Eren shuddered as his neck was touched, his hand going right to Levi’s chest, grabbing his tank top and turning to drag him back towards the stairs. “Make me believe it then.” I still can’t help but think I’m dreaming…

Levi stumbled a bit as he was dragged up the stairs, swatting Eren’s ass. “Who is it that gives the orders here?” Levi still let Eren drag him back up to their bedroom, though he himself took over, pulling him inside and onto the bed. Mine.

Eren yelped a bit when his ass was smacked, grumbling at him for a moment before tugging Levi to his room. He was about to speak when Levi pulled him onto the bed, trying to prop himself up but being completely consumed by Levi’s strong arms “L-Levi….” Oh my god…. Are we gonna be rough? I wouldn’t mind it but…. I wanna cling to you after…
“Hm?” Levi made himself busy stripping him and Eren of their tops, showing off his muscles. “There something you… want?” Levi tossed the garments aside, his mouth immediately going to latch onto a perky nipple. You always made beautiful sounds when I did this...

Eren’s eyes widened immediately, his back arching from the pleasure as he let out a loud moan, his face becoming flushed. “L-Levi…. Ah…. Ha! S-stop….” Don’t tease me… Dammit, I want the real thing. His hands ran through Levi’s hair, feeling his soft undercut and whimpering as Levi continued to abuse his pink bud. Fuck! I’m so sensitive… He could already feel the heat around his body starting to grow. I didn’t really touch myself while you were away… Fuck your hands feel so good ...

Levi lapped at the pink bud, kissing it. “It's still so early… what do you say we have some fun now… and later tonight…” He reached down south, gently gripping Eren’s bulge. “We have some fun with a-ll those toys I saw you have…” It'll be wonderful… I'll get to hear you beg for release and watch you come undone over and over...

Eren swallowed visibly, his eyes shaded with want and need. “O-Okay….” That sounds like a good plan… His eyes widened when Levi grabbed his length. “L-Le-v-vi… B-be gentle… I’m s-s-ah!” He cried out when Levi brushed his thumb over his slit, already starting to feel like he was ready to explode. Fuck…. I’m gonna cum so quickly ....

Levi nodded, moving to ease Eren out of his sweatpants, mouthing near his base as he slipped out of his own, lapping at the skin. “I'll be gentle…” Levi reached for lube and a condom, his other hand running over Eren’s nude body. “So beautiful…” You're still as handsome as always… as perfect as I remember...

“Hhmph….” Eren jolted when Levi’s fingers made it over his sides, his face flushing even redder down to his neck. I’m really sensitive.... Everything is on overdrive .... “Levi…. Hurry up…” He whined breathlessly, his hands coming up to cup Levi’s cheeks before making their way down his body and tracing every line down his abdomen. So gorgeous.... And he’s all mine...

Levi soon dipped his head down to kiss his neck, rolling on the condom and slicking himself up. “Don’t worry, baby, I’m here. I'll make you feel good…” Levi lined up with his entrance, feeling Eren cling to him as he entered him. “I'll make you feel better than good.” Levi started a brutal pace, nipping at Eren’s neck. You sound so wonderful...

Eren forced his eyes closed as he immediately wrapped himself around Levi’s torso. His fingers were clawing at his back, scratching him as his heels dug into Levi’s back. “F-Fuck…..” Eren whimpered, holding onto him tighter as he felt the warmth pool in his abdomen quicker than it ever had before. “Ha! Levi… Levi slow down!” I don’t wanna cum yet… But I’m going to if you keep going like this… His face was buried in the crook of Levi’s neck, taking in his scent, struggling to hold off his orgasm. It feels so good … I haven’t had you in such a long time

“Hm… still sensitive, are we?” Levi reached down to firmly hold his base, deeply rolling his hips and making Eren shudder. His voice was husky in his ear. “Do I need to get out the cock ring? Give you a little taste of tonight, hm?” I’d love to draw this out…

“P-Please…” His words were breathless as he looked down at his throbbing dick, leaking precum like there was no tomorrow. Shit… I almost came! I almost just came… Eren sighed as Levi pulled out, a whine leaving him as he felt empty, flipping over onto his stomach in front of Levi as the shorter man grabbed the ring from the nightstand.

Levi rifled for the cock ring, reaching to slide it down Eren’s length until it firmly held his base, freeing his hands to strike teasingly over his stomach, his soft thighs. I love you… Levi’s front molded to Eren's back, his tip nudging his entrance. “Do you want slow… or rough?” Your pick...

Eren tilted his head back, shifting his shoulders so he could see Levi, pulling him down to kiss him, pulling away and looking directly in his eyes. “Slowly… Make love to me…. The cock ring’ll be able to hold me back.” Hopefully …

Levi moved to kiss him deeply at that, their tongues sliding against each other as he slipped into his heat, his hands tenderly wandering all over him from his chest to the creamy skin of his inner thighs. So perfect… Levi broke their kiss, going to suck marks onto his neck as he began a gentle pace, his hands everywhere on him. Mine...

Eren whimpered as he sheathed himself fully, though he quickly relaxed in his hold. I miss this, I miss this so much. He shifted his back, letting his ass come up higher in the air and join up with his hips better. Fuck he’s deep… “Shit…. Levi, you feel so good, I don't want you to leave.” I don’t wanna let you go.

Levi rolled his hips deeply into him, littering his back and neck with marks. I don't wanna let you go... “Don't worry… we’ll make the most of this.” Levi lapped at his neck. “All day for today… and tomorrow… all until New Year’s… all yours….” Thank fuck they let me come home……. I'm so happy I'm here...

Eren groaned as he felt Levi’s hands grip onto his hips. I wonder if he’s noticed I’m thinner…. I mean it’s not by much but…. He let out a loud cry as Levi finally thrusted directly onto his prostate. “Ha! Levi ! T- there !” Oh my god…. there please . Eren’s fingers gripped onto the sheets below him, feeling his coil beginning to tighten.

Levi’s hands held him carefully but firmly, nipping at the joint of his neck as he steadily thrusted into him. “Baby, you’re so tight…. and you sound wonderful….” His fingers splayed over his hips. “Just for me…” I love this...

“Y-Yeah…. Just for Y-you….. Levi… Ngh, I-I-I’m gonna cum….” He whimpered as Levi continued to thrust on his prostate. Fuck… I wanna cum….. But I have that cock ring on… Fuck! His back arched more, sinking his stomach down to the mattress as best as he could. Eren shifted his head to the side a bit to look back at Levi and see his face as it looked over him. Fuck he’s beautiful ...

Levi could feel himself nearing the edge, and the look that Eren sent him as he arched his back, looking over his shoulder to him went straight to his cock. “So handsome…” Levi couldn’t keep his eyes off him, slowly thrusting onto his prostate. “You want to cum?” Levi’s hand trailed down to his length, lightly rubbing his shaft. God… that look ...

Eren’s eyes closed as he let out a loud moan. “F-Fuck! Levi…..” He could feel the drool already starting to come down his chin, his body growing hotter than he’d ever felt before. Fuck, I want you to be back and stay…. But you’re gonna have to leave aren’t you….

Levi felt the ring clamping around his base, slowly easing it down Eren’s shaft. He could feel himself nearly bursting, stroking Eren firmly when the ring was off. “Eren… cum for me.” I wanna hear you….

Eren’s face completely flushed as Levi took the cock ring off. Fuck… I won’t be able to hold it… He whimpered when Levi stroked his cock, wanting his attention and leaning his head back to try and get him to grab his hair. “F-fuck…. L-Levi… Make me….” I’m almost there…. I’m on the edge, I need a little push...

Levi stroked him quicker, his other hand moving up his hips and side, going to pull his head back by his brunette locks, sucking at his adam’s apple. “Oh, I will …” Levi thrusted into him harder, hearing his moans grow higher-pitched in moments. You’re so… perfect...

Eren’s whole body shuddered when he felt Levi’s hands pull his head back but he wasn’t expecting him to suck on his adam’s apple. The sensation threw him over the edge. “Levi!” He screamed his name as he came hard into his hand, clamping down on Levi’s thick cock. Holy fuck…. I can see stars…. Hmm, that felt so good….
Levi came hard as Eren clamped down on him, stroking his and drawing out his release, feeling him pulse in his hand. “God, you're gorgeous…” Levi kissed his neck, slowly untangling them, letting Eren roll over before he moved to claim his lips, kissing him deeply. Mine… all mine...

Eren’s hands moved to cup his face, pulling him close. I missed you so much… He barely noticed that he had started to cry, the warm tears rolling down his cheeks. I want you to stay...

Levi slowly kissed him, feeling the salty tears hit his cheeks, pulling away for a moment. He moved to kiss at the corners of his eyes, his voice soothing. “It's okay, Honey… I'm here…” Levi moved to toss out the condom from where he was, nestling on top of Eren. “I love you… so much…” I love you....

Eren’s arms wrapped around Levi’s shoulders, his tears coming back anew. “I m-missed you…” He hiccuped as he pulled Levi close to him. I missed you so much…. “I don’t want you to leave.” Never, I don’t wanna let you go.

Levi held Eren tightly, drinking in his scent. “It's okay, Eren. It's okay. We have one whole week to do whatever we want together. You won't have to let go of me at all if you don't want to while I’m home. We’ll make the most of this.” Levi kissed his cheeks, trying to soothe him. I'm sorry I don't have forever… but we have each other for right now.

Eren nodded, holding onto him tighter, his hand coming up to thread his fingers through his undercut. “Uhm… I-I’ve been meaning to ask… Did um… Did you like the video?” I know it was forever ago that I sent it… But I hope you liked it....

Levi chuckled quietly, his hand lazily running over Eren’s side. “I loved it… there are quite a few of those toys that I'm interested in… playing with, with you.” .......and I kinda really wanna try the sound....

Eren blushed completely, averting his eyes in embarrassment. “Okay….” He trailed off as he saw a scar that hadn’t been there before, a small white dot near the top of his shoulder. “What’s this?” It’s so small…. It wasn’t there before?

Levi looked over as Eren touched the small spot, swallowing nervously. “Uhm… you're not gonna like this, but… that's a scar from a while ago, I'd been shot clean through… it didn't take long to heal, I was fine to just keep working after a bit, but… yeah…” Levi looked to where Eren's eyes were wide with fear, kissing his cheeks. “But I'm okay now, I'm okay. It wasn't serious, I wasn't in too much pain… it's okay.” Please don't panic...

Eren’s eyes were wide as he looked at him, already feeling the tears start to well in his eyes. He got shot … “...oh my god…” He was close to hysteric as he looked to the white Mark, slowly moving his hands to cover his mouth. Oh my god, he got shot! I…. Oh my god! He could be dead! He didn’t hear Mikhail coming towards the door and getting his paws on the handle to open it and come in. Levi could’ve died …

“Eren, baby…” Levi cupped his jaw, pressing butterfly kisses all over his cheeks and lips. “I'm okay now. I know it's so hard to think about but I do end up in danger… but I'm so well protected, it was just a fluke… I know it's scary but I'm okay. Baby, look at me.” Levi pulled back a bit, his thumbs running over his cheeks. “Right now, I'm okay. I'm in one piece, and I'm here in your arms for the week. I won't make you let go.” You don't have to. Levi murmured to him and helped Eren to slowly calm down, immediately tugging the sheet over them as he heard the door open, confused when he turned and saw Mikhail trotting in. “...new dog?” I don't remember seeing you around… and you're a few years old it looks like...

Eren nodded as Mikhail came up into the bed and he licked at Eren’s face. “Y-yeah…. This is Mikhail… He um, he’s really good about following me and making sure he stays with me… He came with me to Germany…” He reached up to pet him, sniffing and rubbing at his face with his free hand. Yeah…. I still need a dog… “Can um… Can you put him outside? I just… I….” He trailed off as he closed his eyes. I know he's supposed to help... But I... I can't take it…

Levi nodded, slipping off the bed and reaching for Mikhail. “Mikhail, c’mere.” Levi got him to obey, getting him out the door into the hall and shutting it, locking the door so he couldn't come back inside. “We have another service dog? It makes sense given Blake’s getting old, but… do you still need one?” Levi looked over to Eren, looking skeptical. “You’ve been doing just fine, I thought.” …right? …yeah, right. You've been good. …….right?

Eren looked down, shifting to lay on his stomach, watching Levi come back to the bed. “Can you grab me my pills?” He asked quietly pointing to the bottle of antidepressants on the sink counter. I’m not doing all that great really…. But I don’t want to talk about it because I don’t want you to worry about it… “There’s like three prescription bottles I need to take in the morning…” Then I take two at lunch with the nausea…. Then I take all three at night before I got to sleep…. Along with all the other pills I need to take… like the PTSD meds...

Levi nodded, going to the bathroom, stopping where took in just how many pill bottles lined the counter. “...uh….. which ones?” Holy shit this is a lot…. What even are half of these for ? PTSD still? Not all of them, there's just WOF104 for that, but... everything else...?
Eren listed off three different antidepressant medications along with his PTSD pills, and his nausea tablets. “... I know it’s a lot, but… It keeps me functioning normally…” At least I think it does.... “Oh and um, the vitamin pills, I need those too…”

Levi slowly nodded, picking them all up with a glass of water, carrying them over to the bed. “Okay, so…” He let Eren go about figuring out how much he needed of what, looking down after a moment and realizing he was stark naked, blushing a bit and moving to lay down next to him again, shuffling under the sheet. .....that’s a lot of pills… Levi just slung an arm over Eren’s middle loosely, watching him. I just… I didn't think we’d be back at this point… where you need more medications than you can count on one hand.... maybe even both...

Eren continued to take his pills, the familiarity of the motions calming him. He had to get up and refill his water with how many pills he’s been taking, coming back and finishing them up. “‘So’ what?” You want to ask something .... And it’s probably about the pills...

Levi looked to him with confusion for a second before shrugging one shoulder, looking away and playing with the hem of the sheets. “I'm just kinda surprised you're taking so much…” Maybe it’s because I'm gone.... he nearly freaked out when he saw the scar from the bullet… “...is it because of me?”

Eren looked around, nodding slightly. “I mean… You’re not here all the time… And if I don’t take them I’ll just end up getting worried sick… Like Dad does… I already did that once while you’ve been gone.” He shuffled so that his head laid down in Levi’s lap. Well, now you know...

Levi reached to pet Eren's hair, playing with his locks. “I know it gets hard because of what I'm doing… but at the end of everything I'll come back okay. I'm sorry you have to worry so much...” I know how much it scares you.... that I won't come home.

Eren looked up to him with a raised eyebrow. “You better come home, because you’re daughter is gonna be 2 by the time your ass get’s home….She’ll know you by something that occasionally shows up on the screen.” Really, I don’t want to do that to her.... But...

Levi looked down to him with shock, before he started smiling. “...it's gonna be a girl?” We’re having a daughter?

Eren blushed, covering his mouth as he looked away. “Fuck… I wasn’t supposed to tell you…” His words were mumbled behind his hand, slowly looking back up to see him. God damn, he’s gorgeous .... “You’re gonna be a father…” His words were soft as he flipped his whole body, curling up around Levi and kissing his abdomen. You’re going to be stuck with me.
Levi smiled, his hands still carding through his mop of hair. “You are too… what are we gonna name her?” We never talked about names…

“No… I’m not gonna be a father… I’ve told you this, I will be her Mum… And I uh-haven’t really thought about names since we couldn’t agree on them.” He shifted, kissing every line on his abdominals, starting to sit up as he made his way to Levi’s chest. Fuck… I miss this...

Levi’s eyes softened as Eren kissed up his chest, one hand tenderly cupping his jaw. “Forgive me, I’ll make sure to call you Mum. Although I will admit, her Mum is rather handsome.” Like… very.

Eren smiled more, shifting up into his lap with ease and wrapping his arms around Levi’s shoulder, curling up to him, not caring that he was nude. Hmm… “I’m glad you’ll at least try.” He kissed Levi’s jaw, going back to his earlobe and gently biting down on it. All mine...

“Of course I’d try…” Levi groaned quietly as Eren nibbled at his ear. “I’ll have a family to come home to.” All mine... “Hmm…” Levi made a quiet sound, holding Eren closer. “Are you trying for a round three? Because if you are, it’s working.”

Eren made a soft non-committal noise, nipping at Levi’s earlobe. His ass moved almost on its own to grind down on Levi’s crotch. I want it... I want it bad... “Maybe I am…. And so what happens then ?” I don’t wanna have you wear a condom.... I wanna feel you inside of me, because then I can take you to the shower and have you bang me there too ...

Levi softly grunted, his hands moving to Eren’s middle, easily moving him so he straddled him. “You get what you want…” Levi moved his head, nibbling at Eren’s neck. “Especially if what you want is me to fuck you even harder.” Levi paused for a moment, tenderly kissing his earlobe, his voice softening. “Or if what you want is me to make love to you… I’d be happy to. But we can do anything you want.” What do you want? I’ll give it to you.

“Hmm….” Eren was at a loss for words for a moment before he blushed from the tip of his ears down to his neck. “L-Lay down…” I wanna do it... I hope I’ll still be able to do it, I haven’t done it to you in such a long time, and my legs are still pretty weak. He pushed Levi down onto his back and straddled his hips, making sure that he could shift and rub their cocks together. I can feel you hardening for me... God that’s awesome …
Levi watched him with dark eyes, his hands gentle on his waist. “You're wonderful…” Levi looked up to him with a faint smile, a small sound catching in his throats as Eren rubbed their hardening lengths together. So beautiful…

Eren smirked softly before he slipped down so that he could take Levi’s length into his mouth, lustful eyes watching his reaction. I'm see you haven’t gotten blown in a long time…. You'll enjoy it… I hope I haven’t gotten too rusty…

Levi watched him move south, his eyes widening as his lips sealed around his tip. “O-Oh… shit…” Levi tried to keep from bucking up into his mouth, his hands going to Eren’s hair, nor gripping it too tightly, but running through the thick locks. “F-Feels, fuck… g-good…” Holy hell…

Eren smirked, a mischievous glint catching in his eyes. He opened his jaw up as wide as he could manage, slowly taking Levi into his mouth until his nose reached the coarse hair at his base. Oh thank god…. I was able to do it… I got it… He could feel a tear form as he struggled to breathe around Levi’s length, slowly coming off of him with a pop and a string of saliva connecting them. Still kinda hurts to do it though…

Levi whimpered as Eren went further down his length, groaning when he went all the way down. “S-So good…” Levi cupped his jaw, his thighs shaking slightly. “So…so good…” He whined a bit when Eren came off of him, panting as Eren licked up and down his length. God I missed this…

Eren’s thin arms kept Levi’s thighs on the mattress, licking his shaft up and down to make sure that he was properly slicked. That should be enough… He gave him a quick teasing stroke before shifting to put his quivering entrance over his head. Oh fuck, I'm gonna ride him hard … “Levi… S-stay still…”

Levi nodded, his hands still on his hips as Eren sunk down his length, his hands running over his thighs as he became fully seated, adjusting. “So beautiful…” God, I can't get enough of you…

Eren blushed even more, bringing his hands up to hide his face. I'm not used to you being like this…

Levi reached up with a faint smile, moving his hands. “Don't hide that handsome face…” He watched Eren blush darker, leaning up to kiss his cheeks. “God, I could just watch you all day…” Flushed, aroused, sunk on my length… god it's hot.
Eren whimpered, looking at Levi with his heated face. “Y-You feel like you got bigger… Hnh…” He shifted his hips up to pull Levi almost out of him before slowly sinking himself back down. His length was red and swollen from the overstimulation. “Y-You d-don’t know how many dreams I- Ngh….. H-had of Y-You….” There were so many…. I just wanted you to come back and sleep with me for a few nights so I wouldn’t have nightmares…

Levi rocked his hips up into Eren, his hands helping to guide him up and down his length, his grip gentle. “I’ve had so many dreams about you… and after that video, God… dream after wet dream… I craved you…. And I… guh…. I have you…” And it’s wonderful.

Eren couldn’t help the smile that formed on his face, a mischievous glint appearing once again. “Hmm… Are you still strong enough to carry me? Would you be able to fuck me while I held onto you? I could probably do it I think… But you would hold me right? In case I fell? He stopped his motions, grinding down on Levi with him fully sheathed. Oh my god, he feels so much better than that fake dick I got…

Levi dug his heels into the bed a bit, his hips lifting Eren a bit off the bed easily, his hands still on his hips. “I think so…” Levi smirked, rolling his hips. He feels so warm...

“C-Can we try…?” He seemed almost too embarrassed to ask as he thought about it. I know you had me up against the wall once… and that felt really good, but I just want it to be you holding me and fucking me…. Without anything else to interfere. Eren’s eyes widened when he saw the absolute look of need in Levi’s eyes… “I-I said that out loud… didn’t I?”

“Oh, don’t worry…” Levi sat up, shifting and keeping Eren on his length as he moved then from the bed. He nipped at the underside of his jaw, moving to the wall. “…I only heard every word.” Levi soon pressed him to the wall, his grip on Eren’s ass firm. He rolled his hips deeply into him, starting a decent pace. “Tell me how it feels, baby…” Levi sucked at his earlobe, kissing his neck.

Eren let out a loud moan as Levi gripped his ass, inadvertently pulling his ass cheeks apart and making him go down on his length even further. “D-Damn… I-It feels really good….” But I don’t wanna be against the wall… I just want you to bounce me on your cock, and there’s nothing else touching me besides you…. I can live with this though… this is good. He whimpered as Levi found his prostate. “.... S- Sarge …. F-fuck….”

Levi paused for an instant when he heard the word, a smirk playing at his lips. “God, you're so tight…. you sound so amazing…. all those beautiful moans…. just for me.” Levi lapped at his neck, sucking more marks on every inch of bare skin he could reach. His eyes lit for a moment, nibbling at the soft flesh. “Is this what you want, Private?” I like this….
Eren’s eyes opened for a moment as he thought about telling him what he really wanted, hesitating. But he’s here…. That’s all that really matters to me right now. “S-Sir… Yes, S-sir…. Ngh...” Eren’s arms wrapped around Levi’s shoulders keeping him close, and nuzzling his face into the crook of his neck. I can’t be too selfish while you’re here… I mean, you’re here… That’s all I could really ask for...

“You hesitated, Private. I expect honest answers from you. So I’ll ask again.” Levi ground hard into him, purring into his ear. “Is this what you want?” Tell me.

“N-No…. N-No S-Sir…. I-It’s not...” Eren could barely form whole words as Levi ground into him, quickly finding it hard not to let out moans. Fuck... He’s grinding into me... so fucking hard... It burns... but like a good burn... “B-But…. I-I’m f-f-fine with th-this Sarge…. Be-because you’re h-home....” I just wanted to be able to touch you and feel you, who gives a shit about what I want, you probably want more relief than me at this point...

“But if this isn't what you wanted, then tell me, Private.” Levi massaged his globes with his hands, nuzzling into his neck as he steadily thrust up into his heat. “What do you want?” Anything.

Eren whimpered, leaning into Levi’s hold. “I-I d-don’t… I don’t w-want to be against the w-wall....” It reminds me of being forced into everything... even after... what... it’s been two and a half years... holy fuck ... He gasped as Levi shifted him, clinging to him for dear life when he wasn’t pressed against the wall. “H- Ha ... Oh my god...”

Levi moved them back from the wall, barely swaying as he managed to keep Eren bouncing on his length, grinding forcefully still. “Is this better, Private?” Levi’s eyes were dark, drinking in Eren’s pleased expression. God, he's hot...

“S-Sir…. Y-Yes Sir…. F-Fuck me Sarge ...” Eren begged him as he clung to him his fingers gripping into his back. I want it like this... Nothing but you... He felt his body heat up and a loud cry escape his throat as Levi nailed his prostate head on. Oh shit... this is gonna be a quick round... I hope he cums inside... Eren instinctively wrapped his legs around Levi’s waist, trying to cling to him as best as he could.

Levi held him tightly enough to bruise, bouncing Eren hard, groaning at the pleasure. God... “So tight.... God, your heat.... I want to hear you, Private.” All those moans... god I love this... I’ve missed you so fucking much...
Eren’s eyes started to water from the sheer force. “Ngh…. F-Fuck…. S-Sarge… d-don’t stop… please… it hurts… b-but it hurts so good…” He felt the burn of Levi pounding into him and stretching him further, crying out in pure bliss. It feels…. I feel so much…

Levi slowed his pace just a bit, still grinding into Eren just as deeply, low moans coming from his throat. “Private…. nng, feels good….” Levi groaned, alternating between nuzzling Eren’s neck and lapping and kissing at the skin with affection. So perfect…

Eren whimpered as he thrusted on his prostate. Fuck that hurt... That hurt a lot... Eren felt his coil beginning to tighten. “S-Sarge….…” His voice had the barest hints of pain as his hands moved up into Levi’s hair, grabbing at it. Eren struggled to keep his whimpers down as he felt the sharp spike of pain emanate from his lower back. Fuck... I think we overdid it.

Levi tilted his head up, listening carefully when he heard certain notes in his voice, slowing down a bit. “Is everything, alright, Private?” Levi kept him up with one hand, the other moving for a moment to run near his hole, skimming over the creamy skin of his back before returning so his other hand could do the same. You sound hurt...

Eren’s eyes were hazy as he gripped onto Levi even tighter. “Ngh… S-Sarge no… P-please don’t s-stop…” I don’t care if it hurts, I can rest after this... Just please don’t stop... He dug his heels into Levi’s back, trying to use that as leverage to get him to get back to fucking him properly. I can make it through.... I’m almost there... Please.....

Levi’s hands returned to his ass, moving him on his length again, smirking at the desperation in his voice. “Eager, are we, Private?” He could feel himself nearing the edge as he nipped at his soft neck, purring into his ear. “I want to hear you scream when you cum.” I wanna hear those sounds...

Eren whimpered as his neck was nipped, his coil tightening. “S-Sarge…..” It feels so good, but it’s really starting to hurt. He let the pain ease out in his voice looking down for a moment to see the floor below him. His eyes widened when Levi nipped his adam’s apple, a loud scream leaving him as he was sent quickly over the edge, making a mess between the two of them. F-fuck.... We over did it... I can feel it... He groaned in pain as Levi continued to thrust into him on that one bruised spot. I think we did too much too quickly.... Damn... He’s warm... Eren felt Levi finally cum inside of him, more whimpers leaving him as he clung to him. Don’t put me down, I don’t want you to put me down.

Levi could hear the pain in his voice, moaning into Eren’s neck as he came, though he walked them back to the bed, carefully laying him down. Eren wouldn't let him pull out, so he just ran his hands soothingly over his hips, massaging his ass. “You okay, baby?” You sound hurt....
Eren whimpered quietly as he was jostled around. “I-It hurts…” He murmured quietly and shifted up a bit, so that his length wouldn’t be pressing against what he presumed to be a bruise. “I… I think we did too much too quickly…” His words soft as he held onto Levi, keeping their bodies together and not wanting to let go. It feels like it’s a bruise.

Levi sighed quietly, softly kissing down his neck, nestling into a warm spot there. *He smells wonderful…. T’m sorry… we got very carried away….∗ Levi ran his hands all over him, easing out just a bit, though Eren kept him from pulling out all the way. “Eren, Honey? Let me take care of you…” I can’t properly take care of you when I’m still buried inside… and you’re hurt…

Eren shook his head, holding onto him. “I don’t want to let go… I don’t want you to leave.” His voice was small as he shifted a bit to keep Levi seated within him. Even if it’s just for a second, I’d rather stay in your arms. ∗ I wanna stay like this… in your arms.

Levi sighed quietly, his lips ghosting over his neck. “Eren, baby, at least let me pull out so I can carry you to the bathroom without hurting you… we can take a nice hot bath together… does that sound okay?” I need to take good care of you while I’m here… I have no reason to do anything less than everything for you…

Eren was hesitant before he nodded, slowly shifting so that Levi’s limp length slipped from him. Damn… I feel empty now… He kept his arms wrapped around Levi’s shoulders. “O-Okay… a bath sounds nice…. ∗ I think I can handle a bath with you… It’ll give me time to see if we’ll be able to do anything tonight or if it’ll hurt too much. “Hmm…. you really filled me up too….∗”

Levi smirked, lifting Eren to carry him to the adjoining bathroom, kicking the door behind them shut. “I’ve been waiting to have you for so long…” I’ve missed you so much… Levi moved to the large if seldom used bathtub, slowly easing Eren to his feet but still holding him flush as he turned on the water, patiently waiting for it to fill. His hands ran over Eren’s back, lifting him again when he shifted in discomfort. “M’sorry I went too hard…” I didn't wanna hurt you…

Eren shrugged, leaning his head into Levi’s chest. “I don’t really mind… I just hope that it’ll feel fine tonight… and maybe heal later… I think it’s a bruise….” Definitely from going at it repeatedly like we just did.

Levi hummed, his nose in Eren’s chocolate locks. “I hope so… and even if it does hurt too much to do that tonight, I remember seeing you have some very interesting toys to play with…” Even if we can’t fuck, I can tease you all I want…
Eren’s face flushed to the tips of his ear as the warm water started to fill the tub. “I-I… I guess y-you could say they’re interesting…” I don’t really think I got so many things that were that interesting… I mean I only got that dildo… the sound… anal beads… a cock ring… oh, I got a ball too… and maybe a few more kinky things… okay, yeah I did… I got some kinky shit. He raised his hands to cover his face in pure embarrassment. “Fuck… I just… I got everything without really thinking about it…”

Levi smirked, one hand moving to pull Eren’s from his face. “Aw, don’t hide that beautiful face of yours… and you’d better not try to hide it from me tonight…” Levi carefully stepped into the tub, easing him and Eren down, extra careful not to slip. “…because you make the most beautiful expressions when you cum…” They really are beautiful…. Levi quietly chuckled as Eren flushed darkly, turning the water off and sinking into the tub, their heads above the water, enjoying the warmth for a moment. “......I love you….” I really do...

Eren squirmed in his hold until he was facing Levi, his legs slenderly wrapped around his waist, his hands coming to cup his cheeks. “I love you more… And you better come home, because I needed you to be the father that your daughter can look up to.” He leaned in to kiss him gingerly, letting his tongue swipe across Levi’s lips, asking for access. I want you to kiss me...

Levi tenderly cupped Eren’s cheeks, shifting them to be more comfortable, lazily kissing him. He felt tired, content in the hot water with Eren pressed against him. Mm… wash… Levi didn't break the kiss as he reached for a nearby washcloth, rubbing soap onto it before moving to wash off their chests, soon gently washing Eren. He still kissed him as he sat up and moved him to wash his legs, tenderly handling the slender limbs, He's so perfect... all mine...

Eren continued to kiss him languidly, allowing Levi to move him around to wash him. He’s so gentle... I miss this, I miss all of this… “Hmmm….” He pulled back to look into Levi’s eyes. “What time is it?” It’s Christmas .... The kids should be up soon, though I’m not really sure how Tucker will handle having Levi here again... “.... And I want you to know you’re the best surprise gift ever ...”

Levi smiled, pecking his cheek. “I’d say around six or seven… and Merry Christmas, babe.” Levi held him close, washing him with care. His hand drifted to his entrance, gently prodding at the pucker, one finger slipping inside to clean him out. You'll feel even worse if I don't clean you out...

Eren gasped as Levi’s finger entered him with little resistance. Fuck.... “Levi....” He whined, trying to get away from his touches. “It’s sore…. Leave me be…” Eren pouted, putting his puppy dog eyes to good use. Why are you fingering me again...? I thought we were done...

Levi sighed as Eren used the puppy eyes, trying to resist. “Honey, I need to clean you out or else you'll feel really sick…” Levi looked away from him, pecking his cheek and still moving his finger in him, trying to coax out the white substance. I came pretty hard… there's gonna be a lot… it shouldn't stay there...

Eren whimpered more as Levi’s finger got deeper in him. “S-Shit…”  He keeps hitting it… It’s so sore… I definitely think it’s a bruise… “B-Be gentle…. Please …” He begged, looking at Levi with his puppy eyes again. I'm gonna be limping at this rate...

Levi nodded, another finger slipping inside him, trying to be gentle. He murmured soothingly as Eren whimpered, feeling him hardening against his stomach. His free hand moved to grasp his length, slowly stroking him as the cum slowly leaked from his hole. “So beautiful…” Please try to relax… let me take good care of you...

Eren groaned as he was stroked. “Ngh….. It's l-like y-you’re trying to get me to pass out….” Fuck his fingers… They're so slender… They feel so good. He shuddered as Levi’s fingers ran over his slit, enjoying the feeling of pure ecstasy that followed. “Hgn….” His body started to relax against Levi’s chest, soft pants filling the air and echoing off the walls. It feels good....

Levi moved gently, cleaning him out and coaxing him to the edge. His voice was soft as Eren started to shake, purring in his ear. “You feel good, love?” He nipped at his ear as the last bit of white left Eren, kissing his dampening hair.

Eren groaned, dipping his head down to Levi’s neck and sucking on it hard, leaving a large hickey. I haven’t had my way with marking you up either… Now’s my chance…. He whimpered as he felt Levi toy with his sensitive head, his mouth going to his shoulder and biting down. At first it was just a gentle nip until he climaxed and his teeth dug into his skin. His eyes closed as he felt the coppery tang of blood rush into his mouth, moaning at the taste and lapping at the wound. “Hmm… Sorry………… Not really….” Eren murmured before he shifted only a few inches and sunk his teeth into Levi’s shoulder once again. You're all mine.

Levi winced as Eren’s teeth broke skin, grunting a bit at the pain. He whimpered quietly as Eren did it again, branding him over and over with his bites. “Hurts… but it's okay…” Levi stroked Eren through his orgasm, letting him bite as much as he wanted. You get to mark me too… hell yes...

Eren’s mouth wandered Levi’s shoulder and towards his neck, a bit gentler as he bit around the tender flesh. He didn’t seem bothered that copper was all he could taste as he shifted to Levi’s other shoulder and bit down once again. “All mine …” Everyone will know you're mine .... No one will try and touch you.
Levi grunted as Eren kept biting him up and marking him, letting Eren mark him as his hands wandered all over his back and shoulders. Eren marked him up for a long time, feeling the repeating sting of his teeth breaking skin. “Yours…” I love you...

Eren had littered Levi’s shoulders from shoulder blade to shoulder blade, all the way across them to his collarbone and around his neck. He spared no skin, making sure that his bites overlapped. He smiled lazily at his work once he was done, lapping at the forming scabs. “That’s much better…” His voice was low and in Levi’s ear as he licked all over him. I wonder if they’ll bruise...

Levi sighed as Eren lapped at the marks, relaxing against the porcelain, holding Eren close, his hands gingerly running over him. “Mm…. now everyone will know we belong to each other.” That's a really nice thought… They were jolted from their peace as they heard a shout from the adjacent room.

They're not in the bedroom, so. Lathe has opened the bedroom door, confused until he saw the bathroom door shut. Ah. “Breakfast is ready, you two! Stop fucking in the bathroom and come eat before everything gets cold!” That'll get them downstairs.

