, can't I?” The younger one muttered as he let go of Jimin's hard length, letting it drop back on his stomach. “Answer me, kitten”

The smaller boy gasped at the pet name, eyes fluttering shut. It was really hard not to pull his hands down and just touch himself. Jimin clenched his hands into little fists as he bucked up his hips, asking to be touched again.

“What did I say, baby? Stay down. Stop moving” Jungkook scolded and pushed his hips down firmly, causing Jimin to whine.

“Jungkook-ah, please, more, yes, only you can make me feel this good”

The black haired boy grabbed his ankles and pushed them back so Jimin would bend his knees. Then he spread his legs further before pulling his hips up slightly to expose the tight pink hole of the smaller boy.

“If you are good, I'll touch you, easy as that. Understood?”

Jimin nodded quickly. “Y-Yes” He then answered swiftly as gestures hadn't seemed to be enough this far, Jungkook telling him to use his voice every time he only nodded.

It was a little different from how Jungkook was usually treating him during anything sexual they had done. Of course, he had always had the control and somewhat told him what to do, but this was different. Jimin couldn't really explain it, just knew that it somehow aroused him even though it made him more desperate all the same.

Suddenly, there was a wet finger against his entrance, causing Jimin to gasp and his body to twitch. The older boy had been so caught up in his thoughts that he hadn't realised what Jungkook had been doing.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin moaned high pitched as Jungkook pushed his index finger inside of the smaller boy's hole. It was a slow pace at first the boy moved his finger in and out, but he increased his pace quickly and moved his finger around to stretch Jimin's hole. The smaller boy's eyes fluttered shut as he bit down on his bottom lip.

“Open your pretty eyes for me, kitten”

Whimpering, Jimin obeyed and opened his eyes, staring directly at the other male as said boy pushed another finger inside of his hole. A silent scream left him at the fullness and he grasped the pillow with his fists, clutching onto it.

“Oh, oh, Jungkoo-ah!” The small boy cried out as he felt Jungkook’s fingers press directly at his prostate, stimulating him in an intense way. Unconsciously, Jimin moved his hips against the touch, longing for more.

“Kitten, what did I ask you to do?” Jungkook asked, voice stern as he halted his motion.

“S-Sorry” Jimin apologised genuinely, voice soft as he still his movement and locked eyes with the taller one, “Won't do it again”

“If you keep disobeying, I'll have to punish you, baby” The younger boy warned as he rubbed against Jimin's prostate again, drawing out those cute little whimpers from the boy.

Jimin was trying his hardest not to move, to lie there completely still and only focus on the feeling of Jungkook touching him. However, all he wanted to do was touch Jungkook, too, was to move his hips against Jungkook's fingers in order for them to reach deeper, but he just wasn't allowed to and he wanted to be a good boy for Jungkook.

The taller man was rubbing against his prostate in firm circle motions while wrapping his other hand around the head of Jimin's erection, squeezing hard to see some pre-cum leak out.

“Ah, ah, Jungkook-ah” The older boy whimpered and his body started to shake due to the intense stimulation on his prostate. The taller boy just didn't stop, kept going in the same pace for a while, several long minutes, everything just became so overwhelming. Involuntarily, he bucked his hips up against Jungkook's hand, while simultaneously trying to get away from his other hand.

Suddenly, Jungkook stilled.

“Baby, you have disobeyed me repeatedly now. I thought you were my good boy, hmm? Good boys don't behave like this. You were very bad and bad boys need to get punished” The taller one sighed, disappointment visible in his voice.

“I'm sorry” Jimin sniffed, hurt by Jungkook's words as he had not wanted to disobey him. He wanted to be a good boy for the taller one, but it was just very difficult, all those sensations on his body just a little too much and frankly, overwhelming him.

The younger man lifted him up and made him sit up before sitting down at the edge of the bed himself. “Come here”

Hesitating, Jimin only looked at the taller one for a moment, feeling so bad as the disappointment in Jungkook's voice echoed inside of his head. Eventually, he crawled over to the taller boy and was gripped by his hips again.

“I'm going to punish you now, kitten” Jungkook told him sternly as he manhandled Jimin over his lap on his stomach, ass up in the air. “That's what happens to naughty boys like you.”

Jimin's heart sank as he felt his body shake, vision becoming blurry and only realising a moment later that tears had swelled up in his eyes.

“I'm going to spank you now, baby.” The taller one informed him as he placed his warm hand on Jimin's left butt cheek gently, squeezing softly.

The smaller boy clenched his hands into little fists and his bottom lip started to wobble as he continued to think about how disappointed Jungkook was by him. He really had tried to be good and obey, but his body just didn't want to listen to his brain! It really wasn't his fault. Tears were streaming down his face.

“You are going to count for me, okay?”

The orange haired boy across his lap didn't answer.

“Answer me, kitten” The younger boy ordered and tapped against his buttcheek lightly with his index and ring finger.

There was silence for a moment.

He didn't want Jungkook to be even more disappointed in him.

“G-Green” The small boy lied, shaky breath leaving his parted lips as more tears streamed down his face.

Silence for a moment.

“Baby, don't lie to me. Tell me your real colour. I have told you that you can stop whenever you want. I won't ever be mad at you for that”

Swallowing, he squeezed his eyes shut, “Y-Yellow” He sobbed.

Softly, Jungkook gripped him by the hips and lifted him up, turning him around so the little boy would straddle his lap. As he saw the tear drenched face of the smaller boy and heard the hiccups and sobs that were muffled by Jimin pressing his face into the bedsheets before, something pang in his chest.

“Hey, hey, little one” He uttered softly and grabbed Jimin's face with both hands gently, wiping away the tears and stroking his thumb over his cheeks fondly, “What did I do wrong? Please, tell me, I'm so sorry, but I need you to tell me what it is so I can make it better” The younger boy whispered.
“I-I don't w-want t-to d-disappoint you. I'm s-sorry for moving” The smaller boy on his lap sobbed, hiccupps not stopping.

“Jimin-ah, listen to me, I'm not actually disappointed in you. I would never be disappointed in you, especially not because of something like this. You were so good for me, such a good boy” The taller boy assured and pressed his lips against Jimin's forehead, then kissing away his tears.

“W-Why am I punished then?” Jimin sniffed and kept on hiccupping, tears still streaming down his face.

“Shit, little one, please don’t cry. I hate seeing you cry like this. I'm sorry, so sorry. When you asked me to tie your hands up, I assumed you wanted me to be a little rougher. As you mentioned a BDSM element, I thought you were somewhat familiar with it and had read or heard about it. I'm so sorry.” The black haired boy apologised genuinely, nudging his nose against Jimin's cheek before placing a soft peck on his cheek. “I'm not disappointed in you, Jimin-ah. This was... a role. Remember how we talked about you being a little different in bed than you are usually? Essentially, this is like that. Let me explain it a little more, but let's get you some aftercare first”

Jungkook grabbed a blanket and wrapped it around the smaller boy, opening the tie around his wrists and dropping it on the bed next to them before lifting Jimin up and lying him down on the bed, curled up in the blanket and head landing on the soft pillow. The younger boy joined him on the bed and laid down next to him, Jimin immediataly rolling onto his side and wrapping and arm around Jungkook's stomach, head nuzzling in the curve of his neck. The smaller boy was needy for cuddles right now, for any soft touch essentially.

The taller man caressed his back softly, feeling so sorry for having caused Jimin to use a safeword. Even if it wasn't red just yet, he had still done something that hurt the smaller boy or made him uncomfortable in the least. It also worried him how desperately Jimin wanted to please, to be good that he didn't want to use the safeword, presumably thinking that he would disappoint the younger boy. There was a pang in his chest again.

“Jimin-ah, there is something called BDSM. Do you know what that is? We have briefly talked about it before. Do you remember that?”

The orange haired boy furrowed his eyebrows as he tried to remember. Wasn't that in the context of aftercare? He could faintly remember Jungkook explaining how it was mostly used in BDSM. Also, he had talked about a 'scene' when he had mentioned these topics to him. However, Jimin still didn't know what that was.

“Oh-hh-hh-ke. W-well, t-this might be a lITTLE much and I honestly hadn't planned to initiate this or talk about this with you just yet, b-but rather wanted to wait a little longer. H-h-h-however, w-w-when you requested to be tied up, I assumed you know about it. I g-guess, I was w-wrong. You d-d-don't know w-what that i-is, d-do you?”

He shook his head as Jungkook wet his lips, Jimin's eyes following the motion.

“Alright. Well, BDSM is a variety of sexual practices and roleplaying. It involves bondage – as in tying someone up for example – discipline, dominance, submission, sadism and masochism. I know these are a lot of new terms and it's probably overwhelming you a little to hear and learn all of this now, but we won't get into those words just yet. I j-just wanted you to know what that is. Essentially, I had assumed – as you mentioned an element of BDSM – that you are somewhat familiar with and had wanted to try it out. Y-you see, spanking can be part of discipline and as we had mentioned spanking before and set it as one of your soft limits, I wanted to push you to your limit and see whether or not you would like it. I figured that was what you had wanted to initiate with asking me to be tied up, but I have misunderstood you. I'm so sorry, little one”

Jimin lifted his head and locked eyes with Jungkook, seeing how there was sincerity behind his eyes pulled on his heart strings. The taller boy looked actually apologetic and concerned, like he feared that he had hurt the smaller boy.

“It's okay, Jungkook-ah.” He assured and pressed a peck against his cheek. “I was just very sad because I thought you were serious and were disappointed in me. I didn't know that you didn't really mean that. It's still a little confusing if I'm being honest”

“I have mentioned how you can be different during sex than how you are usually, that's mostly natural for everyone. However, roleplaying – especially in BDSM – is a little different than that. Those things involve a lot of trust and should not be treated lightly. Safewords, limits and aftercare are very important. Essentially, anything involving BDSM happens in a scene, so the activity – not necessarily only sexual – happens during that scene. You could say you take on a role during that time because the way the dominant part treats the submissive part in the scene and the whole dynamic is not how they treat each other outside of the scene and that is not necessarily the dynamic of their relationship– at least that's not supposed to happen. Outside of that scene, both are equal and the submissive person might not be that submissive after all during their everyday life. During that scene, many other elements can be involved, like spanking for discipline or bondage. You see, there are many possibilities. I was the dominant part who takes the lead and the control right now and you were the more submissive part who obeys essentially, wants to please and rather enjoys to be taken care of. However, the way I treated you just now was part of a role, a scene. I would never treat you like this outside and I'm not actually disappointed in you. Do you understand what I'm trying to say?” He continued to explain.

Jimin tried to process all of that information, a little overwhelmed as he felt like he was introduced to a whole new world he hadn't even known existed. Who would have thought that there is so much to sex? All these terms and kinks where a little much for him, barely able to fathom all of that information.

“I-I think I do. I didn't know that tying your hands up belong to that kind of... huge world”

Jungkook smiled slightly. “There are many, many things people like during sex, you would be surprised. Bondage is an element of BDSM, but you don't necessarily have to do everything that is involved in BDSM. If you only like to try bondage then we can do that without any of the other stuff. It doesn't have to happen during a scene either. You just let me know what you want and how you want me to treat you”

“I didn't-... I liked how you treated me at first. I don't know why, but I like when you tell me what to do” The smaller boy admitted, not able to lock eyes with the other as he hid his face against Jungkook’s chest. “I just didn't like you being disappointed in me, but I think I understand now how that was only a dominant role and you didn't actually mean it”

“Yes, I'm a little more dominant by nature and you are a little more submissive by nature so we kind of fall naturally in those roles, even if it's not during scenes, but anything sexual we do, we have both indicated signs of those roles as it comes somewhat natural to us”

That was true. Jungkook had treated him a little more dominant right from the start, had taken the lead and guided him, somehow controlled the situation. He had never forced Jimin to do anything, but the boy himself had fallen naturally into that role of obeying him, liking when Jungkook told him what to do and had been ready to please.
“However, even if we include elements of BDSM, we don't have to do that during scenes, yet I would suggest us to discuss beforehand how you want to be treated and what your hard limits are when we do anything sexual again. Is that okay?”

The smaller boy nodded as he placed his chin on Jungkook's chest to lock eyes with the other male. The black haired one lifted his hand and brushed Jimin's hair out of his face, said boy's eyes fluttering shut as the other one caressed his cheek.

Warmth spread in Jimin's chest at the pet name, heart beating a little faster. As the orange haired boy opened his eyes to look at the other male, his heart sank as he saw the genuine concern and maybe even guilt glistening in Jungkook's eyes.

“I never meant to do that. I'm so sorry for misunderstanding your wish and getting carried away. I feel horrible for letting that happen as that never was my intention. I just want you to learn and feel good.”

His words pulled on Jimin's heart strings, especially as his expression gave away how he felt as well. “Not physically. It did... it did hurt emotionally. I guess, I fell into the submissive role you explained and I just wanted to do well and be good and... and when you told me I wasn't good that hurt me” The shorter male revealed, finally understanding the part about roles. Certainly, he was reserved and shy by nature and maybe even a little submissive sometimes, but the way he felt during sex, the way he behaved when he was aroused was still a little different from his usual persona. Frankly, during those times, the arousal took over and guided Jimin's actions. He fell into a more submissive role, not able to think straight and only really able to listen to Jungkook's voice and follow his lead. It finally all made sense to the smaller boy why he behaved the way he did during their sexual encounters and why it was okay that his behaviour then was a more extreme form from his usual behaviour. “I know now that you didn't actually mean that, though”

Jungkook, on the other hand, was strong, confident and a little more dominant by nature. The orange haired boy now understood that when he was aroused, he fell into a more dominant role. Essentially, his dominant side increased during their sexual encounters. Both of them fell into those roles quite naturally during their lessons without really realising it.

“Jimin-ah, why didn't you use your safe word when I asked you?” The taller boy interrupted his thoughts, Jimin staring at him again.

“I...” He hesitated, “I didn't want to disappoint you even more” The shorter male mumbled and averted his gaze.

“I...” Jungkook sighed and grabbed his chin softly, forcing him to lock eyes with the other one. “Please use them whenever you really need them. I understand that sometimes you want to push yourself to your limits, many people do that, but you evidently were hurt and didn't have any enjoyment during that time and as soon as you feel even slightly uncomfortable or don't like something I do, you can- no, you have to use them, okay? I don't want this to happen again where I'm so close to crossing a major limit of yours.”

Jimin bit down on his lip, feeling guilty for not having used it immediately when he should have. “I'm sorry” He whispered.

“No need to apologise. I'm not mad. I know this is all fairly new to you, I just want you to remember this. This is important, okay? Don't ever think you can't use them. I'll always ask you about your colour throughout, but even when I don't ask, you can use them, okay, little one?”
The smaller boy gave a nod and placed his head down against Jungkook's chest again, feeling his even heartbeat. “Okay” He whispered.

Then, Jimin sat up a little and swung a leg over Jungkook's waist, straddling the taller one. Jungkook looked up at him with raised eyebrows as the orange haired boy pulled the blanket that Jungkook had wrapped around him earlier over both of them as he laid down on the younger one, placing his head on Jungkook’s chest once more.

Jungkook wrapped his arms around the boy on top of him, tracing his fingertips over Jimin's back gently where goosebumps formed immediately. The shorter male shut his eyes close, the touch being so soothing and comforting, making him all sleepy. He needed this right now. Even though he had calmed down a little already, understanding that Jungkook wasn't actually mad or disappointed in him, it had still all been a little much for the smaller one.

Carefully, Jimin lifted his delicate hand and brushed it through Jungkook's hair, the taller one halting his own motion as Jimin started to play softly with his hair. Jungkook tensed a little, causing Jimin to think that he had crossed a line.

Jimin continued playing with Jungkook's hair gently, scratching at his scalp softly every now and then while the other one continued caressing his back.

“Can we try again next time?” Jimin asked after a long moment of silence and just their soft breathing while they continued cuddling.

“What exactly?”

“Ohm... well, tying my hands together?”

“Oh, I thought we would cross that off the list, but of course.” Jungkook assured as they locked eyes.

“No, I liked that part. It's just... difficult not to move.”

“There are other possibilities that would restrict you even more. Tying your hands behind your back or even tying your hands to the bed. They are a bit more extreme as you really cannot move your arms at all then so I understand if you don't want to try that just yet – or ever. However, they are possibilities.” The taller one explained, Jimin swallowing.

His hands being tied to the bed? That was even more scarier as he really would not be able to move them then at all. Then again, somehow that thought excited him a little bit.

“W-We could try... I don't know much about bondage, but... but I would like to learn” The shorter boy revealed, voice soft and shy. There was just something about this that excited him. He couldn't really describe it, didn't fully fathom it himself. Frankly, he just really wanted to see what that felt like- to just be able to feel and focus solely on Jungkook and whatever he wanted to do to him.

The younger one's eyes darkened a little as he nodded. “Okay, we can do that, of course. You really like the idea of being tied up, hmm?”

Jimin blushed at his words, nodding faintly. “I-I don't know why... Taehyung told me about it and about how good it felt and earlier it really did, but I want to try it more. I just want to... want you to do whatever you want to me while I can only lie there and feel what you give me”
The taller boy swallowed, cursing under his breath. “Jimin-ah, don't say that. I won't be able to hold myself back if you let me do whatever I want to you” Jungkook muttered, lifting his hand and placing it against Jimin's cheek softly, said boy nuzzling against the touch as Jungkook ran his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip.

“That's what I want to try, please” Jimin uttered softly and wet his lip, tongue touching Jungkook's thumb in the process. Said boys eyes glanced down at his full lips, so pink and plump and inviting.

“Okay, we'll do whatever you want” Jungkook voiced quietly while nodding and dropped his hand again, placing it on Jimin's back to continue to caress him there.

The smaller one laid his head against Jungkook's chest again and let out a soft breath as the other one's hand trailed down his back, slowly stroking over his butt. Unconsciously, Jimin moved back against the touch, asking for more.

“Is this okay?” Jungkook wanted to ensure, not entirely sure how Jimin felt about being touched like this right now.

Jimin hummed and nodded before Jungkook squeezed his right buttock slightly. Involuntarily, the smaller one rocked his hips forward, his semi hard penis brushing against Jungkook's stomach and creating some friction that caused him to gasp.

“You're still a little hard, hmm? Want me to help you get rid of that, little one?”

The older one definitely loved that pet name, warmth filling his chest every time he heard it. He nodded as he slowly rocked his hips forward.

“Can I play with your little hole, kitten?”

Gasping at the question, Jimin nodded again as Jungkook grabbed the lube. A moment later, Jimin heard the bottle be opened, the other one presumably squirting some lube on his fingers now.

“Jungkook-ah” He whimpered and hid his face in the curve of said boy's neck as Jungkook had pulled one buttock to the side and was now circling his entrance with three wet fingers.

“Won't tease you” The taller one promised and pushed all three fingers inside of his hole carefully and slowly, all of them slipping inside with a loud squealch, yet fitting immediately as Jungkook had played with his hole earlier already.

The older one clenched his hands into little fists and squeezed his eyes shut while his hips moved back against the touch, little whimpers leaving his soft lips.

“Good?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded as Jungkook pulled his fingers out just to push them back inside a moment later, causing Jimin's body to rock forward and his penis to brush against Jungkook's stomach again. “Jungkook-ah” The shorter male moaned and bit down on his bottom lip.

It didn't take long for Jungkook to find his prostate, yet he didn't rub on it as firmly and roughly as usual, but was a little gentler with his touch. In fact, there wasn't any roughness to his touch at all. It was slow and soft, his fingers moving quite lazily, yet skillful in all the right places.

Actually, all of this was rather soft. Jungkook was tracing his finger tips over Jimin's back gently while fingering his hole, whispering how good he was. Jimin loved how sensual and kind of... well, yes, pure it was. Despite this still being something sexual, the smaller boy felt so soft, all of this was rather soothing and kind of gentle, very intimate.

Don't get him wrong. Jimin loved the way Jungkook usually treated him, too, loved when he was a little rougher like when he had taken him up against a wall or how he had treated him earlier. He loved and enjoyed all of that as well, but there was just something about this... being so sensual and soft that it warmed his heart as Jungkook thrust his fingers inside of his hole gently.

“Such a good boy, kitten, so good for me” He whispered and pressed a kiss against his temple, the smaller boy's body starting to shake as he felt himself come closer to the edge.

Honestly, he felt like crying at the softness of it all. Loved how he felt so small and taken care of. The older one realised that maybe that was a reason why he liked so many things he did during sex. He had a strength kink because he loved how much bigger Jungkook was and that he could take care of him. It was similar with why he wanted to be tied up- because Jungkook would take care of him and make him feel so small. Frankly, he didn't know why he liked feeling small and taken care of, he just did. He loved this feeling. Loved being praised and being looked after.

It didn't take much longer of Jungkook pressing his fingers against Jimin's prostate until the smaller boy felt his orgasm approach him.

“Jungkook-ah” He mewled and rocked his hips forward slowly, “I-I'm close, please”

“Go on, little one, come for me” Jungkook whispered and rubbed against his prostate fast, but gently as Jimin bit down on the taller one's shoulder, his own body trembling from the stimulation as he felt that overwhelming feeling burst inside of him, coming hard.

“Jungkook, Jungkook-ah” Jimin whimpered and kept rocking his hips back and forth, Jungkook continuing to thrust his fingers in and out of his hole to prolong his orgasm.

“So good, baby, came so good for me” The taller boy praised and slowed his pace, Jimin collapsing against him, breathing heavily.

“H-Hurts” The shorter male whispered so Jungkook pulled out his fingers carefully, circling his rim one last time before pulling his hand away and stroking his buttcheek with his other hand softly.

“There you go, did so well, kitten”

Jimin was floating again, felt so relaxed and calm. His body was still shaking from the aftershock, eyes fluttering shut as he became sleepy.

“Did that feel good?”

The orange haired boy nodded quickly.

“I like when you take care of me and when you make me... feel small. I think I understand now why I like some of the kinks that I like.” He admitted, voice soft.

Jungkook hummed as he traced his fingertips over his back again. He stared down at the boy in his arms, face looking so peaceful and angelic as he had his eyes shut and his soft breaths hit Jungkook's neck.

“Jimin-ah, don't fall asleep” He chuckled.

“m not” The smaller boy mumbled and yawned. “I'm still awake, see”

“Noo” Jimin whined and pushed them down again, clutching onto Jungkook and hiding his face in the curve of his neck. “Cuddles”

“Cuddles after cleaning you up, little one.”

The shorter one pouted as Jungkook sat up, pushing Jimin off of him softly, smiling a little at Jimin's expression before pressing a peck on his forehead. Then, he got up from the bed and walked into bathroom.

Jimin was still a little dizzy, felt like there had been happening so much today. Honestly, today was kind of like a rollercoaster. From all of that intense, rough stimulation at the beginning to him crying to Jungkook and him having an informative conversation to them cuddling to Jungkook making him come in such a soft way. It felt like an eternity had passed when it was only two hours. To be honest, every time they met up time seemed to stop because so much happened between them and it felt like they spend so much time together when it wasn't actually that much time that had passed.

Frankly, they have known each other for a while now – over a month. However, they still barely knew anything about each other. Then again, it was probably better that way. To be fair, there was the rule that said 'no feelings involved' and perhaps it was better if they didn't know more about each other so that would be assured. Then again, were there really no feelings at all? If-

“Uh, yes, thank you”

The other one disappeared again and walked back into the room a moment later, now wearing a black shirt and sweatpants while carrying a fresh pair of briefs and a wet cloth. Jimin rolled onto his side immediataly this time, already knowing the process by now.

Jungkook cleaned him carefully between his buttcheeks, the shorter male hissing at the touch in his sensitive area, and then wiped away the cum on his stomach. Then, he helped Jimin into the fresh pair of briefs before walking into the bathroom to put the cloth away.

The older boy laid back down on the bed and pulled the blanket over himself, hiding beneath the covers. Letting out a content sigh, he shut his eyes close as he started to feel sleepy again.

“Jimin-ah” He heard Jungkook call for him, yet his voice was a little muffled, seemed far away, “Don't fall asleep, little one”

“Won't” The shorter one mumbled as the younger boy pulled up the blanket a little bit to reveal Jimin's head.

“You know you can't stay” Jungkook reminded him, voice soft as he brushed Jimin's hair out of his face.

Pouting a little, he nodded, wanting nothing more than for Jungkook to join him in the bed and cuddle him, holding him so close and caressing his back gently with his warm hands.

“No pouting. You know the rules, little one”

Jungkook let out a sigh, ruffling Jimin's hair slightly before his hand was gone and so was the warmth radiating from him. The older one opened his eyes to catch Jungkook pick up his clothes, placing them on the bed and then picking up his phone.

The shorter one pouted again as he sat up, reaching for his clothes to put them on. As he pulled his shirt over his head, Jungkook was still typing something on his phone. After he was dressed, he sat up on his knees, letting out a sigh.

The taller boy looked up and placed his phone on the nightstand, walking over to Jimin. “No more cuddles?” Jungkook asked and raised an eyebrow.

“No” Jimin sighed and shook his head, “I would just fall asleep if we did that”

“Next time, we'll try again what didn't work out that well today, yes? I'll tie your hands together and we'll go from there, okay? If you change your mind, just let me know”

The older boy swallowed and nodded, cheeks heating up a little bit as Jungkook placed his hand against his cheek and rubbed his thumb over it softly.

“Can you... Will you be like that again?” The smaller boy whispered, voice barely loud enough for Jungkook to register his words, yet he did.

“Like I was when you were tied up? The way I treated you?” Jungkook clarified, eyebrows arched up in a curious manner.

Jimin could only nod, a little embarrassed by the request.

“I can be a little more dominant, if you want that. However, if I go too far, you have to use your safeword, okay? We'll discuss this a little more next time.”

The shorter male gave a small nod, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he felt excitement and anticipation bloom inside of him. Yet, his eyes felt heavy and he clenched his hands into little fists, rubbing over his tired eyes.

“I'm sleepy” He mumbled and Jungkook chuckled, surprising the smaller boy by placing a soft kiss against his forehead.

“Cute” The black haired one whispered, barely loud enough for Jimin to hear. The older one blushed a little and averted his gaze, Jungkook clearing his throat. “Let's go downstairs”

Jimin got up from the bed and followed Jungkook downstairs where he put on his shoes. However, Jungkook did the same, confusing the smaller one.

“Are you leaving, too?”

The orange haired boy only looked at him perplexed, blinking once before snapping out of it and stepping out of the apartment.

“Why?”

“Because you are tired”

Furrowing his eyebrows, Jimin followed Jungkook into the elevator.

“I'm not that tired” He mumbled and shrugged his shoulders, Jungkook looking at him unimpressed as he pressed the button to the ground floor.

“You look like you would fall asleep while standing” The black haired one pointed out as the elevator door closed, locking them inside the small room.

Nervously, Jimin pulled his sleeves over his petite hands, looking down at the floor, eyes still heavy and almost shutting involuntarily.

It was quiet between them. Neither of them said a word, Jimin staring down at the floor, only glancing at Jungkook who was leaning against the wall every now and then, arms crossed over his chest. Maybe Jimin should have told him about his hair, a fluffy mess on top of his head due to Jimin playing with it earlier.

A giggle escaped the smaller boy at the sight, Jungkook locking eyes with him, arching up his eyebrows, “What's so funny?” He asked and smiled a little at the image of Jimin’s face, eyes turned into small crescents and the sweet sound of his giggles escaping his soft lips.

“Your hair”

Jungkook narrowed his eyes and brushed his hand through his hair.

“You still look handsome. Always do” Jimin assured, voice becoming softer with each word, blushing a little as the words had left his mouth.

The taller one only stared at him, studying his features. Jimin quickly averted his gaze, the stare of the other one too intent for the shorter male.

“I-” Jungkook shut up as the bell rang and signaled that they had reached their desired floor. The elevator doors opened and they both stepped outside of it, walking straight to the front door.

The younger boy opened the door and gestured for Jimin to go first, the smaller boy thanking him while exiting the building. A fresh wave of air hit him, wind blowing his hair out of his face as his gaze landed on the black Range Rover that had driven him home last time, as well. Jungkook’s personal driver was already waiting in front of the car, bowing at the sight of the two boys which they both mirrored.

“Goodnight, Jungkook-ah. Thank you for making sure I get home” Jimin thanked him, smiling faintly as he played with the hem of his shirt.

“Goodnight, Jimin-ah.”

They stared at each other for a moment longer, but then Jimin turned around and walked over to the car, Jungkook’s personal driver greeting him while opening the car door for him.

“Thank you” The shorter male uttered as he climbed inside the car, the door being shut close by the personal driver before he walked around the car to sit down in the driver’s seat, turning on the ignition a moment later.

Jimin looked outside the window and saw that Jungkook had already left, the car pulling out of the parking spot and driving away.

Chapter Summary

The group hangs out at Yoongi’s house and things get quite interesting... Later, Jimin and Jungkook try again what didn't work out that well last time.

Chapter Notes

Hi :)

Thank you so much for all the love on the last chapters <3 Your sweet messages and encouragements really motivated me and made me happy, thank you a lot :) <3

I'm really sorry for not having updated in almost a week, but I hope this long chapter makes up for it and you can forgive me <3

Hopefully, you enjoy the chapter :)

See the end of the chapter for more notes.

The orange haired boy lifted his hand and rang the bell next to the broad door. It didn't take long until the door swung open, revealing a smiley Tae behind it, carrying a bowl of popcorn.

“Hey, finally” The taller boy greeted him and stepped to the side in order for Jimin to be able to enter the house, “I was close to texting you”

“Somi had to leave early because she didn't feel so well so I stayed a little longer at work” Jimin explained as Taehyung shut the door close. There were muffled voices coming from the living room, too many for Jimin to register every single one of them and define who they are.

“It's alright. We didn't start the movie yet” His best friend let him know as Jimin took off his shoes, both making their way into the living room after.

The shorter male froze in his place. There was a fort built out of many blankets, pulled over two arm chairs and filled with even more duvets and many many pillows – looking extremely soft and cozy.

“Look who's here” Taehyung called out as he walked over to the blanket fort and sat down in it, placing himself on the soft pillows. Everyone looked up and over to Jimin.

The orange haired boy swallowed hard as he saw the whole group stare at him. They were all there – Yoongi, of course as it was his house, Namjoon, Hoseok, Taehyung, Jungkook and a boy Jimin had never seen before.

“Jimin-ah, we thought you wouldn't make it.” Yoongi grinned.

“Sorry” Jimin apologised and walked over to them, pulling down the sleeves of his hoodie to cover his petite hands, “Had to stay longer at work”

He felt Jungkook glance at him. Eventually, he couldn't fight against the urge and locked eyes with the taller boy, blushing a little under the stare, yet smiling faintly. The black haired boy kept his straight face, Jimin averting his gaze to look at the boy he hadn't met before.

“Hey, I'm Jin” The tall boy introduced himself, brushing his blond hair out of his face as he held out his hand to Jimin. Said boy looked at it for a moment before he placed his own hand in Jin's and shook it.

“Jimin. Nice to meet you”

“You, too” The boy smiled as they let go of each other, “You can call me hyung, if you want to”

The orange haired one nodded and mirrored his smile. Frankly, he didn't really know where Jin knew the others from, but Jimin didn't want to be too nosy right now. Perhaps he would ask them later about how they knew each other as he was curious about that. Jimin was sure that Taehyung hasn't met Jin before either. Maybe it was another of Yoongi's childhood friends.

“True, he did. Yoongi hyung tried as well, but he's not very good at it”

“Yah, stop insulting me now. You have been telling me that shit for the last half hour now” Yoongi scolded as they all laughed.

“Can we start the movie now. I don't want to wait any longer” Taehyung muttered impatiently and grabbed the remote control to start the movie.

They were all sitting pretty close to each other, arms touching arms. The blanket fort was big, but they were seven people so there wasn't much room to move around a lot. The order was Namjoon, Yoongi, Jungkook, Taehyung, Jimin, Hoseok and Jin.

“Can someone turn the lights off?” Tae asked as he stuffed some popcorn into his mouth. Jin got up and went over to turn the lights off, room falling dark and only the TV being the sole source of light.

Just as Jin sat back down, Taehyung got up slightly and moved over Jimin, pushing him to the side so he would make room. “What are you doing?” The orange haired boy mumbled as Taehyung pushed him further, causing him to touch arms with Jungkook as his best friend sat down next to Hoseok.

“Want to sit next to hyung” The blond one whispered, Jimin blushing as he was pressed against Jungkook while his best friend tried to get comfortable in his seat, continuing to push Jimin without realising it.

“S-Sorry” He muttered, swallowing as he felt the warmth radiating from the taller boy.

“Nothing to be sorry for” Jungkook assured, yet he didn't look at him, but fixated his gaze on the Hoseok threw his arm around Taehyung’s shoulders and pulled him closer, his best friend placing his head on Hoseok’s shoulder as they watched the movie. However, Jimin couldn't concentrate on the movie for whatever reason. He kept on playing with his sleeves and nibbling on his bottom lip as he tried to focus on something else other than being this close to Jungkook.

Wasn't it weird? He had done way more intimate stuff with Jungkook, but for some reason sitting this close to the taller boy felt... odd? Maybe because it was an encounter and surroundings that were so different from their usual meetings. Frankly, the only time they ever really met or hung out was in Jungkook's apartment, his bedroom to be exact. Those times were different from this one. They had a specific purpose and Jimin knew what it was. Right now, however, he had no idea how to behave. Should he pretend like he didn't really know Jungkook – which was kind of true, as he really did not know much about the boy – or should he act like they are friends, that they are close? He really had no clue. Especially as Yoongi’s presence made him even more nervous, considering that he didn't want the boy to know about him and Jungkook. Ultimately, it was probably better to be cautious and don't give away any signs that they might know each other a little better than the others would assume.

Jungkook's proximity made his heart beat faster. Calm down, Jimin thought and shook his head, this is fine. Yoongi won't find out about anything and you are simply sitting next to Jungkook – nothing will happen.

However, all Jimin could think about were the things the taller boy had done to him in the bedroom and was going to do to him in the future. No one – except Tae – knew about that. None of them had any idea about their little lessons and that they knew each other's bodies and personalities more than they gave away. They thought that the last time they had been in the same room was the diner.

The smaller boy felt like this was all a big secret. His own little secret that only a few collected people knew about. It wasn't anything he had to share with anyone. This was something rather intimate and personal and was no one else's business, yet he couldn't help but feel guilty for not telling Yoongi who was just as important to him as Tae and who had always been there for him. It felt unfair to share all of this with Taehyung, but not say a word about it to Yoongi. It's just that Jimin wasn't ready. He knew that Jungkook and Yoongi's bond went back to their childhood and the smaller boy was a little scared about what Yoongi would say and feel when he knew what Jimin was doing with one of his best friends.

The orange haired one glanced down at his lap, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as the guilt bloomed inside of him. Certainly, he was going to tell Yoongi eventually. Just... not now, not yet.

Suddenly, Jimin's phone rang, startling the smaller boy.

“Who didn't turn his phone off?” Taehyung wanted to know as he narrowed his eyes in anger, yet there was no real heat behind it.

“Sorry” Jimin apologised as he pulled the phone out of his pocket and glanced down at the display. It was only a message that he had received.

“It's just a message from...” The smaller one furrowed his eyebrows, “I don't know. I haven't saved the number”

He clicked on the message.
Hey, it's Dongha. I hope it's okay that I text your privately and not in the group chat :)

“Dongha?” His best friend chuckled and stuffed popcorn in his mouth.

“Dongha? Our Dongha?” Hoseok clarified and arched up an eyebrow.

“Yes, from the dance class” Jimin confirmed and nodded, looking back down on his phone. The dance class had a group chat that the students and Hoseok were all part of, yet Jimin still hadn't saved all of their individual numbers. Why did Dongha text him?

“They're having a date” Taehyung grinned smugly and moved his eyebrows up and down in a suggestive manner.

“It's not a date” The smaller boy quickly replied and shook his head, “He's just being nice”

“Yeah, yeah, right, it's not like he didn't keep checking you out or whatever” His best friend uttered unimpressed and rolled his eyes.

“Dongha?” Hoseok snickered, “I saw him looking at you a couple of times, too. The boy seemed a little distracted”

“See! Oh my god, thank you, hyung, finally! I told you, Jimin-ah, he keeps full on flirting with you” Tae pointed out and locked eyes with him.

“Can we actually watch the movie now?” Yoongi sighed, “It's great to hear about your love life, Jiminie, but I can't understand a single word of the movie”

“Sorry” Jimin mumbled and smiled slightly, “It's not my love life, though.”

The orange haired one shook his head, but smiled all the same as he looked down at his phone.

That's fine :) - Jimin

He texted back eventually. Maybe Dongha just wanted to make sure that Jimin saves his number? Perhaps he wants to text with him or ask him something? He really had no idea.

Jungkook hadn't said another word since then, somehow slightly tensed next to him. The taller one had his gaze fixated on the TV and for some reason Jimin felt like something was off, but he just didn't know what it was.

The night went on rather quietly. There was silence except for the sounds from the TV or the occasional noise of the popcorn moving in the bowl when one of them reached for it. As they were approximately half way through the movie, Taehyung kept moving next to Jimin and caused the smaller boy to be pushed further against Jungkook.

“S-Sorry” He mumbled yet again. This time, the taller boy didn't reply anything, but continued glaring at the TV.

If Jimin didn't know any better he would assume that Jungkook was annoyed or maybe angry.
However, he couldn't find a reason for him to have this sudden mood change. Perhaps the boy just really wanted to focus on the movie.

It was another fifteen minutes later when the taller boy next to Jimin got up. The orange haired one followed him with his eyes and saw him walk into the kitchen. Nibbling on his bottom lip, Jimin looked over at Yoongi and saw that he'd fallen asleep. A sympathetic smile kept up on his face. The older one had texted them about the song Namjoon and him have been working on all night. They had been hit by a sudden wave of inspiration and new ideas just kept on coming that they didn't want to take a break, causing them to work without any rest, not having slept at all. It really didn't surprise him to see Namjoon be asleep as well, mouth wide open as he snored quietly.

Jin was the only one who was actually really paying attention to the movie, the other two next to Jimin cuddling. “Where do you know the group from?” The smaller boy asked quietly, not wanting to wake up the older ones beside him. His curiosity had won eventually.

The blond boy looked over at him and smiled big. “I've known Jungkook-ah for a long while now, some years to be exact. Same with Yoongi-ah and Hoseok-ah. I know them through my work, but only really became friends with them through Jungkook.”

“Work”

The orange haired one's eyes went wide. Work? Was this the moment he was going to find out what it was that Jungkook called his work? Then again, did he want to know? Well, he did. He definitely did, but he wanted it to be Jungkook who told him. It felt wrong to snoop around behind his back and receive the information in this way instead of the man sharing it with Jimin himself.

Jimin looked over to the kitchen, realising that Jungkook still hadn't returned.

Carefully, Jimin got up as well and walked over into the kitchen where he saw Jungkook fill up a cup with water. Nervously, he pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands before he brushed his hair out of his face.

“Hey” Jimin made himself notice and smiled faintly as Jungkook looked up at him.

“Hey” He replied, voice nonchalant as he took a sip from his water.

The air between them felt weird. Jimin didn't like it. It was as if there were unspoken words between them, yet Jimin had no idea what they were.

“Is everything okay?” The smaller boy wanted to know, voice soft and quiet as he went over to take out a glass from the cupboard.

“Sure. Why are you asking?”

“I don't know. I felt... Nevermind” Jimin answered, but didn't continue his thought, shaking his head as he filled the glass with water. “I thought I did something wrong” He eventually mumbled.

“You... behave different. I thought I did something that caused it”

There was silence for a moment. The taller one studied his features, intent stare making Jimin blush as he had to avert his gaze.
“I don’t behave different. I’m usually like this. I was just wondering...” He paused as he tried to look for the right words, “Whether or not you would want to stop our lessons”

“If you are seeing someone and it starts to get serious, I’d assume that you wouldn’t want to continue with... this” Jungkook explained, face still as unreadable as always, yet there was an emotion flashing in his eyes that Jimin couldn’t define.

“It’s not that. I don’t even know him that well. We just know each other through the dance class and he offered me some help. It isn’t... it isn’t like that. I don’t want to stop this” Jimin clarified, face becoming quieter with each word. Why would Jungkook think that? Yes, right, if Jimin was actually going to date someone he would stop this thing he has going of with Jungkook, of course he would, yet there wasn’t anything to stop this for. Dongha was nice, but they weren’t dating, have barely spoken to each other.

They only looked at each other for a moment. However, Jimin had to break eye contact eventually and cleared his throat, becoming way to nervous under Jungkook’s glare.

“I’ll go back” Jimin voiced and walked past Jungkook. Suddenly, said boy gripped his wrist and pulled him back.

“Does he annoy you? His flirting? Does it make you uncomfortable?” The taller boy asked, voice a little lower as he stared down at Jimin, their bodies so close to each other that Jimin could feel his warmth.

The smaller boy swallowed hard. “N-No, he doesn’t even flirt with me” Jimin responded as a shiver ran down his back caused by Jungkook’s stare and his soft touch on Jimin’s wrist. “He’s just nice.”

“Not everyone is just nice. There might be more to it” He warned, Jimin not entirely sure what he meant by that. “If he bothers you, let me know” The black haired one uttered and brushed Jimin’s orange streaks of hair out of his face, fingertips softly touching Jimin’s skin, causing his heart to flutter.

“O-Okay”

For a moment, Jimin was completely distracted and forgot about his surroundings. There was only Jungkook and him, standing this close to each other, feeling each other’s warmth and Jungkook’s touch so gentle on his skin.

“Are you free tomorrow night, Jimin-ah?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded in response.

“Do you want to realise your wish from last time? Hmm? Wanna be tied up?” Jungkook asked, voice a little huskier as he smirked slightly.

The smaller boy almost, just almost, whimpered, yet he was able to hold it back. His stomach twisted and he swallowed hard, blush creeping up on his cheeks as he could only nod.

“Yeah?”

“Y-Yes, please” He breathed, penis twitching at the mere thought about tomorrow night. This wasn’t good. Not good at all. Especially considering where they were: They were in Yoongi's house with all of their friends being in the living room. It definitely was not the right time for this. “I-I should go back” Jimin was able to mumble, trying to suppress the part of his brain that just wanted Jungkook to touch him right now, that didn't want to wait until tomorrow and was already craving and loving for the man in front of him. The shorter male shook his head, no, this had to stop, focus.

Jungkook dropped his hand as Jimin turned around and made his way back into the living room, a little flustered as he sat back down in the blanket fort.

“You alright?” Taehyung mumbled, eyes heavy as he titled his head to the side to be able to look at Jimin.

“Mhm” The boy hummed in response and crossed his arms over his chest, fixating his eyes on the TV to try and think about anything else but Jungkook's touch and what he was going to do to him tomorrow. This was bad. How did he always do that? Why did he have that effect on him?

As if on cue, the black haired boy walked back into the living room and took his seat next to Jimin, who let out a soft breath before catching his bottom lip between his teeth.

“I'm cold” Taehyung whined, voice giving away that he was tired as he snuggled closer to Hoseok. Jungkook reached for a blanket and put it over Taehyung and Hoseok which surprised Jimin and Tae, both boys staring at the taller boy with big shocked eyes, yet he didn't seem to notice. “Thank you” His best friend whispered as he pulled the blanket over him and Hoseok, up to their necks and laid his head on Hoseok's shoulder.

The youngest looked over at Jin and saw that he had fallen asleep as well. In fact, it seemed that him and Jimin were the only ones still fully awake. The movie wasn't that interesting, but it wasn't one you would fall asleep to. Then again, they've all had a very busy day so it came to no one's surprise that they would fall asleep in this comfortable atmosphere.

“Can you put this over Jin hyung” Jungkook requested and handed him a blanket. The smaller boy got up slightly and carefully put the blanket over Jin, trying not to wake the man. As he succeeded, he sat back down and caught Jungkook pulling a blanket over Namjoon and Jin as well. Lastly, he put one blanket over Jimin's lower body.

There were no blankets left except for the ones they were all sitting and lying on. As both of them continued to watch the movie, Jimin put the blanket over Jungkook's lower body as well in order for them to share the duvet.

The taller boy looked at him, eyebrows arched up. “I-I thought you might... you might be cold, too” A smile appeared on Jungkook's face for a moment – Jimin was barely able to catch it as it was dark except for the dimmed lights from the TV, yet he did see it - but it was gone as quickly as it had appeared. “Thank you, Jimin-ah”

It was after some minutes when it happened. Well, nothing really extraordinary happened, but there was a kissing scene in the movie and for some reason, Jimin felt really awkward to watch the passionate scene next to Jungkook. Averting his gaze, the smaller boy cleared his throat.

“Are you embarrassed because of the scene?” Jungkook wanted to know, amusement visible in his “Nooo” Jimin huffed and crossed his arms over his chest. “I'm not”

The younger one chuckled, the sound warming Jimin deep within. “Cute” He whispered.

“Oh? Feisty today, then, yes?” Jungkook commented, “Mhm, we'll see about that tomorrow night, won't we?”

The smaller one almost choked on air, coughing at Jungkook's remark and his blush deepening. Did he just fathom that correctly? He didn't misunderstand the other boy, did he?

“I'm kidding, Jimin-ah” The taller one snickered as he saw Jimin's shocked and somewhat scared expression.

Jimin swallowed hard.

“Oh, but it seems that you like that?”

The shorter boy followed Jungkook's gaze to his own lap, a small tent visible beneath the blanket. _Oh god_. Jimin quickly put his hands over his crotch, cheeks flushing. The mere mention of tomorrow was exciting him. He was way too far gone.

“All these things I'm going to do to you...” Jungkook uttered, voice becoming lower as he leaned closer to Jimin, his breath hitting against Jimin's neck.

The orange haired boy whimpered as he drew his legs together. Frankly, this felt like a dream, like it wasn't actually real. This couldn't be happening. Not here. Not now. In Yoongi's house at that for god's sake!

Jimin's heart started beating fast against his chest, but Jungkook was suddenly gone, had straightened his back and was glaring at the TV again to watch the movie.

The older male almost whimpered again, but bit down on his bottom lip to keep quiet. Jungkook was mean. He knew, he just must know what kind of effect he had on the smaller boy and saying these things, evoking these thoughts in Jimin really didn't help.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin whispered and looked at the taller one with big eyes, “Jungkook-ah” He repeated and tugged on Jungkook's shirt.

“Hm? What is it?” The younger one arched up an eyebrow, amusement glistening in his eyes as he stared at Jimin.

“Please, what? What do you need?”

“Y-You” The smaller boy breathed and closed his eyes.

Jungkook hummed. “Need help with your little problem down there?”

Quickly nodding, Jimin let out a whine as he opened his eyes again. The other one hesitated, seemingly contemplating over something. Then, Jungkook looked at the others again to make sure that they were sleeping. “Come here” He ordered quietly and spread his legs, pointing at the spot
Jimin hesitated, blinking as he stared at where Jungkook was pointing at. Then, he got up slightly and moved over inbetween Jungkook's legs, his back touching Jungkook's stomach and chest, butt close to his crotch area. The taller boy fixed the blanket over both of them before placing his hands on Jimin's stomach.

“Want to touch yourself or-”

“You” Jimin interrupted, Jungkook chuckling slightly at his urgency, the smaller boy feeling his chest vibrate against his back.

“Okay” The younger boy whispered as he lifted Jimin's shirt slightly and rubbed his soft hand over Jimin's stomach gently, fingertips tracing his skin as he moved his hand down to Jimin's pants.

The smaller one gasped as Jungkook opened his pants, pulled down the zipper and placed his head on Jimin's shoulder.

“Get comfortable” Jungkook muttered and Jimin tried to relax, leaning back against Jungkook as he grabbed his thighs gently, chest rising and falling quickly. “This is an exception, okay? I won't touch you outside of the lessons”

The taller boy slipped his hand into Jimin's underwear and grabbed his erection, the shorter one twitching at the touch. “Jungkook-ah” He whimpered as he bucked his hips up.

“Sshh, I got you”

Jungkook started to tug on his penis, moving his hand up and down slowly while squeezing every now and then, causing Jimin's eyes to flutter shut. It was a heavenly feeling to finally be touched by the younger boy. Even though their last meeting hasn't been that long ago, Jimin found himself longing for his touch almost right after he leaves every single time. There was just something about the taller boy that had that effect on him that he couldn't describe, couldn't even understand it himself. Jungkook was just intoxicating. That's how Jimin felt right now. He felt intoxicated.

“So naughty, aren't you? Getting all hard next to your friends” Jungkook murmured in his ear, voice husky and teasing as he sped up his motion, thumb running over the slit to collect some precum.

Jimin whined at his words, hips bucking up as he leaned his head back on Jungkook's shoulder, grabbing his thighs tighter.

“B-Because of you” The older boy whined and bit down on his lip, trying not to be too loud.

“Mhm, got you all worked up, didn't I? Made you think about what I'm gonna do to you tomorrow, didn't I?” The taller one whispered against his ear, smirking against his skin.

“Y-Yes” Jimin whimpered and nodded quickly. “Ah, Jungkook-ah” He moaned as said boy squeezed the head of his hard length, precum leaking out.

“Sshh, baby, you gotta be quiet. Don't want to wake the others, do you?”

The shorter male quickly shook his head. Certainly, he did not want any of them to wake up and hear or see what was going on right now. Honestly, the smaller boy didn't even know what to think about this. He felt naughty for doing this, felt like he shouldn't be doing this, yet he couldn't stop himself. The poor boy was way too aroused and too far gone to stop now.

Jungkook traced his fingertips over Jimin's stomach, up to his chest and suddenly he pinched his nipple, causing the smaller boy to yelp and his body to twitch.

“Sssh, kitten”

Jimin whimpered at the pet name and all of the sensations on his body, Jungkook continuing to jerk him off while now simultaneously playing with his nipple, everything becoming a little overwhelming again.

“J-Jungkook-ah” He cried out, body shaking.

“Aren't you my good boy, baby? Gotta be quiet or you'll wake the others, hm? Do I have to stuff your mouth with something to keep you quiet?”

The older one gasped at the words, penis twitching in Jungkook's hands which made the man chuckle.

“You would like that, wouldn't you? Having your mouth filled with something to keep you quiet, right? My good boy, aren't you?”

“Y-Yes, I'm your good boy” Jimin whispered and nodded, Jungkook cursing behind him as he sped up his movement.

A silent scream left Jimin and he quickly put his hand over his mouth to muffle his sounds, squirming in his seat as Jungkook kept rubbing his thumb over the head of Jimin's hard length while playing with his nipple.

Grabbing Jungkook's thighs harder, Jimin bucked his hips up involuntarily, his body longing for more, moving against the touch of the younger one.

“Such a good boy for me, baby”

Jimin's little whimpers and whines were muffled by his own hand, his head starting to feel dizzy as he felt his orgasm approach. The poor boy couldn't stop squirming in his seat, body wouldn't stop shaking as he breathed heavily through his nose.

He shut his eyes close as the intense feeling overwhelmed him and burst inside of him, running through his whole body. The smaller boy arched his back and kicked his legs as he came all over Jungkook's hand, whimpering his name again and again, yet it was barely audible as it was muffled by his hand.

“There you go” The younger boy whispered and rubbed over his stomach gently as he kept tugging on his penis to prolong his orgasm. Jimin's whole body was trembling due to the stimulation, his eyes rolling back as the sensitivity got too much. “Such a good boy”

The shorter male grasped Jungkook's wrist, signaling that he wanted him to stop. The black haired boy slowed his motion and rubbed his thumb over the slit a last time before pulling his hand out, Jimin's cum visible on his fingers.
Jimin collapsed against Jungkook, breathing heavily as his chest rose and fell quickly. Then, the younger one lifted his fingers up to Jimin's mouth, said boy parting his lips without having to be told, almost subconsciously. Jungkook pushed two of his fingers inside of Jimin's mouth, the smaller boy wrapping his lips around them and twirling his tongue around in order to clean Jungkook's fingers. Frankly, it was weird to taste himself. Then again, he didn't really care, was way too relaxed and content right now.

“Better now?” Jungkook whispered, Jimin only humming as he kept sucking on Jungkook's fingers. The taller boy looked around and checked whether they had woken any of the others. Jimin's cute little whimpers were always welcome to Jungkook, yet maybe it wasn't the best idea to do that in front of all the others. Frankly, he hadn't thought that Jimin would actually want this, right next to his friends. Either he was just way too aroused to care or there was a little exhibitionism kink the small one had they could discover a little more. All of these things he was unveiling of Jimin and figuring out, seeing another part of him, another layer was really-

“I'm sleepy” The orange haired boy murmured and shut his eyes close, Jungkook dropping his hand on his lap and continuing to trace his fingertips over Jimin's stomach.

“Then sleep”

The shorter male felt Jungkook's chest rise and fall steadily against his back, could feel his breath against his neck and felt so warm and safe in his strong embrace. He didn't want to leave this spot. Feeling relaxed and cared for, Jimin felt himself drift away into his dreams where a black haired boy with beautiful brown eyes welcomed him.

-----

It didn't come to his surprise that Jungkook wasn't there when he woke up later that night. In fact, only Yoongi, Taehyung and him were still there, the others having left already as they had to get up early in the morning.

“We all passed out” His best friend commented and giggled as he started to fold the blankets in order to clean up the living room.

“Yeah, but we should definitely repeat this. I liked us all spending time together.” Jimin told them.

“Jin seemed very kind” Jimin pointed out as he helped clean up the room, picking up some pillows and placing them on the sofa.

“He is. He really is a good person. I've known him for quite a while and I'm really happy that he's back in Seoul. You will grow to love him quickly, trust me.” The oldest one of them assured, smiling as he talked about the boy. If Yoongi was saying this, you could definitely trust him. He was good at reading people and as previously mentioned, was cautious and selective with who he called his friend.

It was when he squatted down to pick up a blanket that his underwear rubbed against his penis and he realised how sticky it was. Blushing slightly, Jimin remembered what had happened before he had fallen asleep in Jungkook's arms. Oh god. Hopefully, none of them have noticed anything or have seen Jimin be asleep in Jungkook's embrace. What had he been thinking? Frankly, the aroused part of him had taken over again and controlled his thoughts and action, Jimin unable to resist or fight against it. He had been lost in Jungkook’s touch and the heavenly feeling, not able to think clearly.

Honestly, it had been nice to fall asleep like this, being held by Jungkook and feel him be so close, smell his scent that somehow made Jimin feel intoxicated. Certainly, he shouldn’t feel like this and he knew that, but he simply couldn’t help it. It made him reminisce about his first time he had shared with Jungkook, when they had fallen asleep in his bed, the taller boy cuddling him and comforting him with soft words. Jimin felt his heart flutter at the memory.

The orange haired boy’s heart skipped a beat, slight panic rising inside of him. “W-What?” He coughed and swallowed hard.

“I said, I guess only you stayed up and watched the movie until the end. You and Jungkook” The oldest one repeated, slightly confused by Jimin's behaviour.

“Oh” The smaller one breathed out relieved and nodded, “I-I guess. I fell asleep pretty soon as well though”

“Jungkook had just started to leave when I woke up” Yoongi then let them know. “I assume he hasn’t fallen asleep then”

Jimin hadn’t even noticed Jungkook get up behind him, must have been passed out completely. Frankly, Jimin wasn’t a heavy sleeper, yet when it came to Jungkook and falling asleep in his arms, the shorter male always slept so deeply and felt refreshed afterwards. Usually, Jimin woke up once or twice during the night because- well, he didn’t really know why. For some reason, he was never able to sleep through, but something always woke him up during the night. It was refreshing to just be asleep and not be disrupted by something, felt different and new.

“Next time” Taehyung whispered in his ear, “Maybe do your little sessions in another room where you are alone”

The smaller boy froze, blushing deeply at the words of his best friend.

“Oh no.”

Tae chuckled and smiled at him sympathetically. “I'm all for being open about sex and trying different things and I guess if you have a thing for doing it in public, do you, but maybe not next to all of your friends” He snickered.

Jimin wanted the ground to open up and swallow him whole. This could not be real. This was so embarrassing.

“I-I...”

“Don’t be embarrassed. I don’t think any of the others noticed. I just heard your whimper and being your best friend and soulmate I thought you didn't feel well so I woke up from that, but it turns out that you were far from not feeling well. The sounds you were making were implying that you felt immense pleasure. He is really that fucking good, isn’t he? No wonder you continue this thing with him” Tae smirked smugly and nudged his arm.

“I-I... We just...”
“I should have assumed that you were one to whine and whimper during sex. I never really thought about it, but oh you really must be loud when he's giving it to you”

“Tae, shut up, oh my god” Jimin whined, embarrassed and ashamed that his best friend had heard all of that.

Taehyung only chuckled as he ruffled through Jimin's orange hair. “Don't be embarrassed. I'm loud during sex, too, Hoseok has to gag me sometimes so I shut up”

“Tae!” Jimin squeaked and shook his head, Yoongi looking up and glancing at them with arched up eyebrows. They only smiled at the oldest one innocently who stared at them for a moment longer before continuing to clean up. “Please don't ever tell anyone about this” The small boy pleaded.

“Why would you even assume that? Of course I'm not going to tell anyone about this ever. You're my best friend.” The blond one assured and smiled sympathetically.

“But it's still funny. Ah, Jungkook-ah” Taehyung suddenly moaned, imitating Jimin in one of his most vulnerable moments.

“Taehyung!” The small boy whisper-yelled and swatted his arm. Frankly, he already knew that Tae was never going to let this go and was going to continue to tease him about this. However, he couldn't help but giggle for some reason.

“Sorry, okay, I'll stop.” Tae promised and cleared his throat, serious expression on his face as Jimin shook his head in amusement.

They continued to clean up the room together. Yoongi picked up some trash and went over into the kitchen to throw it away. The perfect opportunity for Taehyung to tease his best friend some more, at least that's what he thought.

“Ah, yes, Jungkook-ah” Tae imitated him exaggeratedly.

Jimin threw a pillow at him as they both chuckled. “Shut up, Tae, what if hyung hears you?”

His best friend shrugged his shoulders as he snickered. “I'm pretty sure he has heard me and Hoseok before”

“What? Where?”

“His restroom a couple of days ago. I visited hyung and Namjoon hyung and Hoseok hyung were here, too. Well, it didn't take long of me making some subtle suggestions until Hoseok hyung pulled me into the restroom and let me ride him. When we were finished and went back to the others, they looked at us slightly shocked so I'm pretty sure they have heard us” The blond boy shared with him and chuckled yet again.

“Oh my god” Jimin breathed. If Yoongi ever caught or heard him do anything like this he would feel so ashamed and embarrassed, even more than he is now by the fact that Taehyung has heard him.

“It's not that big of a deal, Minnie. I won't tell anyone about this. It's not a bad thing if you make sounds during sex. Some people just can't control it, me and you included” His best friend tried to comfort as he saw Jimin's concerned expression. Certainly, he loved teasing his best friend from time to time, but he would never do anything purposely that would hurt or bring discomfort to Jimin. “I won't mention it again if you really feel uncomfortable about this. Just know that I don't think of your differently or anything like this. I'm just like you”

The orange haired boy smiled gratefully and gave a small nod. “Thank you, Tae”

His best friend mirrored his smile and they continued to clean up, Taehyung not imitating him anymore.

-----

Jimin's heart was beating fast in his chest as he swung his legs back and forth. He was sitting on the edge of the bed, watching the taller boy move around. Jungkook was currently pulling the curtains together and then walked over to the light switch to dim the lights.

“Yesterday shouldn't have happened the way it did. That won't happen again, okay? I won't touch you outside of our lessons. I want to make that a rule. No touching in any sexual manner outside of my apartment or if you ever want to meet at yours, your apartment. We won't have sex outside of our scheduled meet ups.”

The shorter male looked down at his lap, nodding slightly. “S-Sorry”

“No” Jungkook shook his head and grabbed Jimin's chin softly, lifting his head. “Don't apologise for that. It was just as much my fault as it was yours. After you told... I got... I was... I shouldn't have let it happen. I contributed to it, too. I got you worked up and I decided to touch you, you didn't force me. We both are at fault just the same”

They looked at each other for a moment.

“Taehyung heard me” The orange haired one whispered, blush creeping up on his cheeks.

“He did?” Jungkook arched up his eyebrows, Jimin nodding slightly, “Well, to be fair, you do make quite some cute noises. No wonder that woke him up.” The taller boy commented and ran his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip, “Another reason why I won't touch you outside again. Can't let anyone else hear those cute sounds, can we? Moreover, you said yourself that you don't want anyone to find out about this”

Jimin swallowed hard and nodded. Thankfully, Taehyung hasn't mentioned anything about that incident again so far and Jimin just prayed that his best friend was going to forget about it.

“I bought you some presents” The younger one interrupted his thoughts and dropped his hand, walking over to a bag that was placed on the nightstand, “We don't have to use any of this, but considering that you want to be tied up today and asked me to do whatever I want to you, I have prepared some things. Of course, that is, if you still want this? Have you changed your mind about what you want to do today?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin shook his head, cheeks heating up a little more as Jungkook picked up the bag and went over to him.

“I know this is a soft limit of yours so of course we don't have to use this. Do not feel pressured or obligated to say yes to this at all, okay?” The taller one wanted him to know as he raised up his Jimin gave a faint nod as Jungkook pulled something out of the bag that was shaped like a penis. The smaller boy's eyes widened at the sight of the sex toy. Frankly, he didn't know exactly what it was or what it was for, but there wasn't much to imagine as it was pretty clear what this was used for.

It wasn't as big as Jungkook's penis, slightly smaller, and in a beige colour. “Do you know what this is?”

The shy boy shook his head, blush deepening as he averted his gaze.

“I figured. Well, this is a dildo. It's a sex toy. It's shaped like a penis as you can see and is used for penetration.”

He put it down on the bed and rummaged in the bag some more to pick something else out. It was another dildo, Jimin assumed, as it looked similar, yet it was a little smaller.

“Oh, what's the difference?”

“This one vibrates. It has different stages for the intensity of the vibrations.” The black haired boy pressed something on the bottom of the vibrator and suddenly, there was a buzzing noise in the room.

“I know that you said that sex toys are a soft limit so we really don't have to use them at all if you don't feel comfortable. However, if you want to try them out, we can definitely do that.”

The taller one placed the vibrator down on the bed next to the dildo and placed the now empty bag down on the nightstand.

Jimin's heart was beating fast in his chest and he could feel himself become more nervous with each second, breathing becoming more difficult.

“How do you want to be tied up?” Jungkook wanted to know and arched up his eyebrows, reaching for a black tie.

“I-I...” Honestly, Jimin wasn't sure. He had felt comfortable with only his hands being tied up and his movement not being restricted completely, yet there was something exciting about the thought of not being able to move his arms at all. “Can you tie my hands up? Completely so I can't move them at all?” He asked, voice soft and unsure.

Jungkook blinked, cursing under his breath as he nodded. “Stand up”

Jimin obeyed immediately and got up on his feet. The taller boy pressed a peck on his lips as he reached for the hem of Jimin's shirt and lifted it.

“Deep breath for me. Don't be nervous.” Jungkook instructed, voice soft as he stroked his thumb over Jimin's cheek gently.

The smaller one nodded and took a deep breath as Jungkook pulled the shirt over his head and tossed it on the floor. Then, he pushed Jimin back softly, causing the orange haired boy to fall on the bed and gasp.
“You asked me to be a little more dominant last time, remember? Do you still feel that way? Do you still want that?”

Panting, Jimin gave a slight nod as he wet his lips.

“Okay. Before we start we have to talk about some things. First of all, I'm going to push you to your limits today. You might feel like it's too much and might want me to stop. Whenever that's the case, you have to use your safeword, okay? That's the second thing to remember. You use your safeword whenever you really need it. If you think you can keep going, you don't have to use it, but whenever you feel like you can't take anymore or you just simply want to stop, you have to use the safeword, understood?” Jimin gave a small nod, “I need to hear your pretty voice, baby. Promise me that you'll do it. I don't want last time to repeat. I won't be disappointed or angry if you use it. I want you to feel safe and comfortable.”

“O-Okay. I promise, I'll use it when I need to, Jungkook-ah”

“Good”

The black haired boy lifted Jimin by his hips and placed him down on the bed gently, a little higher so his head would lie on the soft pillows.

“Arms up”

Letting out a shaky breath, Jimin lifted his arms above his head as Jungkook pulled the tie around his wrists and then tied his hands to the headboard.

“Is that okay? Too tight?”

Jimin pulled against the restraints and whimpered as he realised that he couldn't move his arms down at all. The only thing he could do was clench his hands into little fists. There was no way to cover himself up or resist in any way with his arms. His heart started to beat fast against his chest, breathing uneven as he locked eyes with Jungkook.

“Hey, are you okay? Is this okay? We don't have to do it like this. We don't have to do this at all if you're scared” The taller one assured softly as he placed his hand against Jimin's cheek and stroked his thumb over his cheek.

“I understand. We don't have to do this, baby, but you can trust me. I won't do anything that you don't want. Just say red and I'll free you immediately, no matter what I'm doing in that moment.”

The thing is, Jimin did trust him. A lot. However, there was a part of his brain, a voice inside of his head that was still a little scared about this. But he knew that Jungkook would never intentionally hurt him.

“I want to try it like this, please”

Jungkook nodded, “Okay”

He straightened his back and opened his own pants, pulling them down to his ankles and stepping out of them. Jimin swallowed hard, squirming a little as the younger one opened his pants now as well and pulled them down until they were off, tossing them to the side.

“H-Have you ever used sex toys?”

“On myself? No. On others? Yes” The taller one answered as he pulled down Jimin's briefs and let them drop on the floor, the small boy now completely naked on his bed, fully exposed.

“Y-You can use them if you want to. I'll tell you if I don't like it” Jimin murmured as Jungkook traced his fingertips over his inner thigh. His skin was shaved and so, so soft against Jungkook's touch. The pale skin of the older one was inviting, caused Jungkook to want to leave marks everywhere.

“Alright. Remember, I can be a little different from now on, maybe even a little mean, but I don't actually mean that, okay? What do you say if you want to pause?” The taller boy wanted to know as he gripped Jimin's ankles in order to spread his legs, sitting down on his knees intbetween them. Jungkook was only wearing black briefs and a black shirt, Jimin feeling so much more exposed due to that.

“Y-Yellow”

“Good boy”

The smaller one whimpered at the name, penis twitching slightly causing Jungkook to smirk. Then, Jungkook placed the lube down on the bed next to himself and caressed Jimin's soft inner thigh some more.

“May I leave marks on you?” Jungkook asked, voice quiet and low as he glared at the pale skin of Jimin's thighs.

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded, the other boy not wasting another moment and leaning down in order to press his soft lips against Jimin's skin of his inner thigh. He placed a small kiss there before he started sucking on the skin, Jimin's leg twitching as he gasped. “J-Jungkook-ah” He whimpered as said boy sucked a little harder on his skin, grabbing Jimin's thighs with his strong hands to keep them spread wide open.

The black haired one licked over his creation on Jimin's skin, soothing the pain as he titled his head to the other side to repeat the process in order to leave another mark on Jimin's right inner thigh.

“A-ah” The smaller boy moaned and arched his back, his leg twitching and trying to close involuntarily. However, Jungkook tightened his grasp on his thigh in order for his legs to stay spread.

As Jungkook was satisfied with the mark he created, he licked over it before straightening his back. Admiring his own work on Jimin's skin, he ran his thumb over one of the marks gently, Jimin hissing slightly.

“Jimin-ah, I'm going to edge you today for several times” The taller boy then informed him, locking eyes with Jimin who seemed already dazed, eyes blown wide and plump lips parted.

“Yes, I'm going to pleasure you until you are almost coming, just for me to stop and let you come down again. I'm going to repeat that a couple of times” Jungkook explained and wet his lips, his eyes darker now and pupils dilated. There was definitely lust flashing in his eyes.
“W-Will you allow me to come at all?” The shorter male whispered.

Jungkook smirked as he started caressing Jimin's inner thigh again, “Of course, baby. I'll make you come so hard, trust me”

Letting out a shaky breath, the orange haired boy nodded, trying to calm down and prepare for what was going to happen. His head was already spinning slightly, only due to the fact that Jungkook has kissed and sucked on his inner thighs, leaving the boy whimper and long for more. Curiously, he tried to move his arms down, but that obviously didn't work out and instead his wrists hurt a little as he pulled harder.

Jungkook noticed and looked up at him, eyes softening a little. “Hey, little one, does it hurt? Should I loose them a little?”

Shaking his head, Jimin clenched his hands into little fists, “No, just... I'm really nervous. I don't know why” He admitted, voice soft and unsure.

“That's okay. Do you want me to make you come immediataly? I don't have to edge you if you don't like that idea” The black haired one assured.

“No, I-I want..” Jimin paused. Even though he already knew that it was going to be frustrating to be so close to his release, but then being denied his orgasm, the way Jungkook's eyes had darkened at the mention and the promise of him making Jimin come hard caused the shorter male to find himself agree to this idea. His curiosity got the best of him, excitement bubbling inside of him as he imagined what Jungkook was going to do to him. “I want this. I'm just really nervous”

Jungkook hummed as he kept on caressing his skin softly, goosebumps forming everywhere his fingertips traced over Jimin's skin.

“Can you... Can we kiss for a while? I think... I think that might help me relax” The smaller boy admitted, voice shy as he averted his gaze.

The younger one hesitated, but nodded eventually as he smiled faintly. Then, he leaned over and placed his hands next to Jimin's head, glancing down at the shy boy beneath himself before capturing his lips in a kiss.

Jimin gasped as he felt Jungkook's soft lips on his own, heart fluttering at the touch and something blossoming inside of his chest, the feeling expanding and filling his whole upper body with warmth. Unconsciously, he clenched his hands into little fists as he moved his mouth against Jungkook’s. It didn't take long until the younger boy pushed his tongue inside of Jimin's mouth, licking over his tongue and deepening the kiss.

The older one whimpered as they moved their lips a little faster, Jimin tasting the mint on Jungkook's tongue and finding himself crave for more, long for more. Involuntarily, his hands kept on clenching and unclenching, Jimin now realising how desperately he wanted to touch Jungkook's neck or arms or hair or just- anything, anywhere- as he kept on pulling on the restraints. The poor boy just wanted to be able to touch the boy above him.

Jimin's penis twitched between them both as Jungkook licked over his tongue while he lifted one of his arms, the hand trailing down Jimin's stomach as the taller boy was only holding himself up with one arm now, effortlessly at that. When Jungkook closed his hand around Jimin's penis, said boy broke the kiss and let out a gasp as his legs jerked.

The shorter male gave a slight nod, moaning as Jungkook squeezed his penis and moved his hand up and down slowly. Pressing his lips against Jimin's once more, Jungkook continued to stroke his penis, feeling it harden in his hand.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin mewled against his mouth, eyes fluttering shut as Jungkook squeezed the head of his hard length once more, pulling his hand away and letting it drop back down on Jimin's stomach with a small slapping noise that caused the shorter boy to gasp.

Placing one last peck on Jimin's lips, the taller boy straightened his back and ran his hands over Jimin's thighs softly.

“I'm going to play with your little hole now, kitten. Is that okay?”

Jimin whimpered at the pet name and nodded quickly, legs spreading further and hips moving up a little almost subconsciously. Jungkook smirked slightly at the desperation and urgency of the small boy in front of him as he reached for the lube.

The orange haired one let out a shaky breath as he watched Jungkook squirt some lube on his index finger. “Gotta start from one finger, don't I? Or have you played with your little hole alone, hmm?”

Junkook hummed as he circled Jimin's entrance with his wet finger, the smaller boy twitching at the sudden touch. “Baby, tell me your safewords once more”

“R-red for stop, yellow for pause and green for go.”

“Good boy. What's your colour now?”

“Green”

The taller boy pushed his finger inside without a warning, causing Jimin's mouth to open in a silent scream. His hands clenched into little fists as Jungkook pushed his finger inside completely, just to pull it back out, repeating the motion slowly.

“Always so tight, aren't you, kitten?”

Jimin's eyes fluttered shut as Jungkook sped up his movement, moving his finger from side to side simultaneously to stretch his hole a little more. When he felt like it was stretched a little wider, he pulled his finger out and squirted some more lube on his middle finger.

“P-Please” The shorter boy whispered as Jungkook circled his rim with both fingers, yet not entering them. “Please, Jungkook-ah”

Jungkook pushed both of his fingers inside, a loud squealch filling the room at the motion. Jimin's walls felt so soft and tight around his fingers as he moved them in and out, loving the cute little whimpers that escaped the smaller boy's lips.

It didn't take long for Jungkook to find Jimin's prostate, if the way his whole body twitched at the touch or his eyes rolled back into his head were any kind of indication of that. “Oh my god” He cried out and pulled against the restraints, eyes fluttering shut as the younger one rubbed against his special spot quickly, causing his penis to twitch and leak out some precum that trailed down on his stomach.

“Already leaking, kitten” Jungkook commented as he scissored his fingers to stretch the little boy beneath him some more, said boy's body trembling due to the stimulation.

Well, that was new. Jungkook halted for a moment, not sure what to think about the nickname as he felt something weird bloom inside of his chest. Yet when he heard Jimin whine in protest due to the lack of stimulation, he simply shook his head and pulled his fingers out in order to squirt some more lube on his ring finger.

Not wasting another moment, he pushed all three fingers inside of the smaller boy, Jimin's mouth agape in a silent scream as his legs twitched. He found it difficult to breathe now, chest rising and falling quickly as Jungkook pushed his fingers in and out of his hole, a loud squealch filling the room every time at the motion as well as Jimin's cute little whimpers and whines.

“Always so responsive for me, aren't you, baby?” The younger boy uttered as he rubbed against Jimin's prostate in firm circle motions, causing Jimin to whine loudly which emphasised his statement, “Always make the cutest sounds for me, don't you?”

Jimin gasped and his eyes fluttered shut as Jungkook didn't stop his abuse on his prostate, the feeling becoming too intense and overwhelming him as his penis kept on twitching and dribbling more precum on his stomach, a little puddle already having formed by now.

“J-Jungkook-ah, why, please, I was so close” The orange haired boy whined and lifted his hips from the bed, pushing them closer to Jungkook, asking to be touched again.

The feeling was odd. The intensity of his almost orgasm started to ebb down, the shorter male being further away from his release again as he felt himself calm down a little. Yet, he was still longing for Jungkook's touch, wanted more, wanted to come.

“I know. That's why I stopped.” The black haired boy told him as he pushed Jimin's hips down firmly, “These stay here, baby, okay?”

“J-Jungkook-ah, why, please, I was so close” The orange haired boy whined and lifted his hips from the bed, pushing them closer to Jungkook, asking to be touched again.

The feeling was odd. The intensity of his almost orgasm started to ebb down, the shorter male being further away from his release again as he felt himself calm down a little. Yet, he was still longing for Jungkook's touch, wanted more, wanted to come.

“I know. That's why I stopped.” The black haired boy told him as he pushed Jimin's hips down firmly, “These stay here, baby, okay?”

“Y-Yes” Jimin answered even though he already knew that this wasn't going to work out as planned. The smaller boy just couldn't keep still, always squirmed around and his whole body trembled on it's own. He had no control over that!

“Is it okay if I use this one now, little one?” Jungkook wanted to know as he lifted one of the penis shaped like things. The shorter male was way too aroused and out of his mind to know which one it was at this point.

“O-Okay, yes.”

“Your colour, kitten, I need to know your colour”

As he waited for Jimin to answer, he squirted some lube over the penis shaped thing, being quite generous with the amount before he stared at the little boy again, still waiting for an answer. However, Jimin was mesmerised by the thing he was holding, glancing at it with big innocent eyes.

“Jimin-ah, baby, your colour?” Jungkook repeated and caressed his inner thigh softly to get Jimin's attention.

“G-Green. It's green”

The taller boy looked at him for a moment, studying his features.

“I promise. It’s green” Jimin assured, figuring that Jungkook hadn't trusted his answer, which was... well, justified. He shouldn't have lied last time about his real colour and he just hoped that Jungkook was going to trust him. Yet, there was something comforting about him really wanting to make sure that Jimin was actually comfortable. The thought made his heart flutter.

“Okay. Deep breath for me, baby”

Jimin obeyed as he felt the thing be placed against his entrance. He held his breath when Jungkook pushed it inside carefully and slowly, letting Jimin adjust to the size and waiting for his hole to widen a little further.

The smaller boy moaned high-pitched and arched his back, hands clenching into fists. It felt a little different from an actual penis. It was still hard, however, it wasn't as warm as an actual erection. Jimin didn't know what to think about this just yet. He loved the feeling of having an actual penis-well, Jungkook's penis inside of him, being filled and stretched by him. And that was really the only comparison he had. There had never been anything else inside of him except Jungkook and his own tiny fingers.

The black haired one hummed. “Will feel better in just a moment”

Suddenly, the thing inside of him started vibrating, causing Jimin to yelp and his body to twitch as he hadn't expected that. “Ah-ah, Jungkook-ah, what...” He whimpered high-pitched as the thing – well, he knew now that it was the vibrator – vibrated inside of him, right against his prostate.

“This is the lowest setting” The taller one told him as he moved the toy around, pulling it out just to push it back inside against Jimin's prostate, loving the way his body trembled and the cute little whines that he let out.

Jungkook smirked as he put it on a higher setting, the vibrations inside of Jimin's hole increasing, being way more intense than the previous one. His mouth opened in a silent scream as he tried to pull his hips away from the touch, not able to handle the intensity of the stimulation. Frankly, he couldn't describe this feeling. It was overwhelming. However, he didn't know whether it was way too much and he wanted it to stop or if he wanted more. The arousal has messed up his head again and now he couldn't think clear.

“This will get you to the edge in no time” The younger boy promised as he pressed the toy against Jimin's prostate harder, causing said boy's erection to twitch and leak more precum on his stomach, joining the little puddle. The feeling was odd. It was almost as if he was already coming, that's how intense the feeling was. Unfortunately, Jimin couldn't stop his body from shaking all over, couldn't prevent his hips from bucking up. “It's okay, kitten, you can squirm all you want, make a fuss however you want. You are such a good boy for me” Jungkook assured as he had noticed the smaller boy squirm around.
It really didn't take long until Jimin was close to his release again. The feeling was so overwhelming, he couldn't help but cry out Jungkook's name repeatedly as he arched his back, legs spreading further. “K-Kook-ah!” He almost screamed and squeezed his eyes shut.

However, the vibrator was pulled out in a swift motion, leaving him empty and on edge with no vibrations, no stimulation.

His body was still shaking as he opened his eyes to look at Jungkook who wet his lips at the sight of the shorter male on his bed: Hair a fluffy mess on his head, cheeks flushed, soft lips parted and the cutest little whines escaping them, hands clenched into fists above his head and tied to the headboard, his chest rising and falling quickly. A true vision.

Jimin whined and bucked his hips up, frustrated that his release was being denied once more. Desperately, he pulled on the restraints and kicked his legs as he felt tears swell up in his eyes.

“Jungkook-ah, please” He begged and looked at the taller boy with big watery eyes. “Touch me”

The younger one could only stare at Jimin, blinking as he saved the sight in front of him in his mind. He was too mesmerised by his beauty, by his desperation that he had caused himself. Frankly, he wanted to see Jimin beg more, wanted him to feel even more desperate until he cried and asked Jungkook to fuck him hard, just so he could watch him fall apart in his arms and come incredibly hard all over himself, making a big mess.

“I'm mean, aren't I?” Jungkook whispered as he leaned over to brush Jimin's hair out of his face, caressing his cheek softly with his thumb, “Getting you so close to your release and then not letting you come. You're such a good boy, baby, being so good for me.”

“Please” Jimin sniffed. “Kook-ah” His voice broke as he bucked his hips up, rubbing his penis against Jungkook's bulge. The taller one groaned at the movement and straightened his back again.

Jimin appeared dazed, out of it to be exact. His eyes were blown wide and he just looked like a desperate mess. Jungkook wanted to see if he could push him just a little further.

He picked up the vibrator again and turned it on the highest setting.

“G-Green” Jimin sniffed. “Green, I promise”

The black haired boy hummed before he put the vibrator against Jimin's hard length, causing the smaller one to scream out and his body to twitch. Jungkook pressed the vibrator harder against his length, right against the head.

This was another kind of intensity. He really wasn't going to last much longer, the smaller boy realised. Jimin couldn't stop shaking as he pulled against the restraints, kicking his legs involuntarily as he squeezed his eyes shut.

“I'm close, Jungkook-ah, please!” Jimin sobbed and only realised a moment later that some tears were streaming down his face. Wait, did it hurt? Should he ask Jungkook to stop? Frankly, he wasn't sure. It didn't really hurt, if Jimin was being honest. It was just intense and overwhelming. He couldn't explain why he cried, but he knew that he definitely didn't want to stop, especially as he was this close to finally coming.

“Sssh, it's okay, kitten, kick around all you want, squirm around as much as you want.” Jungkook uttered as he caressed his hip softly while moving the vibrator up and down Jimin's length.
Jimin threw his head back and arched his back, drawing his legs together in order to close them, yet Jungkook tapped with his hand firmly against his inner thigh, “Keep them spread, little one”

The orange haired boy whined and obeyed, opening his mouth in a silent scream and clenching his hands into fists as he felt his orgasm approach and-

The vibrator was gone and so was the stimulation. Frustrated, Jimin cried out and kicked his legs, shaking his head as he opened his eyes to look at the taller one. “Kooook-ah” He sobbed as more tears streamed down his face, “Please, please, I can't take more of this”

“Sssh” Jungkook cooed and leaned over, wiping away the tears on his face gently after having placed the vibrator down on the bed. “Can you tell me your colour, baby?”

Swallowing, Jimin let out a shaky breath, “G-Green. It's green, but please, Jungkook-ah, make me come. N-Need you inside of me”

Jungkook arched up his eyebrows, “Want my dick to fill you up and make you come, don't you, baby?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded quickly. “Please” His voice broke.

“Okay, kitten, I'll fuck you now”

The black haired boy took off his briefs and picked a condom out from the top drawer of the nightstand. Jimin could just lie there and watch him pull the condom over his hard, big length. The shorter male whimpered at the sight and felt his penis twitch as well as his hole clench at the thought of Jungkook thrusting into him in just a moment.

As Jungkook kneeled in between Jimin's spread legs, he gripped his ankles and lifted his legs up, pushing them back and bending his knees, almost bending Jimin in half, knees almost touching Jimin's head. “Shit, you really are fucking flexible.” The taller one cursed and felt his penis twitch, “Is this okay? Does it hurt?”

“It's okay” Jimin assured, wanting nothing more than for Jungkook to finally fill him. He felt so incredibly desperate and aroused. Frankly, he didn't know what to do with himself, couldn't think clear. His head was dizzy and he felt intoxicated. Intoxicated by Jungkook who was invading all of his senses.

Jungkook grabbed his own length and pushed the head inside of Jimin's hole carefully, slipping inside with ease as his hole was already stretched quite wide. He groaned as he felt the tightness around his dick. “Fuck, Jiminie”

The smaller boy squeezed his eyes shut at the feeling of being filled and stretched out this much. His arms started to ache from the position they were in, wrists feeling a little sore as well, yet he didn't even care. The only thing he could focus on was Jungkook.

“Okay?” Jungkook breathed out as he was inside of the shorter one completely, letting him adjust to the size for a moment.

“Mhm, please, move, Kook-ah” The orange haired boy begged and bucked his hips up.

“I got you, baby”

The taller boy pulled out of the older one just to thrust back into him slowly, yet with force, causing Jimin to rock backwards with the motion.
“So tight around me, kitten”

“Jungkook-ah, please” Jimin whimpered as Jungkook kept thrusting into him with force, resulting in Jimin to move back and forth with the movement.

“What do you need, baby? Want me to fuck you faster?”

“Please don’t stop- Oh my god!” The smaller boy begged, but moaned high-pitched as he felt Jungkook hit against his prostate.

The black haired one grabbed Jimin by the back of his knees to keep them spread as he sped up his movement, eyes fixated on Jimin’s face to see it scrunch up in pleasure. The boy truly was a beauty.

“Open your pretty eyes for me, little one” Jungkook ordered softly as he rammed harder into Jimin's hole, rhythm relentless now.

Jimin's eyes fluttered open and he stared at the boy above him, getting lost in his eyes. The feeling was amazing, intense and overwhelming. It was the fourth time he was being brought close to his release. However, this time, he just hoped and prayed that Jungkook would have mercy and let him finally come.

“Jungkook-ah, it's so good, you're so big” He whined as he felt his penis dribble more precum on his stomach. Certainly, he felt really messy with all of that precum on his stomach, yet he didn't mind it, could only concentrate on the gorgeous man above him.

“Yeah? Only I can make you feel like this, can't I? No one else has ever made you feel like this. Only me, baby”

“Y-Yes, only you, Kook-ah” Jimin cried out as his prostate was hit dead on and he felt his orgasm approach quickly. “Junkook-ah, I-I'm so close, pleeease, don't stop”

“You were such a good boy for me, kitten. Such a good boy. Go on and come for me, make a big mess all over yourself”

Jimin squeezed his eyes shut and clenched his hands into little fists, tears streaming down his cheeks as he kept on begging for Jungkook to keep going and to let him come. “Please, please, please, don't stop, don't stop” He sobbed, voice high-pitched.

“T won't, baby, were such a good boy”

That was all it took for Jimin as he felt the feeling overwhelm him, burst inside of him and run through his whole body. It literally felt like an explosion inside of him, the most intense orgasm he has ever felt as he screamed out in pleasure, body shaking due to the stimulation as sperm shot out of his penis, a huge amount making an even bigger mess on his stomach, some of it shooting up to his chest.

More tears were streaming down his face as he kept on sobbing Jungkook's name again and again, legs kicking as the intense feeling didn't stop, but instead increased the longer Jungkook kept thrusting inside of him.

Jimin clenched around the taller boy and it didn't take much longer for him to find his release, too, groaning out Jimin's name as he came inside of him.

The smaller boy continued to sob as wave after wave of the intense feeling hit him, the oversensitivity being too much eventually. His body was trembling violently from the aftershock, more cum dribbling out of his penis.

“H-Hurts” The poor boy sobbed, feeling like he was floating again. It was a weird headspace he was in. One part of him felt like he was floating and like all of this was a dream while another part was begging for soft touches, for cuddles and warmth.

“Were such a good boy, little one” Jungkook praised as he pulled out of the orange haired boy, letting go of his legs carefully and placing them back down on the bed. Quickly, he got up from the bed and hurried into the bathroom to get a wet cloth, Jimin still sobbing on the bed. “Hey, baby, are you okay? Can you tell me your colour?”

“Green” The small boy sniffed as Jungkook cleaned his hole carefully of the remaining lube and his stomach of the left over cum, simply tossing the cloth on the nightstand after that before he opened the tie around Jimin's wrists. His hands dropped down on the bed, the shorter male realising now how sore they were, how sore his body felt.

“Was that too much? Did I got too far? You did so well for me, baby. Came so hard, didn't you?” Jungkook asked as he caressed Jimin's cheeks softly, locking eyes with the older one. Yet, he saw how glassy his eyes were and realised fairly quickly that Jimin was not actually fully present right now. The orgasm must have been incredibly intense.

Jungkook picked up the sex toys and the lube, placing them down on the nightstand before joining Jimin on the bed, turning him over to his side and pulling him close to his chest as he pulled a blanket over both of them.

“Hey, little one, can you hear me? Are you okay?” The taller boy whispered against his ear as he brushed his hand through Jimin's hair, stroking over it gently.

“Mhm” Jimin hummed, not sobbing any longer, but still feeling all bubbly inside. It was a feeling he couldn't describe, didn't even fathom it himself.

“Do your wrists hurt?” The younger one wanted to know as he lifted Jimin's right arm, inspecting his wrist that was slightly reddenned. “Might have to use something softer next time if you want to do that ever again” He commented as he placed a soft kiss against the flushed skin.

Jimin turned around so he could look at the taller one. Jungkook stared at him curiously, but didn't say anything as Jimin hid his face in the curve of his neck and clutched onto him, hugging him close. The taller boy wrapped his arms around his small body without a word, holding him tight and caressing his back softly.

The older one felt his eyes fall shut, heavy and tired as they were. However, he knew that he wasn't allowed to fall asleep. No, that was against the rules.

They remained in that position for quite a while, just being held close in each other's soft embrace, chests rising and falling in the same steady rhythm. Jungkook continued to trace his fingertips over Jimin's back gently.

“Did you like that, Jimin-ah?”

Jimin contemplated over that question for a moment. Even though it was incredibly frustrating to be pushed so close to the edge, but not being allowed to cross it, it has definitely been worth in the end as he has had his most intense orgasm ever.

“Y-Yes, but I don't think I can do this all the time” He answered eventually, Jungkook chuckling at his response, his chest vibrating as the sound of his laugh made Jimin feel warmth within his chest.

“I understand. It is quite frustrating, but it's pretty worth it in the end, isn't it? Came so much for me, baby, looked so pretty when you came like that.”

Jimin blushed at his words, but smiled slightly. However, he hid his face in the curve of Junkook's neck, hence the boy couldn't see any of that. “T-Thank you” His voice was muffled due to him pressing his face against Jungkook's skin.

“Was the sex toy okay?”

“Y-Yes” Jimin almost wanted to whimper as he reminisced about the feeling of the vibrator inside of him, the feeling so overwhelming and nothing he has ever felt before.

“You can take them home with you if you want. In case you wanna play with yourself, hmm, little one?”

The shorter male swallowed hard as he felt himself blush deeper, hiding his face further against Junkook's skin. “N-No, thank you. I won't use them on my own”

“Mhm, only want me to use them on you?” Jungkook asked, voice a little lower as he tilted his head to the side. Yet, he couldn't see Jimin as he was still hiding his face.

“Y-Yes”

“Okay. Whatever you want”

There was silence again. Nothing but their steady breathing filling the room as Jungkook kept on caressing his back, the touch so soft Jimin never wanted to leave his embrace again.

“Are you feeling better? Are you okay?”

A pout appeared on Jimin's face as he knew what this meant. It was time for him to leave.

“I'm better, thank you. I'm good now” He assured as he sat up, leaving Jungkook's soft embrace. “I should get ready to leave”

They looked at each other and there was something glistening in Jungkook's eyes that Jimin couldn't define. For a moment it seemed like the younger one wanted to say something, yet he didn't.

They both got up from the bed, Jimin almost stumbling over as his legs were a little shaky. “Careful” Jungkook whispered as he pulled an arm around Jimin, pushing him back down on the bed gently, “I'll get your clothes”

After Jungkook has picked up all the clothes that were scattered around the room, he helped Jimin put them on.

Jungkook studied his features before putting on his own clothes. When they were both dressed, they went downstairs where Jimin put his shoes on.

“Oh” The orange haired boy noticed that he had left his phone upstairs in the bedroom, “I left my phone in your bedroom”

“I'll go and get it”

The taller boy jogged upstairs as Jimin continued to tie his shoes. It didn't take long for Jungkook to come back down again, yet there seemed to be a change in his mood. He was back to his usual unreadable expression, but it appeared more serious, like something was bothering him maybe. Something was off putting about the air between them now.

“My driver is waiting for you downstairs.” He commented nonchalant as he opened the door.

“Okay, thank you, Jungkook-ah.” The small boy whispered as he stepped out of the apartment, turning around to lock eyes with the taller one. “Goodnight”

The black haired one stared at him, something flashing in his eyes that Jimin really couldn't define, yet he felt uneasy about it.

“Goodnight, Jimin-ssi.”

He shut the door close, leaving a slightly baffled Jimin to walk down the hallway to the elevator, stepping inside of it and pressing the bottom to the ground floor. Was he just imagining this? Maybe he was interpreting this wrongly or misunderstanding his mood or the situation? Frankly, there was no reason for him to have this sudden mood change, was there? He has been caring and nice just moments ago, but now he seemed rather cold and distant. Perhaps he had a lot of work to do, yet even when there was work, he never reacted like this.

Jimin looked down on his phone to check the time, however he noticed a pop-up message on his display.

Are you free tomorrow night? We could hang out? Might say yes to my offer? - Dongha

The smaller boy furrowed his eyebrows. There was a thought blossoming inside of his mind, yet that was too far-fetched and most likely not what has happened at all. It couldn't be the reason. There was no way.

Shaking his head, the orange haired one looked back down on the message, deciding to reply.

Maybe after tomorrow? I do have some questions about the new choreography – Jimin Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth as he pressed send. This wasn't a date... right? Dongha just wanted to help him and was being nice. There was nothing more to it.

The elevator doors opened and Jimin stepped out of it, not able to stop thinking about the possible reason for Jungkook's mood change.

Chapter End Notes

So, that was a little longer chapter :) I hope that makes up for me not having been able to post in almost a week :(
Jungook knows about Dongha now! How do you believe he feels about him? Does he not care at all or... maybe he does?

Did you enjoy the group spending time together? Should there be more scenes like that? I like when they are all hanging out together :)

Thanks for all the love again <3
Chapter Summary

Dongha and Jimin hang out together and an incident happens that makes Jimin realise some things... Then, Jimin gets a little homework from Jungkook before their next meet up... During their next meet up, things get quite interesting and maybe a little too much...

Chapter Notes

Helloooo lovely readers :)

Thank you so much for all the love on the previous chapters :) I love reading your comments and get to know what your ideas and feelings are! :) Also, thank you very much for your encouraging comments. They really motivate me to continue writing and warm my heart <3

It's a long chapter again :) I hope you enjoy it! :) See the end of the chapter for more notes

Jimin sat down on the floor cross-legged, reaching for his phone as he let out a sigh. Currently, he was waiting for Dongha to arrive as they were supposed to meet in the dance practice room to work on the choreography together. However, the orange haired boy had arrived a little earlier and was now waiting for the taller one to arrive.

For some odd reason, he felt kind of nervous. Frankly, he didn't really know why as this was not a date at all. They simply wanted to practice together and get to know each other a little more. There was nothing more to it.

The small male glanced down at his phone and noticed that he had received a message from his best friend.

Hey, wanna hang out? – Tae

I'm going to practice with Dongha, remember? But we can hang out afterwards if you want to :) - Jimin Ooooh, right, I forgot. Have fun then ;) I'll pick you up afterwards and we can grab some dinner – Tae Sounds great. See you later :) - Jimin

Later. :) Don't do anything I wouldn't do ;) - Tae

Jimin furrowed his eyebrows. What was that supposed to mean? Obviously, he wouldn't do anything else but talk and practice with Dongha.
As if on cue, Dongha entered the practice room, a little out of breath and carrying a plastic bag in his right hand. The smell of food instantly hit Jimin's senses, mouth watering. He hadn't eaten since this morning.

Dongha was wearing a black shirt and some black sweatpants, a beanie pulled over his head that emphasised his handsome features of his face. He smiled at Jimin as he sat down on the floor in front of him, dropping the plastic bag in between them. “Hey, sorry, I hope you didn't have to wait too long.”

“I brought us some food. I thought we could eat before we start. Unless, of course, you aren't hungry at all and want to start right away” The brown haired boy suggested as he pulled out two lunch boxes and handed one over to Jimin, “For you”

“You didn't have to, I-”

Dongha looked at him for a moment longer, something flashing in his eyes as another smile appeared on his face.

They opened their boxes and gripped their chopsticks almost simultaneously, starting to eat immediately. Jimin's eyes fluttered shut as he chewed on the delicious meat. “Good?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and opened his eyes again, smiling brightly which caused his eyes to turn into little crescents.

Dongha chuckled as he continued eating.

“How long have you been dancing for?” The taller boy wanted to know after they had eaten in silence for a while.

“Well, I think I loved dancing ever since I was a child. My grandmother had some videos of me dancing, well, rather just me moving my body to the music in a way I thought looked good” Jimin giggled as he reminisced about those times, “She always filmed me whenever I started dancing and really encouraged me to pursue that dream. So, I pretty much knew from a young age that this is what I wanted to do.”

“You surely majored in dance, didn't you?”

“Mhm” Jimin smiled and nodded, “I did contemporary dance. I love it a lot. The style hyung does is interesting to me, too, I'm really growing to love it much more with each lesson.”

“The way you move your body is really fascinating” Dongha commented, the smaller boy's smile growing at the compliment, “You have good control over your body and watching you dance is really... It draws you in completely and it's difficult to look away. You have something special about you”

Jimin's cheeks heated up as he glanced down at the food, “T-Thank you”

“What about you? How long have you been dancing for?”

“Actually, I didn't start dancing until I was like 15 or 16. It's not that I didn’t like it before, I just never really thought about doing it. There was a talent show at our school and my class wanted to perform a dance together, I learned then that I was quite good at it and developed my love for it from there”

“Wow. That's really interesting. You dance amazing” Jimin complimented the brown haired boy who smiled back at him.

“Thank you”

They looked at each other for a moment longer until Jimin averted his gaze and cleared his throat, “Should we...”

They have been practicing for almost an hour now, Dongha spending most of his time watching Jimin practice and giving him advice. However, the way his eyes darkened every time Jimin bend over or simply moved his body to the music, was rather suggestive.

“No, I think it's something more like this” The taller boy shook his head and approached Jimin after he had shown the next part of the choregraphy, “May I?” Jimin nodded, not even knowing what Dongha was asking for. Then, he turned Jimin around and gripped his hips, placing his head on Jimin's shoulder as he moved his hips to the music, “One, two, three” The brown haired one counted as Jimin moved his feet accordingly. He swallowed hard as he felt his heart beat faster, nervous due to the close proximity of Dongha.

“Mhm” Dongha hummed, voice a little lower as they locked eyes, “Just like this” The smaller boy let out a shaky breath and wet his lips, Dongha's gaze rushing down at the motion and glancing at his plump, soft lips.

“So soft” He whispered and turned Jimin around, the orange haired one gasping, “So pretty” Suddenly, he leaned down as he placed his hand against Jimin's cheek, pressing his lips on Jimin's without a warning. At first, Jimin just froze in his place, eyes widening as he had not expected the kiss. His first instinct was to push the man away, yet his lips were already gone a moment later, trailing down kisses on his neck.

“So beautiful, you and the way you dance.” Dongha whispered, “Your skin is so damn soft” He then groaned as he started sucking on Jimin's skin at this neck, causing Jimin to gasp and clench his hands into little fists.

The taller boy let go immediately and took a step back, “Sorry, I...” He seemed shocked by his own behaviour, looking at Jimin with apologetic eyes, “I'm really sorry. I got carried away and I thought... I shouldn't have done this.”
“No, it's... It's just... too early. I don't feel comfortable about that just yet. I...”

Taehyung must have been right. Dongha did seem to like him, right? Well, he had kissed him so he was interested to say the least. How had Jimin been this oblivious? Perhaps Dongha had wanted this to be a date? Jimin really didn't know, was still too shocked by the kiss to process all of this.

“I understand. I'm sorry. I shouldn't have kissed you without saying anything first. It's just something so interesting and endearing about you, I couldn't help myself.”

The smaller boy really didn't know what to say, tried to make sense of the situation, yet he really couldn't.

“I-I should go. Thanks for the food and your help. I'll see you in class” Jimin uttered and grabbed his bag, exiting the practice room quickly without another word, just wanting to get away.

-----

“He did what now?” Tae screamed out in shock and clasped his hand over his mouth, looking around the coffee shop as some people had glanced at them, “Sorry” He apologised and smiled faintly.

“He kissed me. I think he gave me a hickey, too” Jimin repeated and titled his head to the side as he stretched his neck a little to reveal it to his best friend, “Is there?”

“Oh, shit, yes there is” The blond boy breathed out as he found the red mark on Jimin's skin. “Did he force you to anything?”

“No” Jimin quickly assured, “He kissed me, but backed off as soon as I pushed him away.”

“Hmm, well I knew that he was interested in you, his eyes and the comments he made gave that away. He just tried to pull a move on you and probably wanted to see if you feel the same. I don't think he meant any evil with this”

“No, of course not. I don't think he had any bad intention. I just... He said that there is something interesting and endearing about me and that he couldn't help himself. I'm not mad at him for doing this, just very shocked and surprised because I hadn't expected it at all. I don't know if I like him in that way. I wanted us to became friends first”

“Just tell him that. Tell him that you aren't mad at him and that the pace he chose is too fast for you. Just let him know that you want to become his friend first and see where it goes from there.” His best friend suggested.

“The thing is, I don't know if I want it to go anywhere from that. I don't want to make him believe or send a signal that there is going to be more if I'm not sure about that yet”

“Just talk to him. Communication works wonders. Talk it out with him and let him know that you want to be friends first and that you don't know whether there will ever be something more than that between you two” Taehyung advised and smiled sympathetically at him, “However, do you not want to give it a try at all? He's incredibly good-looking and from what you said, very supportive and kind.”

Jimin sighed and shrugged his shoulders, playing with the straw of his drink, “He is nice. He is gorgeous, too, but...”

“But?” Taehyung echoed as the orange haired boy didn't finish his sentence, “Is it because of Jungkook?”

The smaller boy looked up immediately, eyes widening, “W-What? Why would you say that? No, the thing between me and Jungkook is completely platonic. Whenever either of us want to stop, the thing is over”

“Well, does any of you want to stop?” His best friend asked and arched up his eyebrows, staring at Jimin with suspicion.

“N-Not now, no” The shorter male answered and shook his head. Jungkook was not the reason for Jimin's hesitation. The boy simply wasn't sure how he felt about Dongha just yet. The kiss was definitely too soon for Jimin and he really wanted to be his friend first before anything else happened between them. Then again, he probably should give Dongha a chance, shouldn't he? He was the first boy that had shown real interest in Jimin – well, the first one he noticed to clarify. According to Taehyung there have been boys showing interest in Jimin before, yet the smaller boy too oblivious to notice that – thus Jimin should see where this goes, if it goes somewhere at all.

“Of course. Eventually, we are going to end the thing between us.” Jimin assured and nodded. Then, the smaller boy furrowed his eyebrows, biting down on his bottom lip. “Do you think... should I end it when I'm becoming friends with Dongha?”

Taehyung pursed his lips and titled his head to the side, contemplating for a moment, “Honestly, no. If you just want to become friends first then the thing with Jungkook is not going to affect that friendship. However, as soon as- or rather if you start to get closer to Dongha and see yourself starting to date him, you should probably end it because otherwise that would be unfair to Dongha”

“You're right. Thank you, Tae”

“Speaking of Jungkook, how are things going? Any plans on what to do next?”

Jimin shook his head, “Not really. Well we still have that list to go through, I guess”

His best friend nodded, eyes lighting up a moment later.

“Oh my god, he hasn't? You're going to be in heaven. Trust me, that shit feels amazing.” The blond boy promised.

“Well, what is it?”

“Hmm, I'll let Jungkook explain that to you” He chuckled, “If he's good at it, you might even come from only that. 10 out of 10 would recommend.”

Jimin averted his gaze as his blush deepened. What was rimming? Should he trust Taehyung? Frankly, all the things he has told him about yet had felt incredibly good. However, Jimin has tried to tell himself to not let Taehyung plant all these ideas inside of his head because he wasn't going to be able to stop them.

Then again, he already knew that it wasn't going to work out like that and he wasn't going to stop Jimin still hadn't quite processed the kiss from Dongha. It felt quite unreal if he was being honest. Should he just ignore it and go on with his life like it hadn't happened? Treat Dongha at dance practice like nothing has happened? Frankly, he wasn't determined about what to do now.

The thing is, he liked Dongha. As a person he seemed very kind and supportive and the longer Jimin thought about it, the more he could see them both become friends. Yet, was that what Dongha really wanted? He wasn't sure.

To be fair, Taehyung was right. Jimin should just text him and talk about everything to fix the issue. He should explain himself and let Dongha explain himself instead of just running away from it. Yes, he should definitely text Dongha and let him know about his thoughts.

Suddenly, Jimin's phone vibrated, startling the smaller one and interrupting his thoughts. He picked it up and opened the message he had received.

Jimin-ssi – Jungkook

The smaller boy sat down on his bed as he read over the message, eyebrows furrowed.

Yes? - Jimin

How are you, Jimin-ssi? How was your day? Are you good? - Jungkook

Involuntarily, a smile appeared on Jimin's face as he felt something bloom inside of his chest. That meant that Jungkook wasn't mad at him, right? If he was, ever. Maybe the man really was just tired that day and had a lot of stuff to do.

Relief washed over Jimin as he felt his heart flutter.

I'm good, thank you :) How are you? - Jimin

I'm fine. Do you have some time right now? To text? - Jungkook

Swallowing hard, Jimin laid down on the bed, head falling on the soft pillows as he looked up at his phone.

Yes, I do have time. - Jimin

Good. I want to give you a little homework, Jimin-ssi – Jungkook

The orange haired one furrowed his eyes, confused by the word.

Homework? - Jimin

Yes. I want you to play with yourself. - Jungkook

The older one gasped at the request, blush creeping up on his cheeks even though Jungkook couldn't even see him.

Now? - Jimin

No, doesn't have to be now. You can play with yourself whenever you want. However, I would like it to be prior to our next meeting. For that, I wanted to suggest tomorrow night as our next meet up, that is if you are free and want to? - Jungkook

Jimin let out a shaky breath.

I'm free tomorrow night. That sounds great. Why do you want me to... play with myself, though? - Jimin

The smaller boy was a little baffled by the request. Why did Jungkook want that?

Right now, I feel like you are very dependant on me for your own pleasure. I don't mind that. I don't mind giving you pleasure. However, you told me repeatedly that you don't like touching yourself without me. I don't want you to think that you can't pleasure yourself without me. I don't want you to rely solely on someone else when it comes to your own pleasure, especially talking about masturbation. I would like for you to be in a mindset and learn that you can touch yourself and feel pleasure, too. It might not feel as good as when someone else touches you, but I don't want you to be unable to receive any kind of pleasure from your own touch. Do you understand what I'm trying to say? - Jungkook Jimin read over the words two times, processing their meaning. Certainly, he did understand what Jungkook was trying to say. To be fair, he was right. Jimin did still have trouble with the idea of touching himself. Yes, it didn't feel as good as when Jungkook touched him, however, the shorter male didn't even want to touch himself at all if the other one wasn't present in some way. That's where the problem lies. When all of this ends one day, Jimin would have trouble with receiving pleasure as Jungkook wouldn't be there to give it to him. He shouldn't be too dependant on the taller boy.

I understand, Jungkook-ah. - Jimin

Good. I want you to play with your little hole. Can you do that for me, little one? You still have the lube don't you? - Jungkook

The orange haired male looked over at his nightstand and pulled open the top drawer, revealing a bottle of lube that he picked out. He only stared at it for a moment, swallowing hard.

I do have it, but... I don't think I can do it alone... - Jimin

His heart was beating fast in his chest. It was odd, wasn't it? That he didn't want to touch himself without Jungkook. This definitely was a problem. He shouldn't be this dependant.

I don't want to force you to anything, Jimin-ah. It's your body and your decision after all. If you feel uncomfortable doing it, then you don't have to do it. I just think it would be beneficial for you as you would learn more about your own body and how to touch yourself without having to rely on someone else. I'm still going to touch you and pleasure you, obviously, but I don't want you to be completely dependant on someone else for your own pleasure. - Jungkook Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth. He understood what the taller boy meant, yet Jimin was still hesitant. Frankly, he didn't even know why. He could at least try, couldn't he?

Okay. I'll try it, Jungkook-ah. - Jimin

Good. We'll see each other tomorrow night then? Anything you want to try? - Jungkook

The first thing that came to his mind was 'rimming'. Oh no. Stupid Tae! Well, no, Taehyung wasn't stupid, but he shouldn't keep giving Jimin all of these ideas. They just didn't leave his head!
Uhm... Jungkook-ah, what is rimming? - Jimin

Rimming? You must have had another look at the list then, right? - Jungkook

Uhm... yes – Jimin

Jimin was not going to tell him that Taehyung has told him about this word. Then again, he faintly remembers having read it on the list as well, hence it wasn't a lie.

I think it's better to explain that to you in person. Anything else? - Jungkook

No. I don't know what to do... - Jimin

I'll think of something and we can talk about it tomorrow – Jungkook

Okay, Jungkook-ah. Good night – Jimin

Good night, Jimin-ah – Jungkook

The smaller boy put his phone down and let out a sigh, glancing at the bottle of lube. Nibbling on his bottom lip, he gripped the bottle and turned it over in his hand, inspecting it.

Right, he might as well try now.

Slowly, he pulled down his pants and briefs, kicking them down the bed. Frankly, he was a little nervous as he has never done this without Jungkook's instructions. What was he supposed to do? Just squirt some of it over his finger and put it inside?

Letting out a shaky breath, he spread his legs and tried to remember how Jungkook always did it. Then, he opened the bottle of lube and squirted some of it over his index finger. With a trembling hand, he reached down and lifted his hips slightly as he circled his entrance. A hiss escaped him as his cold, wet finger touched his rim.

“You can do this” Jimin whispered as he pushed the finger inside carefully, letting out a whine as it felt uncomfortable. Quickly, he pulled the finger out again, sighing frustrated and glancing at his phone.

He wiped his finger over his shirt as he reached for his phone.

Help me, Jungkook-ah :( - Jimin

It didn't take long for the younger to reply.

With what? - Jungkook

I want to play with myself, but it feels uncomfortable :( How do I do this? - Jimin

You have to relax first, Jimin-ah. Take a deep breath for me. Then, close your eyes and think about something that makes you feel good, that turns you on. Don't play with yourself just because I told you, but because you feel like doing it. You need to be comfortable and aroused. - Jungkook

Jimin bit down on his bottom lip, dropping his phone on the bed as he reached for the lube again. He squirted some of it over his index finger once more before pushing the finger against his entrance carefully, thrusting it inside slowly.

The orange haired boy shut his eyes close and tried to think of something that would arouse him, yet he couldn't. Unfortunately, he could only focus on the discomfort he was causing himself by pushing the finger inside further. It didn't feel good at all. Carefully, he moved his finger around and tried to stretch himself, causing him to gasp as it hurt a little.

Frustrated, he pulled out his finger again and wiped it over his shirt. Quickly, he picked up his phone.

_Jungkook-ah, help me, please :( It doesn't feel good. :( Why won't you help me? - Jimin_

_I want you to learn to play with yourself all on your own. - Jungkook_

_But I can't :( Can't you talk to me... Can I call you? Please? - Jimin_

_I'm at work right now, little one. I can't call you. I won't talk you through it because that would make you rely on me again, baby. How about you try playing with your little dick first? That'll get you aroused, hm? - Jungkook_

The smaller boy pouted as he dropped his phone again. Then, he obeyed and closed his hand around his penis, moving his hand up and down slowly while squeezing every now and then. He shut his eyes close and tried to think of something that would arouse him. All he could think about was Jungkook. The way he always touched Jimin with skill, the way he could make Jimin long and crave for more of his touch, the way he kissed him, the way he could lift Jimin up against a wall and thrust into him, the way he pleased him like no one else ever did. There was only Jungkook inside of his head. His big brown eyes when they looked at Jimin with lust, yet something else flashing in them that the smaller one couldn't define, but was desperate to find out.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin mewed and sped up his hand, imagining Jungkook to thrust into him fast, praising him and telling him what a good boy he was. He stroked himself to hardness, the mere thought about Jungkook taking him in any kind of way and calling him a good boy already had him leaking out some precum.

Catching his bottom lip between his teeth, he pulled his hand away and let his erection drop down on his stomach with a slapping noise, reaching for the lube to squirt some of it over his index finger. This time, he kept stroking his hard length while pushing a finger inside of his hole, hoping not to feel any discomfort.

Suprisingly, that did actually work. The shorter male focused on the pleasure he caused himself by tugging on his erection while moving the finger from side to side, hence totally ignoring the discomfort.

Jimin continued to touch himself like this, playing with his erection while thrusting the finger in and out of himself, eventually slipping a second finger inside of himself. Unconsciously, he let out the cutest little whimpers, but tried to keep quiet by biting down on his bottom lip.

The smaller boy tried to find his prostate desperately, kept on pushing his fingers in different directions, yet he simply couldn't reach it. A frustrated sigh escaped him as he bucked his hips against the touch. His fingers just weren't long enough.

“J-Jungkook-ah” Jimin moaned as he imagined the taller boy to pin him down and ram into him hard and fast, penis twitching inside of his hand at that thought.

Carefully, he slipped a third finger inside of himself that caused his mouth to open in a silent scream. The stretch felt oddly good, being filled that much arousing him more. Yet, he found himself wishing that it was Jungkook instead again.
The oranger haired one's eyes fluttered shut as he sped up his movements, feeling his orgasm approach. His hips kept bucking up and down, not sure which touch to follow.

“Ah, ah, Kook-ah” The smaller boy cried out as he felt the feeling burst inside of him, toes curling and legs shaking from the stimulation. It was nowhere close to any orgasm Jungkook personally has caused him, yet Jimin felt satisfied, as he stroked himself through it. Sperm splattering over his stomach instead of his shirt that he thankfully had pulled up to his chest. Even though it was already ruined by the lube he had smeared over it. He arched his back and moaned out Jungkook's name one last time before pulling his fingers out of himself and letting his penis drop down on his stomach with a slapping noise.

For a moment, he just lied there and stared up at the ceiling. That could have went better, yet he was proud of himself for having made himself come without anyone helping him, without Jungkook helping him. Frankly, he still had to practice some more as he didn't know his body that well yet. To be fair, Jungkook knew his body better than him, knew what kind of touch brought him pleasure and what aroused him. Jimin still had to learn all of that about himself, too.

The smaller boy reached for a tissue and cleaned his fingers up. As he was about to clean his stomach up, he halted. Instead, he picked up his phone.

Jungkook-ah – Jimin

He waited for a moment, chest rising and falling quickly. It didn't take long for Jungkook to text back.

Yes? - Jungkook

I'm done... I made myself come – Jimin

Very good, Jimin-ssi. – Jungkook

The shorter male bit down on his bottom lip. For some reason, a wave of courage took over him. Frankly, it must be the arousal that was still messing with his head because usually Jimin would never even consider doing what he was about to do. The thing is, he was probably still in a mindset where he just wanted to be good.

Yes? I'm a good boy? - Jimin

It took a little longer for Jungkook to text back. The phrase 'Jungkook is typing' appearing and disappearing two times until he finally answered.

Yes, baby, my good boy. Did it feel good? Did you come a lot? – Jungkook

I made a big mess thinking about you... - Jimin

Did you, baby? - Jungkook

Yes... - Jimin

And then, he took a picture of his lower body, revealing his spread pale legs, his penis that was just starting to soften and the mess on his exposed stomach. Biting down on his lip, he pressed send.

However, as soon as he had pressed send, he started to regret his decision. The headspace of just wanting to be good ebbing down. What was he doing? What was he thinking? He couldn't just send that picture to Jungkook! That was rude and violating! What if Jungkook didn't want to see that?
Why did he think this was a good idea? What if he got mad at Jimin now? What if he was going to end everything now?

Panic started to rise in him as he felt himself blush. This was so wrong. He shouldn't have done this.

The phone in his hand vibrated, indicating that he had received a message. Jimin was scared to open it if he was being honest, yet he did, hand trembling a little.

_Shit, Jiminie, you can't send me stuff like this. I'm at work. You can't make me all hard with your cute little body, giving me ideas about what I'm going to do to you tomorrow..._ - Jungkook Jimin's heart started beating faster, slight relief washing over him.

_Sorry... I'm a good boy._ - Jimin

_Fuck, stop, Jimin-ah. Good boy's don't get me all hard at work._ - Jungkook

_Sorry. :( I wanna be good. I'll take a shower now._ – Jimin

_Go on. I'll see you tomorrow. Good night, little one_ – Jungkook

Jimin smiled, biting down on his bottom lip. For some reason, he felt pride swell up in his chest at the realisation of having caused Jungkook to get hard. Just because of him.

_Good night, Jungkook-ah_ – Jimin

The smaller boy dropped his phone down on the bed and got up, totally forgetting about the fact that he had wanted to text Dongha as he walked into his bathroom to take a shower.

-----

Jungkook put on a shirt as Jimin sat down on the edge of the bed. The taller boy had just taken a shower before he had opened the door and invite Jimin inside, the orange haired one having blushed at the sight of Jungkook who had been half naked when opening the door.

Honestly, Jimin couldn't look Jungkook in the eye, too embarrassed of what he had done yesterday. How did a part of his brain think it was a good idea to send a naked picture of himself to Jungkook? The shorter male felt incredibly naughty for that. To be honest, even guilty because what if Jungkook had not want to see that at all? He hadn't been able to think clear in that moment, had been way too caught up in wanting to be good for Jungkook.

“For what?” Jungkook wanted to know as he got close, grabbing his chin softly and forcing the orange haired one to lock eyes with him.

“T-The picture. I shouldn't have done that. I-I'm sorry”

The taller one studied his face for a moment.

“Jimin-ah, it is your body. You are free to do with it whatever you want. Whom to and if you send anyone a picture of your body is up to you. However, I want to remind you that there will be people you can't trust that might do things with those pictures that you don't want them to do, do you understand? In no way do I want to tell you what to do with your body or your pictures, but please only do that with people you trust, okay, little one?”

“I-I do trust you”

“I know you do, baby, and you can. I just want you to know that”

“So you aren't mad?” Jimin asked, voice quiet and unsure as he bit down on his bottom lip. Jungkook’s eyes rushed down to his lips before he stared at Jimin’s eyes again.

“Mad? No, why would I?”

The smaller boy shrugged his shoulders. “I-I thought you might be mad because I'd crossed a line or you didn't want to see it.”

“Jimin-ah, do you regret sending it?”

His cheeks flushed as he averted his gaze, “I-I don't know. I don't even know why I sent it. I guess I just wanted to show you that I did actually make myself come. That I-I'm a good boy. Like some sort of proof? But thinking about that now... it's really stupid.” Jimin whined and hid his face in his hands.

“Hey, little one” Jungkook uttered softly and grasped his wrists in order to pull his hands away from his face, “It's not stupid, but you don't ever have to prove anything to me. I know you are my good boy, Jimin-ah. I trust you. However, you don't always have to be good. Don't strive for perfection or total submission. You're still you. It's still your body.” He voiced with a soft tone, “Do you want me to delete it? I can do that if you want. What makes you regret it? The fact that you sent it at all? Or that you sent it to me? Hm, what is it?”

“I-I don't know...” The smaller boy whispered as he felt tears swell up in his eyes.

There was silence for a moment.

“I liked the picture, if that's what you are worried about. You got me all hard at work with your picture, made me think about everything I want to do to you today” Junkook revealed, voice lower as Jimin locked eyes with him again.

Swallowing hard, he looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, searching for something that would give away that he was lying, exaggerating in some way. Yet, there was only sincerity in his eyes.

“Yes, really. However, I can still delete it if you want that, if you feel more comfortable about that.” The taller boy assured and placed his hand against Jimin's cheek, rubbing his thumb over it softly.

“I-I trust you” Jimin uttered, voice soft and genuine, “But...”

“But you still want me to delete it? I totally understand. I'll do that” Jungkook promised and gave a small nod as he picked up his phone and presumably deleted the picture of Jimin's naked body. “All done”

“Thank you” Jimin whispered, smiling faintly as he pulled his sleeves over his petite hands in order to hide them.

They stared at each other for a moment longer until Jimin had to avert his gaze eventually. “Do you feel better now? All good?” The black haired boy whispered and brushed Jimin's hair out of his face. Jimin only hummed, giving a faint nod.

“Should we go on then? Is that okay?”

“Yes” The shorter boy assured.

“So, you asked me about rimming, didn't you? Are you still curious about what that is?”

Looking up, Jimin gave a nervous nod.

“Okay. Well, it's when someone uses their tongue against the anal rim of another person in order to give them sexual pleasure. Some people call it eating out, too. Essentially, you lick at and suck on the hole, pushing your tongue inside every now and then.”

The smaller boy's eyes widened, swallowing hard at the information. “O-Oh”

“It does sound very scary, I know, and you might wonder if that feels good at all, but I guess you won't know before you try it”

“Do you like it?”

Jungkook titled his head to the side, contemplating, “Honestly, receiving it is not really for me. I'm more of a giver when it comes to rimming. I love watching people fall apart when I do it”

Swallowing hard, Jimin gave a small nod. “O-Oh”

“Is that something you want to try?” The taller boy wanted to know, eyebrows arched up.

“M-Maybe” Certainly, Jimin was very curious about how this felt like as he could not imagine anything that he could compare it to. Furthermore, Taehyung seemed to really love this and ’til now, he had always been able to trust his best friend.

“Okay. Here is what I planned for today, Jimin-ssi. Do you know what overstimulation means?” The younger one asked as he brushed Jimin's orange streaks out of his face.

“Uhm...” Overstimulation? To be honest, Jimin somehow had an idea of what it meant and he wasn't sure if he liked that, “Is it when you keep being stimulated after having come?”

“Correct. It's the opposite to what I did to you last time. Instead of denying you to come, I'm going to make you come repeatedly in a row.”

Jimin swallowed hard, thinking about all the times Jungkook had thrusted into him after he had come and the way it had hurt him, had been way too sensitive.

“O-Oh that sounds... scary”

“I'm really curious about how many times I can make you come. However, we don't have to do that, if you don't want to. Then again, perhaps you want to find out, too. You might like the feeling”

The smaller boy caught his bottom lip between his teeth. Was he going to like that? To be fair, he was a little curious about whether he would be able to come again after having an orgasm. Suddenly, he reminisced about the night of the party at Yoongi's where someone had asked him that exact question during truth or dare: How many times in a row someone has ever made him come. People did seem to enjoy that then, no?

“Are you sure?”

The shorter male gave a slight nod.

“Take your clothes off then”

Jimin pulled his shirt over his head slowly while Jungkook walked over to the curtains to pull them together in order to close them. Then, he went over to the light switch in order to dim the lights as Jimin opened his pants and pushed them down to his ankles, stepping out of them a moment later.

Oddly enough, he still felt a little nervous being this exposed in front of Jungkook. However, there was no reason to now, was there? They have seen each other naked so often now and the taller boy has never judged his body, but instead complimented him.

“Is there any position you want to do it in? Do you want to sit on my face, baby?”

Jimin gasped at the suggestion, coughing as he saw Jungkook smirk a little. “S-Sit on your face?”

The orange haired boy echoed as Jungkook grabbed his chin gently, lifting his head in order for them to lock eyes.

“Yes. You can sit on my face while I'm rimming you. Gives your more control over the situation.”

The shorter male felt his cheeks heat up, shaking his head slightly. “I-I don't think... How would you be able to breathe?”

Jungkook chuckled as he rubbed his thumb over Jimin's cheek softly, “Don't worry. I'll be able to breathe.”

“I... That sounds really scary if I'm being honest” Jimin mumbled and bit down on his bottom lip, “Maybe I just lie down on the bed?”

“Okay. Whatever you want, little one. I think lying on your stomach would be the most comfortable position”

Jimin gave a small nod as he crawled up the bed, lying down on his back and placing his head on the soft pillows as he felt his heart beat faster in his chest. The taller boy joined him on the bed, spreading Jimin's legs and kneeling down inbetween them.

“Don't be nervous” Jungkook uttered and caressed his inner thighs softly, locking eyes with the boy beneath him and trying to comfort him. “It won't hurt. I'm pretty certain that you'll love the feeling.”

The smaller boy found himself nodding as he let out a shaky breath.

“Can you tell me your safewords again, kitten? Just in case”

“R-Red for stop, yellow for pause and green for go” He recited as Jungkook leaned over him, staring down at the orange haired boy with gentle eyes.

“Good boy.”

Jimin smiled slightly as Jungkook's eyes trailed over his exposed body, saving the sight beneath him yet again. Honestly, he couldn't get over how beautiful the smaller boy was. Truly, truly a beauty.

When his eyes trailed back up, he kept on caressing his inner thighs in order to relax Jimin.
However, he stilled his motion as soon as his eyes landed on the shorter male's neck. Furrowing his eyebrows, he grabbed Jimin's chin softly and pulled it to the side, exposing more of his neck.

There was an almost faded red mark on Jimin's neck, a hickey.

“D-Dongha” The orange haired boy breathed as he saw emotion flash in Jungkook's eyes while staring at his neck. It was one that he couldn't define, yet it didn't seem like a positive one.

Jungkook stared at it for a moment longer, not saying a word as he ran his thumb over the mark slowly.

“He did that to you?” The taller boy asked, voice a little lower as he locked eyes with Jimin again.

Jimin swallowed hard, giving a slight nod as he fidgeted in his position. Honestly, he felt a little uneasy under Jungkook's stare. It made him very nervous, even more than usually.

“H-He kissed me. Then he did that...”

“Did you... did you want that? Did you like that?” The black haired one wanted to know as he averted his gaze, dropping his hand to his side again.

Honestly, no. No, Jimin didn't particularly like that. Then again, he didn't really know how to feel about the kiss. It was all very confusing and new to the smaller boy. Shouldn't he have felt at least something during the kiss? Kissing Jungkook felt different... just thinking about the black haired boy's soft lips on his made his heart flutter, made his lips tingle. Nothing like this was present when he thought about Dongha kissing him. Was something wrong with Jimin?

“No, I didn't want it. He just kissed me out of nowhere” Jimin whispered, Jungkook's eyes rushing up to his once more.

“And this? Did he ask you before he did that to you?” The taller boy wanted to know, eyes narrowed as he pointed at the red mark on his neck.

“N-No, he didn't ask me.”

Jungkook's jaw locked as soon as the words had left his mouth, eyes darkening a little.

“Jimin-ah, if that fucking bastard does that to you ever again, I want you to tell me immediately. This is your body, okay? He can't just go around and leave marks on anyone's body without their permission.”

“I-It's temporary... I should have-”

“No” Jungkook interrupted and shook his head, “That's not what you're going to do. Don't you dare try to take any of the blame on yourself. He fucked up. It doesn't matter that it's temporary, you still have to deal with it on your body. That fucking Donwa bastard has no right to touch you in any way without your permission. I don't want you to think that it's okay for you to be treated like this”

“Please don't be mad” Jimin whimpered, a little scared as he saw how pissed Jungkook got, chest rising and falling quickly, hands clenched into fists and eyes in a dark colour. The smaller boy lifted his hand and placed it against Jungkook's cheek, rubbing over it softly the way the taller one always did to comfort him.

Jungkook's eyes softened immediately, “I'm not mad at you, little one. You did nothing wrong. I'm mad at him for doing that shit to you. Making the first move and kissing someone to see if they like you is one thing, but he should have noticed your discomfort or at least wait until you kiss back. What he shouldn't have done is leave a fucking hickey on you without asking you if you're fine with that."

“I pushed him away. He stopped when I did that” The orange haired boy assured, still rubbing over Jungkook's cheek.

“He better fucking did. If he hadn't, I wouldn't want to be him right now”

Honestly, Jimin didn't even want to know what he meant by that.

Jungkook leaned down and placed a peck on his forehead, “If Doweon ever pulls some shit like that again and you don't feel comfortable with it, I want you to call me”

Why? Why did he want that? However, all Jimin could do was nod.

“No, baby, I need to hear your pretty voice”

They only looked at each other for a moment, emotion glistening in Jungkook's eyes that Jimin wished he could define, yet he couldn't.

“His name”

Silence for a moment.

“I don't fucking care” The other one muttered.

Jimin couldn't help but chuckle at that, eyes turning into little crescents. The taller boy smiled at the sight, fondess flashing in his eyes as he broke out into a chuckle as well. Their laughs died down some moments later, only smiles remaining on their faces as they stared at each other.

Jungkook was the first to break eye contact, clearing his throat as he sat back on his knees.

“Okay, baby, turn around on your stomach for me and place a pillow beneath your hips”

The orange haired boy obeyed, slight nervousness arising in him as he grabbed a pillow and placed it beneath his crotch area, carefully lying down on the soft bed and head placed on the fluffy pillows.

“Shit, yes perfect” Jungkook cursed under his breath as he placed a soft hand on Jimin's butt, pulling it to the side in order to reveal his pink, shaved hole. It didn't appear as tight as usual, due to the fact that Jimin played with himself last night. The skin was so soft beneath Jungkook's touch, so pale, his butt big and round, frankly just so pretty. Jungkook couldn't wait to see Jimin fall apart beneath his tongue. “Played so well with your hole last night, didn't you? Were so good for me. Good boys deserve rewards, don't they?”
Jungkook's voice let a shiver run down Jimin's back, goosebumps rising everywhere the black haired boy's fingertips traced his skin. Jimin's penis twitched as he felt Jungkook move behind him, presumably leaning down as he could feel his breath hit his buttocks a moment later.

“What's your colour, kitten?” The man wanted to know as he parted Jimin's buttocks, getting a good look at his pretty hole. Jungkook couldn't help but place a kiss on Jimin's inner thigh, the skin just so inviting. It was a bummer that the marks he had left on Jimin's body were already gone. Jungkook continued to trail soft kisses up his thigh, loving the way Jimin was already whimpering for him, legs starting to shake. The smaller boy always smelled so good, a mix between strawberry, vanilla and something he could only describe as Jimin filling his nostrils. The scent was intoxicating.

Jimin's leg twitched, a shaky breath leaving his lips as he grabbed a pillow. “G-Green”

The taller one hummed as he lifted his head and leaned closer to Jimin's entrance. Involuntarily, Jimin squeezed his eyes shut, clinging onto the pillow harder as he spread his legs further. He was excited, yet nervous for what was about to happen.

The first lick came without a warning, Jimin yelping at the touch and body twitching. His eyes fluttered open as Jungkook chuckled slightly, the vibrations of his laugh being felt by Jimin.

“J-Jungkook-ah” He mewled as Jungkook licked over his hole once more, grasping the pillow tighter.

Honestly, there was nothing he could compare this feeling to. It felt odd to know that there was a tongue right on his rim, yet for some reason, jolts of pleasure ran through him everytime Jungkook licked over his rim.

The younger boy gripped his buttocks tighter and parted them a little further as he moved his tongue from side to side over the rim, circling it every now and then, just loving the cute little noises that escaped the smaller boy beneath him.

“Ah, Jungkook-ah” Jimin cried out, legs shaking as his eyes fluttered shut. The orange haired boy grasped the bed sheets and clenched his hands into little fists, not even realising what cute little whimpers and whines were leaving his mouth.

Never would he have imagined rimming to feel like this. Frankly, he didn't even understand why it did feel this good. There was nothing he could explain this with to feel as intense and incredible as it did.

Suddenly, Jungkook pushed his tongue inside of his entrance, Jimin crying out at the feeling of the taller one's tongue entering him. Jungkook pushed his tongue inside and moved it around, some drool running down Jimin's crack and probably making a mess on both of them.

The shorter male couldn't help but move his hips back against the touch unconsciously, asking for more. Jungkook gave it to him by licking over his hole fast, sucking on it every now and then.

“Kook-ah” Jimin whimpered and pushed his face into the pillow in order to muffle the sounds he was making. Seriously, he should try and learn how to control them. It was a little embarrassing how he couldn't control all the cute little noises he made.

“No, baby” Jungkook protested, pulling back slightly which caused Jimin to whine, “Let me hear those pretty noises”

Jimin obeyed and tilted his head to the side again, immediately moaning as Jungkook's tongue was back on his rim. The smaller boy really wondered if he was able to come from this alone. Was that possible? The feeling was incredible and intense, yet it somehow didn't feel like it was enough.

Then again, his hard length was already leaking precum, making a mess over the pillow beneath himself. Maybe Jungkook would let him play with himself simultaneously?

“Kook-ah, Kook-ah, please” Jimin whimpered and reached down inbetween him and the pillow, closing his hand around his erection, “Can I?”

“No, kitten” The taller one uttered, voice a little husky as he grabbed Jimin's wrist and pulled it away from his dick, “No touching. You're going to come untouched, just from my tongue alone”

The smaller boy almost cried at that, “I don't think I can” He whined, moving his hips to create some friction on his erection. As good as Jungkook made him feel, it just wasn't enough. He wouldn't be able to come from it alone.

“Stop” Jungkook ordered and stilled his movement, “Do I have to tie you up, baby? I thought you were my good boy, no?”

“I-I am” The shorter male whispered, voice breaking, “I am, I promise. I won't touch myself”

“Good boy”

Jimin's penis twitched as he put his hand back to his side, slight pout appearing on his face as he placed his head back on the pillows. The other one didn't waste any time and was back on his entrance quickly, licking over it firmly.

The smaller boy honestly didn't know how long that went on for. It felt like an hour where he was just lying there, clutching on the pillow, hands turned into little fists, cheeks flushed, lips parted and letting out whimpers and whines while he was drooling all over himself, body trembling as he was squirming in his position from side to side.

“Pleaaase” Jimin cried out, tears swelling up in his eyes, head feeling dizzy. The taller boy hasn't stopped in so long, kept pleasuring him with his tongue for what felt like an eternity. In reality, it most likely wasn't even that long that he was lying there and taking what Jungkook gave him, yet it felt like that. Frankly, the feeling was overwhelming. It was pleasure that was intense and steady, yet never quite felt like it was enough to make him come.

“You're being so good, kitten. You're such a good boy, aren't you?” Jungkook praised before he continued to suck on Jimin's entrance.

“Kook-ah!” The shorter boy cried, not knowing how much more he could take of this. He just wanted to come, oh please, please. “Please, I...” He couldn't even finish his sentence, started to squirm around as he squeezed his eyes shut.

The overwhelming feeling became more and more intense, gradually rising and starting to make Jimin believe that maybe he could actually come from only this.

“Are you going to make a big mess for me, baby? Aren't you going to come for me like a good boy?” The black haired boy uttered and caressed his butt cheek softly before licking over his entrance again.

“I-I want to, I want to be good. Please” The orange haired boy whined.

There was the urge to just hump the pillow, to rock against it fast in order to finally find his release, yet Jungkook had said no, had told him that he should keep still if he wanted to be a good boy. Jimin was good so he wasn't going to disobey.

His head was spinning, drool was running down his chin as he bit onto the pillow. Honestly, his body was starting to ache from being in this position, he didn't want to imagine what Jungkook must feel like.

It only took a couple more licks until Jimin felt that familiar feeling bloom inside of him, legs shaking and stomach twisting, “Jungkook-ah!” The shorter boy cried out, his orgasm so close now, “Jungkook-ah, please, I'm close”

“Go on, baby”

Jimin squeezed his eyes shut and clenched his hands into fists as the overwhelming feeling washed over him. Sperm spurted out of his erection all over the pillow as Jungkook kept licking over his hole. Honestly, the feeling was incredibly intense. The stimulation had been quite slow and steady, gradually increasing until it burst in the end. Jimin's eyes rolled back into his head while his body was trembling violently.

The taller boy didn't stop, licked him through his orgasm which caused Jimin to kick his legs at the sensitivity. “N-No” Jimin whined because Jungkook didn't stop, but licked faster, more cum leaking out of his penis, “No!” He cried out and pushed his face into the pillow, grabbing behind himself to grasp Jungkook's hair, pulling on it slightly while trying to get away from the touch.

The black haired one did seem to have mercy because he pulled back, breathing heavily as he straightened his back, “Fuck, Jimin, came so good for me. Make the cutest and prettiest noises for me, don't you?”

Jimin hummed as he gave a slight now, body still shaking.

“Baby, what's your colour?”

It was a little difficult to think clear right now. Jimin's head was still spinning and his body felt slack, just lying there. He was too tired to move.

“G-Green”

Jungkook grabbed him by the hips and turned him over on his back, Jimin whining at the movement.

“Hey, are you okay? Took that so well, were so good, kitten” The taller one praised as he pushed Jimin's hair out of his face, staring at him. His cheeks were flushed, lips parted and letting out little pants, some drool was on his chin, to conclude, the boy seemed dazed. Well, Jungkook wasn't one to talk. His own spit was all over Jimin's butt and hole, as well as his own face.

Jimin seemed to notice that, too. The black haired boy has made him feel so good, has been in that most likely uncomfortable position for so long just to pleasure Jimin. He wanted to give that back to him, wanted him to feel good, too.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah. Made me feel so good”

“I'm glad. Did you like that?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded, eyes almost falling shut as they felt so heavy. “Do you want me to do that to you, too?”
Jungkook arched up his eyebrows, seeming a little surprised, “As I said before, receiving isn't really for me when it comes to rimming. I'm more of a giver. However, if you really, really want to try what it's like, I would let you do that”

“I don't want to do anything that doesn't make you feel good” Jimin mumbled as he shook his head, “Want you to feel pleasure, too”

“I get pleasure from watching you fall apart the way you do, baby. Always look so pretty, make the cutest little sounds, makes me want to pleasure you even more”

Jimin blushed a little as he felt Jungkook rub his thumb over his cheek. Suddenly, he had an idea.

“Well, I could... I would like to give you a blowjob again” The smaller boy uttered, looking up at Jungkook with big, innocent eyes. He felt more awake now again, the urge to pleasure the other one causing a new wave of energy to hit him.

“Oh no.

Jimin could only stare at it with big eyes as Jungkook approached him again, sitting down at the edge of the bed next to him.

“Do you think you can do that for me, baby? I want you to come again with the vibrator up your pretty hole while you suck me off.” Jungkook let him know, voice low as he opened the bottle of lube, “Come here”

The older one hesitated, yet crawled over to him eventually.

“Over my lap”

Heart beating fast in his chest, Jimin bent over Jungkook's laps, ass up while he placed his head titled on the soft bedsheets. “Like this?”

“Yes, just like this”

Jimin could hear him squirt some lube over the vibrator. Even though he was a little scared because he had just come moments ago and knew that it was probably going to hurt a little, he found himself be anticipant as well. Both feelings were blooming inside of him, not sure which one was having the upper hand.

“Your hole is already stretched out so well because you played with yourself yesterday, didn't you? It's going to fit right inside of you, kitten.”

The younger one parted his butcheekes and pushed the vibrator against his entrance that was still shiny with Jungkook's spit.

“Can you tell me your colour, little one?”

Letting out a shaky breath, Jimin uttered a small “Green”
Carefully, Jungkook pushed the vibrator inside of Jimin's hole. The smaller one had expected it to hurt a little or to feel some kind of discomfort, yet the vibrator fit right inside effortlessly, his hole opening up right away.

“Kook-ah” Jimin whimpered, squirming a little as Jungkook pushed the vibrator right against Jimin's prostate.

“I know” Jungkook cooed as he caressed his buttcheek softly, “Almost done”

Suddenly, there was a buzzing noise as the toy inside of him started to vibrate. Jimin yelped, body twitching at the feeling. It was already intense and overwhelming from the beginning, hurt a little bit if he was being honest. His penis had no time to soften, but was brought back to full hardness as the vibrator kept buzzing right against his prostate.

Honestly, it didn't feel as bad as he had expected. Maybe that was caused by the fact that a little time had passed between his prior stimulation and this one. “Jungkook-ah” The orange haired one whined as he was lifted up by Jungkook softly and turned around so he could straddle the taller boy.

It took a moment for him to answer. “Green” He uttered eventually, mouth opening in a silent scream after as he squirmed in Jungkook's lap.

“On your knees then, kitten”

Jimin got up on wobbly legs, Jungkook keeping a hand on the vibrator so it wouldn't slip out. The smaller boy dropped down on the soft rug, Jungkook pulling off his briefs and tossing them to the side before spreading his legs.

“Can we-” Jimin tried to ask, yet could only moan high pitched as he sat down on his knees between Jungkook's legs, the vibrator pushed right against his prostate again, “Can we put it on a lower setting, please”

“Baby, it's already the lowest setting” The black haired boy told him as he grabbed his chin softly, “Is it too much, hm? Do you want to stop?”

The shorter boy hesitated, yet found himself shake his head, “No, I want to try this”

“Okay, baby. Remember, you have your safewords when needed”

Jimin gave a slight nod as he glanced at Jungkook's hard penis, big and veiny. The orange haired one's mouth started watering as he closed a hand around the erection, Jungkook letting out a breath in response.

The smaller one didn't waste another moment and leaned over the hard length, wrapping his lips around the head and twirling his tongue around, licking over the slit to taste some precum. He kept whimpering around the penis in his mouth as he sank down, taking more of it into his mouth while stroking over what couldn't fit between his lips just yet.

“So good, baby, so good for me” Jungkook praised and positioned his hands on the bed behind himself, leaning back on them while staring down at the angelic looking boy with his dick in his mouth.

The shorter one seemed determined, sinking down further on his dick, yet only so far as he started to gag and had to pull off, coughing and spluttering as a streak of spit connected his mouth to Jungkook's dick.

Jimin tried to focus on anything else but the vibrator inside of him. It was intense to have jolts of pleasure run through him like this while having just come moments ago and trying to concentrate on giving a blowjob now. Frankly, he still felt dizzy, yet the arousal had taken over and controlled his action.

The orange haired boy quickly took Jungkook's penis back into his mouth as the vibrator pressed against his prostate, whimpering high-pitched while sinking down on Jungkook's erection. This time, Jimin didn't pull off even though he started gagging and spluttering around Jungkook's penis in his mouth the further he sank down.

Jungkook cursed under his breath at the image. Watching the angelic looking boy take his dick into his mouth with this much determination was incredibly hot and something he still had to wrap his head around. As he watched Jimin whine and drool around his dick, body twitching due to the stimulation on his prostate and watery eyes looking up at him he felt himself come close to his orgasm fast. There was something so obscene about the innocence Jimin represented, yet what he was currently doing being the complete opposite. Honestly, Jimin was a vision. Such a beauty.

While Jungkook watched Jimin approach his own orgasm as well, having a hard time trying to concentrate on sucking dick while his hips were rocking up and down with the vibrator inside of him, he wished he had bought a vibrator with a remote. Gosh, the way the smaller boy would yelp and squirm on his knees every time Jungkook would put it on a higher setting, watching him fall apart and come hard all over himself with a dick inside of his mouth. The taller boy cursed under his breath once more, dick twitching at the thought.

The smaller boy was drooling all over Jungkook's erection, making a big mess while bobbing his head up and down as he was moving his hips around unconsciously in chase of his orgasm. The cutest little noises were leaving his lips as well as obscene gurgling and sucking sounds that made Jungkook curse once more.

“You're being such a good boy, Jimin-ah, are taking me so well”

Jimin whimpered at the praise, taking more of Jungkook inside of his mouth. If Jimin was correct, then there wasn't much left now of Jungkook's erection that wasn't between his lips just yet. He felt pride swell up in his chest, proud of being so close to finally fitting all of Jungkook inside of his mouth.

“Fuck, Jimin-ah, your mouth feels so good, always so good”

The shorter male felt his penis twitch, the vibrations and praises starting to overwhelm him as he felt his orgasm approach. “Kook-ah” He warned, voice a little hoarse, “I'm close”

“Go on, come for me, baby, were so good”

The smaller boy squeezed his eyes shut, only stroking Jungkook fast now as he felt the feeling burst inside of him. His whole body was trembling as cum shot out of his hard length, splattering over the side of the bed and the rug beneath him. “Jungkook-ah!” He screamed out, the orgasm washing over him too intense as tears formed in his eyes. Jimin's mouth was opened in a silent scream as he clenched his other hand into a fist.

Jungkook could only stare at the sight in front of him: Jimin's cute nose was scrunch up, tears were visible at the side of his eyes, cheeks were flushed, eyes squeezed shut, he was still trying to stroke Jungkook with his tiny hand that couldn't wrap around all of his length while the vibrator was prolonging his own orgasm.

“Fuck, Jiminie” Jungkook cursed as he felt his own orgasm wash over him, Jimin quickly wrapping his lips around the head to catch the cum that shot out. The taller boy clenched his hands into fists as he threw his head back, coming inside of Jimin's mouth who was still whining and whimpering from the overstimulation on his prostate while swallowing all of his cum and licking his dick clean.

When Jimin pulled off it looked like he was about to faint, eyes heavy and glassy, body still shaking from the stimulation as tears were streaming down his face. Jungkook picked up the smaller boy and made him straddle his lap, brushing his hair out of his face and locking eyes with him.

“Out, out” Jimin whined and grabbed behind himself, trying to pull the vibrator out of his hole, everything being too oversensitive.

“Were so good for me, baby, such a good body” Jungkook praised, a little out of breath as he reached behind Jimin and gripped the end of the vibrator, moving it from side to side which caused Jimin to cry out and clutch onto him, grabbing Jungkook's shirt and clenching his hands into fists.

“Sssh, it's okay” Jungkook whispered and placed a kiss on his temple as he pulled out the toy slowly, circling his rim one last time before turning it off and letting it drop on the soft rug. Jimin hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck, breathing heavily as his chest rose and fell quickly.

The older one was dazed, out of it to be exact. He didn't even notice Jungkook reach for the lube, squirting some of it over his index and middle finger. That was until he felt the fingers on his entrance, circling his rim.

Jimin tensed, shaking his head as he clinged onto Jungkook's shirt. “No” He whimpered as Jungkook pushed both fingers inside of his hole, easily slipping in.

The smaller boy's mouth opened in a silent scream as Jungkook pushed his fingers right against his prostate, wrapping his other arm around Jimin's back and holding him tight.

“Played with yourself so well yesterday, didn't you? The vibrator and my fingers could slip inside so easily. My good boy, aren't you?” Jungkook whispered right against his ear as he pulled his fingers out, just to push them back inside with force, hitting right against Jimin's prostate.

The smaller boy yelped, moving his hips away from the touch as Jungkook started to rub right against his prostate in firm circle motions, not giving his penis a chance to soften but instead he found himself leak precum – or was it cum at this point? Jimin had no idea as the stimulation right now felt as if he was already or still having an orgasm – all over both of them.

“Sssh, baby, I know. Do you think you can come one more time for me, hm? Do you think you can do that? Look so pretty when you come, always make the cutest noises and faces.”

Tears streamed down his face as Jungkook continued to thrust his fingers in and out of his hole fast, rubbing at his prostate every now and then. It was too much. He couldn't take it. It didn't particularly hurt, it just felt like way too much to handle, way to overwhelming and oversensitive.

“No, no, I can't” The shorter boy sobbed and shook his head, still squirming in Jungkook's lap and now grabbing behind himself in order to push Jungkook's hand away. Yet, The taller boy gripped his wrist and pulled it away, holding it firmly with his hand while thrusting his fingers faster.

“I know you can, baby. Only one more. Were such a good boy for me, weren't you? Made such a mess for me already. Will you make another mess for me, hm? Always such a messy boy, aren't you?”

Jimin couldn't take it. It was too overwhelming, he was leaking so much precum over them both, his penis didn't stop twitching, body didn't stop shaking and whines and whimpers didn't stop leaving his parted lips.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin cried out and hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck.

“Baby, you can use your safeword if you want to stop, yes? Just say yellow or red and I'll stop, okay” Jungkook assured, caressing his back softly with one hand while the other one kept rubbing over Jimin's prostate.

The smaller boy squeezed his eyes shut. The thing is, he didn't know if he wanted him to actually stop. It was weird. The feeling was overwhelming and intense, but it was a feeling where Jimin couldn't tell if he wanted to stop it or if he wanted it to continue to see what happens. Frankly, he was curious how it would feel to come a third time in a row.

“Do you want to use your safeword?” The younger one asked, not entirely sure if Jimin just actually didn't want to use it or if he just didn't want to disappoint Jungkook – which was silly because Jungkook would never be disappointed in him, especially not because of something like this.

Jimin shook his head.

“I need to hear your pretty voice, kitten”

“Okay” Jungkook whispered and placed a peck on his temple before thrusting his fingers a little faster, rubbing at Jimin's prostate a little firmer. He couldn't get enough of the cute little noises Jimin made, loved how he was squirming around on his lap. “So good for me, baby, aren't you?”

“Kook-ah, c-close” Jimin moaned high-pitched as he felt his orgasm approach - at least that's what he thought. Certainly, he couldn't tell anymore, everything just feeling overwhelming already.

Well, that was until his orgasm actually hit him. He definitely knew then that it was happening, the feeling so intense Jimin collapsed against Jungkook, penis only twitching but no more cum spurting out, body trembling violently as he whined right against Jungkook's ear, clinging onto his shirt.

Jungkook went slack in Jungkook's arms, the taller boy thrusting him through his orgasm, “There you go, little one, such a good boy” Finally, he halted his movement and pulled out his fingers, wrapping his arms around the boy on his lap who was panting against him, still shaking all over. “Sssh, it's okay”

They were both dirty with cum, spit and sweat. That wasn't new as they were always covered in some sperm, yet this time was a little different. Jimin had come three times, making a mess on the bed, themselves and on the floor. Jungkook and him had spit all over each other from pleasuring one another. And sweat – well, that was really no surprise, was it? Jimin didn't know what time it was, but it felt like they have been going at it for a very long time tonight.

“Are you okay, little one? Can you tell me your colour?”
Jimin was so sleepy. His body felt sore and exhausted, yet somehow content at the same time. It was an odd feeling, yet one he grew to like.

“Green”

Jungkook hummed as he caressed his back softly, “Made such a mess, didn't you, baby?”

Jimin blushed, nodding slightly as he hid his face in the curve of Jungkook’s neck, “S-Sorry. I made your bed and floor dirty”

The taller boy chuckled, “Baby, don't apologise. I know how messy you can get by now. It's not a big deal. I'll clean it up later. First, we need to clean you up now”

The orange haired boy wanted to protest, didn't want to move an inch right now, yet Jungkook lifted him up with ease and got up on his feet. Jimin wrapped his legs around Jungkook’s hips, closing his arms around his neck as he walked into the bathroom.

“We're both quite dirty” Jungkook pointed out as he turned the shower on. He placed Jimin down on the counter softly, the smaller boy hissing as his butt came in contact with the cold surface.

Then, Jungkook pulled his shirt over his head, letting it drop to the floor as he turned around to the shower, setting the water to the perfect temperature. Jimin couldn't help but stare at the handsome man in front of him. Still mesmerised and shocked by how gorgeous Jungkook was. Honestly, how could a human being be this beautiful? A greek god, wasn't he?

Jimin wet his lips just as Jungkook turned back around, catching him stare at his naked body. A smirk appeared on the taller one's face as he approached Jimin, the smaller boy swallowing hard and blushing under his stare, “What?” Jungkook asked as he spread Jimin's legs and stood inbetween them, stroking over his thighs softly.

“N-Nothing” Jimin stuttered, averting his gaze as his blush deepened, “You're just... gorgeous. So gorgeous”

Jungkook blinked, studying Jimin's features as something glistened in his eyes.

“So are you, Jimin-ah. So damn beautiful” Jungkook whispered, lifting his hand in order to caress the smaller one's cheek, Jimin nuzzling against the touch involuntarily.

Suddenly, there was a phone ringing. Jimin looked up, knowing immediataly that it was Jungkook's because his own was put on vibrations only. Jungkook glanced at the door, yet didn't leave to take the call – even though Jimin had expected him to. It was his work most likely, wasn't it? Not that Jimin would mind. This was only platonic, almost business-like you could say. Jungkook could take a call whenever he wanted to, yet there was something blossoming inside of Jimin when he realised that Jungkook wasn't going to take the call.

The taller boy smiled slighty at him, dropped his hand a moment later and lifted Jimin up with ease and carrying him into the shower. This was new. They have never done this. Well, except for that one time where Jimin had a slight panic attack, yet that didn't really count because the purpose of that was to stop his panic attack whereas this... well, this was for them to clean up the mess they have created. Usually, they used a wet cloth to clean each other up so where was the change coming from? Why did Jungkook decide to change that and instead full on shower?

Jungkook stepped under the warm water that hit both of them, Jimin gasping at the suddenness. It felt nice against his skin, wasn't too hot. The orange haired one was placed down on his feet as Jungkook reached for his shampoo bottle, squirting some of it over his hand.
“Is this okay or do you want to do it yourself?”

This was... well, Jimin couldn't explain it. Frankly, it was a little odd, wasn't it? The whole situation? Well, maybe not, yet Jimin couldn't help but feel like it was. There was something so intimate about showering together, wasn't there? However, it was silly to think of it like this as they have done way more intimate stuff already – just minutes ago to be exact.

“Y-You can” Jimin uttered, water still splattering down on both of them.

Jungkook lifted his hands and brushed them through Jimin's hair, massaging the shampoo into his hair. It felt nice. Really nice and comforting for some reason. The taller boy cleaned up his head, not looking into Jimin's eyes, but instead focusing on his task, concentrated expression on his face. Jimin smiled at that, something adorable about his expression.

When Jungkook was satisfied, he reached for his shower gel and squirted some of it over his hands, rubbing them together before starting to clean Jimin's shoulders, down to his arms and then back up to his chest, under his arms, down to his stomach – which then caused Jimin to break out into giggles because he was ticklish.

There was fondness in Jungkook's eyes as he chuckled, the sound warming Jimin deep within as Jungkook turned him around. “Is this okay?” The black haired one wanted to make sure as he parted his butcheeks. Jimin nodded as Jungkook cleaned his butt, rubbing over his hole carefully in order to clean him. “Clean your dick on your own if you feel more comfortable about that” Jimin reached for the shower gel and squirted some of it over his hand, the scent reminding him of Jungkook immediately – obviously – as he started to clean his crotch area, while Jungkook took care of his thighs.

When they were done, Jungkook turned the smaller boy around once more, said boy now reaching for the shampoo bottle. Jungkook followed his action as Jimin squirted some of it over his hands, placing the bottle back down before getting up on his tippy toes and brushing his hands through Jungkook's hair.

The taller boy seemed a little surprised as he felt and watched Jimin massage the shampoo into his hair, scratching over his scalp softly every now and then. Jungkook's eyes fell shut, something oddly comforting and soft about the touch. As he opened his eyes again, his gaze landed on Jimin's face. His nose was scrunched up and his tongue sticking out slightly in a concentrating manner. Involuntarily, Jungkook found himself smiling at the sight. He leaned down a little to make it easier for Jimin, the smaller one halting for a moment and thanking him quietly.

Jungkook reached for the shower gel and started to clean the rest of his own body while Jimin was still massaging his head, determined on doing a good job it seemed like. They both finished almost simultaneously, the water washing away any of the left over shampoo and shower gel. Both of them were now clean again, free from any sweat, sperm or saliva.

The black haired one turned the water off, stepping out of the shower first and picking up a towel that he wrapped around Jimin a moment later, lifting him up with ease and carrying him out the shower in order to place him down on the counter again.

Suddenly, there was a phone ringing again, yet Jungkook didn't make any move to take the call this time either.

Jimin started to dry himself with the towel, his heart making weird skips inside of his chest and warmth filling his whole body, causing him to feel all bubbly inside. He didn't know what that was. Didn't know what it meant. All he knew was that he was grateful for this and that it felt... good.
Really good, not having to leave right away after their sexual encounter or aftercare.

The younger boy wrapped a towel around himself, drying his body and then ruffling his towel over his head in order to dry his hair. Jimin mirrored his action, doing the same to his own hair. When they were both finished, they looked at each other and snickered, both now having a fluffy mess on top of their head – well, it wasn't much of a difference to how their hair previously looked.

Jungkook opened a drawer and pulled out two fresh pairs of briefs, putting one on himself before helping Jimin in the other. Then, he lifted Jimin up again and carried him back into the bedroom, the smaller boy unable to stop smiling as he placed his head on Jungkook's shoulder. He was softly dropped on the bed before Jungkook walked around the room and picked up their scattered clothes.

“Do you need cuddles?” The black haired boy wanted to know as he placed their clothes down on the bed, voice soft and curious as he arched up his eyebrows.

Honestly, Jimin wanted to scream yes, wanted Jungkook to cuddle him and fall asleep in his bed – he was way too sleepy right now to go home. However, he knew that that wasn't going to happen. It was one of the rules, wasn't it? Then again, Jungkook never showered with him before in order to clean him up so if that changed... maybe there were other changes as well? Yet, Jimin didn't have any idea why Jungkook changed this part of their meet up, had no clue where that came from. And to be fair, the cleaning up part was not an official rule, hence their could be adjustments. The official rules, on the other hand, well, that was another story. They should not be violated.

“No” The smaller boy breathed, eyes heavy, ‘I'm fine. Also, I'm pretty sure I would fall asleep when we cuddle” He uttered as he put on his shirt.

Jungkook stared at him for a moment longer before nodding and walking back into the bathroom while Jimin put on the rest of his clothes. The younger one walked back into the bedroom a moment later, now dressed in sweatpants and a white shirt.

“No, don’t worry about that. I'll take care of it later. You don't have to worry about that, considering I was the one who caused it” Jungkook protested, smirking a little at the end.

Jimin blushed slightly under his stare and cleared his throat, “W-Well then-”

“Jimin-ah, was today okay? Was it too much? You didn't use your safewords, but it seemed like you were pretty close” Jungkook interrupted him.

“Uhm, well...” Frankly, it had all been very intense and overwhelming, but not something he would use his safeword for, “It was very intense and... and a lot. It was right at the limit I would say. I don't think I would have been able to take another one and I don't think I can do this every time” The smaller one admitted, voice soft and unsure.

Jungkook nodded, “Fair enough. It's very exhausting, but you did so well. I didn't go too far then? What about the rimming?” The taller one wanted to know as he leaned against the wall.

“No, you didn't go too far” Jimin assured, pulling his sleeves over his petite hands, “I... It... That felt really, really good. I didn't think that it would feel this good. However, it was a little frustrating because it felt like it wasn't enough, but...”

“But it was enough in the end, made you come very hard, didn't it?” Jungkook finished his sentence.

Swallowing hard, Jimin nodded.
Then, there was a phone ringing once again. However, neither this time did Jungkook take the call, but kept his eyes fixated on Jimin.

“Okay. We’ll talk about what to do next time then. Let's go downstairs. It's very late already” The younger boy pushed himself off the wall and they both made their way downstairs. “My driver is downstairs and probably waiting already.” Jungkook let him know as Jimin put on his shoes.

“Okay, thank you, Jungkook-ah”

When his shoes were tied, he straightened his back and reached for his backpack, throwing it over one shoulder.

“And Jimin-ssi, don't forget what I told you about that damn Dowheon guy”

Jimin smiled, shaking his head, “Dongha. His name is Dongha” The shorter male couldn't help but chuckle. Was it really that difficult to remember his name? Maybe Jungkook didn't care enough to remember or he did that on purpose, Jimin really couldn't tell.

“Right, whatever. Just remember, okay? Whenever, wherever, just call me when he does some shit like that again - or anyone really”

The smaller boy nodded, smiling faintly. They stared at each other for a moment longer, looking back and forth between each other's eyes, before Jungkook opened the door.

The moment Jimin stepped out of the apartment, the elevator doors opened, revealing a beautiful girl approximately their age with blond hair approach them in fast steps, her high heels clicking on the floor with each step.

“Seoyun?” Jungkook uttered confused, yet stepped aside to let the girl inside of his apartment.

Jimin could only stare at the situation, slightly baffled as Jungkook glanced at him one last time before the girl shut the door close. “You don't pick up my calls for that? Did you fuck him or what?”

The shorter boy swallowed hard, ouch. Who was that girl? Where did Jungkook know her from?

Jimin shook his head. That was really none of his business. He could still hear their muffled voices as they were talking to each other, yet it felt wrong to keep standing here and eavesdrop.

The orange haired boy stepped into the elevator and pressed the botton for the ground floor, stomach twisting as he felt a weird emotion inside of his chest, the euphoria and happiness he had felt just moments ago completely gone.

Nibbling on his bottom lip, he pulled out his phone.

Good night, Jungkook-ah – Jimin

It felt weird to not having said that to the taller one, felt incomplete somehow. That's why he at least wanted to text him.

The elevator doors opened and Jimin stepped out, leaving the building and being hit by the fresh night air, Jungkook's driver already waiting for him and greeting him with a slight bow that Jimin returned.

He made his way over to the car and climbed inside, thanking the driver. Jimin looked down at the message and finally pressed send.

There didn't come any reply that night.

Chapter End Notes

Sooo... who do you think that is?

Dongha has made a move! Do you think he shouldn't have done that or do you think it's good that Jimin now knows what he actually wants?

Thank you again for all the love <3
Dongha and Jimin finally talk about what happened, settling their issues. Then, the group of friends wants to hang out together, yet not everyone makes it... Later, Jungkook and Jimin try a soft limit of the smaller boy.

Hiii :)

Thank you so much for all the love on the last chapters <3 I loved your feedback, requests and guesses on what happens next :) Your comments always encourage and motivate me, thank you so much <3

I really wanted to update yesterday, but I didn't feel so well :( However, I'm finally able to post a new chapter today and it's a very long one, I hope you enjoy it :)
the South Korea Dance Championship where teams from all over South Korea performed and competed, the winners not only earning a massive money price, yet also moving on to the World Dance Championship where they represented their country. The price for the first winner wasn't only the honor of winning for their country, but also a huge money price and – which was probably the most jaw dropping thing of all – a promised contract with a major entertainment company in your country.

It felt unreal.

Suddenly, the silence was gone and they were all jumping around, some screaming and crying as they fell into each other's arms, hugging each other tightly. Jimin ran up to Hoseok with big, shocked, yet so, so happy eyes as he pulled his friend into a hug.

“Hyung, how did you...” The smaller boy couldn't even finish his sentence, feeling way too bubbly inside as it somehow felt like he was his dream of becoming a professional dancer this much closer.

“Guys, I know it's all happy and exciting, but we've still got a lot of work to do. I wanted to ask you first before applying, yet the deadline was sooner this year so I had to send our video in before it's too late. If any of you don't want to participate, let me know right now. However, this is a major opportunity and not everyone is even allowed to perform there and gets a spot in the competition. We have to work incredibly hard. The competition is no joke. We only have a couple of weeks left” Hoseok reminded them as he let go of Jimin.

They all nodded, still flustering in their positions as they simply couldn't believe that this was real. They just wanted to scream out in euphoria, jump around in joy and honestly, maybe even cry a little bit.

Hoseok chuckled, shaking his head, “Okay, guys, go drink some water now. The break will be a little longer so you can calm down. I want you all to use that energy in your dancing after the break”

Jimin let out a shaky breath, walking over to his bag to pull out his phone and his water bottle. With trembling hands, the smaller boy unlocked his phone and clicked on his picture gallery, searching for that special photo. When he found it, he clicked on the picture and smiled down at it.

It was a picture of his grandmother, holding Jimin up and letting him feel like he was flying, arms spread wide as if he was actually a bird. They were both smiling brightly, Jimin could swear he still heard her laugh now whenever he looked at the picture. The small boy didn't even realise the tears that were swelling up in his eyes, only noticed them once one dropped down on his phone display.

They weren't sad tears, no not even remotely. What Jimin was feeling right now was... was... god, he couldn't even explain it. There was happiness, joy, euphoria, shock, a little denial because how was this actually possible? He remembered watching the annual championship back then with his grandmother when he visited her. Jimin had always joked that he would go there one day, too, his grandmother smiling at him genuinely and telling him she couldn't wait to see her little star on the TV.

“I'm doing it, Halmeoni, you'll be able to see me on the TV” Jimin whispered while running his thumb over the picture on his phone.

“Hey, Jimin-ah” A voice suddenly interrupted Jimin, startling the small boy and causing him to almost drop his phone, yet he was able to catch it and pull it close to his chest. Quickly wiping away his tears, he took a deep breath while looking up the voice.

Dongha.
“Hey, is it okay if I sit down?” The taller boy wanted to know as he pointed at the spot in front of Jimin.

The orange haired boy studied his face for a moment before he gave a nod, crossing his legs as he locked his phone and put it into his bag again. As Dongha sat down in front of him, Jimin reached for his water bottle and opened it in order to take a sip.

“Was that your family?” Dongha wanted to know as he pointed at the bag where Jimin had just put his phone in. His voice seemed so soft, vulnerable, almost as if he was afraid to say something wrong. Somehow, his eyes still appeared apologetic.

“Mhm, my-my grandmother” Jimin answered quietly and gave a small nod, smiling faintly.

The brown haired boy mirrored his nod and cleared his throat, pulling on his shoe ties which appeared to be a nervous habit or something he did in order to comfort himself. The boy in front of him seemed very nervous for some reason.

“So, uhm, about last time...” He finally started, glancing up at Jimin's eyes, but averting his gaze again a moment later, “I wanted to apologise.” Dongha uttered, locking eyes with Jimin.

The shorter male placed his water bottle down and fixated his gaze on the boy in front of him.

“In the moment, I didn't realise how fucked up it was what I did. You know, I think you are very attractive and I love watching you dance. I just wanted to get to know you better and everytime you talk to me, there is just something so endearing about you that draws me in and makes me want to listen to you speak forever. It was so easy to talk to you, to dance with you. It made me feel like I already knew you for so long. Reminiscing about everything, I don't know what came over me that thought it was a good idea to do that to you. I should have asked you and not straight up touch you without your permission. The thing is, I'm bad at skinship and stuff like that. I don't know when it's okay to initiate a kiss and when to go further. My previous partners liked me initiating the situation, they wanted me to be like this and for some odd reason I thought you would like that, too. However, I know that that's wrong. I just saw your skin and something inside of me screamed to leave a hickey on you – which is totally fucked up.”

There are things that are not justifiable, if you ask Jimin. There a things that you just can't excuse, yet this wasn't one of them in this particular situation. Jimin saw how genuine Dongha was and he actually understood that his behaviour was wrong.

“I know that you didn't have any bad intention. Actually, I didn't know that you felt this way about me if I'm being honest. If I did, I would have told you from the beginning that... that I would like for us to be friends first. If I had done that, you probably wouldn't have done what you did” Jimin reasoned and shrugged his shoulders slightly.

Dongha swallowed hard, eyes dropping on the floor as he bit down on his bottom lip, “I should have talked to you first. I'm sorry. I won't ever do that to you again, I promise. I hope you aren't mad at me, even if you have every right to”

“No, I'm not mad” The smaller boy assured and shook his head, “I'm really not. I was just very shocked about it and I wanted to talk to you, too, because you actually seem very kind and this one mistake doesn't make you a bad person. I still want to get to know you. However, as friends first, you know?”

“I understand” Dongha nodded and smiled, staring at Jimin again, “I would love that, too”
Jimin returned his smile, eyes turning into little crescents, “Great”

They looked at each other for a moment longer, smiles remaining on their faces.

Both of them glanced over at their dance teacher, sharing one last glance before getting up on their feet to continue with their dance practice.

For some reason, Jimin felt like this was ought to be good. He might have found a new friend.

-----

Jimin placed his lower arms on the railing of the bridge as he stared down at Han River, a breeze of air brushing his hair out of his face. It was night, the moon shining bright in the sky and creating a beautiful mirrored light illustration on the water, a little distorted, yet clearly picturing the moon.

There was something so comforting and nice about just standing here, listening to the water move and the muffled noises created by other people talking around him. The air was a little colder than during the day, sending a shiver down Jimin's back, yet it didn't make him freeze, was just refreshing.

His group of friends was supposed to meet up here today to hang out. Taehyung had suggested it in their group chat that he had created as well. All of them had agreed to meet at Han River, Jimin the first one to arrive tonight. It was nice to spend time together as a whole group again, something having felt so nice and comforting the last time they'd all hung out – like they have known each other their whole life already, then again, essentially some of them did. They had tried to meet earlier, but it was difficult to find a time that worked for all of their schedules, yet tonight was supposed to be the day!

Suddenly, Jimin's phone vibrated in his pocket, indicating that he had received a message. The shorter boy pulled it out and opened the message.

Hey, sorry, I can't make it tonight, Minnie :( - Tae

Jimin pouted as he read over the words.

Everything okay? - Jimin

Yes, just some stuff that came up, sorry, Jimin-ah – Tae

It's okay, I'll let the others know – Jimin

Thanks, I love you – Tae

I love you, too – Jimin

The orange haired boy let out a sigh, a little bummed out as it seemed like they weren't going to hang out as a whole group tonight. Then again, it had been quite unlikely, especially now when everyone was extremely busy. Yoongi and Namjoon were working on someone's album, Hoseok was trying to figure out a choreography for the competition, Taehyung was the personal assistant of his boss at the fashion company he was working at now, well and Jungkook and Jin... honestly, Jimin didn't know what exactly they did, just understood that they were immensely busy all the time.

Jimin was just about to put his phone back into his pocket when he received another message.
Hey, sorry, kid, but Namjoon-ah and I can't make it tonight. A file of the song we were working on the whole day is just gone and we're trying to get it back somehow – Yoongi

Oh, okay, hyung. I hope you find it! I'll let the others know :) - Jimin

Thanks, Jimin-ah – Yoongi

The shorter boy bit down on his bottom lip as he stared at the water again, putting his phone back into his pocket. Well this didn't work out as good then now, did it?

Jimin turned around and walked over to the green grass, taking a seat there and pulling his knees up to his chest. Then, he placed his head on top of his knees while wrapping his arms around his legs. People were having a walk around him, talking to each other, some holding hands, some making their way home.

“Hey, Jimin-ssi” The smaller boy suddenly heard a voice greet him.

Jimin knew immediately who it was.

The orange haired one looked up at Jungkook who was dressed in all black, his heart skipping a beat. The taller boy stared at him, studying his face before he sat down next to him in the grass.

“Hey” Jimin replied, voice soft and quiet.

“Jin hyung and Hoseok hyung won't be able to make it.”

Well, he had expected Hoseok not to find time. Honestly, he was working so hard on the new choreography, Jimin felt incredibly sorry, yet was also so proud and impressed by his friend. He just wished that he could help him somehow. Perhaps he could ask him if he wanted any help tomorrow.

“Oh” The smaller boy breathed, only realising a moment later what that meant.

None of the other's were coming. It was just the two of them tonight.

“O-Oh” Jimin whispered as he felt himself blush, “Well, Tae, Yoongi hyung and Namjoon hyung won't come either, they're all busy.”

Jungkook nodded, pulling his legs up as well as he placed his hands in the grass behind him and leaned back on them.

The shorter male swallowed hard, somehow feeling a little awkward to spend time alone with Jungkook if it wasn't concerning their lessons. His heart was beating fast in his chest as he pulled his sleeves over his petite hands.

“It's nice, isn't it?” The taller boy interrupted his thoughts as he laid down on his back in the grass, staring up at the sky.

“Han River? Yes, it's one of my favourite places” Jimin agreed as he mirrored Jungkook's position and laid down on his back in the grass next to him, “I like coming here. Especially at night. There is something so comforting about it”

“Yeah, I agree. I haven't been here in a while because I hadn't have much time, but there was a time when I came here almost everyday” Jungkook revealed as they both looked up at the sky.

The stars were shining brightly, the moon so pretty and almost completely full. Wind was blowing around them softly, brushing their hair out of their faces and sending a shiver down Jimin's back.
“When I moved to Seoul, this was one of the first places I visited” Jimin shared, voice small and soft as a smile appeared on his face, reminiscing about that time.

He could see Jungkook tilt his head to the side, looking at him.

“Why did you move to Seoul?” The black haired boy wanted to know.

The smaller boy tensed a little, yet he was taken aback by the question as it felt like Jungkook had never really asked him about his past.

“It's... it's a long story.”

Jungkook opened his mouth and appeared to want to say something, yet he shut it again and stared back up at the sky.

“I'll tell you one day” Jimin found himself promise, voice so soft and quiet Jungkook was barely able to hear him, yet he did.

“You know, moving here was quite scary. It's a big city, everyone is a stranger and the overall atmosphere is somewhat different from back in Busan. However, sometimes we have to take changes even if they are scary because in the end, they're better for us”

Jimin thought over his words for a moment, nodding eventually, “I agree”

Then, it silence settled between them. It wasn't an awkward silence, actually, but rather quite comforting. They remained lying on the grass while staring up at the pretty sky, listening to the sounds of the water and the muffled voices around them.

“When I was younger, I wanted to be an astronaut. I always wanted to go up to the stars and see what it's like, experience what it feels like to look down at what we call our world.”

Jungkook titled his head to the side again, staring at Jimin.

“What made you change your mind? I mean, why did you want to become a dancer then?”

The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, eyebrows furrowing as he tried to look for word.

“I always loved dancing, from a very young age actually. There has always been something that connects me to music and dance and I pretty much knew from a young age that it was something that I wanted to do for my whole life” Jimin revealed, the taller boy looking back up at the sky as he was listening, “However, my father wasn't as keen on the idea and didn't support me at all. There was no way of me receiving dance lessons because he would never let me. It was very difficult, actually, to have a dream, but not be supported by your father at all”

“I know how that feels like” The orange haired boy heard Jungkook whisper. Jimin looked over at him, yet Jungkook didn't elaborate and the smaller boy didn't want to ask him about something that might make him uncomfortable or sad.

“My grandmother, on the other hand, always supported me and every time I visited her, we danced together and she told me that I would be the world's best dancer one day” Jimin chuckled, bright smile on his face as he remembered those times, “Yet, when I went back home I had to oppress that part of me. Even though I knew that dancing was what I wanted to do, I tried to look for something else that I could do instead if this wasn't going to work out. I have always been fascinated by space, so I guess it was only right for me to want to become an astronaut. However, my dream for dance was always bigger. It's my passion, you know?”
The black haired boy looked over at him yet again, “I'm sorry” He uttered, Jimin tilting his head to the side as well to lock eyes with him, “You should have gotten all the support in the world” Finally, Jungkook had received a little more insight on what Jimin's father had been like, how Jimin had been treated in his past to be hurt and scarred by his childhood the way he is. However, the younger one was pretty certain that this wasn't the only thing his father had done to him.

Jimin smiled, his heart fluttering at Jungkook's words.

“Thank you. It did get better eventually, when I moved to Seoul. I didn't take professional dance lessons for quite some time, though, until I was 13 or 14 maybe. Around that time I really knew that this was what I loved to do, what was supposed to become my passion and hopefully my profession one day. I went to an arts school with Taehyung where I majored in dance and graduated from there, too. That's where I met Yoongi hyung, too. Well, meeting him was actually rather... well, it happened under weird circumstances. Honestly, he kind of saved me. It was a day when I was practicing alone, way past classes were over and I didn't sleep or eat much. I overworked myself and fainted, totally blacked out. Only later did I wake up in a hospital with a boy by my side I have never seen before. It was Yoongi hyung. He had seen me in the practice room and had called an ambulance, staying by my side when I was brought to the hospital. I found out that he'd already met Taehyung and ever since that incident where he saved me, he watched over Tae and me like a big brother, supporting us in any way he could.”

“He told me about that, actually” Jungkook revealed, Jimin's eyes going wide in surprise at that information.

“He did?”

“Yes” The taller boy simply answered and nodded, looking back up at the sky. Jimin did the same, a little baffled by that information. Jungkook and Yoongi talked about him?

“Well, my dream is to become a professional dancer and teach other people how to dance or...or dance on big stages. Something like that... I'm far from that however. I still need to learn and improve a lot. One day, maybe, my dream will come true” The shorter one continued, voice soft and quiet as another smile appeared on his face.

Jimin glanced at him, eyes wide, “Really?”

“Yes, really”

A blush appeared on Jimin's cheeks as he averted his gaze, eyes trailing back up to the sky. That definitely wasn't something he had expected. Besides their little lessons, Jungkook never really showed interest in him, actually almost ignoring him outside of them and being a little distant and cold sometimes.

Silence settled between them again. So many thoughts were racing through his head: Did Yoongi and Jungkook talk about Jimin a lot? If so, what were they saying? Hopefully not implying anything about the thing that was going on between him and Jimin... Why was Jungkook suddenly somehow interested in his past and wanted to see him dance? What did Jungkook mean when he said he knew how it felt like to not be supported by your father? Then Jungkook must feel that, too, yet what exactly was it that his father wasn't supporting him in? And who – for godness sake – was that girl that had appeared after their last meeting? Wait, what did that have to do with anything? Why was Jimin thinking about that now?
Right, frankly, he hadn't stopped thinking about that at all the past days, way too curious about who she was and where she knew Jungkook from. Yet, that was definitely none of his business. She might just be a friend... or not. Perhaps she was another person he was sleeping with? Whatever she was, a friend or anything more, that didn't concern Jimin at all...

Was Jungkook even bisexual? Jimin shook his head. Honestly, Jungkook's sexuality wasn't any of Jimin's business.

Suddenly, a thought appeared in his mind... was she his girlfriend maybe? She had seemed mad when she saw Jimin and had implied that Jimin and Jungkook had slept with each other. Oh no, was she actually dating Jungkook?

Jimin's heart skipped a beat, beating fast against his chest a moment later. Panic started to rise in him, the fear of having caused an argument or even worse a break-up between Jungkook and his girlfriend blooming inside of him.

“Jungkook-ah” The small boy found himself whisper.

“Mhm” Jungkook hummed.

“May I ask you a question? It's rather... personal. You don't have to answer, of course”

The taller boy hesitated, yet answered “Go ahead” eventually.

Jimin cleared his throat, pulling on the hem of his long-sleeved shirt, a nervous habit of his.

“The girl from last time-”

“Seoyun?” Jungkook interrupted.

“Y-Yes. Is she... I mean... Are you two dating? I know, that's none of my business, but I don't know if I can keep going, knowing that you have a girlfriend that might not- no surely won't like you sleeping with me and I don't want to ca-”

“Jimin-ssi” The black haired boy interrupted, titling his head to the side again in order to be able to look at Jimin, “She's not my girlfriend, no”

“Oh”

Who was she then?

However, Jimin didn't want to keep digging, at least satisfied with knowing that he hadn't caused an argument or break-up. Yet, the wish to know who she was and what she meant to Jungkook lingered in his mind.

Utterly annoying, to be honest. Jimin didn't want to keep thinking about her, didn't want this to concern him, but it did. For some odd reason it did.

“Oh, that's good.” The smaller boy uttered, but realised a moment later how that sounded like, “I-I mean, not that it's good that she isn't your girlfriend, I just mean it's good that I'm not doing anything with you that would make her mad or cause a break-up or anything and I.”

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook chuckled and shook his head, “It's okay. I understood what you meant and how you meant it, don't worry”

“O-Okay”
However, the thought that Jungkook might be sleeping with her, too, kept lingering in his mind. A weird feeling was spreading in his chest, his heart dropping. It wasn't a pleasant feeling, he didn't like it at all, yet he didn't know what it was, couldn't define it. Honestly, Jungkook and him weren't in a committed relationship, thus he could do whatever he wanted. So why... why did it bother the smaller boy so much? Why was there this weird feeling blossoming inside of him when he remembered how beautiful she was and what Jungkook and her might be doing behind closed doors?

Letting out a shaky breath, the orange haired boy pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands, hiding them as he caught his bottom lip between his teeth.

Should he just ask Jungkook so he would know, so his mind could be free again and he had some answers and clarity? Yet, it didn't seem like a good idea. He didn't want Jungkook to be annoyed by him or think of him as being too nosy. Jimin had to remind himself once more that the thing between him and Jungkook was casual and platonic, another person Jungkook was seeing shouldn't bother or concern him at all.

So why did it?

Then again, she really might just be a friend. Yes, she's probably just a friend of Jungkook. Jimin kept repeating that sentence in his head, hoping that he would believe it in the end.

The smaller boy looked at him, only noticing now that Jungkook was sitting up and staring down at him, eyebrows arched up.

“Okay” Jimin agreed and they both got up to their feet.

They started walking on the path next to the railing, passing people who were still sitting in the grass or standing against the railing.

Somehow, it was nice to spend time with Jungkook just like this – without it leading to anything sexual. Yet, it felt odd all the same because he wasn't used to it.

“Have you eaten yet?” The taller boy interrupted his thoughts yet again.

The orange haired one glanced at him, shaking his head, “No, not since this morning”

“Jimin-ssi, it's not good for you to barely eat anything” Jungkook sighed.

“It's just that I'm so busy with work and practicing that I forget to eat sometimes” Jimin mumbled and averted his gaze.

The black haired one walked over to a stand that was selling food.

When Jimin looked up again, Jungkook was already ordering some of the food. “No” The older one murmured as he walked over to the other one.

The smaller boy saw the food the man was selling and felt his mouth water, way too hungry to see any of this right now. He was selling spicy rice cakes as well as korean egg toasts, Jimin's stomach grumbling at the sight.
“Keep the change” Jungkook said politely as he handed the man some money.

“No, Jungkook-ah” The older boy protested and grabbed his arm, shaking his head, “Stop paying for me. Let me pay the food”

“It’s fine, Jiminie.” The taller one assured as the man gave him two cups of spicy rice cakes and two korean egg toasts, Jungkook handing him one of each.

Jimin crossed his arms over his chest, pouting. It was a nice gesture of Jungkook, yet it felt wrong for him to pay for his food again.

“Please” The younger one uttered, “Take it”

The shorter male sighed, taking the food in his hands as a slight smile appeared on his face, “Thanks, Jungkook-ah. I’ll pay next time”

They continued walking while eating their food, sharing some stories about memories they have and incidents that happened with their other friends – Jimin completely having forgotten about Seoyun, caught in this moment right now. Jimin told him a funny story about Taehyung’s and his school time which ended with them almost dying – not really, but Tae had always exaggerated causing Jimin to start to believe that it had actually happened that way.

“I’m serious, he chased Tae and me down the campus for like an hour, promising to strangle Taehyung” Jimin giggled as he remembered that day.

“Taehyung shouldn’t have provoked him” Jungkook smiled at the image of Jimin's laugh and shook his head, “He does seem like a troublemaker”

“Fair enough” Jimin chuckled and nodded, “He is. He really is. He has gotten us in loads of trouble, but Yoongi hyung was often there to save us”

“Hyung has saved my ass quite often, too. I did stupid shit when I was younger. I once got into a huge ass fight and it got very ugly. Without hyung, I would’ve probably gotten arrested which would’ve been quite shit – especially considering my father’s reaction”

Jungkook looked over to him, studying his face, “A bit. I got this scar from the fight” The taller boy revealed, pointing to the faded scar on his left cheek.

Jimin stilled in his steps, staring up at the younger one. Honestly, Jimin had noticed the scar before, yet it never really stood out causing him to somehow forget that it was there. The shorter male lifted his hand and traced his finger over the scar softly, not even noticing himself doing that. It was almost a subconscious action of his.

The taller boy blinked, eyes fixated on the man in front of him who was caressing his cheek so softly, inspecting the scar on his body.

“It reminds me of some stupid shit I did back then. However, honestly, I wouldn’t have done it any other way”

“Why did you get into that fight?” Jimin whispered as he locked eyes with the other man again, hand still lingering against his cheek.

“The boy deserved it, had seen it coming for a long time. There was a lot of shit piling up.”
Jimin studied his features, shaking his head a little. What did he mean by that? What had the boy done to him – or someone else, maybe – that made him want to beat the hell out of him? Frankly, violence was something Jimin didn't like nor supported at all. There were always other answers and ways to solve a problem, weren't there?

“You shouldn't get into fights, Jungkook-ah”

“I don't. Not anymore. That's my past and I have to live with it. It was different back then and so was I. Now, I don't think violence is always the right answer, yet in some situations it has to be used, defending someone who's in need being one of them.”

They kept staring into each other's eyes, Jimin seeing emotion flash behind Jungkook's ones. The taller boy was sharing a lot of himself tonight, about his past and thoughts. It was nice to know that he was trusting Jimin like this.

Clearing his throat, Jungkook titled his head to the side, continuing to walk again. Jimin remained in his position for a moment longer before he joined Jungkook.

“I almost got into a fight once, too.” The smaller boy then revealed as they tossed away their empty cups into a trash can.

“Well, not voluntarily. These boys wanted to fight us for no reason – really. I think they simply didn't like us. I was so scared because I'd never fought before and I didn't know how to, but thankfully Yoongi hyung was there to stop the fight. He was very well respected among the students and quite known because he was already producing songs and many students looked up to him”

“So you've never been into a fight?”

“Do you know how to defend yourself? In case anyone attacks you?”

The smaller boy swallowed, shaking his head.

Jungkook halted, turning to him and spreading his arms, “You don't? What would you do if I were to attack you right now? Show me”

“S-Show you?” The shorter male echoed, eyebrows arched up and eyes wide at the request.

“But I don't know what I would do. I don't want to hit you” Jimin murmured and shook his head. He couldn't just hit Jungkook.

“Just show me what you would do, Jimin-ssi. Imagine I wasn't me, but someone else who would want to harm you. What would you do in the situation – except for trying to get away or call the police” Jungkook elaborated, adding the end of his sentence after having seen Jimin open his mouth to say something. Jimin shut his mouth close and pouted, the taller one smiling slightly, “Go on”

“Well...” Jimin uttered and got up to him. Suddenly, he lifted his hand and just slapped Jungkook across the face, a slapping noise being heard between them.

The taller boy looked taken aback, rubbing his own hand over his cheek, “I didn't actually mean hit...” me” Jungkook mumbled, Jimin's eyes widening at that.

“Oh my god, I'm so sorry” The orange haired one apologised genuinely, expression of horror appearing on his face. He had misunderstood Jungkook's request!

Jimin wrapped his arms around Jungkook and hugged him tight, pressing his face against his strong chest while squeezing his eyes shut.

“I'm sorry, I didn't meant to hurt you” Jimin apologised again, actual tears swelling up in his eyes because of how sorry he felt. Hurting someone was something Jimin never wanted to do, especially not someone he knew and liked.

“It's okay. It didn't actually hurt, Jimin-ssi” Jungkook assured and caressed his back as he felt Jimin shake against him, “Hey, it's okay, really, Jimin-ah. It didn't hurt. It's all good. I should have explained what I meant”

Jimin's heart fluttered at the pet name, yet he froze when he heard it. It was the first time Jungkook ever used a pet name out of their lessons – except for that one time at Yoongi's. Usually, they were only used in Jungkook's bedroom, shortly after, during or before their sexual encounters, but never completely outside of one of these situations.

“All good” Jungkook chuckled as he caressed Jimin's cheek, “I'm not mad or hurt”

“Don't laugh, it's not funny. I thought I'd hurt you” Jimin whined and pouted which caused Jungkook just to snicker yet again as Jimin was just way too adorable.

“You didn't, Jiminnie. It's all good”

“Oh okay” Jimin breathed.

The smaller boy let go of Jungkook, pulling his sleeves over his delicate hands, “Well, I don't know what I would do to defend myself”

“I'll have to teach you sometime then. It's important to know how to defend yourself, Jimin-ssi. There are horrible people out there who will try to hurt you, thinking you won't be able to defend yourself.”

“Can't I just kick them?” Jimin mumbled and showed Jungkook a weird looking and very weak kick which caused Jungkook to laugh again, shaking his head.

Jimin smiled faintly and blushed as the taller boy started walking again, Jimin following him quickly.

They talked a little more as it got later and darker, more people around them leaving to go home, probably. It got a little chillier, too, Jimin realising that it had been a bad idea not to take a jacket with him. The poor boy started shivering, wrapping his arms around himself in hope of giving himself some warmth.

“I guess it's just like that sometimes” Jungkook finished and looked over at Jimin who was rubbing his palms over his arms, shivering a little. Without a word, the taller boy took his jacket off and placed it over Jimin's shoulders.
"No, it's okay, you'll freeze n-

"I'm not cold." The younger one interrupted as he wrapped the jacket that was a little big on Jimin around the boy.

The smaller boy blushed at the gesture, smiling faintly, “Thank you, Jungkook-ah”

They kept walking while chatting about their lives, sharing stories about their past – mostly Jimin who had many funny stories to share about his, Yoongi's and Tae's school life. It was nice, so nice to talk this comfortably with Jungkook, getting to know him a little more even though he never shared too much information about himself, just enough for Jimin to have an idea of what more there was to him, yet leave him long for more.

However, Jimin still had no clue what Jungkook's job was, how exactly he became friends with Yoongi, what his relationship with his parents was like, where he grew up, when he moved to Seoul – there was still so much left unsaid, so much information the taller one didn't share with him. Yet, he seemed to be opening up more and Jimin didn't want to ruin that by pushing or digging, but rather wanted to wait for Jungkook to feel comfortable with sharing these personal things about him.

Did this mean anything? No, not really. Besides them having that thing going on between them, they were still in the same group of friends so it wasn't reprehensible for them to get to know each other a little more. So what? They might become friends, too.

“Oooh, look, they are selling cotton candy!” Jimin awed and pointed at the little stand.

“Do you like cotton candy?” Jungkook wanted to know as he followed the direction Jimin was pointing at.

“Yes, my grandmother bought me cotton candy a lot of times when we were out.”

The taller boy went over to the stand and bought one stick of cotton candy, Jimin having no time to protest because the man was gone so quickly and appeared in front of him a moment later. “Here”

Blinking, Jimin stared at the candy in Jungkook's hand, “Jungkook-ah, stop buying me food.” He whined, “Thank you” The shorter male added as he saw Jungkook's gaze. The other one was very persistend and not one you could argue much with.

“It's quite late. We should probably head home soon. Did you get here by public transportation?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed as he pulled off some cotton candy and placed it in his mouth, feeling it melt in his mouth and tasting the sweetness of it.

“Well, let's walk this way then. I have parked over there somewhere. I'll drop you off”

“You don't have to”

“I know, but I want to”

Jimin nodded slightly, “Okay, thank you”

They walked over to the parking spot, actually not having to walk for too long as the place was fairly close. Jimin had lifted the cotton candy in front of Jungkook's face and asked him to try it, too. The taller boy had hesitated, but had pulled something off in the end and had tried it as well.

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and grinned, finishing the rest of the candy and tossing away the now empty stick into a trash can as Jungkook unlocked his car, opening the door to the passenger seat for the smaller boy. “Thank you” Jimin whispered at the gesture, cheeks heating up only slightly as he climbed into the passenger seat of Jungkook's black Range Rover.

The taller boy shut the door and walked over to the driver's seat, getting into the car a moment later as well. “Seatbelt” Jungkook reminded him as he put his key into the ignition, the car buzzing to live a moment later.

“Oh, yes” Jimin murmured as he put on his seatbelt while Jungkook pulled out of the parking spot.

“Hoseok hyung said something about a dance competition?” The younger one broke the silence after they have been driving for a while.

Jimin averted his gaze from the window and glanced at the other one, giving a nod, “Yes, we're competing in the Seoul Dance Championship in a couple of weeks.” The orange haired boy answered, bright smile on his face. Frankly, it still felt unreal, too good to be true, “He's working really hard right now in order to come up with a good choreography”

“Mhm, he's a very hard worker, a perfectionist. I have always admired his determination when it comes to improving. You have that, too, actually”

The older boy looked over at him again, titling his head to the side, “I do? I mean... I guess. I'm always trying to improve. But isn't everyone?”

“No, not everyone. Some people find a version of themselves that they are satisfied with and some people always want to become a better version of themselves, no matter if they are currently satisfied with it or not. You appear to be a perfectionist when it comes to dance, just like hyung. It's admirable, impressive actually. However, you should be careful with that. Health comes first and should be your priority. It's okay to be satisfied with your creation and no to strive for perfection all the time because it can cause you to be too hard on yourself when you really shouldn't be’

Jimin pulled on the hem of his shirt, processing Jungkook's words. Honestly, there was so much truth to them. When it came to dance, Jimin was never completely satisfied with what he did, but always wanted to practice more, improve more in order for it to be perfect. That mindset has caused him many sleepless nights, to starve, overworking himself to the point of him fainting. Certainly, he should be more careful. Yet, it wasn't easy to just change this mindset over night.

“You need to eat more, need to sleep more and learn when to take breaks.” Jungkook interrupted his thoughts.

“I... I do all of that”

“Not enough. You only do that when you're reminded to do them” The taller boy protested, voice a little sterner.

“Hyung told me. I have noticed it myself, too, however. Listen, it's your life and your body, but you need to be healthy if you want to pursue your dream. Take breaks when they are needed, learn when it's okay to stop and please, Jimin-ah, eat more than once a day”

“I'm trying. It's just that I forget sometimes. I'm so busy...” The older one mumbled, looking down at his lap.

“I know you are, Jimin-ssi, but-”

“I’ll try harder. I promise” Jimin interrupted him, the younger boy locking eyes with him for a moment, observing his features before fixating his gaze back on the road.

“Good”

Then, silence settled between them again. Jimin's gaze travelled back to the window, watching the beautiful scenery pass them even though he was barely able to make anything out as it was quite dark. When they were on busier streets, there were still quite a lot of people walking around, yet when they passed smaller streets, there was no one outside anymore.

It didn't take that long for them to arrive at Jimin's apartment building, Jungkook coming to a halt right next to the entrance, turning off the ignition.

Both boys were looking straight ahead, somehow letting the night reminisce.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah.” The smaller was the one to break the silence eventually, “For tonight, and for driving me home. I was sad that the other's couldn't make it, but it was nice, actually, with just... just you”

They stared at each other for a moment too long.

Jimin didn't want to go right now if he was being honest, didn't want to leave the handsome man just like that right now. The urge of knowing when he was going to see him again blossomed inside of the older boy.

“Are you... Are you free tomorrow night?” Jimin found himself asking.

The taller boy arched up his eyebrows, “For a lesson?”

“Mhm” The shorter male confirmed and gave a faint nod.

“Is there something you wanna do?” Jungkook wanted to know, leaning against the seat and a smirk appearing on his face.

Jimin gulped, cheeks heating up at the thought.

Actually, there was.

The orange haired boy honestly hadn't been able to stop thinking about it for days now, it always reappearing in his mind whenever he had taken a peek on the list. The thing is, he knew what it was and he knew that Taehyung liked it and now... well, now he wanted to find out whether or not he liked it, too.

“S-Spanking”

The black haired one's eyes widened a little, expression of surprise visible on his face, yet only for a moment before his usual expression returned, “Spanking? Are you sure?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed, blush deepening, “Is that bad?”
“No, not at all. I'm just surprised because it was one of your soft limits, but that's what they are for. It's a limit for you that I'm not allowed to cross in a certain moment, yet not saying that you won't ever want to do that. I just didn't expect it to be this soon. Then again, sex toys had been one of your soft limits as well and we have tried that, too” The taller one assured, “Well, do you still want to be the one who gets spanked or be the one spanking?”

“Uhm... no, I don't think so” Jimin answered, shaking his head.

“Okay. We can do that tomorrow. It's going to be a little later than usually, though, is that okay for you? I mean later as in like 10pm. Is that fine?”

“That's okay”

The shorter male felt the excitement, yet slight nervousness, blossom inside of him at the thought of tomorrow. How was it going to feel like?

“Well, I-” The younger boy wanted to say, yet paused when they heard his phone ring. Jungkook furrowed his eyebrows, pulling out his phone and looking down on the display. Jimin could barely make out the name of the person who was calling, yet he did, that weird feeling rising in his chest again when he read the name. Seoyun. The taller boy stared at his phone for a moment longer before he picked up the call, placing his phone against his ear, “I'm going to be home soon. I'm in the car right now. We can talk later”

Jimin averted his gaze, heart dropping a little.

“Yes, okay, bye”

Jungkook hung up and put his phone back into his pants, clearing his throat.

“Sorry, she would have called ten tim-”

“It's fine” The smaller boy interrupted, voice sounding a little hurt even though he hadn't intended for it to do that.

The black haired boy studied his face, looking back and forth between his eyes. It was as if he wanted to say something, yet he didn't.

“I'll go upstairs then. Thanks again for everything. See you tomorrow, Jungkook-ah” Jimin whispered and opened the door, placing one foot down on the street.

“Wait, Jimin-ah”

The smaller boy halted, swallowing hard before he looked back at Jungkook.

“Oh” Jimin murmured and looked down on himself. Then, he took of the jacket and handed it over to Jungkook, “Thank you again”

“Jimin-ah, are you okay?” The younger one wanted to know, concern flashing in his eyes, tone a little softer.
“Of course, why wouldn't I?”

“I don't know. I just wanted to make sure.” Jungkook uttered and observing the boy a little longer, “Tonight was nice. I'll see you tomorrow. Good night, Jimin-ah”

“Good night”

Then, he shut the door close with a faint smile and stepped over to his building, noticing how Jungkook only started to leave once he was inside of it.

-----

“Are you going to go somewhere?” Jimin wondered after he had taken off his shoes and had observed the living room, pointing at the suitcase that was placed next to the sofa.

“Uh, no” The taller boy answered, clearing his throat as they made their way up the stairs to his bedroom.

Jimin pulled his eyebrows together, but didn't ask another question about it, figuring it was none of his business why a suitcase was standing in the center of his living room.

As they arrived upstairs, the orange haired boy noticed how the door across from Jungkook's bedroom was opened for the first time ever when he was present, yet the younger one shut it before Jimin could peek inside to know what was behind there.

“Before we start, we need to talk over some important things” Jungkook told him as he went over to the windows in order to pull them close. The shorter male only hummed as he sat down on the edge of the bed, swinging his legs back and forth as he pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands.

Out of nervousness, his palms were getting quite sweaty because there was something lingering in his mind, something he wanted to do tonight that he hadn't told Jungkook about yet. If Jimin was being honest, it was a request he hadn't expected himself to even want, yet for some odd reason he did. The remaining question was, however, was he brave enough to ask Jungkook?

“Jimin-ah” The black haired boy repeated, startling the smaller boy who had been caught up in his thoughts. Looking up, Jimin blushed slightly as he felt Jungkook's intent stare on him, big brown eyes completely fixated on him, “Are you okay?” Jungkook asked and arched up his eyebrows, voice gentle as he approached Jimin.

“Did you change your mind? We don't have to do that today, if you don't feel comfortable, Jimin-ah”

The shorter boy gulped, staring down at his lap as he played with the hem of his hoodie, “No, it's... I still want it. I don't know why, but I do. I'm just really nervous”

Jungkook observed the little boy, looking back and forth between his eyes before brushing his hair out of his face, Jimin's eyes fluttering shut as he felt Jungkook's thumb caress his cheekbone in a gentle way.

“I understand. It is scary to give away the control and let yourself fall completely. That's why we have to talk about some stuff first.” Jungkook murmured and continued stroking over Jimin's cheek, “Jimin-ah, safewords, limits, trust and aftercare are extremely important especially when it comes to things like this. Whenever pain is involved both parts should be even more cautious. First of all: safewords. You know them already and you know when to use them. I want you to use them whenever necessary. Secondly: limits. I won't cross any of your limits so is there a number of spanks you don't want to go over?”

The orange haired one blinked, trying to think. How was he supposed to know how many he could take? Jimin has never been spanked before, thus he didn't actually know how it felt like and how much it hurt.

“I-I don't know. I don't know how bad it hurts” He answered eventually, voice soft and unsure as he stared back up at Jungkook.

“Right. Well, it's different for everyone. Some can take up to thirty or over and some can't even take five. I guess it depends on the force of the spanks as well, obviously. Okay, then I'll have to take you for your word. I'll stop when I think you've had enough or you use your safeword, is that okay?”

Jimin swallowed hard, but found himself nodding. He trusted that Jungkook knew him and his body by now. The taller boy was pretty good at knowing how much he could take, the last time being proof of that. Even though Jimin had thought he couldn't take anymore, Jungkook had proved him wrong and gifted him yet another intense orgasm.

“I need to hear your pretty voice, baby. I need to hear you say it” The younger boy insisted and grabbed his chin softly, forcing Jimin to lock eyes with him.

“Yes, that's okay” Jimin assured and wet his lips, Jungkook's gaze rushing down at the motion, but looking back up at his eyes a moment later.

“Third thing is trust. This is extremely important, Jimin-ah. If I'm going to spank you and you don't use your safeword, I have to trust that you can actually take what I'm doing to you, do you understand? If you don't tell me that it's too much, I might not stop on my own. Please, Jimin-ah, please actually use them when you need them. I won't ever be disappointed in you when you can't take anymore and want to stop.”

“Okay. I promise, I'll use them when needed. You can trust me, Kook-ah”

Jimin could swear he had seen a smile appear on Jungkook's face at the nickname, an emotion glistening in his eyes when the name had left Jimin's mouth, yet both of them were gone as quickly as they had appeared, leaving Jimin wondering if he had only imagined them.

“Lastly, aftercare. We've had aftercare before, but I have been thinking over how I've been handling your aftercare the past times. You've never said anything or complained which left me guessing that you were fine with the way I did it. However, it might just be you not knowing whether or not you actually need more. I'm going to take care of you afterwards, but if you need any special treatment or feel like you desire any other treatment in order for you to come back down, just let me know, okay, Jimin-ah? I know we have done intense things in the past, but spanking can be very extreme as it involves not only pleasure, but also pain”

The smaller boy processed his words, titling his head to the side. To be fair, Jimin loved Jungkook's aftercare, loved the way he cuddled him after their sex. Then again, he had always wanted their cuddles to last longer, yet knowing that they weren't needed for him to come back down, but wanted them for his personal need and desire, just to be close to the other one and feel taken care of... Jimin knew that was bad. Certainly, he shouldn't want to stay in Jungkook's embrace longer than needed, should he? What did that imply?

“I-I like the way you do it. It's enough for me to calm down and feel comfortable”
“That's good to hear, yet that might be different after you've been spanked by me, Jimin-ah” The younger boy pointed out and ran his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip, “It might hurt a lot, little one. After the first hit, I'll stop and ask you if you want to continue, okay? You might not actually like the feeling of it at all so let me know right away, yes?”

“Okay, I'll do that” Jimin assured and gave a slight nod, Jungkook dropping his hand in order to start to bottom down his shirt. The older one gulped at the sight, cheeks heating up as he averted his gaze.

“How do you want it? Do you want to get on your hands and knees for me? Or should I bend you over my lap? What do you prefer?”

Jimin's heartbeat quickened, breathing becoming a little difficult as he felt his chest rise and fall quickly. Frankly, he didn't want it like this, didn't want to start with that right away.

“W-Wait”

The taller boy halted immediately, halfway done with buttoning down his shirt, yet stilling as soon as he had heard Jimin's voice. Jungkook fixated his gaze on him, eyebrows arched up as he stared into Jimin's beautiful brown eyes, “What's wrong?”

“I-I... There is something else I wanted to ask you.”

“What is it?”

“It's... I would like to try something else. I have been thinking about it ever since you did it to me.” Jimin responded, voice so quiet Jungkook was barely able to hear him, yet he did.

“What exactly is it?”

“I-I want to tie your hands up, too... and...”

“And ride me?” Jungkook finished his sentence, eyes wide and darkening immediately as he wet his lips, “Really?”

“Mhm” The shorter male hummed as his blush deepened, “I have been thinking about it ever since you tied me to the bed, but I have tried to forget about it, yet I... can't. I understand if you don't want it. I-It's okay if you say no.”

“You want to see how it is to have the control?” The taller boy murmured, voice lower as he grabbed Jimin's chin softly. Honestly, it wasn't even really a question, but more of a statement. Perhaps that was even true. Jimin had never really had the full control during anything sexual they did, but had always slipped into a more submissive position naturally. The orange haired boy wondered what it felt like to be in control once, “Okay. I don't mind that.”

“R-Really?” Jimin breathed, locking eyes with the other boy again as he felt relief wash over him. He had expected Jungkook to reject his request, which would have been completely fine, yet a voice inside of his head had made him believe that Jungkook would laugh in his face for what an absurd request it was. Obviously, Jimin shouldn't listen to this voice. The black haired boy never judged him, but was always respectful and supportive, making him feel comfortable and safe with whatever they do.

“Yes, really” Jungkook reassured as a slight smirk appeared on his face caused by Jimin's adorable expression. The smaller boy was staring at him with big innocent eyes, cheeks flushed and bottom lip caught between his teeth – which Jungkook would gladly do for him now, his lips so damn inviting – just appearing to be the most softest thing while requesting something so dirty. Frankly, it was cute how Jimin was embarrassed by his request and couldn't believe that Jungkook had agreed, considering how they have done way more obscene shit already. “You can ride me all you want and I'll give you a nice spanking after, okay?”

How could Jungkook talk about this so easily? The words were falling from his lips as if he was talking about the weather or asking Jimin if he had eaten already. Certainly, it was very fascinating, but odd all the same. Yet, Jimin wished that he could be a little more like that, too.

“O-Okay”

“Can you take your clothes off for me, baby? I'll go get a tie”

Gulping, Jimin gave a small nod as he got up on his feet while Jungkook walked into the bedroom. With shaky hands, Jimin grasped the hem of his hoodie and tugged it up, pulling the clothing over his head and tossing it over on the sofa with care. Then, he zipped down his pants and pulled them down to his ankles, stepping out of them before walking over to the sofa and dropping them next to his hoodie.

Letting out a trembling beath, the smaller boy walked back over to the bed right when Jungkook entered the bedroom again, only wearing his trousers now, button shirt left behind in the bathroom.

After Jungkook dropped the tie on the bed, he grabbed Jimin's hips and pulled him closer, the shorter male gasping at the suddenness of the touch.

“We gotta stretch you open first, don't we?” The taller boy commented, voice low as he brushed streaks of Jimin's hair out of his face, smirking slightly.

As soon as the word left Jungkook's mouth, Jimin found himself blush, averting his gaze. “N-No”

“No?” Jungkook echoed, eyebrows arched up as he gripped Jimin's chin and forced him to look up at him.

“I-I... I don't need to be stretched” The smaller boy mumbled, blush deepening as he gulped. Jimin just hoped that Jungkook was understanding what he was trying to get across.

“Yeah? Such a good boy, aren't you? How many fingers were you able to fit in your little hole, hm? How many fingers did you fuck yourself with?” Jungkook muttered right against his ear, voice low and his hot breath tickling against Jimin's skin. A shiver ran down Jimin's back as his eyes fluttered shut, Jungkook pressing his lips against the smaller one's skin gently.
“Three” The older one whimpered, hands clenching into fists as he felt Jungkook suck on his skin very lightly.

Jimin nodded quickly, not even caring what exactly the younger one was asking for. Yes, Jimin knew that was bad. Frankly, he should at least wonder about what Jungkook was asking to do to him, but honestly, Jimin would let him do anything at this point. A mere stare, touch or word caused Jimin to be putty in Jungkook's hands, left Jimin crave and long for more.

“No, little one, need to hear your voice”

“Y-Yes, you can”

The taller boy hummed before he sucked on his skin hard, causing Jimin to gasp at the slight pain. It didn't take long for Jimin to realise that Jungkook was leaving a hickey right there where Dongha had previously left his one on Jimin's skin – that one now completely gone. The orange haired boy wondered whether or not Jungkook knew that, too – knew that it was the exact spot that he had found Dongha's hickey on Jimin before. It might just be a coincidence, yet the way Jungkook had previously inspected the hickey by the other man might imply something else.

“Ah” Jimin whimpered and caught his bottom lip between his teeth, Jungkook finishing off his creation and licking over it gently in order to soothe the pain.

The black haired boy trailed kisses up his neck until he reached his mouth, capturing Jimin's lips in a kiss that startled the smaller boy, yet he found himself kissing back right away. Jungkook pushed his tongue into Jimin's mouth and licked over his one while grabbing his hips and turning them around.

Jimin was too focused on the soft lips of the younger one to notice that Jungkook was sitting down on the bed while pulling Jimin onto his lap, the smaller boy straddling his lap while never breaking the kiss. They remained like that for quite some moments, just making out, lips and tongues moving fast against each other.

The shorter boy lifted his hands and wrapped his arms around Jungkook's neck, wanting to deepen the kiss while rocking his hips against Jungkook in order to create some friction on both of their crotches, yet the other one detached his lips from his and stilled Jimin by his hips, both boys a little breathless now, “Eager today, aren't we?” Jungkook teased and arched up an eyebrow causing the orange haired one to blush at the comment.

Jungkook chuckled and nuzzled his nose against Jimin's cheek. “I'm kidding, baby. I can't wait for you to ride my dick, either. Got me all hard already.”

A shiver ran down Jimin's back as he buried his face in Jungkook’s neck, feeling his penis twitch at his words. Every time Jungkook said something like that, implied in some way that Jimin had an effect on him and could make him hard or come, there was pride swelling in his chest. He loved to pleasure Jungkook, loved being able to make him feel good the way Jungkook always did for him as well.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin whined against his skin and rocked his hips forward once, Jungkook humming.

“I know, baby, you can ride me in just a moment. However, first of all, I have to show you how to tie my hands, okay?”

The smaller boy was a little impatient after their making out, yet he didn't want to hurt Jungkook by tying his hands together in a wrong or painful way so this was definitely more important right now.
Jimin lifted his head while Jungkook grabbed the tie. “Can you give me your wrists, baby” The taller boy requested, the pet name causing Jimin’s heart to flutter yet again. It always did that whenever Jungkook used one of his pet names, his stupid heart.

The orange haired one lifted his hands in front of Jungkook who gripped his wrists softly and placed one above the other, “This is how the hands have to be placed for it to be secure and not hurt too much. Then, you pull the fabric around the wrists and leave a little room in between, don’t do it too tightly or the fabric will cut into the skin and might disturb the blood circulation to the fingers. So far, slight reddened wrists seem to be inevitable, yet the looser the fabric, the less marks on the wrists. However, leaves you more room to move around your wrists, too. It really depends on what the person you are tying up the hands of wants”

The shorter boy comprehended all of that information, nodding after thinking over it twice because he really didn’t want to mess up. This was very important, thus he had been listening carefully and intently.

“Do you wanna try now?”

Jimin hesitated, glancing at the black tie in Jungkook’s hands, but found himself nodding eventually. The younger one handed him the fabric and pushed him off of his lap softly in order to settle down on the bed in a lying position, head placed on the pillows.

The orange haired boy blinked, eyes roaming over Jungkook’s exposed upper body. Jimin gulped at the sight, muscles incredibly defined, his abs never seemed to be ending and then the v-line that lead to his crotch. The shorter male was barely able to suppress a whimper as he crawled over to the other one, swinging his leg over Jungkook in order to straddle him.

Only now did Jimin really comprehend the fact that he was going to have sex with Jungkook like this. What if he hurt Jungkook by tying his hands together in the wrong way? Moreover, the position was a little intimidating because Jungkook was going to watch him the whole time, was going to look up at him pleasing them both, essentially Jimin being the one to do all the work this time. Yet, it wasn’t the first time they were having sex in such an exposing way. Jimin couldn’t help but feel slight nervousness blossom inside of him.

“A-Arms up” Jimin whispered, Jungkook smiling at the request as he lifted his arms above his head, wrists placed over each other the way Jimin had just done. The older boy leaned forward and wrapped the tie around Jungkook’s wrists with shaky hands which didn’t go unnoticed by the taller boy.

“Hey, are you okay? Don’t be nervous, baby” Jungkook uttered, voice gentle as his eyes softened. Did the thought of Jimin riding him and fucking himself on his dick turn him on? Yes. Could he not wait to feel the tightness of the smaller boy around his dick as he bounced up and down? Yes. However, all of that flew out of the window as soon as he saw the nervousness on Jimin’s face. There was no way he wanted any of this if Jimin would feel the slightest bit of discomfort. Jimin wore his heart on his sleeve, Jungkook able to read him like a book. The shorter boy couldn’t really hide his emotions, his eyes and expression always giving him away. So, if there was even the chance of Jimin not liking this idea anymore, then he didn’t want any of it either, “Do you want to do it differently? Or not at all, maybe?”

“N-No, it’s fine. I just... I don’t want to hurt you” Jimin mumbled as he tied the fabric around Jungkook’s wrists, leaving quite a lot of room for him to move them around. Jungkook’s eyes softened and there was an emotion flashing in them that Jimin wished he could define, yet he couldn’t.
“Don’t worry, you won’t hurt me, little one. You can tie it a little tighter”

Letting out a shaky breath, Jimin opened the knot and pulled the fabric a little tighter, tying it with less space in between than before.

“O-Okay? Now to the headboard?”

“Yes, exactly”

Gulping, Jimin took the remaining part of the fabric and tied it around the headboard, leaving no chance for Jungkook to pull his arms down now. To be honest, the shorter male couldn’t help but wonder if Jungkook would be able to simply pull on the tie hard and free himself because he was so strong.

“Good boy, baby. Did so well” Jungkook praised and interrupted Jimin's thoughts. The orange haired one swallowed hard and gave a faint smile.

“Is that okay? Does it hurt?” He wanted to make sure and placed his hands on Jungkook's broad chest.

“It's okay, kitten. Well done”

“Uhm... if you... if you want me to stop, use the safeword, okay? I'll untie you then” Jimin whispered, a smile appearing on Jungkook's face.

They stared at each other a moment longer, Jimin not entirely sure what to do now. Yes, he had wanted to try and take control, but that wasn’t as easy actually.

“Should I just...”

“You can do whatever you want, baby. Condoms and lube are in the top drawer of the nightstand. You don't have to stretch yourself anymore because you've already played with your hole. However, if you want to make sure you can fuck yourself on your fingers first. It's all up to you”

Jimin's cheeks heated up as he opened the top drawer and pulled out a bottle of lube and a condom, placing them on the bed beside him before scooting down on Jungkook's body a little. The smaller boy let his eyes roam over Jungkook's strong upper body, hand almost moving subconsciously as he started to trace his fingertips over his skin, running along his defined abs and feeling his strong muscles beneath them.

A whimper escaped Jimin as he felt Jungkook’s penis twitch beneath himself, the hard bulge rubbing against his butt.

“May I?” Jimin asked as he played with the hem of Jungkook's trousers.

The older boy zipped down his trousers and pulled them off, letting them drop on the floor next to the bed before he gripped the hem of Jungkook's briefs. Carefully, he tugged them down as well, the big hard length of Jungkook springing free right after. Jimin whined at the sight, the veins defined and the tip inviting. There was just something about Jungkook’s penis that awoke the urge to lick and suck on his hard length inside of Jimin.
Jimin's impatience increased at the sight of Jungkook's erection, causing him to take off his own briefs quickly and toss them on the floor as well. Then, he opened the condom and placed it against Jungkook's tip, “Just... like this?”

“Yes, just roll it over”

The smaller boy rolled the condom down over Jungkook's erection, a breath escaping his lips as he felt the hard length in his petite hand.

Frankly, yes, Jimin had played with himself last night, yet he wasn't so sure if Jungkook was going to fit inside of him with ease. However, even though he was a little worried, he just wanted to feel the taller boy inside of him.

Jimin opened the bottle and squeezed a good amount of lube over Jungkook's penis, watching it trail down his length. The taller boy hissed at the coldness, Jimin apologising softly as he closed his hand around the erection in order to spread the lube around.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook breathed and bucked his hips up.

The smaller boy lifted his hips as he dropped the bottle on the bed next to them, reaching behind himself with the hand that was wet with lube. Then, Jimin rubbed his hand over his little hole, spreading the remaining lube around in order for the penetration to be easier and hurt less.

“Don't be too eager, kitten” The taller boy murmured as Jimin wrapped his hand around Jungkook's erection and placed the tip against his entrance, “Take your time. I don't want you to hurt yourself”

“Okay” Jimin whispered and he pushed the head against his hole while sinking down on it simultaneously, feeling his hole open up and the tip slipping inside with little resistance. Certainly, it did hurt a tiny bit, but actually not a lot due to the stretching last night, “Ah, Kook” The shorter boy whined, eyes fluttering shut as he adjusted to the size inside of him.

“Fuck, Jiminie” Jungkook cursed and leaned his head back, wanting nothing more than to fuck up into the smaller boy on top of him. However, Jimin wanted to take the control right now and he definitely didn't want to hurt the little boy either, but rather wanted him to take his time to adjust.

“Jungkook-ah, oh my god” The orange haired boy moaned as he sank down further, the stretch feeling so nice and sending jolts of pleasure through his body. The feeling of Jungkook filling him so well always amazed and aroused Jimin.

It didn't take long for Jimin to fit all of Jungkook's erection inside of his hole, eventually sitting back down on his lap and placing his hands on Jungkook's chest in order to lean on them. His head was already feeling dizzy from being filled this well alone. It was difficult for him to breathe right now, chest rising and falling quickly as he adjusted to the feeling. Honestly, he just wanted to move his hips right now, but he knew that he had to wait a little longer or it would hurt quite a lot.

“Fit all of me inside of you, don't you, kitten? Such a good boy” The younger one praised, his chest rising and falling quickly beneath Jimin's hands as well. As soon as Jimin had heard the praise, his penis had twitched involuntarily, yet again proof of how much he liked being praised.

“Go on, baby”
Letting out a shaky breath, Jimin lifted his hips just to drop them back down a moment after. The cutest little whine escaped his lips as he hit his prostate right away, startling him a bit. “Jungkook-ah” He mewed and repeated the action, eyes fluttering shut as he hit the special spot yet again.

Jimin quickened his pace a little, moving his hips up and down faster as he perfectly hit his prostate every single time, the cutest whines and whimpers leaving his parted lips.

The taller boy cursed at the sight and noises, his hands trying to move down unconsciously in order to touch Jimin. Shit, he thought, as he realised he couldn't – which, well, obviously he couldn't. He remembered fairly quickly why he had never done this before. It was a pain in the ass, but Jimin had looked so adorable when he had requested it and Jungkook just wanted Jimin to able to try all kinds of things – this being one of them.

However, it wasn't as easy as he had thought it would be. Watching the cute little boy bounce up and down on his cock looking like this pretty angel doing something so obscene was driving him wild alone, but being restrained from touching him was even worse – no the worst - , his fair and soft skin so inviting to just be grabbed, his big round ass slapping against Jungkook's skin with a loud slapping noise and the younger one just wanted to touch. Don't get him started on Jimin's face, so pretty, so beautiful – always, always so beautiful. His lips were parted and leaving the most adorable whimpers that were like music to Jungkook's ears by now, a sweet melody that was somehow cute yet also turned him on, his cheeks were flushed in a pretty pink, his eyes were so big and glossy, causing him to appear dazed again which he probably was to be honest. Jimin always became so fucked out so quickly, incoherent words leaving his lips now as he was bouncing up and down on Jungkook's cock even faster, his little dick moving around with the movement as well, but being neglected other than that. The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, they were already so red due to their previous kissing and Jungkook just wanted to press his lips onto them while fucking up into the orange haired boy, but he couldn't. God, it was frustrating.

“Jimin-ah, fuck, you look so beautiful, baby, so pretty how you bounce on my dick”

“Y-Yes? Aaah, Jungkook-ah” The shorter boy cried out and squeezed his eyes shut, wanting to quicken his pace, now moving around frantically, chasing both of their orgasms.

“Shit, baby” The younger boy cursed and threw his head back, Jimin moving up so far until Jungkook’s dick was almost slipping out, but dropping back down fast again, repeating the motion again and again. Involuntarily, Jungkook pulled on his restraints again, the desire to touch the pretty boy increasing.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin whimpered some moments later and decreased his pace, slowing down the movement of his hips, barely moving now. It was as if he almost, almost wanted to tease Jungkook.

“Jimin-ah, fuck, don't tease me” The taller boy groaned as he bucked up his hips.

“’m not” The smaller one whined and shook his head, thighs shaking as he moved his hips back and forth sloppily, “H-Hurts, my thighs hurt”

“Untie me, little one. Untie me and I'll fuck you, hm? Don't you want that?” Jungkook suggested, just wanting to be able to touch Jimin.

The orange haired boy stilled his movement, blinking as he locked eyes with Jungkook. The taller boy could recognise it right away, the headspace he was in yet again. It took time for Jimin to register his words, arousal and desperation blooming inside of the older one. He was so out of it already, had been right from the get go when he had hit his prostate from the start. It was impressive how long he had actually been able to bounce on Jungkook's dick before his thighs got too sore. However, now
Jungkook had to help him, now Jimin's needy state required his full attention.

“Y-Yes” The poor boy whined and nodded quickly, leaning over in order to untie the fabric. The next thing happened fairly quickly. As soon as Jungkook's hands were untied, they rushed to Jimin's hips, grabbing them firmly. The black haired boy spun them around, pinning Jimin into his bed and grasping the back of his knees in order to bend the boy beneath him in half. His dick never slipped out of the smaller boy at the action.

Jimin could barely register what was happening before Jungkook pulled out of him and slammed back into him, a loud moan escaping Jimin at the motion, the taller boy hitting him so deeply, right against his prostate.

“Jungkook-ah!” The older boy cried out as Jungkook started to thrust into him hard and fast, Jimin rocking back and forth at the force of them, skin slapping against skin due to the relentless rhythm, causing loud slapping noises to fill the room as well as Jimin's loud whines and mewls, “K-Kook-ah, oh my god! Right theeere” Jimin cried out and arched his back, eyes rolling back into his head.

The younger one wet his lips, leaning down in order to press his lips on Jimin's, “Don't come” He whispered against them before attaching his lips on Jimin's again.

The orange haired boy whined, feeling his orgasm approach way too fast, building and building in the pit of his stomach. Frankly, he wasn't going to be able to hold back if Jungkook was going to keep this pace.

“I-I can't, Junkook-ah” Jimin warned, squeezing his eyes shut as he opened his mouth in a silent scream.

“No, kitten, don't come yet” Jungkook growled and wrapped his hand around the base of Jimin's hard length which caused Jimin to scream out, the feeling so, so weird and foreign because it had felt like he was already coming, but it was somehow... denied? It felt like he just couldn't cross the edge.

“N-No!” The smaller boy screamed out, squirming around on the bed and bucking his hips up, “P-Please, please, Kook-ah!” He cried out, tears forming in his eyes for a reason he couldn't describe because honestly, he didn't understand it himself. Jimin figured there were tears because it was frustrating, the feeling of having your orgasm completely denied. His body reacted on its own to the frustration of the situation, causing tears to swell in his eyes.

“Sssh, baby, you're doing so good. My good boy.” Jungkook praised, his pace still steady and relentless while denying Jimin his orgasm.

“N-No, pleaaase, Kook!” Jimin whined and gripped Jungkook's wrist, trying to pull his arm away as he squirmed around on the bed while clenching the bedsheets with his other hand. It was torture. Well, it felt like torture. The abuse on Jimin's prostate was relentless, yet his release was impossible due to Jungkook's hand. It hurt, he just wanted to come.

Surprisingly, the shorter male was able to pull Jungkook's hand away, eyes rolling back into his head as the feeling finally burst inside of him, Jimin screaming out Jungkook's name as he came inbetween them. His body was trembling violently, back arching up and legs kicking a little as wave after wave hit him, the feeling so intense after being denied for several minutes.

Jimin clenched around Jungkook, causing said boy to curse and find his own release. He kept thrusting into Jimin, fucking them both through their intense orgasms as he filled the condom with his cum, feeling Jimin's legs shake beneath his hands from the oversensitivity. Jungkook slowed his pace, thrusting into the little boy only two, three more times before he pulled out and collapsed on Both of them were out of breath and sweaty, Jimin's legs dropping back down on the bed. His body was still full on shaking, the orgasm so intense he couldn't move an inch, just wanted to lie here and fall asleep.

“I told you not to come, baby.” Jungkook growled against his ear as he pushed himself up, staring down at the smaller boy, “You misbehaved, Jimin-ah, that's not what good boys do”

Gulping, Jimin nodded, knowing what was going to come next. The way Jungkook was looking at him with dark eyes, the way he was talking to him with a low voice, almost intimidatingly and threatening, should probably scare Jimin or make him at least worry, but why was there mostly excitement and heat in the pit of his stomach? Was that... right?

“I-I'm sorry”

“You know what happens to bad boys, don't you?” The younger one asked as he sat up, pulling the condom off and dropping it on the floor before he sat down on the edge of the bed.

“T-They get punished?” Hadn't Jungkook said that back then when he had wanted to spank him? That time when Jimin had thought Jungkook was actually disappointed by him. Just like he was acting right now. However, this time, Jimin knew that this act wasn't genuine. Jungkook wasn't actually angry or disappointed by him.

“Correct. Come here” Jungkook pointed to his lap, Jimin sitting up and crawling over, heartbeat quickening as he laid down over Jungkook's lap, ass up in the air.

Jimin's ass was so round, the flesh so fair, Jungkook wanted to paint it in a pretty rose colour. Softly, he gripped one of Jimin's butcheeks, giving it a firm squeeze that caused Jimin to gasp. The orange haired boy pressed his face into the bed and gripped the bedsheets, clenching his hands into fists.

“Kitten, can you tell me your colour?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin cleared his throat, “Green”

“Okay. I'm going to spank you now, Jimin-ah. If you don't like it, call out red right away, understood?”

Jimin nodded quickly.

“No, baby, need to hear your pretty voice” Jungkook shook his head as he tapped two fingers against Jimin's upper thigh firmly, causing Jimin's leg to twitch.

“Y-Yes, I understand”

The shorter male obeyed, taking a deep breath, but holding his breath a moment later when Jungkook's hand was suddenly gone. Squeezing his eyes shut, Jimin waited for the first blow. Was it going to hurt a lot? Was it going to hurt at all? Well, obviously it w-

Swoosh.

Jimin's breath hitched in his throat, body moving forward slightly at the first spank. The pain was definitely there, but it was light and gone so quickly, replaced by something else... but what was it?

Jungkook rubbed over the skin where he had just spanked him, trying to soothe the pain. “Okay, little one? Do you want to stop?” His voice was so soft, so comforting. Jimin knew he could stop right now and that would be completely fine with Jungkook. The taller boy would pick him up and give him the promised cuddles, yet Jimin wanted more. For some reason he wanted more.

“N-No, again”

The younger one cursed under his breath, lifting his hand yet again.

Jimin couldn't help but hold his breath again, waiting for the next blow.

_Swoosh._

It came a lot quicker than the first one, hurt a little more as well even though it was the other cheek this time. There wasn't that much force behind Jungkook's slaps and both of them knew that. It was Jimin's first time and Jungkook was considerate, of course. However, they weren't light either. There was definitely pain felt in Jimin's butt. Yet, the pleasure that spread afterwards filled his whole body.

_Swoosh._

Jimin yelped at that one, having not expected it at all. His body rocked forward, penis rubbing against Jungkook's leg and creating some friction. His penis had gotten soft already, but was still very much sensitive against any touch.

_Swoosh._

Jimin whined high-pitched, hiding his face in the bed.

“Doing so good, baby, such a good boy taking your punishment” Jungkook praised and caressed his buttcheks that had a little pinkish colour now.

_Swoosh._

“Ah” The orange haired one breathed out, eyes squeezing shut as first the pain, but then the pleasure ran through his body. Honestly, Jimin had no idea why this felt the way it did. When Taehyung had told him about how pleasureable this felt, he had doubted it quite a bit. Yet, here he was now, experiencing it first hand.

Did that mean he liked pain? Did he like being disciplined? What exactly did th-

_Swoosh._

“Oh, Kook-ah” Jimin mewled, this one being harder than the others. Both of them stilled as they felt Jimin's penis twitch against Jungkook's leg.

The smaller boy's cheeks were already flushed due to the slight embarrassment of being spanked by Jungkook, yet his blush deepened when he realised how his body reacted and how he was actually enjoying this... punishment. There was something wrong with him, wasn't there?

“Mhm, you like this, don't you?” Jungkook commented, tapping his hand against Jimin's butt firmly, causing Jimin to squirm around on his lap.

_Swoosh._
“Stop moving” The taller boy scolded, Jimin whimpering at the order. He didn't mean to move, his body did that on his own.

Swoosh.

Jimin's body rocked forward, his penis at full hardness as it rubbed against Jungkook's leg. He simply couldn't help but rut against it, searching desperately for some more friction.

“Baby, what did I tell you?”

“S-Sorry, please, Ko-aaah!” Jimin cried out high-pitched as Jungkook spanked him yet again mid sentence.

Involuntarily, Jimin's hands rushed to his butt, trying to protect it from any more spanks which was contradicting to what his body felt. It was as if his brain and body were telling him two different things. His brain was screaming at him to stop this, protect him from any more pain, yet his penis was twitching every time, actually leaking some precum now and enjoying the pain – or the pleasure. It was odd and very confusing, if Jimin was being honest.

“Kitten is leaking all over my leg, isn't he?” Jungkook pointed out as he pushed Jimin's hands away, giving him another spank.

The smaller boy's hands flew to his butt again, trying to protect it, yet Jungkook simply grabbed his wrists firmly and pulled them away, holding them in his grip tightly.

“Stop disobeying, baby”

Swoosh. Swoosh. Swoosh.

“Aaah!” Jimin cried out, legs kicking as he squirmed around more on Jungkook's lap, body trying to get away from the touch now.

“Sssh, little one, what's your colour?”

It took a moment for Jimin to catch his breath and to find his voice, so so out of it at this point. There was pain, but it was pleasure too, his penis was sensitive, yet the friction against it felt so good and overwhelming. Everything was just somehow contradicting and Jimin didn't know what to do. Yet, he definitely knew that he didn't want to stop this.

“G-Green” He answered, voice breaking, noticing the tears on his face only a moment later.

There was a moment of silence, Jungkook stilling.

“Baby, hey, are you sure? Are you okay?” The taller boy asked, voice softer again, concern visible. That was so incredibly comforting to know. The fact that Jungkook still wanted to make sure that he was okay meant a lot to him.

“Y-Yes. Green, I'm sure”

“Okay, baby. Only two more, I promise. Did so well for me, baby, such a good boy. You can squirm around, hump my leg all you want and if you want to come, go on, little one.”

“T-Thank you”

Letting out a shaky breath, Jimin pressed his face into the bedsheets again, Jungkook caressing his buttcbeeks that were in a pretty pink colour now, contrasting to his fair skin.
“Kook-ah” Jimin whimpered as his body rocked forward, squirming around in his lap a bit as he rubbed his penis against Jungkook’s leg.

Suddenly, the younger one parted his buttcheeks, revealing his stretched pink hole that was shining with lube. The taller boy spat right on his hole, Jimin gasping at the action, penis twitching at the obscenity. Jungkook pressed his index finger against the rim, Jimin yelping at the touch. While the taller one circled his entrance with his finger, Jimin continued to hump Jungkook's leg, feeling so desperate to find another release. Without a warning, Jungkook pushed two of his fingers inside of Jimin's hole without any resistance.

The shorter male opened his mouth in a silent scream as Jungkook thrusted his fingers in and out of him in a fast pace, jolts of pleasure running through his body. Jimin tried to concentrate on the stimulation on his penis and in his hole, yet there was the nervousness of when the last spank was going to hit him blooming inside of him.

Jimin's orgasm was building in the pit of his stomach, the older one squirming around in Jungkook's lap as the feeling increased steadily. Suddenly, Jungkook's fingers were gone and instead, he spanked Jimin right across his hole.

“Jungkook-ah!” The poor boy screamed out in ecstasy, sperm spurting out of his penis on Jungkook's leg as Jimin continued humping it, legs kicking as his orgasm hit him. His body was shaking violently and tears were running down his face. A mantra of Jungkook's name was leaving his plump parted lips, drool all over his chin.

Eventually, it all became too much, too sensitive and Jimin had to still his hips, lifting them slightly so his penis wouldn't be pressed against Jungkook's leg any longer.

Jimin's eyes felt heavy, his body feeling so sore, especially his butt. The poor boy was exhausted, just wanted to fall asleep.

“Hey, little one” He could hear Jungkook whisper as he caressed his back softly, trying to get Jimin's attention, yet it felt like Jimin wasn't actually present, was floating, was somewhere else. His breathing was uneven and his body still full on trembling as he simply laid there.

Carefully, Jungkook picked up the smaller boy gently and made him straddle his lap, Jimin almost collapsing against him right away. The taller boy secured his position by gripping his hips softly, locking eyes with Jimin.

“Hey, baby, you did so well for me. You were such a good boy for me, weren't you?” Jungkook praised as he brushed Jimin's hair out of his sweaty forehead, Jimin's eyes fluttering shut at the touch.

“Y-Yes? Your good boy?” The smaller boy whispered, voice so soft and vulnerable Jungkook smiled as he pressed a peck against his nose.

The younger one wiped away Jimin's tears, heart dropping a little as the memory of the last time Jimin had cried in this position after being told he would be spanked appeared in his mind, yet he knew this time was different. Jimin cried when he was oversensitive, when it all became too much. These weren't tears that he cried because of fear or pain.

“Jimin-ah, I have some ointment for your butt. I'll rub it onto your buttccheeks, okay? It'll soothe the pain”
The smaller boy nodded even though Jungkook wasn't entirely sure he had understood what he had said. Yet, he scooted up the bed with Jimin on his lap and reached for the bag on his nightstand where he had provided some stuff already. Jungkook picked out the bottle of ointment and placed it next to them on the bed. Then, he picked out some tissues and cleaned himself from Jimin's cum.

“I'll clean your hole, okay?”

Jimin nodded faintly, eyes glossy and wide as they followed Jungkook's movement. The smaller boy actually looked like a kitten right now, the taller boy couldn't take his eyes away. Frankly, he always did look like one, hence why Jungkook had started to call him by that pet name. Jimin was just beautiful and adorable.

Clearing his throat, Jungkook shook his head and carefully gripped Jimin's right buttcheek, causing said boy to hiss and bury his face in Jungkook's neck.

“Ssh, I know” Jungkook cooed as he wiped the tissue over Jimin's hole gently in order to clean it from any remaining lube. They were going to shower in a moment anyway, but aftercare came first and Jungkook didn't want any of the lube or cum to dry on Jimin's skin when they were cuddling.

The younger one tossed the tissues on the floor without a care before he picked up the ointment, opening it and scooping some of it up with two fingers. Carefully, he laid down on the bed, pulling Jimin down with him who placed his head on Jungkook's chest, hands clenched into little fists.

“It's going to be cold” The taller boy warned as he pressed his fingers against Jimin's buttcheek, said boy whining at the contact and squeezing his eyes shut, “I know, baby, you're doing so good” Jungkook whispered against his ear, caressing his back while rubbing the ointment over his buttcheeks, spreading it around.

The substance felt weird against Jimin's skin, yet it was somehow soothing. Jungkook repeated the treatment on his other buttcheek, being very careful and gentle while doing so.

“All done, baby”

Jungkook hummed as he wrapped his arms around the smaller boy on top of him, embracing him tightly. Jimin's heart fluttered at the gesture, feeling so safe in Jungkook's arms as the younger one started to draw shapes on his back.

Jimin listened to Jungkook's heartbeat, something so comforting and soothing about being able to feel it so close to him. Goosebumps formed on his skin wherever Jungkook's fingertips traced on it. The smaller boy could fall asleep like this, feeling the warmth that was radiating from him, smelling his scent that caused Jimin to feel... cozy and safe.

The orange haired boy could feel himself come down from the headspace, could feel himself calm down again. Being close to Jungkook, simply be cuddled in a soft way by him caused that.

The actual pain was only felt now by Jimin. While being spanked and stimulated on his penis simultaneously, the pleasure was somehow blurring out the pain, yet when he was coming down from that headspace now – no other distraction, no more pleasure and no adrenaline left – it all came crashing down. His butt was quite sore and Jimin was sure he was going to feel the pain even tomorrow.

“I know, little one, I know it does. Did I got too far?” Jungkook whispered, voice soft as he caressed Jimin's cheek, the shorter male nuzzling against the touch.

“No, you didn't go too far. It didn't hurt a lot while you were doing it, just now” The older one tried to explain, Jungkook humming as he gave a nod.

“So you enjoyed it? Would you want to do it again?”

Swallowing, Jimin contemplated over it for a moment.

“I did enjoy it, I don't know why, but it's very intense. I don't want to do it all the time, but I would like to do it again sometime”

Jungkook smiled and gave a nod as he rubbed his thumb over Jimin's cheekbone.

"Is it weird that I like it? I don't even know what I like about it...” Jimin asked, voice becoming quieter with each word.

"It's not weird, Jimin-ah. Many people like this, for whole different reasons. Some enjoy the pain, some enjoy the humiliation, some enjoy the discipline, there are a lot of reasons. If you don't know why you like it, that's fine, too. You don't have to justify yourself or justify what you like. If you like it that's fine and I'll gladly do that to you, if you want it."

“How is it for you? Do you enjoy spanking?” The smaller boy wondered as he tilted his head to the side.

The younger one thought over it, eventually shrugging slightly, “I enjoy watching you fall apart, watching you let yourself drop into that headspace and put all of your trust in me. I like pleasuring you so if spanking gives you pleasure, then yes. However, if it only hurts you and makes you feel uncomfortable, then no, I don't enjoy it”

Jimin processed his words, thinking about them for a moment. For some odd reason his heart fluttered at the information. The reason whether or not Jungkook enjoyed this was... Jimin. Whether or not Jimin felt pleasure during the spanking determined if Jungkook enjoyed doing it to him.

“Oh” Jimin whispered as he placed his cheek against Jungkook's chest again, listening to his heartbeat.

The smaller boy started to draw shapes over Jungkook's chest now, the taller boy noticing it and glancing down at him, observing the way Jimin was softly touching him. It must be difficult for Jungkook, too, right? To act this dominantly and hurt someone purposely because they ask you to do that. Jimin wanted to comfort him, too. It surely wasn't easy on him either.

“Did you like having your hands tied up?” The older boy wanted to know, voice quiet as he lifted his hand and started playing with Jungkook's hair.

The taller boy's eyes fell shut at the soft touch, Jimin scratching over his scalp softly every now and then.

“Kook-ah?”

“Sorry, what?”

“Hell no” Jungkook laughed and shook his head, “What a pain in the ass, honestly.”

“Did it hurt?” Jimin asked concerned, gripping Jungkook's arm softly and inspecting his wrist. It was only the slightest bit redened, probably gone by tomorrow already.

“No, it didn't hurt.” The younger one assured softly, grabbing Jimin's chin gently and forcing him to lock eyes with him right as Jimin lifted Jungkook's hand and placed a kiss against his redened flesh. Emotion flashed in Jungkook's eyes at the gesture, yet Jimin wasn't able to recognise what it was, “Thank you.” He breathed.

They both smiled faintly, looking back and forth between each other's eyes. Jimin wet his lips, Jungkook's gaze rushing down at the motion. There was just something so inviting about Jimin's full lips, Jungkook couldn't help himself and leaned forward, connecting their lips in a gentle kiss.

Jimin's breath hitched in his throat, having not expected the kiss, yet welcoming it all the same. The shorter boy kissed right back, both boys moving their lips against each other so gently as if they wanted to say something with the kiss, yet not knowing what it was. It wasn't about lust, wasn't about easing each other into having sex a moment later. No, this was different.

There was still passion behind their kisses, but the pace was slow and sensual rather than fast and hot. With each touch of their lips, Jimin's heart fluttered, something blossoming in his stomach and spreading through his whole body. That happened so often now, didn't it? That weird feeling, that odd thing his heart did whenever Jungkook looked at him, touched him, kissed him or talked to him, sending electricity through his body, filling him with warmth and comfort.

What was that? What was going on with his body whenever Jungkook was near?

The taller boy licked over his bottom lip slowly, Jimin parting his lips immediately and pressing his tongue against Jungkook's slowly, both boys letting out a soft breath at the touch. Jungkook gripped his hips a little tighter, yet the pace of their kiss stayed the same.

Jimin had no idea how long they remained like this, the smaller one sitting on top of Jungkook while they kissed so slowly and softly, the younger boy continuing to caress Jimin's back while the shorter male kept drawing shapes over his chest, feeling goosebumps rise beneath his touch.

Eventually, they broke away from the kiss, both a little breathless as Jungkook pressed another peck on his lips, then leaving a small kiss on his nose and lastly, placing a little kiss on his forehead, Jimin smiling at the gesture as his eyes fluttered shut.

When he opened them again, Jungkook was already staring at him, eyes fixated on his face, taking in every detail. Jimin felt himself blush under the intent stare, yet this time he didn't avert his gaze. Jungkook looked back and forth between his eyes and there was something glistening in his eyes that Jimin wished he could define, yet he couldn't.

Jungkook opened his mouth, trying to say something, but shut it again.

“Jimin-ah” He then breathed, smiling faintly, “I-”

Suddenly, a phone rang. Both boys immediately knew which one it was and honestly, Jimin had an idea of who it was as well. He couldn't help but wonder if he was right, if it was actually Seoyun who was calling. Certainly, he could be completely off. It might be his family, friends or someone from work. There were so many people who would- You see, Jimin was desperately trying to make up other scenarios, yet how many people would call him at midnight? It was so late, the possibility of people calling him was slim, only a few selected people would call someone this late at night.
Seoyun had done it before so the chances of this being her, too, were high if you asked Jimin.

Jungkook shook his head, clearing his throat as he averted his gaze.

“Sorry, let me turn that off and then we'll shower, okay?”

“We don’t have to” Jimin found himself whisper when Jungkook pushed him off of him softly, getting up to grab his phone.

“Why not?” The younger one wanted to know, eyebrows pulled together as he declined the call.

“If you have other things to do, I can just take a wet cloth and-”

“I don’t. No, Jimin-ah.” Jungkook interrupted and shook his head, “Come on” Then, he picked up the smaller boy with ease and wrapped Jimin's legs around his waist, holding him by his upper thighs as he walked into the bathroom, Jimin burying his face in his neck, smelling his comforting scent.

Carefully, Jungkook wanted to set Jimin down on the counter, yet Jimin hissed at the pain of his butt coming in contact with the surface, wrapping his arms around Jungkook's neck tighter.

“I-it's okay. The coldness actually feels kind of soothing” Jimin murmured, both of them chuckling.

“I'll turn the water on” The younger one uttered as he brushed Jimin's streaks of hair out of his face.

Suddenly, there was a phone ringing again.

“Why don't you just pick up so the person will stop calling?” Jimin suggested, voice soft.

“Are you sure?”

The smaller boy nodded as he watched Jungkook walk over to the shower, turning the water on and setting it to a comfortable temperature.

“Why don’t you start already? I'll be right back” Jungkook placed a peck on his lips before he exited the bathroom, Jimin hopping down from the counter and whining as he stood on wobbly legs. His whole body still felt incredibly sore.

Carefully, he stepped into the shower, the warm water hitting him, causing him to gasp. Actually, the water felt nice against his body, especially after such an exhausting day. Should Jimin wait now? Well, it was a waste of water to just stand here.

Jimin grabbed the shampoo and squeezed some of it on his hands, placing the bottle back down and massaging his hair a moment after. The shorter male looked over at the door, but Jungkook hadn't appeared yet. Biting down on his bottom lip, Jimin reached for the shower gel and squirted some of it on his hands. The smell reminded him of Jungkook, his eyes fluttering shut at the familiar and comforting scent. Jimin knew that it was odd... was it? Maybe it wasn't. You see, Jimin was connecting the scent of Jungkook with... comfort and, and safety and something that made him feel close and... almost at home? Honestly, he couldn't explain it, just knew that the scent always lingered in his nose even hours after having seen Jungkook, the simple smell could evoke so many feelings in Jimin, it was a little strange perhaps.

While Jimin cleaned his body of any sweat, cum and lube, he kept his gaze fixated on the door, yet
Jungkook didn't appear. The shorter male hissed as he cleaned his butt, the touch causing a little pain, yet it had to be done. Lastly, he carefully washed his hole, letting the water wash away any remaining soap or dirt.

When he was finished, he leaned from one foot to the other, considering. Should he just wait here? But he was cleaned now so what was the point? Catching his bottom lip between his teeth, the smaller boy turned the water off, stepping out of the shower a moment later and gripping a towel from the counter.

Jimin could hear Jungkook's muffled voice from his bedroom. Even though he couldn't understand what he was saying, the taller boy sounded somehow annoyed or even angry. Gulping, Jimin dried himself, worrying a little about what was causing Jungkook's mood to be like this.

The older boy wrapped the towel around himself after having dried himself and waddled into the bedroom, observing how Jungkook was pacing around, dressed in briefs now, and seemingly not pleased with whatever he was being told.

Carefully, he picked up his briefs from the floor and put them on, walking over to the sofa after and picking his clothes up. Suddenly, Jungkook turned around, gaze landing on the smaller boy who was putting on his clothes already. The black haired boy's eyes widened as he approached Jimin.

“Ji-” He halted mid-sentence, Jimin turning around to look at him as he pulled the hoodie over his head, “Hang on, give me a minute.” Jungkook pulled the phone away from his ear, “Sorry, it's not gonna take much longer, I-”

“It's fine, Jungkook” Jimin assured, not sure why his voice didn't cooperate and broke, making it appear as if he was hurt – which he... wasn't, obviously.

“Give me two minutes, Jimin-ah and I'll – I said give me a minute, for fuck's sake” Jungkook first talked to him softly, but then his voice sounded completely different as he talked to the person on the phone with an angry tone.

“It's fine, Jungkook-ah. I get it, it's important” Jimin smiled faintly, but Jungkook could see right through it. The smaller boy started walking towards the door, but Jungkook quickly went after him, grabbing his wrist and pulling him back gently.

“Wait, please, Jimin-ah, It's not gonna take much longer. I can't just hang up, I-” There was emotion flashing in Jungkook's eyes and Jimin wished he knew what it was, yet he didn't.

“Jungkook-ah, it's okay, really. I'll get going” Jimin assured yet again, voice trembling a little and giving away how vulnerable he felt. Why, you wonder? Well, Jimin had no clue. The taller boy was having a conversation with someone who was clearly important- more important than him. That shouldn't bother him. And it didn't... right? There was nothing to be hurt about for Jungkook to take this call while they were still spending time together, especially as he had suggested it. Then again, had he actually thought that Jungkook would take the call? Maybe. Had he thought that the call would take this long? Not at all.
“Jimin-ah, fucking wait” Jungkook followed him outside of the bedroom, yet Jimin didn't want to, didn't want Jungkook to see how much this was bothering him because it shouldn't. It was stupid and silly, but Jimin couldn't just stop it, neither control it.

“I'm not being rude, I said give me a fucking minute, I'll be right back” The younger one said through clenched teeth as he talked to the person on the phone. Both boys were walking down the stairs now, fast steps. Jimin just wanted to get away while Jungkook was trying to stop him, “Jimin-ah, what's wrong, please talk to me”

“Nothing is wrong. I promise. It's stupid, it's nothing, really. I just think it's better for me to go” The smaller boy assured.

“What if I don't want yo-”

Jungkook halted as the front door suddenly opened, a faintly familiar person stepping into the apartment. Jimin's heart dropped, stomach twisting as he saw Seoyun walk inside with several boutique shopping bags in her hands, stilling as she laid eyes on the scene in front of her.

“Oh my fucking god, you've got to be kidding me” Jungkook breathed in disbelief, slightly annoyed as well.

“Hello” She grinned as she stepped inside, dropping the shopping bags on the floor as Jimin just gulped and made his way to the door. She hadn't closed it, probably expected Jimin to leave which he was going to do now anyway.

“No, wait, Ji-”

“What's going on?” Seoyun asked, amusement in her voice as Jimin picked up his shoes, not even putting them on.

“Bye, Jungkook-ah” The smaller boy uttered and exited the apartment, shutting the door close behind him as he hurried to the elevator, thankfully already at the right floor. He stepped inside and pressed the button for the ground floor.

Letting out a shaky breath, Jimin shut his eyes close. It felt as if he was going to throw up, he felt genuinely sick. Why? Why did he feel like this?

While the elevator was moving, the orange haired boy put on his shoes, tying them weirdly, somehow forgetting how you do that as his head was spinning.

Finally, the elevator doors opened, Jimin stepping out and hurrying to the front door in order to leave the building. A fresh breeze of air hit him and it felt like he was finally able to breathe again. He took a deep breath, body shaking a little as he looked around.

Beomsoo – Jungkook's driver – was waiting in front of his car and Jimin just knew that Jungkook must have texted him just now because he was holding a phone in his hand.

Swallowing hard, Jimin walked over to the man who bowed politely at him, the smaller boy mirroring the action as Beomsoo opened the door for him.

“Mr. Jeon wants me to tell you that he's going to call you later” Beomsoo revealed once they were both seated in the car.

The orange haired one looked down on his lap as they pulled out of the parking spot. Why didn't he text him and tell him that himself?
“It's late. I'll probably be asleep, but... thank you”

Beomsoo smiled sympathetically at him, seemingly noticing that something was off, yet he thankfully didn't mention anything about it.

Jungkook did call him an hour later when Jimin was lying in his bed.

Yet, Jimin didn't pick up.

Chapter End Notes

Oh no, poor Jimin :(

Dongha and Jimin cleared up the misunderstanding and hopefully, they can try and become friends now... right? :)

What do you think Seoyun is doing there at Jungkook’s apartment? Who was Jungkook on the phone with?

I'll try to update as soon as possible <3
Safe Haven

Chapter Summary

The group of friends hangs out, but Jimin doesn't join them, leaving Jungkook wonder why... Unexpectedly, the orange haired boy appears in front of someone's door in the middle of the night, seeking for comfort.

Chapter Notes

Hiii, thank you so much for the incredible love on the last chapter <3 I loved all of your comments and your feeback :)

One of my readers, @UberCheeseballs thank you so much again, drew some fanart for my story and I loved it so much that I wanted to share it with you! :) She's really talented and I think she portrayed Jimin and Jungkook really well :) I would love for you to check it out, if you are interested :) https://www.deviantart.com/happilettuce/art/illuminate-758248753

I hope you enjoy this chapter :)

Jungkook rang the bell, dropping his hand a moment later as he waited for someone to open the door. He took a quick glance at the watch on his wrists, noticing that he was a bit late, yet figuring that they wouldn't mind.

The door swung open, revealing a smaller black haired boy who grinned at the sight of him, “Jungkook-ah, you made it” Yoongi smiled and stepped to the side, making room for Jungkook to enter.

The younger one simply hummed as he entered the house, taking his shoes off a moment later while Yoongi shut the door close.

There was silence for a moment.

“Well, did he bring the pizza? Some other food?” Jin shouted right before Yoongi and Jungkook entered the living room.

The taller boy scanned the room, noticing fairly quickly that one person was missing. Clearing his throat, he sat down on the sofa next to Jin. “Hey” He greeted the group.
“Hey” They all replied almost in harmony.

Jungkook had to bite his tongue in order for him to be quiet, figuring it would be odd to ask right away where Jimin was and if he was still coming. The thing is, Jimin hadn't even responded in their group chat, hadn't answered Jungkook’s call or his text either. Don't get him wrong, the black haired boy wasn't worried or anything. He could care less, honestly. It was just weird.

They haven't talked at all since that night. Since Jimin just stormed out of his apartment, appearing to be hurt by something. Jungkook had tried to stop him, yet the smaller boy was too stubborn and persistend on leaving, there had been no way of stopping him.

Whatever. It didn't bother him. Whatever Jimin was doing, whereever he was, who cares. Jungkook definitely didn't. They weren't even in a relationship, not even dating or anything like that...

Was he safe? Was he home? Was he- Stop, Jungkook thought and shook his head. Why was his brain not coorperating, but instead wondering about things he didn't want to care about? Fucking annoying.

“Stop that, you're eating all of the snacks already” Jin scolded and snatched the bag of crisps from Tae's hand who looked at the oldest with disbelief in his eyes.

“Hyung, I'm hungry!” Tae whined and reached for the bag, yet Jin shook his head and placed it on the sofa next to him.

“You've been eating the whole damn time before Jungkook arrived, I-” Taehyung accused him, voice still full of disbelief, yet slight anger as well. Obviously, it wasn't serious as their little argument was just concerning food. Then again, both of the boys were pretty passionate when it came to their food.

“Shut up, oh my god. You've been fighting about these fucking snacks for like half an hour now. The food will be delivered soon, don't worry. Let's choose the movie now” Yoongi interrupted their little fight, sighing as he rolled his eyes at his two friends, “Hey, kid, do you want a drink?” The black haired boy asked and nudged Jungkook.

The youngest looked up at his friend with arched eyebrows, still a little caught up in his thoughts and barely noticing his surroundings, “Uh, yes, a coke please”

Jungkook pulled out his phone while the others were trying to decide on what movie to watch. Namjoon and Taehyung were keen on watching a scary movie, yet Jin and Hoseok were refusing to watch anything that would leave them hide under the blankets by the end of the night. Jungkook really didn't care about what movie they were going to watch.

Instead, he clicked on a certain person's name in his contact list, the messages between them opening up. Unconsciously, Jungkook's leg started moving up and down as he considered texting the smaller boy.

Then again, it was probably utterly useless. Why would Jimin answer him now when he hadn't even replied in their group chat?

It was odd, honestly. The thing that Jungkook was feeling right now. It had been four days since he had last seen Jimin. That wasn't anything out of the ordinary. There have been times where they haven't seen each other in a couple of days when both of their schedules just didn't allow them to meet up for another lesson, yet this was different. They have never quite left on bad terms, have they? If they have then Jungkook hadn't noticed it, but this time he did. This time he knew that there was something off and... he didn't like that. It did bother him... a bit. A tiny, tiny bit.

It wasn't weird to wonder whether Jimin was alright, considering how he had just stormed out of his apartment some nights ago. Then again, he was probably just busy with practicing.

Hey, are you coming today? - Jungkook

The taller boy stared down at the message he had just send Jimin.

“Jungkook-ah, hey, are you okay?” A voice interrupted his thought, the black haired boy only realising a moment later that it was Yoongi.

“Yes, sure” The younger one assured as Yoongi handed him the glass of coke, “Thanks, hyung”

Yoongi observed him a moment longer, but simply nodded before he sat down on the sofa on the opposite end next to Namjoon. Taehyung and Hoseok were the only ones sitting on the floor, having placed some blankets on the rug and sitting against the sofa while staring at the TV.

When they were just about to start the movie, the doorbell rang yet again. Jungkook looked up immediately, body twitching and indicating that he had wanted to get up quickly – which was true, yet he didn't want to make it obvious.

Clearing his throat, he got up on his feet and walked over to the door.

“It's probably the delivery guy, there is some money for a tip on the counter” Yoongi told him as Jungkook placed his hand on the doorknob, twisting it and opening the door.

It was the delivery guy as the others had expected. Jungkook let out a sigh unconsciously, taking the money from the counter and handing it to the man in front of him.

“Hey” The guy greeted as he handed him the food and took the money, “Thank you”

“Hey, thanks. Good night” Jungkook uttered as he took the four boxes of pizza and an extra plastic bag which he assumed carried some chicken as the smell hit his nose.

“Good night”

Jungkook kicked the door shut with his foot before he walked back into the living room. The others had already started the movie, Jungkook placing two boxes of the pizza on the floor while handing the other two Jin.

-----

It was a little later in the night, darkness filling the room, the light from the TV being the sole source of light. They had eaten most of their food already, only a couple of pieces of the pizza left, the chicken being completely gone.

The black haired boy had checked his phone several times, yet there was no message from Jimin. Frankly, he didn't expect him to turn up at all anymore. Where was he? Why didn't he reply?

Jungkook barely paid attention to the movie, but rather just stared at the TV blankly, noticing how Namjoon and Jin started snoring beside him. That was probably never going to change. It seemed as if they always fell asleep during their hang outs, especially during an atmosphere like this one – a dark and cozy room, a movie that wasn't scary but rather boring if you'd ask Jungkook – so it came to no one's surprise that some of them fell asleep.

The taller boy got up and picked up the pizza boxes, carrying them into the kitchen where he tossed away the empty ones. Jungkook set the other two that still had some pieces left down on the counter before looking for some plates.

“Are you hiding the pizza?” A voice startled him, Jungkook turning around and realising that it was Taehyung who had entered the kitchen.

Taehyung placed his arms on the counter and leaned on them, scanning the pizza.

“Hey, can I ask you something?” Jungkook found himself ask as Taehyung picked up a piece of pizza, taking a bite.

The older one arched up his eyebrows and nodded while chewing on the food.

“Isn't Jimin coming today?”

The other one stilled, swallowing the food in his mouth down as he tilted his head to the side.

“No, he won't come today. He always spends this day alone. I try to suggest other things, like this hang out, that would distract him and keep his mind off of the meaning of this day, yet he never wants to. I respect that so I don't bother him any longer. I always spend the next day with him to make up for it.” Taehyung explained and took another bite.

The black haired boy furrowed his brows, trying to make sense of what Taehyung was sharing with him.

“What do you mean? What is today?”

Wait. What?

“I think you have to elaborate a bit more. Where exactly is he? Why won't he come today?”

Tae sighed, dropping the piece of pizza down on a plate.

“I had excepted Jimin to not join us today because it's his father's birthday. Jimin always wants to spend this time by himself, refuses me to stay by his side. I don't know why, but I don't question it and respect his wish. I know he won't do some stupid shit and I always check up on him at the start of the day, somewhere during the midday and then at night to make sure that he's okay”

“So he answers your texts? Your calls? Where is he right now?” The black haired boy wanted to know, clearing his throat as he noticed the way Taehyung looked at him with suspicion, probably confused by his urgency. Jungkook started placing the pieces of pizza down on the plates as if this conversation didn't concern him that much, while he was actually listening intently.

“I don't know” Taehyung sighed as he walked over to the cupboard and picked out a glass, “The last time I texted him he was on his way to the graveyard. I doubt he's still there now, but that's the last place I know he went to”
Jungkook froze, almost dropping the piece in his hand as the words left Taehyung's mouth. The other one didn't notice Jungkook's reaction, but simply filled his glass with some coke.

“What do you mean? Why would he go to the graveyard?” The younger one found himself ask, voice a little deeper. Frankly, Jungkook already knew by now, but he wanted Taehyung to say it, wanted to know that he was actually right with his assumption.

“Oh, you didn't know?” Taehyung asked and raised his eyebrows, eyes slightly widened, “His father died when he was young. For some reason, Jimin goes to the graveyard here in Seoul every year because his father is buried in Busan and Jimin doesn't go back there anymore, too many bad memories he connects with that place”

Holy shit. It all made sense now. That's what Jimin meant back then when he said his father is no longer with him. Jungkook had assumed his father was still living in Busan, not... not dead.

“At first, I never really understood why he goes to the graveyard because what his father did to him is just... horrible. He made Jimin suffer so, so much. For everything, really. Whatever it was, he blamed it on Jimin right from the moment his mother died. His father was the only parent he had left, yet the man just hurt him.” Taehyung shared with him, sadness in his eyes as he talked about the past of his best friend, “You see, Jimin is good at upholding a facade. When he smiles, it appears to be genuine and he looks happy, but there is something else hidden behind that smile: A broken boy with a scarred childhood and family issues.”

The blond boy took a sip of his drink, staring out of the window and not even sparing Jungkook a glance. He seemed to be caught up in his thoughts, thinking about everything his best friend went through.

“It was difficult for him to be happy again after everything he's been through, especially after his grandmother died as well. Jimin was all on his own then, a small boy alone in Seoul who suddenly became an orphan. He lived in an orphanage for a couple of years. The people there were nice to him, they were treating him better than his father did and actually cared about him. However, it didn't replace an actual family, the warmth of people loving you. Jimin was never adopted. Most people want younger children when they adopt them, Jimin was nine when he became an orphan and was already quite mature for his age because he had to learn to be somehow independent and responsible quickly, his father not really caring much for him. Jimin hadn't been able to depend much on his father. Of course, there had been his grandmother, but he didn't see her every day. I met him when we were 10 years old. The orphanage was right down my street and the children played outside on the streets all the time. We got scolded quite a lot, but it was always fun. We clicked from the start, he actually went to my school then, too. I guess right from the first couple of days I spent with him was when I knew it. That's when I knew he was going to be my bestest friend in the world. There was just something about him. I became his family, I never left his side.”

Jungkook was frozen in his place, was trying to process all of that information while Taehyung just continued talking, appearing to be in a trance himself and just letting his heart speak.

“Jimin wanted to move out of the orphanage eventually and they let him. He wanted to be independent and not rely on anyone any longer. That's why he refused to live with me and my parents when I offered it. He just never wants to be a liability to anyone – I guess his father gave him the impression that he was, even though he's so far from that. My parents love him, too, and had agreed right away when I asked them, yet he refused. I respected that, though. I understood why he made the decisions he did. Well, it was only right for me to at least move into the apartment next to his when I became an adult and we've been neighbours ever since. We're basically attached by the hip.” Taehyung continued, chuckling at the end, “I'm his family now, you know?” His eyes appeared to be glassy, emotion flashing in them.

The black haired boy swallowed hard, head a little dizzy due to all of that information.

“When he moved to Seoul, he was at least finally able to take professional dance classes and pursue his dream freely. We both applied for the same arts school and got in. It wasn't long until we met Yoongi hyung who took us under his wing. When hyung met us, he pretty much promised to care for us from the start. I still remember his words and the way he said them: 'I'll look out for you guys, I'm your brother now' And he really held that promise, still does.”

Taehyung smiled at the memory, still glancing out of the window, yet suddenly, his expression broke and changed into one of horror.

“Oh my god, I shouldn't have told you all of this. Forget about everything I've just said” The blond boy muttered, voice full of disbelief as he clasped his hands over his mouth, seemingly wishing he could take back the words.

Jungkook wasn't even reacting. Was still just standing there, frozen in his place as he was trying to process all of what he's just been told. There was so much to digest, so much he hadn't known about Jimin.

“Why did he move to Seoul though? Doesn't he have family left in Busan?” Jungkook then asked, eyebrows furrowed. “Why won't he go back to Busan?”

Taehyung hesitated, appearing to consider whether or not he should answer. He had shared so much already even though he hadn't intended to do that. To be fair, Taehyung loved talking and when he was talking about something that was close to his heart, it was difficult for him to stop.

The blond boy sighed, figuring there was essentially no point in trying to keep any information now, having shared so much already.

“He doesn't. At least not any he knows of. There had only been his father and his grandmother. His father told him that there was no one else, but Jimin was never entirely sure if that was true. Yet, there was no way of finding out. Jimin moved to Seoul with his grandmother because she wanted him to be able to have a better life and because she knew how much trauma the place in Busan caused him, but she died shortly after.” Taehyung answered, “I don't know why he won't go back to Busan, but I guess it's because of all the bad memories. Frankly, there is nothing holding him there either. There is no family left and the only person who had lived there that had loved him was his grandmother.”

Jungkook gave a slight nod, brows pulled together. How could that be? How was it possible for Jimin to have no other relatives? That was incredibly unlikely. There must be other people left in his family...

“Why does he go to a graveyard though? Why does he mourn for that bastard?”

“Yah, don't talk about his father like that” Taehyung scolded him, both boys looking at each other with angered expression, “But you're right, he was.”

“So you're allowed to say shit like that?” Jungkook asked and arched up his eyebrows.

“I'm his best friend, basically his brother so yes, I am”

“And I'm.” The taller boy paused, shutting his mouth as he narrowed his eyes. Right, he was nothing to Jimin. Were they considered friends? Maybe. Yet, not even close friends, “Whatever. I just know that he hurt Jimin so that already makes him a fucking asshole. Why would he mourn his death, especially even now?

“You know how Jimin is, don't you? That's just the kind of person he is. He always tries to find good in people. That's why it was so difficult to make him understand that his father was a bad person and intentionally treated him like shit to make him suffer, saying all these things and twisting his words, manipulating him. He completely fucked him over by verbally and emotionally abusing him. Jimin didn't even comprehend completely what his father was doing to him back then, but it still left a scar on him today. It's just... we can only try to help him heal. Of course we can support him, but it's something he mostly has to fight on his own because it's all in his mind. I just know that he appears to be in a good place right now. He was actually on a good path, especially with you. I just hope this day won't fuck that over and cause him to backtrack, you know?” Taehyung uttered, voice quiet, “Jimin just can't help it. He's a nice person, a good person. Jimin always just wants to be good and I think he believes that his father would think of him as being disrespectful if he doesn't mourn his death in some way. I don't know, that's just my assumption.”

Frankly, Jungkook couldn't agree more. Jimin was just... an angel. There was so much good in his heart. Jimin was just a nice and kind person, always wanting to please everyone. Obviously, that wasn't possible and of course, he shouldn't have to do that. Sometimes, he needs to put himself as a priority.

Jimin deserved so much better. How could he be this angelic even after all the shit he's been through? How had his father even dared to treat him like this? How fucked up do you have to be to treat someone as good-hearted and sweet as Jimin like absolute trash? Jungkook clenched his hands into fists, anger rising.

Honestly, it was good that he was dead, Jungkook didn't know what he would have done to him if he wasn't.

“Don't tell him that I told you all of this, please. I don't want him to be mad at me” Taehyung interrupted his thoughts, Jungkook locking eyes with him.

“No, of course. Don't worry, I won't say anything”

Taehyung smiled faintly and gave a small nod.

“What?”

“Don't hurt Jimin, please”

Jungkook blinked, opening his mouth, but shutting it right after.

“Whatever you two are doing, just... be careful. You should end it before any of you catch feelings”

“I won't catch feelings, don't worry. We just fuck, that's all.”

“What if Jimin catches feelings? What if he already has?”

Jungkook hesitated, thinking over his words. No, there was no way. Why would anyone fall for him?

“He won't, don't worry. If he does, that's his fault, I told him from the start that there shouldn't be any feelings involved”
Taehyung snorted, shaking his head as he picked up a piece of pizza, “That shit never works out, trust me. At least one part always catches feelings. That's just how it is”

“Well, not this time. How do you even know about us?”

The older one rolled his eyes, “I'm his best friend, of course I know about this. I suggested him to go for it because he was hesitant at first. Better not make me regret it”

“Don't worry, we're fine. There is nothing more going on”

-----

Jungkook was pacing around in his living room, dialing the number that an old friend of his had sent him, “Finally” He uttered under his breath.

It took a while for the man to pick up the call, eventually greeting with a “Hello, Jeon”

“Hello, Baek”

“You haven't called in quite a while. What can I do for you this late at night? What have you done? What do I need to do?”

“I didn't do anything. I need to ask you for a favour, though. I'm paying, obviously.”

“Of course, Jeon, what is it?”

The black haired boy almost tripped over some damn high heels that were lying in the way, cursing under his breath as he kicked them back to the front door.

“I need some information about someone. I need you to find out more about Park Jimin. He's born in Busan, in 1995. I want you to find out whether or not he still has family and where they are if he does. Moreover, find out who his father was and what happened to his mother. Don't you dare follow him though, don't even go close to him, I swear if you do, Baek, I'll-”

“Don't worry” Baek interrupted him, the older man laughing slightly, “We won't touch him, won't even go close, I promise. We'll deliver as you wish, it might take some time, but I'll keep you updated.”

“And don't tell my father about any of this”

“Oh? Who is that boy?”

The taller boy hesitated, slight regret blooming inside of him for having shared Jimin's name with this man. Yet, Baek had never crossed him or his father. He was a shady man, but he was loyal to their family. He wouldn't dare to touch Jimin.

“None of your business, Baek. I swear if I find out you were even in the same area as him, I'll-”

“Jeon, calm down” Baek snickered which annoyed Jungkook quite a bit, “Nothing will happen to him. I'll make sure to only receive the information and deliver it to you”

“Thank you. I'll pay as soon as I get the information from you. Delete the number after this. You know how to contact me”

“Of course. Goodbye”
“Bye”

Jungkook hung up, deleting the number immediately and any proof of him having called the number. Honestly, he hadn't done this in a while.

Suddenly, someone rang the doorbell.

The black haired boy frowned, sighing as he tossed his phone on the sofa. He already knew who it was, figuring she had forgotten the password or something. Grabbing the doorknob, he pulled the door open with another sigh, “How many times do I have to-”

He froze at the sight of the smaller boy standing in front of him.

Jimin looked up, tears visible on his face and eyes glassy. His cheeks were flushed, indicating that he'd been outside in the cold for a while, body shivering a little. During nights it was a bit chillier outside these days, especially considering how Jimin was only wearing a thin long-sleeved shirt. How long must he have been outside then? Where had he been this whole day?

“Jimin?” Jungkook finally uttered, the shorter male looking back and forth between his eyes, yet not saying anything. Frankly, Jungkook wasn't sure if he was just imagining this or if Jimin's presence was actually real, “Jimin-ah?”

“Jungkook-ah” The orange haired boy finally whispered, voice so broken and vulnerable. It appeared that Jimin had been crying for quite some time, “M-May I... Can I come in?”

The taller boy hesitated, yet nodded eventually, stepping to the side in order for Jimin to be able to enter his apartment. The older one walked inside with small, hesitant steps. Almost as if he wasn't sure whether or not he actually should.

Jimin scanned the room, noticing how there were dresses spread on the sofa, high-heels placed next to Jungkook's shoes at the door. His heart dropped at the sight of them, realising how he might be interrupting something right now. It had been a bad idea to begin with. It was very late at night, he couldn't just turn up at Jungkook's door spontaneously and expect him to have time for him, or expect him to even want to see Jimin.

“Oh, you're busy right now. I-I'm sorry, I didn't meant to annoy you. I will leave.” The orange haired boy muttered quickly, turning around and making his way out, yet being held back by Jungkook's gentle hand around his wrist.

“Don't go” Jungkook whispered, pulling him back and shutting the door, “Please, tell me what's wrong. What are you doing here?”

Jimin stared at the wall, breathing becoming more difficult as he felt new tears swell up in his eyes. It was so difficult to explain, so hard to share the whole story about his childhood and why a simple birthday was hurting this much. Jimin wasn't sure if he could do that right now, didn't know if he wanted to talk at all right now.

Frankly, Jimin didn't even exactly know what he was doing here. He didn't know what he wanted here and why his body had decided to walk here on it's own.

Well, that was a lie.

He knew it. He knew why he was here, why his body had wanted to come here. Jimin was longing for Jungkook, for his touch. Whenever he was with Jungkook, Jimin felt safe and cared about. There was just something about Jungkook that could calm him, could bring him comfort and that's what he
He needed Jungkook.

The black haired boy stared at the back of Jimin's head, not entirely sure what to do right now. Carefully, he placed his hand on Jimin's shoulder and turned the boy around. There was a pang in his chest at the sight of Jimin's face. His eyes were glassy, tears streaming down his face, bottom lip wobbly as he tried to hold back further tears, tried to not break apart. Jimin just looked hurt and vulnerable. That actually caused something to sting in Jungkook's chest.

“Jimin-ah, what is-”

“I need you” Jimin uttered, voice breaking as he got closer and wrapped his arms around Jungkook's neck. The younger one didn't even hesitate for a moment, but picked Jimin up with ease by his upper thighs, letting him close his legs around his waist.

The smaller boy buried his face in Jungkook's neck as he started crying, the black haired one making his way to the stairs and then up into his bedroom. When he entered his room, he kicked the door close with his foot before walking towards his bed, Jimin shaking in his arms as he continued crying.

Carefully, he sat down on his bed and made Jimin straddle his lap, “Hey, little one, what happened, what do you need?” Jungkook whispered against his ear, caressing his back softly as he tried to comfort the boy in his lap.

Jimin lifted his head and sat back a bit in order to the able to lock eyes with Jungkook, “I don't want to talk right now” The smaller boy uttered and shook his head, wiping away his tears.

“What do you want, little one? Tell me and I will do it. Whatever it is” Jungkook promised as he placed his hand against Jimin's cheek, rubbing his thumb over it softly. The way Jimin looked right now, so fragile and hurt, there was nothing Jungkook wouldn't do in order for Jimin to be happy again, nothing he wouldn't do for the orange haired boy to feel better and smile again. That pretty eye smile. The one that pulled on his heart strings every single time. Right now, Jimin's appearance was pulling on his heart strings as well, but for a whole other reason. One he didn't want. No, he didn't want Jimin to be sad, ever.

The smaller boy grabbed his hands and placed them on his stomach, “Touch me” He breathed and leaned forward, pressing his soft lips on Jungkook's, “Please, touch me, Jungkook-ah”

Jungkook didn't kiss him back, was taken aback by his request. Jimin rocked his hips forward, letting out a soft breath, but the younger one gripped his hips and stilled his movements, “Jimin-ah-”

“Please, Kook-ah, I need you. Need you to touch me”

The black haired boy hesitated, not sure what to do now. Jimin looked so helpless, so desperate, so vulnerable and he was asking Jungkook out of all people for help. Almost as if he was the one to bring him comfort, as if he was the one he needed right now. No one else. Only him.

“Jimin-ah, I... I don't think-”

“I need you, Kook-ah. Please, touch me”
This wasn't going to end well. Jimin was hurt because of his father, the day was bringing back too many bad memories which caused Jimin to feel sad and suffer. He was trying to look for comfort, trying to fix this state, yet he was trying to do that with sex.

“Baby, listen to me, okay? Sex doesn't solve your problems. It won't. It will only distract you for so long, but whatever is hurting you right now will still be there after you have sex. You can't run away from your problem, but you have to face it, whatever it is. We can talk about whatever is hurting you, little one.”

“N-No” Jimin protested, tears swelling up in his eyes yet again at the realisation that Jungkook wasn't going to help him, “P-Please, I-I need you so bad, Jungkook-ah. You promised you'll help me, whatever it is. I need to be close to you, we can talk afterwards. I promise, I promise I will tell you everything afterwards.” The smaller boy cried and leaned forward, pressing his full lips against Jungkook's, begging him to touch him.

Jungkook grabbed his thighs a little firmer, realising that Jimin needed him right now, needed his touch and needed him to comfort him. There was no way for him to deny Jimin anything right now. The promise of the older one that they would talk about what was hurting him was enough for Jungkook to be content with this, to be able to go on with whatever Jimin wanted.

“Okay, little one, I'm right here”

“Touch me” Jimin begged and pressed his lips against Jungkook's again, the taller one kissing back this time.

“Where?”

“Everywhere, just... please”

The older boy closed his arms around Jungkook's neck as they moved their lips against each other, the kiss so slow and soft as if they didn't want to hurt each other. Jimin didn't know what was going to happen nor what this meant. All he knew was that this was what he needed. Jungkook. Only he could comfort him right now.

Slowly, Jungkook grasped the hem of Jimin's shirt, “May I?” Jimin nodded swiftly, the other one pulling up his shirt and tossing it on the floor, “You're freezing, how long have you been outside?” The taller boy wanted to know, eyes wide as he traced his fingertips over Jimin's cold skin, sending a shiver down Jimin's back, goosebumps forming on his skin wherever Jungkook touched him.

Jungkook stared at him intently, eyes looking back and forth between his. It was as if he was trying to look for answers, yet Jimin didn't know what they were.

Then, the younger boy leaned forward and attached their lips in another soft kiss, hugging the boy impossibly closer. Jimin kissed right back, rocking his hips forward slightly which caused both of them to let out a breath, grabbing each other tighter.

“K-Kook-ah” The shorter male whispered against Jungkook's lips and tugged on his shirt. Jungkook broke apart from the kiss and pulled the shirt over his head, tossing it to the side without a care.

Softly, he picked Jimin up and set him down on the bed next to him, leaning over him and pressing his lips on Jimin's in a gentle kiss as he zipped down his pants. Jimin gasped, lifting his hips in order to make it easier for Jungkook to pull them down. The taller boy tugged them down to his ankles and dropped them on the floor, pulling his own sweatpants off right away as well.
Now both boys were only dressed in their briefs. Jimin's chest was rising and falling quickly, grabby hands reaching for Jungkook who smiled as he got on top of Jimin, placing his hands next to his head in order to hold himself up.

“Kiss me, please” Jimin begged, voice so quiet that Jungkook barely heard him, yet he did. The black haired boy leaned down and connected their lips, licking over Jimin's bottom lip so softly, asking for entrance. The smaller boy parted his lips, a pant escaping him as they moved their mouths against each other, Jungkook's tongue licking over his slowly.

It was so soft, so pure. Jungkook was touching him almost as if he was scared of hurting the fragile boy beneath him, hands roaming over Jimin's body so carefully and gently. His touch was intoxicating, Jimin felt himself slip away from the sadness. There was nothing else but Jungkook. He forgot about everything else completely. The taller boy was invading all of his senses, demanding his full attention - which he got, always. There was just something about Jungkook that could do that to him. A mere stare, touch or word from Jungkook was affecting Jimin in a way the older boy couldn't explain. Genuinely, Jimin didn't even fathom it himself. There was nothing else he could do, but feel. He was only able to focus on the handsome man above him.

Jungkook brought him comfort, made him feel safe and protected. No one else has ever made him feel like this. Of course, he knew he had friends that looked out for him – Yoongi and Taehyung were always there for him – Yoongi and Taehyung were always there for him, had saved him so much as well, yet this was different, so different. Jungkook made him feel like there was nothing bad out there in the world, like there was nothing that could ever hurt him, if Jungkook was close to him. The taller boy illuminated so many layers in him, this being one of them. Was that odd? Probably. Yet, it is what it is. Jimin couldn't explain it, couldn't understand it, all he knew was that Jungkook brought him comfort.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin gasped as he felt the younger boy rock his hips against his crotch slowly, the friction causing him to bite down on his bottom lip.

“Jimin-ah, tell me what you want” Jungkook whispered against his ear before he started trailing gentle kisses down his neck, a soft breath leaving Jimin's lips.

“Y-You, I want you, Kook-ah” The smaller boy whimpered, bucking his hips up in order to create more friction against their penises. Jungkook gripped his hips and stilled his movement.

“Jimin-ah, do you want to have sex? Do you want me to fuck you?” The younger one asked, voice low, yet somehow soft as he lifted his head in order to lock eyes with Jimin. Said boy didn't even hesitate, but nodded quickly, a whine leaving him involuntarily, “No, baby, I need to hear you say it”

“Yes, please, have sex with me, Jungkook-ah” Jimin replied, eyes so wide, so innocent when he requested that. Jungkook was still holding him by his hips, spinning both of them around gently so Jimin was on top now. The shorter male straddled his lap and leaned down, pressing his lips on Jungkook’s in another soft kiss.

Not breaking apart from the kiss, Jungkook lifted his hand and pulled the top drawer of the nightstand open, roaming around in it as he searched for the lube. Eventually having found it, he picked it out of the drawer and shut it close again, dropping the bottle of lube next to them on the bed. The taller boy wrapped his arms around Jimin's petite body, pulling him closer and finally feeling his skin heat up.

“Sssh, I got you, angel”
Jimin's heart fluttered at the pet name, a whimper escaping him as he attached his lips on Jungkook's while said boy traced his fingertips over his back in a gentle way, travelling down to his briefs and eventually playing with the waistband.

“It’s okay” Jimin assured, having felt Jungkook’s hesitation. The black haired one tugged on his briefs and pulled them down over his butt, Jimin pulling them down the rest of the way and tossing them on the floor. Jungkook wasted no time and lifted his own hips, tugging down his briefs and tossing them to the side before Jimin straddled his lap again.

The smaller boy was desperate, was touching any part of skin of Jungkook he could get, just wanted to feel the warm skin beneath his hands. Jungkook's touch on his body was so soft, just what he needed right now. The younger boy didn't stop caressing his back as they made out, Jimin rocking his hips back and forth until both of their penises were hard.

“J-Jungkook-ah” Jimin moaned and pressed his forehead against Jungkook’s, eyes fluttering shut, “Please, now”

“Oh, baby, I have to prep you first, gotta make sure you're stretched” The taller boy uttered as he swept Jimin's hair back, thumb rubbing over his cheekbone softly as he picked up the lube with his other hand.

“No” Jimin whined and shook his head, burying his face in Jungkook’s neck, “Please, just- I don't need to be stretched. I have played with myself two days ago”

Jungkook's dick twitched, cursing, but he shook his head, “Baby, I don't think you're still going to be stretched wide enough, let me just-”

“Noo” The smaller boy whined, “Please”

The younger one sighed, rubbing over Jimin's back as he opened the bottle of lube and squeezed some of it over his index finger. Carefully, he pressed the finger against Jimin's hole and circled his rim. The orange haired one was stretched quite a bit, yet not enough for Jungkook's dick to slip in without any resistance. Slowly, he pushed the finger inside with ease, causing Jimin to gasp as he clenched his hands into little fists and hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck.

“Little one, it's going to hurt if I don't stretch you properly” Jungkook tried to make him understand as he moved his finger around. He could definitely fit another one inside with ease, but a third one and especially his dick would require a little more stretching.

“Jungkook-ah, please, I need to feel you inside of me. I can't wait any longer” Jimin sniffed and shook his head. The taller boy sighed, he couldn't force Jimin to let him fuck his hole with his fingers first, yet Jungkook didn't want to hurt him either.

“You have to be extremely careful. We have to use a lot of lube and you have to take your time to adjust” The black haired boy instructed as he sat up, Jimin having to follow his movement and sitting up as well. Jungkook scooted up the bed with Jimin on his lap and rested his back against the headboard before he reached over and opened the top drawer.

“No” Jimin stopped him and gripped his wrist, “Can we... Is it okay, if we do it without a condom? I've only ever had sex with you. Unless you... unless you...” The shorter male paused, leaving the rest of the sentence hang in the air.

Jimin had always wondered how it felt like to have Jungkook inside of him without a condom. Was there even any difference? There must be.
Jungkook stared back and forth between his eyes, gaze intent as he contemplated over the request, “I'm clean” He assured, “I haven't fucked anyone else since I started fucking you”

For some odd reason, Jimin's heart fluttered at that information, a little smile appearing on his face as he felt himself blush.

The taller boy dropped the condom back into the top drawer and grabbed his erection, squirting a good amount of lube over it which caused him to let out a groan. Just as he was about to spread it around, Jimin closed his delicate hand around his hard length and moved it up and down. The younger one let out a breath as Jimin squeezed his dick, leaning his head back against the wall.

Then, Jimin lifted his hips and pressed the tip of Jungkook's erection against his entrance. His heart was beating fast in his chest as he pushed the head inside, mouth opening in a silent scream as he felt his hole open up, yet not without any resistance. It hurt a bit, thus why Jimin had to halt pretty soon, breathing heavily as he tried to adjust.

“So good, baby, you're doing good” Jungkook whispered against his ear, caressing his back as he felt Jimin sink down further.

“K-Kook-ah” The smaller boy whimpered, eyes squeezing shut as he pressed his forehead against Jungkook's. His hole was widening up a bit more, the stretch feeling uncomfortable, yet after a while there were jolts of pleasure at the familiar fullness of Jungkook's erection inside of him, “Mhhm”

“Almost done, little one, you're doing such a good job, taking me so well” The black haired boy praised and pressed a kiss against his temple, Jimin only whimpering as he sank down further.

The more of Jungkook was penetrating him, the more it felt like his hole was being torn apart. The odd thing is, Jimin didn't care. He needed Jungkook to be inside of him right now. He wanted this, wanted to be close to Jungkook. There was just something so comforting about being this intimate with someone, being connected with someone in such a vulnerable way that it filled Jimin with warmth and something else he couldn't define, nor explain.

“Ah, ah, Jungkook” Jimin mewled and buried his face in Jungkook's neck as said boy grabbed his hips. There was only a small part left that wasn't filling Jimin just yet. Honestly, it was difficult for Jungkook not to fuck up into the smaller boy, but he was able to control his own desire and wait for Jimin to adjust to his size. Hurting Jimin was something he definitely didn't want to do. The orange haired boy was taking him so well, even though he has been barely stretched. Jungkook had thought it would take a little longer, yet Jimin was quite determined and adjusted to his size fairly quickly. The younger one just hoped that Jimin wasn't in too much pain. Then again, he was already moaning against Jungkook's ear, indicating that he was feeling quite some pleasure. That realisation calmed Jungkook.

“Kook-ah” Jimin whispered as he sank down further on Jungkook's hard length, finally sitting back down on his lap. The taller boy's erection was now fully settled inside of him, filling him up completely. The feeling was genuinely incredible. Jimin hadn't expected it to be this different from feeling the condom around Jungkook's hard length. He figured that a major reason for it to feel this good was that he felt even closer to Jungkook right now and that's exactly what he needed.

“Did so well, baby, fit all of me inside of you” The younger one uttered and attached their lips in a soft kiss, their lips moving against each other slowly and gently while Jimin adjusted to Jungkook's full size inside of him.

Jimin's head was already spinning, he was panting between their kisses as he felt everything so much more and clearer. It was as if his senses were cleared, completely invaded by Jungkook. All he could feel, taste and smell was Jungkook. That familiar scent that was so intoxicating, lingering in his nose even hours after. It was embarrassing but the scent of Jungkook alone could calm him, Jimin had been missing the scent of the taller boy so badly. Frankly, he had just missed Jungkook, if he was being honest. His touch, his stare, his lips, just... his presence. Simply his presence alone had been missed by Jimin. The touch of the black haired boy felt hot against his skin, was sending sparks through his body, his kiss so soft and slow, causing his heart to flutter.

“C-Can I move?” The orange haired one whispered between kisses.

“Go ahead, if you're ready” Jungkook answered and nudged Jimin's cheek with his nose before connecting their lips in yet another kiss.

Slowly, Jimin raised his hips, dropping them back down a moment later. Today, he didn't want to go fast, didn't want it to be hard and rough. No, tonight he needed it to be slow and sensual, as soft as it could be.

Jungkook let out a breath while Jimin moved his hips up and down, never breaking their kiss. The smaller boy was moving slowly on top of him, the movement of his hips precise, but soft somehow. The black haired boy had known from the start that this is what Jimin had been looking for tonight. Jimin was seeking for reassurance, for comfort and softness. The younger boy wasn't sure if he was able to deliver that, yet he was going to try.

The two boys continued kissing, only ever breaking apart to catch their breath, Jungkook trailing soft kisses down his neck every now and then while Jimin kept riding him gently, hips moving up and down.

Jungkook couldn't stop touching Jimin, everywhere. His hands were roaming over Jimin's back, tracing over his skin softly and feeling goosebumps rise beneath his fingertips. However, his hands always came back to Jimin's lovely hips, his thin waist that he grabbed with his hands in order to help him move up and down.

The taller boy couldn't take his eyes off of Jimin either, the boy so beautiful, always so beautiful. His beauty was captivating. His pretty brown orbs were staring back at him, pupils dilated and an emotion glistening inside of them that Jungkook didn't know, couldn't define. Jimin's cheeks were flushed, this time not due to the cold, but most likely due to the heat of their close proximity and their movements, his pretty full lips were parted and letting out the most adorable little sounds that Jungkook caught with his own mouth as he pressed his lips on Jimin's again.

Overall, it was fairly quiet in the room for their standards. Usually, the bedroom was filled with Jungkook's groans and his obscene words, ordering Jimin around, whispering dirty words in his ear and telling him what a good boy he was. Jimin's cries and whines, the sound of their skin slapping against each other usually louder, as well. Yet, not tonight. Tonight everything was way purer, softer. Jimin was still whimpering, but they were quieter whimpers that were muffled by Jungkook's kisses. The taller boy wasn't talking dirty to him, either, was just holding him close and kissing him gently.

Jimin loved this. Needed this. Jungkook was making him feel good, comforted him. The way he was holding Jimin close made him feel safe and protected. The smaller boy never wanted this moment to stop. Obviously, he knew that it would end eventually, but he was allowed to dream, wasn't he? To dream about falling asleep in Jungkook's strong embrace while the younger boy was holding him close, drawing shapes over his back softly and promising to protect him.

Jimin's heart fluttered at the thought.
“You’re doing so well, angel” Jungkook whispered against his ear, helping Jimin move his hips a little faster by lifting him by the waist and sinking him back down on his dick.

The overwhelming heat was building in the pit of their stomachs, indicating that their orgasms were approaching almost simultaneously. However, that didn’t cause them to change their position or pace.

There was no urgency behind their movement, no desire to finally come. They were taking their time, touching each other’s bodies while moving against each other. Jimin was reminded of his first time that he shared with Jungkook, but it was different somehow. It was even purer than that, it was even more intimate than that because they were way closer now, having known each other for much longer now since back then.

A thought crept up in Jimin’s mind, making him wonder if... It was almost as if they were making love, wasn’t it? The way they were treating each other so softly, how they were having sex in such a pure way. There was still lust and desire, there always was, yet it was more about being close to each other right now, was more about spending Jimin comfort than anything else. Was this making love? No, that was utterly absurd. How was that possible, if there weren’t even feelings involved? Neither of them loved the other one, this whole thing was platonic. There was no love. Not even an emotion that came close to it.

“Jungkook-ah” The shorter male breathed against Jungkook’s lips, eyes fluttering shut as the taller one’s erection brushed against his prostate, the feeling intense.

“Are you close?” Jungkook wanted to know, sweeping Jimin’s hair back from his sweaty forehead, placing a little kiss right there almost subconsciously. Jimin’s eyes fluttered shut at the gentle touch, hips still moving in the same steady pace as he was panting against Jungkook’s mouth.

“Mhm, yes” Jimin hummed and gave a nod, both boys breathless due to their movement and their making out. Yet, they couldn’t get enough, pressing their lips against each other once more. The taller boy tasted like mint while Jimin tasted like strawberry, both tastes being mixed together everytime their tongues met.

The smaller boy had forgotten what day it was, what meaning this day held and why he had come here in the first place. All because of Jungkook. The younger boy had actually been able to distract him from his trauma and comfort him without even realising it himself.

Jimin clenched his hands into little fists, moaning into their kiss and having to break apart as the heat expanded in the pit of his stomach. The orange haired boy pressed his forehead against Jungkook’s as he caught his bottom lip between his teeth, eyes squeezing shut. Jungkook pressed his lips against Jimin’s cheek where he placed some small open-mouthed kisses while helping Jimin bounce on his dick, feeling his own release approach quickly.

“Jimin-ah” He breathed against Jimin’s skin, eyes falling shut as Jimin buried his face in Jungkook’s neck. The black haired boy hugged Jimin tighter, placing his head on Jimin’s shoulder while the smaller boy was whimpering against his skin. Wanting to help Jimin find his release quicker, Jungkook reached down inbetween them and closed his hand around Jimin’s dick, yet said boy shook his head and whined, grabbing Jungkook’s wrist.

“I-I want to come just from- from you being inside of me, please”

“Okay, baby” The taller boy whispered as he pressed a kiss against his temple, taking his hand away and grasping Jimin’s hips instead.

The smaller boy was so tight around him. It was a whole other sensation to fuck someone without a condom. Jungkook hadn't done that in a long, long while. To prevent himself from catching any diseases condoms were a necessity, yet this felt so much better. The younger one could feel the softness and tightness of Jimin's hole so much better like this, it was incredible.

“Kook-ah, I'm-I'm close” Jimin warned, grabbing the headboard behind Jungkook tightly as he felt his orgasm approach.

“Go ahead, baby”

The feeling overwhelmed him, bursting inside of him and filling his whole being. Jimin's body was shaking, sperm spurting out of his penis in between them as he whimpered Jungkook's name repeatedly against his ear, hot breath hitting Jungkook's skin. The orange haired boy squeezed his eyes shut at the intensity, wave after wave hitting him as he rode Jungkook through his orgasm.

It didn't take long for Jungkook to come after that, the way Jimin was clenching around him making it impossible not to come. The taller boy threw his head back as he found his own release, cum spurting inside of Jimin which caused the smaller boy to yelp, having never actually felt the wetness of the sperm hit his walls, “Jimin-ah” Jungkook breathed as Jimin placed soft kisses against his neck, riding him through his orgasm, the younger one helping him by lifting him at the hips.

Both boys were breathing heavily, sweaty bodies sticking together as Jimin collapsed against him, stilling his movements.

Jimin's head was spinning, body feeling relaxed and relieved. It was as if a burden had been lifted from his shoulders. All Jimin wanted to do was fall asleep right now, eyes so heavy after an exhausting day. To be fair, Jimin hadn't slept well in a couple of days. Especially last night it had been impossible for him to fall asleep. It was unfair how his father was still able to have an effect like this on his life, was still messing with him like this. Jimin had suffered the whole day today because of the guilt and pain he had felt.

Frankly, he had spend the day a lot with thinking, thinking about his father and what he had done to him. Jimin knew that he had always done it on purpose, wanted him to suffer and blamed him for everything that happened in their lives. His father had manipulated him and wanted him to become fragile, vulnerable and self-conscious. Jimin had learned all of that later in his life, had finally realised that his father had been a bad person. It hurt to think about him, to think about all of the suffering and trauma he had caused Jimin.

The smaller boy had spend the whole day crying, reminiscing about how his father had treated him. Yet, questions remained in Jimin's head. Why had he treated Jimin like this? Why had he decided to have a child if he wasn't going to love it? Had Jimin been unwanted? Even then, his father had decided to keep him, so what had Jimin done that had caused his father to essentially hate him? Jimin just didn't understand that, had spend the whole day trying to figure out what had made his father treat him like this. While trying to find a reason, he had been brought back to his childhood and had remembered memories he had tried to forget which had caused even more pain.

The whole day had just been horrible, filled with yet more suffering. It was so unfair how his father was still affecting him like this. It was even more unfair how Jimin felt guilty for thinking like this about his father. It was his father's birthday and he was thinking about how horrible and mean he'd been when he should probably mourn his death like a good son - which, he had actually done at first. He had cried quite a bit about why his father had left him, too, yet he had cried even more about why his father had treated him the way did and why he hadn't loved him.

To be fair, could you really blame Jimin for not praising his father on his birthday? The smaller boy had tried really hard to think about something good that his father had done for him, something that had proved his love for Jimin, but there was nothing that came to his mind. The only thing that could be considered a nice gesture was that his father had let him live in his house and had given him some food. However, his father had mostly been drunk during his childhood which had left Jimin trying to find some leftover food in their house or eat enough during lunch in school so he wouldn't starve for the rest of the day. Of course, his grandmother had been there to feed him often, too, the angel that she was, but it-

“Hey, Jimin-ah” Jungkook whispered, caressing his back softly and nudging him with his nose. The shorter male twitched, startled by the sudden voice. He had been so caught up in his thoughts, not realising that Jungkook had called out his name repeatedly. The younger one cupped his face and attached their lips in a sweet kiss, almost as if to wake Jimin from his horrible thoughts yet again.

Jimin was feeling so many emotions simultaneously, not even noticing himself that there were tears rolling down his cheeks. It wasn't until Jungkook kissed them away and whispered “baby, why are you crying?” that he realised he was.

“I-I don't now. It's just a lot” The shorter male mumured, eyes falling shut as he connected their lips in another soft kiss. Jimin didn't want to move, felt too exhausted by everything that had happened today. Frankly, the older boy just wanted to sleep right now.

“We gotta clean you now, little one” Jungkook muttered against his ear, pulling his softening penis out of Jimin's hole carefully, the other one whining at the sensation. There was cum leaking out of his hole immediately, another whimper leaving Jimin's parted lips at the feeling. His sperm dripped down Jimin's thighs, making a mess over both of them.

“I don't want to move” Jimin admitted, clutching onto Jungkook as he hid his face in the curve of his neck.

“I don't want the cum to dry inside of you, baby. Come on” The taller one whispered, voice soft as he brushed Jimin's hair out of his face. Jungkook lifted Jimin up with ease, hugging him tightly to his body as he got up from the bed.

Jimin buried his face in Jungkook's neck, eyes heavy and falling shut while the younger one carried him into the bathroom. The next thing happened fairly blurry for Jimin as it felt like he was already asleep in Jungkook's strong embrace. He remembered Jungkook stepping into the shower with him, warm water hitting them both and causing Jimin to gasp. The black haired boy set Jimin down on his feet, holding him close because Jimin almost collapsed on his wobbly feet. Jungkook cleaned him softly with the shampoo and the shower gel, hands roaming over Jimin's body so gently, getting rid of any dirt. There was still cum leaking out of Jimin, now easier due to the position he was in.

Jungkook cleaned his sensitive hole very carefully, Jimin hiding his face in his strong chest as he whimpered, “Sssh, it's okay, almost done” The younger boy whispered against his temple, placing a small kiss there before continuing to clean him.

The orange haired one really wanted to help, wanted to clean Jungkook, too, yet he felt way too weak. All he wanted to do right now was run back into Jungkook's bed, hide under the covers and fall asleep with the gorgeous man next to him.

Jimin glanced up, eyes staring into Jungkook's big brown orbs. His eyes were so beautiful, so mesmerising. Honestly, everything about him was. The smaller boy still couldn't believe how a man could be this handsome, this effortlessly beautiful. Jungkook locked eyes with him, catching Jimin stare at him with his mouth agape as if Jungkook was some kind of piece of art – which, to be fair, Jimin wouldn't doubt if he was. A smirk appeared on Jungkook's face, Jimin blushing and averting his eyes, face pressing into Jungkook's chest again which caused the taller man to chuckle. Jimin's heart warmed at the sound of it, something so wonderful about hearing Jungkook laugh.
“Cute” Jungkook snickered and ruffled through Jimin's wet hair, finally done with cleaning himself now, too.

The older one smiled faintly at his comment, blush deepening. They stood there under the water, letting it fall down on them and wash away all the dirt and soap, both boys completely clean now. The smell was nice, comforting. Jimin loved it.

Jungkook turned the water off, picking Jimin up who wrapped his legs and arms around the taller boy. He stepped out of the shower with the older boy in his arms and walked over to the counter where he set Jimin down gently.

The black haired boy reached for a towel and threw it over Jimin which caused said boy to giggle as he was hidden beneath the towel. Jimin heard Jungkook laugh as he pulled down the towel, revealing Jimin's pouting face. Something weird happened in Jungkook's chest at the sight, causing him to lean down and press a soft peck against Jimin's pouting lips subconsciously, “Sorry, angel”

Jimin's heart fluttered at the petname, cheeks heating up yet again while the younger one rubbed the towel over his body in order to dry him. When he was satisfied, he dried himself before tossing the towel on the floor. The smaller boy followed his movements with his eyes, observed how Jungkook opened the drawer and picked out two fresh pairs of briefs, one of which he helped Jimin into, the other one he slipped on himself.

“Let's go back into bed” Jungkook uttered and picked up Jimin once again. The smaller one wrapped himself around the younger boy and hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck.

The shower had been refreshing. Jimin somehow felt even better now, felt like all of the exhaustion of the day, all of the suffering and crying he had to endure today had been washed away by Jungkook. However, he also felt sleepier and wished he could fall asleep right now.

This moment was different. This wasn't one of their lessons. They hadn't decided to meet up today and have sex. Jimin had come here spontaneously, so... what exactly was this? What was supposed to happen now? What was going to happen now?

Jungkook set him down on the bed gently, lifting the blanket and tucking Jimin in. Then, he straightened his back and appeared to want to go somewhere, but Jimin's body reacted almost involuntarily as he wrapped his petite hand around Jungkook's wrist, pulling him back, “Stay” He whispered, eyes wide and pleading.

The expression and the voice of the smaller boy pulled on Jungkook's heart strings, a sympathetic smile appearing on his face as he leaned down and pressed a kiss against his forehead, “I'll be right back, I promise, little one”

His wrist slipped from Jimin's grip as he walked away, Jimin's heartbeat quickening at the fear of the taller boy leaving him. Jungkook picked up his phone, yet as he glanced at Jimin once more, there was a pang in his chest. There seemed to be actual fear in his eyes, pain that was flashing in them. Jungkook swallowed hard, reminiscing about the exact same look he had seen on Jimin's face just some days prior when the boy had stormed out of his house. Yet, this time, it was even worse.

The black haired boy turned his phone off, tossing it on the nightstand before he pulled the blanket to the side and joined Jimin on the bed. The older one clung onto him almost immediately, face buried in his neck as he wrapped his delicate arms around Jungkook's body.

“I'm right here, I won't leave” Jungkook assured, arms closing around the smaller boy as he started drawing shapes over his back softly.

Jungkook could feel Jimin's quick heartbeat, didn't know why it was beating so fast, but hoped that his close proximity would somehow calm the orange haired boy. His breathing became more even, the soft air of it hitting Jungkook's skin and causing little goosebumps to rise there.

It only took a couple of minutes of Jungkook's soft caress on Jimin's back to relax in his arms, chest rising and falling more steadily now, almost in harmony with Jungkook's. It was almost as if their hearts were beating the same beat.

“I-I'm sleepy” Jimin mumbled, eyes falling shut at the gentle touch from the taller man. It was so comforting to stay in his embrace, feeling the warmth that was radiating from Jungkook's body and listening to his steady heartbeat that was somehow relaxing.

The black haired boy grabbed his chin softly, lifting his head in order to have a better look at him. Jimin's eyes were shut, lips pouting and cheeks flushed as he was basically falling asleep. Jungkook couldn't help but smile at the image of the beautiful boy. Jimin was just adorable, wasn't he?

Not being able to hold himself back, Jungkook leaned down and captured Jimin's plump lips in a small kiss, tasting the sweetness on them. Honestly, Jungkook couldn't get enough, could spend days kissing Jimin's soft lips, could spend years staring at his beautiful face. Jimin almost purred at the kiss, eyes still shut and a frown appearing on his face as he pursed his lips, asking for more kisses.

Jungkook chuckled at the cute action and pressed another peck against his lips, “Kitten” He breathed, causing Jimin to blush as he tried to hide his face, but Jungkook gripped his chin again and lifted his head, “You promised me to talk, baby”

“Later” Jimin murmured, eyes still shut as he yawned, “I promise, later, but I'm sleepy and I-” His voice got quieter with each word, the smaller male eventually leaving the rest of the sentence hang in the air as his head became slack and fell on Jungkook's shoulder, soft breaths leaving his slightly parted lips.

The taller male smiled, turning Jimin around carefully on his side and pulling him against his chest. He wrapped his arms around the older boy, holding him tight as he placed his head on Jimin's shoulder, “Then sleep, little one” He whispered, knowing that Jimin wasn't even hearing him anymore. Softly, he started to draw shapes over Jimin's stomach, feeling himself slowly falling asleep as well.

Jungkook knew that this was bad, that he shouldn't let this happen.

Yet, while holding Jimin's soft and small body close, feeling his steady heartbeat and listening to his little breaths – Jungkook couldn't care less in this moment.

------

It felt cold, somehow. There was no more warmth against Jimin's back, no soft skin touching his own. He was no longer being held in a strong embrace. Jimin's eyes opened, panic rising as he realised that he was all alone.

It took a moment for him to remember what had happened and where he was. It didn't take long for him to feel that burden of the day again, to be reminded of why he had come here.

Jumin noticed the darkness of the room, figuring that it must still be night or early morning. Where was Jungkook?

“J-Jungkook-ah” Jimin called out, voice still full of sleep as he rolled onto his other side.

Relief bloomed inside of him as his gaze landed on the taller boy walking out of the bathroom and reentering the bedroom, “Yes?” He uttered as he approached Jimin, halting in front of the bed, but not lying back down next to the orange haired boy.

“I... I thought you were gone”

Jungkook studied his face, hand reaching out and brushing orange streaks of Jimin's hair out of his face, “I'm right here, baby”

The smaller boy smiled slightly, eyes fluttering shut as Jungkook stroked his cheekbone gently.

“Are you thirsty or hungry? I brought you some water and cookies. Sorry, I don't have much food at home”

Jimin's smile deepened as he sat up a bit, “Thank you” The orange haired boy uttered as Jungkook opened the water bottle and handed it to him. Then, Jimin finally took a sip, feeling the cold fluid flow down his throat. It was refreshing.

The bed dipped down next to him as Jungkook joined him back on the bed with the cookies in his hands. He opened the packaging and handed Jimin the cookies, said boy taking one while thanking him. Jungkook picked a cookie himself and they both ate them in silence, backs against the headboard as they stared at the wall across them.

Jimin knew what was coming. He had promised Jungkook to talk, yet he didn't even know where to start. It was a difficult topic to begin with, but so much harder to share it with Jungkook for some reason. Maybe because he was scared of being judged by the taller boy. Perhaps he feared that Jungkook was going to think of him as being weird or broken. Then again, that was a silly and stupid thing to think. The black haired boy has never done anything that even implied that he judged Jimin. There was nothing he had done to break his trust.

Jungkook placed another cookie in his palm before putting them back on the nighstand. Jimin ate that one as well, observing how Jungkook scooted down the bed and laid back down, “Come here” He then ordered softly and pointed to his chest. The smaller boy took another sip of the water before he placed down the bottle on the nighstand. Hesitating, he stared at Jungkook's chest, but straddled his lap eventually and placed his head down on Jungkook's body.

The black haired one closed his arms around the older boy on top of him and traced his fingertips over his back softly, goosebumps rising beneath his skin. Jimin did the same to him, drawing shapes over his chest with his fingertips – caressing Jungkook, yet somehow doing it as well because it was comforting to do.

“I won't force you, Jimin-ah. I understand if you don't feel ready, but talking about your problems helps. Just the fact that you don't have to live alone with it any longer can be a major support and make it easier to deal with whatever is hurting you.”

The smaller boy swallowed, a shaky breath leaving his lips. Perhaps it was stupid, but it simply wasn't easy for Jimin to talk about this. There was so much trauma he had to endure during his childhood that was still haunting him today – it was difficult to talk about that with people because it brought back those memories. It was almost as if Jimin was reliving all of these things, especially on his father's birthday. It was as if he was brought back 15 years. Then again, talking about it with Taehyung and Yoongi had actually lifted some of the burden off of Jimin, had helped him in some way. Finally, he had not lived alone with it any longer, but had found friends who supported him. Maybe, telling Jungkook would help him, too, would make all of this easier.

Thinking about it, Jungkook had actually already helped him. Sex with him had proved his father wrong yet again, had shown Jimin that he wasn't going to go to hell for having sex, that it actually did feel good and was something beautiful. Just reminiscing about some hours ago caused a warm sensation to spread in his chest. The moment had been so pure, so beautiful. How could that be something that Jimin shouldn't do? Something he would never enjoy? Jungkook had shown him that his father had just manipulated him once more.

“I don't even know where to start, if I'm being honest. It's... a lot, I guess.”

“Start wherever you feel comfortable with.”

Gulping, Jimin let out another shaky breath, “Today, or... well, now probably already yesterday was my father's birthday. I told you about him before. He's one of the reasons I have never been really intimate with anyone because he gave me the impression that it was wrong and that I shouldn't do something like that. In fact, nothing I ever did was something he encouraged. Everything I did was wrong to him. He blamed me for everything that happened to us, blamed me for my mother's death, for him not getting a job. My father even blamed me for not being able to buy any more beer because he didn't have any more money. You see, my father just always gave me the impression that I wasn't loved and that caused me to become self-conscious, insecure and vulnerable in many aspects. I never felt loved by him, never did he show me any kind of affection. My grandmother, on the other hand, always showered me with love so at least I had her, but I couldn't see her every day so my childhood was mostly split between my father essentially hating and manipulating me and my angelic grandmother who supported and loved me in every way she could. She was the only light I had in the darkness of my childhood. The thing is, I never knew my mother. She died when I was very young, one or two years old, I'm not exactly sure. My father never wanted to talk about it, or her. Yet, he was quick to blame me for her death. He was the only parent I had left, but... he never treated me like he loved me. I just... I just keep wondering why he treated me the way he did. Why didn't he love me? What did I do wrong for him to want me to suffer like this?” Jimin shared, voice breaking at the end, tears swelling up in his eyes.

The smaller boy could feel Jungkook tense beneath him, his grip around him becoming a little tighter as he pressed a kiss against his cheek, “He was a fucked up alcoholic, Jimin-ah, that's why. You're not the reason for his behaviour. He was incapable of loving, incapable of showing you affection, not because of something you did, but because he simply didn't know how to. Your father was a piece of shit who dealt with his problems by letting his moods out on you. He was a horrible person who wanted other's to suffer because he didn't want to suffer alone. And no, Jimin-ah, there was nothing you could have done to help him or prevent his behaviour” Jungkook uttered, voice a little firmer yet Jimin knew that it wasn't because of him. The taller boy had added the last sentence when he saw Jimin open his mouth to say something, knowing already how we was going to blame himself again, wishing that he could have done something different, “You were a child. You're not supposed to fix the fucking issues of your father. You were supposed to play outside with your friends, spend time with a family that loved you and not be treated like shit. You are the sweetest person I know and you deserve so much more than what you get.”

Jimin's heart fluttered, processing Jungkook's words.

“I just can't help but feel guilty. Every year on his birthday I just keep thinking about whether I could have done something different in order for him to change, in order for him to love me. Every year I cry because he left me all alone, because he never loved me. I can't help that, Kook-ah. I just feel
"No, Jimin-ah, no, stop" Jungkook murmured, grabbing his chin softly and lifting his head, locking eyes with the smaller boy. His eyes were so watery, more tears rolling down his face as he stared at Jungkook, "Don't do that to yourself. Let go of that. Everything he did, he did that to hurt you. He is the bad person, not you. Don't give him any more power over your life. He is gone. He should have felt guilty for treating his own son like shit when you are the sweetest and kindest person ever. You did nothing wrong, okay? You are not the reason for his behaviour, it was himself. Your father was fucked up and couldn't fix that. There was nothing you, a small child, could have done to prevent that. Don't feel guilty, you have no reason to."

Jimin shut his eyes, contemplating over Jungkook's words. He was right, wasn't he? Jimin had been a child, what was he supposed to do back then? Frankly, he hadn't even known for quite some years that there was something wrong with his father, had thought that every parent was like that. It was all a very confusing time because his grandmother had treated him with so much love, leaving him wonder if his father shouldn't love him like that, too. The smaller boy had never actually thought that his father had have some own issues himself that he hadn't known how to fix, Jimin had always blamed himself instead. Perhaps Jungkook was right. Maybe his father had suffered himself and had been incapable of loving him. Perhaps Jimin wasn't the reason for his behaviour, for his lack of showing Jimin love. Maybe Jimin had no reason to blame himself any longer.

The older boy looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, emotion flashing behind them, yet Jimin couldn't define what it was. Slowly, he leaned forward and pressed his lips against Jungkook's in a soft kiss.

"Thank you" He breathed as he pulled back, "Thank you for saying that. I never really thought about that. I just thought I was the problem. The thing is, even though he treated me the way he did, I don't consider myself to be unhappy. At least not today. Yes, I did suffer quite a lot, but my grandmother had showed me what feeling loved by a parent felt like. I was devastated when my grandmother died, yet I knew that she didn't suffer. She didn't die because she was sick, but she died peacefully in her sleep. It hurt a lot, actually, because I was all alone then, but I met Tae quite quickly and we became friends fairly fast, too. Later, Tae and hyung showed me what feeling loved by friends felt like. They helped me to be happy again. After my father's death, most of my life has been filled with happy memories, memories filled with laughter and love through friends. There had been some struggles as well, every person has their own struggles through life, yet I never had one as painful as my father's lack of affection again." Jimin whispered, eyebrows furrowing a moment later, "Maybe you're right. Maybe my father was simply incapable of love. Yet, I wish I knew for sure why he treated me the way he did." He continued, "However, what I wish even more is to know what kind of person my mother was and how she looked like" The orange haired boy murmured, sad smile on his face as he rested his chin on his arms that he had placed over Jungkook's chest.

"Are there no pictures of her?" Jungkook wanted to know, thumb caressing Jimin's cheek softly.

"No" The older one responded, shaking his head, "At least my father never showed me any. As I said before, he never wanted to talk about her either, so I have no idea what kind of person she was"
been lucky that she chose him”

“I bet he was.” The younger boy smiled, “However, she also must have been quite clumsy because there is no way you are this clumsy by yourself”

Jimin opened his mouth, appearing to be offended, “I’m not that clumsy” The orange haired boy pouted, frowning as he shook his head.

“You always stumble over your own two feet and Beomsoo told me that you almost fall out of the car every single time he drives you home”

“Why would Beomsoo tell you this and expose me?” Jimin whined, eyes wide in shock, “And to be fair, that's not my fault. That's usually after... well, after you...” His voice got quieter, cheeks heating up when he saw how Jungkook raised his eyebrows, smug smirk on his face.

“When I fuck you, I know” He laughed and hugged Jimin tighter, “I was just kidding, you're not... that clumsy”

“Stop pouting, baby, I was just messing with you”

The smaller boy furrowed his eyebrows, but broke out into laughter when Jungkook started tickling him at his sides, “That's unfair, stop” He giggled and squirmed around on top of the black haired boy, trying to make him stop by grabbing his wrists, yet not succeeding.

“Only if you stop pouting”

“I will, I promise, just—”

The younger boy stilled, smiling at Jimin with fondess in his eyes, the smaller boy's giggles dying down, his eye smile disappearing slowly, “I hate seeing you cry, watching you laugh is so much better. I love seeing your pretty smile”

Jimin blushed and hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck, heart fluttering at his words. The black haired one started drawing shapes over his back again, silence settling between them.

It was as if another burden had been lifted from Jimin's chest. Jungkook had made him feel so much better, had brought him comfort and had caused him to see his childhood issues from another perspective. Maybe he would be able to get over it completely now.

“Don't you have any family in Busan left? I get that you had your father and your grandmother, your mother being dead before you were able to know her, but is there no one else? Really no one?”

Jimin lifted his head, contemplating for a moment, “No, not that I know of. My father said there is no other family that I have, that we have only each other and my grandmother. However, it wouldn't be the first lie he told me so I don't know if there is anyone else. Yet, I think my grandmother would have told me if there were and she never said anything either. So I guess there really is no one else. Taehyung and hyung became my family. They took care of me.”

The smaller boy hummed, frowning as Jimin placed his head back down on his chest. While continuing to caress the older one's back, he couldn't help but wonder how that was possible. There must be more to that.

“Would you ever go back to Busan?”
The orange haired boy tensed, gulping at the thought of going back, “I-I don't know. There isn't really anything that I would go back there for. My house holds bad memories so I wouldn't go back there, ever. I mean, my grandmother's house is still there. She passed her house onto me, but I never lived there because I didn't want to go back to Busan. I haven't thought about going back in years. Who knows... maybe I would do that someday, if I'm ready.”

“I would accompany you.” Jungkook suddenly suggested, both boys stilling, “I mean... if you'd want that. I could go with you so you don't have to go there on your own”

Jimin studied his face, searching for something that would give away that he was joking, yet he appeared to be genuine. There was something glistening in Jungkook’s eyes that Jimin wished he could define, but he couldn't. A smile appeared on Jimin's face, nodding slightly, “Thank you, that's... that's nice of you”

They stared at each other for a moment longer. Both boys leaned forward almost simultaneously and connected their lips in a gentle kiss. Jimin's heart fluttered at the soft touch, lips parting as they moved slowly against Jungkook's.

The taller boy gripped his chin softly as they kissed, Jimin placing his hand in the back of Jungkook’s neck and playing with his hair. Their lips moved against each other as if they perfectly fit together, knowing how to touch other, almost like puzzle pieces. Their bodies were like that, too. Jimin’s small body fit perfectly against Jungkook’s bigger one, like... like it was meant to- No. No, it wasn't.

They broke apart form their kiss, catching their breath as Jimin nuzzled against Jungkook’s hand on his cheek.

“We should sleep some more” The younger one uttered, Jimin humming at the welcoming suggestion. His eyes still felt heavy, body still exhausted due to the tiring day. Frankly, they hadn't even slept long so it was no surprise that they were still very tired.

The shorter male rested his head on Jungkook’s chest, hand still caught in his hair and playing with it, scratching over his scalp gently every now and then. The other boy was still tracing his fingertips over Jimin's back softly, drawing shapes that Jimin couldn't define. His other arm was wrapped around Jimin and holding him tight.

Their hearts were beating steadily, in harmony, chests rising and falling simultaneously. It was comforting. This position, Jungkook's soft touch, all of this. Everything about this made Jimin feel safe and procted, made him feel cared about and brought him comfort.

Even though Jimin still had no idea why his body had decided to turn up at Jungkook's door out of all people this night, he was glad that he had come here. His body had acted subconsciously, yet it had been the right decision.

Jungkook had been able to bring him comfort, to pull him out of that sad state and uplift him instead. Right now, Jimin felt good and content and that was all thanks to the gorgeous man beneath him.

The taller boy let out a soft breath whenever Jimin scratched over his scalp softly, indicating that he enjoyed the gentle touch. Jimin wondered if he was touched this softly usually, if other people he had slept with had treated him the same – considering how he had looked almost shocked when Jimin had done it for the first time.

Both boy’s eyes fluttered shut, the sleep they were longing for approaching them. Before Jimin finally drifted away into his dreams, he couldn't help but think about something.
Jimin never understood people in movies who claimed a person could change their mood right away, could comfort and calm them by the simplest thing. Jimin never believed that a person could make you feel... so safe and protected.

However... now he finally did. Now he understood what all those people meant. Jimin finally realised that they were right. He also realised one more thing.

Jungkook was giving him something that no one else has ever been able to illuminate in him. Not his father, not his grandmother, not his best friends either. Yet, Jimin didn't know what exactly it was. It was something he had never felt before, something he couldn't define. However, he finally realised one thing when he thought about the black haired boy that was holding him close.

Jungkook was his safe haven.

Jimin felt warmth on his cheek. His eyes fluttered open, blinded by the sunlight which caused him to squeeze his eyes shut once again. Slowly, he rolled onto his back, stretching his limbs as he opened his eyes and blinked a couple of times until he wasn't blinded by the light any longer, vision not blurry anymore either.

The smaller boy could hear muffled voices from somewhere, realising in that exact moment that he wasn't in his own apartment. Abruptly, Jimin sat up, scanning the room and noticing where he was, all alone.

Jungkook's bedroom.

His heartbeat quickened at the realisation, memories from last night creeping up in his mind. Jimin had appeared in front of Jungkook's door last night spontaneously, had have sex with Jungkook and had stayed with him over night.

Last night had been... a weird night. It was almost as if Jimin and Jungkook had lived in a bubble. Both of them had totally forgotten about everything else, about their lives, about their surroundings. It had only been the two of them. The world had almost stopped in that moment.

However, reality came crashing back down now. Had they not broken two rules alltogether? Jimin had stayed over night, they had touched outside of their lessons. Those were two rules that they had broken together. They shouldn't have done that, yet it was almost as if neither of them had realised it in that moment because it had been just the two of them, isolated from the rest of the world. They hadn't needed anyone else, but they hadn't thought about the consequences either.

What had Jimin thought would happen? Why had he come here in the first place?
Well, because he had seeked for comfort.

Then again, was this worth it? Frankly, Jungkook had been able to comfort him last night, had made him feel safe and protected, but all of that could fall to ashes if the consequence of their actions was that Jungkook would call off that thing they have going on. He had warned Jimin before, but the older boy had still come here without telling him beforehand.

It was Jimin's fault, if everything was going to fall apart now. He had made the decision last night to come here.

However, he would have made the same decision again. Jungkook had been the only person who was able to bring him comfort last night. The only person who could make Jimin feel the way he did.

Maybe it wasn't going to be so bad. Perhaps they could talk about everything and come to the conclusion that it had been... a mistake, an accident, and that it wouldn't happen again. Yet, Jimin's heart hurt at that thought. No, it hadn't been a mistake nor an accident. Not to him at least. Last night had been beautiful and he would do it again in a heartbeat.

What did that imply? What did it mean that Jimin had liked being touched by Jungkook outside of their lessons? What did it mean that Jimin had loved falling asleep next to Jungkook? What did it mean that his heart fluttered everytime the taller boy merely looked at him?

However, what consequences would this night bring? Had he ruined everything with his selfish act? Yet, Jimin just hadn't been able to stop himself. To be fair, Jungkook hadn't told him to leave, either, so wasn't it both of their faults then?

Then again, Jungkook probably only let him stay last night because Jimin had been crying and it would have been cruel to kick him out... right? There was no other reason... was there?

Jimin could swear he was getting a headache from all these thoughts, head starting to spin the more the voices in his head continued their discussion. Honestly, the best thing to do right now would be to simply talk to the black haired boy and figure out what happened last night and where they would go from here.

The smaller boy noticed a clean shirt that was placed on the bed next to him, figuring that Jungkook had put it there for him to slip on. Jimin picked it up and pulled it over his head, realising how it was way too big on him. The orange haired one assumed that it was probably a baggy shirt on Jungkook to begin with, but then so much bigger on his slim body.

Jimin stumbled out of the bed, almost falling, yet able to keep his balance. His cheeks heated up as he remembered Jungkook teasing him for how clumsy he was. It was a good thing the black haired boy hadn't been here to see that because more teasing would have been inevitable then.

The shirt covered his butt and reached down 'til the middle of his thigh, that's how long it was on him. Jimin chuckled at the size of the shirt as he tip-toed out of the room. His steps were hesitant as the voices got louder, the smaller boy noticing that they were coming from downstairs. The door to the room across from him was shut again – which didn't surprise him because it always seemed to be.

Gulping, Jimin walked down the hallway, the voices becoming louder with each step. Even though he couldn't fully understand them, the tones implied that the people were angry, that they were fighting. The orange haired one could make out a female and a male voice, realising the male voice belonged to Jungkook.

“I didn't fucking do that! For god's fucking sake, how many times do I have to tell you!” Jungkook yelled, Jimin finally at the top of the stairs and able to look down into the living room.

Seoyun. The female voice belonged to Seoyun. Jungkook and her were standing across from each other, some space in between them as they glared at one another with angry eyes.