Eren’s eyes widened as he heard a shout from the next room, instantly becoming fearful and clambering into Levi’s arms again. He sighed in relief when it was just Lathe shouting at them that breakfast was ready. “Uhm…. S- Shall we get dressed?” He stuttered and blushed more as he shifted out of Levi’s lap, finally noticing how cool the water was now. How long have we been in here? Eren glanced down to his fingers, seeing how pruned they were and crinkling his nose. A long time I guess…

Levi chuckled as he heard Lathe, sitting up and pecking Eren’s cheek, soothing his nerves. “Let’s get out, babe. It’s been awhile.” Levi helped him to his feet, helping him step out onto the heated tile and reaching for a fluffy towel, helping Eren dry off. He kissed his nose, laughing a bit when Eren shook out his damp hair, watching him glare for a moment. He looks like a puffed-up puppy… but he's my puffed-up puppy.

Eren glared at him for only a moment before childishly sticking out his tongue, prancing off towards his drawer, his ass jiggling a bit. I wonder if he’s watching my ass…. He probably is, sitting down on a chair is not gonna be fun. He browsed through his clothing, grabbing sweatpants and a tank top slipping them on, his sweatpants and even his boxers barely able to stay on his hips as he flopped on the bed. Ugh, I feel like I could sleep for the rest of the day…. But I think Dad made cinnamon buns… “Fo~od….” He hummed as he watched Levi go through his own clothes, the sweatpants too long for him and the tank tops too small, which led to having his abdomen exposed, along with a majority of his shoulders. Damn… I hope Dad doesn’t question it… They’ve all pretty much scabbed over now…
Levi watched Eren move and get dressed, shamelessly ogling him before going to dress himself with Eren’s stuff. He tied the string of the sweatpants to keep them on his hips, not minding that the tank top exposed a sliver of his stomach if he raised his arms too high. Whatever, they smell like you, so. Levi moved to where Eren lay on the bed, tugging a decorative blanket around him. “You’re not letting go of that, are you.” He watched Eren shake his head, sighing and smiling faintly. “Alright.” Levi slid his arms under Eren’s frame, carrying him to the door and down the stairs, not giving a single fuck that his bites were visible. It’s been so much easier to carry you… you feel a lot thinner… I kinda noticed earlier, but it just seems really obvious now… Levi didn’t have to think about it much more at the moment, his mouth watering as he caught the smell of warm cinnamon rolls and pancakes, the table full of plates of breakfast food. I missed Dad’s cooking…. and tonight is the big dinner… yeesh, I’m gonna go back with an extra ten-pound food baby…

Lathe was getting the kids juice, looking over to the stairs as he heard them, his eyes widening as he saw the marks all over Levi’s shoulders. More wounds? They look fresh… and… Lathe instinctively moved to intercept them and fix Levi up before it occurred to him, blushing and going back to getting juice. …they’re bite marks…….. yeah, I’m not gonna make it awkward.

Levi quirked an eyebrow as Lathe looked worried in his direction, glancing down for a second. “Eren’s fine- and I’m fine too. Chill.” Protective Dad mode activated, apparently.

Eren popped his head out of the blanket he was in, looking at Lathe with confusion for a moment before seeing the orange juice. “Orange juice….” He looked up to Levi with puppy eyes, begging without even needing to say another word. Please?

Levi smiled faintly, nodding. “That is what that is, yes.” He chuckled as Eren glared at him, pecking his nose. “I’ll get you juice.” Levi carefully set him in a chair at the table, going to pour him a decent glass of juice and coming back with a glass and an empty plate for both of them. He set them in front of Eren, going back to get himself a mug of tea. He took the mug Lathe knowingly offered him without a second thought, filling it and taking a sip before he recognized which it was— the old yellow train one that Lathe had fixed. …he’s letting me use the nice mug? He felt Lathe gently shoo him to the table, his cheeks pink as he retreated to the breakfast table. I want cinnamon rolls… I always wanted one when I was on Skype and you were eating breakfast…

Eren was swaddled in his blanket, sipping at his orange juice, watching as Lathe brought out a huge plate of cinnamon rolls then another filled with pancakes. Oh my god, food…. But I’m so damn warm… I kinda don’t wanna leave the confines of my blanket. Will he feed me if I stare at him long enough? Eren set the glass on the table, his eyes going right to Levi and watching him fill his plate. Why does he need to be sexy in everything he possibly does?

Levi immediately reached to fill his plate, realizing just how hungry he was. God, I'm starving… I've missed home cooked food… He looked over to Eren when he didn't move, seeing him stare longingly at him. “...you okay?” Eren looked to his plate of food, then back to Levi, pouting and turning up his puppy eyes to max. Those damn puppy eyes... “...you want breakfast?” He watched Eren nod, relenting with a tiny smile. “I'll feed you, don't worry.” Levi scooted a bit closer to him, the plate in between them. He cut up the pancakes, lifting the fork to Eren’s mouth and watching him take the bite. God dammit, he's too damn attractive... Levi gave exactly zero shits as he fed Eren breakfast, enjoying it immensely. I missed doing shit like this...

Eren smirked as he bit onto the fork, refusing to let it go. What’s he gonna do? I wanna know... He watched with determination as Levi tried to get the fork away from him. Nope... Mine.

Ieva sighed as she put her pager on silent. I'm not dealing with anything today.... Dave can deal with it, because my family is home. She smiled at the thought, slowly getting up and getting dressed. It's Christmas, I'm gonna stay home for once... She meandered downstairs seeing that Jake was quietly playing minecraft waiting for food to come out and once it did he was at the table, Tucker not far behind. Oh no, how is Tucker gonna be with Levi around? She watched him, though when he didn’t look up her eyebrows furrowed. Does he not feel comfortable? She was surprised to find her cheek kissed, a smile blooming on her lips as she turned her head to peck Lathe’s lips. “Good morning.” I miss having nothing to really worry about, I’m surprised that Jake didn’t instantly ask to open presents...

Tucker had noticed Eren and Levi sitting at the table when he walked in. I should make myself look small... I’m the only one that doesn’t belong here. He silently made his plate, not bothering to raise his head or his eyes. I wonder if I even have presents... I mean Lathe might’ve tried to make me feel more welcome and get me something... But I kinda wish he wouldn’t.... It’s not like they want me here, I’m a nuisance... Nobody wants me.... Nobody will adopt me.... I’m a monster. Tucker looked down in shame putting his fork down for a moment as he just stared at his food. I shouldn’t be here... But Lathe’ll keep me here anyways...

Levi gave Eren a look, gently tugging on the fork. You’re not letting go. “Eren, I will tickle you.”

Eren pouted but instantly released the fork, watching as Levi added more food to it and raised it to his mouth. Hmm.... I trained you well. He smirked as he opened his mouth, his eyes wide with glee.

Levi lifted the fork to his lips, changing direction at the last moment and eating the forkful himself, trying not to laugh at the utterly betrayed expression on Eren’s face. “But they’re tasty...”

“Good morning Honey.” Lathe kissed Ieva sweetly, hugging her close. I love you. “Are you staying home today?” Lathe looked to her with hopeful eyes. I don't want you to work again when the whole family is here for Christmas...
Ieva nodded, kissing his cheek again. “Yeah, I’m staying home, Dave can get the bonus, I don’t give two shits about it…. Is there anything I can help you with?” Though it looks like you’ve got everything covered… Her arms wrapped around his waist as she looked upon him, unable to keep from smiling as he held her close. I miss having my days off… That’s gonna change…

Lathe smiled as her arms went around his middle, pecking her cheek. I’m so glad you get to stay home for once… “There’s nothing much left to do for breakfast… but you can help eat it.” Lathe kissed over to her ear, gently nipping the soft skin behind it. I love you…

James migrated from the kitchen to the table, wincing every couple of steps, watching Levi get pancakes and cinnamon rolls, tilting his head when he fed Eren… person. “….are you the person from the computer we see sometimes?”

Levi looked over to James, nodding. “Yeah, I am. It’s nice to actually see you, James.”

“Y-You too.” James absently rubbed his chest in circles, the port in his chest painful. It hurts….

“James, please don't rub your chest. It doesn't help.” Lathe had broken away from Ieva as she moved to sit and eat, lightly smacking at his hand and setting down a bowl of Cheerios for him. “Do you want an apple cut up or a banana?”

James thought about it looking down to his chest. Which am I more likely to keep down? “Apple please….” He took the bowl and set it in front of him, slowly picking at the dry Cheerios one by one. At least I can eat these…

…oh yeah… Chemo is a bitch when it comes to messing with what you can and can't eat… Levi watched Lathe nod and go to peel an apple, filling a small bowl for him. He glanced to the bowl of dry Cheerios, out of place in front of the generous spread on the table. That sucks… it really, just…. every part of it sucks… Levi looked over again when Eren poked him, going back into boyfriend mode and lifting a bite of cinnamon roll for him. Food.

Eren smirked and chomped on the fork like a little child, his happiness clearly showing on his face as he stayed huddled in his blanket. I love this… I miss you feeding me, I really do… He looked up as he heard Jake call out to Tucker. Huh?
“Tucker…. You can’t leave yet….” His voice was small, but enough to get the older boy to stop walking and slowly turn back with his head down. What wrong?

Fuck…. I was hoping he wouldn’t notice… No one else did… Tucker sat down once again, letting his head rest on one hand and keeping his head down. No one wants to see me anyways…

Jake looked over to Tucker with wide eyes, reaching over the table and poking the top of his head, the teen looking up in surprise. “Don’ be upset. It’s Christmas! Eat cinnamon rolls and be happy!” It’s easy!

Tucker smiled before he looked down and away slowly pulling his phone out and texting his thoughts.

TQ: I’ll be fine, just worry about yourself Kid…. I’m not hungry anyways…

His eyes were downcast as he handed over the phone, looking away from everyone at the table. I’m the only one here who doesn’t belong…. How can I be happy?

Jake looked at the phone, pouting and speaking with a defiant tone. “I-I’m not gonna not worry ‘bout you. Y-Your Dad made a lot of food, and you didn’ barely touch a cinnamon roll. Everyone loves cinnamon rolls. Eat!” Jake pointed to the nibbled-at roll on his plate accusingly. Eat the food Dad made!

Tucker’s jaw set, taking a deep breath to came himself as he typed out a new message.

TQ: Lathe is //not// my father! He is //your’s//… And I’m not hungry so fuck off.

His brow was furrowed in silent rage as he showed Jake the phone. I’m letting my anger out… Fuck, I need to tuck that back in…

Jake took the phone, his brow furrowing a bit, looking up as if Tucker was dumb. “But he is your Dad! He’s all our Dad!” Jake pointed to himself, Tucker, James, Eren and Levi all with one swoop of his arm. He then tilted his head, his wide eyes curious. “A-An…. W-What does this word mean? …fuck?” Jake looked up as they all looked at him in shock, Jake shrinking a bit, thinking he was in trouble. “I just don’ know what it means!”

“Tucker, why did you write that word and then give it to a 9 year old?” Lathe was shocked throughout the entire exchange, though he soon set his eyes on the teen, his look concerned and disapproving. Why did you do that?

Tucker snatched his phone back, typing as the anger poured from his system.

TQ: BECAUSE I DON'T FUCKING BELONG HERE! AND I'M SICK AND TIRED OF YOU PEOPLE ACTING LIKE YOU’RE MY FAMILY! BECAUSE YOU’RE NOT AND YOU NEVER WILL BE!

Tucker was furious as he threw the phone at Lathe, without even realizing what he did as he stood out of his chair and stormed off. I should just leave! No one fucking wants me anyways!

Lathe was shocked as Tucker suddenly stood, not having a split second to think before the phone hit his face, dropping the mug in his hand and hearing it crack on the floor, the phone tumbling into the puddle of coffee. “Shit!” Lathe swore, holding his eye. Fuck, not good… He rapidly blinked, his vision blurry, though he saw movement from the table, Ieva standing to go after Tucker only for her to be stopped by James? He watched him go after Tucker, Ieva instead turning to him with worry. Fuck… what even happened?!

Levi was on his feet as well, going into medic mode and approaching Lathe, pulling his hand from his face. “Are you okay? You're blinking a lot, can you see?”

Lathe was surprised, stuttering a bit. “Y-Yeah, it's a bit blurry, but I'm sure it’s nothing-”

“How hard did it hit your eye itself? Was it dead on or not really?”

“Levi chill, I'm fine, I swear! My vision's clearing up as we speak, it's fine !”

“Are you sure ?”

“Levi I will smack you, yes I'm sure!” My god, medic mode activated .

Eren was huddled up in his blanket curled tightly around himself. Huh… W-Why? Why is Tucker mad? His eyes were full of fear as he looked to Levi looking over Lathe’s eye. He’s mad… Is he mad at me? Did I do something wrong? He jerked back a bit when Mikhail climbed up into his chair to nudge at his face and lick it. He got violent….

Tucker was furious as he slammed his door shut behind him grabbing his pillows and repeatedly throwing them at the wall. Fuck! I’m so angry! Why the fuck do they always think that they have to cater to me too! All I want is for someone to choose me! But that’s never gonna fucking happen and the longer I stay the more that becomes apparent!

It was a while before James managed to get up the stairs and make it to Tucker’s room, not even trying to convince him to open the door first and just getting the key from the doorframe, using a nearby book to poke it off the top. He shuffled over to Tucker’s door, opening it and shuffling inside, ignoring the angry shout to get out. “Don't shove, maim, or kill me. I have cancer and it does that for me already.” The perfect excuse. He shut the door behind him, looking to see Tucker on his feet, trying to get him out. “Don't yell at me, please.” James didn't seem to care at all about how mad Tucker was as he went to the desk, sitting on the chair there. “Given you just roared at me to get out and you haven't used your vocal chords in seven months, this is a pretty serious thing. So, since your phone is dead in a pool of coffee downstairs, will you start angrily talking in my direction, throw wadded up notes at me, or should I just talk at you and hope you listen?” Easy.

Tucker just got angrier as he continued to list his options, picking up the pillow and slamming it against the wall with an angry scream. He did it repeatedly until he exhausted himself to a point and he had opened up a knuckle or two. Fuck… Now I know why mom didn’t want me…. He could feel the hot tears form as he sat on his bed, in silence, holding his pillow, which had busted minutes ago and was littering down all over the floor, and now him. No one wants me…

….I think he's done for now. He was due a meltdown after seven months… James absently rubbed his chest a bit, his voice quiet, careful as he picked his words. “I don't know how you find it so hard to fit in here.” Tucker was silent, as he expected. “But it shouldn't be so hard. Them, a family all being so open and supportive of you… it's not like it's some sort of show. Like they feel pity for you and nothing else. What they're showing you isn't pity. …these are the same people who decided teaching some homeless teenager from Nebraska who knew as much as a kindergartener how to completely function as a human being was worth it. Pity might give you those thoughts, but doing it… that's it's own thing. Someone who sees a person with cancer might feel pity, but it takes more than pity to raise thousands of dollars for treatment and be the emotional support for when you feel like absolute shit which is more often than not. And I know it must've sounded like pity when Lathe kept you, like he was taking pity on anyone else so they didn't deal with you, but it took more than pity to be a guide to try to help you get your emotional shit under control, especially with the whole homophobia thing. And it takes a certain kind of person to do what's best for you even when you don't want them to and drive them to the ER when all you probably wanted to do was go home, shower, and forget about being raped. I get it. But they turned an uneducated and useless fuckwad like me into someone who actually might not get themselves killed when they go into the world, and I feel at home here. …I always wanted to live in a house… I was so used to boxes and alleys and ditches, you'd think I’d feel weird…. but I don't….“
Tucker was close to sobbing as he held onto his pillow, sniffling to try and calm himself down, but the tears not cooperating and simply rolling down his face. “B-But…. I-I did have a home….. I had two…..” I don’t know if Lathe even knows, maybe he does.... I was brought back.... “I-I had a home.... And n-now I don’t...” Tucker broke down into sobs as his body shook. I wanted to stay.... The people were nice, and they wanted me... But now... No one wants me... Not even Lathe... But he won’t give me up because he hates me.... And he doesn’t want anyone else to deal with me.... “I-I... I w-want a h-home too....”

...shit, this one needs therapy or something. I can't fix this I don't think... I sincerely doubt it. “You already had a home? Did you like it there?” Tell me stuff.

“Y-Yeah.... I had a-a Mom... and a Dad.... B-But she took m-me back.... Because I-I wasn’t wanted.... T-They didn’t n-need me anymore.... B-Because she was having a-a baby.... I-I was th-there for t-two years....” I was tossed aside like trash.... And I haven’t been even considered since then.... “I-I h-have less t-than three y-years left to f-find a h-home....” And if I don’t.... I won’t ever have one....

James looked to him with sympathy, shuffling over to the bed to sit next to him, gently rubbing his back. “I’m sorry...” Dad never said anything like that... “…You know how much Lathe talks about wanting kids... but do you know that he's been talking like that since before Jake got adopted and stuff? Even though he wanted his own kids, he adopted another kid, loves him to death... he loves all of us... I think that no matter how many or how few kids he ends up having, he won't want to kick any of us out... I'm not even technically adopted or fostered or anything... I just kinda exist here. They have no legal obligation to me, really. There was literally no good reason for them to help me. But they did because they cared. ...he spent thousands of dollars to help a complete stranger, slept in the same bed as me because I was so used to sleeping on the streets, became my doctor, and became my emotional support and teacher in two weeks. I just showed up wanting something so I didn't starve.” James shrugged. “He goes above and beyond for all of us. I've heard stories of all the stuff he's done for his family... and if you’d let them all become family... I’m sure I'd watch wonderful things happen for you too... he really cares about you. I think you should give being part of this family a chance.” Please? You'd be so much less miserable all the time, maybe...

Tucker shook his head. “I-It’s m-my fault.... N-No one w-wants a m-monster...” He wiped at his face trying to calm himself down. “Y-You should g-go.... Y-You can tell Lathe to call the agency I-if he wants... And t-to give Jake m-my presents.... A-And I’ll p-pay him back for the p-phone....” And I’m sorry for throwing my phone at him.... Fuck.... I probably landed myself into an orphanage...

“No.”

Tucker picked his teary face up, looking at him with confusion. “W-what do you me ‘No?’..... It’s not l-like th-they want me.... T-They didn’t ch-choose me... N-No one chooses m-me.... T-They just a-agreeded f-for money f-from the s-state….“ I know how the foster system works… They can try and hide it all they want..

“Tucker, we both know Lathe built this house without going into debt and created a thing that legit reverses what should be death. I don't think he cares about the tiny bit of money the state or whatever gives him. Second, you just said it yourself. He could easily pick up a phone and give you back. But he hasn't. He didn't with the incident if you beating up Jake, so if that didn't do it, nothing will. They took you in because they fucking care, okay? And I'm not gonna go downstairs and punish you for you because you don't deserve to live in this denial of not belonging to a family. I don't give a shit if you're not happy with me. You're no fucking monster. You've been really nice to me and to everyone and been civil when that guy is over and you do all your chores and don't blast music or swear super loud or throw shit on a regular basis. You've been polite and well-mannered and diligent about homework and your projects in the garage making all the crap you do and you take good care of the animals. That sounds like a dream of a kid to have.” Really tho.

Tucker shook his head. “I just want someone who will like me for me… And who wants me… I want to be chosen….but when that happened…. I-I… I was just thrown back…. Like a piece of trash…” Tucker shifted so that his head was in James’ lap, his hand weakly curling into the fabric of his pants. I.... I want someone to pick me, and keep me.... I was assigned here, they didn’t pick me.... I want to be important.... But with my track record... I’ve fucked everything over for myself....

He just wants to be chosen… James gently pet his hair, his voice soft. “If you ever do get adopted… wouldn't it be hard not living here anymore? Wouldn't you miss any of us? There wouldn't be as many animals to take care of, that's almost guaranteed… there might not be a place for you to do woodworking…. you might not have any dogs to keep you company…” I’d miss living here... I’d miss everything... “No more dinners with all the friends on Saturday… no more theatre room… no more tutor living with you to help you with homework on any subject because hey be taught all the classes...” We have it really good here... “...wouldn't you miss any of it?”

Tucker was silent for awhile. “B-but it would m-mean s-someone w-wanted to take me h-home…” I’d have a home, and if I didn’t have time to do woodworking.... Or any animals, I could always just study... And try and raise my grade.... “I-I’d be o-okay...”

“You'd be willing to give up such a nice life just because someone took you home to someplace I can guarantee won't be as nice as this, to take care of you? Lathe and everyone here has been bending over backwards to try to make you feel welcome and you're ignoring it because they're your foster family and not your actual or adoptive family. A legally binding piece of paper is all that's keeping you from feeling at home. How could that change that they love you? They'll love you the same, paper or not.” They give an infinite amount of shits and you're dismissing it because they haven't adopted or chosen you?
“You wouldn’t understand… To a foster kid…. That single sheet of paper is everything …. And I’ve already had mine r-ripped apart in front of me twice…. I just want it to stay intact…..”

But… Lathe won’t ask to adopt me, neither will Ieva… Or Eren, because they all want their own kids…. I don’t fit….

James nodded. I'll yell at Dad later and tell him stuff. “I understand…. well, kinda… I understand how much it would mean to you to not have to think you’re gonna be left behind at a moment’s notice. ...I don't know what to tell you besides I hope you do get adopted… and that until then… please try to settle in and make this home… you've already punched holes in the wall, the room is yours.” There are holes, the technical drawings on the walls don't fool me.

Tucker could only nod quietly. “Plaster is expensive… I need a lot to fix them a-all…. A-And I don’t have enough money to buy it….” I couldn’t tell Lathe… It would make me feel horrible … That I had a breakdown, and I couldn’t control my anger, so I took it out on the wall...

“It's okay… you'll save up enough soon… don't worry too much, Tucker… you'll be picked soon enough. I know it.” I'll make them adopt you.

Tucker smiled sadly. “The chances are so low… Thank you for the thought… But I doubt it’ll happen…” I’ll call tonight and see if anyone is interested... “You should G-go downstairs… I’m not hungry… B-But you should eat…” I don’t think I can face Lathe without expecting to be grounded, which I probably am… Actually... “I’ll go take my electronics down….” I’m grounded, I know I am… I threw my phone at Lathe.... And I showed Jake the f-word....

“Nope. You can stay here and watch YouTube videos and try to chill and I’ll go down and see what the deal is with presents. We might be saving them for later tonight but I don't know.” I know Dad got everyone coming over stuff…. and I think they all arranged a secret santa thing… James shifted out from under him, leaving him to his thoughts. Time to go yell at Dad. James slowly went downstairs, finding Lathe in the kitchen wrapping up leftovers. “Dad? We need to talk now.”

“Okay, just let me put this away.” Lathe set plates of leftovers in the fridge, turning to James. “What’s up, kid?”

James shuffled over to sit at the kitchen counter, sitting on a stool. “Why haven't you adopted Tucker yet?”

Lathe was surprised by the question, taking a second to answer him. “U-Uhm, because… well, if Ieva and I adopted him we’d only be able to foster two kids total because Jake and he are under 18. And Eren and Levi are starting their own family, they don't have to adopt him.”
“But you all live in this one house.”

“So what if, because you and Mom are already trying for kids and that'll mean you guys can only foster two kids anyway... adopt Tucker and then make Eren and Levi the official foster people, and then you just take care of all the children?”

Shit.... “Hon, the problem with that is that neither Eren nor Levi are 25 yet and they both need to be around, and a ton of screening is involved and it's just a really hard process in general and they don't even qualify... but...” Lathe shrugged one shoulder, running the back of his neck. “...I will admit... we're hoping so much to have a kid of our own... if and when we do, that change will happen anyways... and we'll only foster two...”

“Then what's the difference? He had a meltdown because he wants to be picked and legally bound to someone and a home for forever! It's what he wants and needs! The kid needs a damn therapist or something, he's so fixated on being chosen and kept after what happened. Do you know that one? He was adopted for two years, then Mom got pregnant and didn't want him, called him a monster and sent him back? Ring any bells?” Lathes expression gave it away. “I take that as a no.”

“....shit, that's what the problem’s been...” Things make so much more sense now....

“Yeah. So what I'm going to recommend is you give him the Christmas present that he needs and give him permanent commitment instead of more legos. Do it. Right now.”

“J-James, I have to talk to Ieva, and we’d have to go down to the courthouse and I don't even know if Tucker would want us to be his parents-”

“But Daaaad....”

“James-”

“But Caaaaaaancer.......” You'll do anything for your sick kid....
Lathe sighed in defeat, smiling faintly. “I'll think about it, Hon.” He watched James nod in approval like he'd already won, shuffling over to kiss his cheek before going to chill in the living room. ...the kid has a good point..... He looked over as he heard the doorbell ring, the sound bringing him back to the land of the living. “Comin’!” Lathe went to the front door, opening it and seeing a small troupe of people, Sharon with a grocery bag in each arm, Marco next to her and Casper bringing up the rear. Huh? “........are you guys dinner reinforcements?”

“Yep!” Sharon watched as Lathe just shook his head and let them in, setting the bags on the counter, Casper setting his stuff near the liquor cabinet. “We know you decided to be insane and extend the family, so we’re here to help.” She saw a bowl of rice sitting on the counter, quirking an eyebrow. “Whose phone drowned?”

“Tucker’s... long story...” Lathe sighed, going to the pegs on the wall. “If you're all gonna cook, I might as well get you all aprons.”

“Please- I'm wearing white.”

Lathe chuckled, handing them all aprons and refusing to fork over the liquor cabinet key as Casper pestered him. Soon enough Jake appeared, saluting.

“I'm here for kitchen duty.”

Oh my god, he's adorable. “You can help, Hon. Let's see what you can do...” If Eren and Levi wanna just sleep or chill or fuck or whatever, that's fine. They don't have to cook.

I don’t wanna let go of him. All we’ve been doing since brunch is sit on the couch and cuddle. I’m not going to complain about that as all... Though Levi’s kinda hard to cuddle with, I mean, have you seen those abs? He’s fucking gorgeous! I swear, he worked out more, just so that I can trace more lines on his stomach.... Which is also another thing I’ve been doing, I just can’t help it, tracing his abs is so soothing to me, especially when I'm curled up to him and my head is on his chest, so I can hear his heartbeat.... That is so calming, I swear I fell asleep like... Actually, I’m not sure how many times I fell asleep, but I know it’s a lot. And his arms! They’re so strong, I love it when he wraps me up in them, and holds me close, and he lets me nuzzle into him... He smells different than he did before but, I’ll give it a few days of him showering at home and it’ll be different.... Eren shifted a bit, splaying his leg over Levi’s hips almost as if he was straddling him, but his nose was buried in his neck as he laid on top of him. “Hmm…. I can smell dinner… It smells good…” I think it might almost be ready. I sure hope it is… I'm starving…

Levi smirked, looking up as the doorbell rang, Lathe going to let the first guests in, Jean followed by Scotty, both of them with an armful of presents. “Sup Scotty, Sup Horseface.”

Jean’s eyes widened at the sound of Levi’s voice. “So you actually came home? I thought you were just gonna be on a Skype call with us all night…” I mean, yeah, we got you a present because Lathe told us you’d be there…. But I figured he meant we were gonna ship you the presents….

Levi glared for a moment, his voice sarcastic. “No, I'm actually a hologram right now that can physically manipulate stuff. Skype has become very advanced.” Yes, I'm here!

Jean rolled his eyes. “Good to see you too, short stack….” He had a huge smirk on his face as he set the presents down where Lathe directed him and then went to the kitchen to go hug Marco from behind and kiss at his neck. You’ve been here like all afternoon, leaving me alone…. Not cool.

Marco jumped a bit, soon relaxing in his arms. “Hey, Jean.” He turned his head, pecking his cheek. “Thanks for letting go of me long enough to let me help cook.” He watched Jean pout a bit at him, pecking his nose with a small smile, his voice quiet. “M’sorry. I'll make it up to you. Promise.” Marco gave him a sweet kiss before turning back to the stove, carefully watching all the timers. It's a good thing Lathe has two ovens now… and they're huge, and half the stuff cooks at the same temperature… very convenient.

Scotty was finishing up setting his large bag of presents down as the doorbell rang once again. Hmm…. Probably Hannah, she was struggling to keep Maverick in the car and in his car seat…. And he’s been walking around on his own now…. He looked out the window, nodding. “It’s Hannah, should I let her in?”

“Let in the waifu, please.” Sharon called from the kitchen, her arms full with a stack of plates to get the table in order. Everyone's hands are full… “Oh yeah, the child too. Forgot about him for a sec.” She grinned, obviously joking.

Scotty nodded, getting over to the door and opening it and hearing small feet run into the house as soon as the little child could fit. “Woah….”
“Incoming!” Lathe managed to intercept Maverick, sweeping him up before he could crash into his mom with all the plates still in her hands. “At least take off your boots, kiddo, you're leaving wet footprints everywhere.” Lathe carried him back to the front mat, getting him out of his coat and boots and hat, making sure Sharon’s hands were empty before releasing him again. “My god, he moves fast.” I need to mop that up.

Hannah sighed as she watched Maverick run off with his boots still on. “Sorry about that Lathe…” She came in with an almost Santa-like bag full of boxes. “What are we doing with presents?” It was just easier to carry them all in this giant bag…. “Maverick, come out of the kitchen, and come pet the dogs!” She called into the house, a giggling child soon returning to her side.

“Doggie?” Maverick’s eyes were wide with excitement as he held his arms up towards Hannah. I want up!

“Maverick, Honey?” Lathe held out his own hands, Maverick turning and letting him pick him up. “Let's go say hi to the doggies, okay?” That'll keep you entertained.

Hannah sighed with relief as Lathe stepped up to take Maverick. Okay, time to get all the presents out… She smiled as she saw the already large pile before she added even more to it. Well I really hope that Henry will be happy…. We got him a game that’s not even out yet…. I don’t really know the kid… for Tucker we got probably the biggest erector set you could find on EBay…. And it’s in great condition… and we did other things like that for everyone else, I hope it’ll be a happy fest for everyone…

Lathe carried Maverick over to where the dogs were huddled on a couch near Eren and Levi, setting him in their midst. The dogs made room for him immediately, Nene going to rest her head in his lap, demanding pets. Tiny human gives tiny pets. I like the tiny pets.

Maverick couldn’t stop giggling as he gently pet Nene, a huge smile on his face. “Doggie!” It’s the sleepy doggie!

There was another ring of the doorbell before the door was opened and in came Henry and Greg, shortly followed by Brett and Kevin. Kevin was holding quite a few boxes, yelling at the others to take their boots and jackets off before they took another step. Sometimes…. I swear, I live with complete idiots….

Lathe looked up as the doorbell rang, unsurprised when the guests opened it themselves. “Ah, ring and enter. Good compromise.” Instead of just walking in and it taking us a good few minutes to realize you’re here.

Kevin sighed quietly. “They were just about to open the door without even ringing the doorbell…I swear they never learn.” He smiled and held his hand out for Lathe when they got in. “Thank you for inviting us.”

Lathe chuckled, shaking his hand warmly. “Of course. We’re so happy you came. And they'll learn eventually…” Lathe smiled. I'm glad you all came. I was worried you wouldn't.

Henry sheepishly smiled, looking around the house. “Uhm…” Is Tucker around anywhere? “Is Tucker around…?”

“I should go get him. He's still upstairs. Make yourselves at home.” Lathe let them get rid of their coats and amble further inside, going to get the phone from the bowl of rice, carefully turning it on. He sighed in relief as it lit up, going upstairs with it. He soon rapped on Tucker’s door, his voice gentle. “People are starting to arrive Tucker, and dinner’s almost done. Come downstairs, m’kay? And I have your phone…” Please?

Tucker nodded silently taking his phone and sighing in relief when it worked.

TQ: I’m sorry about throwing this at you earlier, I’ll be down in a few minutes…

He looked down to his pajamas which he’d been in all day. I need to change.

Lathe smiled, handing the phone back before going to gently hug him. “It's fine, Tucker. We're cool. You might wanna pick something else to wear, though. I personally don't care, but you might.” He nodded to his pajamas. Yeah, I dunno. “Don't take forever, Hon.” Lathe left him at that, going back downstairs.

Tucker nodded, dialing one of the numbers he knew from memory. *I need to ask….

Lathe was back downstairs, helping Sharon with the even longer dining table when he heard Tucker bound down the stairs and straight up to him, looking more happy and excited than he ever had been. “Whoa, what happened?” Lathe grinned, trying to get him to stand still. Yeesh, what happened?

“Someone’s interested!” Tucker had a huge smile on his face as he spoke. Someone’s interested in me! I’m so excited! He could barely keep his composure as he jumped up and down in excitement.

He’s talking. And someone is interested in adopting him? Lathe beamed, pulling him in for a hug. “That’s great news, Honey! I’m so happy for you.” You really want to be chosen. And you just might be this time.

Tucker couldn’t help but laugh as Lathe hugged him, hugging him back for the first time in forever. I can have a home again!

Henry was frozen when he heard Tucker speak, his mind running into overdrive. He’s speaking… I’ve missed his voice…. but… if he gets adopted, I won’t hear it again…. I won’t see him again…. Fuck… Henry swallowed hard when Tucker broke from Lathe and turned and saw him, smiling and waving. “Hey Tucker. I’m happy for you.” If it makes you so happy to have a new home… I’m not gonna make you guilty for leaving…

Tucker smile lessened a bit before he nodded looking up to see Eren as he was captured in a tight hug. Huh? Why’s he hugging me?

“I’m so happy for you.” I know this is what you’ve wanted, for someone to adopt you… I hope it happens. He squeezed tighter as Tucker tried to get away. “Oh no you don’t! I haven’t gotten a hug from you in months, and you go right up and hug Dad, I feel so betrayed!”

Hannah smiled as she stood with more place sets in her arms beside Sharon. Oh, I’m so happy for him, he’s been here for a long time…

Scotty was in charge of wrangling Maverick and the dogs that he was surrounded by. He had gotten hold of Maverick and walked with him to the bathroom to wash up for dinner. I swear if he asks for presents again… Ugh…. He keeps asking…

“Pwsans? Pwsans?” Maverick’s eyes looked up to Scotty with hope in them. I want my presents.

Lathe chuckled as he heard Maverick while Scotty carried him. “After dinner, Honey.” Presents after dinner for everyone.

Sharon chuckled as Maverick asked Scotty for presents for the millionth time, looking to Tucker.
I'm so happy for him… he could have a permanent home soon.

James made his way to Tucker, frowning when he starting to flit away. “Tucker, stop moving for a second, jeez.” He finally got to the teen, weakly punching his arm. “I'm happy for you.” He smiled widely. You deserve a permanent home.

Tucker smiled and hugged James. “Thank you…” He murmured quietly, closing his eyes as he hugged him. I'm so glad… I could get a home!

James weakly smacked his back, pretending to struggle for air. “You're choking me.” He laughed lightly as Tucker let him go, smiling widely. A new home… talk about a Christmas present.

Maverick was cleaned up and set in his high chair to sit and eat at the table, watching over everyone at the table from the opposite end as Lathe. Presents…. I want presents. He kept staring at the large pile all throughout dinner, wondering if he could open them all. I want presents, I wanna open them all up! He grinned as he was finally cleaned up as everyone took away their dishes, a wet wipe coming to clean his face and his hands before Hannah let him out of the high chair. Presents!

Sharon chuckled as Maverick tried to take off for the huge pile, catching him before he could open everything. “Okay, okay, hold your horses.” She glanced up as Marco immediately latched onto Jean, laughing. “Okay. C’mon, we’ll all open presents in a minute, Honey. Don't worry.” She shifted to hold him on one hip, migrating to a couch to sit down. I need to keep you from tearing all the presents apart.

Lathe was grateful for the help in clearing the table rather quickly, soon ushering everyone with their drink glasses to the living room, the pile of presents on the coffee table. “Alright, let’s see how well we can sort out whose is whose.” There's a lot of presents here. They all reached to sort through the pile, handing all shapes of packages to the people they belonged to, everyone having something to open. Now how is this gonna work… He looked over as Maverick was already babbling excitedly, tugging at the gold wrapping paper of one of his boxes. “Are we doing youngest first, then?” He smiled, everyone watching the toddler tear at the paper, looking with wide eyes as a big blanket unfurled over his lap, stitched with all kinds of animals in different colors, his name along one edge.

“Bankie!”

Lathe smiled as Maverick happily hugged the quilt to his chest. “Yep- your very own blanket. It has your name on it, too.” He watched Sharon move the edge, pointing to the big letters.
Sharon smiled, bouncing Maverick a bit on her leg. “What do you say, Honey?”

“How about we all go from youngest to oldest and open one, then start over?” Everyone hummed in agreement, and Lathe looked to Jake. “You can open one, Hon.”

Jake smiled, carefully taking apart his own gift from Hannah and Sharon. What’s this? It’s a bunch of green… He finally got it out of the packaging and lifted it, squealing in excitement. “Oh my god! It’s a creeper hoodie!!” He grinned, slipping on the large hoodie and curling up within it. Oooh, it’s even big and roomy for me! Yay!

“Tucker, your turn!”

Tucker looked surprised for a moment before looking to Henry. Oh yeah… I’m younger than him by a couple months… “S-Should I?” I mean, after this morning, I probably shouldn’t open any…. Can’t I just give all of them to Jake? He looked down to his small pile, feeling guiltier than he had in a long time.

Henry nodded, nudging a present towards him. “Yeah, go ahead. You first. Open this one.” Fuck, I hope he likes it…

Tucker nodded, picking up the box from the bottom that Henry had poked towards him, unpicking the wrapping paper neatly. He opened the cardboard box, seeing a few things scattered inside. He picked up a tissue-paper wrapped piece, unwrapping and inspecting the black plastic. “...is this…?”

“It’s an extra terabyte of storage for the Xbox… because you download a bunch of stuff, and game data takes up a lot of room…” I saw how close you were to filling it up when you downloaded Battleblock Theatre just for fun… “There’s another thing…”

Tucker set it back inside, picking up the other piece. He unwrapped it, immediately recognizing it. It was an Xbox controller with custom lights and designs— he remembered both of them in the mall ogling them in one of the stores they went in. “You got me the controller?” He watched Henry nervously nod.
“Yeah… you still like it… right?” Fuck I hope so….

Tucker nodded, giving him a small smile. “Y-Yeah, I do. Thanks.” Tucker set it back inside the box, thinking for a moment. Everyone's here…. and just…. today is a good day…. and I've…. I've been kinda shitty to you… so… Tucker moved the box aside and moved to hug Henry. I'm sorry.

Henry blushed as Tucker moved to hug him, gently squeezing him to his chest. I miss you… Henry felt his heart pull as he drank in his scent, though soon Tucker wasn't in his arms anymore, and he flushed when he realized all eyes were on him. “O-Oh yeah, my turn.” Henry reached for one from his pile, the characteristic size of a video game. He unwrapped it, staring in disbelief at the case. He turned it over, then back to the front. He opened it in his confusion, and the disc was inside. “How the hell…. this game isn't out yet…. It's supposed to be out in a few weeks…”

“That's all just time to make the discs and deliver them and stuff. But the game’s done.” Sharon and Hannah grinned. “We know a guy.” The production people were surprisingly easy to bribe.

Henry just stared at them, grinning in disbelief. “...I'm not gonna ask… I'm just gonna go with it. Thank you, really!” Oh. My god. YAAAS.

Greg smirked as he was urged to open a very large box from Eren. What could this even be? I mean, the box is fucking huge! He ripped open the paper, and soon ripping open a large cardboard box. “What is this?”

“I’m not telling you until you open it.”

Greg was skeptical of Eren as he opened up one of the tissue wrapped containers. Flax? He opened up the next one and his smile grew. Protein! Wait, so that means the big one…? He hurriedly tore open the larger box which held a nutribullet. “Oh my god! This is awesome！”

Eren smiled. “Henry helped, he said you’re trying to get on the football team, so here you are, everything needed for protein and energy shakes and smoothies.” All you need in is in there.

James looked around, thinking. “Is it my turn?” He looked over the crowd of them, seeing nobody objected and shrugging. “Cool.” He reached for the biggest package on his pile, feeling it squish a bit. “I think I know what it is already, but I have to be sure…” James opened up the package, untying the ribbon and unfolding a huge quilt, a huge scene of a forest by day on one side, by night on the other. “...Dad… you're insane...” He grinned as everyone laughed, tugging it around him. It's warm... He looked at one of the trees, seeing a teen looking like himself perched in one asleep during the night, and on the other side the same boy hid from a goose in the trees, cradling an egg. I love him...

“I'm next?” Armin reached for the gold-wrapped box, unpicking the tape and opening it, first pulling out a piece of paper on top. “...you got me that Blue Apron thing? Where they send you ingredients and stuff? That's so cool, I've wanted to try something like that.” Admin smiled up to them.

“Look under the tissue paper.” There's more.

Armin moved the tissue paper aside, gasping and pulling out a new apron and oven mitts and pot holders. Of course he sewed these... “It has a pocket and everything... thank you!” I love it!

Eren smiled watching him set everything in the bag, looking for the next person to go, only to realize it was him. “Oh, it’s me... Right.” He looked down at his presents, stealing the bow off one box and taking it to the couch and sticking it to Levi’s forehead, sitting down in his lap and kissing him deeply. Problem solved...

Jean simply sighed, shaking his head with his eyes closed. “Alright, alright, we get it! Your boy toy is back home, stop snogging and let me open my present!” This one is... From Lathe? The guy who hates my guts.... “Maybe I should pick a different one...”

Lathe grinned as a few people whistled, watching Levi turn pink. This is adorable. “Open it, I swear it’s not a rabid animal.” Don't worry.

Jean looked wary as he opened the box, sighing in exasperation as he picked up a small pile of pamphlets on rabies. ‘Really?’ He tinted pink as some of the people around him laughed or tried to hide it, rifling around further in the box. He froze, lifting out another slip of paper, reading the number on it. “......you didn't.”

“You two needed a vacation.” Lathe grinned as Jean and Marco looked to the voucher with wide eyes. Yes. We did that.

“...I thought you hated me. Thank you!” I can't believe you did that... you just bought us a Levi cradled Eren close as they continued opening gifts, soon everyone looking to him. He reached up and plucked the bow off his forehead, sticking it to Eren’s head before stealing another kiss.

Mine.

Marco smiled, looking away as Levi kissed Eren senseless. They're lucky they got to be together for Christmas... Marco reached for his pile after, picking up a slim package and carefully opening it, a small collection of papers. Recipes? He flicked through the few pages, recipes for pies and bread and a few other baked goods, recognizing the pictures. “...you're giving me the recipe to your apple pie?” Marco looked up to Sharon, who grinned widely.

“If you'd rather pay an arm and a leg for it, we can make it work.”

“N-No! I mean, crap, I just... thank you.” I love that pie... and there's even the recipe for the crust in here too... oh my god...

Brett looked around. “Wait… Does that mean I’m up?” I think it does…. But like, I’m not completely sure… His voice was slow, like he was stoned as he sat leaning his head against Kevin’s knee where he sat on the floor. I have a couple presents...

Lathe nodded, nudging a box towards him. “Yep, you're next. We got you stuff.” It was a decently-sized box, a bit heavy. “I think you'll like it.”

Brett was suspicious as he took the big box first. He’s right, it is heavy. He tore apart the wrapping carelessly, letting it fly all over the place and ripping into the cardboard box as well. His eyes widened when he saw the large amount of his favorite snacks. “Oh my god! Food!” And it’s all the good kinds too! It’s not the cheap stuff we’re always forced to get! Oh my god! Yes! “Thank you so much!” I’m so gonna get stoned and eat like half of this, but I don’t care...

Lathe grinned as Brett rifled through all the snacks. “We made sure to get all your favorites.” We had Kevin give us all the info in what kinds you liked. That was a conversation...

Brett smiled more. “Thank you, really.” I don’t have to feel guilty about eating a snack! Woo!
Casper grinned, smacking lightly at Hannah’s wrist as she reached for a box. “Not that one….” He pushed another one from the pile. “Thaaaaaat one.” Open it!!

“I should be concerned… You giving me a box, there could be a biological disease in here for all I know….” I don’t trust you. She chuckled and opened the box anyways, surprised to see white fabric. Huh? What’s this?

Casper grinned as Hannah stared at it with confusion, waving her on. “Take it out of the box and you’ll understand.” He watched her lift it out, a crisp new lab coat in her hands. “It’s even got your name embroidered on it.” All fancy-like.

…. What? “Casper this says ‘Your boss: Hannah Laskoski…” I’m grateful… But… Like why would you do that!? My name would’ve sufficed. “I’m not even the boss of really anyone….” I’m basically on the top floor alone…

“Hannah, yes you are. Legit you’ve had my permission to boss all my lackeys around for the past ten months or however long ago I promoted you and gave you that guy’s projects forever ago. You’re the boss of everyone except the medical trinity: Me, Scotty, and Lathe. Legit.” Highkey. “This will probably make more sense when you next get mail.” The letter and stuff is still in the mail… you didn't say anything about that position we offered you...

Hannah raised his eyebrow. “Should I be concerned for my job?” I should be really worried if I'm waiting for something in the mail. It's Sharon's turn now...

The three of them looked to each other, wearing matching grins. “Concerned isn't the adjective I would use…”

“Something else would be better, like excited.”

“That too.”

“So I'm deducing that I'm not being fired…”
“Nope, the sorta-opposite of that.”

“The opposite is being hired, but you already work for us, so.”

Sharon looked between all of them, sighing. “You three…” You’re ridiculous. Coming from me, that’s an achievement. She looked skeptically at the biggest box on her pile, wrapped in gold. She pulled it over, surprised. “It’s heavy…” She carefully opened it, opening the box and moving aside the tissue paper. She gasped, picking up a handful of baby clothes, just a small dent in the pile. “Baby clothes… they’re for the girl…” Sharon beamed, looking through all of them. “They’re all so cute… thank you so much… oh my- really?” Sharon held up a bib, showing the lettering.

‘Mum says I can’t date ‘till I’m 30!’

“Making use of that embroidery machine? Nobody spells it ‘Mum’ besides me and Britain.” She quirked an eyebrow as Lathe sheepishly smiled. “It’s all adorable… really, thank you…” There’s so much here…

Kevin looked over as Lathe reached over and nudged a thin package towards him, quirking an eyebrow at it. “...I feel like I should be scared.”

“Well… just open it.”

He picked it up, giving Lathe another questioning look as he unwrapped it, lifting the lid of the thin box. His eyebrows shot up as he saw the array of gift cards, all for places to eat. “Lathe…” You didn’t….

“You guys can eat out a bit more now. I thought you’d all like that.” The four of them looked to each other with surprise. They deserve a nice meal out sometimes...

Kevin flipped to the back of one of the cards, paling at the number on the back. He read the back for another, shaking his head slowly. “Lathe, I don’t know if I can accept this… I mean…” He set the box on the table, looking at it with uncertainty, sighing and smiling faintly as the few people sitting on the floor poked at it, nudging it back towards him. “...thank you… it’s a wonderful gift.” I’d like to have a nice meal out sometimes… we don’t get to do that much...
Eren smiled from where he was on Levi’s lap. “Some of us would like you to relax and enjoy yourselves once in awhile…. And open the silver one, while you’re at it.” I got you guys this… And I even had to pull a few strings from your work. “Happy vacation…”

Kevin stared at him, his jaw dropping. “You didn't …” He reached for the silver package, tearing it open and taking out slips of paper, leading through them. “Plane tickets… ...you guys bought us a cruise?”

“No just any cruise… An all inclusive cruise… So it’s all done and paid for, and you’re on paid leave… So have fun.” I just had to sign a couple of things for a couple of people and boom, you were off the hook…

...you…” Kevin shook his head, covering his mouth. He laughed quietly, looking ready to cry. “That's… you…” He sniffled, smiling when Henry moved from the floor to hug Eren, all four of them soon piled in a hug. “You're… there's no way we deserve it…. it's too good of you… you didn't have to…” You actually bought us all a vacation…. a damn good vacation...

“Oh, you better pack your bags, the limo is picking you guys up on Saturday morning, which means you got two days to pack and go shopping…” Henry’s told me you’ve never had a vacation since your father left… which is apparently how long Henry's been alive… So why the hell not? I mean I got too much money to spare as it is… “Oh… And the bronze packet… Open that one up too.” Eren smiled more as he was squeezed even tighter by Henry. You all need to get away from here...

Kevin broke from them, tears falling down his cheeks, wiping at them with his sleeve, he opened the last package, taking out a single gift card. “It's for the mall…” He flipped it over, feeling anew rush of tears as he read the number. “We can't…” How am I supposed to accept any of this? “It's too much…” A thousand dollars…. that's… it's so much...

“You can… And it’s fine, I didn’t even spend that much on you, please, it’s pocket change for me, and Henry convinced me that he wanted a vacation…” I couldn’t take seeing him say they’d never had one… “And trust me, I spent more than double on my parents’ vacation…” He smirked looking over to Lathe and Ieva, a wide smile on his face. Vacations for everyone!

Lathe and air a looked at each other in shock, looking back to Eren. “....you're insane.” A vacation? Just us? Lathe beamed, though suddenly a thought hit him from the back of his mind. But what about James and Tucker and Jake? Will I miss the last day he’s here? Would I get to properly say goodbye? What if the kids need me? I have to cook dinners and make sure we don't run out of food and make sure the animals get fed. I can't take a vacation! Lathe looked too stunned to say anything, the conflict obvious in his eyes, the eyes on them making his nerves worse.

“Don’t worry about it, I couldn’t get you into the resort until July, you’ve got plenty of time to spend with your granddaughter… So quit your worrying and wait your turn so you can see for yourself!” I can see your worrying about everything, but it was a bitch finding you guys everything and then booking it all for you, three weeks to detox and think about nothing but each other will do you good. He smiled more as Henry kept hugging him and crying. Damn this kid is too adorable for his own good.

Lathe sighed, smiling and wiping at his eyes. “S-Sorry…” I don’t know how I’ll last more than two days not being a Dad or a Grandpa… oh my god, we’ll be grandparents soon… I don’t wanna miss any of that, we’ll come back and she’ll be all grown up already… Lathe moved to wrap his arms around Ieva, burying his head in her neck, hiding and just holding onto her. But a vacation with you would be so nice...

Ieva smiled leaning into his arms. Oh, a vacation, I wonder where we’ll go now? We went to Hawaii for our honeymoon… I’m excited to see where we’ll go now… She turned to Scotty, a smile on her face as she saw him holding onto Casper. “Alright, Scotty, you’re up, ya big baby.”

Scotty picked his head up, looking at his small pile of boxes looking to the gold one. “I’m assuming that this is Lathe’s present to me? I’m almost afraid to ask what it is…” It looks like it’s a freaking shoebox…. He opened it up carefully opening the lid and looking at the bottle of pills. “You’re an ass! I’m younger than you! You should be worrying about this yourself you old man!” God! Why the hell would you get me a full bottle of viagra?

Lathe smirked, peeking at him from Ieva’s shoulder. “We just need to make sure you don’t disappoint, ya geezer.” He watched him and Casper both turn red, chuckling. I’m so not sorry.

Scotty scowled. “I hate you… you psychotic asshole…” He looked around to Casper. “You’re next babe.” I’m so done with them… You get to deal with them.

Casper smiled, reaching for the package Eren adamantly pointed at. “Okay, okay, I’m opening it.” Casper tore open the wrapping paper, opening the box. “….huh.” He pulled out a box, looking at the picture on the front. Light blue, huh? “….I was thinking about maybe changing the color… I’ve had purple hair for years and years…. well, that depends on how upset Scotty would be.” Casper looked to Scotty, his eyes pleading. I’ll change it for a bit and see how I like it if you’ll let me… “Pleeeeeease?”
Scotty rolled his eyes looking at the packaging and reading the back of the box. “Yeah I guess you can, but we’re changing our sheets to black so you don’t stain the nice white one…” Hell no, I like my white sheets, you will not be staining it with your damn hair color.

Casper frowned in exasperation, though he still smiled. “Yeah yeah, preserve your favorite set of sheets and all that.” Yay! Blue hair! “Now you two need to tell us all about that vacation you’re apparently taking.” Open the thing!

Lathe and Ieva both reached for the package, opening it together. Lathe took out the plane tickets while Ieva pulled out the papers on the hotel room, staring at them, then each other.

Lathe looked at the pictures, mouth gaping. “Eren…. that's…” …fuck, that must've cost a lot of money…

“You’ll be there from Saturday July 1st to Saturday July 21st. I got pretty much everything I could for you guys, Spa packages, a couple bike tours, oh two or four Scuba sessions on the reef, um…. Oh yeah, water sports too… So like water skiing or something like that… There’s also this Lobster and Jazz thing on the beach that you’ll go to a couple times… All the romantic dinner packages I could purchase… Oh, and I got you a cabana on the beach and one at the poolside, that are both private for you two.” You needed a vacation… And I went all out. “I feel like I’m forgetting something…. Oh yeah, it’s adults only, no kids at all, I also got all your transportation settled between the Airport and the Resort… It’s all inclusive now…. Basically at this point.” I bought everything I possibly could so you could have the time of your lives …

They both stared at Eren in disbelief. “You… Eren, it's too much….” It sounds wonderful … but…. it's….

But I don't wanna miss a moment of your daughter growing up… and what if you all need me? I can't take three whole weeks off… it's hard enough to take just an hour break during the day every once in awhile… I just... I don't know if I can do that for that long without having a nervous breakdown… fuck...

Eren looked to Lathe. “When was the last time either of you took a break? And we are not counting when either of you were sick or your honeymoon, because that’s necessary… Well, when was it?”

He watched both of them try and think. “My point exactly, you haven’t… So you’re going to go and enjoy yourselves before you come back and spoil your grandchild rotten.” I know with Dad, that’ll be especially true.

Lathe badly wanted to protest, but everything kept him silent. I don't want Eren to think I'm not grateful for this... and I don't wanna disappoint Ieva... especially not in front of everyone ... but... I can't... I just... I don't know if I can without feeling guilty the entire time... I'd ruin it for Ieva...

Lathe tried to speak but no sound came out, and he clammed up, his cheeks burning, staring down at his feet. Fuck, I can't even properly say thank you... fuck...

Ieva looked over to Lathe, noticing the conflict in his body language. “Thank you Eren, really, we appreciate it….” I think I’ll be okay with this, but will you? You don’t look so happy about this… She put her hand on top of Lathe’s on his knee, smiling as he looked up. The look in her eyes said everything. We can talk later if you don’t wanna go.... You don’t have to say anything right now...

Lathe looked to her, his hair hiding his eyes to everyone else but her, trying to make her understand for the moment. We do need to talk later... because I don't know if I can... but I can't ruin this for you.... He looked over as the attention of the group was directed back to Maverick again, the toddler tearing open another package. I'm sorry... I don't wanna ruin this.... He leaned his head onto her shoulder, trying to stay calm. ...but I don't think I can...

Ieva pulled him close, running a hand through his hair. We'll talk, don’t worry.

Lathe sighed, trying to keep cool as they all opened the rest of their presents and talked, people leaving intermittently as the night wore on. Soon enough the last guests had left, the leftovers stored in the fridge, and the kids were in bed, leaving the two couples to go to bed. Lathe found himself nearly shaking with nerves when the door closed quietly behind them, moving on autopilot to go get changed, a pair of arms slipping around his middle stopping him.

“You're gonna yell at me for ruining it already... Lathe buried his face in his hands, on the verge of tears. “I-I don't wanna ruin th-this for y-you…” I always ruin everything.... I can't...

Ieva slowly turned Lathe around, nuzzling her head into his chest, taking his arms and wrapping them around her instead of having them hide his face. “Lathe.... Do you not wanna go?” I can totally understand, but I’d really like to go with you...

“I-It's not like I don't wanna... b-but... I just...” I don't know how to just stop ... “I'm always doing everything ... I nearly panicked when Eren was in charge of the house for just one day ... I... I'd have a panic attack before we even leave ....” I need to stay and take care of everyone... they'll need me... “I don't wanna keep you from going, I'd love to go with you, but... I don't know how to “Lathe… I know this is gonna sound really mean from your perspective, but… Eren’s gotta learn, we’re not always gonna be there to baby him. He’s gotta learn what it’s like to be in charge, I know it sounds really mean, but you can’t hold on forever….” She held onto him tighter. “You can hold onto me forever…. But, you need to understand that our kids need to learn to spread their wings and become independent… Hell, Eren bought us a vacation…. He’s growing up right under our noses…” That vacation probably costed him a fortune ...

“I-I know, but… It’s hard…” Lathe held her tighter. “I don’t wanna miss them growing up… and I just… I can't stop feeling like I need to be there… I just…. it hurts to be away…” It hurts whenever I’m away from any of them....

Okay, how about this, we’re going in July, so they’ll be home and out of school, so if you ever want to we can skype them, that won’t be an issue… But I was um… Kinda hoping we could set out focus on a different kid while we were there…” She blushed across her cheeks and up to her ears. If I’m not pregnant by then... We’ll have three weeks to do nothing but try ...

Lathe blushed, glancing away, swallowing hard. “I…” He breathed deeply, burying his head in her neck. “...you deserve this vacation… and I shouldn't be a nervous wreck the entire time…. I'd really like that.” He softly pecked her neck, trying to calm down. We’ll have plenty of time to try… “...I'm sorry… I'll try to get my head back on straight by then and understand that I can't always be here and can't always hover over the kids…” He gently nipped her skin. “...and we’ll have plenty of time for that…” He sighed quietly, his hands gently running over her back. “...let me make this up to you…” I'm sorry I'm a wreck who doesn't know how to have fun...

Ieva shivered in his hold. “Okay, tiger…” She whispered seductively, pulling away from him and going towards their large bathroom, stripping down on her walk there, and leaving her clothes in piles on the floor. She turned her head, curling her finger to get him to follow her. “I wanna shower with you…” I want you to know that I love you in every possible way.

Lathe swallowed, nodding, trying to look less than scared for a moment. “Give me a moment, Hon.” He watched her leave the bathroom door open a crack, nervously beginning to strip. I.... I don’t know how to ask.... He left his clothes on the floor in a corner, eyeing the bottom drawer of their dresser, swallowing and going to rifle through it, pulling out the strap-on. I don’t know how to ask… but… He forced himself to walk to the bathroom with it in hand, refusing to meet Ieva’s eyes as she turned, feeling vulnerable and guilty. Please....?

Ieva looked at him for a moment, realizing that he wasn’t meeting her eyes, looking down to his hands to see the strap-on. We could do that. She was quiet as she took the strap-on in her own hand, leaning up to peck his cheek. “Is this your way of asking?” Her voice was soft as she pecked his cheeks. I want to make sure i’m not reading this wrong…

Lathe nervously nodded, leaning into her, his hands moving to her waist. “I-I’m sorry… I don't know how to ask…” And I feel like I don't deserve it because you don't get any pleasure out of it…

Ieva nodded, holding onto it. “Well why don’t we take a quick shower first? And get you all cleaned up for it?” I don’t mind doing this, especially if you ask. “I’m okay with you asking for it more, it’s completely fine for me…” She pecked his cheek again, setting it down on the counter, trying to usher him into the shower. I can prep you with the conditioner in here… And it’ll be easier with the lube than when we get out…

Lathe nodded, letting Ieva slowly pull him along to the shower, stepping with her under the hot water. He sighed as they warmed up, trying to make the tense feeling go away. I don't wanna be so worried and tense…. I don't wanna...

Ieva lathered one of their shower scrubbies with body wash, getting it to foam and starting with Lathe’s body, trying to get him to relax. “Lathe, you know it’s okay to ask for things, you don't have to worry about it….” I want you to be relaxed, it'll be easier on you....

Lathe tried to calm down, his voice cracking. “I-I just don't wanna be selfish about anything…” I don't wanna take too much... “I always feel bad when I do stuff for myself…” I don't deserve all of it...

“I want you to be happy with what we do, Lathe, and if that means asking for some extra lovin’ I’m not gonna complain…..” She kissed his cheek as she washed his front and arms, making sure to get every inch lathered in soap. I wanna make you feel special, because you are ...

Lathe smiled faintly as she kissed his cheek, feeling himself slowly melt as her mouth wandered to his neck, sucking gently at the skin there. Tension very slowly drained out of him as she washed him, enjoying her hands all over him. Feels nice...

Ieva made sure to be very thorough as she washed him, letting him rinse off and then washing herself off. Hmm, this’ll be like last year all over again…. Has it been that long since we’ve done anything like this?

Lathe nearly whined when her lips left his neck, though he moved to kiss and lick at her neck while she washed herself, not wanting to just stand and stare. I'm sorry... I just... it's hard to ask... and it's been forever....

Ieva let out a loud gasp as Lathe’s mouth found her neck and his hands found her waist as she cleaned herself, stepping into the spray to wash the suds off. “Do you wanna do your hair? While I prep you?” She asked quietly, wanting to make sure that they did exactly what he wanted.

Lathe flushed, though he looked down. “I-I don't know how effectively I can wash my hair while you're doing... th-that...” I probably won't be able to get very far...

She nodded, reaching for the shampoo instead and reaching for his hair, beginning to lather his hair. “Hmm, we should take showers together more often.” I like being able to pamper you sometimes too...

Lathe relaxed as her fingers threaded through his hair, slowly growing lax. “Mm... we should...” His hands gently pulled her closer by the waist. “...I'm sorry if I haven't been paying as much attention to you as I should... it's just...” It's hard for me to do anything at the end of the day besides collapse into bed... and you're always already gone in the mornings....

“It’s okay, really, you don't have to worry about it, I should be apologizing right along with you... I haven’t been paying much attention to you either.... I think that vacation will do us some good...” We barely did anything for our first anniversary.... I think we need a break, just for ourselves...

Lathe sighed, stepping back under the water to rinse out his hair. “...you're right... we haven't been paying either enough attention... we should fix that...” I miss you... Lathe moved to shampoo Ieva’s long locks, carefully starting to wash the long fiery hair. I missed doing stuff like this... we need to do it more often...

“Well, hopefully my schedule change will help.... I get weekends off, and I’m only gonna be working from 9-5 now....” We reconfigured our shift schedules.... So I’m letting Dave take over basically... Ieva leaned into his gentle touch, looking up to him to see his reaction. How will you take it?

Lathe looked down in surprise, his next words careful. “...are you stepping down as Commissioner?”

“Yeah, eventually, I’m weaning myself off of my position and giving Dave more responsibilities until I’m just the section Chief and he’s Commissioner.” She stood on her tiptoes to peck his lips, smiling and putting her forehead against his chest. I’m happy, I’ll get to spend more time with everyone.

Lathe felt himself sighing in relief, kissing her sweetly. “As long as I get to wake up next to you, I'm happy. …the extra time you're home will be nice.” I can pay more attention to you… and you’ll be there to distract me on the weekends so I start learning how to not be a helicopter parent...

Ieva nodded, stepping into the shower to wash out the shampoo, looking to him, biting her lip seductively. “You want me to start prepping you here?” It would help, cause we’ve got a lot of conditioner…. And I can always wash you up if you change your mind.

Lathe hesitated, drawing into himself, glancing up to her, to the ground, then back again. “U-Uhm… c-can we start on the b-bed please?” It'll be more comfortable...

Ieva nodded, kissing his chin. “Yeah, why don’t we dry off?” Get you all situated in our warm bed and ravish you.

Lathe nodded, shutting off the water and stepping from the shower with her. He found himself enveloped in a warm towel, Ieva kissing his cheek before getting one herself. I love you... He dried himself off, his hair still damp as Ieva gently reached for him, taking the towels and putting them on the rack to dry, tugging him along to the bedroom. He saw her set the strap-on on the nightstand, the redhead ushering him into the bed and clambering on top of him, his eyes fluttering shut as she kissed him. Thank you... I... it's hard to ask...

Ieva clambered over him, letting their warm bodies touch chest to chest, her kisses trailing down to his neck and sucking softly at his skin. She reached over to the nightstand, grabbing the bottle of lube and setting it on the bed near his hip. I want you to feel like you're on cloud nine.

Lathe was nervous as she got out the lube, feeling her hands trail down his chest to his hips, running over his thighs. He felt himself slowly begin to harden, whimpering quietly as she eased his legs apart. “Please be gentle…” I don't want it to hurt.... And I don't want rough... I want lovemaking... please...

Ieva nodded, her breath gentle against his neck. “I will be, I’ll be gentle, don’t worry.” She whispered quietly to him, shifting a bit so she could gently rub his thighs, wanting him to relax. I know you don’t want it rough, we don’t have to be rough...
Lathe sighed, his hands gripping the sheets from nervousness. He whimpered as she sucked marks all over his neck, stroking up and down the insides of his thighs soothingly. He willed himself to relax, though he couldn't help feeling tense when she reached for the lube. Please don't be rough...

Ieva was gentle, taking the lube between her fingers and warming it up before gently easing a slim finger into his hole. She paused every few seconds to make sure that he was okay, barely moving her finger to get him used to the sensation. “Tell me when you want me to put my whole finger in...” She was gentle slowly removing and inserting her finger up to the first knuckle. I hope I’m going slow enough.

Lathe tried to relax around the intrusion, breathing deeply. “Y-You can use your whole finger...” He sighed as she felt up his walls, growing used to it’s presence. You’re being so careful... I love that...

Ieva nodded, moving to peck all over him, her finger gently twisting and feeling up his soft walls. “Tell me when you feel comfortable for two...” I want you to be somewhat in control of the situation, and if you don’t like it you can tell me...

Lathe sighed, speaking after a moment. “Y-You can use two...” I’m glad I can at least somewhat control this... it’s been a year since you did this for me... and...... I used it by myself once and I just felt so guilty afterwards... but I just... I want this to go okay...

Ieva nodded, slipping down between his thighs. “Okay... You can tell me when I can add three okay?” She was gentle as she slowly added her two fingers, gently thrusting them in and out, slowly so he could get used to it. Her lips moved to the inside of his thighs, trying to pleasure him. I want you to feel absolute pleasure, nothing else...

Lathe breathed deeply as she stretched him carefully, drawing in a deep breath as she brushed over a spot deep inside him. He moaned quietly as she went over it again, and then again, and again. “Th-That feels good...” More...

Ieva listened to his breathing, her eyes looking over his body, watching his cock harden as she continued to rub at his bundle of nerves. God, you look amazing... She leaned her head up, taking his head into her mouth gently sucking on him. You’ll relax more if I do this at the same time...

Lathe groaned deeply as her lips sealed around his tip, instantly melting under her hands. So good... “Y-You... mm.... can do three...” He whimpered as her third finger entered him slowly, feeling the stretch. Burns.... but it’s a good burn...
Ieva continued her ministrations, making sure that she stretched him out enough for the strap-on. I hope you’ll be ready soon, I really wanna make love to you...

Lathe soon was easily stretched around her fingers, moaning freely as she teased his prostate. “Feels good… m-more…” Lathe looked down to her with pleading eyes, spreading his legs wider for her. I want it really badly... please...

Ieva slowly withdrew her fingers, coming off of Lathe with a lewd pop. “Ready?” She asked quietly, getting up off the bed and getting the strap-on on. I’m ready.... I hope you are...

Lathe nodded, his eyes dark as he watched Ieva strap on the dildo, hungrily eyeing the thick toy. I want it... He watched her coat it generously with lube, spread wide under her as she clambered back on top of him. Please be gentle with me... He quivered as he felt the tip nudge his entrance, his hands winding around her shoulders. Please...

Ieva gently eased the tip in slowly, pausing as she noticed any signs of discomfort and slowly easing into him until their hips were flush. You seem okay with this... I hope you are... “Lathe?” How do you feel?

Lathe held onto her tightly, his legs coming up a bit instinctively, adjusting to the sensation. I feel so full... I love it... “Please, Ieva... please move...”

Ieva nodded, pushing her legs apart a bit further so that she could pull out and slowly thrust back in. She kissed at his chest, gently marking him. “I love you Lathe...” I really do, and I want you to be comfortable with that...

Lathe whimpered as she began to slowly thrust into him, his body heating up. “I love you too... I love you so much...” His quiet moans began to fill the room, adjusting to her ministrations. Feels good...

Ieva smirked, slowly speeding up a little bit as he got more comfortable and trying to aim her thrusts towards that one spot that would make him go wild. I want you like a puddle under me. Please...

Lathe’s moans grew louder as she sped up, his legs wrapping around her, whimpering. Please...
you’re so close to hitting it… It took a few moments before he gasped, crying out as she hit his prostate over and over. “I-Ieva, there… oh please, there…” Feels so good…

Ieva continued, just as he pleaded for her to continue. “It’s okay, Lathe, let it all out…” I want you to feel absolutely wonderful… She thurst her hips a bit harder onto his prostate, but not by much. I don’t want to hurt you, I know you wanted me to be gentle with you.

Lathe let out a choked sound, whimpering. “Feels so good…” His moans were heady, his face flushed down his neck. His length ached on his stomach, dripping precum onto his pale skin. Feels so good…. “I love you so much…”

Ieva smiled, blushing as she thurst into him. “I love you too… and I alway will…” She reached her hand down to take his length and start to pump him in time with her thrusts. I know you’re feeling this… and I want to put you over the edge… I wanna cuddle with you.

Lathe gasped as she handled his length, feeling the heat pooling in his nether. “Ieva… I-I’m gonna cum…” He tried to keep from cumming too soon, clamping down on the toy as he struggled to keep himself from coming undone. I don’t wanna cum yet… “T-Too soon…” He whined desperately, thinking too soon it would be over. I don’t want it to be over...

Ieva paused for a moment stopping her motions and holding onto the base of his length. “Do you want me to slow down?” I don’t know what you want me to do… you need to tell me… “Please tell me, Lathe.”

Lathe ached, clinging to her. “P-Please… j-just… wait a minute…” I don’t wanna cum yet… He hid his face in her shoulder out of embarrassment, shaking as his entire body curled around her. It can’t be over yet....

Ieva nodded, stilling inside of him, her hands gently running up and down his sides. “It’s okay, baby, tell me when you want me to move again.” She was calm and understanding as she kissed at his neck, completely focused on Lathe. I want you to be able to talk to me, and ask me for things...

Lathe was still, his breath shaky as he came down from the pleasure, growing lax on her arms. “Y-You can move again…. please go slow…” I don’t want it to be over...