Jimin had totally forgotten about her existence yesterday. Had forgotten about the fact that he had stormed out of Jungkook's apartment partly because the taller boy had been on the phone, but also because Seoyun had appeared in his flat and Jimin felt uneasy in her proximity. Frankly, he didn't like being confronted with her because she made him feel uncomfortable. To be honest, Jimin didn't even know why. He didn't even know her, yet she had been rude towards him at every of their encounters without Jimin doing anything.

Then again, if she actually was dating Jungkook, it wouldn't be a surprise if she got mad at seeing Jimin here in his apartment. However, Jungkook had assured him that she wasn't his girlfriend.

So who was she? Why was she here?

“Yes, you fucking did! You changed the password last night and locked me out so you could fuck him, didn't you? I tried to call you, but you turned your damn phone off!”

Jimin swallowed hard, eyes widening as he realised he was part of their argument. Why did she get mad at Jungkook for-

Wait.

Did she live here? Did she live here with Jungkook?

It was as if Jimin was hit by a truck. It all made sense now. That's why there had been a suitcase, that's why there had been dresses and high-heels scattered around over the living room. Those belonged to Seoyun. She lived here with Jungkook.

“We didn't-”

“Why was he in your fucking bed then? Why was he half naked in your bed if you didn't fuck him last night? I don't think you go around cuddling random dudes. That's definitely not you, Jungkook” She screamed, interrupting Jungkook.

“That's totally past the point! The point is that I didn't change the damn password, you simply forgot it. Why would I change it and set it back this morning? That's so fucking stupid.”

“Well, I don't know. Perhaps because you didn't want me to see him! Maybe because you wanted to fuck him wh-”

“Shut up, Seoyun-ah, do you even listen to yourself? That's fucking ridiculous”

Jimin's head felt dizzy, heartbeat quickening as he gripped the banister.

Why was she getting so angry? Why did she live here with Jungkook? They must be in some kind of relationship, she definitely wasn't just a hook up.

Jimin looked down again, noticing how she had caught him observe them from the top of the stairs. His heart stopped, cheeks flushing as Jungkook's gaze followed her's. As soon as his eyes landed on Jimin, his expression softened.

The smaller boy turned around and hurried back into the bedroom, almost stumbling over his own two feet as he rushed inside. He felt like he was going to throw up. Genuinely, he felt sick to the
The orange haired boy picked up his clothes from the sofa and put them on, so many thoughts running through his mind. It felt like his head was going to explode. His hands were shaking, making it difficult to pull the clothes on. Jimin almost stumbled again while trying to get into his pants.

“Jimin-ah” A voice suddenly uttered, Jimin freezing when he heard it, the tone so soft.

“I'm leaving” Jimin announced as he zipped up his pants, not sparing Jungkook a glance. This situation was so wrong, was so confusing. Jimin didn't know what to think, didn't know why he felt the way he did right now. It hurt, but Jimin didn't entirely know what hurt and why it did. All he knew was that if Jungkook was in a relationship with someone else, he definitely didn't want to be the reason for their break-up or arguments. No, Jimin didn't want to be any part of a mess like that.

“Why? You don't have to go, we can-”

“I should leave. It's better that way” The shorter male interrupted him, turning around walking past him.

“No, wait, Jimin-ah, don't go” The younger one asked, wrapping his hand around Jimin's wrist and pulling him back, “We can talk about everything”

Jimin pulled his hand away with force, taking a step back, “Did you lie to me?” The orange haired boy wanted to know, voice accusing, yet somehow vulnerable.

“About what?” Jungkook wanted to know, frowning as he looked back and forth between Jimin's eyes. He was trying to read the boy, but he wasn't succeeding.

“About Seoyun being your girlfriend?”

The taller boy opened his mouth, but shut it again, seemingly taken aback by that question.

Jimin's heart sank at his reaction, his chest stinging as he turned around and walked away.

“Jimin-ah, wait, it's- it's complicated. She's not my girlfriend though” Jungkook assured, going after him and pulling him back by his shoulder softly. The black haired boy turned Jimin back around so they could face each other.

“Are you sure? Why is she angry then? Why does she... I mean...” It wasn't any of his business, honestly, it wasn't, but Jimin couldn't help and wonder, “Why does she live here then?”

The younger boy blinked, thinking over his words as he brushed his hair back, “I don’t think that's any of your business, Jimin-ah. You and I aren't in a relationship so why do you care?”

Ouch. Another pang in Jimin's chest. The smaller boy shook his head and hurried down the stairs, Jungkook right behind him.

“Wait, Jimin-ah, I didn't mean it like that.” The taller boy assured as he followed Jimin downstairs into the living room. Seoyun must have left because she was nowhere to be seen, “I'm sorry, please”

“No, you're right, it isn't any of my business,” Jimin mumbled, picking up his shoes, but Jungkook snatched them out of his hands and hid them behind his back, startling Jimin.

“Please, Jimin-ah, stop running away. She's not my girlfriend, I promise you. Let's sit down and talk about this. We should talk about last night, too”
Jimin gulped, stomach twisting at the mention of last night. Well, what did that night mean now, considering how a girl was living in this apartment together with Jungkook? There was no way they weren't in some kind of relationship or at least dated. Why would Jungkook let her live here if she wasn't close to him in that way?

“I want to leave. This is stupid, I shouldn't have... we shouldn't have... You clearly are in some kind of relationship with Seoyun and that's fine. It's your life, Jungkook-ah, but leave me out of that. I don't want to be the reason for your break-up or anything like that’

“Jimin-ah, I promise you that she's not my girlfriend. We aren't dating either. It's just... it's complicated. I can't tell you more about it.”

The smaller boy looked back and forth between his eyes, contemplating over his words. Well, maybe they weren't dating, but why was she here then?

“Then who is she?” Jimin found himself whisper.

“She's... No, Jimin-ah, stop asking me about her—”

“Jungkook-ah, the fucking flush isn't working anymore” A female voice interrupted Jungkook. It was Seoyun. Of course it was. Both of them knew it, yet they didn't spare her a glance, but remained looking at each other.

“I want to leave, please” Jimin murmured, an emotion flashing in his eyes that Jungkook couldn't define, yet he wasn't sure if he wanted to either.

Figuring there was no use in trying to make him stay, Jungkook handed him his shoes. The black haired boy couldn't force him to stay.

Jemin put on his shoes, feeling both Seoyun and Jungkook observe his movements.

“Well, then leave. You should go” Jungkook suddenly uttered.

The shorter male stared up at him, shocked by his abrupt change in demeanor. A moment ago he was asking Jimin to stay, yet now he wanted him to leave.

“Goodbye” Jimin whispered and opened the door, not looking back as he hurried outside, chest feeling heavy.

Both boys were oblivious and stupid, not able to resolve and fix their issues that day either.

Jimin had spend the next days with practicing. He tried not to think about Jungkook while completely focusing on practicing for the dance championship. That was important to him and could make opportunities concerning his future possible. He definitely didn't want to mess that up or get distracted from that by worrying about Jungkook too much.

Yet, he couldn't help but think about the tall gorgeous man every now and then. It hadn't taken long for Jimin to consider that he had overreacted, but wasn't his worry justified? If Jungkook was actually somehow dating Seoyun, then Jimin was caught right in the middle and was causing arguments between them. That's not something Jimin wants to do, ever.

He knew that they would have to talk about everything eventually, but he wasn't sure if he was ready for that. Frankly, Jimin didn't want to end the thing between him and Jungkook, yet he worried that the younger boy would do that after they have broken two rules again.

“Yuri, lift your chin up higher” Hoseok instructed and pointed at said girl, pulling Jimin out of his thoughts. The smaller boy shook his head as he brought his attention back to Hoseok in front of the group, “From the start again”

Everyone sighed, stretching their limbs while Hoseok started the song from the beginning. The brown haired boy had become even stricter, was catching every mistake and every flaw. His eye for detail had become even more defined. There was nothing getting unnoticed by him. He fixed every tiny step that bothered him and made them dance from the start any time one of them made a mistake. It was tiring, so incredibly tiring, yet they all knew that it was going to be worth it in the end.

“Dongha, fix your expression. I need you all to look fierce during this part. Be powerful, strong. I want to see you all do that, right now. Give it your all”

They all nodded, getting back into their position and fixing their expressions as the music started. Their bodies moved in sync to the melody, the beat carrying their steps and movements of their arms. It was tiring to give it their all after hours of practicing, their heavy breathing being heard by them even over the sound of the music, sweat dripping down their faces and their clothes wet. They were exhausted, but they continued with powerful movements, being watched by Hoseok's serious eyes.

It went on and on, for several hours that day. They went over the same choreography so many times, fixing every flaw that Hoseok caught until he was satisfied. Frankly, they all needed a break, but time was running out and they weren't even halfway through the choreography so far. The next couple of weeks were going to be very tiring. Yet, all Jimin could think about was standing on that huge stage and dancing in front of so many people. Of course, Jimin was shy and it was a little intimidating to dance in front of so many people, but when the orange haired boy danced, there was only him and the music. It was so natural for him to dance that he blurred out his surroundings, his movements almost flowing with the music. There definitely was nervousness, but anticipation all the same. He couldn't wait to stand on that stage and be his dream a little closer.

“All right, let's call it a day. Well done, guys. I'm proud of you for pulling through. Same time tomorrow.” Hoseok announced, out of breath himself as he started clapping. Jimin and the others mirrored his actions, clapping while encouraging each other for working hard today.

After actual practice, Hoseok had talked to them about their choreography, had explained what went well and what didn't look as good as he had imagined and what might need some readjustment. That wasn't anything out of the ordinary. Sometimes, parts of the choreography that one person plans on their own, doesn't look as good when the whole group does it or simply doesn't fit to the overall mood. There was no reason to panic about that. They were going to work on that and fix it.

The smaller boy felt like he was going to collapse, muscles aching, shirt drenched in sweat. He wiped the back of his hand over his forehead while walking over to his bag. Dongha was already waiting there, handing him his bottle of water with a smile.

“Well, that was intense” Dongha chuckled, Jimin joining him and nodding.

“It was” He agreed.

“Should we go grab some dinner together?” The brown haired boy asked, eyebrows arched up as he smiled at Jimin.
They have done that the previous days. After practice, they had spend time together, eating together and coming down from their intense practice. It was actually very comforting and relaxing, just spending time with Dongha like that and getting to know him a little better – without any other intention besides hanging out together as friends. Dongha was kind and actually very funny. Jimin liked spending time with the taller boy. There was no doubt in his mind that they would become even closer friends in the future.

“I would love to” Jimin smiled, “But I'm already meeting another friend of mine. I'm sorry.” He apologised, tilting his head to the side.

Dongha only mirrored his smile and waved his apology away, “Don't worry. It's all good. Should I drop you off somewhere?”

“No, not necessary. He's actually picking me up. Thank you for offering, though” The smaller boy thanked him.

“Good night. I'll see you tomorrow” Dongha said goodbye as be pulled Jimin into a hug.

They waved at each other with smiles on their faces before Dongha exited the practice room. Jimin dropped his hand and walked over to Hoseok.

“Hyung” He called as he approached the brown haired boy, “Tae is coming to pick me up. We want to get some dinner. Do you want to join us?”

The brown haired boy smiled, but shook his head, “Sorry, Jimin-ah, I'm going to watch over the choreography again and fix the parts that I don't see as fitting any longer”

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth, shaking his head as he felt his heart sink, “Hyung, don't overwork yourself. You can work on it tomorrow.” Jimin suggested, tugging on his shirt as he pouted. Hoseok was already working so hard. It didn't seem like he was taking any breaks at all. Honestly, it was a little frightening of how much he was actually working. Taehyung had already complained about that to Jimin, pouting when he told him about how Hoseok hadn't been able to see him for a day. Actually, his best friend had begged him to accompany him during dance practice just so he could be closer to Hoseok and spend more time with him, yet Hoseok had send him away, his reasoning being that Tae was distracting him – which, honestly, had flattered Tae and had probably caused him to forgive Hoseok for his lack of time.

“No” Hoseok sighed as he shook his head, “I have to have the new parts ready by tomorrow so I can teach them to you”

“That's sweet, Jimin-ah, but-” Hoseok smiled genuinely as he patted Jimin's head, yet paused when a voice interrupted him.

“Hellooo my two favourite people in the world” Taehyung greeted as he entered the practice room.

“Two?” Hoseok and Jimin echoed in unison, grinning when they realised they did.

“Well, yes” Tae chuckled as he walked up to Hoseok, pressing a peck on his lips to greet the brown haired boy, “My boyfriend and my best friend”

“Boyfriend?” Jimin repeated, eyes wide as he looked back and forth between his two friends. Tae grinned as he hid his face in Hoseok's chest, the other one chuckling as he pulled the boy closer.

“Yes, boyfriend.”

“Since when?” The orange haired boy wondered, bright smile appearing on his face at the information. Taehyung had not said a word about that. Of course, Jimin could understand that he didn't want to share something like this over text with him, but they had seen each other in person just two days ago so why hadn't he mentioned anything back then?

Then again, if Jimin was being honest, the signs have been there for so long already. Taehyung had shared with him how they didn't just hang out to have sex any longer, but that they went on actual dates, had sleepovers at each other's places without any sex at all, but simply fell asleep in each other's arms. Thinking about it, they might have been dating for a while now without any of their other friends knowing.

“I guess we've been kind of dating for a while now, but we haven't actually made it official until a couple of days ago. We didn't know how to tell you all and just now it simply fell from my lips kind of naturally” Taehyung admitted, slight blush creeping up on his cheeks as he felt Hoseok's loving stare on him.

Jimin wanted to squeak in that moment. He was so happy and excited for his friend, couldn't contain his joy at all as he threw his arms around his best friend and hugged him tightly, “I'm so happy for both of you” The smaller boy told them, grinning as he felt Tae hug him back.

Jimin pulled Hoseok into a hug as well, the taller boy closing his arms around him with a chuckle, “Thanks, Jimin-ah”

“Do you think... Do you think hyung will mind that? I haven't told Yoongi hyung anything about us” Taehyung suddenly wondered, voice soft and unsure as he locked eyes with Jimin.

“Actually, he does know about us.”

“He does?” Tae questioned, eyes wide as he stared at his – boyfriend. That was new to Jimin, he couldn't help but smile at the term.

“Well, we were kind of obvious. We were always around each other and everytime we all spend time together we were attached by the hip and cuddling. There is no way he doesn't know it.” The older one reasoned, shrugging his shoulders, but smirking after, “Besides, I have asked him before I got serious with you” Sunshine.

Sunshine. Jimin's heart fluttered at the pet name even though it wasn't even directed at him. This whole situation was so surprising, but so, so cute. Jimin couldn't handle how adorable they were.

There was emotion flashing in Taehyung's eyes, fondness and something else Jimin didn't know, but it made his chest feel all bubbly when he saw how Tae looked at Hoseok with that stare. It was very sweet.
“Aww, hyung” Tae whispered and pulled Hoseok into a hug, placing a small kiss against his cheek.

Hoseok pressed a peck on his head while hugging him closer, both of their eyes falling shut and Jimin felt himself blush at the intimate and cute moment his friends shared.

“I'm happy for you, really.”

They both grinned at Jimin, thanking him.

“Wait, what did hyung say when you told him about us?”

Hoseok's smile grew. “Well, as I expected he already figured. He noticed some hints here and there, but didn't want to assume anything without one of us telling him for sure. He was happy for us, but he also promised to beat my ass if I hurt you.” The older boy chuckled, Jimin and Tae joining him.

“Now, you guys go eat dinner, it's already quite late. I'll call you later, Tae” Hoseok ordered as he ruffled through Tae's hair.

“Wait, no, you're coming with us” The blond boy pouted, “Come on, you've worked so hard today. I'll treat you”

“No, Tae, I can't, it's-” Hoseok paused at Taehyung's expression: He was pouting even more, eyes wide and pleading as he clasped his hands together in a praying gesture.

“Pleaaaaase”

“Stop doing that, you know I can't st-”

Tae whined, tugging on Hoseok's shirt with pleading eyes.

Jemin chuckled and shook his head, walking over to his bag and picking it up.

“Hyung, the new choreography doesn't have to be ready by tomorrow. There are other things we can fix first” The orange haired boy assured as Hoseok picked up all of his stuff.

“Yeah, I guess that's true. Let's go then”

Once they got everything, the exited the practice room and made their way to one of their favourite restaurants.

-----

“I'll be right back” Hoseok excused himself and got up to his feet, walking over to the restrooms and leaving Jimin and Taehyung to themselves.

“So” Tae uttered, placing his elbows on the table and resting his chin on his intertwined hands, “What's going on?”

Jemin frowned, placing his chopsticks on the table as he tilted his head to the side, “What do you mean?”

“Well, you've seemed weird a couple of days ago already, but you didn't want to talk about it. However, you might want to talk about it now”
The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, gulping, “It's just practice. It's tiring” Jimin brushed it off, shaking his head as he picked up his chopsticks again.

“I know that, but there seems to be something else bothering you. Did something happen... between you and Jungkook?”

Jimin's head shot up, locking eyes with his best friend as he arched up his eyebrows, “What makes you say that?”

“I don't know. I was just wondering” Tae shrugged his shoulders, lifting his hands a moment after in a defensive manner, “Sorry, I didn't mean to assume anything.”

The orange haired boy sighed, body going slack as he played with the food on his plate, “No, you're right. Something did happen, but now I'm wondering if I'm just overreacting?”

“There is this girl that appeared in front of Jungkook's apartment a while ago. Her name is Seoyun. She has been at his place a couple of times now and I... and I think he's dating her because she seems to be living there.”

Taehyung's eyes widened, “Wait, what?”

“I saw a suitcase there, a few dresses and some high-heels in his apartment. I'm pretty sure those belong to her. Moreover, she accused him of locking her out of the apartment. Why would she say that if she isn't living there? She definitely has the password to his apartment.”

“Minnie, you do know that you and Jungkook are only fucking, right? His goal was to teach and guide you, to make you comfortable. You two aren't da-”

“I know” Jimin interrupted his best friend, irritated by his accusation of him seeing his relationship to Jungkook as anything else but platonic, “I just don't want to be caught in the middle of their relationship. If he's dating her, that's fine, but he should leave me out of that because I don't want to be the reason for their break-up”

“Hmm, well, can I be honest with you? Why would he lie about dating her? He doesn't even owe you a justification as you two aren't dating, yet he still answered your question. He wasn't obligated to do that, but he still did it. I don't think he would lie about that. And frankly, hasn't he proven himself to be trustworthy? He has treated you with respect and care so far, hasn't he? I do believe that you can trust him. So if he promises you that he doesn't date you then I'm pretty certain that you can take him by his word” Taehyung pointed out, smiling sympathetically as he shrugged his shoulders.

The shorter male bit on the inside of his cheeks, processing his best friend's words, “So you think I overreacted? I stormed out of his apartment because I felt... I don't know why I did that”

The blond boy pursed his lips, contemplating, but shaking his head eventually, “I don't think you overreacted. You should have sat down and talked about your issues instead of running away, but I understand your perspective, too. You don't want to cause any fight in a relationship, yet I do believe that you can trust him when he tells you he isn't dating her. I'm curious about who she is, too, and why she would live with him, but I don't think that's any of our business. Again, you aren't dating him so he isn't obligated to tell you about that”

Taehyung was good... Jimin sighed as he looked down on his food. Right, maybe he had handled that situation not in the best possible way. Jungkook had assured him that he wasn't in a relationship so Jimin should simply believe that and take him for his word.

“You're right, I guess. It's just that I-” Jimin paused when he realised that Hoseok was coming back. It wasn't that he didn't want Hoseok to know more about his personal life, yet he knew how close Jungkook and Hoseok were and even though he trusted Hoseok quite a bit, there was still a little doubt left about whether he would share any of this with Jungkook. Moreover, this information was a little more intimate because no one- really none of their other friends except Taehyung- knew about that thing between Jimin and Jungkook and right now, Jimin wanted it to stay that way.

Then again, Yoongi had reacted so well and supportive when finding out about Hoseok and Taehyung. Didn't that imply that he wouldn't be mad at Jimin, if he found out that there was something going on between Jungkook and him? Yet, that was a whole other story. You couldn't really compare that thing to Hoseok and Tae's relationship. That were two completely different worlds. One was build on affection, fondness and maybe even love whereas their's was build on an offer of being taught in sex, with no feelings whatsoever. Of course, there was still trust and respect and maybe even a little affection, but that's about it. There were no other feelings involved.

...Right?

“I'm back. What were you guys chatting about?” Hoseok wanted to know as he sat back down next to Tae.

Jimin averted his gaze, clearing his throat as he continued eating his food which was rather cold by now, yet still delicious.

“Just... some random stuff.” His best friends answered, “You know, I-” All of their phones vibrated simultaneously on the table, indicating that they'd all gotten a message. It was very likely that one of their friends had texted them in their group chat, considering how they had all gotten a message.

“Should we... check that?” Tae suggested.

All of them picked up their phones and opened the message.

Kijung is playing mine and Namjoon's song in his club this friday. You're all coming – Yoongi Jimin gulped. Partys and clubs weren't really his thing, flashbacks from the last party creeping up in his mind. However, this was a big moment for their friends. There was no way he couldn't go and support them. Also, maybe this would be the time they could all hang out together again.

Jungkook would be there, a voice inside of his head reminded him. Of course, he would. Why was his stomach all bubbly inside at the thought? Yet, there was nervousness all the same. The last time they had seen each other the black haired boy had asked him to leave his apartment after their argument. Obviously, he had been angered by Jimin's behaviour which Jimin could kind of understand now. It was frustrating to tell someone the truth and have them not believe you.

The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, feeling guilty for having accused Jungkook even though said boy had promised him that there wasn't anything going on between Seoyun and him. Hopefully, the taller boy would forgive him and they would finally be able to resolve all of these issues and see where they go from there because frankly, Jimin had been missing Jungkook these past days.

However, Jimin had never been to a club and he wasn't so sure if everything was going to go well friday...

If Jimin had only known how justified his fear was because he definitely wasn't ready for the storm that was heading his way.

-------

The orange haired boy followed Taehyung inside the club, pulling the sleeves of his denim jacket over his petite hands in order to hide them, a nervous habit of his. Jimin gulped once he didn't just feel the vibrations of the bass anymore, but the loud music was ringing in his ears as soon as they stepped a foot inside the building. The place was crowded, so many people gathered around them, dancing, drinking, talking and some of them even making out. Jimin was aware of how his palms became sweatier, stomach twisting as he gripped onto Taehyung's shirt so he wouldn't lose him in the crowd.

To be honest, Jimin felt a little out of place. He never went to a club, didn't even entirely know how to behave in one. Seriously, he had taken so long to pick out an outfit, but decided on something casual in the end as always because that's what he felt comfortable in. He was wearing his skinny black jeans, a white long-sleeved shirt, a denim jacket and his favourite black converse. At least he had done something different with his hair this time. Well, Tae had done that for him actually, had slightly waved his hair and brushed it back so Jimin's forehead was partly revealed. “You look gorgeous, Minnie” He had commented once he was done, Jimin only smiling because this hairstyle was something he would have to get used to.

They walked past a bar that actually wasn't as crowded. However, they were looking for their friends so they didn't stop, but continued walking somewhere further in the back. The dance floor was the most crowded place of the club, people grinding on each other as they moved their bodies to a song that Jimin didn't know.

Finally, the smaller boy caught sight of his friends, all sitting in a booth. There were sofas and tables in the back of the club for people to sit and take a break from dancing. It looked rather comfy if you'd ask Jimin. Frankly, Jimin already knew that he wasn't going to dance much today. All he came here for was to support his friends and listen to their song being played. After that, he would sprint out of here and head home. This was definitely not a place for him.

“Hey, kids!” Yoongi greeted them, already a little tipsy it seemed as he waved them over. It was a little quieter around here so you were actually able to kind of have a conversation.

Tae suddenly rushed forward and swung his arms around Hoseok, pressing his lips on his as the older boy caught him. Jimin was left standing there and watching the scene, smiling at his two friends. It was actually funny to watch the reaction of the other ones. Namjoon's and Jin's mouths were agape, indicating that they had no idea what was happening right now and that they didn't know anything about their relationship. Jimin couldn't help but giggle, knowing fully well how that felt because he had reacted to the news just like them.

“When did that happen?” Jin asked pointing to the lovely couple, yet Jimin didn't hear any part of the following conversation as his gaze landed on Jungkook.

The black haired boy looked stunning, dressed in all black, hair parted in the middle and revealing parts of his forehead. Jimin felt his heart flutter at the mere sight of the gorgeous man.

Jungkook didn't seem fazed by Tae's and Hoseok's kiss at all, but was more interested in... Seoyun.
Jimin's heart sank.

Why was she here? What was she doing here? In the span of a moment Jimin's mind was racing, so many thoughts running through his head. Clearly, she was important to Jungkook, considering how he brought her here to this important night of his friends. The shorter male tried to keep his composure and not seem fazed by her being here at all, even though it was going to be difficult.

“Jimin-ah!” Yoongi called out with a grin.

Jungkook's head shot up at the mention of his name, gaze falling on Jimin right away. Immediately, there was a change in his expression, an emotion flashing in his eyes that Jimin couldn't define. The smaller boy averted his gaze, swallowing hard as he walked over to Yoongi and pulled him into a hug. Out of the corner of his eyes, Jimin could still see Jungkook watch him, making him nervous.

“Hey, hyung, great to see you” Jimin greeted him, the older one holding him tight before they pulled apart.

The orange haired boy greeted everyone else as well, giving all of them a hug except for Jungkook and Seoyun. Hesitantly, Jimin stared at them for a moment before he simply waved at them, blushing slightly as he sat down next to Taehyung – far away from Jungkook.

Conversation started to evolve around him, yet Jimin was almost blurring everything else out. He was trapped in his thoughts, mood down after seeing Seoyun together with Jungkook. Frankly, it shouldn't bother him. The taller boy had assured him that they weren't together and Jimin had thought that they would be able to fix their issues today. However, Jimin couldn't help but wonder whether Jungkook might have lied to him. Evidently, Jimin was not going to be able to talk with Jungkook one on one about what happened between them, if Seoyun was here, too.

This whole thing was a mess. Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth as he leaned back against the soft sofa. He was somewhat picking up parts of the conversation his friends were having, jumping from talking about Hoseok and Tae's relationship to their jobs to the song that was going to be played later. Jimin tried to engage in the conversation, but everytime he opened his mouth, he shut it right after.

It made him feel uneasy to see Seoyun here. Jimin simply didn't understand why Jungkook had invited her. Wasn't this supposed to be just the seven of them? The orange haired boy couldn't even look over at the two of them, didn't want to watch them or affect his own mood even more.

“Minnie, let's go get some drinks.” Taehyung interrupted his thoughts, smiling at him as he held out his hand for the smaller boy.

“Yeah, you don't have anything yet. The bar is over there. Oh, could you bring me another Gin & Tonic, please?” Namjoon asked with a wide smile on his face, dimples showing.

“But I'm right here” Jin joked, breaking out into laughter alone while everyone just looked at him unimpressed.

“Jin, no.... Please, stop with these. You've been doing these jokes for like twenty minutes now” Namjoon sighed, but Jimin could swear there was a slight smile on his face as he shook his head, staring at Jin who simply shrugged his shoulders.

“Come on, Minnie” Tae urged with a smile. The orange haired boy took his hand and got up on his feet, almost stumbling over the little table in front of them as he tried to get away from the sofa.
Jimin and Tae couldn't help but giggle as the taller boy pulled his arm around the shorter male's waist in order to catch him.

"Careful" Someone warned. Jimin didn't turn around for confirmation, but he could swear the voice belonged to Jungkook. Yet, considering how he hadn't even greeted Jimin and had appeared rather cold in his proximity, that evidently seemed to be a false assumption. Jimin might have just imagined the voice. Seriously, that wouldn't even surprise him, considering how much Jimin longed for hearing Jungkook's voice again.

"I'm talking, hello?" A female voice reminded someone, tone annoyed and Jimin recognised that it belonged to Seoyun right away.

The smaller boy looked back over his shoulder, catching Jungkook watch him walk away, intent stare fixated on him. Swiftly, Jimin averted his gaze, heartbeat quickening at the realisation of Jungkook observing his movements. Shaking his head, the orange haired boy followed Tae over to the bar.

“What can I get you two?” The bartender asked as soon as they arrived at the bar, smile appearing on his face. The man was tall and broad, probably just slightly older than them.

“One Gin & Tonic and one Margarita please” Tae ordered, returning the smile and pulling out some money.

Jimin pursed his lips, thinking about what to get. Clearly, he wasn't going to get any alcoholic drink. No, he had never drunk anything alcoholic and he didn't plan on doing that today. Then again, he didn't know why he never really tried alcohol. Probably because there never really had been an opportunity or occasion for that where Jimin had felt comfortable with it. Jimin didn't go to clubs, rarely went to any parties. The smaller boy shook his head, “Just a coke with ice please” Jimin ordered, slight smile on his face. Both of the boys sat down on the bar stools as they waited for their drinks.

“Huh?” Jimin locked eyes with him, averting his gaze from Jungkook. The shorter male couldn't help but stare at the black haired boy every now and then. Thankfully, Jungkook hadn't caught him stare.

“I see you looking over at him. Haven't you guys talked yet?” His best friend asked, eyebrows arched up.

Well, there went his composure, didn't it. You could read Jimin like a book and it was annoying. Then again, to be fair, Tae was his soulmate, hence there was literally no way of hiding anything from him. Thus, just because the blond boy figured that something was off, didn't mean that the others would, too.

“No, we haven't” Jimin sighed, shaking his head, “I thought I would be able to talk to him today, but... well, you see who's here”

Taehyung turned around, having a glimpse at Seoyun before he looked back at Jimin, “That's her? She's pretty”

“Taaaeee” Jimin whined, pout appearing on his face.

“What? Oh, well.. I mean, she's not that pretty.” Tae quickly redeemed himself, clearing his throat, “However, even if she was, that doesn't mean anything. He told you that they are not dating, why don't you believe him?"

“Well, why did he bring her here then, I don't.” The smaller boy paused as he watched the bartender walk back over to where they were sitting.

“Are you guys from that table over there?” The bartender wanted to know once he placed their drinks on the counter.

“Yes” The blond boy confirmed and gave a small nod, “Why?”

“That's on the house today. The owner is friends with one of you guys and informed me that your drinks are free tonight” The man replied.

“Oh, thank you, that's great” Taehyung grinned as he took a sip of his drink.

The bartender smiled at them one last time before he went over to some other guy who wanted to order. Tae was about to get up, yet Jimin grabbed his wrist and pulled him back in his seat, “Wait, please, I'm not done. I don't want to talk about this over there.”

There was empathy in his best friend's eyes as he sat back down and placed his hand on Jimin's shoulder, “Jimin-ah, I think you're reading too much into it. May I ask you something?”

The smaller boy swallowed hard, a little scared of the question, yet he found himself nod, “Are you sure that you don't have feelings for him?”

Jimin's eyes widened as he started coughing, almost choking on his own salvia. “W-What? No, that's ridiculous” He laughed as he shook his head.

“Well, I'm just wondering because the thought of Jungkook being in a relationship seems to hurt you” The blond boy reasoned, shrugging his shoulders as he stared at his best friend with a sympathetic smile.

“No, Tae, it's not because I have feelings for him. I'm hurt because I think he lied to me about dating her. I'm angered at the thought of him potentially cheating on his girlfriend. Wouldn't you mind that, too? I don't want to be the reason for their break-up”

“To be fair, first of all, he told you he's not dating her. Second of all, if he is in fact cheating on her, that's not your fault nor your problem. He's the bad guy in that case, not you” Tae argued as he took another sip.

“I don't want to be caught in the middle, though. I wouldn't be able to go on with this knowing how much it hurt his girlfriend if she found out” The shorter male uttered, the loud music ringing in his ears. It was difficult to hold a conversation here, yet he simply didn't want to talk about this with all the others around and he needed to talk about this now. To be fair, he could still hear Tae fairly well so it wasn't really an issue.

“Well... Again, I think you should trust his words. They're not dating. Period.”

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth as his gaze rushed over to Jungkook. Swiftly, he swatted Tae's arm and pointed at them, “Look at them”

His best friend turned around and followed the direction he was pointing at. Jungkook and Seoyun were having a conversation, the girl having wrapped her arm around Jungkook's shoulder as she talked to him.
“They’re just talking, Minnie”

“They might just know each other very well and are comfortable in each other’s close proximity. Who knows, he might be fucking her, too.”

Jimin gulped, trying not to think about that.

“I don’t think so. Their bond seems deeper. She’s living with him and she got mad when I was in his apartment.”

Jungkook and Seoyun started laughing simultaneously. Jimin could hear the sound of Jungkook’s chuckle in his mind, even though it wasn’t actually audible from over here. Wasn’t it horrible how it still warmed his heart? Simply watching Jungkook laugh filled him with a weird emotion.

“What if they are related? You know, like siblings or maybe cousins or something?”

“Again, she got mad when I was in his apartment and was angered by the thought of me sleeping with him. I don’t think she would do that, if they were simply related”

Suddenly, Jungkook leaned up and whispered something in her ear, wrapping an arm around her waist at the action. The girl giggled and swatted his arm as they pulled away, a smirk on Jungkook’s face.

Jimin could swear he felt something break in his chest at the sight.

“Oh, uhm... well, maybe they aren’t related” Tae backtracked, clearing his throat as he turned around to face Jimin.

The smaller boy's mouth was agape, a stinging in his chest that he didn't understand.

It hurt. It hurt a lot to see Jungkook like this with someone else. Yet, Jimin didn't know why. He had never felt this emotion before. No, never. Only ever with Jungkook. It hurt so bad in his chest the more he watched the black haired boy engage with Seoyun.

Jimin averted his gaze, glancing down at the counter, chest rising and falling quickly as it became a little difficult to breathe.

“Minnie? You okay?”

What was this? This... this feeling? And why did it hurt so bad?

“I... Yeah, I'm just...”

The smaller boy frowned, so many thoughts running through his mind. Jungkook must have lied to him. There was no way there wasn't anything going on between them.

Jimin looked up, a sudden wave of courage – or honestly, rather stupidness – overcoming him, “C-Can I have some alcohol?”
The bartender smirked, a slight chuckle leaving his lips, “Of course, you can, but you gotta be a little more specific”

“Stop, Minnie, no” Tae protested, grabbing his arm and shaking his head, “Don't do this because of him. That's not going to end well. You've never-”

“I want to because I want to try how alcohol tastes like.” The orange haired boy argued, not sure if he was trying to convince himself or his best friend.

“Minnie-”

“I'm not a child anymore, Tae”

His best friend let go of his arm, sighing as he gave a faint nod, “I know you aren't, Jimin-ah. I just don't want you to do anything stupid because you're hurt right now”

“I'm not hurt” The shorter male huffed, knowing fully well that that was a lie.

“So? What can I get you?” The bartender interrupted their argument.

“Don't give him anything too strong. It's his first time drinking anything alcoholic” The blond boy asked, Jimin rolling his eyes.

“I'm going back to the others. Hyung is probably waiting for his drink. Don't do anything stupid” Tae placed a kiss against his temple before he took his drinks and went back to the table.

The shorter male followed his movements before he glanced back at the bartender who was patiently waiting for him to order with a smile on his face.

“How about I just mix a little alcohol into your coke, hmm? Nothing too strong, sweety”

“That's... that would be nice, thank you” Jimin thanked him, voice soft as he smiled faintly, completely ignoring the pet name.

The bartender picked up his glass of coke and turned around to the bottles of alcohol standing around. Jimin couldn't see what he mixed in there, was honestly a little distracted by the person two seats next to him. Out of the corner of his eyes Jimin could see the guy staring at him which made him feel a little uneasy. Unconsciously, the smaller boy pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands.

Frankly, he shouldn't think about this for too long because he would probably change his mind in just a moment. Swiftly, he picked up the glass and placed it against his plump lips, taking a sip.

The cold fluid ran down his throat, burning only slightly as he swallowed it down. Involuntarily, Jimin scrunches up his face at the taste. It still tasted like coke, yet there was definitely something else in there, something a little bitter. To be honest, Jimin wasn't sure whether or not he liked it.

He could hear the bartender chuckle at his expression, “Cute” He laughed before he went over to another guest who wanted to order. Jimin could feel his cheeks heat up at the comment, taking another sip so he could find out whether or not he liked the taste.
The second one tasted just the same, the coke hitting him first before there was a rather bitter aftertaste. It burned only slightly in his throat, but overall, Jimin didn't hate it. In fact, he finished his whole drink right there, scrunching up his face at the taste and letting out a breath as he placed the glass back down on the counter.

There wasn't any chance. To be honest, Jimin had thought he would feel different after drinking alcohol. Shouldn't he? Yoongi and Tae were always different when they drank. Jimin didn't feel drunk at all, didn't even feel tipsy – whatever that felt like. To be fair, Jimin couldn't entirely judge whether or not he was drunk because he never has been and didn't know how that felt like, yet he didn't notice any difference at all so he surely wasn't drunk.

“Uhm... actually, do you have something a little sweeter?” The shorter male wanted to know, titling his head to the side.

“Sure, I can give you something sweeter, babe”

He picked up the glass and turned back around in order to prepare another drink for him, Jimin catching the pet name this time and feeling his blush deepen at the realisation. However, the man was probably just being nice and friendly, considering how Jimin just had his first ever drink.

“There you go. It's a little stronger, but it's also sweet. Gotta be careful with that. Tastes so sweet that you won't even notice that you're getting drunk from it. And when you do, it's already too late”

Gulping, Jimin picked up the glass. The fluid was in a rather red-ish colour, the scent actually very sweet. Jimin was certain that he could smell something strawberry-like in there.

“Thank you” The smaller boy uttered before he got up from his seat and walked back over to his friends.

The orange haired boy tried his best to not glance over at Jungkook. You can imagine the pride that swelled up in his chest when he sat down back on the sofa next to Taehyung without having taken a glimpse at the black haired boy. Perhaps he should just ignore the taller boy for the rest of the night in order to prevent his heart from stinging for some odd reason.

“I thought you got lost somewhere” Yoongi commented as soon as Jimin sat back down, smile on his face as he ruffled through Jimin's hair, “Nice hair, looks good on you”

“Thank you” Jimin smiled faintly, cheeks flushing up as he noticed the whole group looking at him.

“I did that!” Tae announced proudly, the others praising his work and then complimenting Jimin for how good it looked on him.

“Thank you” The shorter male murmured as he took a sip from his drink, cheeks flushing up even more as he caught Jungkook looking at him. Quickly averting his gaze, Jimin swallowed down the fluid in his mouth, tastebuds tingling at the sweet sensation in his mouth. The bartender hadn't lied at all. There was no more bitterness, but only a sweet taste in his mouth. However, his throat still burned a little, causing him to scrunch up his face. It wasn't that bad, though.

Frankly, Jimin really liked this taste and preferred it to the previous one. He couldn't help but take another sip, then another and then another one. When he wanted to take one more, he realised that his glass was already empty.

“I don't know, but it was good. The bartender mixed it for me”

The blond boy seemed a little concerned once he noticed how Jimin's eyes changed. He was definitely getting tipsy after two drinks. However, Jimin appeared to be fine so far.

“I'll get another one” The orange haired boy announced, getting up on his feet, head spinning a little. Alright, now he did feel a little different. Yet, there couldn't have been much alcohol in this one, could there? It had tasted way too sweet for that.

“Are you sure?” His best friend asked, concern now visible on his face as he observed Jimin walking past him towards the bar.

“Yep” Jimin simply uttered as he approached the bartender with a smile, “Could I have another one of those, please? But in a bigger glass?”

“Tastes good, doesn't it?” The bartender chuckled, Jimin humming as he gave a faint nod, “Coming right up”

This time, Jimin didn't sit down, but remained standing against the counter. The guy from earlier was still sitting here, eyes fixated on Jimin again. The smaller boy cleared his throat, but tried not to pay attention to the man.

“There you go” The bartender returned a moment later with a bigger glass, the red-ish liquid in it causing Jimin's mouth to water.

“Thank you” The orange haired boy smiled as he picked up the glass, taking his straw between his lips as he took a sip.

His eyes fluttered shut at the delicious taste, a content sigh leaving his lips as he opened his eyes again and walked back to his friends.

His eyes widened as soon as he swallowed the liquid, “Shit, Jimin-ah, do you even taste the amount of alcohol in there? He mixed that himself, didn't he? It's a Strawberry Daiquiri, but hell stronger. Of course, you don't taste the shit amount of alcohol in there, considering how you have no clue how it tastes like”

Jimin only shrugged his shoulders, for some odd reason not particularly caring about that nor was he even remotely concerned. He simply took back his drink and took another sip from the sweet liquid. It tasted so good, made his insides feel all funny. Honestly, he felt his bad mood vanish and instead he felt rather happy and all bubbly.

Taehyung sighed, but took a sip of his own drink, getting tipsier my the minute himself.

They continued chatting about random things as the night went on, Jin cracking some jokes every now and then.

It didn't take long for them to be rather tipsy, both of them giggling at whatever any of the other's said. Frankly, Jimin kind of liked this feeling. He felt all bubbly and joyful, not sad or hurt at all anymore. It was actually almost like floating, like he wasn't even fully himself anymore.
“Guuuuys, let's dance” The blond boy suggested, getting up on his feet.

“Yeeeee'sss” Jimin agreed, standing up, too, but stumbling over his feet slightly. The smaller boy didn't even notice the lisp he had suddenly evolved. However, the others did, snickering at the adorableness of their friend, “Let's goo” The orange haired boy took off his denim jacket and tossed it on the sofa, the heat of the room getting to him. It was rather warm inside the club, his cheeks already flushed due to that.

“I'm good, you two go have fun” Jin declined, waving. Namjoon and Yoongi were having a conversation and Jimin didn't want to look at Jungkook or ask him whether he wanted to join them. Instead, he followed Tae and Hoseok – whom his best friend had just pulled out of his seat – to the dance floor.

Earlier, this place had seemed kind of scary to Jimin, had appeared way too crowdy and Jimin had been determined to stay far away from it, yet now that all had changed. Actually, he was excited to try this – try dancing in a club with many people around him. Without the alcohol he probably would have never even thought about doing something like this, yet here he was now.

Once they reached the dance floor, they started moving their bodies to the fast rhythm of the song immediately. Jimin was no stranger to dancing so this came quite naturally to him. The orange haired boy shut his eyes close and let himself be carried by the music, enjoying this moment. Honestly, he just felt free right now. It felt so good to just let loose tonight. He couldn't help but smile brightly as he continued dancing.

The smaller boy opened his eyes again, moving his hips from side to side as he glanced over to the bar. As if the universe enjoyed mocking and torturing him, his gaze landed on Jungkook who was staring right back at him. The black haired boy was leaning against the counter, eyes fixated on how Jimin was moving. Jimin could swear that there was a slight smile on Jungkook's face as he watched Jimin dance. Usually, Jimin would feel shy under his intent stare, especially in a moment like this, yet for some reason he didn't. That was probably due to the alcohol running through his body.

The people next to him were dancing quite close in his proximity, Jimin could feel their movements against his body, could feel someone's breath hit his neck.

It seemed like Jungkook was angry about something, eyebrows pulled together in a frown, posture slightly tensed as he observed Jimin and the people around him.

Jimin noticed how Hoseok and Tae were literally grinding against each other next to him – the sight causing Jimin to giggle for some reason. Suddenly, there was a man coming up next to him, dancing right in front of him with a smile on his face. The act surprised Jimin for a moment, but he couldn't help but chuckle as they danced together.

After spinning around, Jimin's gaze rushed back to the bar. The smaller boy froze, smile disappearing from his face once he noticed that Jungkook wasn't there any longer.

Where had he gone so suddenly?

Why did Jimin care?

“Do you come here often?” The boy in front of him shouted over the music, yet Jimin didn't pay him any attention but scanned the room, trying to find Jungkook.

“Sorry, I...” The smaller boy excused him as his body walked over to the bar almost subconsciously. It was as if it wasn't even listening to his brain, but moving on it's own. Just like his body had done on the day he had appeared in front of Jungkook's apartment spontaneously. Frankly, he shouldn't trust his body when it did that. That never seemed to end well.

As he arrived at the bar, Jimin looked around, eyes travelling back to their table.

His heart sank when he saw the black haired boy talk to Seoyun again. It was as if all the energy from just moments ago was sucked out of him, body going limp as he sat back down on one of the bar stools.

“Hey, babe, do you want another drink?” The bartender asked, startling Jimin who was still staring at Jungkook.

“Uhm... yeah, thank you” Jimin barely smiled, glancing up at the taller man for a moment before looking down on the counter.

Why did this bother him so much? Jimin genuinely didn't understand why seeing the black haired boy with Seoyun was doing these things to his chest? Why did he care? Okay, yes, if Jungkook had lied to him about dating her, that would hurt him, too, and that would be horrible as it would break his trust essentially. However, Jimin knew that... he knew that he wasn't feeling this because he feared that Jungkook had lied to him. No, there was something else going on, but he didn't know what it was, had never felt like this before.

“Thank you”

The smaller boy put the straw between his lips as he let his eyes drift back over to their table. It was embarrassing, but there was relief blossoming inside of him when he noticed that Seoyun wasn't there. Instead, there was a man sitting next to Jungkook. They were obviously talking, yet they were both staring at Jimin which caused him to avert his gaze quickly, cheeks heating up at the realisation.

Jungkook couldn't take his eyes off of Jimin.

“You're looking at him as if you have seen him naked” Junseoo remarked, snickering as he nudged Jungkook's arm.

“That's because I have” Jungkook found himself utter, eyes still fixated on the orange haired boy at the bar. Frankly, he didn't know why he had just said that. Maybe because he knew what kind of person Junseoo was and he didn't want him to make a move on Jimin. Honestly, he didn't know why.

“No shit! Really? You had sex with him?”

“Still... am. We have a casual thing going on, long story.”

“You sure it's casual? He doesn't look at you like it's just casual” Junseoo pointed out. Jimin looked up in that exact moment, eyes big and emotion flashing in them as he stared at Jungkook. However, he broke their eye contact way too quickly, glancing back to the dance floor, his cheeks flushing as he took a sip from his drink.

“Shut up, that's all it is. We just fuck. There is nothing more to it” Jungkook replied, eyes narrowed as he took a glimpse at Junseoo next to him.

“I thought you aren't a fan of soft fucking? Heard you like it rougher”
He snorted. “I don't do soft shit usually at hook ups except for aftercare”

“He looks way too gentle to like it rough, though.” The other one snickered, “But I guess it's the soft looking one's that always like it hard and fast, don't they?” Junseoo commented, voice low as he wet his lips. Jungkook clenched his fists, jaw locking as he saw the way Junseoo was eyeing Jimin.

“He's...”

“Is he good at sucking dick? Gosh, with those lips he must be” Junseoo commented, Jungkook feeling himself tense at the way he was speaking about Jimin, “So you were soft with him then, weren't you?”

Jungkook halted. “Maybe... He was still a virgin of course I'm not gonna fuck his brain out right away”

“You have a soft spot for him, don't you? I can see it in your eyes. You are gentle with him when he needs it, stop lying”

“Why do you care?” Jungkook asked, frowning as he looked at Junseoo.

“I'm just wondering. I didn't know you were into softer shit. So, if that thing between you two is casual, would you mind me fucking him?”

The black haired boy almost froze, “What?”

“I would love to fuck his brain out. Is he into bondage? Spanking? Gosh, what I would do to him... Just tie him up and watch him cry while I fuck his-”

“I said, shut the fuck up before I beat you up so hard that you won't even be able to beat your own meat to the thought of him” The black haired boy threatened, staring at Junseoo with dark eyes.

“Why are you getting all defensive? We're just joking around, aren't we? I thought it's casual, so I'm sure we can share him, can't we?” Junseoo suggested, sickening and honestly disgusting smirk on his face.

“He's not a fucking object, bastard, and I won't let you speak like this about him” Jungkook spat through clenched teeth, getting up on his feet.

Jemin was watching the scene evolve from the bar. Honestly, he didn't really know what was going on. The two men had talked for some minutes now, eyes fixated on Jimin and then on each other. It hadn't taken long for Jungkook to suddenly appear rather pissed off, fists clenched and jaw locked. Now, he was even getting up on his feet and was facing the other man.

It was a little frightening, if Jimin was being honest. The other man didn't seem to take any of this serious, was only laughing and smirking, but Jimin knew Jungkook, knew this expression by now. The taller boy was seriously ready to beat the other one up right now. Flashbacks from their night at Han River appeared in Jimin's mind. The black haired boy had told him about all of the fights that he has had when he was younger. One of them being the reason for the scar on his face. The taller boy had assured him that he didn't get into fights anymore, yet he had also revealed that he thought violence was necessary in some situations. Hopefully, a fight wasn't going to break out right now.
Suddenly, the other man got up, too, expression on his face changed into one of anger. Jimin stood up right away, placing his glass on the counter as the urge to help Jungkook overcame him. He didn't want the younger one to get into a fight, yet he was scared to get in front of that bigger boy as well.

While he was considering on what to do next, he saw Seoyun appear next to them. She placed her hands on both of their shoulders, saying something to them. Obviously, Jimin didn't hear what it was that she said from were he was, yet it seemed to work because the other man turned around and walked away.

Relief bloomed inside of Jimin, yet was replaced by a stinging in his chest a moment later. Seoyun had leaned up to Jungkook and had placed a kiss on his cheek. The smaller boy averted his gaze, stomach twisting. His head was literally spinning from all of the alcohol, combined with the pain he just felt – it was not a good combination.

Oh no. He literally felt sick, like he was going to throw up.

“Where are the toilets?” Jimin was able to get out, the bartender pointing to a hallway next to the table area. The orange haired boy hurried over there, clasping a hand over his mouth as he felt vomit come up. Swiftly, he entered the restroom, freezing in his spot once his gaze fell on two of his friends.

Namjoon and Jin were making out against a wall, hands all over each other as they moved their lips against one another. They halted as they heard the door fall shut, both looking over at Jimin.

It had only been a moment of surprise that had prevented his puke-session, yet there it was again. Jimin rushed into a stall and fell to his knees as he leaned over the toilet seat. He was puking right away, hadn't even been able to shut the door as he was throwing up into the toilet.

Strangled and gagging noises were coming from the stall, Namjoon and Jin sharing a glance before they went over to the stall.

“Jimin-ah?” Namjoon uttered, voice so soft as they got closer.

“Hey, kid, are you alright? First time drinking alcohol?” Jin asked as he kneeled down behind Jimin, stroking over his back gently while the orange haired boy was still throwing up. His throat was burning, knees feeling sore and his whole body simply felt all hot. Frankly, Jimin just wanted to go home right now. Yet, Jin's touch was kind of comforting.

“I think Tae mentioned something about this being his first time” Namjoon confirmed, “He drank quite a bit as well. I'll go and get him some water” Jimin heard some rustling, then footsteps, the door falling shut a moment later.

“It's going to be fine, that can happen sometimes” Jin tried to comfort him, still rubbing over his back softly.

Genuinely, the smaller boy felt pathetic in that exact moment, kneeling there on the floor with vomit on his chin, sweat dripping down his face as he continued throwing up. There were tears swelling up in his eyes, Jimin not entirely sure if that was due to him throwing up or... or because of what he saw before he ran into the restroom.

Finally, it felt like there wasn't another load coming, Jimin breathing heavily as he sat up. His body was shaking as he collapsed against the wall, head leaning against it. He heard some rustling. A moment later Jin was wiping away the vomit from his chin with some toilet paper, gentle with his touch as he cleaned the smaller boy.
“It’s okay, you'll feel better.” The blond haired boy uttered with a sympathetic smile as he brushed Jimin's hair out of his face.

The smaller boy only stared at him, breathing heavily through his mouth as his eyes fell shut. Honestly, Jimin had no clue how much alcohol he had actually drunk at this point. However, it must have been quite a lot because he didn't feel good at all, not really like himself.

There was a creaking noise, indicating that the door had been opened. Namjoon appeared in front of them a moment later, holding a glass of water, “Couldn't find a bottle, but this will do” He smiled faintly as he handed Jin the glass.

The older one placed the glass against Jimin’s lips and helped him drink from it, the cold liquid flowing down Jimin's throat, somehow refreshing and washing away the burn in his throat.

“Thank you” Jimin whispered once he had taken a couple of sips.

The blond haired one handed Namjoon the glass back, taking something else from him instead, “Here, take this.”

It was a gum. Jimin wanted to laugh for some odd reason, probably because his mind was messed up right now, as he took the gum and put it in his mouth, chewing on it. It was mint flavoured and Jimin hated himself for thinking about Jungkook's lips immediataly.

The orange haired boy looked back and forth between his friends while Jin wiped away a tear that was rolling down Jimin's cheek, “Are you two a thing now, too?” Jimin wanted to know, voice so quiet and a little hoarse.

The other two shared a glance, smiling and maybe even blushing a little, “Uhm... no, we aren't dating.” Jin answered and shook his head.

“Yet” Namjoon added, smile growing on both of their faces, a slight laugh escaping both of their lips as they shared a sweet glance.

Jimin couldn't help but smile as well, feeling genuinely happy for his friends.

“Come on, let's get you off this dirty floor” Jin muttered as he got back up, gripping Jimin's hands in the process and helping him up on his feet. The smaller boy's head started spinning immediately, yet Jin was there to help him keep his balance. Namjoon flushed the toilet, the disgusting smell of Jimin's vomit vanishing slowly.

“It's a little weird that you threw up already, though” Namjoon pointed out as they helped Jimin over to the sinks where he could wash his hands and mouth, “Considering how it's only been like two hours since you took your first drink. Usually, the aftermath of alcohol hits you a little later than that. Maybe something else got your stomach stick.”

“Perhaps his body just reacts differently. It's his first time after all” Jin remarked, shrugging his shoulders while Jimin washed his hands.

“Thankfully the floor isn't too disgusting in here” Namjoon uttered as he swatted the dust from Jimin's pants.

The orange haired boy felt like he had two older brothers that were taking care of him right now, or... that this would be how parents would take care of their children when they were drunk for the first time. Frankly, Jimin didn't have much experience in that, but it made his heart flutter at the realisation of how caring Namjoon and Jin were treating him. A smile appeared on his face at that thought.
Perhaps they would feel like family one day, too. To be honest, Jimin was pretty certain that they would.

“Are you feeling a little better now?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and gave a slight nod, “Sorry for interrupting your... well-”

“It's fine, don't worry. This is a public place, we should have known that someone would come in eventually” Namjoon interrupted him, waving his concern off as he shook his head.

“Yeah, exactly, no need to apologise” Jin agreed and ruffled through Jimin's hair, “Let's go out of here”

They all exited the restroom, the music ringing in their ears again, instead of just the vibrations of it being felt by them. The older ones started walking back towards their table, yet Jimin didn't follow them. They halted once they noticed that, turning around in order to face Jimin with their eyebrows raised.

“Aren't you coming back with us?”

Jimin bit down on his bottom lip, considering for a moment. He glanced over, saw how Seoyun was still right next to Jungkook. The blond haired girl was talking to him about something, arm wrapped around his neck, yet Jungkook didn't seem interested. The taller boy was scanning the room, eyes narrowed as he looked around in a subtle way. Then again, Jimin was pretty certain that he was just imagining Jungkook not enjoying the close proximity of Seoyun. Most likely, that was just his desire fighting through.

“No, thank you. I think I'm going back over to the bar” Jimin replied, pointing in said direction.

Namjoon cocked his head to the side, taking a step closer as he let out a sigh, “Jimin-ah, I know you're an adult, but... just be careful, okay? Don't get too wasted”

Jimin only gave a faint nod as he waved, walking back over to the bar. It wasn't that he wanted to drink a lot more alcohol, but just that he didn't want to go back over there where Jungkook currently was. It was just going to bring his mood down even more.

As he arrived back at the bar, he took a seat on one of the stools. The bartender came over to him immediately, greeting him with a smile, “Are you okay? You didn't seem that good when you rushed over to the restroom”

“Oh, uhm, yeah, I'm fine. I just felt a little sick. I'm better now. Can I get another drink?”

“Sure, what can I get you?”

“One of those you mixed me earlier, please, but a little less alcohol if possible” Jimin ordered, smile on his face.

“Coming right up”

The smaller boy couldn't help himself, but took a glimpse back at his group of friends. His eyes landed on Jungkook who was already staring at him. Jimin's heartbeat quickened as he averted his gaze.

Gulping, Jimin looked down on the counter, shaking his head. It was probably just a coincidence that they stared at each other in the exact same moment. That didn't mean that Jungkook had been staring Almost involuntarily, the orange haired boy glanced over one last time, confirming how Jungkook's gaze was still fixated on him even though Seoyun was talking to him. Or maybe... he wasn't focused on him, but on someone beside him?

The shorter male looked to his side, stomach twisting when he recognised the guy from earlier sitting three seats away from him. It was the one who had been staring at him previously when Jimin had been sitting here and for some reason, Jimin felt like he had seen him somewhere else before, yet he didn't know where.

The man smiled at him, a shiver running down Jimin's back because the smirk was somehow frightening. The orange haired boy couldn't explain it, but the man made him feel uneasy.

"There you go" The bartender placed the drink in front of Jimin with a smile.

"Thank you" The smaller boy murmured, faint smile on his face as he took the straw between his lips and took a sip.

Jimin pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands when he noticed out of the corner of his eyes how the guy next to him was still glancing at him with intent eyes. The shorter male squirmed in his seat as he continued drinking.

Suddenly, the bartender placed another drink down in front of Jimin.

"I didn't order this" The orange haired one told him, shaking his head as he pointed at the glass that had a transparent liquid in it.

"Oh, I know, it's from the guy there" The bartender replied, smiling as he pointed to the – oh, the universe must really hate Jimin today – guy that was making him feel a little uneasy. To be fair, Jimin didn't like judging people, especially if he didn't even know them. However, the smaller boy couldn't explain what it was about this man, but his heart screamed at him to not interact with him at all. It was as if his heart knew something he didn't, like it was warning him.

The next thing caused Jimin's heartbeat to quicken, the man getting up from his seat and approaching Jimin. The bartender left and went over to another guest who wanted to order, leaving Jimin screaming internally at him to come back. The orange haired boy could feel his heart beat fast against his chest as the tall man halted right behind him.

"Is this seat taken?" He wanted to know, his voice somehow suggestive, tone low. Another shiver ran down Jimin's back as he looked at the man. His eyes were dark and small, black hair very short. He was very tall and broad, intimidating Jimin who felt even smaller in his presence.

"N-No, but-"

The man sat down without even letting Jimin finish his sentence. The shorter male swallowed hard as the man placed his own drink down on the counter, "This is for you, I thought you might like something a little stronger, huh? Get this party really started"

"Oh, uh... thank you, b-but I'm good. I have my own drink" Jimin mumbled, too nervous to look into the taller man's eyes. He simply continued drinking the sweet liquid through his straw.

"I see. Well, you don't have to drink it, but it's very good. What are you having?" The black haired man wanted to know, leaning a little closer which startled Jimin.
The shorter male pulled the straw from his lips, gulping as he glanced at the man who was smirking at him. He was staring right at Jimin's lips as he wet his own. There was something flashing in his eyes and Jimin wanted so bad to be wrong, but he was sure that it was lust.

“I-I don't know. The bartender mixed it for me. It tastes like strawberry”

“Mind if I have a sip?”

Jimin was literally frozen in his place, couldn't even answer as the man took the glass and put the straw between his lips, taking a sip.

“Mhm, it's sweet” He commented, smirking as he pushed the drink back in front of Jimin, “I should have guessed that someone as cute as you would want something sweeter.” His voice was so... intimidating for some reason. The shorter male just wanted to leave, or have him leave.

The orange haired boy cleared his throat, smiling faintly as he stared back down at the counter.

“So, what is someone like you doing here? You look way too gentle to be in a place like this.”

“I see. Why are you sitting all by yourself, though? A guy like you shouldn't be all alone, don't you think? How about I take you somewhere else and I show you a little more fun, huh, babe?” The man suggested, lifting his hand as he tried to place it against Jimin's cheek. The smaller boy turned his head to the side, uncomfortable by the situation, “Babe, don't be rude-“

Suddenly, someone grabbed his wrist, pulling it away from Jimin, “Leave him alone, Junseoo” The orange haired boy wanted to cry as he recognised the voice, relief and something else blooming inside of him when he looked up.

Jungkook.

“Jeon, don't you see that we're busy right now” The man – who Jimin now had learned was named Junseoo – sighed as he glared at Jungkook with annoyance in his eyes.

“I don't fucking care. Stop annoying him and go somewhere else” Jungkook ordered, voice low and intimidating. Jimin stared at him and noticed how his jaw locked, how he clenched his fists and how there was genuine anger on his face.

“This isn't any of your business, Jeon, we're just having some fun, don't we, babe?”

Jungkook glanced at the smaller one, saw the genuine fear on Jimin's face, something pulling on his heart strings and that was all it took for him to snap.

“Get the fuck away from him, Junseoo. I'm not going to tell you again” The younger one warned through clenched teeth.

“Why can't he tell me that himself then, huh?” Junseoo argued, getting angrier himself the more Jungkook interfered in his attempt to pick up Jimin.

“Well, he can, but he's just way to nice to tell your annoying ass to fuck off” Jungkook countered, eyes narrowing.

Suddenly, Junseoo got up, stretching his neck as he got closer to Jungkook. He was slightly bigger than Jungkook, a little broader, too. Jimin felt his heart pound fast against his chest, he could even hear it in his ears. Clearly, this wasn't going to end well and Jimin was scared, very much so.

“Stop getting in the way, Jeon, he didn't as for you help” Junseoo spat as he pushed against Jungkook's shoulder slightly.

“Touch me one more time and I swear-”

Jimin couldn't even comprehend what happened next, didn't even remember getting up from his seat and rushing in front of Jungkook. All he could think about was that he didn't want Jungkook to be hurt, wanted to protect him. “Stop!” The smaller boy yelled as he squeezed his eyes shut, waiting for the hit, yet there didn't come one.

Junseoo had halted, his hand dropping. Jimin could feel Jungkook's chest against his back, could feel his quick heartbeat. The touch alone, the close proximity to the taller boy alone was sending sparks through his body. It was odd, yet fascinating as well.

Slowly, Jimin opened his eyes again, noticing how Junseoo was staring at him with a smirk on his face, “Get out of the way, babe, your face is way too pretty. We don't want anything to happen to it, do we?” Junseoo warned as he grabbed Jimin's chin firmly, causing the orange haired one to whimper in fear.

The next things happened fairly quickly. Jungkook grabbed Junseoo's wrist and pushed Jimin to the side gently.

“Don't you fucking dare touch him ever again” Jungkook spat as he suddenly punched Junseoo right in the face, causing said boy to fall back at the force. There were screams around them, people gathering around them to see what was happening.

Jimin hadn't even realised that he had stumbled over his own two feet, falling to the floor and looking up at the scene. He was literally frozen in his place as he watched them fight, fists hitting each other, Jungkook receiving a punch to the face as well.

“Our song is going to be played right now, yeeeeees!” Yoongi's and Namjoon's drunk voices were suddenly heard inside of the club, loudly over the speakers. They were probably talking into a microphone. A new song started playing, the music filling the room, yet Jimin was way too focused on what was happening right in front of him.

Jungkook and Junseoo were going at it, hitting each other with force behind their punches. The bigger one fell down after a particularly stronger punch from Jungkook, his body coming in contact with the floor. Jimin's eyes were wide, mouth agape as he was seriously frozen in his place. The orange haired boy wanted to help, but he genuinely couldn't move.

Jungkook was about to sit on top of Junseoo and beat him up like that, however, they were being pulled apart by some sort of security guys, “You go this way and you this or you'll both get kicked out!” One of them threatened as they shoved them into opposite directions.

“I swear, if you even get close to Jimin again-” Jungkook yelled as he was being pulled away, yet the man told him to shut up.

Jimin was still lying on the floor, shocked by what had just happened. The smaller boy blinked, head spinning as he tried to make sense of what had went on just a moment ago. This couldn't be real.
This was such an odd situation, such a weird and horrible day. Everything seemed to be going wrong tonight.

The shorter male was shaking. He felt like he was going to collapse as he eventually got up. His feet were wobbly, his head dizzy as he leaned on the counter for balance.

Was this all just a bad dream?

The smaller boy scanned the room, trying to find Jungkook. It wasn't difficult to find him, their whole group of friends gathered around him. However, once Jimin saw Seoyun walk up to Jungkook, he decided to leave. He couldn't take anymore of this.

This night had sucked so much life out of him, he felt exhausted and just wanted to go home. Perhaps, he just needed a little fresh air, though. It was probably for the best in that moment to leave the building and decide then and there what to do next. Maybe he would feel better after some refreshing air.

Jimin turned around and started to walk away, yet that didn't work out as planned either.

The orange haired boy knew immediately who it was. Of course, he did. How couldn't he recognise Jungkook's voice at this point?

“I don't know, somewhere, I need fresh air” Jimin answered, not making eyecontact as he brushed Jungkook's hand off.

“Don't go anywhere right now” The black haired boy ordered softly as he pushed Jimin against the wall, placing one arm against the wall next to his head so he wouldn't leave.

The smaller boy gasped for air, heartbeat quickening as he stared up into Jungkook's beautiful brown orbs.

“I don't know where Junseoo is and I don't want him to go anywhere near you” The taller boy reasoned, gripping Jimin's hip gently.

“Let me go, you said you wouldn't get into fights anymore, but here you are” Jimin hissed as he pushed the hand on his hips away.

“I thought you don't drink alcohol, Jimin-ah” Jungkook stated as he brushed Jimin's strands of hair out of his face.

“Stop trying to change the topic and why do you even care?” The smaller boy asked as he swatted his hand away.

The black haired boy looked back and forth between his eyes, emotion flashing in them that Jimin wished he knew, yet he didn't.

“I also told you that sometimes it's necessary, if you want to protect someone” Jungkook responded, voice quiet and soft.

The shorter male gulped, looking back and forth between Jungkook's eyes. His heart fluttered, sparks running through his body just because the taller boy was this close to him.

Finally, Jimin thought, finally Jungkook was in his close proximity again. Finally he was able to smell his comforting scent again, was able to have his attention without anyone else around, was able to look at the gorgeous man without having the fear of being caught.

There were bruises on his face - blood, too. These were bruises that Jungkook had gotten because of him, because he had wanted to protect Jimin.

“Your face” The smaller boy whispered, his hand reaching up almost subconsciously as he touched Jungkook’s cheek softly.

The black haired one hissed at the pain, grabbing his wrist gently as he nuzzled against his touch, “Jimin-ah” He breathed.

“He is a bastard and deserved it.” The taller one answered, anger in his voice, yet replaced by softness a moment later, “Jimin-ah, I'm not gonna let anyone lay a finger on you and hurt you”

Jimin's heart skipped a beat, head spinning as his eyes fluttered shut. A shaky breath escaped his lips. The alcohol was not doing him any good, was making him all sleepy in one moment and all hyper the next. It was all very confusing and exhausting.

“What hurts, baby?” Jungkook whispered, placing his hand against Jimin’s cheek, the orange haired boy nuzzling against the soft touch that he had missed so much. The pet name made his heart flutter.

“My head”

“Do you want to go home?”

Honestly, that was probably a good idea. It would prevent anything else happening tonight that could potentially hurt either of them even more.

“Yes, please” He breathed and gave a faint nod.

“Okay, let's get you out of here”

The black haired one took his hand, intertwining their hands. Jimin couldn't help but smile, trying to ignore the sparks he swore he felt. His hand was so much smaller in Jungkook's, yet they seemed to fit just perfectly.

Jungkook pulled him out of the club, a fresh breeze of air hitting them. It was as if he was finally able to breathe again. Jungkook didn't let go of Jimin's hand. Not until they arrived at his black Range Rover, the younger one opening the door to the passenger seat and helping Jimin inside.

As soon as the smaller boy sat down on the soft cushion, his eyes became heavy, head leaning against the cold window.

With the thought of the night finally coming to a silent and gentle end, Jimin drifted away into his sleep.

If only he had known that the night was far from over, another storm heading his way.

Chapter End Notes
Sorry to leave you on kind of a cliffhanger... :( I'll try to update as soon as I can! ^^

Finally some Namjin! ^^
Hoseok and Tae are finally together, yaay :)

I know you all want to know more about Seoyun and you definitely will! There will be answers to your questions, I just don't want to give away everything just yet, so it might take a while to be revealed in the story! ^^ I hope you can understand and forgive me for that <3

What do you think will happen next? What storm could be coming now? ^^

See you in the next chapter <3
There was softness against Jimin's head. The fabric beneath his cheek appeared to be a pillow or something similar. However, what was felt even more by the orange haired boy was the pain in his head, the alcohol that was still running through his body.

“Mhm” Jimin grumbled, eyes fluttering open.

It took a moment for the smaller boy to realise where he was. It took even longer for him to realise what had happened before he got here.

Jimin was in his own apartment. In his own living room. On his own sofa. The lights were dimmed, the main source of light coming from his kitchen that was connected to the living room.

Suddenly, there was the sound of water running. The shorter male blinked, making out a figure standing in his kitchen and filling a glass with water at his sink. Jimin blinked again, making sure that he wasn't imagining the person in his apartment.

As the person turned around, Jimin's heart almost stopped.

Jungkook.

Of course, it was. He had been the last person Jimin had seen before he fell asleep in Jungkook's car.

“Hey, you're awake” The black haired boy noted as he approached Jimin. Jungkook was pressing something against his face while carrying a glass of water with his other hand. It appeared to be a bag of something small maybe. Jimin wasn't entirely sure as his vision was a little messed up and the light was dimmed at the moment.

“Y-Yes” Jimin replied, voice a little hoarse as he sat up.
Jungkook smiled faintly as he took a seat on the sofa next to Jimin, handing him the water as he pressed the small bag in his hand against his upper lip.

“I hope it's okay that I'm using this. I didn't know what else to use and I found this bag of peas in your freezer.” The taller boy uttered, Jimin taking a sip of water that felt refreshing against his dry throat.

It was in that moment when Jimin remembered what had happened. They had been at a club and a boy had made Jimin uncomfortable, having caused Jungkook to step in and literally beat the hell out of the other guy. It had been a rather frightening moment, if Jimin was completely honest.

Placing the glass down on the table, Jimin frowned. The smaller boy observed Jungkook, eyes roaming over his face as he wet his lip. Without thinking about it much, the orange haired one got up on his knees and moved closer to Jungkook, straddling his lap.

“I'm sorry” He whispered as he placed his hand over Jungkook's that was still pressing the bag of peas against his face. Jimin brushed Jungkook's hand away gently, having a better look at the bruises on his face. Seriously, Jimin wanted to cry when he saw them, “He hurt you a lot, didn't he?” The shorter male asked, voice just above a whisper as he felt tears swell up in his eyes. It hurt him to the core to know that Jungkook was in pain because of him, just because he had wanted to protect the smaller boy.

“No, Jimin-ah, hey, it's okay. It will heal, don't worry. It's just a little bruised, but it will be fine.” Jungkook assured, voice soft as he lifted his hand and placed it against Jimin's cheek, caressing the skin gently. The orange haired one couldn't help but nuzzle against the soft touch, having missed it so much.

“Thank you for protecting me” Jimin uttered as he stared at Jungkook with big eyes, lifting his hand almost subconsciously as he traced his fingertips over Jungkook's bruises as softly as he could. Oddly enough, there was something so fascinating about seeing these bruises on his skin. Weren't they evidence of how... of how Jungkook cared about him? Jimin almost wanted to shake his head at the thought. He would have done that for everyone, wouldn't he? Jungkook was a decent person and respecting others seemed to be important to him. It wasn't far-fetched to think that Jungkook would do this for literally anyone else, too. Yet, the smaller boy wanted to believe that Jungkook cared, wanted to believe that he was even the slightest bit important to him, “I wish I could have protected you, too”

There was a faint smile on Jungkook's face as the black haired boy gripped Jimin's wrist, pressing a soft kiss against his knuckles, “I saw how you stood up for me, putting yourself right in the middle of us. You were ready to take that hit for me, little one. I...” He paused, seemingly thinking over his words. There was emotion flashing in Jungkook's eyes, but it appeared that he didn't know how to say what he tried to say, or maybe he didn't want to say it. Jimin wasn't entirely sure, “You're brave, Jimin-ah, and I know that you wanted to protect me, but I wouldn't be able to live with the thought of you getting hurt from something that was supposed to hurt me. I don't... I don't want to see you hurt, little one”

Jimin's heart fluttered at the pet name. Oh, how much he had missed that, too. The smaller boy smiled, averting his gaze as he felt his cheeks heat up. He took the bag of peas out of Jungkook's hand and pressed it against his cheek, the younger boy hissing at the touch.

The shorter male couldn't stop thinking about how Jungkook risked his own health for him, how he stood up for Jimin when the smaller boy couldn't, how he followed Jimin after everything that went down instead of... instead of Seoyun.

Jimin's heart clenched at the thought of her. There was something so painful happening in his chest when he saw her or thought of her. Clearly, that couldn't be healthy.

The taller boy had his eyes fixated on Jimin, not taking them away for even one second. It was almost as if he was mesmerised by the smaller boy.

“You looked pretty tonight” Jungkook stated, voice quiet as he brushed Jimin's hair out of his face. The orange haired boy dropped his hand, blush deepening as he smiled faintly, “Well, you always do”

“T-Thank you” He whispered, looking back and forth between Jungkook's eyes to search for anything that would give away that he wasn't genuine, that he was joking, yet there was only sincerity in his gorgeous brown orbs.

“Yet, others in that club thought so, too” The black haired boy muttered, hands grabbing Jimin's hips as he pulled him a little closer, “I didn't like how those guys were dancing that close to you” Jungkook whispered in his ear, causing a shiver to run down the smaller boy's back. Jimin gulped, letting out a shaky breath, “Did any of them touch you?”

The taller boy hummed as he leaned back again, hands leaving Jimin's hips. Suddenly, Jimin felt cold without Jungkook's hands touching him, without the younger one being in his close proximity.

Seoyun. What about Seoyun?, Jimin thought. Jimin couldn't help but think about how she had been close to Jungkook the whole night, too. The shorter male hadn't liked that either. However, Jungkook was here with him now, not with Seoyun. With him. Only with him.

They only stared into each other's eyes, not saying anything for a while.

In a moment of courage, Jimin leaned forward and pressed his lips against Jungkook's, the younger boy hissing at the slight pain as Jimin brushed over the bruise on his upper lip.

The black haired boy grabbed his waist, squeezing tightly, yet not kissing back. Jimin pulled away, just to press another open-mouthed kiss against his lips, wrapping his arms around Jungkook's neck and rocking his hips forward.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook breathed out, turning his head to the side. The smaller boy trailed kisses down his neck, soft, as if they would heal Jungkook from the pain he was feeling.

“Touch me” Jimin whispered, lifting his head to stare at Jungkook. The younger one looked back and forth between his eyes, not saying anything though. The shorter male simply attached their lips in another kiss, “Please” He whimpered, rocking his hips forward.

“Jimin-ah, we shouldn't-”

“Why?” The orange haired one murmured, catching Jungkook's bottom lip between his own lips and pulling on it slightly. The taller boy let out a breath, his grip on Jimin's waist getting firmer as said boy moved his hips down hard against his crotch area. Jimin could feel Jungkook's penis twitch beneath his body, a groan escaping the man.
“Baby, you're drunk, I'm not going to touch you tonight. You don't know what you want”

Jimin looked at him, shaking his head as he got up from his lap. The older one zipped down his pants, Jungkook almost mesmerised by his movement as Jimin tugged down his pants. “Jimin-ah, don't” The smaller boy almost stumbled over his own two feet as he got out of his pants, yet thankfully Jungkook was there to help him keep his balance by grasping his hips gently and pulling him back on his lap.

“Don't do this, Jimin-ah, you don't know what you want right now” The younger one whispered and shook his head, brushing Jimin's hair out of his face.

“I do. I want you, Jungkook-ah” The shorter male assured, rocking his hips against Jungkook while leaving soft kisses over his neck.

“Shit, Jimin-ah, no, stop, you're making this difficult” Jungkook groaned as he tried to halt Jimin's movement, the older one yet too persistent and continuing to move on top of him. Jimin could feel Jungkook's penis harden beneath him, wanted nothing more than for the black haired one to touch him right now.

“Then just stop thinking, Jungkook-ah. You were the one telling me to feel instead of thinking, weren't you? Just feel, Kook-ah” Jimin whispered against his lips as he pressed another kiss on them.

“I can't, Jimin-ah. I won't be able to let you go, if I touch you tonight” The taller boy whispered, voice so quiet that Jimin barely heard him. He did, however, but Jimin's drunk mind didn't comprehend his words, even though it should have, even though it would have eased him into what was coming.

“Please, fuck me, Kook-ah”

Jungkook cursed, halting as he swallowed hard. This was new. Sober Jimin never cursed, didn't use words like this at all. It was just another piece of evidence that underlined Jungkook's statement about Jimin being drunk and not entirely knowing what he wanted right now. The smaller boy clearly didn't feel like himself right now. There was no way Jungkook was going to fuck him tonight. Frankly, Jungkook wouldn't be able to look at himself in the mirror, if he did that.

“No, baby, stop.”

“Isn't this what we do? We just fuck, right?” Jimin muttered, voice sounding almost vulnerable, “That's all we do, so fuck me”

“Stop, Jimin-ah, what are you saying?” Jungkook stilled his hips, voice stern as he looked into Jimin's eyes. However, the smaller boy averted his gaze and moved away from him, scooting over to the side of the sofa and pulling his legs up to his chest.

“Jimin-ah-”

“Am I not attractive enough? Are you disgusted by me? Why won't you touch me outside of the lesson? Am I just a project of yours?”

“What?” The black haired boy asked, voice loud and shocked, “Why would you say that? Of course, you're attractive. How could you even think that I'm disgusted by you?”

“Then why won't you have sex with me? That's what we do, right? We just fuck and leave. Isn't that why you're here?” Jimin yelled, voice giving away that he was hurt. The taller boy was looking at him in utter shock, completely flabergasted by Jimin's sudden behaviour. However, he knew- or rather he... he hoped that it was due to the alcohol in his system.

“No, of course not. I wanted to bring you home, Jimin-ah. I wanted to make sure that you are okay. What do you even mean?” Jungkook answered, frowning as he studied Jimin's face. He was trying to make sense of situation, but he didn't understand what was going on inside of Jimin's mind.

“You treat me like I'm not there! You ignore me when the others are around. We literally only have sex. That's the only time I seem to exist for you!” The smaller boy revealed, voice shaking, but loud.

“That's what you wanted though. You don't want anyone to know about us fucking and I respected that. That's why I distance myself.” The black haired one answered, pointing at Jimin.

“I didn't mean for you to treat me like literal air! I just wanted us to be careful around the others!”

“Jimin-ah, what did you expect? I told you that we would fuck only. You knew that from the beginning. I just wanted to help you. You didn't want the others to know and I respected that so I acted accordingly. What else do you want?”

Jimin got up from the sofa, almost stumbling again, but holding out his arms as he tried to keep his balance. Jungkook's body twitched up, indicating that he had wanted to help Jimin, yet that's not what Jimin wanted right now.

“I don't know what I expected! I surely didn't want you to ignore me though!” The smaller boy yelled back.

“Well, I'm not able to read your fucking mind. You don't even know what you want!”

“Oh, and what about you!” Jimin shouted, leaning forward as he threw his hands in the air, “One minute you tell me that you don't want other boys to touch me and the next you say that you don't want to kiss me, so what do you want!?”

Silence settled between them, both just staring at each other, Jimin's chest rising and falling quickly, breathing heavily while the other boy tried to keep his composure and stay calm. The black haired boy knew that Jimin didn't mean what he said... right? It was only the alcohol talking... wasn't it?

“I don't know, Jimin-ah” Jungkook finally answered, voice just above a whisper, “I don't know what I want, but I know that I didn't want to see you leave that day and I know that I don't want to see you hurt either.”

Clenching his jaw, the orange haired one picked up the bag of peas and threw them right at Jungkook with force, “See! That's what I mean! You don't even know what you want either!”

Jimin picked up a box of tissues and threw it at Jungkook as well, the taller boy dodging that, too, “One minute you kiss me and the next you don't talk to me and then you get mad at other people for kissing me or getting close to me and I just-” The shorter male had thrown several other objects at Jungkook while shouting, including a pillow, his own pants and the remote control.

“Make me!” Jimin challenged as he picked up another pillow.
They stared at each other for a moment, both angry, both of their chests falling and rising quickly.

Then, Jungkook walked up to him with fast steps, picking him up with ease and pushing him against the wall. Without a word, he attached their lips in a kiss, Jimin's breath hitching in his throat as he placed his hand in the back of Jungkook's neck, kissing right back.

Their lips moved against each other hungrily, tongues meeting in the middle and licking over one another. The black haired one was holding him up with his strong arms, hands gripping Jimin's upper thighs as he pressed the smaller boy against the wall.

“Kook-ah” Jimin whimpered as said boy rocked his hips forward against Jimin, creating friction against both of their penises, “Off, off” He whined as he tugged on Jungkook's shirt.

“Go ahead” The taller boy whispered against his lips as he connected their lips in another kiss. Jimin started buttoning down Jungkook's shirt while the other one kept thrusting his hips forward against Jimin's, causing said boy to moan in between their kisses.

As Jimin was halfway done with buttoning down Jungkook's shirt, one sleeve falling down his shoulder already and exposing parts of his broad upper chest, the younger one broke away from the kiss, setting Jimin back down on his feet as he turned away.

“We can't keep doing this. I won't be able to... We can't keep doing this.” Jungkook decided, catching his breath as he wiped his hand over his face, shaking his head. There was silence for a moment before he added, “Especially not tonight when you are drunk. You don't know what you want right now, Jimin-ah. You were angry at me just hours ago. You need reassurance right now, that's why you want me to fuck you. I told you that using sex to fix your problems isn't going to work out long-term.”

Frowning, Jimin shook his head as he walked around Jungkook in order to lock eyes with him again, “No, I just want to have sex with you. Not because... not because of reassurance or anything like that” The shorter male argued. Yet, was he trying to convince Jungkook or himself? Did he actually just want sex right now because he needed reassurance? Did he want Jungkook to have sex with him because he had ignored him the whole day and Jimin needed his attention? Was that really the reason?

The older one wasn't sure. His head was spinning, the voices inside of his head having a discussion about why he behaved the way he did. Frankly, Jimin wanted Jungkook to touch him, but simply because he liked being touched by him, right? To be fair, he always longed for that.

“Why would you assume that?” Jimin wanted to know, pulling his brows together as he watched Jungkook button up his shirt.

Jungkook stared at him intently, studying his face, “Jimin-ah, if you were sober right now, do you actually think you would want me to touch you? Do you actually think you would have asked me to fuck you?” The younger one argued, yet Jimin saw emotion flashing in his eyes and he felt like there was something else causing his change in behaviour. There was something he wasn't fully telling Jimin.

And Jimin just knew that it was Seoyun. Jimin didn't want his assumption to be right, but there was something telling him that he was. Seoyun was the reason Jungkook was rejecting him, was the reason Jungkook was behaving differently. However, Jimin simply couldn't help it and banished the thought from his mind, didn't want to think about her at all right now.

Blinking, Jimin gulped. Yes, his brain screamed at him, or was that his heart maybe? To be fair, Jimin was too drunk to figure that out right now. However, he knew that deep down, he always longed for Jungkook's touch. Genuinely, he wanted Jungkook to touch him every day.

“I...”

The taller boy smiled faintly and lifted his hand, sweeping Jimin's strands of hair back from his sweaty forehead. The more Jimin stared at him with big eyes, the bigger the anger inside of him grew. Seriously, Jimin didn't know why he was getting angry all of a sudden, but he was. Perhaps it was just a defense mechanism caused by how hurt and vulnerable he felt in the moment.

“Why do you keep doing this? One minute you kiss me and the next you push me away! Make up your mind, it's confusing and honestly, I can't keep doing this!” Jimin then yelled, pushing against Jungkook's chest. It was frustrating, if Jimin was being honest. The black haired boy barely moved at the touch, just stared at the shorter male with an open mouth.

“I know. I'm sorry, Jimin-ah-”

“You're not sorry! You wouldn't keep doing it if you were! What aren't you telling me?” The orange haired one interrupted him, voice breaking, giving away that there was a lump in his throat. He was at the verge of tears. It was a little embarrassing, but Jimin didn't have his emotions under control right now, “You treat me like an object, Jungkook-ah, like I don't have feelings at all!”

“That's not true, Jimin-ah, I would never. I... We decided to have sex and that's it. I was basically your teacher and... and that's that. Nothing else was-” He paused, trying to look for the right words, but he couldn't find them. Ultimately, he didn't finish his sentence and just kept his gaze fixated on Jimin.

Jimin felt his heart clench. Was. Jungkook said he was his teacher. Another confirmation of Jimin's assumption. The shorter male shook his head at the thought, not wanting to comprehend the words at this moment, “What do you mean?” He found himself whisper.

“I mean that I never treated you like an object, but respect you as a human being. I never did anything degrade. I acted upon your wish of not letting the others find out about us. I did all of that for you, Jimin-ah.” The black haired boy responded, frowning as he looked back and forth between Jimin's eyes.

“Then why do you kiss me and push me away? Why do you tell me that you don't want others to touch me, yet you don't want to touch me either? I just don't get it!” Jimin wanted to know, voice becoming louder with each word, but also shaking.

Silence.

Jimin's mind was racing. Jungkook's behaviour was confusing and tiring, but so was his own, wasn't it? Frankly, Jimin was just exhausted. Exhausted by the situation. Exhausted by how Jungkook was treating him. Exhausted by how his behaviour influenced and affected Jimin's own mood and emotions. Everything about this was giving him a headache, made him want to cry. To be fair, that might just be due to the alcohol though. Clearly, Jimin had no idea what to feel and how to act at this point. His mind didn't function right any longer. The combination of the current situation with Jungkook and the alcohol was too much for the smaller boy.

Honestly, he couldn't take any more of this.

“Stop playing your twisted games with me! Just make up your damn mind, I can't-” Jimin sniffed, knees finally giving in as he fell to the ground. The orange haired one started crying, clasping his hands in front of his face as the tears streamed down his face.

“Hey” Jungkook whispered as he kneeled down next to him, “Little one, please, don't cry. You know I can't see you cry” He uttered against his ear as he pulled Jimin into a hug. The smaller boy was too tired to push him away. No, that as a lie. The warm embrace by Jungkook was actually comforting. Oddly enough, Jimin was ashamed by that, “You're this emotional because of the alcohol. It's messing with your body and your mind” He added as he caressed Jimin’s back gently.

It was an emotional rollercoaster indeed. They have made out, pushed each other away, screamed at each other, made out again, screamed at each other some more and now they were hugging while Jimin was crying. Honestly, this night was too much for Jimin. He couldn't handle any more and just wanted it to end so his poor heart could finally rest.

Jimin really wanted to believe Jungkook. Wanted to believe that all of this, everything he felt right now, everything that was happening right now, was due to the alcohol. He wanted to believe that tomorrow, all of this would be different. All of this would be fine again.

Yet, things really don't work like that, do they?

Without another word, Jungkook picked up the smaller boy, Jimin wrapping his arms around Jungkook’s neck as the taller boy carried him somewhere. Jimin didn't check, but he was pretty certain that they were walking towards his bedroom.

Jungkook didn't even turn the lights on in the room, but walked straight towards Jimin's bed and placed the shorter male down on the soft bedsheets.

Jimin was only staring up at him, several small tears still streaming down his face.

“This isn't healthy any longer. I never meant to hurt you. We can't keep doing this any more.” The taller boy uttered, voice quiet and Jimin could swear that there had been sadness in his eyes for a moment, yet he must have imagined that.

At this point, Jimin knew. Jimin just knew that when Jungkook left today, it was going to be over. He was going to leave and they would never touch each other again. The older one knew it from the moment Jungkook pushed him away, knew it when he looked into his eyes after the taller boy had told him that he would let him go. Jungkook was going to tell him that whatever they had, it was over.

The smaller boy didn't want him to say it though, didn't want him to actually say that they would have to end the thing between them, whatever it was. Frankly, he wouldn't be able to bear it tonight. Jimin simply didn't want this to be real. He wished that as unreal as all of this felt, that it was actually a dream – a nightmare to be exact. Evidently, Jimin didn't want this nightmare to become a reality. So maybe if he just pretended that everything was alright, just for tonight, maybe he could live this dream for just one more night.

Jungkook lifted his hand, wiping away Jimin’s tears before he caressed his cheek gently, “You should sleep. It's been a long and tiring day.”

“Stay” The smaller boy whispered almost subconsciously, hadn't intended to do so, yet his heart or rather his body had reacted before he had been able to stop it, “Please, just until I... until I fall asleep.”

The black haired boy hesitated, but gave a small nod eventually. Jimin scooted over a bit, making room for Jungkook who laid down on the bed next to him, some distance between them. Both of the boys were lying on their sides, staring at each other. They were barely able to make out each other's faces, the dim light from the hallway being the only source of light in the room.

Silence settled between them as they studied each other's features. It was almost as if they were trying to take a mental picture of each other, wishing to save the sight of being this close to each other in their minds.

“How did I... How did I even get here?” Jimin wanted to know eventually, having wondered about that the moment he woke up on his sofa. Jimin had never shared his address with Jungkook.

“Taehyung hyung told me your address so I could drive you home. You fell asleep in the car so I carried you upstairs”

“Oh” The orange haired boy murmured, cheeks heating up as he thought of Jungkook carrying him upstairs. Hopefully, that hadn't been too difficult, “Thank you”

A small smile appeared on Jungkook's face as he lifted his hand, brushing it through Jimin's soft hair. Jimin's eyes fluttered shut at the touch, almost forgetting about what had went on just minutes ago. Maybe if he tried really hard, he could succeed in pretending that this moment right now was lasting, was forever, that he wouldn't wake up tomorrow without Jungkook ever touching him again.

“I'm sorry for snapping at you, Jungkook-ah”

Almost unconsciously, the shorter male scooted closer to Jungkook, closing the distance between them and hiding his face in Jungkook's chest, the familiar scent filling Jimin's nostrils, comforting him.

The black haired boy hesitated, but hummed as he wrapped his arm around Jimin, pulling him impossibly closer. It felt oddly soothing, oddly safe in his warm embrace. The shorter boy's eyes fluttered shut, heartbeat calming down and finding a steady pace again. Jimin wanted to believe that their hearts were beating to the same beat, was able to feel Jungkook's heartbeat against his body, but maybe that was just his desire.

They remained like this for quite some time, just holding each other, trying to forget about what had previously happened and just staying in this moment as if everything was okay, even if it wasn't.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook broke the silence, voice quiet and soft as he pulled away slightly, “May I kiss you?”

There it was again. Jungkook couldn't make up his mind, was playing a game of push and pull, wasn't he? At least that's how Jimin felt at this point. The black haired boy didn't seem to know what he wanted, yet did Jimin? Frankly, he shouldn't fall for it again and allow Jungkook to kiss him, but his heart was too weak and when he saw something that Jimin made out to be desperation in Jungkook's eyes – or perhaps he just wanted it to be - he found himself nodding before he could stop himself.

The taller boy leaned closer, his lips lingering above Jimin's, barely brushing his, but the touch was already sending sparks through Jimin's body. The orange haired boy let out a soft breath, tugging on Jungkook's shirt which caused the other one to smile against Jimin's skin. Finally, he pressed his soft lips on Jimin's, their mouths moving against each other slowly and gently. There was no hunger like earlier, no, there was no urgency either. It was pure and passionate and nothing like their making out sessions earlier. This had a different meaning, one both boys were too oblivious to see.

The kiss ended fairly quickly, leaving Jimin wishing that it lasted longer. Then, Jungkook placed a small kiss against Jimin's forehead, said boy's eyes fluttering shut at the soft touch.

They pulled away, Jimin lifting his hand and placing it against Jungkook's cheek, tracing his skin with his fingertips as softly as he could. His eyes were fixated on Jungkook's handsome face, scanning over his beautiful features – his soft lips that Jimin liked to kiss, his gorgeous brown orbs, his defined jawline – everything about him was beautiful.

It was in that moment when Jimin finally realised. Frankly, maybe he had known it before, but had just been too stubborn to realise, too oblivious to connect the signs in his heart. Perhaps his heart had tried to protect him from this emotion, from a situation like this. Maybe Jimin just hadn't noticed it sooner because he had never experienced an emotion like this. Whatever reason had caused him to be blind to this, it didn't matter because he knew now.

It was as if he had an epiphany.

Maybe it was the alcohol in his system, messing with his mind a little, that was finally throwing down these walls that Jimin had tried to build around his heart and allowing him to see what was behind them after all.

Jimin liked Jungkook more than just a person he was having sex with.

More than just a friend.

The first thing the shorter male thought about when Jungkook appeared in his mind wasn't having sex with him, but his smile, the way his eyes lit up when he looked at Jimin, the way he laughed, the way he held Jimin when they cuddled, the way he comforted him.

Jimin liked the black haired boy in a way where he wanted to spend every day with him, where he wanted to be held by him through the night, where he wanted to fall asleep next to him and wake up with him by his side the next morning, where he wanted to see him smile and where he wanted to laugh with Jungkook.

The smaller boy wanted to be with him because he was charming and funny and gorgeous and kind and protective and... and so many more things. He wanted to be with him because he was illuminating emotions and layers of Jimin that he had never felt or known of before.

Jimin wanted to be with Jungkook because he gave him something no one else ever did.

It hurt all the more, staring into his eyes and knowing that Jungkook didn't feel the same, hurt all the more, knowing that there was someone else that was all that for him already.

Jungkook halted, his hand on Jimin's back suddenly stilling.

“I... like you, too” The taller boy responded, frowning as he looked back and forth between Jimin's eyes.

“No, I like you... I like like you. Not in a way you like a friend, but in a way you like someone where you want to give them the whole world and in a way you want to be together with them... all the time... in a... in a romantic way”

Jimin's heartbeat quickened, scared of what Jungkook was going to say, yet somehow relieved because he finally understood what those emotions in him had meant, what they had implied. Jimin finally understood why it had hurt to see Jungkook with someone else, why he had longed for his touch shortly after leaving him every single time, why Jungkook was the first thing he thought about in the morning and the last thing he saw before he fell asleep. It all made sense now.

“Oh” Jungkook breathed, clearing his throat, “No, you don't, Jimin-ssi. You just say that because you're drunk”

Reminiscing about every time he had spend with Jungkook, the smaller boy felt stupid for being this oblivious this whole time. It had been right in front of him, the signs had been there all along, but Jimin just hadn't been able to figure them out. Perhaps he had simply tried to protect himself by pushing away these thoughts instead of embracing them. However, not anymore. Jimin finally knew that what he felt was genuine, that it was real.

“No, I'm just able to say it now because I'm drunk. I never had the courage before, I probably never would if it wasn't for the alcohol. I'm not saying this because I'm drunk, but because I mean it. I guess I knew it all along, but I was never ready to admit it to myself because I have never felt like this before”

Jungkook gulped as he wet his lips, eyes looking back and forth between Jimin's, emotion flashing in them.

“I... Jimin-ah, no you don't actually like me. You like the idea of me. You think that you like me because I'm the first person who ever touched you, made you feel comfortable with something you were scared of. I was your first in many things and that makes your brain believe that you like me, when you actually don't.” Jungkook tried to reason. Why was he trying to make Jimin believe that what he felt wasn't real?

“No, I... I genuinely like you, Jungkook-ah” Jimin assured, voice soft but serious. The smaller boy finally realised what these feelings meant and there was no way that this wasn't right. His emotions deserved to be told.

The black haired boy rolled onto his back, staring up at the ceiling, “Why did you tell me this?” Jungkook asked, voice a little stern, hinting at him being angry.

“Because I wanted you to know” The shorter male replied, shrugging slightly. His head was still spinning, throat and head still hurting, but his heart was screaming at him, was screaming at him to make Jungkook understand how he felt. Frankly, Jimin didn't know why he was so determined to make Jungkook understand. Would it actually change anything? Yet, it didn't matter. Now that Jimin knew, he couldn't live another second with Jungkook not knowing about his feelings for him.

“I didn't want to know, Jimin-ah, this is... I tried to prevent this. “ Jungkook stated harshly, the words causing Jimin's chest to sting. He wasn't looking at Jimin any longer, his touch had left Jimin a while ago. It felt cold, so cold.

“I can't control my feelings. I didn't plan for this to happen either when we started doing... what we did. What can I do about it?” Jimin whispered, sitting up.

“I don't do relationships, Jimin-ah” The black haired boy snapped, glaring at Jimin for a moment before he looked back up at the ceiling.

Jimin's heart made a weird jump, then started beating incredibly faster.

Did that imply... did that mean that he felt the same, but just couldn't act upon it?

“What does that mean?” The smaller boy whispered.

“I don't date, Jimin-ah. I just... I have sex, that's it.” Jungkook answered with anger in his voice. Frankly, Jimin didn't understand why he was getting this angry. What was so wrong about Jimin sharing his feelings with him?

“What's Seoyun then?” Jimin wanted to know. If Jungkook didn't do relationships, didn't date then what was Seoyun to him? Clearly, she wasn't just another fling considering how she lived with him.

“Well, you seem to want to end whatever we have anyway so why can't I know about her at least now?” Did Jimin really had no right to know? Obviously, Jungkook didn't owe him an answer or any justification. They weren't dating, Jimin knew that. However, Jimin had repeatedly asked him about her and trying to make Jungkook understand that he didn't want to be caught in the middle. To be fair, Jimin was still curious about whether he had been part of something he hadn't want to be.

“I don't want to date h- it's complicated, I told you. I don't want h-... nevermind”

Silence.

“Do you feel the same about me?” Jimin found himself wonder, voice just above a whisper as he stared at Jungkook with big eyes.

Silence.

“Do you?”

“Does it matter? We won't ever be together, Jimin-ah.” The black haired boy answered, voice loud and harsh.

“Why?” Jimin asked, hating himself for how his voice sounded like a whine. Seriously, Jimin didn't want to seem too vulnerable or hurt, yet that's exactly what he was feeling right now. He had never felt these emotions before, that feeling that made his heart flutter. For him to share this with Jungkook was a big step for him and it just hurt to know that... that he might not feel the same.

“Because... stop, Jimin-ah, we could have just ended it without you telling me this. I didn't want to hurt you” Jungkook sighed, shaking his head as he sat up as well. Their bodies were turned away from one another, even if they were looking at each other.

“What about you? How do you feel? Why are you ending this? Because of Seoyun? Because we broke some stupid rules? Who cares about them?” Jimin wanted to know, frowning as he lifted his hands.

“The rules were there for a reason. To prevent... this” The younger boy replied, pulling his brows together. There was an emotion in Jungkook's eyes, one Jimin wished he could define, yet he couldn't.

“It's not my fault that you are falling for me” Jungkook snapped, causing Jimin to widen his eyes.

Ouch.

Then, silence settled between them.

Thoughts were running through their heads, hearts beating fast, chests rising and falling quickly, breathing uneven. They were trying to organise their thoughts, make sense of the chaos that was going on inside of them, but it was so difficult.

“Do you like me, Kook-ah?” Jimin whispered yet again. He simply needed to know. He needed to know for his own good, even if there was no chance for them to ever be together. Honestly, Jimin wasn't entirely sure if it might be better to not know. Wouldn't it hurt more to know that Jungkook didn't like him in that way at all? Yet, wouldn't it hurt even more to know that Jungkook did feel the same, but that there was always going to be something in the way – whatever it was that Jungkook wasn't telling him about.

They were only staring at each other, not even blinking.

“I want to know, please” Jimin begged, voice sounding desperate. Honestly, Jimin was going to be hurt either way, but his heart needed to know.

“I won't date you, so-” The taller boy stated again.

Silence. Jimin could feel his heart pound against his chest hard, was able to essentially hear his heartbeat in his ears. It was so quiet that his own body was making the loudest noise to him. It felt like an eternity before there was finally an answer.

“No, Jimin-ah, I don't like you like that. We fucked, that's it” Jungkook answered, voice quiet, but firm.

The smaller boy looked back and forth between his eyes, saw emotion flash inside of them and Jimin wished that there was a sign that would hint at Jungkook lying, yet there wasn't anything that he could find.

It took a moment for Jimin to comprehend his words, took a long while for him to process what Jungkook had said. Then, Jungkook's voice was ringing in his ears, haunting him in his mind.

Jimin turned around as he felt his heart break. Honestly, he should have expected this, but his stupid heart hadn't been able to stop itself from hoping, hoping for a slight chance that Jungkook might feel the same.

Now, Jimin regretted having asked him. It did hurt a lot more to know that he didn't feel the same. Oh, how much his heart was hurting. It was clenching, stinging so badly inside of his chest. It was something he had never felt before and honestly, something he never wanted to experience.
The smaller boy felt tears swell up in his eyes, bottom lip trembling as he tried to hold himself together, tried to prevent himself from breaking down yet again and crying in front of Jungkook.

“Jimin-ah” The younger boy whispered, a soft hand touching Jimin's shoulder and it was almost as if the touch was burning his skin, was hurting him, too.

“It's okay” Jimin assured, voice breaking and indicating that no, nothing was okay. The orange haired one brushed Jungkook's hand off his shoulder as he felt tears roll down his cheeks.

“Jungkook-ah, it's okay. I didn't expect you to feel the same” Jimin interrupted, sniffing as he wiped the back of his hands over his cheeks. It was his own fault. Jimin had wanted to know. Jimin had known that the chance of Jungkook liking him back was very slim, yet he hadn't been able to prevent himself from wanting to know.

Squeezing his eyes shut, Jimin tried to forget the last thing that Jungkook had said to him that had literally broken his heart, but it was hard. Jungkook's voice was echoing inside of Jimin's head, repeating those words again and again that hurt so much. Clearly, there was no way for Jimin to stop the tears now.

“Leave”

Jimin didn't yell. His voice was just above a whisper. His voice sounded broken and it pulled on Jungkook's heart strings.

“No, I'm not gonna leave you like this” The taller boy argued, shaking his head as he scooted closer to the older boy.

“Leave, Kook-ah” Jimin repeated, voice firmer, but still shaking as more tears rolled down his face. Jimin didn't want him to see him like this, just wanted him to leave because the longer he stayed, the more Jimin had to look at him, the more his heart was hurting.

“No, Jimin-ah, I'm not leaving you all alone like this.” Jungkook protested, voice soft as he wrapped his arms around Jimin. The smaller boy squeezed his eyes shut as he finally broke down, crying and sobbing as he let Jungkook embrace him. His arms were closed tightly around Jimin's delicate body, pulling him impossibly closer and basically shielding him from the rest of the world.

They fell back down on the bed, both lying on their sides while Jimin was crying against his chest.

“Please stop, Jimin-ah, I'm so sorry. I never meant to hurt you” The black haired boy murmured against his ear.

It was Jimin's own fault, wasn't it? Jungkook had told him from the start, had even made these stupid rules – that hadn't actually prevented any of this - but Jimin had still walked right into the trap like a fool.

Jungkook didn't let him go, but was holding him close, caressing his back while the smaller boy cried. Jimin hated himself for how comforting this felt.

Wasn't it ironic? Jimin falling asleep in Jungkook's arms, the place where he felt the most protected, yet also by the person who just broke his heart. The universe really was an odd place, it seemed to enjoy hurting Jimin.

Perhaps, Jimin could pretend that his heart hadn't been shattered into pieces. Maybe, being hugged this close by Jungkook, smelling that comforting scent, could make Jimin believe that everything was okay, could put Jimin's pieces back together – just for tonight.

Yet, deep down, Jimin knew that everything had fallen to ashes. Jungkook wouldn't be there tomorrow morning to put his pieces back together, to fix this – no, he wouldn't be here at all tomorrow morning, leaving Jimin all alone with his broken heart.

It was ironic.

Ironic how Jimin fell asleep, dreaming about the black haired boy with the beautiful brown orbs.

-------

Everything hurt. Everything was cold. That's the first thing Jimin noticed when he woke up. It became even worse when there was the sudden urge to throw up, leaving no room for Jimin to decide whether or not he would try to fall asleep again and sleep some more. No, that decision was taken away from him as he shot up, stumbling out of his bed and hurrying into his bathroom. As if that wasn't enough already, Jimin's head terribly hurt as soon as he got up in such a rush, black dots appearing in front of his eyes and everything starting to spin. The smaller boy had to touch the walls in order to keep his balance and find his way into the restroom where he waddled to the toilet and threw up right away, barely having any time to lift the seat.

As expected, his throat felt sore as Jimin puked into the toilet, felt like it was genuinely burning. As if that wasn't enough, all of his muscles were aching and the orange haired boy just wanted all the pain to go away, just wanted to be asleep again.

It didn't help either when he remembered what had occurred last night. His heart clenched at the thought of Jungkook. Of course, he had actually left without another word.

Once Jimin was done, he flushed the toilet and washed his hands, rinsing his mouth in the process before he waddled back into his bedroom. There was still sleep in his eyes, the shorter male rubbing over them as he scanned his room. The bed was a mess, yet other than that there was nothing left reminding him of Jungkook being here last night. To be honest, a small part in Jimin had hoped that the black haired boy had left something for him, like a note or somethig, yet there was nothing.

Honestly, Jimin wasn't entirely sure if last night had been a dream or reality. The alcohol had messed with his head so much that Jimin wasn't able to differentiate both. However, the pain in Jimin's chest everytime he thought about Jungkook proved that it had been real. Jungkook had rejected him and had ended whatever they had.

Then again, had he? Had he actually told Jimin that they wouldn't see each other like that ever again? Frankly, the taller boy had only mentioned that they should end it for their own good, not that he wanted to or that they were going to, hadn't he?

Yet, Jimin wouldn't be able to spend time with Jungkook in that way, knowing how he had broken his heart. Jimin didn't blame the black haired boy. How could he? Jungkook set those rules from the start and let him know that there was never going to be anything more than sex. The idea had been fine with Jimin, but his heart had made other plans and had decided for Jungkook to take up a big part in there.

The smaller boy waddled into the living room where he saw a figure on his sofa. For a slight moment, his heart skipped a beat, hope blooming inside of him, yet it was crushed a mere second after when the person groaned and lifted it's head.
“Minnie?” Tae grumbled as he rubbed over his sleepy eyes, looking around for his best friend. His gaze landed on Jimin, standing there in the living room with empty eyes and a blank expression, “Hey, Jiminnie”

“Hey” Jimin mumured, voice a little hoarse.

“How are you feeling? My head is killing me. You drank quite a lot yesterday, too, so I'm assuming you feel just the same. Did you sleep well at least? I wasn't entirely sure if I should come here because I was scared you and Jungkook might be fucking or something, but I needed to check on you and Jungkook was actually about to leave when I came here, asking me to look after you. That's cute, isn't it? It was sweet of him to drive you home, too, but oh my god, what the hell happened to his face? Did he get into a fight or something? I really-”

The blond haired boy rambled, sitting up and brushing his hand through his messy hair.

“I'm fine” Jimin interrupted, walking into the kitchen where he grabbed two glasses and filled each one with water. Why did the mere mention of Jungkook's name do that painful thing to his heart? It was horrible. Whatever this was, it was horrible. Jimin didn't like this feeling at all, wished that it would go away.

“Yeah”

“Jungkook seemed kind of sad when he left. Did you two fight?”

The taller boy wanted to know, suddenly right behind Jimin.

The smaller boy halted. Jungkook had been sad? Why had he been sad? He wasn't the one who had confessed his feelings to someone for the first time and had been rejected. Then again, Jungkook had told him that he never intended to hurt him. Obviously, it kind of affected him, too. It was Jimin's own fault, really. He should have ended it sooner. He should have ended it as soon as he realised that Jungkook was evoking feelings in Jimin that he had never felt before.

For some reason, Jimin couldn't stop wondering about Jungkook hiding something from him. Why did he snap at the mention of Seoyun? Why had he told Jimin that he would have to let him go before Jimin even confessed? What did all of this mean? What did Jimin miss?

Then again, did it even matter at this point? Jimin was hurt and whatever they had was over. It was probably for the best not to think about Jungkook any longer and try to get over it. Especially because Jungkook had made it clear that he would never date Jimin to begin with.

“We... had an argument. We won't see each other again, I think”

Jimin took a sip from his water and handed Taehyung the other glass. His best friend only stared at it for a moment before he took it and placed it down on the counter.

“What do you mean, Jimin-ah?”

“Jungkook told me that we should end whatever we have, for our own good. Then, I decided to share my feelings with him and tell him that I like him, but he told me that he didn't feel the same about me. I guess, we won't be seeing each other any more. It's probably what's best anyway”

The orange haired one elaborated, shrugging slightly and a faint smile appearing on his face. It was't genuine, but Jimin was trying to hide the pain, was trying not to cry.

“I knew that you had feelings for him” Tae whispered, causing Jimin to frown.

“That's not helping, Tae”

“Sorry” His best friend quickly apologised, clearing his throat as he shook his head. Then, he pulled Jimin into a tight hug and closed his eyes, “I'm sorry, Jimin-ah, that you have to go through this right now. Heartbreak sucks, believe me, I know how that feels. There is no real cure to it. Only time can really heal it. And ice cream, loads of ice cream. And watching your favourite movies with your best friend”

Jimin smiled faintly as he hugged Taehyung closer.

“When did you realise? Did you lie to me before?” Tae then wanted to know as they pulled apart for a moment.

“I think I knew for a long time, but I tried to push these feelings away because I didn't know what they were and that scared me. I only fully realised and understood last night that what I felt was... well, that I like him a lot. It's more than just a crush, Tae. I like him a lot, really. I know you warned me, he did, too. I know you told me that I should be careful, but I guess I didn't listen. Then again, I can't really control my heart, can I?”

Taehyung smiled sympathetically as he brushed Jimin's hair out of his face, “No, Minnie, you can't control your feelings. It is what it is. You walked into something that was destined to crush because things like this never work out without at least one part falling for the other one. That's just the way it goes, most of the times. It might be better to end it now before you fall even more for him and get even more hurt in the process than you already are.”

“I guess” Jimin murmured, agreeing with what his best friend stated. It really was the right decision to end whatever they had, even if Jimin didn't entirely want to do that, he knew that it was necessary. It would just hurt even more to spend time with Jungkook, knowing how there would never be something between them.

“Did he simply say he didn't feel the same?” The blond boy wanted to know as he took Jimin's hand and pulled him over to the sofa. They both sat down next to each other, crossing their legs as they stared at one another.

“Well, no. At first he didn't want to answer me, but insisted that it didn't matter anyway. I really wanted to know though, but now I kind of regret it because it hurts so much to know that he doesn't feel the same. I... I asked him about Seoyun, too, yet he didn't want to talk about her as always. The thing that keeps bothering me is that he wanted to end it even before I confessed. What's weird is that... that I'm so sure that I saw sadness in his eyes when he said that, almost as if... as if he didn't actually want to end it, but he had to. The only explanation left is that it's because of Seoyun and because they are in a relationship. Yet, he told me they weren't and that he doesn't do relationships at all, so what should I believe? It's like I'm trapped in an endless loop, unanswered questions all around me and I can't seem to be able to find an answer to them. Am I simply too blind to see what's right in front of me? Am I too oblivious? It feels like I'm missing something”

The blond boy narrowed his eyes, pursing his lips as he contemplated over the new information he had just received, “That is indeed quite suspicious. He either is a fucking liar or there is more to it that we don't know about. The annoying thing is that he literally always has a pokerface. You can't read him, like never. He's good at hiding his emotions.”

“Well, I'm going to have to find hyung and then we're going to give Jungkook the beating that we promised in the case of him hurting you”

The smaller boy's eyes widened, “No!” He protested and shook his head, grabbing Taehyung's arm, “Don't do that. It's not his fault for not liking me back. It's my fault for developing these feelings even though he told me that it was just going to be sex. I am hurt, but I am to blame for this pain. It's not his fault”

Was it absurd of Jimin to defend Jungkook? Maybe. Yet to be fair, wasn't Jimin right? It was his own fault. Jungkook wasn't to blame for this. Well, he was the reason for Jimin's pain in a way, but he hadn't asked Jimin to fall for him, no, Jimin had done that all on his own.

“Okay, whatever you want”

Jimin sighed, leaning his head against the sofa while looking at Tae with big eyes, “Is it bad that I can't even really be mad at him? That instead of hating him for making me feel like this all I can think about is his smile and the way he touched me?”

The taller one smiled sympathetically at Jimin as he ruffled through his hair, shaking his head lightly, “No, Minnie, that's not bad. It makes all of this harder for you, but that's a healthy way for you to look at the situation. Instead of hating him, you try to remember the good times. Yet, that is going to make things harder for you to get over him.”

“Is it horrible that all I want to do is cry?”

“No, Minnie. That's a natural reaction. I cried several days during my first heartbreak. It's different for everyone. If you want to cry, just let it all out. We can cry together, hm? I'm going to get us some ice cream and you decide what movie we are going to watch. Something romantic is probably going to trigger your tears, but swooning over some handsome guys to get your mind off Jungkook might not even be such a bad idea” Tae suggested, raising his eyebrows.

Jimin shook his head, smiling faintly as he swatted Tae's arm. The taller boy chuckled as he got up from the sofa and walked over to the kitchen.

This feeling wasn't going to vanish just like that, but maybe Tae would be able to make all of this bearable.

Chapter End Notes

I'm sorry, please don't hate me. :/

Don't worry, it's all going to work out eventually. There will be answers, too, I promise.
I'm sorry, if this slow build annoys some of you, but there is still some stuff I need to reveal, I hope you understand <3

Thank you so much for all of the support and love <3
Don't Stop

Chapter Summary

Jimin receives information about Jungkook that shocks him, but makes him a little sceptical, too. Jimin then tries to focus on practicing, yet the universe likes to mess with him and sends a person he doesn't expect to see there. Days later, the group is brought together again... Trouble seems to be inevitable whenever the friends spend time altogether...

Chapter Notes

Hii :)

Thank you all so much for the encouraging and lovely comments on the last chapter. I felt really down, but you all were so nice and kind to me, supporting me with such lovely words that I felt better immediately. Thank you, I love you <3

This chapter is a little longer again, I hope you'll enjoy it :)

See the end of the chapter for more notes.

Jimin shut the door close behind him, letting out a sigh as he wiped his hand over his sweaty face. It had been another busy day at the dance studio, all of them practicing until they were collapsing. Honestly, it was all very exhausting and tiring, but the choreography was turning out good and they were improving each time. Also, it distracted him from Jungkook and that was just another perk.

The smaller boy had cried quite a lot after that day. Well, to be fair, it had only been three days since Jungkook rejected him, yet Jimin felt like he had barely stopped crying or mourning. Thankfully, Tae had been there to cheer him up and lend him his shoulder to cry on. He had made it all the more bearable, but it still hurt his heart everytime Jimin thought of Jungkook.

Obviously, it wasn't going to stop hurting this simply, no, Tae had been right. The pain wasn't going to vanish just like that. It's going to take some time, but it will heal eventually. What made it easier was that Jimin didn't have to see Jungkook because they didn't work with each other, didn't live close to each other, hence there was no interaction between them at all. The orange haired boy had completely invested himself into dancing and practicing, hadn't seen any of his other friends except Taehyung and Hoseok.

Thinking about it, Jimin wasn't sure whether he was going to see Jungkook at all anymore now. They hadn't texted, nor talked on the phone – which wasn't too out of the ordinary as they hadn't done that much previously before either. Those had only ever involved their little lessons, but those were no longer an issue, were no longer going on.

However, Jimin wouldn't be able to completely banish Jungkook out of his life as he was still part of his group of friends and whenever they were going to hang out, Jungkook would be there, too. There was no doubt about that. Jimin just hoped that he could somehow avoid seeing or talking to Jungkook. At least for some more time. It would simply hurt too much to interact with him at this point.

Dropping his bag next to the door, Jimin took off his shoes and dragged his tired body over to the kitchen, his stomach grumbling and reminding him of his lack of food he had today. Clearly, Jimin wasn't going to cook anything now – he wasn't the best chef to begin with – as he was way too exhausted tonight. Practicing the whole day was really incredibly tiring.

At least he was getting his mind off of everything else and was able to spend time with Hoseok. Fortunately, he was smiling at lot these days – when he wasn't scolding his students for making mistakes. Jimin knew that it was due to Tae's and his relationship. Perhaps his joy was also caused by his dance crew working hard and improving each time. Whatever the reason was, Jimin was happy to see him like this.

The shorter male opened his fridge, scanning the insides with narrowed eyes – as if the options were that huge. He was able to decide between some left over chinese food him and Tae had shared yesterday and some toppings for dry bread. Letting out a sigh, Jimin pulled out the left overs and shut the fridge close. To be honest, Jimin was pretty certain that this would cause him a stomachache, but he couldn't care less right now.

As he walked over to his sofa, his phone rang inside of his pocket, Jimin pulling it out and staring at the display.

A smile appeared on his face when he read the message.

I can confirm that crisps and chokolate dip do NOT go well together. If I don't make it, you know what happened to me. - Dongha Jimin chuckled as he plopped down on the soft cushions, placing the food on the coffee table in order to be able to text Dongha back. His new friend had actually been very helpful, too, when it came to not thinking too much about Jungkook. Dongha was funny and made him laugh during their breaks, was able to cheer him up a lot. They'd went out to eat yesterday again, but today had been too exhausting for both of them, causing them to decide to rather just go home and sleep.

I told you! How could you think that they would taste good together? kekeke – Jimin

Yah, you eat weird stuff, too! Don't get me started on your pickles, those are disgusting – Dongha

The smaller boy laughed out loud, shaking his head.

Pickles aren't weird! A lot of people eat pickles! How can you even compare these to your odd food choices? - Jimin

Mine aren't odd, they are just... special :) - Dongha

They are. People just like different kinds of food. As long as you like them, it's fine. :) - Jimin

Yeah, true. Except for pickles, those are DISGUSTING. How can anyone eat them? - Dongha

Yah, stop disrespecting them! They are really good! Have you ever even tried one? - Jimin

As if I would put that shit into my mouth! No way, thank you! - Dongha

The orange haired one chuckled as she shook his head again.
Alright, calm down, kekeke. They aren't too bad, actually, okay? - Jimin

Yeah, sure... – Dongha

Whatever. I'm going to eat now, see you tomorrow :) - Jimin

The talk about those damn pickles made you hungry, huh? Well, go on and eat that shit then :) - Dongha

Shut up, I'm not even eating pick- anyways. Bye, see you tomorrow, Dongha – Jimin

See you tomorrow, Chim – Dongha

Jimin smiled at the nickname as he put his phone down on the coffee table, reaching for his food instead. Then, he turned the TV on and zapped through the channels, eventually stopping on one showing a documentary about aliens. Well, he couldn't bear to watch another romantic comedy tonight. Those actually did hurt quite a bit because they reminded him of everything Jimin couldn't have with Jungkook. However, for some reason, it had been nice to see other people be happy and in love at least.

Sighing, Jimin lifted the chopsticks holding some of the noodles up to his mouth, chewing the cold food. They temperature caused him to grimace at first, but the taste was actually still good. Shrugging his shoulders, Jimin took another bite.

Suddenly, his door swung open with force, startling the smaller boy and almost causing him to drop his food on the floor. As he jumped up in his seat, he was barely able to keep the grasp around his food, pulling it to his chest as he glanced at the door with big, shocked eyes.

Taehyung stormed inside, shutting the door close as he rushed over to Jimin, carrying something in his hand.

"You won't believe what I just found out" His best friend stated, voice out of breath, but somehow angered.

"Good evening to you, too" Jimin murmured, swallowing the bite down as he set his food on the coffee table. The smaller boy eyed his friend, confused by his rushed and visible pent-up demeanor.

"I'm going to kill him" Tae promised through clenched teeth as he threw something on the table in front of Jimin, "That bastard is going to die"

Furrowing his brows, Jimin glanced at what Tae had just tossed on the table. It was a magazine. A fashion magazine to be exact. Confused, Jimin locked eyes with Tae again who had his arms crossed over his chest, jaw locked as he narrowed his eyes.

"Who is going to die? What are you talking about?"

"Jungkook is in a relationship with Seoyun"

Silence. It was one of those loud ones. One, where your surroundings seem quiet, yet the sounds inside of you are amplified. Jimin's heart stopped, but started pounding hard against his chest a mere second later.

Swallowing, Jimin widened his eyes, something stinging in his chest once he processed the blond boy's words.
“W-What?”

It was a whisper, barely loud enough for Tae to understand, but he did.

“Jungkook is in a relationship with Seoyun” The taller boy repeated as he wet his lips, “It’s... I can’t believe what a fucking asshole he is, he-”

“Tae, wait, hang on. How do you know?” Jimin interrupted. Why would Tae know about this? Where would he get such information from, if not from Jungkook or Seoyun themselves? It was very unlikely for Tae to talk to either of them, “Did you talk to them?”

“No, look at that shit” Tae denied as he pointed at the magazine on the table, causing Jimin to frown yet again.

“What does the magazine have to do with anything?”

“Just look at it” The blond boy sighed as he picked it up, opening the page and revealing... a picture of... Jungkook next to Seoyun. Evidently, that was Jungkook. How could Jimin not recognise the gorgeous man?

Wait, what?

“What?” Jimin uttered, shocked expression on his face as he took a closer look, “Why is he in a freaking magazine?”

Confused, the smaller boy glanced at Taehyung whose eyes were full of shock themself, yet there seemed to be some pity hidden as well. Jimin traced his gaze back down on the magazine, heart stopping once again when he read over the name that was spread on the page.

Jeon Jungkook.

That's when it clicked.

Jeon as in Jeon Entertainment. One of the biggest entertainment companies – if not the biggest – in Korea. One Jimin had dreamed of getting into, but never had the courage to actually apply for.

“This can't be...” Jimin breathed, “No way that's his...”

“He is the son of the CEO of Jeon entertainment. I didn't believe it either, but I looked it up. Jungkook is the heir of that fucking company, Minnie”

Jimin's mind was literally empty. Frankly, the shorter male didn't know if he wanted to cry or laugh at the universe. This was too much for him to fathom or comprehend.

“Don't you know what this means, Jiminie?” Tae asked as he nudged Jimin's arm.

The orange haired boy's expression was blank, eyes almost hollow as he stared at the white wall, trying to make sense of the information he had just received, but for some reason he couldn't.

“He did lie to you. That motherfucker had a girlfriend the whole time he was fucking you!” Tae explained, voice getting louder as he swatted Jimin's arm.

The smaller boy shook his head, snapping out of his trance.

“Do you actually think that? They might have only started dating after we started... having sex” Jimin mumbled, trying to reason, yet he wasn't convincing Taehyung who tilted his head to the side with an unimpressed expression.

“Read the article. It says that they've been reportedly dating for half a year. Half. A. Year. That's even before you two knew each other. Sources even say he's rumoured to propose to her” His best friend revealed, Jimin's mouth opening in shock. There was another pang in his chest, the wound in his heart deepening with each piece of new information. Jimin wasn't sure if he was able to bear any more of this.

“That little shit dated her before he even knew you. He cheated on her and he messed you up. That bastard better hide because I am going to fuck him up” Tae threatened through clenched teeth, pulling his hands into fists as he stared at the magazine.

Jemin looked back and forth between his best friend and the magazine. Taehyung was getting all worked up because of this, yet Jimin... well, Jimin couldn't believe this. All of this felt... strange, felt unreal. How could Jimin not have known of Jungkook being the heir of such a big company? How could he have not known that Jungkook was working at the company that he had always dreamed of applying for?

Yet, something about this felt off... Why would Jungkook blatantly lie into Jimin's face several times about Seoyun, even if he didn't owe him any justification? Why would he offer Jimin sex, if he was going to propose to Seoyun? All of this was odd. Somethind didn't add up.

Did Jungkook not really love her? Then again, why would he want to marry her, if he wasn't. Why would he want to get married at 21, yet claim that he didn't do relationships? Didn't Jungkook express how it was somehow complicated between them? That he didn't want whatever?

Everytime Jimin had seen Jungkook with Seoyun they had argued about something. Was that love? However, arguments were a part of every relationship, right? They proved that the couple cared about each other. Oh, they didn't actually always fight when Jimin saw them, no, they seemed to do that a lot, except for that one time at the club where they had seemed kind of close and touchy...

In a public club. Furrowing his brows, Jimin tilted his head to the side. There was something more to this, Jimin felt it in his heart.

Then again, it didn't matter. Honestly, Jimin should feel mad at Jungkook for lying to him about all of this even when Jimin had given him several opportunities to clear things up, but Jimin wasn't angry. He was hurt, yes, but that's about it. It didn't matter anymore at this point anyway. They were going their separate ways now and Jimin wasn't going to be hurt over this any longer.

At least that's what he tried to tell himself and make himself believe.

Seriously though, Jungkook was gone anyways. They had ended the thing between them so there was no use to get worked up over this now. Jungkook should go and live his fancy life with that beautiful girl. Jimin didn't want to be any part of that.

“Minnie, are you there?” Tae asked, cocking his head to the side as he leaned closer, right up into Jimin's face.

“I'm sorry, Jiminie, that he lied to you like this. Don't blame yourself, though. He was the one who cheated, not you” The blond boy reminded him, brushing his hand through Jimin's hair softly.

No wonder Seoyun had been mad about seeing Jimin in Jungkook's apartment then. The taller boy had been cheating on her with Jimin. Oh, what a terrible situation. Jimin felt his stomach twist, guilt blossoming inside of him. Jimin had been part of something so heart wrenching. However, Jimin hadn't known about this. He would have stopped it way sooner, if he had.

“You're not the one who did wrong, Minnie” Tae whispered as he continued playing with Jimin's hair. It was a comforting gesture, calming Jimin who felt like he was going to have a mental breakdown on the inside.

“I... I don't know what to say or what to think. I'm sorry towards her. I'm sorry for myself, too. It's all just a horrible situation. I never thought that everything would turn out like this. I should be mad, but for some odd reason, I'm not. I'm just tired by all of this. I just... I just want to move on and stop this pain in my heart. It's nice to finally have clarity about the situation, but I don't want to spend any longer on this. It's exhausting.”

“So we're not going to beat him up?”

“No” Jimin confirmed, shaking his head as a smile appeared on his face. Frankly, Jimin must have gone insane, but Taehyung's protective behaviour was adorable, “We're not going to do that. I don't want to waste another minute on him. He lied to me and maybe that is going to make it easier to move on from him now. He's going his way and I will go my own way.”

Maybe this clarity was actually going to benefit Jimin's healing. Now that he knew that Jungkook had lied to him, that's what he could focus on when thinking about the black haired boy. Instead of thinking about their good times, their sweet moments and soft touches, he could focus on the lies that Jungkook had told him. Hopefully, that will make it easier to let the taller boy go.

Jimin never had to deal with heartbreak. It was painful, actually. It wasn't something you could cure with medicine. There wasn't an actual cure for it. The smaller boy wanted to find a healthy way to deal with it, so it wouldn't mess him up too much. He had tried to get out of this situation while looking at the good times with Jungkook, yet frankly, that didn't make letting go of him easier. Hence, if focusing on the lies Jungkook told him was going to help him get rid of this pain quicker, Jimin wouldn't hesitate to take this chance. To be fair, he just wanted his heartache to be over. He wasn't going to interact much with Jungkook anymore either so it didn't particularly matter how Jimin was going to remember him, did it?

Then again, wasn't it going to drive Jimin mad eventually?_reminding himself of the lies Jungkook told him surely wasn't the healthiest way to look at the situation and might leave him being angry and have trust issues yet again.

Letting out a breath, Jimin leaned his head against the sofa, eyes fluttering shut.

Heartbreak was a pain in the ass. It was horrible and Jimin didn't know how to deal with it.

Don't hate him, his heart told him, he might have had his reasons. Jimin shook his head. Why was he still defending him?

“I'm just not going to think about him at all anymore. We're two different people with two very different lives. Whatever he did to me, I don't care anymore. I'm not going to let it ruin me”
Jimin had trust issues before, had been scared of letting other people touch or get intimate with him. Jungkook had been the one to change all of that, yet the trust to him was broken now, too, wasn't it? He was just another man who had lied and tried to manipulate Jimin.

However, that's not actually what Jimin's heart thought. His heart was convinced that there was more to all of this, that there was a reason for all of this that Jimin didn't know about.

Then again, he was probably never going to find out anyway. And maybe, that was for the best.

“I guess that's a good idea. As long as you don't interact with each other. I don't know what I'll do when I see him again”

“Don't do anything. Just ignore him. That's what I'm going to do anyways. I don't want to interact with him anymore. I just want to move on. Maybe, somewhen in the far future, we could try to be friends, but I highly doubt it”

Silence settled between them as they both looked at the TV. Honestly, they weren't paying attention to the documentary, but were rather still caught up in their thoughts.

“Man, he must be so fucking rich, living a damn good life. He can get anything he wants, must feel incredibly good”

Jimin furrowed his brows, conversations between him and Jungkook echoing in his mind. Was that really the case? Jungkook had always seemed tired, fed up with all of these calls. I know how that feels. Weren't that his words when Jimin shared with him how his father had never supported him? What had he meant by that?

Frankly, there was still so much more. There were so many unanswered questions lingering around in Jimin's mind. Yes, he had gotten a step closer, but it seemed as if he had taken two steps back for that. He was trapped a in an endless tunnel, no way out any time near.

“Who knows” Jimin muttered, “As long as he's happy”

Taehyung looked over to him, eyebrows raised up.

Jimin realised that maybe, this new information hadn't actually made it easier for him to get over Jungkook.

No, he still felt the same.

-------

“I swear he said that!” Dongha laughed, raising his hands in defense as Jimin threw his empty water bottle at him.

“Why would your brother say that?” Jimin giggled, shaking his head as Dongha dodged the bottle and shrugged his shoulders.

“Oh, don't even get me started on the shit I have pulled before” The taller one snickered as he lifted his hand as if he was holding a list, clearing his throat.

“Oh, shut up” Jimin giggled as he grabbed his wrist and pulled it down, “We should practice instead of you doing your usual stand-up show”

The smaller boy blushed slightly, smiling shyly as he pushed at Dongha's shoulder, “Get up, big guy, let's keep working”

Suddenly, another figure walked into the practice room, both boys looking up, still chuckling.

However, not any longer.

It was as if all the air was kicked out of Jimin's lungs, leaving him frozen in his place, eyes wide and expression shocked as he stared at the black haired boy in the doorway.

Apparently, he hadn't thought of seeing Jimin either, leaving him shocked by the smaller boy's appearance, too.

Jimin didn't know what to do or what to say. Honestly, he couldn't move. His mind was blank, his heart essentially stopping. It was so odd to see Jungkook here, to see him at all. Jimin had thought that he wouldn't have to see him for quite a while. It had only been six days since they've last seen each other, since that day Jungkook had rejected him.

It was so weird to see him now. Jimin felt helpless.

The bruises on his face were still there. They were faded, but still visible, reminding Jimin of how Jungkook had protected him, yet also of the night he was desperately trying to forget.

Frankly, it had been difficult for Jimin to not contact him any longer. Every day that past, Jimin had been longing for him a little more. Yet, he was still trying to get over him, causing him to suppress this desire. It wasn't healthy to keep thinking about Jungkook, but Jimin couldn't help it.

After finding out about Jungkook’s relationship, Jimin had tried to convince himself that the clarity about that situation would make it an easier process to get over Jungkook, but that wasn't true at all. It was still just as hard because Jimin simply couldn't be mad at Jungkook. That's all because of his stupid heart thinking there is more to the situation that he wasn't able to see, a puzzle piece that was missing. His stupid heart made it all the more difficult to let go of Jungkook, even if letting go was necessary.

The orange haired boy had looked Jungkook up on the internet, just to make sure that all of this was actually true. Of course, it was. Taehyung had revealed how he had looked it up before he shared the information with him. It had been so weird to see Jungkook's face on the internet, see him standing there next to the CEO of this huge, powerful company. It was quite intimidating if Jimin was being honest.

“Who are you? What do you want?” Dongha interrupted Jimin's thoughts as he got closer to the smaller boy, staring at Jungkook with a confused, but polite expression.

Jungkook eyed both of them, observed how Dongha pulled his arm around Jimin's shoulder. Something flashed in Jungkook's eyes, but Jimin couldn't make out what it was, didn't want to do that either.

“I'm looking for Hoseok hyung.” The black haired boy answered, his voice sending a shiver down Jimin's back. It was embarrassing, but Jimin had missed Jungkook's voice, had missed the effect it had on him.

They stared at each other, almost forgetting about everything else. Dongha was looking back and forth between them, confused by what was going on and not entirely understanding why there was some kind of tension in the air between these two.

“Thank you” Jungkook finally uttered, nodding slightly, “I'm Jungkook by the way”

“Dongha” The boy next to him introduced himself, causing Jungkook to still. He arched up his eyebrows, hands clenching into fists – what Dongha didn't catch, yet Jimin saw – as he cocked his head to the side.

“Dongha?” Jungkook echoed, gaze rushing to Jimin.

“Yes, nice to meet you”

The black haired boy kept his eyes fixated on Jimin, studying his features. The intent stare caused Jimin to avert his gaze, slight blush appearing on his face.

“We're actually busy practicing right now, so if you wouldn't mind” Dongha implied as he pointed at Jimin and himself.

“I see” The younger boy stated, eyes still fixed on Jimin, “Well, I'll go upstairs then.”

Jimin let out breath that he hadn't realised he had been holding in. His heart was beating incredibly fast, palms sweaty and mouth dry. The encounter had been so out of the blue and left him completely speechless.

Had this actually just occurred? Was his mind playing games with him? There is no way Jungkook had actually just been standing there, right?

“That was... weird. I felt like you two know each other” Dongha chuckled as he turned his body to Jimin.

The smaller boy was still staring at the door, suddenly feeling all the energy leave his body.

“Oh, you do? Where from?”

Shaking his head, Jimin snapped out of his trance as he looked over to Dongha who was looking at him in a curious manner.

That's when Jimin told him. Everything.

Well, maybe not actually everything. Jimin didn't tell him anything about the offer and the teacher-student kind of relationship that was going on, just that they had a casual thing that ended with Jimin falling for Jungkook and the black haired boy rejected him because he was already taken during all of that time.

“Oh my god” Dongha breathed, eyes wide and mouth agape, “That's... Oh my god”
“I know”

Seeing Jungkook had made his heart flutter, had brought memories back that Jimin was still trying to forget about or at least tried to hide in a box deep inside of his head. The taller boy had looked kind of tired, backs under his eyes giving away that he hadn't slept much or that currently he was very stressed about whatever.

Jemin shook his head. He didn't care. At least he shouldn't care.

“I don't know what to say. I'm honestly speechless” Dongha uttered, shocked expression still plastered on his face.

The orange haired boy nodded, shrugging his shoulders. Frankly, he didn't know what kind of reaction he had expected from Dongha. Jimin didn't even know why he had told him about all of this. Perhaps because talking about this might make healing easier. Maybe because Dongha was good at comforting and cheering him up and that's what Jimin needed right now.

“It's fine. I don't know what to say either. It's weird to see him again. I didn't think I would have to interact with him... that quickly. Well, it was a swift encounter, but it still hurts.”

“He definitely fucked up big time. Cheating on his girlfriend and messing you up is just... you really don't deserve that, Jimin-ah. You're a good person and you're kind and sweet and... and you deserve better than this”

Jemin smiled shyly as Dongha caressed his cheek softly, “Thank you”

“He's stupid for letting you go. You're a win, Jimin-ah, someone you don't treat like trash, but hold close and never let go” Dongha expressed, voice soft and his tone lower than usual.

The smaller boy blushed at the compliment, averting his gaze as he felt Dongha's intent stare on him, “T-Thank you, Dongha”

“It's guys like him who think they can have everyone and just fuck them over that can cause you to develop trust issues and seriously screw you up. I hate guys like that. If you want to fuck someone else, break up with your partner. It's as easy as that”

Jemin nodded slightly, confused by the anger in his heart as Dongha was insulting Jungkook. Clearly, Jemin shouldn't care, but he did. Even now, he didn't want anyone to insult or hurt Jungkook.

Dongha stared at him for a moment longer, but joined him right after.

--------

“I am not going to that dinner thing” Jemin protested, shaking his head as he plumped down on his seat and placed his cup on the table.

“We won't even talk to him” Tae assured, shrugging his shoulders as he sat down across from the smaller boy and put the straw between his lips in order to take a sip from his iced coffee.

“There is no way I don't have to interact with him”

“Jin hyung invited us all. His parents are opening a new hospital. Isn't that great? We have to go and support him” Taehyung reminded him as he cocked his head to the side.
“It is amazing. I love that his parents are doing that. I love that he's supporting them and helping them in whatever they do. Yet, Jungkook and him are very close friends and there is no way he won't show up there.” Jimin argued as he took a sip from his iced Americano. Obviously, Jimin wanted to support his friend. Jin was a kind person and has been nothing but nice to him. Actually, Jimin was considering him a very close friend by now, especially after he and Namjoon had helped him that night at the club.

“He thought of us and invited us to such an important event. Do you even know how fancy that shit is? You might even see some doctors there, huh? You could go and look for something new, get your mind off of Jungkook.” Taehyung grinned as he bit down on his straw, eyes suggestive.

The orange haired boy furrowed his brows, “I don't want anyone else- I don't want- I'm not looking for anything right now. I don't want to jump into anything when I'm not even completely over him now.”

“I get that. I'm just saying, the room is going to be full of sugar daddies” His best friend smirked suggestively.

Taehyung chuckled, shaking his head, “Forget that. I just mean that there might be some cute guys and it wouldn't hurt you to talk to one of them and see where it goes. I know it's not easy to get over someone, but getting your mind off of him might be easier by talking to someone new”

“That wouldn't be fair to the new guy, would it?”

“I'm not exclusively talking about relationships. You know, a one night stand could get your mind off of him, too”

The smaller boy halted, swallowing hard. No, that idea was crazy. He couldn't have a one night stand with someone. Jimin was way too insecure for that. Of course, Jungkook had made the topic of sex more comfortable for Jimin and the orange haired boy wasn't as shy about it anymore, but having sex with a complete stranger that wasn't careful with him like Jungkook was? A person that Jimin knew nothing about, couldn't be sure of trusting because none of his friends knew him either? That idea was too scary for Jimin.

“No, I don't think that's a good idea either.”

“I'm sorry, Minnie, I didn't mean to make you uncomfortable. Obviously, you don't have to talk to anyone, if you don't want to. It was just a suggestion as I thought it might help. It helped me, that's why I thought it might help you, too. The thing is, what I'm trying to say is that the room is going to be huge. It's going to be a big gathering and a lot of people there. Avoiding Jungkook won't be difficult, don't worry”

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth, contemplating about whether or not he should go. To be fair, Tae made a good point. He couldn't have a one night stand with someone. Jimin was way too insecure for that. Of course, Jungkook had made the topic of sex more comfortable for Jimin and the orange haired boy wasn't as shy about it anymore, but having sex with a complete stranger that wasn't careful with him like Jungkook was? A person that Jimin knew nothing about, couldn't be sure of trusting because none of his friends knew him either? That idea was too scary for Jimin.

“N-No, I don't think that's a good idea either.”

“I'm sorry, Minnie, I didn't mean to make you uncomfortable. Obviously, you don't have to talk to anyone, if you don't want to. It was just a suggestion as I thought it might help. It helped me, that's why I thought it might help you, too. The thing is, what I'm trying to say is that the room is going to be huge. It's going to be a big gathering and a lot of people there. Avoiding Jungkook won't be difficult, don't worry”

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth, contemplating about whether or not he should go. To be fair, Tae made a good point. It might not be too difficult to not interact with Jungkook. He could avoid him by simply going another way everytime he saw him. Jimin wouldn't talk to him either unless he really had to. For that, it was only going to concern small talk, not more than that.

The smaller boy found himself agreeing before he even made the decision. Honestly, Jimin would feel bad if he wouldn't support Jin and his family. Jimin wanted Jin to become one of his friends that he would consider family and that's what Jimin did for his family. He supported them with his full heart, even if there were repercussions that he might not enjoy so much. At least it was worth to see his friends happy.
“Fine, I guess we can go”

“Yaaay” Tae grinned and jumped up and down in his seat, “I love fancy gatherings. It's going to be amazing. I'm going to wear my customised suit and look so good that night!” His best friend was extremely happy, eyes lit up in excitement.

“Suit? Do I have to wear a suit?” Jimin asked, eyebrows arched up. He hadn't even thought about that.

“Of course!” The blond boy exclaimed, eyes wide at Jimin's ignorance, “It's going to be a fancy night! It's a dinner with an after party. The hospital has a huge ballroom and it's going to be held in there. We have to look fancy, Jimin-ah.”

“Why does a hospital have a ballroom?”

“For events, Minnie!” Tae answered as if that should be a known fact, rolling his eyes at the smaller boy, “Did you even read the message Jin hyung sent us?”

“Partly” Jimin mumbled guilty, making himself smaller which caused Taehyung to shake his head with a smile on his face, “As soon as I realised that Jungkook was going to be there, too, my brain literally shut off and I couldn't function any longer.”

“Minnie” Taehyung sighed as he placed his cup on the table, “I know it's going to be difficult. It's going to be the first time you see him after that night. It's probably going to hurt, but-”

“It's not.” The shorter male interrupted, Tae cocking his head to the side in surprise, “It's not the first time I see him since then. I met him yesterday. Well, it was only briefly. He turned up at the dance studio. When had he ever been there to meet Hoseok hyung? Anyway, he was there to see hyung, but I was literally frozen in my place. It was so weird to see him again. I was speechless and my mind went blank. My stupid heart pounded so hard against my chest that I was scared it was going to jump out of my body.”

“ Weird. What did he want from him? I will have to ask hyung” Tae replied, eyes narrowed and lips pursed as he thought about the information he had just received, “It must have been really odd to see him after everything, though. Did you two talk?”

“No, not much. I simply told him where hyung was, but he reacted kind of strange when he found out that the person that I was with was Dongha. I don't know, maybe I imagined that. Whatever, I didn't know if we should talk at all, but even if he wanted to, I don't think I'd be ready. I don't want to talk to him.”

“I understand. We won't do that then. We'll simply go there and support Jin hyung. We'll stay for a couple of hours and then we'll leave again. I promise”

Jimin smiled gratefully and nodded, “Sounds good”

“Right, so, we'll have to find you a suit then, I guess. Do you really not have anything like that at home?” Tae asked, raising his eyebrows. The orange haired one shook his head, “Hmm, well I guess you could also wear some dress pants and a button up shirt, but a suit would look so good on you.” His best friend sighed, furrowing his brows, “I'll figure something out. Let me make some calls, I know some people who might be able to help us out.”

Taehyung pulled out his phone and typed something for a while, eyes lighting up at all of the ideas he had.
“Oh, I'm so excited. I have to talk to Hoseok hyung, and ask him whether he owns a suit. There is so much to do!”

“Tae, it's only one night. We're just going to be there to support Jin hyung” Jimin reminded him, amused by Tae's excitement.

“I know, but I love fancy parties. I love dressing up. I just live for nights like this. Jimin-ah, you know I love fashion” He beamed.

“I know” Jimin giggled and nodded, “It's cute”

Tae smiled and rolled his eyes, “Don't you worry, I'll take care of everything. I'll figure out what we're going to wear. I wanna style your hair again. It looked good on you. Is that okay?”

Jimin shrugged his shoulders, smiling faintly when he remembered Jungkook complimented his look that night at the club. Oh god, no, Jimin thought and shook his head. Why was it trying to connect so many situations with memories of Jungkook? Couldn't it just stop?

“I liked it, too. Just remember that I don't have that much money. I won't be able to pay for a whole customised suit. Also, the party is in two days and I don't think I can get one customised by then”

Tae's eyes widened, “Oh god, you're right! We've only got two days. Come on, let's go home to yours. I gotta make a lot of calls and we gotta search your closet for anything you could wear” His best friend rushed as he jumped up from his seat, leaving the booth.

Jimin observed the blond boy and got up, too, his best friend grabbing his arm and pulling him out of the coffee shop.

Taehyung's enthusiasm was just as adorable as it was amusing. Jimin couldn't stop smiling.

-------

“I'm going to faint, TaeTae” Jimin breathed, hands shaking as he followed after Taehyung. They had just passed the security who had checked whether they were on the guest list – which they were thanks to Jin. As soon as Jimin stepped a foot into the hospital, his heart dropped. Besides the hospital looking beautiful and actually inviting – bright colours rather than simple white walls which Jimin found to be calming – Jimin was freaking out. He was wearing an expensive black suit that cost more than nine months worth of his rent. Obviously, Jimin hadn't bought this one. Taehyung had been able to convince one of his friends working in a boutique to lend Jimin this one that actually fit incredibly well. One wrong move and Jimin could ruin this expensive thing and his life was going to be over. Well, not literally, but frankly, he didn't have the money to pay for something like this. That's why he was praying to not do any harm to this suit tonight. The thought alone made Jimin anxious. The only thing that belonged to him was the white button shirt he was wearing. Everything else was borrowed – was very expensive.

“Don't worry, it's fine. You look good, Minnie” Tae assured and interlocked their arms as they walked down the hallway. A couple of people were standing there, presumably waiting for other people they knew to arrive. Jimin didn't pay much attention to them though, but was trying to calm his heart.

“This suit costs more than my rent, Tae. I've never worn anything like this. This is crazy. What if I ruin it?”

“You won't” Tae muttered and smiled at him, “If you do, I'll kill you though. We won't be able to Swallowing hard, Jimin let out a shaky breath. Yes, Jimin was clumsy, but he could also be very careful... sometimes. He was going to stay away from anything that could ruin this beautiful suit and was going to protect it from any harm.

“Don't worry, Minnie. You won't ruin it. Just be careful, but don't think too much about it. Enjoy the night and focus on how good you look. Your hair is looking perfect, the suit fits you like it's customised. You look hot, Jiminnie” Taehyung complimented him – which, well, he was complimenting himself, too, kind of, as he was the one who was responsible for all of this.

Taehyung grinned, satisfied with the compliment, “Thank you, Minnie.”

Finally, they entered the ballroom and both of their jaws dropped.

The room was huge, lit up with chandeliers at the ceiling, a staircase leading up to another floor from where you were able to look down into the room, at least 40 big round tables scattered around the room having some people sitting at them already, approximately 300 people walking around in fancy dresses and suits, a couple of waiters walking around and serving drinks – this was like a movie scene to Jimin.

Frankly, Jimin didn't quite fathom why a hospital needed a room like this, yet he wasn't the one who built this or organised this so Jin's parents must have had a reason to include a room like this.

“Oh, Hoseok hyung just texted me. I'll quickly go outside and get him. You can already go ahead and take a seat, table 13, Jin hyung said.” His best friend let him know as he was looking down on his phone, “We'll be quick”

Then, he rushed outside of the room, leaving back a scared Jimin who had just opened his mouth to say something, yet he shut it again as Tae had already disappeared.

Sighing, Jimin made his way further into the room as he scanned the tables for number 13.

Well, it wouldn't be too bad to go ahead and take a seat already. It was actually great that the seats were assigned as Jin surely wouldn't make them sit with people they were completely unfamiliar with, right? Jimin wouldn't feel as anxious if there were people he knew already – his friends.

Wait, that included-

Jimin halted his steps abruptly as his eyes fell on table number 13. A very familiar black haired boy was sitting there, having a conversation with Yoongi who was sitting right beside him. However, what caught Jimin's attention was the girl sitting next to Jungkook – Seoyun. Of course. The universe hadn't mocked and tortured him enough already. No, why not cut deeper into his wounds? It didn't matter anymore at this point anyway, did it?

The smaller boy's heart stopped when Jungkook looked up, gaze landing on Jimin who turned around in a swift motion and wanted to walk away, yet bumped right into someone.

“S-Sorry” Jimin apologised as he looked up at the man who was smiling at him. The man was taller than him, probably ten years older and had dark hair as well as tanned skin. His eyes were in a dark shade of brown, piercing through Jimin.

“Oh, uhm, no, I just... Sorry, I forgot something” Jimin answered, clearing his throat as he felt his cheeks heat up at the intent stare of the taller man, “I didn't mean to walk into you. I'm sorry” Jimin explained as he bowed slightly.

“No need to apologise. Everything's fine.” The man waved off his apology with a smirk. Then, he studied Jimin's face, smile growing, “Are you part of the family?”

“Huh?”

“Oh, uhm, no, I'm friends with their son. He invited me” Jimin responded politely. Honestly, the man seemed nice, but Jimin had tried to run out of this building as fast as he could and this was wasting his time and a major obstacle. The longer he stayed, the more people saw him. Then again, Jungkook had already seen him.

“That's nice. I'm Minwoo by the way, nice to meet you” The man introduced himself as he reached out his hand to Jimin.

“Jimin” The smaller boy murmured as he shook his hand, but let go right after, “It's nice to meet you, but I have to go now”

“That's sad to hear, but we co-”

“No, you're not” Tae protested as he suddenly appeared right beside him, Hoseok holding his hand and smiling at Jimin, “You aren't going anywhere. We're going to take our seats now” The blond boy demanded and grabbed Jimin's arm, pulling him away from Minwoo who looked after them with a big smile on his face, “Who was that?” Taehyung whispered as he continued dragging Jimin closer to the table.

“His name is Minwoo, but that doesn't matter right now. I don't want to sit there, don't you see who is sitting there already?”

His best friend looked over to the table, eyes widening when his gaze fell on Jungkook, “Shit” He breathed and halted.

“I know. I can't sit there. I don't want to talk to him.”

“Well, to be fair, we don't have to talk to him. We could just ignore him.” Tae suggested, titling his head to the side.

Hoseok was standing beside them, not hearing any of their conversation as they tried to keep their voices down. Fortunately, the chattering in the room from all of the people was fairly loud and was muffling their voices a bit.

“I still have to hear his voice and look at his stupid handsome face”

Taehyung raised an eyebrow at the word 'handsome', but let it slide as he sighed, “I know, but we're already here now and Jin is literally right there looking over at the table. I'm pretty certain he already saw us. We can't just leave now”
Jimin was deliberating, biting down on his bottom lip as his mind was racing. This whole situation was a mess. The plan of avoiding Jungkook as good as possible and only staying for a bit in order to support Jin and his family literally flew out of the window. It was time for another plan. Yet, the only thing left to do was to go and take a seat there at the table, ignore Jungkook and go on with the night until it was appropriate to leave. Of course, Jimin could ask Jin to change his seat, but the older one probably had a lot of stuff on his mind already and Jimin really didn't want to cause any inconvenience.

“Okay, let's just... let's just go and take our seats. I won't stay for too long, though”

His best friend nodded as they made their way to the table. Yoongi smiled as he saw them appear in front of him, “Hey, guys” He greeted and pointed to the seats next to him, “Have a seat”

Hoseok sat down beside him, whereas Taehyung sat next to Hoseok. Not thinking about it much, Jimin quickly took a seat next to Tae, realising only a moment too late that he was sitting right across from Jungkook. As soon a the smaller boy's eyes locked with Jungkook's, Jimin swiftly averted his gaze, not able to bear the intent stare. Involuntarily, his cheeks started heating up as he felt Jungkook not taking his eyes off of him.

“You guys look incredibly good tonight” Yoongi complimented them, drawing Jimin's attention back to him.

“Thank you” The three boys almost uttered in unison. Yoongi was wearing a black suit as well, a bow however instead of a tie like the rest of them. Unconsciously, Jimin let his eyes drift back to Jungkook who was currently talking to Seoyun in a quiet voice. The black haired boy was dressed in all black – tuxedo, fitting black button up shirt and a black tie. His hair was parted in the middle as always, exposing parts of his forehead. The bruises were barely visible anymore. Jimin had to admit that he looked handsome – what else had he expected? Well, he hadn't considered to have the wind knocked out of him at the sight of the gorgeous man, yet here he was.

Seoyun was wearing a tight red dress, her blond hair tied up into a pony tail. She looked stunning. No wonder Jungkook was into her.

“You look good, too, hyung. I don't think I've ever seen you in a suit” Jimin commented to get his mind off Jungkook.

Yoongi chuckled as he gave a nod, “Fair enough. It’s not usually my kind of attire, but I thought it would be fitting for tonight. It's a special night for Jin hyung and his family. Speaking of hyung, there he is”

All of them glanced up, watching how Jin and Namjoon were approaching them. Their hands were intertwined, big smiles on their faces as they walked towards their table.

“Hey, guys. Thank you all for coming. I'm glad you were able to make it. You look good” Jin grinned as him and Namjoon sat down at their table. All of the seats were taken now, Namjoon sitting beside Jimin and Jin sitting inbetween Namjoon and Seoyun.

“So do you, hyung” Taehyung replied with a smile. He did. Well, he always did. Namjoon and him were wearing black suits as well, Namjoon wearing a bow like Yoongi while Jin had a tie on, “Stunning. All of you”

“Do you guys like it? My parents helped designing it and I'm in love with this hospital. They really worked hard and I'm incredibly proud of them. Thank you for supporting us tonight” Jin beamed, all of them smiling at their friend as they nodded.
“It looks great. I love the interior design.” Hoseok complimented, “Feels very welcoming”

Jin was just about to respond when there was a sudden cough heard throughout the room, the sound amplified through a microphone and spread through speakers. All of them looked up, searching for the source of the sound.

“Welcome” A deep male voice greeted, Jimin's gaze finally falling on a tall man who was without a doubt related to Jin standing in the far front of the room on a small stage. He was carrying a microphone and was waving at the people who were still taking their seats. Everyone was rushing to their seats, the ballroom very crowded, yet almost everyone had found their seat.

“Let's begin with the opening ceremony before dinner is served”

------

The opening ceremony included a couple of speeches by people Jimin had obviously never seen before. Then, Jin's parents gave a speech, thanking their son and everyone for coming and supporting them. After that some people performed a song, some of the doctors that were going to work here introduced themselves and then Jin's father gave some final opening words.

Lastly, after like an hour, the food was served. Jimin had been trying to ignore Jungkook's stares as good as possible this whole time, but couldn't help and glance back at him every once in a while.

The food was delicious. It included a starter which had consisted of a salad and now they were having a steak with some side dishes. It wasn't like any steak Jimin had ever eaten, the shorter male imagining each bite costed more than a day worth of food for him.

The conversation at their table was still running, Jin explaining how all of this came about and the topic then going over to Namjoon's and Yoongi's songs they were working on. Jungkook had been fairly quiet this whole time, not saying much besides humming everytime one of them said something.

Seoyun hadn't even tried to include herself in the conversation, but was rather on her phone, not having touched the food much yet. Jimin glanced at her every now and then, but couldn't decide whether or not she simply didn't want to be here or there was something on her mind.

Soon, the conversation died down, the only sounds in the room being the chattering of other people and their forks or knives when they hit the plate. However, Taehyung was quickly there to carry on with the conversation, drawing the attention to Hoseok's and Jimin's dance practices.

“Oh, yes. We're practicing very hard. Jimin here hasn't complained once even though I'm very strict on them.” Hoseok stated, smiling as he patted Jimin's shoulder.

“I would love to see you practice once. I haven't seen either of you dance in quite a while” Yoongi voiced as he looked back and forth between Jimin and Hoseok.

“Sure, you could all join us some time, if you want to. Yet, I don't know how your schedules would work with that. Actually, I suggested Jungkook to watch us practice last time he visited me, didn't I? Unfortunately, he had a meeting right after so he couldn't stay. Would be awesome for you to watch my students once, Jungkook-ah. Right, Jimin?”

The smaller boy almost choked on the food inside of his mouth, coughing and slapping against his chest as he tried to swallow the piece. All of the others at the table were looking at him concerned,
Taehyung handing him a glass of water. Quickly, Jimin gulped down the liquid, cheeks flushing as he felt all of them stare at him. Thankfully, he hadn't spilled anything on the expensive suit.

Had Jungkook actually declined to watch their practice last time he visited the studio because he had another meeting or... or was there another reason for that?

“Mhm” Jimin hummed.

Jungkook was staring at him, eyes unreadable as always.

“Some people might get distracted during practice” Tae jumped in, realising how Jimin and Jungkook were only looking at each other, not saying anything, “Maybe it's not a good idea to invite them to that. How about the championship, though? We could all make sure our schedules are clear then and support you guys there, huh?” His best friend suggested.

“That's a good idea, babe” Hoseok grinned and pressed a kiss on Taehyung's cheek who smiled at the soft gesture.

“I’ll make sure to clear my schedule” Jungkook suddenly voiced, Jimin finally averting his gaze and clearing his throat.

Seoyun didn't seem to like that idea, glaring at Jungkook with narrowed eyes. Well, she was his girlfriend and she knew about Jimin... knew about- Oh god. Jimin had completely banished that thought from his mind. The orange haired boy wasn't only sitting across from Jungkook and his girlfriend, but Seoyun was the one who Jungkook had cheated on – with him. Obviously, she hated Jimin, probably wanted to kill him or at least be as far away from him as possible. Hopefully, she wouldn't mention anything about this. Jimin really didn't want his friends to think of him as a bad person. Then again, Jimin hadn't actually known that they were an official thing until that article. Wasn't that sad? How Jimin found out through a magazine rather than through Jungkook himself.

The smaller boy looked down at his food, suddenly feeling full and not one bit hungry. Actually, he felt sick to the stomach. As he glanced up again, Jungkook was already looking at him. Jimin could swear that the younger one was staring at him with apologetic eyes for a moment, but it was gone as soon as it had appeared. Did Jungkook feel sorry for Jimin? Did he feel sorry for breaking Jimin's heart? Did he feel sorry for Jimin being in a situation like this, being confronted by Jungkook and his girlfriend? Did he knew that Jimin know about his relationship with Seoyun?

“No, we're good” Jin answered, then looked at his friends, “Unless any of you want something?”

The waiter gave a nod as he wrote it down, “Anything else?”

Jimin definitely didn't want any alcohol. He was done with drinking. Last time had really messed a lot with him and he didn't want to repeat that night.

“No, thank you”

The waiter nodded once again before he walked away.
The orange haired boy cleared his throat as he played with the vegetables on his plate. His mind was racing, so many thoughts running through his head. Jungkook was still glancing at him every once in a while, causing Jimin to squirm in his seat under the intent eyes of the taller boy.

“Could you pass me the salt, please?” Jungkook asked, Jimin realising a moment later that the salt was placed next to him on the table. For some reason, Jimin could only stare at it, not moving an inch.

“Little one?”

Silence. Complete silence.

Jimin’s head shot up, eyes locking with Jungkook’s as the pet name echoed in his head. The other ones halted their motions – some of them stilling their forks midair - looking back and forth between the two boys, surprised expressions on their faces.

Clearly, Jimin’s mind or heart was playing games with him. There was no way Jungkook had actually just called him that. However, he couldn’t help it, but felt his heart flutter at the name.

Seoyun’s mouth was agape, anger written on her face as she glared at Jungkook.

“Jimin. Jimin, could you...” The black haired boy quickly corrected, clearing his throat as he pointed at the salt.

Yet, Jimin was still frozen in his place, not able to move.

“Here you go” Taehyung quickly jumped in and handed Jungkook the salt who took it with a light nod, lips pressed into a line as he strayed some of the salt on his food, “Oh, I forgot to tell you guys about the new intern we have. A funny story actually. It was his first day last week and he-” Tae tried to change the topic, but Jimin was barely able to pay attention, mind starting to blur out everything else but Jungkook.

“Excuse me for a moment” Jimin muttered as he got up from his seat, noticing how Jungkook looked at him with apologetic eyes before he turned around and rushed out of the ballroom. As soon as he exited the room, the smaller boy inhaled. It was as if he was finally able to breathe again. Clasping his hand in front of his heart, he made his way down the hall in order to find a restroom.

“Jimin!” Someone called after him, a strong hand stopping him by his shoulder a moment later and turning him around.

To Jimin’s surprise, it was Namjoon. To be fair, for a slight moment, he had wondered whether Jungkook might run after him, but that thought was silly. Why would he? Yet, the only other person he would have expected was Tae, maybe Yoongi, but not Namjoon. It was actually a very nice gesture of the taller boy.

“Hey, are you okay?” Namjoon wanted to know, concern visible on his face as he cocked his head to the side.

For some odd reason, Jimin wanted to laugh. Namjoon had helped him out last time when Jimin had stormed into a restroom and now here he was again, making sure Jimin was alright while said boy was on his way to a restroom. It was funny just as much as it was heart warming. It proved that Namjoon actually cared about Jimin’s well being and that meant a lot to him, pulled them even closer and made their bond stronger.

“Sure, just... just need to go to the restroom.” Jimin reassured, barely smiling, but trying to convince Namjoon.

The taller boy narrowed his eyes, not buying Jimin's statement.

“Are you sure? I know that it's not any of my business, but are you and Jungkook- I mean, are you two okay? Did you two have an argument or something? You can really cut the tension between you two. I feel like there are some unspoken words between you, am I wrong?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin smiled faintly as he shook his head, “Everything is fine. We just... we had a little argument, but that's already forgotten. I just need to pee. My stomach doesn't feel so well either, maybe my stomach and that steak don't go well together.”

“Okay. Just wanted to make sure. Sorry, I know it's not any of my business.”

“It's fine. Thank you for coming after me and making sure I'm okay, but I really just have to use the restroom. There is nothing like that between me and Jungkook” The smaller boy lied. Honestly, he did feel guilty for lying to Namjoon, but he wasn't ready to share the full story with him and tonight wasn't the perfect time for that anyway. To be fair, he couldn't just flat out say 'Oh, you know, Jungkook and I had sex while he had a girlfriend throughout that whole time. When I asked him about it, he blatantly denied it, yet I found out about it through a magazine. Oooh, you know what's even better? They're rumoured to get engaged soon! Yeah, so how are you and Jin doing?’ No, he couldn't just do that. Jungkook was literally present with his girlfriend and Jimin surely didn't want to cause any scene or make things worse. He was just going to ignore Jungkook and go on with the night, trying to forget about Jungkook calling him little one or continuing to stare at him.

“Okay, Jimin-ah. I'll go back then” Namjoon interrupted his thoughts, smile on his face as he patted Jimin's shoulder. The shorter male mirrored his smile and gave a faint nod before the older boy turned around and walked back into the ballroom.

Then, Jimin shook his head, letting out a breath and continuing his search for a restroom just so he could take a little break from staring at Jungkook's handsome face.

Finally, he found the door to the male restroom, lifting his hand as he was about to open it, yet someone was quicker than him and opened the door from the inside. The person walked out and bumped into Jimin, the smaller boy almost falling backwards at the force, but was thankfully caught by the taller male's strong arms.

“Oh, you again” The man chuckled, Jimin looking up with big eyes and recognising the man from earlier, “We just can't help walking into each other”

Jimin smiled as Minwoo let go of him, straightening his suit jacket with a smirk on his face.

“That seems to be fate, don't you think? I guess we both need to be a little more careful when walking around” He snickered, eyes lightning up.

“Yeah” Jimin laughed and nodded, “I'm sorry. My mind seems to be blank today”

“Oh, don't apologise. That just now was my fault, but I can't really say I'm sorry because I'm not exactly sad to see you again”

Gulping, Jimin felt his cheeks heat up, shy smile appearing on his face.

“I won't disturb you any longer as I'm sure you had a reason for coming here. It was nice to see you again, Jimin. I wouldn't mind seeing you a third time tonight though” Minwoo expressed, charming smile on his face as he stepped aside in order for Jimin to be able to enter the restroom.

“Thank you. It was nice to see you, too.” Jimin smiled and bowed slightly, the man smirking at him before eyeing Jimin down. The orange haired boy blushed as Minwoo turned around and walked away.

Jimin had no idea about flirting, but this definitely fell into the category, right?

-------

As soon as Jimin reappeared at the table, Jin's father made another announcement.

“Are you okay?” Tae whispered in his ear, the voice of Jin's father now being blurred out by Jimin who looked at his best friend with a faint smile.

“Yeah, just needed some fresh air away from here”

“What was that all about with- you know?” Tae murmured as he glanced at Jungkook for a moment to indicate who he meant – as if that wasn't obvious already.

Suddenly, music started playing in the ballroom, some people getting up and walking towards the space that seemed to be meant for... dancing?

“What happened?” Tae and Jimin asked in unison towards Hoseok who smiled at them, amusement in his eyes because the two hadn't paid attention.

“Hyung's father announced that there would be some music now for people who want to dance.” The brown haired boy replied, Jimin and Tae looking at each other before staring back at Hoseok, “I don't know. Apparently he likes slow dancing”

Both of the boys leaned back in their seats, the music of the slow song filling their ears. It was a beautiful song. Even though Jimin didn't know it, he quickly grew to love the melody.

Suddenly, Seoyun got up, Jungkook averting his gaze from Jimin and looking up to her. “Let's go dance” She ordered and pulled on his arm.

“Jungkook” Seoyun uttered, voice demanding. The taller one glanced up at her with annoyance in his eyes, getting up on his feet with another sigh. Grinning, she grabbed his wrist and pulled him away from their table, over to the dance floor.

Jimin couldn't help but follow their movements, couldn't help but observe the way she wrapped her arms around Jungkook's neck, pulling him closer to her and Jungkook closing his arms around her body while they swung from side to side to the music.

“I'm going to get some fresh air” The smaller boy mumbled as he watched Seoyun rest her head on Jungkook's shoulder.
As Jimin got out of his seat and started walking away to make his way out of the room, he bumped into someone and honestly, at this point, he wanted to curse at his own clumsiness. Jungkook would have teased him so much already for how clumsy he was acting, yet- No, why was Jimin thinking about Jungkook again?

“The third time is the charm then, Jimin?” A male voice snickered, causing Jimin to glance up at the man who he had walked into for the third time tonight. That was incredibly strange, wasn't it? Yet maybe... it was a sign? Was the universe trying to tell him something?

“Oh, s-sorry” Jimin apologised, cheeks heating up as he smiled shyly.

Minwoo titled his head to the side, “I'm not a big believer in fate, but meeting you for the third time tonight must mean something. Maybe my belief considering fate is going to be changed tonight.” The man grinned, “Now that I've walked into you for a third time, I can't not ask you. Would you like to dance, Jimin?”

“D-Dance?” Jimin echoed, brows arching up at the question. To be fair, Jimin didn't even really know the man in front of him, but he had been very kind and polite the times they have walked into each other. Honestly, Minwoo appeared to be very charming and perhaps the universe was really trying to tell him something.

Ultimately, Jimin didn't know what made him agree to it, yed he did.

“Okay”

Minwoo smiled as he grasped Jimin's smaller hand and walked them over to the dance floor, the orange haired boy smiling involuntarily as the tall man placed his hands on Jimin's waist.

“Really? Why did you suggest it then?” Jimin wondered as he cocked his head to the side, curiosity written on his face.

The man chuckled as he shrugged his shoulders, their bodies moving to the slow melody of the song. “I thought that the universe is trying to tell me something so I had to come up with something to spend more time with you”

Jimin felt himself blush, smiling before he caught his bottom lip between his teeth. The smaller boy was flattered by Minwoo's words, “You simply could have asked me to spend time with you, but I like dancing so this is fine, too”

“You do?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed, eyes lighting up at the mention of his passion, “I majored in contemporary dance and I'm currently part of a dance class that mainly focuses on Hip Hop and Street Dance”

“What do you do? I mean, what do you like to do? Do you have a passion?”

The taller man titled his head to the side, “I spend most of my time with work. I own a business that produces medical equipment and I'm always stuck in meetings, searching for new products or ways to improve the current ones we sell”

“Well, for some people it is, but indeed not for everyone. Makes a lot of money, though”

Jimin gave a slight nod, somewhat disturbed my the statement. Frankly, everyone was permitted to do whatever they wanted to do, caused by whatever reason that made them driven, yet the thought of money being the sole reason of doing something confused Jimin. Money alone didn't make you happy, did it? No, your passion did. Something that you love or like to do is what should drive you to your goals. Obviously, money was important, too, as you had to pay for a certain living standard, but Jimin never wanted money to be a primarily factor for anything he did. At least not from a long-term perspective.

As they continued swaying to the music, Jimin let his gaze wander around. It didn't take long for him to find Jungkook- who was already staring at him. It was odd. It was as if something was pulling them towards each other, as if they were connected by something that made them find each other everywhere- even in a huge crowd like this.

The black haired boy was looking at him with a confused expression, yet suddenly his jaw locked, indicating that something was pissing him off. Seoyun placed her hand against his cheek, forcing him to look back down at her which Jungkook did, but only until she rested her head back on his shoulders. That's when Jungkook's stare fell back on Jimin who couldn't take his eyes off of Jungkook either.

They couldn't stop looking at each other while dancing with other people. It wasn't fair to their dance partners, but they simply couldn't help themselves.

Jungkook's stare was intent, eyes dark as he watched Minwoo squeeze Jimin's waist as they moved to the music. Jimin giggled at the touch, reminded of how ticklish he was. The man he was dancing with smirked as Jimin looked back up to him.

“Would you like to have a drink with me after this song, Jimin?”

The smaller boy gulped, looking back and forth between Minwoo's eyes. Jimin really didn't believe that tonight was a good time or place for him to drink any kind of alcoholic liquid. Jimin couldn't help but reminisce about the last time and that really hadn't gone well. Frankly, Jimin had already predicted that something bad was going to happen tonight, had felt it in his bones and he really didn't want to enhance the chances of something bad going down tonight by drinking alcohol and making it worse.

Then again, the drink didn't have to be alcoholic. Jimin could order something else, like a simple coke or a cocktail that didn't include any alcohol. Surely, something like that would be served here, too.

Jimin glanced back at their table, realising how it was empty. All of his friends were probably on the dance floor as well or had went somewhere else to talk. Then, the shorter boy stared back over to Jungkook who was frowning while observing Jimin, watching Minwoo's hands with intent eyes.

A little drink wouldn't hurt him...

“Sure” Jimin finally agreed and wrapped his arms around Minwoo a little tighter as he locked eyes with Jungkook once again. It was as if he was a magnet, pulling back Jimin every single time and the smaller boy having no chance to resist.

There was emotion flashing in Jungkook's eyes and Jimin assumed that Jungkook was trying to tell him something, felt it deep in his core that there was something the taller boy was trying to make him understand, yet Jimin couldn't define what it was.
Soon, the song ended, Minwoo grasping his wrist and nodding his head towards the small bar at the other side of the room, “Let's go sit over there. There's not that many people around so we can talk privately”

Before Jimin could even respond, Minwoo was walking towards the bar while pulling the orange haired one with him, Jimin almost stumbling over his own two feet as he tried to keep up.

They took a seat on the bar stools, Minwoo ordering straight vodka right away. The shorter male squirmed in his seat as he ordered a simple coke.

“Uhm, no, not really. It's not really my thing, I guess. Doesn't do me so well” Jimin answered, laughing nervously. Jimin didn't want Minwoo to think he had any problems with alcohol, but that he simply didn't enjoy it as much. To be fair, it did taste very good, but the aftermath really isn't worth it – especially not tonight.

“I see. I do like me some vodka every now and then. It's a nice way to come down after a busy day. I feel like it became a routine by now” Minwoo revealed, smirking as the bartender served their drinks.

Minwoo pulled out his wallet, “I'm paying for both” He let the bartender know as he looked for his money.

“It's free. Drinks are free tonight” The bartender uttered, Minwoo nodding and putting the wallet back into his pocket as the bartender walked away to clean some glasses.

“Thank you” Jimin smiled, “That you wanted to pay for my drink”

“Of course” The man smiled as he took a sip from his drink, Jimin joining him and taking a sip from his coke, too.

Minwoo didn't take his eyes off of him, something glistening in his eyes as he stared at Jimin's lips. Genuinely, Minwoo was charming and Jimin couldn't help but laugh at every joke he made during their conversation, shy smiles appearing on his face whenever Minwoo complimented him or placed his hand on Jimin's thigh. It didn't take long for Jimin's cheeks to flush due to all of the attention Minwoo was giving him.

However, Minwoo drank and drank and drank another vodka until he wasn't as charming anymore, his hand on Jimin's thigh rising up higher with each sip, eyes appearing dazed and glassy. The smaller boy wanted to believe that it was the alcohol that was causing this sudden change in behaviour. Jimin knew himself how alcohol could affect your judgement, had experienced it first hand.

“How old were you again, Jiminie?” Minwoo slurred, smirking as he stroked his thumb over Jimin's inner thigh, causing him to squirm in his seat and push the hand away slightly.

The orange haired boy gulped, feeling like he knew where this was going and not liking it one bit. Why did this happen? Why did the guys Jimin thought to be kind and charming of always turn out to be douchebags and looking for sex instead of simple human contact and conversation, maybe even something long-term.

“I could take you up to my room.”

Jimin was bewildered by how a person could change in the span of half an hour. The charming man who had made cheeky jokes and subtly flirted with Jimin, showering him in compliments had completely disappeared and was replaced by... this.

“I could have a little fun with you”

The smaller boy pushed Minwoo's hand away, shaking his head, “N-No, thank-”

“You know, I can't stop thinking about your pretty lips wrapped ar-” While Minwoo was slurring his words out, he had suddenly grasped Jimin's chin and was running his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip, smirking as he watched Jimin flinch. That's when Jimin realised that the alcohol wasn't the reason for this behaviour.

Minwoo had been out for this all along, had appeared to be charming to wrap Jimin around his finger and get into his pants. The taller man had believed that Jimin was naïve and would fall for all of the compliments, maybe even beg him to be touched by Minwoo. Jimin saw it in his face, how he enjoyed the power as he was grabbing Jimin's chin, how he enjoyed evoking these kind of reactions. However, Jimin wasn't having any of it.

“Stop, please, I don't want to” The smaller one interrupted as he pulled his head back, pushing Minwoo's hand away. Yet, Minwoo didn't seem to catch on or maybe he didn't care because his hand was back on Jimin's thigh as he leaned closer.

“Come on, I'm nice, Jimin-ah”

“Let me go, I said no” Jimin protested and pushed him off, getting up on his feet in order to storm away.

Honestly, Jimin was done with this night. Parties really weren't for him. Genuinely, something bad always seemed to happen. It was almost as if Jimin was attracting bad luck or maybe the universe just hated him. Whatever it was, Jimin had enough.

He rushed out of the room, not entirely sure where to go now. Jimin wanted to make sure that Minwoo didn't follow him, causing him to look back over his shoulder to reassure himself.

However, who he hadn't expect to see was... Jungkook.

The black haired boy was walking outside, too. Jimin didn't want to go into the same direction as him, figuring he might go to the restroom or leave the building for a moment. For some stupid reason, Jimin's brain thought it was a good idea to rush upstairs, trying to get away form everyone. Jimin walked towards the first door he saw, pushing at it and relief blooming inside of him as the door opened. Swiftly, he walked inside and shut the door close behind him, letting out a breath as he stared into the dark room. There was a small window at the top of the door, letting in some light from the hallway. That was really the only source of light there was. Seriously, Jimin could barely make out what kind of room it was, realising how there was a table in the small room, some shelves at the side. Perhaps it was-

Suddenly, the door swung open, causing Jimin to jump up, startled by the noise.

Jungkook.
Wait. Jungkook?

Jimin's breath hitched in his throat as the taller boy shut the door close, taking a step back and bumping into the table behind himself when Jungkook turned around to look at him. Jimin swallowed hard, heartbeat suddenly quickening when he realised how they were alone in such a small room.

“Are you okay?” Jungkook wanted to know, voice soft as he took a step closer, causing Jimin's body to jerk as he took another step back. The black haired boy halted immediately, tilting his head to the side.

“Why did you follow me?” Jimin wondered, voice just above a whisper as he moved aside and around the table so the piece of furniture was inbetween them. For some reason, Jimin felt safer like that - which was silly because Jungkook wouldn't hurt him, Jimin was certain about that, yet there was a voice inside of Jimin's head warning him that he might do something stupid, if he's in Jungkook's close proximity, completely alone with the handsome man.

“Because the guy seemed to annoy you and I wanted to make sure that you're okay” Jungkook answered.

The smaller boy blinked, processing the words. Jungkook had seen that? Hadn't he been occupied with Seoyun? They had been dancing, Jimin had seen it with his own two eyes. Then again, he had spend quite some time with Minwoo at the bar and in that time, Jungkook could have easily moved somewhere else. For some reason, Jimin's heart fluttered at the realisation of Jungkook watching him – as if that was so out of the ordinary. It wasn't like the two boys had even tried to not glance at each other tonight, something pulling them towards each other every single time.

“He was drunk. He wasn't like that before” Jimin reasoned, bewildered by his own heart who was defending a man who had made him this uncomfortable and had touched him without his consent. However, Jimin couldn't help but blame it on the alcohol, wanting to believe that the charming Minwoo he met before still truly existed below that mask.

“I was about to talk to him” The black haired boy revealed, voice a little firmer, indicating that he had been angered by Minwoo's behaviour towards Jimin.

“I wanted to talk to him because you seemed uncomfortable”

“You mean beat the hell out of him” Jimin clarified, eyebrows arched up as he doubted Jungkook's statement. Last time Jungkook hadn't just talked when he protected Jimin, no, well, he had let his fist talk. Jimin's stupid heart didn't stop jumping out of control at the realisation of Jungkook wanting to protect him.

“No, I mean talking.” The taller boy corrected and took a step closer, causing Jimin to move aside again, “I would only get violent once he touches you without your permission or he doesn't leave you alone after I repeatedly told him”

Jimin stilled, Jungkook still getting closer and suddenly, he was right in front of the smaller boy.

“He did” Jimin whispered.

“He touched me. He touched my thigh and my li-”
Jimin wasn't even able to finish because there was anger flashing in Jungkook's eyes, the taller boy wanting to storm towards the door as he clenched his fists. Quickly, Jimin gripped his arm and pulled him back.

“What are you doing?”

“I'm going to talk to him” The boy responded through clenched teeth, Jimin gulping at his angered tone and pissed off expression.

“No, you're going to fight him. You can't fight him here. It's an important occasion for Jin hyung's parents. You can't make a scene” Jimin reminded him, scared of Jungkook actually going down there and fighting Minwoo. At least, Jungkook had actually stilled at Jimin's touch on his arm, was only staring at the door now.

“Well, then I'm going to drag him out of this building and talk to him outside” Jungkook uttered, but Jimin shook his head and tugged on his sleeve.

“Please, don't. Stop fighting. You might get hurt, too” Jimin begged, remembering the bruises on Jungkook's faces, the fear and pain in Jimin's heart at the thought of Jungkook being hurt – at all, but especially because of him.

The taller boy glanced down at Jimin, expression softening when he saw fear glistening in Jimin's eyes.

“I don't think he had any bad intention. He's just... drunk and doesn't know what he's doing” Jimin murmured, letting go of Jungkook's arm and averting his gaze due to the intent stare of the black haired one.

“Did he hurt you?” Jungkook wanted to know, voice soft as he lifted his hand, but quickly dropped it again.

“N-No, just... just made me uncomfortable” The shorter male answered quietly, playing with the hem of his suit jacket. Why did Jungkook even care at this point? Why did he get so worked up at the thought of Jimin being hurt? They weren't together. In fact, Jungkook didn't even like him.

“Besides... why do you even care? This isn't even any of your business” Jimin argued, crossing his arms over his chest.

“I know it's not. I'm just making sure you're okay and safe, always”

Gulping, Jimin pulled his brows together and dropped his hands back to his sides. “Why?” He found himself whisper.

Jungkook didn't answer, but took a step closer, causing Jimin to take one back and bump into the wall.

“You know why” The black haired boy answered, voice just above a whisper, emotion flashing in his eyes.

“No, I clearly don't” Jimin replied, shaking his head slightly and breath hitching in his throat as he felt his heart pound fast against his chest. Jimin was genuinely concered about his heart beating out of his chest. Frankly, it would simply fall into Jungkook's hands, if that happened, and it's not like that wasn't already the case.

Jungkook looked back and forth between his eyes, appearing to debate about something in his head.
“What are you doing to me, Jimin-ah?” The taller one whispered, lifting his hands and placing them against the wall beside Jimin's head. Swiftly, Jimin made himself smaller, gulping yet again as Jungkook's face was so close that they could feel each other's breath on their skin.

“I-I don't know”

“I miss you, Jimin-ah.” Jungkook revealed, voice so quiet and soft as if he didn't want anyone else to hear, but Jimin. To be fair, they were the only ones in this room, maybe even on this floor as the party was going on downstairs, yet Jungkook appeared to want to make Jimin understand that these words where only for him to hear, “I haven't stopped thinking about you since the day I left your apartment”

“W-Why?”

Jungkook smiled slightly.

“Think hard, little one”

The smaller boy's heart fluttered, but he didn't understand. His mind was racing and trying to make sense of the words, yet it was as if his mind had stopped working as soon as Jungkook placed his hand against Jimin's cheek softly, drawing Jimin's attention back up to his eyes.

“What are you doing?” Jimin murmured, voice breathy as he clenched in hands into fists, not knowing what to do with himself or make of this situation. Just an hour ago they were only staring at each other, not speaking a word and here they were now... this close and bodies almost, almost touching, faces so close to each other there could barely fit anything in between them.

“I don't know, Jimin-ah. I can't help myself around you.” The taller boy answered, shaking his head as he frowned, “When I saw you that day with Daweon, I wanted to talk to you, but I couldn't. When I saw you today, walking into the room, I couldn't take my eyes off of you. The whole night. I can't help staring at you. So, I really don't know what you're doing to me, Jimin-ah, and clearly, I don't know what I'm doing either.” Jungkook went on, wetting his lips and eyes rushing down to Jimin's plump ones, “But I know that I want to kiss you right now”

The words echoed in Jimin's head, his mind taking a while to process the words. Maybe he had misheard Jungkook? In fact, Jimin was pretty sure that was the case. There was no way Jungkook had actually just said that, right?

“W-What?”

When he saw Jungkook stare at him intently, looking back and forth between his eyes and his lips, Jimin realised that he hadn't misunderstood the younger boy. No, he had actually said that he wanted to kiss Jimin. Honestly, it's not even an understatement that Jimin's heart stopped – because it did. For a moment it did, just to beat twice as fast right after, pounding hard against his chest.

“I won't lay a finger on you without your permission. If you don't want me, just say stop and I'll leave you alone.” Jungkook whispered, leaning a little closer, yet not touching Jimin, but waiting for him to allow Jungkook to touch him.

Jimin's brain was screaming at him to yell stop and to push Jungkook away, tell him that he was done with those games, but why did his heart flutter? Why was his heart begging him to keep going?

The smaller boy forgot about everything else around them, was blurring out everyone else, the night itself. There was only him and Jungkook, just the two of them in a small, dim lighted room.
In fact, Jimin hadn’t stopped longing for Jungkook.

“Don't stop”

As soon as the words left Jimin's mouth, Jungkook pressed his lips on Jimin's in a soft kiss. Immediately, there were sparks rushing through Jimin's body, chest warming at the familiar taste and touch of Jungkook’s lips on his.

The taller boy's hands were on Jimin's hips, squeezing gentle as he pushed his own body closer to Jimin's, deepening their kiss and licking over Jimin's bottom lip. The orange haired one gasped, inviting Jungkook's tongue inside and letting it lick over his own, hands flying up and closing around Jungkook's neck as said boy pushed his hips forward against Jimin's crotch. A soft breath escaped both of them between their kiss, eyes fluttering shut at the touch. It was as if their lips were connected, glued together and not letting go of each other for a fair amount of time.

“J-Jungkook” Jimin whispered as said boy lifted Jimin up, spinning them around and setting the boy down on the table, lips never leaving Jimin's at the action. The smaller boy spread his legs, Jungkook moving inbetween them as they continued making out, hands roaming over each other's bodies, finally feeling each other again after such a long drought. It was as if their bodies had been calling for each other, finally connected again which caused sparks to run through both of their bodies.

“Jimin-ah, say stop whenever, okay?” Jungkook insisted as his hands went back to Jimin's waist, Jimin nodding frantically as he puckered his lips and titled his head up so Jungkook would kiss him again.

“No, baby, need to hear you say it”

“I don't want you to stop” Jimin whispered, shaking his head as he looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, emotion flashing in them, “But okay, I promise I will say stop whenever I need to”

The taller boy caressed his cheek before he attached their lips in another kiss, Jimin gasping as he closed his hands around Jungkook's neck. Jimin didn't care about anything else. There was only Jungkook, Jungkook, Jungkook. All he wanted and needed was his touch. Jimin felt like his skin was burning, the only cure being Jungkook's touch.

Jimin hummed, “You can do whatever you want” The boy assured as he chased Jungkook's lips for another kiss.

“Jimin-ah, don't say shit like that or I swear I won't be able to hold myself back” The younger boy cursed as he opened Jimin's suit jacket and pulled it off, letting it drop on the table.

“I don't want you to” Jimin murmured as Jungkook took his own jacket off, eyes darkening and lust being visible in them as he gripped Jimin's hips and pulled him closer to the edge of the table.

“I want to fuck you, Jimin-ah” The black haired one whispered against his lips, voice low and sending a shiver down Jimin's back.

Jimin felt heat build in the pit of his stomach, trying to draw his legs together as he noticed how his penis twitched at Jungkook's words, yet not able to as the taller male was standing inbetween them. Jimin's chest was rising and falling quickly as he wet his lips, nodding quickly.

“P-Please”
“Hips up” Jungkook ordered as he zipped down Jimin's pants, said boy leaning back on his hands and lifting his hips in order to make it easier for Jungkook to take them off. The taller boy tugged them down right away, pulling his briefs down with them and letting them drop on the floor.

Out of insecurity, Jimin tried to cover himself up, but Jungkook grabbed his wrists and shook his head, “Baby, don't cover yourself up. You look beautiful. I have seen you naked before, haven't I?”

Blushing slightly, Jimin allowed Jungkook to push his hands away, revealing his semi-hard penis and his fair skin of his legs. Jungkook cursed again as he traced his fingertips over Jimin's inner thighs, evoking a whimper in Jimin and causing his thighs to twitch at the touch.

Then, Jungkook grabbed Jimin's waist, lifting the smaller boy up who yelped at the suddenness of the action and wrapped his arms around Jungkook's neck swiftly as said boy pushed him against the wall.

“I don't have lube, Jimin-ah, are you sure? Gotta prep you with my spit”

Gulping, Jimin nodded, “I-I don't need much prep, I... I did... well...” The orange haired one felt his cheeks flush, Jungkook smirking at him.

“Played with your little hole?”

“Y-Yes. Last night”

“Mhm, I see.” Jungkook purred as he pressed a kiss against Jimin's cheek before he lifted two of his fingers up to Jimin's mouth, “Still gotta stretch you out a little more, just to make sure, hm? Suck on my fingers, little one.”

Without hesitation, Jimin wrapped his lips around Jungkook's fingers, twirling his tongue around and sucking on them lightly. The two boys didn't break eye contact, lust flashing in Jungkook's as he watched Jimin suck on his fingers, imagining his lips being wrapped around something else.

“Enough”

Jimin stopped immediately, Jungkook slipping his fingers out and moving them down inbetween Jimin's buttecheeks, circling his rim that opened up around his fingers. Indeed, Jimin's hole wasn't as tight as Jungkook imagined and surely wouldn't need much stretching. In fact, his two fingers slipped inside easily, Jimin hissing only slightly as they didn't use any lube.

“Oh g-god” Jimin cried out, grabbing Jungkook's shoulders as said boy pushed his fingers against Jimin's prostate, massaging it firmly and smirking at the sounds that Jimin made. His own dick twitched at the obscene noises, heat bulding in the pit of his stomach.

“Shit, how I've missed those noises, baby”

“Jungkook, please” The smaller boy whimpered, eyes fluttering shut as he bit down on his bottom lip.

Jungkook pulled his fingers out, zipping down his pants and pulling his dick out. Jimin moaned at the sight of the hard length, defined veins and flushed tip causing to blossom the urge to suck on it inside of Jimin.
“I don't have a condom, baby” The black haired boy let him know, eyebrows arched up as if he was asking Jimin whether he still wanted to go on – which, honestly, Jimin didn't care one bit.

The black haired boy looked back and forth between his eyes, slight smile on his face as he brushed Jimin's strands of orange hair out of his face. “Me neither” He wispered as he pressed a peck on Jimin's lips, leaving him long for more, yet his lips were swiftly gone again. Instead, the taller boy spit down in his hand, stroking his erection and making sure it's wet.

“I don't care” Jimin breathed, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he watched Jungkook tug on his hard length. Unconsciously, a whine escaped the smaller boy's lips, causing Jungkook to smirk as he pushed his dick inbetween Jimin's buttc Cheeks.

“Red, remember? If it's too painful” Jungkook murmured against his lips as he traced the tip of his erection over Jimin's hole, not yet pushing in, but teasing the shorter male instead.

“P-Please, Kook-ah” The orange haired boy whimpered, squeezing Jungkook's shoulders a little harder as he squirmed around in the younger boy's embrace in order to sit down on his erection, but Jungkook pulled his penis away and shook his head.

“Patience, little one”

“P-Please, I need you”

Emotion flashed in Jungkook's eyes before he leaned closer to Jimin, lips lingering above Jimin's, barely touching, but leaving Jimin desperate for his kiss.

“Please”

Finally, Jungkook pushed his penis inside while he attached their lips in a kiss simultaneously, catching Jimin's whimpers in his mouth as the smaller boy's hole opened up around him. Jimin squeezed his eyes shut at the uncomfortable, yet also very welcoming feeling. Honestly, Jimin didn't care about the pain, just wanted to feel Jungkook this close to him, inside of him. There was something so intimate about being close to each other like this, making Jimin believe that the bond between them became stronger with each time.

“H-Hurts” Jimin whined as he placed his forehead against Jungkook's, both of the boys already breathing uneven as the younger boy pushed his penis further inside of Jimin, slipping inside with little resistance.

“Do you want to stop, baby?” Jungkook asked, grasping Jimin's upper thighs and wrapping them tighter around himself.

“N-No” The smaller boy assured and shook his head, “Don't stop”

The black haired boy connected their lips in a kiss, their lips moving against each other slowly and gently as Jungkook continued to push his erection inside of Jimin's hole. Jimin tried to focus on the feeling of Jungkook's soft lips on his, tried to blur out the slight pain he felt in his butt and instead distract himself with this gentle feeling.

“Doing so good, baby” Jungkook praised, trailing kisses down his neck, causing Jimin's eyes to flutter shut and mewl. The taller boy left open-mouthed kisses on his skin, sucking on his neck a little bit, but not leaving any kind of marks – never without Jimin's permission. However, Jimin would let him do anything anyway. In fact, he would like to be marked by Jungkook. Loved the way his marks looked on his body.

“So b-big” Jimin cried out as he hugged Jungkook closer, hiding his face in the crook of Jungkook's neck who was finally settled inside of him completely, his length filling up Jimin's hole and making him feel so, so full. He loved it.

“I'll wait until you tell me to go on, okay, little one?”

Jimin hummed, adjusting to the size inside of him, chest rising and falling quickly, lips parted and letting out soft little breaths. It was so hot, Jimin's body felt so hot, his cheeks were flushed.

“G-Go on”

Jungkook didn't need to be told twice, didn't waste any time, but pulled out immediately just to ram into Jimin a moment later, pace slow, but forceful. A moan escaped Jimin as Jungkook's penis brushed his prostate right away, eyes falling back into his head.

“R-Right there”

“Yeah?”

Jungkook repeated the action, holding Jimin tight while the shorter male rocked back at the wall with the force of his thrust. Jimin let out a cute little moan, biting his lip as he tried to keep his noises down.

“No, baby, let me hear you.”

The taller boy pulled out and thrusted back into Jimin, faster this time, repeating his movement again and again, satisfied with the sounds Jimin was making.

“O-Oh my god” Jimin cried out as he rocked back and forth due to Jungkook's rapid thrusts, his erection hitting Jimin's prostate every single time, the heat in the pit of his stomach gradually building.

Jungkook continued to ram into him with a relentless pace, trailing kisses down Jimin's neck simultaneously to soothe the harshness of his movements. Jimin felt like he couldn't breath, mouth agape in a silent scream at the intense feeling of the younger boy moving inside of him. It has been so long since he had felt Jungkook inside of him. Frankly, Jimin had forgotten how overwhelming and intense the feeling was, how it made his body tremble and his skin feel like it was on fire. It felt so good. So, so good. Jimin wanted more, wanted everything of Jungkook.

“M-Mark me” Jimin whined as he felt Jungkook nibble on his skin.

The taller boy hesitated, only kissed him while continuing to thrust inside of Jimin.

“P-Please” The orange haired one moaned, eyes rolling back into his head at a particularly strong thrust that left him grabbing onto Jungkook tighter.

“Okay, baby” Jungkook whispered against his skin, pulling on his tie to loosen it in order to make it easier to open the first button on Jimin's shirt. After he did that, he pulled Jimin's collar to the side, exposing more of his skin and sucking hard on it.

“Y-Yes” Jimin mewled, wrapping his legs tighter around Jungkook who licked over his skin before he sucked some more on it.

“Feels good? Your hole feels so tight around me, baby, always so good” The taller boy growled against his ear, breath tickling on Jimin's skin and a shiver running down his back at the low tone of the man.

The black haired boy grabbed his thighs harder, surely leaving some bruises there, but Jimin didn't care about that one bit. Loved every second of this moment.

“Y-Yes, so good. You make me feel so good, Kook-ah”

Jungkook hummed as he sped up his thrusts, chasing both of their orgasms. Jimin could feel it in the pit of his stomach, was certain that it wouldn't take much longer until the feeling was going to explode inside of him and fill his whole body with ecstasy.

His penis was bouncing up and down between them with the relentless pace of the younger boy, yet neglected other than that. Jimin wanted to come untouched, just from feeling Jungkook inside of him.

“K-Kiss me”

Jimin didn't have to ask him twice, Jungkook swiftly attaching their lips in a soft kiss. It was funny how their kiss was this gentle and slow while the thrusts were the complete opposite, rough and fast. The smaller boy liked this. Loved how Jungkook could be both at the same time, loved how Jungkook always knew what he needed even before Jimin did.

“I missed you so much” Jungkook whispered against his lips, Jimin's heart fluttering. Jimin wasn't sure if this was his heart imagining those words because that's what it wanted to hear or if this was real - maybe, was this... was this all just a dream? - but he didn't mind. He was just going to imagine that everything in this moment was lasting, was real, even if it was only for now.

“I missed you, too, Kook-ah” Jimin murmured, voice soft as he stared into Jungkook's eyes. There was something glistening in them, something besides lust, and Jimin desperately wanted to know what it was, yet he couldn't define it.

Instead, he lifted his head and puckered his lips, Jungkook leaning closer, but not kissing Jimin. He was doing that on purpose, Jimin knew that. Jungkook enjoyed teasing him, enjoyed watching Jimin squirm or whine for him, enjoyed being wanted like this.

“Stop teasing” Jimin complained, pouting as Jungkook slowed his pace, smiling against him, lips brushing against each other.

Eventually, he connected their lips in another kiss, a gasp escaping Jimin as Jungkook took this time to fasten his pace as well.

Jimin's head was spinning, his orgasm on the brink of hitting him. He clenched his hands into little fists, not breaking the kiss, but whimpering against Jungkook's lips as the overwhelming feeling moved closer and closer.

“C-Close” Jimin was able to utter out.

Jungkook broke the kiss, placing his forehead against Jimin's, both boys breathing heavily against each other's skin. “Wait, baby, you can't come like this. You're going to stain your shirt” Jungkook reminded him, “Tell me when you're coming, okay? Gotta make sure you don't make a big mess, little one”
Jimin quickly nodded, chasing Jungkook's lips for yet another kiss. It was almost as if Jungkook's soft lips were a drug. A drug Jimin was addicted to and could never get enough of. Jungkook was going to be the death of him. The orange haired boy was pretty sure about that.

Everything about Jungkook was intoxicating. Right now, he felt like a mess. Penis leaking precum, trailing down his length, cheeks flushed, lips letting out breathy, little whimpers that were only for Jungkook. Jimin couldn't think straight, felt like he was floating already.

Jungkook kept pushing deeper inside him, stretching him a little further and hitting his prostate every single time dead on. No one had ever made Jimin feel like this except for Jungkook and honestly, Jimin didn't know if anyone was ever even able to make him feel like Jungkook did again.

The sensation felt incredible, Jimin so, so close to coming, the words on the tip of his tongue as he felt his muscles spasm, toes curling and stomach twisting.

“I-I'm coming, Kook-ah, please, please, please” He warned, voice high pitched and breathy, grabbing Jungkook's shoulders tighter and hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck as he felt the feeling take over.

“Go on, baby, come for me” Jungkook's deep voice encouraged, Jimin finally letting go as Jungkook cupped Jimin's dick in order to prevent him from spilling anything on their clothes and making a big mess – even though Jungkook loved seeing Jimin all messy, cheeks flushed and a sticky white mess on his stomach while he begged for Jungkook, eyes glassy as he stared at the taller boy desperately, desperate for his touch, only wanting him, no one else. Jungkook loved it.

“Aaaah!” Jimin cried out, eyes squeezing shut as he spurted cum into Jungkook's hand, body trembling as jolts of pleasure ran through his body, leaving him whimper out a mantra of Jungkook's name while the black haired boy continued to thrust into him, prolonging his orgasm.

Wave after wave of the wonderful intense feeling hit Jimin, body shaking violently, squirming around in Jungkook's embrace until everything just got too much. It started to feel too overwhelming, Jimin feeling oversensitive as the younger one kept fucking into him.

“P-Please, come, Kook-ah, fill me with-” Jimin begged, clenching around Jungkook whose dick twitched at Jimin's words, finding his own release quickly.

“Fuck, Jimin-ah” He cursed as he came into the smaller boy, Jimin yelping at the feeling of the sperm hitting his walls, satisfied with Jungkook's sperm filling him up. Jungkook rammed into of him two, three more times, Jimin whining and shaking his head, until the taller boy finally halted, body limping against Jimin while said boy collapsed in his arms.

Both boys were breathing heavily, not moving an inch. Jungkook was still holding him up with only one arm, the other hand being occupied as it was sticky with Jimin's sperm. Jimin wanted to whine at the realisation of Jungkook having taken him up against a wall, only comprehending the fact now.

The black haired boy lifted his head in order to stare at Jimin's face. His eyes appeared dazed, Jimin completely satisfied and realxed, his cheeks were flushed in a pretty pink, lips swollen due to all of their kissing. Jungkook smiled faintly before he raised his hand and licked Jimin's sperm up, causing said boy to widen his eyes and whimper, penis twitching.

Jungkook chuckled as he pulled his softening penis out of Jimin's hole, his cum slipping out right away. Quickly, Jungkook caught some of it with two of his fingers, bringing them up to Jimin's mouth who stared at them for a moment before he locked eyes with Jungkook.
Without saying anything, Jimin wrapped his lips around Jungkook's fingers, moaning at the taste of Jungkook on his lips. The taller boy cursed, wetting his lips as he watched Jimin suck his fingers clean.

“Good boy” Jungkook praised as he pulled his fingers out, Jimin's heart fluttering at the praise as a shy smile appeared on his face.

The black haired one leaned down to him, connecting their lips in a slow kiss, tongues moving against each other gently, the taste of mint and strawberry mixing. They both couldn't get enough, lips not breaking apart as they came down from their high, dicks softening after their intense orgasms, hearts beating fast against their chests.

They couldn't breathe. They should break apart and catch their breath, yet they didn't want to. Not touching each other felt more suffocating to them at this point.

There was just something pulling them back to each other, like an invisible string. It lead them back to one another even if they shouldn't.

Jimin didn't want to think about anything, anyone else right now. It was only him and Jungkook. Just the two of them in this beautiful intimate moment.

Eventually, Jungkook broke the kiss, setting Jimin down on his feet who almost collapsed to the ground, legs feeling wobbly after the overwhelming sex. Fortunately, Jungkook was there to help him keep his balance, strong arms curling around Jimin's waist and holding him close.

“Gotta clean your little hole” Jungkook reminded him, looking around, but not finding anything they could use inside the room. Actually, Jungkook didn't even know what room this was, had simply followed Jimin in here. It was a very small room to be fair, maybe a storeroom or something like that, “Do you have a tissue?”

“N-No” Jimin answered, shaking his head. His voice was a little hoarse, yet still somehow soft to Jungkook's ears.

“Can you turn around for me, baby” Jungkook insisted as he tugged his own penis back into his pants and zipped them up.

Slightly confused, Jimin turned around towards the table. Suddenly, Jungkook gripped his waist with one hand and placed the other one on his back. Gently, he pushed Jimin forward, causing him to bend over the table. Jimin allowed Jungkook to manhandle him, not sure what he was doing, yet knowing that he would let him do almost anything – even if he shouldn't.

“W-What are you doing?” Jimin wondered, voice quiet as he looked back over his shoulder, watching Jungkook get down on his knees.

“Cleaning you up, baby, I'll be quick, don't worry.”

It took Jimin a moment to realise what Jungkook was implying. However, the moment he finally understood, Jungkook's tongue was already on his inner thigh, licking up and collecting his own cum that had trailed down Jimin's thigh already.

The smaller boy gasped, eyes fluttering shut as he collapsed on his ellbows, placing his forehead on his arms as he felt Jungkook's tongue on his hole.

“J-Jungkook” Jimin moaned, mouth agape in a silent scream when Jungkook pushed his tongue inside to collect his own cum. All of this was so obscene, yet Jimin couldn't help the twitch of his penis, couldn't help the jerk of his thighs, couldn't help the heat in the pit of his stomach.

Jimin's hole felt sensitive, the slightest brush of Jungkook's tongue sending an intense feeling through Jimin's body that left Jimin confused whether he wanted more or couldn't take any more.

Involuntarily, he tried to close his legs, causing Jungkook to grab one of his thighs and spread it further, humming against Jimin's skin that send vibrations through his body.

"Kook-ah" Jimin whined, the taller boy smirking as he twirled his tongue around Jimin's hole, loving the sounds Jimin was making, loving to see him squirm like this.

Jungkook sucked on his hole, Jimin screaming out and trying to get away from Jungkook's mouth, but the younger boy simply followed him, chasing Jimin's hole so he could lick over it again.

"Enough, enough, please" The older boy whimpered, biting on his arm as he felt his thighs shake.

Jungkook rubbed over his thighs softly, caressing the skin before he placed a kiss on his inner thigh, "Did so well. You're all clean now, hm?" Jungkook uttered, voice soft as he got back up, straightening his back as he watched Jimin's slack body bend over the table. His butt was exposed, round fair skinned cheeks so inviting. Jungkook wanted to leave marks on there, too, yet he knew that he couldn't.

"Come on, little one, let's get you dressed"

The taller boy gripped his waist softly, rubbing his other hand over Jimin's back soothingly as he felt Jimin breathe heavily, face still hidden in his arms and body shaking all over.

"Baby"

"Hmm?" Jimin murmured, lifting his head and letting Jungkook straighten his back. There were tears in the corner of Jimin's eyes, causing Jungkook to worry whether he went too far.

"Hey, baby, are you okay?" Jungkook whispered, brushing his hair back and rubbing his thumb over Jimin's cheek gently.

"Mhm, just... was just a lot, but I liked it" Jimin answered, smiling slightly.

Jungkook mirrored his smile, leaning down and placing a kiss on his forhead, "I'm glad. Let's get you dressed now"

Jimin still hadn't fully fathomed what just happened. His brain still wasn't functioning properly, not able to process this situation and what it meant – if it meant anything. Perhaps this really was just a dream?

The black haired boy picked up their clothes, helping Jimin put on his briefs and handing him his pants so he could put on his own suit jacket. The smaller boy tugged his pants up and then reached for his suit jacket, Jungkook suddenly letting out a laugh.

Confused, Jimin turned around to look at him. "What?"

"You're... oh my god, I'm sorry, Jimin-ah. Your pants ripped"

"What!?" Jimin yelled out in shock, locking down on himself, but not seeing any rip or hole, "Where?"

Jungkook grabbed behind Jimin, poking a spot below Jimin's butt and indeed, Jimin could feel Jungkook's finger on his skin.

“Oh my god” Jimin breathed, horror written on his face as he felt his heart sink. This was not good. No, not good at all. This was horrible to be exact. The worst that could happen. He had tried to prevent this, had been so careful, yet he had completely forgotten about his suit as soon as Jungkook touched him.

“I'm sorry, I must have ripped it when I pulled it off of you. I'll buy you a new one, I promise. Or let this one get fixed, whatever you want. I hope you don't have any personal connection to this piece”

“No, it's... it's not even mine. I borrowed it”

“Oh” Jungkook replied, eyes wide, “Well, I'm going to pay for it obviously. Don't worry, I do-”

Suddenly, the door burst open, light falling into the room and...

Taehyung?

His best friend opened his mouth, looking back and forth between Jungkook and Jimin before he let out a sigh, noticing Jimin's flushed cheeks and loosened tie, the suit jacket that was lying on the table – it wasn't hard to guess what had went on in here, the heat of the room giving him any other idea.

“I've been looking for you for so long now, Minnie. I'm glad, I found you” Tae uttered, a little out of breath before he stared at Jungkook, eyes narrowing and tone of voice changing, “Seoyun is looking for you. You're lucky she didn't come up here with me”

The black haired boy cleared his throat as he glanced at Jimin, “Text me about... about your suit. Sorry again, Jimin-ah. And-” He looked at Tae, noticing how the boy was looking at him unimpressed, tapping his foot on the ground and signaling for him to leave, “Yeah, I... Good night, Jimin-ah”

The smaller boy blinked, only staring at him and watching him exit the room. Jungkook turned around one last time, smiling at him before he disappeared. Jimin was left there standing and wondering what all of this meant, the question on the tip of his tongue, words he had wanted to tell Jungkook before they had been interrupted.

“I'm not even going to ask right now” Tae sighed as he approached Jimin, helping him with his tie and buttoning his shirt back up. The orange haired one blushed, averting his gaze as he bit down on his bottom lip.

Frankly, Jimin didn't even know what to say.

“Let's leave, come on”

Jimin nodded, grabbing his suit jacket and walking outside. Suddenly, Tae gasped.

“No, no, no, no” Tae whined, causing Jimin to turn around, “What happened?”

“The suit, Minnie! What have you done?”

“Oh... I'm... I'm sorry, really. I was careful the whole night, but then... it ripped. I... I'm sorry.”
“It just ripped? What did he do?”
“Who?”
“You know who. Jungkook did that, didn't he? While trying to fuck you he wasn't as careful with your clothes as he should have”
“Tae, ssssh!” Jimin whispered, clasping a hand in front of Taehyung’s mouth who pushed it away, frowning.
“Don't 'sssh' me. There is no one upstairs here anyway.” Tae uttered, sighing a moment later, “I just wished he had been a little more careful. The fabric is sensitive!”
“Yes! The smallest touch can cause it to rip. It's very soft, you can feel that against your skin. It's a comfortable material, yet very sensitive. Oh my god, he's going to kill you – us. How are you supposed to pay for that?”
“J-Jungkook-ah offered to buy me a new one or fix this one. I will... I mean, I don't want to ask him for money, but I might talk to him about this”
“You better. He can't just fuck you and ruin your clothes. At least you can't really see it. Take your jacket off and wrap it around your waist”
“That looks silly” Jimin protested, pouting.
“Well, do you want everyone to see your ass?” Tae argued, eyebrow arched up as he crossed his arms over his chest.
“It's not my butt, just my thigh”
“Doesn't matter. Looks weirder if anyone sees the rip. We're going to leave now anyway.”
“Already?”
“Yes, that's why I looked for you. You said you didn't want to stay for too long. I already talked to Jin and informed the others”
“Okay”
“As soon as we're out of here, we're gonna talk about what happened in that room because I sincerely, genuinely cannot believe you did that’”
Jimin gulped, a little worried about his friend scolding him. Then again, right now, Jimin could only focus on the fluttering in his heart when he thought about Jungkook's touch.

Chapter End Notes

Sooo... that happened. Will this incident change anything between Jimin and Jungkook? What do you think? What did it mean - if it did, at all?
By the way, can we just talk about the comeback please? I'm in love with the whole album, IDOL is a bop and the MV was amazing! What do you think? Do you have a favourite song? I honestly can't choose! <3
Chapter Summary

Jimin deals with the repercussions of his actions, conflicted by what he did. Later, Jungkook and Jimin try to have the conversation that is long overdue, yet... things escalate.

Chapter Notes

Hii :)

Thank you for all the lovely and encouraging comments on the last chapter <3 I was very grateful for your feedback <3

See the end of the chapter for more notes.

“I'm going to hell” Jimin cried out, falling back down on his sofa and placing his head on the soft pillow.

“You're not going to hell” Tae claimed, shutting the door close behind them and plopping down on the sofa next to Jimin. The smaller boy sat up slightly, scooting over to the side of the sofa and leaning his head against the backrest.

“I had sex with him even though he has a girlfriend” Jimin reminded Taehyung who loosened his tie and dropped it on the table.

“I know and that's... well, just know that you aren't the one doing wrong here. He did. He cheated on her, not you”

“But with me. He did that with me. I'm part of that mess. I feel so guilty” Jimin whined, picking up the pillow and pressing it against his face.

It had taken some time for the orange haired boy to comprehend what his actions had meant and what the consequences were going to be. He had sex with Jungkook while said boy was in a relationship with someone else – apparently supposed to even propose to her. Yet, things didn't really seem to add up. Why would Jungkook do that to her? He doesn't seem like a person that would do something like that. He had always been so very respectful and decent, hadn't he? Why would he cheat on his girlfriend like that? Why would he tell Jimin that he misses him, if he loves someone else?

All of this was so confusing. Jimin felt like his head was going to explode. He let out a sigh as he dropped the pillow back down on the sofa.

What had Jungkook meant by 'think hard'? What had he tried to imply? Did he... did he actually have feelings for Jimin? Yet, if he had, why had he rejected Jimin before?
Why was he doing all of this to Jimin? His poor heart couldn't handle all of this push and pull. It was going to be ruined by the end of this game. Jimin's heart had already been shattered to pieces too much, it wasn't able to bear any more of this torture.

He needed to know what was actually going on between Seoyun and Jungkook and how Jimin played into that.

Had Jungkook used him for sex? Was that it? It couldn't be... The way Jungkook touched and looked at him made him believe that it wasn't just sex, but that it had meant more. However, his heart had been wrong before so the possibilities of Jungkook only having been out for sex weren't that slim.

Jimin didn't know what to believe, didn't know what to do. Should he go and apologise to Seoyun? Then again, Jungkook probably hadn't told her about them sleeping together and most likely wasn't going to. Jimin didn't want to ruin Jungkook's life.

Had it been worth it? Being that intimate with Jungkook had been such a beautiful and soothing moment, but the guilt Jimin had to deal with right now... it was eating his consciousness alive. The smaller boy just hoped that his gut and his heart were right with their assumptions. That there was something more to Jungkook's and Seoyun's relationship that would somehow make all of this right, make it less wrong.

It wasn't right. Jimin knew that. At least, it shouldn't be right. Having sex with a taken man was horrible, was awful. Though, why had it felt so right? The way their bodies fit together like they were meant to be, the way their hands aligned when they intertwined, why had those things felt so right if they weren't?

Deep within, Jimin knew he should have prevented this from happening, should have stopped it as soon as Jungkook asked him for a kiss. However, Jimin had gotten lost in Jungkook's eyes and the desire to be close to him. Frankly, Jimin had tried to tell himself that he was on a good path on getting over the taller boy, but as soon as they were even barely touching, Jimin realised that it had been a lie. The longing for the black haired boy was too strong, Jimin couldn't help himself, just wanted to touch, craved for his love.

No, he wasn't over Jungkook and this incident hadn't helped the process at all.

At least it made him realise one thing: that it couldn't go on like this any longer. It might just have been a slip for Jungkook, yet even if Jungkook wanted to do this ever again – Jimin wouldn't let it happen. No, it wasn't healthy for either of them. As long as Jungkook was taken and they haven't talked about whatever was going on between them, Jimin wouldn't allow Jungkook to touch him. This was a necessity at this point.

“How did that even happen?” His best friend wanted to know, startling Jimin who had been so caught up in his thoughts. The shorter male looked over to him, watching him take off his suit jacket and dropping it on the armchair.

“He followed me into the room and then... it just kind of happened”

“Oh Jimin” Tae sighed, the orange haired boy biting down on his lip as he felt his cheeks flush.

“I know. I'm a horrible person”

“You're not a horrible person. Sometimes we do things that... that we shouldn't do. I just... he's playing games with you, Jimin-ah. I got so angry when I saw him there. It's your life, though, so I won't tell you what to do. I have done shit before that I regret, too, so I'm not one to tell you what's right and what's wrong. Just please don't let him use you like this”

“He's not using me. He told me that he missed me” Jimin argued, not sure which one he was trying to convince – Taehyung or himself.

“It's not like people don't say shit to get sex” Tae pointed out, causing Jimin's heart to stop beating for a moment.

Had Jungkook actually just used him?

“He has Seoyun for that. Why can't he go to her?”

“I don't know. Apparently he wanted to have sex with you.” The blond boy answered, shrugging his shoulders. As he noticed how Jimin's expression changed, he felt his heart sting, “Hey, I'm not saying he doesn't like you. He might like you a lot, that's why he wants to be close to you. I'm just saying that he has a girlfriend and until he tells you how he feels about you or breaks up with her, I don't...I don't think you should keep going. It's not good for you, Jimin-ah. I don't want to believe it, I wasn't in the room with you, but I feel like he's using you for sex because he knows how you feel about him”

Jimin gulped, heart sinking. No, the way Jungkook had touched him was different. It wasn't just a quick fling. Hadn't Jungkook been careful with him, so sweet? Then again, in the moment, Jimin hadn't really cared about why Jungkook wanted him. The thought of Jungkook craving him had made his heart melt, had caused him to agree to letting Jungkook touch him because he had longed for him for so long, too.

“I'm so sorry, Jimin-ah, that you're in such a mess...”

“It's not your fault so you don't have to apologise” Jimin smiled faintly, patting his friend's arm.

Tae pressed his lips into a line, averting his gaze and nodding slightly. Frowning, Jimin tilted his head to the side, but didn't ask another question.

“I'm going to talk to him. Eventually. I have to. I have to clear all of this up and I won't let him get close to me until there is clarity”

The blond boy smiled and gave a nod, “That's a good idea. At this point, it's necessary or you'll both break.”

Jimin gave a light nod, determined to finally find a way out of this dark tunnel.

-------

Hey – Jimin

The smaller boy stared down on his phone, pulling his legs up to his chest and resting his head on top of his knees. Anxiously, Jimin played with the strands of loose fabric from the rip in his pants while waiting for a reply. It had only been two minutes since Jimin had send the message, but it felt like an eternity.

Hey – Jungkook

Jimin's heart dropped, gulping as he read over the message. It was odd how a simple word could have such an effect on Jimin, yet they hadn't texted in such a long while and the last time they had seen each other, the situation had escalated quite a bit.

_I guess you're texting because of your suit? - Jungkook_

_Suit? - Jimin_

_Yes, you know, the one I ripped. Sorry about that again. - Jungkook_

_Oh. Well, Jimin hadn't actually texted because of that, but he had wanted to do that, too. Jimin felt a cold shiver run down his back at the memory of the man's face when he saw the suit and how he had screamed at Jimin and Taehyung. Frankly, his face had gotten so red from anger that for a slight moment, Jimin had actually believed the man was going to faint. He hadn't, fortunately. Tae had tried to calm him down, promising to have it fixed and that it had been an accident – which was true. Thankfully, as Tae and the man were friends, he had calmed down and accepted their apology, yet asking them to pay him as quickly as possible._

_Oh, yes, the suit. Well, I haven't actually texted you because of that, but because I think we should talk? You know, about that night at the opening party? I really think we should talk about what happened and what it meant beca-

_Jimin hadn't even finished writing the message as there came another one from Jungkook._

_Jimin-ah, I'm sorry, but I can't really text right now. I have to go into a meeting now. Just tell me how much you need and I'll send you a check. Don't worry, I will pay whatever amount is necessary. Sorry again. Good night, Jiminnie – Jungkook_

_The smaller boy's heart sank, biting down on the inside of his cheek as he read over the message again, deleting his own one in order to write a new one._

_Oh, okay. Sorry, I don't want to bother you. Thank you. I'll let you know about how much I need to pay back as soon as I know. Good luck in your meeting and good night. - Jimin_

_There didn't come any other message from Jungkook._

_Jimin dropped his phone down on his bed, staring at the wall across from him. Didn't Jungkook want to talk, too? Didn't he think it was necessary to finally find clarity and talk things out? He couldn't just go and storm into Jimin's life whenever he pleased and expect Jimin to do whatever he wanted._

_Yet, well, that's exactly what Jimin did. Jimin had allowed him to act like this because he had feelings for him and longed for him. However, this couldn't keep happening. Jimin had to stand his ground and not let himself be treated like this any longer._

_Jungkook continued giving him signs that there could be more, that he might feel the same, but that hope was crushed every time he acted this distant and cold, pushing Jimin away._

_Then again, Jimin knew now what Jungkook's profession was, that he had a very busy job – which he knew before, but had more details of now. Jungkook couldn't just stop a meeting for him, but it hurt that he didn't even consider Jimin texting him because of something else but the suit, it hurt that Jungkook didn't believe that it was necessary to talk._

_Whatever. Jimin wasn't going to keep running after Jungkook, trying to fix this on his own. He wasn't going to let Jungkook treat him like this either, but was going to push him away until he was ready for a very due conversation._

_The smaller boy laid back down on his back, placing his head on the soft pillows and staring up to the ceiling.

Jimin had to be strong.

He couldn't continue letting Jungkook treat him like this and he couldn't keep allowing him to act like this either.

No, he had to stand up for himself.

-------

“Would you rather always be 10 minutes late or always 20 minutes early?” Dongha asked, smiling as he glanced at Jimin.

The smaller boy narrowed his eyes, “I hate being late so I guess I’d rather be 20 minutes early” Jimin answered as they continued to walk down the calm street, street lamps turning on at the side of the road as it was getting dark.

“Really? I'm an impatient person and I hate waiting for too long. I always try to get on time, but I end up being late sometimes. I think I would rather be late 10 minutes” Dongha stated, shrugging his shoulders.

The orange haired boy giggled, shaking his head, “You are impossible. It's rude to let the people you are supposed to meet wait for too long”

“Well, to be fair, 10 minutes isn't that long”

“It would be so horrible to always be late though, wouldn't it? Like, to every single appointment. What if it's really, really important. Like, what if your life depends on it?” Jimin emphasised, arching up his eyebrows as he observed Dongha chuckle.

“Right, there are some things that I really don't want to be late for. Still, I won't change my answer. Next question. Would you rather fart really loud every time or poop your pants silently?”

Jimin halted, staring at Dongha with a blank expression. How had their conversation turned into this? For the past fifteen minutes they have talked about thought provoking, important things in life and their perspectives on them and now they were talking about... poop?

“Would you rather fart really loud every time or poop your pants silently?” Dongha repeated, smiling, but other than that he appeared to be serious. In fact, it seemed as if he was curious about what Jimin was going to answer.

“What kind of question is that? How did you come up with that after all the other ones?” The smaller boy giggled as they kept on walking.

Dongha was walking him home. They had just had dinner together after practice, not that far from Jimin's flat, and the taller boy had suggested to walk him home so they could talk a bit more.

“It's an important question. Like, you could just wear diapers, you know? No one would know that you just shit your pants, but when you fart loudly – there is no way no one will not know about that” Dongha reasoned like they were having a serious debate.

Jimin couldn't help but laugh at the situation, shaking his head at Dongha's words, “What about the smell? It's not like you're not going to smell the poop”

Dongha frowned, staring into the distance for a moment before he nodded as if Jimin had made a valid point, “You're right. I didn't consider that. Hang on, let me think about it again”

The orange haired boy nudged his shoulder slightly, Dongha finally breaking out into a laugh, showing that he had been joking about that question after all.

Dongha smirked smugly, shrugging his shoulders.

“One of us has to come up with the important questions in life”

They stared at each other for a moment, yet it didn't take long until they broke out into laughter at Dongha's serious tone again.

Jimin noticed that they weren't far from his apartment anymore, actually getting a little sad at the realisation. Dongha was a great person, a wonderful friend who always made him laugh and cheered him up, distracted him from other... people.

Their laughters died down as soon as they arrived just meters away from Jimin's entrance door. There was a reason for the sudden stilling, for Jimin's change in expression, for the way his heart stopped.

“Jungkook?” Jimin was able to utter out, blinking because he couldn't believe that Jungkook was actually here.

The black haired boy took a step back from the door, gaze falling on Jimin and Dongha. There was a change in his expression two times. Firstly, when his eyes fell on Jimin, a rather soft one. Then secondly, when his eyes fell on Dongha, a complete different one, the softness entirely gone. Jimin couldn't define the stare, but knew that Jungkook wasn't pleased to see Dongha here.

Jimin didn't want to, didn't want his heart to flutter at the sight of Jungkook, yet he couldn't help it, couldn't help the quickening beat of his heart either. It was horrible, wasn't it? How Jimin seemed to lose all control over his body when Jungkook was around.

However, it needed to stop. Jimin had to learn how to contain these feelings and stop his heart from going crazy at the sight of Jungkook. This wasn't healthy and couldn't go on any longer.

“Jimin-ah, hey.” The taller boy greeted, clearing his throat as he took a step closer. It was only then when Jimin realised that he was holding something in his left hand, “I wanted to give you the check I promised” Jungkook revealed, glancing at Dongha for a brief moment before tracing his eyes back on Jimin.

Why didn't he just send Beomsoo? Or sent it by mail?

“You could've just sent it by mail or ask Beomsoo to bring it. You didn't have to come here all the way” Jimin pointed out softly, not breaking eye contact with Jungkook no matter how intent the stare was. It was causing Jimin to be nervous, but he didn't want to avert his gaze, wanted to stand his ground.

“I know, I just... wanted to make sure that you get it. Here” The younger boy handed him the piece of paper, Jimin hesitating for a moment before he took it.

Jimin looked back and forth between his eyes, trying to decipher what exactly he was apologising for. For the suit? For having sex with Jimin while he was in a relationship with Seoyun? For breaking Jimin's heart? What exactly was the apology for?

“I wanted to... Well, I came here because-” Jungkook paused, frowning as he tried to look for the right words.

_I wanted to have sex with you again. I wanted to make you believe that there could be something more just to push you away again. I wanted to make sure you don't talk to Seoyun about any of this._

All of these possibilities for Jungkook's words were coming up in his mind. Jimin really didn't know how he was going to finish the sentence, wasn't sure if he wanted to know.

Frankly, Jimin didn't really know anything about Jungkook's intentions at this point – or had he ever, really?

“Nevermind. I see you're busy right now and I don't want to interfere in your plans” The black haired boy finally added, clearing his throat again as he took a step back.

For a slight moment Jimin actually believed to see hurt in Jungkook's eyes, yet that was silly because Jungkook had never looked hurt like that. In fact, it was gone as quickly as it had appeared, causing Jimin to consider that he might have misinterpreted the emotion. Was he even able to feel such an emotion? Jimin honestly wasn't sure.

The younger boy seemed to wait for Jimin to say something, but he didn't – because he didn't know what he was supposed to say. It wasn't a good idea to let Jungkook stay, especially not to invite him into his apartment because that surely would be go downhill.

Had Jungkook want to talk? The possibilities appeared very slim to Jimin, yet somewhere in his heart a voice was telling him that Jungkook had wanted to finally talk to him about _them_ and about what had happened between them.

However, the majority part of him believed that Jungkook didn't want to change anything about this situation because he didn't see anything that was wrong with it. If he had, he would have asked Jimin to talk about them sooner already, at least during their last texting session. Yet, he hadn't.

All Jimin could do was stand there and watch Jungkook climb back into his car, the sound of his engine fading away as he left.

--------

As soon as Jimin's gaze fell on the entrance door, he halted in his steps. Suddenly, his heart was beating faster. Unconsciously, Jimin placed his hand over his chest, hoping to somehow soothe the pounding of his beating heart, yet that was a silly thing to do as it didn't help at all.

A fresh breeze of air passed him, reminding him of the fact that he had just taken a shower at home – his hair still damp and a cold shiver running down his back. Involuntarily, he pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands in order to hide them. In fact, Jimin wanted to hide his whole body in his hoodie, way too nervous to enter the house.

Then again, he had made the decision to come here and deal with the situation whichever way it was gonna go.
Yoongi had invited all of them to a barbecue. Obviously, that included Jungkook. Of course, Jimin had hesitated. In fact, he had declined at first, coming up with a white lie and claiming that he was already busy with practicing and work and... stuff – which, to be fair, wasn't that much of a lie. He had genuinely been practicing until an hour ago. After that, he had sprinted home and had taken a shower, then rushed here just to make it on time to the barbecue.

The problem was Jungkook. As always. Jimin didn't want to be in any more trouble or get hurt any longer. However, Jimin didn't want Jungkook have that much of an effect on his life and essentially determine what Jimin does and where he goes. The orange haired boy didn't want Jungkook to influence his decision about when or if he meets his friends. Jimin really wanted to spend time with the rest of his friends and honestly, he didn't want that to be ruined just because he didn't want to see Jungkook. Jimin didn't want to give him that power any longer and hold him back from things he wanted to do.

Finally, Jimin took the last steps towards the door, lifting his hand a moment later and ringing the bell. It didn't take long until the door swung open, revealing a smiling Taehyung who was holding a beer.

“Minniiieee!” Tae exclaimed with a grin, throwing an arm around Jimin as the smaller boy entered the house, “Hyung has already started with grilling the meat. You know, so we don't have to wait for too long until the food is ready. You're probably hungry after all the practice today. Hoseok hyung already told us that today was intense”

Jimin gave a slight nod while he took his shoes off, surprised by the silence in the house. As soon as his shoes were off, Tae intertwined their hands and pulled Jimin with him towards the living room.

Confusement settled in Jimin for a brief moment when he noticed how the room was empty, yet everything made sense when he saw some figures on the patio, the smell of burning coals filling his nostrils.

“We're all outside so hyung doesn't have to stay there on his own while grilling” Tae explained.

Jimin hummed as he gave another nod, stomach twisting at the sight of Jungkook. Finally, they stepped outside, the others turning towards them and smiling brightly while greeting Jimin.

All of them jumped up and pulled him into a hug – well, all of them except Jungkook whose eyes were fixated on Jimin while he took a sip from his beer, an intent stare, yet an unreadable expression. What was new?

They were all dressed in comfy clothes, wearing big jumpers or hoodies. The sun was starting to go down and it was a little chillier at night, causing them to dress accordingly. The orange haired boy wasn't surprised to see Jungkook wearing a black hoodie as it seemed to be his favourite colour.

“Jimin-ah, your hair is all wet. Won't you get sick?” Jin worried as he ruffled through Jimin's damp hair. The smaller boy chuckled at his action, pulling away to fix his hair.

“Yah, go inside and blowdry your hair. I don't want you to get sick” Yoongi scolded him, pointing a barbecue tong holding some meat at him, realising only a moment later that he did that and quickly dropping the meat back on the grill.

Jimin rolled his eyes and let out a sigh, still smiling at his friends' concern about his health, “I'm not going to be sick”

“It's quite chilly outside, you'll freeze” A voice suddenly commented – a voice Jimin would recognise everywhere. Jimin glanced at Jungkook who was already staring at him, not replying to him though. It was as if they could only stare at each other. The others started to look back and forth between them as it appeared that Jimin and Jungkook were caught in a trance, silence settling between the group, the only sound being the meat sizzling on the grill.

“I'll show you where the blowdryer is’’ Tae broke the silence, quickly jumping in and locking his arm with Jimin's. He pulled the smaller boy with him back into the house.

“I know where the blowdryer is, Tae, you don't have to show me’’

“I know you do, but... I thought your brain literally shut off. You didn't move or say anything, neither did he.” His best friend defended, shrugging his shoulders.

“My brain didn't shut off... Well, I don't know. I'm trying not to let him get close to me, but it's actually very difficult. Every time I look at him my heart does this weird thing and I'm trying really hard to contain that feeling. It's hard, but I have to do it.”

“It might get easier over time. The others are starting to notice, though, I think” Tae noted, biting down on his bottom lip as he glanced outside.

Jumin swallowed hard, but shrugged his shoulders. “I don't think we should tell them. I'm pretty sure Jungkook doesn't want his friends to know about him cheating.”

“Don't remind me of that, Jimin-ah. I'm still angry about what he did to you. Every time I see him, I just want to punch him” Taehyung muttered, eyes narrowing as he observed Jungkook.

The orange haired one shook his head, tugging on Taehyung's sleeve to draw his attention back to him.

“Don't. If I can contain my feelings, so can you. Let's just focus on the barbecue. Hyung is working hard for us and bought all of that delicious food” Jimin argued.

“You're right” The blond boy sighed, fists unclenching before he locked eyes with Jimin, “Go upstairs and dry your hair now.”

The shorter male nodded and turned around, going upstairs and entering the restroom where he plugged Yoongi's blowdryer into a socket in order to dry his hair. Frankly, Jimin didn't quite believe that he was going to be sick from being outside, yet it was a little cold outside and his body had stared to shiver at the frequent breezes of air that blew at them outside on the portio.

Once he was done, he placed the blowdryer back where it was and went downstairs, “Jimin-ah, can you bring some plastic cutlery and plates outside?” Jin screamed as he was just exiting the kitchen with several glasses in his hands, glancing over at Jimin who was at the bottom of the stairs.

The smaller boy scanned the room, trying to find the place Yoongi had hidden the stuff. In the end, he started to open random cabinets and drawers, searching for the things Jin assigned him to.

“They're on the shelf” Jungkook pointed out. The suddenness of a voice – of Jungkook's voice – being present started Jimin, causing him to shoot up and hit his head on one of the cabinet doors he hadn't closed.

“Ah!” Jimin hissed, hand flying up to the top of his head as Jungkook rushed over to him simultaneously. The taller boy placed one hand over Jimin's, concern in his eyes as he glanced at the spot.
“Are you okay?” The black haired boy worried, rubbing his hand over Jimin's in a soothing manner. For a moment, Jimin was mesmerised. He was only able to stand there and observe Jungkook, mouth agape and pain completely blurred out. However, he snapped out of it fairly quickly. Suddenly, Jungkook's gaze was piercing through him, his touch burning hot on Jimin's skin, causing the older one to pull his hand away swiftly and drop it back down.

Surprised, Jungkook took his own hand away, too, “Did you hurt yourself?” Jungkook asked as he closed the cabinet.

Jimin blinked, finally shutting his mouth as he swallowed hard, “I-I'm okay” He answered, voice way softer and quieter than he had intended to.

“Are you sure? Should I give you some ice you can press on there?” The black haired one wanted to know, eyebrows arched up.

“N-No, it's fine” Jimin assured as he lifted his hand again to rub over the hurting spot.

A smile krept up on Jungkook's face, amusement in his eyes, “Jiminie, you gotta be careful, hm? We know how clumsy you are”

Jimin's heart did that stupid fluttering thing. The smaller boy pressed his lips together, annoyed by the way his heart was reacting. Why was it so hard to get that under control?

However, what was bothering him, too, was Jungkook's behaviour. Why was he pretending that everything was okay? Why was he acting as if there was nothing they should discuss? Didn't he see how messed up this situation was? Did he not care?

Jungkook's smile dropped once he realised Jimin didn't return it, “Jimin-ah-”

“I'm already on it!” They heard Namjoon's voice from the living room, interrupting whatever Jungkook had been about to say. The taller boy entered the kitchen, causing Jimin and Jungkook to take a step away from each other as if they had done something they shouldn't have. Namjoon halted, eyebrows arched up.

“You okay?” He wondered as he walked over to the fridge and opened it.

“Yeah, I was just in here to get the plastic cutlery” Jimin responded, clearing his throat as he pointed to the bag. Jungkook picked it from the shelf for him, handing them to the smaller boy, “Thank you” Jimin uttered softly, not making eye contact though as he took the bag.

Without another word, Jimin exited the kitchen and went back outside on the portio.

--------

“Use this” Yoongi advised and tossed a blanket over to Jimin and Tae who were starting to freeze due to the low temperatures. The others appeared to be fine, continuing to eat without their bodies shivering.

“Thank you, hyung” The two boys uttered in unison, throwing the blanket over their shoulders and pulling it around their upper bodies in order to feel warmer.

“We can go inside, if you want to” Hoseok suggested, rubbing over Taehyung's back who smiled at his boyfriend lovingly, but shook his head.

Yoongi had turned on some music that was playing in the background quietly while they were chatting, the noises of the night and the frequent breezes somehow being soothing. It was a beautiful night, even more beautiful when spend in wonderful company. Jimin looked around and felt his heart warm up, thinking about the bond they all shared. Eventually, his gaze travelled over to Jungkook, Jimin's smile fading as he noticed how the black haired boy was already staring at him.

The conversation around the two boys was still vivid, the voices of their friends ringing in their ears after they laughed about something Jin had said. Seriously, Jimin tried really hard to avert his gaze, but for some stupid reason he was unable to do so.

“Well, not today though, right Jimin-ah?” Hoseok's voice filled Jimin's ears, a hand nudging Jimin's shoulder.

“Today, we did a quite complicated part of the choreo. Jimin and one of my other students bumped into each other quite often. Jimin even fell down a couple of times, but he got up every single time. I hope you won't get any bruises from that, kid” Hoseok elaborated, ruffling through Jimin's hair with a sympathetic expression on his face.

Jimin smiled shyly in return, making himself a little smaller, “It's fine. It's not like I'm not used to tripping over and falling down” Jimin murmured, the others chuckling which made Jimin smile.

“I thought your students are always focused?” Jungkook wanted to know, drawing their attention over to him. He was staring at Hoseok with arched up eyebrows, curiosity visible on his face.

“They are” Hoseok answered with a bright smile, “Accidents can happen sometimes, that's the way it is. It was a completely new part of the choreography so stuff like that is inevitable”

“Is it? I mean, bumping into someone once might, but several times seems a little... I don't know, intentional?” Jungkook argued, somehow appearing to be a little angered. Perhaps... angered that Jimin had been hurt? No, that thought was silly.

Jimin and Hoseok frowned simultaneously.

“Accidents can happen several times, Jungkook-ah. Sometimes, it just takes time to fix certain mistakes. Besides, I'm pretty sure that Dongha didn't do that on purpose. Doesn't seem like he would want to hurt Jimin-ah”

“Dongha?” Jungkook echoed, snorting as he rolled his eyes, “Of fucking course” He breathed as he leaned back into his seat.

“What's that supposed to mean?” Jimin finally asked, eyes narrowed.

“I'm sure you know what it means. It's strange how he bumps into you several times, don't you think? I'm just saying, he might be a little distracted” Jungkook pointed out, locking eyes with Jimin.

The smaller boy huffed, crossing his arms over his chest, “Dongha didn't intentionally bump into me. The choreography was difficult, that's it”

“What's your problem? Do you know Dongha? I don't understand why you're getting all worked up
I'm not getting worked up over this” Jungkook disagreed, trying to contain his voice and leaning back against his seat. His muscles felt tense, causing him to try to loosen them, “I just wanted to make sure”

The others were just watching the situation unfold, not entirely sure what to do. Frankly, they had no idea what was going on and what had caused Jungkook's anger, yet as they observed Jungkook glance at Jimin... maybe they did have an idea after all.

Taehyung was quickly there to carry on with the conversation, breaking the awkward silence. Jimin didn't hear any of his words though, had already went inside to walk upstairs and enter the restroom. Letting out a sigh, he shut the door behind himself. Then, he did his business and washed his hands right after, having a look at himself in the mirror.

His eyes appeared sleepy, big bags underneath them. His hair was fluffy on top of his head, the wind having caused it to look like this. Letting out another sigh, Jimin dried his hands with the soft towel before he opened the door, stilling in his tracks as he saw a figure in the hallway.

“No” Jungkook answered, shaking his head, “I mean... Maybe.” He corrected, Jimin trying really hard to hide his smile at Jungkook's somehow adorable confused expression. God, it was so difficult to contain these feelings, his heart going crazy already, “Jimin-ah, can we talk?”

However, that's when his heart dropped. To be honest, Jimin hadn't expected that all, hadn't expected to Jungkook want to talk – nevertheless talk here, talk now.

Jungkook nodded, “I think we should.”

“Actually talk or do you mean...” Jimin didn't finish the sentence, felt his cheeks heat up at the thought. Was it that reprehensible for Jimin to believe that Jungkook's intention actually was another one? That he might be asking for sex right now?

“Talk. I mean talk, Jimin-ah”

Swallowing hard, Jimin gave a nod. It was due. This was so fairly due. Sure, Jimin would have never imagined to have this talk in Yoongi's house, but it didn't matter, the place didn't matter, it just needed to happen.

“Let's go in here” Jungkook suggested, pointing at one of Yoongi's guest bedrooms, the door already wide open. Jimin nodded again, following Jungkook inside the room while tugging his sleeves over his petite hands in order to hide them, a nervous habit of his.

The black haired boy walked over to the nightstand, turning the lamp on so there was at least some dim light in the room, instead of the fairly bright one on the ceiling.

“Should we shut the door?” Jungkook asked, eyebrow arched up.

Involuntarily, Jimin's heart started to beat faster. Perhaps, staying in a closed room with Jungkook wasn't that good of an idea – the last time being proof of that. However, Jimin wouldn't touch Jungkook tonight, wouldn't allow Jungkook to touch him either. No, not until any of this was solved.

“Okay”

Jungkook nodded and closed the door, Jimin taking a seat on the edge of the bed while he did that. Then, the taller boy approached him, sitting down on the bed next to him.

Hopefully, the others weren't going to worry about them or come and look for them. Yet, this just couldn't wait any longer and Jimin honestly didn't know if there was going to be a possibility for this moment in the near future again.

However, it appeared to be even more difficult than Jimin had imagined.

Both boys were just sitting there on the bed, thighs touching and sending sparks through their bodies even at the tiniest touch. They were staring at the wall, deliberating about what to say, where to start.

“How's your head?” Jungkook eventually broke the silence, his sudden voice startling the smaller boy.

“Huh?” Jimin uttered, titling his head to the side, then realising what Jungkook was referring to, “Oh” He breathed, hand rushing up to the spot that didn't hurt anymore, but where a slight bump was noticeable.

The younger boy turned his head towards Jimin in order to be able to look at him, causing Jimin to gulp and drop his hand back down. There was a slight smile on Jungkook's face.

“I-It doesn't hurt anymore. Why are you asking? I don't think that was the reason for you to want to talk to me?”

Jungkook smiled again, this time it wasn't genuine though, but kind of sad. The taller boy averted his gaze and nodded.

“It's not the reason, no. I was curious because it had looked like it hurt. I just wanted to make sure you're okay”

Jungkook’s head snapped to the side, eyebrows arched up, “What did you say?”

“I said, as if you care” Jimin repeated, not glancing at Jungkook but still playing with the hem of his own hoodie.

Suddenly, Jungkook grabbed his chin softly, guiding his face back up in order to lock eyes with him, “What makes you say that?”

Jimin blinked, looking back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, trying to decipher the emotion in them. Then, he pulled his head back, pushing Jungkook's hand away as he frowned.

“Why wouldn't I say that? Didn't you tell me that yourself?” Jimin argued, voice sounding vulnerable, giving away that he was hurt even though he hadn't intended that.

The black haired boy pulled his brows together, “I didn't mean- Jimin-ah, how can you even believe that after all of this I don't care about you at all? Of course, I care about your well-being, about you being safe and content.” Jungkook claimed, wetting his lips, “I miss you so much, Jimin-ah”

Jimin's heart did that stupid fluttering thing again. The smaller boy felt himself soften at the words, yet he couldn't let that feeling win. No, not again.

“After all of this? What? The lessons? You rejecting me? After all the lies? What exactly, Jungkook-ah?” Jimin argued, scooting away from Jungkook and turning his body towards him.

The taller boy opened his mouth, but shut it again right after, slightly bewildered by Jimin’s words, “After what lies? What do you mean?” Jungkook wanted to know.

Jimin wanted to laugh at the absurdity. How was Jungkook still trying to keep this act up? Why was he doing that? Shouldn't they be honest right now? Wasn't this conversation supposed to be about them resolving their issues, being honest with each other at that?

“Shouldn't you tell me something?”

Jungkook only stared at him, confused expression plastered on his face.

“Seoyun? I know that you're in a relationship with her” Jimin revealed eventually.

Jungkook's eyes went wide, “Oh” He breathed.

“Jimin-ah... It's complicated, I told you” Jungkook tried to explain, getting a little closer, yet that caused Jimin to scoot even further away.

“You can't keep doing this. I can't keep doing this.” The smaller boy uttered, voice breaking as he felt his hands tremble. There was clarity now, complete clarity. Of course, he had seen it in the magazine and on the internet, but now Jungkook didn't deny it any longer. No, Jungkook was pretty much confirming that they actually were in a committed relationship. And it hurt, it hurt a lot. Honestly, Jimin hadn't thought that Jungkook's confirmation would cause him pain like this again because he had already known about the fact. However, somehow, it hurt in a different way to hear Jungkook say those words.

“I know, I'm sorry, Jimin-ah. I didn't mean to... to pull you into this like I did. I don't know what to do and I don't know how to fix it” Jungkook stated, something like fear or apology in his eyes, Jimin wasn't sure, his vision being a little blurry as his own eyes were watery.

Silence.

“Do you?”

“Jimin-ah, forget it, it doesn't-”

The orange haired boy got up on his feet, done with Jungkook not giving him actual answers, but always pushing him away, not letting him in.

“Wait!” The taller one called out, grasping Jimin's wrist and pulling him back, getting up on his feet himself.

“What, Jungkook-ah?”

“No, I don't love her, Jimin-ah”

Jimin's heartbeat quickened at his words. Jungkook didn't take his hand away from Jimin's wrist, the touch sending sparks through Jimin's body.

“The casual thing between us could have went on without... without any of this” Jungkook whispered, “It shouldn't have become a mess like this”

“Well, sorry, but I can't control my feelings. You continued to touch me, you had sex with me outside of our lessons, you broke the rules, too, and made me believe that there could be something more.” Jimin pointed out, a single tear rolling down his face.

“The day you came to my apartment unannounced... I couldn't see you being hurt.”

“So you had sex with me out of pity?” Jimin concluded, a stinging in his chest hurting him.

“No! No, Jimin-ah, that's not what I mean. It's just, after Taehyung-ssi told me about your father, I-”

“Tae?” The older boy echoed, pulling his hand away as he frowned, “What do you mean?”

Silence for a brief moment.

“Oh. Uhm, nothing.”

That's when it clicked.

“Oh my god! He told you? He told you about my messed up past? About my family issues?” Jimin almost yelled, betrayal running through his body. This couldn't be. Yet, why would Jungkook make that up all of a sudden? The smaller boy felt his heart pang, trust broken.

Without another word, Jimin turned around and opened the door, rushing outside.

“Jimin-ah, where are you going?” Jungkook called out, running after him, but not able to hold him back as he brushed Jungkook's hand off every single time, storming downstairs and out on the portio.

“How could you?” Jimin screamed as soon as he stepped outside.

The conversation between his friends came to a sudden halt, silence settling between the group as all of their eyes travelled up to Jimin, confusion written on their faces.

“How could you tell him about my father and about my past?” The smaller boy shouted, voice breaking as he stared at the person he had referred to as his soulmate, the person he thought he could trust the most in this world, the person who had been by his side for so many years now.

Taehyung's eyes went wide as he glanced over to Jungkook who was standing behind Jimin. Swiftly, Tae got up from his seat with apologetic eyes.

“I trusted you, Tae! I trusted you with my past! You know how difficult that was for me! That information is personal!” Jimin yelled, tears swelling up in his eyes. Was he overreacting? Jimin wasn't entirely sure. Perhaps, tomorrow he would look at this situation completely different, but now all of these emotions where bubbling up inside of him, causing him to behave this way.

“I'm sorry, Minnie, I didn't meant to, I swear. It just kind of slipped and I thought it would prevent him from hurting you. I didn't want to hurt you” Tae apologised as he looked at his best friend who felt betrayed by him.

“It's not your place to talk about that! You knew how burdened I was, how hard it was to deal with all of that and to tell you about it!”

The blond boy nodded as he got closer and tried to hug Jimin, yet the smaller boy shook his head and took a step back.

“Don’t touch me” Jimin uttered, “I don’t even want to talk to you”

He wasn’t screaming. This time, his voice was just above a whisper, yet there was anger in his voice.

“You're acting as if I have done the worst thing on this planet! I'm sorry, okay? I didn't do it with an evil intention!” Tae defended himself, frowning. He appeared to be a little tipsy, probably having drunk another beer.

"I thought I could trust you, Tae! Do you even know how much it hurts to know that the person I trust the most in this world just reveals my secrets like that?"

"Come on, Jimin-ah, it's not that awful! It's not as if you didn't want to tell him about it yourself anyway" The blond boy pointed out.

"So? Even if I did, that doesn't make it right for you to tell him! I decide when and who I want to share that information with! Not you, Tae!"

"Oh my god, Jimin-ah, you're making such a big deal out of this! I'm sorry, I really am, but you're totally overreacting! You're acting as if I'm such a villain!” Taehyung yelled, angered now, too. “To be honest, I wasn't even the first to tell him about this! Why do you think Jungkook made the offer to you? Do you actually think some random ass dude would offer to teach you in sex without knowing anything about you? Who does that?"

The orange haired boy's heart stopped beating. Literally. For a brief moment it did, just to beat twice as fast right after. What did Taehyung mean?

“Jimin, come on! No, of course not! Hyung asked him if he would, well, would keep an eye on you and I overheard him telling Jungkook about you when he was drunk. He wanted Jungkook to ask you and make that offer! Hyung wanted you to finally have a possibility to get over that shit you dealt with so he asked one of the people he trusts the most in this world to fuck you!”

While Tae was revealing all of that, Yoongi had tried to tell him several times to shut up, Jungkook trying to interfere, too, yet Tae didn't care, but just continued. Frankly, Tae probably wouldn't even fully remember what he had done in the morning.

Jimin's heart shattered into pieces - again. The world started to spin and it genuinely felt like Jimin was going to faint any moment now. Pathetically, his heart was still trying to be optimistic, assuring him that surely, this wasn't true. It couldn't be. Who would do that?

The smaller boy glanced at Yoongi who looked defeated, guilt written all over his face and that's when Jimin knew that Taehyung wasn't lying.

“Oh my god” Jimin breathed.

“Jimin-ah, please, listen.” Yoongi tried, getting up on his feet.

“No! Hyung, I'm not that desperate! Why would you do such a thing?” Jimin asked, tears streaming down his face, cheeks heating up. All of this was so embarrassing. Jimin didn't even care about who was getting to know about all of this now, “I trusted you. Both of you. So much, so so much. I trusted you with my life. I told you everything about me. And you just stepped on all of that like it's Jimin's body was trembling, voice shaking when he was talking. Genuinely, Jimin wished that all of this was just a dream, a nightmare to be exact. He just wanted to wake up, oh, please, let him wake up from this awful nightmare.

“How? By making fun of me behind my back? Did you tell them about everything we did?” Jimin wanted to know, spinning around in order to be able to look at Jungkook whose face had written guilt all over.

“No!” He exclaimed, eyebrows pulled together, “No, of course not, Jimin-ah, I would never do that to you.” Jungkook assured.

The smaller boy's bottom lip trembled as he averted his gaze, staring down at the floor. All of this was so incredibly painful, hurting so much and awfully humiliating. Jimin just wanted to disappear, make himself even smaller.

That's why Tae had told him to say yes to the offer... because of this. Had all of them known about this? Had they all known about this from the start and had pulled bets on how long it was going to take until Jimin would be ready for his first time? Had they made bets on what kinks Jimin would like? Was that the reason Taehyung had always told him about what he had tried with Hoseok? To win those bets? The orange haired boy's mind was racing.

Jimin genuinely didn't know what to think about his friends any more. Everything, even the worst possible scenarios could be true because the reality was already a nightmare. Apparently, his friends were capable of such horrible things.

Frankly, Jimin felt so stupid for having falling for this. Felt like a naïve, oblivious little kid. It was as if he was a kid in his childhood again, so so helpless, not able to defend himself or pull himself out of such a painful situation.

Of course that's why Jungkook had never wanted to tell him what the actual reason was, hadn't want to expose the game they were all playing. Obiously, Jimin didn't know for sure if they all actually knew about it, but at this point, he didn’t doubt it. The worst scenarios were creeping up in his mind, voices inside of his head laughing at how stupid he had been.

There was no one he could trust. Every single one of them had betrayed him.

“I would have literally walked through fire for you, I thought I could trust you, but you...” Jimin couldn't even finish the sentence, the lump in his throat being an obstacle. His voice broke as he squeezed his eyes shut, more tears dripping down his faces as he wrapped his arms around his upper body.

“Jimin-ah, hey, please, don't cry. You know, we can't see you cry” Yoongi begged, fear and sadness in his voice.

“Please don't cry, little one” Jungkook pleaded, placing a soft hand on Jimin's shoulder. The smaller boy pulled away with force, tripping over one of the chairs and falling down, “Jimin-ah!” The black haired one called out, bending down in order to help Jimin up.

Jimin swatted his hands away as he got back up on his feet, “Hyung! It's hyung, Jungkook! I'm your hyung!” Jimin screamed, finally snapping.
The younger one shut his mouth, pulling his head back as if Jimin had physically hurt him. There was an emotion in his eyes that Jimin wanted to label as hurt again, yet he wasn't too sure. Why would he be hurt by that?

“I'm sorry, Jimin-a-hyung. I'm sorry, hyung”

It was weird. Jimin's heart felt weird as he was referred like this by Jungkook, but he didn't pay any more attention to that. Instead, he walked past Jungkook back inside the house.

However, Jungkook and the other ones where quickly after him, Jungkook gripping his wrist and stopping him.

“Hyung, please don't leave. Let's sit down and talk about this. I swear it isn't how you think it is”

“Oh, right, because it's never like I think it is, isn't that right, Jungkook-ah?” Jimin yelled as he pulled his hand out of Jungkook's grip, “It's always complicated or not the way it seems. I'm done with that bullshit!”

The group stared at Jimin with sadness and apology in their eyes, not sure what to do, not sure how to save this situation. Jimin didn't want to listen, that was made very clear by the smaller boy. He had his mind set and his heart broken, there was no way he would listen or believe anything they would throw at him right now.

“Stop playing your twisted game with me, Jungkook-ah! This just takes the cake! I told you to leave me out of it, if you're in a relationship with Seoyun, yet you lied to me even though you were taken from the start! Why did you make that stupid offer, huh? Just because hyung asked you to? Did he give you money for that or was making fun of me enough rewarding? Why would you do that when you have a girlfriend? You're disgusting, Jungkook-ah!”

The taller boy's eyes flashed, hurt was there again. This time, Jimin was sure.

“Hyung, stop. I'm serious. How can you even believe that I would take money for this?”

So they did make fun of him. This was in fact just a game. Jungkook didn't deny it, hence it was confirmed, wasn't it?

Jimin shook his head, not wanting to be here any longer as he felt more tears stream down his face. It hurt so bad, to be betrayed by the people he loved and trusted the most in this world. This was his family. Shouldn't this be a safe place? People he could trust?

“I swear, Jimin-a-hyung, you're not leaving right now” Jungkook insisted angrily, grabbing Jimin by the hoodie and pulling him back. The smaller boy tried to brush him off, yet was pressed against a wall, trapped by Jungkook's hands on the wall next to his head, “You're going to listen now, Jimin-ssi. You're not going to run away.”

Jimin was breathing heavily, trying to get away, yet Jungkook didn't let him.

“Please, Jimin-ssi, I'm begging you. I'm begging you to hear me out, I can't lose you”

The orange haired boy gulped, heart being pierced through again.

“I didn't just offer you what I did because of hyung. I had other reasons for that. Taehyung-ssi didn't tell the whole truth, probably interpreted something wrong. We didn't play a game either. Except from Yoongi hyung and I, no one knew – well, at least I didn't think any one else knew. I didn't tell anyone. I didn't tell anyone what we did either. That's a secret between you and me and I would never do that to you. I told you that you can trust me”

Jimin looked back and forth between his eyes. Of course, one part of his stupid heart wanted to believe him, yet the other one, the one that had been damaged too much by all of this, didn't believe any word Jungkook was saying.

“How can I trust you?” Jimin uttered, shaking his head, “How can I know this isn't just one of your lies?”

“Jimin-ssi, please, I'm begging you to believe me. I never meant to hurt you.”

“Please, Jimin-ssi, don't go.”

The smaller boy didn't listen, simply exited the room and picked up his shoes. His vision was blurry, making it difficult to find his way out, yet he did eventually.

The others were calling after him, but Jimin just rushed out of the house while tears were still running down his face, heart left in pieces somewhere inside the house.

“Jimin-ah!” Jungkook yelled, running out of the house and after him.

“Don't follow me or I'll tell Seoyun about us” Jimin threatened, bewildered by his own actions, but his damaged and tortured heart made him do things he usually wouldn't.

“I don't fucking care! Tell her. I don't care about her.” Jungkook answered, halting in front of Jimin. Confused, the shorter male turned around.

“Stop talking to me. I can't take any more of this.” Jimin begged, “Haven't you done enough already? Whatever you say, I can't trust you at this point, Jungkook-ah. I don't even know what's real and what not”

"I'm sorry, Jimin-ssi. I'm sorry for everything that I did that ever hurt you. My intention was never to hurt you. I mean it. I can't see you being hurt. It makes me want to tear out my heart because the pain I feel whenever you’re hurt or crying is unbearable"

Jimin didn't know what to believe, didn't know what words were lies and which one weren't. Unfortunately, his mind was going wild, coming up with all of these horrible and heartwrenching scenarios, possibilities of what else had been going on behind his back that would leave him at the verge of tears, heart being torn apart yet again. Why was this such a mess?

The smaller boy couldn't take any more, wished he could turn back time and decline Jungkook's offer, wished that he could have prevented himself from being in a mess like this.

Jimin wished he would have never fallen for Jungkook because everything that falls, breaks.

Chapter End Notes

I hope you don't want to kill me after this. I'm sorry <3
Do you think Jimin is overreacting? Should he have behaved differently or do you think his actions are justified - considering how he had just been confronted by this information and his mind is going wild with horrible scenarios.

See you in the next chapter :)

Love you <3
“Minnie, please, I’m so sorry” Tae cried as he knocked on the front door again, voice sounding so vulnerable and broken.

Jimin hid his face in his knees, muffling his own cries as he sat with his back against the door. Obviously, Jimin didn't know for sure, but he imagined that Tae was sitting with his back against the door, too, considering how he has been knocking, apologising and crying at this door for the past hour now.

“Please open the door, Minnie” Tae begged, more cries following as he knocked again, “I'm so sorry. I fucked up, I know I did.”

The smaller boy squeezed his eyes shut, wrapping his arms around his legs as more tears streamed down his face.

A couple of hours had passed since that incident at Yoongi’s house. Jimin had ran away, had left all of them standing there and had rushed home. Hauntingly, Jimin could still hear Jungkook’s voice calling after him, begging him to stay.

None of them had followed him, finally respecting his wish for space. At the time, Jimin had needed time for himself, had required time to think about everything. However, it hadn't taken long until Taehyung had appeared in front of his front door, ringing the bell and knocking without Jimin answering him. Evidently, Taehyung had sobered up now, had realised what he had done and what the repercussions were.

“Minnie, please, I'm sorry” The blond boy begged yet again, voice sounding broken, “I don't know what I can do to fix this. I know I did wrong. I shouldn't have told him. I'm... I'm a horrible person, I know. I don't want to justify my actions, but it's just that I can't prevent myself from talking sometimes, you know that. I didn't ever want to hurt you. I knew that you trusted him, too, and remember how we talked about you wanting to tell him about your father? I... I just thought I would help you. I was wrong. I know, I was. It's not my place to tell anyone. I'm sorry, Minnie”

Taehyung's voice got quieter with each word, each syllable sounding more vulnerable. Every word was genuine, was full of apology.

Jimin knew Taehyung for so long now, was convinced that they were soulmates. Taehyung couldn't act like this, wouldn't be able to pretend in front of Jimin, the smaller boy seeing right through it. However, after all of this... Jimin wasn't sure if the Tae he thought he knew was even real at this point. Was this really his best friend? The boy he had shared more than half of his life with? The boy he thought he could trust with all of his heart?

Frankly, the orange haired boy didn't know what to believe at this point.

Clearly, he couldn't just throw away the past thirteen years that he has known Taehyung just because of this one mistake, could he? After all, wasn't Taehyung still the same person that loved him?

Yet, if he actually loved him, how could he break Jimin's trust like that?

Jimin inhaled, sobs leaving his lips as he wiped away his tears just as new ones rolled down his face.

This was an exhausting battle. In fact, his heart was running in circles, one part never wanting to see any of the others again, one part assuring him that they were gonna get through this somehow, seeing light at the end of the tunnel and knowing that the pieces of his heart were going to be put back together in order for him to forgive his friends at one point.

However, right now, the damaged and betrayed part had taken the upper hand – the part that never wanted to see any of them again.

Frankly, Jimin felt humiliated, felt ashamed that he had been some kind of project, an experiment made by his friends – unfortunately, that's exactly how Jimin was feeling right now. The smaller boy just wanted to get away from here as far as possible.

It was as if he was an oblivious, naïve little kid again. A child, that was helpless, that had other people make decisions about their life.

More than anything, Jimin wanted to know the whole story – well, actually, didn't want to because he knew it was going to tear his heart apart, but he needed to know. At this point, Jimin just needed to know the full story, didn't want to be left in the dark any longer – and to be fair, he deserved to know after everything they did to him.

Yoongi and Taehyung had always claimed how they wanted to protect him, yet little did they know that their actions were going to damage Jimin the most. Honestly, Jimin wanted to believe with his whole being that they only had good intentions, that they still loved Jimin and didn't want to hurt him in the slightest – but it was terribly difficult.

“Minnie, can you open the door please?” Taehyung pleaded, startling the shorter male who had blurred out Tae's presence while caught in his own thoughts, “Please, let's talk, Jimin-ah. Let me explain. We didn't play a stupid game either, nor did we pull any bets on you. I promise you. I swear on everything I love. I would never do that to you.”

Jimin pressed his lips together, trying to muffle the sobs that were leaving them. Unfortunately, Jimin couldn't stop crying, tears just continuing to stream down his face while sobs left his lips. As if that wasn't enough already, Jimin started hiccupping inbetween his sobs, trying to inhale enough air as he felt so much weight on his chest. It was as if he was suffocating. All of this was simply too much, too painful.

“Jimin-ah, tell me what I can do to fix this. I'll do anything”

“I can't. I can't go away like this. I need to know that you're okay”

Jimin shook his head, looking up, “I'm not! How can I be okay after this? Please, go away, Tae, you said anything”

“Minnie, I can't just go, please, promise me to hear me out when you're ready. Please, promise me that you'll let me try and explain when you're ready to hear it. That's all I'm asking. I know you probably don't want to see me again, maybe ever, and I know I'm in no place to ask you for anything, but I'm begging you with all my being.”

The orange haired boy hesitated. Honestly, he didn't want to see Taehyung, didn't want to talk to him either. All he wanted was to be alone right now.

Suddenly, there was another voice outside in the hallway. A female voice to be exact. It was slightly muffled, causing Jimin to believe that the person was standing on the stairs or was on another floor.

“You've been screaming and crying for the past hour now! I'm trying to sleep! Can you shut up already!”

Jimin sat up on his knees, curious about who it was, but ending up assuming that it was simply one of their neighbours.

“If you don't shut up, I'll call the police!”

There was some rustling on the other side, Jimin imagining how Tae got up on his feet, “I'm sorry!” He screamed back to her, “I'll be quieter now!”

Jimin gulped, not entirely sure what to do, however, it seemed his heart had already made the decision for him, “Yes” He answered back, voice quiet, but he knew that Taehyung had heard him because he breathed back a thank you, gratitude visible in his tone.

“Please try to sleep. I love you, Minnie” Tae whispered through the door.

For the first time, Jimin didn't say it back.

--------

Frustratingly, Jimin's phone had kept on ringing, causing him to turn it off on his way home from Yoongi's. Since then, a couple of hours had passed, Jimin not having another look on his phone, but having kicked it away from him as he sat down on the hard floor in front of his door.

As soon as he had gotten home, he had slid down the door and had sat there, had cried and then listened to Tae's begging and crying for a while until said boy had left in order to not disturb their neighbours any longer.
Honestly, Jimin didn't know for how long he had been sitting there now. It had been at least four hours, Jimin was pretty certain about that. Yet, it felt like an eternity.

It was in the middle of the night, Jimin didn't know for sure how late it was, but he knew that he should probably go wash up and go to sleep. However, he didn't want nor did he essentially believe that he could get up from this floor right now. His body felt limp, felt like a corpse that he couldn't move at all.

All Jimin had done for the past hours was sat there and cry. It seemed like the next hours wouldn't be any different.

Well, to be fair, Jimin had tried to somehow make sense of this situation, but he couldn't. At least, he wasn't ready. His heart and brain continued their battle, voices inside of him screaming around and deliberating about what had happened, what needed to happen and what was going to happen most likely.

It was so exhausting. Jimin just wanted everything to stop.

His phone lit up again, indicating that he was getting another call. From this spot, he couldn't see who it was though. Letting out an annoyed sigh, Jimin sat up and crawled over to his phone. He picked it up, wanting to turn it off in order to be left alone, yet he halted when he saw who was calling him.

Jungkook.

Jimin didn't want to talk to him right now – or ever. With a shaking hand, Jimin pressed decline, Jungkook's name disappearing from his display and revealing all of the missed calls and unread messages.

36 Misses Calls.

232 Unread Messages.

For a moment, Jimin's heart stopped. He had never had that many calls or messages, had never had that many people care about him. They did, didn't they? They actually cared? If they didn't, would they still want to make things right with Jimin? If Jimin was in fact just someone they had laughed about, pulled their bets on, then they wouldn't try to keep the facade up any longer at this point anymore because the truth was out and if they didn't care about Jimin, they wouldn't care about him believing them or not... right?

Jimin shook his head. That was the softer part of his heart, the optimistic one that tried to make everything right, that wanted to fix things, but the other part was stronger this time, banishing that thought quickly.

_Jimin-ah, I'm sorry – Yoongi-hyung_

The orange haired boy couldn't help himself but read over that message. Involuntarily, he bit on the inside of his cheek. Yoongi had been like a brother to him. Over the years, they had grown so close that Jimin considered Yoongi part of his family. He was one of the few people Jimin had, one of the few Jimin loved and trusted – well, had trusted. Frankly, Jimin still couldn't believe that Yoongi would be capable of doing such an awful thing to him.

Suddenly, Yoongi's name flashed on the display, indicating that he was calling the smaller boy. Jimin crawled back over to the door, sitting with his back against it.
For a moment, Jimin contemplated whether or not he should accept the call. Then, his thumb lingered over the accept button, eventually pressing it. Jimin moved the phone up to his ear as he pulled his knees back up to his chest, placing his head down on top of his knees.

“Jimin-ah?” Yoongi called out surprised, “Jimin-ah, you picked up? Can you hear me? Are you there?”

Jemin swallowed hard, squeezing his eyes shut as he listened to Yoongi’s voice.

“Jimine? Are you okay? Hey, are you there?”

The shorter male moved the phone to his other ear.

“I know you're there, Jimin-ah. I can hear you. Please, say something, anything” Yoongi begged, voice sounding vulnerable. Thinking about it, there were only a few times Yoongi's voice had ever sounded like this. Mostly, when he was scared of Jimin being hurt or upset with something. The older one had always been affected by Jimin's sadness, not able to bear him being upset or hurt. Indeed, he was like a big brother.

“I don't want to talk” Jimin finally uttered, voice foreign, raspy because of his crying and him not saying anything in a while. The smaller boy's voice was so vulnerable, giving away that he had been crying a lot.

A breath of relief was heard through the phone, presumably Yoongi being grateful for Jimin not hanging up, but at least talking to him.

“You don't have to talk. Just please, listen. I'm begging you, Jimin-ah. Please listen to what I have to say, you don't have to respond anything”

Jemin pressed his lips into a line, hiding his face in his knees, yet not replying anything, but not hanging up either.

“Okay, you're not hanging up so I guess you're allowing me to explain myself. Thank you.” Yoongi whispered, clearing his throat after. Jimin heard some rustling, assuming that Yoongi was moving around, maybe sitting down in a different, more comfortable position. Jimin didn't move at all, but remained on the hard floor with his back against the door.

“I never wanted to hurt you with what I did. All I wanted to do was help you, Jimin-ah, you have to believe me. You know I would never hurt you intentionally. Yet, I did hurt you. I know I did, even though it wasn't on purpose, I still hurt you and that will haunt me forever. I feel so sorry. I'm mad at myself for hurting you the way I did because no matter whether or not I didn't want that to happen – it did and I hate myself for having done that to you. I wanted to protect you from being hurt by anything that would come your way, yet I never thought that I would be the one to hurt you the way I did. I fucked up and I know that. The guilt I'm feeling right now will remind me of that every single day. I'm not saying this to make you feel pity for me. I know you're a kind person, you have a good and empathetic heart, yet I don't expect you to forgive me that easily – or even ever. I'm saying this to let you know that I am aware of the fact that I made a mistake and that I'm going to respect whatever decision you make because it's my fault for fucking up the way I did. It hurts even more to know that your heart is fragile and careful with letting people in. I'm aware of how difficult it is for you to trust people and I also know that you feel betrayed by me – that you feel like I've broken your trust and that just... that fucks me up” Yoongi explained, voice breaking and for a moment, Jimin’s heart stopped when heard Yoongi gasp for air, indicating that he was trying to prevent himself from crying, “I'm sorry, Jimin-ah, I'm sorry that I did that to you”
Jimin felt tears stream down his face, letting the words Yoongi just revealed to him echo in his head.

Yoongi sniffed, swallowing noticeably and presumably wiping over his nose as his next few words were slightly muffled, “It's not what you think was going on. It's a long story. I didn't know that Tae-sssi knew, as well. I guess he just overheard me talking to Jungkook. I just wanted to help you, but I know that it's not my decision to make. At that time, I just thought, why not give you that possibility? I knew how much you were struggling. It was at a time you were very down because you had been reminded of the bullies at school. I thought of ways I could help you. All I wanted to do was help you. Then, I had that party. Remember? That night I first introduced you to Jungkook-ah and Hoseok-ah. I knew that party was coming up so I told both of them to keep an eye on you, not in a sexual way. I just asked them to be nice to you and take care of you” Yoongi went on, Jimin listening intently.

The smaller boy felt like he had stopped breathing. Honestly, he tried to be as quiet as possible so he wouldn't miss a word that left Yoongi's mouth.

“I told them about you and Tae. You know, just basic stuff, like where I knew you from and how close I am with you, stuff like that. When I talked about you, Jungkook-ah actually seemed interested, assuring me that he would keep an eye on you, which he then did. He asked me a bit more about you. I told him that you're rather shy and might not let them in that easily. Jungkook-ah wondered why and I just said that you were bullied in school for being a virgin and even sometimes now, that you were struggling with that because of personal stuff. At first, we didn't talk about you any more, but then I got this idea. I knew Jungkook-ah is experienced in sex and... and I trust him so I thought... I just thought he might be able to help you. I didn't straight up ask him to fuck you. I asked him whether he could talk to you and try to help you. You know, offer you some kind of guidance. At first, he didn't say anything to that, just assured me that he would keep and eye on you and Tae and I left it at that. So, then, after I introduced you to each other and you went back inside, Jungkook suddenly agreed and said that he will talk to you. I was already drunk at this point and didn't remember what he was talking about, but he said something about talking to you and seeing whether you were even interested in anything like that, you know, guidance in sex. I knew that Jungkook is quite experienced and I knew that you weren't at all. I trust him so much. I didn't force him to do that, though. I just wanted him to be nice to you and maybe ask you whether or not you would want to... to have a possibility to get over the stuff you were dealing with. I knew how difficult it was for you to get intimate with someone because you're very shy. I didn't want to push you or manipulate you into it either. I just wanted there to be a person you can trust, but ultimately you should decide whether or not you wanted to take that chance. I knew how much you were struggling and I knew that you had trouble with trusting people, hence it wasn't easy for you to find a person you can be intimate with. That's why I asked Jungkook-ah. I trust him and I wanted to give you a chance to finally get better”

Jimin sat there, not able to move as he listened to Yoongi's words. It was almost as if he was frozen in his place.

“I know I did wrong” Yoongi continued, sniffing, “I know I did wrong. I know it's fucked up. It is your decision and your life, I never should have interfered the way I did, but all I ever wanted to do was help you. The only thing I told him is that you're a virgin due to personal stuff. I know, I shouldn't have said that either because that is your personal information, me being open with that stuff caused me to forget that you might not want to share that about yourself. I'm sorry, Jimin-ah. I never told Jungkook-ah about your past. You told me that stuff because you trusted me so I'm never going to talk to anyone about it unless you want me to. I fucked up, I know I did. I understand if you can't trust me anymore and it hurts like shit to know that it's my fault. I know how difficult it is for you to trust people and it pains me to the core to know that I fucked that up myself.” Yoongi uttered, voice breaking again.

Jimin sniffed, wiping away his own tears as he listened to one of his best friends.

“None of the others knew. Tae-ssi and I didn't make a plan or a bet behind your back. We didn't play any games either. I didn't even know that he knew about it. I guess he just overheard some stuff that night, but not the full thing. I never would play any games on your life, Jimin-ah. You're way to important and precious to me.”

The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, more tears streaming down his face.

Silence settled between them.

Jimin's heart wanted to forgive him, yet the damaged part wasn't ready, still had many questions left.

Suddenly, there were knocks on Jimin's front door, startling the orange haired one.

“Hyung, I have to go know, there is someone at the door. Please just... just give me time”

“Okay, Jimin-ah, I will. Please try to sleep tonight, even though it's already quite late. I love you, Jiminie”

For the first time, Jimin didn't say it back to him either.

Just like when he didn't say those words back to Taehyung, his heart clenched again. It felt incomplete. It hurt. In a way it hurt, yet Jimin couldn't say it back right now. For some reason, it didn't feel right to say those words tonight.

Loud knocks against Jimin's front door interrupted his thoughts again, startling Jimin who then got up on his feet.

“Tae, I told yo-” Jimin started to whisper as he opened the door, but let the rest of the words hang in the air when he realised that it wasn't Taehyung who was standing in front of his apartment.

It was Jungkook.

He looked exhausted, red eyes, big bags below his eyes. It seemed as if he was incredibly tired. Jimin was sure he didn't look any different.

“Jungkook” Jimin whispered, voice still sounding foreign and hoarse as he had cried so much, yet somehow there was a soft tone to it.

“Jimin... -ssi” Jungkook uttered, emotion glistening in his eyes at the sight of Jimin. He seemed grateful and relieved to see Jimin.

Without another word, Jimin slammed the door shut right.

Jimin didn't want to talk to him, didn't even want to see him right now. All the smaller boy wanted was to be alone right now.

“Jimin-ah!” Jungkook called and knocked on the door, “Open the door, please!”

The oranged haired one slid down the door again, sitting with his back against it.
Jungkook knocked again, stronger this time, “Jimin hyung, please, I know that you're there!”

Jimin pulled his legs up to his chest, wrapping his arms around them as he listened to the continuous knocking from Jungkook.

“Please, Jimin-ah! Let me explain!”

The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, “Right, because you're so good at that. You never give me any answers” Jimin whispered to himself.

“I'm sorry. Please, Jimin-ah, open the door. I need to know that you're okay”

Jimin didn't say anything, but remained silent.

The younger one knocked again, “I'm not leaving until you open the fucking door. I need to talk to you. I need to know that you're okay”

Tears swelled up in Jimin's eyes.

“Please, let me in”

“Jungkook-ah, go home and sleep! It's four in the morning! Leave me alone, I don't want to talk to you!”

“I know, Jimin-ah, I can't sleep. I can't sleep knowing that you're not okay, knowing that you're hurt and crying. I just can't fucking sleep with that knowledge”

The smaller boy gulped, heartbeat quickening, yet he quickly shook his head.

“Leave me alone!”

Suddenly, there was another voice somewhere in the hallway. It was female voice this time again, an older female voice to be exact.

“You should leave or I'll call the police!” The older woman threatened, Jimin recognising the voice as his neighbour from above him. It was an elderly lady that always smiled and greeted Jimin whenever they had an encounter. Also, she had gifted Jimin cookies once that she had made herself. Overall, she was a very nice lady that was nothing but kind towards Jimin.

“I'm not leaving until he lets me in” Jungkook argued.

“Leave right now or I'll call the police!” She repeated, Jimin getting up to his feet and pressing his ear against the door so he was able to have it easier to hear what was going on.

“I'm sorry for being loud and disturbing your sleep, but this is important.”

“If he doesn't want you here, it's a sign that you should leave.”

“Don't make me say it again. You should leave now, young man”

“Jungkook, just go, please. She's actually going to call the police if you don't” Jimin begged through the door, having enough of this night and everything that happened. He couldn't take any more of this, especially not dealing with the police now as well.
“I don’t care” Jungkook expressed, “I can’t leave, Jimin-ah”

“Please, Jungkook-ah, just go now. I can’t take anymore tonight. I don’t want her to call the police.” Jimin pleaded again.

Then, there was silence. Suspicious silence.

Jimin hesitated for a moment longer before he opened the door slightly, carefully peeking outside. No one was standing there in front of his apartment any longer. However, the woman was still standing at the top of the stairs, wearing a blue robe wrapped around her body as she was holding a phone.

“Are you okay, Jimin-ah?”

The smaller boy gave a faint nod, smiling weakly, “Thank you”

“Should we still call the police? Was that someone you knew? Did he want to hurt you?”

No, he already hurt me.

“No, no need to call the police. I do know him, at least I thought I did somehow, but apparently I don’t. Nevermind, sorry. No, he didn’t want to hurt me. At least I don’t think so”

The woman studied his face, sympathetic smile appearing on her own face.

“Do you want to come upstairs for a tea? I have some self-made cookies left. You seem a little rattled. Talking might be good right now”

“Thank you, but I just want to go to bed”

She gave a nod, understanding.

“May I ask something? Was that your boyfriend?”

Jimin smiled sadly, “No, not my boyfriend. It’s complicated”

For some odd reason, Jimin almost wanted to laugh at his response, having heard that sentence often enough from Jungkook. However, his own was a hundred percent true.

“Okay. Go back inside now and sleep, child. It’s very late. If he bothers you again, call the police and come upstairs to me, okay?”

Then, Jimin went back inside his flat, shutting the door and letting out a breath he hadn’t noticed to be holding.

Jimin was barely able to make it into his bedroom, almost collapsing on his way there and falling asleep as soon as he fell on the soft bedsheets, soothing sleep finally washing over him.

--------

The next morning, Jimin didn’t want to get out of bed. The last night reminisced in his mind, reminding him of everything that went down and how his heart had been shattered into pieces.
several times.

The smaller boy rolled over onto his side, picking up his phone and glancing at the clock. It was already past noon. Jimin was supposed to be at practice right now and go to work right after. However, he didn't feel well at all, just wanted to remain in his bed and sleep until his heart was fixed again.

Jimin still hadn't read over all of the messages he had received last night. Neither had he checked who had called him last night. Frankly, Jimin wasn't even sure whether he should do that. Could he handle any more of that mess?

Eventually, Jimin opened his messages, scrolling through them and noticing how all of his friends had texted him.

I didn't know, Jimin-ah. I promise you, I didn't. I hope I'll see you tomorrow at dance practice so we can talk - Hoseok hyung

Do you want to talk? It might not be that good to be alone right now. I just want you to know that I didn't know about any of this. Honestly, I'm still not entirely sure what is going on. I'm there for you, if you wanna talk – Namjoon hyung

Jimin-ah, I'm sorry that I didn't stop you earlier. I was too confused and shocked by what was going on. Should I come over? Do you wanna meet up and drink a coffee or something like that? It's probably better to have someone with you right now, no? I'm here, in case you wanna. I didn't know about anything. There was no game we were all part of, Jimin-ah – Jin hyung Jimin bit down on the inside of his cheek, reading over those messages again. To be fair, every single one of them had assured him that there hadn't been a game they had all played. In fact, the others had seemed fairly shocked last night after Tae's revelation, too, Jimin had just chosen to ignore that fact. Still, it was difficult to trust anyone right now.

Then again, Jin and Namjoon hadn't even been part of their group when all of this had started. There was no point in them being in on Jungkook's offer and the reason for it. In fact, the more Jimin thought about it, the more signs were hinting at them not being part of it at all.

It was unfair of Jimin to not trust Namjoon, Jin or Hoseok when they haven't done anything to break his trust. They have been nothing but nice to Jimin and never gave him a reason to doubt them.

Jimin's phone lit up with a new message, drawing Jimin's attention back to his display.

I guess you're not coming to practice today, Jimin-ah? - Hoseok hyung

Guilt started to wash over Jimin. The shorter male caught his bottom lip between his teeth, letting out a breath as he stared up at the ceiling. Then, his phone lit up again, calling for Jimin's attention.

That's fine. I understand. I'll record myself doing the choreography so you can practice at home - Hoseok hyung Jimin's heart fluttered, the gesture being very kind. Honestly, Jimin didn't want his dream to slip from his hands. He was so close to achieving it, he couldn't throw all of that away right now. It's just that he couldn't bring himself to leave his apartment today. No, just for today, he needed a quiet day for himself.

That's why Hoseok's offer was even kinder. This way, Jimin wouldn't fall behind and cause any inconvenience to the group, this way he could still do what he loves without having to leave his apartment. He could simply practice at home.

You could come in later after everyone leaves, though, and I could show you the choreography myself? Or I could come over? I understand if you want to be alone today, though. Maybe, you don't even want to practice at all. I understand, Jimin-ah. - Hoseok hyung Jimin's thumb lingered above the display, almost wanting to text back.

I didn't know about any of this. Just... wanted to let you know. Taehyung didn't want to hurt you, Jimin-ah. Take care, kid. - Hoseok hyung

The smaller boy let out a breath, squeezing his eyes shut before he stared at the messages again.

The more Jimin kept thinking about it, the more he was convinced that Hoseok, Jin and Namjoon really did not have any clue about any of this. It was unfair if Jimin was going to isolate himself from them, too, and not let them in when they haven't given him a reason to not trust them. They've been nothing but kind and supportive.

At this point, Jimin was pretty certain that there had not been any game or bet, neither had Jin, Hoseok or Namjoon known anything about the offer from Jungkook. Genuinely, he believed that with all of his heart.

No matter how Jimin looked at the situation, none of his friends seemed as immature and childish to make a stupid game or bet out of Jimin’s life. No, Jimin really didn't believe that.

Thank you, hyung. - Jimin

The orange haired one was about to toss his phone on the bed, when it lit up again.

Chim? Are you sick? Why aren't you at practice? - Dongha

Oh no. Jimin really didn't want to lie, yet he didn't want to tell Dongha the real reason either.

I'm not feeling so good. - Jimin

The boy decided to respond, figuring that essentially, it wasn't a lie. He genuinely didn't feel that good.

Oh. :( Get well soon, Chim. I could come over and bring you some food? Show you the choreo we are doing today? - Dongha Jimin just wanted to be alone, somehow felt like the past months have been a lie.

No, I don't want you to get sick, too. I'll see you tomorrow, hopefully. - Jimin

Okay. See you tomorrow, Chim. - Dongha

Jimin let out another sigh, texting Somi from the library that he couldn't come to work today either before he placed his phone back down on the nightstand. There were still quite a lot of unread messages and calls, but Jimin just wanted to sleep some more, had barely been able to get any the past hours.

He could still read the remaining messages when he woke up later.

-------
Dongha glanced at Jimin every now and then, raising up his eyebrows as if he was silently asking Jimin whether or not he was okay. Everytime, Jimin faked a smile to assure that he was indeed okay – even if that was a lie.

Practice went on for hours, as usual. The smaller boy focused on dancing, blurring out every other thing that was currently bothering him or running through his mind. Right now, his passion was invading all of his senses.

“Hey, you sure you're not sick anymore? You seem like you're not quite better yet” Dongha commented as he handed Jimin a bottle of water.

The orange haired one took the bottle and faked another smile, “Yeah, just a little exhausted. I'm fine, though, thank you for asking.”

Dongha arched up an eyebrow, but mirrored his smile, not asking another question. After the short break, they went on with practicing.

Eventually, practice was over, the students saying their goodbyes and leaving. Well, everyone except Dongha and Jimin.

“You wanna go grab some dinner with me?” Dongha asked, catching his breath after the intense practice.

“Uhm, sure. Can you wait a minute? I just wanna talk to hyung for a moment” Jimin uttered, Dongha smiling before Jimin turned around and walked over to Hoseok who was picking up his stuff that was scattered around.

“Hyung”

Hoseok looked up, smiling when he saw Jimin.

“Thank you. Uhm... well, I just wanted to say that I believe you. I believe that you didn't know anything about... you know. Thank you for asking me if I was okay and for sending me that video of you practicing the choreography so I could keep up” The shorter male thanked his friend.

Hoseok placed his hand on Jimin's shoulder and gave it a little squeeze, “I'm here for you, Jimin-ah. I know this must be difficult for you right now.”

Jimin gave a faint nod.

Suddenly, there was a knock on the door, causing all of them to turn around.

Taehyung.

Carefully, the blond boy entered the room, waving shyly as he smiled weakly, “Hey” He uttered as he walked up to them.

Jimin's heartbeat quickened as he averted his gaze. Honestly, he wasn't ready to talk to Tae just yet.

“Hyung, I wanted to pick you up so we could go and grab dinner” Taehyung explained as he walked up to his lover, placing a kiss against his cheek before he looked at Jimin.

The air became heavy between them, awkward tension noticable. The blond boy stared at Jimin with apologetic eyes, clearly deliberating about what to say in that moment. To be fair, Jimin didn't know what to say or what to do either. The only thing he felt right now was... hurt. Yes, it hurt to simply look at his best friend, being reminded of his actions with a mere stare.

“Jimin-ah, do you... do you wanna join us?” Tae wanted to know, eyebrows arched up in curiosity. There was hope glistening in Taehyung's eyes, causing Jimin to avert his gaze.

“I already agreed to go grab dinner with Dongha” Jimin answered, not glancing back up at the blond boy, but keeping his gaze fixated on the floor.

“You could both join us? I think... I don't know... I just...”

Finally, Jimin stared back up at Taehyung, “I don't want to.”

Something flashed in Tae's eyes, something that tore on Jimin's heartstrings, yet that's how Jimin was already feeling every single second since the secret was out. To be honest, Jimin simply didn't want to talk or see Tae right now, wasn't ready to talk to him.

“I'll see you tomorrow, hyung. Have a good night” Jimin said quietly before he turned around and took a step towards Dongha, yet a grip on his wrist stopped him as he was pulled back.

“Please, Jimin-ah, don't push me away. I can't handle this. Please, can we talk” Taehyung begged, voice sounding very vulnerable and desperate.

Gently, Jimin pulled his hand away, shaking his head, “I don't want to talk to you. You said I should promise you to talk when I'm ready. Well, I'm not. So stop pushing me. I'm simply not ready to talk to you yet, Tae”

Taehyung dropped his own hand, pressing his lips into a line as he gave a weak nod, “Okay” He breathed, “I understand. I'm sorry, Minnie”

There was a stinging in his chest, heart hurting at the mention of his nickname - a nickname that only Tae called him by. There was sincere guilt and hurt in Taehyung's eyes. Jimin could see that. Taehyung felt genuinely sorry, there was no doubt in Jimin's heart. However, that didn't change the fact that Jimin wasn't ready to talk to him about everything. No, his heart was still too fragile for that.

“Bye” Jimin uttered and walked towards Dongha who wrapped his arm around Jimin's shoulder as they exited the dance studio.

The smaller boy didn't even notice the single tear that rolled down his face, didn't realise the way his heart broke as he left his hurting best friend standing there in the practice room, having to deal with his own guilt and pain.

--------

On the third day after finding out about the secret, Jimin was finally able to read all the messages his friends had sent him over the days.

Obviously, the last couple of days he had already read a couple of them. Well, had read messages by every single one of his friends except for one person.

Jungkook.

Jimin hadn't read any of his messages, neither had he picked up any calls by the black haired boy. After the night Jungkook had appeared in front of his apartment and had begged Jimin to talk, the calls and messages had decreased, only an occasional call or text being send by Jungkook. Clearly,
Jungkook was finally respecting his wish for space, yet couldn't prevent himself from sending a text or calling every now and then to check whether that fact had changed.

At first, Jungkook hadn't even want to talk to Jimin – ever, really – and now, he was so very persistend on talking to Jimin. What had changed? Was it the fact that his secret had been exposed? The fact that Jimin knew knew his reason? However, Jungkook had been exposed before, too. His relationship with Seoyun had been exposed, yet even then Jungkook hadn't found talking to be necessary. Clearly, there was something that had changed the fact.

The smaller boy opened Jungkook's text messages.

I'm sorry, little one – Jungkook

Oh.

Jimin's heart clenched at the pet name, oddly enough there was a faint fluttering for a moment. Every time Jimin heard that pet name, he felt all bubbly inside, being reminded of good times, of sweet moments shared with the taller boy. However, right now, frustration overweight that feeling. Why was he still calling Jimin that? To get to him? To make Jimin forgive him? What was it? Perhaps... Jungkook didn't even realise that he was still calling Jimin that? Maybe it was almost like a habit at this point, his subconscious acting.

I know that you don't want to see me right now. I know that you don't want to talk to me either. I just want to let you know that I'm sorry. My intention was never to hurt you, with anything I did. I wanted to help you, with a good heart. I didn't have any evil intent. - Jungkook

Jimin kept scrolling down.

You aren't answering any of my calls. I understand. I can't help myself, but try again, though. Are you eating enough? Are you sleeping at all? Please do. Don't let my fucked up behaviour ruin yourself, Jimin-ah. Please. - Jungkook

The orange haired boy swallowed hard as he pulled his legs up to his chest.

I'm sorry for turning up at your apartment unannounced in the middle of the night. I hope you didn't get in trouble for that. I'm sorry for basically forcing you to listen to me, too. In the moment, all I could think about was losing you completely, that's why I asked to talk to you the way I did. I know now that I chose a wrong way and should have acted differently. I should have given you space from the start. That's what I'm doing now. I wish, I could tell you all of this in person, but I understand that you don't want to see me. - Jungkook

Jimin bit down on the inside of his cheek.

I'm not going to force you to talk to me. You have every right to want me out of your life. Yet, in case you're ever ready for it, I would like to talk to you. Quietly. Just the two of us. No running away. No screaming. No dodging any questions. Just pure honesty. I'll answer every single one of your questions. Whatever it may be. You deserve to know the full story. I know you aren't ready right now. I know you don't want to see me. It's what I deserve. I pushed you away before that. I messed you up with my fucked up behaviour. I made all of these mistakes that I shouldn't have done. I know I did. So, I understand if you don't want to see me – maybe ever again. Yet, in case you do, I'll wait. I'll wait every single day for you to call me, to text me. No matter where I am, I'll meet you wherever you want to so we can talk. I'll wait for the day you're ready to talk to me. - Jungkook

A tear dropped down on the display, startling Jimin who looked up at the ceiling as he thought that's where water was falling down from, yet he realised briefly after that the source were his own eyes. Jimin was silently crying, hadn't even noticed it himself.
I know you might never be able to forgive me. I understand, if you can't or don't want to. Yet, I can't live with the thought of not having at least tried to make things right. I really wish I could tell you all of this in person, Jimin-ah, but I'll wait for the day you're ready. I'll wait for you, Jimin-ah. - Jungkook

The text messages went on and on and on. There were so many more, yet Jimin couldn't handle reading any more of Jungkook's words, his heart clenching with every sentence. Swiftly, Jimin tossed his phone on the bed, wrapping his arms around his legs as he stared at the wall across from him.

Why was Jungkook this persistent? Why did he still try to make things right if he didn't even like Jimin, if Jimin was just some stupid project of his? That didn't make any sense, did it?

However, Jungkook was still taken, had still played with his heart.

The shorter boy let out a sigh, squeezing his eyes shut. All of this was so confusing. Jimin didn't know what to make of this, didn't know which part of his heart he should follow.

Somehow, Jimin was still stuck in a dark tunnel. Certainly, he had fallen a couple of times, been bruised quite a lot, yet there was a faint light at the end and Jimin hoped that he would be able to reach it in the end.

--------

“Yah, that's not how you use that!” Jin scolded Namjoon, snatching the broom from his hand. Namjoon had just tried to clean Jimin's shelf with a broom, figuring you could simply brush the dust away with it, causing Jin's eyes to go wide.

Jimin sat there on his sofa, chin placed on the backrest as he watched his two friends clean his apartment. Jimin hadn't cared about that at all for the past days. The two of them had come over the last couple of days, had cleaned his apartment, cooked him a meal and ate dinner together with him. The smaller boy had assured them that it wasn't necessary, yet they were persistent, didn't want him to be alone.

In fact, they seemed to assume that Jimin would let himself go if they wouldn't come and check every once in a while. Perhaps, that was true. Jimin hadn't cleaned his apartment much, barely ate anything because he was so focused on practicing these past days. That's why he was actually grateful for Namjoon and Jin who spend him company, making sure that he was okay and asking him about everything, but nothing at the same time. It was just the fact that they were here with him that made everything so much better.

The orange haired boy attempted to get up on his feet, wanting to help his friends clean his room, but Namjoon simply tossed a cloth at him, insisting for Jimin to stay in his seat. Jimin dodged the cloth with a giggle, nodding faintly as his friends continued cleaning.

It's been like this for the past three days. Jimin had felt bad for his friends doing his chores, telling them that they shouldn't or at least trying to help them, but they were very persistent, shushing Jimin every time.

Jimin had apologised to them the moment they had appeared in front of his apartment, had apologised for ever even suspecting them, for not picking up their calls or answering their texts because he had thought they were all part of it. However, Jin and Namjoon weren't even part of their group when all of that had started. Moreover, they had promised Jimin that they hadn't known about anything and Jimin truly, genuinely believed them because they never did anything to break his trust.
Oddly enough, this incident had brought him closer to Namjoon, Jin and Hoseok. Not that Jimin was grateful for what had happened to him, but he was thankful for deepening the bond he had with Namjoon, Jin and Hoseok.

Eventually, they were done with cleaning, Namjoon carrying Jimin's dirty clothes over to the restroom while Jin walked over to the kitchen so he could prepare dinner. While Jimin watched his friends, he wondered how they were feeling, considering how Jin was that close to Jungkook and Namjoon was that close to Yoongi. Did they feel like they were caught in the middle?

Jimin had already wondered about that when it came to Hoseok. The orange haired one was still interacting with these three, yet not with the other three. Jimin saw Hoseok every day at the dance studio, sometimes staying a little longer so they could talk or just simply spend time together. Namjoon and Jin texted him every day and tried to see him at least once a day, even if it was only very shortly for a coffee or something like that.

It was almost as if the group was torn apart, Jimin being the reason for it. Frankly, Jimin didn't know whether or not the others still interacted with each other, but Jimin was pretty certain that they were. Well, of course. They had to. Namjoon and Yoongi worked together, as well as Jungkook and Jin. Furthermore, Taehyung and Hoseok were in a relationship so there was no way they weren't interacting.

Jimin didn't mind that. They were free to do and feel however they wanted to. To be fair, neither Tae, Yoongi or Jungkook had broken their trust. No, they all probably still got along very well.

“Jimin-ah, do you want rice, too?” Jin interrupted the smaller boy's thoughts who jerked up at the sudden voice.

“Yes, hyung” Jimin answered, giving a faint nod as he looked over to the man who smiled as he went on with the cooking.

They never mentioned that offer anymore, didn't talk about Jungkook at all. It was as if those things had become a taboo between them, a silent understanding that the topic shouldn't be talked about among them. Jimin had never explicitly asked them to not talk about it anymore, yet he was somehow grateful that they didn't mention Jungkook or that offer, was grateful that they didn't pity him.

Jimin had enough of that for himself. Yes, a part of his heart pitied himself for what he was dealing with. Frankly, Jimin was thinking about Jungkook, Tae and Yoongi a lot anyway, the topic of the offer not leaving his mind. He didn't necessarily need to talk about it the whole day as well because he dealt enough with it when he was on his own.

Clearly, Jimin needed time away from these thoughts, required a little distraction and his friends were there to provide that for him.

Jimin really wanted to fix this. Honestly, he didn't want his group of friends to be torn apart, didn't want to lose the people he was referring to as his family at this point.

Yet, Jimin just didn't know how to fix this.

--------

It was the eighth day.

The eighth day when Jimin picked up his phone and called Yoongi.
The only ones from his group of friends Jimin had interacted with the past four or five days were Hoseok, Jin and Namjoon. Jimin hadn't talked to the other three at all, hadn't answered their text messages either. However, they had also respected Jimin's wish for space and hadn't pushed him to talk to them or forgive them.

The past eight days have been nothing but an attempt to heal for Jimin. While getting away from the people that had hurt him, he had tried to make sense of the whole situation, tried to fix his heart and pick all the pieces back up. Every day, it had hurt a little less.

It had been quite a lot of time for him to think about everything, to see the situation from every possible perspective. Right now, there were only some missing pieces left for Jimin to paint his whole picture.

For a moment, Jimin wanted to hang up again, not entirely sure why he was even calling Yoongi in the first place. What was he supposed to say?

Jimin shook his head, letting out a breath. Yoongi had answered almost all of his questions, but there was one remaining in his head that Jimin wanted an answer to.

Yoongi picked up right away.

“Jimin-ah?” He uttered, seemingly out of breath.

The smaller boy looked over at the clock, guilt blooming inside of him when realised that it was already past 11pm. Perhaps, Yoongi had already slept and had ran over to his phone or he was already occupied with something else, busy and not able to talk to Jimin right now.

“I'm sorry, are you busy ri-”

“No” Yoongi interrupted quickly, “No, Jimin-ah, I'm not busy”

There was rustling on the other side of the phone, Jimin hearing another voice in the background before it got quieter.

“Talk to me, Jiminnie”

Jimin hesitated, nibbling on his bottom lip.

“Why did you never tell me?” He asked eventually, voice just above a whisper, “I feel so stupid, like you made a decision behind my back. The whole time I thought you didn't know. I feel like a fool for trying to keep it a secret even though you knew the whole time. Did he talk to you about what we did?”

“No, Jimin-ah, he didn't tell me anything” Yoongi answered calmly, “I never asked him either. I only knew that you had agreed, but not anything more than that. I never told you that I knew because I was scared of you being mad at me. I never told you because I thought you might be embarrassed or ashamed by me knowing about you having sex with one of my best friends. Honestly, I'm not really sure, why I didn't tell you. I know now that I should have. I shouldn't have kept it from you. I should have been honest with you from the start, but I was scared of you being mad at me. I know that's foolish because that's exactly what happened now. The whole time I told myself that I would tell you as soon as you would come to me and tell me about Jungkook. Yet, you never did. I don't think it's because you didn't trust me, but because you weren't ready, maybe you were embarrassed, I don't know. I know that this was a big step for you and perhaps you simply weren't ready to share that with me.”
“I was scared you were going to think different of me. I was scared that you might be mad at me for doing something like that, especially with one of your best friends” Jimin replied quietly, pulling on the hem of his shirt as he furrowed his eyebrows, trying to figure out why he never told Yoongi himself.

“Jimin-ah, I would never think of you differently because of something like that. I'm happy for you. I'm happy that you were able to overcome this obstacle in your life.”

The smaller boy smiled weakly. Thinking about it, without this stupid offer Jimin wouldn't be at the point in his life where he was now. Honestly, he would still struggle with being intimate with someone, would still fight against his father's voice inside of his head. Jungkook had been a part of him finally overcoming that and healing these scars.

However, the offer had also brought a whole other mess and obstacles along. Now, he was dealing with true heartbreak and even more lies, trust breaking and secrets behind his back. Jimin was honestly conflicted.

Heartbreaks were a part of love, were a part of life. Even though it wasn't the greatest experience, it was still an experience that made Jimin stronger and taught him things about life.

The lies Jungkook had told him – Yoongi couldn't be blamed for that. Yes, without Yoongi, Jimin would have never even encountered Jungkook, yet he couldn't hold him responsible or blame him for someone else's actions. Jungkook had lied to him repeatedly about Seoyun and other things, not Yoongi.

“Jimin-ah?” Yoongi interrupted his thoughts, “You still there?”

“Mhm” Jimin murmured, continuing to pull on the hem of his shirt, “You didn't want to hurt me, hyung?” He then whispered, voice sounding vulnerable.

“No, Jiminnie, of course not. I never wanted to do that, yet I did, with my fucked up behaviour. I wanted to help you, but I went a wrong way about it. I should have tried to help you in a different way”

“I'm not... I'm not a child you have to keep and protect from everything. I can make decisions on my own, hyung. I don't want you to do that behind my back for me even if you're doing it with a good heart.”

“I know. I did let you make the final decision. I didn't want to force you to anything” Yoongi quickly replied, “I know you're not a child anymore, Jimin-ah. It's just that I have a soft spot for you and every time I look at you I see the boy that fainted in the practice room the first time I met you. I have this urge to protect you, to look out for you and try to help you in any way possible, but I have to realise that you're not that same person anymore. You're all grown up now.”

The orange haired one smiled weakly without even noticing.

To be fair, that was true. Jimin had made the final decision to accept Jungkook's offer. Yoongi hadn't made that decision for him.

“Hyung, it still hurts to know that you asked him to make that offer and that you never told me about it” Jimin revealed, sniffing as he pulled his legs up to his chest.

“I know, Jimin-ah. I know I hurt you and I'm so sorry that I did.”

Silence settled between them.
“Still there, Jiminie?”

“Yes” Jimin breathed, “I’m still here.”

“Have you talked to Tae-ssi yet?”

The shorter male hesitated, staring down at the floor, “No” He finally answered, “I might do that today. I think... I think I’m ready now”

Yoongi hummed.

“Do you think... do you think you might be able to forgive me, Jimin-ah?”

Jimin swallowed hard. Frankly, he had thought so much about that question for the past days. Was he able to forgive them? Would he be able to do that?

The orange haired boy still hadn't been able to make up his mind, his heart telling him one thing, his brain another.

“Hyung, I... I think... I think, I might. I just need time”

“I understand, Jiminie. Thank you for trying. That's more than I deserve.”

Jimin' heart clenched as he smiled weakly. Honestly, his heart wanted to forgive him so badly. It had been torn apart, yet Yoongi's piece was right there in front of his heart, the place where it belonged so clearly visible.

“You should rest, Jiminie. It's late.”

“You too, hyung. I'm sorry for bothering you so late at night”

“You never bother me, Jimin-ah. Goodnight. I love you”

“Goodnight” The smaller boy hesitated, “I love you, too” He breathed eventually, warmth filling Jimin's own chest, the words falling from his lips feeling so right. It felt completing.

They were true. Jimin still loved him.

Jimin hung up, staring at his phone for a moment longer before he placed it on the spot next to him. Then, the orange haired one got up to his feet and left his apartment – not even caring to put on slippers or shoes.

It was as if Jimin's feet were carrying him over to Tae on his own, Jimin having no chance but to go along with the movement.

As he approached Tae's front door, Jimin lifted his fist and knocked several times.

It took a moment until the door opened only very slightly, a tired Tae peeking outside, messy hair and sleepy eyes meeting Jimin.

For a moment, Jimin felt very bad for waking Taehyung up during the week. Yes, it was already thursday, but Tae still had to go to work tomorrow and he obviously had already been sleeping.

“Sorry, I didn't know you were already sleeping, I just wanted to... talk. We can talk tomorrow if-”

“No” Tae interrupted him, raspy voice startling Jimin. The taller boy rubbed over his tired eyes, a sudden wave of energy hitting him at the sight of Jimin. Tae had seemed shocked to see him in front of his apartment. At first, Jimin had thought that expression was caused by the hour of the night, yet perhaps it was caused by the fact that Jimin was standing here at all – that he wanted to talk at all, “Come in”

Taehyung pulled the door further open, allowing Jimin to enter his apartment. The blond boy shut the door close while Jimin walked over to the sofa, some left over glasses and bowls placed on the coffee table that Tae clearly hadn't washed up and put away – yet Jimin couldn't blame him, his own apartment would look like that, too, if it wasn't for Jin and Namjoon.

After Taehyung put on some fairy lights at his wall to enlighten the room a bit, he took a seat next to Jimin on the sofa, both sitting fairly apart from one another, on each end of the sofa.

The air between them was odd, was awkward. Usually, they weren't this hesitant around each other. Taehyung was almost being careful with how he acted, with what he said. It was strange to see him like this.

“No, thank you”

Silence settled between them.

“I'm sorry, Minnie” Tae broke the silence, his voice quiet, yet so loud in their silence, “You trusted me with that personal information and it's your place and decision whether or not you want to tell someone and when you're going to do that. I shouldn't have interfered in that at all. I didn't want to hurt you, I just thought I might help you with my action, but I was wrong. Clearly, I didn't properly think about what I was doing there.”

Jimin didn't respond anything, but looked back and forth between Tae's eyes.

“I thought the offer was a nice idea. I didn't... I didn't think that you would fall for him. And if you did, I wished that he would feel the same about you. I didn't want you to be in a messy situation like this, caught between having feelings for him, yet hating him because he's already taken and hasn't told you. I didn't know he was in a relationship”

“I don't hate him” Jimin found himself clarify, shocked by the words that had left his own mouth almost unconsciously.

It was true, though. Jimin didn't hate Jungkook. How could he?

“I never told hyung that I knew. I overheard them talking and I thought that it's a good idea. I trusted hyung's judgement on Jungkook. Hyung just wanted to help you, I just wanted to help you. We never meant to hurt you. Yet, we did. I learned that even when you do something with a good intention, with a kind heart, it could still harm someone in the process even if you never meant for that to happen. I'm never going to forgive myself for breaking your trust the way I did. I just want you to know that. I want you to know that I love you and would never want to hurt you”

The smaller boy swallowed hard, lump forming in his throat as he stared at the blond haired one. Tae's eyes were watery, tears visible in the corner of them that he tried to hold back.

“Why have you never said anything about it? About Yoongi hyung knowing? About yourself knowing Jungkook's real reason? I feel so stupid for telling you all about how I wanted to keep it from hyung, about how I was wondering about Jungkook's reason and how he didn't want to tell me. You even pretended to try and find out the actual reason when in reality, you already knew” Jimin pointed out, a tear rolling down his face as he thought about what a fool he had been. This whole time Tae had known, listening to Jimin wonder about all of these things and never saying anything about it at all, not even mentioning it in the slightest.

“The thing is, I didn't and I still don't know if that was actually his own real reason. I only heard him agreeing to hyung that he would talk to you and when he came back after, he said that he had offered to guide you in sex. I assumed that he might have another reason for his decision and action because... I don't know. It felt weird for him to offer you that just because a friend asked him to, you know? I was curious whether or not he actually only did it because of that.” Taehyung explained, shrugging his shoulders slightly. His voice was quiet, breaking every now and then as he tried to hold back tears. Evidently, Taehyung didn't want to cry again, yet the situation was emotional as he feared losing his best friend and thought that this was his only chance to make things right, “I never told you because... it wasn't my place to say anything. I didn't want you to be mad at hyung and for a while, I even doubted that I actually heard what I did that night. It wasn't until I was drunk, hurt by you being mad at me and angered myself that caused me to reveal that hyung had asked Jungkook.”

Jimin gave a weak nod, wiping away his tears. It still hurt to look at Tae, knowing that he had broken his trust the way he had.

“Hyung forgave me, even though I would have understood if he hadn't. He said that it's his own fault and that it's good that it's out in the open now at least, that you know now. I didn't want you to be mad at him, that's why I didn't tell you. I didn't want you to feel betrayed by us so I was conflicted about what to do. I know I did wrong. I'm sorry for everything that I did. For exposing your thing with Jungkook in front of the others, for not telling you about that secret and for revealing your past to Jungkook. I'm sorry for all of that, I genuinely am and it's going to haunt me forever. I feel so sorry for what I did. I understand if you can't forgive me”

The orange haired boy pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands, observing his best friend's face and watching a tear roll down his cheek. In the end, Tae had lost to his emotions, tears eventually trailing down his face.

“Minnie, I love you and I don't want to lose you. I feel horrible for what I did, all of it. I have to learn when and how to keep my mouth shut, I've always struggled with that and got myself in trouble for that. I mean, our school days are just prove for that”

Jimin couldn't help but chuckle, reminiscing about all those times they had to run away due to Tae's mouth that was quicker than his brain. Taehyung looked up at the sound of Jimin's giggle, smiling himself at the memories.

“I didn't want to break your trust. You trusting me is one of the most important things to me. I feel so entirely grateful that you trust me- or... or trusted me. I feel so thankful for you being in my life. You're my bestest friend in the world, you're family to me. That's why it hurts even more to know how much pain I've caused you. And even though.... even though I can't and don't want to lose you, I'll respect whatever decision you make. I don't deserve you to give me a second chance, but I will do everything and anything to make it up to you and earn back your trust. However, if you want me out of your... out of your life, I'll respect that, even if it's going to tear my heart apart.” Taehyung's voice broke as he averted his gaze, biting down on his bottom lip as he wiped away his tears.

Honestly, Jimin had always have trouble with trusting people. Ever since his childhood, it was difficult for him to let people in, open up to them and trust them. It had taken some time for Jimin to open up about his past to Taehyung and Yoongi, it really wasn't an easy topic for Jimin.

Jimin processed Taehyung's words, let them echo in his head as well as Yoongi's words. The orange haired boy was trying to put all of their words together, tried to make up his mind with the information he had received over the past days.

Frankly, it was easier to forgive Yoongi than it was to forgive Taehyung. Yoongi hadn't told Jungkook about Jimin's past, had only wanted to give him a possibility to help Jimin and had suggested that idea to Jungkook. Jungkook hadn't agreed until he saw first hand how people were making fun of Jimin.

Furthermore, Yoongi had only talked about Jimin being a virgin to Jungkook and honestly, the whole school had known. It wasn't that big of a secret and frankly, Jimin wasn't ashamed of that part about himself. It was his own business anyway. He had personal reasons for why he had been a virgin, thus him being a virgin was only concerning him. Whereas Tae had told someone about his past without his permission - knowing that Jimin had difficulty with talking about that topic himself.

“I know you only had my best interest in mind and I now know that you didn't tell Jungkook everything, only some parts, yet it still hurts to know that you did it. I also know that I told you that I wanted to tell Jungkook eventually, yet I wanted to do that. It's not your place to tell anyone.” Jimin uttered, sniffing as he locked eyes with his best friend again. Tae pressed his lips into a line, nodding as guilt flashed behind his eyes, “This was - and still is - a big part of myself. You broke my trust by sharing that information that I trusted you with with someone else.”

Jimin's heart clenched as he watched his friend be so affected by their current situation, how guilty and sorry he felt for what he had done. Clearly, Taehyung's heart was hurting just as much as his own.

The smaller boy couldn't help but think about their shared past. Taehyung had been there for him half of his life, had basically saved him in a time where everything had seemed helpless and had went downhill. In a time, where Jimin's life had been so dark, like he was floating on a piece of wood on top of a deep, deep ocean, almost drowning in his own sorrow – Tae had been the lighthouse to pull him back onto land, had saved him in one of his darkest times. That's when Tae had been there.

Taehyung wasn't toxic, was a wonderful friend who had made a mistake in Jimin's best interest. The blond boy hadn't want to hurt him, hadn't want to be mean or make fun of Jimin, but had wanted to help him.

Frankly, Taehyung needed to know that his actions were wrong and needed to learn that he had to be more cautious about what he told people, what he said sometimes in general. Taehyung had always struggled with that - he simply was a loud and open person. To be fair, Tae had already realised that fact himself – knew that he did wrong and that he needed to be more cautious about what he tells people.

His best friend averted his gaze, playing with the hem of his shirt as he pulled his legs up to his chest. Jimin watched him, felt his heart clench the more he observed Tae.

Jimin knew that his heart would be able to forgive Taehyung at some point. Tae loved him, felt genuinely sorry for his actions and had assured him that he would never do such a thing again. Genuinely, Jimin believed him and wanted to give him another chance. Frankly, Taehyung deserved it because he was a beautiful, kind friend who had never done anything to hurt Jimin before, had never made a mistake like this in the past 13 years they have known each other, but had been his partner in crime instead, had stayed by his side through dark times and had helped him heal and become the person he was today, same goes with Yoongi.
They both knew that they did wrong and felt bad for what they did. Their own guilt was punishing them hard enough already, Jimin knew that by now, knew that they still loved him, too.

The smaller one also knew that he still loved them as well, that he didn't want to lose them and that his heart would be able to forgive them one day. It would take time to be at the same point they were before, would take time to be at the same kind of trust level again - their bond slightly damaged by this incident, yet their bond was thick and Jimin was certain that it would be able to overcome this.

Frankly, Jimin believed that every bond was made out of a certain material. Some attachments never stuck together for long because it wasn't strong enough, because it broke easily. Some just weren't meant to be. However, Jimin was convinced that their bond was made out of something strong, something thick. Jimin was convinced that their bond was somewhat elastic, always able to come back to how it was no matter what pulled and tore on it.

This one, however, would take some time. Jimin was aware of that. His heart would need it's time to place that last piece back to where it was in order for everything to be how it was before, yet he didn't doubt that it would happen one day.

His heart had been through worse, was strong and forgiving.

Tae and Yoongi deserved his forgiveness.

"It's gonna take a while" Jimin finally whispered, Tae looking up immediataly in order to lock eyes with him, eyebrows arched up, "It's gonna take a while for me to be able to trust you the way I did. It's gonna take a while for me to forgive you, but... I don't want to lose you either."

Relief flashed in Tae's eyes as new tears rolled down his face – this time due to the relief blooming inside of him.

"Thank you, Minnie, thank you for trying."

Jemin smiled faintly, leaning over and wiping away Tae's tears while simultaneously wiping away his own with his other hand.

"We should both go to bed now. It's late. Sorry for waking you up" Jimin murmured, getting up on his feet.

Tae followed him right away, shaking his head swiftly, "No, please don't apologise. I'm glad you came over to talk. I'm grateful that you heard me out. Thank you, Jimin-ah"

The smaller boy walked over to the door, opening it as Tae walked after him.

"I just need a little time, Tae, I hope you understand" Jimin muttered as he turned around to look at his best friend.

"Minnie, you're already giving me more than I deserve. Take all the time you need, really"

"Goodnight, Tae" The orange haired boy uttered as he exited the apartment.

"Goodnight, Jiminnie" Tae replied as he watched Jimin walk over to his own apartment.

Jemin opened his own front door and was about to walk in when- "Minnie?"

The shorter male turned around, eyebrows arched up as he looked at his best friend.

"I love you, Minnie" Tae muttered, shy smile on his face as if he was scared of Jimin not saying it back, yet still sincere because he wanted Jimin to know that he still did – no matter if Jimin did or not.

A pause, silence.

“I love you, too”

This time, Jimin said it back.

A bright smile appeared on Taehyung's face that Jimin mirrored before he went into his own apartment, both boys shutting their doors close almost simultaneously.

For a moment, Jimin remained in this position, back against the wall as he scanned his room. The previous conversation with Tae echoed in his mind, his heart somehow feeling a little more whole again, a burden lifted from his chest.

Tae's piece to Jimin's heart was there, was right there in front of where it belonged and Jimin was certain that it would find it's way in there eventually.

Healing, forgiving and fixing your heart wasn't an easy process. It didn't happen over night, but required time. Your heart can't heal and fix itself that quickly, not wholly right away either. No, especially not when your heart had been damaged the way Jimin's heart had been.

A heart takes it's own time to heal, piece by piece it collects the parts that have been shattered and puts them back to where they belong.

Now, there was one remaining piece that Jimin was holding in his palm, that he was staring at – not entirely sure if he even wanted to put it back into his heart to begin with.

Suddenly, there was a knock against Jimin's front door, causing said boy to jump up, startled by the sudden noise. Furrowing his brows, Jimin took a step away from the door and turned around.

Figuring that it might be Tae who wanted to tell him something, Jimin twisted the doorknob and pulled the door open.

Well, he definitely hadn't expected that face.

Immediately, Jimin's heart stopped. Literally. It stopped, just to beat twice a fast a brief moment after. The smaller boy gulped as he looked into the black haired one's beautiful brown orbs.

Jungkook looked at him with big eyes, appearing to be out of breath – had he rushed to get here? The taller boy was wearing a hoodie and some sweatpants, no shoes- wait, no shoes? Yes, Jungkook was only wearing socks, presumably having jumped into his car and letting Beomsoo drive him here.

Whatever reason Jungkook was here for – Jimin wasn't ready for him yet.

“Jimin-ah, I-”

The smaller boy squeezed his eyes shut, not ready to talk to Jungkook just yet, causing him to close the door – well, at least attempt to do so.

Suddenly, Jungkook pushed against the door with his hand, obviously stronger than Jimin and resulting in Jimin not being able to close to door.

“Wait, please, Jimin-ah, I-”
“Go or I'll call the police” Jimin threatened quietly, voice way too soft to actually sound even the slightest bit threatening. However, the last time Jungkook had only left after being threatened with calling the police, right? Or had it been Jimin's begging for him to give him space? Then, why was he here now? Jungkook had promised him to wait and give him space. What was his reason for a change at heart?

“No, Jimin-ah, wait, please”

“Go. I don't want to talk to y-” Jimin tried again, attempting to close the door once more.

“Your father isn't dead!”

Jimin stilled, heart dropping as the words echoed inside of his head.

What?

I would love to hear your thoughts about this chapter <3

Take care <3
See you in the next chapter <3
Back To Busan

Chapter Summary

Jungkook and Jimin travel back to Busan in order for Jimin to find his father. Perhaps the journey brings more than the one thing Jimin had wished for...

Chapter Notes

Hii, readers :)

Okay, so the next two chapters were actually one big chapter, but it got waaaay too long and I was conflicted about whether or not to leave it as one or make two parts out of it. Personally, I like to finish a chapter while reading, but this one got way too long and it would take a while to finish it without a pause - at least, I think so - and I felt like it would be a bit inconvenient and overwhelming. Thus, I split the chapter in two.
The next part of this will be posted in the next 24 hours as well, once I finish and edit it :)

I'm sorry that it took me a while to update, but I hope you can forgive me as I'm posting two long chapters in one day <3

I hope you enjoy the chapter <3

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Jimin blinked a couple of times, swallowing hard as he processed the words Jungkook had just told him.

“I know it's not. I'm not... May I come in? I don't want to talk about this in your hallway”

The shorter male hesitated, looking back and forth between Jungkook’s eyes for a moment before he stepped to the side. At this point, Jimin's neighbours had been disturbed enough because of his problems, he didn't want to annoy them any longer. Jungkook took that as a sign to enter, which he did. As soon as he was inside, Jimin shut the door.

“Why would you say something like this? This doesn't make forgiving you any easier” Jimin let him know, crossing his arms over his chest as he felt his heartbeat quicken. Honestly, Jimin felt almost anxious, head starting to get dizzy as he wondered about why Jungkook would tell a lie like this.

“I know it doesn't make anything easier. I'm not joking, though, Jimin-ah. I'm serious” Jungkook assured him, placing his hand over his heart as he stared at Jimin with sincerity in his eyes.

The smaller boy gulped, heart pounding fast against his chest as he let his arms drop back to his sides.
“Why should I believe you? How do I know this isn't just one of your lies?” Jimin wanted to know, furrowing his brows as he took a step back.

“I promised you that I would be honest with you from now on and I'm still- Jimin-ah, this has nothing to do with the issues we have. This isn't about us, okay? It's about you and your family. I'm not lying to you”

“Why would you of all people know about that? That's ridiculous, Jungkook-ah. I saw him being buried. My father is burried back in Busan”

Jimin's heart started racing. For some reason, there was fear blooming inside of him. Did that make Jimin a bad person? Of course, there was confusion because how in the world was his father supposed to be alive when Jimin had watched with his own two eyes how he had been burried. There was no way his father was still alive and has been living back in Busan for the past fourteen years. No, this couldn't be real.

The smaller boy inhaled deeply, his chest suddenly heavy. It was suffocating, Jimin was starting to panic. After all these years, his father was supposed to be still alive? Why was it scaring Jimin so much? Shouldn't he be happy about one of his family members- one of his parents actually still being alive?

However, Jimin didn't feel happy at all. No, he never wanted to see that man ever again- the man that had scarred him so deeply.

“No, Jimin-ah, please, listen to me, okay?” Jungkook whispered, his voice having a soothing effect on Jimin. Frankly, Jimin didn't know if he should smile or cry at that fact. Yes, even after everything Jungkook had done to him, he was still the one that was able to comfort Jimin.

“G-Go on”

“I know you're going to hate me even more after this because I did this without asking for your permission, but you-”

Jimin's words shut up Jungkook immediataly, the black haired boy looking back and forth between Jimin's eyes as they echoed in his head. There was an emotion glistening in Jungkook's eyes, one that Jimin still couldn't define.

The orange haired male shook his head weakly, averting his gaze to the floor. No, even after everything he had done, Jimin did not hate Jungkook at all.

“Well, you might after I tell you what I did. You are already mad at me anyway so it doesn't really change anything if I tell you now or not. I just think you deserve to know this.”

Jimin remained silent, waiting for Jungkook to go on.

“It all started when I found out about your family from Taehyung-ssi. You know, about your father. I just kept wondering how it was possible for you to not have any family members left so I asked one of my... uhm, well, someone I know, to find out more about that. I requested for him to search for family members you might still have. Well, he found one. Your father”
“But how? I don't understand, Jungkook-ah, I saw him being buried” Jimin pointed out, voice vulnerable as he locked eyes with Jungkook again.

“Yes, the father that raised you is dead, but not your biological one” Jungkook revealed.

For a moment, Jimin stopped breathing.

“W-What?”

“Jimin-ah, the man that raised you isn't your biological father. I thought you deserved to know.”

Jimin's head started spinning, his legs suddenly became wobbly and he collapsed against the door, barely able to hold himself up by grabbing the wall. Swiftly, Jungkook rushed closer to him, wrapping an arm around Jimin and helping him back up.

The orange aired boy looked up into Jungkook's eyes, searching for answers glistening in them that simply weren't there.

That couldn't be true. How was that possible?

“All I know is that he lives in Busan. If you want to, we can go there. I promised you, I would go with you whenever you wanted to go back to Busan”

“I don't want to go anywhere with you” Jimin murmured and took a step back, “How do I know you're not lying?”

Jungkook lifted his hands in defense, “I promise you on everything that I am telling the truth. I received this information from a man that is a... is a shady person, but he never lied to me or my family. He knows his shit, he knows how to get information. When he tells me something, it's true.”

The black haired male assured.

Jimin shook his head, not believing – or rather not wanting to believe any of this. Right now, Jimin was already in a difficult position to even trust Jungkook at all, how was he supposed to believe such huge information like this?

“I think you should go” Jimin whispered, narrowing his eyes as he stared down at the floor. The smaller boy wrapped his arms around his upper body.

“Jimin-ah, I just–”

“Please, just go, Jungkook-ah.”

The black haired boy stared at him for a moment longer, but nodded eventually. Then, he walked over to the door and opened it.

“In case you change your mind, call me. I'll come with you so you can meet him”

With that, Jungkook left his apartment, pulling the door close behind him.

For the next minutes, Jimin just remained standing there as he looked at the door, Jungkook's words still echoing in his head.