Ieva nodded, slowly thrusting into him like he asked her to, kissing at his neck to keep him calm. “Tell me what feels good Lathe, I wanna pleasure you…” I really do, because you’ve never asked Lathe tilted his head back, his limbs still holding her close. “I-It feels good… wh-when you thrust deeply… and wh-when you're nipping at my neck….” He gasped as she rolled her hips deeper into him on a thrust, his cock jumping a bit. “L-Like that…” His breathing became labored as she started rolling her hips with every thrust, moaning loudly. “P- Please…” It feels too good...

Ieva nipped at his neck, rolling her hips particularly deep and grinding down into him. “You feelin’ good?” I hope you do… I really hope you do. She reached down to take hold of his length, teasing his slit. “I want you to let go, Lathe…”

Lathe whimpered, wanting both to protest and obey at the same time. I don't wanna… but it feels so good … “Ieva…. I-I….” He whimpered, his moans growing higher-pitched as he felt himself near the edge, leaking precum in streams. But I still need you...

“It’s okay Lathe… I want you to feel good, and if that means round two, we can do round two…. Don’t be afraid… I want you to cum for me.” Her voice was heady and seductive as she thrusted a little harder and faster, fondling him in time with her thrusts. I want you to love everything.

Lathe drank in her words, the promise of more helping him relax, letting himself revel in the pleasure. He cried out, his moans loud as he came hard over their stomachs, whimpering as she milked him of his release. He panted as they lay tangled together, glowing. He whined when she shifted inside him, clinging to her tighter. “P-Please…. I-I'm sorry, b-but… I-I need you…” I need more… I'm sorry… He sighed as he heard her murmur soothingly in his ear, his hold on her tight as Ieva started up the same slow pace again. The room was filled with his moans after moments, Ieva’s touch driving him over a second time. Sated, the strap-on was discarded out of the way, the two of them a tangle of limbs. I love you so much…. I needed that..... ....maybe I can learn how to ask...
Chapter 85: Why Leave?

Chapter Summary

PLEASE COMMENT!

“... w-what do you mean... that there’s no one?” Tucker’s voice was quivering as he held onto his cellphone.

“B-But... I-I called y-yesterday... and someone w-was...” He had tears quickly forming in his eyes. It was yesterday! I called on Christmas... and someone was interested! I thought it was a miracle... but...

“Honey, they adopted someone else instead of you, you had next to no chance at being picked ... No one else is interested...”

Oh my god... Dad was so happy for me...

“You’re more likely to get adopted if you go to the orphanage, parents come during the day all the time to look for new kids. It’s harder placing foster kids in homes because the kids in the orphanage get seen first...”

He was silent for a moment. I’m gonna have to leave... “C-Can I get transferred? T-To the orphanage?”

“Are you sure you wanna do that Tucker?”

I’ll do anything if it means that slip of paper stays intact... “Yeah... When will I get picked up?” I need to pack some clothes...

“We’ll send someone around nine... Bye, Tucker.”
He sniffled, wiping at his eyes as he curled up into himself. I... Why did they even tell me they were interested? He curled up to himself, hearing everyone around him start to get up and make their way downstairs, except for him. He sat on his bed, figuring out what he could take to the orphanage with him. I can take a backpack full of clothes, my cell phone, the charger... That’s really it... He got up, made the bed perfectly and then started to pull out all his clothes and try to decide which ones he would take. I should take all my long sleeves... My wrists are still healing... Oh, I should take my razors with me too... Get them out of Lathe’s house...

Lathe was content as he woke up tangled in Ieva’s arms, her body pressed flush to his. I could get used to this... They managed to get themselves out of bed after a few teasing kisses, dressing and not caring that a few marks showed as they went downstairs to make breakfast, the table piled with cut-up fruit and pancakes. He looked over as he heard Tucker descend the stairs, his smile faltering as he saw him dressed. “You look ready to go out, Tucker. Where are you heading?”

“No interest... So I’m being transferred to the orphanage in Wichita...” He cut into his pancake some more, solemnly eating it. I probably won’t be able to ever come back... “Oh um... I’ll go clean the garage up real quick, before they get here...” He moved to hop off his chair, putting his fork down.

Lathe tilted his head in curiosity. “You don’t look too happy... did you get adopted?”

“No interest... So I’m being transferred to the orphanage in Wichita...” He kept his head down, looking away. “Yeah... Someone’s coming to get me around nine... I should go clean up the garage... It’s a mess...” He kept his head down, looking away. You wouldn’t understand why even if I tell you... Tucker looked at the table as it quieted before getting away from Lathe’s grasp, ducking away to go into the garage. I have a lot to clean up...
Lathe stared after him, looking to the ground, all of them silent. He's leaving... someone might snatch him up right away... but... Lathe sat back down at the table, staring at his coffee mug. He's leaving. .....but.... he can't..... he said forever ago that he'd rather be in foster care than some damn orphanage... what changed?

Tucker worked on organizing all the pieces of wood by size and putting them in neat piles, he swept up the floor and got rid of any shavings on the counter tops. He put all the tools away and looked at all the designs he made. I won't be able to make these... Oh well... Tucker shook his head, crumpling the papers up and tossing them in the trash. They'll get thrown out eventually... He barely realized what time it was as he emerged from the garage, the doorbell already ringing. Is is really nine already? I'll go grab my bag...

Lathe watched as Tucker got his bag, stopping him before he could get to the door. “Wait, Tucker-” Stay here and live with us. He hesitated, looking over his shoulder where Ieva and the rest of the family were still at the table, locking eyes with her, his expression pleading. We have to keep him. Please.

Ieva got up from her seat, coming over to where Lathe was standing. “Tucker, honey, are you sure you don’t wanna stay here?” Didn’t you say you never wanted to be in an orphanage again?

Tucker nodded. “Y-Yeah...... Thank you.... For everything... Um, Jake’ll probably like the Lego sets...” He moved to hug Lathe tightly, slightly flinching when he heard the doorbell ring again, hearing Ieva go around to open the door and greet the Service worker. I’m leaving now...

Lathe held him close to his chest, carding one hand through his hair. “We love you, Tucker. We really do. ...wherever you end up finding home, I hope you're happy.” Even if that home isn't here... if you get chosen before I can convince Ieva or anything... I really hope you're happy with where you end up.

Tucker smiled faintly, nodding and turning to see who he was stuck with for the two hour drive to the city. “Oh... Hi, Mr. Jans.”

“Hey, Kiddo.... Long time no see, you got your backpack and everything else you need?”

Tucker nodded and slipped outside the door as Mr. Jans nodded to them, turning as well and going towards his navy blue car. Tucker getting into the back and looking out the window as Lathe came out the door. I’m probably not gonna find a home... This is just a last ditch effort before I run anyways... People always come around Christmas... try and make it a big deal... I hope someone will come look at me...
Lathe weakly smiled as Tucker looked to him, waving as the car pulled around and down the driveway. I hope we see you again soon… He stepped inside again and shut the door, turning to a quiet house, looking to Ieva and remembering the night before. Ask for what you want. “Honey… can we talk?” We kinda need to.

Ieva nodded, not expecting for Lathe to practically drag her upstairs and into their room. “What’s up?” What are you gonna ask me?

When the door was shut Lathe immediately wrapped her up in his arms, his head on her shoulder. He thought for a moment, speaking. “….you know how we’ve been trying for a kid for a long time?”

“Yeah?”

“Well, if and when we do, we’ll officially have two of our own kids under the age of eighteen… that’s the threshold for having six foster kids… after that, we can only have two…”

“….where are you going with this…?”

“When we have our own kid sometime in the next few years, we’d be at that threshold anyway. …..and, I have to ask…. what would you say, if…. …if I asked if we could adopt Tucker?” The next words tumbled from his mouth quickly, obviously scared of her reaction. “I know it seems like really dumb timing two seconds after he decides to go to an orphanage but James just had this conversation with me yesterday and I was still thinking about it, but… but seeing him leaving…. I don't want him to be gone….” I wanna keep him…

Ieva let him speak watching him for a moment, formulating words. “I wouldn’t mind… but, he decided he wanted to go… I think we should give him a few days, okay? Then we can go and see if he’s still up for adoption… Or if he’s found a home, okay? I know you want him to stay, but if he chose to go, we have to respect that.” She wrapped her arms around him as she felt him shudder. “I know… I know it seems horrible, but we need to give him space.”

Lathe nodded, leaning heavily into her. “Okay… okay.” At least you didn't say no…
Chapter 86: Roles Switch

Pure Smut

Levi was quietly anxious all throughout dinner, his ankle hooked with Eren’s. I can’t help being so antsy… and horny as hell, I guess… it’s just… I’m home… and when I want to hold you, you’re there… Levi and Eren finished dinner rather quickly, Levi dragging Eren upstairs. I’ve been thinking about you all day… The door was soon kicked shut, though he was surprised when Eren suddenly had him pressed up against it, kissing him hard. He melted, his hands winding around his shoulders. It clicked when Eren’s tongue had forced its way into his mouth, his hands pinned up above his head. …wait… is he gonna be topping this time? “Eren…?” Levi broke their kiss, his eyes already hazy. “Are you gonna top…?” Yes please…

Eren grinned almost wickedly. <“Shut up… You’re mine tonight.”> You get to be the slave tonight…

Levi swallowed hard, unable to keep from feeling excited. He’s gonna dominate me… if it’s anything like what I’ve been doing to him, then… fuck…

Eren’s mouth went right to Levi’s neck, where the scabs of a few mornings ago were slowly healing. <“Oh no, we can’t have that happening now, can we?”> He sunk his teeth down into his skin, breaking open multiple scabs and lapping at the metallic tang that ran over his teeth. Hmm, I wonder if you’re prepared…. I wanna do everything to you…

Levi winced as Eren bit into his neck, a quiet sound leaving him. That stings… Levi sighed as Eren lapped at the skin, enjoying the bit of relief.

Eren soon stepped off, letting go of him and pointing to the bed. <“Strip, Slave.”> His eyes were wide as he watched Levi move from the door and towards the bed, stripping as he walked there. Damn he’s so hot… Even from behind…

Levi sauntered to the bed, tugging his sweatshirt and his tank top off, not caring as they fell to the floor. He slid out of his jeans, kicking them and his socks off, soon tugging down his boxers. He climbed onto the bed, turning over and laying there exposed, not seeming to mind his nether was in full view, stretching his arms above his head. If this is gonna be a thing, might as well get comfortable.

Eren had ventured to the closet, pulling out the wide range of toys they had, and grabbing the rope as well. His eyes seemed to darken as he saw Levi on the bed. <“Slave… Do enlighten me… Who told you that you could lay down on your master’s bed? I specifically remember telling you to strip and nothing else.”> I may have pointed to the bed, but I never said to lay on it.

Levi pondered it for a moment, smirking. <“You pointed to it, Master, and it looked so comfortable…”>

Eren’s eyes narrowed, grabbing one of the whips he’d gotten, almost feeling the sting etch across his back. I’m so ready for this… He stepped right up to the bed, motioning Levi to come closer to him. If you want to lay down, you’re going to get it…

Levi watched him pick up the whip, immediately obeying when he was beckoned forward, kneeling in front of him, eyeing the leather. That's gonna hurt, isn't it...

<“Turn around.”> Eren’s eyes looked like they could pierce into the soul, his tone commanding as he looked over him. You’ll get to see what it feels like…

Levi looked wary as he did, watching Eren moved out of the corner of his eye, setting some of the other toys down, leaving him with just the whip.

Eren leaned over Levi’s shoulder. <“That’s a good little slave. Do what your told, and I won’t rip you open.”> His voice was deep beside Levi’s ear only for a moment before the crack of the whip against skin sounded throughout the room. Ah, the crackle of a whip… Such a good noise...

Levi jerked as it hit across his back, wincing at the harsh sting. That hurts more than I thought it would…. ...worth the magnitude of stuff we’ve been doing where I'm usually the one taking control… how can Eren enjoy it so much ? And the entire time...

Eren cracked the whip across his back a second time, then a third, and a fourth soon after. He looked over his work, satisfied with the two uniform X’s he’d produced across Levi’s upper and middle back. God, that’s hot… He put the toy down, walking over to the bed and sitting on the edge, noticing Levi’s eyes follow him. <“Come here.”>
Levi immediately shifted for him, hesitating when he came next to him. <“I-In your lap, Master?”> I’m not so sure I wanna risk it and do this wrong.

<“Your knees…”> His eyes drank in Levi’s bare body as he spread his legs wider for him. <“If you’re any good at this, I might consider a reward for you… But we’ll have to see how well you can use that pretty mouth of yours.”> Eren grinned as Levi settled between his knees. Hell yes…

Levi knelt between his legs, his hands tentatively reaching to rest on his thighs, snatching them back as Eren smacked them away.

<“I said your mouth, not your hands, use your mouth…”> He almost seemed to growl as he pulled on Levi’s hair, getting him closer to his crotch. I wonder if he’ll actually do it? He hasn’t given me a blow… In… Actually, I’m not sure how long…

Levi immediately nodded, something clicking as he glanced to him. ...I have to take off his pants and underwear... with my mouth. ... shit. Levi decided to dive in, his tongue darting out and struggling first with the button of his jeans. He tilted it up far with his tongue, biting the denim and getting it unbuttoned after a bit of struggle, sighing in relief as he bit the zipper. Okay. He bit the hem of his jeans, tugging. He was grateful that Eren shifted for him, managing after a bit to get them down to his ankles. He did the same with his boxers, soon faced with his hardening member, his mouth watering at the sight. He immediately ducked his head down to seal his lips over the tip, beginning to bob his head enthusiastically. I wanna be good for you...

Eren watched, impressed that Levi was able to get his jeans off that quickly and with only his mouth. His eyes followed every movement as Levi began to bob his head. That’s it… He lifted his hoodie up off of him, tossing it aside. Don’t need that, and I won’t need my tank top either. He finally sat with his knees apart for Levi. <“That’s a good slave, taking care of Master… but does it know how to use its tongue?”> Eren’s fingers carded through Levi’s noir locks, watching his length sink into his mouth, disappearing for a few moments before reappearing in a glisten of saliva. He’s pretty good at this… I don’t have as big of a dick as him... So it’s easier to deepthroat...

Levi was careful of his teeth, trying to take Eren’s entire length in before he had to come back up for air, going back in before Eren could say anything, his tongue teasing his slit before going back to bobbing deeper. I hope I’m not terrible at this...

Eren’s eyes were hungry as he watched him, looking to see Levi’s own length, standing at attention. <“Hmm… You’re enjoying this too, Slave?”> He pulled Levi’s head up off his length, cupping his jaw and his thumb rubbing against his cheek. I want an answer from you...
Levi leaned his head into the gentle touch, looking up to Eren with dark eyes. <“Yes, Master…”>
I forgot how much I loved tasting you...

Eren smirked, smacking at his face a bit as he shifted to stand. <“Good boy, now stay.”> He walked behind Levi where he had put the toys and other such things, it took him a moment to decide on what to grab, finally opting for the rope and then the dog collar. <“Stay still.”> His words were once again in Levi’s ear, his hand reaching down his chest to tug at one of his nipples and squeeze the bud between his thumb and forefinger. He watched him squirm, a smile on his face. <“Put your forehead on the bed.”> It’ll be easier to tie your arms...

Levi immediately moved to obey, feeling Eren tug his hands behind his back and tie them tightly together. He soon felt leather on his neck, holding his breath as it was buckled in place. A collar… Levi stared down at the floor, wanting more. Now what...?

Eren’s hands went right to Levi’s ass, grabbing the tight globes and squeezing them harshly. <“Slave…. Since you were a good boy…. You’ve got some options, I can start teasing you now… Or you can wait for the teasing…”> His hands spread apart the two cheeks, giving him a good view of Levi’s ass, his thumbs dipping down to circle around his entrance.

Levi shivered as he felt the thick digits circle his entrance, trying to stay still. <“Can we… please start, Master?”> Please ...

Eren’s eyes seemed to darken more as he moved to grab the lube, a cock ring, and the anal beads he’d gotten. <“I guess we can.”> He reached his hand around Levi, stroking his length teasingly. Hmm, I wonder what noises he’ll make?

Levi whined as Eren’s hand stroked his length, eyeing everything he had in hand. He felt his length slicken with lube, groaning quietly as Eren slid the cock ring all the way down to his base, squeezing him. He studied the beads warily, not knowing what to think.

Eren grinned as his hand left Levi’s reddening length. His hand came back to his ass, smacking him hard, watching the red hand print form. Damn… That’s so hot… He took his other hand and smacked the other cheek just as hard, drinking in all the sounds Levi was making. You’ll like the anal beads…. Maybe...

Levi make a small sound as Eren smacked his ass, arching his back a bit, giving him a bit better view of his ass. This is okay… I don’t want the whip again really… but where this is going now, I like ...
Eren watched his back arch, which gave him a look at his entrance without even needing to pull apart his ass cheeks. He covered the beads in a generous amount of lube, using his thumb to spread the lube around Levi’s hole. Eren dipped his thumb in his entrance for only a moment, making sure that it was lubed to an extent. Good, time for the beads, you get to see how these feel now…. And I’m gonna leave them in.

Levi shivered as Eren’s thumb dipped into his hole, leaning down to rest on all fours. <>I-Is this allowed, Master?”>

Eren looked to his shift in position. <>I’ll allow it, but next time, direct your questions to me before speaking, got it?”> Call for me before you ask something, then I know you’re not just talking… He took the beads into him, watching them slip in one as a time before he got about halfway through, hearing him cry out. <>Only half way? You can do better than that, slave.>

Levi took in a deep breath as he felt the first beads enter him, the feeling of them entering strange. He make a choked sound as they prodded near his prostate, crying out quietly. He heard Eren speak, feeling the beads draw out of him and thrust back in, making lewd sounds as they did. Fuck, they actually feel really good...

Eren smirked as Levi continued to make pleasured noises. Good, I can go further in… Eren moved the beads ¾ of the way in, watching his body shudder as his hole was stretched out. <>You’re gonna have to take the whole thing if you wanna be stretched out enough for your reward at the end of this… But I wanna hear you slave. Speak, tell me how it feels….”> How does it feel for you? I know I personally like when you did the anal beads to me… It’s a good way to stretch out...

Levi whimpered, his head hanging. <>Yes, Master… it feels really good, you're so close to my prostate… and it feels so good when the beads enter me, the stretch feels really good…”> Levi let out a quiet cry as Eren thrusted them in harder once, his body shuddering. <>I'll take them all the way, Master… please…”> <>Good boy.”> Eren thrusted them all in, leaving him to stretch on the last and largest bead. Good, you took it all in, and a fraction of the time it would’ve taken to use my fingers… <>You better hold those beads in, and you get to choose, front or back…. Lay on the side you don’t want.”> He untied Levi’s hands letting him crawl on the bed before turning to get the candles out of the bathroom. I know I liked the wax, I wonder if you will too…

Levi reached behind him to keep in the bed, climbing onto the bed. He pondered his choice, deciding to lay facing up. He was grateful for his decision as he saw Eren come out of the bathroom with the candles, laying open for him, the beads still all the way in. I hope I like these…
they were certainly very fun to do with you ...

Eren crawled over Levi’s lap, letting his ass cheeks rest on top of Levi’s cock, teasingly grinding down on him as he held the candle up. He tilted it sideways, watching the first drop fall down near his left nipple. God that’s so hot ....

Levi jerked a bit as the first drop hit his skin, groaning quietly as Eren trailed wax in a circle around his nipple. His breath caught in his throat when Eren trailed over the bud, shakily moaning. Fuck, I like it....

Eren watched him shudder and moan, his eyes dark as he moved the wax over his right nipple. He repeated the same motion as he used his right hand to remove all the wax from around his nipple. I wanna do it again to each nipple...

Levi whimpered as his other bud was layered with wax, feeling the wax peel from his chest. He watched Eren trail the candle back over the first, groaning as he teased the already tender flesh. Feels good...

Eren repeated the process again with both his nipples before trailing the wax down his abdomen, letting the wax drip. <“Hmm… Should I?”> His eyes glinted with mischief as he shimmied off of Levi’s cock and started to fondle it with his freehand. I wanna see what you think about this... Hmm...

Levi watched the wax trail down his abdomen, his voice shaky. <“Master, please be careful, Master…”> I don't know how good it'll feel on my length... I kinda did your base when I did this with you, but I don't know...

Eren smirked, blowing out the candle and crawling off of Levi to go put it back in the bathroom. <“Come here, slave.”> He got the cold water running in the sink, intending to take good care of his slave. Hmm, what should I do next with you? Should I do the sound? Or should I take out the anal beads?

Levi shifted off of the bed, the beads still all the way inside of him. He whimpered as the beads kept brushing his prostate with each step, his nether aching as he slowly walked to the bathroom. He stood next to Eren obediently, awaiting his next command.

Eren watched him whimper with every step, a small grin on his face. Ah, so they are hitting it....
He shifted and got a wash cloth, running it under the cold water for a moment, using it to clean up the wax which had hardened all over his chest. I'm a good master, I'll take care of you. He leaned his head down and suckled under his ear, leaving a dark mark.

Levi sighed quietly as he was cleaned up, his eyes fluttering shut as Eren sucked under his ear, tilting his head a bit for better access. He opened his eyes when Eren pulled away, attentive for his next command. Anything. He moved as Eren dragged him to the bed, the beads still buried deep inside him as he was ushered onto the bed. He laid down when Eren pushed him down, watching him move. He nearly drooled when Eren picked up a thick dildo and the slim sound, eyeing them hungrily. Please ...

Eren brought the items close to the bed, getting out yet another bottle of lube. <“Squeeze the beads out.”> I wanna watch you struggle with this, because it’s hard to do… He watched intently as Levi flipped over and presented his ass as he started to push them out. That’s fuckin’ hot ...

Levi struggled to push them out of his system, breathing deeply before pushing again. It's so hard to do… Levi managed to get about halfway, his head hanging, not wanting to admit defeat. He kept trying, and it took a while, though finally the smallest beads slipped out as the toy hung in the air, falling onto the bed. Thank god...

Eren smirked, taking the beads and inserted them in him all at once and watching him squirm before pulling them out again, making sure that Levi was in fact as loose as he needed him to be. It’s pulling out easy... And then going in easy… His own cock twitched as he heard the lewd sound of the beads going in and out.

Levi panted, gasps and quiet moans leaving him as Eren teasingly thrusted them back in and out. Feels good… He arched his back, presenting his ass and letting Eren do whatever he wanted with him.

Eren soon pulled out the beads, letting them lay on the night stand. He grabbed the bottle of lube and the sound, a smirk on his face as he rubbed Levi’s length with his free hand. <“Are you gonna be a good boy?”> Eren’s hand wandered down to the cock ring, debating if he should take it off. I don’t want you to cum if you can’t hold it until I tell you, you can.

Levi nodded, though he hesitated when Eren toyed with the cock ring. <“Master, I'll do my best… but I won't be able to keep from cumming, Master… leave the ring on, Master, please…”> I won't be able to keep from cumming and I'll get in trouble…. I don't want that...

Hmm.... Well, he wants it on, so I’ll leave it on. Eren pushed him to lay on his side, lubing up the sound and gently easing it into his slit, making sure that it was off. I won’t turn it on until I start really toying with you.

Levi was nervous as Eren lined the sound up to his slit, whimpering quietly as it slid down his length, looking to Eren with pleading eyes as he left it off. He lay still, watching Eren move. It feels weird… I really wanna know what it feels like when it’s on…

Eren got the dildo, starting to lube it up, watching Levi grab the sheets as he nudged his entrance. *I want you to feel everything …. *He pushed the dildo in slowly, aiming for his prostate. Come on…

Levi made a choked sound as he was stretched, panting as the dildo sunk into him, gasping when it firmly rubbed his prostate, shaking and trying to stay still. <“Master… f-feels good, Master…”> More… please …

Eren smirked, moving so that the dildo continued to hit his prostate every time his thrusted it into him. He felt his length throb with need as he turned the sound onto the lowest setting for Levi to get accustomed to it. <“I wanna hear you moan, slave, don’t hold back….”> His words were firm as he continues to torture him without release. You already sound wonderful.

Levi’s mouth gaped as Eren turned on the sound, a loud, sinful moan leaving him, more desperate moans leaving his threat as Eren thrusted the dildo harder. <“O-Oh my God, Master, so good… oh god, Master, please, more …”> Holy fuck…. His thighs shook from the stimulus, whining.

*He kept at it, slowly turning the sound’s intensity up as he kept fucking Levi with the dildo. His voice… It sounds so hot … <“Hmm, that’s a good boy, are you enjoying it?”> It sounds like you are, but I wanna be sure… Eren let his freehand move to tug at the collar on Levi’s neck. I wanna look at your face…

Levi let Eren tug his head back, his eyes full of pleasure, his voice syrupy. <“It feels so good , Master… I love this, Master…”> His eyes widened as Eren turned up the sound, his eyes still locked onto Eren’s as his breathing grew ragged, shuddering from pleasure with each breath. <“I- It's so good , Master… please , Master…”>

Eren smirked, thrusting the dildo into him for the last time before pulling it out of him and turning the sound all the way up. His fingers went to Levi’s hole, keeping it occupied while he reached for a condom in their drawer. It’s just easier with this on… and I’m going to deny you your first climax… Bring you down and let you build yourself up again…
Levi was breathing hard, his length aching as the sound vibrated. Fuck… <“Master…”> He looked over as saw Eren get out the condom, trying to draw him in with his eyes. <“Master… please fuck me, Master…”> I want you… really badly… Levi could already feel himself close to orgasm, the cock ring unyielding and keeping his base clamped. <“Master, I'm already so close…”> I wanna cum…

Eren’s eyes drank in the appearance of Levi offering his open ass to Eren. Damn, that’s really hot… He quickly got the condom on his length, burying himself into Levi’s heat in one motion. Damn, he’s so warm… His hands grabbed Levi’s and pinned them over his head on the mattress, forcing his head down on the bed, and his hips up. <“Then go ahead and cum…”> You won’t be able to…

Levi gasped and cried out as Eren buried himself inside, his hands pinned up above him, feeling so exposed. <“M-Master… I can't w-with the cock ring…”> Fuck, I want it off…

Eren looked down, feigning surprise as he spoke. <“Oh, so it appears that you can’t… I guess we’ll have to wait then.”> He grinned as he slowly pulled the vibrating sound out, pulling out himself. He let go of him to put everything by the bottle of lube on the nightstand. I wanna hear you beg for it.

Levi whimpered as Eren pulled himself and the toy out, his eyes wide as he heard him. What? <“M-Master, please…”> He trembled, keeping his ass high in the air. <“Master, please, let the cock ring come off, I can cum… please don't stop, Master, I'll be good for you… I wanna be a good boy for you, please Master, please don't stop…”> I wanna cum… please let me cum… Levi watched with hungry eyes as Eren took the condom off, reaching for his length and slipping the cock ring off. His length throbbed, his wrists still planted on the headboard, keeping himself completely at his mercy. He felt Eren’s tip brush his entrance, crying out as Eren suddenly rammed into him, pounding him as he instantly came all over the sheets, moaning as he came hard.

<“Fuck, Master …”> He shook as Eren stroked him, milking him of his release. So good…

<“That’s a good boy.”> He pulled out once again, leaving Levi there on the bed as he went back over to their box of toys, grabbing the crop. I want you to ride me…. And I’m gonna use this…

Levi didn't move, trying to catch his breath, his hands still above him. He looked back as Eren moved, seeing a riding crop come out. That's new…

Eren grabbed a pillow, putting it towards the end of the bed and shifting to lay down on his back. He cracked the crop on the back of Levi’s thighs to get him to move. Get your ass over here, slave.
<“Come on…”> Hurry up.

Levi immediately moved, yelping as the crop snapped against his thigh, his cock jumping at it. Fuck… He moved closer to him, waiting for Eren to move him, studying the crop in his hands. …Well shit… He moved when Eren yanked him on top of him, straddling his hips. <“What do you want me to do, Master?”> <“Ride me…. Like a shameless slut…”> He tapped the crop against Levi’s thighs, trying to get him to move. Come on, I wanna be in you. <“We haven’t got all night… So hurry up!”> His words were a growl as he watched Levi instantly move. Good boy.

Levi instantly shifted forward, his hand guiding Eren’s length to his hole, sinking down his length. He groaned as he was filled, beginning to bounce on him. <“Y-Yes, Master…”> I feel so full… I love it…

Eren let his face flush as he listened to him. God, you sound absolutely wonderful … His free hand rested on Levi’s hip, thrusting him down as Eren thrusted up and grinded against him. <“Find your prostate.”> I wanna be thrusting right onto it. Eren kept the crop against Levi’s other thigh, ready to crack it against him. I want you to be a mess …

Levi shifted around, looking for it. <“Y-Yes Mas- oh … M- Master …”> Levi was practically a puddle as Eren began grinding up into him, abusing his prostate. <“Master… it feels so good…”> More…

Eren had a cheeky grin on his face as he let his hips back down, letting Levi work for his pleasure. He tapped the riding crop against his thigh. <“Keep up the pace, slave. You need to pleasure your Master…”>* I wonder what you’ll do with that information?*

Levi immediately nodded, bouncing with renewed vigor, his hands trailing over his chest, drinking in the sight of Eren below him. <“Y-Yes, Master.”> Levi reached down to tease Eren’s nipples, watching for his reaction as he rolled his hips. Let me please you….

Eren let out a moan as his nipples were played with. Fuck…. He remembers where everything is still sensitive. He bit his lip as he felt Levi’s hips roll on him. It feels so good.

Levi panted as he kept moving on top of him, feeling his body begin to heat up again. I wanna cum… <“Master… I’m getting close…”> I feel warm… He sighed as he felt Eren’s free hand slide over his thigh, teasingly and gently holding his side.

Eren groaned, feeling his own coil begin to tighten. Fuck, I'm not gonna last much longer… His eyes darkened as he pushed him off, watching him flop on his side, a sly smirk on his face as he pushed his legs apart, turning him. He set one leg over his shoulder and the other under him as he thrusted back into Levi. You on your side like this…. God damn…. He watched Levi’s eyes widen as he started up a brutal pace, his hands wrapping around Levi’s thick thigh to give him leverage. You are mine ….

Levi whimpered like a kicked puppy as Eren tossed him off, his eyes widening as Eren changed his position, gasping as Eren began pounding him. <“Oh God , Master…”> I'm gonna cum…

Eren grinned, his mouth latching onto Levi’s calf for a moment, before letting it go. <“Cum , slave, I want you to cum, and I want you to cry out as I fuck you into the mattress.’”> His hips thrusted deeply into him, loving the feeling of his tight heat. I’ll let you have your reward after I’m finished with you.

Levi moaned loudly, gripping the sheets tightly as Eren spoke. *[M-Master… I… so good….] His eyes widened as he felt his body flush, crying out as he came all over his chest, Eren releasing deep inside him as he clamped down on his length. [M- Master…] He panted, whimpering as Eren thrusted and carried him through his orgasm, soon laying on the bed still, trying to catch his breath. Fuck…

Eren groaned as Levi closed around him, unable to keep from cumming. He’s so tight. He continued to thrust until he’d filled Levi with everything he had to offer. Fuck …. He moaned as he slowly pulled out of him, sitting back on his haunches, looking over Levi to see his work. Fuck he looks amazing… <“Come, my French slave, it’s time for your reward.”> You started speaking in French…. But I’ll let it go… He shifted off the bed, heading towards their large bathroom, not bothering to clean up the toys at the moment. I can do that later…

Levi flushed as Eren spoke. I switched to French? Fuck…. Levi sighed quietly as Eren drew out of him, following him obediently to the bathroom. He watched Eren start to draw a hot bath, standing quietly next to him. ….do I get to bathe with you? Or is this, like, a dog bath sort of thing…? I just wanna cling to you… but I don’t know if I'm allowed to yet…

Eren made sure to add all the oils and salts that he could to the bath before adding a generous amount of bubbles and letting them expand over the large bath. <“Get in.”> His voice was soft and caring as he got out the washcloths, which they almost never used, and lit the soft fragrance candles where they were. Your special treat…
Levi looked over everything, blushing as Eren gently nudged him closer, stepping into the hot water and sinking in, his eyes slipping shut with a quiet groan. Feels nice... He looked up to Eren, his voice small. <“Will you join me, Master?”> *Please?

<“I will in a moment, get situated.”> He ruffled Levi’s hair as he sat in the large tub, turning off the water before disappearing into their room, the sound of rustling fabric filling the air as Eren stripped the bed, and then brought all the toys in the bathroom to clean them thoroughly. He hummed along, letting Levi ogle his complete nudity. I’ll be there in a second... He put everything away, coming back to the bath and slipping in behind Levi, letting the shorter man come close to his chest.

Levi watched Eren with interest, making room for him when he slipped into the tub. He immediately moved to cling to his chest, curling up to him. <“I-Is this okay, Master?”> ...can I call you Eren again...?

Eren nodded, moving his hands to Levi’s neck to unclip his collar. “Did you like it?” His voice was soft and questioning. I really hope you did, because I like it when you do that to me....

Levi let him take off the collar, his smile a bit dreamy. “Almost too much...” Levi nestled into his neck, kissing at his warm skin, grateful for the tender hands on his hips and back. “Thank you... so much...” I loved it.

Eren smiled softly, holding him close as he reached for the wash cloth and the soap. “I didn’t whip you too hard, did I?” You’ve got red marks... But I didn’t do as many as you did to me...

Levi shook his head, relaxing into his hold as Eren began washing his back. “No... I'm fine... I wasn't a huge fan of that, though...” I should just be honest... so that if we do this again while I'm home, I'll have even more fun... and you'll know for sure what will and won't work for me....

Eren nodded, gently going over the raised red lines. “If you hadn’t had the cock ring on me the other night, I would’ve came while you were whipping me.... And while you were doing the wax.... And probably everything else...” He had a cheeky grin on his face as he spoke, taking Levi’s arm next and washing the rest of his body. I want you to feel better...

Levi blushed, enjoying the care Eren was showing his every inch. “I almost came with the beads... I like those, the wax too... God, the sound... ugh, you could've only teased me with that and I’d still have been very happy...” That was great... Levi sighed contentedly, his body loose of all tension. “Babe, I love you…” So much...

Eren smiled softly, leaning in to kiss his jaw softly. “I love you too…” I’m gonna miss you when you’re gone. His hands shifted lower towards Levi’s entrance. “I gotta clean you out…” I’ll be gentle, I promise… His fingers gently circled his entrance, waiting for him to give him permission.

Levi leaned onto him, his hands going to his shoulders, nodding. “Okay…” He sighed as Eren’s fingers eased inside, making quiet sounds as he was cleaned out. Feels good… He whimpered, feeling himself begin to harden against their stomachs against his will.

“Do you want me to leave it? Or milk another round off of you?” I dunno, you already came hard twice, and pretty close together. He was gentle as he worked him clean, feeling his white essence slowly work it’s way out of Levi’s system.

Levi clung to him, feeling Eren’s lips tenderly brush his neck. “C-Can you… please help?” His voice was small, not wanting to be too selfish after everything Eren had already done for him. You’ve already done too much… “I’m sorry…”

Eren nodded, his free hand gently starting to stroke his length. We need to actually sleep after this… for once in our lives… His fingers worked their way deeper into him as Levi shifted, moving around to look for his prostate to help him. “Don’t be sorry… How many time have you gotten me to climax in the past three days alone? …….. Don’t answer that.” It’s a rhetorical question.