Was Jungkook actually lying? Why would he lie about something like this, though? Evidently, he had tried to make things right with Jimin, had written him really long text messages in which he claimed to be sorry and wanting to make up, wanting to wait for the day Jimin was ready to talk to him. Why would he ruin all of that by lying to Jimin – again? Clearly, Jungkook had promised him to be honest from now on.

Yet, this was way too insane. Jimin's life was already such a mess. How was it possible that the universe dropped another bomb on Jimin?

The smaller boy dragged his body over to the sofa, taking a seat and pulling his legs up to his chest.

Perhaps, Jungkook was telling the truth. Perhaps, the man that had raised him had never actually been his biological father. Was that possible? By the way his father had treated him all these years, Jimin honestly wouldn't put it past him.

Jimin sat there for a while, sat there in silence and darkness as his mind was racing. The more the orange haired boy thought about it, the more he wanted to know if there was any truth to it.

What if it was actually true? What if there was another man that was actually his biological father? What if he was a way kinder person, a loving man that could have been his father? If all of that was in fact true, why had he decided not to raise Jimin? Did that mean that Jimin had another mother as well?

So many questions were lingering in Jimin's mind, slight hope blossoming that the mean person he thought of having been his father, had thought of sharing the blood with, might not actually have been related to him, hope that there was a kind father somewhere out there, maybe a mother that was still alive.

The more Jimin imagined how the reality might look like, the more he wanted to find out what was actually true. He needed to know whether or not this was real, whether or not he might actually have another father somewhere out there.

Jimin was determined to find him, to meet him.

Frankly, Jimin didn't know what he would do if he in fact met the man. However, he didn't think that far, simply wanted to meet him.

Yet, was he ready to go back to Busan? Jimin had always feared going back there because his childhood had been so very traumatising. However, Jimin wasn't the same person he was several months ago - He had taken a step further in overcoming this inner obstacle and struggle, had become somewhat stronger. Maybe, this trip was long overdue, was the final straw for Jimin to heal, to put an end to this chapter completely.

Almost unconsciously, Jimin picked up his phone.

You're not lying to me? - Jimin

Hopefully, Jungkook wasn't sleeping already.

No, I'm not lying. I promise. - Jungkook

I want to meet him. - Jimin

Jimin let out a breath, biting down on his bottom lip after having sent the message.

When do you want to go? I'll join you whenever you want to – Jungkook

Tomorrow? - Jimin

Tomorrow? - Jungkook
Too early? I don't think I can wait much longer knowing that kind of information... - Jimin

Honestly, Jimin wouldn’t be able to think about anything else, but the possibility of actually having another father out there. Obviously, Jimin totally looked past the point of there being a reason for the man not having raised Jimin, that the reason might imply that he didn't want Jimin in his life, yet the smaller boy completely ignored that thought, grabbed onto the hope inside of his heart instead.

No, it's fine. I'll clear my schedule. I have to call Beak first and see when I can meet his informant. He has all of the information and won't give it out unless I go there personally. - Jungkook Furrowing his brows, Jimin read over the message again. That seemed a little... alarming, didn't it? Why was this man keeping the information that close? Why did he want Jungkook to go there personally?

Okay. Just let me know when I should be ready – Jimin

Will do. Good night, Jimin-ah – Jungkook

Good night, Jungkook-ah – Jimin

For a moment, Jimin contemplated about whether or not he should leave it at that, yet he wrote another message right after.

Thank you, Jungkook-ah – Jimin

Frankly, a part of Jimin still doubted this information, still wondered if it was even possible, yet the bigger part of him believed it – well, because it wanted to believe that fact. Without Jungkook, Jimin would have never even known about this, would have never even had the chance to know about this.

Hopefully, things would go well.

--------

Jimin ran down the stairs, his backpack bouncing up and down with every movement as he rushed downstairs. Why Jimin was in such a rush? Well, because Jungkook was waiting downstairs for him.

The black haired boy had called him early this morning, telling Jimin that they could go back to Busan today if he wanted to...

“Jimin-ah?” Jungkook voiced through the phone.

“Yes?” Jimin murmured, rubbing the sleep from his eyes as he yawned. Briefly, he took a glimpse at the clock, noticing how it was still pretty early in the morning.

“Sorry, did I wake you up? It's just that I didn't want to tell you too late. I wanted you to be able to prepare for the trip. I was able to talk to Baek just now and received information on where his informant is going to wait and when I can meet him. We could go as early as today if you want to, but I have to go to work today because there is going to be a meeting I can't miss. I could pick you up tonight and drive us to Busan.”

Jimin blinked, eyes still falling shut every now and then, causing him to take a while to process the words as he was simply too tired.

“Today? Okay. So you're... you're going to drive us?”
“It's the best way. Assures that we have a car there to move around and gives us freedom to leave Seoul whenever we're ready, without having to stick to the departure time of a train or a plane, you know?”

Jimin hummed.

“Jungkook-ah, are you sure that you want to do this... for me? You don't have to, really, I appreciate it, but-”

“I want to, Jimin-ah. I will pick you up tonight, take some clothes with you just in case. Now, go sleep some more. See you later, Jiminie”

“Clothes?” Jimin echoed, yet Jungkook had already hung up, leaving Jimin wondering why that was necessary as he stared at his phone.

Shrugging his shoulders, Jimin placed his phone back on the nightstand and went back to sleep.

Jimin almost stumbled down the last couple of stairs, barely able to keep his balance and prevent himself from falling to the floor. Right, Jimin should contain his excitement, as well as his slight anxiety.

All of this was so... unreal. Evidently, a part of Jimin still didn't quite believe that this was true, yet the closer he got to the big moment, the more the doubt vanished.

The smaller boy saw the black Range Rover parked in front of his apartment building. As soon as Jimin stepped outside, a breeze of chilly air passed him, sending a shiver down his back as he rushed over to Jungkook's car.

Carefully, Jimin opened the door to the passenger seat and climbed inside the car, shutting the door as soon as he was inside.

“Hello” Jungkook greeted, pulling out of the parking spot right away and driving off.

“Hey” Jimin replied, suddenly shy as he fastened his seatbelt after he tossed his backpack on the backseats.

The shorter male placed his hands in his lap, nervously squirming in his seat at the realisation of having to spend the next couple of hours alone with Jungkook. In fact, Jimin hadn't really thought about that idea when the urge and desire of meeting his biological father had come up in his mind, outweighing that fact.

Clearly, Jimin hadn't forgiven Jungkook yet, was still mad at him for lying to him, but Jungkook was the one who had told him about this, was the only chance he got to might meet the father figure he never had.

“So, how did you find out about this again?” Jimin wondered after a while, Jungkook coming to a stop at a red light.

The black haired boy arched up an eyebrow, glancing at Jimin before he trailed his eyes back to the road.

“I know someone, his name is Baek, that has people scattered all around Korea to receive any kind of information anyone requires. So far, he has always done a good job and even though he comes across as shady and I don't trust him with anything else, he has never been wrong about anything he got me.”
Jimin opened his mouth, wanting to ask why Jungkook even knew such a person, yet he dropped that question as another one came up in his mind.

"Why did you do that, though? I mean... I'm sure he didn't do that for free, did he?" Jimin then asked, eyebrows raised as he looked at the taller boy.

The light turned green, causing Jungkook to continue driving.

"It wasn't for free, no. That doesn't matter though. I simply couldn't believe that there was no one out there that was related to you, you know? I just kept thinking about it. Then I remembered Baek and I just requested for him to search for your family. I didn't know if he would find anything, but I knew he was my best shot"

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth. Didn't that imply that the man knew a lot about him now? A lot about Jimin's family? It was a little scary, if Jimin was being honest. That a man he didn't even know knew more about his family than he did.

"You should have asked me before you did that" Jimin pointed out, furrowing his brows, "I mean... I appreciate you doing this, but you should have told me before"

"I know" Jungkook sighed, "I did a lot of things wrong, Jimin-ah, and I'm trying to work on that. I didn't tell you because I didn't want to get your hopes up and then see you being disappointed. Honestly, I even doubted that Baek would find anything because if you had any family, I was certain that they would have contacted you by now. But your biological had no possibility to contact you in any way because he probably doesn't even know your name"

The smaller boy frowned. To be fair, Jimin kind of understood why Jungkook didn't tell him. Clearly, Jimin's heart would have been torn apart again when the hope of having someone out there had been crushed again. If Jimin would have gotten his hopes up, just to be disappointed, it would have hurt quite a bit.

Jimin only nodded as he stared outside the window. The sun was starting to go down, Jungkook's meeting having taken a little longer due to the client turning up slightly later. Jimin didn't mind that, was just grateful for getting this possibility. To be fair, Jungkook's idea about driving there with his car had been good after all, considering how they would have missed a train, bus or their flight due to the delay of Jungkook's meeting. However, with the car, they were able to leave whenever they were ready.

"Have you eaten, Jimin-ah?" Jungkook interrupted his thoughts.

The orange haired male glanced at him and hummed, "Yes, I ate before I left. Have you?"

"Yes, I ate something before the meeting. If you get hungry, let me know and I'll find a place for us to eat." Jungkook told him, looking at Jimin before fixating his gaze back on the road.

"I have some snacks in my backpack!" Jimin remembered, smiling at the fact that he had thought about that, proud of himself for not forgetting to pack them.

Jungkook smiled, amusement in his eyes as he noticed Jimin's excitement about some snacks. For some reason, Jimin felt his cheeks heat up as Jungkook glanced over to him.

"That's good"

"Mhm" Jimin hummed and stared back outside the window.
Then, silence settled between them.

It was very strange, indeed. Frankly, it was odd to be in this close proximity to Jungkook again, spend time alone with him after everything.

To be honest, Jimin didn't know how to act, how to behave. Every time he looked at the taller boy, he reminisced about their sweet moments as well as all of their arguments and the lies Jungkook told him. Jimin was so conflicted, but he knew that this was the only way to meet his biological father.

The shorter boy continued to look outside, watching the city past by them.

-------

“Should I turn the radio on?” Jungkook asked after they have driven a while in silence, the only sound being the engine of the car.

The younger one turned the radio on, a soft melody playing in the background as they continued their journey.

“How long will it take to get there?” Jimin wondered, yawning. Honestly, his body was aching a little after the intense practice today. However, the thought of potentially seeing the man that shared his blood kept him awake and full of energy.

“Not sure. I guess somewhat inbetween 3 to 4 hours. Traffic isn't that bad at night so we'll see. If you're tired, just take a nap, I'll wake you up when we get there” Jungkook suggested as he took a glimpse at Jimin, observing the way the older boy's eyes fell shut every now and then.

Jimin shook his head, feeling guilty that Jungkook was going to drive the whole way. Surely, his day hadn't been the easiest either. He had talked to that Baek guy for a while, then called Jimin to let him know that they could go to Busan today, then he had to go to work and then figure out how to clear his schedule. Clearly, it had been a tiring day for Jungkook.

“In case you get too tired, I can drive” Jimin offered, voice soft as he stared at Jungkook's profile.

“It's fine. I'm not tired” The black haired boy assured, making Jimin wonder whether or not that was true.

Giving a slight nod, Jimin looked back outside the window.

“Isn't it going to be really late when we get there? Won't it be rude to meet my father during night?” Jimin suddenly wondered.

Jungkook titled his head to the side, furrowing his brows, “We might have to stay over night then. Let's just see what time it is when we arrive, we can decide then”

Jimin nodded again, gulping as he felt his heartbeat quicken at the thought of staying somewhere over night with Jungkook.

“Are we meeting that informant tonight?”

“We might. I have to call him later and see. I mean, we have to meet him so we know where your father lives.” Jungkook answered, shrugging his shoulders.

“Why does he have that information? Why can't he just tell you over phone?”
Jungkook smiled as he looked over at Jimin, “Because he is a bastard that doesn't trust anyone else but himself. He won't give out information like that. He wants the money right then and there”

Swallowing hard, Jimin averted his gaze. Oh god, he felt really guilty, “I-I'll give you the money back, I promise, just-”

“No, Jimin-ah, really that's not necessary. You didn't ask me to do this, I'm doing this because I want to. You don't have to pay for anything, okay?”

Jimin still didn't look at him, causing Jungkook to glance at him again.

“This doesn't make you owe me anything either, okay? You don't have to pay me back in any way. I'm not doing this so you forgive me either. I would have done this no matter how the situation between us was” Jungkook assured, voice serious as he stared at Jimin.

“Ohay” The smaller boy muttered and gave a faint nod.

Silence settled between them again, the only sound being the quiet music from the radio and the engine of the car.

Jimin bit down on his bottom lip.

“So this informant... does he know my biological father personally?” Jimin then wanted to know. How was this person supposed to know about Jimin's real father if he didn't know him personally? How in the world was he even supposed to have such huge information?

“I don't know” Jungkook sighed, “I don't think so, though. He just receives information through ways I don't even want to know about. I don't think he knows your real father personally”

“How do we know he's not lying?”

“I told you, they're trustworthy when it comes to that.”

“How do I know you're not lying?”

Jungkook glanced over, frowning as he looked back and forth between Jimin's eyes, “I told you, I'm not lying. I get that it's difficult for you to believe me, but I'm telling the truth. Clearly, you do believe me because you certainly wouldn't be here if you didn't”

“Wouldn't be the first time you lied to me, though. You lied to me plenty of times before. I'm just saying that-” Jimin argued, crossing his arms over his chest as the doubt inside of him blossomed again. It was a continuous back and forth, a battle between doubt and hope not coming to an end. For a while, the hope outweighed everything else, just for the doubt to rise again.

Suddenly, Jungkook pulled over, coming to a halt at the side of the road and causing Jimin to leave the rest of the sentence hang in the air as he widened his eyes.

“Jungkook-ah, you can't just stop here!”

“Listen, okay? We're going to spend the next hours together, maybe even the night. This is not going to work out if you keep suspecting me and trying to argue. I get that you're still mad at me, I'm not saying that you shouldn't, but we can't fight for the whole trip, that's not gonna work. I am telling you the truth, okay? I told you that I would be honest with you from now on. No more lies.” Jungkook uttered, voice firm as he stared at Jimin whose mouth was agape, shocked by the sudden situation. Then, Jimin crossed his arms over his chest as he narrowed his eyes, “This isn't going to work if we keep arguing. How about we put a pause on the warzone. Let's not talk about our issues at all, let's not fight about that. There are other times for that. Right now, we should focus on finding your father.”

Jimin glanced at Jungkook, watching the sincerity in his eyes as the black haired boy held out his hand to shake.

“A pause? So we should pretend that everything is okay?” Jimin asked, eyebrows arched up in suspicion.

“A break, yes. No, you don't have to pretend anything. I'm just asking you to stop fighting. You don't have to talk to me at all, if you don't want that. I just think it's better for both of us if we don't talk about our issues on this trip. We have a lot of time for that when we get back, when you're actually ready to talk”

Narrowing his eyes, Jimin stared at Jungkook's hands. Frankly, it was going to make everything more difficult if they continued arguing. Just now, Jimin hadn't even meant to say those words, yet they had slipped from his mouth almost subconsciously. Obviously, they were true, yet that didn't mean that Jimin should continue throwing them at Jungkook, especially not now. Perhaps it was better to not talk at all so they wouldn't fight.

Jimin lifted his hand and placed it in Jungkook's.

The smaller boy almost wanted to roll his eyes, but nodded, “I promise not to fight with you during this trip. We're just going to focus on finding my father”

“Okay, good.”

Jungkook was about to pull his hand away, yet Jimin held it tighter, causing Jungkook to lock eyes with him again.

“You have to promise something, too”

The black haired one looked back and forth between his eyes before he nodded, “Anything”

“Promise to not lie to me any longer from now on” Jimin insisted, eyebrows arched up.

“Say it again”

The taller boy hesitated, but nodded, “I promise that I won't lie to you any longer. I'll be honest about anything you ask me”

They shook hands, Jimin feeling a weird sensation inside of him at the fact how his hand aligned with Jungkook's bigger one, yet he quickly banished that thought from his mind as he sat back in his seat.

Jungkook started the engine again and drove back on the road, continuing their journey to Busan.

----------

“Jimin-ah”
Jimin squeezed his eyes further shut at the voice.

“Jimin-ah, wake up” The soft voice repeated, a gentle hand against his cheek causing him to nuzzle against the touch, “Jimin-ah”

Suddenly, Jimin realised whose voice it was. The smaller boy's eyes fluttered open, looking directly into Jungkook's brown orbs that were staring right at him. The man pulled his hand back and cleared his throat.

“Sorry, I din't want to fall asleep” Jimin mumbled as he rubbed over his tired eyes, sitting up and scanning his surroundings.

He was still seated in Jungkook's black Range Rover. However, now it was pitch black outside, the sun long gone.

“Are we... Are we in Busan already?” Jimin whispered.

“Yes, we just arrived” Jungkook answered.

A shiver ran down Jimin's back. He must have fallen asleep quite a while ago, not remembering it being that dark outside, hadn't noticed how close they had been to the town.

The shorter male gulped, realising that he hadn't been here in over ten years. It was odd to be back, felt... unreal. Jimin had never actually thought he would be back here, especially not for the reason he was here for – to meet his biological father. The world really was a strange place, wasn't it?

As Jimin looked outside, he noticed that Jungkook had parked in front of a little motel. Why were they here? Was the informant living here?

“I didn't want to wake you up sooner. I got a text from Baek, telling me that I can meet his informant tomorrow. I told him that I wanted to meet him today, but apparently he's not available tonight. I'm sorry, Jimin-ah. Baek will call me and let me know as soon as I can meet him tomorrow” Jungkook uttered, unfastening Jimin's seatbelt.

Jimin blinked, taking a moment to process the words. That implied that they would have to stay the night. The smaller boy let out breath, sad that he wouldn't be able to meet his father tonight, yet the one day wouldn't make that much of a big difference and Jimin would have felt really rude anyway to turn up in front of his place that late at night.

“Oh” Jimin breathed, giving a small nod, “So...”

“I saw this motel while driving by and took a stop. We could stay in the car, of course, but I think that's silly when we can simply stay in a motel”

“Oh” Jimin murmured again, clearing his throat, “So we should stay in that motel... for tonight?”

Jimin blinked again before he climbed out of the car as well, “But I don't think... I don't have enough money with me”

“I'll pay, Jimin-ah” Jungkook assured as he got their bags from the backseats before he locked his car.

The taller boy walked ahead, causing Jimin to rush after him to keep up. Franky, Jimin couldn't remember to ever having been here, in this area of the town. This place looked a little scary, barely any lights illuminating the place. It wasn't the nicest looking building either, yet as long as they could stay in there for tonight, it would be alright.

“This place looks...” Jimin began, letting the rest of the sentence hang in the air as they arrived in front of the entrance door of the building, Jungkook opening the door and gesturing for Jimin to enter – which he did. The black haired one followed after him, Jimin scanning the small entrance area.

It didn't look that bad, a small seating area on their right, a staircase leading up to another floor on their left and the reception right in front of them. The interior design was made up of rather dark colours that didn't go well together, some whites mixed in between. Jimin wasn't that fond of it, yet he didn't hate it either.

The motel wasn't that huge to begin with, probably only had a few rooms. Hopefully, there was still an available one for them.

The two boys walked up to the reception, the woman looking up from her magazine, fixing her glasses on her nose as her gaze trailed up to them, “Hello” Jungkook greeted her.

She smiled politely and straightened her back, “Hello”

“We would like to check in” Jungkook revealed as he pulled out his wallet. It was in that moment that Jimin realised that Jungkook had been carrying his backpack for him, causing him to reach forward and taking it from him because he didn't want him to have to carry his stuff any longer.

Jimin and Jungkook glanced at each other.

“I mean that in the sense of do you want to check in together as I have only one remaining room available for tonight” The woman clarified before they were able to answer her previous question, “The others are already occupied”

“Oh” Jimin murmured, “That's okay”

Jungkook took a glimpse at him before he fixated his gaze back on the woman, “We'll take that room then”

“For one night?” She then asked as she typed something on her keyboard.

The woman hummed, “On what name?”

This time, Jungkook hesitated, causing Jimin to look at him in curiosity, “Min” Jungkook answered eventually. The smaller boy furrowed his brows, but didn't say anything as he let his gaze wander back over to the woman.

“That's 25000 won then”

Jungkook gave a nod as he pulled out some money while the woman got up on her feet to get a key.

Well, that was a lot cheaper than Jimin had expected. To be fair, he had never stayed in a motel so he didn't know how prices worked, but he definitely hadn't considered it being that cheap. However, the room might not look the best for that kind of price. Then again, Jimin just wanted to sleep, it wouldn't be that bad now, would it?

“Room 13” The woman told them as she exchanged the key for the money, “Have a good night”

They bowed slightly before they made their way to the staircase, walking upstairs into a long hallway. Jungkook and Jimin didn't talk to each other as they searched for their room, the orange haired boy still wondering why Jungkook had booked their room on the name 'Min'. Did he do that to protect his identity? What for?

“Found it” Jungkook interrupted his thoughts as he came to a halt in front of a door with the number 13 on it. The younger boy opened the door with the key, entering the room and turning the lights on as he went inside.

To Jimin's surprise, the room wasn't that small. It actually looked nice and cozy, the colours giving off a warm feeling, the big king sized bed having white bed sheets that fit perfectly with- Wait. A king sized bed. One bed. Only one.

The shorter male stopped dead in his tracks, eyes wide at the realisation of there only being one bed. Jungkook stilled, too, looking back at Jimin as the door fell shut behind them.

“I-I'm going to sleep on the floor” Jimin insisted as he walked past Jungkook, dropping his backpack on the little dresser across from the bed against the wall.

“That's not necessary, Jimin-ah. I can sleep on the floor. I don't mind” Jungkook protested as he tossed his bag on the bed, taking off his shoes and placing them against the wall.

Jimin gulped as he pulled of his own shoes, moving them next to Jungkook's.

“No, you payed for the room and you drove us all the way here for the past hours. I really don't mind”

The taller boy opened his mouth as he looked back and forth between Jimin's eyes, appearing to want to say something, yet he shut it right after and gave a faint nod, “I don't mind either, but whatever you want”

The orange haired male picked up one of the duvets and a pillow from the bed, placing them down on the floor in front of the bed.

Right, it wasn't going to be the most comfortable night, but Jimin didn't want Jungkook to sleep on the floor, considering how he was paying for this room, had went out of this way to come here with Jimin and had driven the whole night after such a busy day. Clearly, Jungkook should sleep on the bed rather than him.

Of course, the bed was big enough to fit both of them, yet... Jimin didn't think it was right to sleep next to Jungkook, was actually a little concerned of something happening between them that shouldn't happen.

Jungkook observed how Jimin laid the blanket down and then sat down on the hard floor to test how he was going to sleep there, “It's not that bad” Jimin assured as Jungkook had furrowed his brows at the sight of Jimin sitting down there.

“Are you sure?”
“I’m sure” Jimin confirmed and gave a nod.

It seemed as if Jungkook wanted to say something, but he shook his head and went over to another door close to the bed, “I’m going to take a shower.” He announced as Jimin layed back down, staring up at the ceiling.

The light above him flickered, causing Jimin’s body to jerk up and have a look around. It was quiet in the room, yet there was the sound of wind breezing, a shiver running down Jimin’s back. The smaller boy got up to his feet, walking over to the windows and pulling the curtains to the side. The windows were shut, yet they appeared to be leaky, probably fairly old and causing some wind to brush through. The sound it made was a little scary if Jimin was being honest, but at least he knew what it was now.

Suddenly, the noise of water being turned on startled Jimin, causing him to let go of the curtain and spin around. Obviously, that was only Jungkook taking a shower, but Jimin had been so focused on the window that he had forgotten about the other boy.

Slowly, he walked over to his backpack and picked it up, sitting back down on his place on the ground before he opened his bag. Then, Jimin pulled out his phone, noticing that he had some new messages.

Before Jimin opened any of them, he realised how he would miss dance practice tomorrow again as Jungkook was only able to meet that informant tomorrow, meaning they were going to take a while until Jimin was going to meet his biological father and then drive back home to Seoul. They would never make it back on time for dance practice.

_Hyung, I'm sorry, but I won't be able to make it to practice tomorrow. I'm taking care of some personal stuff, I'll tell you more about it when I'm back. I hope you can understand. - Jimin_

The orange haired boy caught his bottom lip between his teeth, hoping that Hoseok wasn't already sleeping and if he was, that the message wouldn't wake him up.

Jumin answered the other messages as well, mostly just telling him goodnight which he replied by wishing them a good night as well.

As Jimin locked his phone and placed it down on the floor beside him, the door to the restroom suddenly opened, causing Jimin to look up. He hadn't even noticed the water being turned off by Jungkook.

The shorter male's eyes widened, mouth agape as Jungkook walked back into the room, barely covered by a towel wrapped around his waist. Jungkook didn't spare him a glance, but simply walked over to his bag that he opened and pulled some clothes out.

Jimin shut his mouth, swallowing hard as he felt his heartbeat quicken. The light fell right on Jungkook’s stomach, emphasising his defined abs, his strong muscles that stretched whenever he moved his arms. Jimin felt himself blush, a quiet whimper almost leaving his lips.

Swiftly, Jimin got up on his feet, clearing his throat as he picked up his backpack, “I-I'll go wash up now, too” Jimin announced as he walked past Jungkook, looking back one last time and watching Jungkook's back stretch, shoulders wide as he pulled a shirt over his head. The smaller boy almost walked into the wall, barely able to dodge it as he dropped his backpack.

Jungkook turned around, eyebrows arched up as he heard something fall to the ground. Quickly,
Jimin picked up his back, his blush deepening as he rushed inside the restroom, not catching the way Jungkook had smirked in amusement.

Oh god.

Jimin shut the door close behind himself, feeling his cheeks heat up even more at the thought of Jungkook's naked body. Fortunately, Jungkook hadn't caught his reaction... right?

Franky, Jimin wasn't sure why Jungkook still had that effect on him. Okay, well, that was a lie. Jimin was pretty certain that he knew the reason for this reaction, yet he didn't want himself to be affected like this – shouldn't be affected like this.

The orange haired male sighed as he pressed his forehead against the wall, shaking his head. Why did his heart work like this? Why did it pound that fast in his chest, why did it remind him of the times Jungkook had touched him so softly and sweetly, had held him close in his strong embrace as if he wanted to shield Jimin from everything bad in the world? Why couldn't his heart stop that? It wasn't healthy, it really wasn't.

Letting out another sigh, Jimin pulled off his clothes and took a shower as well.

Once he was finished with cleaning himself, the shorter boy opened his backpack to search for something to wear.

Dammit.

He hadn't brought some sweatpants. However, he pulled out quite a bit of snacks which he had stuffed in there for their journey. Jimin had really set his priorities straight, hadn't he?

Nibbling on his bottom lip, Jimin put on a fresh pair of briefs and a long sweater, the sleeves of it too long, causing him to have sweater paws. It was one of his favourite pieces of clothing, way too long for him, covering his butt and hanging even below that, yet extremely soft and comfortable. Jimin really liked to wear this one when he slept.

Folding his worn clothes neatly, he put them back into his bag before he pulled out his toothbrush and went over to the sink. While brushing his teeth, Jimin moved his hand through his damp hair, fluffing it out a bit, getting rid of any knots there were.

Once he was done with brushing his teeth, he placed the toothbrush next to Jungkook's and picked up his backpack again, making his way out of the restroom.

Jungkook was lying on the bed, focused on his phone. As soon as Jimin entered the room, the other boy glanced up, stared back down on his phone, but looked right up again. Jimin waddled over to his place on the floor, noticing how Jungkook didn't take his eyes off of him and dropping the backpack next to his blanket.

“W-What?” Jimin asked softly, feeling his cheeks heat up at the realisation that Jungkook's gaze was still fixated on him.

The taller boy shook his head as he quickly averted his eyes and stared back on his phone, “Nothing”

“Can you turn the light on the nightstand on so I can turn the main one off, please?” Jimin asked as he walked over to the light switch. Jungkook hummed and turned the light on next to him while Jimin turned the other one off.
Now, the lights were dimmed, the light on the nightstand barely illuminating the room, yet the light was more comfortable than the other one. The lightbulbs that were hanging from the ceiling were giving Jimin a headache, flickering every now and then.

There was still the quiet sound of wind brushing through the windows, startling Jimin every now and then. Hopefully, that wasn't going to keep him up all night.

“Jimin-ah, are you sure you don't want to switch?” Jungkook wanted to make sure again as he watched Jimin sit back down on the floor.

“Yes, I'm sure. It's fine, Jungkook-ah, it's not that uncomfortable” Jimin reassured the other boy as he pulled the blanket over himself. This way, he was lying directly on the floor, yet without pulling the duvet over his delicate body, the smaller boy would probably freeze during the night. “I slept on the floor for a while when I was younger” Jimin revealed, voice a little quieter, Jungkook barely able to catch his words, but he did.

“My father said we didn't have money for a bed so I had to sleep on the floor. Well, I did have couple of blankets, but it still wasn't a real bed. It wasn't until my grandmother found out that she bought me a bed”

“Jimin-ah, that's... Why the fuck would he do that? He should have let you sleep on his bed”

“Well, he slept on the sofa all the time anyway so he didn't have a bed himself.”

Jimin still remembered the hard floor he had to sleep on for several weeks until his grandmother found out about it and bought him a bed immediately. It had never really been comfortable, obviously, yet Jimin hadn't minded that much.

“Still, he should have let you sleep on the sofa then” Jungkook commented, voice sounding angered.

“There are a lot of things he should have done, I guess, or rather shouldn't have done. It's the past, Jungkook-ah.”

“I know. Still makes me mad, though”

The shorter male gave a small nod even though Jungkook couldn't see him, pressing his lips into a line. Sometimes, Jimin still thought about his childhood. Of course, he did. However, he didn't get angry when he did. Sometimes, he just felt sad, felt pity for himself, yet there are many beautiful memories from his childhood as well and Jimin just clung onto them, tried to keep them vividly in his mind.

“Do you want another pillow? Should I give you my blanket?” Jungkook then asked, interrupting Jimin's thoughts again.

“No” Jimin declined, “Thank you, but it's fine, really”

The older boy didn't want Jungkook to be cold at night. This one night wouldn't kill Jimin. It wasn't that bad.

“Okay, good night, Jimin-ah”

The taller male turned the light off, darkness filling the room as he did. It only took a moment for Jimin's eyes to get used to the darkness as he looked up at the ceiling. To be honest, his mind was still racing a lot, too many questions lingering around. Jimin didn't believe that he was able to fall asleep just yet.

“Jungkook-ah?”

The other one hummed, signaling that he wasn't asleep just yet.

“Why did you book the room under the name Min?” Jimin wondered, voice quiet. The smaller one wasn't able to banish that question from his mind, too curious to know what the reason was.

Jungkook hesitated.

“I didn't want to give her my real name” The boy then answered, voice sounding soft and somewhat vulnerable even.

“Why?” Jimin breathed, “Do you think she might know who you are?”

They had never acutally adressed that fact. You know, the fact that Jungkook was the heir of that huge entertainment company. It was the first time they were mentioning it.

“I don't know. It's not unlikely for my father to have his people scattered around.”

It was odd, wasn't it? They had never really talked about Jungkook's family, about his personal life. Jimin was really curious, but didn't want to make Jungkook uncomfortable either.

It became quiet between them.

“Why did you never tell me?” Jimin wanted to know, breaking the silence as he sat up and rested his arms on the bed, then placing his head on top of them. The shorter boy's voice was so soft, so quiet and barely able for Jungkook to register, but he did.

“You mean...”

“That your father is the CEO of that company” Jimin clarified, “That you're rich and basically famous”

“I'm not famous” Jungkook uttered, sitting up as well so they could look at each other. They were barely able to make out each other's sillhouettes in the dark, but they knew where the other one was, “I'm just a little known by some people. The majority of the time, people just see my face next to my father's. I don't really get recognised on streets or stuff like that if you think that. It's just when they hear my full name that they know that I'm... the heir of that company.”

“Jeon entertainment” Jimin voiced in awe, “They started here in Busan, right? It was really small at first, but it became bigger until you moved over to Seoul, right?”

You see, Jimin had done his research. Could you blame him? And, well, to be honest, he had known quite a lot about it already, considering that he had dreamed of auditioning there.

“Yes, we still have a building here in Busan, but expanded over to Seoul.”

“I don't get why you never mentioned anything about it. I would assume that someone as rich and powerful as you would talk about it, no?”

Frankly, Jungkook's status was a little intimidating to Jimin. He was the heir of that huge company, probably had a lot of influence in Seoul, maybe even all of Korea just like his father did. Surely, Jungkook could ruin someone's career if he wanted to.

“You never asked and it's not really... I don't know, it wasn't my favourite part about myself” Jungkook revealed, voice turning quieter with each word.

Jimin furrowed his brows and titled his head to the side, “Why? This is amazing, Jungkook-ah”

The black haired boy hesitated.

“The industry isn't as fairy tale like as it seems, Jimin-ah. Shit goes on behind the scenes and it can fuck you up, trust me. I never even wanted to do any of that. It's just that my father wants me to and..” Jungkook shared with him, letting the rest of the sentence hang in the air.

Jimin narrowed his eyes. So Jungkook didn't want any of this? Clearly, to Jimin this seemed like such an amazing profession. To help people become famous, to manage them, to be so well respected in all of Korea, yet... he didn't see what went on behind the scenes. No, the shorter male only saw what they wanted the public to see. Surely, he had no idea of what actually went on and how hard all of it was.

Evidently, Jungkook always seemed stressed when it came to work, was so utterly busy with everything. That must be extremely exhausting.

“And? Why do you? You should follow your own dreams, Jungkook-ah” Jimin pointed out. However, that was easier to say than to actually do. Surely, Jungkook couldn't just straight up tell his father that he didn't want his company, could he? Perhaps this was what Jungkook had meant when he had told him about his father not supporting him either back then?

“It's not that easy. He never listens to me when I talk about anything else and I've been part of it for many years now. It's not that bad when you have friends like Jin hyung there who keep you sane. I'm good at what I do now” Jungkook answered, shrugging his shoulders as he pushed his hand through his hair.

“What did you want to do?”

The younger boy sighed, “I don't know. I like art, you know, every kind of it. I studied arts and literature for a while. I liked to write, but I stopped because I wanted to help my father in Busan. I was able to graduate faster than others because... well, because of my father. I liked different kind of things. Arts, music, literature, sports, but I never really had time to try out all of these things so I have no idea what else to do with my future. I'm supposed to take over the company one day, so my father made it possible for me to graduate faster in order for me to learn more about the industry and how to run a company. When he wanted to expand to Seoul, he wanted me to work there.”

“I wanted to be there for him and help him so I accepted.” Jungkook replied, “I even wanted to give Yoongi hyung a job there, but he declined. He felt like that would be unfair to others and like he wasn't chosen because of his potential, but because of his connection to me. I totally understood and respected his decision. I'm glad he found another company and is happy there”

Jimin felt his heart clench, giving a small nod. It was heartwrenching to hear that Jungkook was doing something for the sake of his father that he never really wanted to do himself, that he never got the possibility to find out what he likes because he was pushed into that narrative and life at an age that should be the time for him to figure out who he is. Obviously, Jungkook appeared to be kind hearted, mature and strong because he was doing all of this just to help out his father.

“Can't you do what you actually want to do in your free time?” Jimin asked, voice soft as he stared at the taller boy.

A half smile appeared on his face, “Well, I don't have that much free time, but I kind of do in a way. I sometimes help out hyung with his songs. We work on them together. I like writing and I worked on some guides with him”

“Guides as in...”

“You sing?”

“Well, not really, just when hyung needs help”

Jimin's mouth was agape. As soon as they were back in Seoul, Jimin was going to rush to Yoongi and listen to some of those guides. Never would he have imagined Jungkook to sing... The black haired boy had such a soothing deep voice to begin with, Jimin felt something warm bloom in his chest at the thought of hearing his singing voice.

“I'm glad that you still get to do what you like”

Jungkook hummed, “I've kind of come to terms with it. I think Yoongi hyung knows that about me, too, that's why he asks for my help sometimes. I don't hate the thought of becoming the CEO anymore, though. I'm good at what I do now and I like working with Jin hyung. There's definitely some things that I hate about it and I would like to change, but I guess that's just how it is.”

The smaller boy gave a slight nod again, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he pulled on his sweater paws.

“So, your father is still here in Busan then? What about your mother?”

Jungkook hesitated, tensing slightly at the question. Jimin noticed.

“Sorry, you don't have to answer”

Yes, Jungkook promised that he would answer every question that Jimin had, would be completely honest from now on, yet clearly this topic was making Jungkook uncomfortable and the relationship to his parents wasn't any of Jimin's business. Cleary, Jimin shouldn't force Jungkook to talk about this.

Jimin felt a stinging in his chest at the information, swallowing hard, “I'm sorry, Jungkook-ah, that must have been hard for you”

The orange haired boy couldn't help but feel sad for Jungkook. The boy had lost his mother and the father that he still had didn't really support him in what he wanted to do, but had his whole future already set and planned out. Sure, maybe Jungkook had come to terms with it by now, but it must have been difficult for him to wrap his head around the idea of someone else deciding what he was going to become instead of what he really wanted to do.

Silence settled between them.
Jungkook didn't seem to know what to say next, neither did Jimin. Clearly, Jimin hadn't wanted the atmosphere to become like this, didn't want to bring the mood down like this. No, he definitely hadn't wanted to remind Jungkook of such a sad memory.

"Was she... was she a kind person?" Jimin wondered, voice just above a whisper as he didn't know if he was going too far at this point.

"She was. My mother was a beautiful person on the inside and on the outside. She always tried to help people, never spoke a bad word about anyone." Jungkook answered, his tone a little softer as he reminisced about his mother.

Jimin was pretty certain that Jungkook had her eyes. Jimin had seen pictures of Jungkook's father, could see resemblance there in their face structure, but their eyes were different. Jungkook must have gotten his beautiful brown orbs from his mother.

"You have her eyes, don't you?" Jimin asked, eyebrows arched up.

"Why would you assume that?"

The shorter male felt himself blush, grateful that Jungkook couldn't see that due to the darkness, "I... I saw a picture of your father before. He's handsome, but... but he doesn't have your beautiful eyes, so I just assumed..." Jimin tried to explain, not finishing his sentence as he noticed Jungkook's smile, was able to catch something glistening in his eyes even through the darkness.

"Yes, I do have her eyes"

Jimin only smiled shyly, nodding again.

They stared at each other for a while, not saying another word, but it was almost like that wasn't necessary. For some reason, they found comfort in simply looking at each other.

However, soon, Jimin found himself wonder about another thing.

"Jungkook-ah"

"Mhm?"

"Can we take a... take a pause from the break?" Jimin whispered, causing Jungkook to raise his eyebrows and tilt his head to the side.

"You mean the break from... from not talking about our issues?"

"Yes, I want to ask something, but I don't want you to get mad at me. I don't want to fight, really, I'm not blaming you either. I just want some clarity"

Surely, in another setting, Jimin wouldn't be this calm, neither would Jungkook. However, the night and this silent motel room, the time they were spending together so far away from their daily lives – like it was just the two of them again – brought comfort over Jimin, made him calm. Right now, he didn't want to fight, but he wanted answers and it felt like tonight he would finally get them.

"Okay, go ahead" Jungkook answered, voice sure, yet quiet.

"Are you happy?"

The taller boy blinked, clearly surprised by this question.

There it was. The topic Jungkook had been avoiding every single time, pushing Jimin away with a mere ‘It's complicated’ which had driven Jimin almost insane. Was it going to change tonight? Was Jungkook going to answer him? Frankly, he had promised to answer every and any question Jimin had, had promised to be honest from now on.

“You mean... do you mean... So you want to know if I'm happy being with her?” Jungkook clarified, stumbling over his words, but not yet avoiding the topic altogether.

“I'm... I've come to terms with the situation, let's say that.” The black haired boy responded, causing Jimin to furrow his brows and cock his head to the side.

Wait. This sounded very... odd, didn't it? Come to terms with being in a relationship with someone you were supposed to love or at least – well – like?

“What do you mean? Aren't you two together? I... Who is she? Why did you never tell me about her?”

Jungkook sighed, rubbing his hand over his neck as he seemed to deliberate about what to say next.

“Her full name is Song Seoyun and I never told you about her because I'm legally not allowed to” Song. Song. Jimin let the name ring in his mind, trying to connect it to someone he knew. Wait- legally not allowed to? What did that mean?

Jimin felt his heart drop.

“What do you mean?”

“You can't tell anyone about this, okay? No one. If anyone else finds out I'm-”

“I am not in a relationship because I want to be, Jimin-ah. I'm with her because I signed a contract. Seoyun is an upcoming model, her parents own a fashion business. My father and her parents came to an agreement and made up this plan of me dating their daughter – not actually, but for the public eye to see. However, I feel like they actually want us to date. My father even flew her over to Seoul, saying that she would live with me to make it more believable, but honestly, she could simply stay in a hotel or something like that” Jungkook revealed.

In a short span of time, in the seconds that followed right after, several emotions blossomed inside of Jimin. For one, there was confusion. Confusion because why was Jungkook doing that? Then, there was also relief. Relief that Jungkook wasn't actually taken, hadn't actually cheated on anyone. The news actually didn't shock the smaller boy that much because deep down, deep within his heart he had always assumed, maybe even known, that something else was going on, that there was more to it than he saw.

“Why would they do that?”

“My father wants a part of their company, they want their daughter to become more known. Both parts get something out of this. My father even signed Seoyun under our company because of that contract. Both sides get a shit ton of money, as well as public recognition. I didn't want to do it, but my father really wanted that deal and I just wanted to help him. He promised me that it wouldn't go on for long, but now they want me to propose to her, but there is no fucking way I'm going to fake propose to someone and I definitely don't want to marry her”

Jimin gulped, trying to process all of this information. To be honest, even if Jimin had slightly considered a similar situation like this after putting all the pieces together, it still felt unreal to actually hear those words.

This was crazy. The industry was crazy.

The smaller boy tried to make sense of all of this, but kept on stumbling over his own thoughts, his mind racing.

Seoyun and Jungkook weren't actually in a relationship. Neither had Jungkook cheated with Jimin on anyone. All of that wasn't real, they were dating because of a contract. A contract that prohibited Jungkook to talk about it.

That's why Jungkook had pushed him away, hadn't been able to say anything. Technically, he wasn't legally allowed to talk about it.

“Why are you telling me now, though?”

“Because I promised you that I would be honest with you from now on. I trust you enough to believe that you won't tell anyone else.”

“It happens more often than you think. Many relationships in the public eye are fake because both parts just want public recognition or something else out of it”

“So this means... does this mean that you don't actually like her in that way? You don't... don't love her?”

“I mean, I don't hate her, but I don't like her that way either. Yes, she's annoying sometimes, but overall, I don't think she's a bad person. To be fair, I think she's not that fond about all of this either. Sure, sometimes she gives off vibes that imply that she's actually into me, but sometimes she just screams at me and wants to be left alone. I guess this isn't easy on her either. I don't know if she actually wanted all of this, but she really wants to become famous.”

Jimin felt his heart clench just as it started to pound faster.

Jungkook was never actually taken. This meant that he hadn't lied about that. Sure, he had kept that from Jimin and had never revealed that to him, rather pushed him away every time that topic came up, but now Jimin knew why – because he wasn't allowed to talk about it.

“So the contract basically forces you to be with her? You can't say no now? You can't talk to anyone about it?”

The taller boy looked back and forth between his eyes and gave a slight now, “It's not for that much longer. A couple of weeks, maybe. I'm definitely not agreeing to that engagement shit. Technically, I can't get out of the relationship now. Not easily. Not legally. I signed the contract and am bound to it. If I violate an agreement, I would have to go to court and pay a shit ton of money. I don't want my father to have to go through all of that bullshit.”

All of this... Jungkook was doing all of this just because of his father, because he wanted to help him.
Essentially, they only had each other now. Even though the man didn't support Jungkook in the way the younger boy had wanted, Jungkook still seemed to love him a lot. They had a deep bond that connected them. Jungkook visibly wanted to support and help his father in any way he could, proving that he deeply cared for him.

Frankly, Jimin wasn't sure how to feel about this information now. Could he still be mad at Jungkook for not telling him about Seoyun sooner when the boy simply hadn't been able to talk about it?

Jimin felt conflicted, listening to his heart wanting to forgive Jungkook for that, yet trying to wait for his brain to make a sane decision.

“Why did Seoyun get mad at me though when we... I mean, when I was in your... well, you know”

“I don't know. Maybe she thought it's unfair of me to be able to see someone else when she couldn't. I'm not entirely sure, though. I never told her about you, I mean, I never said what was going on between us because I wasn't sure if you would be okay with that. She just made up her own mind about what was going on. Perhaps she thought you would snitch on us and just acted accordingly to what we were supposed to be – a couple – so you wouldn't be suspicious and tell someone that what he have is fake. I'm really not sure.”

The smaller boy's eyes widened slightly, the assumption of why she acted the way she did actually making sense. Obviously, she didn't know what was going on between Jungkook and Jimin, perhaps assumed that Jungkook didn't know Jimin that well either and that there was a chance of Jimin telling someone that their relationship was actually fake. Maybe she just didn't trust Jimin at all and feared that Jimin was going to reveal their fake relationship.

Her behaviour made a lot more sense now.

For a moment, it was silent between them.

“Jungkook-ah, I'm sorry... for or screaming at you, for basically forcing you to talk about her and what was going on. It was never my business. Yet... I couldn't help, but ask. I'm really sorry”

“No, I understand. You thought I was cheating on her, I should have told you sooner.” Jungkook commented, shaking his head before he cocked his head to the side, “How did you find out about us?”

“A magazine” Jimin answered, sad smile on his face when he remembered the day Tae had rushed into his apartment with that magazine, Jimin's heart breaking in that moment.

“Shit, that's horrible. You must have thought... well, you might still think that I'm such an asshole. I didn't cheat on her, but I still shouldn't have... We should have talked before I touched you that night during the party. I'm sure it messed with your head. I know I'm an asshole”

Jimin's heartbeat quickened at the mention of the night, cheeks slightly heating up at the memories of Jungkook taking him against the wall. The orange haired male cleared his throat.

“I know now that your relationship isn't real. We should have talked, yes. It's not your fault, though. I touched you, too. I'm glad you didn't cheat on her. I... I felt really guilty”

“You-”

Suddenly, a phone rang. The black haired boy's display lit up, slightly illuminating the room. Jimin squeezed his eyes shut at the sudden source of light.
“It's Baek” Jungkook let him know as he picked up the phone, “Is it okay if I answer? He might tell me about the informant”

The shorter male quickly nodded, Jungkook accepting the call right after.

“Hello, Baek” Jungkook greeted, voice not as soft anymore, but more firmer now, “What? Why?”

The younger one frowned, causing Jimin to mirror his expression. What was going on? What caused his visible annoyance?

“For fk’s sake, you told me I could meet him tonight and now we have to wait almost 24 hours? Why can’t I talk to him earlier? Just send me the fking information then?”

Jungkook’s voice had become louder, anger visible as he got up from the bed. The smaller boy observed how Jungkook paced around as he listened to that Baek guy talk.

Jimin swallowed hard, not sure what to do.

What he got from the call so far was that they would only be able to talk to that informant tomorrow night? Which then implied that they would have to stay another night because Jimin definitely didn't want to be impolite and appear in front of his biological father's place that late at night.

His biological father.

Oh god. For the past hour, Jimin had completely forgotten why they were here. The conversation with Jungkook in the darkness had made him blur out everything else. Genuinely, he had even banished the fact that they were in Busan. While talking to Jungkook, it had been just the two of them again, blurring out everything else and getting lost in each other's words and presence, sharing secrets in the darkness that were only meant for each other.

Even though Jimin hadn't thought that this trip was going to go like this, he was grateful for having some sort of clarity about the situation with Jungkook now.

“Why the fk did he leave town when he knew I was coming? I don't care about money, Baek, I don't care about a discount, I asked for one thing and- Are you threatening me now? Of course, I'm mad. This delays everything, Baek.”

Jimin felt his heart pound fast in his chest. Jungkook seemed really mad. However, that Baek guy seemed to be a little pissed, too, considering how he had apparently threatened Jungkook. Frankly, Jimin was a little frightened by that fact, fearing of something happening to Jungkook if he continued talking like this to Baek.

“Jungkook-ah, it's fine. Don't be mad. It's just one more day” Jimin uttered softly, getting up to his feet and walking over to the taller boy who turned around.

As soon as Jimin placed a hand gently on his arm, Jungkook's eyes softened.

“Right, okay, Baek. I'll talk to you tomorrow, then. I swear, don't delay it again. Bye”

Jungkook hung up, tossing his phone on the bed as he wiped his hand over his face, letting out an annoyed sigh, “Sorry, Jimin-ah, the informant is out of town until tomorrow night. I can meet him then, though.”

“It's fine, Jungkook-ah, I don't mind staying another night. I can pay for another night, I think I still have some money in my-"
“No, Jimin-ah, that's not a problem, really. I just don't want you to have to wait for any longer. I'm sorry for not being able to keep my word” Jungkook apologised, lifting his hand and brushing strands of Jimin's orange hair out of his face.

The shorter male froze at the action, goosebumps rising on his body at the gentle touch. However, Jungkook pulled his hand away, clearing his throat as he shook his head, “Sorry” He whispered.

“It's okay. It's not your fault that we have to stay another night. I don't blame you. I just have to text Hoseok hyung about practice”

“Right, I should text Jin hyung, too, and change some stuff in my schedule” Jungkook agreed and walked over to the bed.

“I'm sorry for the inconvenience. You have to change your schedule just because-”

“No, Jiminie, don't apologise. I decided to come here with you. I want this. The company will be just fine without me for a day. Jin hyung handles my schedule anyway and watches what I do so he knows what to do. I have rescheduled the important meetings to monday and on anyway, so there isn't something that I can't miss this weekend” Jungkook reassured him as he took a seat back down on the bed, not taking his eyes off of Jimin.

“Okay” The orange haired male whispered as he tip toed back to his place on the floor and laid down again.

Both boys picked up their phones and sent some messages to make sure their schedules would work accordingly to their trip. Clearly, it was almost midnight and the people they were texting were most likely already sleeping, but at least they would be informed as soon as early in the morning when they woke up.

Jimin yawned as he texted Hoseok, eyes heavy and falling shut every now and then.

“We should probably go to bed. We can decide what to do tomorrow when we wake up, hm?” Jungkook suggested, Jimin nodding, but realising that Jungkook couldn't see him.

“Okay, good night, Jungkook-ah” Jimin yawned as he pulled the blanket over his petite body, eyes falling shut.

“Good night, Jimin-ah”

This time, sleep welcomed them fairly quickly, both of their chests a little lighter, a burden having been lifted from it, their hearts having found a piece back without them realising.

-------

Jimin woke up with an aching back, groaning at the pain as he turned over to his side. His eyes fluttered open, but he squeezed them shut right after as he was blinded by the sunlight. The orange haired boy sat up slowly, rubbing over his eyes that were still full of sleep before he opened them again. It took him some blinking to adjust to the light of the room, but eventually his vision wasn't blurry and his eyes no longer sensitive to the light.

The smaller male scanned the room, noticing how it was empty. The curtains were pulled to the side, the bed freshly made.

“Jungkook-ah?” Jimin called out with a raspy voice, getting up on his feet as he rubbed over his aching neck.
Suddenly, Jungkook peeked out from the restroom, eyes falling on Jimin with a concerned expression, “Everything okay?”

Jimin swallowed hard at the sight of Jungkook's naked upper body, only wearing a pair of briefs, Jimin's eyes wandering over the defined muscles as he pulled on his sweater paws absentmindedly, “I was just- I just... I just woke up and I-I didn't see you”

Quickly, Jimin shook his head, not letting his conscience be clouded by Jungkook's gorgeous body any longer as he trailed his gaze back up to Jungkook's eyes, said boy – if Jimin wasn't mistaken – had noticed Jimin's stare, smiling smugly as he leaned against the doorframe.

“I woke up half an hour ago, but I didn't want to wake you just yet because we have the whole day anyway.”

“O-Okay” Jimin nodded and cleared his throat, cheeks heating up, “Thank you”

“We should decide what we want to do for the remaining time we have. I just washed up, let me put some clothes on”

Jimin gulped and gave a faint nod again, watching Jungkook disappear back into the restroom. Letting out a breath Jimin hadn't noticed of holding, the shorter boy sat down at the edge of the bed.

It was still... affective to see Jungkook's naked body - even after everything they had done together, even after seeing and touching him that many times. Perhaps their current situation caused Jimin's embarrassment, the sight of Jungkook's body still evoking his timidity.

As Jimin let his gaze wander to the place he had slept on the previous night, he caught his phone lighting up. Swiftly, he leaned down and reached for it, unlocking it to see who had texted him.

That's fine, Jimin-ah. I understand. I want to go over yesterdays choreography again today. I will send you a video just in case you want to practice, but take all the time you need. I will see you on sunday/monday, just text me when you're back. Have fun and take care, Jiminnie. - Hoseok hyung Jimin smiled as he read over the message, grateful for a friend like Hoseok who seemed to understand his situation and didn't ask any further question. Seriously, Jimin was pretty certain that another dance leader would have kicked him out already for missing practice more than once – especially considering how the competition was only some weeks away. Genuinely, Jimin was entirely grateful and happy to call Hoseok not only his dance teacher, but also his friend.

A brief moment later, Jungkook reappeared in the room, ruffling his hair as he approached the bed and sat down. This way, they weren't looking at each other, causing Jimin to get up on his feet in order to make eyecontact with Jungkook.

“So, we have some time to kill until I get the text from Baek. What do you want to do?”

Jimin pursed his lips, tilting his head to the side while he contemplated about what they could do today. Frankly, Jimin didn't know that many places in Busan. Sure, there was his old home, the place he had been raised, but it was most likely owned by someone else now, maybe even taken down. To be honest, Jimin didn't care about it that much, didn't hold any beautiful memories with that place so he didn't really want to go back there.

“I don't know” He sighed as he brushed his hair back. Suddenly, he remembered something, eyebrows arching up, “Your father is still here, right? You haven't been here in a while, have you?
Don't you want to meet him?"

Jungkook opened his mouth in shock, but shut it right after, averting his gaze while shaking his head,
“No, not... not like this. I'm here because of you, Jimin-ah”

The smaller boy took a seat on the bed, sitting down on his knees as he shrugged his shoulders, “I don't mind. You surely miss him, no? We have to wait until tonight anyway. Hoseok hyung just texted me about practice so I could practice while you go and meet him. I don't want to fall behind too much and let the group down. I really don't mind, Jungkook-ah”

“Maybe, he might even want to see me. I guess Jin hyung might have told him that I won't be in the company for some days so he probably wonders where I am.”

Jmin gave a small nod.

“I actually thought about us staying at my father's house, but... but I don't think that's a good idea.
Not because of you, just... just in general. It's somewhat complicated between us right now”

Why? Jimin wondered. Was it because of the contract? The fact that Jungkook was supposed to take over the company? However, Jungkook actually seemed fine with the idea of becoming the CEO somewhen in the future. Then again, this whole fake relationship surely wasn't the most comfortable and easiest thing to experience.

Right. Seoyun. Jimin had forgotten about their conversation last night, about the revelation of what was actually going on between Jungkook and Seoyun. Would that change anything? To be fair, Jmin was still conflicted about that. Frankly, he didn't really feel mad about the fact that Jungkook didn't explain to him sooner who she was and what their relationship status was. Clearly, he couldn't really blame Jungkook for not telling him sooner.

In some way, this fact even... even relieved Jimin. For one, because it meant that Jimin hadn't been part of a cheating incident. However, also because... well, because... Jimin wasn't sure. There was something else inside of him that was relieved about this, but he couldn't tell what it was.

A big part of him just felt sorry for Jungkook, felt sorry that Jungkook had to pretend like this. Yet, it wasn't for that much longer, right? Jungkook had told him that it wouldn't go on for much longer.

“I wanted to choose a better hotel, too” Jungkook added, drawing Jimin out of his thoughts, “It's not like I don't know any, but my father is in contact with almost every person in this town and I didn't want him to know that I'm here. I'm sure he would have forced me to go to the company right away or something like that and that's not why I'm here for. I didn't want him to ask questions either. So... that's why I decided to choose this motel. It's not the most fancy, but at least my father doesn't have his ears and eyes all around here”

“Must be horrible to have every move... watched”

“It's not everywhere, though. There are places like this where my father isn't going to find me”

Jimin nodded weakly, pulling his sleeves over his delicate hands as he observed Jungkook's face.

“Is he just very protective?”

“Maybe. I don't know. He's just very careful about what I do because he doesn't want his reputation to go to shit. Everything I do reflects who he is. That's just the way it is. I pull shit, he's going to get backlash for it. That's why he has people all around Korea working for him. That's how the industry works, Jimin-ah, they control almost every shit. They bribe people and control situations in their own best interest. I'm pretty sure that if I fuck up somewhere, my father will let his people take care of it so nothing leaks. However, if I pull shit somewhere and he doesn't know about it or it's a place where none of his men work – meaning he has no influence – it's going to leak and paint a bad picture of him, too. That's why he wants to know where I am.”

Jimin swallowed hard as he gave another nod.

“I don't want his reputation to be bad, obviously. Even though we have our differences sometimes…”

“You still love him” Jimin finished his sentence, voice soft as he watched emotion flash in Jungkook's eyes.

“I'm the only one he has. I care for him a lot. My father... well, he isn't a bad person. He does shit that I don't like, but he isn't evil. He's just... I don't know. There are things that are important to him, some things more than others”

“Maybe. Yet, maybe all of this fame shit got to his head and he rose so far to the top that he's scared of falling down. You know, the higher you rise, the bigger the downfall is going to be. He's scared of that.”

The smaller boy pressed his lips into a line. Surely, trying to maintain your family bond while being in the public eye and managing all of that wasn't an easy task. Clearly, Jungkook cared about his father, loved him a lot as he was doing all of this for him. Jimin didn't doubt that his father loved him, too, but probably struggled with showing it. Perhaps being in the industry for so long has hardened him, has made him pull on a facade so people wouldn't think they could treat him however they wanted. Perhaps his father just struggled with showing his emotions in general.

“I think he behaves how he does to protect both of you. Surely, all of this isn't easy, for neither of you.” Jimin commented, smiling sympathetically.

“I guess” Jungkook sighed as he rubbed over his face, “It's complicated. You know what, we can both go to the company building today. I'll let you practice in one of the practice rooms and I will go talk to my father, maybe get some work done from here”

Jimin opened his mouth in shock, “To the entertainment building? J-Jeon entertainment?”

Jungkook smiled in amusement, “Yes, Jimin-ah, I'm not gonna take you to another company”

“I-I don't know if... Don't idols and... and singers practice there?” Jimin asked in awe, eyes wide as he stared at the taller boy whose smile deepened in amusement.

“Yes, Jimin-ah, that's where they train. I'll make sure you have one all to your own, though.” Jungkook assured as he got up on his feet.

Jimin's heartbeat quickened. He was going to practice in the entertainment company he had always dreamed being a part of, yet had never actually had the courage to apply for.

However, was he going to meet Jungkook's father, too? One of the most powerful men in Korea? Jimin swallowed hard at the thought, reminding him once again of who Jungkook was and what status he had. Yet, whenever Jimin looked at Jungkook he didn't see a man who was the heir of that huge company, he saw a young man that had stolen his heart and took care of his friends and the people that he loved. A young man that wasn't a bad person, but had made a couple of mistakes, had hurt Jimin in a way he had never been hurt before, but he was in no way evil.
“Jimin-ah?” Jungkook called, interrupting Jimin from his thoughts yet again as the shorter boy jerked up, startled by the sudden voice.

“I asked you whether or not we should get ready to leave then. We don't have the room for much longer anyway”

“Oh, okay, yeah, I'll wash up quickly” Jimin agreed and got up to his feet, picking up his backpack and walking past Jungkook into the restroom where he got ready for the day.

--------

“Wow” Jimin breathed in awe as he stared up at the huge building, people walking in and out, security checking who they were but seemingly recognising them.

“Come on” Jungkook urged as he tugged on Jimin's arm gently, pulling him with him towards the entrance.

“Jeon” The security person greeted in a surprised tone, bowing deeply at Jungkook's presence.

“Hello” Jungkook greeted back with a polite smile, entering with Jimin right behind him.

“He didn't even check me” Jimin mumured, walking close to Jungkook, yet too scared and shy to walk beside him.

Some of the employees turned around, surprised to see Jungkook here and bowing politely. Evidently, Jungkook hadn't been here in a while and was well respected by all of them.

“Come on, this way” Jungkook ordered as he pointed over to the elevators. Jimin's eyes were still stuck to the interior design, mesmerised by the huge building. The ground floor's walls were completely out of glass, letting in the beautiful sunlight. There was a huge seating area at the back of the room, two staircases on either side leading up to the next floor. On the sides, there were several elevator doors, some opening already and revealing a couple of people who were leaving. The building was so busy, many people working and rushing around.

All of this was utterly fascinating to Jimin, the orange haired boy bewildered by that many people working for one company – for Jungkook, essentially – and this weren't even all of them!

Jimin adjusted his backpack over his shoulder as he waddled after Jungkook into one of the elevators.

“Jungkook-ah, this is so... amazing. I can't believe I'm here. This company is huge” Jimin gushed.

Frankly, Jimin had never even imagined to actually step a foot in here. Right now, it felt like he was living a dream. How many trainees were currently here - trainees that would become famous one day, known and cherished all over Korea.

“The one in Seoul is even bigger” Jungkook commented, Jimin's eyes going wide at his words which amused the other boy.

“Is your father here? He is, isn't he?”

“Would be weird if he wasn't. I'm not aware of any meetings he would attend today so I'm pretty certain he's upstairs in his office room. Perhaps he's evaluating the trainees now, I'm not sure”

Even this simple elevator looked extremely fancy, making Jimin believe that this one alone cost a fortune.

The smaller boy froze, cheeks heating up at the petname. Jungkook's eyes went wide, realising fairly quickly what he had said.

“Sorry, I... Sometimes, it just...-”

The elevator doors opened, causing Jungkook to shut up as there were people standing in front of it. Jimin cleared his throat and averted his gaze, bowing towards the people that wanted to enter the elevator as Jungkook and Jimin stepped outside.

This must be the practice rooms. There was a long hallway with several doors, each one having a different number on them. There were at least six different rooms, the hallway extremely long, causing Jimin to believe that the practice rooms were huge.

“You can take number 3, I'll make sure that.”

“Jungkook-ah!” Someone called out, both of the boys looking up and seeing an older man walk towards them with spread out arms.

There was no doubt in Jimin's mind that it was Jungkook's father. Sure, he looked a little different than on the picture that Jimin had seen, yet who said that picture was recent? Clearly, the man had resemblance with Jungkook, smiling as he saw his son.

The taller man was dressed in a blue suit, eyeing Jungkook who was dressed in his black trousers and a black botton up shirt – his usual work attire, Jimin assumed.

Jungkook sighed, slightly embarrassed by his father's affection or maybe not used to it. They haven't seen each other in a while, though, Jimin assumed, at least not in real life, considering how Jungkook has been running the company in Seoul for a while now. Perhaps his father wasn't usually this affectionate.

“Appa” Jungkook greeted as he wrapped his arms around his father.

Jimin stood there, smiling at the sight as he pulled his sleeves over his petite hands, slightly nervous to be in the presence of such a powerful man who could ruin someone's life with his influence if he wanted to.

As they pulled apart, Jungkook's father smiled at his son before his eyes wandered over to Jimin, causing said boy to gulp and fix his posture.

“Who is this, Jungkook?” The man asked, voice still sounding happy – probably because of his son being that close to him again.
“His name is Jimin” Jungkook introduced the shorter male, tugging him back up by the back of his hoodie as Jimin had still bowed – not knowing when it was appropriate to come back up, “Park Jimin”

“Jimin” The man repeated, giving a nod, “I'm Jungkook's father.”

“I-I know” Jimin uttered, bowing slightly again, “Nice to meet you.”

“Nice to meet you, too” Jungkook's father responded, eying Jimin before he drew his attention back to his son, “What brings you here, Jungkook?”

“You knew I was here, right?” Jungkook asked, eyebrow arched up as he crossed his arms over his chest, “Who told you?”

His father smiled, a light chuckle escaping him, “Jin-ah told me that you weren't available for today, then people started texting me right away that you were in the building. I'm just wondering why you didn't call? What brings you here?”

“I was in town anyway and wanted to come stop by. Jimin-ssi wants to practice so I suggested for him to use one of our practice rooms.”

The man raised up his eyebrows, “Practice? And you let him practice here? Is he a friend?”

“He's... yeah, he's a friend” Jungkook answered after glancing at Jimin for a brief moment, “I've known him for a while, appa, he's good”

“I see. So, Jimin-ah, what are you practicing for?” The man wanted to know as he stared at Jimin, dark eyes piercing through Jimin. Even though he appeared intimidating, his eyes were kind.

“I-I'm a dancer. I'm currently practicing for a big competition”

“I see. That is fantastic. Congratulations” The man smiled, eying Jimin again, “So you dance, hm? How old are you?” His expression fairly changed, making it seem as if he was scanning Jimin thoroughly.

“Hmm, can I see your profile?” Jungkook's father suddenly wanted to know, lifting his hand and grabbing Jimin's chin gently. The man titled his head to the side, studying his features, “You're pretty”

Abruptly, Jungkook gripped his father's wrist and pulled it away, “Don't, appa. Not now” Jungkook protested for whatever reason, wrapping an arm around Jimin's waist, “I'll come right up to your office after showing Jimin the practice room.”

With that, Jungkook walked away, his arm remaining around Jimin as he pulled the smaller boy with him.

“It was nice meeting you!” Jimin yelled back at the man, bowing again before he turned straight ahead.

Confusion bloomed in Jimin. Confusion at the situation and at Jungkook's behaviour.
“What was that about?” Jimin wondered, eyebrows arched up and trying to ignore the sparks he felt at Jungkook's touch.

The taller boy let out a sigh, “Sorry, I'm pretty sure he was checking whether or not you were eligible for auditions.”

Jimin's eyes went wide at his words, “W-What?” Swallowing hard, Jimin took a glimpse at Jungkook who held his stare, “So, he wanted to see whether or not I could audition for this company? That's amazing!”

“Jimin-ah, you sound excited now, but it's not as amazing as you think it is. I don't want him to judge you, sign you and then make you into something that you might not want to be” Jungkook explained, shaking his head as they approached a door, “If you ever want to audition here, I'll be the one to evaluate you.”

The shorter male raised his eyebrows, “Why you?”

“My father can be very... persuasive. I don't want you to do anything you don't want to. If you ever audition here, I'm going to take care of you. I'll be fair. I will go through everything with you before you sign anything so you know what you're getting yourself into, but not today, not here with him. I don't want him to ruin you”

Jimin blinked, comprehending his words.

“Ruin me? Why do you talk like that about your father?”

“I told you, he's not a bad person, but he decides what you are as soon as you sign the contract. Some people are fine with that so they stay, some people don't like it and leave, but I don't want you to experience this without me by your side so I can make sure you're okay”

“So people change when they sign here?” Jimin asked, not exactly sure what Jungkook was referring to.

“People come in here with this fairy tale imagination of training for a couple of months and then they will become famous. Shit doesn't work like that. Some kids train years in here until they even get the chance to debut. It takes time to plan out someone's career, put together a group or build a narrative for a person. If you walk in here and sign a contract, it's a shit load of work.” Jungkook elaborated as they halted in front of a door, “This doesn't just fuck you up physically, but also mentally because you never know when you will actually get the chance to debut. My father can't let each and every single trainee debut the same year, that's simply not possible. Even worse than that is the industry itself, Jimin-ah, it's a fucked up place. You should think about it a lot before you choose that life, it can fuck you up completely.”

The shorter male gulped.

“I'm not saying doing what you love is bad, I'm just reminding you that there is a lot more to it. Shit, that's not that beautiful and amazing. Shit, that can really fuck you up. I can't let you walk into that without at least warning you”

“Okay. Thank you, Kook-ah. I... I didn't plan on auditioning. I mean, I always dreamed about it, but right now, I want to focus on the dance group that I'm in. I'm happy with that right now. I'm really happy”

Jungkook smiled slighty as he nodded, “Good. I'm glad”
Then, Jungkook opened the door, revealing a huge room that completely put Jimin in awe. It was the biggest practice room he had ever seen, double the size of Hoseok's dance practice room. Jimin was certain that a hundred people could fit in here to dance.

The whole wall across from him was out of tinted glass, causing you to be able to look outside, yet shielding you from other people looking inside. The wall on his right was a mirror, Jimin watching his own reflection as he walked further into the room. Behind him was some music equipment, boxes and machines Jimin didn't really know, speakers up in the corner of the rooms.

“You can connect your phone via bluetooth. Put on the music as loud as you want, walls are soundproof.” Jungkook informed him as he leaned against the wall beside him, “I would like to stay, but I should go up and talk to my father now. We haven't eaten anything yet so I'll make sure you will get something soon. Other than that, I'll make sure no one disturbs you and comes in here so you have this room to yourself. In case you need anything, just text me.”

“I'm not that hungry, Jungkook-ah, you don't-”

The smaller boy sighed, but couldn't help and smile, “Thank you, Jungkook-ah.”

Jungkook returned his smile, pushing himself away from the wall as he made his way outside, “I'll pick you up later. Let me know when you want to leave sooner”

“Okay”

With that, Jungkook exited the room, pulling the door close behind him and leaving Jimin all on his own, still shocked and fascinated by his surroundings.

He was going to practice in one of the practice rooms of Jeon entertainment. This definitely was a dream. Jimin pinched himself, hissing at the pain.

No, this was real.

Smiling brightly, Jimin opened the video Hoseok sent him and sat down on the floor in order to take each step in.

It wasn't even fifteen minutes later, Jimin already up on his feet again and mirroring the first steps, that there was a knock on the door, causing Jimin to halt.

“Y-Yes?” He called out as no one entered.

The door opened, revealing a young man with several bags in his hands, “Mr. Jeon sent me here to bring you some food” The man informed him, bowing slightly as he approached Jimin.

“Thank you” Jimin uttered and bowed back, shocked by the amount of bags the man carried.

“Mr. Jeon insisted you should eat a lot. I should also ask you whether or not you need anything else, Mr. Park”

The orange haired boy raised up his eyebrows, surprised by the fact that he was referred to by his surname even though the man appeared to be older than him.
“No, thank you. Tell him I'm fine and thank him for the food and for making sure I'm okay” Jimin replied as he bowed again.

The man nodded and bowed back before he exited the room.

Then, the smell of the food found it's way into Jimin's nostrils, causing his stomach to grumble and remind him that he indeed hadn't eaten anything today. Almost simultaneously, his mouth began to water as he sat down in order to eat the food that Jungkook got for him.

Even this small gesture from Jungkook spread warmth through Jimin's chest.

--------

Can I take a shower here? - Jimin

Some hours had passed since Jungkook had left Jimin alone to practice, the taller boy going off and talking to his father, presumably getting some work done from here. Fortunately, Jimin had the choreography from yesterday down now, felt the moves in his bones whenever he heard the beat of the song. However, this tiring practice hadn't only been exhausting yet succesful, but also caused him to sweat quite a lot. Jimin really wanted to shower.

There are showers at the end of the hall, but I was about to pick you up anyway. - Jungkook

I should take a shower first. - Jimin

There might be other trainees in there, Jimin-ah. You can shower when we get back. - Jungkook

Jimin furrowed his brows. However, he didn't really want to encounter other people while showering – especially people that he didn't know.

When we get back to where? - Jimin

I'll be right down. We can talk then – Jungkook

The smaller boy sighed, but locked his phone and put it into his backpack before getting up to his feet and stretching his aching muscles. Jimin was happy with how much work he had gotten done today. Then again, he had almost forgotten why they were here in Busan to begin with.

The thought alone caused Jimin's stomach to twist. Tomorrow he was finally going to meet his biological father. The excitement and hope to finally see the man bubbled inside of Jimin, making him smile lightly. Frankly, Jimin's mind didn't consider every single possible way this day could go because his father could very well not want to see him. However, that was one thought Jimin banished from his mind, completely ignoring it.

Suddenly, there was a knock on the door before it was opened, Jungkook peeking inside and smiling at Jimin's sight.

“Hey” He greeted as he entered the room, observing how Jimin picked up the bags the young man had brought him earlier, cleaning up the mess he made.

“Hi” Jimin uttered with a smile as he straightened his back.

Jungkook studied Jimin's appearance, noticing his hair that was damp through the sweat stick to his forehead, looked at his flushed cheeks and his beautiful brown orbs that appeared so blissful.

Jimin seemed happy.

“Good” Jimin uttered as he let out a breath, “Great. It's not perfect yet, but I have the steps down now”

Jungkook smiled at Jimin's happy expression.

“What about you? Did you get work done?”

The taller boy nodded as he pushed himself away from the wall, “Yeah, I mainly talked to my father about some next business steps” Jungkook responded as he walked over to the windows, looking outside. The sun was starting to go down, causing Jimin to wonder how long they’ve actually been here for. Then again, they had gotten up pretty late today because they went to bed fairly late last night, too, causing them to even get here only past noon, “Baek didn’t call or text me yet. I think we should go eat dinner and then head back to the motel until he contacts me”

They left the room, Jungkook pulling the door shut behind them and reaching for the bags Jimin was carrying. The shorter male was about to protest, but Jungkook shushed him with the shaking of his head. Rolling his eyes, but smiling slightly Jimin followed the other boy.

“So, why is it so bad for me to shower while other trainees are there?” Jimin wondered as he caught up to Jungkook.

“Huh?” The black haired one muttered as he raised up an eyebrow, seemingly confused for a moment – or perhaps pretending, “Oh. Well, it's not... bad. I just warned you that there was going to be people.”

“You didn't warn me. You were actively trying to get me not to go there. Why?”

Jungkook frowned as he let out a snort, “What? I didn't-” He paused when he glanced at Jimin, noticing his unimpressed look, and sighing, “Well, I didn't want the other boys to... well-”

“Jungkook-ah!” A voice interrupted Jungkook, drawing both of their attention over to the elevators where a man walked out, “I'm glad I found you before you left.” Jungkook's father stated a little breathless, smile on his face as he glanced at his son, “Why don't you and Jimin come over for dinner tonight, huh?”

Jimin and Jungkook shared a glance.

“Appa, I don't think we can. We're actually-”

“Why not” Jimin found himself answer, feeling bad for the man who was visibly trying to spend time with his son as his affection and care seemed to have been lacking for the past months.

Surely, Jimin would be extremely nervous while in the presence of his father, but he was going to contain his own feelings in order for Jungkook and his father to be able to spend some time together.

Clearly, the man that was the CEO of the company was a different person than the father that was standing in front of Jimin right now. The ruthless man that knew what moves to pull in the industry, was feared among some people because of his power was definitely not the same smiling man standing in front of him, hope in his eyes to spend some time with his son that he hadn't seen in a long while and who was going through some stuff just to help him out right now.
Maybe the business man put on a facade each day when he went to work. Perhaps he had worn that mask for so long, causing him to struggle with differentiating who he was as a father. Right now, he seemed to try to work on that.

Jungkook stared at him in shock, “Are you sure? We don't... I mean, Jimin-ssi isn't-”

“It's just dinner, Jungkook-ah” The smaller boy reasoned, smiling and shrugging his shoulders as he stared at Jungkook’s father again.

For a moment, Jimin believed to see gratitude in his eyes, causing the shorter male to smile. However, he was soon reminded of the power of this man, causing him to bow again as he hadn't done it upon his revival.

“Yes, it's not necessary. You're a friend of Jungkook-ah and he told me quite a bit about you earlier so please, bowing isn't necessary.” The man agreed, smiling at Jimin who blushed at the information.

What had Jungkook told him? Why had they talked about him? And why did it seem like Jungkook's father appeared to like him now?

Well, he hadn't seemed to despise him earlier, yet now he even seemed fond of Jimin, telling him that bowing wasn't necessary, inviting him into his home – what had happened while Jimin practiced?

Jungkook cleared his throat, rubbing the back of his neck, “Okay, appa, we'll leave already. We'll see you home, then”

“I'll tell Jiyoo to prepare dinner already” His father commented as Jungkook and Jimin walked past him into the elevator.

“See you later, kids” Jungkook's father called back as the elevator doors closed, leaving the two boys on their own.

“You didn't have to, Jimin-ah” Was the first thing Jungkook noted as the doors shut, “I can get a call from Baek any time soon now and we might have to leave then. We're here because of you, not beca-”

“Jungkook-ah, it's only a dinner. I think he really wants to spend time with you. When is the next time you're going to be here? Clearly, he wants to use the time you're here and spend it with you. This one dinner won't delay anything.” Jimin interrupted, smiling sympathetically.

The black haired boy looked back and forth between his eyes, nodding as he let out a breath, “Okay. Hopefully, Baek won't call right during the dinner, though. Will be difficult to leave then”

Jimin was about to say something, but the elevator doors opened already, a sound reminding them of their revival. They walked outside, people bowing at Jungkook's presence again.

Swiftly, they made their way to Jungkook's car, climbing inside their seats respectively. Jimin tossed his backpack on the backseats and fastened his seatbelt while Jungkook put the key into the ignition, the engine coming to life.

“Why didn't we leave together with your father?” Jimin wondered as Jungkook pulled out of the parking spot, driving off. The huge entertainment building flashed by Jimin, the smaller boy looking back before he fixated his gaze back on the black haired boy.

“He has to get some stuff done first, but it won't be that long until he's home. Might only be a couple minutes after us, but could also take an hour. I don't know.”

“I thought you wanted to take a shower?” Jungkook asked, eyebrow raised up as he glanced at the shorter male in the backseat.

Jimin blushed, smelling himself before he looked back over to Jungkook.

“No!” Jungkook quickly clarified, but smiled in amusement at Jimin's cute expression, “No, you don't smell bad. You told me you wanted to shower so I just thought you still want to. You don't have to, of course”

“Oh” Jimin muttered, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he stared outside the window, “Well, then, yes, thank you. That would be nice.”

Jungkook hummed.

Then, silence settled between them.

The shorter boy couldn't stop thinking about the company, about Jungkook's influence and how the people treated him there. All of these people worked for him, respected him and were maybe even a little intimidated by his power.

“All of these people work for you, huh?”

Jungkook hummed.

“Wow. They seem to really respect you. I feel slightly intimidated” Jimin revealed, causing Jungkook to glance at him with a frown.

“Why?”

“I don't know. All of this... You're that powerful, but I don't really feel like you're that huge soon-to-be CEO person when we're alone. You're just you, you know? Jungkook-ah”

Jungkook smiled.

Suddenly, Jimin started to smile at a thought.

"It's odd to hear all of these people refer to you as Mr. Jeon" Jimin noted. Jungkook was younger than him, in fact he was the youngest in their group of friends, so everyone referred to him as their dongsaeng. It was a little weird to hear all of these people call Jungkook by his surname.

“Well, they're just being polite” The taller boy replied, shrugging his shoulders as he took a glimpse at Jimin.
“So, do I have to call you Mr. Jeon now, too?” Jimin teased as he glanced over to Jungkook, eyes big as he studied Jungkook's face.

The taller male arched up his eyebrows, smirking as he wet his lips, amusement and something else glistening in his eyes.

“If you want to be good for me, Jimin-ah” Jungkook answered, voice a little lower as he stared at Jimin suggestive, causing Jimin's eyes to go wide as he blushed.

“Ouch, Jimin-ah, why did you hit me? I'm driving. I could have slipped from the road.” Jungkook warned exaggeratedly.

Jimin felt his cheeks heat up even more, “Well, sorry, but don't talk about... well, that! I'm still mad at you!”

They shared a glance, both having their eyebrows pulled together in an angry stare – yet there was no real heat behind it. Suddenly, their eyes became softer, amusement in them as they broke out into chuckles.

“Keep your eyes fixated on the road before you get us both killed” Jimin snickered and shook his head.

Their smiles didn't leave their faces for the remaining drive.

--------

“Oh my god” Jimin breathed in awe – for the second time today – as he eyed the massive house he was about to enter. This was a whole mansion!

The front yard alone was huge, the building standing up on a little hill and rather secluded from the other houses around. They had to pass a gateway, then drive up a little pathway in order to arrive at the building. Frankly, there was a lot of security.

Jungkook chuckled beside him as he drove into the garage, coming to a halt and turning the engine off.

Jimin gulped, shutting his mouth that had been agape again as he climbed out of the car as well. Grabbing his backpack from the backseat, Jimin followed Jungkook after said boy locked his car.

“This is... this is the biggest house I've ever seen” Jimin commented, eyes wide as he rushed after Jungkook towards the door in the garage that – according to Jimin's assumption – lead directly into the house.

The smaller boy stumbled over his own feet, too excited to take notice of his surroundings as he followed Jungkook.

“Careful, Jimin-ah” Jungkook chuckled and wrapped his arm around Jimin's delicate waist, pulling him inside the house and shutting the door. Proving Jimin's assumption, they were actually standing in some sort of hallway.

The lights were on, some soft music coming from somewhere.

Swiftly nodding, Jimin took off his shoes, Jungkook mirroring his action and picking both of their pairs up, walking ahead. The orange haired male blinked, but quickly waddled after Jungkook and followed him further into the house.

“Jiyoo?” Jungkook called out.

For a moment, it was silent.

Suddenly, a middle-aged woman appeared, giving Jimin no time to scan the room as she rushed towards them after shrieking.

“Jungkook-ah!” She squealed and wrapped her arms around the taller boy, pressing her eyes shut as she pulled him closer.

“Hello, Jiyoo” Jungkook choked out, not able to breathe properly, yet still smiling as he returned her hug.

“You didn’t have to cook all of that. You know I love everything you cook for me” The black haired boy commented.

“Jiyoo, don’t scare him away” Jungkook laughed as he pulled the woman back by her shoulders.

“Jiyoo, don’t scare him away” Jungkook stopped the woman with a grin, shaking his head, “Oh, as charming as ever” She gushed as she pinched his cheek.

Jungkook laughed and shook his head, “Jiyoo, this is Park Jimin” He then introduced Jimin who had been somewhat hiding behind Jungkook as he didn’t want to disturb the moment, “A... friend of mine” Her eyes wandered over to Jimin, widening at his sight as she rushed towards him and pulled him into a hug as well, “Oh, hello, Park Jimin” She greeted, Jimin caught off guard by her affection towards him as she wrapped his arms around her. Frankly, he felt bad as he was still sweating quite a bit. However, she didn’t seem to care.

“Hello, Park Jimin!” He responded with a smile as they pulled apart.

“Oh, how sweet” She cooed as she poked his nose softly, causing Jimin to giggle, “Such soft skin. Waah, and what a pretty smile” “I’m sorry” She excused herself, clearing her throat as she brushed her hair out of her face. Suddenly, there was an alarm going off, her eyes widening, “Oh, the kimchi!”

Quickly, she spun around and rushed into what Jimin believed was the kitchen.

“We’ll go upstairs, Jiyoo!”

Then, Jungkook gripped Jimin’s wrist softly, goosebumps rising on Jimin’s skin immediately as the taller boy pulled him towards a set of stairs softly.
“Come on”

Jimin swallowed hard, blushing slightly as he followed Jungkook upstairs, noticing how the house had more than just two floors. This was so surreal for Jimin, utterly fascinating, yet totally bewildering.

The colours of the furniture and the soft rugs that were placed here and there throughout the house went well together, soft light colours mixed with a dark gray or black. Jimin was very fond of the appearance of the house, catching some family pictures on the walls as he was pulled through the hallway.

“Jungkook-ah?” Jimin asked once they halted in front of a door.

“Mhm?” Jungkook hummed as he opened said door and walked inside.

The room looked very similar to Jungkook's bedroom in Seoul, the colour scheming exactly the same, the bed slightly smaller, yet still big enough to fit two people.

“Who was that?”

“Oh” Jungkook chuckled as he dropped his bag on the bed, ruffling his hand through his hair, “That's Jiyoo, she... well, she does the cleaning and the cooking, takes care of all the chores, but she's actually a part of our family I would say. I've known here since I was ten or eleven maybe.”

“Wow” Jimin breathed, eyes going wide at the information, smile appearing on his face, “She seems very kind and... enthusiastic”

Jungkook grinned as he nodded, “She is. Sometimes it gets a little suffocating, but she's just very affectionate. Sorry if that overwhelmed you”

“No, not at all. I like her.” Jimin smiled as he walked further into the room.

The taller boy looked back and forth between his eyes before he let out a breath and pointed at the door next to the TV, “That's the restroom. You can take a shower there, if you want”

Jungkook followed him into the bathroom, turning the water of the shower on for him and making sure it's set to a comfortable temperature, “You can use the shower gel and shampoo. Jiyoo always buys new ones, just in case I come back”

Jimin smiled faintly, somehow sad at the information. Surely, Jiyoo and Jungkook's father missed having him here.

The black haired male placed a towel on top of the counter before he exited the bathroom, “Just call for me if you need anything”

Jimin nodded before Jungkook shut the door close, the only sound in the room being the water running.

The smaller boy turned around, watching himself in the mirror and grimacing at his appearance. His hair was a fluffy mess on top of his head, cheeks still flushed and face a little sweaty.

To he honest, Jimin still couldn't wrap his head around all of this. This weekend was such an... insane experience. It would take a while to comprehend all of this and it wasn't even over yet. The
It was actually nice to get an insight on how Jungkook's life was – or rather had been – here in Busan. It was nice to see his interaction with his family, see him laugh and smile like that. Clearly, Jungkook seemed to enjoy being here, too.

The shorter boy shook his head, drawing himself out of his thoughts. He shouldn't stay too long here. Jungkook's father was probably going to be here soon and then they had to see that informant later tonight. There was no time to be wasted.

Jimin took off his dirty clothes, folding them neatly and placing them on the counter. A counter that was out of marble – as was almost everything in here. It was a dark one, a brown one which was contrasting to the white tiles on the floor.

While letting out a breath as he was trying to calm himself down, Jimin stepped into the warm shower, muscles relaxation a fair amount as the warm water hit his body. Then, Jimin reached for the shampoo and cleaned his hair, rinsing it out with water before he cleaned his body with the shower gel.

After thoroughly cleaning himself twice, Jimin stepped out of the shower and wrapped the towel around his delicate body, shivering slightly as he quickly dried himself. As Jimin was drying his hair, he noticed that he had forgotten his backpack in the bedroom.

However, he didn't have much clothes with him anyway. The outfit he had left was supposed to be for tomorrow and the remaining sweater he wore to sleep was – well, just for that. He couldn't eat dinner with Jungkook's father while wearing nothing but his sweater!

Wrapping the towel around his shoulders, Jimin waddled over to the door and peeked inside the bedroom.

“Jungkook-ah?” Jimin whispered.

The taller boy had been lying on the bed, now sitting up as he glanced at Jimin with a concerned expression.

“Yes, what's wrong?”

“Uhm, well... I didn't bring that many clothes with me because I didn't plan on practicing. I don't really want to wear the clothes again I wore for practice, so... uhm...”

“I can lend you something” Jungkook quickly offered and got up to his feet, walking over to his dresser, “Hopefully, my clothes won't be too big on you.”

The black haired male rummaged through his drawer as Jimin walked into the room, “I'm fine with anything.”

“Here's some briefs and socks already. Oh, and a shirt” Jungkook stated as he tossed the pieces of clothing over to Jimin who caught them, but almost dropped his towel in the process. Shrieking, he quickly spun around and pulled the towel tighter around himself, “I didn't see anything” Jungkook chuckled, “Even though it's not like- Never mind”

Jimin blushed as he put on the pair of briefs and socks while Jungkook kept looking for some pants. Then, Jimin tugged the shirt over his head, smiling as it hung below his butt.

“Well, it is a bit too... large, but I don't mind that. I like it like that” Jimin commented as he turned back around.

Jungkook was already staring at him, mouth slightly agape as he eyed Jimin, gaze remaining a little too long on Jimin's exposed, fair skinned thighs. Clearing his throat, Jungkook frowned as he gave a nod, “Yeah, it's a bit too large, but it will do. Let me just find some pants.”

Eventually, Jungkook found some skinny black jeans and handed them over to Jimin.

“I think they were a little too small on me anyway”

Jimin gave a nod as he put them on, surprised as they weren't too big on him, but fit just perfectly.

Once he was dressed, the two boys stared at each other, somehow getting lost in each other's eyes.

“Jungkook-ah, your father is here!” Jiyoo called from downstairs, her voice even audible from up here, “Dinner is ready!”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded again.

Swiftly, he picked up the towel and folded it neatly on the bed.

“Come on” Jungkook then insisted and pointed towards the door.

As they made their way downstairs, the scent of different kinds of korean dishes filled Jimin's nostrils, mouth watering and stomach grumbling at the smell. Muffled voices were audible from the kitchen, Jimin assuming that they belonged to Jiyoo and Mr. Jeon.

Jungkook walked into the kitchen first, followed by Jimin right behind him, “Should we help with anything?” The black haired boy wanted to know.

Jiyoo and Jungkook's father turned around, both smiling at their sight, “No, no” Jiyoo exclaimed, “The table is already set. You can both go over already” Jiyoo smiled as she brushed strands of her black hair out of her face.

The younger boy nodded and gestured for Jimin to follow him. Jimin smiled at the two adults as he walked past them, both of them mirroring his expression as he rushed after Jungkook into the dining room.

Jimin's jaw fell at the sight, mouth watering even more. The long table was set with many different dishes – all of which Jimin recognised right away and craved immediately.

“Wow, she's amazing” Jimin complimented as he observed Jungkook sitting down at the table, the black haired male gesturing for Jimin to sit down next to him.

“She is. Her cooking is incredible, just wait” Jungkook smiled as he filled Jimin's glass with water before repeating the action for his own glass.

“Thank you” Jimin uttered before he took a sip from the water, letting the cold liquid flow down his throat.

As Jimin placed his glass back on the table, Jungkook's father entered the dining room, taking a seat across from Jungkook and lifting his napkin that he rested in his lap.

“Jiyoo isn't hungry?” Jungkook wanted to know.
“No, she already ate.” Mr. Jeon answered and shook his head, “Did you wait long for me?”

“Jiyoo just finished dinner. Thank you, Jiyoo!” Jungkook first added and then yelled the last part, receiving a happy ‘You’re welcome, Jungkook-ah’ before he went on, “I assume you were able to finish up quickly in the company?”

“Well, relatively. I have to work on some stuff later, but not right now. Let’s eat. I’m sure you boys are hungry, aren’t you?”

Both of them nodded, Jimin already having eyed all the different kinds of dishes.

-------

“I didn't bite you!” Jungkook protested, laughing slightly as he glanced over to Jimin who was giggling and moving a hand up to his mouth to hide his grin.

“To be fair, he did” Jungkook’s father insisted, “You were small, Jungkook, that's what kids do, right, Jimin-ah?”

Jimin arched up his eyebrows, humour glistening in his eyes as he titled his head to the side, “I don't remember biting anyone – ever”

The taller boy next to him raised up an eyebrow, something flashing in his eyes as he smirked lightly. Was Jungkook just referring to... was he referring to the hickeys? That's not biting! Or... or is it? No!

“W-Well, I didn't bite bite anyone ever. Especially not when I was a child”

“Jungkook was a little, well, let's call it rebellious when he was younger. It was difficult to settle him down and sometimes, he turned to biting. I guess he spent a little too much time with our dog, didn't you?”

“Oh my god, appa” Jungkook sighed as he rubbed a hand over his face, yet smiling as he listened to Jimin giggling beside him, “Stop embarrassing me. How many stories have you told so far that embarrassed me in front of Jimin-ssi?”

“Four” Jimin answered, having counted, “And they're not embarrassing. They're cute” Jimin reassured with a chuckle.

Jungkook rolled his eyes as he leaned back in his seat, still smiling though.

“I'm sorry, I guess I had a little too much wine, then. I can't help sharing those stories, Jungkook-ah, you know that”

“Mr. Jeon, do you have any more? I would love to hear more” Jimin asked with a bright smile.

“No, that's enough” Jungkook mumbled beside him, causing Jimin to snicker again, eyes turning into little crescents.

The past hour Jungkook’s father has lead the conversation. Going from his work over to how proud he was of Jungkook, then to his childhood and how it was to raise Jungkook and since then he has shared quite a lot of stories about Jungkook that were funny and adorable, painting Jungkook in yet another light and somehow making Jimin feel a little closer to him.

So far, Jimin has found out so much more about Jungkook on this trip. In some way, it made him feel like he knew Jungkook better now, was able to look at him from yet another perspective and felt so much closer to him, was able to understand him a bit more and fathom why he behaved the way he did.

Frankly, Jimin had even forgotten about their issues.

“I have some baby pictures I could show-”

“No!” Jungkook interrupted quickly, “That's enough for today, appa”

Jungkook's father and Jimin chuckled again, causing Jungkook roll his eyes once more, but he couldn't help and smile all the same.

“Sorry, I'll hold myself back now” The man promised and held up his hands in defense, but then he glanced over to Jimin and winked, trying to whisper “I'll show them to you later.” However, Jungkook was sitting right beside Jimin, right across from his father so there was no way Jungkook didn't see it. To be fair, Jungkook's father had downed at least three glasses of wine already. Certainly, he was drunk.

“Appa, I can see- Oh god, that's enough alcohol for you today. What if someone from work calls you? You don't even know how to whisper” Jungkook scolded his father. The man only smiled, perhaps just happy to even be scolded, to even have Jungkook here in his house to have him scold him.

“Okay, that was my last one. No one is going to call me. I told them I won't be available tonight” Mr. Jeon defended himself and shrugged his shoulders. Then, his eyes wandered back over to Jimin, “Jimin-ah, I must say, that's really a bold choice of hair colour you have there. Of course, I see bold choices very often in the industry, but not really outside of that. It suits you very well, but what was the reason if I may ask?”

Jimin blushed immediately, almost choking on the piece of rice cake he was currently chewing on as he remembered the reason for the decision for the change. You know, the change that involved Jungkook. Jimin had dyed his hair after his first time with Jungkook. However, he couldn't reveal that to his father!

The black haired boy beside him smirked slightly as he took a sip from his drink, seemingly amused that Jimin was put on the spot after he had giggled at Jungkook's stories for the past hour.

“Oh, uhm, actually, it was supposed to be hazel, but my friend bought the wrong colour and noticed too late. He dyed my hair orange and I actually liked it so I just stuck with it” Jimin answered – which wasn’t a lie. Ultimately, this particular colour had been an accident, but Jimin quickly grew fond of it, causing him to keep it.

The man chuckled as he gave a nod, “I see. Well, even though it wasn't intended, good choice. It looks very good”

Jimin smiled shyly, “Thank you”

As the older man took a glance at his clock, his eyes widened a little, “What? It's fairly late already. Where are you staying, Jimin-ah? Why don't you stay here for tonight, hm? We have many guest bedroom, you can choose one. You don't have to drive through town to wherever you're staying this late. Jungkook-ah hasn't slept here in a while either.”

“That's not necessary, Mr. Jeon, thank you, but I don't want to cause any inconvenience”
“You're not. Please, we have many rooms, Jimin-ah, that's really not a problem”

Jungkook and Jimin shared a glance again, considering silently between them.

Frankly, it didn't really matter where they were staying tonight and this place was a lot better than that motel room. Jimin's back already wanted to cry at the thought of having to sleep on the floor for another night. Sleeping in a comfortable, soft bed sounded way better.

Moreover, Jungkook's father seemed really happy for Jungkook's presence, wanted him to be here a little longer, even if it was just knowing he was sleeping in the same house.

However, they would have to sneak out then tonight to meet that informant and then return fairly late at night when they came back. Would they be able to leave without anyone noticing? Would they be able to return without waking up anyone?

“Uhm, well, that's very nice, Mr. Jeon. If that's okay with Jungkook, I would like to stay for the night” Jimin answered eventually, taking a glimpse at Jungkook who nodded.

“That's fine. Thank you, appa”

“Good, I-”

Suddenly, a phone rang. Apparently, it belonged to Mr. Jeon as he got up to his feet and excused himself with a sigh. Jiyoo was already rushing into the room with the phone in her hand, giving it over to Jungkook's father who accepted the call and moved the phone up to his ear.

“Jeon. Hello”

For a moment, he just stood there and listened before he frowned.

“I see. Let me check”

Jungkook's father tried to move, but swayed with every step he took, causing Jungkook to rush up and hurry over to his father. The black haired boy took the phone from his father and placed it against his own ear.

“Yes, sorry, it's Jungkook here. Yes, he can't talk right now. No, everything's alright. Just email over the documents, he'll take a look at them later. Okay, bye”

Then, Jungkook hung up and placed the phone down on the table.

“Appa, I think you should go to bed. How long have you been up today?”

The man sighed, rubbing over his temples, “Since Five? Maybe four? Had a meeting early in the morning”

Jungkook nodded, “I'll bring him up to his room” He then let the other two know.

“Okay” Jimin uttered and got up to his feet, too, “I'll help Jiyoo with the dishes”

“That's not necessary, sweety” She protested with a smile and waved his offer off while Jungkook helped his father up the stairs.

“I don't mind, really. I want to help” Jimin smiled as he picked up his own plate and Jungkook's, walking over into the kitchen with them.
Jiyoo entered right after him with more dishes, “Thank you” She uttered as he walked past her again to get the remaining dishes.

“Thank you for that amazing food. Did you eat some of it at all?” Jimin then wondered as he walked back into the kitchen with more dishes.

“I did while cooking. I'm glad you enjoyed it”

“It's one of the best I've ever had. Honestly, all of it.” Jimin complimented earnestly as he went over to the sink in order to help Jiyoo clean and dry the dishes.

“Thank you, sweety” Jiyoo replied, flattered as she washed the dishes, “So, Jimin-ah, you live in Seoul then? Sorry, I didn't mean to eavesdrop, but I heard you all talking during dinner”

“It's fine” Jimin reassured, “Yes, I do. I was born here in Busan, though”

“I knew it! Your dialect came through a couple of times” She pointed out.

“Oh” Jimin slightly blushed and smiled, “I have lived in Seoul for several years now, but I guess it comes back when you're surrounded by people talking in dialect”

Jimin hesitated.

“Sorry, I never know when I go too far, just tell me whenever I should shut up” The woman quickly added, causing Jimin to shake his head.

“No, no, it's fine. We, uhm, we met through a mutual friend. At a party. Jungkook-ah, he... he kind of helped me out of a situation there. Actually, he, yeah, he helped me quite a lot with some things I was dealing with” Jimin responded, smiling slightly.

It was a weird emotion he felt inside of his chest in that moment. For one, there was a fluttering from his heart, but a brief moment after his heart clenched. To be honest, it was fairly odd – that sensation inside of him. He didn't know which one to follow.

“My Jungkook-ah, yes, he's a good person. He went through some rough years, but I'm glad he found his way back on the right path” Jiyoo breathed.

Jimin dried the dishes with the towel, furrowing his brows as he processed her words. What exactly was she referring to? The death of his mother? Perhaps the fights that Jungkook had previously mentioned? Jimin was very curious to know, but he didn't want to snoop around.

“Jimin-ah” A voice suddenly called out, causing Jimin's heart to do that stupid thing again. Why did it do that? Why was Jungkook's mere voice able to do that to him? During this trip, his heart had fluttered so often, sparks had went through his body and he had felt so much warmth inside of his chest again.

What did all of this mean?

“Yes?” Jimin spun around to look at the black haired boy.

“I need to show you something. I'm sorry, Jiyoo, I hope you don't mind” Jungkook explained, holding out his hand for Jimin.
“Oh, no, not at all. Thank you, Jimin-ah, for your help” Jiyoo smiled.

“You're welcome” Jimin replied as he dried his hands, placing the towel next to her before he walked over to Jungkook who gestured for him to follow him upstairs.

However, he didn't say anything.

“What's wrong?” Jimin wondered as he followed Jungkook back into his bedroom.

As soon as Jungkook shut the door, he lifted his phone up, “Baek texted me the address.”

Jimin's eyes widened. They had waited for this since yesterday. Finally, it was time.

The smaller boy felt his stomach twist. Nervous about what was going to happen, who this informant was. Yet, he was also excited to finally receive the information about his biological father.

“Should we go right now?”

“Yes, let's not waste any more time. My father is already asleep. We just have to sneak past Jiyoo. I don't want her to worry or something like that.” Jungkook responded as he picked up his bag and his shoes.

Swiftly, Jimin picked his shoes and his phone, not thinking that he would need anything else as he followed Jungkook downstairs, silent on their feet as they tried to sneak past Jiyoo.

“Where are you two going?”

Dammit.

They both stilled dead in their tracks, backs towards the source of the voice.

“Oh, we...” Jungkook began, turning around.

“I was craving some ice cream and wanted to see more of Busan as I haven't been here in a while” Jimin lied.

Jiyoo smiled, almost as if she thought she knew what was actually going on.

“I see. Well, then, I don't want to hold you back. Don't be out for too long and be careful out there. I'll let your father now, but I guess he won't wake up until the morning”

“Thank you, Jiyoo” Jungkook uttered.

Jimin waved at her with a smile before they spun around and made their way down the hallway towards the door they had earlier on entered, now on their way to Jungkook's black Range Rover.

Chapter End Notes

What will happen once they meet the informant? What do you think will happen between Jungkook and Jimin?

“This place looks... scary” Jimin noted, swallowing hard as he pulled his sleeves over his delicate hands.

It seemed to be an abandoned area – or at least one that wasn't provided with much money – the buildings all looking sordid, the little shops already closed – well except for one. It seemed to be a gambling casino. However, it was fairly small.

Jungkook pulled his key out of the ignition.

“Is this illegal, Jungkook-ah? I mean, what we're doing?”

The taller boy looked back and forth between his eyes, “It definitely isn't legal”

“Oh my god” Jimin breathed, heartbeat quickening.

“Well, and we aren't doing anything. I'm doing this. To be fair, I don't think I can go to jail for giving someone money for a piece of paper. However, what he's doing on his line to receive the information – I don't know. And honestly, I don't even want to know”

The orange haired one gulped again, palms becoming sweaty.

“I-It's fine, we can do this. We'll just go in and-”

Jungkook frowned, shaking his head as he unfastened his seatbelt, eyes stern as they stared at Jimin.

“No, Jimin-ah, I don't think you heard me right. You aren't going anywhere. I'm going in there to get the information. You're not going anywhere near that building, understood? You're going to stay in here. If I'm not out in twenty minutes, better leave” Jungkook ordered as he was about to climb out of the car.
“Wait- what? Why did you want me to come with you then? And what do you mean with 'if I'm not out in twenty minutes'?” Jimin stopped him, grabbing his arm and pulling him back.

“Jumin-ah, these man are ruthless. They do terrible shit and there is not a chance they don't have guns with them.”

“G-Guns” Jimin echoed, eyes wide.

“Yes, so you better fucking believe that I won't let you go in there.”

With that, Jungkook climbed out of the car.

Jimin opened his mouth in shock, opening his door as well and climbing out of the car, shutting it loudly before he rushed after Jungkook.

“They have guns? For what?” Jimin yelled after him.

The black haired boy spun around, approaching Jimin with wide eyes and pressing his hand over Jimin's mouth, “Don't be so loud, Jimin-ah. Just makes them notice us and raise suspicion. I have to pretend that this is normal for me, okay? They have guns for protection and defense I assume. But I wouldn't put it past them to have guns simply for the sake of it, because they think that's fun or worst case scenario – because they like using it in any way.”

Jimin's breath hitched in his throat, heart pounding fast in his chest.

Softly, Jimin pushed Jungkook's hand away from his mouth, “And you think I'm letting you go in there alone? No way. You're not going in there alone”

“Jumin-ah, go back into the car right now. I'm not taking you inside there with me”

“Jungkook-ah, stop trying to make decisions for me. This is about my father. My biological father. These are information about my family. I'm definitely not letting you risk your life for that. I can go in there by myself”

“Are you crazy? I'm not letting you in there by yourself. Besides, he wants the money specifically from me.”

Jimin pressed his lips into a line, wanting to protest yet again.

Frankly, Jimin didn't want either of them to die just because he really wanted to meet his biological father. Why did these men have guns to begin with? Why were they so secretive about their information?

“We don't have to... I don't want anything to happen to either of us. Maybe we shouldn't go in there at all”

The younger boy studied his face, seemingly contemplating about his next move, “I'm definitely going in there, Jimin-ah”

With that, Jungkook turned around and walked towards the entrance door.

Jimin gulped again, but gave a nod, “Then I'm coming with you” He uttered as he rushed after Jungkook.

“No, Jimin-ah, you aren't go-”
“Shut up” Jimin interrupted him with a frown as the door opened, a man almost bumping into them as he walked outside, appearing to be wasted, burping as he swayed around. Jungkook quickly reached for Jimin and pulled him closer, away from the man that didn't seem to know where he was going.

The door was still open, a weird mixture of musk, smoke and alcohol filling Jimin's nostrils, causing him to grimace. However, there was also a faint scent of peanuts, if Jimin wasn't mistaken. Some relaxing music was playing in the background, Jimin catching a glimpse of several gambling tables scattered around the room – a couple of people sitting at each one. So far, this seemed like a regular gambling casino – as far as Jimin was concerned. He had never stepped a foot in one of them, but he had seen them in movies. Surely, they weren't portrayed that falsely, were they?

“Okay, this is how it's going to go. You won't talk at all, okay? Don't make eyecontact with anyone. Don't let them persuade you into anything. We're going in there, I'll give him the money, take the information and then we leave.” Jungkook demanded as he gripped Jimin's shoulders.

The smaller boy nodded, swallowing hard as he looked back and forth between his eyes.

“Okay, let's go”

Then, they both entered the building.

No one spared them any glance, but continued their games and gambling, some laughter audible around them, yet also some yelling as people accused each other of cheating. Jimin felt a shiver run down his back, slightly scared of what they were walking into, but still a little confused because none of these man seemed to have guns with them, appeared to be regular people just wanting to win some money – however, rather losing it.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin murmured as he followed Jungkook into the back, hands shaking faintly as he clung onto Jungkook's shirt.

The black haired boy looked back over his shoulder, moving his finger up to his mouth and signaling for Jimin to be silent. Said boy pressed his lips into a line and nodded.

As soon as Jimin realised they were approaching a door in the back – or rather the person that was standing in front of it – his heartbeat quickened. Where were they going?

The closer Jimin and Jungkook got, the more the man narrowed his eyes, giving the two boys a once over as they arrived.

“Jeon. I'm here to see Lee” Jungkook revealed to the man, voice firm and sure, not at all like Jimin would have sounded. Frankly, Jimin was sure his voice would be trembling if he opened his mouth right now, the poor boy stumbling over his words out of fear.

The man was so much bigger than them, dressed in black as he gave them another once over.

“You're expected. You can go in.” The man allowed with a low voice, opening the door behind him and gesturing for Jungkook to enter.

Jungkook walked ahead, Jimin right at the back of his toes, yet he was stopped by the man as he lifted his hand between him and Jungkook – basically separating them.

Jimin swallowed hard.
“He’s with me. I’m here because of him”

“Baek didn’t say anything about another person”

“Well, Baek also said I would be able to meet Lee yesterday, but we see how that worked out. He’s with me, let him through. If his informant has a problem with it, he can let me know once we talk”

Jungkook insisted, reaching out for the smaller boy who quickly rushed to his side.

The man only pressed his lips into a line, watching the two boys enter the room and shutting the door behind them.

It was a small hallway, actually. A hallway that lead to a room – a room that didn't have a door. There were muffled voices coming from there, some laughter audible.

Jimin felt goosebumps rise on his skin, slightly frightened about who was in that room.

“Remember, don't say anything unless spoken to. Don't agree to anything they want, understood?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed as he followed Jungkook.

Once they walked into the room, Jimin felt his heart drop. To be fair, Jimin believed that it actually stopped. Literally. In that moment, his heart stopped. In the moment his gaze fell on the men standing at the side of the room – holding guns in their hands as they looked straight ahead.

Involuntarily, a light whimper escaped Jimin, his legs slightly wobbly as he followed Jungkook towards the table in the back of the room, several people sitting around it and playing a card game. There was a man right across from him, cigarette in his mouth as he tossed a card on the table, laughing sneeringly as he pulled all of the money on the table towards himself. The other men groaned, leaning back in their seats as they threw their cards on the table frustrated. To Jimin's horror, there were more guns lying on the table. Jimin had no clue about guns, didn't know what kind these were, but they looked intimidating. Well, any gun did.

Suddenly, the man right across from him looked up, brown eyes falling on Jungkook first, a smirk appearing on his face. Swiftly, Jimin averted his gaze to the floor as he followed after Jungkook, pulling his sleeves over his delicate hands.

“Jeon!” The man called out in excitement, spreading his arms like he had expected Jungkook – well, to be fair, he had, “Finally, we meet”

“Yeah, finally. I don't have much time. Let's get this over with, Lee”

In a moment of courage, Jimin looked up, observing how that man – Jimin now assuming to be named Lee – arched up his eyebrows.

“Why in such a hurry? Where are your manners, Jeon? We have time, don't we? Come on, Jeon, when are we going to see each other again?”

Hopefully, never. Jimin thought. All of this was alarming. Every single person was in possession of a gun – for whatever reason. This wasn't a nice situation, not at all. However, they wouldn't just kill them, right? They hadn't done anything... they just wanted that information and give over the money, then they would leave again.

“I asked you for your name, pretty boy” Lee repeated, Jimin only noticing now that he had been talking to him, too caught up in his thoughts, “If you don't want to tell me your name, I can just call you pretty boy”
Fixing his posture, Jimin felt his cheeks heat up. “J-Jimin. Park Jimin” The orange haired boy answered, bowing slightly out of politeness which caused the other men to break out into chuckles.

“Well, manners he has, manners he has” Lee snickered, “Sit down, pretty boy”

“I...I” Jimin stuttered, glancing at Jungkook who clenched his hands into fists, jaw locking slightly.

“Lee, come on, enough of this bullshit. You want your money and we want the information. We don't need to play any games” Jungkook insisted.

Lee let out a sigh, “Jeon, we're not playing any games – yet. You will get your information, don't you worry.” The man assured before his gaze trailed back over to Jimin, “Sit down, boys”

Swallowing hard, Jimin felt like he was frozen in his place. Clearly, he didn't want to spend another minute in this room with these people. He just wanted that information and leave as quickly as possible. Jungkook didn't make any indication of taking a seat, causing Jimin to not move an inch either.

Suddenly, Lee lifted his hand and gestured towards Jimin.

A man came up behind Jimin and pushed him forward, grabing him by the shoulders and sitting him down on one of the stools.

“Don't fucking touch him” Jungkook threatened through gritted teeth as he was sat down on one of the stools as well, “I swear touch him again and I'll-” The black haired boy went on as he pushed the man away from Jimin.

“You will what, Jeon?” Lee asked, suddenly holding his gun, “I don't think you're in any position to threaten anyone right now, do you? In fact, Baek told me about your rude behaviour, huh? That's not very nice of you, is it, Jeon? Didn't you learn about respect? About manners? Not very smart of you either. Perhaps we need to teach you a lesson?”

Jimin's eyes went wide, heart pounding fast against his chest.

“Bring pretty boy back out. I want to talk to Jeon alone” Lee suddenly remarked.

A man came up behind Jimin again, pulling him up. However, Jimin tried to free himself, squirming around as he was lifted into the air. Abruptly, Jungkook got up as well, reaching for Jimin.

“I said don't fucking touch him! I swear, I'll-”

“Sit back down, Jeon!” Lee yelled as Jungkook was pushed back into his seat, eyes still fixated on Jimin who was held close to a man's chest, not able to move much in the man's clutch, “Everyone, calm down now” Lee breathed, voice so unnaturally calm and soft in this situation.

“Don't you dare lay a finger on him” Jungkook threatened as he looked back and forth between Lee and Jimin.

Too much was going on for Jimin to process this situation. How had this escalated so quickly? All he could think about was the fear of what was going to happen to Jungkook now. In fact, Jimin felt tears swell up in his eyes as he saw the gun that Lee was pointing at Jungkook. The man was holding it as if it was a toy, as if it wasn't a weapon to kill. Every time he moved his hand around, the gun pointed at someone else – could kill someone in that exact moment if he pulled the trigger. Frankly, Jimin felt like he didn't even know what power the gun in his hand had – or maybe he had used it that often that it didn't get to him anymore.
“Clearly, he clouds your mind a little, huh? We don't want that. We are going to have a talk from man to man now, Jeon. Baek told me about your... lack of manners. That's not how a gentleman behaves” Lee explained, holding the gun towards Jungkook.

“Oh, please, leave me with that gentleman bullshit. I am pretty sure these women aren't here because you're such a great gentleman, Lee” Jungkook spat, pointing towards some woman sitting in the back, bored expressions on their faces.

“Brave of you to talk like that with a gun pointed to your fucking head, Jeon” Lee smirked.

“You wouldn't shoot me because of a comment like that”

“Wanna bet?”

Jimin's heart stopped.

“No, please, don't!” The smaller boy couldn't help but scream out.

“Bring him out!” Lee yelled annoyed and pointed towards the door, “And let me talk some sense into Jeon without pretty boy screaming around”

“No, Jungkook-ah!” Jimin screamed in fear – not fear for himself, but for Jungkook, “Jungkook-ah!”

What were they going to do to him? Why was he pointing a gun at the black haired boy? Were they going to hurt him? Even worse – were they going to kill him?

Jimin squirmed around in the man's grip, tried to free himself, but the man was double his size, was way stronger than Jimin and it didn't seem to be that hard for him to lift Jimin up effortlessly and walk outside with him.

The smaller boy continued screaming for Jungkook, tears now running down his face as he was carried through the gambling room – people turning around to glance, but then drawing their attention back to their games.

“Let me go! Jungkook-ah! Leave him alone! Don't hurt him!”

“Shut up” The man hissed as they were outside.

Then, he was placed back on the floor. Jimin took the opportunity and spun around, trying to get past the man and run back inside. However, the man pushed him away, causing Jimin to stumble back and fall on his butt.

Swiftly, he got back up on his feet and ran towards the entrance door, banging against it as more tears streamed down his face.

“Jungkook-ah! Jungkook-ah, please, don't hurt him!” Jimin yelled, voice hoarse.

With shaky hands, Jimin pulled out his phone, wanting to call someone – the police or an ambulance preferably as there was no way Jungkook wouldn't need one. Jimin tried to unlock the phone, cursing under his breath as the black screen didn't light up. It took his frightened brain a moment to register that his phone didn't have any battery left.

“No, no, no” Jimin whined, squeezing his eyes shut. He hadn't charged it at all on heir trip here in Busan, causing his battery to run empty.
Frustrated, Jimin wanted to toss his phone against the wall, but decided to just put it back into his pocket. Instead, he returned to banging against the door, praying that someone would open the door and let him back in.

“Jungkook-ah!” Jimin cried as he fell to his knees.

Jimin's mind was racing, the most awful scenarios running through his mind – all of them including Jungkook being hurt in one way or another. And all of that just because of him, just because the taller man had wanted to bring Jimin a part of his family.

“Jungkook-ah, why” The orange haired male whispered, tears rolling down his face, his vision blurry.

The shorter boy couldn't stop crying, body shaking as he kept on knocking on the door, knuckles starting to hurt due to the repetitive contact with the hard material.

“Jungkook-ah, please” Jimin whispered, pressing his forehead against the door as he felt his heart clench again.

Jimin didn't know how long he actually sat there on his knees and cried. However, ultimately, this wasn't going to help Jungkook in any way. He had to get help.

Determined, the smaller one got back up on his wobbly legs, wiping a hand over his face to get rid of any tears – which was useless as new ones wet his face immediately again – and turning around to find some help.

Surely, there must be other people around here – people that were willing to help Jimin.

As Jimin took a couple of steps, he heard the door open behind him. Quickly, he spun around, heart dropping and more tears running down his face at the sight.

“Jungkook-ah!” Jimin cried and ran towards the black haired boy who had not one bruise on him, “I thought they hurt you! Or even killed you!” Jimin sobbed and pushed at Jungkook's chest.

The taller boy's mouth was agape, slightly shocked by Jimin's appearance. Jimin sniffed as he threw weak punches at Jungkook's chest, “I thought I had lost you” He cried, voice small as he squeezed his eyes shut.

Jungkook only stood there, taking Jimin's punches that didn't really seem to hurt him at all.

“I was so scared. I didn't know what they were doing to you” The older one sniffed and shook his head, eyes big as they stared up at Jungkook.

Then, Jungkook gripped his wrists, preventing Jimin from hitting him any more as he pulled him into a hug. Swiftly, Jimin wrapped his arms around Jungkook's body, taking in his comforting scent as the taller boy pulled him impossibly closer.

“I'm right here, Jimin-ah, I'm fine”

The orange haired male was still shaking as Jungkook held him tight, resting his head on top of Jimin's. Jimin wanted to remain in that moment, wanted to stay in Jungkook's strong embrace and make sure that he was alright.

“Please, stop crying, Jimin-ah, I'm fine. We're fine” Jungkook whispered, pressing a soft kiss on top of Jimin's head.
Jimin's heart fluttered at the gesture, eyes falling shut as he hid his face in Jungkook's chest.

“Are you okay?” The taller boy then wanted to know, his hand rubbing soothingly over Jimin's back, trying to comfort him.

“I-I think so” Jimin answered, voice hoarse, causing him to clear his throat, “Are you?”

“I am”

“I was so scared, Jungkook-ah” Jimin admitted as he locked eyes with the black haired boy. There was emotion glistening in them, one that Jimin really wanted to define, yet he couldn't.

“I know, little one, but we're fine now.”

Again. That stupid fluttering thing. Jungkook didn't even seem to notice what he had said, just lifted his hand in order to wipe Jimin's tears away, then brushing some strands of hair out of his face before he caressed Jimin's cheek.

“We're good”

“I thought they might even kill you. I... I...” Jimin uttered, eyes rushing down to Jungkook's lips.

“I was scared, too, Jimin-ah. I had one fear. Not about me, but because I didn't know what they were going to do to you” Jungkook whispered, the words just for Jimin to hear as he admitted his fear.

Looking back and forth between each other's eyes, Jimin leaned up to the younger boy, eyes fluttering shut.

Careful. Jimin was careful with his action, not entirely knowing what he was doing, yet not able to resist the urge any longer as he softly pressed his lips against Jungkook's. The taller boy didn't hesitate for even a second, kissed him right back as he moved his hands down to Jimin's waist, holding him close.

Both of the boys let out a soft breath, sparks running through their bodies at the touch they had been missing so much. It was almost as if they finally found their way back to each other, two puzzle pieces falling together.

Frankly, Jimin didn't know if it was just the heat of the moment, the adrenaline running through their veins because they had experienced such a situation just now – Really, Jimin didn't know. However, he didn't care either. The only thing Jimin wanted to care for right now was the taste and touch of Jungkook's lips.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook whispered against his lips, nuzzling his nose over Jimin's cheeks before he attached their lips in another kiss.

The black haired boy parted his lips, tongue moving over Jimin's bottom lip as he spun them around, pushing the smaller boy backwards against the door as he licked over Jimin's tongue. In response, Jimin let out a soft whimper, hands moving up into Jungkook's hair as he pulled the boy closer.

Their kiss was slow and passionate, the touch of their lips gentle, their hands gripping each other like they were scared of losing one another.

“Hang on, hang on, hang on” Jungkook uttered between their kiss, both boys trying to catch their breath when he pulled away, “We should probably get away from here as quick as possible. Let's go, come on”
Jungkook took Jimin's hand in his, the smaller boy smiling at the way their hands aligned as they intertwined.

With that, they quickly rushed towards Jungkook's black Range Rover, climbing inside and driving off before any of Lee's men could cause any more potential harm.

--------

Well, that wasn't going to be difficult. They had both remained quiet for the whole drive back here, evidently not knowing what to say after what happened in the past hour.

Jimin gave a nod while they took off their shoes, Jungkook picking both of their pairs up as they walked further into the house. It was completely dark, not one single light turned on. However, thankfully, Jungkook seemed to know his way around even in the dark, Jimin clinging onto his shirt as he followed him upstairs.

Suddenly, Jimin tripped over one of the stairs, almost falling, but able to keep his balance by leaning onto Jungkook.

“Sorry” Jimin whispered as he pulled himself back up into a straightened position while following Jungkook who chuckled quietly at his clumsiness.

“What was that about you not being clumsy?”

“Shut up” Jimin mumbled, causing Jungkook to snicker again.

Finally, they found their way back into his bedroom, the taller boy shutting the door close behind them and switching the light on the nightstand on.

“That was...”

During the car ride, he had been able to calm his heart down from the events in the gambling casino, from the fear of Jungkook getting hurt by these people.

“I really thought we were...”

“Screwed” Jungkook finished his sentence this time, “Lee is a bastard, should have known it from the start.”

Swallowing hard, Jimin walked further into the room and took a seat on the edge of the bed.

“What exactly happened in there after I left?” Jimin then wondered, eyes wide as he observed Jungkook walking over to his dresser and pulling some sweatpants and a clean shirt out.

“Lee talked some shit about how I should behave better, considering how we apparently have been friends for long. I knew he wouldn't pull any shit on me though. He's scared of my father. Essentially, they kind of work for my father in a way anyway. But I didn't know what they were going to do to you, yet I assume they didn't dare to touch you either because they were scared of me letting my father know or something. They didn't touch you, did they?” Jungkook wanted to know as he stared at Jimin, eyebrows arched up.

“No. Well, he just carried me outside, but... he didn't hurt me or anything. I was just concerned about you” Jimin responded, shaking his head, “So... so they didn't hurt you at all?”

“No, not at all. The gun was just to intimidate me, but he wouldn't dare to kill me. I gave him the money and he gave me this” Jungkook revealed as he held up a piece of paper, folded into a smaller piece.

Jimin's eyes went wide, heartbeat quickening as he got up on his feet and approached Jungkook.

“Is that...”

“His name and his address, yes. Yet, no damn phone number or something like that. I guess we just have to go there and hope he's there”

Jimin stared at the piece of paper, lifting his hand, “May I?”

“Of course” Jungkook nodded as he handed Jimin the piece of paper.

It was odd, wasn't it? How this whole chaos had been for this single piece of paper. The world realyl worked in a weird way.

Gulping, Jimin only looked at it. For some reason, he felt too many emotions at once, was too anxious to actually open the note.

“Have you looked at it already?” Jimin wondered, eyes wide as he stared at Jungkook.

The black haired boy pressed his lips into a line, apologetic eyes staring back at Jimin as he nodded slightly, “I'm sorry. I had to make sure that he didn't just gave me a blank paper”

To be fair, that was reasonable. Jimin understood as he gave a nod.

Then, he walked back over to the bed and took a seat, still only staring at the note.

“Are you okay? Do you need something?” The taller boy asked as he approached Jimin, grabbing his chin gently and lifting his head in order for them to lock eyes again.

“No, I... I'm fine. Sorry, it's weird to actually have this now.”

Jungkook nodded as he smiled sympathetically, “I understand. I'll give you some time for yourself while I take a shower, okay? If you need something, just walk into the bathroom and tell me”

Blushing slightly at the offer – even though it was only a kind gesture, Jimin couldn't help but blush at the thought of walking into the restroom while Jungkook was showering – Jimin gave another nod.

After stroking Jimin's cheek gently, Jungkook turned around and walked into the bathroom, seemingly considering whether or not to shut the door, yet deciding to leave a small gap open.

Jimin averted his gaze back onto the piece of paper in his hands.

This was what he had come here for. For this information. To meet his biological father. Frankly,
Jimin had even believed for a fair amount of time that Jungkook and him were going to die for this –
However, now he knew that those people only wanted to intimidate them a bit.

The whole trip had been for this, yet so much more had happened – Things that Jimin hadn't even considered. When would he have ever thought about staying at Jungkook's childhood home? Or practice in the Jeon entertainment building? Or... or be that close to Jungkook again?
The sound of water running interrupted Jimin's thoughts, drawing his attention back to the note in his hand.

Letting out a breath, he finally pulled it open.

Hwa SungHo

Jemin's heart skipped a beat, just for his heartbeat to quicken right after. That was his name? That was his name!

There was also an address below the name, a place Jimin had never been to.

That was it. Nothing more was on this piece of paper that had caused them so much trouble.

Well, Jimin didn't know what else he had expected. Some secret information about why his biological father hadn't raised him? Or the revelation that he had a different mother as well? Clearly, none of that was on this piece of paper. Perhaps, the man himself would give him these answers.

The smaller boy fell back on the bed, staring up at the ceiling as he listened to Jungkook showering.

Jimin was grateful for Jungkook, was grateful for what the taller boy had done for him.

Jungkook really wasn't a bad person, wasn't evil. No, Jungkook was a boy who kept his feelings to himself – most of the time. A boy who had built walls around himself for a reason, but was letting Jimin finally in. Jungkook was a boy who had made some mistakes, but who had a good heart, who was kind and supportive of the people that he liked.

Letting his eyes fall shut, Jimin just laid there as he reminisced about the past two days, letting everything sink in. Time has gone by so fast, not really making it possible for him to adjust to all of it and comprehend everything.

After a couple of minutes, Jimin got up to his feet and walked over to his backpack, pulling out his sweater that he wanted to wear for sleeping as well as his charger as he really needed to charge his phone. Then, he took off his clothes, folding them neatly and placing them on top of the dresser before he put on his sweater. Perhaps, Jungkook could lend him some sweatpants for the night.

It was fairly late already. However, Jimin wasn't sure if he would even be able to sleep tonight, too shaken up by the events of the night and too excited about tomorrow.

While changing, Jimin hadn't noticed that the water had stopped running, startled as Jungkook reappeared in the bedroom with a towel wrapped around his waist. As soon as he walked back in, his eyes fell on Jimin, stopping dead in his tracks at the smaller boy's appearance in the large sweater.

“I looked at the note” Jimin revealed, drawing Jungkook out of his thoughts who shook his head before walked over to his dresser, “Also, can I charge my phone here, please?”

“Of course” Jungkook nodded, “How do you feel? About the note I mean” The black haired boy wanted to know, voice soft as he picked out a fresh pair of briefs and a black shirt while Jimin plugged his charger into his phone.

“I don't know... I'm anxious about tomorrow, but also excited. It's a weird mixture of emotions” Jimin answered, letting out a breath, “It's odd to see his name. I really wonder what he's like”

All of a sudden, Jungkook just dropped his towel, his naked back fully revealed to Jimin. The orange haired boy blushed immedialty, spinning around as quickly as he could – almost breaking his neck in the process – as he let out a squeak.

“Jungkook-ah!” He whined, covering his face with his hands, “Warn me before you get naked!”

Jungkook chuckled at his reaction, “Sorry, I forgot. It's not like you haven't seen it before though”

Jimin bit down on his bottom lip as his cheeks heated up even more at the comment, “Still... I... I wasn't prepared. Don't do that!”

“Okay, I'm sorry, Jimin-ah.” Jungkook apologised, amusement in his voice as he observed Jimin peeking through his fingers, “You can look now, Jiminie”

The taller boy was dressed now, Jimin clearing his throat as he fixed his posture, sitting down cross-legged on the bed. Jungkook joined him on the bed, laying down on his back as he stared at Jimin. As the younger male lifted his hands and crossed them beneath his head, his shirt rose up a bit, revealing his v-line and a part of his abs. Jimin's eyes rushed down to the exposed skin almost unconsciously, the boy gulping at the sight.

“W-What I was saying was that, uhm, I'm... I'm really nervous about tomorrow” Jimin tried to finish his thought, blinking.

“Don't be nervous, Jimin-ah. I mean, I can understand why you are and you have every right to, but don't make up too many scenarios about it in your head. You probably won't be able to sleep at all if you do that.” Jungkook noted, drawing Jimin's attention back up to his face.

“Do you think he will like me? What if he hates me?” Jimin wondered, voice almost vulnerable, the thought coming up for the first time. Frankly, perhaps Jimin should have thought about this sooner, yet all he had been able to think about was the excitement of meeting the kind father he never had. However, maybe the man didn't even want to see Jimin.

“Don't say that” Jungkook quickly uttered, placing his warm hand on Jimin's exposed knee, rubbing the fair skin gently, “How could anyone hate you, Jimin-ah? You're as sweet as an angel. There is no way he won't like you”

Jimin's heart fluttered at the compliment, cheeks heating up at his words, yet maybe also because of the gentle touch.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah, for everything. You've done so much for me” Jimin smiled shyly, glancing at Jungkook again who smiled right back at him.

“I have to thank you”

“For... well, allowing me to be here, for suggesting for us to come here. I haven't been home here in a while and it was nice to see appa and Jiyoo again. It's nice to be back here.”

The smaller boy smiled, “I'm glad that you're happy about this” Jimin muttered softly, “Why don't you visit more often? You probably don't have much time, do you?”

Jungkook sighed, hand still resting on Jimin's knee, yet neither of them wanted to change that fact, “I'm really busy all the time and it's exhausting to move back and forth, but coming here today was really nice so I'll try to do that more often” Jungkook stated. Emotion flashed in his eyes briefly after, “Yet, I think... well, being here with you was nice”
Jimin swallowed hard, eyes glistening as he smiled shyly at Jungkook who returned his smile.

There it was again. That stupid fluttering thing his heart did.

“'I'm glad' Jimin responded, voice quiet, “I really enjoyed it, too. Actually, I never really imagined to come back here, you know? I thought I would hate it to go back to Busan. I didn't think I would have this much fun and enjoy my time here like this. I'm really happy. Thank you. I don't think I would have felt like this or even be brave enough to do this if it wasn't for you” Jimin muttered sincerely.

They only stared at each other, looking back and forth between each other's eyes as they smiled.

“And thank you for letting me stay in your home for the night” Jimin then added, “Your father is actually very kind and funny” He noted, Jungkook's smile widening as he rolled his eyes.

“Yeah, right, embarrassing me was really funny’

Jimin giggled, eyes turning into crescents as he placed his hands on Jungkook's chest and shook his head, “No, it wasn't embarrassing. It was actually cute. And funny”

The black haired boy rolled his eyes again, but smiled at the sound and image of Jimin's giggles.

“It just really makes me wonder about something”

Jungkook cocked his head to the side, eyebrow arched up, “What is it?”

The shorter boy cleared his throat, smile faltering.

“Uhm, can I ask you something?”

“Anything” Jungkook accepted without hesitation.

“This... uhm, this is really personal so even though you promised to be honest, you don't have to answer, okay?”

Jungkook looked back and forth between his eyes, smile gone as he nodded, “Okay”

“Your relationship to your father actually seems very good and I... I feel like he's a good person, but I just wondered... does your father accept you? I mean.... uhm, does he... support who you are?” Jimin asked, trying to figure out how to word his question, but hoping that Jungkook caught what he was trying to ask.

“Are you referring to my sexuality?” Jungkook clarified.

Swallowing hard, Jimin nodded, “Again, you don't have to answer”

Honestly, this was a very personal question so Jimin would be fine with Jungkook choosing not answer his question. However, he did.

“I don't like labelling myself. I've talked to my father about that. I've told him that I'm attracted to both genders and at first, he... well, he thought that I was just fooling around, you know? Trying to figure out who I am and stuff, experiencing a bit, but as time went by, we had more conversations about it and he totally understands now and is fine with it. In fact, he has seen me bring home guys or girls every now and then, didn't bother him. He doesn't believe that I'm just fooling around because I'm young or something like that anymore, but he understands that this is who I am. We've talked about it a lot and he supports me in that”
Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth as he gave a faint nod, “So... you don't think that he wants you to be with a girl?”

Jungkook raised up his eyebrows in surprise, “Do you think he wants me to be with Seoyun because he doesn't want me to be with a boy?” The taller boy asked as he lifted his hand, brushing orange strands of Jimin's hair out of his face.

The smaller boy blinked, heart jumping faster at the gentle gesture.

“I-I'm sorry, I don't mean to judge the situation. It's none of business, but after you mentioned how you think that he wants you to be with her I just... thought that... well, he wants you to be with a girl rather than a boy” Jimin explained, averting his gaze as he felt his cheeks heat up.

Jungkook's father was an interesting man. On the one hand, you had his business persona that lead Jungkook, had Jungkook's future planned out and had struggled with supporting his son's own dream, rather seeing him as the heir of his position and company. However, on the other hand, you had a father that Jimin met today, a father that struggled with being affectionate, but tried really hard to spend time with his son, to show that he cared. Perhaps, he had realised that he has been lacking that, wanted to make up for that and fix his relationship to his son before it was too late.

So then, Jimin couldn't help but contemplate about the fact that the business persona seemed to prefer Jungkook being with Seoyun, while the father inside of him was supportive of his son and... well, just wanted him to be happy, no?

“No, Jimin-ah, he wants me to be with Seoyun because of the deal, because of her parents' company and because she's a model he was able to sign under his company through me. That's why he wants me to be with her. It's convenient. I think the only reason he wants me to fall for her is to make it more bearable for me, for either of us. She can be nice after all. I don't know. It's definitely not because she's a girl, though, Jimin-ah.”

“O-Oh” Jimin uttered as he nodded, “I see”

Jungkook's hand came back up to his cheek, stroking over it gently and causing Jimin to nuzzle against the touch, “Thank you for caring about that, but he does support me, don't worry”

Calm down, Jimin whispered to his heart as he felt it pound faster after doing that stupid fluttering thing. Perhaps, Jimin had to go and get that checked by a doctor.

“Jungkook-ah, thank you for answering and... and for being honest with me” Jimin murmured, half smile on his face as he took a glimpse at Jungkook before he averted his gaze back down to his own lap, playing with the hem of his sweater.

Frankly, so far on their trip, Jungkook has been nothing but honest with him. Sure, during the time they have known each other before that hadn't really been the case. Then again, had Jungkook really lied? Jimin couldn't help but feel like Jungkook hadn't really blatantly lied in his face, had he? No, the boy had only kept some things to himself, not sharing them with Jimin. However, how could Jimin label that as lying? Or make it out to be as bad as lying?

Clearly, Jimin had wished for Jungkook to share all of this with him fairly sooner, yet he knew how difficult it was to open up to people, to let down your walls and let people in. So then, could he be mad at Jungkook for taking his time to let down his walls?

No, Jimin thought, just how Jungkook had never pushed Jimin to open up to him, how could Jimin force the taller boy to do it?
Yet finally, Jungkook was doing that, was letting him in, was sharing personal stuff about him and trusting Jimin with it.

Ultimately, Jimin felt all the more closer to the black haired boy.

“I promised you to be honest from now on. I'm going to keep my word”

However, there was one thing Jimin wanted to ask, needed to ask – even though he kind of already figured what the answer was going to be.

Jimin was ready to hear him out.

“Jungkook-ah?”

“Mhm”

“Can I ask you something about... us? You know, our... well, our situation? Or, uhm, well, our issues?”

The younger boy looked back and forth between his eyes, trying to read Jimin, yet not succeeding. Nervously, Jimin swallowed hard as he continued pulling on the hem of his sweater, Jungkook's hand no longer touching him.

"Of course. Go ahead”

“Jungkook-ah, the... the offer. Why did you never tell me? After finding out I really thought you all made fun of me behind my back.”

There it was. Another topic they – or rather Jimin – had been avoiding.

The taller boy pressed his lips into a line, nodding weakly, “I know, Jimin-ah, I'm sorry. We didn't do any of that, though. None of the others knew, I promise you. I didn't tell you because I didn't want you to be mad at hyung or even hate him. Essentially, he only asked me to look out for you and planted the idea in my head about the guidance thing, but I didn't think much of it. It wasn't until I saw those people make fun of you that I began to consider it. - And then, I saw your face. I saw your tears. And when you looked at me with those beautiful eyes of yours, the sudden urge to protect and help you came over me. I didn't know what it was, but I wanted to help you in any way I could. That's why I offered it. I thought you would scream at me, but I was happy that you actually agreed.”

Jungkook apologised, sincerity in his eyes as he sat up against the headboard, eyebrows pulled together as he answered Jimin, voice genuine.

Jimin blinked, swallowing hard as his gaze rushed down to Jungkook's lips and then up to his eyes.

“I guess I should have told you from the start about hyung mentioning it to me, but I didn't want to ruin your bond or make you uncomfortable. When you found out about it, I reacted in the wrong way, too. I'm sorry. I ran after you that day. I turned up there like a madman in the middle of the night and made a scene when all I should have done is give you space from the start. I just couldn't control myself. All I could think about was losing you, was you believing these awful scenarios in your head and being all on your own that night. It screwed me over. I couldn't sleep and I acted in a way I shouldn't have. I should have left you alone so you were able to breathe and think about everything. I know that now.”

The smaller boy pressed his lips into a line as he remembered the night he ran away from Yoongi's house. Unconsciously, tears swelled up in his eyes as all of the emotions of that night bubbled up inside of him.
“I fucked up, Jimin-ah. I fucked up with everything I did. I pushed you away when I shouldn't have, I didn't tell you about Seoyun when I should have, I didn't tell you about hyung asking me to look after you, either. I didn't do any of that shit even though I should have.” Jungkook uttered, voice desperate, but sure as he talked to Jimin.

A single tear dropped down onto Jimin's hand, the pain he had felt for the past weeks reminiscing in his heart. However, it was faded. The pain was fading away... slowly, but surely, his heart was healing.

“You should have told me, Jungkook-ah. I felt like a fool, like some stupid project”

“You're not a project, Jimin-ah. Don't ever think that. You're... you're so much more than you give yourself credit for” The black haired boy whispered as he moved closer, “You're beautiful, you're funny, you're kind and sweet, you're considerate and caring, you're supportive and understanding, you're... you're more than I can put into words, but you're definitely not a stupid project, Jimin-ah”

Jimin's swallowed as he looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, butterflies going crazy inside of his stomach, mixing with the silly fluttering thing of his heart.

“Then what about the rules?” Jimin found himself wonder, voice unsure. The shorter boy didn't take his eyes off of Jungkook, wasn't able to, “I know that you chose them for... well, to protect us, but... but it felt like you wanted it to be a project or rather... or rather wanted me to stay away from you other than having sex, wanted to keep us apart”

“I didn't make the rules just for you, Jimin-ah, I made them for both of us. I never thought that we would break all of them” Jungkook answered, voice becoming quieter as his gaze rushed down to Jimin's full lips before he drew his attention back to Jimin's beautiful brown orbs that were still glassy due to the tears shining in them.

The smaller boy averted his gaze to his lap, gulping. Was Jungkook blaming him now? Blaming him for falling for him? For breaking the rules?

“I-I'm sorry” Jimin whispered as he tried to get up, but Jungkook swiftly gripped his wrist and pulled him back towards himself.

“No, Jimin-ah, you don't understand, we both broke all of them” The younger male uttered, their faces so much closer now, merely some centimeters between them, lips almost brushing as they looked into one another's eyes. Jimin inhaled as he swallowed hard, feeling Jungkook's breath on his skin as the taller boy was still holding his wrist – not letting go.

For a moment, Jimin's heart stopped, just to pound twice as fast against his chest.

“W-What do you mean?”

Jungkook hesitated, looking back and forth between Jimin's eyes before he wet his lips. Then, the black haired boy lifted his hand and brushed strands of hair out Jimin's face before he placed his warm against Jimin's cheek gently.

Jimin's breathing became more uneven, heart pounding so fast the smaller boy was certain it was going to beat out of his chest. The touch was so soft, the close proximity to Jungkook making Jimin's heart go all crazy.

“Jimin-ah, there was only one lie I told you” Jungkook whispered.

The orange haired boy didn't know what to say, was only able to stare at Jungkook and listen.
“I didn't realise any of this until I was sure to lose you. As soon as the fear of losing you completely hit me, I couldn't suppress these feelings any longer. When you confessed, I knew that I couldn't accept your feelings and return them. I tried to tell myself that I didn't feel these feelings anyway, tried to convince myself that it wouldn't work out because I was supposed to be with Seoyun. I tried to push these feelings away just like I thought it would be better to push you away because I knew that I wouldn't be able to make you happy, that I wouldn't be able to give you what you deserve” Jungkook murmured.

Jimin was listening closely and trying to process his words – but he couldn't.

“Yet, every day without you made me realise how much I miss you, how much I miss seeing you smile, how I miss the touch of your delicate hands, the way your body fits against mine, the way your soft lips feel on mine, hearing you laugh about a stupid joke, watching you be your clumsy self, all of you, Jimin-ah. Every single part of you. Every single day I missed you a little more, felt you slip further away a little more. When you left Yoongi hyung's house that night and I thought that I might not be able to see you ever again, that I would lose you completely, I realised that I didn't care anymore, I wanted to be selfish, just this one time. I wanted you, Jimin-ah. I want you and I don't care about that stupid company deal. I don't care about my father's plans. I care about you. I knew it every time I kissed you, every time you smiled at me. I knew in that moment that I didn't want to let you go, Park Jimin”

That was it.

That was the moment Jimin's heart stopped.

Not just for a moment. For several at least.

That's when Jimin stopped breathing, too.

The worst part was – Jimin still hadn't fathomed his words.

“You rejected me.” Jimin breathed, eyes wide.

“I thought that you deserved better. I didn't want to pull you into that mess, Jimin-ah.” The taller boy answered, leaning his forehead against Jimin's.

“Then why did you touch me that day? The night of the party?”

“I couldn't resist you. I missed you so much, Jimin-ah. I... I didn't know what I want either, I tried to shield myself from feelings like this. I didn't know how to handle them, what to do. Every day I tried to tell myself that these feelings weren't real, but they are.”

Jimin pulled back slightly, shaking his head as he felt tears swell up in his eyes.

“I wanted to hate you. I wanted to hate you for breaking my heart, for lying to me, for playing that stupid push and pull game.“

“I know. I know, Jimin-ah, I'm sorry. I didn't know what I wanted. I didn't mean to mess with you like that. I like you a lot, Jimin-ah. In a way where I want to spend every day with you. In a way where I want to wake up next to you, a way where I want to see you smile every day. In a way where I want to protect you from anything bad there is, a way where I want to give you the whole world because you deserve nothing less. That's how much I like you, Jimin-ah.”

Jimin stopped breathing.
"I want you, little one, I want you to be mine. I want to be yours just the same" Jungkook confessed.

Time stopped.

For Jimin, it did.

The only thing he could do was stare at Jungkook with big eyes, heart still not beating, breath gone.

“Stupid asshole” Jimin cursed as he punched Jungkook's chest – a weak punch, yet still a punch.

“Jimin-ah, you never swear” The black haired boy muttered as he let Jimin continue throwing weak punches at him.

“I do now! You're a stupid asshole for making me fall for you.” The smaller boy cursed again, Jungkook grasping his wrists and pulling Jimin onto his lap instead – making him straddle Jungkook.

“I'm sorry” Jungkook whispered against his lips.

The shorter male swallowed hard, his heartbeat suddenly quickening. It was beating so fast, causing Jimin to believe that it would pound out of his chest any moment now. Yet, would that make a difference? His heart would fall right into Jungkook's arms and the boy already owned his heart. Jimin stared into the taller boy's eyes. Into the eyes of the man who had stolen his heart and who...

“who wanted him just as much?”

“You should” Jungkook agreed with a half smile, pressing his forehead against Jimin's gently as he moved his hands to Jimin's waist.

Jimin smiled. For a stupid reason he smiled.

“But I don't. You still own my heart” Jimin admitted.

The black haired boy smirked against his skin, lips lingering above Jimin's. For a moment, he was hesitant, but then he pressed his soft lips on Jimin's, butterflies spreading in both of their stomachs.

Letting out a soft breath, they both deepened the kiss, trying to tell each other what they have been trying to say for the past weeks. Swiftly, Jimin's arms found their way around Jungkook's neck as he moved even closer, their lips never breaking apart.

As Jungkook licked over Jimin's bottom lip, the smaller boy let out a whimper, opening his mouth and allowing Jungkook to push his tongue against Jimin's. Slowly, Jungkook's hands moved beneath Jimin's sweater, touching the warm skin there and causing goosebumps to rise on Jimin's body.

A shiver ran down Jimin's back when the taller boy pulled on his bottom lip, drawing a soft whimper from Jimin who rocked his hips forward. In response, Jungkook escaped a groan as he squeezed Jimin's hips, pulling him even closer.

“Kook-ah” Jimin mewled against his lips as the black haired one started to trail kisses down his neck, sucking and nibbling on the fair skin every now and then.

As the shorter boy exposed his neck to Jungkook in order for him to leave more open-mouthed kisses there, said boy grabbed the hem of Jimin's sweater and pulled it up slowly.

“Yes” Jimin hummed and gave a quick nod, lifting his arms so Jungkook could take the sweater off. That he did, tossing it on the floor before he attached their lips in another kiss. Their hands were all over each other, hands roaming over the body of the person that held their heart respectively.

They didn't want to break apart from their kiss. Not even when they started to breathe heavier in between their making out session, lungs screaming for air, yet hearts screaming for each other. In that moment, being apart was worse than suffocating.

Jimin needed Jungkook. Just as much as Jungkook needed Jimin.

They had been apart for so long. their bodies had been apart for so long. They have been longing for each other for so long now, craving to feel each other like this again. This time, however, was different. This time, they knew how the other one felt. This time, they felt just the same.

“Off, off” Jimin begged and tugged on Jungkook's shirt. Wasting no time, Jungkook pulled off his shirt and tossed it to the side, quickly connecting their lips in a kiss again, like Jimin was a drug – was his drug, was the air that he breathed, the air that he needed to live.

As Jungkook's hands found their way back to Jimin's waist, said boy began to rock his hips against Jungkook's, the taller boy helping him with the movement as their kiss became faster, became more demanding – they needed more of each other, everything, anything the other would give them.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin breathed softly as he felt himself harden, Jungkook's erection growing beneath him as well, “Please” He moaned.

“I'm right here, baby, what do you want?” Jungkook whispered against his lips, brushing Jimin's hair out of his face.

“You, Kook-ah, you, please, just- just touch me” The smaller boy begged as he rocked forward again.

While attaching their lips in another kiss, Jungkook moved his hands down to Jimin's briefs, playing with the waistband. The action drew a whine from Jimin, the boy just wanting Jungkook to touch him which caused Jungkook to smile fondly as he tugged down Jimin's briefs.

The orange haired boy had to get off Jungkook's lap in order to pull down his underwear, Jungkook using the situation and taking off his own briefs that he tossed on the floor. Swiftly, Jimin moved back over onto Jungkook's lap, both boys now completely naked, their warm bodies touching one another.

Their lips found their way back to each other, like they couldn't bear to be apart from one another. Jimin moved his hand up into Jungkook's hair, tugging on it lightly as they deepened their kiss. The action caused Jungkook to groan, the boy squeezing Jimin's hips as he bucked up against the shorter male in his lap.

“Angel, I have to stretch you, okay?” Jungkook whispered in between their kiss, opening the first drawer of the nightstand and searching for the small bottle of lube that he picked out a brief moment later.

Giving a faint nod, Jimin whined and chased Jungkook's lips for another kiss, yet the boy was occupied with squirting lube over two of his fingers, not noticing Jimin's needy expression.

“Kook-ah” Jimin mewed high-pitched when he felt two wet fingers against his entrance, the taller boy circling his entrance.
“Sssh, it's fine, little one” The black haired male murmured against his lips, placing a peck on them as he pushed his fingers inside of Jimin.

“Ah, ah” Jimin panted sweetly in response, eyes fluttering shut at the stretch of his hole. Jungkook's mouth lingered above his own, catching Jimin's little whimpers and gasps as he moved his fingers around, “Jungkookie-ah”

With each movement of his fingers, Jimin's whimpers became more high-pitched, the grip on Jungkook's shoulder turning a little tighter.

“Oh god!” The orange haired boy cried out as Jungkook pushed his fingers against that special spot inside of him.

“Sssh, little one, don't want to wake my father or Jiyoo, hm?” The taller one muttered against his lips, brushing Jimin's hair back so it didn't stuck to his sweaty forehead any longer.

Jimin quickly nodded, pressing his lips together as he tried to contain his sounds, causing Jungkook to chuckle as he halted his movement.

“You don't have to mute yourself, little one. Just a little quieter, hm? I still want to hear your cute little noises for me”

With that, Jungkook pushed his fingers firmly against his prostate, Jimin's mouth falling open in a silent scream as he squeezed his eyes shut, “J-Jungkookie” Jimin whimpered softly, grabbing the bedsheets beneath them as he clenched his hands into fists.

“Sssh, it's okay” Jungkook whispered as he placed kisses all over Jimin's face, kissing every inch he could get because that's what Jimin deserved.

The small boy above him looked so beautiful, so pretty. Jimin's cheeks were flushed already, lips parted and letting out cute little whimpers that were just for Jungkook, his hair was a fluffy mess on top of his head, nose scrunched up in pleasure as Jungkook continued moving his fingers inside of his hole, scissoring them every now and then and making sure to hit his prostate every single time.

Jimin truly was a vision, was the most beautiful boy he had ever seen.

And he was all his.

Just like he was Jimin's now.

Giving a nod, Jungkook pulled his fingers out of the shorter one with a loud squealch, the sound causing his dick to twitch, just did Jimin's cute little whine. Swiftly, he grabbed his own dick, pumping it for a while as he squirted some lube over it.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin whined again, breathing heavily against Jungkook's skin, face hidded in the curve of his neck.

“I'm right here, angel” The younger boy promised as he pressed a kiss against his temple, navigating his dick towards Jimin's entrance and pressing the tip against his hole.

“Please”

“Sssh, baby, I'm right here” Jungkook comforted, giving Jimin's waist a little squeeze as he pushed his penis inside of Jimin's hole.

In response, Jimin's eyes fluttered shut, mouth agape as he whimpered against Jungkook's neck, trying to muffle his sounds as his hole was being stretched out even more. The feeling was familiar, such a nice feeling. However, it was different in a way. This time, they didn't just have sex. This time, they knew about each other's feelings.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook groaned against his ear, hands finding their way back to Jimin's hips as he sunk into Jimin's hole, the tightness clinging around his erection, resulting in him hissing at the feeling of Jimin around him, “Shit, so good, little one”

The taller boy gave Jimin time to adjust to the size inside of him, didn't just push in his whole length without leaving Jimin a chance to get used to it. However, Jimin just wanted to be filled by Jungkook, wanted to feel all of him, wanted to be connected with him in this way.

“Jungkook-ah, o-oh” Jimin moaned as he bit down on Jungkook's shoulder, blushing as he remembered the conversation with Jungkook's father from earlier, remembered Jungkook's expression in response to Jimin's claim to never have bitten anyone before – clearly, that wasn't true and Jungkook had been referring to moments like this with his stare, “O-Oh, god!” The orange haired boy cried out, drawn out of his thoughts at the overwhelming feeling of Jungkook's penis settling against his prostate.

“Right there, hm, little one?”

Jimin gave a nod, hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck as he inhaled deeply, chest rising and falling quickly. To be honest, Jimin had missed this so much, had missed being so close to Jungkook, being touched by the younger boy so sweetly, yet this was so much better. It was so much better now, knowing how he felt.

Frankly, Jimin couldn't even wrap his hand around the fact that Jungkook liked him, that the gorgeous man Jimin had fallen for liked him back.

This truly was a dream. It had to be.

Jimin nodded as he lifted his hips, dropping them back down a moment later and repeating the action again and again. In response, both of them gasped, Jimin now a little more skilled with his motions as he moved his hips around, hitting all the right places inside of him and clenching every now and then around Jungkook, causing said boy to grasp his waist tighter, groaning against his skin.

“Just like that, baby”

Determined to chase both of their releases, Jimin sped up his pace, bouncing up and down on Jungkook's erection with the help of the black haired boy, little whimpers falling from his parted lips that he simply couldn't contain.

Jimin totally ignored the fact that they weren't alone in this house, that the door wasn't even locked and that either Jungkook's father or Jiyoo could walk in any moment. However, in that moment, Jimin didn't care – just wanted to be with Jungkook and feel him, feel him as close as possible.

“J-Jungkook-ah, so big” Jimin whimpered, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he continued bouncing on Jungkook's lap. While the smaller boy had his eyes shut, completely lost in the feeling, Jungkook had his gaze fixated on Jimin – simply couldn't take his eyes away from the gorgeous boy on top of him. Honestly, Jungkook would never get over the fact that he was now able to call this beautiful boy his.

“Angel, open your pretty eyes for me.” Jungkook insisted softly, causing Jimin's eyes to flutter open in order to stare back at Jungkook.

For an odd reason, they couldn’t help but smile at each other. Happy. So damn happy to be with each other, to know how the other one felt. It truly felt like all the drama, all the heartbreak, all the difficulties had been worth it – because now, they had each other.

“Kiss me” Jimin whispered, Jungkook wasting no time and connecting their lips in a slow kiss, the black haired boy wrapping his arms around Jimin as said boy continued moving up and down above him.

It didn’t take long for Jimin's thighs to ache, the practice from earlier coming back to haunt him as his body had already been sore from that.

“Kook-ah, hurts, please” Jimin tried to utter, having difficulties in forming a coherent sentence – which really wasn't unusual. Frankly, Jimin's mind went blank whenever he was aroused like this, whenever Jungkook had him wrapped around his finger. All Jimin could think of was the handsome black haired boy beneath him.

“Shh, I got you, angel” Jungkook mumured, gripping Jimin's hips tighter and spinning them around. The younger one didn't slip out of him, was able to pin Jimin against the bed without breaking their connection.

“Please” The shorter boy muttered as Jungkook settled himself between Jimin's legs, lifting them up slightly and bending them back in order to be able to enter Jimin at a better angle.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook groaned as soon as he slammed into the smaller boy, the action causing Jimin to gasp as he was so much deeper like this.

“M-Move, Kook-ah, please”

Not having to be told twice, Jungkook pulled out of Jimin just to thrust back into him. He repeated that action again and again, Jimin moving back and forth with the force of his thrusts, the pace not quick, yet powerful.

Jimin's penis twitched every time Jungkook hit his prostate, a small puddle of pre-cum forming on Jimin's stomach as he arched his back. The black haired boy looked down on him, taking in every inch of the beautiful boy as he thrusted into him.

“S-Slower, please, wanna- wanna...” Jimin begged, causing Jungkook to move his hips slower, not as hard anymore either.

He leaned further down to Jimin, taking his hands and pressing them against the bed as he intertwined them with his own, “Okay, little one, anything you want”

Slowly, Jungkook thrusted in and out of Jimin, the pace somewhat unfamiliar, but so welcoming. Jimin really loved this. Loved how sensual, yet somewhat even pure it was, loved how Jungkook was holding his hands while he was moving inside of him. It was so much more intimate.

For a moment, Jimin even wondered if this was making love. Was it? Frankly, they did have feelings for each other. This right now wasn't about having sex, but about being close.

“Kook-ah” Jimin whispered and lifted his head, chasing Jungkook's lips for a kiss who smiled as he pressed his lips against Jimin's.

Both of the boys felt the heat inside of the pit of their stomachs, could feel the approach of their orgasms, but that didn't cause Jungkook to go any faster. No, he wanted to take Jimin in the way the smaller boy wanted, wanted to take his time.

Frankly, before Jimin, Jungkook had never have sex like this. No, he really wasn't one for soft fucking like this, yet... yet that all changed as soon as Jimin came around. Jimin was illuminating parts of him that he hadn't known of before. There was nothing Jungkook wouldn't do for the orange haired boy.

“I'm close” Jimin announced, Jungkook nudging his nose against Jimin's as they were both breathing heavily.

“Me too, angel, just come whenever you're ready”

The softness of this moment made Jimin's heart flutter, filled his whole body with warmth. The petnames caused Jimin to smile as he felt his cheeks heat up every time, loving the affection
Jungkook had towards him.

The heat inside of Jimin's stomach built and built, eventually bringing him right to the edge. Jimin arched his back at the overwhelming feeling, eyes squeezing shut as he panted out Jungkook's name, the intense sensation exploding and spreading throughout his whole body as cum spurted out of his errection, splattering on his stomach.

“Kook-ah!” Jimin whimpered, toes curling as his legs twitched, whole body shaking due to the stimulation as he clenched around Jungkook's penis.

“Shit, Jiminie” Jungkook cursed, eyes falling shut as he found his own release, coming right inside of Jimin as he collapsed on top of him, lazily moving his hips one, two more times before he stilled completely.

Their sweaty bodies clung together, both of their chests rising and falling quickly as they just laid there, not wanting to move an inch.

“Mhm” Jimin hummed and nodded, blissful expression on his face, yet sleepy eyes staring back at Jungkook, “Just sleepy”

“We did have a long and eventful day”

How true. So much had happened today. So many things Jimin hadn't even considered of happening. This trip has brought him so much more than just a connection to his biological father.

It had helped Jimin understand Jungkook more, be closer to him and even have the younger boy confess to him.

Jimin felt like this trip had even helped his heart heal a little more – in so many different ways. He wasn't afraid of coming back to Busan any longer, had put a stop to his fear of this place, had resolved his issues with Jungkook and was now... well, what were they?

What could they be?

The smaller boy gulped, heart clenching a little.
“Jimin-ah, we gotta clean you, hm?”

“No, can we- can we just stay like this, please” Jimin pleaded.

“I should pull out at le-”

“No, please, wanna... wanna... please, don’t”

Was that odd? Perhaps. However, Jimin didn't want Jungkook to go gone, wanted to stay connected and close like this. It was nice. Was nice being so full, feel the warmth of Jungkook inside of him and feel him slowly soften.

“Ohkay” Jungkook whispered, reaching for the blanket and pulling it over them, “Let's switch positions, though, don't want to hurt you”

With that, Jungkook spun them around, Jimin now straddling the taller boy and placing his cheek against his chest, listening to his steady heartbeat. The younger boy wrapped his arms around Jimin, rubbing over his back soothingly which caused goosebumps to rise on his skin.

The touch made Jimin even sleepier, causing his eyes to flutter shut as he lifted his own hand and brushed it through Jungkook's hair, scratching the scalp lightly every now and then and playing with his hair gently while said boy drew shapes on Jimin's back, shapes that Jimin couldn't make out, yet his touch so soft as he traced his fingertips over Jimin's skin every now and then.

They remained like this for a while, finding comfort in each other's embrace and letting today's events ebb down inside of their heads as they tried to settle down.

Jimin lifted his head and opened his eyes, catching Jungkook already staring at his face which made both of them smile – as well as Jimin blush.

“Hey” Jungkook uttered, brushing a strand of hair out of Jimin's face.

“Hey” Jimin whispered back, smile on his face as he looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, fondness glistening in them.

However, the more Jimin stared at Jungkook, the more he wondered – How was this going to work? How was this supposed to go from here?

The thought unsettled Jimin, his smile slowly fading as he rested his cheek back on Jungkook's chest, eyes falling shut as he tried to focus on Jungkook's gentle touch on his back.

Yet, these thoughts didn't want to leave – no matter how hard Jimin was trying to banish them out of his head.

Could this even work?

What were they?

Shaking his head, Jimin took a deep breath, not wanting to deliberate about this right now. The smaller boy tried to think about something else, anything else. Jungkook. Jimin focused on Jungkook, on his pretty eyes, his soft lips, his beautiful smile, his soothing voice – his voice. A thought came up in Jimin's head.

“Jungkook-ah, will you sing for me one day?” Jimin asked, voice soft as he started to draw shapes on Jungkook's chest.
The black haired boy chuckled, the vibrations felt by Jimin who smiled at the beautiful sound of Jungkook laughing.

“I'm not really a singer, Jimin-ah. I just sing on some guides for huyng”

“Hyung wouldn't just choose anyone. He's a perfectionist – even for some guides. I really want to hear you sing one day”

Jungkook pressed a kiss on top of his head, “Okay, angel”

Smiling, Jimin let out a breath, becoming sleepier with each second that past. To be fair, Jimin knew that Jungkook's penis was still inside of him, knew that they should clean up, but he couldn't be bothered to move right now – didn't want to move right now. He was way too comfortable, way too sleepy to do that.

Their breathing became even, chests rising and falling slowly as their hearts began to beat in the same rhythm, almost like they were calling for each other.