Levi groaned, leaning heavily on him, moaning breathily. “Thank you… I really love you…” He held onto him tighter as he fully hardened, whimpering as Eren brushed his prostate. “Please, g-gentle, please…”

Eren nodded, shifting his fingers off of Levi’s bundle of nerves, gentle as he pressed it eventually. His hand stroked evenly, making sure that Levi’s whole length was touched. I wanna make sure you feel good… Really good…

Levi moaned quietly against his shoulder, his expression giving away all the pleasure he was feeling. So good… “Eren…” His voice was wavering, his hands running all over Eren’s back. “I’m… o- oh…” He relaxed more as Eren murmured in his ear, not trying to hold back as his coil tightened. Levi’s moans were breathless and whispy, banging onto Eren, completely at the mercy of his skilled hands. He arched his back, his hole aching. I love having him inside me… even just his fingers… and his cock is heaven … He's gonna make me cum again… I wanna…
Eren smiled as Levi was coming close to the edge, gently pressing against his prostate as he ran a thumb over his slit. “Let go, Levi… cum for me… I wanna watch you come undone…” He had the audacity to nip at Levi’s ear, gently tugging on the lobe. I want you to be in utter bliss.

Levi cried out quietly as he came, slumping against Eren as his length was stroked, feeling him run his hand over the insides of his shaking thighs as he released. He weakly held onto him as Eren washed him, enjoying all of the care in his touch. He's so good to me... Levi was content and sleepy when Eren drained the water from the tub and dried him off, lazy as they dressed each other and collapsed into bed, Eren letting Levi lay on top of him and listen to his heartbeat. “You're too good to me…” Levi heard a mumbled voice, but he was asleep a moment later, only needing to hear the sweet tone to know what was said.
Chapter 87: Sudden Surprises

The next few days dragged on, Lathe going through the motions, though in the back of his mind he kept worrying that he was already snatched up. I miss him... He had found all the plans from the garage walls in the trash, uncrumpling them and smoothing them out, tacking them back up. He found the holes in the walls when he poked around his empty room, finding nothing better to do with his time than patch them and repaint the walls. He was nearly out of his mind when the fourth day came, clinging to Ieva’s middle when they woke up, his voice mumbled against her shoulder blade. “Can we please go to see if he's still there today?” It's been four days... please...

Ieva cracked open her eyes turning to look at Lathe. “Yeah, let me take a shower, get dressed and make sure Levi and Eren are up for the challenge of watching Jake.” She sat up, stretching, and slipping out of the covers heading to the bathroom, not caring that she was nude as she walked. We can go see if he’s still there. I know you’re dying to adopt him, so let’s get going.

Lathe rolled over and shamelessly watched her walk, smiling faintly and heaving himself from bed. I love you. He got dressed neatly, wearing his favorite sweater and sweetly kissing Ieva when she left the bathroom, letting her get dressed as he washed up and tried to tame his mane. Eh, I probably look like a responsible adult anyway, so. He went to retrieve his wallet and his phone after a few minutes, pecking Ieva’s cheek. “Thank you for this…” I know I sprang this on you really quickly... I'm sorry for that...

Ieva smiled softly. “Did you deal with the bunnies that are fucking next door yet?” We gotta make sure that they know that Jake needs to be taken care of and not to fuck all day while we’re gone. She was still looking through the closet for something to wear. “You can go deal with the bunnies...” I can get dressed, since you’re already dressed.

Lathe nodded, his hands resting on her bare hips for a moment. “Alright, I'll go tell them...” His hand ghosted over her side, slipping away from her before he was too tempted to do anything. This is not the time for fucking. That comes later. He left for the hallway, knocking on Eren and Levi’s door, not listening first for fear he’d hear something he’d want to bleach his brain for. “I'm sorry if I'm breaking anything up, you two, but Ieva and I are going into the city today. You have to take care of Jake and not just fuck all day, got it?”

Eren groaned as he got up, rubbing at his back. Fuck, I'm gonna be sore all day... He grabbed a pair of sweatpants before walking to the door, not even realizing he was covered in whip marks, wax burns, rope burn and hand print shaped bruises. “Where are the heating pads?” I severely overdid it.... Levi's a fucking sex god.

Lathe looked over Eren in all of his well-fucked and ravished glory, just shaking his head. “I'll go get you some… and put on a shirt so when Jake sees you he doesn't think you got beaten to hell in a violent way.” You kinda look like a hot mess.

Eren was confused for a moment before he looked down, his face blushing as he moved to hide his chest. “Uh… I’ll be right back….” He slipped into one of Levi’s old hoodies which hid everything and then came back to the door. “So how late do you guys think you’ll be?” I assume you're going to get Tucker… “Be careful when you’re driving, and take Mom’s truck… they got hit pretty hard the other night….”

Lathe chuckled, nodding. “Alright, duly noted. And it could be a long while if the drive down is gonna be pretty snowy. Id say…. a good five hours? Like, we should be home in time for dinner. But it'll be a while. You and Levi need to make sure Jake doesn't starve or fall down the stairs, ya hear?” Be responsible.

Eren nodded. “So we’re gonna lounge around all day and snack on leftovers, got it.” He closed his eyes as he yawned, letting out a soft squeak as Levi came up behind him and wrapped his arms around Eren, nipping at his neck, or at least what he could get at with the hoodie in the way. Oh fuck… He scared me. “Levi….” He whined, doing a half-assed job in trying to shoo him away. Dad’s right there…

Lathe sighed as Levi ambled up with his sweatpants hanging low on his hips, his own chest covered mostly with hickey and bite marks, scaring Eren as he hugged him. Of course... “That's pretty much it, yes. I'll get your heating pads and then leave you to it.” Lathe went back to his own bathroom to retrieve them from under the sink, forking them over to Eren as Levi still clung to him from behind. Adorable. “Keep it PG for the tiny human, okay?”

Eren nodded turning to Levi and weakly smacking him. “Off… I gotta fix my back which you utterly destroyed last night.” His voice was a bit off as he struggled to get Levi off of him so he could put the heating pads on. It hurts, let me make it not hurt.…

Levi kept one arm firmly around his middle, the other reaching for the door. “Let me help….” He looked to Lathe, his face buried in his hands in exasperation. “...we’ll get Jake breakfast, don't worry.” He shut the door for the moment, turning to kiss Eren senseless. I didn't get to say good morning or do any aftercare… I'm gonna fix that now.

God, they are like bunnies... Lathe just went back to his and Ieva’s room, seeing her mostly dressed. “They’re aware of their task and will be in it in approximately ten minutes. Or less.” Depends.
Ieva looked over her shoulder as she slipped on a navy blue blouse to go with her heavy black slacks. “Do I even wanna know what the bunnies are up to?” I’m sure they’re probably gonna go at it at least like twice while we’re gone…

Lathe shook his head. “Eren looked like he got his ass kicked and asked for the heating pads.” It’s pretty serious stuff.

“Well, I can only imagine, Levi had to be horny, and god knows Eren was with how much stuff he got and had delivered to the house…” I can only imagine what they did… “I wouldn’t be surprised if Eren’s got a collar on by the time we get home.” She picked out a nice necklace before grabbing socks for her boots. “Okay, well, let’s get going shall we? We got a long drive.” It’s been snowing hard, so… It’ll take awhile…

Lathe nodded, quirking an eyebrow in thought. …yeah, Levi will probably have him in a collar soon enough… at this rate… Lathe moved to peck her cheeks before they went downstairs, donning heavy coats before going out to the truck. This is gonna take forever… Ieva drove, the roads very snowy the entire way, greatly slowing down traffic. They got to the orphanage nearly three hours later, finally parking and coming inside. They ambled in, looking around a bit as they walked to the front desk. “Uhm, hi, we’re looking to adopt someone by the name of Tucker? 15, came in four days ago?”

“Well, he would be available if he was here…” The woman at the desk went to open a binder to get to Tucker’s information. That fucker weaseled his way out yesterday…

Lathe tilted his head a bit in confusion. “….did he already get adopted, or….?” What do you mean, he’s not here?

“Nope, no one can find him, he left yesterday before nightfall… We haven’t found him alive or dead, so there’s always hope… But it was a horrible storm last night.” The kid’s dead for sure …

Lathe’s eyebrows shot up, instantly feeling dread wash over him, as he suddenly felt furious at the woman behind the desk. You don’t sound like you even give a shit if he’s dead. “That’s horrible…. do the police know about this, to look for him?” What have you done about this?

“Yeah, they were notified as soon as someone noticed he was missing, they haven’t been able to find him either as far as we know.” The woman then went to the computer, pulling up his file. “Still nothing…” They know he’s a problem child, they probably are expecting a body to show up anyways…
Shit…. Lathe panicked, thinking. How could you find him… it's not like he has a tracking device on him or anything…. ......wait. He does. Lathe pulled out his phone, quickly opening an app and tapping on Tucker’s name. A pin popped up in a matter of seconds, across the city. “He still has his phone… it still has battery, and he was last tracked across the city…” He watched the pin jump to the next address down the street, grinning. “It's moving, so he's alive and out there. We’ll get him back, no worries.” He's gotta be freezing …. And exhausted… we’ll go out and get him a nice meal, first thing. ...after we adopt him, of course.

The woman looked at him with confusion. “You, sir, have his cellphone pinged? Even after he’s not in your care anymore?” She raised her eyebrow, judging him. “Well, go on Mr. Quo, find him. Since nobody else can.” Or wants to…

Lathe glared at the woman, seething internally. “I don't watch my children’s locations every moment of every day. Knowing where my son Eren was saved him from dying after being kidnapped, and it'll be nice to keep Tucker from dying of hypothermia. So yes . I will find him before he collapses from exhaustion in the dead of winter.” Lathe turned on his heel, leaving with Ieva before he could yell at the woman. Don't kill her. Lathe hopped in the truck, looking to the map. The pin stopped moving… “I'll direct you. Straight ahead for right now. ...it's stopped moving, so please don't hesitate too much…” I'm worried…

Ieva nodded, following his directions and trying to keep Lathe from panicking when the pin didn’t move again. He’ll be okay, we’ll make it, we’ll make it in time Lathe. She finally pulled up to where the ping was on the sidewalk, small dark alleyways on either side of the street and many of them. “He could be anywhere Lathe.”

“Then let’s start looking.” Lathe shoved his phone in his pocket, out the door the second Ieva stopped the truck, running in the direction the pin had been moving. He didn't shout for Tucker, afraid it would scare him off. Where is he? Lathe took off down an alley, looking frantically. Something's wrong….

Tucker could hear the footsteps get louder and quicker as they came down the alley, shivering as he curled up to the trash, a ratty blanket wrapped around him. He barely had the strength to open his eyes, let alone keep them open. My whole body is frozen... I can’t feel my fingers…. Or my toes… He coughed, his whole body shuddering with him as he did so. It hurts…

Lathe stopped when he heard a cough, turning around and scanning the alley, his eyes fixing on the human next to a dumpster. I ran right past him…. “Tucker?” Lathe ran over, pushing the hair from his face, his eyes widening as he recognized the teen. “Tucker, oh my god, are you okay? Let's get you in the truck and try to warm you up.” Lathe didn't hesitate to scoop him up in his arms, blanket and all, quickly walking back to the truck. I hope it's not too late…
Tucker recognized the voice that he heard calling his name, but he didn’t have the energy to look up, or fight back as he was picked up. I’m cold…. And hungry…. I’m gonna die out here…

Lathe was soon back at the truck, looking around. “Ieva!” He heard the crunch of snow underfoot, Ieva coming out of a different alley. “I found him. Unlock the truck so we can get him inside, the heat on high. He’s frozen.” He needs to warm up…

Ieva’s eyes widened as she looked to see the blanket in Lathe’s arms, and the only visible sign of Tucker was his boots and skinny legs. He’s only wearing jeans! That’s it? Oh my god… She hurriedly unlocked the car, hoping in and turning the air on high. “Is he okay?” He’s gotta be frozen.

“I think he might be okay, but that’ll change if we do nothing.” Lathe glanced up at the neighborhood around them, seeing nothing but dark buildings and alleys. “Here, inside.” Lathe hopped with him into the backseat, struggling to strip Tucker of the freezing cold blanket and jacket so the heat could more easily get to him, his arms and legs frozen in place. Fuck… “Ieva, drive to the hospital. He’s gonna lose his limbs if we don’t.” He needs a hot bath and fast, and that’s what I can think of… he’s gonna lose his arms and legs.

Ieva’s eyes widened. “Which one? The children’s hospital or General? Via Christi?” This is a city! There’s more than one hospital here. She did put the car into drive and started to peel out of the neighborhood. He’s that bad?

“General is close and will be well-equipped for this.” Lathe started to rub at Tucker’s hands, trying to stimulate circulation. “Tucker, Honey, talk to me. Tell me what you’re feeling right now.” Anything. Talk, please.

Tucker could barely keep his eyes open, struggling to stay awake. Everything feels so cold… His body was still rigid in place, trying to gain any warmth at all. So cold… He didn’t realize what was going on as he was ushered into a bright light, his eyes closing from exhaustion, only to snap open as he was put in a warm bath. Fuck… It hurts …. What’s happening? His head slowly turned, looking around for an explanation. Why does it burn?

He looks so purple… and his skin… it feels like wax… Lathe was right next to him as he was set in the warm water, sighing in relief as his eyes snapped open. His voice was gentle. “Hey, Tucker. I know this must hurt, but you kinda need your limbs, so we’re doing it.” Lathe ran a hand through his cool hair, dipping a cloth in the water and running it over his head, trying to warm that part of him up too. “Talk to me, please. Tell me anything. Doesn’t matter what.”
“C-C-...” Tucker couldn’t get a single word out without his teeth chattering and his lips turning purple from being frozen for so long. My legs hurt.... Why can’t I feel my toes? Why can’t I feel my fingers. He whimpered, soon coming down into a coughing fit, his eyes closing again as he got dizzy. Fuck...

Lathe cooed to him quietly, still running the warm cloth over his head and his face gently. “It's okay, Hon, don't worry. You can just nod or shake your head for stuff. Come on, stay with me.” Lathe looked concerned as his limbs still limply floated in the bath. “Can you bend your knees? Please, try.”

Tucker seemed confused for a moment before slowly trying to bend his knee, barely able to move it. “C-C-C-Cold....” He finally managed, but he didn't notice a woman coming in to put an IV in until his arm was pulled gently out of the water and straightened. Tucker’s face contorted in pain as it was straightened out and he watched the IV go in, to feel the warmed IV enter his system and start to warm him up.

Lathe caught his look of pain, still working to calm him. “I know it hurts honey, but the fact you can still feel them is great. That means we can get you warmed up and fix all this, okay? Just be patient with it and you'll be good as new.” You'll be fine... you kinda managed to move your limbs, hopefully you're fine.

I feel like I’m frozen... Why can’t I move my arm? His eyes scanned the room with confusion. “-cold....” Tucker’s voice was full of confusion and pain. I’m so cold....

Lathe felt the water, which was rapidly cooling. He's a giant ice cube... “Ma’am, the bath isn't barely warm anymore.” He needs new hot water....

The nurse’s brow furrowed, dipping her hand into the cool water, her eyes widening and reaching down for the drain to start. Okay, we'll get the cold water out, we'll put steaming water in. She walked off, coming back minutes later with what looked like coffee pots full of hot water to dump into the tank full of half cold water. This should work better in keeping him warm....

Well shit. Lathe moved to help her, picking up one of the containers and opening the top, carefully dumping the contents into the tub. This should work... it'll probably hurt like a bitch, but it'll work...

Tucker’s eyes were wide with pain as it bloomed in his feet, the first things to take effect with the new hot water. Fuck! It hurts! He let out a loud whimper, able to try and shuffle his ankle away from the nurse and Lathe pouring hot water onto his feet.

Lathe winced as Tucker whined loudly, still pouring the hot water into the tub. “I’m sorry, Hon. It’s this or no more toes.” That’s what it is…

Tucker shook his head. “H-Hurt…” It really hurts, it hurts too much! I want you to stop! I can feel my toes!

Lathe and the nurse emptied the first tank, Lathe helping her set it back on the cart. “Tucker, try to wiggle your toes Hon.” Let’s see what progress you’re making…

Tucker shook his head. They hurt… They hurt so much. “B-Boot….” I have my boots on… It feels so weird with the water on. He shifted his legs a bit better, slowly able to unfurl from a ball.

Lathe sighed in relief as he began to slowly unfurl, reaching to feel the water. It’s still pretty cool… “We need to add another, Hon. You need your arms and legs.” They’re important…

Tucker shook his head, his eyes looking scared as he slowly started to shift his arms to uncurl from his chest. It hurts, I don’t want anymore hot water…. The nurse reached into the water, starting to untie Tucker’s boots and pull them off, which of course made him start to scream and cry. It hurts! It hurts! Make it stop! “S-Stop….” He begged, struggling to move his feet away. His skin started to look somewhat better around his ankle instead of purple. Tucker’s eyes widened more as he saw the nurse come close to him with scissors. No! What’s she doing!? He struggled to move, finding his efforts were in vain as soon the scissors touched his jeans, which were made quick work of and taken off of him. He cried more as the hot water was now almost completely touching his skin, the purple starting to fade quickly. “It hurts….” He whined, looking to Lathe with fear. It hurts so much.

Lathe ran a hand through his hair, relieved as the purple started to fade, his skin slowly flushing red. “I know it hurts honey, but you need to get warmed up. You were a human popsicle out there, we need to thaw you out. I know it hurts now but you'll feel so much better when you’re warm and can move all your limbs. Can you please try your toes again? It's important we know how well you're doing.” I know it hurts, but it's for your own good.

Tucker whimpered but nodded and slowly was able to move his toes. It burns, it burns a lot … “H-How….” How did you know where to find me? Even the cops didn't find me..
Lathe sighed as Tucker moved them slowly, thankful he still had feeling in all of them. “...how what? How we found you?” He watched Tucker slowly nod. “You still had your phone on you. We pinged it, and it told us just about where you were. I ran right past you in that alley… if you hadn't coughed, I might not have noticed you....” That's a scary thought...

They probably called you to find me... “N-No I-Interest....” No one... He whimpered as more hot water was poured on him, the purple color starting to leave his arms. It hurts a lot... Tucker started to move his fingers, slowly gaining motion.

Lathe helped dump the water into the tub, setting the second tank back on the cart. He knelt down next to Tucker, giving him a sympathetic look. “I'm sorry, Honey… I know it must've hurt to not be chosen... but, actually, there is interest.” Lathe watched him immediately perk up, giving him a faint smile. “Ieva and I drove all the way down here to see if you were still in the orphanage... and if you were, we'd adopt you. We went to find you when the woman said you were missing... and here we are.” Lathe paused for a moment, his eyes searching Tucker’s for his reaction. “Would you like to come back home with us? As our son?” Please say yes...

Tucker was shocked, freezing as he looked at Lathe to see the slightest hint of deception. “R-Really?” You actually want to adopt me after everything I've done in the past two years to you guys?

Lathe smiled warmly. “Really. You can come home, keep your room and fill it with all the stuff you want, take over the garage with all your carpentry and stuff, and have friends over and just... do teenager stuffs. And I just expect the occasional hug and eye contact.” Lathe poked his shoulder. “Does that sound okay?” Please?

Tucker’s eyes were still very wide before he nodded and moved his head against Lathe’s hands, yelping as hot water was poured into him once again, the pain like needles on his arms and hands. It hurts... I can feel it...

Lathe gently carded his hands through Tucker’s damp hair, smiling faintly and murmuring quietly. “We can’t have you being a human ice cube. As soon as you're thawed we’ll get you dried off and stuff, take you out for something nice to eat. That sound okay?” This won't be forever.

Tucker nodded, watching as Ieva came over to where he was, noticing the taller man behind her. Mr. Jans? Why’s he here? He groaned as Lathe ran fingers through his hair, wishing that he wouldn’t have to sit in the hot water anymore… it’s hot... And my skin looks like it's red and puffy...
Lathe looked over his shoulder, smiling to the taller man. “Hello. Mr. Jans, was it?” Tucker knows you.

The man nodded, holding Tucker’s backpack in one hand and a file in the other. “Yes, but you can call me Mike… Or Jans, either really.” Tucker looks like he could use some new clothes… And he looks better than I thought he would considering we couldn’t find him at all during the storm last night...

Lathe nodded, smiling to him. ...I like Jans, and I already know a ton of Mikes. “Okay Jans. He’s said yes to us adopting him. And he’ll be fine- he’s just taking his time thawing out.” He needs time for that.

Jans nodded, holding up a large file. “I got all the paperwork right here.” I figured he’d say yes, he looked absolutely miserable when he left you guys.

Tucker smiled softly as Ieva plucked the file from him and started to read over everything. They can take me home… I have a home …

Lathe grinned, turning back to Tucker, still cradling his head. “You have a home now, Hon. I fixed all the holes in the walls and repainted everything and I tacked all your plans back up in the garage. And you get to keep all your legos. They're yours.” You get to keep them. “...As long as you occasionally share.” There's plenty for more than just you.

Tucker looked at him with weak eyes, relaxing in his touch, a soft smile on his face for the first time in forever. I have a home. His eyes closed from utter exhaustion, his head becoming limp against Lathe’s hands. I have a home...

Jans smiled softly as he kneeled down near Lathe. “Do me a favor Mr. Quo….” I need to make sure he doesn’t end up like this again...

Lathe looked over to him, still holding Tucker’s head in his hands so it didn't have to rest on the edge of the tub. “Yes?” What is it?

“Don’t bring him back… Tucker’s had it rough from the start.” He needs someone to love him, and keep him.
Lathe smiled, nodding. “We’re keeping him, don’t worry. He deserves a good home…” He really does… and not a temporary one either.

Jans seemed to sigh in relief. “Good, how’s Jake doing with you guys?” He smiled softly. I remember when we picked him up from the psych ward… It was a year and a half ago… but it feels like it was yesterday…

Lathe smiled widely. “He’s doing really well. He’s such a smart kid. We actually started doing tutoring at home when he seemed to do really well picking up material at school, and he somehow understands Calculus… I’m actually not joking. We gave him a practice AP exam and he easily passed. The kid’s brilliant.” I can’t believe it… “And he loves it, living with us… he still can’t get enough of the dogs, and they all love him… we all do. And he loves to help cook. He’s a great kid.” He’s such a sweetheart….

Jans smiled, moving his own hand under Tucker’s neck. “That’s wonderful, but you need to go sign some papers too…. Go do that now, that way you can just take him and not have to deal with Gianna again.” I heard the whole conversation… I don’t know how she’s not fired yet…

“That was that woman at the front desk? Is there somewhere I can, I dunno, leave a complaint?” She was so goddamn apathetic…. what the hell...

“Even if you do it won’t help, she’s fucking someone higher up, so she’ll be staying…” I hate it, she’s been there for way too long and we’ve gotten way too many complaints. He smiled as Tucker seemed to sleep soundly. “I remember when this guy used to cry in his crib all the time…” He’d wake me and my wife up all the time…

Lathe sighed, shaking his head. “Of course she is.” Figures. Lathe smiled as Jans held Tucker’s head, going through the papers after he dried off his hands. “You’ve been working with the system for a long time, it sounds like.”

“545… Now 546 adopted kids from under my belt.” I’m really happy that he’s going to a good home. “Not many age out, I’ve only had that happen about 11 times… I wanted to make sure he got adopted, so when I heard that you were interested and Gianna was giving you shit I started getting the papers together.”

Lathe looked up, smiling. “That’s wonderful to hear.” That’s a lot of kids…. “And maybe after things settle a bit I’ll give a few higher-ups some shit about Gianna for you. The kids could do with a little less apathy to their possible future parents.” Really tho….
Jans nodded, running his hands through Tucker’s hair as the nurse came to put more hot water in his tub, watching him wince a bit before settling down again. He’ll be okay, he’s completely unfurled, which is good. “She’s had it out for Tucker since he tried to get away from the system after he was brought back a second time.” I don’t think he could handle a third…

“And that was yesterday……if she doesn’t give a shit about what the kids are going through, why even take the damn job? That’s all I wanna know.” Yeah. People are gonna be hearing from me.

“No idea, but I mean before that… He was brought back from his second adoption five years ago, she hasn’t cared about him since, which was why I tried to keep him in foster care…. I was really surprised to hear that I had to pick him up to bring him back to the orphanage…. It didn’t seem like him at all…” He was absolutely miserable when he left…

Lathe sighed quietly. “He was told on Christmas that someone was interested… and a day later told that they weren't anymore… he lost hope that anyone would want him… and he thought staying at the orphanage would help his chances. …I didn't want him to leave… he called himself for the transfer…. …but I don't want him to go without a home… and he has one now.” Lathe signed the last paper he needed to, glancing over the pile. “...I think that's it.” Is he ours now?

“Yeah, he’s all yours, but I still technically am in charge of him until things are processed, so I’ll need to sign his discharge papers… So I’ll wait here with you guys, and if you have any questions you're certainly welcome to ask.” I know Tucker’s a handful, even if you’ve had him for two years…

Lathe nodded, setting the papers on a nearby table and going to kneel down next to the tub, studying his peaceful face as he slept. ….I don’t think there’s much of anything to ask... Tucker’s Tucker. That’s what we know. They were mostly quiet for a while as Tucker napped, waking him up with a gentle shake of his shoulder. “Wake up, Hon. We think we can take you home now. Try to move your limbs, Hon.” Let's see... you're probably still kinda stiff but we expected that.

Tucker blinked his eyes, a loud groan leaving him. “I’m tired…” I didn’t sleep last night…. It was too cold to sleep... He was able to move his whole body around and the purple color had receded to bright red in the steaming tub. “W-warm…. I feel warm… Which is good…. I like feeling warm…

Lathe smiled. “That's good to hear instead of cold.” Lathe reached for the drain, looking around for towels. He and Jan's held out their hands, getting Tucker on his own legs, even if they were a bit shaky and stiff. They kept him steady and dried him off, getting him out of his soaked clothing and into the clothes Jans had brought with him. “You think you can walk, Hon? Or do the legs not wanna cooperate?"

Tucker shook his head, holding onto Lathe with clenched fists. No, I don’t think my legs can hold me at all… He looked up as the nurse appeared with a wheelchair.

“Alright, Hun, no staying outside for more than an hour, okay?” I can only imagine you probably wanna stay inside now… She watched him nod and smiled, looking to Jans and Lathe. “He’s all set to go, I took the IV out awhile ago, and he’ll probably want to sleep, it seems he probably didn’t get much last night.”

Lathe nodded, smiling. “Yeah, he’s been napping for a good half hour. We’ll make sure he eats before we let him sleep, don’t worry.” Lathe guided Tucker into the wheelchair, walking with Ieva and Jans to the lobby, wheeling Tucker along ahead of them to get him discharged. They stopped to sign the papers, looking to Jans. “Thank you, by the way.” For bringing his stuff, actually giving a shit… everything, really.

Jans smiled softly, stretching his arm out for Lathe to shake his hand. “I’ll be dealing with you again, don’t worry, oh and I meant to ask, I know by law I’m not supposed to give you more than two, but no one really checks up on that… So I wanted to ask how many you’d be willing to take at once?” I’ve got a few under my care, and right now you two are my go-to foster parents…

Lathe’s eyes widened, thinking. He looked down to Tucker and back to Jans, smiling. “As many as you want to give us. Honestly, if there wasn't that limit, we could probably do eight... ten at most… you can give us whomever you want. Or whoever wants to come chill.” I'm okay with that... and we really could do eight...

“How do five and six year olds sound?” I’m sure you’d take them in a heartbeat, the kids are cute.

“As long as they don't all hate each other, of course. ...and even if they don't exactly love each other, the dogs will keep them in line.”

Jans shook his head. “They grew up together, orphaned at birth. I’ve been struggling to keep them together so that they’re easier to take on, but no one’s up for the challenge…” Because they’re so young ...

“How many of them are there?”
“Six.”

“We’ll take them.”

Ieva wrapped her arms around Lathe. “What are you agreeing to without me again?” She raised her eyebrow, curious. What are you getting us into now?

“...I just agreed that we’ll foster a herd of five- and six-year-olds...” He looked to her sheepishly. I keep forgetting I'm supposed to consult with you on this stuff...

Ieva smiled, standing on tiptoes to kiss his cheek. “I love you... You’ll have to make some bunk beds with Tucker then....” She smiled, ruffling Tucker’s hair as he grinned. You look so happy.... All because of a sheet of paper we signed...

Lathe blushed as she kissed his cheek. “Bunk beds would work... ...that's a good idea.” Lathe looked down to Tucker. “We’ll have our work cut out for us- and yes, I'm helping somewhat. Unless you really wanna just do everything yourself.” As long as we can get mattresses and sheets to easily fit in the frames, we're good.

“I just need measurements.... You can put everything together and paint it however you want... Or we could stain them, that would work too... You’ll need to cut some trees, I’ll need thick pieces.” Especially if we're going to have kids bouncing on them... They need to be strong...

Lathe nodded. “I'll get you measurements, and staining sounds good. We’ll get you your lumber, don't worry. ...come to think of it, we should probably be trying to plant more trees to make up for the ones we keep cutting down...” That's probably, like, good for the environment or something. “They'll need shelves and dressers too... chests and places to put stuff... pegs for their coats and jackets...” They need things...

Lathe smiled, nodding. “Okay, we’ll get you something good to eat.” Lathe shook Mr. Jans’ hand, his smile warm. “We’ll probably be ready for all of them in a couple weeks, give or take. The biggest problem is getting the room ready for them. We’ll let you know the instant everything’s done. Does that work?"

Jan nodded. “I’ll keep them together, Tucker’s got my cell phone number memorized by this point… Oh, they’re all boys. I forgot to mention that earlier.” They like trains and planes… One is fascinated with dinosaurs, another with horses… And they all love Lucy, who is my seven year old German Shepherd, so they’ll like your dogs… Oh and Kyle and Rico have ADHD, I know this is a lot, but-” He looked at Lathe to see him typing down the info in his phone. Oh geeze, this guy. He smiled more as Tucker seemed to realize who it was.

“Wait, you're letting us take them?” You never let them out of your sight! “We get the squad!” Tucker seemed excited as he did a weak victory fist pump in his wheelchair. I love them! This’ll be awesome!

“Let's see, we’ll need more of the wooden trains, a couple planes too, we’ll let them visit the horses… and we’ll be able to handle them if they have ADHD. We’ll get them extra tutoring if they can't pay attention well enough in classes and any grades start to drop. We’ll try to keep them busy.” We can handle boys. Lathe looked to Tucker, smiling. “You sure look excited.” You must’ve hung out with the flock of them before.

“We call them the squad! They’re so much fun! Can I build a fort outside for them? Please!?” I want to build so many things! They have such great imaginations! He looked up Lathe with pleading eyes. I have so many ideas of what to build…. I wanna do it all!

Jans smiled more. “Well, I better get back to the squad and keep them entertained.” He tipped his hat to Lathe before ruffling Tucker’s hair. “Be good for Lathe, okay? He smiled as Tucker nodded, leaning down to give him a hug before leaving. He’ll be fine, he’s got a great home.

Lathe beamed, looking down to Tucker as Jans left. “You can built them a treehouse after we get them bunk beds. And a playground would probably be a good idea…” Keep them from just lazing around all the time… that’d be good. “But let's focus on food for now. Where do you wanna go to eat? Anything on particular you want?” Whatever you're in the mood for.

“Mmmm, pizza….” I missed pizza night at home… I want pizza! His eyes were full of joy as Ieva chuckled. “Can we get pizza?”

Lathe chuckled, nodding. “We’ll get you pizza, don't worry.”

Ieva chuckled. “Alright, to the Italian Pizza shop we go.” She led Lathe and Tucker out to the truck after making sure Tucker was bundled with a hoodie and a blanket. He should be good... I’m hungry too...

Lathe helped Tucker into the back with his wheelchair, hopping into the passenger seat and directing Ieva to the closest pizza place. They soon were walking inside, Lathe still pushing Tucker along. “Okay. Do you know what you're gonna want on it? You can have more on it than just cheese and pepperoni.” You have options.

“Welcome to Romano’s!” The sweet girl called to them as they came into the large store front, customers sitting at table and eating pizza and other Italian dishes. The phone rang an instant later which she picked up as Tucker stared at the large menu above. “Hello, Romano’s Italian Restaurant, my name’s Jaycee, how may I help you?” I wonder what they’re gonna order...

Gordon was skimming a menu he had stashed in a desk drawer, studying it. “Hello Jaycee, I’d like to place an order for pick up please.”

“Of course, Sir, what would you like?” She picked up a pad of paper to jot everything down. Geez, this is a ton...

Gordon listed of a few different kinds of pizza, as well as some orders for pasta or parmesans. “I know it’s a lot, thank you for being patient with me.” He smiled as she read everything back to him, nodding. “That sounds correct.”

Jaycee smiled. “One moment please.” She rang up everything on the till, looking at the large total. “That’ll be $346.79, Sir, can I get a name for your order?” She punched everything in for pick up, waiting for a name.

“Ah, yes. Gordon.”

Jaycee typed it into the system, finding there was already another Gordon scheduled for pick up as well. “Can I have your last name took, Sir?” What are the odds?
“Of course. Ramsay.”

Jaycee dropped the pencil she was holding as her eyes widened. Wait… Gordon Ramsay!! Oh shit! “One moment please….” She put the phone on hold, running into the back kitchen. “Mitch! How fast can we make this order?” She showed him the huge list.

“I dunno, like an hour… Why?”

“Because Gordon Ramsay is coming to pick it up!”

Mitch’s eyes widened and looked over the list again. “Yeah, an hour, tell him an hour, that'll give us enough time to do everything right.” Oh shit, this’ll make or break us! And the manager isn’t even here!!

Jaycee nodded, going back to the phone. “Hello?” Please still be on the line… Please!

Gordon looked back up as he heard her voice again. “Yes? Yes, I’m still here. Everything alright?” Hm.

“U-Uhm yeah, can I have a phone number for the order Mr. Ramsay?” Take the phone number then tell him it'll be done in an hour… You’ve got this… Her voice was full of panic as her eyes were wide looking at the name.

“Yes- it's 316-660-9300.” That'll eventually get you through to me if something goes awry.

Jaycee quickly added that to the system, shaking in her boots as she knew she had to speak again. “Your food w-will be ready in a-an hour, Sir.” Fuck I keep stuttering!

“Thank you very much, Jaycee. I'll be there in an hour then. Goodbye.” Gordon hung up, looking at the phone before shrugging one shoulder. I don't think I sounded intimidating…

Jaycee let out a deep breath of relief as she sent the order to the back with the system, finally looking to the three in front of her a smile on her face within a moment. “Hi! What can I get for you?”

Tucker was still staring at the huge menu list, trying to decide what he wanted with all the toppings they had. But I don’t normally decide…. It feels weird…

“You don’t have to have anything different if you don’t want. Cheese and pepperoni is okay with me. ...do you wanna sit down so we can have something to snack on and drink while you decide?” That’s probably be better- you look so blindsided by the choices.

Tucker nodded and looked down a bit as he shuffled his feet. I don’t know what to get… There’s so many options…

Lathe nodded, looking up to the woman. “Can we have a table, please?” This works better… it wouldn’t really work letting the pizza get cold on the drive home… ...I forgot about that until now… I guess it’s a good thing Tucker can’t decide.

Jaycee nodded. “Of course, just pick any open table and I’ll come by in a minute to get you guys some drinks.” She had a cheery smile on, sitting down to try and calm down. Gordon Ramsay is coming to pick up food! Ahh! The boys better not screw up a damn thing!

Lathe nodded, bringing them over to an open table near the front. “C’mere.” Lathe helped Tucker into the chair at the table and folded the wheelchair against the wall, saving space. “Alright, you keep mulling over all your choices. We’re in no hurry.” It's fine.

Tucker nodded, looking over the obscenely large menu. There’s so many toppings… “Can I get bacon? And Ham? And Sausage?” That sounds delicious …

Lathe grinned, nodding. “That sounds great, Hon. You can tell the waitress when she comes to take the order. It's a large, by the way. And you get to pick your drink, too.” Lathe pointed to the drink list. “Anything you want.” As long as it isn't alcoholic. Duh.

“Can I get a milkshake?” He asked quietly, looking up to Lathe with expectant eyes. I really want a milkshake…
“Yep, any flavor.” Lathe saw Tucker nervously glance to the front counter, his features soft. “We can order if you want. You don't have to.” I wonder how many times you've been in a restaurant? Probably not many...

Tucker nodded and pointed to the chocolate milkshake as Jaycee came over to their table. What am I supposed to do?

Jaycee had a pad of paper out and a pen. “Have you decided yet? Can I get you something to drink?”

Lathe looked up as Tucker hesitated, looking to Jaycee and speaking first. “I'd like a mug of coffee, please.” Set the example. He'll catch on.

Ieva looked up from her menu as well. “I’ll have a glass of water, please.” You can do it Tucker.

“C-Can… Can I h-have a c-chocolate milkshake?” He stuttered, his face flushing a bright red.

“Of course.” Jaycee jotted the drinks down on her notepad, smiling to them. “Have you decided what you’d all like?”

Lathe nodded. “Yes, a large cheese, sausage, bacon and ham pizza please.”

Jaycee wrote the order down. “Anything else?”

“Yes, an order of garlic bread, please.” He looked over to Ieva and Tucker. “Was that all we wanted?” I dunno what else you two might've been thinking of getting. They both shook their heads, Lathe handing her his menu. “That’s it, then.” Easy.

Jaycee smiled and nodded, taking the menus and going to the back and placing their order, coming back with a water and coffee before she went back to make a chocolate milkshake for Tucker. The boy was so cute, stuttering like that...

Lathe smiled, going to add sugar and cream to his coffee. “That wasn't too bad. And now, we wait. Though with that order in the phone she took, it could be a while.” Lathe shrugged, inspecting their table as he stirred his coffee.

“U-Uhm…. Can I have a pen?….. Please?” His voice was small and quiet as he looked up to Lathe. I have an idea…

Lathe looked over with a quirked eyebrow, fishing one from a coat pocket. “Here.” He watched Tucker flip the paper placemat over and start to sketch. ...what're you drawing...

Tucker started to sketch out his idea for the bunk beds, two high up against the wall, three sets, with a slide between each of the sets, along with ladders for easy access. Hmm…. It's gotta have cubbies in it too…

Lathe grinned as Tucker’s sketch took shape, looking over it. “What if this back here wasn't flush to the wall? You could put shelving in there, and maybe a thing here…” Lathe pointed to the wooden frame over each of the bunk’s heads, Tucker drawing in a shelf at one end. For just random stuff. “I like the slides, the boys will probably really like them too.”

“We should still anchor it to the wall…” So that they don’t move…” He drew a sketch of the wall and how the beds would connect to it. “And we need to get a lot of screws…” Because nails will move too easy... “We might also need to get some heavy duty wood too… Like at a lumber store or something…”

“I was thinking that, yeah, especially for the major framework. That needs to all be pretty sturdy.” They all pored over the sketch, soon others joining the first on the backs of the other paper mats, ones for a playground and potentially for a treehouse. Anything for the kids...

Tucker was enjoying making up designs with Lathe so much that he barely noticed the time go by, and did not notice as the large order was brought to the counter, tons of boxes set out on the shelf. I wonder if Dad will let me work on a bunch of tree houses? And have them all connect...

Lathe glanced up as the door opened, recognizing the Officer walking in, grinning. “Hey Ieva, that’s Commissioner Gordon.” Did he order all that food? Probably for the precinct; he's still in uniform, but I dunno.

Ieva picked her head up, looking up to see Gordon. “Gordon, how you doing?” She stood up to shake his hand as he finally noticed her. I haven’t seen you in awhile.
Gordon looked around, not seeing anyone at the counter right away. He looked over when he heard a familiar voice, smiling when he saw Ieva and Lathe. “Hello, I didn't expect to see you here. I'm well, how are you two doing?” He shook her hand, shaking Lathe’s as well when he stood.

Ieva smiled looking over to Tucker. “Just added a new member to the family. This is Tucker, and Tucker, this is Commissioner Ramsay.” He’s skittish... She watched Tucker wave before turning back to his drawings. “You order all the food?” Her eyes went to the door as another uniform came in. “Well if it isn’t Mr. Accident... drive any cruisers into any fire hydrants lately, Max?”

The man rolled his eyes. “Oh god, not you…” He smirked and moved to come up to her and kiss her cheek, looking to Lathe. “My name’s Max, Ieva and I have known each other for awhile...you’re Lathe I presume?” I remember people in the precinct telling me she was married.

Lathe watched Max kiss Ieva’s cheek, unable to keep from internally bristling. He still smiled when Max turned to him, shaking his hand, his eyes a bit narrowed. “Yep- Lathe Quo. Good to meet you.” Yep. As in I gave her my last name, so...

Max nodded, glancing Lathe up and down. “You certainly caught yourself a looker, Mr. Quo.” He smirked looking over towards Ieva, seeing Gordon by the counter getting the first batch of food. “What’s it been, a decade? Ten? Eleven years?” How long has it been since I’ve taken you to bed? His eyes glanced behind Lathe to Tucker. Wait... She can’t have kids... Whose kid is that? Max’s eyes were calculating as he watched Tucker doodle.

“Max… It hasn’t been long enough…” I didn’t expect you, and honestly I don’t really want to be with you if you’re gonna be like this... She closed her eyes to try and calm herself. I do not need you to fuck anything up... I am happily married dammit!

Lathe had to keep himself from saying anything sharp, glaring at the officer. Don’t. He studied him, watching him study Tucker with wide eyes. Oh yeah... “Oh, you haven't met our son.” Lathe smiled, his hand resting on Tucker’s shoulder. “Max, this is Tucker. Tucker, this is Officer Perry.” I have no idea who he is, but I don’t like him.

Tucker picked his head up, silently waving his hand before looking back down at his drawings. He’s looking at Mom weird...

Max glanced at Ieva looking her up and down, his eyes staying on her hips and chest a bit longer than Lathe would’ve liked. “You have a son, congrats... I thought you couldn’t have kids?” He Lathe watched Ieva shift uncomfortably, deciding he’d had enough. “Is it really any of your business? I don’t think it is, so stop making her feel clearly uncomfortable and help Gordon with the boxes.” He pointedly looked to the counter, crossing his arms and standing up taller, looming over him. Bye.

Max narrowed his eyes for an instant before Gordon called him over to the counter to help with the boxes. I wouldn’t’ve called it off if I had known you were gonna be able to have kids! He seemed absolutely furious, like he’d gotten robbed of something as he exited the shop to put the pizzas in the cruiser.

Ieva sat down with a heavy sigh, her head in her hands as she tried to fight back the tears of remembering all the pain that single man had put her through. Fuck… I can’t cry in front of Tucker… I need to calm down.

Lathe looked worried as she looked ready to cry, reaching to take one of her hands on his own, squeezing reassuringly. His look said everything. You don’t have to say anything, it’s fine. We can talk later if you want. But we should try to enjoy ourselves for right now.

Ieva calmed down as their food came, Tucker losing interest in his drawings and beginning to attack his food. He devoured his first slice of pizza before grabbing another slice and slowly beginning to eat it. She watched him eat, a small smile forming on her face as she grabbed a piece of pizza and set it on her plate along with a piece of garlic bread. I’m gonna be okay… I can be okay…

Lathe took a piece of pizza himself, quietly eating and just studying the shop around them, his mind wandering. Who even was that guy? I dunno. Ieva wasn’t too happy to see him. And he seemed so mad about Tucker. Why would he be mad if she had kids? That’s what I made it sound like… maybe he’s one of those boyfriends who stopped dating her when she admitted we couldn’t have kids? Probably one of those. They’d probably really be upset they couldn’t keep her if they thought she lied or something… hm…

Their table was mostly quiet as they ate, Tucker happily devouring pizza before drinking his whole milkshake and curling up to Lathe’s side. I didn’t think I’d ever meet him again… They had the rest of the pizza boxed up as Tucker got dangerously close to falling asleep in Lathe’s lap. Okay, we’ve a long drive back. Hopefully the four boys are still alive… Ieva got the wheelchair in the back of the truck as Lathe hopped in the back with Tucker’s head in his lap. She hopped into the driver’s seat, starting the truck up and starting the quiet drive back. What am I gonna tell him? I
Lathe gently carded a hand through Tucker’s hair, smiling as the teen fell asleep in a matter of minutes into the drive home. He made sure he was asleep before speaking, his voice careful and quiet. “…tell me if you don’t wanna talk about this now… but who was that?” I don’t understand anything right now…

Ieva let out a sigh as she finally got to the highway heading home. “Remember when I told you I was engaged before…..?” She trailed off, letting him try and figure things out.

Lathe’s eyebrows shot up. “….that makes a lot more sense… he looked furious when I said Tucker was our son…” ...well shit. You almost married that guy...

“Yeah… That was the one thing he wanted besides sex… He thought I could have kids and when he found out… he took the ring right off my finger, packed up and left….” It was not a good time for me… I was all alone too.

“...well that was seriously shitty….” That fucker. “I'm sorry about that… and about having to deal with him…” I know it probably made being chill during dinner really hard...

“It’s fine really…. I should get over it… it was nine years ago…” Her voice cracked a bit at the end as she drove, sniffing a bit as she rubbed at her tears. “Fuck… I didn’t want to cry.” At least Tucker’s not awake to see me cry… She turned her focus to the road, watching the white fall down towards the window. It’ll be ten years soon.

“It's okay… even if it's been forever, it's okay to be upset about it…” ....you were in love. And he was shit to you. Lathe was quiet, still petting Tucker’s soft hair, staring out the window tiredly. It's been a really long day...

Ieva nodded and she watched the road in utter silence until they got to the house. “We’re home…” Her voice was a bit rough, and her eyes looked as if she’d been crying the entire time. We’re home, we can see what Eren’s making for dinner… or we’ll walk in on a movie… or them fucking… honestly it could be any of those...

Lathe unbuckled, leaning forward for a moment to softly kiss her, careful not to wake up Tucker. I'm sorry… Lathe scooped Tucker up, the teen stirring a bit as he came out of the car, feeling his hands weakly grasp his shirt. Ieva opened the front door for him, looking around as they came inside. “Hello?” He looked to the kitchen, seeing Eren. “Hey Eren-” He paused when Eren turned, seeing the collar on him. Of course. “…I'm not gonna ask about the new fashion choice, so. What's for dinner?”

Eren blushed, tugging at it. “If you wanted to ask… ask Levi… And it’s um, It’s Sauerbraten… Like pot roast…” I hope everyone’ll like it… He looked at Tucker a soft smile on his face. “Did you take him out to lunch?” You guys were gone for most of the day.

Lathe nodded, smiling faintly. “It's a long story…. I'll tell you later… but dinner sounds good. I need to get Tucker in bed, he's had a long night….” Lathe let Eren be, going upstairs to get Tucker in pajamas. “Come on, Hon, just a moment and you can sleep.” You'll wanna be comfortable.

Ieva came in with the wheelchair setting it against the wall by the door. She looked up to see Eren fidgeting with his collar, a soft smile on her face. Called it… “Are James and Jake alive? You kept it PG, right?”

Eren nodded, his blush overtaking his features. “Yeah… I should’ve had you go out and get more heating pads though….” My back is gonna be even worse tomorrow…

“We could kinda hear you two making out in the bathroom when you got up during the movie!” James called from the living room, chilling in the usual pack of dogs. “I'm surprised you managed to not go insane sitting in his lap the whole time.” Impressive.

Eren flushed even more. “Actually…. I’m surprised too, probably why I dragged him out of the room to the bathroom.” His hands kept going under my clothes and pinching me and trying to jack me off under the blanket I held up to my chin.

“Yeah, I figured. I also figured that sorta thing was what the blanket was for.” We don't wanna know what happened under there...

“Eren! I thought you said you were gonna keep it PG!” Ieva looked at Eren as she yelled, watching him freeze and look down. Oh shit… “Eren…” She reached a hand out to him, watching him flinch. Fuck... I fucked up...
Levi sauntered into the kitchen, looking between Ieva and Eren, beelining for Eren. He slipped his arms around his middle from behind, looking over his shoulder to Ieva. “Nothing really bad happened in front of them, really. James is just really perceptive of what we’re thinking. And Jake had no idea about anything, trust me. We didn't scar him for life, he's fine.” He's fine. Levi ran a hand over Eren’s stomach, trying to soothe him. It's okay...

Eren whimpered, turning to bury his face into Levi’s shoulder. He heard Mikhail’s nails tap on the kitchen floor, coming up to them. Mom yelled at me… I did something bad…

Ieva’s eyes were wide at his reaction and how he seemed to calm for a moment in Levi’s arms. “Eren, Honey….” He won’t even look at me… shit, I must've really raised my voice… I need to stop letting what happened today get to me.

Lathe padded down the stairs, looking with worry at the scene from the stairs. “Is everything okay?” He came over to them, looking between all of them. “Eren, Honey, are you okay? What happened?” Someone talk.

Ieva looked up to him. “It’s my fault…” She had fresh tears in her eyes once again as her lip trembled. “It’s my fault….” She whispered again before more tears ran down her face and she walked off covering her mouth. I... I yelled at him...He looked so scared …

Lathe immediately moved after her, catching her around the middle, his hands gently rubbing her sides. “Hey, it's okay, don't cry honey…. what happened?” Talk to me...

Ieva shook her head, turning to cry into his chest. “I-I... I got so m-mad.... So quickly.” I yelled at him over a sentence .... I can’t believe I let my emotions get off the handle like that... Oh my god ...

...oh. Lathe pulled her close to his chest, looking over to where Levi was trying to comfort Eren, the both of them having a conversation with their eyes. This won't work if she doesn't apologize. “I think everything'll be better if you just apologize and we can all move on, okay? It's not your fault, today’s been a day… but it'll make both of you feel better.” They both ushered Eren and Ieva closer together so they could talk. It's not the end of the world.

Ieva looked to Eren as he kept his head down, fiddling with his clothing for a moment. He doesn't wanna look up… “E-Eren…. C-Can you look up please?” Her voice was soft, trying to be gentle with her words.
Eren looked up for a moment, his hands moving behind him to grip onto Levi’s hand. Is she gonna yell at me again?

“Eren…. Honey, I’m sorry, I didn’t mean to yell at you, or scare you… I’ve had a rough day today and I didn’t mean to take it out on you…. I’m sorry, will you forgive me?” Please…. Please forgive me...

Eren nodded silently, moving to curl up to Levi still. “Y-You don’t h-have to apologize…. I-I shouldn’t’ve d-done it…” He looked down in shame. It’s my fault Mom yelled at me… I deserved it… Because I did something wrong...

Levi had the decency to look a bit guilty, holding Eren close. “…feel a bit better?” He watched both Eren and Ieva nod, sighing quietly here. “Okay. Here, let's go back to cooking, ‘kay?” Let's get your mind off of this...

Lathe led Ieva towards the stairs, his voice a warm murmur. “It’s okay, Honey.” He brought her upstairs to relax, laying on the bed and letting her curl on top of him. It's been a really long day...

Eren’s eyes were mostly glued to the floor as he set the tray in the oven, making sure the temperature was on right before starting a time on his phone. He was absentmindedly scratching at his wrists when Mikhail grabbed his hand with his teeth. I did something wrong… Mom’s mad… Mom’s mad at me …

Levi sighed, turning Eren to face him, embracing him. “Eren, Honey, I know it hurt for Mom to get mad like that, but it's not your fault. You heard Lathe, today was a rough day for her. She just accidentally got angry in your direction. It's not anything you did. If it's anyone's fault, it's mine. I was the one getting so handsy… I'm sorry babe…” Levi softly kissed his cheek, his expression apologetic. I'm sorry...

Eren shook his head, ducking his head down after Levi kissed him for a moment. It's my fault... I could’ve just cuddled with you, but I sat in your lap... He swallowed hard as Mikhail growled at him. I wanna scratch…. Did I take my pills this morning? Fuck… Eren moved to get out it Levi’s grasp, struggling against him. I need to take my pills.

Levi kept him in his hold, leaning up on tiptoe and murmuring in his ear. “Are you okay? Do you wanna sit down?” His lips brushed his ear, feeling him shiver. Relax, please ...
Eren thought about how he had sat down on Levi’s lap earlier in the day, closing his eyes and shaking his head. No... I can't... His hands were shaking as he finally got his hand back from Mikhail, still trying to get out of Levi’s hold. I need to take my pills... I wanna scratch... I can't be scratching...

Levi nodded, however his finger caught in Eren’s collar, keeping him in place as his lips ghosted over his neck. “I'm worried about you... don't run and hide upstairs... okay?” I wanna cuddle... murr...

Eren’s eyes closed as he immediately grabbed at Levi’s hand, fear gripping him almost immediately. No no no no... Not again... He looked terrified as he raced upstairs and into his room, going right for the pills and grabbing all of them. Eren’s hands were shaking horribly as he tried to shake out only a few pills at a time, cursing and hitting his fist against the wall as he dumped more than a few on the counter. Fuck... He tried again with the next bottle only to do the same, quickly becoming frustrated and banging at the wall again before he threw the bottle at the counter, pills flying everywhere as he curled up into a shaking ball, his hands covering his ears. No no no no....

Levi ran after him, stopping when Eren locked the door in his face. “Eren! Eren, I'm sorry!” He's not opening up. Levi went to get the key for the door, cursing his height as he struggled to get it. Fuck...

Lathe picked his head up as he heard clattering in the room next door, getting up as he heard banging. That doesn't sound good. “I'll be right back, babe.” He kissed Ieva softly before going out into the hall, seeing Levi throwing a book at the doorframe above him, cursing. “The hell?!?”

Lathe’s eyes widened, reaching up and snatching the key. He hurriedly opened Eren’s door, Levi slipping past him and immediately moving to the noise in the bathroom.

Levi saw the pills scattered across the floor, Eren curled up in a ball on the floor, his hands covering his ears. Oh no... “Eren?” Levi knelt down next to him, a hand reaching to gently brush through his hair.

Eren shook as Levi and Lathe came in. No no no.... “N-No more....” I don’t want it to happen again! I’ll be a good boy.... Tears quickly formed in his eyes and trailed down his face as he rocked himself a little, his wrists protecting his neck and his hands shooing Levi’s hand away from him. I’ll be a good boy, I swear…

Levi saw him protecting the collar, watching him tug at it. Levi leaned in to murmur soothingly in his ear, his hands moving to try and un buckle the collar. This isn’t being nice to your head, is it…

Eren freaked out more as Levi’s hands shot towards the back of his neck where the buckle was. No! I don’t want it tighter! You’re gonna make it tighter! Just like they did! “N-No…” His voice shaky as he smacked at Levi’s hands. You wanna keep me in a cage…

Levi still softly kissed at his temple, very carefully undoing the collar. “I'm sorry Hon, it's gotta come off.” Levi finally managed to get it undone, getting it off of his neck and setting it on the floor. “I'm so sorry, Hon… are you okay?”

“I-I’ll be a good boy… I promise….” He whispered through tears, wanting the thoughts to go away as the collar was removed. They’re gonna put it back on… And whip me for taking it off. “D-Don’t take it off…. T-They’ll be mad…” His hands were gripping at his neck, hiding it. He can’t know it’s off…

Well shit… I took this too far… “Nonono Honey, it's okay. It's just me. There isn't a ‘they’ anymore. ‘They’ are gone. They've been gone for a long time.” Levi tilted Eren’s head up to look at him. “It's just me, and I'm not.…” Levi glanced behind him, recognizing that Lathe was gone. “...I'm not gonna make you my slave or my pet if it messes with your head like this. It was too much too fast. We don't have to do this if you don't want to. The whole thing isn't being so kind to you and your thoughts.”

Eren was shaking his head his hands covering his ears as Levi spoke, trying to rock himself more. “T-They’ll be back… They always come at night…. Y-You come with them…. H-He left you in charge…” You can’t take the collar off… He’ll make it tighter…. He closed his eyes as more tears fell, shaking horribly. Mikhail was sitting by the door, unsure of what to do, looking between Eren and Levi. He put you in charge…... He wants you to punish me....

...he's so far gone… fuck…. Levi gently cupped Eren’s cheeks with his hands, his voice gentle. “Eren, baby, they’ve been gone for a very long time… it's not like I'm in charge or anything… the collar, everything we did… I did it because I really thought you were enjoying it… there was a safe word and you weren't gagged, we could've stopped… with everything, at the end of it you've been in control. I wouldn't do anything I thought you'd react so badly to. I love you. I came home because I love you and missed you so much … and because you deserved love…” Levi softly pecked his nose. “I'm so sorry, Honey…” I fucked up…
Eren was shaking, looking up to him for only brief instances. “N-No… There w-was no s-safe word… Y-You alw-ways gagged m-me…” He shifted back up against the tub, unable to get away from Levi. Panic had settled it and was inviting fear to follow. I don’t wanna…. He looked around, the whole room changing around him into Levi’s apartment. N-No… His eyes were wide with terror as he heard Mikhail bark, looking towards him to see him shoved into a cage. No no no no! He covered his ears curling into himself as tightly as he possibly could, screaming. “I don’t wanna! I’ll be a good boy!”

Levi didn’t know what to do, looking around. His eyes settled on the abandoned bottles of pills, grabbing the PTSD pills. “Eren, you need to take your medicine.” He shook the pills into his hand, grabbing a glass of water and turning to him. “Eren, honey… you’ve always been good to me. Always.” Levi kissed his forehead, his voice soft. “Just take these pills, Hon. You’ll start feeling better soon. I promise.” Please just do it.

“No! No more! I don’t want them to do what they want with me! I want you to love me! You keep saying you love me and then you turn around and do everything you want with them!” His screams filled the room and the hallway outside, quickly attracting James and Jake, as well as waking Tucker up. “I’ll be a good boy! No more drugs! Please !!” He was begging by the end of it, shaking even worse as he rocked back and forth. This was by far the worst breakdown Eren had ever had. I don’t want you to hate me!

Jake’s eyes were wide as he looked at Lathe standing in front of Eren’s door, James slowly making it up the stairs behind him. “Daddy? Is Eren okay?” His small voice was full of worry as he heard him wail. He doesn’t sound like he’s alright...

Lathe looked distressed, kneeling down to hug Jake close. “Eren’s… he’s not doing too well… it’s not something that can easily be fixed.” Lathe pulled back, trying to figure out how to explain it. “Eren has to take medicine every day or else he gets sick. He forgot to take them today, so he’s pretty sick. It’s not any normal sickness, which is why it’s so worrying, but I promise he’ll be okay soon.” Lathe watched Jake worriedly nod, clinging to him again when Eren screamed. Levi, get his meds in him. I dunno how, just do it.

Levi didn’t know how to get Eren to take them besides force him, looking around for a solution. ……….oh fuck, that’d be cruel… but…. I might have to. “Eren? Baby, I love you so much…. but you're nothing like yourself.” Levi pressed the pills into his hand, murmuring in his ear softly, no malice in his voice. “Be a good boy and take them, would you?” I’m so sorry...

Eren’s eyes widened as he heard those words, struggling to swallow the lump in his throat that formed. Fuck…. I have to take them… If I’m not a good boy it’ll be worse … He quieted, taking the two pills in his hand and swallowing them after only a moment longer. Eren’s cheeks were riverbeds for his tears, hiccuping the entire time. I'll be a good boy... I'll take the drugs... He closed his eyes after, crying silently to himself as he curled up once again, rocking himself back and forth and back and forth. The collar... I need to be a good boy... His hand was shaking as he reached for the leather collar, his eyes full of tears.

Levi pried the collar from his hands, managing to get Eren to down the entire glass of water. He then pulled him into a hug, his voice soft. “Eren, thank you... you're just perfect, don't worry baby... you don't have to wear the collar anymore and we don't have to do things you don't want to... I love you so much... and I wanna treat you right... I'm so sorry baby.... The pills are meant to help you, not hurt you or make it easy to hurt you... I love you too much to hurt you like that...” Please believe me...

Eren shook his head again. “T-They’re s-so that I-I’m a good b-boy... So I d-do what I’m t-told...” You’re gonna tie me down to the table over there and use me until everyone else gets back... “Wh-When are they c-coming back?” You know.... You always know. He turned his head to look at Levi, his own eyes full of fear and pain as he looked at Levi.

“I-Is he okay now?” Jake asked quietly as he heard Eren quiet down. I want Eren to be okay, not to be sick...

Lathe turned as he heard quiet shuffling, Levi carrying Eren into sight from the bathroom, looking torn as he cradled him close. “I think he’ll be okay... but he needs time...”

Levi’s voice was gentle yet firm. “Never. They are never coming back to hurt you. It's just me, babe. It's only ever me now.” Levi slid his hands under Eren, picking him up without him resistance. “Do you wanna just rest a bit, Hon?” We can just lay together and be until your meds kick in...

Eren laid lifeless in Levi’s arms, his head against Levi’s chest, his eyes clouded. I don’t get to choose... I just have to lay there... And take it. He flinched as Levi got closer to the table, laying him down, expecting to be tied up and not expecting Levi to climb on top of it with him. Huh? But... He’s supposed to tie me down? Is he giving me hope? Just so he can take it away?

Levi shifted them, laying Eren on top of him. “You can just get up and leave if you want... but please just know that I love you, baby.” Levi kissed him sweetly. “I love you so much... and you deserve better than the best when it comes to what I can give you...” I’m so sorry...

Eren eyes were still glazed over as he laid on top of Levi, in complete silence. I’m not allowed to leave... I know that much... He would kill Dad if I left... I can’t kill Dad.... His body was rigid as he closed his eyes waiting for Levi to do something horrible to him, only to fall asleep, waking up in their own room with a start and with tears in the corners of his eyes. Fuck... It happened... I had the nightmare again...

Levi blinked awake as Eren suddenly shifted, coping to him as he saw the fright in his eyes. “Eren, Honey, it's okay, don't cry. You're just fine.” Levi kissed at the corners of his eyes, trying to help him calm down. Please don't freak out...

Eren took a deep breath, looking around the room and relaxing on top of Levi. “I had the nightmare again….” But I don’t remember where I fell asleep…. Or how it even started.... He nuzzled into Levi’s chest, taking in his scent which calmed him even further. I need to make sure he wears his hoodies so they smell like him again, so I can curl up into them again...

Levi gently pet his hair, sighing in relief. “...you forgot to take your meds… you were freaking out pretty bad… but you feel okay now?” You seem fine...

“I-It wasn’t a dream?.... It felt like the dream I have when I don’t take my meds….” I was freaking out? So… It wasn’t a dream then?...

“Dream might not be the best word… I think hallucination might be the one… I think that's what you mean… if you've dreamed about me and them using you, it's not real. I'm there, but I'm alone, and I'm just trying to give you the love you keep asking for and deserve… how often do you forget those pills?” It sounds like too often...

Eren could only nod as he clutched onto Levi’s shirt. “I don’t remember when it started…. What happened?” Do you know… And I don’t want to answer your other question... Because I forget too often... Or sometimes I won’t get out of bed until food drags me and I hurt take my nausea pills so I can eat. He sniffled as he thought about what happened. It was all so twisted… And it happened while I was awake ?

“Mom and Dad came home with Tucker, and you and Mom started talking and commented on the collar… James said something about how we barely kept it PG in front of them and Mom yelled a bit… you started to panic… and after she apologized you tried to go hide, I tugged a tiny bit on your collar because you'd be fidgeting with it and to keep you from leaving before I asked you to come back and not go hibernate…. You ran upstairs after that… you were going through your pills, banging on the wall and screaming… I came upstairs when you were in a ball on the floor, talking about wanting to be a good boy and not wanting to be punished… I thought the collar had a really bad effect on you and I took it off of you, and you resisted, like you'd be in trouble for not having it on… I… I made you take your pills… and then I just carried you here and let you lay on top of me… and you were so tense, thinking I’d take advantage of you… but you fell asleep… and it
Eren swallowed hard. “A few times a week….” There’s no use in lying to him…. He held onto Levi’s shirt, trying to process everything that Levi told him he did. “Did… Did… Did Jake see?” I didn’t freak out in front of him did I? His eyes looked towards the bathroom, seeing his pills and pill bottles scattered all over the floor. Oh my god…. I was throwing my pills… I thought they were the drugs Grisha kept giving me….

What. “Eren, you can't forget them that often … if not having them makes you react to stuff like that … and… you were screaming loud enough for the whole house to hear… He and James probably heard you… Tucker too” Well shit. ….I need to make sure Lathe ensures you take your damn pills. His hands slowly ran up and down his back, trying to comfort him. I'm sorry...

Eren sniffled, angry with himself. I try… And I try…. But, everytime that I either forget to take them, refuse to take them, or think I’m feeling better…. It’s never escalated this far… Fuck … “What time is it?” I had dinner in the oven, fuck, it’s probably no good now…. I don’t even know where my phone is … “D-Did I throw my phone t-too?”

“I don’t think so… and it’s been a bit more than an hour… I can only assume Dad took over dinner… he hasn’t called anyone to food yet… your phone is probably on the counter somewhere. I wouldn't worry about that. ...and it's okay…” Levi held Eren close to his chest. “I’m sure Dad did what he could to make the kids not worry… but you're okay now… and you forgetting those pills or not taking them will change.” It will .

Eren nodded. “I-I’ll try and remember them more… I-I’m sorry, this…. This is all my fault…” Because I thought I was doing better with you around… I really did… “A-Are you mad?” He felt the burn of fresh tears in his eyes, sniffling uncontrollably and trying not to shudder, only to fail miserably. I don’t think I can handle you being mad at me… You’re only here for three more days...

Levi shook his head, shifting Eren to kiss all over his cheeks. “Of course not, Hon… I’m not mad at you, I could never be… it’s okay, babe, as long as things really do change and you take them every day… it's okay.” Levi softly kissed his cheeks, holding him tenderly. It'll be okay....

Eren whimpered for a second, flashbacks of the horrible hallucination coming back to him for a moment. “S-Sorry…. C-Can y-you sit up?” I don’t like laying down… Every time I laid down… I couldn’t do anything about it. He shifted off of Levi’s chest, waiting for him to sit up. I still want you to hold onto me though...
Levi nodded and sat up when Eren shifted, still moving to cling to his middle, his forehead on his shoulder. “I’m so sorry…” I still wanna hold you though…

Eren shifted, moving into Levi’s lap and wrapping his arms around Levi’s broad shoulders. “Don’t apologize… it wasn’t your fault… really, don’t think that this is ever your fault…” It’s always mine… I can never do the right thing. His hands came up to Levi’s hair, running through his fuzzy undercut, trying not to stiffen as Levi’s arms wrapped around him, his thin legs wrapping around Levi’s waist. I miss you holding onto me… I feel like all we’ve been doing is fucking each other….. Is it wrong to ask for something else?

Levi held Eren close, his hands resting on his waist, trying not to make him feel caged. They rested their heads in the other’s neck, just drinking in their scents and holding on. I like this… “Don’t be so hard on yourself about what happened…. you’re gonna get better… and that’s what matters.” You’ll be okay… you will be.

“It wasn’t this hard to get over it the first time… why is it taking so long now?” It’s…. It’s been two…. No… It’s been three years…. Wait… how long has it even been? “H-How long ago… d-did it happen? I can’t remember…”

Levi looked up in surprise. “It’s been two and a half years since Grisha died… and I don’t know… maybe it has to do with me being gone and doing what I do… I don’t know…” I don’t have those answers…

Eren shrugged, nuzzling into his neck. “Can we not have sex tonight?” I don’t want to… and you told me to ask you… I feel really embarrassed asking you… but yeah…

Levi shrugged, nodding. “That’s very okay, Eren.” He gently nipped his neck, smirking. “I’ve really had my way with you the past couple days… as long as we get to cuddle I’m happy.” I wanna cling to you still…

Eren nodded, holding onto him tighter as he felt a wave of emotions suddenly come crashing down on top of his shoulders, tears pouring down his cheeks yet again as he clung to the shorter man. “I… I missed you so much…” I don’t want you to leave… I want you to stay home… We’re gonna be parents in less than two months…. And I have no idea what I’m gonna do without you… “I… I’m scared…. What if I’m not a good enough Mum?” What happens then? His shoulders shook as he started to sob, his grip on Levi tightening even more.
Oh no…. Levi held onto him tightly, his voice soft. “Eren, I'm sure you'll do really well as a Mum. And if you need help, Mom and Dad are around to help. And you can always call Sharon or Hannah, they've been there. They're still learning too, but Maverick lived, so they must've done something right.” He smiled faintly, nestled closer to Eren. “And I missed you too… so much… I know I'm not gonna be here when she’s born… and for a bit after that… but I will come home to you two. I have a family to come home to now. Don't be so scared. You're not alone in this.” You'll be a wonderful parent...

“But… What happens when she gets to 2 and a half… and you come home… and she has no idea who the hell you are?” I don’t want that to happen. He was thankful that Levi was clinging right back to him and holding onto him. I love this… I love this so much...

Levi gently rubbed his back. “I'll be there on skype from time to time when she's small, and when I am, you can pick her up and show me to her and say “Wave to Dad, and when she’s small she’ll see enough pictures of me and see me on Skype enough to recognize me, and when she starts learning words you can point to my picture and tell her that I'm Dad and you can have her call you Mum if you want.” Levi just spoke, the words tumbling from his mouth. I wanna come home and have her recognize me… and then immediately demand I pick her up… so I can give her all the hugs and kisses I couldn't while I was away...

Eren nodded, still holding onto Levi tightly as he started to calm down, hearing Lathe call for everyone for dinner. “W-Will you carry me downstairs? And can you see which bottles still have pills in them?” I need to take all of them… He rubbed at his eyes, his arms wrapping around Levi’s shoulders, not wanting to let go of him.

Levi nodded, his arms under his thighs, shifting them forward till he was standing, Eren still clinging to his front. Levi softly pecked his neck as he walked to the bathroom, one hand keeping him up while the other gently shook the bottles, figuring out which bottles still had pills inside. “Two are empty… but everything else has at least a few.” Not many, but a few… “You’ll have to call the pharmacy and get new bottles…” Yeah, that's a thing...