Jimin felt himself drift away into his dreams, meeting a beautiful black haired boy there who was already waiting for him with a bright smile.

Yet, he wasn't alone.

Seoyun standing right by his side.

--------

Jimin took a deep breath, glancing at the note in his hand before he looked back up to the house.

“This is it” The orange haired boy muttered, a shiver running down his back as he stared at the entrance door.

It was a beautiful house. It was painted in a beautiful beige colour, the frontyard consisting of dark green grass and a swing as well as a seesaw.

Children, was Jimin's first thought.

Clearly, this meant that the man had children of his own.

“You can do this” Jimin talked some courage into himself as he took a step closer, but it was almost as if he couldn't move as he halted in his steps.

This was a lot more difficult than Jimin had expected. To actually be here right now was... was strange, felt unreal.

Jimin's backpack slid from his shoulder as he took another step forward, causing him to still again and adjust the backpack back onto his shoulder. Letting out a breath, Jimin took another step forward, but came to a halt again.

Frankly, to any bystanders or people that were currently glancing outside of their windows on this street this surely looked weird. How Jimin took a step each thirty seconds, only moving one single step at a time as if he was afraid to move closer – which, well, wasn't a lie.

To be fair, Jimin didn't know what to expect. This whole weekend, he had been so excited to meet the man – he still was – but he was also slightly worried about how the man was like and whether he even wanted to see Jimin.
Shaking his head, Jimin stuffed the note into his pocket as he walked up to the door, taking the few steps up the stairs and lifting his hand to ring the bell. For a moment, his hand just lingered above the button, something keeping him from actually pressing it.

However, just as he rang the bell, the sound of wheels screeching on the asphalt caught his attention. The shorter boy spun around, eyes going wide as he saw Jungkook's black Range Rover, the boy rushing out of his car with a note in his hand, eyebrows pulled together as his gaze fell on Jimin.

Jungkook was only wearing some sweatpants and a shirt – at least, he had put on some shoes this time. The black haired boy came to a halt, wetting his lips as he lifted the piece of paper in his hands.

“A note? A fucking note? You go without a word and leave me a fucking note with five words?!”

Jimin swallowed hard, opening his mouth to say something, yet in that exact moment, the door was opened.

1 hour earlier

Jimin's eyes fluttered open, faint light through the curtains blinding him for a moment, causing him to blink until his eyes adjusted to the light. It only took a brief moment for Jimin to realise where he was. Jimin was currently in Jungkook's bedroom back in Busan, the black haired boy lying next to him, having his arm wrapped around Jimin's stomach.

As Jimin studied Jungkook's peaceful face, he felt his heart clench again.

During the night, he had thought about Jungkook, about them, about what they could be and when they could be something at all.

Jimin knew what he had to do – even if it broke his heart.

Carefully, Jimin tried to move out of the bed, Jungkook's grip around him tightening as the taller boy let out a groan. Immediately, Jimin stilled, swallowing hard as he felt his heartbeat quicken. Swiftly, he checked whether or not Jungkook was still asleep, relief washing over him as he saw Jungkook's eyes still shut, chest rising and falling steadily.

Pressing his lips into a line, Jimin tried to move away again, grabbing a pillow that he replaced himself with. For a moment, Jungkook squirmed in the bed, but then he gripped the pillow closer.

Smiling at the cute sight, Jimin pulled the blanket back over the younger boy as he tip toed around the room and picked up his clothes. Quickly, he put on his clothes for the day as quietly as he could, trying not to make a sound at all as he watched Jungkook while getting dressed.

As soon as he was finished, he picked up his shoes and threw his backpack over his shoulder. Then, Jimin walked over to the nightstand, picking out a piece of paper and a pen from his backpack that he scribbled some words on, placing the note on the nightstand for Jungkook to see before he picked up his phone and put it into his pocket.

Jimin knew that what he was doing was right – was for the best. However, he couldn't help the clenching of his heart as he stared at the black haired boy still sleeping in the bed. For a moment, the urge to kiss Jungkook overcame him, yet Jimin was sure that it would wake him up and he couldn't risk that, causing him to resist the urge.

Biting down on his bottom lip, Jimin turned around and left his bedroom, on his way to find his father – alone this time.
Quietly, he made his way down the stairs, not hearing any voices fortunately. Jimin knew that it was rude to go without saying goodbye, but this was the easiest way. Sure, Jimin hated being impolite, but he had to live with it this one time.

Jimin almost made it out, just reaching the front door as he reached out for the doorknob and—

“You’re already leaving?”

Jimin froze in his place at the voice, swallowing hard as he pressed his eyes shut.

“Oh, yeah, I... I got to leave, sorry, I have to be somewhere” The smaller boy answered as he turned around, staring at Jungkook’s father who was already dressed in a suit.

“I thought we could eat breakfast together before you both leave and I head to work” The man suggested, smiling.

Jimin’s heart clenched as he gulped.

“I-I... Oh, that’s very nice of you, Mr. Jeon, but I have to go right now. I’m really sorry, I didn’t want to wake anyone”

“What about Jungkook-ah? Isn’t he joining you?” The man wondered, eyebrows arched up.

“O-Oh, Jungkook is still sleeping. I didn’t want to wake him up and I... I have to go on my own anyway”

“Well, then let me drop you off wherever you have to be before I head to work”

“Oh, no, that’s not necessary, Mr. Jeon. I’m sure Jungkook wants to eat breakfast with you when he wakes up”

“Okay. I understand, Jimin-ah. It was very nice meeting you. It’s sad to see you leave already, but I’m sure we’ll meet each other again one day” Jungkook’s father smiled.

Jimin returned the smile, pang in his chest at the kind words of the man.

“Goodbye” Jimin uttered.

“Jimin-ah, I have a favour, actually” The man then revealed as Jimin had opened the door.

“O-Oh? What is it?”

The man took a step closer, his voice a little softer for his next words.

“Don’t hurt him. You’re important to him.”

Jimin’s eyes went wide. How did he know? Had Jungkook talked to him about Jimin – in that way? Did he... perhaps, support those feelings?

“He’s important to me, too, Mr. Jeon”

“Okay. Good. I hope to see you again, Jimin-ah”

“Me, too”

With that, Jimin left the house, letting out a breath he hadn’t noticed of holding.
“Not now, Jungkook-ah” Jimin asked as he spun around, eyes falling on a man in the doorway.

The shorter boy froze in his place, studying the features of the man that was supposed to be his biological father.

The man was tall, rather thin, yet fit, a kind smile on his face as he stared at Jimin with curiosity in his eyes, his black hair short, yet not extremely short. His eyes were a light shade of brown, Jimin watching himself reflecting in them as he looked at the man.

Jimin opened his mouth in shock, not entirely sure what to say.

Oh, hey, I'm your son that you maybe never even knew existed, or perhaps chose of never even wanting in your life, nice to meet you.

No, he couldn't start like that.

“Appa!” A small girl yelled as she giggled and ran towards her – well, father as Jimin assumed – hugging his leg as she stared at Jimin.

Unconsciously, Jimin smiled at the sight of her. The small girl tried to run outside, yet the man picked her up and held her close to his chest, shaking his head.

“Nayeon, what did I tell you about leaving the house without asking?” The man scolded, voice deep, but kind as he talked to his young daughter.

Jimin gulped, heart clenching at the sight of the man looking at his daughter with affection in his eyes.

“I'm sorry, appa, I wanted to go and play on the swing”

“You can play later, hm? Finish your breakfast now” The man insisted with a kind smile as he set his daughter down again, the girl running back inside, still giggling.

“Sungho, who's at the door? Is it Haweon?” A woman shouted, appearing a moment later next to the man.

Jimin's heartbeat quickened.

Sungho. That was all the confirmation Jimin needed. This was the man he had been looking for. This was his biological father – if Jimin hadn't already known by looking at the man's face, seeing his own nose and eyes in it.

This was his biological father.

It took a moment for that information to settle in.

Yet, what was Jimin supposed to do know?

“Who is this?” The beautiful woman whispered to the man who shrugged slightly as he glanced at Jimin with a warm smile.

“I'm sorry, how can we help you? Are you looking for someone?”

You.

Jimin opened his mouth, but no words came out. It was as if he had lost the ability to speak.
“Are you mute?” The man wondered softly, eyebrows arched up in surprise, “Perhaps he's deaf, darling” Jimin's biological father noted as he took a glimpse at his wife, then signing something to Jimin that he didn't understand.

The man knew how to talk in sign language? Wow. Perhaps he had just asked Jimin whether or not he was deaf, or asked what he was doing here? Jimin didn't know.

“I-I...” Jimin tried to respond, but he couldn't.

Maybe, Jimin wasn't ready.

Perhaps, he didn't want to ruin his illusion of the man he currently had. Right now, this man appeared to be a loving, kind father with a family. He had a beautiful wife and a sweet child, probably got up every morning, went to work and then went home to spend time with his beautiful family, being the affectionate father that he was. It was an ordinary life, yet one filled with so much happiness, love and affection.

In Jimin’s mind, he had hoped of the man to take him into his loving family and give him the affection of a father he had been lacking for the past 23 years.

However, somehow, this was enough. It was enough to know that he lived. It was enough to know that he was a kind man with a family of his own. The man seemed happy. The smile on his face giving any hint about that.

For some reason, Jimin didn't need anymore right now. Maybe, it was too soon for anything more.

Perhaps, Jimin was scared of what was going to happen if he revealed that the man was his biological father. How would he react? Would he send Jimin away? Tell him, that there was a reason for Jimin to not having lived with him? Would Jimin ruin the peaceful and happy life he currently had?

Jimin didn't know.

And honestly, he didn't want to know. Not now. Not yet.

For now, it was enough to have seen the man once, was enough to know that he was in fact already so much different than the man that had raised him. It was enough to know that Jimin shared the blood with a kind man.

For now, Jimin wanted to keep the illusion he had, wanted to believe that what he imagined this man to be was real.

“Oh, where did you want to go? Should we help you find it?” The man wanted to know, smiling at the sound of Jimin talking.

The man nodded, but frowned slightly at the sight of Jimin's smile, wondering about something. Yet, he didn't say anything, but shook his head.

For a moment, Jimin just stood there.

Jimin was aware that this whole trip had been simply for this reason, for this moment – to meet his biological father. However, that's what Jimin had done. He had met the man and had received a glimpse at who he was, what his life was like.

For now, that's all that Jimin wanted and needed.

For some odd reason, Jimin couldn't help but smile. Somehow glad to have come here and see the man even if his big secret hadn't been revealed.

Letting out a breath, the orange haired boy turned around and walked down the stairs, stopping dead in his tracks at the sight of Jungkook who was still standing there in front of his car – having given Jimin some time for himself.

“What's wrong?” Jungkook asked, frowning as he watched Jimin approach him, “Is it the wrong address? I swear I'll kill Lee if he pulled some stup-” The taller boy swore through gritted teeth as he got closer to Jimin.

“No, Kook-ah, it's not the wrong address. It's the right one” Jimin answered softly, smile still lingering on his face, “It was my biological father. I saw it in his face. It's the same name as on the paper, too.”

“Then why... then why didn't you talk? Did he... did he send you away?” Jungkook wondered, voice soft as there was concern in his eyes.

“No, he didn't. I didn't tell him who I am” Jimin revealed, Jungkook's eyes going wide at his words.

“What? Why? That's the whole purpose of us coming here? Why didn't you tell him?”

“I don't know” Jimin answered truthfully. Obviously, he had assumptions about why the words hadn’t left his mouth, yet only his heart knew the real reason and it didn't want to tell him, kept the reason close to itself, “Maybe because I'm not ready yet. Maybe because I saw how happy he seemed and didn't want his life to turn into chaos because of me. I'm not sure, but... but I'm fine like this. I'm happy to even have seen him, to know that he exists. Perhaps, I will never tell him. Perhaps, I will come back one day and tell him. I don't know, Jungkook-ah”

The black haired boy looked back and forth between his eyes, trying earnestly to understand Jimin's reasoning, “Okay, well... it's your decision after all. You don't have to tell him yet”

Jimin pressed his lips into a line, giving a weak nod as a breeze of air blew past them, brushing his hair out of his face as he averted his gaze down to Jungkook's hand that was holding a piece of crinkled paper. At the sight, Jimin swallowed hard.

“How did you know I was here?” The shorter male whispered.

“Where else would you be? I knew you were going to go here. Thankfully, I remembered the address” Jungkook answered, hurt in his voice as he tried to lock eyes with Jimin, yet said boy avoided his gaze, causing Jungkook to grip his chin gently and force him to look up, “Why did you leave? Why did you leave without saying anything?"

Jimin gulped, heart clenching, “I wanted to talk to my father alone”

“No, bullshit” Jungkook protested and shook his head, “You didn't write these words referring to meeting your father. You meant them in general, Jimin-ah.”
“I…”

“I know I'm right, Jimin-ah, I see it in your eyes. You don't want this. You left with a fucking note, Jimin-ah,” Jungkook murmured, pain glistening in his eyes as he uttered the words.

“I do want this, Jungkook-ah, but think about it for a moment” Jimin tried to make him understand, gripping his wrist and pushing it away from his face gently.

“I thought about it a lot. I thought about us a lot. I know what it means and I'm willing to take any risk and fight for us. I want to be with you, Jimin-ah”

Jimin's heart fluttered, yet clenched all the same.

“Clearly, you haven't considered every point, have you?” Jimin asked, pulling his brows together, “How are we supposed to date? You are in a relationship with someone else, Jungkook-ah! It has to be believable. You have to be seen with her, you have to go to events with her and make the public believe that you're together.” Jimin pointed out, shaking his head, voice not sounding angry or mad, rather just like he was trying to make Jungkook understand him, “How do I fit in that? I don't want to be the reason for your cover to blow. I don't want the public to hate me because they think you cheated on her with me.”

Jungkook opened his mouth, shutting it again, just to finally utter “We can date in se-”

“Secret?” Jimin finished for him, eyebrows arched up as he titled his had to the side, sad smile on his face, “So you want me to be a secret? Jungkook-ah, I don't know if I can do that. I don't want to only see you behind closed doors. Sure, when he had our lessons, that was fine, but I... I didn't imagine my first relationship to go like this.”

“I-I don't know how relationships work either. I know you deserve better, Jimin-ah, but give me a chance.” Jungkook almost begged, desperation in his eyes as he stared at Jimin, causing said boy's heart to clench again.

“Your first... you have never?” Jimin wondered, voice quiet as he let the rest of the sentence hang in the air.

“No, I never dated, Jimin-ah. I didn't do relationships. I don't know how this shit works, but I want to do it for you- with you” The black haired boy revealed, sincerity in his eyes as he took Jimin's hands in his.

“Our lives are a mess right now, Jungkook-ah.” Jimin whispered, trying to make him understand that right now – this wouldn't work out, “You're not ready for a serious relationship right now. I wish I could say that I'm fine with being your little secret, but I don't think I'm mentally or emotionally capable for that right now, also considering the chaos that's currently going on in my life.”

“So what, you're pushing me away now? You don't want me?” Jungkook asked, frowning as he shook his head, clearly not wanting to be apart from Jimin. It had only been for a couple of hours that he had been lucky enough to call Jimin his – and now, all of this was going to be taken away from him again?

“I want you, Jungkook-ah, more than anything else in this word, but we don't work right now.” Jimin murmured as he leaned up, pressing his forehead against Jungkook's.

“Give it a try.” The taller boy pleaded quietly, his lips brushing over Jimin's, nose nudging against his skin.
“For how long? A week? A month? You don't know when the contract ends, Jungkook-ah. You don't know how long you have to be with her” Jimin stated softly.

It hurt Jimin to the core to do this, yet he knew that it was the only way. Right now, they wouldn’t function together. Jimin wouldn't be able to bear being Jungkook's little secret relationship, while Seoyun was out there with him and doing all of the things with Jungkook that Jimin wished he was doing. Frankly, Jimin didn't want to risk anyone finding out about them and Jungkook getting a ton of backlash for apparently cheating on his girlfriend. No, all of this was too risky.

“I will end it right now. I will end it for you, Jimin-ah, I don't fucking care about all of that shit. I've never felt like this for anyone. I don't want to lose you.”

Jimin pulled back, shaking his head.

“You're not losing me, Kook-ah.” Jimin promised as he placed a hand against Jungkook's cheek – a comforting gesture the taller boy usually did to him, “I can't let you ruin your own life for me, Jungkook-ah, that's insane. I... I'm flattered that you would throw all of that away for me and it shows me that you actually care, but it would be stupid of you to ruin everything you and your father have built just for me. We have to get our lives back, fix the things that are broken, I'm still healing from everything that happened to me, from the trust breaking to the revelation of my biological father. I have to deal with all of that and you have to maintain your fake relationship. One day, we will both be ready for each other, one day this is going to work. If we're meant to be, we're going to find our way back to each other, Kook-ah.”

“Jimin-ah, don't do this...” Jungkook murmured again.

“Please, Jungkook-ah, think about it for a moment. You would risk your career and the one of your father, maybe even Seoyun's. There's a lot of people who would be affected by this, a lot of people's careers and lives hanging on the line here”

The younger boy gulped, looking back and forth between Jimin's eyes. Obviously, Jimin didn't want this, his own heart didn't want this. It hurt a lot to do this to Jungkook – to do this to both of them, yet it was necessary. Jimin couldn't be this selfish and let Jungkook risk so much of his life.

Jungkook would risk so much. And for what? For Jimin? Jimin wouldn't be able to live with the thought of Jungkook risking all of that, worst case scenario even losing all of that just because of him.

It wasn't a goodbye. Not forever. Just temprory, just for a while. Only for as long as it would take each of them to fix, to get their lives together and to be free of anything that could risk them being together.

It was odd, though, wasn't it? They had only really just confessed to each other, had spend time together as each other's for a night – Yet now, it was slipping away already.

However, it had to be done.

If it was meant to be, they would find their way back to each other. Right now just wasn’t the time.

“So... so... we just wait. Wait, until all of this is over... until we find our way back?”

“Yes.” Jimin nodded, watching Jungkook press his lips into a line as he let out a breath, leaning his forehead against Jimin's again.
The drive back to Busan was very quiet, neither of them really knowing what to say, not finding the right words to tell each other. For a while, Jimin had even pretended to be asleep until he actually fell asleep eventually.

When he woke up again, they were already back in Seoul, familiar buildings flashing by as Jungkook drove closer to Jimin's apartment.

Straightening his back, Jimin pulled on his sleeves, hiding his delicate hands in them as he glanced over to Jungkook.

“Mhm” Jimin only hummed, nodding slightly.

For some reason, it hurt when Jungkook came to a halt in front of his apartment building, engine being turned off after Jungkook had parked.

Then, silence settled between them.

Jimin started to play with the hem of his hoodie, sadness filling his chest when he realised that neither of them knew what was about to happen between them once Jimin left this car.

How long would it take for them to fix themselves? To fix their own lives?

How long would it take for them to find their way back to each other?

What if so much time would pass – causing them not to feel the same anymore?

However, Jimin doubted that. The smaller boy had tried for weeks to get over Jungkook – not succeeding one bit. Then again, he couldn't speak for Jungkook. There was no guarantee that Jungkook would still want him at that point in the future.

All Jimin could do was hope that his feelings wouldn't change.

It became quiet again.

The orange haired boy shook his head, knowing that he had to leave right now or he wouldn't bear to do it later the longer he spend looking into Jungkook's beautiful brown orbs.

“G-Goodbye, Jungkook-ah” Jimin uttered, grabbing his backpack from the backseat, noticing the piece of paper on one of the seats – his eyes lingering on the words for a moment before he turned back around and wanted to open the door.

“Wait” Jungkook stopped him, reaching for his arm and pulling him back, “Can I kiss you?”

Jimin half smiled as he nodded, leaning closer as Jungkook pressed his soft lips against his. It was a gentle kiss, their lips remaining on one another for a moment, trying to save the feeling in their hearts. When they pulled away, it felt like the kiss had ended too soon, their lips gone too quickly.

The smaller boy's smile faltered as Jungkook caressed his cheek, the gentle touch causing his heart to flutter.
It wouldn't get any easier.

He had to go now.

“Goodbye, little one” Jungkook muttered back, watching the small boy hop out of his car and shut the door close.

For his own sake, Jimin didn't look back, not noticing the way Jungkook's head pressed down against the steering wheel as he couldn't bear to watch the only boy he had ever liked this much walk away from him.

When Jimin entered his building, the words from the note echoed in his mind, reminding him that this wasn't over, that they would find their way back to each other sooner than they thought.

I Will Wait For You.

Chapter End Notes

So, what are your thoughts? <3

I hope you can forgive me if my next update is going to take a while, as I posted two chapters today <3
For You... For Us

Chapter Summary

The championship is coming up, causing Jimin to invest himself even more into practicing - nervousness and slight frustration inevitable.
What happens on the big day? What is Jimin going to receive - if anything? Could it be something he hadn't even seen coming?

Chapter Notes

Hii <3

Thank you so much for all the love and support. It really motivates and encourages me. <3

We hit 2000 kudos a couple of days ago and I couldn't believe it when I saw it. I got so emotional because that's way more than I ever wished or hoped for this story to receive. Overall, this story has already received so much more love than I could have ever wished for. Thank you so much <3

I'm really sorry that it took me so long to update. I was busy and then I was dealing with some personal stuff. I'm better now, though <3

I hope you enjoy this chapter, it's a long one again <3

See the end of the chapter for more notes

It was hard.

Having the person that owns your heart confess to you that they feel just the same, receiving a glimpse of what it was like to be theirs just to watch it slip from your grasp so fast was hard.

It hurt. Quite a lot, actually.

It hurt Jimin to the core every single time he remembered Jungkook's desperate eyes upon his suggestion for them to wait before they went any further in their relationship – before they even became an item to begin with.

Right now, Jimin wasn't sure what to call them.

They weren't a couple. They weren't having a platonic thing either. Nor were they just friends.

They were... two people with chaotic lives who owned each other's hearts that weren't ready for each other yet.

Quite a long term. Yet, that's what they were.
Every minute that passed, Jimin kept on wondering if their feelings were going to be the same, whether they were going to be the same once they fixed their messed up lives. To be honest, Jimin was very certain that his own feelings wouldn't change. In fact, even when Jimin had desperately tried to get over these feelings he had failed miserably. Why would that change now?

However, how was he able to predict whether or not Jungkook was going to feel the same after everything? How could he even expect the black haired boy to wait for him at all? Jimin had chosen this situation for them, Jungkook hadn't promised him to wait for him, had he?

Then again, Jungkook had been ready to toss everything away – the contract, the relationship with Seoyun – even risking everything him and his father had built. Wasn't that a sign that he was seriously committed, that he genuinely wanted this – wanted Jimin – so much?

He would wait, then, wouldn't he?

They would wait for each other and find their way back one day.

Yet, Jimin wouldn't blame Jungkook if his feelings weren't going to be the same after all. Honestly, Jimin had considered that option before suggesting for them to wait before they went any further. The smaller boy had thoroughly deliberated over whether or not he should go on with it while the possibility of Jungkook not feeling the same after all existed. In the end, the risk Jungkook would put himself and his father into was simply too big for Jimin. It would have been a selfish act for him to let Jungkook do that – There was no way Jimin would have been able to live with the outcome of it.

It would be Jimin's fault in the end, if he in fact found someone else. However, all Jimin could do was hope that Jungkook's feelings wouldn't change.

“Jimin-ah, lift your chin higher” Hoseok ordered and pointed at the orange haired boy who followed his demand immediately as he continued with the choreography.

Exhausted. Tired. Hurting. Those were just a few fractions of how Jimin was currently feeling due to the intense practice. Hoseok had been utterly strict and demanding these past days – which was understandable considering how the championship was that close.

Evidently, it was necessary for them to give it their all and even more than that. They were working each day for at least eight to ten hours now. Obviously, this wouldn't promise them to win. They could very well end up in the last place even though they put that much work into it and nailed their performance. That's just how it is – The Seoul Championship only lets some of the best be part of their contest.

However, it was so rewarding to even have the possibility to stand on that stage and have all of these people watch you doing something you love, doing something you're good at. Of course, they believed in themselves and knew that they had a chance at winning. Yet, they didn't want to let that thought get to their heads. Too much greed would cause them to fail in the end. Their work ethic consisted of ambition, hard work, gratitude and humility. They were confident in themselves, but Hoseok kept on preaching how they shouldn't have an arrogant mindset. No, rather than that, they wanted to go into the competition with a mindset of them having given it their all and being grateful for whatever outcome it would bring, whatever possibilities might arise for them.

In fact, all this practicing had distracted Jimin from the pain in his chest whenever he thought about him and Jungkook. The smaller boy had completely invested himself in dancing and the championship which acquired all of his attention and energy – There simply wasn't enough time for him to be too sad about their current situation – considering how he still believed that they would be together in some way at the end.
To be fair, they hadn't talked that much at all, actually. Some short texts here and there, mainly consisting of 'how was your day's or 'good morning/night's. There hadn't been much spoken words between them. However, perhaps it was better that way.

Obviously, Jimin missed him a lot, especially knowing how Jungkook felt about him. Every day that past Jimin remembered how beautiful it had been to be called Jungkook's just to have all of that slip away the next day.

Yet, that's what Jimin had chosen.

Then again, he had suggested this situation for the sake of both of them – knowing that right now it simply wouldn't work out between them.

One day, they would be ready for each other though.

“Jimin-ah, you're blocking Dongha-yah. Move more to the right” Hoseok demanded again, causing Jimin to nod as he moved accordingly.

Jimin really shouldn't be too caught up in his thoughts right now.

--------

“We could go and watch a movie?” Dongha suggested once they went over to their bags, practice having come to an end today. The brown haired boy picked up Jimin's backpack for him and handed it over to him, smile on his face as he stared at Jimin with curiosity in his eyes.

“Uhm, I'm actually really tired, Dongha. I'm sorry, but I would love to go and see a movie with you another time. Maybe somewhen after the championship” Jimin declined politely, smiling at the taller one.

“I understand. Well, that's not too far away. I mean, the championship is barely two weeks away” Dongha reminded him, Jimin nodding at the realisation. Time really had went by fast. Soon, Jimin was going to be standing on the stage of his dreams, “Should I walk you home?”

“That's nice of you” Jimin noted, but shook his head, “But I want to go and talk to hyung for a moment.”

“I'll see you tomorrow then?”

“Yes, see you tomorrow”

With that, Dongha already left the room, leaving Jimin behind who walked over to Hoseok.

“Hey, Jimin-ah”

“Uhm...” The smaller boy mumbled, pulling at the hem of his shirt as he tried to look for the right words, “I... I'm sorry for making that many mistakes today.”

Hoseok pulled his eyebrows together, stilling his movement and fixating his whole attention on the orange haired male in front of him, “Jimin-ah, don't apologise” The boy assured, eyebrows raising up at the sight of Jimin's apologetic expression, “Making mistakes is natural. Without them, success isn't possible. The steps are fairly new. I just wish for you to concentrate on your expressions some more. I need you to look pownful.”
The shorter boy nodded determined, “I'm trying very hard, hyung. I'll keep practicing on my expressions and the steps at home. I promise”

Jimin didn't want to disappoint Hoseok or let his group down. They were all in this together. If one of them slightly lacked, it would cause the whole group to be down. That's something they needed to prevent – meaning every single one of them had to give it their all.

“You need to rest, too, Jiminnie. Without rest, you won't have enough energy tomorrow, hm?” Hoseok pointed out, patting Jimin's head, “Don't overwork yourself. Get enough sleep and don’t forget to eat”

The orange haired boy gave a faint nod, smiling at the concern of his friend, yet knowing deep down that he would practice at home anyway because that's just what kind of person Jimin was. The boy couldn't just go to sleep, knowing there was something he needed to improve on.

“How are things going? Are you good?” The taller boy interrupted Jimin's thoughts.

Blinking, Jimin swallowed hard at the questions. To be honest, Jimin hadn't told anyone about his father nor about Jungkook confessing to him. There hadn't really been any time to bring that up, hadn't entirely felt right to bring it up at all. How was Jimin even supposed to start a conversation about that?

Maybe it was better to keep it to himself for now. Essentially, the incidents of that weekend were a lot. So much had happened in the span of three days, causing Jimin to still need time to process all of it himself.

However, Jimin really wanted to talk to someone about his father. Perhaps, give him some advice on whether or not he had made the right decision. Then again, Jimin had received some kind of closure, had been able to put an end to this chapter due to his trip to Busan. Wasn't Jimin the only one who could really determine whether or not this had been the right decision? Evidently, he was the one who was affected by it, had to live with the consequences of his decision. Jimin knew that he wasn't ready to talk to his biological father, but was rather fine with knowing that he was alive and well.

Yet, the smaller boy really wanted to talk to... to Taehyung about all of this. Frankly, he missed their conversations, missed their sleepovers or hang outs at each other's apartments, missed staying up late with him while talking about everything, yet nothing at all, missed sharing every part of his life with his best friend and have him share everything about him, too. To be fair, Jimin simply missed his best friend Tae.

Every day that past, Jimin found himself wishing that everything was the same again. However, life just didn't work like that.

“Huh?”

“Are you okay?”

“Oh, uhm... Yes, I'm good. I'm just really nervous about everything, you know? The competition isn't that far away anymore” Jimin partly lied. To be fair, he was actually very nervous about their performance at the championship.

“I understand. I guess, we all are a bit. Don't be too nervous. We're working very hard. I want us to give it our all, but don't forget to have fun. It's already such an honour to even have made it there, hm?”

“Is there something else bothering you?” The brown haired boy then wanted to know, eyebrows arched up as he stared at Jimin with curiosity in his eyes. Perhaps, he sensed that there were things Jimin was dealing with.

However, would Hoseok understand? Jimin had barely talked to Hoseok about his father, wasn't sure how to bring up the topic of his biological father. Clearly, the boy had his own stuff to deal with right now and Jimin didn't want to bother him with his struggles.

Moreover, Jimin couldn't really talk to Hoseok about Jungkook confessing to him. Obviously, they were very close as they knew each other since they were children. Wouldn't it be odd to talk to Hoseok about this? Perhaps... perhaps Hoseok already knew? You know, about the contract? Jimin couldn't help but wonder whether or not Jungkook had told him about that. Then again, Jungkook wasn't legally allowed to talk to anyone about it, Jimin being one of the few to know.

Essentially, all of the others still thought that Jimin was mad at Jungkook and that they haven't spoken a word since that night at Yoongi's house. Surely, they didn't even assume that there was anything going on between them, let alone that they confessed to each other.

“Have you talked to Jungkook at all? I mean... the last couple of days?” Jimin found himself ask.

Hoseok arched up his eyebrows, clearly surprised by the question, “Jungkook?” The boy echoed as he looked back and forth between Jimin's eyes, “I mean, I do talk to him every now and then. I know that he was in Busan a while ago, somewhen around when you were there I think. He's... well, he's busy I guess. Have you... have you talked at all? I mean, I understand if you haven't. I'm not telling you that you should, I just-... Jungkook is a good kid. He clearly fucked up, but he's not a bad person”

The smaller boy pressed his lips into a line, heartbeat quickening at the mention of them both having been in Busan at the same time. Well, of course they had – They had been there together.

“We... we did talk a bit.” Jimin answered honestly, clearing his throat, “We're trying to work on things”

“Oh?” Hoseok replied, appearing to be surprised, yet happy to receive that news, “That's... that's amazing, Jimin-ah. I'm glad you are. I mean, I don't know what exactly went on between you two, but I'm happy to see you guys trying to fix things”

Jimin hummed as he nodded, feeling slightly guilty for not telling him the whole truth, but Jimin simply wasn't ready for that just yet.

“I'll get going, hyung. See you tomorrow”

“Oh, Jiminnie, see you tomorrow. Remember, don't forget to rest” Hoseok reminded him as he patted his head again.

The shorter male chuckled as he gave a nod before he turned around and made his way outside.

-------

“I think I did this wrong. It's stickung to the pan” Taehyung noted, narrowing his eyes as he tried to stir the vegetables in the pan. The blond haired boy scrunched up his face as he tried to scratch the vegetables from the bottom of the pan, moving his arm with force as a burned smell filled their nostrils, “For fucks sake, I can't even cook some damn vegetables”
“I mean, you did start pretty well” Jimin complimented as he lifted one of the noodles from the plate with his hands, “These aren't too bad” The boy stated as he took a bite, grimacing slightly as these noodles weren't ready at all yet, not as soft as they were supposed to be, “It's nice that you tried”

“Maybe I just have to add some water in order for these vergetables to move” Tae suggested, shrugging his shoulders as he went over to the sink.

Jimin blurred out what he said as he moved around the noodles on the plate, looking around in search for anything edible absentmindedly.

Suddenly, there was a loud hissing noise, smoke coming up from the pan, startling both boys.

“Tae!” Jimin exclaimed, rushing over to his friend and pulling him away from the mess as some water splashed up. In a swift action, the smaller boy moved the pan away from the stove, the burning smell even worse in the room now.

“Oh my god” Tae breathed, shaking his head as he leaned on the counter, “I'm cursed. I think the fucking pan just burned up!”

Jimin turned the stove off, letting out a breath as he glanced at his friend, “It's not your fault. I mean, we both are pretty... bad at cooking. At least you tried. The noodles are... okay”

Tae looked up in hope, taking one of the noodles from the plate and putting it in his mouth. It took a second for him to scrunch up his face in disgust as he spit out the food back onto the plate, “These are disgusting. How did I fuck up some damn noodles?”

For some reason, they couldn't help but start laughing, the situation somehow very absurd. They should have known that something like this would happen, considering how they're both extremely clumsy and can't cook at all.

“I guess” Tae sighed and nodded as they moved over to the sofa, “I really wanted to cook for us, though. I thought I improved, but I figure I have to practice some more then. I'm sorry for almost burning your kitchen”

Jimin giggled as he sat down beside Tae, shaking his head at him, “No need to apologise. Remember when I totally ruined your pot once? I still don't understand how that even happened. I guess we should stay far away from stuff like that”

Tae chuckled as he gave a nod, glancing at Jimin.

The blond boy smiled back shyly, staring down at his lap.

“I wanted to make something special as we haven't hung out much since... well, you know” Tae stated, nibbling on his bottom lip, “Thank you for spending time with me even though it didn't work out the way I intended. I wish I was a better chef”

Well, that was true. They haven't hung out that much since their fight at Yoongi's house. Of course, they had seen each other when they had tried to fix their relationship, had went to dinner together with Hoseok a couple of times, yet they haven't hung out just between them since that night.

Taehyung had suggested it, had knocked on his door as soon as Jimin had arrived home. The blond boy had appeared to be kind of shy, playing with the hem of his shirt and scratching the back of his neck as he stumbled over his words. Perhaps, he had assumed that Jimin might turn him down, that Jimin might refuse to spend time with him alone.

However, Jimin had missed Taehyung a lot, had missed spending time with him alone, causing him to figure that maybe it was time to give them a chance again, see how things work between them.

So far, it almost felt like before all of that chaos, felt like nothing like that ever happened between them that caused them to be rather distant. As soon as Tae had entered his apartment with too many things in his hands, dropping stuff every now and then and cracking jokes right away, it had felt like that was his best friend that had never actually left.

Then again, the damage had been done, they had been somewhat distant for the past weeks. Frankly, that had been necessary for Jimin's sake essentially, yet probably for Tae as well. It had given them time to reflect on everything and take all the time they need to fix.

Of course, they weren't magically healed, but they were on a good way.

Jimin's heart clenched at the words as he turned his body towards Taehyung, “Don't apologise, Tae. I'm thankful that you suggested this. I'm happy to have you here and spend time with you. Even though the cooking part didn't work out that well, it was kind of funny” Jimin admitted, giggling slightly which caused Tae's eyes to light up, expression changing to a relieved one, “I know you aren't the best chef, neither am I. I'm not mad at all. I'm actually happy, really, Tae. Let's just order some food”

“Hoseok and I actually plan on going on vacation somewhen after the championship. You know, just for a couple of days, maybe just a weekend or something like that” Taehyung revealed, Jimin's eyebrows arching up as he chewed on the food in his mouth.

“Oh? That sounds great! Where to?” The smaller boy asked once he swallowed his bites down.

“We're not sure yet. He always says how he wants to take me to Gwangju one time so we might go there. He really adores that place”

“Hyung really needs and deserves some vacation after all of this. Truly, he works so, so hard for us.” Jimin noted, sighing as he thought about all of the hard work Hoseok puts into the practice for the championship. The orange haired male really wondered how he even had time for anything else, “Do you even spend that much time currently?”

Taehyung pouted as he shook his head, “Not that much. We talk on the phone everyday or facetime when we can't meet in person, but we try to see each other at least once a day. I'm falling more and more for him each day so it's getting harder to be apart of him, you know?”

Jimin gave a nod, half smiling as the image of Jungkook popped up in his head, “I understand how you feel. It's difficult to not be able to spend that much time with someone you really, really like, especially when your feelings are that huge for that person.”

Tae hummed as he took another bite from his food, letting out a sigh once he swallowed it, “I've never felt like this for anyone”

The shorter boy smiled, “Do you think you love him, Tae?”
Taehyung blushed at the question, causing Jimin's smile to deepen, “I... I... I've never felt this strong affection towards anyone. I mean, I thought I've been in love before, but once I got out of the relationship I always wondered if that even was love at all. Hosoek hyung makes me feel like no one else ever did. Whatever this is, I don't want it to end, ever. Just thinking about him brings a smile to my face and warms my heart. Just everything about him is beautiful and I want to wake up next to him everyday if I can. This must be love, don't you think?”

“The way you're describing it, it's definitely more than just a strong bond of affection. I've never been in love myself, so I can't really... I mean, I don't think I've been in love or am in love. I do like Jungkook a lot, but how do I know whether or not it is love?”

Tae's eyes widened as he opened his mouth in shock, “Like?” He echoed, “So you still... you still like him? That much that you think it could be love?”

Jimin's heart skipped a beat, “O-Oh... I mean, well... I don't think it's love. I'm just wondering when you can even know that you love someone? How does love feel like?” Jimin clarified, trying to distract Tae from the fact that he had revealed his current feelings for Jungkook that still haven't changed.

Obviously, Tae didn't know anything about Busan or the confession from Jungkook either, probably still assuming that they didn't talk at all.

“That's the thing. There isn't a formula for love. I guess, no one can tell you what exactly it feels like. You will know when you do, though. You will know when you love someone once it happens.”

Jimin hummed as he gave a nod, noticing how Tae studied his face. It was almost as if he wanted to say something, but tried to hold himself back. However, apparently, he didn't succeed.

“Minnie? May I ask you something? I mean, I don't want to cross a line here and it's none of my business, but where were you that one weekend? You were gone for two days and I didn't know whether something happened to you or not. I even talked to Hoseok hyung and asked him what I should do, but he told me that you were fine and just taking care of some personal stuff. I was relieved to know that you were well, but I couldn't help and wonder what it is that you took care of. Are you okay? Did something happen?”

“Oh” Jimin uttered, having not expected that question at all, “I... I was out of town.”

“You were? Where did you go?” Tae asked in interest.

Now was the opportunity to talk to Tae about everything, but was Jimin even ready for that? Was he able to share all of that with Tae just yet? Swallowing hard, Jimin cleared his throat as he pulled his sleeves over his petite hands, furrowing his brows as he tried to search for the right words, make up his mind whether or not to be honest with Tae.

“Busan?” Taehyung echoed, jaw hanging down in utter shock, “You went back to Busan?”

“I did” Jimin confirmed, nodding as he leaned against the backrest of the sofa, “It was more of a spontaneous decision? As soon as I found out, I basically packed my stuff and left for Busan a day later”

Jimin bit down on his tongue, wanting to slap himself for not choosing his words more carefully.
Taehyung appeared to notice his discomfort, quickly shaking his head as he placed a hand on Jimin's arm.

“Sorry, you don't have to answer”

“It's honestly way too surreal to talk about. I still haven't fathomed all of it completely, if I'm being honest. A lot of stuff happened on that weekend.”

“Nothing bad, I hope? Did you get hurt?”

Well, if you don't count Jimin's heart breaking after deciding to stay away from Jungkook for a while – No.

“Uhm, no... no, I didn't get hurt.” Jimin stated, shaking his head before he caught his bottom lip between his teeth, “Tae, something really weird happened. I never would have expected anything like that”

“What is it?”

Jimin couldn't prevent himself from talking, his heart wanting to share the information with his best friend.

“I... I have another father”

Tae's jaw dropped, eyes widening as he turned his body towards Jimin, “You- what?”

“I have another father, Tae. The man that raised me isn't my biological father” Jimin clarified, watching Tae trying to process the information, eyes rushing back and forth between Jimin’s.

“Oh my god, Minnie. How did you find out? Did you meet him? What's he like?”

“I did meet him, but... but I didn't tell him who I was. I couldn't. Somehow, the words just didn't want to come out of my mouth. I think just seeing him was enough for me. Tae, he appeared to be such a nice person. Like, he was the complete opposite to my father.”

“You didn't tell him who you were? Did he recognise you?”

“I don't think he recognised me even though there was a hint of recognition in his eyes when I smiled. Perhaps I just imagined that. The thing is, I don't even know why he didn't raise me. I don't know if he even knows about my existence, you know? It just didn't feel right to ruin his quiet life like that”

“Are you ever going to tell him?”

Jimin bit on the inside of his cheek, glancing down at his lap, “I don't know. Right now, I'm not ready for that. I'm content with having seen him, but that might change. Maybe I will wake up one day with the desire to let him know about me.”

Taehyung fixated his gaze on Jimin, stare intent as he processed all of the information he had just received.

“This is crazy. Who would have thought that?” The blond one breathed, shaking his head as a smile appeared on his face, “I'm happy for you, Minnie, that there is a relative of you out there that's not an asshole like your father was”

“Thank you” Jimin murmured, half smiling, “It almost felt like a burden was lifted from me when I found out and saw him. Knowing that the mean and manipulative man that raised me wasn't actually related to me felt... felt good, almost relieving. Just makes me wonder about the whole story, you know? Was I adopted then? Did my father know that we didn't share the same blood because that would explain his hatred towards me, don't you think?"

“I guess you can only find out once you talk to your biological father. I'm really curious about the whole story, too, but I totally understand why you decided not to talk to him yet. Take all the time you need”

Jimin smiled as he gave a nod, letting out a sigh briefly after, “I can't stop smiling for some reason every time I think about him. He has his own family. He even has a little daughter, Tae. Doesn't that make her my sister?” Jimin's eyes lit up at the realisation.

“It does. She's your half sister then, Minnie.”

“I always wanted sibling when I was younger. I've never actually had them, though. Well, that was until I met you and Yoongi hyung. You are like my brothers”

Taehyung smiled brightly, fondness and maybe even gratitude glistening in his eyes at Jimin's choice of words, referring to Taehyung as his brother in the present tense – meaning that he still considered Tae to be that close to him.

“I'm always gonna be your brother. I'm always gonna be there for you, Minnie, no matter what happens.”

Jimin had found out very quickly that the term 'family' wasn't only reserved for people that were related to you, for people that shared your blood – No, family could very well be people that you chose to be part of your family because they're that important, that special to you, because they make you feel like you belong together, because you love them.

“Thank you, Tae”

“I love you”

“I love you, too” Jimin responded as Taehyung wrapped his arms around him, hiding his face in the curve of Jimin's neck as they held each other in a familiar way that spread warmth through both of their bodies.

Taehyung was part of his family.

--------

“Are you sure you're doing that right, Tae?” Jimin commented, titling his head to the side as he observed Taehyung.

“I am. Don't worry, Minnie, I've done this a lot” Tae defended himself, shrugging his shoulders as he brushed his own hair out of his face.

“A lot? You've done this twice, Tae-ssi. One of the times on your own. And, honestly, when you did it to Jimin, that didn't really go as planned now, did it?” Yoongi pointed out, eyebrows arched up as he tried to lock eyes with Tae who pouted and pushed Yoongi's head back straight ahead.

“To be fair, the colour did look good in the end even if it was the wrong one” Taehyung murmured, “Also, why did you ask me then if you didn't trust me, huh?”
Yoongi and Jimin chuckled at Taehyung defending himself while pouting as he squirted more hair dye onto Yoongi's head.

Yes, Taehyung was dyeing Yoongi's hair – upon his own suggestion you should know. The older boy had asked them to come over just to hang out, yet mentioning how he had planned on dyeing his hair and wondering whether or not Tae would be up for doing it as he had done it before. Tae had agreed immediataly, bringing all the necessary stuff with him.

That's what they were currently doing now – well, Tae and Yoongi were doing. Yoongi was sitting on a chair across from Jimin who had taken a seat on the sofa, Taehyung standing behind Yoongi while dyeing his hair.

It was the complete opposite to his dark hair, having chosen a very light colour. Blond. Yoongi wanted to dye his hair blond – or rather, was currently having his hair dyed blond.

“I do trust you, Tae-ssi, you're doing good”

Taehyung hummed at the praise, glancing at Jimin who giggled at his proud expression.

“What about you, Minnie? Are you thinking about a hair change, too?” Taehyung then wanted to know as he massaged the dye into Yoongi's hair.

“Me? No, I haven't... Why would you ask?”

“I don't know. The championship is coming up and I'm pretty certain that you will do well, new doors opening for you without a doubt. I thought that you might want to try another colour, too.”

Actually, Jimin had thought about it, if he was being honest. The events of the past months and the big championship coming up were all kind of big moments in his life, having somewhat influenced him and his personality, the way he approached certain situations. Certainly, Jimin wasn't the same person anymore he was when he dyed his hair orange. Clearly, the difference wasn't that major, but it was still there, causing him to consider a change in his hair colour.

“I... Well, I kind of considered it, but I don't even know what colour I would choose”

“Mhm” Tae hummed, contemplating, “Would you go back to a rather regular choice or would you want something more... unique?”

“Unique?” Jimin echoed, figuring that Tae already had a colour or several colours in mind.

“Yeah. I know you wanted hazel before, but you ended up with orange which – if you'd ask me – is a rather unique hair colour. Of course, that wasn't your choice, but you totally made it your own and you liked it in the end, didn't you? That's why you stuck with it. I feel like it even increased your confidence a bit which made me really happy. I feel like another unique colour would look good on you. Honestly, I'm pretty sure you can rock any hair colour”

Jimin smiled slightly, catching his bottom lip between his teeth, “I don't know... I do love the colour I currently have even though I was hesitant at first. Every change is going to make me question it at first, but I'm sure I'll grow to like it quickily. Do you have something in mind already?”

“Well, the championship is coming up and I would love for you and hyung to stick out, you know? Of course, black or brown hair looks wonderful, but most people are going to be having that colour of hair. I want them to remember you. Obviously, we want them to remember you for your dance, but giving you a unique hair colour with a bold choice might make it easier for them to remember you, for you to stick out and catch their attention”
The smaller boy's eyes lit up, interested in Tae's suggestion. Clearly, Jimin wanted to be remembered for his dancing skills, but another unique choice of a hair colour surely would help catching people's attention.

It was odd. How Jimin usually wasn't one to enjoy that much of attention in a room of people, yet all of that changed as soon as he started dancing. In those moments, he just became someone else – someone who was fearless, confident and unapologetic. In those moments, Jimin felt free and just let go of everything else. There was only him and the music. In those moments, Jimin loved attention, loved seeing people in awe when he danced, loved watching their eyes light up when he made eyecontact with them. Those were rare moments in which Jimin didn't feel nervous or anxious. Dancing... performing... those were his safe places.

“I don't know which col-”

Suddenly, someone rang the bell at the front door, startling Jimin who shut up at the sound. Jimin drew his gaze back to Yoongi who stared over his shoulder at him.

“Are you expecting someone?” Taehyung wondered, “Uuuh, is it Hoseok hyung?”

“No” Yoongi denied, causing Tae to pout again as he massaged more hair dye into Yoongi's hair, “Did one of you order food?”

“Jiminie, could you please check who it is?”

The orange haired boy nodded as he got up onto his feet, Taehyung starting to ramble about how he missed Hoseok while Jimin walked over to the front door.

Once he opened the door, his heart stopped.

There he was. The boy of his dreams. Literally. There hadn't been a day going by where Jimin hadn't dreamed about the black haired boy lying next to him, holding him close in his warm embrace.

Jimin swallowed hard, caught off guard by seeing Jungkook after they had decided to stay away from each other for a while.

Oh, how his heart fluttered at the sight of the boy, oh how it clenched just the same. It was a bittersweet sensation. His heart was happy to see him, jumping up and down like crazy and calling for him, yet also clenching when it remembered that they weren't each other's, but were trying to stay away until they were right for each other.

During the past days, their conversations over texts hadn't increased at all, rather slowed down. Most of the time, it was just a 'good night' – which felt wrong and hurt slightly, but they both knew that the more in contact they stayed, the more their hearts were going to call for each other – just making all of this harder.

Of course, there had been days where regret had washed over Jimin, causing him to wish that he had never suggested them to stay away, but deep down he knew that it had been the right choice. Jungkook would put too much on the line, would risk way too much. The smaller boy would never forgive himself, if he lost all of that just for him.

“J-Jimin-ah” Jungkook breathed, clearly surprised to see Jimin here as well. His beautiful brown eyes were wide in shock, mouth slightly agape as he fixated his gaze on Jimin, taking all of him in as if he was scared to watch him disappear again.
“Who is it, Minnie?” Yoongi called from the living room, drawing Jimin out of his trance and back to the reality.

Jimin cleared his throat, averting his gaze as he frowned, “Jungkook-ah!” He yelled back.

Suddenly, there was rustling, a loud thud echoing as if someone had fallen to the ground accompanied by Taehyung’s laughter before a cursing Yoongi rushed towards them, holding his elbow as if it hurt.

“Did you just fall down?” Jimin wondered, smiling slightly as he tried to contain his giggles. However, Yoongi didn't pay him any attention, but had his stare fixated on the taller boy in the doorway.

“What's going on with your hair?” Jungkook asked, smirking in amusement as he pointed to the top of Yoongi’s head – hair dye very visible.

“Jungkook-ah, what are you doing here?” Yoongi wanted to know, ignoring his previous question.

“Oh, uhm, you said you needed help? Yesterday, remember? You told me to stop by whenever I have time” Jungkook answered, scratching the back of his neck.

“Fuck, yes, sorry, I just didn't expect you to come today.” Yoongi stated, shaking his head as he glanced over to Jimin with apologetic eyes.

Of course, Yoongi thought that Jimin hated Jungkook even though that was so far from what was actually going on.

“Uhm, I don't think right now is such a good time, Jungkook-ah, Jimin and Tae are here” Yoongi murmured.

“Oh, yeah, I understand. Just text me when I can-”

“I don't mind, hyung” Jimin interrupted, looking at Yoongi who seemed surprised at Jimin talking, “In case you're doing this because of me. I really don't mind, hyung. I don't hate Jungkook. Also, he is very busy and so are you. If you two have time right now, you should use it”

“Are you sure?” Yoongi and Jungkook asked in unison, glancing at each other as they noticed before they drew their attention back to Jimin who nodded determined.

“I'm sure. Come on in. Hyung, you have to let Tae finish your hair. It shouldn't rest on your head for too long”

Yoongi nodded as Jungkook stepped inside, taking off his shoes while the oldest boy hurried back into the living room.

Jimin only stared at him, blinking as he took in his beautiful features. It was almost as if he was caught in yet another trance, only able to look at the gorgeous black haired boy. A mere stare by Jungkook caused Jimin’s heart to flutter, the low tone of his voice sending a shiver down his back.

“Jimin-ah?” Jungkook uttered, waving his hand in front of Jimin's face which startled him, causing him to shake his head and draw him out of his thoughts.

“I-I.. Oh, uhm, Tae is dyeing hyung's hair”

“Oh, is he?” Jungkook muttered, eyebrows arched up, “Hopefully, it’s the right one this time?”
Jimin giggled, a smile appearing on Jungkook's face at the sight and sound, “Yes, it's the right one this time. Well... at least I think so”

“Where are you guys?” Yoongi shouted from the living room, “You better not be killing each other!”

The joke caused both of them to smile. Perhaps, Yoongi had sensed that things were somewhat better between them. Obviously, he didn't know to what extend, but that didn't matter.

“Come on” Jungkook urged and they walked back into the living room.

Taehyung glanced up at the new guest, eyes dark and essentially trying to kill Jungkook with a stare. Of course. Taehyung still thought that Jungkook had lied about being in a relationship with Seoyun, was mad at him for hurting Jimin the way he had. Well, there was a lot more to it, but they couldn't straight up tell Tae about that. Jungkook simply wasn't allowed to talk about the contract.

That damn contract. Jimin just wanted it to be over, wanted Jungkook to be free again. Not only so they could try to be together, but for Jungkook's own sake. Surely, his mental health must be affected by this, by having to lie like that and maintain a fake relationship.

“Hey” Jungkook greeted.

“Hey” Tae responded, hint of suspicion in his voice as he drew his attention back to dyeing Yoongi's hair.

Jungkook and Jimin shared a glance, but averted their gazes from each other as they went over to the sofa.

“What's he doing here?” Tae wanted to know.

“I need help with something and Jungkook offered to help me”

Taehyung hummed as he nodded, glancing at Jungkook again as if he had to watch over him, check every now and then what he was up to.

This was going to be an awkward afternoon...

---

Taehyung and Yoongi were upstairs, rinsing out the hair dye together while Jungkook and Jimin were waiting in the kitchen and making some drinks and food.

“Hyung hasn't been grocery shopping in a while, I guess” Jungkook noted once he had opened the fridge, revealing a few things to eat.

“Hmm” Jimin mumured as he scanned their options, “Let's just make some sandwiches” The boy then suggested, Jungkook nodding as he picked out some cheese, salad, ham and butter while Jimin got the bread and tomatoes.

They haven't exactly spoken much while Tae had continued dyeing Yoongi's hair, keeping a rather awkward silence between them while Yoongi had tried to lead the conversation. Frankly, neither of them knew what they should say.

“How are things going in the company?” Jimin wondered, voice quiet as he spread some butter with a knife on a piece of bread.

Jungkook glanced at him before he opened the cheese and placed a slice on the bread, “Good. It's... yeah, it's good. What about you? How is practice going?"

Jimin hummed as he put a piece of salad and some ham on the bread while Jungkook washed up the tomatoes before cutting them in smaller slices, “It's exhausting, but a lot of fun as well. It's not that long until the big day. Hoseok hyung is working the hardest. He stays even after all of us leave and watches us practice again and again in case there was a mistake he didn't catch. He truly is a perfectionist even though he tells us to just have fun. I think, he just doesn't want to burden us”

“Yeah, sounds just like hyung. I hope you rest enough? Don't forget to eat a lot and sleep, Jimin-ah, hm?”

Jimin smiled shyly, nodding at Jungkook's concern about him.

“I'm trying to rest as much as possible. I just don't want to fail, you know?” Jimin uttered, voice a little softer by the end of his sentence as he placed another piece of bread on top of their creation to finish the first sandwich while Jungkook already started the next one.

“You're not going to fail, Jimin-ah. No matter what happens, you've already won. To even get the chance to stand on that stage is a huge accomplishment. You can be proud of yourself.” Jungkook insisted, fixating his gaze back on Jimin.

The smaller boy bit down on his lip and nodded, “Thank you, Kook-ah”

Jungkook smiled at the nickname as he continued making the sandwich while Jimin cut the one in front of him in half, “We gotta try our work” Jimin pointed out as he lifted one half of the sandwich up to his mouth in order to take a bite.

The younger male looked at him expecantly, eyebrow arched up while Jimin chewed on the food.

“It's good” He commented as he lifted the sandwich up to Jungkook's mouth. However, his gaze was fixated on Jimin's lips, lifting his hand once Jimin had chewed down the food in his mouth.

“You've got some…” Jungkook whispered, thumb running over Jimin's bottom lip to wipe away whatever it was that had stuck to his lips.

Jimin's heartbeat quickened at the touch, swallowing hard as he looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes. Almost simultaneously, Jimin dropped the sandwich on one of the plates without a care while Jungkook leaned down to him.

There it was again. That stupid-no, that wonderful fluttering thing his heart did whenever Jungkook was near, was looking at him, was touching him in some way – emotionally or physically. Right now, his soft lips where lingering above Jimin's, reminding him of how good it felt to be kissed by the black haired boy.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin breathed against his mouth, lifting his own hands, but clenching them into little fists rather than touching Jungkook.

The taller boy pressed his forehead against Jimin's, taking in Jimin's delicate features and his soft little breaths as he started to get more desperate.

“I miss you, Jimin-ah” Jungkook uttered, reaching out to brush some strands of orange hair out of Jimin's face, “So much”

Jungkook traced his fingertips over Jimin's cheeks, causing a shiver to run down his back.

“We shouldn't” Jimin's responsible side spoke up, yet he didn't move an inch away. Evidently, he didn't want to listen to that side right now even if he knew that it was right.

The black haired male nodded, pressing a gentle kiss against Jimin's forehead before he pulled away, “I'm not gonna touch you until you're mine again”

The whine that escaped Jimin was actually embarrassing, causing Jungkook to smile fondly.

However, it was probably better that way. Touching each other or even just feeling each other's lips again would remind them of what they were missing – just making all of this so much more difficult.

“Okay” Jimin murmured, nodding as he turned towards the counter again.

“I don't think hyung is that fond of the colour” Taehyung sighed as he walked into the kitchen, startling Jimin who took a step away from Jungkook as if they had been caught doing something they shouldn't – although they had simply stood next to each other.

“Why, what happened?” Jungkook wondered, seemingly not affected by Taehyung's sudden appearance at all as he made another sandwich.

Tae leaned against the wall, watching over Jungkook and Jimin with narrowed eyes as if he was on to something, “Nothing particularly. Hyung just looked into the mirror and said that he doesn't like it. I told him to wait until we blowdried his hair. Perhaps it's just like with you, Minnie. I'm sure he will grow fond of it eventually. Personally, I think it looks really good on him”

Jimin hummed as he gave a nod, “It's just because it's a change. I'm sure in a couple of days he will like it more. I can't wait to see it, though! Where is he?”

“Still upstairs and blowdrying his hair. He'll come down once he's finished. What are you two doing?”

“Sandwiches” Jungkook answered, handing one over to Taehyung.

The blond boy eyed the food in his hand before he turned towards Jimin. Take it’ Jimin mouthed to him, feeling bad for Jungkook who was trying to be nice. However, Tae probably still hated Jungkook for what he did to Jimin.

Taehyung rolled his eyes, but eventually took the sandwich from Jungkook's hand, “Thank you” He muttered under his breath before he took a bite, “Do you need any help?”

“No, I think, we're good” Jimin answered and shook his head while cutting the next sandwich in half.

Tae nodded, “It's good” He then complimented as he lifted the bread in his hand, “I'll go and see if hyung needs me to style his hair or something. Unless you want me to stay, Minnie?”

His best friend looked at him with concerned eyes, causing Jimin to swiftly shook his head, “No, it's fine. We're almost done.”

“Alright, I'll be right back”

Once Tae was out of their reach, Jimin glanced at Jungkook with apologetic eyes, “I think he's still mad at you. I wish I could tell him”
“We can tell him once it's over.”

“I just don't want him to hate you”

“I don't mind that he treats me like that. At least it shows me that he will protect you and that's a good thing. I can handle this, don't worry” Jungkook assured the smaller male who pressed his lips into a line and nodded.

It didn't take that long for Yoongi to be finished with his hair and for Jimin and Jungkook to have prepared enough food for them all. They settled back in the living room, Yoongi somehow a little shy with his new hair colour, causing Jimin to compliment him a lot. At first, Jimin was a little shocked as soon as he saw the new hair colour. It was definitely something he had to get used to as it was such a contrast to his previous dark hair.

Honestly, though, it actually looked really, really good. Jimin loved how it looked at him, how he made it work. However, Yoongi didn't seem to share that thought just yet. Perhaps, it was just the fact that he had never dyed his hair before and that it was a difference to his usual dark hair that made him a little uneasy.

“You will grow to love it, hyung, you look really good” Jimin reassured the oldest one who took a bite from his sandwich.

“I guess I just have to get used to it”

They hummed in unison while eating their meal.

Yoongi started a conversation about his current project that him and Namjoon were working on, drawing all of their interest as he beamed about his work. It was beautiful to see him being happy like this.

Once they had finished their food, it was time for Tae and Jimin to go so Jungkook could help Yoongi with whatever he had asked him to come over for.

“See you soon. Thanks for stopping by and for dyeing my hair, Tae, you did a good job” Yoongi praised and ruffled through Tae's hair, the boy smiling bright at the compliment.

“See you soon, hyung, don't work too hard”

Yoongi gave a nod before he drew his attention towards Jimin who had been glancing at Jungkook standing in the doorway of the living room – only watching the three close friends say goodbye at the front door. Clearly, he felt like he shouldn't disturb the moment.

“Minnie, thanks for hanging out with us today. I know you're really busy and... well... he haven't hung out like this in a while” Yoongi uttered, voice a little quieter and softer as if those words were meant just for Jimin to hear – which, they were.

Jimin smiled shyly as he wrapped his arms around the older boy, pulling him closer while Yoongi hugged him back tightly – as if he was scared to let go. It was just like the hug he had greeted him with just some hours ago – so much meaning and emotion behind it, like he was trying to tell Jimin something.

“Love you, Minnie” Yoongi whispered and ruffled through Jimin's hair, mirroring the same action with Tae again, “Love you, Tae-ssi”

“Love you, too” The two boys uttered in unison.
Then, Jimin fixated his gaze back onto Jungkook, Yoongi and Tae following his stare and looking back at Jungkook as well.

“Should I drive you home?” Jungkook suddenly suggested.

“Oh, no, thank you” Jimin declined, blushing slightly as Tae arched up his eyebrows beside him, “We like walking home. The weather is still nice”

“Exactly” Tae agreed, hint of suspicion in his voice, “Goodbye, Jungkook” Tae murmured out of politeness as he crossed his arms over his chest.

“See you soon, Jungkook-ah” Jimin muttered softly, waving his tiny hand which caused Jungkook to smile slightly.

“See you soon, Jimin-ah, Taehyung-ssi”

Taehyung looked slightly bewildered by Jimin's goodbye- rather his choice of words - yet didn't say anything as they stepped outside. Yoongi waved after them, telling them to eat a lot and call him whenever they needed him.

“See you, hyung!” Tae yelled back once they were at the street, waving back.

As soon as they were out of reach, Tae huffed, making it known that something was bothering him.

“What's wrong?”

“Was Jungkook- I mean, what was that? Is he still bothering you? Don't let him do that to you, Minnie. I can beat him up if you-”

“Tae” Jimin giggled and shook his head, “Stop wanting to beat up everyone that you think bothers or hurts me. Please, just leave it be. I can't tell you more, but just trust me with this one. He's not a bad person, I promise you. He has a good heart. Give him a chance”

The blond boy raised up an eyebrow, “What happened during the past weeks? What did he do to you? He cheated on his girlfriend while playing with your heart and I-”

“Nothing. Please, Tae, I promise you. He's not manipulating me or anything like that. I know what I'm doing. I trust him. I... I lik- I know where his heart is. He's a good person. I can't tell you more. Just trust me on this one and give him a chance”

Taehyung pursed his lips, deliberating over Jimin's words. Eventually, he let out a sigh, “I mean, I don't know why you seem to trust him again, but I know how it feels to receive a second chance and how grateful that made me feel. I guess, I should just trust you when it comes to him and give him a chance, too. Yet, it's not that easy as I clearly don't know what you know”

“One day, I'll tell you. Just not now.”

“Okay, Minnie. Do whatever you think is right. I'll support you”

Jimin smiled as Tae wrapped his arm around him.

“But I'll still fuck him up if he hurts you again”

The smaller boy giggled as he shook his head.

--------
Well, it didn't take that long for everything to crumble again, for Jimin to get hit by another truck and watch everything come crashing down.

The next days went by quickly. Time went by that fast as Jimin completely invested himself into practice because with each day passing, the championship moved a little closer.

It was just another night after practice, Taehyung sitting on his sofa, eyes fixated on the TV as he watched a movie while Jimin got them some snacks from the kitchen. As Jimin walked back over to his best friend, feet padding on the soft rug beneath him, the blond boy glanced at him as if he wanted to tell him something.

However, he didn't.

That went on for the whole movie, both eating their snacks while watching, yet Jimin caught Tae glancing at him every now and then. Eventually, Jimin stared back at him, eyebrows arched up as he was irritated by the constant glimpses the boy took at him.

“What's wrong?” Jimin wondered, slight concern in his voice as it now appeared that something was making Tae feel uneasy.

“Huh?” Taehyung murmured, gaze fixated on the TV as if he was completely focused on the events in the film, “Oh... uhm... nothing”

“You keep staring at me. What's wrong? Something is up, Tae, I know you. Did something happen between you and hyung?”

“No” Tae quickly clarified, shaking his head, “No, we're fine. It's just... I was just wondering... Have you been talking to Jungkook recently?”

The question caught Jimin off guard, causing him to almost choke on the food in his mouth as he ended up coughing, “We... uh, no, not really” The boy answered, trying not to appear too suspicous, yet failing miserably as Tae arched up his eyebrows.

To be fair, Jimin wasn't entirely lying there with his answer. Jungkook and him weren't exactly talking much. Actually, they hadn't texted in a couple of days... Both too busy or perhaps too scared that they would end up missing each other too much?

Jimin didn't know what the reason was. At first, he didn't think much of it. It started with Jungkook not texting much anymore, Jimin the one to initiate the 'good night' texts – which he didn't mind, honestly – Well, that was until Jungkook decided not to text back, leaving Jimin hanging on a read which had actually hurt a bit. Of course, Jungkook had a lot of stuff going on, but was a simple 'good night' really too much to ask for?

What did that imply? Was their little break increasing their distance? Obviously, both of them had wanted to stay away from each other – But not like this. Not... not entirely.

It hadn't taken long for Jimin to wonder whether or not Jungkook wasn't interested anymore... was done with waiting for Jimin... didn't feel the same anymore. Perhaps, he didn't want Jimin anymore, had gotten sick of this staying away thing.

It wasn't exactly easy on Jimin either. Clearly, he wanted to be Jungkook's so much, but not as long as he was bound to that awful contract. Jimin was determined to wait until Jungkook was out of that, was a free man again so they could be together. Genuinely, his feelings hadn't changed at all, no, they only grew and became stronger whenever another day went by.
“Jimin-ah?” Tae interrupted his thoughts, startling Jimin.

“Huh? I... I said we're not talking much or... or at all, really. Why are you asking?”

“Oh, just... just because I was wondering. Never mind” Taehyung brushed off the topic, looking back to the TV as he took a sip from his drink, eyes hinting at him hiding something.

“What is it? What do you know?” Jimin wanted to know, voice quiet and perhaps even a little vulnerable.

“I don't... I don't know anything, Minnie. I just overheard something, but I don't know if it's true. We don't have to talk about it. I don't want to start any rumours if they're not even confirmed”

The words scared Jimin, heartbeat quickening.

“What did you hear, Tae?” Jimin asked.

“Minnie, really, let's not-”

“It's about Jungkook so tell me” The smaller boy insisted, impatience rising as he stared at his best friend who clearly regretted bringing it up at all.

“I didn't exactly say it's about him, I just-”

“Why would you ask me whether I still talk to him then? Just tell me, Tae. I want to know”

“It's not that big of a deal, really, it might not be true. Apparently, it's supposed to be printed in our magazine soon, but I wouldn't expe-”

“Tae, just say it”

“Okay, okay. I'm sorry. Apparently- so... so supposedly, well, you know how Jungkook and Seoyun are a thing? I overheard that he proposed to her. They're both going to move back to Busan soon”

Jimin's heart stopped, facial expression staying the same because he simply wasn't able to react to the information. To be honest, it took a while for his brain to process the words, heart clenching once it did. Then, Tae's words were ringing in his head, so much louder, amplified in the silence of his mind.

“W-What? They're engaged and they're moving to Busan?”

“Again, it's just- You know how people love to spread gossip.”

It was another one of those moments. You know, the ones were time literally stopped for you. Jimin didn't know what to say, didn't know what to think, what to believe, what to do.

Jungkook was moving back to Busan? Jungkook was engaged to Seoyun?

Oh please, let all this just be some stupid rumours.

Then again, there was only one way to find out.

Swiftly, Jimin got up from his seat, rushing towards his bedroom.

Without another word, Jimin shut the door close behind himself before he rushed towards his phone and picked it up.

I'm sorry – Jungkook

Jimin's heart skipped another beat. The message was only a couple of hours old. Why was Jungkook apologising? The only explanation was that Taehyung was right, that what he had heard was true and Jungkook was now apologising because the news were going to spread and be public soon.

Involuntarily, tears started to swell up in Jimin's eyes as he pressed onto Jungkook's name on his phone display, bringing the object up to his ear and waiting for the black haired boy to pick up.

“Minnie, are you okay?” Taehyung called through the door, knocking softly on it, “Please, babe, open the door. What's wrong? Let's talk about it”

“Not now, Tae, please, give me five minutes. I'll be out in the living room again after” Jimin replied. Silence.

“Okay, Minnie”

Then, someone picked up the call on the other end.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook uttered through the phone, “Now is not a good time. I have to be in a meeting in about-”

“You lied” Jimin interrupted him, voice breaking.

There was silence for a moment, rustling on the other end as if Jungkook was moving somewhere. Then, it was completely quiet on the other end. Perhaps, Jungkook had moved into an empty room.

“Lied about what, Jimin-ah?”

“When were you going to tell me? Were you going to wait until I receive the news through a magazine again, hm? Is that how you want that stuff to drop on me?”

“Shit” Jungkook cursed, “You... you found out already?”

Jimin shook his head, “When were you going to tell me? On the day you leave?”

“I... I didn't know how to tell you, Jimin-ah.”

So it was true.

“You're engaged with her and you're moving back to Busan?”

“You told me not to end it with her. You were the one who wanted us to stay away from each other. I'm just doing what you asked of me to do” Jungkook defended himself.

“I didn't mean this! I didn't mean for you to move across the country, Jungkook-ah! That's... that's insane. You said you didn't want to get engaged to her” Jimin responded, voice vulnerable as he paced around the room.

“It's not real, Jimin-ah, you know that. I didn't actually propose to her”

“Well, you said you wouldn't agree to do it. Now, you did. So what am I supposed to believe?”
Jimin pointed out.

Why had Jungkook agreed to do it when he had been so opposed to the idea back in his bedroom in Busan? Wasn't Jungkook the one who had wanted to end everything for Jimin and now he was even renewing the contract? How were they supposed to ever be together that way?

“I told you that I don't have a say in this. I'm bound to this contract”

“How in the world are you going to come out of that without damage to your reputation? You have to pretend for at least a couple of more months to not make it seem suspicious. Worst case scenario, you have to actually marry her. That's insane, Jungkook-ah, you do know that, don't you?”

“They're going to find a way to end it. This is just some PR shit, Jimin-ah. They do stuff like this all the time.”

Jungkook seemed so calm, like this wasn't actually such a bad thing. For Jimin, his world was currently being torn apart yet again. The boy that held his heart was supposed to be engaged to another woman and pretend to be such a wonderful couple with her to the world while being somewhere far away from Jimin.

What if they actually fell for each other after sharing such an insane experience together, after having to spend so much time together?

Jimin's stomach twisted at the thought, the boy actually feeling like he was getting sick.

Yet, wasn't this Jimin's fault? He had decided this for them... he had told Jungkook not to end his contract for him... not to risk his career for him.

That was still something that Jimin didn't want. No, clearly, he didn't want Jungkook to ruin his career or even worse – his whole life. However, he hadn't meant for the boy to move that far away from him and deepen the bond to his fake girlfriend.

The last string of hope, the last glimpse of belief that they would find their way back to each other quickly slipped through Jimin's grasp, the small boy only able to watch it slip away.

“Jimin-ah, are you still there?” Jungkook drew him out of his thoughts.

“Why move to Busan though?” Jimin found himself whisper, not trusting his own voice right now, was sure that it would break if he spoke any louder than this.

“My father wants me back there”

“Who is going to run the company in Seoul then?” Jimin wondered, confused by his father's request.

“Him”

Wait, what?

“That doesn't make sense. Why would you switch?”

My father wants to run the company from here because he's going to close the one in Busan so we“ can both put our focus on this one. Long-term it doesn't really make sense to run the company from two places, you know? As long as he settles down here, I'm going to run the company in Busan until "he's ready to close that one

“How long would that be?”
“A couple of months, up to a year maybe. Depends, really”

“Depends on what?”

“On how long he needs to get all the stuff done. It's not an easy task. He has to think about what to do with the employees, whether he's going to keep the building for training or is going to sell it, you know. There's a lot of stuff to do”

“A-A year?” Jimin echoed, sitting down on the edge of his bed as he didn't trust his wobbly legs.

That was so... so incredibly long. So much could happen in the span of a year...

“At most. At least a couple of months, though”

“When are you leaving?”

“We haven't chosen a specific day yet, but I'm sure somewhen this month, very soon.”

“A year... That's so long, Jungkook-ah”

“You didn't want me to end the contract so I didn't. I'm just doing what you asked of me, Jimin-ah. You wanted this break for both of our sakes and I'm just respecting that and giving you space.”

“I didn't mean it like this, Jungkook-ah. I didn't mean for you to leave town and go live across the country for a year! I meant a couple of weeks, two or three months at most - However long it would take for us to heal and for your contract to end. You were the one telling me that it wasn't that long anymore until it was over. That's why I suggested this. I wanted us to find our way back to each other once you were out of your contract and we were ready for each other”

Jimin felt so... so hurt and defeated. There was nothing he could do to stop this, but watch and let it happen right in front of his eyes. The black haired boy was going to move so far away from him and live his own life, without him for several months. There was no way he was not going to forget about Jimin.

“I can end it, if you want me to, Jimin-ah” Jungkook suggested, tone so soft.

“No, I don't want you to end it, Jungkook-ah. I don't want you to ruin what you built with your father” Jimin answered, voice breaking as a tear dropped down on his chin.

“Well, then what do you want me to do, Jimin-ah, because I can't keep up with your cryptic words. I wanted to end it for you, but you didn't want me to so I stuck with it. Now you get mad at me for exactly that and here I am suggesting it again, but you still don't want it? Make up your mind, Jimin-ah” Jungkook replied, seemingly frustrated by Jimin's behaviour.

“I'm not mad at you for sticking with the contract. I'm just... I... You renewed it, didn't you? You renewed it, I know you did. You told me it wouldn't be much longer and that the engagement wasn't part of the original contract so you definitely renewed it. Why? Why would you do that?” Jimin wondered, voice soft even though there was a storm inside of him, “You clearly made up your mind already. You chose that life, you chose the industry and the money, the PR you will receive.”

Silence for a moment.

“That's not fair Jimin-ah, you know that's not true. I... My father promised me that it wouldn't be for that much longer and that it would be over after that – for good, you know. I just agreed because you and I were in a break anyway. If it bothers you, I can end it, okay? I will do it for you, Jimin-ah”
It was a constant back and forth. It didn't make sense to Jimin why Jungkook would agree to something like this when he had been so opposed to the idea and had even suggested to end the contract then and there.

Yet, of course he would agree to it again once his father requested it from him.

“No” Jimin declined, voice a little angered, “I don't want you to do it for me, Jungkook-ah. Don't you see the problem? You don't want to end it for yourself, but because you think it makes me angry or... or it hurts me. I don't want you to do anything like that for me, but for yourself. If you want to keep doing it, don't end it. I don't want you to throw anything away for me. If you ever decide to end the contract, do it because you want that, because you no longer want to be lying”

“I-”

“You do all of that for other people, but when do you start thinking about yourself? When do you give your heart a chance and take care of yourself first?”

Suddenly, there was another voice in the background.

“Jimin-ah, let's talk about this later, okay? I have to be in a meeting. I don't want to discuss this over phone. Let me come over to your place later or I'll pick you up and we can talk at mine”

“No, there is nothing more to say, Jungkook-ah. You've clearly already made your decision. You wouldn't have renewed the contract if you didn't. You chose the industry, your career and that's fine. I'm not mad at you for doing that, for... for choosing that life and the contract. Don't end it for me, but start thinking about what you want to do for once, what actually makes you happy.”

“Jimin-ah, no, plea-”

“Don't... don't lose yourself in all of that” Jimin whispered, “You're a good person, Jungkook-ah. Don't lose yourself in that industry”

With that, Jimin hung up the phone, tears finally streaming down his face just as Tae opened the door and entered the room.

There was empathy in his eyes as he approached Jimin, taking a seat next to him and pulling him into a tight hug.

--------

Jimin never checked. You know, about the publication of the news of Jungkook being engaged and moving back to Busan. The orange haired boy stayed as far away from any kind of magazines as possible – begging Taehyung not to share any of it with him because he honestly couldn't deal with that right now.

Jungkook was going to move back to Busan with Seoyun while Jimin was still practicing and getting ready for the championship. Frankly, Jimin didn't need, neither wanted he to be distracted by that right now.

However, it did.

There was so much hanging on the line here for Jimin. One of Jimin's aspirations in life was to become a dancer that could move people with his art, that could put people in awe, was to become a dancer that loved dancing, that was healed by it, because it was his safe place. Evidently, Jimin associated so much with dancing and he didn't want to watch all of that crumble.
The dream of standing on that huge stage and receive some more opportunities, doors that would open for him, chances that would arise – all of that was something Jimin was hoping for.

It was so close now. The actual event almost in his reach. Jimin could practically feel it in his grasp, yet everytime he thought about Jungkook – it slipped out of his grip.

Hoseok noticed, too. Scolding him more than usual, more than any of the other students.

“Jimin-ah, lift your chin” The brown haired boy insisted, pointing towards the shorter male who was breathing heavily and gave a nod as he obeyed to to the request.

“Jimin-ah, you're blocking Haewha again. Move further to your left” Hoseok ordered, now scowling at Jimin as it had been his fifth mistake in the past hour. Obviously, all of them were getting impatient, more nervous with the championship being a mere week away.

Of course, Hoseok continued emphasising how he was proud of them and that he just wanted them to have fun, that they were going out as winners no matter how the results were going to be. However, the brown haired boy had worked so hard these past months and it was frustrating to see his students make that many mistakes so close to the big day. The frustration was understandable.

Jemin felt sorry, yet he couldn't help his stupid heart and brain thinking about Jungkook every now and then and how far away he was going to be – with Seoyun at that. While playing pretend with her who could assure Jimin that they weren't going to get closer and grow feelings for each other. Essentially, they were only going to have each other during that time.

“Jimin-ah, you missed the beat again!” Hoseok interrupted Jimin's thoughts, turning the music off as he let out a sigh.

All of the students were breathing heavily, chests rising and falling quickly as they drew their attention to Hoseok who looked more disappointed than anything.

Jemin blushed as he caught the other students glance at him, feeling ashamed for his mistakes and sorry for causing this inconvenience. The most frustrating thing was that Jimin knew that he had this choreo in him, had danced to it so much now, even at home. Essentially, he was even capable of dancing to it blindly, during rain, with the music so quiet he could barely hear it because that's how much the steps had become a part of him at this point.

Yet, apparently, his only distraction was Jungkook.

“Let's start from the beginning again” Hoseok announced, everyone getting into their position while Hoseok's gaze was fixated on Jimin.

The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, glancing at Dongha who rolled his eyes at him.

Ouch.

What was that about?

Perhaps, Dongha was mad at Jimin, too, for postponing their practice and for making that many mistakes. Perhaps he was caught up with Jimin's slip ups – Jimin couldn't blame him, couldn't blame any of his fellow members or Hoseok at being annoyed at or disappointed in him.

Then, the music started, Jimin trying to blur out everything else and focus on the melody of the song as he moved his body.
“Is everything okay?” Jimin wondered, voice quiet as he wiped away the sweat from his face, staring at Dongha who didn't make eyecontact with him. The other students were leaving already, practice having come to an end.

“I'm fine, but you aren't, I guess” Dongha responded, something mean and accusing in his voice that caused a shiver to run down Jimin's back.

“What do you mean?”

“It's nothing, really. It's just- Have you practiced enough? I mean, all of us make mistakes, but we can't afford that many mistakes that close to the competition. The choreography should be set in stone at this point, no more flaws whatsoever. You've been lacking the past days when it came to dancing. Whatever it is that's causing you to make that many mistakes, fix it”

Jimin pulled his head back as if Dongha had physically hurt him. The words stang, causing Jimin's heart to clench as he stared at the taller boy.

“I'm sorry, I'll fix it, I promise. It's just... I've some personal stuff going on-”

“We all have personal stuff going on, Jimin” Dongha interrupted him, venom in his voice that startled Jimin. This was so out of character, catching Jimin off guard. Was Jimin's behaviour really that reprehensive? “Doesn't give you an excuse to mess up the choreography this much at this point”

“I told you that I'm going to fix it. I'm sorry for lacking, I'm trying really hard. I'm trying to focus on practice, but I always get distracted by... by...” Jimin couldn't say it. The words didn't want to leave his mouth. Perhaps, he was scared of Dongha judging him.

“By what?”

“I will work on it, okay?”

“Whatever. You better not mess this up though because this means a lot to me and I don't want everything to be screwed over just because you can't get your shit together”

With every word that left Dongha's mouth, Jimin's heart stang a little more. It hurt to have his friend talk like this to him – for something Jimin really had no control over. His heart simply didn't work like that. Jimin couldn't just turn it off and magically make all of his feelings disappear.

“What happened to you?” Jimin uttered, voice vulnerable, “I thought you were my friend? This championship is important to me, too, okay, Dongha? I've dreamed about this all my life so it's not fair o-”

“Are you sure? You would have your shit together at this point if it was. I'll see you tomorrow”

With that, Dongha left, leaving back Jimin who reached up to his chest as if he was able to soothe his heart like that.

It hurt.

“Jimin-ah” Hoseok called out, drawing Jimin's attention over to him.

Somewhat frightened, Jimin approached his friend, head hanging low as he was scared of looking into Hoseok's disappointed face and listen to his words that would hurt just like Dongha's.

There was no time for processing the previous situation, processing Dongha's words wholly and try to fathom why he had reacted that way when he had been so different these past months.

“Jimin-ah, look at me” Hoseok insisted, grabbing Jimin’s chin softly and guiding his face up in order for them to lock eyes, “What's wrong, huh? What's bothering you?”

The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip as he felt it wobble, averting his gaze and staring off to the side.

“Nothing, hyung.”

“Jimin-ah, I want to help you. I can't help you unless you tell me what's wrong” Hoseok uttered, voice so much softer than earlier, so much softer than Dongha’s.

“You can't help me, hyung. It's just... there is a lot going on right now that's affecting me. I'm trying to blur it out, but it's not working. I'm sorry that I'm distracted. I'm sorry for... for disappointing you” Jimin apologised, voice breaking.

“Min-ah, how could you ever think that I'm disappointed in you?” Hoseok asked as he closed his arms around Jimin, pulling him into a tight hug, “I'm just worried about you. Usually, you didn't make that many mistakes. You were one of the few who had the choreo set. I just want to know what's holding you back so I can help you with it. I don't want you to not enjoy this or be distracted in any way. I see your potential and I want you to shine next week”

Jimin sniffed, giving a slight nod as he hid his face in the curve of Hoseok’s neck.

“I don't want to let you all down. I promise I will work harder”

“I can already see that you're working hard, Jimin-ah. You can work as hard as you want, but if there is something that's hurting you right now, something you're struggling within your heart with – it's just not going to work out like that.”

The shorter boy bit down on the inside of his cheek, nodding.

“Do you want to talk about it?”

“I don't know, if I can” Jimin whispered.

“I won't judge you. I don't want to force you either. I might not be able to help you with it, but sometimes it helps to simply share your struggles with someone else, hm?”

Jimin sniffed again, giving a slight nod.

Just like when Tae had held Jimin in his arms when the boy had cried in his bedroom after the call with Jungkook, Jimin didn't know what to say.

“What's wrong, Minnie? Please, talk to me” Taehyung begged after minutes of silence, Jimin crying against his chest.

The orange haired male tried to calm himself down, taking deep breaths in order to relax. Unfortunately, he only ended up hiccupping as more tears streamed down his face.

“Minnie, please”

“It's- It's Jungkook-ah. I just talked to him. You're right. He is moving to Busan and... and that engagement stuff is true, too”
"Oh" Tae muttered, caressing Jimin's back in a comforting manner, "Why does that... I mean, why does that make you so sad?"

"Because I like him, Tae" Jimin revealed.

"I know you do, Minnie, but you were trying to get over him, weren't you? If you allow me to talk about this, I feel like the distance might do you good, don't you think? It will help you get over him as you're that far apart and will give you a chance to start all over again. I know you said you wanted to give him a second chance, but you're clearly not over him yet. I don't think you can try to be friends with him and forgive him for what he did to you while you still have feelings for him, Minnie."

"No, Tae, you don't understand. I still like him – even more than before. We... Tae, he confessed to me on that weekend we were in Busan. He feels just the same about me, but I wanted us to wait because... well, because of something I can't tell you about. I thought we would be together soon – we were willing to wait for each other – but now he's moving so far away with her and I just don't– How can I know that he won't forget about me? He's going to be so far away from me"

"Wait, what? He was with you in Busan?"

"Tae, that's not the point right now! The point is that the boy that has my heart is moving across the country with another girl!"

There was empathy in Taehyung's eyes and eventually a flash of comprehension as if he only now fathomed the whole situation.

"Oh, Minnie" He whispered, pulling Jimin closer again, "I'm so sorry"

"It's... just... " For some reason, the words didn't want to leave Jimin's lips, something preventing him from speaking about it.

"Take all the time you need" Hoseok encouraged, brushing Jimin's hair out of his face.

The smaller boy couldn't do it. Everytime he looked at Hoseok he didn't just see his close friend, his dance teacher or his best friend's boyfriend – No, he saw Jungkook's childhood friend. What if Jungkook hadn't talked to him about moving to Busan yet? Jimin really didn't want to break that news to him before Jungkook did.

Was he even going to tell anyone? He clearly hadn't planned on telling Jimin...

What if he was already gone?

He would at least say goodbye, wouldn't he?

"I'm sorry, hyung, I... I can't talk about it. I'll get over it, I promise. I'll focus on practice and I won't make mistakes again. I won't let you down"

Hoseok half smiled, empathy in his eyes as he patted Jimin's head, "Minnie, don't contain your grief and sorrow, don't deal with it on your own. That's just gonna hurt you even more. Try to talk to others so you can get over it, hm?

"I did talk to Tae about it... I'm not alone with it, hyung, it's just that I'm sad because I can't do anything about it"

I can't ask him to stay, the boy almost wanted to say, barely stopping himself. That would be selfish of Jimin to do. Jimin didn't want him to move that far away, yet he didn't want to be a burden to Jungkook either – didn't want to stand in the way of the path that Jungkook chose for himself. Jungkook had chosen his father, his career and the contract. It hurt Jimin, but if that's what Jungkook wanted to do, there was no way Jimin could ask him to stay.

Yet, Jimin wanted nothing more than to be Jungkook's again. Even though the black haired boy had torn his heart apart again, it was still his. Jimin wanted him to stay more than anything, wanted them to find their way back to each other.

However, Jimin couldn't say that to Jungkook – would feel way too guilty about Jungkook throwing all of that away for him.

Jimin wanted to support Jungkook's decision, but it still hurt to know that he hadn't chosen Jimin – that he had backtracked on his own decision because he thought Jimin wanted that, because he thought Jimin would ask him to do that.

That's not what Jimin wanted, though.

Yes, he wanted him to stay, but... but because he had a reason to stay – a reason that was strong enough for him to make that decision himself.

It was a constant battle between Jimin's brain and his heart – one part urging him to beg Jungkook to stay and end the contract, while the more sane part tried to make him understand that he had caused that situation upon them and that he should support Jungkook in his doing.

It was hard. All of it.

“Maybe dancing can be your escape. I know you love to dance and that you enjoy it, but the past days it feels like it's more of an obligation to you, like you have to prove something or like you don't want to let anyone down. If you don't feel ready for the competition or don't want to be a part of it anymore, just let me know. I won't be mad, Jiminnie. I'm always going to support your decision. Yet, if you do choose to stay, try to find your joy in dancing again. Don't let your struggles hold you back from something you love to do. Remind yourself of why you wanted this so much, why you love to do this. Let dancing be your escape. Don't do it for me or the others, do it for yourself.”

The words did something to Jimin, warmth spreading through his chest as he reminisced about the times dancing had been his escape before. In those dark times, music and dancing had been able to pull him out of his daily life and give him a safe place.

“Hold onto that thought. Keep thinking about the reason you started dancing and why you're doing it.”

Jimin shut his eyes close, an image of his grandmother appearing in front of him – cheering for him and telling him how proud she is of him, encouraging him to go on.

“Whatever you're currently struggling with that you can't do anything about – don't let it control you. Think about if there's really nothing you can do and if there isn't, just let it be. The universe works in strange ways sometimes. In the end, whatever is supposed to happen, will happen”

Jimin smiled lightly, wrapping his arms around the older boy again.

“Thank you, hyung”

Hoseok pulled him close, resting his head on top of Jimin's as he rubbed over his back in a soothing manner.
“Now go home and rest. You need all your energy tomorrow, hm?”

“I will, hyung. Thank you”

--------

Jimin's hands were shaking, legs wobbly as he inhaled deeply, palms becoming sweaty the closer the big moment came.

“We're having an interview in ten minutes” Hoseok announced as he stepped back into the dressing room, “They want us to introduce ourselves so they can play the clip before our performance”

Some of the students squeaked in excitement whereas Jimin swallowed hard, his nerves getting the best of him. There was no way Jimin could talk during an interview right now.

“Guys, get ready, we have to move to another room for the interview” Hoseok yelled through the dressing room.

All of the others rushed around, finishing their looks while Jimin sat in the corner, legs moving up and down in an anxious manner.

“You can do this” The smaller boy murmured to himself, “Practice went well these past days. You can do this. Concentrate on the music and your steps”

That was true. Listening to Hoseok's advice, Jimin had focused on the reason he had started dancing whenever they practiced – causing him to not make any mistake anymore as he wasn't occupied with worrying about – you know.

Yes, Jimin wasn't going to say his name. Obviously, that was just going to open up the wound again and he really couldn't deal with that right now. Their big performance was just hours away now.

The smaller boy glanced up at him before he averted his gaze. To be honest, Jimin had avoided Dongha the past days after the boy had hurt him with his words. Several times, Dongha had tried to start a conversation with him, but Jimin had refused to talk to him.

“Thank you” Jimin murmured, not capable of being impolite as he turned away from the taller boy.

“Hey, Chim, I didn't mean-”

“Guys, we have to leave now, come on, hurry” Hoseok announced, clapping his hands together as he rushed everyone to the door.

Jimin got up on his feet, not sparing Dongha another glance as he followed the crowd outside for the interview.

---

“Nice hair” The cameraman complimented Jimin once they were done with the interview. The shorter male blushed as all of the others turned around to stare at him.

“Thank you” He muttered shyly, quickly walking back into the dressing room.

The interview actually went well. They all just introduced themselves – their names, where they were from and where they knew each other from. Hoseok explained how their performance came about and what the audience could expect – the interviewer emphasising how millions of people all over Korea were going to tune in tonight, causing Jimin's stomach to twist.

Hopefully, he wasn't going to throw up before their performance - or even worse during their performance.

Jimin settled back down on the chair in the corner of the room, nibbling on his bottom lip.

"Should I curl your hair for you, Jimin-ah?" Haewha offered once she approached the smaller boy, "I think it would look really pretty to have them slightly waved"

For a moment, Jimin contemplated, figuring that at least he would be a little distracted from his anxiety then.

---

"Jimin-ah" Hoseok called for him once Jimin's hair was done, the boy watching himself in the mirror and quickly growing fond of the look. All of it was so... soft. Somewhat a contrast to how parts of their choreography was going to be like, yet fitting just perfectly to another.

"Yes, hyung?" Jimin answered after he thanked Haewha for styling his hair.

"Come here for a sec"

Nodding, Jimin walked over to his friend. Hoseok smiled brightly at him, praising how Jimin looked which caused said boy's cheeks to flush as he thanked him quietly.

"You, too, hyung" Jimin complimented genuinely, Hoseok's brown hair slightly waved as well.

They were all dressed in black and white, wearing loose opened button up shirts above a white shirt with black skinny jeans – Those button up shirts were going to come off later as part of their choreography. Jimin was a little scared about that move, having bumped into Dongha quite often during practice last week.

"The guys are here. Let's say hi before we all have to move to our seats" Hoseok suggested.

Jimin's heartbeat quickened, slightly fluttering at the thought of all of his friends coming and supporting them today.

Hoseok grasped his wrist gently and pulled him out of the dressing room. Jimin was about to ask where they were going to when his eyes fell on his group of friends – all gathered in a small circle, chuckling about something – presumably a joke by Jin if you'd ask Jimin.

"Hey, guys!" Hoseok greeted them, drawing their attention to them as they spun around with smiles on their faces.

"Hoseok-ah! Jimin-ah!" Jin called out as the group approached them, Yoongi and Tae each holding a bouquet of flowers in their hands.

There was joy, happiness and love spreading through Jimin's chest as he hugged each of his friends who came to cheer for them today – taking time out of their busy schedules for them.

"Thank you for making it, guys" Jimin thanked them once he had hugged Namjoon.
Yoongi smiled brightly at him as he was the next to hug, handing Jimin the bouquet of flowers before he pulled him into a warm embrace, “I'm so proud of you, Jiminnie. I can't wait to see you dance again.” The older boy whispered in his ear, causing Jimin to smile shyly once they pulled apart.

“Thank you, hyung”

“I chose the flowers!” Tae announced after he had placed a kiss on Hoseok's cheek, approaching Jimin to give him a tight hug as well.

“Yes, Tae had insisted on gifting you pink flowers.” Namjoon chuckled, “He was very determined on that one. We had to drive to several shops for that’

“Oh my god, that wasn't necessary, really, I would have loved any kind of flowers” Jimin assured, smelling on the bouquet of flowers in his hands and shutting his eyes close as the scent reminded him of a big flower field Taehyung and him used to play and run around on when they were younger.

“Roses, violets, lilies and-”

“Daisies” Jimin finished Tae's sentence, recognising the familiar piece of flower.

“Like the ones that-” Taehyung tried to explain, yet stopped himself in the middle of his sentence.

The ones that used to grow in the park next to the adoption center where Tae and Jimin really met for the first time.

“Thank you, guys” Jimin thanked them again, giving Tae a meaningful smile and nod as he pulled him into another hug.

“Man, Tae, you were right. It fits perfectly. Good choice” Namjoon commented, pointing at the bouquet of flowers, “Now I get why he was so persistend on getting pink flowers”

“Because of his hair colour” Taehyung noted, smiling brightly as he observed Jimin's hair, “I can't get over how good it looks on you.” Tae grinned, “Oooh, who styled it for you? I love the slight waves”

“Haewha did – a girl from our team. I actually like it a lot.”

“Are you guys nervous? You must be” Yoongi wanted to know, chuckling at the end as he answered his own question.

“I'm a little nervous, actually, but I know that we will do well” Hoseok answered, Taehyung waddling back to his side and wrapping his arm around his boyfriend.

“I feel... sick. I don't know, I'm really, really excited, but also nervous. Thank you for coming, though, seeing you actually calmed me down a bit” Jimin responded, his friends giving him encouraging smiles.

“You're going to smash it, I know you will” Jin uttered, giving Jimin's and Hoseok's shoulders little squeezes.

“We'll be in the crowd, cheering you on. I will scream the loudest, I promise!” Tae grinned, jumping up and down in excitement.

Hoseok chuckled, pressing a peck against Tae's temple which seemed to calm Tae down as he stilled his movement, a shy smile appearing on his face, “Don't scream too loud. I won't be able to hear your pretty voice if you do. That would be a shame as we'll finally have more time for each other again after today, hm, sunshine?” Hoseok murmured, causing Tae to grin as he pulled his boyfriend in for a kiss.

The others just stood there, smiling at their friend's affection for each other. Well, that was until they started to full on make out, the others grimacing and turning away. Jin made a disgusted noise which wasn't genuine, but still caused him to receive a swat from Namjoon who scolded him for being rude.

Jimin giggled and shook his head, letting his gaze wander down the hallway – looking for something... or rather someone else.

Of course, Jimin couldn't deny it – couldn't deny the slight fibre of hope blooming inside of him. Hope, that another person might appear...

No, that would only cause Jimin to be distracted. That's not something he could handle right now – not this close to their performance.

“He's not coming” Yoongi revealed, voice quiet and soft so only Jimin could hear him.

The disappointment and sadness Jimin felt upon hearing those words was actually a little embarrassing. Here he was telling himself that he didn't want to see the boy because that would only distract him, just for his heart to be sad at the realisation that he actually wouldn't appear tonight.

Yet, Jimin couldn't help those feelings.

“W-Who?” Jimin asked as if he didn't already know.

“Jungkook-ah” Yoongi answered, squeezing Jimin's shoulder gently.

Perhaps, he's already in Busan?

“Stuck in a meeting” The older boy told him. It was a little scary how Yoongi seemed to be capable of reading his mind.

That meant... that Jungkook had wanted to come – maybe? Unless Yoongi was just saying that because he didn't want to hurt Jimin's feelings... After all, Jungkook had told him that he would join them for the competition back then during that opening ceremony of Jin's parents' hospital. However, maybe he had forgotten.

Jimin hadn't reminded him as they hadn't talked at all for the past days. It wasn't that unlikely that Jungkook didn't remember what day it was and that he had promised to come.

Maybe, it was better this way.

“The show is about to start soon. We should get ready and take our seats then. You should already go find your seats in the audience” Hoseok urged, pressing one last peck against Tae's forehead before they pulled apart.

“Good luck” Tae smiled before he jumped over to Jimin and pulled him into another hug, “I'm so proud of you, Minnie, proud that you have the courage to do this and have become more confident in yourself and what you're capable of. This is what you've dreamed of. You're going to do well, I just know you will.” His best friend whispered into his ear, pressing a kiss against his temple that caused Jimin to smile, yet to push his friend away at the affection.
“Thank you, Tae”

Yoongi closed his arms around the smaller boy, too, rubbing over his back in a comforting manner, “If you're scared upon seeing that many people in the crowd, just find my eyes in the room. Look at us. Imagine we're the only people there so you're a little less anxious, hm? Good luck, Minnie”

“I will, hyung, thank you”

Once they pulled apart, Namjoon and Jin gave Hoseok and Jimin a group hug, all of them chuckling as Tae and Yoongi joined them into one big huddle.

“Good luck, guys, we're proud of you” Namjoon uttered.

“Thank you, now go” Hoseok urged as they pulled apart, laughing while waving his hand around and gesturing for them to go take their seats, “We'll see you later”

“We're definitely going to grab dinner after this to celebrate – no matter what the results are going to be!” Taehyung insisted, all of them nodding in agreement.

“Why?” Namjoon wanted to know, voice slightly whiny as he rubbed over his upper arm – the spot
Jin had just hit him.

“They're dancers- I don't- You shouldn't tell dancers to break their leg!” Jin reasoned.

Namjoon chuckled and shook his head, “Babe, the saying applies to dancers as well. That's just a wish for them to do well.”

“It sounds like bad luck to wish dancers to break their legs” Jin huffed, shaking his head as he stared at Hoseok and Jimin with apologetic eyes.

The two just snickered, “It's fine, Jin. Thank you, Namjoon.”

“Now, go” Hoseok urged again.

Eventually, they nodded and waved at the two dancers, making their way down the hallway while yelling back at them – assuring them that they're going to do well and that they're proud of them.

“I hope we won't get in trouble” Hoseok murmured, waving to their friends as they took a turn to their right – no longer in their sight, “Actually, no visitors are allowed to see the performers behind the stage, but I know someone from the security and was able to have them sneak past. I thought it would be nice for us to see them before we're performing. I hope that's okay and didn't make you more nervous?”

Jimin smiled, shaking his head as he felt the warmth still there in his chest due to seeing his friends.

“No, I needed this. I feel less anxious now. I'm really grateful that they're here to support us”

“They're beautiful people. Now come on, Jiminie. We've got a performance to show”

---

Jimin's heart was pounding fast against his chest, palms sweaty as he clapped for the contestants on the stage once they were done with their performance, some people screaming very loudly for them while others just clapped politely.

Honestly, Jimin was intimidated by everyone's skills, by their potential and their abilities to perform. There had been seven groups already – each one so different, yet somewhat similar in their approach to dance. They focused on letting the whole group dance all together – not giving individual members time to shine - which was very different to Hoseok's approach who gave every single one of them a time to express and show their individual potential and let every one of them have their own moment.

That's why Hoseok was such a great dancer and teacher. He had spent hours and hours getting to know his students, figure out what their strengths and weaknesses were and build the choreography around that. Any individual moment each one had was designated for that specific member – enhancing and really emphasising their skills.

Not that the other groups weren't good. They were amazing – that amazing that Jimin was actually very intimidated. It was just something that set Hoseok apart from the other dance teachers because he focused on individuality as well as a great group dynamic and performance.

"Don't be nervous, guys" Hoseok encouraged them, observing the dreadful faces of some of his students, "Don't be intimidated. They're all good. We knew that from the start. None of them would be here if they weren't. Just think about how much hard work we've put into this and have fun up there. That's all that matters"

They nodded even though it was difficult not to be a little frightened at least.

Jimin couldn't help but wonder if not coming first place was actually enough for Hoseok. Frankly, he had spent so much time on this – has created this choreography and taught it to them, making changes everytime some particular sequence just didn't fit that well. After weeks and weeks of tiring practice, after shedding their blood, sweat and tears they were finally here.

Was losing really alright for Hoseok?

Yet, Jimin could see it in his eyes – the joy, excitement and pride of being here. That's when Jimin knew that this experience itself was rewarding enough for Hoseok. The boy was grateful for even having made it up to here and be able to share his and his dance crew's potential with the country.

This was everything Jimin had dreamed of – and more. Genuinely, he was grateful and proud of being here. Of course, he would love to win, but attaching something you do... or claiming your success or own value to charts, to numbers or prizes would cause you to lose your joy and love for that exact thing – because once the numbers and prizes stop rolling in, so will your passion and the value you put onto yourself and that's not something Jimin wanted to live by.

“We're up soon. We should probably start to go backstage, right?” Dongha asked.

“Don't worry. The staff will come and tell us when we should go backstage” Hoseok answered.

While the people next to him conversed, Jimin looked back over his shoulder, trying to find his friends. The contestants were seated in the front of the arena, right by the stage, whereas the audience was seated behind them, only some slight space between them.

It didn't take long for Jimin to find his friends, Tae waving like a madman once he spotted his best friend searching for them. The smaller boy blushed as other people glanced at him – trying to figure out who that blond boy was waving at.

Bashfully, Jimin lifted his hand and waved back, smiling shyly as his friends grinned at him, giving him their thumbs up.

“Follow me, you're up next” A woman suddenly voiced, causing Jimin to snap his head back around, watching the others get up to their feet – including Hoseok.

Oh.

The next performers came up to the stage, lights turning low again and pointing towards the stage while Jimin got up to his feet as well, following after the others.

It was an unique sight – a pink head inbetween shades of brown and black – Jimin definitely stood out with his hair colour.

Once they were behind the stage, that's when Jimin's nerves really started to kick in. From his current location he had a good view on the stage, the audience and the several cameras that were scattered around the room in order to capture every move, every change in expression and – unfortunately – every slip up.

There had only been one slip up so far, a girl having bumped into one of her fellow members, causing her to fall down. If you’d ask Jimin, it wasn't such a major mistake as she got up immediately, yet the judges hadn't seemed impressed but rather disappointed – one sighing and shaking his head as he made some notes.

In response to their reaction, Jimin had gulped, stomach twisting at the thought of making a mistake himself that clearly wouldn't be forgiven.

The arena itself was intimidating – one of the largest ones in Seoul, filled to the brim with people wanting to watch, wanting to support and perhaps wanting to judge. There were huge screens at the sides of the stage, making it possible for everyone to watch the performance intently and catch the slightest movement.

“I think I'm going to throw up” Jimin whispered, placing his hand on top of his stomach as he scanned the large room.

The people on the stage were in the midst of their performance, the intent stares of the judges fixated on them. They didn't say anything after any performance, but rather took notes and discussed among them. It was only after everyone had performed, when the results were going to be announced, that they were going to state their opinion on the performances.

“You've got this” Hoseok reassured him, giving his shoulder a little squeeze as he showed the smaller boy an encouraging smile, “Remember to have fun out there.”

Jimin nodded, swallowing hard as he glanced at the audience again. Some people appeared to be bored – perhaps due to the fact that they have been watching eight performances now. The cheers decreased with every performance as well – polite applause being the only recognition.

Maybe the audience was just more... well, reserved. Maybe they acted accordingly to the significance of this event and thought that cheering would be unwanted.

However, some cheering would actually encourage Jimin.

“Two minutes!” A staff called out, a shiver running down Jimin's back at the realisation.

So many emotions were running through his body – a mixture between excitement, anxiety, relief, nervousness and... and joy, pure happiness, pride. Jimin was so grateful to be here, was reminiscing about the times his grandmother had watched him dance and had encouraged him to fight for his dream.

It was so close now. Jimin wasn't just reaching for it anymore, but it was right at the tip of his fingers, almost in his grasp.

The performance came to an end, the group lingering in their ending pose as the audience applauded them, some screaming in excitement for them. Soon after, they left the stage, clearing it for the presenter who introduced the next performers.

It was their turn now.

“Your introduction video is going to be played in sixty seconds, get on the stage and take your starting poses” One of the staff members announced, once the presenter was gone.

For a moment, Jimin couldn't move.

It felt too unreal to truly be here right now.

However, Jimin was grabbed by Hoseok, forcing the smaller boy to follow him.

Quickly, they rushed on to the stage, cheers being heard throughout the room, amplified by the architecture of the building – making it impossible not to find his group of friends in the crowd as they screamed loudly in support. The people around them glanced at them with confused expression, perhaps a little scared due to the very outgoing reaction of his friends. His friends were really something else.

Unconsciously, Jimin smiled once he found them in the audience, Taehyung up on his feet and waving around with his hands until the person behind him scowled at him and presumably told him to sit down.

In response, Tae stared back at him annoyed and apparently started to argue – both boys glaring at each other with dark eyes. Fortunately, Yoongi was there to pull Tae back by his shirt and force him back down to his seat, whispering something to him that caused Tae to cross his arms over his chest and nod.

Jimin chuckled, the shaking of his body stilling as his friends gave them a thumbs up. The pink haired boy got down on his knees, getting into his starting position while still letting his gaze wander over the crowd.

All of these eyes were fixated on them, catching every single move, judging every single step. The cameras panned around to get the best shot of them, each one receiving a single shot.

It was nerve racking. Jimin actually felt himself freeze. Was he even able to dance like this?

One cameraman lifted his hands, signaling that they had ten seconds to go as the lights shined on the stage, the spotlight right on them.

Just as Jimin let his gaze flicker over to his friends one last time – He saw him.

Jungkook.

For a moment, Jimin assumed that he was imagining the black haired boy sitting there next to Jin.
Yet, without a doubt, it was him. It was the boy that still owned his heart.
Jungkook found Jimin's eyes, smiling at him, causing Jimin's heart to flutter.

Jimin didn't know whether to be happy, scared of or mad at seeing Jungkook here. In the span of a few seconds, so many thoughts and emotions bloomed inside of the shorter male.

His heart stopped again.

Jungkook hadn't forgotten about him.

However, Jimin was reminded of Jungkook leaving Seoul to move to Busan.

But, he was here now. Here to support Jimin like he had promised.

Then again, he had renewed the contract.

But right now he was only staring at Jimin.

The moment was confusing. Too much was happening at once, causing Jimin's brain to shut off.

There was no time to process any of this as he was reminded of where he was and what significance this moment held.

Jimin's mouth fell open, the boy not capable of forcing his gaze away from Jungkook.

Out of the corner of his eyes, Jimin caught the cameraman holding up a 'three' with his fingers, signaling that there were only three seconds left until they were ought to perform.

Swiftly, he tore his gaze away, fixing his expression and shutting his eyes close.

Then, the music started.

Like it was some kind of magic, Jimin shut out everything else – the nerves gone as if they'd never actually been there, his anxiety vanished and replaced by power and passion, by joy and excitement.

The pink haired one was no longer scared by the audience, was confident as he opened his eyes and moved his body to the beat, getting up to his feet as they got into the first formation, their movements flowing like it was a cohesive motion.

It was as if his body moved on his own – remembering every single step and his heart just feeling the emotion the song conveyed. The first part of the song was rather soft, their movements accordingly more gentle and light.

Jimin solely listened to his heart and the melody of his song, his expression fitting to the sound and conveying a sensitive feeling.

It was as if they were flying above the ground, as if they were telling a story through their dance. Jimin tried to be fearless, tried to make eyecontact with the judges just like Hoseok had advised him to do.

“If you're too scared to look at anybody, find a single spot in the room and keep your gaze fixated on that one. But if you're able to – and I know you are, Jiminie – I want you to try and make eyecontact with the audience, especially the judges. You're amazing in conveying feelings with your body and your face. That's rare. You're able to tell a story with your art so try to use that strength.”

That's exactly what Jimin was trying to do. This form of art was his passion and he wanted to tell a story with each performance he gave. By conveying these emotions, he wanted to move people.
Jimin was dancing in the front – the light movements fitting just right to him as that's exactly what he had done half of his life. Hoseok had told him how Jimin had actually inspired him to incorporate softer movements into their performance, causing Jimin to blush once he found out, but also feel a sense of gratitude and pride.

The smaller boy fell down on his knees, crawling on the floor next to his fellow members as if gravity was holding them down – trying to convey the feeling of having lost all the hope in your life and like there was nothing to go forward for. Over the music, Jimin could hear people gasp as they moved on the floor, not scared of getting hurt by dropping to the ground that harshly, but simply completely involved in their performance and art.

The row behind Jimin got back up, moving above another member each and lifting them up into the air. Hoseok was the one to lift up Jimin, the pink haired boy not feeling the anxiety of being dropped he had felt at the beginning of their training. Jimin trusted Hoseok with his body and his life – the brown haired boy's strong grasp around his waist as they spun around, Jimin making a pose in the air as he was sunk back down on the floor.

They continued dancing, their movements still gentle and telling, the softer song starting to mix into a faster, more powerful song. Yoongi and Namjoon had actually helped Hoseok with mixing the song for the performance, offering their help to their friend once he had brought up the idea of showing different sides of them on stage, wanting to evoke different emotions in the audience by using several different songs.

The group moved into a triangle form, taking off their button up shirts and throwing them to the side while taking steps back – the part that scared Jimin for a moment, scared of walking into Dongha who was standing right behind him. However, thankfully, it went well.

Once they were in formation, the person in the front began to move to the music, the movement of each following row delayed, conveying a feeling of a build up. Jimin was breathing heavily, sweating a lot already once it was his turn to join.

The audience cheered loudly, encouraging the group to not give up, but push through no matter how exausted they already felt.

Their movements became more powerful, expressions strong as they danced to the song, formations changing and emphasising a different focus each time – sometimes the group, sometimes an individual member having their moment to shine.

After several minutes, Jimin moved forward to the center, the others getting behind him in a straight line.

Right now, all the focus was on Jimin, the camera panning closer to him to get a good shot of his expression as he lifted his chin and started the next sequence, wide movements with his legs and arms that demanded a lot of strength of the smaller boy. The members behind him moved out, mirroring his motions while Jimin stayed in his spot.

“Try to flirt with the camera, with the audience. I saw the stare in your eyes when you dance, Jimin-ah, that's exactly it. Do that”

Hoseok's voice rang in his head as Jimin looked right at the camera, lowering his head slightly and looking up with his eyes, small smirk on his face as they did a body wave. Perhaps, Jimin even winked – Frankly, he couldn't remember, his body and face almost acting on their own, his heart leading everything rather than his brain – which is exactly how dancing worked for him. Not with the brain, but with the heart.
There were loud cheers in the crowd upon Jimin's behaviour, some whistling audible. During any other occasion, Jimin would have blushed right now. However, not tonight, not when he was dancing.

Excitement and adrenaline rushed through Jimin's body. Yet, those emotions came to a halt when he remembered the next part of the performance - The one were Jimin, Dongha and Haewha were supposed to make a flip, landing back on their feet perfectly.

Their whole performance involved parts of martial arts, lifting each other up in some way and forming different kinds of images that way. They knew that they were taking a lot of risks with that, that it increased their chances to slip, fall or make any kind of mistake. It was worth it though.

However, Jimin was especially nervous about this one as he'd stumbled into Dongha quite a few times.

Yet, there was no time to overthink it as they took a run-up and jumped into the air, doing their flips each and landing on their feet like they intended to do. Jimin almost slipped, but was able to play it off as he was supposed to move down anyway and rush back in order for the row behind him to come to the front.

That's what it was all about, wasn't it? Giving it your all, reminding yourself of why you're doing it and not being scared to take a risk.

Relief bloomed inside of Jimin as they went on with their performance. However, there was also slight sadness as he noticed how their performance was almost over.

Frankly, Jimin had imagined himself to wish for it to end as quick as possible, yet right now, actually being up here and performing, listening to the cheers and gasps everytime they took a risk and nailed it – was so... so exciting and just left Jimin wanting more – wishing for this moment to last.

They got into their final formation, Hoseok coming up to the center of their group and completely nailing his part of the performance, strong and powerful movements as expected from him. Jimin joined him up front, both sharing a smile as they gave it their all one last time – the pink haired boy staring directly at the judges with that stare of his that Hoseok had praised, had complimented on being captivating.

Then, the final beat kicked in – all of them dropping to the floor as if they'd been shot.

The music stopped.

Silence settled in the room.

A moment that was so much longer for Jimin. The only thing he could hear was himself breathing heavily and his heart pounding fast against his chest.

Suddenly, the cheers rolled in, loud screams and whistling amplified in the room, as well as applause.

A smile appeared on Jimin's face, heart fluttering at the reaction and at the thought of actually having performed on this stage without slipping up or throwing all over the judges – like he'd dreamed of in a nightmare, really.

Of course, there were parts that Jimin could have done better, yet he'd had so much fun and had done his best to his abilities.

Jimin couldn't help but think of his grandmother and wonder whether or not she would be proud of him. To be honest, Jimin was a little proud of himself, too.

So many emotions were running through Jimin's body, filling his heart with warmth.

Jimin was so happy.

Finally, they got back up on their feet, bowing before letting their gazes wander through the audience. Swiftly, Jimin's eyes fell on his group of friends, all of them standing and cheering. Jimin's heart clenched when he saw Taehyung wipe his tears away, trying to hide his emotional state as he screamed loudly and waved at him with a smile on his face.

Jimin smiled back, waving as he saw the others smiling, too.

Eventually, Jimin's eyes flickered over to where Jungkook had been sitting – something stinging in his chest at the sight, smile fading.

Jungkook was no longer there.

---

“We did it, guys! We did amazing! Did you see the judges? During the first song I think one of them actually shed some tears!” One of the girls squeaked once they were back in their dressing room.

“She stood up at the end. Did you see that? I couldn't believe it”

“I think the song moved her. It was a sad song after all.”

Jimin only smiled at their excited conversation, Hoseok patting him on the back and praising him for his work as he saw something glistening in Jimin's eyes.

“You did well, Jiminnie, what's wrong?”

“Nothing” Jimin assured because, well, he should be happy – and he was, don't get him wrong. It was just... His heart was hurt by Jungkook having left before his performance had ended. However, Jimin didn't want to think about him right now or where he had went.

“The results are coming up soon. We've got some time left so freshen up before we have to move back to our seats” Hoseok announced, interrupting Jimin's thoughts.

Thankfully, he had been able to blur out thoughts of Jungkook while dancing.

Yet, had he really?

Deep down, he had thought about Jungkook watching him, but just hadn't have the courage to make eyecontact with him which was ridiculous as he'd even had the bravery to look at the jury.

However, Jimin was glad that he hadn't looked at Jungkook because he could very well already have left somewhere in the middle of their performance – perhaps causing Jimin to make a mistake worst case had he noticed it any sooner.

The others still talked about the performance, about how much adrenaline was rushing through their veins and how proud they were – their voices loud in the room as they all talked simultaneously. Jimin tried to join, but being quite honest, the smaller boy was a little overwhelmed by everything.

It was difficult to wrap his head around this moment, so much euphoria and happiness blooming inside of him and causing him to feel all bubbly. Jimin decided he needed a minute for himself, trying to calm down and really fathom this situation.

The pink haired male got up to his feet, exiting the dressing room and shutting the door close behind him as he stepped into the empty hallway.

Silence settled around him.

Letting out a breath, Jimin slid down the wall, eyes fluttering shut as he listened to his beating heart, remembering the cheers of the crowd and their excited expressions.

Jimin just wished his grandmother could have been here. In a way, she was, though. She was always accompanying him, always by his side somewhere in his heart. To be honest, Jimin believed that she was watching down on him from heaven, smiling somewhere up there in happiness and pride.

The results were coming up soon. Jimin was a little nervous, but no matter how the results were going to be, Jimin was proud of him and his members, was happy. They didn't need to win to feel rewarding about this moment.

Suddenly, the door to the dressing room opened, startling Jimin.

The shorter boy's eyes flickered up, heart dropping when he saw Dongha.

“Jimin” The taller boy uttered, causing Jimin to avert his gaze and get back up on his feet, “Can we talk?”

“Not now. The results are coming up and I really don't want to talk to you right now” Jimin responded, walking past him to have a moment solely to himself somewhere else.

Clearly not liking Jimin's reaction, Dongha walked after Jimin and grabbed his wrist, pulling him back.

“Jimin, come on, you know I wasn't serious. I was just nervous about the performance and I didn't want you to screw up”

Forefully, Jimin pulled his hand away, turning towards Dongha with a frown, “You saw that I didn't feel well. You knew that there was something that was bothering me, but you only cared about yourself and the performance. I get it. The performance is important, that's exactly how I feel as well. But you are my friend and I thought you would have a little more empathy and perhaps try to comfort me rather than hurt me even more when I'm already down”

“This performance meant so much to me. I didn't want anything to get in the way. Also, I just... I've been there for you this whole time, but you've not given me anything back” Dongha accused, dark eyes staring at Jimin who was confused by his words.

“What do you mean? I always asked you how your day was and how you were feeling. I always spent time with you whenever you were exhausted after practice and wanted to do something with me. I didn't force you to hang out with me. Besides, if there was anything that was bothering you, you should have just told me instead of treating me the way you did” Jimin defended himself, crossing his arms over his chests.

Why was Dongha acting so differently? This wasn't the same person he had grown to refer to as his friend over the past weeks.

“I took it slow, I didn't force you to anything, but you still- You just don't give me anything back.”
The small boy pulled his brows together, seemingly still bewildered by Dongha's words.

Swiftly, Dongha grabbed Jimin's shirt in his fist, pulling him closer, “Jimin, what else do I have to do?”

Oh no.

“For what?”

“For you to let me touch you”

Oh god no.

“Dongha, no-” Jimin tried to protest, pushing the boy away from him as he took a step back himself, “I told you that I just wanted to be your friend. Is that why you were mean to me? Because I didn't let you touch me?”

“No, of course not- Well, maybe- Partly. It's just all of it together. It's frustrating how I've been so nice to you, but you still don't let me get any closer to you”

Jimin definitely hadn't seen this coming. Quite honestly, he had assumed that Dongha had understood that Jimin only wanted to be his friend as that's exactly what the shorter boy had expressed to him at the beginning of their friendship.

Dongha didn't illuminate any of these feelings in him that... that Jungkook did, didn't evoke the fluttering of his heart. Dongha was just a very close friend of his.

“Just because you're nice to me and become my friend, doesn't mean I'll let you touch me- doesn't mean it will change any feelings I have or don't have for you. I like you a lot, Dongha, but as a friend. Your behaviour towards me last week hurt me a lot because I thought you were my friend and would comfort me, but I see that you're only nice to me as long as you get something out of it. A friend should be nice and supportive regardless of what they receive. Of course, friends should be there for each other, but there is always going to be a time where one friend needs the other one more. It doesn't give you the right to assume that I'll hop into bed with you, though”

“Then what do I have to do to change your mind, Chim?” Dongha wanted to know, taking a step closer which caused Jimin to take a step back – eventually bumping into the wall behind him, essentially trapping him.

Dongha was standing so close to him now, making his proximity uncomfortable.

“Dongha, stop-”

“Jimin, come on, give me a chance” Dongha whispered, lifting his hand and placing it against Jimin’s cheek, rubbing the skin with his thumb.

Jimin swallowed hard, moving his head to the side as he pushed himself further against the wall.

“No, Dongha, I'm sorry, but I- Don't touch me” Jimin uttered, trying to free himself, but Dongha didn't listen to him, but rather tried to lock eyes with Jimin again, “If you don't stop, I'll scream” Jimin threatened, heartbeat quickening, voice shaking as Dongha grabbed his waist.

“No, you won't. Jimin, what's holding you back? I will treat you so good”

Will you? Jimin thought. Forcing someone to like you couldn't be a good start to a relationship if you'd ask Jimin.

“Let me go, Dongha, I don't want you to touch m-”

A shiver ran down Jimin's back at the familiar low tone of the voice. Of course, Jimin recognised the voice immediately, an odd mix of emotions running through his chest.

Jungkook.

The black haired boy got closer to them, pulling Dongha away from Jimin harshly, causing the taller one to stumble back at the force. Relief washed over Jimin as Dongha was finally not as close to him anymore.

“Looked different” Jungkook muttered, reaching for Jimin and pulling him softly towards himself, “Did he hurt you?”

“N-No, just... No, I just wanted to be left alone” Jimin answered, still not fully comprehended that Jungkook was actually here and hadn't left.

“Listen, Doweon, I'm not in the mood to start any shit right now. This is a big day for Jimin-ah and I don't want to cause a scene so you better fucking leave right now before I change my mind.”

Dongha gulped, glancing at Jimin before he gave a nod and walked past them.

“You better not touch him ever again, bastard!” Jungkook called after him, earning him a swat by Jimin.

“Don't curse, Jungkook-ah. There are reporters everywhere and security guys”

“I don't think they'll kick me out for cursing at that bastard, which he deserved. He's lucky that I'm not having him kicked out.”

Jimin looked back and forth between his beautiful brown orbs.

What was he doing here?

Did Jimin even want to see him right now? He just had one of the biggest and most beautiful moments in his life on that stage – Did he want to ruin that by fighting with Jungkook? Did he want his mood to drop because of the grief of losing him completely?

“What are you even doing here?”

Jungkook lifted up a bouquet of flowers that Jimin hadn't noticed until now. It was a mix between roses and... and daisies.

Jimin's eyes widened as his gaze flickered back up to Jungkook's eyes.

“I asked hyung what kind of flowers you liked and he told me that you like daisies a lot because they remind you of beautiful times in your life and roses, well, roses because... you know, to... just show you how I feel about you”

The pink haired boy's heart fluttered at the kind and thoughtful gesture, stomach twisting a moment later when he realised that Jungkook was probably here to say goodbye.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah. I thought you wouldn't come today”

“I told you I would come. I was stuck in a meeting, but I made it to your performance.”

“You left before we finished” Jimin noted, gulping as he noticed how Jungkook looked back and forth between his eyes and lips – causing the smaller one to wet his lips.

“I left as soon as you finished and came backstage because I wanted to talk to you” Jungkook revealed.

Jimin's heart dropped.

Oh no. Here it was.

“I don't want to talk right now. I'm happy right now and the results are coming up soon. Besides, shouldn't you be packing for Busan or something? Aren't you supposed to leave soon?”

“That's why I wanted to talk to you”

“Not now. I can't handle this right now. Thank you for coming to support me, but I don't want to talk to you right now. I should get back to the dressing room now” Jimin protested, turning around and making his way back, yet Jungkook was there to stop him, gripping his wrist gently and pushing him against the wall.

Jimin gasped as he stared up into Jungkook's eyes.

“Why do you always make this so difficult, Jimin-ah? Stop running away from me”

“I don't want to talk about you leaving Seoul with Seoyun and starting your happy life in Busan with her” Jimin replied, pushing Jungkook away from him and leaving again.

“For fuck's sake, Jimin-ah!” Jungkook cursed, grabbing him by the waist and spinning him back around before he pushed him back against the wall, “I'm trying to tell you that I'm not going anywhere, Jimin-ah!” The bouquet of flowers dropped to the floor, just like Jimin's jaw.

“What? What do you mean?”

“I mean exactly that. I'm not going anywhere, Jimin-ah. I'm not leaving Seoul. The contract is no longer a thing” Jungkook whispered, moving closer to Jimin.

Jimin's heart skipped a beat. In fact, Jimin was sure it skipped several beats, just to pound twice as fast against his chest.

Jungkook looked back and forth between his eyes, slight smile on his face as he lifted his hand to brush strands of pink hair out of Jimin's face.

“Isn't it obvious? For you”

Jimin shook his head, “Jungkook-ah, I don't want you to throw all of that away, if you actually want to live your life like that.”

“No, little one, I did it for you, for me... for us. I did it because I wanted to end it, because I didn't want to be stuck in the contract anylonger, because I want to be with you and I don't want to have anything else between us, because I want to be happy and you give me just that. You are my reason to stay because I want you to be.”

“B-But the contract? And... and what about your father and the company?”

“My father is a smart man and we found another way to make the Song's happy, without the fake relationship. My father is still coming here to Seoul, he found another way to take care of the building in Busan.”

Jimin swallowed hard, still not completely processing Jungkook's words.

“So you're... you're staying? You're free now?”

“I'm staying. I'm no longer bound the contract and I want you, Jimin-ah. I want you with all of my heart. This time, completely”

With all of his heart?

“What does that mean?”

“It means that I want to be by your side. It means that... It means that you illuminate an emotion in me I didn't think exists. Whatever this emotion is, it's more than just attraction and fondness. I want to protect you. I want to be the reason you smile and laugh. I want to be by your side through everything. Being apart from you these past weeks just proved that to me even more.” The taller boy expressed.

Jimin stopped breathing.

“I didn't believe in love, Jimin-ah. I didn't believe in love until... until you,” Jungkook uttered, slight smile on his face as he pressed his forehead against Jimin's.

Jimin's heart didn't beat any longer.

“Jimin-ah, I'm in love with you.”

Chapter End Notes

Sooo, I'm a little conflicted about the continuation of this story. There is definitely going to be one more chapter, but I have been deliberating over whether or not to go on with the story after that.

There are some things I could still discuss, but I have already gotten an idea about how to end the story in the next chapter. It's already a very long story and I think it shouldn't go on for too long.

I just wanted to give you a heads-up as I still haven't decided. If you want to, you could share your opinion about whether or not you want the story to continue further or if you think an ending would be fitting for the next chapter. I would appreciate that. :)

Thank you <3
See you in the next chapter. Love you <3
Together

Chapter Summary

After the championship, the group of friends spend time together, celebrating the results. Jungkook and Jimin might have to celebrate more than just one thing...

Chapter Notes

Hii, readers <3
Thank you so much for all of your comments on the last chapter! I loved your feedback, encouragement and ideas on what to do with the story! <3
This is NOT the last chapter. :) I'll talk more about that at the end <3
I hope you enjoy the chapter <3

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Jimin's brain wasn't capable of comprehending these words. There was no way Jungkook had actually just confessed that to him.

Love.

Jungkook loved Jimin?

That was such a huge word, holding so much meaning. Of course, Jimin always knew that Jungkook owned his heart, but he didn't know whether to call this feeling love.

How could he know what love was and how it felt like when he had never experienced that emotion?

However, Jungkook seemed to know – seemed to know even though he had never felt it before, had never actually believed that it existed.

That was until Jimin.

The pink haired boy's heart fluttered, eyes still blown wide in shock as they stared into Jungkook's beautiful brown orbs, emotion flashing in them.

Finally, Jimin knew what the emotion in his eyes was.

Love.

There was love, affection and fondness glistening in Jungkook's eyes as he stared at Jimin, eyes shining so gorgeously.
“You- You love me?” Jimin murmured, voice quiet and unsure.

“I do, angel. I know that I never felt like this before, but I also know without a doubt that I am completely, truly, deeply in love with you and I want you to be mine more than anything else in this world. I want to be yours just the same”

Jimin was speechless, to say the least.

Although Jungkook had confessed to him before that he liked him a lot, Jimin had never actually thought or even considered that his feelings were this deeply for the smaller boy.

This truly was a dream.

Was Jimin supposed to say it back now?

However, somehow his brain still hadn't fully fathomed this situation, too caught up with the performance he just had, with Dongha revealing his remaining feelings towards him, and quite honestly – Jimin wasn't sure whether what he felt was love. This deep level of affection, attraction and belonging surely was something Jimin has never felt for anyone before, but he simply wasn't certain whether or not this was love.

How could he call it something he didn't even know?

“I-”

“You don't have to say it back” Jungkook assured, placing a gentle kiss against his forehead, his soft lips lingering above the skin a little longer, “I don't want you to feel obligated to say it back. You just had a life changing performance and the adrenaline must still be rushing through your veins. I don't want you to say it back just because you feel like you have to. I can wait until you're ready to say those words and mean them”

“I-” Jimin tried again, feeling sorry for not returning those three words, “I want to be with you, too, Jungkook-ah. I want you just as much as I want to be yours”

“That's more than enough for me” Jungkook grinned, leaning down and capturing Jimin's lips in a soft kiss.

It was almost like a firework exploded inside of their bodies. Jimin always found that expression so cheesy whenever he heard it in a movie or read it in a book – yet, here he was. It was the best way to describe this moment.

“Park Jimin, will you be my boyfriend?” Jungkook whispered against his lips, Jimin almost – almost certain that there was a faint blush on his cheeks when he asked that question. However, clearly his eyes must mislead him because – Jungkook and blushing? That was unseen of.

The shorter boy giggled, nodding frantically as he closed his arms around Jungkook's neck, “More than anything in this world, Jeon Jungkook”

Smiling, Jungkook lifted him up by the hips, Jimin wrapping his legs around his waist subconsciously as the taller one pressed him up against the wall.

Jimin couldn't help but smile into the kiss, feeling so euphoric and happy to finally be able to be together with Jungkook after having to experience such a mess. They haven't had it easy, having to overcome so many obstacles.

Yet, here they were now, kissing one another while holding each other close – Never wanting to let go again.

The kiss was slow, but passionate. So sweet and holding so much meaning.

They finally found their way back to each other, gravitating towards one another so naturally – There was nothing they could do to fight that strong level of attraction.

Jungkook's lips tasted like mint, so familiar, yet so new because finally they were together.

“Kook-ah, Kook-ah, Kook-ah” Jimin rushed while Jungkook tried to deepen the kiss, the black haired boy pulling on his bottom lip with his teeth that caused heat to build in the pit of his stomach, “We shouldn't- I mean, the results are coming up soon”

“Oh, shit” Jungkook cursed, eyes wide as he nodded, “Fuck, you're right. I shouldn't fuck you here in this hallway where people could walk by” The boy smirked, causing Jimin to pinch his upper arm, “Ouch, what was that for?”

“We weren't- I mean, we weren't doing that. We were just kissing” Jimin muttered, cheeks heating up as Jungkook's smirk deepened. His choice of words and his stare caused Jimin to gulp, heat rising in the pit of his stomach.

“Baby, trust me, I was about to. You're mine now. I want to please you in every way possible and watch your pretty face when I make you co-”

“Jungkook-ah!” Jimin squealed, eyes wide as he swatted his arm again, causing Jungkook to chuckle. In response to the sweet sound, warmth spread through Jimin's chest.

“I'm just messing with you, little one. Of course, I wasn't going to fuck you here. I just couldn't hold myself back and kiss your beautiful lips” Jungkook snickered, voice gentler at the end as he leaned down again to prove his point, pressing his lips on Jimin's in a swift peck.

Jimin whined a little as Jungkook pulled away too quickly for his liking, earning him a kiss on his nose and another chuckle by Jungkook.

“Later. We have a lot of time to do all of that later, hm? You've gotta go back in and get ready before the results come up” Jungkook reminded him, although Jimin had just brought that up a moment ago, “How do you feel? About the results, I mean. Are you nervous?”

The shorter boy bit down on his bottom lip, Jungkook's eyes flickering down to the motion, but swiftly back up to Jimin's eyes, “I-I am, kind of. I'm happy about the performance and I think we did well. Whatever the results are going to be – I'm going to be fine with it. I'm just so happy and grateful to have been able to participate in this”

“You were- Fuck, you were amazing, Jimin-ah” Jungkook complimented him, sincerity shining in his eyes, “There were so many people in your group, but I could only look at you. To be fair, I'm a little biased there, but even if I wasn't in love with you, I would have been mesmerised by your performance. I was speechless. You have something so captivating about you. Your eyes looked so... so seductive and full of bliss and when you smirked at the camera I was about to- Shit, you have no idea how sexy you looked. I always thought you were beautiful and I always wished you were a little more confident, thus I was so happy to see you shine up there and be confident in what you do and yourself. I'm telling you, Jimin-ah, you're born to perform. You've got something that just captivates people.”
Jimin blushed again, hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck at the compliment, “Thank you” He murmured, voice muffled against Jungkook's skin.

The black haired boy chuckled, settling him back down on his feet, “Whatever the results are going to be, you can be proud of yourself, Jimin-ah.” Jungkook muttered, brushing Jimin's hair out of his face with a smile, “You know, most of these teams are still going to get huge opportunities even if they don't come any further in the competition. Many scouts watch this competition in search for talent and new trainees.”

“Thank you. I'll just... see what happens”

Jungkook smile deepened as he looked up at Jimin's hair before he locked eyes with him again, “The colour looks really good on you. I never would have thought that anyone could pull of pink hair, but here you are again, proving the opposite. You look beautiful”

“Thank you, Tae did it” Jimin uttered, cheeks heating up again – Honestly, he wasn't that great at taking compliments, always feeling bashful.

The taller male picked the flowers back up, handing them to Jimin, “Sorry, they're a little…”

“It's fine. They're beautiful to me” Jimin assured as Jungkook handed him the bouquet of flowers, “I should... I should go back then, I guess”

“Mhm” Jungkook hummed, swiftly pressing another kiss onto Jimin's lips, “You should. I will go back to the audience.”

However, Jungkook just kissed him again, causing Jimin to giggle into the kiss as he pulled away, grabbing Jungkook's black button up shirt he was wearing, “I thought you were going back to the audience”

“I will – In just a moment”

With that, he tried to kiss Jimin again, but the smaller boy chuckled and pulled his head to the side, causing Jungkook's lips to land on his cheek.

“I can't get enough of you now that you're fully mine”

“Go, Kook-ah, before we'll get in trouble! I'll see you later” Jimin chuckled, Jungkook smiling against his skin as the pink haired one tried to push him away.

“Okay, okay, I'll leave now. I'll talk to you later, angel”

This time, the taller male actually pulled away, clearing his throat and walking away. Before he turned around the corner, he looked back one last time and winked at Jimin.

The fluttering in Jimin's heart still hadn't stopped, smile plastered on his face that didn't want to disappear.

He was happy.

So damn happy.
“I’m going to throw up” Dongha revealed, burping a moment after that caused the other members of his group to grimace and whisper-yell at him to stop being so disgusting.

Jimin didn't pay him much attention, was completely focused on the judges standing on the stage – about to announce the results.

Although Jimin told himself that he didn't mind losing, which was true of course, he couldn't help the slight hope blooming inside of him, hope of perhaps winning this whole thing.

It didn't matter if they wouldn't win because they could be proud of their performance anyway, but being able to go to the next round was nice, too.

However, Jimin had already won another thing tonight.

The smaller boy looked back over his shoulder, finding Jungkook in the crowd. Almost as if he knew that Jimin was looking at him, the boy stared over to him, their eyes locking, both breaking out into smiles once they did.

“I would like to start of by complimenting all of you on your excellent performances. I've enjoyed every single one performance fairly well – each in their own way. However, there can only be one winner tonight” One of the female judges on the stage drew Jimin's attention back to her. She was the last one of the judges to speak her mind – The announcement of the winners so utterly close now.

“It wasn't an easy task to do. There were very different approaches to which the acts performed, resulting in their dancing to be different in a way, yet still similar. There were groups that truly didn't give it their all. You could definitely see their potential, but it just didn't feel like they worked enough, that they want it enough – which is a pity, really. The differences in your performances made it more difficult to pick a winner. There were definitely ways to distinguish your approaches. Some of you focused on the whole group itself, some of you had a very diverse concept and emphasised your individuality – which I personally liked a lot. It took us quite a while to decide on who we think should win this competition and honestly, we discussed until right before you took your seats again. Finally, the results will be announced,” The woman spoke, Jimin gulping as he felt his stomach twist. There was definitely excitement and nervousness blooming inside of him, “The winners will not only move further to the next round, but will also receive 50.000,00 Won”

Gasps where audible in the audience, some chattering among the people sitting in the crowd. Jimin's team members started to whisper, too, yet Jimin could only focus on the judges.

“We'll call two teams up to the stage. To us, they've displayed the utmost control, creativity and diversity in their performances. The feelings these groups tried to convey were definitely evoked in us”

The pink haired boy glanced at Hoseok, noticing the light in his eyes as he listened to the judge diligently. Almost unconsciously, Jimin took his hand, giving it a little assuring squeeze which earned him a grateful smile from Hoseok.

“The groups we would like to call up to the stage are.... Like That and Hopeworld”

Jimin's heart skipped a beat, the others of his group jumping up in excitement and shock – including Hoseok who pulled him up at the motion as they were still connected by holding hands.

“Oh my god” Jimin breathed, the loud cheers of the audience ringing in his ears as he was trying to comprehend the situation.

Without having any time to fathom what was going on, Jimin was pulled up onto the stage – the groups gathering in their respective huddles in the front of the stage while the judges were standing at the side.

Jimin's eyes flickered over to his friends, eyes still blown wide in shock. They were still cheering loudly, clapping their hands together while screaming for Jimin and Hoseok. The smaller boy just felt so... loved and supported, so incredibly happy in this moment. There was nothing more he could ask for right now – this moment just beautiful and fulfilling itself.

Jungkook was smiling, the glistening of his eyes even noticeable from here.

“You have completely captivated us with your performances. It was mesmerising to watch you do what you love and what you're good at. We almost didn't want it to stop, but each ending of your performances was so wonderful and worth it – simply leaving us long for more.”

They bowed in gratitude at the praise, the judge smiling at their action.

“It was difficult to choose a winner, but the group we eventually decided on being the winner just slightly performed an overall more clean stage. We looked for key points, for creative moves, and clean execution. The group that is going to win tonight just left us in awe”

The judge smiled brightly.

“I won't be mean and have you wait any longer. I'm going to announce the winner now”

Jimin's heartbeat quickened, stomach twisting as the judge shared a knowing stare with the other judges before she fixated her gaze back to the groups.

“The winner of this year's Seoul Dance Championship is...”

Time was moving slower, Jimin's stomach twisting again.

All of the work they had put into this performance flashed by him, reminding him of all the obstacles, yet happiness he had experienced over the past weeks. It all came down to his – but did it really? The announcement of the winner wouldn't change the fact that they could be proud of themselves and had succeeded. They had done well and were happy with their performance.

No matter what happened from here on forward, it had been worth it already.

“Like That!”

The audience got up to their feet in excitement, cheering loudly while clapping for the winners. The people next to Jimin jumped up in euphoria, hugging the members of their groups while breaking out into tears.

Jimin smiled genuinely, clapping as he looked at the winners, confetti falling down on the stage as the judges handed the group an award.

The pink haired boy glanced over at Hoseok who didn't look disappointed or sad, but rather proud and happy as he clapped for the winning group, whistling as they held up the award in the air.

“We did well, guys, we got second place, that's an achievement we can be proud of” Hoseok comforted them over the cheers of the crowd, scanning the faces of his students – some looking proud and happy, yet some a little sad and disappointed, “They said it wasn't an easy decision, hm?
You did well” Hoseok praised with a bright smile.
Jimin nodded in agreement, noticing the cameraman announcing that they had stopped rolling as the show was off now after the presenter had said goodbye.

Together, they walked over to the other group and congratulated them on their win and their performance, assuring them that they deserved it. They were greeted with big smiles and teary eyes as the group thanked them and pulled them into a hug.

Right after that, the judges came over and talked to both of the groups, emphasising again how great both of them had been while shaking everyone’s hand.

Fortunately, there was no tension, no jealousy between them – just pure sincerity and happiness.

It was time for Jimin and the others to leave the stage to let the winners have their moment, their families rushing up to the stage.

While walking down the stage, Jimin was pulled aside by one of the judges – the female one that had announced the winner.

“It was a very close decision, just so you know. Your group did very well and there is no doubt in my mind that you will become very good, successful dancers in the future”

“Thank you” Jimin thanked her sincerely, slightly bewildered by her talking to him, yet very grateful.

After bowing politely, Jimin went down the stage, following his members backstage into the dressing room.

Some of the others were crying, perhaps not agreeing with the decision that had been made.

To be honest, for a slight moment, Jimin had wondered if they were going to be the winners. In the moment that they had been standing up there on that stage – the thought had crossed his mind.

However, he respected the decision that had been made and was so grateful for coming in second place.

“Guys, you did well. There is no need to cry. Every group that participated was amazing” Hoseok cheered them up once they were back in the dressing room, opening his arms as he gestured for them to hug him. They all rushed over to him and ended up in a big huddle, hugging each other and telling each other how proud they were.

“So many people saw us on TV” One of the girls pointed out in awe once they had pulled apart, “I still can’t believe it”

Jimin smiled as he packed his bag, some of the others opening up champagne as they jumped around, singing loudly. While giggling at the excitement, the smaller boy let his gaze wander around the room – eyes eventually falling on Dongha who was standing in the corner, sad and almost guilty expression on his face as he stared at Jimin.

As soon as he noticed Jimin looking at him, he averted his gaze.

Honestly, Jimin didn't know why, but something inside of him told him to walk over to Dongha – which he did.

“Hey” He uttered over the screams and laughter of the other members.
Dongha looked up in surprise, clearing his throat before he replied, “H-Hey”

“Are you okay? You seem really sad” Jimin asked, tilting his head to the side.

Yes, Jimin shouldn't even talk to him right now, but he couldn't help the empathy for the boy that was still somewhere inside of him. After all, Dongha had been very supportive and nice these past weeks – apart from last week and tonight.

“I'm just... I don't know. I really wanted to win and now that we didn't, I just don't know where to go from here. I was so... so determined on winning that I turned into this success driven, greedy person that was mean to his friends because they wanted to become first place so desperately. That's not who I want to be, who I want to be. I... I'm sorry, Jimin. I shouldn't have been rude to you and I shouldn't have made a move on you when you made it clear that you didn't want me. It's difficult to suppress your feelings and it's even more painful to be rejected, you know? I'm not trying to... to justify my actions, but I want you to know that I'm sorry.” Dongha apologized, sincerity in his eyes as he muttered those words.

It took a moment for Jimin to react, deliberating over what to say next as he was quite surprised by his answer.

“Thank you for apologising. I'm glad you understand that you behaved in a wrong way. And... and winning, well, winning is great, but I don't think it's a good idea to completely invest yourself in wanting to win something. The more you do that and don't receive the outcome you wished for, it will break you. We did well, Dongha, we performed really well and we got second place. That's amazing and I think we can be happy with this result. You should be proud of yourself for making it this far”

Dongha gave a half smile, nodding lightly, “I guess... Thank you, Chim”

Jumin mirrored his smile before he pulled his backpack over his shoulder and turned around, searching for Hoseok.

The brown haired boy was dancing with the other students, taking a sip from the champagne bottle as he watched Jimin approach him, smile on his face deepening while he spread his arms out.

“Jiminiieee” Hoseok called out and wrapped his arm around said boy, pressing a kiss on the top of his head, “I'm so proud of you.”

“Thank you, hyung, I'm proud of you, too”

The others agreed, chanting Hoseok's name repeatedly and thanking him for the hard work he had put in for the past weeks.

The boy smiled brightly, bowing as he thanked them.

“I couldn't have done it without you guys” Hoseok stated, earning him another group hug.

Giggling, Jimin pulled away, tugging on Hoseok's arm as he leaned up to him on his tip toes, “Hyung, the others are probably waiting for us. They wanted to celebrate with us, remember?”

“Oh, right” Hoseok expressed, eyes wide as he nodded, “Let me grab my stuff real quick”

With that, Hoseok rushed around the room to get his bag.

While waiting, Jimin said goodbye to the others, praising their hard work and giving each one a swift hug – well, except Dongha who he simply waved towards.

Hoseok was finally done, grabbing Jimin's wrist after he had said goodbye to everyone and told them not to party too hard as they would have dance class after tomorrow.

Chuckling, they exited the dressing room, almost bumping into someone who had just walked towards them.

Looking up, Jimin's heart fluttered at the mere sight of the black haired boy.

“Hey, guys, I was just about to get you” Jungkook explained with a smile, not taking his eyes off of Jimin, “The others are already waiting outside by the cars. Yoongi suggested to go grab dinner somewhere and then head over to his house to celebrate.”

“Sounds great, I'm up for it” Hoseok smiled.

“Congrats on making second place” Jungkook then noted, leaning down to Jimin, but then swiftly backtracking as he remembered Hoseok's presence.

Yet, there was nothing to hide anymore now, was there? They were free to be together now.

However, how were they supposed to break that news to their friends? Should they simply show their affection towards each other while next to them as if that was completely regular or should they straight up tell them what was going on and how they had gotten to his point?

Jimin wasn't sure.

Right now, he didn't care that much. All he wanted to do was kiss his boyfriend- Oh, god. Boyfriend. The information really just settled in now.

This gorgeous boy that owned his heart was his boyfriend. This handsome boy had confessed his love to him.

This truly must be a dream.

This day really couldn't get any better. Honestly, there was nothing that could happen right now that would ruin this day. It was too beautiful.

Jimin wanted to celebrate this wonderful day with his friends – and his boyfriend.

It would take a while to get used to that one. Jimin had never been in a relationship before – Jungkook being his first one, like so many first one's he had shared with him. That was always going to connect them.

“Thank you” Jimin and Hoseok uttered in unison.

“Let's go then. I'm so damn hungry” Hoseok insisted, titling his head towards the hallway and gesturing for them to go.

The boy walked ahead, Jimin and Jungkook rushing after him. They shared a glance, both breaking out into another smile once their eyes locked.

“Hey” Jungkook whispered.

“Hey” Jimin murmured back, eyes glistening when he felt Jungkook's hand brush his own – the touch sending sparks through his body.
Jungkook took the bouquets of flowers Jimin was carrying – the objects fitting in his bigger hand a lot easier than in Jimin's tinier one.

Slowly, almost carefully, Jungkook took Jimin's hand in his own, intertwining their fingers and feeling their hands align. Involuntarily, Jimin's heartbeat quickened as his eyes flickered down to their hands, catching his bottom lip between his teeth at the soft gesture.

“I'm proud of you, baby” Jungkook muttered.

“Thank you” Jimin whispered back, slight blush on his cheeks as Jungkook lifted their hands and pressed a kiss on Jimin's knuckles.

Hoseok didn't notice any of their affection, simply continued walking outside – probably urging to see Taehyung again. To be fair, they had barely seen each other for the past weeks. They were definitely going to shower each other with a lot of affection tonight.

When they finally made it outside of the bulding, some reporters screamed their names, wanting to get a picture of the runner-ups and the other dancers that were currently leaving the building.

It was a slight chaos outside, people trying to get out while others pulled them aside for interviews. A cold breeze of air washed past them, causing Jimin to shiver as he was still only wearing his white shirt, having left the button up shirt in the dressing room.

“Excuse me, do you have a minute? I'm glad I found you before you left” A man asked Jimin as he grabbed his wrist in order to gain his attention. The man was taller and thicker than Jimin, bald head shining beneath the light that was shining down from the building.

Jungkook's hand had slipped from his grasp, leaving Jimin looking around in search of him. Swiftly, the black haired boy got back to his side, wrapping his arm around Jimin's waist once he did.

“Mr. Jeon” The man called out in surprise, “I should have expected to see you here. Are you hunting for new talent as well?” He chuckled.

Jungkook smiled charmingly, shaking his head as he snickered out of politeness, “No, Mr. Yang, I'm just here in support” He answered, gesturing towards Jimin.

The man – who Jimin now had learned was called Yang – arched up his eyebrows in surprise, “I see. Dammit, he's one of your trainees already then?”

“No, he's not” Jungkook answered, “Jimin isn't signed under any company”

“I see, I see” Yang uttered, smile back on his face as he got a small piece of paper out of his jacket, “I'm Kijung Yang. Owner of YK entertainment. I was mesmerised by your performance and would love for you to come to an audition, Jimin. If you're interested, call me, and we can decide on a time that works for you”

Opening his mouth in shock, Jimin took the small card Yang held out to him.

“T-Thank you” Jimin breathed in surprise, bowing deeply.

“Thank you for your performance. Have you gotten any other offers yet?”

“N-No” Jimin answered, shaking his head. Frankly, he hadn't expected this at all.

“No? Then remember that I was the first one.” Yang chuckled, “Have a good night and I hope to hear from you, Jimin”

“Thank you” Was the only thing Jimin was able to utter.

“Mr. Jeon, say hello to your father for me, will you? Have a good night” Yang then addressed Jungkook, bowing politely which Jungkook mirrored.

“Of course, Mr. Yang. Thank you, you, too”

Yang smiled before he turned around and left.

Jimin was still utterly bewildered, only staring at the card in his hands. Did that really just happen?

“I told you people were going to want you” Jungkook noted, grinning as he caught Jimin's expression, “Man, do I have to watch other companies snatch you away right in front of my eyes, though?” Jungkook fake sighed, smiling while he said that, “My dad won't like that”

Swatting Jungkook's arm, Jimin shook his head, “I didn't even say yes”

Chuckling, the taller boy grabbed Jimin's wrist in order to prevent him from hitting him further, “My father called me and told me that he really wants you to audition, too”

“Really?” Jimin asked, eyes big as he looked up at Jungkook.

“Mhm” Jungkook hummed, lifting his hand in order to sweep Jimin's hair back, “Let's go over to the others now, though. We can talk more about that later”

“Okay, Mr. Jeon” Jimin giggled.

The younger male arched up an eyebrow, smirk appearing on his face as he titled his head to the side, “Mhm, baby, I could get used to you calling me that” Jungkook uttered, voice husky as he pressed his body against Jimin's.

Blushing, Jimin swatted his arm again, “Let's go over to the others now before you bring us in any trouble”

“I'm not doing anything” Jungkook chuckled.

With that, he took Jimin's hand, the pink haired one following after him as he was dragged along.

Once they reached the others, Jimin was immediately greeted by a group hug, his friends pulling him in tightly, expressing how proud and happy they were.

Jimin could only smile, cheeks slightly heating up at all of the love and affection he was receiving tonight.

“I'm so, so proud of you, Minnie. You did so well.” Taehyung praised, hugging Jimin again, “I even cried for fuck's sake” He whispered, causing Jimin to giggle, “If you'd ask me, you guys should have won”

Hoseok pulled Tae back to him, pressing a kiss to his temple as he made a sound of disagreement,
“We're happy to be the runner-ups. They won because they were amazing and they deserved to win”

“Exactly” Jimin agreed.

“Guys, I'm starting to freeze, let's move this somewhere else” Jin suggested, earning him agreeing “Right, we want to go grab some dinner. We have two cars. So who's driving with me?” Yoongi wanted to know, eyebrow arched up.

“Shouldn't we decide where we're going to first?” Namjoon asked.

“I suggest the diner. Good, quiet place”

The others agreed, yet Jungkook didn't.

“The guy there is a piece of shit” Jungkook stated, shaking his head, “We're not going there”

Chen hadn't been particularly nice last time – or ever really. In fact, their last encounter had almost ended up with Jungkook fighting Chen. Although that was a long time now, Jimin could still vividly remember that moment. Quite honestly, he had been a little frightened in that moment, frightened of Jungkook actually beating the hell out of Chen.

“We can request for another waiter to serve us, Kook-ah” Jimin pointed out.

“Yeah, we don't want history to repeat itself” Taehyung muttered, nodding.

“What happened there?” Jin wondered, eyebrows raised up as he scanned everyone's faces.

“Nothing – thankfully. The place is nice, come on. I'll make sure he won't bother us again” Yoongi assured.

Jungkook's jaw was still clenched, but it softened once he looked into Jimin's eyes, “Fine” He sighed eventually.

“Great, let's go now before I freeze my ass off. Hoseok hyung and I will drive with Yoongi hyung” Tae decided, wrapping his hand around Hoseok's.

“Namjoon-ah and I will drive with Jungkook-ah then” Jin announced.

Jimin looked back and forth between Yoongi and Jungkook, somehow feeling nervous as he was supposed to decide who he was going to drive with.

“You'll come with me, baby?” Jungkook wondered, “Hyung won't mind, right?”

Well, damn. There goes Jimin's plan of subtly settling them into the situation and breaking the news to them.

However, his friends either didn't notice or chose to ignore the petname.

“O-Okay” Jimin nodded and followed after Jungkook.

Hopefully, the universe would allow this night to end beautiful, too, and won't cause any drama with Chen today.

Yet, the universe couldn't be that generous, could it?
“The way hyung picked you up and spun you around in the air and that fucking flip and your smile when you- Shit, I can't even pick my favourite moment of yours!” Taehyung exclaimed, leaning back into his seat with a grin, “Just utterly beautiful and powerful. Even more than I had expected”

“Thank you” Jimin murmured, blushing slightly at the continuous compliments by everyone.

“How long did you train for that sh-” Yoongi was about to ask, but was interrupted before he could finish his question.

“What can I get you?”

A shiver ran down Jimin's back at the recognition of the voice he hadn't heard in quite a while.

They were already seated in the diner, having found a big booth that fit all of them. It had actually been difficult to find a place to sit tonight as the diner was crowded today for some reason. Well, Jimin had learned fairly quickly that it was due to the fact of there being a special offer today. Who didn't like cheaper food?

Jungkook and Taehyung were sitting next to him, Jimin squished inbetween them. Sitting that close to Jungkook was still affecting him – making his heart jump like crazy. They had been apart for so long and now the drought was finally over.

Honestly, Jimin had the urge to just kiss Jungkook, to scream how happy he was to be his and to have him back. Perhaps, if Jimin were a little more courageous, he would just yell it into the world.

For some reason, Jimin couldn't help but wonder what would happen later tonight. Would Jungkook and Jimin spend the night together? Frankly, Jimin didn't want to spend the night away from Jungkook. In fact, Jungkook had made indications of what he would do to Jimin tonight...

The thought caused Jimin to press his legs together.

Was he going to-

“Jimin-ah?” Jungkook interrupted his thoughts, startling Jimin who noticed that everyone was staring at him, waiting for him to order.

“O-Oh, sorry, I uhm, I'll take a cheeseburger and a strawberry milkshake” Jimin ordered, cheeks flushing as he felt like he had been caught doing something he shouldn't.

Chen wrote down his order, “Anything else?”

“That's it” Hoseok answered, “Jimin-ah, you don't want any alcoholic drink tonight, hm? To celebrate?” Hoseok then asked in curiosity once Chen had left.

“O-Oh, no” Jimin replied and shook his head swiftly, “Alcohol and me don't go very well together”

Just the thought of alcohol resulted in Jimin's stomach twisting. Him and alcohol definitely weren't a good combination. Trouble always seemed to arise whenever alcohol was involved and Jimin absolutely didn't want to ruin this night.

“Fair enough.”

Taehyung brought up the competition again, seemingly not capable of preventing himself from complimenting them. The conversation shifted over to Hoseok who explained how the performance came about and what inspired him for different parts of the dance routine.
Soon, Chen walked back over to them and brought them their drinks. As expected, Chen left Jimin’s drink standing in the center of the table, none of the others noticing his act.

However, Jungkook did.

The black haired boy was about to speak up, but Jimin swiftly placed his hand on his thigh and shook his head.

“Not tonight, please” Jimin begged, pleading with his eyes as Jungkook glanced at him.

Clicking his tongue, Jungkook’s gaze softened as settled back against his seat and nodded, “If he does it again, I won’t be quiet”

The smaller one titled his head to the side as Jungkook placed his hand above his own, giving it a little squeeze.

Taehyung suddenly started to choke on his drink, breaking out into coughs as he sat the glass back down on the table, Hoseok handing him a tissue.

“Are you okay, sunshine?” Hoseok worried, concern in his eyes as he watched Taehyung coughing while wiping over his mouth.

“Y-Yes, I just...” The blond haired boy didn't finish his sentence, but simply glanced down to Jungkook’s lap before his eyes swiftly flickered back up to Hoseok, “Never mind”

“Oh, by the way, hyung and Namjoon-ah, someone asked me about the remix you created for us!” Hoseok revealed.

While his friends began to talk about the remix, Jimin looked back to Taehyung who was already staring at him.

‘What's wrong?’ Jimin mouthed.

Tae glanced back down to Jungkook's lap where Jimin's hand was still unmistakably resting. Almost like out of habit of not wanting to be caught, Jimin pulled his hand out of Jungkook's grasp.

‘What's going on between you?’ Taehyung mouthed back.

Smiling shyly, Jimin glanced at Jungkook who was already looking at him before he looked back at Tae.

‘We're together’

It was actually hilarious to watch Tae's expression change after the revelation – his eyes blown wide in shock, mouth agape as he blinked once, apparently not believing what he had just seen.

‘What? Since when?’

The others didn't seem to notice any of their exchange, still completely focused on talking about the remix Yoongi and Namjoon had created.

‘I'll tell you later’

Taehyung leaned back in his seat, expression still full of shock as he blinked again.

Involuntarily, Jimin giggled as he observed his friend.
“I'll go use the restroom” Jungkook suddenly whispered in his ear, his hot breath sending a shiver down Jimin's back, the boy gulping at the effect Jungkook's close proximity had on him, “You wanna join me?”

The glistening in Jungkook's eyes told Jimin that he had meant that in a suggestive way, causing Jimin's eyes to widen as he swatted Jungkook's arm.

The taller boy chuckled as he pressed a kiss to his cheek before he got up to his feet and walked away. Jimin couldn't help but watch after him, the confidence he exuded while simply walking somehow very attractive. His broad back, but slim waist left Jimin swallowing hard, remembering what it felt like to lie on top of him, to touch him.

How was Jungkook doing this to him?

Swiftly, Jimin shook his head, tearing his gaze away from the empty space he had been staring at as Jungkook had already disappeared in the restroom.

Oh no.

All of his friends were looking at him in complete surprise – obviously having noticed their use of affection and Jimin staring longingly after Jungkook.

“What just happened?” Yoongi uttered.

“Are you- I mean... Does that-” Hoseok attempted to ask, but appearing to struggle with forming a coherent sentence.

“We...” Jimin tried, but evidently not any better than Hoseok at handling this situation.

Jimin wasn't certain on what he was supposed to do. Should he just say it or wait for Jungkook to reappear?

“M-Maybe I should wait for Jungkook-ah to come back” Jimin suggested, clearing his throat as he felt himself blush.

“I mean, there really is no use in doing that. I think it's pretty clear what's going on” Jin stated, smiling fondly.

“You're together now?” Hoseok was the one to ask eventually.

Well, there it was.

“We... Well, you know... We-We are. Yes, we are together” The words left his mouth before Jimin could stop himself.

However, it felt good. It felt so good to say those words, his heart fluttering as he was able to share that information with his friends.

“Finally, oh my god” Jin expressed, smiling as he clapped his hands together, “I thought Jungkook was never going to get his shit together”

“Since when? What happened? How did you end up being together? I want to know everything” Tae rambled, eyes big in excitement and curiosity.

“Calm down, sunshine” Hoseok chuckled, pressing a peck against Tae's temple to calm him down. The blond haired boy visibly toned down his excitement, sinking back into his seat and simply smiling brightly at Jimin as he waited for him to speak.

The smaller male was about to talk when he noticed that Jungkook was approaching them again, winking at Jimin when he caught him staring. Smiling, Jimin averted his gaze and glanced back at his other friends.

“We're officially together since... today” Jimin answered as soon as Jungkook sat back down next to him.

The taller boy arched up his eyebrows – clearly not having expected to have their relationship being exposed as soon as he reappeared at their table.

“Oh my god” Taehyung sang, pulling Jimin into a hug as if he’d won something.

Well, he kind of had.

Yoongi shook Jungkook's hand, “Treat him right this time” The older one warned, sharing a knowing stare with Jungkook which Jungkook returned with a determined nod, “I'm so damn happy for you two.”

“Thank you” Jungkook and Jimin answered in unison.

“Now, tell us everything” Taehyung urged expectantly.

Jimin felt his cheeks flush again as Jungkook wrapped his arm around his waist, pulling him closer to his side.

“Well, where do I start?...”

---

It was a little later when their food was arriving, having taken a little longer as they were seven people and the diner was packed to begin with. Jimin was just taking a sip from his drink, listening to Hoseok talk about the scout that had pulled him to the side once he had left the building – giving him his business card as he wanted Hoseok to work as a choregrapher for his company.

Chen set down the food that Yoongi, Jin and Hoseok had ordered. After that, he disappeared again to get their remaining order.

“That's amazing”

“Oh my god, hyung!”

“I'm so happy for you”

They all reacted simultaneously, expressing their excitement over the news of their friend receiving such an offer.

“Hyung, my father asked me to make you the offer again. He called me earlier. I know you declined before, but he's even more determined now after seeing the performance that you choregraphed” Jungkook revealed.

Hoseok smiled lightly as he took a sip from his drink.

“Jungkook-ah, you know that I'm flattered, but I don't want you to use your connection for me to-” “Hyung, I promise you, I didn't ask him. After you declined months ago, I respected it, but he's really determined. I'm just sending over his message” Jungkook assured, lifting his hands up in defense, “Just think about it, will you?”

“Fair enough. I'll do that, Jungkook-ah. Thank you”

“Jimin-ah received an offer, too” Jungkook then shifted the attention over to his boyfriend, smiling as he looked down at the smaller boy, “YK entertainment wants him”

“No shit!” Taehyung exclaimed, eyes wide as he glanced at his best friend, “Jimin-ah, oh my god, that's so amazing!”

The others expressed their excitement as well, Jimin thanking them quietly as he felt his cheeks heat up again. Jungkook noticed his bashfulness, leaning down and pressing a kiss against his temple – which, well, didn't help much because he just ended up blushing deeper at the display of affection in front of their friends.

Yet, it caused his heart to flutter all the same.

The sparks erupting inside of Jimin everytime Jungkook merely glanced at him or touched him in the slightest way possible was a very clear sign that Jimin had fallen deeply for him.

Chen approached their table again, setting down the rest of their food while Hoseok talked about the offer he had received.

“The offer was actually really nice” The brown haired boy shared with them.

Jimin noticed that his own food hadn't arrived yet, glancing at Chen, but not brave enough to speak up and make that fact known.

“There is one plate missing” Jungkook spoke up, interrupting Hoseok who had continued to talk about the offer.

The pink haired boy tensed, observing how Chen arched up his eyebrow in visible annoyance, “His food just takes a little longer. I'm not the chef”

“That's fine” Jimin assured, watching Jungkook who was about to say something else, but shut his mouth as he felt Jimin give his arm a little squeeze – silently begging him not to start a fight, “I'll wait. You can go ahead an eat already. You must be hungry”

“Are you sure?” Namjoon asked, Chen leaving their table again.

“Of course, go ahead. Hyung, you were talking about the offer, please continue” Jimin smiled.

While Hoseok picked up the conversation again, everyone started to eat their food – well, everyone except Jungkook. The black haired boy didn't touch his food either, refusing to eat until Jimin's food had arrived.

The gesture was nice, yet unnecessary.

“You can eat, too, I don't mind. You must be hungry” Jimin muttered.

“Why do I feel like he did that on purpose?” Jungkook asked instead, but clearly not expecting an answer as he added, “I swear I'll-”

“Kook-ah” Jimin whined, the sound immediately shutting Jungkook up as he stared at Jimin, eyes softening, “You won't do anything. This day is so beautiful and nothing can ruin it for me, I promise. I don't mind waiting a little longer”

Jungkook looked back and forth between his eyes, nodding as he leaned down a placed a kiss on his forehead.

“Then try something from my food” The black haired boy suggested, cutting a piece from his steak and feeding it to Jimin with his fork.

The shorter male parted his lips, taking the piece into his mouth and chewing on it, eyes going wide at the taste of the meat, “It's really good.”

Jungkook cut a piece for himself and ate it, agreeing with Jimin once he had swallowed it down. The boy then offered him another piece, but Jimin declined and told him to eat it himself.

However, Jungkook set the fork and knife back down on the table and leaned back against his seat, causing Jimin to roll his eyes, but smile at him.

“By the way, why did you argue with that guy, babe?” Hoseok wanted to know, drawing the attention of Jimin and Jungkook back over to him.

“You saw that?” Tae chuckled, swallowing his bite down, “I wanted to stand up while cheering for you, but that dude behind me told me to sit my fat ass down so I told him to shut his fucking mouth. Hyung pulled me down to my seat before anything could happen”

“Thanks, Yoongi” Hoseok thanked him, earning him a smile and a nod from Yoongi who took a bite from his burger.

Several minutes passed, Jin leading the conversation while they ate their food in peace, laughing every now and then. It wasn't until everyone had finished their food halfway that Jimin wondered where his order was.

Obviously, it was reasonable that some orders take longer than others, yet Yoongi had ordered a burger, too, so had Taehyung and theirs had visible arrived already.

Was Chen really doing that on purpose? Why would he, though?

“Kook-ah, your food is going to be cold” Jimin pointed out, pulling on his arm, “Go on as long as it's still warm”

“I'll ask where your damn burger is” Jungkook muttered, getting up to his feet before Jimin could stop him, walking over to the counter where another waiter was standing.

“What's he doing?” Namjoon wondered.

“Asking for my food” Jimin answered, not taking his eyes away from the scene – watching how the waiter rushed into the kitchen and returned a moment later with the order.

Jungkook took the plate and scanned the room, seemingly angered as he appeared to search something – or rather someone.

Saying one last thing to the waiter, the black haired boy walked back over to their table, settling the plate down in front of Jimin before he took a seat next to him.

“Fucking bastard left it standing in the kitchen. Thankfully it's warm in there so your burger isn't cold
yet. But when I see that bastard again, I'll-

“Do nothing” Jimin ended his sentence, “Don't be angry because of him. He's just... doing it on purpose to make me mad, but I don't care. I'm just happy to be here with all of you so please don't do anything you will regret, okay?”

Sighing, Jungkook nodded.

“Thank you for getting my food”

“Wait, your food was ready this whole time?” Yoongi wondered, eyebrows arched up before he pulled them together in a frown for Jungkook having confirmed his question with a nod, “That guy left it there on purpose then?”

“I'm pretty sure that's the case”

“There is no way we're going to be quiet about that. That's fucking rude” Yoongi commented, shaking his head as he seemed to be angered, too.

“Guys, calm down, okay? He's not even here anymore” Jimin tried to calm them down, scanning the diner and praying for Chen to be gone before any of his friends would make him regret treating Jimin this rudely, “Let's just eat”

Humming lowly, Jungkook picked up his fork and knife, yet not exactly appearing to be content with the idea of not putting Chen back into his place.

Jimin finally took a bite from his burger, stomach thanking him for the food it hadn't seen since this morning – the boy having been way too nervous to eat anything after breakfast.

---

After a night of laughter and conversation between them, Yoongi suggested for them to drive over to his house to hang out for a little longer.

“Hyung, that's a great suggestion, but I think Jimin-ah and I have to decline” Jungkook responded, getting some money out of his wallet, “Any other time, sure, but tonight we're going to have a... quiet one.”

Yoongi smiled almost knowingly, Taehyung giggling beside him as Jimin felt his cheeks heat up.

“Unless Jimin-ah really wants to hang out at yours?” The black haired boy then wanted to know, eyebrow arched up.

“O-Oh, no, uhm, that's a nice suggestion, but I... I'm uh, a bit tired so... yeah” Jimin stuttered, blush deepening at his little white lie. Well, to be fair, it wasn't actually a lie. Jimin was genuinely tired after today, but that wasn't the sole reason for him to decline hanging out with his friends. Jimin really wanted to spend time with Jungkook... alone.

Yoongi's smile widened as he nodded, “Fair enough. You two have fun then”

Jungkook placed the money on the table while getting up to his feet. The smaller boy joined him, noticing how Jungkook had put enough money out to pay for all of their meals.

“Jungkook-ah” Jin was about to protest, but Jungkook interrupted him.

“Let me pay tonight. No protest”
They all let out a sigh, but left it at that.

“We'll see each other soon then. It was really nice hanging out again” Taehyung stated, smiling brightly, “Congrats again on your performance today”

After attempting to hug everyone for goodbye, Jimin got out of the booth as well, Jungkook taking his hand as they waved goodbye.

“We're definitely going to talk tomorrow” Taehyung uttered, eyes narrowed as he smiled.

Jimin giggled, blush deepening as he nodded, Jungkook giving his hand a little squeeze.

“Should I drop anyone off somewhere?”

“No, we're all hanging out at hyung's after this. I think we'll be able to squeeze into his car. You two go and have fun.”

Gosh, Jimin wanted to sink down into the ground as he felt his blush deepen even more – their suggestive words proving that they had an idea about what they were going to do – which honestly, might not even be true. Clearly, the two of them wanted to spend time together, but no one said that meant they were going to have... well, you know.

“Thank you, hyung” Jungkook chuckled, nodding towards his friends before they said goodbye and turned around, about to leave the diner.

However, apparently the universe did want to mess with Jimin tonight.

Chen was standing right at the entrance, earning Jungkook's attention as the black haired boy visibly tensed next to him, jaw clenching as they approached the waiter.

Oh no.

“Hey, you” Jungkook called out.

Oh no, please no.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin whispered, tugging on Jungkook's arm as he watched Chen glance over to them, “Don't”

“I'm just going to talk to him” The taller one assured.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin murmured, whining as he pulled at his sleeve again.

“What do you want?” Chen asked, eyebrow arched up.

“I don't know what your fucking problem is, but better get your shit together because I won't tolerate you treating Jimin like that another time, got it?” Jungkook threatened, tone low and intimidating, causing Chen to gulp.

“What's your problem? What are you talking about?”

“Oh, you know exactly what I'm talking about. Taking longer when it comes to his order, purposely not placing the food in front of him, bringing him the wrong order, the list just goes on. I promise you, you don't want me as your enemy so better learn to be nice to him from now on, got it?”
“Does he need a fucking babysitter or what? Why can't that pussy talk to me himself, if he has a problem with me, hm?”

Suddenly, Jungkook let go of Jimin's hand, stepping in front of him as he pushed against Chen's shoulder, causing the boy to tumble back into the wall.

“Don't fucking talk like that about him! Say that again, I dare you. Say it again and I swear I'll-” Jungkook threatened through gritted teeth, but was interrupted by Jimin.

“Jungkook-ah, oh my god” Jimin breathed in shock, grabbing Jungkook's shirt in his tiny fist and pulling him backwards. However, Jimin was nowhere near as strong as Jungkook, not exactly capable of moving him back, “Stop, please, let's just leave” He begged, closing his arms around Jungkook's stomach and pressing his face against his back, “Please, Kook-ah”

“Careful, bastard. If you talk to him or treat him like that ever again, I won't hold back” The black haired boy muttered, grabbing behind him and gently gripping Jimin's hand, “Let's go, Jimin-ah”

Relief washed over Jimin as they exited the diner. Fortunately, that hadn't ended in a huge argument or fight.

“Thank you, Jungkook-ah, for defending me, but also for not fighting him” Jimin uttered as they walked towards Jungkook's black Range Rover.

“I don't get why he's that fucking rude. How the fuck did he get that job?” Jungkook asked, voice giving away that he was still angered, while he unlocked his car.

“His father owns the place” Jimin responded as Jungkook opened the door to the passenger seat for him, “Thank you” He muttered as he climbed inside the car. The taller boy shut the door close and walked around the car, climbing into the driver's seat briefly after.

“His father should fire him. What a fucking prick, honestly. Makes me so angry just thinking about how long you had to endure his shit for. At least the others know now”

Jimin placed his hand on Jungkook's thigh while the younger male pushed his key into the ignition, the engine coming to life a moment later.

“Don't be mad, please, today is a good day. I don't want that to be ruined because of him”

The taller boy's gaze flickered over to him, eyes softening immediately at the sight of Jimin's big, innocent eyes.

“You're right. Sorry. I just don't like the thought of someone hurting you” Jungkook uttered, grasping Jimin's delicate hand and bringing it up to his lips, pressing a soft kiss against his knuckles.

Jimin's heartbeat quickened, warmth running through his chest at the gesture as well as the words that Jungkook spoke.

“Thank you, Kook-ah”

“Seatbelt on, angel”

Nodding – while also blushing a little – Jimin swiftly put his seatbelt on, Jungkook mirroring his action before he pulled out of the parking spot.

“I'll drive you home to yours, hm?”
“O-Oh” Jimin murmured, pulling his brows together as he glanced down at his lap, “I-I just... So you'll drop me off?”

Seemingly surprised, Jungkook took a glimpse at him, eyebrows arched up before he fixated his gaze back on the road, “Do you want me to?”

“No, I... I want you to stay”

“I was planning on. Your place is just way closer than mine” Jungkook replied, smirk on his face. Butterflies spread in Jimin's stomach at the thought of spending their first night together as a couple, anticipation and excitement all the same.

“Are you actually tired and want to sleep?” Jungkook asked.

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth, shaking his head, “No”

“Good. Anything in mind you want to do?” The black haired boy then wondered, voice somehow suggestive as he arched up an eyebrow, smirk still plastered on his face.

Was Jungkook hinting at something particular?

Well, apparently he was.

“I haven't been able to stop thinking about what I want to do to you tonight now that you're mine” The boy added, Jimin blushing as he drew his thighs together.

His heartbeat quickened as he glanced at Jungkook, “W-What do you want to do to me?” Jimin wanted to know, voice just above a whisper.

“Ahh, better not make me think about it now or I'll have to pull to the side” Jungkook warned, the tone of his voice lower as he shook his head, “Let's just say I'm going to give you the pleasure and worship your body deserves”

Involuntarily, a soft breath escaped Jimin, said boy's cheeks flushing deeper as he felt his penis twitch in anticipation, “Kook-ah” Jimin whined, hand trailing down to his lap.

Jungkook caught his movement, shaking his head, “Don't touch yourself, little one. Don't want to distract me, do you?”

Oh god.

That was unfair. Jungkook was doing that on purpose now, knew exactly what kind of effect he had on him.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin mewed, biting down on his bottom lip as he clenched his hands into little fists, penis twitching again in his pants.

The younger male cocked his head to the side, eyes still fixated on the road – for their safety, obviously – although he wanted nothing more than to glance at Jimin and observe him squirming in his seat, catch his flushed cheeks and evoke more of those pretty sounds he always makes.
“We're almost there, kitten, don't worry” Jungkook assured, amusement in his voice as Jimin escaped another high-pitched whine.

However, he couldn't deny his own dick hardening at the thoughts of what he was going to do to Jimin, feeling his own lust and desire bloom inside of him.

Perhaps, he did drive a little faster because of that.

---

Once Jungkook parked the car in front of Jimin's building, they wasted no time to undo their seatbelts, Jungkook climbing out of the car and grabbing Jimin's bouquets of flowers from the backseat for him while the smaller one hopped out of his seat.

Jimin almost tripped over his own two feet – way too excited and almost nervous to be cautious with his surroundings at this point – but fortunately, Jungkook was there to close his arm around Jimin's waist, pulling him closer and preventing him from falling.

“Baby, careful” Jungkook chuckled, locking his car before he caressed Jimin's cheekbone with his thumb, “Don't want you to hurt yourself, hm?”

Nodding, Jimin blinked, not wanting to be impatient, but essentially just wanting to rush into his apartment now.

“Kook-ah” Jimin urged softly, pouting when Jungkook was just standing there and studying his delicate features, still completely mesmerised and utterly captivated by the beauty that Jimin was.

“Little one, we have the whole night” Jungkook assured, leaning down and whispering those words into his ear, causing a shiver to run down Jimin's back. Then, the black haired boy pressed a peck against his neck, Jimin gasping as Jungkook had touched the spot with his lips he always left a mark on, “Come on now, before I take you right here”

Blushing, Jimin watched Jungkook grasp his wrist and followed him towards his building, failing to remember that he was supposed to use his keys in order for them to be able of even enter.

“Baby?” Jungkook muttered, gesturing towards the door while Jimin was just standing there, bulge rubbing against the fabric of his trousers, tent visible right there and making it harder for him to think clear while all the possible scenarios of what Jungkook was going to do to him came up in his mind, “Do you need help?”

The taller boy moved closer, Jimin taking a step back and bumping into the front door, a gasp escaping him as Jungkook pushed his body against Jimin's, the older male capable of feeling the warmth that he was radiating, the familiar and loving scent of him filling Jimin's nostrils.

“T-This isn't really helping” Jimin mumbled, Jungkook leaning down and connecting their lips in a kiss.

“I don't mind taking your right here” Jungkook murmured against his lips, seductive tone driving Jimin crazy as he attached their lips in another kiss, “Let's see if there is any truth to your exhibitionism kink, hm? Would you like me to fuck you right here where anyone could see you?”

Oh god.

Jimin's gasped, Jungkook's words so obscene, yet resulting in his penis to twitch once again. Honestly, he didn't even know what exactly that was, but then again Jungkook's statement had been very clear and didn't leave much room for interpretation – the kink clearly about having sex in public, right? - which, well, Jimin wasn't sure whether or not he would like that, yet his body clearly did. However, perhaps the reaction to those words might be caused by Jimin's desire of being touched at all.

“Yet, I don't really like the idea of anyone else seeing you like that. The sounds you make, the way you beg for me to touch you, your naked body. Just for me to see, right, little one?”

Swiftly, Jimin nodded, Jungkook rocking his hips forward against Jimin's crotch. In response, Jimin whimpered, catching his bottom lip between his teeth because he didn't want to be too loud and disturb any of his neighbours.

“Say it, kitten” Jungkook insisted, trailing kisses down Jimin's neck.

The pink haired boy was about to speak up, yet suddenly the entrance door opened, a man leaving the building.

“Good night” Jungkook answered politely, preventing the door from falling shut while placing his foot in front of it.

Jimin could only blink, already too far gone because of all the teasing, implications and kisses. The younger one chuckled, pushing the bouquets of flowers at Jimin's chest before he grabbed the boy at the back of his thighs and lifted him up with ease.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin breathed as he wrapped his legs around Jungkook's waist, said boy walking inside the building, “You can't carry me up the stairs. That's three floors!” Jimin exclaimed as Jungkook took the first steps of stairs, seemingly not affected at all.

“Watch me” Jungkook smirked, Jimin almost wanting to roll his eyes, but letting out a breath instead because quite frankly – he was impressed by his strength. Yet, that wasn't really anything new. It was a known fact between them how much Jimin was really impressed or rather affected by Jungkook's strength. To be fair, Jimin never really questioned why that trait about Jungkook did that to him, but he didn't care that much either because Jungkook seemed to enjoy exploring it just as much.

Effortlessly. Is what Jimin thought once they were up on his floor, right in front of his apartment door. Fortunately, Jimin had picked out his keys by now, Jungkook taking them from him and not wasting any more time as he finally opened the door.

In a swift motion, they were inside of Jimin's flat, Jungkook kicking the door shut with his foot and pressing Jimin up against the wall.

In response, Jimin's breath hitched in his throat, gaze rushing up and down between Jungkook's beautiful eyes and his soft lips.

“I'll take these” Jungkook uttered and took the flowers from Jimin. Then, he scanned the room, seemingly contemplating over something. Well, actually, Jungkook was currently deliberating over just tossing the flowers somewhere without a care or walking into the kitchen and finding a vase somewhere as those were gifts after all.

Jimin whined at the lack of attention, feeling so cold as he's being neglected. The sound brought Jungkook out of his thoughts, cursing under his breath as he hooked an arm around Jimin's butt while walking over to the kitchen and dropping the flowers gently on the counter.
The smaller boy didn't know if he wanted to giggle or coo at the gesture, yet not really having much time to think at all as he was sat down on the counter. A yelp escaped him as Jungkook spread his legs and stood in between them, not wasting another moment as he captured Jimin's lips in a kiss.

Soft breaths left both of their mouths, their lips parting almost simultaneously as Jungkook pushed his tongue into Jimin's mouth, licking over the flesh while he gripped Jimin's hips. The pink haired male wrapped his arms around Jungkook's neck and pulled him impossibly closer, loving the taste and touch of him.

They deepened their kiss, lips moving a little faster, yet with the same passion and tenderness – almost cautious, Jimin felt like, as if not to hurt one another – but not for long, the kiss becoming a little hungrier, both of them not getting enough of each other.

Jungkook really was like a drug, wasn't he? Genuinely, Jungkook was so intoxicating, invading all of Jimin's senses and making it difficult to think about anything else but the gorgeous black haired boy. Oh, how much Jimin had missed this – had missed kissing Jungkook, touching him and being touched by him all the same. There was something so comforting about being this close to him, about being Jungkook's and having Jungkook be his, too.

They were meant for each other. Jimin felt that in his bones, felt that when their hearts skipped the same beat. There had been never a chance of them actually being apart – an invisible string, almost like a gravitational force always pulling them back to each other. Ending up together had quite honestly been inevitable.

At least the universe had made sure of that, had gifted Jimin this light in his life.

Obviously, it hadn't been rainbows and flowers throughout their whole journey, but they were together now, had found their way to each other eventually – the struggles and all the chaos worth it in the end.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook whispered against his lips, pulling on his bottom one with his teeth briefly after and drawing Jimin out of his thoughts who was already panting, “Fuck, I don't even know where to start, what to do to you first”

The words and the tone Jungkook applied caused a shiver to run down Jimin's back, penis twitching in anticipation, already semi-hard due to their making out session. Both of the boys were breathing heavily, having chosen each other's lips as their source of living rather than taking breaks to actually breathe – almost suffocating in the process, but to be fair, being apart from each other any longer felt more suffocating than anything else to them at this point.

They needed each other, quite literally.

They didn't want to be without each other any longer.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin begged, chasing Jungkook's lips for another kiss and who was Jungkook to deny his baby such a thing? Quickly attaching their lips in a deep, hungry kiss, the younger male gripped the hem of Jimin's shirt.

“May I?” Jungkook asked in between their kiss.

Jimin nodded quickly, not entirely sure what Jungkook was asking for, but agreeing all the same because whatever Jungkook wanted to do to him was welcome to Jimin.

The other boy lifted Jimin's shirt only slightly, just enough to move his hand below the material and touch his skin with his warm hand, tracing over Jimin's waist so gently, feeling goosebumps rise beneath his touch.

Then, he slowly lifted the shirt further up, Jimin observing his every move with big eyes, Jungkook studying his delicate features as he tugged the shirt above his head and tossed it to the side.

As the air hit Jimin's exposed upper body, the poor boy shuddered, goosebumps forming on his skin as he felt cold. Jungkook noticed, leaning down and capturing Jimin's lips in a small kiss, “I'll make sure you feel very warm in just a moment, kitten” He promised, voice low as his hand was back on Jimin's skin, trailing up his stomach, Jimin arching against the touch almost unconsciously.

“Ah” Jimin breathed as he felt Jungkook's fingertips brush over his nipple, the nub hardening immediately as he repeated the process.

The reaction appeared to satisfy Jungkook as he smirked and did the same motion again, Jimin's eyes fluttering shut as the touch was so soft, yet also very effective.

Then, Jungkook's hands were gone, an embarrassing whine escaping Jimin as his eyes shot open, the black haired male only smirking in amusement as he took Jimin's shoes off.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin begged, voice breaking as he reached out for the boy.

“I'll touch you, little one, don't worry. Just need to take your shoes off, hm?”

Quickly nodding, Jimin wanted to help him with the other shoe, but Jungkook shook his hand and grabbed his wrist.

“Patience, baby. Let me do the work, okay? I told you that I want to pleasure you tonight. You can just sit or lie there and enjoy it, do you understand, kitten?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin nodded.

“You're words, kitten, use your words”

“I-I understand”

“Good boy”

Jimin blushed at the pet name, a shaky breath leaving his lips as he felt his erection jerk once again.

Jungkook knew him so well, didn't he? Knew exactly how to get him all worked up, knew what he liked and what he didn't, knew how to satisfy him in the most pleasurable way.

Jimin's shoes dropping to the floor startled the smaller boy, watching Jungkook slip out of his own shoes, too, as he moved closer to Jimin again.

His heart was pounding so fast against his chest, breathing having become difficult a long time ago now and it was so damn hard not to just reach out to Jungkook and hump against him.

Well, just to clear that up, Jimin wasn't... wasn't that desperate... was he? Quite honestly, as soon as he was aroused, Jimin had not really that much more control over his actions, his more submissive headspace already having taking over and his neediness coming to shine. It wasn't exactly his fault that he wanted Jungkook so much, that he liked his boyfriend that much.

Unconsciously, Jimin smiled at the thought, Jungkook mirroring his expression when he noticed.
“Can you lift your hips for me, baby?” Jungkook asked, eyebrows arched up as he zipped down Jimin's pants, said boy placing his hands behind himself on the counter and lifting his hips in order to make the process easier for Jungkook.

The taller boy tugged down his pants in a swift motion, tossing them to the side before he rested his warm hands back on Jimin's thighs. The sudden touch against his skin caused his legs to twitch, Jimin biting down on his bottom lip to prevent himself from whimpering when Jungkook traced his fingertips over his inner thighs, goosebumps rising on his skin.

“So beautiful, angel” Jungkook complimented, captivated by Jimin's fair and soft skin, loving how goosebumps rose whereever his fingers touched him. The sweet boy was so responsive to him, body always reacting in such an adorable way – the little breath that escaped Jimin just proving that thought.

“T-Thank you”

The black haired male wet his lips, the urge to leave marks everywhere on his body washed over him, the thought exciting him as he leaned closer to Jimin. Said boy gulped as he felt Jungkook's breath hit his skin, the boy sticking his tongue out and licking over Jimin's neck.

“A-Ah, Kook” Jimin moaned breathy, eyes fluttering shut as Jungkook smiled against his skin, leaving open-mouthed kisses on his neck that he trailed up and down, yet always coming back to that one spot.

The spot that Dongha had left a hickey on back then. The first time the boy had shown his actual intention. However, deep down, Jimin still didn't believe that Dongha was an evil person – Just someone that didn't know how to behave when having certain feelings and quite honestly someone that didn't particularly know how to treat someone he liked with some decent respect.

Maybe that's why Jungkook always made sure to leave a mark there – because he knew that Dongha had left one there previously. Maybe he didn't like the thought of there ever having been someone else's mark but his own although Dongha's hickey had long since faded.

“May I?” Jungkook murmured against his skin – still, even now that they were in a relationship – asking for permission and making sure Jimin's consent is there for everything he does to him.

That fact actually warmed Jimin's heart, comforted him and made him feel closer to Jungkook even more because it was so beautiful how Jungkook cared for him and his well-being.

“Of course, Kook-ah, you don't have to ask anymore” Jimin assured softly.

Or ever, really, he almost wanted to add. Frankly, there had never been a time where Jimin had denied Jungkook to leave a mark on his body. Jimin liked the idea of having a mark left on his body, had always loved the sight of having a reminder of being with Jungkook somewhere placed on his skin – That fact hadn't changed.

The younger male didn't need to be told twice, sucking on Jimin's skin immediataly, resulting in said boy to hiss at the action, legs jerking.

“Jungkookie” Jimin mewed quietly, exposing his neck even more towards the other male who licked over his creation now, satisfied with the mark on Jimin's body.

“Mine” Jungkook breathed, something so sweet – something beside lust – flashing in his eyes as he rubbed his thumb over the hickey, the touch so soft as if he wanted to soothe any pain that Jimin felt.
The pink haired boy's heart fluttered at Jungkook's statement, the boy smiling as he hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck.

"Little one, I really fucking want to eat you out. Is that okay? Do you want that, too?" Jungkook almost growled, eyes dark and pupils dilated as he gently trailed his hands up and down Jimin's legs. Jimin blushed, hiding his face further in Jungkook's neck as he felt his erection jerk up in excitement.

"Hm, kitten? Answer me, baby"

"Y-Yes, please" Jimin breathed, embarrassed, but wanting it so bad all the same. The desire gradually grew as he reminisced about the time Jungkook had done that to him, the feeling so new and overwhelming, yet so intense and just pure bliss.

Suddenly, Jungkook grasped his hips again and lifted Jimin down on his feet, spinning him around and placing a hand on his back as he pushed him down the counter in order for Jimin to bend over it. The smaller boy gasped as he was manhandled by Jungkook, his own arms resting on the counter as he placed his head on top of them.

Heart beating fast in his chest, Jimin looked back over his shoulder, watching Jungkook drop down on his knees on the hard floor. He didn't waste another second, gripping the waistband of Jimin's underwear and tugging them down in one swift motion. Jimin stepped out of them, now completely naked – bend over the counter inside of his kitchen. That was so obscene, the boy thought. Jimin would have never imagined to do anything like this.

The taller boy cursed at the sight of Jimin's round, fair skinned butt, mouth watering as he grabbed the flesh and pulled his buttcheeks to the side.

"So pretty" Jungkook complimented, voice noticeably lower and huskier as he leaned forward.

"K-Kook-ah" Jimin whimpered, "M-Maybe, maybe somewhere else- your knees" The poor boy tried to form a coherent sentence, head so dizzy as all he could think about was Jungkook. The anticipation of the black haired one eating him out was driving him wild, erection actually hurting due to how aroused he was – Just needing, craving for something, anything. However, the position Jungkook was in didn't appear to be the most comfortable one.

"Mhm, you want me to eat you out somewhere else?" Jungkook clarified, fortunately understanding what Jimin had attempted to get across. The younger male couldn't help but smile fondly at Jimin's concern about him. Although Jimin was already so far gone in his headspace and wanted nothing more than for Jungkook to touch him in any way, he still cared about him and his comfort, "Alright, baby, whatever you want"

With that, Jungkook got back up, gripping Jimin's hips and spinning the boy around. Swiftly, he lifted his boyfriend up over his shoulder, Jimin squeaking as Jungkook carried him into his bedroom.

Softly, he set Jimin down on the bed, said boy gasping as he laid down on the bunch of pillows on his bed, naked body fully exposed to Jungkook who was still completely dressed. The black haired male couldn't help but let his eyes roam over Jimin's beautiful body – pale skin so inviting, thighs thick and trembling in anticipation of being touched, cheeks flushed in a pretty pink as the boy was so aroused, eyes glassy and big, looking at Jungkook in the most innocent way. Gosh, was he beautiful – and damn was Jungkook lucky to call him his.

"Jungkook-ah" Jimin whined, said boy not wasting any more time and joining Jimin on his bed, turning the lamp on the nightstand on in the process so the room was at least illuminated in dim light.
“Right here, kitten” Jungkook assured, leaning down to press a peck on Jimin's lips. Jimin smiled slightly at the gentle kiss, wanting to deepen the kiss, yet pouting when Jungkook pulled away with a pillow in his hands.

Then, the taller boy grasped his ankles, pushing them back and bending Jimin's knees before he spread his legs – exposing his most intimate parts to him. Jungkook kneeled down inbetween his legs, reaching out for Jimin's thighs because he simply couldn't resist. Jimin's legs jerked at the contact, goosebumps rising as Jungkook gently traced his fingertips over his inner thighs, moving closer and closer to where Jimin needed him the most – but disappearing as quickly as they had appeared.

“Lift your hips for me, little one”

Jimin obeyed and brought his hips up, Jungkook placing a pillow beneath his butt before he pushed gently against Jimin's thighs to signal for him to rest down on the pillow. The smaller boy complied again, slightly confused by the situation, but figuring that Jungkook knew what he was doing.

“I wanna see your pretty face when I pleasure you, wanna see you moan my name when I eat you out” Jungkook explained, almost like he could read Jimin's mind.

The older male blushed, Jungkook smiling as he noticed Jimin's timidity. It was silly at this point, wasn't it? How Jimin still felt so incredibly shy after everything they had done together? Yet, he couldn't help himself.

“Kitten, can you do me a favour? Can you hold your legs up like this for me?” Jungkook asked, reaching for Jimin's hands and placing them against the back of his knees.

Jimin gulped as he pulled his legs back as far as he could, spreading them a little further and essentially bending himself in half. A breeze of air brushed past his butt, showing him how exposed his entrance to Jungkook was.

“Shit, baby, just like that” Jungkook cursed, licking his lips at the sight of Jimin's tight, pink hole exposed to him, “Is that okay, little one? Do you feel comfortable?” The boy wanted to make sure, voice a little softer as he locked eyes with Jimin.

The shorter boy gave a quick nod, the urge to beg for Jungkook to please, oh please, touch him at the tip of his tongue, yet he held it and just whined high in his throat. Jungkook chuckled in amusement, noticing how quick his chest rose and fell as his baby was so excited.

“Okay, little one, be a good boy and try to keep still now” Jungkook smirked as he settled down in front of Jimin's exposed hole, said boy gasping although Jungkook wasn't even touching him yet.

Without another warning, Jungkook leaned forward and licked a big stripe over Jimin's entrance.

“J-Jung- Aaah!” Jimin cried out, eyes rolling back inside of his head as Jungkook sucked hard on his entrance, pushing tongue inside ever so slightly before he continued to lick over it in slow motions, “P-Please”
The poor boy grabbed the back of his knees harder, legs shaking all over while Jungkook kept licking over his entrance, tongue moving up and down a little faster. To be honest, Jimin didn't know what to do with himself, was already so very out of it and overwhelmed. He was breathing heavily, whimpering every now and then whenever Jungkook pushed his tongue inside of his hole just to be gone a second later. It was driving him crazy.

“Such pretty sounds, kitten, just for me” Jungkook whispered against his skin, trailing kisses up his thigh, nibbling and sucking on his skin to leave more marks, “Mine”

“Kook-ah, please, more” Jimin whined, pushing his hole in Jungkook’s direction who smirked in amusement as he fixated his gaze back on Jimin.

“More what, baby?”

Jimin gulped, wanting to kick his legs in frustration because Jungkook knew – he knew what Jimin wanted.

“Please, you- you know what I want, Jungkook-ah, I want you, d-down there, pleaseee”

Chuckling, the black haired male leaned back down and licked right over his entrance, Jimin moaning at the touch and tossing his head back in ecstasy.

“T-Thank you” The smaller boy mewled high-pitched, Jungkook closing one arm around Jimin's thigh and gripping his skin tightly to ensure him keeping his legs spread and his body close as he continued his action on Jimin’s hole.

It felt so good, so good. Jimin's heart was racing, his lips leaving the most sweetest little whimpers and whines just for Jungkook who was making him feel pure bliss. The younger one pushed his tongue in and out of his hole, twirled it around his rim or licked up and down his entrance as if he couldn't get enough – couldn't get enough of pleasuring Jimin and causing him to make the cutest sounds.

Gosh, how much Jungkook loved them. Those pretty noises he made just for him.

Jimin's thighs were still shaking, Jungkook noticing it as he was holding one of them. Clearly, Jimin wouldn't be able to hold himself open like this for much longer, way too overwhelmed by everything.

“Oh my god!” Jimin cried out, back arching up as Jungkook had spat right on his hole, now pushing one of his fingers inside of Jimin ever so slightly – just teasing, just wanting to evoke those reactions.

The taller boy smirked, satisfied as he circled Jimin's rim with his index finger, pushing it inside very lightly while still lapping his tongue around his hole.

In result, Jimin opened his mouth in a silent scream, Jungkook pushing his finger further inside until all of it was settled inside of his hole.

“Kook-aaaaah!” Jimin moaned high-pitched, biting down on his bottom lip again as he remembered his neighbours. Quite frankly, Jimin had disturbed his neighbours quite a bit these past weeks – not intentionally, but still. He didn't want to cause any further disturbance and make them mad at him for being so loud that late at night.

As if Jungkook wanted to test him he pushed another finger inside of Jimin, the boy feeling so full and loving it – loving it so much that he wanted to scream out Jungkook's name. Attempting to be quiet, Jimin bit down harder on his lip, almost sure there was going to be blood as Jungkook scissored his fingers, pushing his tongue inside inbetween them.

“Oh g-god” Jimin whisper-yelled, eyes rolling back inside of his head as he arched up his back, Jungkook licking around inside of his hole before his tongue was gone again, only his fingers moving inside of Jimin now – stretching him, stretching him so nicely.

Jimin felt so full already, but wanted more, couldn't wait for Jungkook to be inside of him and thrust-

“Oh my god, Kook-ah!” The pink haired boy cried out, legs shaking and hands finally giving out as Jungkook pushed his fingers firmly against his prostate.

“There it is” Jungkook noted, voice husky as he rubbed against the nub of nerves, Jimin squeezing his eyes shut as high-pitched whimpers escaped his parted lips, “Feels good, kitten?”

“O-Oh god, so good, Kook-ah, so good” Jimin moaned, nodding frantically as he grabbed the bedsheets next to him, clenching his hands into little fists while Jungkook continued playing with his prostate, “A-Ah, Jungkook-aaah”

The poor boy tried to keep his knees bend and legs up, but he was shaking so much, couldn't handle all that intense stimulation while simultaneously holding up his legs any longer. Crying out at a particular firm thrust of Jungkook's fingers against his prostate while said boy licked around his hole, Jimin's legs collapsed back down on the bed.

The taller male looked up at Jimin, slowing his pace as he studied Jimin's face. Jimin noticed the spit that was shining on his chin, drool probably spread all over Jimin's crack as well.

“S-Sorry” Jimin apologised, recalling how Jungkook had ordered him to be still.

“Sssh, it's okay, beautiful” Jungkook cooed, voice soft as he reassured him, placing open-mouthed kisses against his inner thigh.

Jimin's heart fluttered at the new pet name, smiling shyly as he locked eyes with Jungkook who was still caressing his thighs with gentle kisses – observing how Jimin's legs where still trembling -, fingers moving so slowly inside of his hole, barely brushing his walls or his prostate.

Gently, Jimin moved his hand down, noticing the puddle of pre-cum on his stomach that was leaking out of his hard length, the tip red already. Carefully, Jimin brushed his fingertips against Jungkook's hand that was still gripping his thigh.

The black haired boy looked back and forth between his eyes, appearing to understand what Jimin was silently asking for as he intertwined their fingers, hands aligning.

Both shared a small smile, the act somewhat pure and making all of this so much more intimate.

“Are you okay?” Jungkook asked, fingers only circling his rim now, eyes not leaving Jimin's delicate face, “Do you remember our safewords? Use them whenever needed, okay, angel?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed, not trusting his voice as he was sure it was raspy due to his moaning and screaming – God, Jimin just prayed that his neighbours didn't hear him.

“Can you tell me what they are, little one?”

It took a moment for Jimin to think about that one, blinking as he cleared his throat, “R-Red for stop, yellow for slower and green for okay”
“Good boy”

Jimin smiled, “Are you okay ?” The boy then wondered. Frankly, Jungkook's neck must be quite sore from the position he had been in for so long now.

“More than okay, baby” Jungkook assured, leaning back down and licking right over Jimin's hole. In result, the action evoke another whimper from Jimin who squeezed Jungkook's hand as said boy pushed his fingers inside of his entrance once more.

As much as Jimin loved this – oh, the feeling was pure bliss – he really just wanted Jungkook to be inside of him.

“K-Kook-ah- ah, oh god!” Jimin whisper-yelled again when Jungkook decided to rub his fingers in firm circle motions against his prostate while lapping his tongue around the rim. The movement caused Jimin's penis to twitch yet again, more pre-cum leaking out at the intense stimulation. The pink haired male was certain that he wasn't going to last much longer, if Jungkook was going to continue touching him like this.

“You're leaking so much for me, kitten” Jungkook commented, licking over his lips as he observed Jimin's dick twitch with every thrust against his prostate, the tip so red and just begging for release, “Just for me, baby”

“Just for you” Jimin whimpered, eyes rolling back as he squeezed Jungkook's hand harder, back arching up again.

The taller boy thrusted his fingers firmer against Jimin's prostate, watching his nose scrunch up in pleasure as he squeezed his eyes shut, the sensation too overwhelming for the smaller one. Jungkook was mesmerised, couldn't take his eyes away from Jimin's face, observing his delicate features react to the abuse on his prostate.

And those sounds – fuck, those adorable noises Jimin made. Jungkook couldn't get enough, wanted to hear them every day. It was odd how Jungkook referred to those sounds Jimin made as cute while they also turned him on so fucking much. It was similar when it came to Jimin overall. The innocence he represented was so adorable, caused Jungkook to have the urge to protect the boy from anything bad there is, yet he wanted to watch Jimin fall apart in pleasure and ruin him all the same.

Those noises were for him alone. Jungkook wouldn't let anyone else ever hear them, wouldn't let anyone else ever see Jimin as vulnerable as this. The thought alone made his blood boil, to imagine Jimin moaning someone else's name, someone else touching him the way Jungkook did. Hell, no.

Mine, Jungkook thought, just as much as I'm his.

There was nothing Jungkook would ever let happen to the smaller boy. Damn, he would give his life to see Jimin be happy and safe. No one else would ever even dare to hurt him now that he was his and Jungkook would be by his side forever. The black haired boy would make sure of that.

“K-Kookie” Jimin whimpered, tears in the corner of his eyes due to the intense feeling, the poor boy way too overwhelmed by everything. He desperately wanted to come, yet he wanted to find his release with Jungkook inside of him, causing him to try and hold back.

It was so difficult, though, so difficult to be stimulated like that, but attempting to deny yourself to come when you were so incredibly, frustratingly close.

“P-Please, Kookie, can you- more, please, want you inside of me, please, please” Jimin begged, reaching for Jungkook with his other hand while he pulled at the one he was holding very weakly.
“Okay, little one, but I have to prep you first, don't I?” The black haired boy noted, straightening his back and tilting his head from side to side, neck feeling a little sore, yet it had been so fucking worth it. To be fair, Jungkook would have loved to keep going, eating the boy out a little more until he came all over himself, crying ever so sweetly as he begged Jungkook to finally fuck him, but this was great, too, “Where is your lube?” He asked, caressing Jimin's inner thighs and ignoring the way the pink haired boy whined frustratedly at the thought of having to be stretched further before Jungkook would fuck into him.

“T-Top drawer” Jimin answered, voice a little hoarse as he gestured towards his nightstand. The taller boy leaned over and opened the top drawer of the nightstand, picking out the bottle of lube while he bottoned down his shirt with his other hand. As soon as he held the bottle in his hand, he noticed that it was half empty.

Arching up an eyebrow, he stared at the male beneath him, “I see that you've used it quite a lot, haven't you?”

Jimin gulped, blushing as he gave a nod, “Used it myself when I...when I...”

“When you played with your little hole, hm?” Jungkook finished the sentence for him, dick jerking at the thought of the smaller boy squirming around on his bed, fucking himself with his fingers while making those sweet noises. Yet, he was also proud of Jimin for having learned to touch himself on his own, had listened to what Jungkook had asked of him, “What did you think about when you fucked yourself with your fingers, hm? Wanna tell me, kitten?” The boy asked, voice low as he dropped the bottle of lube on the bed, opening the last bottons on his shirt and pulling it off.

The pink haired boy swallowed hard, distracted by the sight as he let his gaze drift down from Jungkook's face to his upper body, exposed abs, broad chest and defined muscles causing him to whimper, “I... I...” Jimin attempted to answer, voice just above a whisper as his eyes travelled over Jungkook's body, further down to the visible tent in Jungkook's pants as said boy opened his belt, causing Jimin to try and draw his legs together as he felt his penis twitch in excitement.

Jungkook smirked, knowing what kind of effect he had on the cute boy, zipping down his pants while he studied Jimin's face.

“Hm, little one? Aren't you going to answer me?” Jungkook wondered, cocking his head to the side as he got up from the bed to take his pants off, pushing them down his legs together with his briefs and exposing his big hard length that sprang free as he stepped out of his pants.

The smaller male gulped again, shaky breath leaving his lips as his eyes flickered up to Jungkook's dark, lustful eyes before they rushed back down to his body.

“I... I always think...” Jimin tried again as he watched Jungkook join him back on the bed, hand immediataly grabbing his thigh and caressing the skin so softly as he let his fingertips trace over his thigh, distracting Jimin yet again.

It's not his fault, really. Jimin tried really hard to process Jungkook's question and form a coherent sentence, but everytime he attempted to answer, he seemed to forget how to talk, Jungkook invading all of his senses completely.

It was a little unfair how Jimin seemed to lose control over himself, falling into that headspace whenever Jungkook touched him while the taller boy was able to talk so steadily, keep his composure and catch Jimin as he fell into that submissive state.

Perhaps, they were a perfect match. The black haired male was capable of knowing how to handle Jimin, there to catch him when he became this aroused and needy. So perhaps it wasn't unfair, but actually just like it was meant to be between them.

Suddenly, Jungkook gave his inner thigh a light slap, Jimin yelping at the action, but also feeling his penis jerk.

“W-What-” Jimin gasped, legs shaking as he locked eyes with Jungkook who caressed the spot he had prior just spanked.

“Kitten, it's very rude to ignore me, don't you think? I asked you two times, but you didn't give me an answer, hm?” Jungkook noted, eyebrow arched up. There was still fondness in Jungkook's eyes, somewhere there in the dark shade of brown, next to the lust and desire, Jimin knowing that he was simply doing what he knew Jimin liked, that he had fallen into a more dominant role himself.

“I'm sorry” Jimin apologise, voice quiet and soft as he caught his bottom lip between his teeth, not questioning why he had gotten aroused by Jungkook slapping him – because, well, recalling the time that Jungkook had spanked him, this really wasn't that much of a surprising information, “You” He finally answered, gulping when the reply caused Jungkook to smirk, humming simultaneously.

“G-Green” Jimin assured, not a doubt in his mind.

“What did I do to you, kitten, hm? What did you think about when you got yourself off?” The taller boy then wanted to know, still tracing his fingertips over Jimin's inner thigh, goosebumps rising on his skin. His penis was still very much hard, yet there was no real stimulation or friction, causing him to slowly come down from his high, having been so close to the edge, yet now getting further away from it.

Jimin felt his cheeks heat up at the question, too embarrassed to tell Jungkook what he imagined whenever he touched himself, “I...”

“Tell me, little one”

“I... I imagined sucking you off” Jimin responded quietly, flush deepening as he observed Jungkook's eyes darkening, “And you doing... you doing what you just did to me before... before you took me... hard”

“Fuck” Jungkook cursed, licking his lips as he kneeled down inbetween Jimin's legs, “You love having something in your mouth, don't you, kitten? Love sucking me off”

“Y-Yes” Jimin confirmed because honestly, that was true. To be honest, he didn't know what exactly it was – whether it was the fact that he was pleasuring Jungkook, the fact of being good or just the fact of gagging on something in his mouth – he really didn't know, yet he was certain that he loved it.

“Wanna suck me off while I prep you, kitten?”

The whimper that left Jimin in excitement at the question was a little embarrassing, the boy thought, but he didn't care. It has been so long since he had last given Jungkook a blowjob. Maybe tonight was going to be the day Jimin was finally going to be able to fit all of him inside of his mouth.

“Y-Yes, please” Jimin answered, voice soft.
Well, it didn't take long for Jimin to wonder how that was even supposed to work. How was Jimin going to pleasure Jungkook and have him simultaneously prep him? Surely, that wasn't going to work, was it?

“Up, little one” Jungkook insisted, grasping his hips softly and lifting the smaller boy up with ease, Jimin's head spinning a little as he was set down upright. The younger male smiled at the sight, Jimin's hair a fluffy mess on top of his head as he stared at him with dazed eyes.

Then, Jungkook laid down on the bed himself, patting his stomach and signaling for Jimin to straddle him. Hesitantly and a little confused, Jimin obeyed and swung his leg over Jungkook's stomach, straddling him.

A chuckle left Jungkook as he shook his head and gripped Jimin's waist once again, “The other way around, little one, face away from me”

Jimin's eyes went wide, blush deepening as he turned around, his back now exposed to Jungkook who reached for his thighs and pulled him further towards himself.

“K-Kook-ah” The pink haired male breathed, his butt now right in front of Jungkook's face, fully exposed.

“Is this okay, angel?” Jungkook wanted to make sure, voice a little softer as he noticed Jimin's slight nervousness at their position, rubbing over his thighs soothingly.

“Yes, Kook-ah” Jimin replied and nodded, staring back over his shoulder.

“Start whenever you feel ready” The younger one then uttered, reaching for the bottle of lube while Jimin inhaled deeply before leaning over, “Shit” Jungkook cursed once Jimin was bent over, his pink hole exposed and so damn inviting.

Carefully, Jimin wrapped his tiny hand around the hard length, Jungkook letting out a breath at the contact. His penis was already up to full hardness, heavy in Jimin's petite grasp as he stroked his hand up and down almost curiously, as if he'd forgotten how Jungkook's penis felt like in his hand.

When his mouth began to water at the sight, the smaller male leaned down and licked right over the tip, tasting some pre-cum that had leaked out of the head. Jungkook cursed in response behind him, squirting some lube over two of his fingers.

Slowly, Jimin opened his mouth wide, moving down and pushing Jungkook's hard length inside of his mouth.

“Just like that, fuck, baby” Jungkook growled, eyes falling shut when Jimin sank down further, not really taking his time to adjust or perhaps not needing to as he pushed more and more of Jungkook's length in his mouth.

Almost skillfully by now, Jimin twirled his tongue around the head, pride swelling up in his chest as the erection twitched at the touch, Jungkook groaning his name out behind him. Determined, Jimin sunk down further, squeezing his eyes shut when he felt his gag reflex reject.

Whining high in his throat, Jimin pulled off, coughing as a streak of spit connected his mouth and Jungkook's hard length.

“Careful, baby” Jungkook warned softly, circling his fingers around Jimin's rim before he pushed his fingers inside.
“J-Jungkook-ah” Jimin mewled at the welcoming feeling of being filled again, Jungkook not wasting time and scissoring his fingers to stretch Jimin further.

For a brief moment, Jimin forgot what he was supposed to do, getting lost in the feeling of Jungkook pushing his fingers in and out of him, eyes fluttering shut when he brushed his prostate ever so slightly – maybe purposely to tease him, maybe accidental, Jimin wasn’t sure.

However, he quickly shook his head and leaned back down, trailing open-mouthed kisses up and down Jungkook's erection, tongue poking out every now and then to lick over the flesh or lap up some pre-cum that was leaking out.

“Ah!” Jimin cried out high-pitched as Jungkook thrusted his fingers right against his prostate, chuckling behind him as he did.

“Sorry, kitten”

Jimin pulled his brows together, knowing very well that he had done that on purpose. Mewling, Jimin twirled his tongue around the tip before he pushed the hard length inside of his mouth again, bobbing his head up and down while sinking down further with each motion.

“Shit, little one” Jungkook growled, pulling his fingers out as he squirted more lube over a third one.

Whining at the loss, Jimin pushed his hips back, asking Jungkook to touch him again who was more than happy to do just that as he pressed three of his fingers against Jimin's entrance, his hole opening up and allowing Jungkook to thrust them inside, a loud squealch filling the room at the action that caused both of their penises to twitch.

The room wasn’t as quiet as Jimin had intended to – Well, hadn’t actually since the beginning – At first it had been Jimin's cute little moans and whines, occasional screams, as well as Jungkook’s praises and licking noises. Now it was Jungkook's grunts, the wet sound of Jungkook thrusting his fingers inside of Jimin and the whines Jimin made as well as those gagging and sucking noises while pleasing the taller boy.

Well, there was definitely going to be a neighbour that was going to complain to him and Jimin already knew that he was going to wish the ground would open up and suck him under, too embarrassed during an encounter like that.

Jimin moaned breathy at the fullness, the stretch burning only slightly, only very briefly before there were jolts of pleasure running through his body. The black haired boy smirked, pushing his fingers from side to side while brushing Jimin's prostate lightly, just to keep the stimulation coming.

The older one bobbed his head down the hard length further, noticing how his gag reflex was trying to reject, yet too determined to pull off, causing him to cough and splutter around the length in his mouth, drool running down the hard flesh and making a big mess.

Tears were swelling up in his eyes, jaw a little sore as he forced down more of Jungkook's length, just wanting to finally fit all him inside. Squeezing his hands into little fists and sinking down further, Jimin's eyes fluttered shut when he reached the base, pride and happiness swelling up in his chest once he noticed.

“Holy shit, kitten” Jungkook groaned, head falling back as he stilled his movement, almost wanting to buck his hips up into the tight, wet heat, but the urge to make sure Jimin was okay and not hurt overweighed that wish, “Such a good boy, fit all of me inside of your mouth, don't you?”

Jimin hummed around his length, a tear trailing down his cheek as he bobbed his head up and down quickly, sucking every now and then, hollowing his cheeks and simply loving the way he was affecting Jungkook, how he groaned his name out and was visibly trying not to move around too much.

In that moment, Jimin wondered how it would feel like to let Jungkook just thrust into his mouth however he wanted to, how it would feel like to give him the control over that, too.

“Fuck, little one, stop. Stop, I'm close”

Jimin didn't listen, pulled off only slightly to twirl his tongue around before he sank back down completely, drool running down and making a big mess as he sucked around the length.

“Kitten, pull off” Jungkook ordered, growling as he grasped Jimin's thighs, fingers having disappeared from Jimin's hole.

The pink haired boy should obey, he knew that very well, but he had just now finally reached his goal of fitting all of Jungkook's length inside of his mouth – he didn't want to stop just yet.

Swoosh.

Jimin yelped at the touch, Jungkook having just spanked him right across his upper thigh.

“Don't make me tell you again, kitten” Jungkook warned, voice low and raspy, a shiver running down Jimin's back as he felt his penis twitch in interest.

Wanting to be good, Jimin pulled off, wiping away the drool from his mouth with the back of his hand as he straightened his back.

“Good boy. Did such a good job, little one, made me feel so good” Jungkook praised, caressing the skin where he had just slapped Jimin.

There must be something wrong with Jimin as he was deliberating over disobeying Jungkook again just to see what he would do, just to have him spank him again. It was odd, and quite honestly a little contradicting to his usual nature of wanting to be good for him. Jimin didn't know what to make of it.

“Little one, are you good? Tell me your colour”

“G-Green” Jimin responded, voice hoarse and a little foreign, yet still having that soft tone to it that Jungkook loved so much.

“I'm going to fuck you now, angel, okay?”

Jimin wanted to scream in joy, so deeply sexually frustrated as he was so aroused, has been stimulated for so long now and still hadn't found his release – this was torture.

The black haired male pushed Jimin off of himself gently, grabbing his waist and manhandling Jimin down on the bed softly so he was lying down on his stomach, legs spread open. The smaller boy gasped, titling his head to the side as he felt Jungkook move on top of him, lying down, but holding his weight up with his hands.

“Is this okay, little one?” Jungkook whispered, voice so soft as he leaned down and pressed a kiss against Jimin's temple, brushing his hair out of his sweaty forehead.

“Yes, Kook-ah” Jimin assured quietly, eyes fluttering shut when Jungkook trailed kisses down his neck, reaching for the bottle of lube and squirting some of it on his hand before he stroked his hard length to ensure it being covered with a good amount.

They both knew that they wouldn't last long, both of them too aroused and so far gone that it wouldn't take that long for them to find their release. Yet, they didn't care, just wanted to be close to each other in the most intimate way by being connected.

Slowly, Jungkook pushed his tip against Jimin's entrance, his hole opening up immediately with no resistance. For a moment, Jungkook considered teasing the poor boy beneath him a little more, but quite honestly, he wouldn't bear any more teasing himself at this point.

Carefully, he pressed himself inside of Jimin, both letting out a soft breath at the feeling.

Jimin gripped the bedsheets beneath himself, clenching his hands into little fists as he adjusted to the size inside of him. The pink haired one felt so full, so filled by Jungkook's length and loving it so much. The feeling was pure bliss.

“Y-Yes, green” Jimin responded, eyes falling shut a moment later as Jungkook pulled out and rammed back inside of him.

“Fuck” Jungkook cursed, “So fucking tight”

The smaller boy whined high in his throat when he noticed that Jungkook was holding himself up with only one arm, the other hand closed around Jimin's hips, keeping him close and still like that.

Jimin was pinned against the bed, Jungkook thrusting in and out of him in a slow, but forceful pace, causing Jimin to rock back and forth with the movement.

It didn't take long for Jungkook to quicken his pace, his hips snapping back and forth in a relentless rhythm, the sound of skin slapping against skin echoing in the room while Jungkook rammed himself inside of Jimin.

“Jimin-ah, you feel so good, fuck” Jungkook growled in his ear, hot breath tickling in Jimin's neck.

The shorter male opened his mouth in a silent scream as soon as Jungkook began to hit his prostate dead on, the feeling causing his eyes to roll back inside of his head as he moved back and forth at the quick thrusts of Jungkook.

“Oh my god” Jimin whimpered high-pitched, grabbing the bedsheets tighter, knuckles turning white.

The heat built in the pit of his stomach, gradually becoming bigger at the force and pace of Jungkook's relentless thrusts. Jimin knew that it wouldn't take much longer, especially with the way his erection was rubbing against the bedsheets, receiving friction with each slam of Jungkook's hips.

“Mine” Jungkook uttered, leaving open-mouthed kisses in Jimin's neck, “Only mine”

“Aaaah!” Jimin cried out, tears swelling up in his eyes because he tried to prevent himself from coming, denying himself his so desperately wanted release because he really wished to come simultaneously with Jungkook, “Are you close, Kook-ah?”

“Yes, little one” Jungkook answered, out of breath as he continued ramming inside of Jimin.

The smaller one hid his face in the pillow he was lying on, screaming Jungkook's name as he approached the edge, penis leaking so much pre-cum over his sheets as the abuse on his prostate didn't stop.

“Just a little longer, kitten, can you do that?”

That's when tears started to stream down Jimin's face as he nodded frantically, “I-I want to, want to come together with you”

“Such a good boy, little one” Jungkook praised, pressing a kiss against his temple as he slowed his pace.

Although the slower pace was very helpful to prevent himself from coming too early, Jimin found himself whining.

Suddenly, the younger one pulled out of him.

“N-No!” Jimin cried out, another tear rolling down his face as Jungkook turned him on his side, lying down behind him, “P-Please”

“Sssh, kitten” Jungkook whispered, hooking his arm around Jimin's leg and lifting it up before he thrusted back into Jimin.

The boy's chest was falling and rising quickly, breathing so uneven at his point as he let out another moan as soon as Jungkook was settled back inside of him. Jimin didn't know what it was and maybe it was odd, but the warmth he felt whenever Jungkook was inside of him- or perhaps just the fact that Jungkook was inside of him at all really comforted him.

The taller boy pulled Jimin tight against his chest, both feeling the warmth that was radiating from the other one, sweaty bodies sticking together as Jungkook rolled his hips against Jimin's butt, skin slapping against skin as he thrusted inside of him.

This position was new and foreign, Jimin pressed against Jungkook's back as if they were cuddling, yet his leg lifted up in the air while Jungkook was taking him from behind. Essentially, it wasn't much different than lying on his stomach, Jungkook still leaving kisses on his neck while thrusting inside of him, but there was no more friction on his own erection. Visibly, Jimin was rocking back and forth with each movement, yet there was nothing to rock against – just air – causing his own penis to be neglected.

However, that was actually helpful as he didn't want to come just yet.

The black haired one was breathing heavily against Jimin's neck, nibbling on his skin very lightly as he continued to ram inside of him.

Jimin's mouth was agape, just pants leaving his parted lips as he rocked back and forth at the force of the thrusts, eyes fluttering shut when he felt Jungkook wrap his other arm around his neck, pulling even closer.

The action was more sensual now than anything, not as rough and fast as before, but slow and steady, yet every now and then there was a particularly harsh thrust, resulting in Jimin wanting more, needing so much more than that.

“K-Kook-ah, I-I'm close” Jimin warned, the heat in the pit of his stomach so big at this point as he reached up and grasped Jungkook's hand that was holding him tight.

“Me, too, little one” Jungkook groaned back, snapping his hips a little faster, causing Jimin to wonder whether this position was uncomfortable for Jungkook, making it difficult for him to move
“Ah, Jungkook-ah, oh god!” Jimin cried out, pushing his hips back against Jungkook’s thrusts as soon as the taller boy was hitting his prostate with each movement, “F-Faster, please” He begged, sobbing as he squeezed his eyes shut further, his orgasm approaching him, being so close now.

Suddenly, in a swift motion, Jungkook pushed him forward again, pinning him down to the bed and adjusting his hand on Jimin’s hip rather than his leg while he shifted his other hand to the bed, holding himself up as he snapped his hips forward, ramming right into Jimin with a forceful thrust.

In response, Jimin screamed into his pillow, grabbing the bedsheets and clenching his hands into fists as he rocked back and forth at the relentless rhythm.

“O-Oh g-god, so good, Kook-ah, pleaaase!” Jimin whimpered high-pitched, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as his eyes rolled back, Jungkook breathing right into his ear and smirking against his skin at the sound he was evoking in Jimin.

“Come on, pretty baby, go on and come for me. Be a good boy and make a mess for me. You love being messy, don’t you?” Jungkook whispered into his ear, voice low and husky, just so attractive that it sent Jimin right over the edge.

“Jungkook-ah!” The poor boy cried out, body shaking all over as the overwhelming intensity of the feeling caught up to him, causing him to come all over his own bedsheets, legs kicking at the big release. Jimin was squirming in his position, a mantra of Jungkook’s name leaving his parted lips as wave after wave of the beautiful feeling hit him, Jungkook never stilling his movement as he continued to ram inside of Jimin in a fast pace.

Absolute bliss, Jimin thought, to come after such long stimulation. More tears were streaming down his cheeks as he moved his hips back against Jungkook, attempting to help him come inside of him.

“K-Kook-ah, pleaaase, fill me up” Jimin begged, whining as he tilted his head to the side, body still twitching and rocking back and forth with each thrust.

“Shit, little one” Jungkook cursed, leaving open-mouthed kisses in his neck as he continued chasing his own orgasm.

“Pleaase”

“Fuck, Jimin-ah” The younger male growled, Jimin clenching around him, causing him to find his own release as he came inside of the smaller boy. After thrusting two, three more times into the boy beneath him, Jungkook collapsed on top of him, both breathing heavily, sweaty bodies sticking together.

Jimin blinked, feeling dazed as he stared at the wall, slight smile on his face at the feeling of pure bliss. The taller boy remained in his position for a moment, wanting nothing more than to cuddle Jimin right now – sensing, and knowing very well that Jimin needed that right now - Yet frankly, he wanted to cuddle him so badly, too, wanted to feel his soft skin against him, listen to his heartbeat steadying and having the scent of him so close – a mixture between strawberry, vanilla and something Jungkook could only describe as Jimin.

Slowly, Jungkook listed himself up and pulled out of Jimin, said boy whining in response at the lack of contact.

“Sssh, baby” Jungkook cooed, rubbing his warm hand gently over Jimin’s back as he tugged out his penis, watching his own cum leak out of Jimin’s gaping hole, the muscle clenching around nothing as his sperm dribbled down, “Fuck” He breathed, almost feeling himself harden again at the sight.

Jimin almost laughed - as absurd as it was – yet the the sensation of Jungkook's cum slowly leaking out of his hole tickled him. It was odd, Jimin knew, but it wasn't his fault that he was very ticklish! However, that changed completely as soon as he felt Jungkook's fingers back against his entrance.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin whined, eyes falling shut as the boy pushed his fingers inside of Jimin as if he wanted to keep the cum inside of him, humming at the action.

“Damn, I wish I had a butt plug with me”

The smaller boy furrowed his brows, the term unfamiliar to him.

“A-A what?” Jimin wondered, still distracted by Jungkook playing with his hole, the sensation pulling him into oversensitivity.

Jungkook slowly pulled his fingers out, leaning down and pressing a kiss against Jimin's temple before he smiled against his skin, “Nevermind, baby. I'll tell you another time what that is”

The pink haired one gulped, now curious to know what exactly it was that Jungkook had referred to.

“How are you feeling, angel?” Jungkook whispered, brushing his hair out of his face before he stroked his thumb over Jimin's cheekbone very gently, smiling fondly when Jimin nuzzled against the touch.

“Like I'm floating again” Jimin answered, voice quiet and soft as he attempted to keep his eyes open, “So good, Kook-ah, made me feel so good”

Jungkook hummed in satisfaction at the statement, capturing Jimin's lips in a small kiss, “I'm glad, little one”

When Jungkook pulled away and got up from the bed, Jimin found himself whining again at the loss, almost wanting to sit up, too, at the fear of Jungkook leaving. For a slight moment, panic arose inside of him, recalling the times he would have to leave after any of their lessons, yet relief washed over him as he remembered that – this were no longer lessons. They were in a relationship now.

None of them had to leave.

Still, Jimin whined as he reached out for Jungkook, not liking the lack of cuddles, the close proximity or warmth of the gorgeous black haired boy.

Again, Jungkook couldn't help but smile fondly at Jimin, sweeping his hair back before he leaned down and attached their lips in another kiss.

“Gotta clean you, hm, baby?” Jungkook reminded him, pressing a peck against his forehead before he straightened his back and exited the bedroom, “I'll be right back!” He promised once he had disappeared.

Jimin's eyes fell shut again, the boy so sleepy as he remenisced about the day – not fully comprehending how much had happened today.

It truly was a beautiful day – one of the most wonderful one's he has had in his life.

“Do you mind lending me some underwear?” Jungkook asked once he was back in the bedroom.

Jimin looked up at the voice, still lying on his stomach as he locked eyes with Jungkook who chuckled at his expression, “No, not at all. In the dresser” Jimin answered, voice a little hoarse as he pointed towards said furniture piece.

Jungkook hummed, Jimin noticing that he was carrying a wet cloth in his hands as he kneeled back down on the bed.

“I'm gonna clean you now, angel, is that okay?” Jungkook asked, voice soft as he parted Jimin's buttocks.

Oddly enough, his heart still fluttered at these pet names – did that everytime Jungkook used one of those. Jimin didn't want to admit how much he loved them, but he did.

“Y-Yes” Jimin answered, thinking that it was strange for Jungkook to still ask him, especially now that they were in a relationship, yet Jimin knew very well by now how important consent was to him and that he would never touch Jimin if he didn't want that. Warmth spread in his chest at the thought, feeling comfortable at that thought.

Carefully, Jungkook cleaned Jimin's entrance, caressing his buttock when Jimin hissed at the touch. Then, he gently turned Jimin on his back, smiling at the sight of the smaller boy facing him. His pink hair was a fluffy mess on top of his head, cheeks flushed in a pretty pink while he stared at Jungkook with big, innocent – yet glassy – eyes.

Jimin smiled shyly at Jungkook's intent stare, the boy studying Jimin's delicate features as if he was a piece of art – and maybe, he was to Jungkook.

“Beautiful angel” Jungkook commented, noticing only a moment later that he had said those words out loud. The pink haired boy almost swore that he saw Jungkook slightly flush as he averted his gaze and cleaned Jimin's stomach, causing Jimin to giggle because it was silly for him to flush as it wasn't even the first time he had complimented Jimin.

The taller one glanced up at the sound of Jimin's giggles, smiling at the way his eyes turned into little crescents when he laughed like that. It caused Jungkook to have the urge to make Jimin laugh like that every single day, for the rest of his life.

After having cleaned Jimin's body of any left over cum, he wiped away the sperm from the bedsheets as well as he was able to, yet knowing very well that they would have to wash them tomorrow. However, they definitely weren't going to change the sheets tonight, desperately needing to sleep and cuddle.

Then, he got back up from the bed – evoking another whine of protest by Jimin that caused him to chuckle – as he walked over to the dresser and searched for two pairs of briefs.

Jimin fixated his gaze on the beautiful man in his bedroom, still not fully believing that he was his now.

How had he been this lucky? Perhaps, the universe didn't hate him that much after all.

The shorter male let his eyes wander over Jungkook's body, involuntarily biting down on his lip as he watched his back muscles stretch while he picked out clothes for them. Suddenly, Jungkook turned around with two pairs of briefs in his hands, indicating to approach Jimin again, but halting in his tracks once he caught him staring.

Jimin blushed, averting his gaze as Jungkook pulled up an eyebrow, smirking slightly as he walked back over to the bed, deciding to let it slide and not tease Jimin, simply enjoying his adorable reaction to being caught staring longingly at him.
“Hips up, Jimin-ah” Jungkook insisted, the boy obeying and bringing up his hips in order to make it easier for Jungkook to get him dressed.

After that, Jungkook put the other piece of underwear on himself, eyes roaming over Jimin's half naked body – almost in a trance again as he stared at the beautiful boy, still not believing that he was his - but noticing how he was still shaking slightly, more shivering than anything.

“Little one, are you cold?” The black haired boy wondered, concern in his voice as he lifted the blanket over the smaller one, tucking him in.

“Just a little” Jimin answered, not having noticed himself how cold it had actually gotten in the room, his body having been so heated during the sex. Yet now that he was slowly coming down from his high, so was his temperature.

Jungkook brushed strands of pink hair out of Jimin's forehead, caressing his cheek gently, Jimin nuzzling against the touch.

“I'll get you a glass of water, baby. I'm scared you're a little dehydrated after today” Jungkook insisted, Jimin pouting as he reached up and grasped Jungkook's wrist.

“Nooo, don't leave” Jimin whined, shaking his head and the sight pulled on Jungkook's heart strings. Fuck did Jimin make it difficult to say no.

“Stop pouting, baby, I'll be right back” Jungkook uttered, smile on his face as Jimin pushed his bottom lip out further, pout deepening.

Not bearing it any more, the younger one tickled Jimin's sides, said boy not able to resist and breaking out into giggles.

“Unfair!” Jimin claimed, still laughing as he was squirming around, attempting to stop Jungkook, but failing.

Eventually having mercy, Jungkook pulled away, chuckling as Jimin was trying to glare angrily at him, but simply looked like a cute mad kitten that wasn't intimidating in the slightest.

“You're mean! That was unfair” Jimin mumbled again, Jungkook leaning down and attaching their lips in a kiss that seemed to work as forgiveness.

“Sorry” The black haired boy whispered, “Better?”

Jimin shook his head, wanting another kiss which caused Jungkook to smile as he slowly pressed another open-mouthed kiss on his lips. In repsonse, a soft breath escaped Jimin as the boy lingered above him a little longer, their lips brushing against each other, leaving Jimin long for more.

“Now?”

The smaller boy swallowed hard, nodding as he locked eyes with Jungkook again, fondness and slight amusement glistening in them, yet something so seductive, too, that almost caused Jimin to whimper again.

Jungkook really had him turn into putty, a mere stare or small kiss having such an effect on him.

“I'll be right back, I promise. Not even sixty seconds” Jungkook promised, pulling Jimin's hand away and pressing a kiss against his knuckles before the hand slipped from his grasp, Jungkook exiting the bedroom.

The taller boy held his word, appearing not long after he had left, carrying a glass of water.

“I put the flowers in a vase with water. I felt sorry for having tossed them on the table earlier” Jungkook revealed, handing Jimin the glass who eagerly took a sip from it, the cold fluid running down his throat.

“Thank you” Jimin smiled, handing Jungkook the glass back who took a sip himself before he placed the glass on the nightstand, Jimin already settled back in the bed and staring up at him with big eyes.

“Cuddles now?” Jimin asked quietly, Jungkook’s heart doing one of those weird skips again at the sight of Jimin’s cute expression and the innocent way he was asking for it.

“Yes, little one, I’ll give you all the cuddles now” Jungkook assured, smiling as he was about to lie down next to Jimin, yet stilling as someone rang the bell at the front door.

Both boys frowned, sharing a glance before Jungkook straightened his back.

“Are you expecting someone?” The younger male wanted to know.

Jimin swiftly shook his head, about to get up, but Jungkook placed his hand on his shoulder and stopped him.

“I’ll check. You stay beneath the blanket and warm up, little one. I’ll be right back”

With that, Jungkook picked up his button up shirt from the floor and put it on, not caring to close the buttons as he exited the room. Then, Jungkook opened the door to whoever it was that had rang the bell.

Jimin's frown deepened as he wasn't capable of making out what was being said, only muffled voices audible.

Who could it be?

It didn't take long for Jungkook to reappear, slight smirk on his face as he was holding his shirt closed. Well, maybe the boy should have put on some pants, too.

“Who was it?” Jimin wondered, eyes wide in curiosity as he observed Jungkook take off his shirt again and letting it drop to the floor before he walked over to the dresser.

“It was one of your neighbours” The younger male answered nonchalantly- or, wait, was there slight amusement in his voice?

Oh, no.

No, no, no, no, no.

Why? This was so embarrassing.

Please, oh, please let them have rang the bell for something else – at 3am. Right, Jimin. Why else would they ring your bell late at night if not for your- God, this was so humiliating.

“W-What did they say?” Jimin asked, voice just above a whisper as he gulped, watching Jungkook pick out a white, long-sleeved shirt from his dresser before he shut the drawer again and approached “Arms up” Jungkook ordered softly, Jimin huffing as he sat up and obeyed.

“Kook-ah” Jimin whined, “What did they say?”

The black haired boy smiled as he pulled the shirt over Jimin's head, adjusting it before he locked eyes with Jimin again.

“Asked whether or not everything was okay. It was an elderly lady that had wanted to call the police because she thought someone was being hurt down here”

Oh, god.

“What did you say?” Jimin wanted to know, voice quiet and unsure as Jungkook brushed strands of pink hair out of his face, rubbing his thumb over his cheekbone after.

“I just told her that I had fucked you and that those weren't screams of pain, but ones of pleasure”

Jungkook broke out in laughter, amused by Jimin's expression of absolute horror.

“I'm kidding, Jimin-ah. Of course, I didn't tell her that. I told her that everything was okay and that those noises might have come from somewhere else or that she had imagined them maybe. To be fair, she did seem pretty old”

“Do you think she believed you?” Jimin murmured, cheeks heating up in embarrassment.

“Well, we will see whether or not the police is going to appear in front of your door or not – then we know.”

“Oh, god”

Jimin wanted to hide himself forever.

“Jimin-ah, she smiled at me and I think she knew what was going on. I apologised and promised her to be quiet in case it was us that she heard. She was sweet about it and laughed it off, saying she was once young, too.”

“Oh my god, she definitely knows. She knows and now I can't ever look her in the eyes again.” Jimin whined.

“Little one, sex isn't something you should be ashamed of, hm? We've gotten over that already, remember?” Jungkook tried to comfort him, caressing his cheek as he cocked his head to the side.

“I know, it's not the fact- it's just- She heard us. That's embarrassing.” The smaller boy explained, voice sounding more whiny than he intended.

“To be fair, you are very responsive when I touch you. You are just vocal by nature.” Jungkook pointed out.

“And that's embarrassing.”

“Well, I think it's very cute as well as fucking hot.” The black haired boy noted, smirking as he ran his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip.
Jimin blushed, hiding his face in the pillows as he kicked his legs in embarrassment.

“I won't ever make a sound again!” Jimin pouted, leaving out a frustrated sigh.

Why was it so difficult for him to just shut up so his whole neighbourhood won't hear him? This whole thing was so embarrassing and he honestly felt bad for disturbing his neighbours like that – even having them worry whether or not he was in pain.

God, was this embarrassing.

“I feel so bad for disturbing them”

“Angel, stop, we just gotta be a little more careful, hm? I don't have close neighbours. We can be as loud as we want in my apartment and here, well, you either learn to be quiet if you think you should change that or... well, there are other ways to help ensure that you're quiet.” Jungkook uttered, tracing his fingertips over Jimin’s back as he tried to comfort him.

Jimin titled his head to the side in curiosity.

“Like what?” He wondered.

“Like gagging you.” Jungkook answered nonchalantly, like it was nothing.

“O-Oh.” Jimin breathed, gulping as the term was somewhat familiar to him.

“Would be a shame because I love your pretty noises, but a gag would ensure you to be quiet.”

Jimin swallowed hard.

“So, I-like, what would that be? What would you put in my mouth?”

There was a smirk on Jungkook's face almost like he wanted to make a pun and Jimin just wanted to slap himself because he had literally given Jungkook the perfect preparation for that.

“Could be anything. A piece of fabric, my fingers, my d- There are specific designed gags you can buy. Like a gag ball for example. I would place that in your mouth and tie it around your head.” Jungkook replied, moving his fingers up to Jimin's mouth, the pink haired boy parting his lips subconsciously. However, Jungkook didn't push his fingers inside, only smirked at his response.

“O-Oh, sounds a little scary.” Jimin noted, eyes flickering back up to Jungkook's face.

“We don't have to use that” Jungkook stated, dropping his hand, voice softer, “We don't have to use anything at all, little one. I love the sounds you make and I know you have a hard time keeping quiet. I don't mind that at all and I don't think your neighbours do, but I understand if you feel slightly bad even if you don't have to.”

“W-We can think about it” Jimin whispered.

Something flashed in Jungkook's eyes as he gave a nod.

Jimin swallowed hard again, a soft breath escaping him.

Then, Jungkook smiled comforting at him, finally joining Jimin back on the bed, the smaller male scooting over, heartbeat quickening in happiness.

“Cuddles now?” Jimin wondered again, Jungkook chuckling as he pulled the blanket over both of them, wrapping his arm around Jimin and pulling the boy close to him.

“Yes, angel, cuddles now” Jungkook responded, pressing a kiss to the back of his head, causing Jimin's eyes to flutter shut at the gentle gesture.

Swiftly, Jimin turned around, facing Jungkook as he moved even closer, hiding in the warmth of him as the taller boy pulled him into his strong embrace.

“Better?”

“Mhm” Jimin hummed softly, hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck, the familiar comforting scent filling his nostrils as Jungkook started to draw shapes on his back that he wasn't able to define, “So much better now”

“Was that okay earlier? Was I too rough?” Jungkook wondered after several minutes of silence, their soft breathing having been the only noise in the room as Jungkook had continued caressing his back in a soothing way.

“I-It was just...” Jimin tried, cheeks heating up at the mere thought, “More than okay. I liked it a lot” The shorter male admitted, voice soft and quiet as he hid his face further in the curve of Jungkook's neck, causing said boy to chuckle, the sound warming Jimin's heart.

“Glad to hear that, little one. I liked it a lot, too. You would have told me if you'd wanted me to be a lot softer tonight?” Jungkook wanted to make sure, the night where Jimin hadn't used his safeword still lingering in his mind. Obviously, he trusted Jimin a lot, yet he also knew that Jimin was very determined on pleasing and being good, maybe not wanting to speak up when there was something bothering him. It scared Jungkook sometimes. The thought of accidentally hurting Jimin, but not knowing because the smaller boy wouldn't tell him.

However, Jimin had understood that trust and safewords were important, had promised him to use them when needed. Moreover, Jimin had told him before when he needed or wanted a slower pace, Jungkook listening to him immediately. Surely, he would have just mentioned it tonight, too, if he'd want Jungkook to go slower.

“Yes, Kook-ah” Jimin assured, nodding quickly, “I like it... I like everything you do to me... or... or with me. I enjoy it both ways, a lot. I would have told you, if I didn't like what you did. I promise you”

Jungkook hummed, pressing a kiss against his temple.

In response, Jimin smiled shyly, reaching up and starting to play with Jungkook's soft hair. A low breathy sound escaped Jungkook at the touch, Jimin scratching over his scalp very gently every now and then.

They remained like this for a while, just comforting each other, staying in each other's warm embraces while their hearts were beating the same beat.

It was Jungkook who broke the silence.

“I will have to get used to your new hair” The boy whispered.

Jimin's eyes had fluttered shut due to Jungkook caressing his back so gently, Jimin always getting so sleepy when he did that, his fingertips so gentle on Jimin's back, his hand having moved beneath the shirt to touch Jimin's skin.
“Do you like it?”

“Mhm” Jungkook hummed, “You look pretty. You always do. This colour really suits you, makes you appear even softer, like a fairy, an angel.”

Jimin blushed at the compliment, smiling shyly, “T-Thank you”

“Cotton candy”

Jimin giggled at that one, the taller boy smiling at the sound.

“I'm so proud of you, little one. You did so well today.” The black haired boy praised him then, “I'm so glad to have seen you dance.”

“Thank you, Kook-ah” Jimin responded, voice soft and quiet as he smiled against Jungkook's skin.

Silence settled between them again.

Today really had been an eventful day. While reminiscing about the night once more, Jimin remembered something Jungkook had said to him earlier.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin uttered, Jungkook humming as he drew shapes over Jimin's back, “What is an exhibition-something kink you mentioned earlier?”

The taller boy stilled, but continued his caress after having thought over something, “Oh, did we never talk about that when we talked about your kinks or the list?”

The list.

Oh god, that list.

Jimin had completely forgotten about that by now. It was almost like he had hidden that list in a box somewhere inside of his head, pushed far into the back.

Yet, how could he really forget about the list that really kind of started all of this?

“The list. Right. I forgot about it.” Jimin answered.

“Actually,” Jungkook started, cocking his head to the side, “Exhibitionism kink was never on there, but I remember jerking you off at hyung's, remember? While the others were around. That's when I thought you might have that kink.”

That incident. Oh, no.

“Oh, please don't remind me of that. I was so embarrassed when Tae came to me and told me that he saw us- or rather heard me.” Jimin whined.

“So, you don't think you would enjoy sex in public?”

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth, contemplating.

“I... I don't know. I don't actually want other people to watch me...” He answered truthfully, but ending his sentence as if he had wanted to say more.

“But the idea of might getting seen excites you?” Jungkook clarified.
“I... I don't know, really. In the moment, I just wanted to be touched by you and I didn't care where we were.”

“I see. There might not be anything to that then. That's good to hear because I don't want to share you with anyone. The thought of someone watching you in one of your most vulnerable states makes my blood boil.” Jungkook uttered, almost growling the end of his sentence.

“Kook-aaah” Jimin whined, but smiled, the younger male leaning down.

“Mine” Jungkook whispered.

“Yours” Jimin murmured back, the taller boy capturing his lips in a gentle kiss as he smiled back. Both of them escaped a soft breath, their lips moving against each other slowly, tongues brushing over each other tenderly.

The pink haired boy's heart fluttered, Jungkook's all the same.

“D-Do you... do you still have that list?” Jimin wondered once they had pulled apart.

“Of course, it kind of started everything. Man, I should frame that list and hang it somewhere. Make it part of my wedding vow” Jungkook answered as he smirked, causing Jimin's eyes to go wide as he swatted his arm.

“Jeon Jungkook you are not going to hang that list anywhere!” Jimin warned, cheeks heating up.

“Mhm, call me Jeon more often” The black haired boy purred, eyes seductive, yet playful as he pulled Jimin closer.

The shorter male rolled his eyes, but couldn't deny how his heart skipped a beat at the tone of Jungkook's voice, the way he seemed to enjoy it when Jimin called him that.

“Why did you ask, though, little one?”

“I... I was just wondering” Jimin answered, shrugging his shoulder as his blush deepened.

Jungkook arched up an eyebrow, not buying it, “Is there something on it that you want to do that we haven't done before?”

Well... There was a lot of stuff they haven't done before, things that Jimin still had no clue of what they were.

“There is still a lot on it that I don't... that I don't know. I was just wondering whether you still have it. Not because... not to try anything, just... to...”

Jungkook smiled sympathetically at him, sensing how Jimin was embarrassed and knowing not to tease him when he was trying to let Jungkook in and talk about something so intimate with him.

“Little one, don't be embarrassed. Never in front of me. If you want to, we can go through the list any time you desire and see if there is anything on it that you like, hm? We can try whatever you want”

Swallowing hard, Jimin gave a faint nod, swiftly hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck again.

“Cute” Jungkook chuckled and pulled him closer, placing a kiss on the top of his head.
Fortunately, Jungkook was so understanding and kind, not ever making fun of Jimin when he was genuinely shy or embarrassed.

He had always been like that. Even back then when he had only taught Jimin in sex. The taller boy had never judged him, never laughed at him. No, instead he had been attentive to what Jimin liked and what not, had listened to him and respected him in every shape and form.

Those lessons seemed so far away now, like they happened that long ago. To be fair, it had been quite some time since their last ‘real’ lesson. After that, a whole lot of mess had happened in their lives, causing them to go through an absolute chaos.

Yet, they were here now, holding each other, caressing each other's skin, heart pounding the same beat as their eyes fell shut.

Frankly, Jimin was lucky that the universe had brought Jungkook in his life.

So damn lucky.

And happy.

“Make it part of my wedding vow.”

The words suddenly rang in Jimin's mind.

What did that imply? Did that indicate that... that Jungkook could see himself marrying Jimin one day?

Jimin's heart fluttered at the thought, yet it was silly.

The black haired boy had never even been in a relationship before- having chosen not to do that because he had never believed in love. Why would he think about such a huge step as marriage?

It was absurd.

However, Jimin had genuinely changed his perception on love and relationships, had been the one to change that for him. The pink haired one smiled at the thought. Jungkook had been so many first times for him, but now there was something that Jimin was the first time for him for, too.

He was his first ever boyfriend.

His first ever love.

Jimin's heart skipped another beat, smiling at the thought.

Whatever this new chapter held for them, Jimin was excited.

Still smiling faintly, Jimin's eyes fluttered shut again, the boy becoming sleepier with each passing second. The way Jungkook's fingertips traced his skin was so comforting, so soft.

“I love you, little one” Jungkook whispered sleepily, almost falling asleep himself.

The smaller boy's heart clenched, feeling bad for not saying those words back as he drifted away into his dreams.
Is this the longest smut I've ever written? I don't know, but it felt like it was ^^ They're finally together now, yaaay :)

Okay, now about the continuation of this story. As I've said at the beginning, this is not the last chapter. I haven't been able to say goodbye just yet and I still don't think I am. :(

I think there are some things left that I want to write and I don't want to let go of the story just yet. When I wrote the previous chapter, I was lacking some motivation and kind of forced myself to write because I wanted to update quickly. However, writing this chapter and reading your lovely comments brought back my motivation. I really enjoyed writing this one :)

I don't want to push myself to end this story, but I also don't want to force myself to keep writing once I think the story can end. I don't want to drag it out for too long either, you know? ^^

I still haven't made a complete decision, but will do that over the next days, hence I can't say yet how many more chapters there will be <3

I hope you don't hate me for leaving this information kind of open and perhaps not announcing when the ending of the story is going to be posted. <3

I hope you aren't mad at me either for warning you that this might be the last chapter when it actually isn't. I know I can't make everyone happy, but I'm just trying to listen to my heart. <3

Thank you so much for your support <3

I'll see you in the next chapter <3

Chapter Summary

Things should be going well, yet... trouble arises.

Chapter Notes

Hii, readers <3

Thank you so much for your love on the last chapter, you encouraged me a lot with your lovely words <3

I'm sorry that it took me so long to update <3

PLEASE READ

I'm actually a little scared to write anything at this point because I feel like I'm going to be accused of plagiarising someone else with anything I write at this point although it's not true.

I wasn't sure whether or not I should even address it, but I feel like I have to because I want to clean my name and I'm hurt by these accusations.

The thing is, similarities are bound to happen in smut scenes. There is only so many kinks, sexual positions and order of things that can happen. It's not possible to always come up with something completely unique/new that no one else has ever done before. That doesn't mean it's plagiarised or stolen though, it just means that two people came up with a similar idea.

For example, ironically, the person that accused me of plagiarism has a list with kinks in one of her/his fics that Jikook explore. I haven't read the whole thing, but I've been told that it's the general idea. That's literally what Jikook do in my story, too. However, I don't go and scream plagiarism around about that one though. It's just a coincidence that she/he came up with that idea as well. Again, similarities are bound to happen. (I'm not accusing her/him of anything, I'm just using this as an example of how similarities can happen)

I have talked about this a lot now and I feel like I'm talking in circles, but I know that I didn't do anything wrong. I have a clear conscience. I didn't plagiarise anyone nor would I ever. Throwing the word 'plagiarism' around with such little care is - at least to me - very unfair and mean.

However, here is a disclaimer because I'm done with people accusing me of something I haven't done.

DISCLAIMER: The chances are high that someone, ANYONE, out there has written a similar smut scene before. That doesn't mean I stole anything nor did I plagiarise anyone. It just means that two people - separately - came up with something similar. The possibility exists that similarities will occur as there is only so much new stuff anyone can come up with.

Please stop putting words in my mouth and stop accusing me of something I haven't done.

Also, please don't send hate to the person that accused me. Although it's unfair and mean what she/he did, I don't want anyone to receive hate.

I would also like the people that aren't even involved in this to stop spreading these lies about me and to stop insulting me.

Last, but definitely not least, I want to say something else. I have told you over the past weeks that I'm struggling with mental health every now and then. That is NOT something I say for sympathy. I would never do that. This is a very serious topic to me. In fact, I would be happy if I wasn't struggling with my mental health, but unfortunately I am.

Telling me that I'm using this for sympathy or that I'm acting dramatically is very low and mean. Please don't tell anyone ever that how they're feeling isn't valid or that they're doing it for sympathy. For people that are already at the verge of killing themselves (not me, I'm talking in general) that could be the last straw for them as they feel like no one takes their feelings serious.

I express my feelings to my readers because I feel close to them, because I trust them. Many tell me about their feelings, too, about their days, how my fic helps them and what struggles they face. I'm always there to listen, just as many expressed their help to me and listen to me, too. It's a beautiful thing to be able to talk to people who live all over the world, it's a beautiful thing to be able to talk to anyone about what you're struggling with and hopefully, find some help or happiness in that.

So, if you ever wanna talk about anything, just know that I'm here for you <3

Thank you to the people that believe me and that encouraged me a lot when I was feeling very down for these past days. You've really helped me a lot <3

That's all I've got to say about this as I've talked about this a lot now.

I hope you enjoy this chapter <3

It was cold. Somehow, it was cold. The temperature wasn't actually low. Jimin was tucked in, covered by his blanket and entangled in his sheets, face pressed into his soft pillow. It should be warm, yet why did he feel so cold inside?

The smaller boy's eyes fluttered open, fair light attempting to shine through the blinds, barely illuminating the room. Blinking, Jimin tried to adjust to his surroundings, vision a little blurry. The familiar bedroom fell into his sight, events from last night reminiscing in his mind.

When Jimin rolled over onto his back, he knew why he had felt so cold. The bed was empty except for him, no longer a warm chest pressed against his back, no longer strong arms holding him close.

"Jungkook-ah?" Jimin muttered, voice just above a whisper, sounding a little raspy and way quieter than he had intended to.

Where was the black haired boy? Had he just left?

Furrowing his brows, Jimin sat up, stretching his limps out and cracking his neck as his muscles were a little aching due to... well, you know – last night.

“Jungkook-ah?” Jimin attempted once again, this time a little louder as he climbed out of the bed, legs a little wobbly that early in the morning. For a brief moment, there were black dots in front of his eyes, a result of Jimin having gotten up too quick. The pink haired boy's hand rushed up to his head as he steadied his balance, “Jungkook-ah?”

Carefully, Jimin left his room, gentle steps as he almost tip-toed, feet padded on the soft rug beneath him. Suddenly, the smell of cooked eggs filled his nostrils, mouth watering immediately.

“Kook-ah?” The shorter male uttered once more as he finally reached his kitchen, halting in his tracks when his gaze fell on Jungkook.

The younger boy was only dressed in one of Jimin's briefs, back turned towards Jimin as he stirred around in a pan. Jungkook must have noticed his presence, looking back over his shoulder and smiling that gorgeous bright smile, “Hey, little one, you're up” He noted, fixating his attention back to the food right after, “I thought I could make us some breakfast. I hope that's okay?”

Jimin blinked, surprised to not see the pan on fire or the food burned. To be honest, the only times someone had ever cooked for him and it hadn't turned out bad was whenever Jin had cooked for him.

“You can cook?” Jimin wondered, only noticing a moment too late that his question might come off as rude while he approached Jungkook.

Once he got closer, he caught the pancakes that were already placed on the counter. How long had Jungkook been up already?

The taller boy chuckled at his question, glancing at him, “What made you think that I couldn't? I can cook, but to be fair, pancakes and scrambled eggs aren't that challenging” Jungkook responded, arching up an eyebrow before he picked up the pan and turned towards the counter, flipping the scrambled eggs on a separate plate.

“Well, I can't cook... like, anything. I do seem to be very bad when it comes to that so I'm pretty sure I would have somehow messed up even this” Jimin answered, shrugging his shoulders slighty as he observed Jungkook, “Do you cook often?”

“No, not often” Jungkook sighed, “I don't really have time to cook that much”

Jimin hummed, remembering what profession Jungkook had and that he was rather busy – all the time.

“I assume you don't cook that much then?” Jungkook wanted to know, eyebrows raised up in curiosity as he searched through the drawers, “Considering how there wasn't much food in your fridge left” The boy chuckled.

“I don't cook, no. I often end up eating take-away food or I eat at a restaurant. Oh, but to be fair, I do make really good ramyeon – like, one of the best. Everyone tells me that whenever I make them!” Jimin revealed, excitement and pride visible on his face, causing Jungkook to smile fondly.
“I haven't eaten ramyeon in a while” Jungkook replied, having found the forks he had been looking for and setting them down on the counter, “I would love to try yours, though”

“You haven't? But, that's like some of my favourite food!” Jimin exclaimed, slightly bewildered by someone not eating ramyeon often – until... until he remembered who Jungkook was.

Jimin had eaten ramyeon ever since he was a child, his father not having had much money to buy any other food. Ever since then, Jimin's financial state hasn't changed that much, causing him to end up buying ramyeon often for himself because they were cheap and delicious.

Well, he did have that money from his grandmother, but Jimin barely touched that, wanted to invest it in his dream of becoming a dancer.

To be fair, ramyeon weren't even bad. They were delicious and made Jimin happy. He didn't mind having to eat them - mostly during the end of the month when he was a little short on money.

“I mean, I did eat them every now and then when I was in school because almost everyone did, but, well, not at home. At home, there was always different food that Jiyoo prepared for us to eat. She taught me some of her recipes actually, but I can never make any dishes as good as her”

“Her food was really good” Jimin agreed, nodding.

“Well, now that I cooked breakfast for us, you can cook ramyeon for us sometime, huh? I'll take you for your word, baby. I'm a harsh critic, though, so they gotta be really good to convince me” Jungkook joked, moving closer to Jimin.

The smaller boy giggled, giving a nod when Jungkook was standing right in front of him.

They both were aware of the fact how different their childhoods and lives had been, although they had been similar in a way? There had definitely been differences when it came to their financial status – well, there still was.

The black haired boy probably never had to worry about food on his table, about getting that one toy you really loved, buying clothes you really needed, but couldn't pay for. Those are things Jungkook never had to deal with.

However, there were other things Jungkook had to endure that hadn't been easy either – being pushed into a narrative and having your future planned out for you surely had taken it's toll on him, too.

Yet, Jungkook never thought of Jimin as anything less, always supported and encouraged him in everything he did.

Jungkook was so incredibly kind and... and sweet and so understanding. It always warmed Jimin’s heart as if it was the first time Jungkook was behaving so lovingly towards him.

Jimin was enough for him, more than enough.

Jungkook loved him, the way he was, with his flaws and everything.

“Little one?” Jungkook interrupted Jimin's thoughts, lifting his hand in order to brush pink strands of Jimin's hair out of his face.

Then, Jungkook leaned in and pressed a kiss against his forehead, Jimin smiling faintly, “Let's eat now”

Nodding, Jimin sat down at the counter, Jungkook taking a seat right next to him.

Once they started eating, silence settled between them. It was quiet except for the sound of their forks hitting their plates. It wasn’t an awkward silence though, no, it was pleasant and perhaps even needed.

They hadn’t really had much time to let all of the events from yesterday sink in, reminiscing about the incidents they experienced.

Obviously, there were still many questions lingering in Jimin’s mind, aspirations of what the future held for them, yet also what all of this meant.

Although they were in a committed relationship with each other now, none of them knew how exactly that was going to work as neither of them have ever been in a real relationship before. However, they were going to find out together, taking it step by step.

“I have to go to work soon. My father landed in Seoul this morning” Jungkook broke the silence, Jimin chewing on his food a little slower as he glanced at the boy.

“He’s here? So he's... he's moving here? What about your home in Busan?” Jimin wondered, eyes wide as the thought of Jungkook losing his childhood home blossomed inside of him. Surely, Jungkook hadn't been there a lot since his adolescence, yet it was still a completely different feeling to lose the place you called home for so long forever, the place you grew up in and hold memories for. Considering Jimin, losing the home he grew up in hadn't been such a mourning process. In fact, it had actually helped him get over the trauma in a way, freed him in a sense.

“Yes, he found an apartment to stay for now, but he's still keeping the place in Busan until he completely settled down here. Jiyoo is taking care of the house until he moves here completely” The black haired boy answered, noticing the syrup that was trailing down Jimin's chin as said boy only stared at him with big, curious eyes.

Smiling, Jungkook lifted his hand and wiped the food away with his thumb, “Clumsy” He chuckled, a faint blush appearing on Jimin's cheeks as he blinked.

So Jungkook’s father was actually going to move here? That was a good thing, wasn't it? That was amazing! Finally, Jungkook and his father would have a chance to grow closer again, to establish a deeper and stronger bond.

Then again, perhaps working together with your father so long and seeing him at work everyday might not be the best idea either, would it? In a sense, Jungkook had been the most powerful person in the company building here in Seoul, yet now that his father was present that was no longer the case. Clearly, it would take some time for Jungkook to adjust to that change.

Hopefully, seeing each other that often wouldn't cause the exact opposite reaction and push them further apart.

“How do you feel about that?” Jimin asked, picking up his fork to push another bite into his mouth, chewing on the delicious food that Jungkook has cooked for them.

“I don't know” Jungkook sighed, shrugging his shoulders, “I've been working with him in Busan together until I moved here, obviously, but we'll see how it's going to work out here in Seoul”
The smaller one nodded, studying Jungkook's features as said boy stirred around in his food, moving the scrambled eggs from side to side with a frown on his face, “What about Seoyun?” Jimin found himself whisper, not capable of preventing those words from leaving his mouth.

Jungkook took a glimpse at him, mouth agape, but closing right after as he cleared his throat, “Back in Busan, but not for long. She wants to move to Seoul and work from here as my... my father has signed her”

Oh.

So, Seoyun was going to be signed under Jungkook's company? Meaning... he was going to be her boss and see her often?

“Oh” Jimin breathed, not really knowing what to say.

The black haired boy observed Jimin, watching how he nibbled on his bottom lip, appearing to contemplate over something, “What's wrong? Is that... a problem? Do you think that's weird?”

Jimin tried to find the right words, pulling his brows together as he turned his body towards Jungkook, “Do you?”

The taller male blinked, “I mean... She's not really my ex-girlfriend. I have never had any romantic feelings for her, nor will I ever. I'm not going to see her that often either, I'm just her, well, her boss. That's all it is” Jungkook explained, making a point.

To be fair, their relationship had been fake so Jimin didn't have to worry about them seeing each other and having an old flame ignite again.

“Nothing to be sorry for” Jungkook murmured, leaning in and pressing a kiss on his cheek, “Finish your food”

The smaller one nodded, picking up his fork again to continue eating.

“What are you doing today, angel?” Jungkook then wanted to know, getting up from his seat and carrying his plate over to the sink.

“I'll go to work, perhaps visit the dance studio later to practice a bit” Jimin answered.

“Don't you think you deserve a break after all the intense practice these past weeks?” The younger male pointed out, walking up behind Jimin and pulling his arms around his waist, head resting on top of Jimin's.

“I like dancing. I enjoy practicing. We don't have any official class today so it's not going to be as long” Jimin responded, heart fluttering due to the way Jungkook was hugging him, strong arms embracing him, veins visible on his skin.

“Hmm, I wanted to ask you whether or not you would want to join me today at work. My father wants to talk to you about an audition. I would like to be present during that one, though”

Jimin's eyes lit up, heart skipping a beat as he recalled Jungkook telling him about that last night. Oh, there had been the CEO from YK entertainment, too! Those were opportunities Jimin hadn't even imagined.
“Today? Well, I have to go to work, but... perhaps after that. What would I have to do? Just perform?” Jimin wondered.

The thought of being part of Jeon entertainment excited him, yet also made him slightly anxious. That was such a huge company and Jimin didn't know if that was the right place for him. In the case of Jimin actually getting in, wouldn't that make Jungkook his boss then?

“My father would want to know a little more about you and watch you perform, yes. Yet, if I may be honest, I think he's already made up his mind after watching you at the competition. Whatever you perform, he's going to offer you a place, I just know it”

Jimin gulped, heart pounding fast against his chest.

Essentially, he was already in then? This was absurd.

“A place as what?” Jimin breathed, leaning his head back into his neck in order to look up at Jungkook.

“Choreographer, trainee, I don't know. We'll see”

“Wouldn't that make you my... my boss then?” Jimin wondered, Jungkook grasping his hips and turning him around.

“Mhm” The taller one hummed, smirk on his face as he leaned down, hands placed on the counter behind Jimin, causing the latter to be trapped, “You know what you would have to call me then, don't you, kitten?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, watching the way his pupils dilated, “M-Mr. Jeon?”

Humming lowly in confirmation, the younger male leaned in to capture Jimin's lips in a slow kiss, evoking a gasp from said boy as their lips moved against each other.

However, Jungkook pulled away too quickly for Jimin's liking, leaving the smaller one whine for more. In response to the cute reaction, Jungkook smiled fondly, lips still lingering above Jimin's.

“You don't actually have to call me that when we're together, little one. When it's just us two, I want us to be equal, even if we are at work. Yet, if we're surrounded by other people at the company, I think we should respect the formal addressing”

Jimin nodded, still a little flustered by the slow, but somehow very sensual kiss that left Jimin crave for more.

“What do you say then? Would you like to meet my father tonight?”

This was all happening kind of quick, wasn't it? Just yesterday, Jimin had been standing on the stage of such a huge competition and now he was supposed to become part of one of the biggest entertainment companies there are?

Yet, what about YK entertainment? Jimin didn't even really have time to think about that one. It would be wrong to just go for Jeon entertainment without giving them a chance, wouldn't it? Jimin would feel incredibly guilty.

What if Jungkook breaks up with you?, A voice inside of Jimin brought up, causing Jimin's stomach to stir at that thought.
Yes, Jungkook seemed to be very committed, having confessed his love and even mentioned marriage – although Jimin wasn't sure if that hadn't been just a silly joke. However, that didn't mean that Jungkook couldn't change his feelings one day and perhaps break up with him.

What was going to happen then? Jimin would have to see him every single day. Or even worse-what if they leave on bad terms? What if Jungkook fires him?

At that thought, Jimin wanted to slap himself, guilt washing over him. How could he think that about Jungkook?

Then again, Chen and Dongha were only small examples of what Jungkook was capable of when he was mad at someone. Oh god, he had almost beaten these two up! Who could assure Jimin that he wouldn't do worse?

Hadin't he already? Back when he was younger? Jimin faintly recalled Jungkook mentioning how he had fought a lot when he was younger. Yet, people change. Jungkook had visibly changed and became a man with manners, respect and a kind heart. Besides, he had only wanted to hurt Dongha and Chen because he had wanted to protect Jimin.

Jungkook treated Jimin so well, so loving. Frankly, the pink haired boy highly doubted that Jungkook would ever intentionally harm him. In fact, he was mad at that voice inside of his head for even bringing up that thought.

“I-I don't know... I should deliberate over it a little longer, I think. Is that... is that okay?”

“Of course, angel” Jungkook swiftly assured, giving a nod as he rubbed his thumb over Jimin's cheekbone, “Just let me know whenever you're ready and I'll talk to my father. You can say no, too, baby, I won't be mad at you, okay? Don't feel pressured”

“Thank you, Kook-ah” Jimin smiled, closing his arms around Jungkook's neck to pull him into a hug.

Suddenly, Jungkook picked him up into the air, wrapping Jimin's legs around his waist and gripping his thighs to carry the smaller boy. In response, Jimin yelped at the suddenness of the action, eyes wide as he clung himself onto Jungkook.

“I have to get ready for work now” Jungkook shared, setting Jimin down on the counter next to their food, “Can I take a shower?”

“O-Of course” Jimin answered, nodding quickly as Jungkook spread his legs and positioned himself inbetween them.

“I'll clean the kitchen once I've showered” The taller boy promised.

“You don't have to, I can do that once you've left” Jimin answered, mesmerised by the way Jungkook's gaze travelled over his exposed thighs, warm hands coming down and tracing over the fair skin, “Ah~” The pink haired male breathed softly, goosebumps rising on his skin.

Smugly, Jungkook smirked at the response he received, loving how Jimin reacted whenever he touched him.

“D'you wanna join me?” Jungkook then asked, eyebrow arched up in a suggestive manner.

“In the shower. Do you wanna join me?” The younger male repeated, smirk deepening when Jimin blushed at the question.

“I-I... Y-You... T-To shower?” Jimin wondered, voice quiet and unsure, yet slightly breathy as he felt his heartbeat quicken. Unconsciously, Jimin tried to draw his thighs together, yet not able to as Jungkook was standing inbetween them.

The black haired boy noticed his reaction, eyebrows arched up as he titled his head to the side, “Of course, little one, what else did you have in mind?” Jungkook smirked, grabbing his chin and gently lifting his head up in order for them to lock eyes, Jimin's blush deepening.

“N-Nothing” The shorter male lied. To be fair, was it that far-fetched for Jimin to consider Jungkook wanting to do something else after his constant teasing and suggestive tone this morning?

Jungkook chuckled, adoring Jimin's cute and embarrassed reactions. How was Jimin such an endearing little thing? How had Jungkook been this lucky?

“Just to shower. We both have to get ready” Jungkook assured, picking Jimin back up.

Swiftly wrapping himself around Jungkook, Jimin hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck, “I-I wasn't... I didn't think you would...” The older one attempted to defend himself, Jungkook simply chuckling again.

“Little one, I'm just teasing you. We're just saving some water, hm?”

With that, he carried Jimin into the restroom, switching the lights on before he sat Jimin down on the counter. After that, he walked over to the shower and turned the water on.

“When do you have to be at work? Do you want me to drop you off there?”

“I still have some hours left until my shift starts” The boy answered, observing Jungkook position himself back inbetween his spread legs.

“Arms up” Jungkook ordered, Jimin obeying in order to make the removal of his shirt easier. Once his shirt was dropped to the floor, the black haired boy pulled down his briefs.

It was silly how Jimin was still blushing at the sight, cheeks turning a shade of pink as Jungkook stepped out of his briefs, his naked body now fully exposed.

“Hips up” The younger male then demanded, voice soft as he gripped the waistband of Jimin's briefs. The latter obliged again, bringing his hips up as Jungkook tugged down the piece of clothing and allowing it to drop to the floor.

Although the sight of each other's naked bodies was familiar to both of them, Jimin's heartbeat still quickened, pounding a little faster when Jungkook traced his fingertips over his inner thighs. In response, Jimin's thighs jerked at the sudden physical contact, a gasp leaving his parted lips as he locked eyes with Jungkook again.

A smirk played around his lips, the taller boy observing how goosebumps rose beneath his touch. It always pushed his ego, filling him with pride whenever he evoke such kind of reactions in Jimin.

There was something so seductive in Jungkook's eyes as he let his gaze wander over Jimin's body. For a moment, Jimin believed the younger male was going to eat him, was going to bite him as he was watching him like he was his prey.
Yet, there was always softness in his eyes, fondness glistening in his beautiful brown orbs as they studied Jimin's features.

To Jungkook, Jimin was the most beautiful creature he had ever laid his eyes on. A piece of art. The sight of him was something Jungkook wanted to engrave in his memory forever. However, that wasn't even necessary anymore as he was allowed to look at Jimin everyday from now on because he was his.

Captivating. That's it. That what Jimin was. There was something so mesmerising about him that simply caused you to stare at him and observe his beauty.

It literally caused you to forget about your surrounding.

“K-Kook-ah?” Jimin murmured, “Shouldn't we get in the shower then before you are too late for work?”

The black haired boy shook his head, Jimin's soft voice drawing him out of his thoughts. Gently, he grasped his hips again, lifting the boy up into the air and wrapping his legs around his waist as he stepped into the shower.

The warm water splashed right down on them, drawing a gasp from either of the boys. Jimin squeezed his eyes shut, digging his fingers into Jungkook's skin a little deeper before he was set down on his feet, stabilising himself by grabbing Jungkook's shoulders.

“Too warm?” Jungkook whispered, concern in his eyes as he swept Jimin's hair out of his forehead.

“No, just fine” The smaller one answered, reaching for his shampoo. Just as he was about to open the bottle, Jungkook held his palm out.

Slightly confused, Jimin handed him the bottle, watching Jungkook squirt some of it over his hands before he set the shampoo bottle back down. After rubbing his hands together, Jungkook lifted them up to Jimin's head, massaging the shampoo into his hair.

The gentle touch resulted in Jimin's eyes fluttering shut, a soft breath slipping from his lips as Jungkook scratched his scalp very faintly. It was almost as if Jungkook wasn't actually trying to clean Jimin's hair, but rather massaged his head as he moved his fingers very slowly and softly.

“Turn around, little one” The voice was quiet, barely audible, yet Jimin was still able to register what he said.

Without questioning his request, Jimin obliged, another gasp drawn from him when Jungkook's hands travelled down to his shoulders, massaging his muscles with strong hands.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin breathed, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he felt said boy move closer. It wasn't until Jungkook pressed an open-mouthed kiss to his nape that Jimin moaned, ashamed of the sound he made, biting down on his lip harder.

Smirking against his skin, Jungkook nudged his nose against Jimin's neck, leaving more gentle kisses on his nape that turned out to be a sensitive part of his body.

As much as Jimin loved the sensation, loved the gentle caress on his skin as Jungkook's fingers traced over his body, he was aware of where this would lead to if neither of them would stop. In fact, Jimin could already feel his penis twitch in excitement, the black haired boy nibbling on his skin.
“Jungkookie” Jimin uttered, lifting his hand back to touch Jungkook's head, “We-We should-” The words got stuck in his throat when the younger male spun him around and pushed him against the wall.

“I can't get enough of you” Jungkook murmured, lips brushing over Jimin's, but not kissing him just yet. However, the faint touch caused Jimin to crave more, to long for more, “If I didn't have to be at work, I would fuck you right against this wall the way you like it” The words were whispered right into his ear, hot breath hitting Jimin's skin, tone low. The obscenity of his statement, yet also the excitement of Jungkook doing exactly that to him sparked heat in the pit of Jimin's stomach, penis twitching again.

Gulping, Jimin balled his hand into little fists, not entirely knowing what to do with himself as a part of him just wanted to beg the taller boy to do exactly that whereas the other one attempted to stop him as Jungkook didn't have much time left.

“Such a shame, really” Jungkook sighed, pulling back as he reached down for Jimin's shower gel, “Would have loved to see you come again before I leave for work. The way you would-”

Jimin had pressed his hand over Jungkook's mouth, preventing him from talking any more. Surprised by the action, Jungkook arched up his eyebrows, halting his movements.

“D-Don't” Jimin begged, swallowing hard as he took a deep breath, “Don't get me worked up if you're just going to leave me”

Jungkook grabbed his wrist and pulled his hand away from his mouth, cooing as he pressed a kiss to his forehead, “Little one, I'm going to take care of you tonight, hm? Give your body all the attention it deserves” He promised, squirting shower gel into his hand before he began to clean Jimin's body.

Tonight. That was hours away!

God. That sounded so desperate, he thought. Jimin refused to be that whiny, yet... he kind of was. That's what Jungkook did to him. The boy was simply intoxicating.

“Let's get you cleaned first, okay, baby?”

Nodding, Jimin allowed Jungkook to clean his body with gentle hands, grabbing the shampoo himself now to wash Jungkook's hair. Evidently, Jimin had to get up on his tippy toes, not capable of reaching his head that well when he didn't.

Attempting to help Jimin, Jungkook dipped his head down, smiling fondly at the way Jimin's tongue was poking out, concentration visible on his face as his nose was scrunched up. While Jimin was occupied with thoroughly washing his hair, Jungkook began to clean his own body with the shower gel, not having touched Jimin's most private parts as he didn't want to risk Jimin being even more sensitive due to any of his touches.

Clearly, Jimin was already aroused, semi-erection being any indication. As much as Jungkook would love to fuck Jimin right now, there was no time. Essentially, he was already late to work, his father probably scolding him as soon as he enters the building – one of the disadvantages now that his father was here.

Gladly, Jungkook was going to make up for that by having Jimin come multiple times tonight. Maybe it was mean to arouse Jimin, but not exactly touching him in a way that would cause such a sensation or stimulation to send him over the edge. Instead, it was shameless teasing. Yet, Jungkook couldn't help himself. It was adorable to watch Jimin squirm around, listen to the sounds he made and observe the way his body reacted.

Honestly, Jungkook found himself imagining teasing Jimin for a whole day, edging him multiple times, but never allowing him to come. Then, once the poor boy would already be at the verge of tears, begging Jungkook to just fuck him, he would oblige and fuck Jimin stupid, have him come all over himself with an intense orgasm.

Just as predicted, Jungkook's own dick twitched in interest at the thought. However, there was no way Jungkook would ever do anything without Jimin's consent. If they were going to do this, he would have to thoroughly talk to Jimin about it and explain the thing to him.

Simply edging him for a whole day without an explanation would confuse and perhaps even scare him away. That's definitely not something Jungkook wanted to happen. Frankly, Jimin was still shy in a sense when it came to sex and somewhat new to kinks, not having explored that many yet. The younger male didn't want to ruin anything by pushing him into something too early.

To be honest, Jimin's mention of the list had surprised him last night. Ultimately, Jungkook had created that list for their lessons, but now that they were in a relationship, he hadn't really considered using it any longer. Yet, it was a good way to teach Jimin any further stuff that he wanted to learn and discover.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin uttered, interrupting Jungkook's thoughts, “Finished?”

“Mhm” Jungkook hummed, eyes flickering down to Jimin's semi-erection, “Kitten, do you want me to suck you off before I leave?”

Jimin's cheeks turned a shade of red at the offer, mouth agape in shock as he widened his eyes. Upon watching Jimin's response, Jungkook smirked, still amazed by the fact that Jimin was so shy, yet also endeared by it.

“I-I...” Jimin attempted to answer, swallowing hard when he observed Jungkook getting down on his knees, water still falling down on them.

Whimpering, Jimin adjusted himself, pressing himself further against the wall as his gaze fell down on Jungkook, his face right in front of Jimin's most private parts.

“Haven't done that in a while, have I?” Jungkook noted, both of them recalling the night Jungkook had given him a blowjob – which truly was a long time ago. In fact, it had only been their second lesson, fourth real encounter. It was so odd to think about themselves at that point in their lives and then look at them now.

The universe really worked in a surprising way.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin mewled, wetting his lips as Jungkook moved closer.

All of a sudden, there was a ringing.

Both of them glanced at the door, another ring of the bell at the front door audible.

“Should we check or hope they go away?” Jungkook wanted to know, eyebrow arched up and smirk dancing around his lips as he looked up at Jimin who was already breathing uneven, way too excited for what Jungkook was going to do to him.

“I-Ignore it”
Yet, there was a ringing again. And another. And another.

Apparently, whoever it was, was very persistent and in need for Jimin to answer the door.

“I guess I should check” Jimin mumbled, “I'm sorry”

“Don't apologise” Jungkook reassured, pressing a kiss to his thigh before he got up to his feet. Swiftly, Jimin stepped out of the shower, grabbing a towel from the cabinet that he dried himself with.

The ringing continued, irritating Jimin. Quickly, he wrapped the towel around himself while Jungkook stepped out of the shower as well, water having stopped running.

“If this is Tae...” Jimin mumbled under his breath, rushing towards his front door to finally have this person quit ringing his bell.

However, the person standing in his doorway was definitely no one he had expected to see.

“D-Dongha?” Jimin uttered, visibly confused by the boy's presence.

Bewildered, Jimin looked back over his shoulder, praying that Jungkook hadn't heard him say his name, “Can I come in?” Dongha wanted to know, eyes trailing over Jimin's body, surprised to see Jimin only covered by a towel.

“No!” Jimin denied quickly, trying to keep his voice down as he shook his head, “What are you even doing here?”

“I need to talk to you. I haven't been able to stop thinking about yesterday.”

“Dongha, now is not the right time. In fact, I don't think there is anything to talk about.”

“Please” Dongha urged, attempting to enter his apartment, yet Jimin swiftly moved in front of him, “Just five minutes”

“No, Dongha! Stop, you can't just come in!” Jimin protested, pushing Dongha back by his chest, the latter apparently tending not to understand the word 'stop' or just completely ignoring it.

“Jimin-ah?” Jungkook suddenly called out, appearing in the living room right after, “What's wrong?”

The moment it took for Jungkook to recognise Dongha was the last instant Dongha had to run for his life before Jungkook walked up to them with anger in his eyes.

However, Dongha didn't use it.

“The fuck is he doing here?” The taller boy wanted to know, towel wrapped around his waist as he stormed towards them, hands clenched into fists, “Are you fucking stalking Jimin?”

In a swift motion, Jungkook grabbed Dongha by the collar, pushing him out of the apartment and against the wall in the hallway. Jimin gasped in utter horror, way too shocked by the sudden turn of events.

What was going on?

Dongha seemed to be surprised, too, big eyes staring at Jungkook in fear, yet there was something else hidden behind them – Anger? Jealousy? - Jimin wasn't capable of defining it.
“What the fuck are you doing here?” Jungkook repeated his question, jaw locked as he spoke through gritted teeth.

Jimin was frozen in his place, completely bewildered by the situation.

“I-I just wanted to talk to Jimin”

“Didn't I tell you to stay away from him, dick?” The black haired boy asked, pulling harsher on Dongha’s collar before he slammed the boy back against the wall, causing Dongha to let out a sound of pain.

“Jungkook-ah!” Jimin screamed in fear, “Don't start a fight!”

“How clearer do you want me to make it? Do I actually have to beat you up? Is that what you want? By you turning up here, I believe it is” Jungkook threatened, his voice stern and intimidating, sending a shiver down Jimin's back.

“Dude, calm down” Dongha attempted to sound threatening as well, but it was audible how his voice was shaking.

“The only reason I didn't beat the hell out of you yesterday was because it was a big day for Jimin. Yet, now that you're here, I'm not letting you get away again. How many times have you touched Jimin without his consent? Huh, bastard? I believe it was two times, wasn't it? And you actually think you can get way with that?”

“I-I-”

“I won't allow anyone to touch Jimin without his consent or hurt him in any way!”

Abruptly, the door to Taehyung's apartment opened, a sleepy Tae peeking outside with tired eyes, yawning as he scanned the hallway. It didn't take long for him to register what was going on, to fathom the whole situation as his eyes widened in horror.

“What are you doing?!” Tae exclaimed, rushing into the hallway.

“Jungkook-ah, stop!” Jimin begged, drawn out of his trance due to Taehyung's appearance.

It was a frightening situation. It appeared that Jungkook wasn't thinking straight, that the only purpose he had in this moment was beating the hell out of Dongha which he undoubtably was going to do any second now.

Gulping, Jimin hurried over to the two boys, tugging on Jungkook's strong arm in an attempt to pull him away, “This is wrong, Kook-ah! Violence doesn't solve anything!”

Fortunately, Tae rushed to his side, grabbing Jungkook's other arm. Together, they were able to drag the black haired boy away from Dongha, the latter gasping for air as if he’d been struggling to breathe properly.

“Fucking crazy” Dongha muttered under his breath, igniting Jungkook's anger even more as said boy indicated slamming Dongha into the wall once more, yet Tae and Jimin refused to let go off him.

“Go!” Jimin urged, “Leave, Dongha, I don't want to talk to you right now!”

The brown haired boy looked back and forth between his eyes, appearing to deliberate over his next step while Jimin and Taehyung proceeded to hold Jungkook back.
“Now!” Jungkook gritted, “Or I swear I'll-”

Flinching at Jungkook's harsh tone, Dongha stumbled away from the wall, looking back one last time before he rushed down the stairs.

A breath left Jimin's mouth that he hadn't noticed of holding, Tae blinking once Dongha had disappeared.

It was silent. Silent except for Jungkook's uneven breathing, the taller boy glancing at the set of stairs as if he wanted to assure that Dongha was indeed gone.

“A-Are you guys okay? What happened?” Taehyung wondered, concern very visible in his voice, but also his face.

“It's fine” Jimin mumbled, although nothing was fine.

Why had Dongha visited him?

Maybe he had wanted to apologise? However, he had clearly disrespected Jimin's protest of him entering his apartment. Evidently, the refusal had dissatisfied him, causing to strike his tendency of ignoring Jimin's rejection. Thus, why would he want to apologise if he was just going to proceed behaving like that? It didn't make much sense now, did it?

Suddenly, another figure appeared in the hallway.

A sleepy Hoseok walked up to them, only dressed in some sweatpants, Jimin just now noticing that Taehyung was only wearing a long shirt himself.

Well, Jungkook and Jimin weren't exactly dressed either, a towel barely covering their naked skin.

“What's going on here?” Hoseok murmured, rubbing the sleep out of his eyes as he hooked his arm around Taehyung's waist, the latter nuzzling himself into the touch.

“Nothing” Jimin answered quickly, interrupting Jungkook who had attempted to answer.

Whatever Dongha had done to him – that was an issue between the two of them. Jimin didn't want to involve Hoseok into it. Quite frankly, it wasn't far-fetched to think that Hoseok would act upon those incidents that Dongha had caused and come to a decision accordingly – maybe having Dongha removed from the dance class. After all, Hoseok was his friend and had proved to care about him, wanting to protect him just as Jimin felt for him.

Jimin's stomach stirred. Why was he trying to protect Dongha?

Perhaps because he still believed in his kind heart. Surely, there must be good inside of him. These past weeks couldn't just have been a filthy lie. No, their interaction and hang outs had seemed way too genuine for that.

“Sorry for waking you up” Jungkook apologised, voice still hoarse due to his fading anger, “Didn't mean to”

With that, Jungkook stormed back inside of Jimin's apartment, leaving the latter in the hallway. Flustered, Jimin cleared his throat.

“I'm sorry. I'll talk to you later, Tae” Jimin half smiled, waving at his friends before he followed Jungkook into the apartment, shutting the door behind him.
The younger male wasn't present in the living room, noises coming from Jimin's bedroom an indication of his location. Swiftly, Jimin followed after him, observing how the boy was getting dressed.

“What was that?” Jimin wondered, pulling his brows together in a frown.

Jungkook glanced at him, eyes softening the minute they fell on Jimin's confused features.

“Did he hurt you before I appeared?” The black haired one then wanted to know, buttoning up his shirt before he slipped into his pants.

“N-No, not really. Dongha just wanted to talk. Jungkook, what was that? You can't just proceed to threaten people. You shouldn't be that violent! Didn't you tell me that you weren't into fights anymore? You've already threatened three people since I know you, actually beating up one of them. Stop doing that!”

Jungkook moved closer to him, “Little one, I promised you that I wouldn't let anyone lay a finger on you. No one is going to hurt you as long as I'm by your side. Sometimes, people don't listen until you use violence and Donweo is clearly one of them. It's not my fault that he tends to walk into this shit himself. I gave him a warning, but he still turned up here. I won't allow him to hurt you, I won't let that ever happen”

Jimin's heart was still racing, having genuinely feared that Jungkook was going to beat up Dongha. Frankly, Jimin didn't know how to feel about this. Whereas a part of him was flattered by Jungkook protecting him, the other part was concerned, a little angered and honestly somewhat scared.

In that moment Jungkook had appeared so intimidating, his usual authoritative demeanor multiplied by a hundred, packed with something that made your skin crawl, that send a shiver down your back.

The warm hand that touched his cheek startled Jimin, drawing him out of his thoughts. Almost subconsciously, Jimin nuzzled against the touch, eyes fluttering shut as Jungkook caressed his cheek, comfort washing over Jimin.

“When I think about someone hurting you, there is no way I'm not going to protect you. I'm going to do anything it takes to make sure that you're safe. If that means beating up Doweon, then I'll do exactly that” Jungkook whispered, brushing his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip.

The pink haired boy swallowed hard, eyes locking with Jungkook's. There was sincerity glistening in his eyes, assuring Jimin that his words were genuine. Yet, Jimin didn't want Jungkook to do that – didn't want him to get hurt in the process or face even worse consequences.

“Dongha” Jimin corrected, voice quiet and soft, “I don't want you to beat up anyone though, Jungkook-ah. Please, don't do it. I don't want you to be hurt or get in any trouble. I'm going to take care of this myself, okay?”

The younger male made a sound of dissatisfaction, pressing his forehead against Jimin's as he trailed his fingertips down to Jimin's collarbone, “Angel, I don't think I can let him get away with what he has done to you. Just imagining what he would have done to you if I wasn't there and had interfered makes my blood boil. There is-”

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin begged, grabbing the taller boy's wrist to prevent him from distracting Jimin by touching him. Surely, Jungkook wasn't doing that on purpose, but Jimin found himself being distracted by the soft caress, “You won't do anything, okay? I'll take care of this myself. Please, Kook-ah”
The black haired boy locked eyes with him, “Little one, I'm pretty certain that he would have forced himself on you, if—”

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin interrupted, shaking his head, “Promise me right now that you won’t hurt him”

Hesitation. Jungkook opened his mouth, frowning at the request.

“Jimin-ah, I can’t—”

“Promise me!” Jimin insisted.

“Why do you want to protect him that badly, Jimin-ah? Do you know what he did to you? Do you even consider what could have happened to you, if—”

“I'm aware” The smaller boy interrupted him, “I'm just asking you to not hurt him. The trouble you would get yourself in isn't worth it. Besides, I'm not a believer of solving your problems with violence. Let me deal with this, okay? Please, Kook-ah, I appreciate you wanting to protect me, but not like this”

The taller one stared at him with strong eyes, appearing to not agree with Jimin's request.

“Promise me”

“Okay. I promise you, little one”

“Thank you”

Jimin smiled faintly and wrapped his arms around Jungkook's neck, pulling him into a hug. Without any hesitation, the latter pulled him closer, resting his head on top of Jimin's.

“I gotta go to work now” Jungkook uttered, “Are you okay staying by yourself? If he comes back, go over to Taehyung-ssi’s and call me immediately, got it?”

Pulling away, Jimin nodded.

“I don't even want to leave you here on your own. That bastard is crazy. He has the nerves to just turn up here and try to push himself into your apartment, like—”

“Kook-ah, calm down, please. I don't think he'll come back” Jimin noted, interrupting Jungkook who was visibly starting to get heated over this issue again, “Go to work. Your father is probably waiting for you already”

Sighing, Jungkook nodded, placing a kiss on Jimin's forehead.

“I'll see you tonight? Take you on your offer to cook ramyeon for me, hm?” Jungkook asked, eyebrow arched up as he leaned down again, pressing a peck on Jimin's soft lips.

Jimin giggled into the kiss, “Are you sure you don't want something more fancy?”

“Mhm, no, whatever you do is perfect for me” Jungkook murmured, voice low as he captured Jimin's lips in another kiss, “I'll make up for not being able to take care of you right now later tonight as well, hm, kitten?”

The words were whispered into his ear, Jungkook's hot breath tickling his neck, the sensation sending a shiver down Jimin's back. Involuntarily, Jimin's penis twitched in excitement, the mere tone of Jungkook's voice immensely attractive and seductive.

Almost as if he enjoyed teasing Jimin – and perhaps he did – Jungkook brushed his lips over Jimin's skin, but didn't kiss him, rather pulled away – too early for Jimin's liking – and winked at him before he walked past him.

Blinking into the void, Jimin spun around and rushed after Jungkook, exiting the bedroom as he followed the younger male.

“I'll call you once I'm done at work. You're probably going to be at practice then?” Jungkook wondered, putting on his shoes in the process.

“Mhm” Jimin hummed, “Most likely”

“Okay, I'll see you tonight, angel” Jungkook muttered, straightening his back before he attached their lips in one last kiss.

The door fell shut.

It was inevitable to not think about Dongha again in the silence of his room, Jimin now left alone with his thoughts.

---

“Dammit” Jimin cursed quietly, breathing heavily as he wiped away the sweat from his face, damp hair sticking to his forehead. Apparently, his stamina wasn't in it's best condition, Jimin having to take a break again after an hour of continuous dancing.

There wasn't actually any task Jimin had set himself to as Hoseok hadn't shared what they were going to do next in dance class. Ultimately, the pink haired boy was going to find out tomorrow, yet he still wanted to dance – just because.

It felt good, was soothing after that weird incident this morning.

Plopping down on the floor, Jimin pulled his phone out of his backpack, checking whether or not he had received any calls or texts. After all, it was already fairly late, Jungkook having wanted to call him once he was done at work.

As if on cue, the smaller one's phone vibrated in his palm, signaling that he was receiving a call.

Jungkook.

Without an ounce of hesitation, Jimin accepted the call, adjusting the phone against his ear.

“Kook-ah?”

“Hey, little one” Jungkook responded, muffled voices in the background, “How was your day?”

Still breathing heavily, Jimin wet his lips, pushing his hair out of his face, “Good. I'm still in the studio” The boy replied, slight smile dancing around his face, “Are you done at work now?”

The black haired male cleared his throat, faint hesitation noticeable, “No, I'm not. I'm really sorry, baby, but something came up at the company. It's about a contract. We're currently trying to fix it all because it's got to be ready by tomorrow”
“Oh” Jimin uttered, hating the way his heart clenched as he already sensed the cancellation of their plans. Dipping his head down, Jimin played with the hem of his shirt, biting down on the inside of his cheek, “It’s fine, Kook-ah. I understand.”

“Jimin-ah, I'm really sorry. I promised to see you tonight, but I don't want you to stay up that late just to wait for me” Jungkook elaborated, confirming Jimin's prediction, “I'll make up for it, okay? I'll pick you up tomorrow after your class and we'll spend the night at mine with—” The boy paused, presumably checking whether or not anyone was listening, “-with everything I've promised you, hm? We'll have the whole night to us” He added, voice a little quieter.

In response, Jimin's cheeks turned a shade of pink, the shy boy thankful for Jungkook not being present and noticing his timidity, “O-Okay, Jungkook-ah. You don't have to apologise, I understand.”

“Are you alone at the studio?” The younger male then wanted to know, a voice in the background calling for him, “Just a minute!” He yelled back before drawing his attention back to the phone call.

“Mhm” Jimin hummed.

“It's quite late already. I'll tell Beomsoo to pick you up and drive you home”

“That's not necessary, Kook-ah, really. It's not that far from here. I like walking”

“I'll send him the address. As soon as he's downstairs, I'll text you” Jungkook insisted, his tone leaving no room for protest. There was just something about that dominating voice that left Jimin at his mercy, finding himself obey.

“Thank you, Kook-ah” Jimin murmured, heart still fluttering at his gesture.

“Have you eaten something since breakfast?” The taller boy asked, rustling audible, probably caused by Jungkook standing up as Jimin heard footsteps a moment later.

Jungkook hummed in satisfaction, “I'll see you tomorrow, angel, sleep well”

“See you tomorrow, Kook-ah, you too”

With that, Jungkook hung up the call, Jimin staring down at his phone.

Unfortunately, he couldn't help the slight disappointment washing over him although he knew that it wasn't Jungkook's fault.

--------

Absolutely shocked. Horrified. Just a few of the feelings that were blossoming inside of him. There were so many emotions and thoughts running through Jimin's body upon entering the dance studio the next morning.

Involuntarily, Jimin gasped, the sight hitting him like a train at full speed.

However, swiftly, the pink haired boy shut his mouth, clearing his throat and averting his gaze as he dropped his backpack to the floor.

“Good morning, Jimin-ah” Hoseok greeted with a smile, apparently not faced at all by the events this morning or simply very good at hiding it.
After joining the others in order to stretch his muscles, Jimin couldn't prevent himself from allowing his gaze to wander over to Dongha again.

Bruises were plastered over his face like he'd been seriously beaten up.

Almost as if he sensed Jimin staring at him, Dongha locked eyes with him, something flashing in his orbs that Jimin wasn't capable of defining. For an unknown reason to Jimin, a shiver ran down his back at the sight of Dongha's expression.

Who had done that to him? And why?

“Okay, guys, let's get started now”

Shaking his head, Jimin averted his gaze and drew his attention over to Hoseok.

The stirring in his stomach was a bad sign, Jimin just knew it.

---

“Time for a break, guys” The brown haired boy in the front announced, clapping his hands together before he signaled for everyone to take a seat in the back in order rest for a moment.

After Hoseok had talked about the championship for a while, they had went right back into dance practice.

Honestly, Jimin had tried very determinedly to fixate his focus on Hoseok and the dance lesson, yet the bad feeling that washed over him every now and then when the image of Dongha's face appeared in his mind was a bad sign – a very bad sign.

After grabbing his bottle of water, Jimin found himself walking over to Dongha with cautious steps, “Hey” He uttered.

Jimin was aware of the fact that he should stay away from Dongha – far, far away. The boy had crossed the line several times, ignoring Jimin's protest and attempting to force himself onto Jimin. However, the pink haired male believed in the good of people, believed that Dongha just didn't know to behave in a decent way. That didn't mean that he was an evil person. Surely, the funny person that had comforted Jimin very often these past weeks must be hidden in there somwhere.

The taller boy glanced at him, seemingly surprised to see Jimin talk too him, “Hey” He breathed, Jimin swallowing hard upon observing his face that closely. It looked even worse.

“What... what happened to you?” The smaller male whispered, quieter than he had intended to, but maybe his body had decided to protect Jimin, aware of the fact that his voice would have been shaking if it'd been any louder.

“This?” Dongha clarified, pointing to his face as if it wasn't already obvious, “Why do you ask?”

“I...I'm just wondering what happened to you” Jimin responded, something glistening in Dongha's eyes that screamed affection or gratitude to Jimin.

“Some bastards beat the hell out of me last night right in front of my apartment building. They pulled me into an alley and... well, I thought they just wanted to rob me, you know? Like, take my money or phone or whatever, but after thoroughly swinging a couple of punches and kicks at me, they just left”
Pity washed over Jimin, the smaller boy feeling so bad for what had happened to Dongha. Who would do that to anyone?

“It was more than just one then? What did they say?”

“Two guys. Didn't say anything”

Frowning, Jimin bit down on his bottom lip.

“Did you see how they look like?”

“No” Dongha sighed, “It was pretty dark and once they located their punches, I couldn't see that much from there on.”

“You should report them. This is... this is so horrible. I'm so sorry that they did that to you”

Jimin couldn't contain the odd feeling in his stomach. This was so... off-putting. It seemed weird how these two guys coincidentally waited in front of his apartment and beat him up just for the sake of it? What was the sense in that? They didn’t steal anything, hence the only purpose had been to hurt Dongha. Well, they evidently succeeded.

No matter what Dongha had done to him, no one deserved this kind of violence. There were so many bruises on his face and probably in other places as well. Surely, he was hurting a lot, but tried to suppress it.

“Wouldn't really change anything. I mean, I don't even know how they look like. Quite honestly, I don't think they would care that much either. Worst case, they come back and repeat it. I can't help but feel like it was a planned attack on me. For a moment, I genuinely thought that they had spoken to me, like-like giving me a warning or something similar, but I can't remember what exactly it was. Maybe I imagined it. I'm really not sure at this point. The whole situation is just... odd, you know? How they just attacked me without taking anything from me although we were the only ones around”

“I'm sorry that they did that, I-”

“Okay, guys, let's continue!” Hoseok called out, taking his spot in the front again, interrupting their conversation.

The smaller one glanced at his own reflection, a shiver running down his back at his own frightened expression.

---

“I basically bought any ramyeon I could find” Jungkook revealed to him, gesturing towards several smaller bags of food on his dining table.

Jimin's mouth fell open, eyes widening at the sight, “Kook-ah, you didn't have to buy that many! Besides, I want to do them for you so I was supposed to buy them” The pink haired male protested, pushing his bottom lip out.

Jimin had just arrived at Jungkook's apartment, having decided to come here himself instead of Jungkook picking him up as the smaller boy had feared Jungkook starting another argument with Dongha upon seeing him.

“I know, but I want to make up for not being able to see you last night” Jungkook reasoned, approaching Jimin and gripping his waist in order to pull him closer, “Starting with this”

Smiling, Jimin pulled Jungkook into a hug, hiding his face in his broad chest, the comforting scent of the other male filling his nostrils. Subconsciously, Jimin's eyes fluttered shut as Jungkook caressed his back.

“Do you want to rest a little at first or should we move over to the kitchen?” Jungkook asked, cocking his head to the side as his gaze was fixated on Jimin, intent stare studying his features.

Jimin looked up, “Kitchen”

Humming, Jungkook pulled away from him and grabbed all the bags, refusing to let Jimin help him as they moved over into the kitchen.

Upon entering the room, the shorter male noticed that he had never been inside of Jungkook's kitchen. It was huge, designed in a very modern way, including a big counter with several stools placed in front of it. The colour scheme fit with the rest of the house, a dark grey, some whites here and there.

“Wow” Jimin breathed in awe, watching Jungkook set down the bags on the counter.

“So, go ahead. You're the chef now. Just tell me what you need in case you don't find it, but I've already prepared a pot on the stove.”

The smaller boy hummed, shutting his mouth - after noticing that it had been agape due to Jimin's scanning of the room – and walking over to the stove.

“How was your day, beautiful?” Jungkook wanted to know, taking a seat at the counter as he watched Jimin rummaging through the several bags of ramyeon.

“It was good” Jimin smiled, “Practice was fun. Oh, do you have rice?”

“Let me check” The taller one muttered, frowning as he got up and searched through his cabinets, causing Jimin to giggle.

“Although... something really weird happened. Like, to Dongha” Jimin murmured a moment later, pulling his brows together at the thought of the brown haired boy. The image of Dongha's bruised up face just didn't want to leave his mind, blossoming fear and pity inside of him.

“What happened?” Jungkook asked after a slight pause, stilling.

“Two guys beat him up pretty badly last night in a dark alley” Jimin answered, a shiver running down his back at the mere thought, “Really, really badly. His whole face is bruised up”

“His whole face?” The younger male echoed, Jimin glancing at him.

“Yes, he's probably hurt in other places, too”

For a moment, there was something flashing in Jungkook's eyes that caused Jimin's stomach to twist, but it was gone so quickly that Jimin was certain he had misinterpreted it or had simply imagined it.

Yet, perhaps he just wanted it to be that way.

“Did they say anything to him?”

Jimin sighed, drawing his attention back over to the bags of ramyeon, “Well, he thinks they did, but he can't remember what it was”

Humming, Jungkook finally found the bag of rice and carried it over to the counter, “Good”

The smaller boy stilled, hands halting mid-air as he had been reading over the ingredients on the particular bag of ramyeon in his hand, “G-Good?” Jimin repeated, frowning as he locked eyes with Jungkook. “What is good?”

“That someone beat the shit out of him. The guy should have seen it coming, honestly. He deserved it” Jungkook answered nonchalantly.

Jimin blinked in response.

Nothing was good! Dongha has been seriously injured due to the attack on him! Who knows what worse could have happened to him!

“J-Jungkook-ah, that’s... what happened to him is horrible. No one deserves to be beaten up like that”

Now it was Jungkook who frowned, titling his head to the side, “Jimin-ah, why are you so protective over him? I fail to understand why you want to protect an asshole like him. The guy tried to force himself on you, tried to enter your apartment without your permission, like, he's fucking crazy. Don't you see that he's a horrible person? Everytime I think about him I imagine what he would have done to you if I hadn't interefered those times. What if he would've forced himself on you or- even worse than that- rape you? That thought drives me fucking mad, Jimin-ah. I wish I would have beaten him up myself, but I promised you that I wouldn't touch him so I didn't”

“I'm aware that what he did is wrong, but... but still. You haven't seen him. I'm sure he's in so much pain” Jimin pointed out, shrugging his shoulders.

“I hope he is. Maybe it will teach him not to hurt others or attempt to hurt others” Jungkook gritted, visibly angered by the thought of Dongha.

“I don't think he wanted to hurt me. I think he just... I think he just wanted to... to touch me, you know? I really don't think his intention was evil”

The taller boy actually growled, leaving Jimin blinking in fear as Jungkook walked closer to him.

“Jimin-ah, that asshole didn't think about your feelings at all. The only thing he had in mind was himself. Bastard wanted you for himself and didn't care if you wanted him back. Don't try to turn this into something less horrible and see it for what it is. Dongha is a fucking bastard that forced himself on you and would have done even worse if you'd been alone”

Jimin gulped, a breath hitching in his throat when his back hit against the counter, Jungkook incredibly close to him now.

“I don't want you to talk to him. I don't want you to interact with him. I don't know what he'll do to you if I'm not present. But, maybe he got the fucking message and won't try that shit on anyone ever again – especially not you”

“J-Jungkook-ah, I have to see him. We go to the same dance class. I'm sure that... that the friend that he was to me is still somewhere in there”

“That wasn't a question”

There it was again. That dominating tone that left Jimin obeying without any hesitation, yet... not this “Jungkook-ah, no, you can't decide who I talk to and- and.”

Upon noticing Jimin's slight fear, Jungkook visibly calmed down, eyes softening again as they stared at Jimin.

“Then I'm asking you. Please, Jimin-ah, stay away from him. I don't know what he's capable of doing to you and I don't want to find out. If he ever touches you again, I'll kill him” Jungkook uttered, voice a little softer, yet still very precise, causing a shiver to run down Jimin's back at his last words.

With the way Jungkook had looked right now, intimidating and angry, Jimin wondered if he would ever actually try to kill Dongha.

Swallowing hard, Jimin looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, searching for the softness that he knew was hidden in there.

“O-Okay, I'll stay away from him”

In response, Jungkook leaned in and pressed a kiss to his forehead, whispering a “Thank you” against his skin. Jimin's eyes fluttered shut, the brutal racing of his heart slowing down as he felt himself find comfort in the gentle touch.

There was no way Jimin wouldn't have to interact with Dongha in any way, yet Jungkook surely wouldn't have stopped requesting this from him until he agreed. Perhaps, it was even for the best to stay away from Dongha, considering how he had actually forced himself on Jimin several times.

It wasn't like Jimin sought out to interact with or talk to Dongha. No, Jimin had wanted to settle their issue without any further problems because he knew that they were in the same dance class and had wanted to remain peace. However, that didn't mean that he was going to be as close to Dongha again.

Surely, they could never be that close again after those incidents.

“Let's stop thinking about him now, okay?” Jimin begged, grabbing Jungkook's shirt in his fist as he stared at him with pleading eyes. Tonight was supposed to be a redemption for yesterday. Jimin didn't want there to be anything that could harm that in any way.

No, tonight was supposed to be solely about them.

“Okay, I'm sorry, little one” Jungkook whispered, capturing his lips in a slow kiss, “I'll let you cook now” With that, he stepped away and took a seat at the counter, appearing to actually feel apologetic for getting that heated at the mention of Dongha.

For a mere moment, Jimin had truly been intimidated, even frightened by Jungkook's sudden change in demeanor. The black haired boy really seemed to hate Dongha and everything he had done. Surely, Jimin didn't agree with Dongha's behaviour either, yet he didn't hate him.

In a way it was flattering, you know, the way Jungkook was concerned and protective over him. The smaller male was aware – knew with every ounce of his being – that Jungkook would never physically harm him. Although he had appeared very intimidating just moments ago, Jimin knew that it wasn't directed at him and that he would never lay a finger on Jimin in order to hurt him.

Yet, Jungkook couldn't help but regret the way he had reacted. Not because of Dongha – he still fucking hated that guy – but because of the look in Jimin's eyes. For a moment, there had been fear glistening in them. That fucking tore on his heart strings. Jungkook never intended to scare Jimin, never intended to cause him to be frightened of Jungkook. No, he wanted to keep the pink haired boy safe and protected.

Jimin knew. Jimin was aware of that. In fact, the shorter male was never actually afraid of Jungkook – never had been either. No, instead, the younger one had the ability to make Jimin feel secure and comforted. Whenever Jungkook was by his side, he felt safe and sound.

After all, Jungkook was his safe haven, wasn't he?

“Are you mad now?” Jungkook broke the silence that had settled between them, observing Jimin turning on the stove in order to boil the water.

When Jimin glanced at Jungkook, he felt his heart clench. There was guilt flashing in his beautiful brown orbs, the fear of having ruined their night very visible.

“No” Jimin swiftly assured, approaching the taller boy, “I... I understand that you want to protect me and I'm very grateful for that. You always make me feel safe, Kook-ah. I just don't want you to be angry, okay? Please, let's just forget about him tonight”

Once Jimin was standing right in front of Jungkook, the younger male hummed deeply as he pulled Jimin onto his lap, “I don't want us to argue over him”

“Me neither” Jimin whispered, heart fluttering as soon as Jungkook pressed a kiss against his throat, arms wrapped around him in order to secure him on his lap, “I know that you want to keep me safe”

“No one's ever going to hurt you again, little one. I promise” The black haired boy murmured against his skin, a promise that caused Jimin's heart to race faster. The words were whispered so quietly against his skin, just for Jimin to hear.

“You can't protect me from everything, Kook-ah” Jimin pointed out, running his hand through Jungkook's hair. In response to the touch, Jungkook hummed lowly, nudging his nose against Jimin's cheek.

“I can try. I will try”

Smiling shyly, Jimin dipped his head down, heartbeat quickening at the sweet promise. Just as Jimin was about to reply, the sound of water sputtering interrupted them. Gasping, the smaller one slid down from Jungkook's lap, stumbling over his own two feet in the attempt to rush over to the stove.

Quickly, he pulled the pot down from the stove, hissing as he had touched the object without any protection. Immediately, Jimin felt his cheeks turn a shade of pink, embarrassed by the fact that he wasn't even able to boil water without making a mess.

“I-I'm sorry” Jimin muttered, about to reach for some tissues when Jungkook walked over to him, chuckling.

“It's fine, baby” He assured, placing a kiss at his temple before he wiped away the water that had splashed out, “You're in charge here, but I worry how your ramyeon is going to turn out, if-”
Jungkook shut his mouth upon Jimin swatting his arm, pouting as he narrowed his eyes, blushing even deeper, “You distracted me!” The boy defended himself, earning another chuckle from Jungkook.

“I was joking, little one. I did distract you. To be fair, you distract me all the time, too, hm?” The taller boy noted, arching up an eyebrow as he glanced at Jimin with teasing eyes, something suggestive glistening in his orbs.

Gulping, Jimin moved the pot back over to the stove, “Stop distracting me and sit down” The pink haired male murmured, smiling lightly. In response, Jungkook hummed, doing the opposite and moving closer to him. Slowly, he wrapped his arms around Jimin's waist, resting his head on his shoulder as he tilted it to the side.

“Are you ordering me around now, kitten?” Jungkook whispered, hot breath tickling in Jimin's neck, causing a shiver to run down his back. Unconsciously, Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth, feeling goosebumps rise on his skin, “Feisty today, hm?” He added, smirking against his skin as he noticed the effect he had on Jimin.

“S-Stop, Kook-ah” Jimin muttered, voice just above a whisper, a little shaky as he attempted to focus on his task, “If you don't stop distracting me, we'll never eat dinner”

“Mhm, there is something else I could eat for dinner” The younger male suggested, Jimin swallowing hard when he felt Jungkook rub his hips forward against him. Involuntarily, a whimper escaped the poor boy, quickly biting down on his bottom lip to muffle the sound.

Satisfied with Jimin's response, Jungkook pulled away with a smirk on his face. Suddenly, it was so cold around Jimin, the warmth that Jungkook radiated missing.

“But you're right. I want to taste those wonderful ramyeon you promised me” Jungkook sighed, Jimin spinning around as he watched the black haired one take a seat at the counter again.

A whine escaped Jimin. A whine that he couldn't contain. Jungkook was mean. This was unfair! His constant teasing that lead to nowhere was going to drive Jimin insane. Over the past two days he had been aroused by Jungkook several times, yet hadn't found any kind of release.

There was no way Jungkook didn't do this on purpose. Not with the way there was a smug smirk dancing around his lips.

“Baby, watch the water before it makes a mess again” Jungkook insisted, gesturing towards the pot that Jimin had abandoned again.

Huffing, the older one turned back around, reaching for the packs of ramyeon to finish their meal.

“Do you need anything else?” Jungkook wanted to know after watching Jimin for minutes in silence. You. Well, Jimin didn't actually say that out loud though.

“No, I don't think so”

“I'll be right back, little one”

With that, Jungkook left the kitchen, leaving Jimin wondering where he went off to. Maybe, he needed to use the restroom? There wasn't much time to think about it, the ramyeon calling for his attention.

After several minutes, Jungkook returned, “Should I help you with anything?”

“Could you get us some bowls? It's almost finished. The rice should be done soon as well” Jimin answered, glancing at the black haired boy who hummed and searched through his cabinets.

Once everything was done, Jungkook placed a big tray on the counter, placing their bowls with rice and some drinks on it.

Slightly confused, Jimin observed Jungkook take the pot and set it down on the tray as well, “What are you...”

“I thought we could eat in the bedroom. I know you must be exhausted. It's more comfortable, don't you think?” The taller male answered. “Unless you don't want to?”

Smiling, Jimin shook his head. “No, it's fine” He assured, following Jungkook into the bedroom. The lights were already dimmed, TV on – playing some kind of drama –, a bunch of pillows spread on the bed, the whole thing just very warm and comfy. It seemed inviting, Jimin feeling the urge to hide himself beneath the soft covers blossom inside of him, “What if we spill something?” Jimin worried, following Jungkook on his bed, observing how he carefully set the tray down in the middle.

“I can wash the sheets, Jimin-ah, that's not a problem”

Giving a nod – yet taking a mental note not to spill anything and be extremely careful, although his clumsiness really seemed to have no boundaries – the smaller boy sat down on the bed, crossing his legs as he noticed his stomach grumble.

Jungkook sat down next to him, a content sigh leaving his lips as he adjusted himself on the bed, “Go ahead, little one” He chuckled as he noticed the expression on Jimin's face, the hungry boy eying the food as if he hadn't eaten for a whole day.

“No, I want you to try first!” Jimin beamed, smiling as he handed Jungkook a pair of chopsticks.

Jungkook returned the smile, grabbing some ramyeon with his chopsticks and bringing them up to his mouth. For some odd reason, his heart fluttered at the way Jimin was staring intently, eyes shining bright in excitement. How was a human being this adorable?

“Aaaand?” Jimin asked expectantly, eyes wide.

Chewing on the food, Jungkook arched up his eyebrows in surprise, “The best ramyeon!”

Narrowing his eyes, Jimin swatted his arm, “Don't lie!”

“I'm not lying” Jungkook protested, lifting his hands up in defence, “They taste really, really good, little one. The best one I ever had” The boy added, smiling genuinely.

Still somewhat suspicious, Jimin picked up his own pair of chopsticks, not completely buying Jungkook's overly excited reaction. However, once he tasted them himself, he was satisfied – or rather relieved that he hadn't utterly screwed that over and ruined it. No, they were actually really good.

“You really like them?” The older boy wondered quietly.

“Yes, I do. They're really good” Jungkook reassured, heart doing a weird thing at the way Jimin's eyes lit up at the compliment. \textit{Literal stars}, Jungkook thought. Someone must have picked stars from the sky and placed them in Jimin's eyes. Fuck, there was no other explanation for how they were always shining so beautiful.

"Thank you" Jimin grinned, eyes turning into little crescents, causing Jungkook to smile.

They ate their food in comfortable silence, only having faint small talk every now and then. To be fair, they had both been very hungry, being content with simply being in each other's company while eating.

Once they were finished, Jungkook got up to his feet and carried the tray over to the dresser, Jimin falling back on the bed with a full stomach. Chuckling at the sight, the black haired one joined him on the bed again, lying down next to him.

"Thank you for making dinner for us. You did very well, baby" Jungkook praised, Jimin smiling at the praise as he scooted closer to the boy.

"Thank you" The smaller male murmured as Jungkook pulled him to his side, bodies right next to each other and sending sparks through their bodies like it was the first time they were touching.

Humming, Jungkook pressed a kiss to the top of his head before they fixated their gazes on the TV, immersed in the events in the drama although neither of them had ever watched it before tonight.

A full stomach made Jimin sleepy. Every now and then, he felt his eyes fall shut, only to force them back open as soon as he noticed. The way Jungkook was caressing his skin wasn't helping his case in the slightest either. No, instead, the soft touch increased his sleepiness.

It was nice to just lie there in silence next to Jungkook, listen to his steady breathing and feel the warmth he was radiating so close to his body. Jimin felt secure and comforted.

However, that changed when Jungkook's fingertips trailed over his chest. The touch was still very tender and pure, yet Jimin couldn't prevent his skin from forming goosebumps. The taller boy traced his fingertips over his shirt down to his stomach and further and further until they hit the waistband of his jeans, only to trace them back up to his chest.

Involuntarily, a soft breath slipped from Jimin's lips. Out of the corner of his eyes, Jimin was capable of catching Jungkook smirk at his reaction as he proceeded to trace his fingers over Jimin's upper body.

"Ah, Kook" Jimin breathed, biting down on his bottom lip when Jungkook's fingertips brushed over his nipple, only for them to be gone and trail down to his stomach again. Unconsciously, his penis twitched at the touch, both of them aware of how sensitive Jimin was.

Suddenly, Jungkook's hand was gone, leaving Jimin whine at the loss.

"K-Kook-ah, that's mean" Jimin whined at the lack of physical contact, "Y-You... You keep doing that to me" The pink haired boy felt his cheeks heat up at the way he was complaining.

Jungkook appeared to be amused, staring at him as he reached down to brush Jimin's hair out of his face, "What am I doing, little one?"

"Y-You keep teasing me" Jimin replied, wetting his lips as he swallowed hard, "You touch me, but then... but then you just don't. You're mean"

It was frustrating. Jimin was embarrassed by his own state after such little caress and stimulation, yet could you really blame him after two days of teasing?

“Am I?” Jungkook wondered, eyebrows arched up as if he wasn't aware. However, the smirk on his face gave away that he was – and he enjoyed it.

“Y-Yes” Jimin whined, “I... I...”

“You what, kitten?”

Jungkook's stare was intent, all the attention on Jimin as he looked at him with dark eyes. The amusement was still there, yet accompanied by desire.

“I-I want you. I need you”

Leaning in, Jungkook captured his lips in a kiss. Slowly, their lips moved against one another, Jungkook's tongue poking out to lick over Jimin's bottom lip before he pulled away, “I'm sorry for teasing you, little one. Do you want me to make it better?” He whispered against Jimin's lips, placing his hand against Jimin's cheek in order to rub his thumb over his cheekbone.

“P-Please” Jimin breathed, nodding and ignoring how desperate he sounded.

“What do you want me to do, kitten?” Jungkook murmured against his ear, hot breath tickling Jimin's skin as he roamed his hand over Jimin's body, trailing down to Jimin's butt and giving his cheek a little squeeze, causing a breath to hitch in Jimin's throat.

Gulping, Jimin's eyes fluttered shut at the way Jungkook was kneading his flesh, earning another whimper from the smaller boy, “A-Anything. Whatever you want. J-Just, please-”

Humming deeply, Jungkook pushed himself up on his arms, fixating his gaze on the other boy's face beneath him, studying his features and listening to the pants that were leaving his beautiful plump lips.

I have barely touched you, Jungkook thought and smirked, loving how responsive Jimin was, “Did you touch yourself over the past two days?”

“N-No” Jimin answered, shaking his head, “I haven't”

Nodding, Jungkook grabbed Jimin's chin softly, smiling down at him, “You've waited two days without touching yourself. What a good boy, aren't you? I was mean for leaving you on your own without you finding any release. You definitely deserve a reward, don't you?” The black haired male uttered, running his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip.

Subconsciously, Jimin parted his lips, anticipating for Jungkook to push his thumb inside of his mouth, yet he only smirked as he titled his head to the side.

“Jimin-ah, you trust me, don't you?” The taller male whispered.

Swiftly, Jimin nodded.

With all of my heart, he thought, but didn't say out loud.

“No, little one, say it. Need to hear your pretty voice”

Clearing his throat, Jimin wet his lips, tongue poking Jungkook's finger in the process, “I do” He assured, “I trust you, Kook-ah” “Safewords?”

Blinking, Jimin opened his mouth, not entirely certain what Jungkook was asking for. Did he want Jimin to name them? Was that a question to whether or not they should even use any?

“Tell me, baby”

“R-Red for stop, yellow for slower or p-pause and green for go” Jimin answered, somehow excited by the fact that Jungkook was making sure he remembered their safewords. What was Jungkook going to do to him?

“Good boy”

In response to the praise, Jimin felt his heart flutter, heat building in the pit of his stomach at the anticipation that bloomed inside of him. It was still very fascinating what kind of effect Jungkook had on the pink haired boy. How a simple touch, stare or praise was pulling Jimin into a headspace that allowed him to let himself fall, being caught by Jungkook.

The way Jungkook was playing with the hem of his shirt drew Jimin out of his thoughts. Swiftly, he fixated his gaze back on Jungkook who was staring at him as if he was silently asking for permission to take Jimin's clothes off.

After a quick nod from Jimin, the younger male pulled the shirt up and tugged it over his head, tossing it behind them. Already breathing unevenly, Jimin placed his hand against Jungkook's cheek, guiding his gaze back up to his face in order to lock eyes with him.

Slowly, he leaned up, capturing Jungkook's lips in a sweet kiss, the latter not hesitating to return it. As they were moving their lips against one another, Jungkook trailed his hand over Jimin's chest, occasionally brushing his thumb over Jimin's nipple, the touch evoking a whimper from the latter. Each of those pretty noises were caught by Jungkook as he moved his lips a little quicker against Jimin's, their tongues licking over one another.

As their kiss became hungrier, the taller male zipped down Jimin's pants, tugging them off as he broke away from the other male. Whining at the loss, Jimin observed him get up from the bed.

“J-Jungkook-ah?” Jimin muttered, confusion and desparation on his face as he watched Jungkook move over to the TV in order to turn it off.

Once he turned back around, a shiver ran down Jimin's back. Jungkook's dark brown orbs were fixated on him in an intent stare, gaze wandering over his half naked body, something flashing in his eyes as he studied the exposed, pale skin. Swallowing, Jimin stabilised himself on his elbows, still catching his breath after their faint making out session.

The taller boy approached him, confident walk attractive, yet screaming something so authoritative as he moved closer.

“Jimin-ah” Jungkook uttered, his low but soft tone ringing in Jimin's ears.

“Y-Yes?”

“Get on your knees for me, please”

Blinking, Jimin studied Jungkook's face in slight confusion. However, there came nor further explanation or instruction, causing Jimin to nod. As he was about to move, Jungkook walked away to enter the bathroom.

Hesitating due to the slight bewilderment, the smaller boy obeyed, kneeing down on the bed. His chest was rising and falling rapidly, a visible sign that he was excited, but nervous all the same.

It didn't take long for Jungkook to return, approaching Jimin while holding something in his hand. "Good boy" He praised as he joined Jimin on the bed, adjusting himself behind the latter.

"W-What are we-"

"Colour?" Jungkook interrupted him, hands gripping Jimin's shoulder before they moved up and down Jimin's arms, caressing the skin. In response to the soft touch, goosebumps rose on his skin, eyes fluttering shut as soon as Jungkook pressed an open-mouthed kiss to his nape.

Letting out a content sigh, Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth, appearing to be unable to response – or rather incapable of fathoming what Jungkook had said.

"Little one?" The black haired boy urged, nudging his nose against Jimin's neck as he proceeded to gently trail his fingertips over Jimin's arms, "Your colour"

"G-Green" Jimin assured, wetting his lips.

Humming, Jungkook grasped his wrists and pulled them back, resulting in Jimin gasping.