Eren nodded, holding onto him tightly, keeping his legs wrapped around him. “I can ask Dad to call them in… Did you get stronger? I feel like it’s almost too easy for you to lift me at this point…” I miss you being able to carry me everywhere… He watched Levi grab his pills and stuff them in his pockets before his other hand returned under his thighs, letting a heavy blush grace his features.

Levi smirked, hiking Eren up a bit, his hands cupping his thighs. “May~be… but if me carrying you around everywhere lets me do this…” He gently squeezed Eren’s thighs, his hands close to his ass. “Then I'm not gonna complain.” Nope. Not at all.
Eren let out a soft yelp as his ass was squeezed. “F-Fuck… Levi… Just carry me downstairs…”

Fuck, Dad’s probably gonna be worried as all hell...

“Sorry, it's too tempting…” Levi gently pecked his cheek, padding downstairs with Eren still securely in his arms. He sauntered into the kitchen, his tone casual as everyone looked up worriedly. “We're fine, don't worry. Everything’s chill.” Levi moved to set Eren in a chair, sitting next to him and sighing quietly with exasperation as Eren immediately anchored himself to his arm, smiling anyway. You're too adorable… I'm not gonna argue about the clinginess...

Lathe was relieved as Levi brushed their worries off, going to fix them plates. “That's good to hear.” Late set their dinner in front of them, looking up as Levi pulled out pill bottles and set them on the counter. They don't sound as full as they should… Lathe picked one up and shook it, the few pills inside clicking against the plastic. “You need more of these, huh.” I did see a bunch spilled on the ground… He started doing it for all the bottles, surprised a few were completely empty. “You'll need new everythings. I'll call the pharmacy for you later if you want.” That's a thing.

Eren looked to Lathe, his eyes a bit downcast. “Yeah, thank you…. A-and I’m sorry… about before…” I really need to apologize for my behavior… I should've known better than that. He sighed quietly, looking away from everyone else and nuzzling his face into Levi’s shoulder. You're gonna have to deal...

Lathe sighed quietly, smiling to him. “It's okay, Eren. We understand.” It's okay. Lathe sat down to eat, occasionally glancing up to the pair of them.

Levi moved to eat, letting Eren scoot closer so that he could stay buried in his shoulder as he ate. He soon nudged Eren, looking to his plate. “You need to eat something, Eren.” Sustenance.

Eren grumbled something in German before slowly letting his face come into existence, sniffing a bit. He picked up his fork, starting to eat a little bit, but his left hand never let go of Levi’s sleeve. Dad’s worried… I need to show him that I can manage on my own… “U-Uhm… S-So… Are we gonna be able t-to foster anymore kids?” Since you’re adopting Tucker… I don’t think it’s honestly that many anymore....

Lathe looked up, grinning widely and nodding. “One of the workers we met decided to make an exception for us. We’re getting a small flock of boys, five and six year olds, and six of them, as soon as we can build beds for them.” More humans!

Eren’s eyes went wide, a huge smile on his face. “I can move Mila’s crib into my room if I need to…” It’s not like I’ll be getting any… And it’ll be easier for me to wake up if she’s near me...
Levi looked up from his food, surprised. “That’s gonna be her name? I love it.” He smiled faintly, thinking. Mila. ...it's a lovely name.

Eren smiled. “Mila Rose Ackerman.” She’s taking your last name dammit… Not mine. He smiled as he watched Levi still from shock. You’ll get over it…

“… my last name? But I like yours …” I like your last name…

“No… I’m not letting her have the same name as….” He trailed off as he swallowed hard, shaking his head quietly and his grip on his fork tightening. No… Don’t think about it…. Don’t think about it.

Levi rested a hand on Eren’s, squeezing lightly. “It's okay, I understand. It's a lovely name.” Mila Rose Ackerman. ...I’m gonna be a father … ...well shit.

Eren smiled softly, calming down within a moment. Oh my god… we’re gonna be parents … Wait… Dad’s gonna be a grandpa at 40… and mom’s gonna me a grandma at 42… God they’re getting old… I wonder if Levi will stay up and talk with me all night? I kinda wanna talk with him… He was absentminded as the conversation happened around him, a happy smile on his face as he ate. I’m gonna be a Mum…

Levi was rather quiet through dinner, occasionally speaking though mostly focused on his food and the man attached to his arm. We’re gonna be parents… …that makes Mom and Dad grandparents… well then… I can’t really imagine them being that old… Levi looked up, studying them. ......they don’t… well…. fuck, I dunno… I don’t wanna think about them getting old…

Tucker looked up to Lathe a look of worry on his face. “Um… I-I… I can s-still work… right?” I did get the job… but I don’t start until after school starts up again…

“Oh yeah, you can have the job, that's fine. Idrove you to the damn interview, I'm not saying no.” Lathe grinned. “Remember though- since your hours are random, just tell me when you're working via text. That's the only thing you need to do. And tell me if you need rides home or anything.”

Tucker nodded and smiled happily, finishing up his whole plate for what seemed like the first time in a long time and actually asking for seconds. I’m hungry…
Lathe looked pleased when Tucker asked for seconds, going to get him more. “It's good that you're eating.” You never eat this much...

Tucker looked down a bit. I never ate... I always kinda starved myself... I always tried to lose weight... “I... I’m hungry...” You’d yell at me for not eating...

“That's fine- we always make too much, anyways. You can have as much as you want.” I'm surprised you hadn't been eating us out of house and home- in high school everyone ate enough for two at lunch at least...
...I'm at Caesar's. In Las Vegas. Checking in. And Valentine’s Day is in two days. ...what even is life anymore. Marco took the room keys from the man at the front desk, thanking him and wheeling his suitcase to an elevator. ...I have no words for this. “If you get the hotel room as messy as you normally try to make the bedroom back home, I’m make you sleep on the floor.” Marco gave Jean a teasing nudge as they waited for the doors to open. No socks everywhere, please.

Jean rolled his eyes as he waited for Marco to fidget with the keycard, following him in once it was open. It’s a decent sized room for how much it cost.... God I hope I don’t get sick anytime soon, because I’m gonna need to be working overtime for this shit... I legitimately took everything I had out of my savings account to pay for the hotel room and to have enough money for the week we’ll be here... He set his bag down near the dresser, which had a very large flat screen on it. “This is nice....” Stocked mini-fridge, microwave, snacks... $3 bottles of water, you know, the usual fancy place stuff... “Well, we’re here now, and we have our room keys, what do you wanna do first?” We could go eat downstairs? We could go gamble?

“Hm... I'm kinda thinking food first. Then we can go wander around and see what there is to do around here besides gamble. If anything such exists.” It's all casinos... and more casinos... and strip clubs of course, but I'm gay, I'm not indecent... ......I'll have to keep Jean reined in though, I'll just get jealous and then very uncomfortable and then I'd leave.

Jean nodded, getting his wallet and making sure that he had enough cash on him to hopefully pay for dinner without needing to use his credit card. “Well, let’s get goin’ then.” I honestly have never really been to a casino before, and I’ve always heard that it’s a fun place to go... but I’m not really sure if this was a good decision or not. He was quiet as Marco led him back to the elevators, waiting for any one of the six to land on their floor. Was it a good idea.....?

Marco studied the halls around them as they waited, watching Jean fidget for a moment. “You okay? You look really worried.”

Jean looked up at Marco as he spoke, the deer in the headlights look overtaking him, finding it hard to formulate words at that exact moment. How do I ask you since we’re already here? I mean, we’re not really gamblers... You’re freckled Jesus... “I-Is this okay? F-For our vacation, I mean?” Fuck I said it...
Marco sighed quietly, smiling. “Now’s a good time to evaluate the situation. And yes, I do.” He moved to peck Jean’s cheek as he looked terrified for a moment, trying to calm him. “I think it’ll be really fun. And it’s pretty much mandatory that everyone at some point should go to Vegas.” This’ll be fun! “Don’t worry, Jean. You do that too much.” It’s fine.

Jean smiled softly as Marco convinced him against his fears. “Okay.” He blushed as his cheek was kissed again, the elevator finally dinging and opening it’s doors to them, taking them down to the lobby. “I’m pretty sure we have to walk through the casino to get to the restaurant.” Pretty sure that’s what it is…

“If it gets us food, sure. I have no real idea where we’re going, so I’m just gonna follow you.” Lead the way because I literally don’t have a clue where to go. Marco kept close to him as they walked across the casino floor, soon seeing a sign for the restaurant. Food. He was confused as Jean suddenly looked over to their right, his eyes widening. He followed his line of sight to a blonde, thinking for a moment that he recognized her. ...Annie? ...No, it's not Annie. She looks pretty close though, but not quite. He was surprised as Jean suddenly went after her as the blonde turned to leave, catching the back of his jacket. Oh hell no. “Jean, that's not Annie.” It's not her. Her face isn't shaped like that.

Jeans eyes were wide as he caught a familiar stride towards his right, stopping as he looked up to see bleach blonde hair. Oh my god... Annie... He looked to see how the blonde turned to face them, his eyes widening more as he started towards her, only to have Marco grab him back. “Marco… that’s her!” She’s been gone… for two years, without a single trace! I can’t just let her go...

Marco glanced to Jean, his eyes studying the blonde as she walked, making a decision as their eyes met. I don’t think you’re Annie… but Jean looks like he might break down if he doesn’t at least try to say hi. Marco waved to her, bringing Jean with him. “Excuse me?” Marco saw her eyes widen as Jean started for her, watching with shock as she bolted off in the opposite direction. .....well shit. That must be Annie.

Jean was about to open his mouth, though the second she ran he held out his arm, as if to stop her. ....Wait! Don’t go.......... He looked absolutely destroyed as Annie managed to make it out of sight within a few seconds, blending in with the crowd. She left.... Without even saying a word to me... she’s just... gone...

Marco watched helplessly, reaching for Jean. “Here, c’mon babe… I’m sorry…” He gently pulled Jean along, not knowing what to think. .....well shit.
Jean’s eyes were full of torment as he was tugged along, silent as they waited for a table in the restaurant and silent as they sat down looking over menus. “Am I such a horrible lover that you’d just up and leave?” And then never answer me when I try and get ahold of you? His words broke his silence, and he was staring right at Marco. Are you gonna leave me too? It’s been two years since we’ve been together… I still don’t feel like a man at all…

Marco looked saddened by his words, gently nudging his feet under the table and tangling their ankles. He looked him in the eye, his smile soft. “Jean, I love you. You know that. I would never just up and leave. If anything ever were wrong, I’d tell you and try to fix it. But I really do care a lot about you. You’re wonderful to me.” I love you… and you don’t always seem to believe me when I tell you...

Jean seemed to calm if only for a moment, ordering a glass of wine when the waiter came to take their drink order. I need a drink…. I don’t really wanna break down but… She ran away from me again… Without even looking back. He was on autopilot as he gazed through the menu ordering whatever he thought seemed good, giving the menu back to the waiter, watching Marco’s lips move as he ordered too. I have half a mind to believe you, and half a mind to believe through experience and not trust your words at all…. I hate that...

Marco soon handed his own menu back, looking to Jean and seeing the pained look in his eyes. “Jean…” Marco reached over, grabbing one of his hands and squeezing it reassuringly. “Don’t let this ruin your mood for the whole week… I’m really sorry that just happened… but don’t let it get in the way of having fun this week, okay?” I’m sorry… but don’t let it take over your mind, please...

Marco’s right… I can’t let this bother me… I’m supposed to be having fun this week with him. “Alright… I’ll leave it be, It wouldn’t be fair for you to have a mopy boyfriend…” He took Marco’s hand, kissing his knuckles to take his mind off things before their drinks were brought. I don’t want you to leave me...

Marco blushed at the gesture, smiling sweetly. After dinner they went out onto the floor, sitting down at a blackjack table. Marco was doing more or less okay, more interested in watching Jean dominate than playing the actual game. There were four stacks of black chips in front of him, another cute brunette trying to hit on him. Third one in the past ten minutes. They're persistent. I just don't understand how anybody could be that lucky to win that much...

Jean looked back to Marco as the dealer paid off everyone from the previous round, people starting to bet, ogling Jean’s large stacks of black chips. “So um… can I have a kiss?” His cheeks were flooded with red. The girls around here keep hitting on me… and I’m getting uncomfortable… so we’re gonna leave soon, I already have all my money back as it is, so the chips I have on the table are the extra… I’m gonna go all in…
“If it keeps all the girls away…” Marco leaned over to kiss him, his hand cupping his cheek for a moment, his own cheeks burning. Dammit, I love you. Marco sat back after a moment, watching Jean put nearly everything on the next round. He watched him get a king…. and then an ace. …. You got a blackjack. “Are you sure you don't have a horseshoe hidden on you somewhere?” Marco grinned as the dealer moved to pay him, eight light blue chips pushed towards him across the table. That's a ton of money... holy hell...

Jean politely asked to ‘cash out,’ receiving 4 more light blue chips in exchange for his 4 stacks. He got up from his seat, which was quickly taken by someone hoping to be just as lucky. “So... What do you wanna do now that I can carry my winnings easier now.” I only have 12 chips to keep track of. “I can go cash this in? It’s probably safer in check form anyways...” I mean... it's 24 grand, it’s safer on a sheet of paper that has my name on it than it is as chips in my pocket.

“That's probably a good idea... it's a lot to just carry around at this point...” It's so much money... Marco didn't much care anymore, clinging to his arm as they moved across the floor. He looked around for a clock, finding none and looking to his phone. “We've been here awhile. We can go out and wander if you want, or go upstairs...?” You pick...

“Upstairs would work, I'm kinda tired from today's events.” That's not a lie either, I'm exhausted, but in a good way I guess. They finally found where he had to get the money cashed, the clerk’s eyes widening as she saw the light blue chips, carefully counting them, asking for Jean’s ID, which he gave and then writing him a check for around $22,000. He thanked her, taking the check and the paperwork that went with it. “Ready to go?” I'm ready if you are...

Marco smiled, dragging him back to the lobby. He kept close to him, leaning up to kiss him as soon as they were alone in the elevator. I love you... and that is a shit ton of money you just won... I'm not gonna question where you shoved the horseshoe.

Jean’s hands wrapped around Marco’s waist as he kissed him, pulling back to look into his eyes. “Excited are we?” You’ve got something planned.... Don’t you. He’s got an idea.... He followed as Marco pulled him from the elevator and towards their room, noticing how dark it was outside finally. Holy shit, it’s late ...

Marco dragged him to their room, opening it quickly and getting them inside. He let Jean put the check and paperwork down before he pulled him in for a hot kiss, his hands running down his front. I want you... and I wanna remind you how much I love you...

He smirked as Marco’s hands ran down his front, kissing him just as hotly as he was being kissed. Jean let Marco drag him to their bed. You’re gonna have your way with me... Aren't you? Jean’s eyes were shaded as he looked up to Marco. I love that about you...So shy it's adorable... well, shy
Marco broke their kiss to peck down his jaw, gently pushing Jean to sit on the edge of the bed, Marco making himself at home in his lap. He pecked down his neck, nipping at the soft flesh as he felt all the way down his front, tugging at the hem of his hoodie. I want this gone...

Jean obliged, shifting his head to give Marco more room before he tugged his hoodie and the shirt underneath himself up and over his head. God... He's so handsome... He bit his lip, feeling himself slowly becoming hard. Why is it taking so long? I used to be able to get it up quicker than that...

Marco immediately attacked the bare skin with his lips, Jean arching back as his lips sealed over a nipple, sucking at it as his fingers teased the other. I want you to feel really good. He switched between the two, feeling himself harden with Jean’s quiet gasps. I love all the sounds he makes...

Jean let out soft gasps as Marco’s lips took over both his nipples, letting his arms fall behind him and support him as he arched his back for Marco. Fuck…. He felt his pants tighten uncomfortably as he shifted, rubbing up against Marco’s crotch. He’s hard too...

Marco could feel Jean harden against him, ‘accidentally’ shifting his hips and rubbing their bulges against each other. He glanced up at another gasp, pecking softly at his chest. “There something wrong, Jean?” One hand moved down his front, cupping his bulge. “Something you need… help with?”

“Hmm, getting your ass to hurry up and fuck me.” That's what I need help with. He ground up against Marco’s bulge again, delighting the delicious friction that ensued. “M-Marco… Hurry, I want you dammit….…” His cheeks were flushed red from embarrassment as he spoke, his eyes full of lust and need.

Marco whimpered a bit as Jean ground up into him, flushing at his words. “If that's what you want…” Marco gave him a small smirk, staying put and tugging his own jacket and shirt off, stepping off of Jean and kneeling down to undo his jeans, tugging them down as he kissed up the insides of his thighs. He teasingly kissed his bulge through his boxers, kissing away as he tugged those down too. He gave the tip a teasing open-mouth kiss, his hands running over his thighs as he stood. He flushed darker as he undid his own jeans, Jean watching him without shame. Dammit... that look...

Jean shuffled on top of the mattress, his eyes shamelessly watching as Marco undressed. He beckoned him to come onto the bed with him, a smirk on his face. I want you, I want you bad.
Marco sighed quietly, smiling. “One second, babe.” He quickly moved to fidget with his backpack, setting lube and condoms on the bed before crawling over on top of him. Makes things easier. And not hurt as much... Marco straddled him, kissing him deeply as his hands slowly ran all over whatever skin he could reach, slowing their pace down. I don't wanna hurt you or anything... He moved his head, kissing back down to his neck and sucking at a spot on his shoulder, starting to leave a trail of marks. And you're mine ... not someone else’s.

Jean groaned as Marco marked him up. I wonder if he’ll let me sleep after we’re done? I’ve been awfully tired lately. His hands moved to Marco’s hair, tangling his fingers in the dark chocolate locks. He’s so caring.... I love it, even if I am the lesser of us in this situation. Jean watched Marco move lower and closer to his hard member, his eyes full of lust, his breathing hitched. I want it... I really want it.

Marco kissed tenderly down his stomach, soon licking at the base of his length, thinking. I haven't done it in awhile... Marco shifted to bring his legs over his shoulders, exposing his hole to him. He dove in, lapping at the ring of muscle, the tip of his tongue prodding at it. I wanna hear you...

Jean’s eyes widened as his lower half was lifted and his entrance prodded at. “F-Fuck... M- Marco!” He let out loud moans and cries. Oh my god... His tongue ... His hands grabbed onto Marco’s hair, his whole face flushing as he felt his wet muscle lap at his entrance. It feels so good.

Marco's hands ran over his thighs, up to his hips, teasing around his base before coming down again. I love how you sound... Marco’s tongue eased it’s way past the muscle, going in and out again a few times, feeling Jean struggle not to writhe above him. He soon pulled away, kissing back up to his neglected length, wetly kissing up and down the shaft. I love doing this sort of stuff to you... you deserve all of it... Jean jerked his hips, trying not to let the sudden sensations push him over the edge. Fuck.... “M-Marco... Fuck... D-Don’t....” I don’t know why.... But I feel like I could let go any second ... He whimpered as Marco left sloppy kisses all over his length. Jean struggled to get his arms under him, trying to boost himself up. What the hell is wrong with me?

Marco left one last kiss on his length, looking up to him, tilting his head a bit. “Jean, it's okay, you don't have to do much...” Marco reached up, easing him back down. “Let me take care of you, Hon.” Marco gently nipped at his ear, deciding to move on and reaching for the condoms and lube. I'll prep you... don't worry, I'll make you feel good...

Jean's eyes were wide, watching as Marco finally got the lube and condoms. Fuck, this is gonna be... harder holding it in than I think it is… He whimpered as he felt a lubed digit push at his entrance, squirming at the touch before sighing as it slowly sunk into him. I never really realized how much of an absolute man whore I am… Jeez…

Marco settled on top of him, slowly stretching him as he kissed at his neck, trying to keep him relaxed. You seem so worked up… Marco tilted Jean’s head back, kissing under his jaw, feeling him instantly melt. There it is… that’s the reset button. He slowly slipped a second finger into him, searching him.

Jean’s tense body relaxed, slowly settling down onto the white sheets. Shit…. “M-Marco…” His voice was shuddery, his body shivering at each touch. He looked to his own wilting cock, seeing the streams of precum leaking from his slit. Fuck… There’s gotta be something wrong with me… Did I eat something?

Marco looked up to him with worry, looking down to his length, surprised when he saw him wilt, still leaking precum onto his stomach. Uhm… “Jean, are you okay?” A thought occurred to him, paling, his heart sinking for a moment. Am I not… am I not doing it for you anymore? “I-Is it… am I not…” He couldn't bring himself to say it, his hand drawing out of him, clinging to him. I wanna be enough...

Jean’s eyes widened, quickly shaking his head. “No, Marco, it’s not you… I don’t know what’s up with me… You’re perfect baby… I could never ask for more from you…” Shit… Is this…. Is this gonna fuck us over? “Marco… Please don’t stop… I don’t want you to.” Please believe me… I don’t know why I can’t stay hard...

Marco still looked distressed as he nodded, his fingers going back to his hole, though he still buried his face in Jean’s neck. “Are you sure it’s not… are you sure that… that I'm enough?” I don't know what else to think… He held onto him tighter, feeling overly possessive. I don't want us to fall apart because I'm not attractive enough… or that I don't do the right things… but… I don't get it… I thought… I thought everything was fine ...

Jean moved his head to press gentle kisses on his neck, his own hands slightly shaking as they wrapped around Marco. “You’re perfect…. Don’t you worry about it…” You are … I’m the one who’s in the wrong here… He let out a loud moan as Marco found his prostate, feeling his length begin to harden once again. What is with this fluctuation?

Marco sighed deeply, trying to calm down as Jean moaned, watching him begin to harden again. ...is it just because I'm hitting your prostate? But… you were hard when I was rimming you… and not when I was getting stuff… I don't know what to think… Marco eased in a third finger, kissing down Jean’s jaw. “...I love you…” His voice was small, shaky. I really do... I don't wanna think “I love you too.” Jean’s response was immediate as he let out another loud cry near Marco’s ear as he was stretched out, his back arching in pleasure. Fuck… It feels so good… “Marco… S-So good…”

Marco’s eyes darkened as Jean moaned wantonly, nipping under his jaw before drawing his hand out of him, sure that he was loosened up. He teasingly stroked him with one hand as he reached for the condoms and lube, keeping him hard as he rolled the condom on and lubed up, moving on top of him, his tip nudging his entrance. “I love you so much…” Marco slowly slid inside of him, letting Jean adjust every other inch until he was buried, softly kissing his neck. I care about you so much…

Jean gasped when he first entered, slowly becoming accustomed to the burn of being stretched. “M-M-Marco…. F-Fuck me…” Please , I need you… I really need you. His moan caught in his throat as he started to pull out before thrusting back in. Jean’s length was still considerably hard, though a little softer than it normally was. Fuck it feels good… No… It feels great …

Marco was slow, his hands all over Jean as he thrusted into his heat. He felt Jean’s legs wrap around his middle, leaning up to deeply kiss him as they made love. I want you to remember how much I love you… because you forget all the time…

Jean groaned into the kiss, his hands coming up to let his fingers play in Marco’s hair. His mouth opened to let Marco’s tongue explore his mouth, letting their tongues dance with each other as he felt Marco getting dangerously close to finding his prostate. It feels so good… It’s almost like the best yet… But I don’t know why I can’t keep myself hard. His arms wrapped around Marco’s shoulders, keeping their bodies close. I’m gonna be exhausted after this…

Marco kept him close as he moved, one hand cradling his jaw, the other moving south, slowly stroking his length in time with his thrusts. I want you to feel really good… ....you’re barely still hard… ....but I don’t get it… He felt Jean break away from their kiss for a moment, gasping and letting out a sinful moan, his grip tightening on him. If it feels so good… what’s wrong? Marco tried not to think about it, picking up his pace just a bit.

Jean continued to let out sinful moan after sinful moan. His face was completely flushed, all the way down his neck as well. It feels amazing… “M-Marco… I-I….” I feel weird… I feel like I can climax at any moment, like I should be able to… But I can’t… Something’s preventing me… is this to do why I haven’t been waking up with morning wood? He let out a loud gasp arching his back more as Marco continued to hit his prostate. Fuck… It feels great…
Marco kissed and licked at his neck, deeply sighing as Jean moaned in his ear. He sucked dark marks up his neck, feeling himself grow warm all over. He feels so good…. I don't think I can last much longer… “Jean… baby, I'm close…” Marco kissed up to his jaw, his voice smooth as he looked him over. “I wanna see you when you cum…” You're too handsome anyway… and my god, your expressions are too hot…

Jean felt the sensations rolling around in his gut increase at those words. He's beautiful… I love him so much… He shifted his head to the side, giving him better access to his jaw as his toes curled. “M-Marc… I don't want!” Jean let out a shrill cry as Marco thrusted into his prostate dead on, allowing him to finally tip over the edge, his soft length hardening for a moment as he came between them. Fuck… I'm tired… I'm really tired… “Fuck… Marco…” He was breathing heavily as he laid under him, in utter bliss, the sensations still pooling around his gut. I feel weird… something’s not right here…

Marco came hard inside him, burying his face in his neck, moaning loudly. Damn… my god, I love him… They both panted to catch their breaths, Marco drawing out, softly kissing Jean’s cheek. “Let me clean you up, babe.” He tossed away the condom, going to get a warm washcloth from the bathroom, not minding his nudity for the moment. I wanna take care of you…

The rest of the week was nice- we had a lot of fun, Jean won way too much money to make the casinos happy, and it was a good vacation…we went to see a lot of cool shows, and it was wonderful… but… even on Valentine’s Day, things weren't the best in bed… and after the week was over, the problem was still there… he has soft erections, he doesn't wake up with morning wood anymore, he hasn't been in the mood since Valentine's and he's just been so… tired, all that week and now this week too… he's doing so much overtime now too… I've eaten dinner alone all week because he's home so late… I'm worried… …is it me? Marco tried to hide his distress Sunday, trying to smile when he ears the door of the bakery chime, seeing a familiar face. “Hello, Mr. Quo.”

Lathe smiled, ambling in. “Hey Marco! Long time no see.”

“…I was gone for a week, Mr. Quo.”

“That's a long time to me.” Lathe grinned. “So, how was Vegas?” Tell me everything!

Marco sighed, leaning onto the counter. “Well, it was great, like the shows were cool, we actually won some money, but…” He sighed, Lathe’s look imploring him to continue, blushing faintly and glancing down. “But I'm worried about Jean…”
Lathe’s brow furrowed a bit, shifting his weight. “...is there something wrong?”

“Well, I mean... he’s...” Marco ducked his head down a bit, staring at the counter. “I kinda... I just... I'm not sure if I'm... if I'm enough for him anymore...”

“I don't want that to be it...

Late looked sympathetic and worried, moving to the counter and resting a hand on his shoulder. “What? I've seen the way Jean looks at you, he loves you... what on Earth is making you think that?”

“He...” Marco sighed as Lathe spoke, giving up on trying to filter his thoughts too much. “I feel like our sex life just all of a sudden tanked... I don't know what it is... he's never in the mood and he doesn't even let me try to start anything... he just brushes me off... I can't tell if he doesn't care or what.... and he just... he was barely able to keep an erection on valentine's and two days before even in the middle of things and I just... I don't know, is it me? Am I not enough anymore?” Marco looked to be nearly in tears, staring at the counter forlornly. I want to be enough... He looked up when Lathe was handing him a light blue cloth, looking up see him giving him a faint smile.

“...Marco, I think I might have an idea what the problem is, and it's certainly not you. Even though it doesn't happen with someone so young, the symptoms line up... He might have ED... but he needs to go to a doctor and get stuff tested.”

“That's a thing.

...seriously? “...huh...” Marco dabbed at his eyes, thinking. That's absurd, he's barely thirty. but it would make things make sense a bit more. “...that would make things make sense... but there's no way in hell he'd ever agree to go talk to someone about not being able to get it up... he feels like an inadequate man and human enough as it is...” He'd never agree....

“But I don't think you should just suck it up- that's not right. I'm sure Jean isn't exactly happy about it himself... maybe he's just good at not showing it. But Marco, you're his boyfriend. You've been going steady a while now. If anyone has the power to convince him to go talk to someone about it, it's you. And if he keeps refusing, threats are always on the table.”

Marco faintly chuckled, thinking. “He doesn't really go to the doctor anymore, though... and I don't think he'd wanna talk to you...”

“I don't even have an office or anything to do that sorta stuff, I don't have stuff for it... but...” Lathe thought, going through a mental list of doctors, thinking who Jean might talk to. “......you know Casper.”

“Yeah…? ……wait. Why would Jean talk to him particularly? They're not even vaguely close.”

“Casper is a doctor. He’s hella gay, and a bottom. Jean can relate on one of those two criteria.” We all know Jean is bi. “If he’s got an image problem, he can rant to Casper about it, and Casper will actually understand where Jean is coming from with a lot of stuff.”

“...I can try to ask him to talk to him about it… but… he won't listen…”

“Then how about this. I tell Casper, we make an appointment on a day he isn't working and doesn't have plans, and your job is simply to get him to go. I don't know how you'll do it, but whatever it takes to convince him.” Anything will do.

Marco nodded, letting out a breath of relief. “Thanks…” I have at least a little hope that this isn't about me… ……..now all I need to do is get Jean to go through with this.
Chapter 89: Mila Rose Ackerman

Eren’s eyes widened as he heard his phone go off, instantly recognizing the ringtone. *Is it time….?
He fumbled with the bright screen looking to see that the numbers were somewhere in the early morning. “H-Hello?” *It’s so early… please say it’s time…

Eren gasped, his eyes widening. “I’ll be there as soon as I can!” He hung up, instantly awake and grabbed clothes, running out of the room and towards Lathe and Ieva’s. He entered, not really caring that he was clambering all over the place as he got to Lathe’s side of the bed and shook him.
“Dad Dad Dad Dad wake up!” His voice was high pitched and cheery, way to happy for 2 in the morning.

Lathe jerked awake, blinking rapidly as Eren sounded like an overexcited puppy in his ears. “Whoa whoa what? What happened?!?” Lathe sounded worried, sitting up, Ieva beside him stirring as well.
What happened?! Did someone get hurt?!

down the stairs and getting his boots on before he ran outside and his car roared to life. He was on a high as he drove to the hospital, quickly making his way up to the maternity wing. *It's time! My baby girl is coming!

Lathe needed a second to process it before grinning, turning to Ieva. “It's time!” Lathe became ecstatic, kissing her cheek before getting out of bed to get dressed. *I need to go be there for him.

Ieva groaned as she shifted. “Text me when she’s born…. Send pictures… I’ll take care of breakfast…” *I need sleep still… I’m exhausted. She laid back down, curling up to Lathe’s pillow, hugging it to her chest. *Sleep….

Lathe chuckled, leaning over to kiss her forehead. “I will, don't worry. And thank you, Hon.” Late quickly went back to getting dressed, snatching his wallet and his keys, giving Ieva one last kiss before running off downstairs to hop into the Thunderbird. *My granddaughter is being born…
Lathe made good time to the hospital, heading for the maternity wing.

Eren was standing beside the surrogate, holding her hand on one side, her actual husband on her other side. The doctor was working them through the process, and she was starting to crown. *Just a few more moments... and I’ll have my baby girl...

Lathe soon appears outside the door, not knowing what to do besides stay out of the way near the door of the small room, wincing as he heard the sounds of serious pain. ……that’s got to hurt worse than breaking both your legs at once ...

Eren stayed strong, a small sigh leaving him as he heard a loud cry, tears welling in his eyes. She’s… She’s alright! He smiled as the doctor cut the umbilical cord, the nurse taking his little girl to go wash her, take measurements and bring her back in a pink blanket within a few minutes.

“So, do we have a name?” The nurse smiled as she handed the girl to Eren first, letting him hold her close as she looked around.

“Yeah… Mila, Mila Rose Ackerman.” She’ll take after him, her eyes are a stunning color… like a blue-ish grey… like his… but a bit darker blue. He walked over to his surrogate, a wide smile on his face. “D-Do you wanna hold her? Before they let you leave?” I know they’re gonna keep you here for multiple hours but...

She smiled, reaching for her. “I’d love to. I spent nine months making her for you, after all.” She cradled Mila close, studying her features, her eyes. “She’s beautiful… and she has a lovely name. She’s taking Levi’s last name. Any particular reason? Or did it just sound nicer?” She grinned to him. “Are you gonna take his name too?” I know you really wanna get married as soon as he comes home...

Eren felt a pang of sadness fill his chest, smiling to try and hide his tears. “I’d hope so… yeah…” If he decides to ask me… Even when he came home he didn’t ask… and I didn’t want to bug him about it. “But… if I don’t he’ll be legally tied to me via Mila for at least 21 years.” He smiled softly, watching her handle Mila gently. I miss him even more now, fuck….

She smiled, looking back to Mila. “Hear that, Mila? You’re the leash Eren has on Levi.” She grinned as Eren blushed, pecking her forehead. “I think he’ll ask when he comes home. Being in the military and in a relationship at the same time can be a tough thing… but when he comes home he’ll sweep you off your feet, I just know it.” He will. “If he doesn’t I’ll murder him for you.”

Eren smiled, sitting on the edge of the bed. “Dad… apparently you’re at the head of the line for murder duty, but I wonder if I like Jessie more to give her first dibs…” Hmm... that's the real question here. “Thank you, really, for all you’ve done for us.” Allowing me to have a kid that’s actually my own…
“Nah, I'll let him take care of the military man. I'd do a crap job of killing him, and I'm too poor to get a hit man. And you're welcome. You now have your very own tiny baby.” Jessie gave them one last peck on the forehead, handing her back to Eren. “...are you the Dad, or the Mom?” I need to know this information.

Eren raised an unamused eyebrow. “Does it look like I could produce my own child if I wanted to? Because I’m male is the only reason we know each other and happen to be perfect friends, Jessie.” He chuckled as he held Mila close, loving his small daughter. I'll never stop holding you... and Levi will be able to see you next week for his tri-weekly skype call.

“I understand, but Mila is gonna grow up really confused if she needs to find one of you, yells for Dad, and gets both, or you can't figure out who she's talking to. If you wanna be Dad, you'll have to pronounce it weird so she can differentiate.” Jessie grinned. These things are important.

“I will be known as Mum in our establishment... and I will inform you that this is my Dad, Lathe, though I’m not actually sure if you guys have ever met. Dad, this is Jessie, Jessie this is Lathe, Lathe this is Matt her honeybunch who put up with my shit for awhile when I was panicking and had no idea who to talk to.” He's a Dad... he gets the panic that I've been feeling.

Lathe chuckled a bit, shaking Matt’s hand as well as Jessie’s. “It's nice to finally meet you.” Lathe looked up as Eren cradled Mila close, looking to him with pleading eyes. I wanna hold the tiny human...

Eren rolled his eyes, finally handing Mila off. “And grandparent mode has been activated... joy.” He watched as Mila closed her eyes just before Lathe could hold her. She's so adorable.