"K-Kook-ah, what are you-"

Suddenly, a piece of fabric was wrapped around Jimin's wrists, causing Jimin to shut his mouth. Jungkook was tying his hands to his back.

Frankly, Jimin didn't know whether to be excited or frustrated. Sure, it was very annoying how it would restrict him from being able to touch Jungkook, yet it solely left him at the latter's mercy, allowing him to do whatever he wanted to Jimin.

To be fair, Jimin loved that idea.

To this day Jimin didn't fully understand why he loved the idea so much, but he was certain that it was connected to him enjoying feeling small and taken care of. That's exactly what Jungkook provided for him, what he made him feel so utterly beautifully.

"Can you tell me your colour again, little one?" The black haired boy murmured against his ear, causing Jimin to gasp at the suddenness of the voice so close to him as he was distracted by his own thoughts.

"G-Green" Jimin answered again, earning a gentle kiss to his shoulder.

"Is it too tight?" Jungkook wanted to make sure, Jimin pulling at the restraint and whimpering at the fact that he wasn't able to move his arms at all. The only movement he was allowed was to ball his hands into fists.

Jimin felt rather vulnerable like this, incapable of bringing his arms to his front to protect himself in any way.

However, he didn't need that. Jimin didn't need to protect himself because he wasn't in any danger. No, the smaller boy was safe, felt secure within Jungkook’s proximity and was more than certain that Jungkook wouldn't do anything that Jimin didn't want.
“It's fine” Jimin answered, voice soft and quiet as he looked back.

Jungkook smiled at him, leaning in and pressing a tender kiss against his lips as if he was trying to comfort him, aware of how nervous Jimin must be.

His lips were gone too quickly, leaving him whine at the loss as Jungkook trailed open-mouthed kiss down his neck and back to his nape, nibbling at the skin.

“Fuck how I wish I had a collar for you” The black haired boy whispered against his skin, “A collar with my name on it”

For some odd reason, Jimin’s penis twitchted at his words. Yet, what was even weirder was the way his heart fluttered at Jungkook's wish.

* A collar with Jungkook's name on it like he belonged to him.

Quite honestly, Jimin assumed there was something wrong with himself. There must be. Why did he like the idea of wearing a collar that much? Jimin wasn't a dog! Was it... weird that Jimin liked the idea so much? That he loved the thought of wearing something with Jungkook's name on it?

“Would you like that, little one?” The taller male murmured into his ear, sending another shiver down Jimin's back.

“Y-Yes” Jimin answered, voice just above a whisper as he felt his cheeks turn a shade of pink.

“Fuck” Jungkook cursed, placing one last kiss on Jimin's shoulder as he played with the waistband of his briefs. In a swift motion, he tugged them down below Jimin's butt, evoking another gasp from the latter, “Sit down” The younger boy ordered, Jimin obliging immediataly and sitting down on his butt, making the removal of his underwear easier.

At the realisation of the fact that Jimin was compelty naked whereas Jungkook was still fully dressed, Jimin found himself blush deeper, biting down on his bottom lip as he observed Jungkook lie down on his back.

“Up, come on” Jungkook insisted, patting his chest.

Slightly confused, Jimin attempted to crawl on Jungkook, struggling as his hands were literally tied. Fortunately, the taller boy gripped his hips and helped him, manhandling him on his chest. It was even more confusing when Jimin realised that he was facing away from Jungkook, straddling the latter's chest.

“K-Kook-ah, what are we doing?” Jimin wondered, voice soft and small as he felt his heartbeat quicken.

“Kitten, I'm going to eat you out now. I want you to sit on my face” Jungkook answered, grabbing Jimin's thighs to pull him back.

Tensing, Jimin wriggled against the touch, finding himself blushing as he shook his head.

“J-Jungkook-ah, but that's- that's-”

“Just like eating you out like I always do” The black haired boy finished for him – although it wasn't exactly what Jimin had wanted to say – as he caressed Jimin's inner thighs, not forcing him towards his face any longer upon noticing his protest.
“B-But how will you breathe? I... This position is scary” Jimin admitted, voice becoming quieter with each word as he dipped his head down.

Sensing the discomfort, Jungkook pushed Jimin further down on his body, creating more distance, in order to be able to sit up, closing his arms around Jimin's waist as he rested his head on top of the latter's shoulder.

“We don't have to do anything you don't want. I just want to make you feel good, hm? I promise it'll feel good, but if you don't like the idea at all then we don't have to do it, little one”

Swallowing, Jimin inhaled a deep breath, eyes fluttering shut.

“Then what about you? Don't you want me to pleasure you, too?” Jimin whispered, looking back at Jungkook who smiled warmly at him.

“No, angel, right now it's all about you. I receive pleasure from making you feel good and watching you fall apart, just to put you back together. We'll take care of me later, don't you worry, little one” The younger male murmured back, brushing Jimin's hair out of his face before he pressed a kiss to his face.

“So you... so what do I have to do? Just...”

Jungkook laid back down, patting his chest. “Up, baby”

Taking another deep breath, Jimin scooted back, closer to Jungkook's face. His heart was pounding fast against his chest, nervousness bubbling inside of him. However, he couldn't deny the anticipation blooming inside of him as he sat down on Jungkook's chest.

“Fuck” Jungkook cursed, wetting his lips at the sight of Jimin's beautiful round cheeks right in front of his face. The skin was so pale and inviting, evoking the urge in him to just bite into the soft skin, to give it a spank and watch the skin turn pink, creating a beautiful contrast.

“N-Now?”

“Hips up and further back” Jungkook instructed, giving Jimin all the time he needed and not rushing him at all as the latter obliged and sat up to move back. When his butt was essentially just above Jungkook's face, the black haired boy gently tapped his thigh, “Enough”

Gasping, Jimin stilled immediately, clenching his hands into fists because he didn't know what to expect. The lack of knowledge was a bittersweet sensation. On the one hand it was somewhat scary, yet on the other hand oddly exciting. The racing of his heart didn't give him any clue on which side was having the upper-hand.

After all, wasn't it similar to the way Jungkook usually did this to him? Obviously, this was a different position, but the process was the same, wasn't it? How different could it be?

“Is this okay, angel? Colour?”

Blinking, Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth. This position was so foreign, caused Jimin to feel so very vulnerable, but he knew that he was safe, he knew that Jungkook was there to catch him.

“G-Green”

Humming, Jungkook gripped his buttcheeks, Jimin feeling his heart pound in anticipation. Slowly, he pulled his cheeks apart, cursing at the tight of Jimin's tight, pink hole. As if the teasing over the past two days hadn't been enough, Jungkook blew a breath of air at him, the sensation causing Jimin's hole to clench around nothing as the latter gasped once more.

“K-Kook-ah, please”

Without any warning, Jungkook leaned up and licked a fat stripe over Jimin's hole, earning a breathy whimper from the pink haired boy whose eyes fluttered shut at the touch. Jungkook smirked at the response, swirling his tongue around Jimin's rim to evoke more of these pretty noises.

Jimin rolled his head back into his neck, not entirely knowing what to do with himself. In moments like this, he would grab a pillow or the bedsheets, he would hide his face somewhere to muffle the sounds he was making – yet, this time he couldn't. The smaller boy was restricted from moving his arms, wasn't able to clutch onto anything.

No, he was exposed and vulnerable to anything Jungkook would give him.

“Ah, ah” Jimin mewled at the way Jungkook sucked on his hole, tongue poking in for a brief moment just to be gone right after. The younger male seemed to enjoy eating Jimin out, loved watching him fall slowly and endeared – as well as turned on – by the sounds he made.

It didn't take long for Jimin's whimpers to grow in pitch and frequency, the poor boy trying to muffle the sounds by biting down on his bottom lip. However, Jungkook made a sound of disapproval, tapping against his thigh firmly, “Let me hear you”

Whining, Jimin nodded, parting his lips again as he started panting, attempting to keep still and hold himself up as Jungkook proceeded to eat him out.

The black haired boy felt his own spit trail down his chin, not caring one bit as he lapped over Jimin's hole, savouring each second of it. As he pushed his tongue inside Jimin's hole, said boy cried out and bent forward, not capable of bearing the abuse on his hole in an upright position any longer.

“Up” Jungkook ordered, tapping his thigh again, “Sit up, kitten”

Whining once more, Jimin obeyed, straightening his back as he felt his thighs starting to tremble. Although Jungkook was the one doing all the work – and probably suffering from cramps in his neck due to the postion he was in – Jimin's thighs started to ache as he was holding himself up. The pink haired boy was frightened of hurting Jungkook, if he actually sat down on his face.

Jungkook noticed the shaking of his thighs, hands trailing down to the soft skin and giving him a little squeeze, “Sit on my face, little one” The taller boy insisted, voice a littler huskier.

Swallowing hard, Jimin shook his head, “W-What if I hurt you?”

“You won't hurt me, baby.”

With that, he pushed Jimin down on his face, the shy boy gasping at the fact Jungkook's tongue was right back on his rim, licking over the sensitive skin very slowly. As predicted, Jimin's thighs didn't actually stop trembling. It hadn't solely been the fact of his thighs starting to ache, but rather the whole stimulation he was receiving causing his body to react that way.

“J-Jungkook-ah, feels soooo gooood” Jimin whimpered high-pitched, forcing himself to be still and not move according to the urge inside of his body that wanted him to buck his hips back and forth.

The younger male hummed against his hole in satisfaction, the vibrations adding to the stimulation Jimin was already experiencing.
It wasn't until Jimin glanced down at his erection that he noticed the way he was already leaking out pre-cum. The white substance glistened on his tip, trailing down and staining Jungkook's shirt.

“K-Kook-ah, your shirt” Jimin noted, whining as he lifted himself up in order for Jungkook to say something.

The black haired boy caught his breath, giving Jimin's thigh a little squeeze before he pressed a tender kiss against one of his buttcheeks.

“What is wrong?”

“I-I'm ruining your shirt” Jimin elaborated, cheeks heating up as he caught the white stain on Jungkook's black button shirt, embarrassed and feeling guilty for having ruined it.

“Is my baby being messy again, hm? I know you're a messy boy, kitten” Jungkook cooed. Suddenly, he just ripped his own shirt open, buttons coming undone. The action startled Jimin, causing him to jump up as he gasped.

“K-Kook-ah, your-”

“It's just a shirt. You can be messy all you want on me, hm?”

“T-Thank you” Jimin whispered, swallowing hard before Jungkook pushed him back down on his face, tongue right back to where Jimin needed him the most.

Although the sensation on his hole felt amazing, it just wasn't enough. The way Jungkook was lapping at his hole so slowly, long stripes licked over his sensitive rim almost in a torturous way, just simply wasn't enough. It left Jimin desperate, body shaking all over as he proceeded to leak more pre-cum on Jungkook's chest.

“J-Jungkook-ah” Jimin whined, trying his hardest to prevent himself from moving, hands clenching and unclenching as he dipped his head down, breathing rapidly.

“Ride my face” Jungkook ordered against his hole, Jimin at first not capable of making out what he said, but realising as soon as the younger male grabbed his hips and guided them back and forth, causing them to roll in the desired motion.

Blushing deeply, Jimin obeyed, moving his hips back and forth very carefully, Jungkook's tongue rubbing over his hole in the process. It was odd and very unfamiliar at first, but Jimin found himself pick up a pace, hips moving a little quicker.

Jimin got lost in the feeling, head starting to get dizzy as he glanced at the puddle of pre-cum on Jungkook's chest, the pink haired boy's penis sliding back and forth, receiving the slightest bit of friction.

“Jungkook-ah!” The smaller one cried out, needing more, longing for more.

Panting, Jimin squeezed his eyes shut, his movement growing more frantic as he chased for his own orgasm. For some reason, Jimin felt really obscene, felt dirty for using Jungkook's tongue like this.

However, Jungkook was enjoying the way Jimin was falling apart, loved the way his moans became more high-pitched, thighs shaking vigorously as he proceeded to ride his face, little dick leaking all over his chest.

The slow and long stimulation was going to result in a very intense orgasm, Jungkook's dick twitching at the thought of Jimin finding his release at the end of the night - all teary eyed, a babbling mess that couldn't form a coherent sentence, begging Jungkook to stop.

“Fuck” Jungkook cursed.

“K-Kook-ah, m-more, please” Jimin whined, tears pricking in the corner of his eyes at the desperation that was blooming inside of him.

Everything was starting to ache, nothing felt like it was enough to bring him over the edge. He wanted – no, he needed Jungkook inside of him.

“P-Please”

Unsuccessfully, the whimpering boy attempted to touch his own penis, yet restricted by his hands being tied to his back – a fact he had momentarily forgotten. Simultaneously, Jungkook applied more pressure against his hole, pushing his tongue deeper between the muscle, earning another high-pitched whine from Jimin.

The heat in the pit of his stomach grew, but so did the aching of his thighs, causing him to roll his hips erratically, “K-Kook-ah, c-can't, please”

Humming lowly, Jungkook grabbed his waist, guiding him to proceed riding his face. In response, Jimin sobbed, a tear rolling down his face.

“P-Please, touch me more” Jimin begged as he dipped his head down, the tear dropping onto Jungkook’s chest.

The black haired boy firmly tapped his hand against Jimin's thigh, a silent demand for him to continue. Whining, the latter obeyed, broken sobs leaving his parted lips because the stimulation just wasn't enough. This sensation was driving him insane, but never close to the edge.

Jimin's penis was leaking all over Jungkook's chest, making a mess. The tip was already so red, matching the shade of red on his cheeks as he was flushed due to the heat and arousal.

The smaller one's noises grew louder and needier, filling the room next to the slurping sound of Jungkook eating him out. These noises went straight south to Jungkook's dick, causing it to twitch in arousal. At this point, he was so turned on, his hard bulge visible through his trousers.

“I-I can't, Kook-ah” Jimin sobbed, shaking his head as he balled his hands into petite fists, delicate features scrunched up in pleasure and desperation, “N-Not enough, plea-please, Jungkook-ah, I need you inside of me. Need more”

Finally having mercy, the younger male pushed Jimin forward, catching his breath after having eaten him out for so long. Surely, his neck was aching, but he didn't care in the slightest, all of this having been so damn worth it.

“Did so well, little one, such a good boy” Jungkook praised, wiping the back of his hand over his face in order to remove any left over spit.

“T-Thank you” Jimin sniffed, “Y-You made me feel so good, K-Kook-ah, thank you”

Humming, Jungkook pushed Jimin further down his body in order to tug off his ripped shirt. In a swift motion, he tossed it to the side before he lifted Jimin off of himself and sat him down beside him. The puddle of pre-cum trailed down his chest, gaining his attention.
As he glanced at Jimin, he wanted to coo at the poor boy. The pink haired one's eyes were glassy and watery, cheeks flushed, parted lips red due to the kissing and biting, leaving the most beautiful little pants and whimpers. There was desire and desperation glistening in his pretty brown orbs, pushing Jungkook's ego as he had caused Jimin to be in this state, as Jimin needed him so badly.

Smirking, Jungkook ran his hand over the pre-cum on his chest, catching it on his fingers. Slowly, he lifted his fingers up to Jimin's mouth, never breaking eye contact. The smaller boy swallowed hard, opening his mouth without Jungkook having to order him to do exactly that. At this point, Jimin already knew what Jungkook wanted whenever his fingers came up to his mouth, his body almost acting on it's own, subconsciously.

“Good boy” The black haired boy praised, satisfied by the way Jimin wrapped his lips around his fingers and licked them clean, swallowing his own cum. It was fascinating how Jimin had no clue, no clue about what kind of effect he had on Jungkook. The sight of Jimin sucking on his fingers went straight to his dick, his hard length jerking in interest.

Carefully, Jungkook pushed his fingers deeper into Jimin's mouth, pressing down on his tongue. In response, Jimin's gag reflex kicked in, the shorter male spluttering around Jungkook's fingers. However, he didn't pull off, but remained in his position because he wanted to be good.

Humming, the younger boy started to fiddle with his belt, zipping down his pants with the hand that wasn't occupied by having two fingers pressed between Jimin's lips. Swiftly, he tugged his pants down and kicked them down the bed, gaze still fixated on Jimin who was swirling his tongue around Jungkook's fingers, simply staring at him with big, innocent eyes as he kneeled there next to him.

Without a word, the black haired one pulled his fingers out, a strand of spit connecting his fingers to Jimin's mouth. The latter gulped, observing Jungkook's every move. Suddenly, his hand wandered behind Jimin, right between his buttcheeks. It took the smaller boy a moment to figure out what was going on, yet when he did, Jungkook was already pushing a wet finger inside of his hole.

“Aah” Jimin gasped, eyes fluttering shut as his muscle opened up around the finger, sucking it in. The taller boy poked it in only lightly, twirling it around the rim before he pulled away.

“On my lap” He ordered softly, sitting down against the headboard himself.

Blinking, Jimin gulped as he attempted to crawl over to Jungkook, but struggling again. Fortunately, the latter grasped his waist and pulled him onto his lap. Now straddling him, Jimin looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, waiting for further instructions.

“Colour?” Jungkook whispered, pressing a soft kiss against his forehead before he rummaged through the top drawer of his nightstand, picking out a bottle of lube briefly after, “Hm, little one?”

“G-Green” Jimin answered, “B-But please, I-I need-”

“Sssh, I'm right here, kitten” The younger boy promised, opening the bottle and squirting some lube over two of his fingers, “I have to prep you first, don't I?”

Whining, Jimin gave a faint nod, not exactly fond of the idea of having to wait even longer now until Jungkook was finally inside of him.

Grabbing one of Jimin's buttcheeks, Jungkook pulled it to the side, exposing Jimin's tight hole. Gently, he pushed his fingers against the rim, still wet with his spit, and twirled them around.

Slowly, the black haired boy obliged, pressing two of his fingers inside of Jimin's hole with ease. They slipped inside without any restriction, Jimin's jaw dropping in a silent scream as his eyes fluttered shut.

Thank you, Jimin thought. It felt so good to be filled. Jimin couldn't wait to be full with Jungkook's penis settled inside of him, touching all of the right places, dragging along his sensitive walls and brushing over that special bud of nerves inside of him.

Whimpering, the pink haired one leaned his head down, hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's face as the latter proceeded to stretch him open, purposely avoiding his prostate. Jimin's mouth was agape, leaving those pretty sounds that were muffled against Jungkook's skin.

“Lift you head up, baby, wanna see your face” Jungkook insisted, tapping his other hand against Jimin's thigh.

Complying, said boy straightened his back, eyes locking with Jungkook who hummed in satisfaction, intentionally rubbing his fingers over Jimin's prostate as a reward. Crying out, Jimin's eyes fluttered shut, another drop of pre-cum leaking out of his tip at the touch against his prostate. However, Jungkook swiftly moved his fingers away from that sensitive nub as he proceeded to scissor them open in order to stretch Jimin.

“A-Another” Jimin whispered, forcing his eyes back open as he attempted to be still and not move back against Jungkook's fingers, “Please”

Titling his head to the side, Jungkook pulled his fingers out very slowly, allowing them to slide against Jimin's sensitive walls in the process. In response, Jimin moaned high-pitched, tears already pricking in the corner of his eyes again.

Quickly, Jungkook squirted more lube over a third finger before he brought them back against Jimin's rim, pushing them inside very gently. A loud squelch filled the room upon his motion, Jungkook's dick twitching at the noise.

“You're being such a good boy, aren't you?” Jungkook murmured against his ear, hot breath sending a shiver down Jimin's back.

“T-Thank you” Jimin uttered high-pitched, balling his hands into little fists when Jungkook pushed his fingers in and out of his hole, brushing over his prostate only very slightly – as if he wanted to tease him, give him a taste of what was to come.

“You've been so good for me, kitten, I'm gonna make you come so hard as a reward” Jungkook promised, tone low as he murmured those words against Jimin's skin, peppering his neck with open-mouthed kisses as he kneaded one of his buttcheeks with his hand, proceeding to stretch him open.

In response to the promise, Jimin's penis twitched, another drop of pre-cum leaking out. Jungkook was right. Jimin really was a messy boy all the time. Blushing, the pink haired boy leaned down in order to hide his face in embarrassment.

The taller male clicked his tongue, shaking his head, “What did I tell you, kitten?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin lifted his head, cheeks heating up even more in shame because he wasn't even able to follow such a simple order, “I'm sorry”

Jungkook gave his butt a warning tap, Jimin flinching at the touch, but penis jerking all the same. Apparently, he was quickly forgiven as Jungkook pushed his fingers deeper inside of Jimin, picking up a faster, relentless pace as he continued to stretch him open. Soon enough, Jimin's prostate wasn't avoided any longer. No, instead, the complete opposite happened. Jungkook gave it extra, special attention, attention that drove Jimin insane.

“K-Kook-ah!” Jimin cried out at the first hit against his prostate, Jungkook smirking at his response.

“Sssh, little one” Jungkook uttered, rubbing over his sensitive nub very firmly, causing more pre-cum to leak out of Jimin's penis. It was an utter contrast to the stimulation on his hole earlier. Whereas being eaten out was a rather long process, the heat in Jimin's stomach growing gradually, yet very slowly and the edge always appearing to be very far away, the sensation he was currently experiencing was bringing him to the edge fast. It was starting to get too much, oppose to being not enough earlier.

Opening his mouth in a silent scream, Jimin hunched forward, hiding his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck as the latter proceeded the abuse on his prostate. Frankly, the pink haired boy wasn't certain on what to do. One part of him wanted to move against the touch whereas another part wanted to get away from it. It was very confusing.

It didn't help that Jimin couldn't think straight at all, his senses invaded by Jungkook. All he could think about was the beautiful black haired boy he was sitting on right now.

“Jungkook-ah!” Jimin screamed, squirming around on his lap in an attempt to move away, “S-Slower, please!”

Suddenly, Jungkook ran his hand through Jimin's hair, grabbing it gently before he pulled the latter back by his hair. Gasping, Jimin was forced to straighten his back, whining high in his throat at the way he was being manhandled.

“What did I tell you, little one? I was just praising you for being such a good boy and here you go and disobey me several times. Do I have to punish you?”

Whimpering, Jimin shook his head, tears prickling in the corner of his eyes. The taller boy was still rubbing over his prostate, causing Jimin to catch his bottom lip between his teeth in order to be quiet. However, fortunately, Jungkook's pace had slowed down, fingers moving almost lazily, yet still firmly, over the sensitive nub.

“I asked you a question” Jungkook muttered, spanking Jimin's butt.

Mewling, Jimin shook his head again, “N-No, I'll be g-good. I promise, I'll be a good b-boy for you” The smaller boy stuttered.

“Colour?”

Swallowing hard, Jimin needed a moment for that one. It was frustrating. All of this was frustrating and... and difficult. Jungkook was being mean. Yet, Jimin loved it. Jimin loved it so much. To be honest, he couldn't explain why, but he knew that he did, knew it by the way his penis twitched, by the way his heart fluttered, by the way the heat grew in the pit of his stomach, by the way a shiver ran down his back.

Jimin loved all of this so much.

“G-Green”

Jungkook's hand was still grabbing Jimin's hair, holding his head back in a rather uncomfortable position. Humming, the younger male quickened his pace again, dabbing his fingers against Jimin's prostate, stroking over the sensitive bud firmly.
“Oh my god, aaaah!” The pink haired boy screamed out, squeezing his eyes shut as he was about to bend forward, yet keeping still because he wanted to behave, “Jungkook-ah!”

The taller boy cursed, studying Jimin's delicate features, dick jerking at the way they were scrunched up in pleasure, tears rolling down his beautiful face.

“Open your pretty eyes, baby”

Obeying, Jimin forced his eyes open, sniffing as felt himself move closer to the edge, feeling the orgasm approach him. It wouldn't take long for him to come, but he knew – he just knew that Jungkook wouldn't let him.

“I-I'm close, please!” Jimin warned, sobbing when Jungkook shook his head.

“How was Jimin supposed to prevent himself from coming with the way Jungkook was abusing his prostate? His poor penis hadn't stopped leaking and twitching. There was no way Jimin was capable of not coming.

“P-Please, Jungkook-ah! Wanna-wanna come with you inside of me. I-I can't hold back, please, K-Kook-ah!”

Suddenly, Jungkook's fingers were gone, Jimin sobbing as he hunched forward, the younger male allowing him to collapse against him and rest his head on his shoulder. Gently, he ran his hand through Jimin's hair, scratching over his scalp very softly as he pressed a kiss against his temple.

“Are you okay? Can you tell me your colour again, angel?”

Catching his breath, Jimin forced his eyes back open that had fallen shut as soon as he had hid his face in Jungkook's neck, “G-Green” The poor boy sniffed, feeling like he was going to explode as he came down from the high, the edge moving further away again.

“Do you want me to make you come quickly or can you still go a little longer?” Jungkook wanted to know, tone so soft as he caressed Jimin's skin with his clean hand, fingertips trailing over his body very gently as he waited for Jimin to answer.

“I... I don't know. I want you inside of me” Jimin finally responded, having taken some time to form a coherent sentence, “I can go longer if you want to”

Smiling, Jungkook wiped away his tears before he pressed a kiss to his nose, “My good boy, aren't you?”

Cheeks turning a shade of pink, Jimin smiled as he gave a light nod, Jungkook lifting him up and spinning him around. Just as he was about to ask what they were doing, Jungkook pulled off his own briefs before he manhandled Jimin back on top of him. This time, Jimin was facing away, basically lying on top of Jungkook who leaned back down as well.

The position confused Jimin, causing him to pull his brows together. It was rather uncomfortable with the way his hands were tied to his back, but he didn't voice that and waited for Jungkook to continue.
Jimin's confusion was notable by the way he was squirming around, Jungkook spreading his legs and bending his own knees, Jimin lying inbetween them, feeling Jungkook's hard length beneath him.

“Lift your hips up for me, kitten” Jungkook ordered after he had rummaged around in the drawer of his nightstand.

Without any hesitation, Jimin balanced himself back on his hands, leaning on Jungkook's stomach as he lifted his hips up. Humming, Jungkook wrapped his hand around his own erection, pumping it for a bit in order to spread the lube around that he had prior squirted onto his hand.

Then, he pushed the head against Jimin's rim, earning a gasp from the latter who was already starting to shake. Slowly, he pressed the tip of his dick inside, causing Jimin to whimper high-pitched, his muscle opening up around Jungkook's big length and allowing it to slide inside with little resistance.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin whimpered, sinking himself down on Jungkook's hard length, too impatient to take his time to adjust to the big size.

“Fuck, baby, just like that” The black haired boy cursed, gripping the back of Jimin's thighs and lifting his legs up into the air.

Yelping at the action, Jimin attempted to stabilise himself by clutching onto something with his hands, yet realising fairly quickly that it wasn't exactly possible. Instead, he moaned loudly when Jungkook was fully settled inside of him, his penis reaching so deep that it was already brushing against his prostate.

“O-Oh god, K-Kook-ah” The pink haired male cried out, Jungkook pulling his legs back and essentially bending Jimin in half as he thrusted up into him.

“Shit” Jungkook growled into his ear, repeating the motion and snapping his hips back up again. Swiftly, he picked up a pace, ramming inside of Jimin deeply, hitting his prostate dead on every single time, evoking these beautiful breathy noises from the latter.

Jimin's eyes rolled back into his head, his body rocking with the movement of Jungkook's relentless thrusts. The taller boy was panting and growling right in Jimin's ear, hot breath tickling on his skin. Mixed within the noises both of them made was the sound of skin slapping against skin echoing in the room.

Swiftly, the shorter boy remembered that he had wanted to be quieter, biting down on his bottom lip in an attempt to muffle his sounds. However, as if Jungkook liked testing and teasing him, he thrusted up into the poor boy particularly harsh. Crying out, Jimin's mouth fell open in a silent scream, penis jerking at each thrust, but neglected other than that.

“You're doing so good, kitten, such a good boy” Jungkook praised, applying more pressure in his grasp on Jimin's thighs, gripping him even tighter. To be honest, Jimin was very certain that this action would leave bruises on his body, but he didn't mind that at all, couldn't be bothered with the way Jungkook was currently stimulating his prostate.

The overwhelming feeling grew bigger in the pit of his stomach, announcing that his orgasm was close. The pink haired boy found himself praying that Jungkook would actually allow him to come and not delay it any longer.

Suddenly, Jungkook pulled one of his hands away from Jimin's thighs, causing it to collapse back down on the bed because Jimin simply wasn't strong enough to hold it up on his own, way too exhausted already.

“K-Kook-ah, please” Jimin whined, vision blurry due to the tears that were swelled up in his eyes.

“Baby, you won't come until I give you permission, understood?” Jungkook ordered, picking something up from the bed that Jimin wasn't able to make out, “You want to behave, don't you? Want to be my good boy?”

Nodding quickly, Jimin sobbed, rolling his hips down against Jungkook's as the latter had stilled his movement. However, the action earned him a slap to his thigh, causing him to whimper.

“Stay still”

“I-I'm sorry” Jimin sniffed apologetically.

“I tell you when to move”

Jimin gave another nod, frustrated with himself for disobeying, yet also by the whole situation because he truly didn't know how much more he could take. The pink haired boy needed to come so desperately. Oh, please, let him come.

“Use your words, angel”

Gulping, Jimin blinked as he tried to organise his thoughts, “I-I want to be good. I won't misbehave. I-I'm sorry”

“I know, kitten” Jungkook whispered, slowly bucking his hips back up into Jimin. Another gasp slipped from Jimin's parted lips, quickly turning into high-pitched whines as soon as his prostate was touched.

However, suddenly, Jungkook pressed something against the tip of his penis. The smaller boy was about to glance down when there was a buzzing noise, vibrations felt at the tip of his erection.

“O-Oh, god! Jungkook-aaah!” Jimin cried out, eyes rolling back as his whole body twitched at the sudden stimulation on his penis that had been neglected the whole night.

Smirking against his skin, Jungkook pushed the vibrator harder against Jimin's erection, rubbing the toy up and down in a torturous slow pace, causing Jimin to sob at the sensation.

“N-No!” Jimin whined, shaking his head as tears rolled down his flushed cheeks, “Too much!”

“Sssh, kitten” The younger male cooed, repeatedly thrusting up into Jimin as he proceeded to play with his little dick, running the toy up and down, paying extra attention to the tip as several drops of pre-cum leaked out.

Fuck, it felt like he was milking Jimin dry, the poor boy leaking so much pre-cum this night. Jungkook couldn't wait to see him come after all of this, Jimin already a crying and babbling mess. The intense orgasm was going to make him cry even more, causing him to make a big mess all over himself.

“J-Jungkook-ah!” Jimin sobbed, squirming around on top of the black haired boy, thighs shaking all over. Unsuccessfully, he attempted to pull Jungkook's hand away from his penis, yet his movement was very restricted, hands still tied to his back.

All he could do was lie there and take it, the vulnerable boy moaning and crying loudly at the intense stimulation.

“You’re doing so good, baby, such a good boy. Look at you taking my dick in your little hole like a good boy” Jungkook praised, increasing the setting on the vibrator.

In response, Jimin screamed out, wriggling against his touch. The smaller boy was too far gone, not able to differentiate between what he wanted and what not. Frankly, he wasn’t sure whether or not he wanted more of this or if he needed this to stop.

“K-Kook-ah, I-You, n-no, please” Jimin whined loudly, not exactly knowing what he was saying, babbling incoherent sentences.

“Use your safeword if you want this to stop” Jungkook reminded him, voice a little softer.

Taking a shaky breath, Jimin squeezed his eyes shut, shaking his head. More tears streamed down his face when Jungkook pressed the vibrator against the tip of his penis, pushing it against the slit firmly.

“I-I can’t!” Jimin warned, sobbing, “P-Please, may I come? Please, K-Kook-ah”

The black haired boy didn't answer, simply proceeded to slap his hips up against Jimin, increasing the stimulation against his prostate.

Suddenly, his orgasm hit him, the intense feeling washing over him as sperm spurted out of his penis up his chest, making a big mess.

“J-Jungkook-ah!” Jimin cried out, body trembling and legs kicking as the overwhelming sensation ran through his whole body, making him feel dizzy. A mantra of Jungkook’s name slipped from his parted lips, eyes rolled back into his head as he clenched his hands into fists.

For a moment, everything was black, more tears streaming down Jimin's face as Jungkook was fucking him through his orgasm, increasing the intense feeling.

“K-Kook-ah, please, sto-op!” The poor boy sobbed, the vibrator still pressed against his penis.

Yet, Jungkook didn't listen, proceeding to stimulate Jimin.

“S-Stop!” Jimin begged, sniffing, “K-Kook-ah, pleaaaase!”

Having mercy, Jungkook turned the vibrator off and tossed it to the side, gently pushing Jimin off of him. Due to the latter feeling sleepy and exhausted, he collapsed on the bed, face pressed into a pillow.

“Little one” Jungkook whispered, gripping said boy's hips and pulling them up. With his butt up in the air and face pressed into a pillow, Jungkook closed the distance between them, rubbing his hard length against Jimin's ass.

Without a warning, he slammed back into Jimin, causing the latter to yelp and slide up the bed at the force of the thrust.

Whining, Jimin sobbed into the bed, wanting Jungkook to come inside of him, yet not sure whether he could take any more after such an intense orgasm. However, he didn't need to deliberate over it for too long, Jungkook pulling out a couple of moments later and jerking himself off.

“Fuck, kitten” Jungkook cursed, releasing all over Jimin’s back and hands, making him even messier.
Letting out a content sigh, Jimin finally collapsed to the bed, feeling sore, but also very relaxed. The pink haired boy was floating again, eyes falling shut immediately due to him being so sleepy.

Both of the boys were breathing heavily as they drifted in a haze of pure bliss, orgasms still blooming inside of them. Jungkook never had trouble with finding his composure after an orgasm, causing him to get up from the bed without any resistance from his body or mental state.

“I'll be right back, little one” The taller boy whispered against his ear, pressing a gentle kiss to his temple as he untied Jimin's wrists.

The shorter male's body felt slack, arms simply dropping to his sides in a limp way as he watched Jungkook disappear into the bathroom.

A couple of moments later, the sound of water running was audible, Jimin forcing his eyes to stay open as he observed Jungkook return to the bedroom. Swiftly, he approached the older one and picked him up with ease.

“I ran us a bath” Jungkook uttered, carefully carrying Jimin over into the bathroom, the latter clinging on Jungkook and hiding his face in the crook of his neck. It's been very long since Jimin has actually taken a bath, the boy usually sticking to taking a shower.

The gesture was kind of sweet, causing Jimin's heart to flutter as he was set down into the warm water, bubbles all around him. A smell that reminded him of Jungkook filled his nostrils as he blinked up at the black haired boy, waiting for him to join him. Smiling, Jungkook stepped into the bath as well, sitting down behind him and moving Jimin between his legs.

“Come here, angel” Jungkook murmured as he pulled Jimin to his chest.

This was the first time they were taking a bath together, Jimin noted, actually the first time he has ever taken a bath with someone else. For some odd reason, his heart fluttered at the way Jungkook was holding him close, the smaller boy feeling so comforted and safe in the warm embrace.

Slowly, Jungkook was caressing his stomach, washing away all the dirt before he traced his fingertips over Jimin's sides, then up and down over his arms in a gentle way.

“Was that okay, Jimin-ah? Was I too rough?” Jungkook wanted to know, resting his head on top of Jimin's shoulder.

The shorter male nuzzled his cheeks against Jungkook's, “It was more than okay, Kook-ah. I... I felt really good. I liked it a lot, I promise.”

“Yeah? Came so hard for me, didn't you?” The younger boy whispered, smirking at the way Jimin swallowed hard.

“Y-Yes” He breathed and gave a nod, cheeks turning a shade of pink.

“I'm forgiven then?” Jungkook murmured against his ear, causing Jimin to giggle.

“I was never actually mad at you for that, Jungkook-ah, but yes, you're more than forgiven” Jimin confirmed and nodded lightly, Jungkook peppering his shoulder and nape with soft kisses.

Smiling shyly, Jimin's eyes fluttered shut, leaning back against the touch.

“Little one?”
“Mhm” The pink haired male hummed, feeling himself become sleepier with each passing moment, drifting away into a haze of complete comfort by the way Jungkook was caressing him.

“I found the list. You mentioned it to me, remember? We can have a look at it later and decide what to do with it, hm?” Jungkook suggested, words whispered into Jimin's ear.

The smaller boy nodded, eyes still shut.

“Yes, Kook-ah” Jimin responded, not even capable of blushing in timidity because he was so sleepy.

Chuckling, Jungkook pulled him impossibly closer, allowing Jimin to fall asleep on top of him, both of their hearts beating the same beat.

Chapter End Notes

The next weeks are going to be very busy so I'll see when I'll have time to write and to update. I might just write shorter chapters in order to post more frequently :) I'll try to be as quick as possible <3

Have a nice day, see you in the next chapter <3

Love you <3
Chapter Summary

Jimin and Jungkook talk about the list, the conversation leaving Jimin needy... Later, a secret message unsettles Jimin.

Chapter Notes

First of all, I'm so, so, so, so, so terribly sorry that it took me two weeks to update. I hope you can forgive me <3

Secondly, thank you so much for all the love on the last chapter and for this story overall. <3 We hit over 2800 kudos and 60k hits and that's so much more than I had ever wished for. Really, from the bottom of my heart, thank you so much <3

I hope I can update the next chapter more quickly <3

Enjoy this chapter <3

“Fucking hell...” Someone uttered under their breath, Jimin squeezing his eyes further shut as he awoke to the noise of someone cursing. To be fair, it didn't take long for Jimin to recognise the voice as Jungkook's – the events of the night quickly recalling in his mind.

Jimin was tucked into Jungkook's bed, hidden beneath the blanket, face pressed against the soft pillow as his eyes fluttered open. It was dark inside of the room, the night still lying over them.

The black haired boy was sitting against the headboard next to Jimin, laptop resting on his lap as he typed away. The laptop was the only source of light in the room, illuminating Jungkook's face faintly.

Jungkook was notably annoyed by something, frown visible on his face as he shook his head. The smaller boy blinked, observing Jungkook's irritated expression.

"K-Kook-ah?" Jimin murmured, voice just above a whisper.

The sudden voice startled the younger male, Jungkook arching up his eyebrows as he fixated his gaze down on Jimin.

"Hey, you're up already, baby. I'm sorry, did I wake you?" Jungkook wondered, voice soft as he reached out to brush Jimin's hair out of his face, the touch tenderly as he trailed his hand down against Jimin's cheek.

"Why aren't you sleeping?" The pink haired boy asked instead, curiosity in his eyes as he sat up, "You should sleep, Kook-ah"
Fondly, Jungkook smiled, rubbing his thumb over Jimin's cheekbone, “I did sleep for a bit, but I had to check my e-mails and get some stuff done that I wasn't able to finish earlier” He responded, eyes glistening with affection as he observed Jimin's eyes falling shut every now and then, the adorable boy nuzzling his face against Jungkook's hand.

“What time is it?”

“Four in the morning”

Jimin only nodded, pressing his cheek back against the pillow beneath him as soon as Jungkook's hand was gone, the part on his skin suddenly feeling so much colder without the touch by the younger one.

“Are you feeling okay, angel? Do you need anything?” Jungkook then wanted to know, slightly shutting his laptop as he cocked his head to the side.

“Mhm, no, I'm feeling very good” Jimin answered, voice still sounding sleepy, “Except, well, I need you to cuddle me. Feels cold without you, Kook-ah” He added, pouting as he glanced up at Jungkook, the cute request evoking a chuckle from Jungkook.

“I need to finish this. I won't take too long. Then I'll give you all the cuddles in the world, hm, sounds good?” The black haired boy offered, leaning in to press a kiss against Jimin's forehead.

However, the latter whined, shaking his head, “Now, Kook-ah, wanna cuddle you now”

“Go back to sleep, little one” Jungkook insisted with a smile, “Once I finish this, I'll snuggle you, okay, angel?”

Crossing his arms over his chest, Jimin rolled over onto his back, “Then I'll wait until you're finished. I feel bad sleeping when you're wide awake next to me working”

“Jimin-ah” The taller boy emphasised his name, tone a little lower.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin challenged, eyes narrowing as his gaze wandered back up to Jungkook's face.

Sighing, Jungkook smiled and shook his head, opening his laptop again in order to finish whatever he needed to get done, “You're something else”

“So are you” Jimin murmured, smile dancing around his face as Jungkook glanced at him again, affection glistening in his eyes.

Silence settled between them, no noise in the room apart from the sound of Jungkook's keyboard whenever he was typing. The pink haired boy simply laid there next to Jungkook, sleepy eyes falling shut every now and then, yet he forced them back open each time in order to stay awake.

While sitting there, Jimin proceeded to recall the events from last night, heat in the pit of his stomach stirring at the memory of all the things Jungkook did to him. Swallowing hard, Jimin felt his cheeks heat up, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he dipped his head down. Fortunately, Jungkook was focused on his laptop screen, not noticing Jimin's reaction.

Suddenly, Jimin remembered the black haired boy mentioning the list to him earlier in the bathtub.

In the bathtub.

Oh. In his sleepy state, Jimin had completely overlooked the fact that he had awoken in Jungkook's bed, when he was very aware of having fallen asleep in Jungkook's arms while taking a bath.

Jungkook must have carried him here, must have dressed him in a pair of briefs.

“Mhm?” The younger male hummed, Jimin rubbing his delicate first over his tired eyes as he fixated his gaze on Jungkook.

“How did I... You had to dry my body, dressed me and then- and then you carried me over here? I'm sorry for causing such an inconvenience, I was just so tired that-”

“Angel, stop” Jungkook interrupted him, chuckling at how his adorable Jimin was frantically apologising, “I didn't want to wake you up. If it had in fact been inconvenient, I could have just woken you up, but it wasn't. No need to apologise. I simply picked you up, dried our bodies and tucked you into bed”

Smiling faintly, Jimin nodded, whispering a small “Thank you.”

“There is no need to thank me for that either, little one” Jungkook assured, stroking his thumb over Jimin's cheekbone.

As Jimin stared into Jungkook's beautiful brown orbs, the list popped up inside of his head again. For a moment, Jimin wasn't sure, if he should bring it up again, but Jungkook had suggested to talk about it later, hadn't he?

“Uhm, K-Kook-ah, before I... before I fell asleep, you- you mentioned the list again, remember?” Jimin murmured, cheeks turning a shade of pink. The sight amused Jungkook as much as it endeared him, affectionate smile playing around his lips as he cocked his head to the side.

“I do remember. Do you want to talk about it now?” The black haired boy wanted to know, eyebrow arched up.

“I... Uhm, I don't know. I just thought about it and then I remembered that you suggested that we talk about it, so I... so...”

“Don't be nervous, Jimin-ah” Jungkook comforted, voice soft as he shut his laptop and set it down on the nightstand next to him, “You know that you can trust me. Always. No need to be nervous”

Jimin swallowed hard and gave a nod, yet incapable of hiding his timidity.

“I created the list to give you an idea of stuff that exists and that I'm experienced with in order for you to learn about them and see what you like. Now that we're in a different part of our lives, I forgot about the list- or rather believed that we didn't need it any longer because that part of us has ended. But the more I thought about it, the more I believe that it's still a good idea to keep the list in mind and perhaps use it to see what else you would like to try, hm?”

The smaller boy tilted his head to the side, contemplating, “W-Well, I think that there is still a lot of things out there that I don't know. I mean... I mean, the list was- or is full of things that I barely heard about. I remember that there were many things on it that I had no clue about” Jimin agreed, giving a faint nod.

Jungkook turned his body towards Jimin, stare attentive as he smiled warmly, “Should we have a look at it? You could tell me what you would like to try and we will figure out how to realise them and... figure out when we have time to do them?” The taller boy offered, gripping Jimin's chin very gently in order to prevent the latter from averting his gaze.

“O-Okay, that sounds good”

Humming, the black haired boy dropped his hand and turned sideways in order to open one of the drawers of the nightstand, picking out a piece of paper, “I wrote all of them down. Obviously, there is stuff on it that we have tried before, but also many things we haven’t. Actually, there is stuff I have never even tried before myself so we could write them down on the list as well and experience them for the first time together, hm?”

Jimin gulped, yet oddly enough, his heart fluttered at the thought of doing something with Jungkook for the first time – something the latter has never even tried before either, “O-Okay”

“Do you want to have a look at it yourself or should I read it?” The younger male wondered, eyebrow arched up in curiosity.

Why was Jimin so nervous about this? At this point, it should be ridiculous to feel this timid about a topic like this. Surely, Jimin was rather shy by nature, but he trusted Jungkook a lot and they have done a lot of sexual things over the past months, were aware of what the other one liked and knew each other's bodies very well. It shouldn't be a reason for his heart to brutally pound, for his cheeks to flush the way they did.

“Or do you not want to talk about it at all right now? To be fair, it is pretty late- or rather very early in the morning. We can talk about it another time, I-”

“No” Jimin interrupted, shaking his head before he cleared his throat and placed his hands in his lap, “I’m just... nervous, I don't know why. There is no reason to, I know that, but I can't help that feeling. It won't be any different tomorrow. We can talk about it now. I'm awake now anyway” He added, averting his gaze, “You can... you can read it, if you want to”

Giving a nod, Jungkook glanced down at the piece of paper, “Okay, so blowjob is the first thing on the list. We've already tried that”

Jimin's blush deepened at the memory of giving Jungkook a blowjob – something he was experienced in now. In fact, the last time he had done it, he had finally been capable of deepthroating. However, Jungkook had quickly ended that – not that Jimin was complaining about it as the taller boy had pleased him after that, yet Jimin would like to try it again now that he had finally succeeded.

“Rimming, did that. Spanking, did that” Jungkook went on, Jimin's cheeks turning a darker shade of red with each word, yet he felt his penis twitch in excitement all the same.

“K-Kook-ah” The pink haired boy interrupted, clearing his throat. Jungkook glanced up at him, curiosity visible in his eyes as he stared at Jimin, “C-Can I read them? When you read each word out loud, I... I...”

Smiling sympathetically, Jungkook gave a nod, handing Jimin the piece of paper, “You don't need to be ashamed, but of course, here you go” He assured, noticing Jimin’s timidity. Obviously, it was adorable in a way, but Jungkook wanted Jimin to feel comfortable. There was no need to be embarrassed by this.

“Thank you” Jimin murmured, smiling shyly as he took the list into his hand.

“Jimin-ah” The taller boy uttered before Jimin proceeded to read the list himself, “I want to ask you something before you go on with the list. You have to be honest with me, okay? There is no need to be ashamed either”

Gulping, Jimin processed his words, somehow a little frightened by what the question was going to be. Clearly, Jimin trusted him and felt safe in his proximity, but he couldn't help the stirring in his stomach.

“O-Okay”

“How do you feel about pain as a whole?” Jungkook wanted to know, titling his head to the side.

“W-What do you mean?”

“I've spanked you before and you've seemed to enjoy that, haven't you?” Jungkook asked, Jimin shifting in his seat as he felt his penis twitch again at the memory of Jungkook spanking him.

To be honest, Jimin didn't know why he had enjoyed being spanked so much. The pain always sent jolts of pleasure through his body, yet Jimin wasn't certain whether it was the mere pain or whether it was a combination of the discipline and the pain?

“I do enjoy that” Jimin admitted, giving a faint nod, “I think I do like the pain... or maybe the fact of you disciplining me? I'm not entirely sure”

The taller boy hummed, gripping Jimin's chin very tenderly and guiding his face back up in order to make eyecontact with him, “I'm curious to find out how much you actually enjoy pain. When you read the list, there are going to be things on there that involve pain. If you want to try them out and test where your limits are, just let me know. But if they sound too scary, we can cross them off. Is that okay, angel?” Jungkook elaborated, caressing Jimin's cheek.

“O-Okay” The shorter male whispered, giving a nod as he looked back and forth between Jungkook's beautiful brown orbs that glistened with warmth and softness.

Then, his gaze wandered down to the list, heartbeat quickening upon reading the first few words.

Blowjob, rimming, spanking, edging,...

“Edging?” Jimin uttered, titling his head to the side, “We... we did that before, right?”

Jungkook hummed, “Yes, I've edged you before. That's when I'm stimulating you and bringing you closer to your orgasm – the edge – but then I stop and bring you back down, just to repeat the process. It's frustrating, I know, but the release in the end is very intense and worth it. Is that something you're okay with? Is it okay when I do that, little one? Do you like it? Or do you want us to cross it off?”

Jimin deliberated over that for a moment. Frankly, it was very frustrating to be edged, Jimin was very aware of that by now. However, the orgasms he was gifted with each time were very intense and so, so worth it.

“I... I like it” The smaller one answered, but caught his bottom lip between his teeth as a thought came up in his mind, “Can I ask you something?”

“Of course” Jungkook answered without an ounce of hesitation.

“I think that I enjoy certain stuff not only because of the pleasure I receive, but- For example, edging. I think I don't just like it because of the intense feeling at the end, but also because you... you do it to me? Because it's what you want to do to me and I like that?” Jimin tried to explain, attempting to find the right words to get his thought across, “I-I don't know how to explain it. I like it, when you do to me whatever you want to do to me because I know you always take care of me and make me feel good and I just like... I just like pleasing you? Uhm... I don't know, it's stupid, I—”

“No” Jungkook interrupted him, shaking his head as he placed his right hand on top of Jimin's knee, giving it a soothing squeeze, “It's not stupid at all. You like me taking control and dominating you, little one. I know that. I also know that you fall into a more submissive role by nature. We've briefly talked about that before, remember? You fall into a headspace where you give away all the control and let me take care of you. We've never fully discussed it, but maybe it's time. You like pleasing, you like being a good boy, don’t you?”

“You. I like pleasing you. I like being your good boy” Jimin whispered, cheeks turning a shade of pink. Pride and lust flashed in Jungkook's eyes, accompanying the affection in there as he wet his lips.

“You receive pleasure from being praised, from pleasing me and being good. I know that by now. You enjoy me taking care of you, you like it when I touch you and take control.”

All of that was so true. The smaller boy loved being praised by Jungkook, loved being told that he's good, loved when Jungkook took control.

Jimin nodded, “I like it because... because it pleases you, but also because I know you will make me feel good, as well. Whenever you praise me, I feel really, really good. Yesterday when—” The pink haired boy paused, suddenly feeling embarrassed again. The thought was absurd, maybe even a little... disgusting. Yet, was it really? Jimin wasn't sure, but he felt like it should feel wrong having this thought, liking that idea.

“When what?” Jungkook echoed, grabbing Jimin's chin a little tighter as the latter attempted to avert his gaze, “Don't be embarrassed, angel. You know you can trust me” The boy added, leaning in and pressing a soft kiss against Jimin's forehead.

“It's just... yesterday, when you... when I already came and you manhandled me on my stomach and then you... and then you proceeded to thrust into me and kind... kind of used me” Jimin elaborated, voice just above a whisper, “I liked that. I liked when you... when you used me?”

For a moment, Jungkook didn't say anything, eyes turning a darker shade as he wet his lips again, “Fuck, okay. I mean, I knew that you enjoyed me manhandling you and doing to you whatever I want to do, but I didn't know that you- But, little one, that is nothing you should be ashamed of or embarrassed by. Everyone has different kinks, hm?”

“It's not weird then?”

“No, shit, no, Jimin-ah. It's fucking hot, actually” The pink haired boy swallowed hard, heart pounding fast against his chest as he stared at Jungkook. He was very grateful that the latter hadn't been weirded out by him. No, in fact, he seemed to enjoy that thought just as much.

“I can be a little more dominant and rougher, if that's what you want, but we can talk about this more in detail another time. Go on with the list”

Clearing his throat, Jimin fixated his gaze back down on the list, noticing the way Jungkook was still staring intently at him.

Choking was the next word. They had never done that before and quite honestly, Jimin was very scared about that one. Wasn't that extremely dangerous? Obviously, he trusted Jungkook, but what if something went wrong and he lost his consciousness?

“Uhm... I'm not sure about the next one. Choking” Jimin murmured, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as a nervous habit of his. The movement caused Jungkook's eyes to rush down to his plump lips, yet he swiftly averted his attention back to Jimin's pretty brown orbs.

“Choking, yes. To be fair, I haven't done it that often. It's not one of my kinks, but when the sex is a little rougher and the other part asked me to do it, I would do it. It's a very dangerous kink if you'd ask me. You need to be very cautious with that one and make sure that you do it the right way.”

“I mean... I-I do like it when you're rougher, but... but this sounds really scary. I don't know, if I would like that” Jimin admitted.

“That's okay, little one. We don't have to try everything and you don't have to like everything, either. Do you want to cross it off? That's a hard limit of yours then and I won't ever do that to you” Jungkook reassured, brushing some strands of pink hair out of Jimin's face.

Perhaps Jimin could see himself do it one day? Honestly, he wasn't sure, but for some reason he didn't want to cross it off forever.

“M-Maybe a soft limit. Maybe we can talk about it someday again, when I feel ready” Jimin suggested, earning him a nod from Jungkook.

“Of course”

Smiling shyly, Jimin looked back down on the piece of paper in his hands, adjusting himself in his position. His back was starting to ache from the position he was in, causing him to turn his body and lean against the headboard. The taller boy remained in his position, body turned towards Jimin.

The smaller boy proceeded to read over the list, nibbling on his bottom lip as a familiar word came up.

Bondage.

“I-It says bondage, but then there are several words next to it. H-Handcuffs, rope and... and blindfolds” Jimin listed, feeling his penis twitch again, blush deepening, “gag balls and collars. A-All of that... all of that belongs to bondage? All of that is included?”

Jungkook smiled warmly as he shook his head, “Not necessarily. Of course, they can be used in the sense of bondage, but we don’t have to use all of them. I've usually tied your hands with a simple tie, but there are certain objects specifically made for tying one up, like rope or handcuffs. We've briefly talked about gag balls as well. Blindfolds, well, the less you are able to use all of your senses combined, the more the feeling of being touched is going to be increased. But I would suggest us – in case you even want to try any of this – to take smaller steps. I wouldn't tie you up completely and blindfold you the first time we would do this”

The shorter male gulped, taking a shaky breath, “So... so you would tie my whole body to the bed?”

Jungkook titled his head to the side, “If you want me to. There is different ways to do this. I could tie you to the bed, I could tie your arms to your legs, I could tie you to any object in this room, if you'd want me to.”

“Is that something you could see yourself doing? Or rather, could see yourself let me do to you? I know it’s a lot scarier and more extreme to what you’re used to, so I understand if that’s a limit of yours.”

For a moment, Jimin imagined himself being tied to the bed, not able to move an inch of his body, his legs forced open by some piece of rope spreading them apart. The black haired boy would thrust into him, the position allowing him to reach so very deeply, hitting that one special nub of nerves that drove Jimin insane. However, Jimin wouldn’t be able to make much noise, a gag ball restricting him to talk.

“Little one?” Jungkook interrupted his dirty thoughts, startling Jimin who felt like he had been caught doing something naughty, something he shouldn’t be doing. Immediately, his cheeks turned a darker shade of red, the heat in the pit of his stomach accompanied by embarrassment as he swallowed hard.

“I-I... Does the rope hurt?” Jimin whispered, not trusting his voice, fearing that it would turn high-pitched and give away that he was aroused.

“It might at first. There are different kinds of ropes, some that don’t cut into your skin too deeply. I could make sure to find the most comfortable one before we use any. Yet, we don’t have to use rope necessarily, I could simply use my collection of ties, if that would make you more comfortable”

The pink haired boy gave a nod.

“I guess that’s a yes then, baby? You want to try that? You want to use more bondage?” There was affection in Jungkook’s eyes, but the more they talked about this topic, the darker his eyes turned, lust very visible in them now.

“I... It’s frustrating to use, but also... yeah, I would like to try it. I would like for you to tie more of my body up one day... and... yeah” Jimin agreed, stumbling over his words as he tried to organise his thought, attempting to convey what he wanted to say.

However, it wasn’t that easy. Jimin didn’t really know why he liked the idea so much, just knew that he did. A lot.

“What about gag balls? Collars?”

Another gulp from Jimin, chest rising and falling more uneven at this point, shaky breaths leaving his parted lips. Every now and then, Jungkook’s gaze rushed down to his beautiful full lips, the urge to capture them in a kiss blooming inside of him.

“C-Collars... uhm, what... what exactly are they for?”

Jungkook leaned back on his hands, pursing his lips in a concentrating manner, “It can be used for different reasons. I think a major point is what it does to you mentally. For me, it gives me power, it would make me proud to see you wearing a collar with my name on it. It would make me feel like you’re mine completely. I mean, I know you already are, but it’s just another mental thing to see you willingly wear it and liking it, loving that you belong to me. For the part that wears it, it’s a sign of submission. You would proudly show off that you belong to someone, that you love being theirs. Both parts need to feel comfortable about this. I wouldn’t want you to wear it just for the sake of me. I would want you to wear it because you want to, because it makes you happy, you know?”

The smaller boy blinked, his heart fluttering at the thought of wearing a collar with Jungkook’s name on it, his penis twitching all the same. It was odd, wasn’t it? How happy the thought of wearing a collar made Jimin?
“Actively, it can be used for different things, mostly manhandling. Pulling you around, choking you, stuff like that. But we don't have to do any of that. It's really more about the mental part for me. Yet, if you would want me to pull you around in it and manhandle you like that, I would do that for you.”

“Would I... would I wear it outside, too?” Jimin wondered, averting his gaze in timidity.

Jungkook's eyes went wide, “No, angel, no, you don't have to do that. In fact, outside of our... our sex life, we're both equal. Please remember that. I dominate you in bed and you fall into your submissive role by nature, but that doesn't mean that I'll treat you like that outside of it, hm? We've talked about this before, do you remember?”

Jimin gave a nod, recalling their conversation about this some weeks or even months ago. There was a difference in power during sex, yet outside of that, both of them were equal and neither of them would need to submit to the other one.

“Would you like a collar then?” Something flashed in Jungkook's eyes when he asked that, voice a little lower, yet still so very soft.

“Y-Yes” Jimin breathed, excitement bubbling inside of him at the thought of wearing a collar with Jungkook's name on it.

“How do you feel about gag balls?”

Frankly, Jimin wasn't entirely sure. On the one hand, the thought excited him, too, but it also made him extremely nervous.

“Would that... would that hurt?”

“I guess it depends on the size and the amount of time you leave it in. If you decide that you want to try it, I would get you a smaller one first and we wouldn't leave it on for too long. We've just got to see where your limits are with all of this, hm, little one?”

The taller boy reached out, caressing Jimin's cheek. The tender touch immediately brought comfort over him, nervousness washing away as he focused on the warm hand that was gently stroking over his skin.

“Then... then I would like to try it one day, but... but not very soon.”

“Okay, angel”

Smiling shyly, Jimin dipped his head back down, fixating his gaze back on the piece of paper in his hands. There was so much more on it...

Butt plugs, nipple clamps,...

Jungkook had definitely mentioned butt plugs to him before, yet Jimin wasn't entirely sure what they were. Although, the word didn't leave much room for imagination, indicating clearly what it would be used for.

“B-Butt plugs... that's... you've mentioned that before, haven't you?” Jimin wanted to know, carefully lifting his head in order to lock eyes with Jungkook again, the latter already staring intently at him.

“I have mentioned them before, yes. It's, well, you can think of them as something similar to a dildo. Not entirely, there are slight differences in the shape and their purpose, but just to give you an idea. It allows you to stay stretched out, for example. It could be used in a way to tease you, if you'd leave it...
Swallowing hard, Jimin drew his thighs together, the movement catching Jungkook's attention as he followed the motion with his eyes, something flashing in them as he wet his lips.

“O-Oh, I see” The shy boy uttered, flush on his cheeks increasing due to the intent stare from Jungkook, the latter looking at him with desire in his eyes. However, apparently, he tried to contain this feeling, wanting to stay attentive and serious, softness reappearing in his eyes.

“It's just another sex toy, essentially. How do you feel about them in general?”

That damn vibrator was... was a bittersweet device. It brought him such intense orgasms, yet could be very frustrating as well. In the way Jungkook had been using them, he had always pushed him close to his limit, evoking these overwhelming feelings inside of him.

Clearly, Jimin wasn't opposed to the idea of sex toys... In fact, Jungkook using them on him excited him.

“I... I... I like it when you touch me, but I also like it when you use these toys on me” Jimin answered.

“Okay, noted”

“What about... what about nipple clamps? I mean... they surely hurt, no?”

“They can definitely hurt, yes, but that's the purpose. I've noticed that your nipples are very sensitive and you like it, when I play with them. I'm curious to find out whether or not you would enjoy that sensation. That's one of the things that would test how you feel about pain in general. Whether you enjoy it a whole lot or just in small fractions”

Nipple clamps? The thought alone caused the sensitive nubs to ache, but... the stirring in his stomach was a sign of excitement bubbling inside of him all the same. It was odd how a mixture of emotions blossomed inside of him with each different kink, making his head all dizzy. However, so far, the anticipation and arousal had always had the upper-hand, proving that he liked most of these ideas.

“Uhm... I... I don't know. I think I... I think I would like to... to try that one day. Is that weird?”

“No, Jimin-ah, none of this is weird. Please don't believe that liking any of these things is weird or wrong because it's not at all” The younger male quickly reassured, warm smile comforting Jimin.

“O-Okay”

There were many, many more words on it,

whips, multiple orgasms, degradation, orgasm denial/delay,... session for tonight and continue another day, when both of them were a little less sleepy.

“I think that's enough for today, little one” Jungkook decided, taking the list out of Jimin's hand who allowed it to slip from his grasp without any protest, observing how Jungkook placed it back into the drawer of his nightstand, “You’ve learned quite a lot of new things tonight. We can talk about the remaining stuff another day, hm?”

Jimin gave a nod, agreeing with that suggestion. After all, it was pretty late already and both of them had to be at work today, needing a little more sleep in order to not fall asleep during the day.

Swallowing hard, Jimin glanced down at himself, the notable tent in his briefs catching his attention as Jungkook shifted in his position next to him, adjusting himself and lying back down on the soft bed.

Hesitantly, the pink haired male joined him, lying down next to Jungkook as the latter tugged the soft blanket over both of them. The younger boy pulled Jimin closer to his warm body, watching how Jimin wrapped his arm around his stomach and hugged him from the side, a content sigh slipping from both of them.

Praying that Jungkook wouldn't notice how turned on he was, Jimin shut his eyes. However, with the way he was clutching onto Jungkook, body pressed tightly against him and the hard length essentially pushing against Jungkook's thigh, there was no way he wouldn't notice it – even if only slightly.

“Little one?” The taller boy muttered after several moments of silence, Jimin having attempted to ignore the arousal that was blooming inside of him.

“Mhm?” Jimin hummed, eyes fluttering back open and needing a brief moment to adjust to the darkness.

“Did you get hard after our conversation?” Jungkook wondered, the bluntness of the question startling Jimin who blushed at his words, grateful for the fact that Jungkook wasn't capable of catching his reaction in the darkness.

“W-What?” The poor boy stuttered, gulping as Jungkook's hand trailed down his skin. Gently, the latter grabbed his hips and pulled Jimin on top of him, making him straddle his lap.

“Why didn't you say anything?” The younger male wanted to know, lifting his hand up in order to brush the stands of pink hair away that had fallen into Jimin's face upon his movement. Jungkook's other palm was still closed around Jimin's waist, digits pressed into his skin tenderly to keep him steady and still in his lap.

Jimin's heartbeat quickened as he averted his gaze, too embarrassed by the whole situation.

“Little one?” Jungkook urged, gripping Jimin's chin in order to guide his face back up to lock eyes with his lover, “You don't have to be shy or embarrassed. Why didn't you tell me, hm? I can help you, kitten”

“I-I... I thought it's better to just sleep” Jimin answered, partly telling the truth. Jimin was just very embarrassed by the fact of being hard after solely talking to Jungkook about sex. The black haired boy hadn't even touched him! Yet, here he was, semi-erection and all, “And I... and it's embarrassing how I got hard just because... because we talked about this stuff” He admitted, voice turning quieter with each word.

“The things excited you, hm, kitten?” Jungkook uttered, rubbing his thumb over Jimin's cheekbone,
“The thought of doing all of these things to you turns me on, too, Jimin-ah. You really don't need to be embarrassed by that”

“N-No?” The shy boy whispered, Jungkook shaking his head as he ran his thumb over Jimin's bottom lip, applying slight pressure that caused Jimin to part his lips almost subconsciously.

“No, little one”

With those words, the taller boy leaned up, pulling Jimin down in the process in order to capture his lips in a tender kiss. As soon as Jimin was about to kiss right back, Jungkook detached himself from the touch, lips lingering above Jimin's as he smirked against him.

Confused, the pink haired boy whined, silently begging for Jungkook to kiss him again. The reaction caused Jungkook's smirk to deepen as he brushed his lips over Jimin's, the slight touch sending sparks through his body.

“Please” Jimin whispered.

Without another ounce of hesitation, Jungkook attached their lips in another kiss, remaining in that touch for a moment before they moved their lips against each other slowly and softly. Carefully, the younger male licked over Jimin's bottom lip, the latter allowing him entrance and pushing his tongue against Jungkook's.

Unconsciously, a whimper escaped Jimin, Jungkook catching the sound as he pressed his lips on Jimin's, hands rushing down to the smaller boy's waist, giving him a little squeeze.

“Why don't you hump me, hm? I'll help you come, kitten” Jungkook whispered against his lips, voice low and sensual, sending a shiver down Jimin's back. At those words, Jimin couldn't help but whine, quickly nodding his head as he began to roll his hips back and forth.

Jungkook groaned at the movement, capturing Jimin's lips in yet another kiss to muffle the breathy noises the latter was already making, the light friction against his penis so bittersweet - so stimulating, but not quite enough.

Desparately, Jimin pressed his digits into Jungkook's shoulders, having to hold onto something as the black haired boy guided his hips back and forth. Slowly, Jimin began to pick up a pace and apply more pressure in his motion, grinding down against Jungkook's erection, causing the smaller boy to moan high-pitched.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin mewled, eyes fluttering shut as he dipped his head down, hiding his face in the crook of Jungkook's neck as said boy placed a kiss against his temple.

“Such a good boy” The younger boy praised, hot breath hitting Jimin's skin, goosebumps forming immediately. Then, Jungkook trailed open-mouthed kisses down his neck, nibbling on the fair skin ever so gently that evoke more of those sweet little noises from Jimin.

“M-More, please, Jungkook-ah” Jimin begged, attempting to move his hips a little quicker, rhythm uneven and frantic as he chased his own orgasm, lips parted, high-pitched whimpers slipping from them.

“Sssh, kitten, I got you” Jungkook assured, brushing his nose against Jimin's skin as he proceeded to guide his hips back and forth, slowing his erratic moves, bucking his own hips up simultaneously in order to press them against Jimin's, increasing the stimulation.

In response to the action, Jimin moaned loudly, grasp on Jungkook's shoulders tightening. The heat in the pit of his stomach was gradually growing, spreading throughout his upper body and hinting at his release being near.

It felt a little odd to come like this – almost... almost dirty as he was essentially just humping Jungkook to find his own release. However, this situation, this... position wasn't foreign to Jimin. No, if anything it caused him to reminisce about one of their first sexual encounters. Back then when Jungkook had just really started to teach him about sex, they had done this, too. Hadn't it been the night after their dinner at the diner? They had went home to Jungkook's, had made out until Jimin had begun to grind down against Jungkook, leading to him eventually coming in his pants.

For some reason, Jimin's heart fluttered at the thought, recalling how all of that had been so new, how he hadn't even fallen for Jungkook at that point – or had he? Frankly, Jimin wasn't certain whether or not he had already started to grow feelings for Jungkook back then. Clearly, he had been fond of the boy already, more than attracted to him. However, it had only been approximately the third time of them doing anything sexual. Well, and now... now that time seemed so far away – was months away.

They were in a different part of their lives now, a different chapter that they were sharing together. Some things had changed, yet some things hadn't.

“Fuck, kitten” Jungkook growled at a particular hard thrust upwards, Jimin meeting him halfway, the touch sending jolts of pleasure through each of their bodies. The sudden voice drew Jimin out his thoughts, the stimulation intensifying and bringing him back to reality, “How does it feel, little one?”

The pink haired boy was only panting, high-pitched whimpers slipping from his pretty plump lips as he proceeded to grind against Jungkook. Suddenly, Jungkook's grip around his waist tightened, digits pressing into Jimin's skin harder as he stilled the boy on top of him, shaking his head.

“Answer me, baby”

Whining, Jimin lifted his head, Jungkook's dick twitching at the sight of the smaller one on top of him – lips even fuller due to their kissing and biting, cheeks flushed, some drool trailing down Jimin's chin as he stared at Jungkook with big, glassy eyes, breathing heavily.

“F-Feels so good, Jungkook-ah, p-please, don't stop. Please, need more”

Humming in satisfaction, the taller boy pressed his lips on Jimin's as he began to guide his hips back and forth simultaneously, the wonderful stimulation returning. The release was so close now, Jimin could feel it in the pit of his stomach.

“Such a good kitten, Jimin-ah, humping me like a good boy, aren't you?”

Nodding, Jimin whined at his words, Jungkook smirking in response as he brushed his lips over Jimin's.

“Got all hard because you thought about all the things I'm going to do to you, hm? Imagined me fucking you so good until you cry, no?”

“O-Oh god” Jimin cried out, hunching over at the dirty words that were whispered against his skin, the low tone of Jungkook's voice sounding so sexy.

“My sweet baby, you love it when I'm dirty with you, don't you, Jimin-ah?”

The pink haired boy only whimpered, too embarrassed to admit it. However, apparently – or rather as predicted – Jungkook was dissatisfied with his silence, tapping his hand against Jimin's upper thigh firmly. The action caused Jimin to jerk, a mewl slipping from his lips.

“Use your words, little one”

“Y-Yes” Jimin moaned, nodding as he moved his hips more erratically, desperate for that feeling.

“Fuck, I can't wait to see you wearing a collar” Jungkook growled, giving Jimin's hips a little squeeze as he lifted his other hand up to Jimin's neck, tracing his fingertips over the skin.

Yes, please, Jimin thought, eyes fluttering shut at the thought of wearing a collar with Jungkook's name on it.

“I-I'm close” The smaller one uttered.

“Yeah? Are you going to come in your pants for me after humping me like a messy boy? Hm, kitten?” Jungkook whispered into his ear, hand gripping Jimin’s butt, kneading the flesh as he proceeded to guide his hips around.

“Y-Yes” Jimin whined, drooling all over himself, hips rolling in different directions, movements frantic.

The shorter male's mouth opened in a silent scream, Jungkook swiftly there to capture his lips in a kiss to muffle the sounds that were about to leave Jimin.

“Oh my god, oh my god, p-please, K-Kook-ah, please” Jimin cried out against his lips, almost falling over the edge.

“Come on, little one, be a good boy and come for me”

That's all it took for Jimin to tip of the edge, screaming out Jungkook's name as the feeling of his orgasm exploded inside of him, spreading throughout his whole body. Shaking all over, Jimin kicked his legs, collapsing on top of Jungkook as a mantra of his name slipped from his parted lips.

“Shit” Jungkook cursed at the sight, observing Jimin's body tremble in ecstasy, the poor boy moaning right against Jungkook's ear, the noises so pretty to the latter boy.

There was something wet inside of Jimin's underwear - the sperm that had just spurted out of his penis upon his orgasm. The pink haired boy grimaced at that, but couldn't be bothered to get up and change.

“Good boy” The younger male whispered, pressing a kiss to his temple as he brushed strands of pink hair out of Jimin's sweaty forehead, the latter still shaking on top of Jungkook as a mantra of his name slipped from his parted lips.

“Mhm” Jimin confirmed, blushing as he hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck, both of their chests falling and rising rapidly.

“Feel better now?”

“So much better” Jimin murmured, voice a little hoarse.

Gently, Jungkook pulled the blanket over both of them, wrapping his arms around Jimin's back to embrace the boy on top of him. While whispering sweet nothings into Jimin's ear, the black haired boy traced his fingertips over Jimin's skin, creating shapes that the shorter male couldn't define. Yet, he didn't need to, simply loved the sweet caress on his back.
As Jimin lifted his hand up tiredly, Jungkook pressed a kiss to his forehead, Jimin smiling shyly at the action. Then, he ran his hand through Jungkook's messy hair, scratching over his scalp tenderly. In response, the younger boy's eyes fluttered shut, a deep hum audible within his chest.

“Goodnight, Kook-ah”

It didn't take long for their breathing to return to an even pace, their hearts pounding to the same beat. Jimin nuzzled himself against Jungkook, feeling safe in his strong embrace, loving the warmth the taller boy was radiating, loving the comfort he brought him.

“I love you, Jimin-ah”

The words were mumbled against his skin, Jungkook already starting to drift off into his sleep, yet the sentence still made Jimin's heart flutter.

However, the guilty feeling was there all the same.

------

“Wait, wait, wait, run that back. What happened?” Taehyung insisted, confusion and slight shock written over his face as he stared at Jimin, halting in his steps.

The pink haired boy looked around, making sure that no one was listening to them as he reached out for his best friend and tugged at his arm. Taehyung took a step forward, then proceeded to walk next to Jimin slowly.

“I don't know what exactly happened. Well, I kind of do, but then again, I don't? It's complicated. Dongha got beat up really badly in a dark alley right around his apartment building. Tae, he... like, it's really bad. They didn't even take his money or anything. They just wanted to physically hurt him” Jimin elaborated, fear visible on his face as he looked at the blond haired boy next to him.

“That's... shit, that's fucked up” Tae murmured before he studied Jimin's features, something causing him to frown at the smaller boy's expression, “Jimin-ah, don't pity him and start to be close to him again”

“What?” Jimin expressed, pulling his brows together as they crossed the street, a fresh breeze of air blowing his hair out of his face, a faint shiver running over his body.

“I'm sorry, but I know you, Minnie. I know what kind of heart you have. I'm not saying that what happened to him is... well, I mean, he does kind of deserve it? I don't know. I'm not a huge fan of violence, but when it comes to you or other people I love, I would throw some punches as well, you know that. So, although I hate that guy for what he did to you, I'm not saying that you can't feel sorry for what happened to him. I'm not telling you to forget about the time you two had either. I know that he was there for you when you needed someone, but you also have to see it from an outside perspective. That dude used your vulnerability and your kindness to force himself on you” Tae pointed out, taking a sip from his coffee cup.

“I... I know that he did wrong, Tae. I'm not saying that he didn't, I just...” Jimin attempted to defend himself, yet he couldn't find the right words, “Jungkook and I talked about it already. He was very, well, he didn't feel any kind of pity for Dongha. I know that he hates him, I know that he wants to protect me, but the thing that happened to Dongha is still horrible, isn't it? Jungkook doesn't want me to interact with Dongha at all and I agreed because I thought he wouldn't move on from it until I did”
The smaller boy bit down on his bottom lip, recalling the last night.

“I mean, I kind of agree with Jungkook-ah there. Dongha doesn't seem to know or understand what a 'no' means. I don't even want to imagine what he would have done to you, if Jungkook hadn't been there. At this point, I wouldn't put it past him to try anything worse to get his way with you, honestly. That guy seems to be obsessed with you. I know that you try to see the good in him, but don't let yourself be blinded by that. There are evil people out there. I'm not saying that he is one of them, but he definitely does have malicious intentions. Staying away from him is just a precaution. After all, he did fuck up numerous times. I don't think it's safe for you to be alone with him” The blond haired male pointed out.

It took a moment for Jimin to process all of this, contemplating over the words for awhile. The thing is, Jimin was aware of all of this. Well, at least he told himself that he was. Jimin knew that Dongha didn't seem to respect Jimin's boundaries, didn't seem to know about decent manners, but... but what? There was no 'but.' Dongha wasn't evil, but he had tried to hurt Jimin. That's something the pink haired boy needed to understand. Yes, everyone deserved a second chance, but Dongha had crossed the line several times now. For his own good, Jimin shouldn't stay alone with him.

Sighing, Jimin gave a faint nod, “I-I know. I know that you're right. I just don't want to cause any problems within the group and I also don't want to... Tae, I don't know. It's all very confusing. I just don't think he wanted to intentionally hurt me, you know? I think that he likes me and he wants me to like him, too, that's why he behaves the way he does. He's not evil, though”

Taehyung titled his head to the side, “Minnie, just because he likes you doesn't mean he can do to you whatever he wants without considering how you feel, especially not forcing himself on you when you told him to stop. That's fucked up” His best friend replied, “Liking you and desiring your body are two different things. I don't know which of these two applies to him, but neither of these justify his actions. After all, if he actually likes you, he wouldn't treat you like this. Dongha doesn't respect you. You told him how you feel about him, but he still touched you without your permission and that not for the first time. If that dude actually had any kind of feelings for you, he would've never done that”

Had Dongha really just manipulated him this whole time? Had his intention always been to get in Jimin's pants? Had he still kept his facade up after Jimin had confronted him? Had his apology been fake?

It would make sense... wouldn't it? Dongha had spent a lot of time with Jimin, had learned about his habits, his characteristics. The boy knew that Jimin always tried to see the good in people, that he tried to forgive people because he believed that they had a kind heart within.

Is that why he had apologised and had pretended to feel sorry for his actions? To lurr Jimin in again?

At this point, Jimin wasn't sure, was way too confused by everything. If anything, he didn't want to believe that a person could be this evil.

“We're just trying to help you, Jimin-ah. We are just worried about you, you know that, right?”

Jimin gave a nod, locking eyes with the blond haired boy again, “I know. Thank you, Tae”

Smiling, Taehyung wrapped his arm around Jimin's waist, pulling him closer, “Were you at Jungkook's this morning then?”

“I... Yeah, I spent the night at his place” The smaller boy answered, his cheeks turning a shade of pink.
Taehyung giggled, “Was it nice?”

It was more than nice, Jimin thought. Everything about this night – well, except for their little argument in the kitchen about Dongha – had been beautiful. It was almost as if they'd been inside of their little bubble again, although now they didn't have to hide, they didn't have to force themselves to not feel what they wanted to feel.

As soon as Jimin had woken up this morning, butterflies had spread throughout his stomach at the realisation of waking up in Jungkook's bed. However, upon noticing that Jungkook hadn't been there, slight panic had bloomed inside of him. For a moment, Jimin had believed Jungkook had just disappeared, all of the past days having been a dream and them being back during the time of their lessons – the rule of not staying over reappearing.

Yet, fortunately, Jimin had found the note next to the bed, telling him that Jungkook had to leave for work and hadn't want to wake the smaller boy. Relief had spread throughout Jimin's chest, a smile appearing on his face as Jungkook had wished him a beautiful morning and had told Beomsoo to drive Jimin to wherever he needed to go.

It's only been a couple of days since they've started dating officially, all of this still being very new to either of them. If anything, it was exciting and beautiful.

“Y-Yeah, we... yeah, it was nice. I hope I can see him tonight again”

Taehyung hummed, eyebrow arched up in a teasing manner as they proceeded to walk down the street. They were currently heading towards the dance studio, Taehyung craving to see Hoseok and Jimin, well, Jimin having to be at dance practice.

“So, Minnie, have you thought about any offer you've received yet? You know, for an entertainment company?” Tae then wanted to know as they halted in their steps upon arriving at the street, checking each side for any cars before they crossed it.

The smaller boy sighed, catching his bottom lip between his teeth at the mention of the two offers. Frankly, Jimin hadn't been able to make up his mind just yet, still very conflicted on what to do.

“No... I really don't know what to do. I mean, YK entertainment does sound like an amazing option, but Jeon entertainment is just... I've dreamed about going there. It's just... you know, kind of weird because Jungkook would be my boss. I don't want work to come inbetween us, Tae. I don't know whether it would be better to keep our personal and professional lives separated. But if we actually worked together in the same company, those worlds would collide, don't you think?”

The other male pursed his lips, cocking his head to the side as he contemplated, “Well, your paths wouldn't really cross, would they? You two would work in different parts of the company. Jungkook-ah is the one running the whole thing, who keeps the company going while you would be a trainee or a choreographer. Of course, you’re going to see each other and interact with each other, but you wouldn't be with each other 24/7”

“That's not what worries me” Jimin responded, shaking his head, “I would love to spend as much time with him as I can. What worries me is that work will get in the way of everything and that – in case there is trouble or any issues at work – that we carry those into our personal lives and argue over them while being home. Or the other way around, what if we argue at home and we carry those issues over into our work environment?”

“That takes a lot of professionalism and discipline to keep both of these things separated. You should draw a clear line where both of these environments end and where the new one starts. If you both try hard, I'm pretty sure you could make it work. But, have you even thought about what you want to do? Do you actually want to become a trainee?"

The question caught Jimin off-guard. Certainly, he had thought about all of this before, yet... what being a trainee actually meant never really bothered him. It was tough, he knew that much, Jungkook having confirmed that thought.

All Jimin wanted to do was dance. That's what caused his heart to beat, that's what healed his soul, that's what he genuinely wanted to do.

“I want to dance and I'm willing to work hard for that. I would have to talk to each company to see what they have planned for me. I guess, that's what I should do in order to get a better idea on what to do”

Taehyung hummed, giving a nod, “I agree. Talk to each of them and see which offer sounds better to you. Don't let yourself be talked into anything. If you're scared to do it alone, I could accompany you”

Jimin smiled at his best friend, “That's nice of you, Tae, but I think that's something I have to do on my own. Thank you for offering though”

“Okay, Minnie. In case you change your mind, just let me know”

The pink haired male nodded again, taking a sip from his drink as they arrived at the dance studio.

Dongha didn't look much better. No, the bruises were still very visible on his face as he walked into the room that day. The sight still shocked Jimin, a shiver running down his back as he pictured the boy being beaten up in a dark alley. Swiftly, Jimin shook his head, banishing those horrible thoughts out of his mind.

It had taken Jimin a lot of self-control to force his gaze away from Dongha, concentrating on the dance practice instead as Hoseok taught them some new steps. Fortunately, it was a tough choreography today, forcing Jimin to pay a lot of attention and distracting him from Dongha.

After an hour of practice, Hoseok announced a break, all of them breathing heavily and having to catch their breaths, chests rising and falling rapidly as they plopped down on the floor. As soon as everyone had scattered around the room to rest for a while, Taehyung sprang up and rushed over to Hoseok, pulling him into a hug.

Jimin smiled fondly at the sight, giggling as he watched Tae pepper kisses all over Hoseok's face, the latter attempting to push him away playfully as he warned him about being all sweaty. Evidently, Taehyung didn't care at all as he clutched himself at his boyfriend and hid his face in the curve of his neck.

As the smaller boy allowed his gaze to wander across the room, his eyes fell on Dongha. Surprise and slight shock blossomed inside of Jimin upon noticing that the brown haired boy had already been staring at him. Quickly, Jimin averted his gaze, feeling his cheeks heat up. Surely, simply looking at someone wasn't anything bad or forbidden, yet it made Jimin feel uneasy to know that Dongha had already been staring at him – considering what he had done to him.

Jimin shouldn't pay him any more attention. What if he perceived it as a wrong signal? As a sign for something Jimin didn't mean to imply or convey at all?
“Guys” Hoseok suddenly spoke up, interrupting Jimin's thoughts, “I have to tell you something, if you could please all listen to me for a minute”

For some reason, Hoseok seemed a little nervous, but really happy all the same. It was a weird mixture of emotions, sparking Jimin's curiosity as he stared at his friend. Taehyung was staring at Hoseok with loving eyes, standing close by.

“I've been offered a place in a very famous entertainment company as a choreographer. I know some of you have received some offers as well and you told me about it so I thought it's only right for me to share this information with you, too. I haven't signed the contract yet, it's just something that I'm currently thinking about and I have a good feeling about it. I'm going to have a meeting there today and I will let you know how it went and where I will go from there once all of it is settled. In case I do accept the offer, I want you to know that I won't drop this class, but will try my best to continue teaching you while working there. I might have to shorten the dance lessons, but I won't just leave you. I will stay for as long as I can keep going with this”

It was silent for a moment. Then, everyone started talking simultaneously, getting up to their feet as they rushed over to Hoseok in order to pull him into a group hug. There was joy and happiness blooming inside of Jimin, a smile spreading on his face as he joined the group.

Hoseok deserved this so much. He was such a hard worker, was so incredibly talented. Any company having him could call themselves lucky. It made Jimin all the more happy to know that Hoseok actually cared about each of his students — not that he had ever doubted that before, but this was just another confirmation of their strong and genuine bond. Hoseok didn't just want to leave them, wanted to stay with them for as long as possible.

“My goal was to teach you and to have fun with you. Each of you is special and has potential, watching you strive for your dream, watching you work hard and improve, becoming the people you are today has made me proud and happy. I couldn't be happier knowing that there are new chapters for all of you, too, that your paths are broadening and that you're spreading your wings to be closer to your dreams. I'm proud of you, guys, and I love you” Hoseok added, causing the group to hug him tighter as they returned a 'we love you, too.'

Once they pulled apart, Hoseok was scratching the back of his neck, notably a little emotional as he reminisced about the past months. Obviously, he wanted to stay for as long as he could, but taking a new job might make it difficult. There would definitely be changes heading their way.

The others giggled, but obliged as they returned to their respective spots. Jimin remained standing in his position, bright smile on his face as he watched Taehyung embrace Hoseok again.

Hesitantly, the pink haired one approached the couple, placing his head on top of Hoseok's shoulder to gain his attention, yet not wanting to ruin their little moment.

“I'm proud of you, hyung, and really, really happy”

“Thank you, Jimin-ah” Hoseok smiled, ruffling Jimin's hair. In response to the action, the latter giggled, pulling his head back.

“Hyung” Jimin chuckled and swatted Hoseok's arm away as said boy had attempted to repeat the action.
“Minnie, I'm trying to make out with my boyfriend here before the break is over” Taehyung murmured, trying to let Jimin know without Hoseok hearing anything, but... well, you know, very unsuccessfully as Hoseok was standing right next to them – each word very audible.

Giggling, Jimin gave a nod, “He's all yours”

Hoseok rolled his eyes at his lover, yet couldn't help but smile fondly, pressing his lips on Tae's as Jimin returned to his spot, smiling to himself as well.

---------

Have you eaten already? - Jungkook-ah

Upon reading the message, Jimin glanced down at the sandwich he'd just made for himself with the left over food he had found inside of his fridge.

Not yet, no... why? - Jimin

It was already pretty late, time having passed so very quickly as he had talked quite a lot with Hoseok and Tae after dance practice. On their way home, they had made a little stop at a fashion boutique, Taehyung having to pick up something for his boss. As soon as Jimin had eventually entered his apartment, he had plopped down on his couch, body too sore and exhausted to do anything at all.

I just got finished at work and I want to see you. I could come over and we could have dinner together? I'll pick up some take-away food on my way – Jungkook-ah Jimin smiled brightly, heart fluttering at the thought of seeing Jungkook. Just seeing him- even doing nothing but being in each other's company sounded so beautiful to Jimin. That's all it took for him to feel happy and comforted. There was just something about Jungkook that caused that feeling in him.

Sounds great, yes, please come over :) – Jimin

See you in a bit, little one – Jungkook

Smiling, Jimin put his phone down next to him, picking up the plate from the coffee table and returning it to the kitchen.

---

“I'm telling you, he went full on crazy. I felt sorry for him, but my father just didn't think he had anything special, you know? Guy started cursing at him, throwing stuff around and even full on threatened my father. It got really bad. I'm not sure my father is that fond of Seoul yet” Jungkook told him, chuckling at the end of his sentence.

Jimin blinked, swallowing his bite down. Honestly, he didn't know whether to laugh or be shocked, caught somewhere in the middle. Clearly, Jungkook had wanted to make a joke out of it, but that person had evidently been very dangerous, throwing things around and even threatening his father just because he hadn't passed the audition. That was a little frightening.

“You've had a long day then, hm?” Jimin uttered, finishing his food before he set down the box on the nightstand, titling his head to the side as he observed Jungkook.

The black haired boy had dark circles below his eyes – evidence of lack of sleep and a lot of stress. To be fair, both of them had stayed up quite a bit, talking about the list and then... well, you know.
However, Jungkook had already answered some of his e-mails before Jimin had even woken up. The younger male must really be craving some sleep.

All the more caused it Jimin's heart to flutter because Jungkook had wanted to spend time with him instead of finally getting his well deserved and surely very longed for sleep.

After all, he had already seemed so exhausting upon his arrival, entering Jimin's apartment with a visible change in his usual demeanor, almost too tired to move at all. Yet, he had still kissed Jimin to greet him, getting lost in the touch as he had pressed the boy against the wall, tasting the sweetness of the smaller boy's lips before whispering, “Hey, little one, how was your day?”

Now they were seated on Jimin's bed, having finished most of their food while talking about their days – Jimin neglecting anything that involved Dongha.

“Yeah” The taller boy yawned as he gave a nod, “Fucking long and exhausting day” His eyes fell shut for a moment, setting the box of food down on the nightstand, “Was your food good?” He then wanted to know.

“Mhm, very good, thank you” Jimin answered, digging his fingers into his own neck, rubbing over the tensed skin as his body ached quite a bit due to practice today.

“Does it hurt?”

“Huh?”

“Your neck?” Jungkook elaborated as he pointed at the spot, “Are you in pain?”

“Oh, no, it's just a little tensed because of practice. I guess I didn't stretch that well earlier. To be fair, the choreography was a little more challenging today”

While listening, Jungkook suddenly got up from his spot, moving behind Jimin and adjusting himself against the headboard. Gently, he pulled Jimin closer to him inbetween his spread legs.

“What are y-”

The pink haired boy shut his mouth as Jungkook lifted his hands up to his shoulders, kneading the flesh with his palms strongly, yet very tenderly.

“A-ah” Jimin breathed, biting down on his bottom lip as Jungkook massaged his shoulders, trying to soothe the aching.

Stretching your body before dancing was always very important, yet Jimin's body still ached after an intense day of practice, slight pain seeming to be inevitable. Usually, the soreness vanished after some sleep, gone the next day, but receiving a massage was so much better – especially from Jungkook, his warm hands sending a shiver down Jimin's back.

“Hoseok talked to my father about joining our company” Jungkook told him as he traced his hands down Jimin's back, slightly lifting his shirt in order to move his hands beneath the piece of fabric, the sudden physical contact against Jimin's skin causing his body to twitch.

“Oh?” Jimin expressed, looking back over his shoulder, eyes big.

That's the company Hoseok had referred to today then! The brown haired boy was in the talks of being part of Jeon entertainment, most likely becoming a choregrapher there. That was amazing!
“Yeah, I kept myself out of it because I know hyung doesn't want the job, if he thinks I had my hand in it and had tried to give him a job through my connection to my father or simply because he's one of my best friends, when that's not the case at all. Hyung is just very good, amazing really and I've always wanted for him to work with us. I'm really happy that he's seriously considering it – well, more than that, most likely going to sign with us”

Jimin smiled, mouth falling open a moment later as Jungkook pressed his digits into Jimin's shoulder, the muscles beneath being massaged. Involuntarily, a whimper slipped from Jimin's lips, eyes fluttering shut. In response, Jungkook chuckled behind him, placing a kiss on his neck, “Hoseok hyung talked to us about it today. He didn't tell us that it was your company, but that he is probably going to take the offer. I'm really happy for him, too”

The black haired boy hummed, “What about you?”

“What do you mean?”

“Have you thought about what to do yet? You know, about the offers? Obviously, I don't want to rush you, take all the time you need, I was just curious”

The smaller one sighed, dipping his head down, “I still haven't made up my mind, but I think I should talk to your father and Kijung Yang, just to get a better understanding of what they have planned for me, you know? Maybe that will help me make up my mind.”

“That sounds good. I can let my father know and figure something out so you two can talk, but I would like to be present during that conversation, just in case, you know?”

“In case for what?” Jimin wanted to know, titling his head to the side.

Faintly, the pink haired male recalled Jungkook mentioning something about how his father might attempt to persuade Jimin into something, Jungkook fearing that he would agree to something that could ruin his life. Even back then, that expression had confused Jimin, had made him feel a little uneasy because why would Jungkook say that about his own father?

Then again, Jimin had quickly noticed himself how the businessman Jeon and the father Jeon were two different people, Jungkook's father trying to keep both of these personas separated.

“I just don't want you to agree to something you'll regret. My father won't fuck you over, but I'm not sure what he has planned for you and I just want to make sure that you know what you're agreeing to, little one, hm?” Jungkook responded, resting his head on top of Jimin's shoulder as he traced his fingertips down Jimin's arms, goosebumps rising beneath the touch.

“Okay, that sounds good, thank you”

The taller boy hummed as he straightened his posture again, proceeding to massage Jimin's back and shoulders, soothing the soreness of his muscles. Almost unconsciously, Jimin whimpered with each kneading of his flesh, the touch comforting, but still somewhat strong.

“Little one?” Jungkook uttered after several minutes of silence.

“Mhm” Jimin murmured, eyes fluttering open as he focused on the touch on his back, the feeling so beautifully soothing.

“Oh, uhm, well, quiet” Jimin answered, chuckling at his own joke. In response, Jungkook snickered and shook his head, nudging Jimin's shoulder, “I left earlier today because Somin and I switched one of our shifts. Not much happens at the library ever, usually just the same stuff each day, although there was a guy today who screamed around during his phone call, presumably very upset with something. We had to call security on him because he was disturbing the other people. Other than that, just people sitting there and reading, studying and stuff like that, two men staying there for quite a long time reading a newspaper. Nothing too unusual”

Jungkook's movement became slower, “Where did you go after that?”

“I met up with Tae for lunch. We just talked for a while and ate, then grabbed a coffee each and headed to dance practice” Jimin responded, smiling.

“And then?”

The smaller boy pulled his brows together in a frown, slightly confused by Jungkook's continuous questions. However, maybe he was just very interested in Jimin's day – which was cute, honestly.

“We talked for a bit in the studio. Time went by fast and before we knew it, we had spent two hours there just talking and laughing. Then we left and made a stop at a fashion boutique before we went home”

Jungkook hummed, “So.. nothing happened? I mean, no one disturbed you?”

Oh, that's what it was about.

“Do you mean Dongha?” Jimin clarified, frowning as he looked back, “This is about him, isn't it?”

“No” Jungkook quickly assured, shaking his head, “I mean, I just want to know whether you're alright. I don't want to fight, Jimin-ah. I just want to make sure you're well and safe”

“I know…” Jimin mumbled, playing with the hem of his shirt, “I know that you just want to protect me, Kook-ah, but I told you that I'm going to stay away from him and I mean it. I thought a little more about it and I know that you and Tae are right. I won't stay alone with him, don't worry. I'm fine, really”

“It's just that I need to know that you're okay” Jungkook muttered, wrapping his arms around Jimin's stomach in order to hug him from behind, the smaller boy falling back against his chest, head leaned back on his shoulder.

“I am, really, I promise” Jimin assured as Jungkook pressed a kiss to his temple.

In response to the touch, Jimin's heart fluttered, eyes falling shut as he allowed himself to find comfort in Jungkook's warm embrace, their hearts pounding to the same beat. With each exhale, Jungkook's soft breath hit Jimin's skin, the sensation somehow tickling, but also soothing.

Knowing someone was there- knowing Jungkook was there, holding him tight and protecting him made Jimin feel safe and cared for.

They remained in their position for quite some time, minutes passing by as they laid in each other's embrace.

“Jungkook-ah” Jimin murmured after a while, “Should I give you a massage now?” He whispered, thinking that Jungkook surely craved such a soothing touch after his exhausting day as well.

However, there came no response. Instead, only even, slow breathing.
“Kook-ah?” The smaller boy repeated as he looked back, noticing that Jungkook's eyes had fallen shut, his pink lips slightly parted. The image made Jimin's heart flutter, the pink haired male smiling as he turned around and straddled Jungkook's lap, “Kook-ah?” He whispered again, not surprised by not receiving a response.

Giggling, Jimin lifted his hand up, brushing Jungkook's hair out of his face before he traced his fingertips down his skin, rubbing over his cheekbone. Slowly, he leaned in to press his lips onto Jungkook's in a soft peck.

The taller boy's face was so peaceful, no wrinkles on his forehead, no frown on his face as he was somewhere far away in his dreams. The sight warmed Jimin's heart, affection blooming inside of his chest.

It wasn't surprising how Jungkook had fallen asleep, the boy having been very exhausted ever since he had entered Jimin's apartment earlier.

“I'll just give you a massage next time, then” Jimin uttered quietly, voice soft as scanned his bed, trying to figure out what to do next. The position Jungkook was in surely wasn't comfortable, the boy without a doubt waking up with such a neck ache and back pain in the morning, if Jimin allowed him to sleep like that.

Just as Jimin was about to get up from Jungkook's lap, the noise of vibrations was audible in the room, something lighting up next to Jimin on the nightstand. The sudden sound startled Jimin, the poor boy jumping up in his position as he glanced at the object that had created the noise.

Jungkook's phone.

A message had popped up on the screen, calling for Jimin's attention.

Should he check it? What if it was someone of something important that required Jungkook's help? Surely, Jungkook wouldn't be mad at him for reading it, right? Yet, the taller boy was visibly sleeping right now and Jimin really didn't want to wake the black haired boy up just because of a message he could still answer in the morning.

What if it's really important and can't wait 'til the morning?, a voice inside of Jimin argued.

The smaller boy shook his head, wanting to respect Jungkook's privacy.

What if he's going to be mad at you for not checking and letting him know?, the voice pointed out.

Jimin caught his bottom lip between his teeth. No, if it was anything important of that sort, Jungkook would've surely let him know beforehand incase he fell asleep, right?

...Right?

Dammit, Jimin was torn.

Not capable of fighting the urge of curiosity to read over the message, Jimin glanced down at the phone screen, reading over the words.

We won't hurt him, Jeon, don't you worry. Just meet me tomorrow at- - 21511

The rest of the message was cut off. Jimin would have to click on the pop up message in order for it to fully open, just that making it possible to read all of it. In that exact moment, Jungkook shifted beneath him, a content sigh falling from his lips.
Jimin swiftly straightened his posture, heartbeat quickening as he fixated his gaze back on Jungkook, assuring himself that he was still fast asleep.

Why did it feel wrong? Why did Jimin feel guilty for having read it, although he hadn't snooped around and the phone had been lying there fully exposed?

Yet, why was the message the most concerning thing of this situation? Who was this person that had messaged Jungkook?

Whom wouldn't they hurt? Where did they want to meet and why? What was Jungkook involved in?

The smaller male shook his head, getting up from the bed. He shouldn't have done this. Now he wouldn't be able to stop thinking about the message, about what it could imply and who this person was that Jungkook was interacting with.

Who was 21511?

“Angel?” Jungkook mumbled, still somewhat asleep as he reached out for the pink haired boy, clearly having noticed Jimin's absence.

For some reason, that caused Jimin's heart to flutter, Jungkook immediately feeling that Jimin had left his lap, feeling that he wasn't close to his body any longer.

“I'm right here” Jimin whispered, attempting to slightly pull Jungkook down the bed in order for him to lie down. Fortunately, Jungkook cooperated even in his sleep, scooting down the bed, head resting on the soft pillows.

The shorter boy moved into the bed next to Jungkook, the latter pulling him closer to his chest right away as Jimin tugged the blanket over both of their bodies.

“Mine” Jungkook murmured into his ear.

Smiling faintly, Jimin hid his face in Jungkook's chest, the uneasy feeling still somewhere inside of him, yet slowly suppressed by fondness for the black haired boy.

“Yours”

Chapter End Notes

I hope you enjoyed the chapter, I'll try to post the next chapter quickly <3

Love you <3
Chapter Summary

Jungkook’s behaviour appears suspicious to Jimin... what could it all mean? Later, Jungkook gifts Jimin a little present that might lead to more than what either had expected.

Chapter Notes

Hiii, lovely readers <3

How have you been?

Thank you so much for the love on the last chapter, I still can’t believe how much love this story is receiving and it really means so much to me. Really, from the bottom of my heart, thank you so much <3

I want to apologise again for only updating now :( I'm really trying my best to update quickly, but it's just not working out that well the way I want it to. <3

I hope you enjoy this chapter <3

“Jimin-ah?” Jungkook called out, the sudden voice startling the pink haired male, “Jimin-ssi!”

Jerking, Jimin almost dropped his mug on the floor, swiftly setting it down on the counter before he rushed into the living room. Rustling was audible, quick footsteps echoing in the room as Jungkook appeared in the doorway – messy hair and frightened expression.

“Kook-ah, what's wrong?” Jimin wondered, pulling his brows together in a frown as confusion was written all over his face, the boy clearly bewildered by Jungkook’s behaviour.

The younger one didn’t say anything, just closed the distance between them and wrapped his arms around Jimin, pulling him close to his chest as if he was scared of losing him. For a moment, Jimin was still, brain taking a moment to process this situation as he had just woken up, faint sleepiness still vivid in his body.

“K-Kook-ah, what's...”

“It's nothing, just... Nevermind” Jungkook whispered, shaking his head as he backtracked, refusing to tell Jimin the reason for his strange behaviour.

Obviously, it was nice to be held like this, for Jungkook to embrace him in the warmth that was radiating from him the way he currently was, yet Jimin couldn't help but believe that something evoking uneasiness had caused this behaviour.
The smaller boy pulled back, lifting his head up in order to lock eyes with Jungkook. Concern blossomed inside of Jimin upon noticing something similar to fear glistening in Jungkook’s beautiful brown orbs. Gently, he reached out and placed his hands on Jungkook’s cheeks, frowning at his boyfriend.

“Kook-ah, what happened? Tell me, please”

The black haired male hesitated, seemingly not wanting to share what was bothering him, what had caused this change in his demeanor.

“Why did you call my name like that?”

“Fuck, it's... it's stupid, honestly” Jungkook brushed it off, shaking his head as he pulled away, slipping from Jimin's grasp as he walked past him.

“It's not stupid” Jimin argued, taking a step towards Jungkook, but figuring that he should give him some space in order for him to organise his thoughts, “Whatever it is, it's not stupid”

“I haven't had one like these in years, literally years” The taller boy expressed, not entirely decreasing Jimin's confusion, but instead stirring even more questions. Instead of explaining further, Jungkook just paced around the room, sitting down on the couch eventually.

“One like what?” Jimin spoke up, voice way quieter than he had intended to, soft tone causing Jungkook to look back at him.

“It was just a nightmare, but it was... Fuck, it was one of those that feel so damn real. I couldn't bear watching you- It tore me apart. I woke up in sweat and then you weren't there. I guess my brain must have thought I was still fast asleep, trapped in that nightmare. I... I got scared that you were gone and that it hadn't just been a nightmare, but reality” Jungkook finally answered, voice somehow vulnerable.

Jimin swallowed hard, heart clenching as he approached the younger male, taking a seat next to him on the sofa.

“W-What happened? I mean, what happened in the nightmare?” Jimin found himself wonder before he could stop himself, not exactly sure whether he actually wanted to know the answer. After all, Jungkook never seemed to be scared of anything at all, always brave and strong. For him to be this... frightened by something that wasn't real truly must mean something.

Whatever it was, it must be horrible.

Whatever it was, it seemed to be one of the only fears Jungkook possessed – at least the only one Jimin was aware of.

“It's... Fuck it, I don't even want to think about it” The black haired male uttered, turning a little pale as if he was about to throw up.

Jimin blinked, not knowing what he should say, not knowing how he could help Jungkook.

“It's fine, it was just a dream, Kook-ah, whatever it was, it isn't real” Jimin tried to assure him, placing a delicate hand on his thigh, rubbing his thumb over the spot soothingly.

Jungkook locked eyes with him, “I pray to god that it won't ever become real. If anything close to that ever happens, I'll hurt every single one of them that did it” He promised, something serious flashing in his eyes, the fear slowly vanishing and being replaced by something sterner.
The smaller boy gulped, attempting to smile faintly as he leaned in and pressed a tender kiss to Jungkook's cheek to reassure him, “Don't worry, it was just a dream” Jimin whispered against his cheek before he wrapped his arms around his neck, pulling the boy into a hug as he hid his face in the curve of Jungkook's neck.

The latter tightened his grasp around Jimin, pulling him impossibly closer. Neither of them knew how long they stayed there for, caught in each other's embrace, Jungkook caressing his back ever so gently, finding comfort by having Jimin be this close to him.

“I gotta go to work now. I need to make a stop at home before I do” Jungkook was the one to break the silence that had settled between them, Jimin almost a little sad for having to pull away from the black haired boy, the warmth he was radiating suddenly gone.

Giving a small nod, Jimin observed Jungkook getting up from the sofa, heading back into Jimin's bedroom to get his stuff.

“You could get ready here?” Jimin offered as he followed after Jungkook, naked feet padded on the soft rug, “And then head to work from here? I could make us some breakfast... or-or well, I mean, attempt to make us some breakfast” The older one added, giggling at his own joke.

Jungkook glanced at him while picking up his phone, pushing it into the pocket of his jeans, “I would love to, little one, but I need to get some papers from home. I left them there last night and I really need them for a meeting later” The taller male declined, smiling and closing the distance between them to press a kiss to Jimin's forehead in apology.

“You're going to be at work the whole day then again?” Jimin wanted to know, watching how Jungkook left his bedroom. Swiftly, the pink haired boy headed after him, almost tripping over his own feet in the process.

“Yes, most likely” Jungkook answered, “What are you doing today?” He then asked, picking up his shoes in order to put them on, gaze fixated on Jimin as he waited for him to respond.

“Uhm, well, I switched my shift with Somin so I have to be at work a little earlier today. Then, I'm going to the dance studio to practice and I might call YK entertainment to see whether we could have a meeting somewhen this week” Jimin replied, unconsciously playing with the hem of his shirt.

“I'll make sure to talk to my father about a meeting as well”

“Thank you, that would be great” Jimin smiled, giving a nod.

As Jungkook finished getting into his shoes, he straightened his back and studied Jimin's features, looking back and forth between the pretty brown orbs of the pink haired one.

“How fast can you get ready?” The younger boy wondered, eyebrow arched up as he nodded at Jimin.

Frowning, the latter titled his head to the side in confusion, “Why do you ask?”

“No, that's fine, it's not that far from here, really. You are in a hurry, so go ahead and leave” The black haired boy hesitated, clearly deliberating over something - Jimin could see it in his eyes, could see his mind racing.
“I... Text me when you leave, okay, little one?” Jungkook insisted, approaching Jimin to capture his lips in a swift kiss, the touch sending sparks through Jimin’s body.

“Okay, talk to you later” Jimin uttered, still a little bewildered by everything.

“Later” Jungkook responded before he exited Jimin's apartment, waving back at him.

The pink haired boy blinked, contemplating over what had just went on.

Something must have triggered that nightmare. Whatever it was, whatever had happened in it – something must have caused it. The look on Jungkook's face had been so... so- Gosh, Jimin felt his heart clench as the picture of Jungkook's expression flashed in front of his eyes. Frankly, he didn't even want to think about it. The mere thought sent a shiver down Jimin's back.

Then again, Jungkook had seemed to have recovered fairly quickly, gathering back his composure after cuddling Jimin for a while, reassuring himself by having Jimin close to him appearing to ease that fear in him.

Would Jungkook want to talk about it again later when they both weren't in a rush, when they were safe in each other's embraces, tangled inbetween the sheets in one of their comfy bedrooms, promising each other to protect one another?

After all, for a slight moment, he had hesitated to share this with Jimin, perhaps slightly embarrassed by or ashamed of having a nightmare – although that wasn't anything anyone should be ashamed of as you couldn't even control them - Yet, maybe Jungkook would just want to drop the topic altogether, would want to simply forget about whatever had haunted him in his sleep.

Jimin shook his head, sighing at his racing mind. Right now, he needed to get ready for work. With one last glimpse at the door, Jimin hurried into his bathroom to shower.

---

After the smaller boy had rushed down the stairs, he exited his apartment building, a fresh breeze of air blowing past him, causing him to tug his jacket tighter. As soon as Jimin was about to walk down the street, he halted in his tracks, gaze falling on someone standing not too far from him.

Beomsoo.

Beomsoo was standing there, a few feet away from Jimin in his usual attire – a black customised suit - bowing immediataly upon noticing Jimin having arrived downstairs. Without a word, he opened the door to the car for the shorter male.

What was he doing here?

Confused, Jimin pulled his brows together, frowning at the older man as he approached him.

“What... what are you doing here? Did something happen?” Jimin wondered, not exactly capable of coming up with an explanation for why Beomsoo was waiting in front of his apartment buidling, “Jungkook-ah has already left” He informed the man.

The taller man chuckled, giving a nod as he gestured for Jimin to get in the car, “Mr. Jeon asked me to pick you up and drive you to wherever you need to go. He wants me to be your personal driver today”

Deepening his frown, Jimin titled his head to the side, “Why? Why would he want that? I mean, that's... that's nice, but he never did that before. Besides, I'm perfectly capable of walking to work”

Beomsoo gave another nod, smiling warmly, “I'm afraid I don't know, Mr. Park. I just receive my orders from Mr. Jeon. I usually don't ask why he wants me to drive him or anyone else to a certain place. I'm just doing my work”

Jimin returned the smile out of politeness, shaking his head, “Jimin is enough, really. I told you before” The pink haired one stated kindly, “I really don't need you to drive me around today. Thank you, really, but I like walking”

Bowing slightly, Jimin waved goodbye before he walked past Beomsoo.

However, not as easily as he had hoped for.

“I'm afraid I can't let that happen. Mr. Jeon told me you might refuse the offer, but he was very persistent on this order. Mr. Jeon wants me to drive you to wherever you need to go and he was very clear with that. I don't think he would welcome or appreciate a no”

Jimin crossed his arms over his chest, huffing, “I'm sorry, but...” He paused, remembering that he had to be at work soon and couldn't afford this back and forth right now, “Well... I guess, that's nice of you and of Jungkook-ah. Thank you”

Giving in, Jimin walked up to the car, hopping in the backseat before Beomsoo shut the door close. While the taller man got in the car, Jimin fastened his seatbelt, placing his hands in his lap as he stared out the window.

“Where do you need to be?”

---

Where are you? – Jungkook

Jimin smiled at the message as he hopped in the backseat of the car, asking Beomsoo to wait for a moment. The smaller boy had just gotten finished at dance practice, drenched in sweat, but euphoria running through his body as practice had went very well today – Jimin avoiding Dongha as well as he could. Yet, the frequent glances by the brown haired male hadn't gone unnoticed by Jimin.

Just got done at practice. I'm in the car right now. Are you still at work? - Jimin

It didn't take long for Jungkook to answer.

Yes, but not for that much longer. Do you want to spend the night at mine? I'll finish up here quickly and head home as soon as I can. You could already go over to my place. - Jungkook

I would like to shower at mine first. It was a tough practice again... - Jimin

You can do that at mine so you don't have to drive back and forth. I'll pick up some food for us on my way home. - Jungkook

Okay, sounds great :) See you later – Jimin

See you later, angel. - Jungkook

The pink haired boy's heart fluttered as he set down his phone, informing Beomsoo that Jungkook wanted to meet Jimin at his place. The taller man gave a nod as he pulled out of the parking spot, heading over to Jungkook’s apartment.
Jimin was chewing on his food, staring at the TV as he did, yet not really paying much attention to the drama that was currently airing. Instead, the shorter male proceeded to take glimpses at Jungkook, still somewhat concerned about the boy next to him.

First, there was this odd message on his phone, the nightmare and then the demand to have Jimin be driven around. Surely, something must be going on, right? Perhaps, all of these things were tied in some way, connected in a way Jimin needed to figure out.

Certainly, Jimin wasn't just being paranoid... was he?

“How was work today?” Jimin wanted to know, voice quiet and unsure as he glanced at the black haired boy next to him.

Jungkook swallowed down his bite, fixating his gaze on Jimin, “Hoseok hyung came in this morning to talk to my father”

“I heard” Jimin smiled, recalling Hoseok breaking the news to them earlier at practice, “He signed the contract and he seemed really excited about it”

“So are we” The younger male responded with a smile, “Hyung is amazing. I'm glad he accepted.”

Giving a nod, Jimin set his plate down on the nightstand, feeling full already.

“I talked to my father about a meeting” Jungkook then revealed, Jimin's eyes going wide at the news. “You did?”

“Yes, I did. My father was happy to hear that you're interested. I told him that I want to be present for it and that you want to know a little more about the offer, but that you haven't made a decision yet. He suggested for us to meet up for dinner somewhen this week” Jungkook elaborated, setting down his plate on the nightstand as well.

“That sounds great. I would love that. Although... I'm a tiny bit scared, too” Jimin admitted, voice becoming quieter with each word as he played with the hem of his shirt absentmindedly, “I don't know why. I mean, I met your father before, but it's just... I don't know, it's stupid. I don't know how to explain it”

The black haired boy turned his body towards Jimin, grabbing his chin softly in order to guide his face back up, locking eyes with the latter, “Whatever it is, it surely isn't stupid. But you really don't need to be scared. I'll be there to make sure you're comfortable and that my father is very clear and honest about everything. Don't worry, it'll be fine” Jungkook reassured him, rubbing his thumb over Jimin's cheekbone, the touch causing Jimin's heart to flutter.

“Thank you” Jimin murmured softly, smiling shyly.

“Have you talked to YK entertainment yet?”

Sighing, Jimin shook his head, “No, not yet. I wanted to call him today, but I kind of forgot in the hectic of practicing. I'll do it tomorrow, though. Hopefully, he'll have time for me”

“I'm sure he will take time out of his schedule for you. I know him quite a bit, he's a good one. There are people in the industry that you definitely wouldn't want to meet or hang out with, trust me, and I'll do my best to make sure you won't have to cross their paths, but he's not one of them. He won't screw you over or pull some shit on you, don't worry”

Jimin found his heart ease at the information, smiling gratefully as he leaned in to press a kiss to Jungkook's cheek.

“Thank you” He whispered against his skin.

Jungkook tilted his head to the side, peppering kisses on Jimin's face with a smirk, lips gently brushing over Jimin's fair skin, the touch causing goosebumps to rise on each spot that Jungkook caressed.

“I have a present for you, Jiminnie”

The pink haired boy's eyes lit up as he lifted his head in curiosity, “A present?”

Just like that, all of the concern had vanished – at least for now, Jimin completely forgot about everything else.

“Mhm” Jungkook confirmed as he got up from the bed, “It's something we've talked about before”

“Kook-ah, you don't have to buy me presents, I don't-”

Jimin's mouth fell shut as he observed Jungkook picking something out of his dresser. It was a little white box, a bow sticking to it at the top.

“I hope you like it” The younger boy noted, smiling as he handed Jimin the box. The smaller one closed his palm around the object, scanning it with curiosity in his eyes. It wasn't heavy, Jimin realised as he placed it in his lap, “Open it, angel”

Nodding, Jimin lifted the cover of the box, hesitant as he took a peek.

As soon as his gaze fell on the object, his eyes lit up, cheeks turning a shade of pink.

“A-A collar?” Jimin whispered, smiling as he picked up the collar. A small pendant dangled in the front of it, Jungkook's name engraved in it.

There it was again, the fluttering of Jimin's heart.

“I picked a pink one because I thought it would look beautiful on you, especially with your hair colour” Jungkook explained, brushing strands of Jimin's hair out of his face.

“It is beautiful” Jimin murmured, observing the collar in his hand. The material was soft on the inside, surely created that way to make it more comfortable for the one wearing it – for Jimin who was going to wear it, some lace bound to it.

Jimin's stomach twisted, excitement bubbling inside of him as he glanced up at Jungkook again, noticing that the latter was already staring at him intently, gaze dark, but affectionate.

“Is this... Is this a dog collar?”

The taller boy chuckled at the question, clearly not having expected it as he shook his head, “No, baby, this one is specifically made for humans. It's slightly different from a simple dog collar. I chose one with a softer fabric on the inside for you. See?” Jungkook responded, reaching for Jimin's hand and guiding his fingers over the inside of the collar.

Jimin swallowed hard, gaze still fixated on Jungkook as the boy had closed the distance between them. The younger one was looking at the collar, but noticed Jimin staring at him. As they locked eyes, Jimin felt his breath hitch in his throat, feeling as if he had been caught – which he kind of had.

Jungkook smirked, leaning in to brush his lips over Jimin's, “Want me to put it on you?”

The smaller boy's heart skipped a beat, a shiver running down his back as he looked back and forth between Jungkook's eyes, “Yes, please” He breathed, voice soft as he nodded.

Jungkook reached for the collar, Jimin allowing it to slip from his grasp as he gripped the hem of his hoodie, figuring he should remove it in order for Jungkook to put the collar on him, “S-Should I?” Jimin asked, assuming that the latter understood what he was referring to.

“Mhm, go ahead, little one”

With that, Jimin pulled the hoodie over his head, dropping the piece of clothing down on the bed next to them. In the meanwhile, Jungkook had adjusted himself behind Jimin, sitting down on his knees as he moved closer.

Jimin's heart was beating fairly fast, his breathing uneven as his chest was already rising and falling rapidly – a mixture of excitement and nervousness clearly visible.

“Are you nervous?” Jungkook whispered, his breath hitting Jimin's skin, causing goosebumps to form in that exact spot.

“A-A little bit” The pink haired male admitted, looking back over his shoulder. To comfort Jimin, Jungkook pressed his soft lips against his nape, kissing him soothingly.

“Don't be, if you don't like it at all, I'll take it off”

Jimin inhaled a shaky breath, nodding as he straightened his back. The taller boy was still caressing his skin, peppering kisses over his neck while he tenderly rubbed his warm hands over Jimin's arms. The touch caused Jimin to relax, the boy finding himself fall into comfort – the way Jungkook always did, the latter just having that kind of effect on Jimin, the ability to soothe him with a mere touch or simple words.

“I won't put it on too tightly” Jungkook promised as he moved his hands up to Jimin's neck, holding the collar in his right hand. In a swift motion, he opened up the object, wrapping it around Jimin's throat gently.

The smaller boy gasped, hands clenching into little fists as Jungkook carefully fastened the collar around his throat, leaving some space so it wasn't on too tight. Once he was satisfied, Jungkook traced his fingertips down over Jimin's arms, pressing a soft kiss to his shoulder.

“Is that good?”

Jimin swallowed hard, feeling his adam's apple push against the object wrapped around his throat in the process. Slowly, Jimin lifted his hand up to his throat, reaching for the pendant dangling from the collar. For some reason, his heart fluttered at the realisation of Jungkook's name being engraved in the pendant – the collar around his throat some kind of proof that he belonged to Jungkook.

“Y-Yes” Jimin breathed, nuzzling his cheek against Jungkook as the latter rested his head on top of his shoulder.

“Not too tight?”
“N-No, it's perfect” Jimin whispered, observing how Jungkook got up to his feet, walking around the bed in confident steps, halting as soon as he was standing in front of Jimin.

“Fuck” The black haired boy cursed, gently gripping Jimin's chin to guide his face up, exposing his throat to him, “So pretty, kitten”

Jimin's heart fluttered at the pet name, the urgency to watch his own reflection in order to see how the collar looked on him blooming inside of him. To be fair, Jimin already loved this – loved the feeling of it around his throat, loved how Jungkook's eyes had lit up as soon as he had seen Jimin wearing it, loved what it meant.

The pink haired one loved everything about this.

Curiously, Jungkook wrapped his fingers around the pendant, smiling as he let it slip from his grasp, causing the pendant to dangle around. Pride, affection and slight arousal blossomed inside of Jungkook, the sight of Jimin wearing a collar with his name on it affecting him in a way he hadn't expected. Surely, he had been aware that he was going to love seeing Jimin wear it, but these feelings were exceeding his expectations – the actual image so much better than anything he had ever imagined.

Smiling, Jungkook gave a nod as he reached for Jimin's arm, intertwining their hands, causing them to align in the way they always did. Gently, he pulled Jimin up and off the bed, the smaller boy's feet coming in contact with the floor.

Together, they walked into the bathroom, Jungkook switching the lights on while Jimin tip toed in front of the mirror, eyes lighting up as soon as he caught his own reflection.

“So beautiful, little one” Jungkook complimented, walking up behind Jimin and closing his hands around his hips. Slowly, he moved his hands up and down over Jimin's sides, caressing the skin with his warm touch.

Jimin gulped, titling his head from side to side to fully take in the picture of himself. It was odd to see such a thing be tied around his throat, yet... he couldn't deny the excitement and happiness that spread throughout his body. No, even more than that, he loved the sight so much more than he was able to put into words.

“Do you like it?” Jungkook wanted to know, lifting his hand up and pushing two of his fingers inbetween the collar and Jimin's neck.

“I-I love it” Jimin answered just as Jungkook slightly pulled on the collar, the object pressing into Jimin's throat tighter and causing him to gasp. In response to the action, he moved his head back, essentially allowing Jungkook to manhandle him.

The taller boy smirked, having caught the way Jimin's penis had twitched in his pants, having noticed the way goosebumps rose on his skin.

“It looks so good on you, baby” Jungkook whispered into his ear, “Mine, aren't you, kitten?”

Jimin gave a nod, whimpering as Jungkook pulled him back against his chest, rubbing his crotch against Jimin's perky butt, “Y-Yours” The smaller boy moaned, eyes fluttering shut.

Humming in satisfaction, Jungkook ran his hands over Jimin's stomach, fingers trailing down to the waistband of his jeans, “Okay?”
Swiftly, Jimin nodded, not exactly trusting his voice in his current state - was almost sure that his voice would break, that his tone would be high-pitched, if he spoke up right now. That's just what kind of effect Jungkook had on him, pulling him into that mental state so easily, Jimin finding himself slip away into a world where he was being taken cared of and dominated, allowing himself to submit to Jungkook.

“Can you tell me your safewords, kitten?”

With a tender touch, Jungkook zipped down his pants, pulling them down slowly as Jimin inhaled another shaky breath, lips parting as Jungkook sank down to his knees behind him.

“Red for stop, yellow for pause, green for okay” Jimin uttered, voice just above a whisper as Jungkook removed the pants from his body, the older one stepping out of them and watching Jungkook toss them to the side.

“So stunning” Jungkook whispered, running his hands up and down over Jimin's shaved legs, goosebumps rising beneath his touch on the fair skin. Whenever Jungkook's palms reached Jimin’s butt, the smaller boy found himself whimper, pushing his hips back in a silent beg for more.

Yet, the movement earned him a gentle slap to his inner thigh, causing Jimin to gasp.

“Don't move, kitten”

“I-I'm sorry” Jimin whispered, the stinging sending jolts of pleasure through his body as he noticed how his thighs were already trembling due to the sensation.

“Such a pretty ass, little one, wanna leave marks everywhere on your body” Jungkook growled, playing with the waistband of Jimin's underwear, tugging it down in a swift motion without any warning.

In response, Jimin yelped, the sudden movement causing him to draw his thighs together. Jungkook appeared to forgive him for the action - at least Jimin wasn't punished for it - as Jungkook removed his briefs from his body, tossing them somewhere to the side as well.

Now completely naked and exposed, Jimin whined, a shiver running down his back upon the realisation of Jungkook sitting on the floor behind him, face right up in Jimin's butt – nothing able to be hidden.

“Colour?”

“G-Green” Jimin answered without an ounce of hesitation, catching his bottom lip between his teeth as he felt Jungkook tap his hand against his inner thigh.

“Spread your legs for me, baby”

The pink haired boy obliged with a nod. Already, Jimin was so incredibly aroused, penis half hard and essentially rubbing against the counter – creating more friction – whenever he moved an inch, although Jungkook had prohibited him to move at all. Jimin's heart was pounding fast against his chest, the beat seeming to increase with each touch or word from Jungkook.

“We're going to play now, Jimin-ah”

“Mhm, I'm going to eat you out, little one”
“O-Oh, mhm” Jimin moaned breathless, eyes falling shut when Jungkook grabbed his buttcheeks, parting them and exposing Jimin's pink tight hole to him.

“Eyes open, baby, I want you to look at yourself while I eat you out” Jungkook ordered.

Jimin's penis twitched at the demand, eyes fluttering open immediately. The smaller boy found himself blush as he stared at his own reflection in the mirror – eyes already glassy, lips red due to him biting down on them so much, cheeks flushed a pretty shade of pink - the beautiful collar wrapped around his throat somehow such a perfect fit to his current look.

“You're gorgeous, aren't you, little one?” The black haired boy uttered, voice a little softer than before as he looked up at the mirror, meeting Jimin's eyes.

The latter's heart fluttered, a shy smile appearing on his face as he stared at Jungkook with big eyes, “T-Thank you, Kook-ah”

Instead of saying anything else, Jungkook leaned in to press an open-mouthed kiss to his inner thigh, sucking on the fair skin ever so slighty to leave a small mark. Jimin found himself hunch forward, leaning on the counter as he pressed his eyes shut, hissing at the faint pain.

Jungkook's tongue licked over his creation, a sound of satisfaction slipping from his lips as he trailed open-mouthed kisses up over Jimin's skin, lips brushing over the latter's perky butt as he moved closer to where Jimin needed him the most.

Without any further warning, the taller boy licked a fat stripe over Jimin's hole, blowing against his rim right after.

“O-Oh, god” Jimin breathed, eyes falling shut at the sudden sensation rushing through his body.

The younger male smirked against his skin, ego swelling at how responsive Jimin was, at how he was able to evoke these kind of reactions from the beautiful boy. In order to hear more of these pretty sounds, Jungkook leaned in to lick over the pink hole again, twirling his tongue around the tight muscle and savouring each second of it.

“Ah-ah, K-Kook-ah” Jimin whimpered high pitched, steadying himself on his lower arms as he looked back over his shoulder, down at the boy that was pleasuring him, currently lapping at his hole.

Slowly, Jungkook pushed his tongue between Jimin's rim, the hole opening up and granting Jungkook entrance without any resistance. The action caused Jimin to gasp, the boy swiftly catching his bottom lip between his teeth to muffle any more sounds.

The sudden silence resulted in Jungkook glancing up at him, taking a glimpse at the mirror and catching Jimin's reflection. Frowning, the taller boy pulled back and gave Jimin's upper thigh a spank, Jimin yelping and flinching at the slap.

“Kitten, I told you to look at yourself, hm, didn't I?” Jungkook asked, voice stern, but soft somehow, in a way only Jungkook was able to convey as he gently rubbed over the spot he had just slapped.

“I-I'm sorry” Jimin apologised, voice just above a whisper as he forced his gaze back on his own reflection, cheeks turning a darker shade of pink in shame.

Humming in acknowledgement, the black haired one drew his attention back to Jimin's pink hole, the tight muscle shining now as it was coated in his own spit, a good amount of it trailing down between Jimin's crack.
The smaller boy swallowed hard, somehow feeling odd as he looked at himself while he was being pleasured, observing his own reflection in the mirror as Jungkook pushed his tongue in and out of his hole, twirling it around every now and then or lapping at the hole with swift and firm licks.

“J-Jungkook-ah, m-more, please” Jimin whined, unconsciously pushing his hips back in Jungkook's face which earned him another slap to his inner thigh. In response, Jimin gasped, penis twitching at the slight pain before jolts of pleasure ran through his body.

“Colour?” The taller boy wanted to know, breathing heavier as he met Jimin's eyes in the mirror again, his own gaze intent. Slowly, he pushed two of his fingers against Jimin's hole, the latter's eyes going wide while he parted his lips.

“G-Green” Jimin assured, mouth agape in a silent scream when Jungkook pushed his two digits between the tight muscle, watching the hole open up around them and allowing them to slip inside with little resistance, “O-Oh, s-so good, Kook-ah”

Jungkook smirked as he scissored his fingers, rubbing against Jimin's sensitive walls in the process while simultaneously pushing the digits further inside, “Yeah? I'm going to make you feel so good, kitten”

It didn't take long for Jungkook to find the sensitive nub of nerves inside of Jimin, humming in satisfaction once the latter yelped and hunched forward, the smaller boy's legs trembling at the stimulation. Jungkook felt his own dick twitch in his pants, Jimin's responses affecting him in a way Jimin probably wasn't even aware of.

While the black haired boy proceeded to rub over his prostate, dabbing his fingers firmly into the sensitive bud every now and then, high-pitched moans and whines were slipping from Jimin's lips, the poor boy attempting to observe himself in the mirror. Yet, with the current pleasure he was receiving, it was utterly difficult.

More than anything, Jimin was trying his hardest to not move around too much, wanted to behave and be good – refused to cause a situation where Jungkook might be disappointed or annoyed by him.

“Such a good boy for me, aren't you, baby?” Jungkook asked, tone low as he met Jimin's gaze in the mirror, fingers still moving relentlessly in and out of Jimin's hole, the stimulation and inevitable pleasure increasing. There was already precum dripping from Jimin's slit, trailing down his hard length.

“Y-Your good boy” Jimin whimpered and gave a nod, hands clenching into tiny fists as his delicate features scrunched up in ecstasy, Jungkook not able to draw his gaze away, staring at Jimin intently, “O-Oh my god, K-Kook-ah!”

The heat in the pit of his stomach continued to gradually built, Jimin finding himself be brought closer and closer to his release while Jungkook proceeded to firmly rub over his prostate.

“T-Too much, Kook-ah, please, please, need you, don't want to~” The poor boy attempted to form a cohesive sentence, struggling as he was only capable of fussing incoherent words. The attention on his prostate was simply too much for him to handle, was sending him to the edge way too fast – way too intensely.

Just like that, Jungkook's fingers were gone as the black haired boy slowly pulled them out of Jimin, allowing his digits to drag along the sensitive walls in order to evoke another whine from Jimin.

Jimin gasped, hiding his face in his arms as he clung onto the counter, Jungkook tracing his fingertips up and down over Jimin's inner thighs in the meanwhile, observing how Jimin's legs were still shaking due to the prior stimulation.

“Are you okay, kitten?” Jungkook then whispered, getting back up as he placed his hand on Jimin's back, caressing the skin with his warm palm while waiting for the pink haired one to answer.

The poor boy was still trying to collect himself, chest rising and falling rapidly as he felt himself come down from his high, slipping away from the edge that had been so utterly close. Gulping, Jimin lifted his head, meeting Jungkook's gaze in the mirror. The black haired one was patiently staring at him, allowing Jimin to take all the time he needed.

“Y-Yes, just- please”

Nodding, Jungkook leaned down to press a tender kiss below Jimin's nape, whispering a “Good boy” against his skin before he straightened his back. While proceeding to keep his eyes fixated on Jimin, Jungkook swiftly opened his belt. Slowly, he zipped down his pants, tugging them down as well as his briefs just enough to expose his hard length. The taller boy wrapped his hand around his erection, giving it a few tugs before he dropped his hand.

“Jimin-ah”

“Mhm?” Jimin hummed, swallowing hard as his eyes rushed up to Jungkook's face, away from the hard length that had caught his attention. The older one could feel his penis twitch again in anticipation for what was to come – couldn't wait to feel Jungkook inside of him, filling him up so nicely.

“I'm going to be very rough today, maybe testing some limits of yours” Jungkook stated, his fingertips tracing over Jimin's back, goosebumps rising beneath the touch. The action was somehow very different to his promise – so gentle, so sweet – almost like the calm before the storm. Jimin was excited to find out what Jungkook would do, “In case it's too much or it hurts- in case you don't like anything I do, what do you say, little one?”

“R-Red or yellow” Jimin answered, voice just above a whisper, yet firm to assure Jungkook that he was still in a mindset where he was capable of understanding the importance of this conversation. After all, doing this involved a lot of trust. Jungkook was very aware of the state Jimin was already slipping into, had to make sure that he knew how to stop it in case anything got out of hand.

Suddenly, he lifted his hand up and spat right into it, closing his palm around his throbbing member a moment later. The smaller boy caught his bottom lip between his teeth, the obscenity of the action causing his penis to twitch as he watched Jungkook jerk himself off in the mirror.

Jimin felt the urge to touch Jungkook himself blossom inside of him, wanted to be the one to pump him to full hardness, wanted to be the one to feel his member between his full lips, allowing Jungkook to use his mouth for his own pleasure.

“O-Oh” The pink haired boy mewed, eyes falling shut at his own imagination, cheeks turning a darker shade of pink at the dirty thoughts he was having.

Without any warning, Jungkook pressed the tip of his erection against Jimin's rim, but didn't quite push it in yet. Instead, he moved his hard length up and down, brushing the tight ring of muscles with each motion, but only ever poking it in very slightly.

The faint touch was already driving Jimin crazy – the teasing so mean, Jungkook so mean – because he knew exactly what he was currently doing to Jimin.

“P-Please, Kook-ah” Jimin whined, looking back over his shoulder in order to take a glimpse at the boy that was purposely prolonging the moment of finally entering Jimin.

Suddenly, Jungkook grabbed a bundle of Jimin's hair, pulling on it and guiding the latter's face back to the mirror with light force. In response to the action, Jimin yelped, a dribble of precum escaping the slit of his shaft, “What did I tell you, kitten? Is it that difficult for you to stay still and look at yourself in the mirror, hm, little one?”

Jimin gulped, shaking his head as he clenched his hands into petite fists, “I'm sorry, K-Kook-ah.”

The younger male only hummed, slowly sliding his member between Jimin's rim, watching it disappear between the tight ring of muscles that opened up with little resistance, “Fuck, Jiminnie”

Moaning high-pitched, Jimin watched his own mouth fall open in a silent scream, eyes going wide at the sensation of finally being penetrated. His own reflection looked back at him with flushed cheeks, a fluffy mess of pink hair on top of his head accompanied by the same coloured collar around his throat.

“K-Kook-ah!” The smaller boy cried out once Jungkook had bottomed out, the big size of Jungkook's hard length filling him up so nicely, Jimin having to adjust to the size of him.

With shaky legs, Jimin spread his feet further, wanting Jungkook to be able to reach even deeper inside of him. The black haired boy glanced down at Jimin's hole, watching his own dick disappear in the tight heat of the latter. The sight caused his hard length to twitch, Jungkook's hands rushing down to Jimin's butcheeks, kneading the flesh before he moved his palms up to Jimin's waist, gripping his hips tightly.

Jimin whimpered at the way Jungkook's digits firmly pressed into his skin, the pink haired boy very certain that the action was going to leave bruises on his body. But he didn't care- no, rather loved it, loved everything about this.

“Move, Jungkook-ah, thrust into me” Jimin found himself request, panting heavily which caused Jungkook to smirk because he hadn't even started yet, barely touched the poor boy. Yet, here was, knees getting weak and penis twitching at the way Jungkook was staring at him with dark eyes.

What Jimin didn't expect at all was the harsh slap that landed on his right buttcheek, the boy gasping at the sudden pain. Jimin flinched, hunching forward as he sucked in a breath, jolts of pleasure running through his body as he met Jungkook's gaze in the mirror, “You're not telling me what to do, kitten” Jungkook growled as he leaned in, mouth right against Jimin's ear, his breath tickling Jimin's skin, “Beg for what you want, kitten, let me hear your pretty voice begging for my dick”

“O-Oh god” Jimin moaned breathy, eyes fluttering shut at the way Jungkook was talking to him.

It took Jimin a moment to organise his thoughts, attempting to draw his mind away from how aroused he became by Jungkook using those words, by Jungkook talking to him like that.

However, apparently, it was a moment too long as Jimin earned himself another slap to his ass, the poor boy jerking at the punishment while another gasp slipped from his lips. Jimin swiftly bit down on his bottom lip, didn't want to admit how much this was actually turning him on by moaning or whimpering.

“Don't make me tell you again” Jungkook warned against his ear with a low tone, locking eyes with Jimin's reflection in the mirror. The taller boy's eyes were dark, pupils dilated and glistening with lust and desire. There was always some sort of softness hidden in there, Jimin always capable of finding comfort whenever he was worried about Jungkook being actually mad at or disappointed in him.

Jimin blinked, swallowing hard as he unclenched and clenched his hands into tiny fists, legs still trembling from Jungkook's hard length being settled inside of him, stretching him out so nicely, yet not really stimulating him as he wasn't moving at all – wasn't even remotely brushing over his prostate.

“Please” Jimin breathed and swallowed hard, staring at Jungkook with desperation in his pretty eyes, “P-Please, Kook-ah, I need you- I'm begging you to- just- just- moooove, please, oh, please, thrust into me” The smaller boy begged as he pushed his hips back against Jungkook, which honestly – Jimin must say - wasn't exactly the greatest idea as he should have known and realised a moment later when Jungkook's palm came down on his buttcheek in a harsh spank again.

“Don't move, kitten, or do I have to tie you up?” Jungkook asked as he closed his hand around Jimin's hip again, securing the boy in his position the way he wanted him to.

Yet, before Jimin could even register whether or not he was supposed to answer, Jungkook pulled out of Jimin just to slam his hard length back into him with force. In response to the movement, Jimin rocked forward against the counter with a scream, Jungkook groaning at how tight Jimin's heat was around him.

“Fuck, kitten, so tight for me”

“Ah, oh god, so d-deep, Kook-ah!” Jimin cried out when the black haired boy repeated the motion right away, again and again, snapping his hips against Jimin with force, entering his tight hole even deeper.

“Yeah? I'm going to reach even deeper, baby” Jungkook promised with a particularly harsh thrust to prove his point, ramming his hard length further into Jimin. The action evoke a loud whimper from Jimin that turned into a scream as his whole body twitched at the stimulation.

“Right there!” Jimin whined high-pitched, legs trembling as he collapsed down on his lower arms, body too weak to hold himself up on his hands any longer, “Yes, please, Kook-ah, right there!”

“Found your prostate, hm, didn't I, kitten?” Jungkook growled, the sound of skin slapping against skin echoing in the bathroom, somehow even amplified as they mixed with Jimin's high-pitched whines and mewls.

“Yes!” The pink haired boy cried out and nodded frantically, trying his hardest to not push his hips back into the touch because he wanted to be good, wanted to behave for Jungkook, “P-Please”

The taller one picked up a faster pace, snapping his hips into Jimin even quicker. The rhythm was relentless, Jimin just rocking back and forth at how forceful Jungkook was thrusting into him. Each time, Jimin's prostate was stimulated, Jungkook hitting it dead on without any sign of mercy.

More precum leaked from Jimin's tip, trailing down his length and most likely dribbling down to the floor, yet neither of them noticed – or would care, if they ever noticed. They were too caught up in each other, Jimin's eyes rushing back and forth between the way Jungkook was thrusting into him and his own face.

It was still odd to watch his own reflection while he was being pleasured. It was dirty and obscene and Jimin felt his stomach stir at the mere thought of it – but it was also so very arousing, penis twitching when he thought about how dirty and exciting all of this felt.
Jungkook couldn't take his eyes off of his lover, full attention on the pink haired boy panting and moaning in front of him, sinful lips parted as those pretty sounds were slipping from them, cheeks flushed such a pretty pink which perfectly fit with collar around his throat.

The black haired boy was so damn happy that he had chosen this particular collar for Jimin, breath having hitched in his throat upon seeing Jimin wear it for the first time just moments ago – still now, the sight mesmerised him, was so damn fulfilling. It made him feel powerful, but also made him feel so fucking lucky to have Jimin be his.

Damn, he was a lucky bastard indeed.

Jungkook's gaze rushed down to his name dangling back and forth at Jimin's throat with each snap of his hips, “So pretty, baby, such a beautiful kitten, aren't you?”

Jimin whimpered at the compliment, “T-Thank you, Kook-ah” The poor boy barely got out, way out of his mind at this point by the way his prostate was being stimulated. It was surprising how he was even able to form some sort of coherent sentence.

The shorter male was shaking vigorously, drool running down his chin while Jungkook proceeded to fuck into him relentlessly. Jimin knew- he just knew that he wouldn't be capable of any more self-control. The urge to push his hips back against Jungkook to meet his thrusts simply became too big for him to resist.

For a moment, Jungkook just stared at Jimin's reflection intently, almost challenging as Jimin chased his orgasm while rolling his hips back against Jungkook.

Then, the younger male shook his head, clicking his tongue as he hooked his fingers around Jimin's collar and pulled harshly on it. The action caused Jimin's breath to hitch in his throat as he was forced back up against Jungkook's chest, the latter still sliding in and out of him at a slower, almost teasing pace.

Jimin gasped, hands coming up to his throat as he felt his adam's apple poke against the object around his throat. For a moment, it was harder to breathe, Jimin almost choking at the lack of air, his eyes going wide as he looked at Jungkook. It was embarrassing how Jimin's penis twitched at the way he was being manhandled.

“You're a desperate, naughty boy, aren't you, kitten?” Jungkook asked with a growl, letting go of the collar to grab a bundle of Jimin's hair in order to hold the boy in the position he desired.

Jimin winced and gasped, the stimulation as well as the way he was being dominated arousing him so very much.

“Use your words, kitten”

“N-No” Jimin whispered, voice a little raspier due to his screaming, “I-I'm a good boy, Kook-ah, I'm your good boy”

The black haired one stilled his hips, eyebrow arched up, “Are you really, baby? Good boys obey, don't they? You keep disobeying me and that's what naughty boys do” Jimin swallowed hard as Jungkook pulled on his hair again, the pain so sweet, “Naughty boys deserve to be punished. Is that what you want? Do you want me to punish you, little one?”

“N-No” Jimin whined and shook his head, tears swelling up in his eyes when Jungkook was about to pull out of him, “Please, don't stop. I-I want you. I'm trying not to move, but I... but I want- I just need you so badly, Jungkook-ah, pleeease. I'm good. I promise, I'm a good boy” The boy sniffed as he reached back for Jungkook, scared the boy would just leave him on his own as a punishment.

Jungkook's expression softened as he rested his head on Jimin's shoulder, grasp on his hair loosening slightly, “Can you tell me your colour, angel?” The younger boy whispered, voice tender as he traced his fingertips over Jimin's arm.

“G-Green, green, green” Jimin assured without a doubt, “Just- Just don't stop, please, don't leave me”

“I wasn't going to, little one, I'm right here” Jungkook uttered as he pressed a kiss against his temple.

“P-Please” Jimin breathed, catching his bottom lip between his teeth upon Jungkook snapping his hips against him in order to pick up a slow pace.

“What do you want?” Jungkook asked as if he didn't already know.

“You, please- faster, deeper, Jungkook-ah, need you- Aaaaah!” Jimin begged, voice turning into a high-pitched scream when Jungkook rammed his hard length into Jimin deeply, finding his prostate in mere seconds.

“Is this what you want, kitten? Want me to fuck you so hard until you cry?”

Jimin whimpered at his dirty words, sobbing at the nice stretch, the way his prostate was being stimulated. Jungkook was still grabbing his hair firmly, holding him against his chest in a rather uncomfortable position – but Jimin didn't care about the discomfort, loved the way Jungkook was treating him.

Frankly, he still didn't know why he loved it so much, was pretty certain that there was something wrong with him. Shouldn't he dislike this? Why did Jimin love the pain so much? Why did he enjoy the way Jungkook was dominating so much? Why did the promise of making Jimin cry from pleasure excite him that much?

Jimin didn't know.

Didn't need to know.

He felt safe. He felt loved. Jimin trusted Jungkook and the taller boy had assured him that feeling like this was okay, that he didn't need to feel ashamed – nor did he need a reason as to why he even enjoyed any of this.

“Oh god, Kook-ah!” Jimin cried out at a particular harsh trust, attempting to hunch forward, yet restricted by the way Jungkook was holding him up against his chest, thrusting into him without any mercy while panting against his ear.

“Look at yourself, look at how pretty you are getting your brain fucked out by me” Jungkook muttered into his ear, hot breath tickling on Jimin's skin.

Jimin could only whimper, lifting his hands up, but only clenching them into little fists as he proceeded to watch Jungkook's reflection take him hard from behind.

“The collar looks so beautiful on you. Such a pretty kitten for me, aren't you?”

“Mhm” Jimin could only hum, nodding frantically.
“Who do you belong to?”

“Y-You” Jimin breathed, eyes fluttering shut and body twitching when he received a spank against his upper thigh.

“Louder, kitten”

The taller boy appeared to forgive him for that, could see how desperate Jimin was, how fucked out he was due to the way Jungkook was ramming into him. Drool was trailing down the smaller boy's chin, tears in the corner of his pretty eyes.

“Only mine” Jungkook growled possessively.

“Yes, yes, yes, Kook-ah, feels so good!” The pink haired male moaned, whimpers turning up in pitch and frequency with each passing second as Jimin felt the heat gradually built up in the pit of his stomach.

“My good boy, aren't you?”

“Y-Yes, your good boy, only yours, Kook-ah”

“That's right, kitten”

Swallowing hard, Jimin deliberated over touching his own penis – was simply too close, just wanted to tip over the edge. However, he was very aware of Jungkook most likely not being very fond of that idea.

“I'm c-close, Kook-ah, may I-” Jimin warned, locking eyes with the younger one.

“No, don't come, baby. Be a good boy and wait for me”

Jimin couldn't help but sob, tears finally streaming down his face as Jungkook picked up an even faster pace which was simply too much for him to handle as he was attempting to prevent himself from coming without permission. The pink haired boy screamed out, squirming around when Jungkook wrapped his hand that wasn't currently tangled in Jimin's hair around his throbbing length and gripped it tightly at the base.

“N-No, please, I-” Jimin cried out, sobbing as his orgasm was being denied although he could feel it in his bones – was so close - muscles spasming already, “Kook-ah!”

“Aww, is my babyboy crying?” Jungkook cooed, the new pet name causing Jimin's heart to flutter even though it caused his penis to twitch in Jungkook's grasp all the same, “Sssh, don't cry, kitten, I'm going to make you come so hard”

The promise was whispered against his ear, yet Jimin still wriggled around, panting and whining as he struggled to keep still, just wanted to come so badly, oh please, let him finally come.

Suddenly, Jungkook hooked his fingers around the collar again, pulling Jimin up with force. The action caused the latter to stand up on his tippy-toes as it would be more difficult to breathe unless he did that. Jimin gasped, eyes blown wide in lust yet also desperation as they stared at Jungkook.

“Stay still or I'll punish you, kitten” Jungkook warned, voice threatening.

For a moment, Jimin actually deliberated over whether or not he shoud act upon that threat - disobey again just to see what Jungkook would do to him. Should he genuinely test the taller boy?

Slightly ashamed, the smaller boy dipped his head down at the idea, not entirely sure why that thought had came up in his mind.

Of course, in a way, Jimin was curious to find out what Jungkook was capable of doing to him, yet at the same time that urge was confusing because usually Jimin just wanted to be good and behave.

Why did he suddenly want to be naughty? Why did he even remotely think about challenging Jungkook and actually urge him to punish Jimin?

A shiver ran down the pink haired boy's back at the thought. Clearly, that was self-destructive, wasn't it? Surely, Jimin appeared to love being spanked, loved Jungkook being rougher with him – actually thrived on it - yet what if Jungkook would punish him by denying him his orgasm completely? What else was there that Jungkook would do to punish him? Potentially, it would consist of things that Jimin maybe – or even most likely – wouldn't enjoy? After all, wasn't that the actual purpose of a punishment?

Swallowing hard, Jimin shook his head, deciding that it wasn't such a good idea after all, but still determined to bring up the topic of punishments in a conversation with Jungkook later when both of them were out of their current headspaces.

Jimin's eyes were blown wide in bliss, Jungkook cursing at the sight of Jimin receiving pleasure from the way Jungkook was manhandling him, was dominating him.

“I-I'm trying, K-Kook-ah” Jimin sobbed, body trembling as he attempted to stay still, Jungkook still fucking into him from behind, his hard length brushing over Jimin's prostate firmly with each snap of his hips.

“You're so desparate, babyboy, aren't you? Can't stay still because you want to feel my dick fuck into you deeper, hm?”

Jemin whimpered, squeezing his eyes shut as more tears streamed down his face, “I need to come, p-please”

“Should I go harder, kitten?” Jungkook asked, acting upon his question right away as he sped up, his dick fucking into Jimin in a relentless pace.

The smaller boy cried out, squirming around as he tried to push Jungkook's hand away from his penis, the tip already such a dark shade of red, “N-No, d-don't go faster, just please, let me come, Kook-ah, I can't- I-”

Jungkook's hand rushed down to Jimin's waist, the boy digging his fingers into the skin deeply in order to still Jimin's movement, the latter eventually hunching forward and collapsing on the counter as Jungkook wasn't holding him up by his hair or collar any longer.

Sobbing, Jimin hid his face in his lower arms, body shaking vigorously as he felt his orgasm get immensely close, but there was nothing Jimin could do about the feeling as long as Jungkook was restricting him from coming by having his hand wrapped around the base of his hard length.

“Aww, kitten, don't cry” Jungkook cooed, rubbing his warm hand over Jimin's back soothingly before he traced his palm up and hooked two of his fingers around the collar, giving it a harsh pull in order to lift Jimin back up.

The sight of tears running down Jimin's cheeks while the poor boy was begging for Jungkook to let him come was causing his dick to twitch inside of Jimin's hole, his own release not too far away.

However, for a slight moment, Jungkook got worried whether he was going to far.

“Little one” Jungkook murmured into Jimin's ear with a soft tone, meeting Jimin's gaze in the mirror. Jimin's eyes were blown wide and glassy, the boy seeming dazed as he stared back at Jungkook, “Can you tell me your colour, baby?”

Jimin swallowed hard, blinking slowly as he contemplated over that one. The pink haired male was determined to see where his actual limit was, wanted to see how far he could go, but then again he didn't know how much longer he could bear this denial of his orgasm for.

“G-Green, but please, K-Kook-ah, I'm begging you, please let me come, I've been good, haven't I?” Jimin whined, voice so vulnerable and soft that it pulled on Jungkook's heart strings.

Jungkook smiled as he pressed a kiss against Jimin's temple, humming lowly, “Yes, kitten, you've been good, the best boy”

The fluttering of Jimin's heart was inevitable at this point, the boy sobbing at the praise as he attempted to reach back to touch Jungkook, too. The taller boy intertwined one of their hands for a moment, giving Jimin's palm a gentle squeeze in reassurance, trying to comfort him and make him understand that he's been such a good boy, that Jungkook was so proud of him.

“Your good boy?”

“Yes, little one, my good boy”

The way Jimin's eyes lit up at those words made Jungkook want to protect the boy forever – as if he hadn't already promised himself to do exactly that.

Fuck, he had fallen so deeply for him.

Shit, was he in love.

“Just a little longer, kitten, do you think you can do that for me? You'll come so hard, hm? I'll make you come so hard for being such a good boy for me”

Sniffing, Jimin gave a nod, the promise of his release causing his stomach to stir in excitement. With that, Jungkook picked up a slow pace again, his hand caressing Jimin's side for a moment before his palm wandered up to Jimin's hair, the boy grasping a bundle of his pink locks.

In response, Jimin hissed, whining and squirming around as soon as he felt Jungkook's erection hit his sensitive nub of nerves, the stimulation on his prostate sending him right back up to the edge as if he'd never come down to begin with.

“Jungkook-ah!” Jimin screamed out, drool trailing down his chin as Jungkook sped up his movement, “Ah- Ah- Ah, please!”

“Do you want to come, babyboy?”

“Yes, please, oh god, please!” Jimin cried out, nodding erratically as he pressed his hands into tiny fists, the delicate features on his face scrunched up in a mixture of pain and pleasure. The pain so sweet, the pleasure so overwhelmingly intense, but beautiful.

“Beg for it, kitten”
Sobbing, Jimin attempted to dip his head down, yet wasn't capable of doing just that as Jungkook was pulling on his hair, guiding his face back up to the mirror.

“Watch while you beg me”

“P-Please, let me come, K-Kook-ah. I've been a good boy, please, I can't take anymore” Jimin begged, rocking back and forth with each snap of Jungkook's hips, voice breaking into high-pitched whimpers and cries.

“Louder, baby, you can beg better than that, hm?”

“You're mean” Jimin complained quietly, squirming around as more tears streamed down his face, Jungkook pulling on his hair harsher while his eyes darkened. The smaller one gasped, wincing at the pain.

“I'm what? Say that again, little one”

“I-I'm sorry, I'm sorry, Kook-ah” Jimin apologised, innocent eyes glancing at Jungkook who seemed to deliberate over whether or not to spank Jimin for that one, whether or not he should punish the boy that appeared to be way out of it at this point, “P-Please, just, I'm begging you, please let me come, I-I've been good for you”

“I believe you deserve to wait a little longer for that one, kitten”

“No, no, no, Kook-ah, I can't, I really can't, it hurts” Jimin sobbed, shaking his head as he wriggled around in his spot, desperately trying to push Jungkook's hand away from his penis while the latter was still fucking him firmly, “I'm going to be good, I promise, I-I'm going to be a good boy”

Jungkook tilted his head to the side, humming lowly as he pulled his hand away from Jimin's dick, “You're going to come untouched then, just from my dick fucking into your tight little hole the way you like it” Jungkook ordered against Jimin's ear with a growl.

In response, Jimin cried at the relief that washed over him, whining high in his throat as he felt his orgasm rush closer, ecstasy running through his body.

“Go on, babyboy, I'm not going to tell you again. I thought you wanted to be my good boy, hm? Come for me then, kitten” Jungkook urged, hooking two of his fingers around the collar again to give it a slight tug.

Just like that, Jimin's muscles spasmed, whole body tensing before he felt his orgasm wash over him, “Thank you, thank you, thank you!” Jimin cried out high-pitched as his body trembled vigorously.

Immediately, sperm shot out of the tip of his penis in swift spurts, some of it splashing on the counter while some dribbles trailed down on the floor beneath them. The poor boy had to stand up on his tippy-toes, Jungkook still pulling on the collar while proceeding to thrust into him, prolonging the intensity of the feeling.

“There you go, kitten, made a mess for me, didn't you?”

“Y-Yes, for you” Jimin murmured, eyes rolling back into his head as another wave of pleasure hit him, more cum spurting out of his penis and joining the puddle on the counter.

Eventually, Jimin squirmed around in Jungkook's hold, his orgasm still running through his body while Jungkook continued to fuck into him. The taller boy's eyes were fixated on Jimin's expression, those sinful lips parted while screams and whimpers of pleasure were slipping from them, his cheeks... flushed such a dark shade of pink as more tears streamed down his face.

Fuck, was he beautiful.

As soon as Jungkook allowed the collar to slip from his grasp, Jimin hunched forward, finally collapsing on the hard surface of the counter, right on the mess he made. However, Jungkook didn't stop, fucked him right into oversensitivity.

“N-No, I-I can’t” Jimin whispered, his voice somehow gone as he pressed his heated cheek against the cold surface, his breath hitching in his throat when Jungkook grabbed his arms and pulled on them in order to press them against his back.

“Made such a mess for me, kitten, gonna make such a mess in your little hole, too”

Whimpering, Jimin squeezed his eyes shut at the sweet pain, legs still shaking. Essentially, Jimin would have collapsed to the floor by now if it wasn't for Jungkook pressing his arms to his back with one hand while holding Jimin steady at his hips with the other.

“Keep your hands on your back” Jungkook ordered as he moved his hand up to Jimin's hair, grabbing a bundle of his pink locks and pressing Jimin's head harder against the counter as he proceeded to fuck the smaller one into it.

Jimin cried out, his penis not able to soften as the stimulation continued. It was as if he was still coming right now, orgasm never having left him as his erection kept leaking out more sperm.

“Please, come inside of me, Jungkook-ah, want to feel you fill me up” Jimin begged, clenching around the taller male who cursed and brought his palm down to Jimin's ass with a spank. The latter yelped, assuming – or rather, certainly knowing – that there were going to be many marks and bruises left on his body from the roughness Jungkook was treating him with.

And Jimin loved that so much.

“Yeah? Want to feel my cum leak out of your tight little hole, hm?”

“Y-Yes, please, Jungkook-ah”

For a moment, Jimin wondered if any of Jungkook's neighbours were currently hearing them. Then again, Jungkook had assured him that they wouldn't need to worry about their volume in his apartment, that they could be as loud as they wanted to.

The sound of skin slapping against skin, Jimin's high-pitched whines and screams combined with Jungkook's groans and obscene words were echoing in the small of the room, amplified in the silence of everything else. Jimin could only pray that no one was listening to them right now, would want the ground to open up and swallow him whole if they did – again.

“So fucking good, kitten” Jungkook groaned, cursing again when Jimin clenched around him without a pause, the ring of muscles so damn tight around Jungkook and finally sending him over the edge, too, as he found his own release.

“Yes !” Jimin moaned as he felt Jungkook's cum spurt out of his penis inside of him, painting his sensitive walls.

“Shit, little one” Jungkook groaned, eyes falling shut as they both hunched forward, collapsing on the counter together while the taller boy was still slowly rocking his hips back and forth to ride out his orgasm.
Bodies sticking together – Jungkook still fully dressed, if it wasn't for his pants hanging below his penis, Jimin completely naked and sweaty - the two boys were catching their breaths, chests rising and falling at a rapid pace, both of them having slipped into such a beautiful haze of pleasure.

Jimin was still whimpering due to the oversensitivity he was experiencing, his poor prostate still being stimulated.

“K-Kook-ah” Jimin whispered, arms still clasped on his back as he looked back over his shoulder, his gaze meeting Jungkook's who leaned in to press a kiss to his forehead.

“Such a good boy, Jimin-ah”

Smiling at the praise, the smaller one was about to nuzzle his cheek against Jungkook, yet whined high in his throat when the latter straightened his back, suddenly gone.

Jimin couldn't feel his own body – everything aching, but then, somehow, there was nothing Jimin was actually feeling because he was floating again, floating somewhere and apparently way too exhausted to acknowledge the soreness of his body.

Slowly, the black haired male pulled out of Jimin, appearing to move in a slow pace intentionally to allow his penis to drag along Jimin's sensitive walls, causing the poor boy to sob at the intensity of the feeling.

Jungkook groaned at the sight of Jimin's pink hole clenching around nothing but air, the man slapping the tip of his softening dick against Jimin's rim. In response, the shorter boy gasped, catching his bottom lip between his teeth.

While Jimin proceeded to clench around nothing, Jungkook's cum began to leak out of his little hole. As if being mesmerised, Jungkook's gaze was fixated on his own sperm slowly dribbling out of his lover, the sight so obscene and such a turn on for him, dick twitching in his grasp.

“My messy boy, hm? Filled you up so nicely, didn't I?” Jungkook uttered, taking a glimpse at the pink haired boy still clinging onto the counter, whole body jerking once Jungkook pressed two of his fingers against his rim, coating them in his own cum.

“K-Kookie” Jimin whined and shook his head when he realised what Jungkook was up to, feeling the younger one push two of his fingers inside of his hole to press the sperm back inside.

“Damn, I wish I already had your pretty buttplug, little one, would've made sure to keep my cum inside of you. All warm and nice. Would you like that, kitten?” Jungkook wanted to know, tone low as he pushed his fingers deeper, smirking once Jimin yelped.

“Y-Yes, I w-would like that, Jungkook-ah” Jimin breathed, nodding frantically as his eyes fluttered shut, Jungkook beginning to rub his fingers over his prostate slowly.

As predicted, Jimin cried out, shaking his head as he squirmed around in his spot, “N-No, stop, K-Kookie! No more, please” Jimin begged, Jungkook increasing the pace of his movement, dabbing his fingers against the sensitive nub of nerves firmly.

“No more?” Jungkook echoed, slight amusement in his voice as he closed his free hand around Jimin's hips, stilling the boy's movements, “But it feels so good, doesn't it?”

Sobbing, Jimin noticed that new tears were swelling up in his eyes, his body not bearing any more stimulation. His poor penis was hurting, his hole way too sensitive for any more abuse.
“P-Please, I-I can't- I-”

“Sssh, baby, I know you can, hm? You're my good boy, aren't you?” Jungkook cooed, rubbing over Jimin's prostate fast and hard in the process.

Crying out, Jimin shook his head, pushing his body further into the counter in order to get away from Jungkook's touch. However, the black haired boy hummed in dissatisfaction and pulled him right back by his hips, manhandling Jimin into the position he wanted him in.

“No, please, Kookie!” Jimin wailed, attempting to draw his thighs together, yet it was no use as Jungkook slapped his inner thigh, ordering him to keep his legs spread. The action evoke a whine from Jimin, the poor boy hiding his face in his lower arms after he saw more precum leak out of the tip of his still semi-hard erection.

“Angel” Jungkook called out, voice a little muffled.