Lathe very carefully held her to his chest, watching her small eyes flutter open and look at him with awe. She's beautiful... and so tiny... Lathe gave Eren a quick and playful glare for a moment, his expression softening again as he looked back to Mila. “Hello, Mila.” He pecked her forehead, smiling. “I'm Grampa Lathe. It's nice to meet you.” Lathe very gently brushed her cheek with his thumb. “You try to behave for your Mum, ya hear? Be unpredictable just enough to keep him on his toes.” He smiled, handing her back to Eren, beaming proudly. I'm a Grampa now... well shit, I'm getting old... eh, I've got a good few decades left in me, I can feel it.

Eren couldn’t help but smile. “Thank you again, Jessie, and Matt thanks a lot for trying to help calm my nerves down, it really helped.” I get to take my baby home soon... Oh yeah. “Um, can you go get the carrier? It’s in the back of my car.” He carefully shifted his hold on Mila, grabbing his keys and handing them to Lathe. We get to take her home!
Lathe nodded, smiling. “Will do.” He soon left to retrieve the carrier, finding it in the backseat of Eren’s car. He came back inside with it on his arm, thinking. I have a Granddaughter now... I wonder what her first word will be? I wonder what her favorite color will be... Lathe daydreamed about everything and nothing, walking down the maternity wing. I wonder when Ieva and I can have our own kid...

Eren smiled as he saw Lathe with the carrier, happily holding onto Mila. You’re so wonderful... I love this... I love this so much... I hope Levi gets to come home and see you... He gently pecked Mila’s head, listening to her whine a little, the sound going right to his heart. You’re not allowed to date until you’re 30...

Lathe’s heart melted as he heard the tiny sound, holding out the carrier and letting Eren tuck Mila inside, letting him carry her. They walked to the lobby, Lathe’s voice quiet. “You better take good care of her.” She deserves to be taken well care of.

Eren had a huge smile on his face, looking down to the quieting babe. “Levi’ll get to see her soon, I wanna go show her off... But it’s like... 4 in the morning now...” Yeah can’t exactly do that... He walked to his car, making sure the baby seat clicked in, and that she was all settled in. “She’s so freaking cute!” We have to teach her to say brains! I want my own little zombie!

Lathe grinned, turning Eren and pulling him into a crushing hug. “I’m so proud... you have to start thinking right now if what costume I should make her for Halloween.” You have so many options- it’s a very important decision. “I love you, Hon.” I’m so happy for you.

“Dad... It’s like February, we have time to plan! Now let’s get home before any of the squad wake up and realize you’re missing and try and wake Mom up...” The boys will be excited to see Mila, they’ve been counting down the days until they have a sister as they wanna call her, even though she’ll be their niece... Technically... Oh my god... If Mom and Dad give me siblings... They’ll be younger than their niece! He grinned, going to the driver’s side and carefully driving back home. Hmm, I wonder if she’s asleep? She’s been awfully quiet... He got out carefully opening the side door, smiling as he saw her small eyes closed. She’s so cute...

“It’s an important decision. And you come straight home with her- I wanna hold her again.” She’s so tiny... Lathe smiled, heading back to his car to go back home. She's adorable... and the boys will be so happy to finally have a sister... well, niece.

Eren watched as Lathe’s car pulled in beside his own. She’s adorable. He carefully unlatched the holder, carefully removing her from the car and closing the door. “She’s asleep, so I think I might just take her upstairs...” Let her sleep in the crib... I know you wanted to hold her, but I don’t Lathe nodded, smiling. “You let her sleep, and when she wakes up fussing for something, maybe I'll get to hold her then. We’ll tell the boys at breakfast.” They all need their sleep- no use waking them up now.

Eren smiled, standing to peck his cheek and quietly sneaking upstairs. His smile was huge, looking at the pale pink crib in his room, setting the carrier down on the bed and carefully lifting her out of it. You’re so cute. His eyes watched hers as she stayed asleep, gently lowering her into the crib. You get to sleep now my sweetheart. Eren made sure that she was safe before slipping into his own bed.
Chapter 90: Side Story 5: Marco and Jean (Solutions.... Maybe?)

Marco fidgeted, getting breakfast ready for the both of them. He was wearing a loose tank top and tight jeans, knowing Jean liked them. He has to agree... I have to convince him to go... He was tense, listening for the sound of movement from their bedroom. He's getting up... crap... He smiled when Jean tiredly meandered into the kitchen, moving from the table to embrace him, softly pecking the corner of his lips. “Good morning, babe...” This has to work....

Jean was surprised at first, smiling as he was kissed, wrapping his arms around Marco’s waist to hold him close and kiss him again. Hmm... I could get used to this in the morning. “Don’t you have to get to work soon, babe?” I don’t know what time it is... But it smells amazing, whatever you made... “At least I’m not fending for myself this morning.” He chuckled lightly. I’m still concerned for myself though.... No morning wood to speak of.... Not even a small erection...

Marco nervously chuckled, looking up to him. “Uhm, no, I asked Dad if I could take a day off again... just the one... and I thought you deserved a decent breakfast.” Marco calmed greatly when Jean kissed him back, smiling faintly. “There are a few things I had in mind for today... I wanna take you out to dinner tonight too, just you and me... c’mere.” Marco led Jean to the table, pulling out his chair for him, moving to sit across from him. “I hope you like everything...” I made your favorites...

Jean sat down, suspicion starting to grow. But you never take days off of work.... And just to go out to dinner? “We could’ve still gone out when you got back home.” I could’ve just gone to the gym to use my day off.... Or tell you I went and sleep... He looked to the pancakes, eggs and bacon on the table in front of him. “Thank you...” Jean started to load his plate with food, hunger clearly in his eyes. I’m starving too...

Marco blushed, stammering a bit. “I thought this would be nice... and we get to spend a bit more time together... and... there's some other stuff during the day that needs doing. I'll explain it later; you eat before everything gets cold.” I don't want this going to waste if I spent so long on it...

Jean nodded, quietly digging into the delicious food. It tastes so good.... But, I wonder what he’s talking about... What does he have planned for today? He continued to eat forkful after forkful, making sure that Marco had eaten enough before eating the rest of whatever he’d cooked. It’s so good .... It’s always good, I dunno what I would do without you...

Marco moved to take the empty plates away as Jean finished off breakfast, setting them in the sink for the moment. He didn't know what to do to tell him, moving Jean’s chair out, settling himself in his lap, wrapping his arms around him and burying his face in his neck, flushed completely red and nervous. “Babe... you know how much I love you... I'm not breaking up with you, don't worry.”
Marco immediately corrected himself when he felt Jean tense, softly kissing his neck. “Jean, I love you so damn much… but… we haven't done anything in two weeks… I don't wanna think that you not being able to get it up is my fault… and I don't think it is anymore….” Marco took in a deep breath, speaking. “...So I made you a doctor appointment to talk to someone about it.” You need to...

Jean listened to him, his eyes widening in shock. “............what?” You did what? “I never agreed to that… Marco, I’m not going, absolutely not.” I don’t need a medical professional to tell me that I’m less of a man cause I can’t get it up! I already fucking know that!

“But you need to go! Something's wrong and I wanna know what it is and it's hurting me as much as it's hurting your pride! I know you don't wanna talk about this kind of shit but it hurts when I barely even get a peck on the lips now… we haven't been intimate in too long and I miss you… and the doctor you'd meet with is a gay bottom too… he knows what sort of stuff about pride and relationship roles could be going on in your head… I just… I really care about you… and it needs to be fixed…” Please.

Jean was torn….. another gay bottom… He can probably get it up, he’ll just laugh… oh god, and if he has to look… I’m so fucking small… He groaned, leaning his head back and staring at the ceiling. But Marco’s gonna leave me if I don’t do something …. But talk to a doctor? He knows I hate doctors… Jean sighed covering his face with his hands. “Fine, but if I don’t feel comfortable I’m leaving and never doing it again.”

Marco sighed in relief, kissing at Jean’s neck. “Thank you so much, babe… but please give the visit a chance… I think you'll get a lot out of it.” I really do… “And if you do bail… at least bring home a bottle of Viagra or something…” Marco kissed his cheek. “I’d love if we had plans after dinner…” I miss you...

Jean sighed nodding. “Alright, but I think Viagra you need to order online… Or get a prescription or something.” I’m pretty sure that’s how that works. He watched Marco get off his lap, his eyes shamelessly going to his glorious ass in those tight jeans. He looks fabulous… And I can’t get anything going on down there anymore…. At least it doesn’t hurt to pee…

“Nah, you can just buy it. But it's not a permanent fix.” Marco kissed his lips, slipping off his lap and turning to go back to dealing with dishes, his hips swaying as he walked. “I'd love it if you did…” Marco glanced over his shoulder, his cheeks a furious red. I wanna love you again… please...

Jean smiled softly, nodding and moving to wrap his arms around Marco’s waist, his lips finding the back of Marco’s neck, leaving gentle kisses. You deserve better than a limp dick from me… “I’m sorry… It’s not you… I promise…” His words soft in Marco’s ear as he kept his arms around his chest. It’s me… not you, not in any aspect is this your fault…

Marco leaned back into him, sighing as his neck was kissed, wanting to just melt into his arms. I miss you… “Would you… feel better if I came with? I don’t have to, just… if you’d rather I do…” Either way it's necessary you go.

Jean thought about it for a moment. If I start talking about how I’ve felt… you’d be absolutely heartbroken … He shook his head. “N-No, it’d be better if I go alone…” For the both of us. “When is it and where is it?”

“You’d need to leave within like the next ten minutes at latest… it’s in the Parsec building, the office is on the first floor. You'd just need to give your name and they'd show you where to go.” It's already all sorted out….

Jean nodded, pecking at Marco’s neck again before pulling away from him. “I’m gonna go get dressed then.” The Parsec building? Isn’t that where Hannah and Casper work? I didn’t think that was a doctor’s office too.

Marco nodded, sighing in relief. Thank god… He kissed him goodbye not five minutes later, sighing as he watched the door shut. I don’t know how long you'll be gone. It could be really short… or you could actually learn to talk to him and be there for a long while…

Jean got into his truck, driving a little over the speed limit so that he’d make his appointment on time. He parked, noticing that there were no signs for visitor parking, nor patient parking. What the actual hell? He shrugged it off, slowly making his way into the large pristine building. He was greeted at the front desk by security and he gave his name and said he was here for an appointment. Who the hell am I even seeing?

The man looked him up and down, pursing his lips. “Go down the hall to the left, walk all the way down, and then hang a right, go down that hallway all the way, and then the office will be the door at the end… Good luck.” You look like you could get lost.

Jean nodded his thanks to the gruff security guard before he made his way down the two hallways. Do I knock? I suppose so… He knocked on the door, trying to listen to see if there was any noise on the inside. “It’s Jean Kirstein… I’m here for a doctor’s appointment…” This is the weirdest place for a fucking doctor’s office.
The door opened after a moment, Casper looking up to him. He grinned, his light blue hair certainly a noticeable change. “Hey Jean. Marco convinced you to come? I'm surprised.” There's no way you knew it was gonna be me doing this.

Jean’s eyes widened as he saw Casper open the door. Oh fuck no. He shook his head, turning on his heel. “I’m leaving, sorry to bother you.” I’m not talking with you about anything, fuck that.

Casper marched after him, grabbing him by the back of his shirt. Hell no. “Jean, listen, please.” His voice wasn't pleading- it was rather collected. “You've got a problem, I get it. You've got issues not only with your dick but with your pride, and I understand that. But surely Marco told you I'm in the same position as you a lot of the time. I get it.” Casper turned Jean around, his expression calm. “Give this a shot- if not for yourself, do it for Marco. You're really young and this shouldn't happen- and Viagra isn't a fix for all of time. Let me help you.”

Jean looked at Casper as he spoke, sighing before finally giving in and following the man into his large office. “So what the hell are we even supposed to talk about?” I don’t even really want to talk to you about this…

“At this point? Anything.” Casper sat on the edge of his desk, Jean sitting in a chair in front of him. “You've got an issue and you're too young for it to be natural, and given your personality, I'm thinking of what else is at play. So. How do you like your job?” Jobs are huge causes of stress in most adults- it seems a good place to start and isn't too invasive.

“I hate it, they’ve been making me work overtime basically everyday lately, and my coworkers are shit to work with, and HR is a fucking joke.” He crossed his arms over his chest, crossing his right leg over his left as well, noticing a slight discomfort in his abdomen region. I fucking gained weight since we went on vacation… Fuck I need to go back to the gym.

Casper looked sympathetic, studying his body language. Defensive. Very much so. “Do you think there's any specific reason you're being swamped and given such a difficult time?”

“Cause I’m the only one who actually fucking works in the whole damn office.” No one does jack shit, and if they do, it’s completely wrong, so I have to stay and do everything over again.

“Do you think your coworkers are trying to dump their work on you?” A nod. “Why do you think that?”
“They know I’m gay…. HR doesn’t do jack shit about it either, and I’ve complained about it. They make my life a living hell.” I don’t like my job, I hate it… but it’s the only thing I could do without going to college…

“They’ve got a legal obligation to stop that… and I know that doesn't do much good in just saying it. Is changing jobs at all an option for you?”

“Didn’t go to college, so unless I wanna be flipping burgers, that’s a no.” I need to keep paying for our apartment… And I was thinking maybe to get a bigger one with the money I got from Vegas… move to a better apartment complex with Marco… “And Marco’s upset that I get home so late…” And I’m too exhausted to do anything with him.

Casper nodded. “…how do you think he feels about this whole situation?”

“He hates that I need to work late, but it’s the only way to keep my job at this point… It’s stressing me out, and just wiping me of any energy I had.” Not that it’s much anymore…

“You must worry a lot about how happy Marco is and how well your lives are going.”

“Yeah…” He shifted putting his elbows on his knees and holding his head. “I thought he was gonna leave too… I mean, he’s got every right to with all this shit happening to me. I can’t control it anymore, and I didn’t think not having any morning wood was a real problem.” I never really noticed it besides this… fuck this has been going on for awhile then.

Casper nodded, thinking. “…does it bother you that you always seem to bottom?”

“Not really, I mean I can’t even keep a woman at my hip, how could I possibly think that I could keep Marco if I was the one topping?” His eyes were distant as he lifted his head a bit, drifting off a bit. I mean, yeah, it was weird at first… but now I’m kinda glad he tops, he can still get off, even if I can’t.

“Do you think that if you switched it up and tried topping with Marco, he'd get bored and leave?” He was completely serious.

“Yeah….” His voice was small, trying not to cry. I don’t want him to leave me… I’ve become grounded in his arms… and I just, if I get uprooted from that again… I don’t think I can manage…
Casper sighed, hopping down from his desk and gently patting his shoulder. That's all I needed to hear. “My advice, based in everything you've given me, is to avoid stress. We’ll do a blood test, but I think with the amount of stress you've put yourself under and the amount of cortisol in your blood is making the symptoms of ED show even at this age. I'd say you should look for a better job, first and foremost. Secondly, know that your worth is not measured in girlfriends or boyfriends. Even as a bottom, you're a human worth every bit as much as the top. Thirdly, get a hobby or something. Occupy your mind- do jigsaw puzzles, meditate, I don't know, something. And lastly…” Casper looked up to him, deathly serious. “I recommend going to the pharmacy right after this with the prescription for Viagra I’m gonna give you and and going home and giving Marco the love he deserves when the time is right, okay? And you do the work. I promise he’ll be all over you for days …” Believe me- I've tried.

Jean looked down in shame, his thumbs twiddling in his lap. “I really wish that I’d be able to do that for him… but…” I don’t even know if I’ll be able to make it through dinner tonight, especially if Marco’s got plans for us for the rest of the day.

“But nothing*. That man is a freckled Jesus and he has been so patient with you and loving of your everything and deserves a bit of love. Trust me- you won't regret it. And if you're not sure, ask if you can switch. I guarantee he'll say yes.” He will.

Jean shook his head again feel his face heat up in utter shame. “I’m so fucking tired all the time… I had to stop going to the gym… And I’ve been eating absolute shit… I’ve been trying to hide it from him… but I don’t know how much longer I can. I’ve packed on at least five pounds in the last two weeks… But I’m too tired to go to the gym or even ask Eren to go to the dojo with me…” I’m so fucking embarrassed with myself… He let out a shuddery sigh, leaning over his knees and hiding his face with his hands. I’m not happy with myself… and there’s no way that Marco would like it… It went right to my fucking gut.

*That's a lot… “Jean, you could just be stress eating. It's a reaction a lot of people have when they're under a lot of pressure for a while. But I do need to grab someone to take a blood sample and test some stuff, okay? We’ll see exactly what’s going on after that.” Casper pulled out a pager, sending a message to someone. There could be something else at work here. Casper looked back to Jean, his voice and smile gentle. “We’ll figure out what's going on with you, Jean. Don't worry.” He picked up a pad of paper from his desk, writing. “This gets you what you need. Just fork it over, and since it’s me, they'll get you what you want first thing.” Casper set the prescription down on the desk again, looking up as an assistant came in with the proper medical equipment. “Jean, this is Andrew. He's going to take some blood to test, nothing too bad. Is that okay?” We obviously can’t force you to.*

Jean looked up to Andrew before he nodded and held out his arm for the man. He looked away from the needle though, knowing he’d pass out if he did. I hate that there’s always something wrong with me… I hate that I can’t be a man in Marco’s eyes… I’m not sure if I’d be able to do anything with him tonight… He winced a bit as he felt the characteristic pinch of being stabbed with the needle. Fuck I wonder how much he’s taking…. And how long are the tests gonna take?

Casper still has a hand on Jean’s shoulder as the assistant took three small vials of blood, looking up to him as he packed up. “You get those things tested with first priority- my orders.” Casper watched Andrew nod and run off, deciding to sit next to Jean instead of sit across from him. “They won’t take long…. and even if you don’t wanna switch with Marco and be a top… do you particularly like being a bottom?”

Jean shrugged, looking down at his lap with defeat. “I’ve never been a good partner in bed… Annie always reminded me that she’d had better…” I know that really killed my wanting to top with Marco… Not to mention that I’ve got a small dick compared to him… “I probably wouldn’t be able to get him off if I was the one topping…” We’ve been together for two years…. And I haven’t topped once.

“You're basing that thought entirely on the idea that the girl that left you knows best. You say it like you've never tried- and you're missing out, Jean. Please, I really think you should ask Marco to switch with you for one night. Who knows- he might've wanted to switch for a long while now.” You never asked, so you don't know.

Jean shook his head. “He won’t enjoy a whisky dick… No one does…” I’ve got nothing going for me at this point… “I don’t even know why he puts up with me anymore… I fucked up our vacation… I can’t do anything right in the kitchen…. I can’t get away from my job… I’m a fucking mess in the head that he’s got no idea exists… I’m so insecure about everything and everyone… I don’t deserve him at all…” I don’t know why he stays… I have no idea…

Casper sighed, gently rubbing his back. “Even if you don't feel like you deserve him, you did something right, and you have him. He loves you a lot - and he cares a lot. It makes sense that you can't get away from your job right away- but start job hunting in your spare time, send out resumes and stuff, find a new place even if it takes a while. As for the kitchen, here's the thing. I agreed to marry Scotty and the idiot could find a way to burn water . Just because you can't cook doesn't have to mean anything. And the vacation getting awkward because you can't get it up is not your fault. You don't know what's going on with your body and we’re just about to figure that out. I know you're insecure and nervous about a lot of stuff, but you need to understand that even if your first time is a bit awkward and nervous, that's okay . It'd probably feel exactly the same as when you two first had sex- everyone gets nervous when it comes to intimate things like that. But you should try- and if he likes it, and I promise he will, it'd be good for him and for you and your confidence. I really think you should try that.” Give you a nudge out of your nest of terror.

Jean took almost immediately to biting at his nails, his foot incessantly moving as he tapped his heel on the floor. I'm gonna have to tell him.... “I-I.... I don’t know i-if I’d even be able to do anything… 3 inches isn’t that much....” Fuck I told him, now he knows, and he’s gonna fucking laugh at how small I am...

Casper’s eyebrows shot up, thinking. “....hm.” Casper thought for a moment. Given that I think something medical caused that, it's not that surprising. But... “....you do know they make hollow strap-on, right?” That's a thing. If you think I'm gonna tease the fact that you're small you're wrong, by the way. “Also, the prostate is only two inches from the anal entrance, so he'd get off either way.” You might have to work for it a bit more, but it'd work.

Jean’s whole face was flushed. I don’t know if I can do it though.... I really don’t... “I-I can’t....” I can’t risk losing him.... He felt a sense of dread wash over him, giving him a hollow feeling in his chest which made him cross his arms over his chest and quit biting his nails. I can’t do that to him... He’ll be so disappointed ...

“Jean...” Casper sighed quietly, giving him a calm look. “I think we both know Marco deserves some love where he doesn't have to do all the work, doesn't have to initiate it, doesn't even have to know it's coming until you're all over him. I think at the very least you need to try to do something special for him, even if that means feeding him and then riding him off into the sunset. I don't care. But he deserves it- and you know that.” You sure as hell should, at least.

Jean’s head was down in shame as he felt the tears beginning to burn in his eyes. “I-I know....” I can’t pleasure him enough, I know I’m a horrible lover who’s too afraid to do anything else because I don’t want Marco to leave.... Thanks for pointing that out.... He moved his hand to wipe away his tears, sniffing. I should go....

“I'm sorry, Hon. But I just think you really need to find a better place in the bedroom where you feel you belong... it'll help you feel a lot more confident, I think.” He caught him as he tried to stand, sitting him back down. “Nope, you don't get to leave. You're waiting on test results. And I think you two maybe need a bit more excitement or something- oh stop blushing so hard, we get it, we all do the sex, it happens.” Casper gave him a look as Jean flushed down his neck, shrugging one shoulder. “I'm actually kinda serious. When was the last time you did something new, that you were excited about?” Anything?

Anything new? Well.... What even counts as new? I just let Marco take charge and I get off with whatever he does.... He shook his head, his chest hurting from the shame that he felt. I'm a horrible lover... He looked at Casper with a blank stare. “N-No.... We haven’t d-done a-anything like that.... S-since we started....” We’ve been doing the same thing for two whole years... But he hasn’t once complained about it... Jean seemed to shrink at that realization. Shit...
Casper’s eyebrows shot up. “Nothing? No thought-out romantic gestures besides taking him out to dinner first?” He watched Jean shake his head, exhalining in surprise. “Wow, okay, uhm... yeah, that’s gotta change. I can assure that if you’re mostly just laying there and taking it every time for two years, it’s gonna get a bit boring after a while. You have to mix it up a bit, even if it’s you just teasing him with your tongue and riding him. Anything different is good. And investing in a toy or two would definitely make things more interesting and pleasurable for you two. But I get that’s what a lot of your worrying is about, which is okay, because it’s very fixable. As long as you want to fix it, that is.” My god, you need help... …..and honestly, I’m not a therapist, but I think you could use one...

Jean could only nod, thinking. What should I do? We’re going out for dinner tonight.... But I have no idea what else we’re doing. “What do I do... If we go out and it exhausts me to a point where I can barely keep my eyes open?” That’s what work’s been doing to me... and I don’t want him to go through that again...

“Well... well, either learn to drink coffee or make love the morning of that day. Either works well. But are you planning on going out tonight?” He watched him nod, sighing. “Then promise him love in the morning. Let him know you’re thinking of him instead of staying silent and making him think he’s being neglected.” Please don’t make him think that you don’t care.

Jean nodded, twiddling his thumbs. “So... Um... How long until the tests come back?” How long am I gonna be stuck here talking to you about this?

“Eh... two... maybe three hours... I told them to put it at the front of the line for testing so it shouldn’t take forever. You’re stuck here... if you want I can keep giving you ideas on stuff you can do to Marco...” Help you make him very happy.

Jean shook his head. “At this point I don’t really think it’ll help...” It’ll just make me think about how much I could’ve been doing...

“I’ll tell you which toys you need to have...” Casper just gave him a deadpan look when he shook his head. “I’ll order them and ship them all to your house if you don’t listen.” should probably do that anyway... you won’t buy them on your own...

“Fine! I’ll listen dammit !” Jean snapped at him though almost instantly shrunk in Casper’s presence. Fuck, I’m getting mad now... Shit ...

Casper didn’t really flinch, his words sounding careful. “…I’m sorry. You don’t have to listen to me.
I'll drop it; I just wanted to make sure your relationship doesn't suffer any more.” It's recently kinda shaky from what I've heard…

Jean looked down with a heavy sigh. “And it’s my fault isn’t it? Because I refused to go to the doctor months ago…” Most likely…

“It would've been easier if you went earlier, but you probably wouldn't have asked the right questions if they didn't already know what the problem was about.” It wouldn't have done much...

Jean nodded, uncomfortable silence taking over the room. “Can I leave?” I'm seriously not comfortable with any of this, I'm only doing this because Marco actually wants me to function like a normal human being and get hard for him...

“If you leave, will you come back in two hours for the results and will you go straight to the pharmacy to get your meds?”

Jean got up, grabbing his coat from the back of the chair. “You have my cell number just fucking text me the damn results.” He made his way to the door with his prescription in hand. I'm gonna need to drink coffee with dinner if we go out...

Casper stood, starting to get pissed. “Jean, listen.” He caught him by the shoulder, yanking him around, staying up at him blankly, sounding apathetic either way. “When your results come back in two hours, I can either text you the name of a long and scary disease before I turn off my phone, or you can come back and I will explain in detail what is going on, what can be done to treat it, and how your life may change as a result. You get to pick. I'll be blunt and professional about it if you don't care about anything besides the bottom line of what is wrong with you.” Whatever.

Jean paused, debating his two options. “Text me when you get the results… I’ll bring Marco…” His eyes showed how uneasy he felt, wanting to just leave.

“Okay, that works well. I'll be expecting you later, then. Do you know your way back, or…?” We don't want you getting lost.

“I can get back.” He opened the door, about to walk out before he turned to look at Casper. “Thank you.” His words were soft and a sad smile on his face before he closed the door behind him and made his way out of the building and towards his car. I have no idea what Marco wants us to do…
Casper smiled warmly, nodding. “You can always talk to me, Jean. I’ll see you two soon.” He shut the door behind him quietly, thinking. He needs a therapist... and a trip to a sex toy shop...

Jean got into his car, resting his head on the steering wheel. Fuck... I might as well go get the fucking Viagra now. He sighed, turning the car on and then starting on his way. He parked down the street from the pharmacy on Trost, hearing the bell chime as he walked in. This is so fucking embarrassing.... I need Viagra and I'm not even 30 yet... Jean looked at the man working behind the counter, handing the slip of paper over. You're gonna judge me... Look at me like I'm less than I already am...

James took the paper, reading it and then Casper's signature on the bottom of the page. “Alright, Jean, I'll get this for you if I could just see some ID.” You look about to implode from embarrassment and it's pretty amusing.

Jean sighed quietly before digging out his wallet, and fishing out his ID. You're gonna laugh as soon as you see I'm 26.... He handed it over to James, looking down in shame.

James took it, looking over the information and typing some stuff into the computer before handing it back. “Alright, I'll have that ready for you in just a few moments.” James stood, leaving quickly to go through the medicines in the back. We have plenty... uhm.... here. James made sure he had the right thing, slipping it into a paper bag and setting it on the counter. “Do you have insurance this would be covered through?”

“I doubt it, I barely get dental... And I barely have any coverage for a copay.... So I'm not even gonna try...” He simply handed over his credit card. I don’t wanna know how much they are...

James nodded, taking the card. “Okay... that's $1,592.00....” He hesitated before swiping the card, thinking, looking back at Jean. Hasn't Casper told me about you? He swiped it anyway, winced a bit as he saw it was declined. “It's been declined... is there another way for you to pay?”

“Are you sure?” He winced as the credit card was returned to him, shaking his head as he went through his wallet to pull out his other credit card. I think the other one had a low charging limit.... This one shouldn't. He pulled out the only other credit card he owned, giving it to James. “This one should work...”

James nodded and took it, swiping it and watching the screen beep at him again, turning to him again. “It's declined as well...” He handed it back. Well shit. Uhm.... ....I've never done it for him though.... maybe if I ask...
“Can I pick them up tomorrow?” I can run to the bank before I go back... And try and pull that much out...

“Actually, give me a moment to call Casper. This symbol here can mean more than just one thing, but I'm not sure.” James picked up the phone, calling Casper. “Yeah, hi, Casper? Yeah, it's James. Yeah, he's here. ...no, actually, not yet. That's what I'm asking about. His insurance is crap apparently, and he needs to pay, but you put the symbol on the paper and I don't…… oh…… oh so it does mean the same thing as like Lathe’s does… oh… okay, got it.” James hung up, typing away on his computer. “Thankfully, your new friend insurance has covered the whole thing for some reason. You can just have this now. Have a nice day.” James nudged the bag towards him, smiling. Apparently Casper thinks you're worth footing the bill for.

Jean looked at James with confusion, taking the bag and thanking him quietly, exiting the pharmacy without looking back. Okay... I have Viagra now.... Not sure how much but at least I might be able to do something nice for Marco... He smiled softly, driving to the apartment and going up to their room. He sighed as he walked in, stripping his coat off and hanging it up, toeing his shoes off before going to flop on the couch in exhaustion. Fuck... I need to nap if I'm gonna make it to dinner... He had set the bag with his prescription on the coffee table, a soft sigh leaving him as he closed his eyes.

Marco heard the door open, taking out his earbud and leaving the computer, sighing as he watched Jean go right past the bedroom without looking in and face plant into the couch. Of course... Marco ambled out to him, his voice quiet. “Jean?” He looked to the coffee table, seeing the prescription bag. You look exhausted though... “....do you want to tell me what Casper said before you fall asleep…?” Can I know?

Jean rolled over, turning to him and shook his head. “He’s gonna call when my blood tests come in and I said I’d bring you too, and I need to nap now before we go, otherwise I won’t be able to do anything with you tonight.” Casper will probably talk your head off anyways, and I swear to god if he says a damn thing about how insecure I am I will kill him.

Marco nodded, moving to softly kiss his cheek. “Okay, babe. I'll let you sleep.” Marco gently turned Jean’s head, kissing him slow and deep. They both felt their cheeks flood with red when Marco pulled away, kissing at the corner of Jean’s lips. “I love you, Jean. Thank you for actually going. It means a lot to me.” I'm proud of you. His eyes said exactly that, leaving him to his nap. I'll keep an ear out for the phone.

Jean woke up with Marco shaking him awake. What the fuck? What’s wrong? It took him a moment to figure out what was going on before he sat up, barely listening to what Marco was saying as he tried to rub the sleep away from his eyes. I'm tired... when did I fall asleep?...... Oh right, we have to go back to Casper’s office.... Fuck. He groaned as he slowly got up and went towards Marco as he finished up talking to Casper. “Mmmm, I don’t wanna go.” He whined like a child, clinging his arms around Marco’s waist and leaning his weight into him.

Marco chuckled as Jean caught him around the middle, his voice soft. “We’ll be there soon, Casper. Thank you.” Marco hung up, moving to hold Jean closer. “Hey babe, let’s go get this over with, ‘kay?” Marco shifted them, pulling Jean in for another kiss, feeling his heart melt as Jean kissed him back. I love you.

Jean kept his arms around Marco’s waist as he kissed him back, a dopey smile on his face as he pulled away. Fuck... I could get used to doing that all day... He groaned as Marco made him put his shoes on, and then ushered him out the door. They ended up in his truck, driving to Parsec in peaceful silence. I hope it’s nothing too bad, nothing that I can’t handle... Jean led Marco into the facility, the security guard just pointing in the same direction Jean had gone earlier. Figures... I knew that we’d just go back to his office. He nodded his thanks at the man tugging Marco along as they made their way down the hallway. I really feel uncomfortable... fuck... He squeezed Marco’s hand as he knocked on Casper’s door. What are we walking into?

Casper opened the door within a moment, smiling to them. “Good to see you two. C’mon in.” He held open the door, Marco and Jean coming inside to sit in front of his desk, their hands still tightly woven together. “Don't worry too much, I'll help you make sense of all this.” Casper sat down behind the desk, pulling a file out of a folder, looking up to them. “Alright, so there is a name for what it is, and it sounds scarier than it actually is. What you have is called testicular hypogonadism, which means that you're not secreting anywhere near the normal amount of testosterone. It causes things like impaired penis and testicle growth, erectile dysfunction, decreased sex drive and fatigue, which you told me about earlier.” He nodded to Jean. “It an also means a decrease in body hair, infertility and a higher risk of osteoporosis, but I don't mean to scare you with that. This could all be treated easily. One of the causes of hypogonadism is lots of emotional stress, which you have obviously been under as of late. And this can be fixed with a few things. First off, you need to get the hell out of that job of yours.” Casper looked to Jean seriously. “The emotional and physical implications of that abusive environment is not worth it. You need to stop taking responsibility for the inadequacy of your coworkers, let them do their own damn work, and stop taking so much overtime because you are not legally obligated to work overtime. That's extra time, and your normal time is enough for now. Secondly, you need to find something to do in your spare time. Give yourself something to do besides mope or worry or whatever. Try actually taking classes at the dojo and having a schedule instead of going when you feel like it, because I can assure you I don't think you'll ever really want to go on your own volition. You need the extra nudge. Thirdly.” Casper looked between them, keeping a straight face. “I'm going to try and say this in a professional way- you two need something more than the same thing in the bedroom for two solid years. I don't know the specifics, but the same thing week after week with one person doing most of the work mustn't be very exciting. I would seriously recommend either switching roles occasionally, investing in a few toys to try, or try a bit of role playing to make things more interesting for you two. I think you'll both be a bit happier with that.” He watched them both nod, Marco looking particularly interested. “Alright, there's one last thing I need to say, and Jean, I know you would flay me alive for saying this, but I need to.” Casper watched Jean turn pale and stand, Marco immediately moving to sit him back down, leaning over to murmur in his ear.
“Jean, Honey…” Marco’s voice was soft, his breath gently tickling his ear. “You can't keep stuff like this away from me… if I'm gonna keep you…” Marco squeezed his hand tighter. “Then I'm gonna eventually find it out. And I want you to be happy rather than miserable because I don't know what's okay and what's not…” He felt Jean faintly nod, kissing his cheek. “It's okay babe… I'll love you no matter what Casper says.” I will.

Casper watched Marco convince Jean to stay put, glancing apologetically at Jean before looking back to Marco, his eyes fixed on him. “Marco, can I please talk to you by ourselves for this?” He watched Marco nod, kissing Jean’s cheek before following him into the hallway, closing the door. “Marco, I need you to listen to me really well.” Casper’s eyes were imploring, his hands folded, in front of his mouth. “You need to understand that Jean is the farthest thing from confident. He has a shit image of himself and doesn't think he's worthy of you or of anyone. He's very conscious about his lack of kitchen skills and his lack of, ahem, other assets, and he is terrified of losing you. He loves you to bits and wants to do so much for you, but he's scared that if you don't like something that it'll tip the scale and you'll leave. He has no pride in himself or his work, and he really needs you to make him think he's a man because he doesn't feel like it as a bottom who can't even get it up and feels tired all the time and doesn't go to the gym anymore and gets emotionally abused by his co workers. He's a mess and he really needs your support. ...I need to know if you're able to give him that support.”

Marco nodded when Casper spoke, looking to the floor. “I knew he didn't feel too great about himself… but… okay. Of course I’ll support him, I just… I didn't know it was so bad…” Marco nodded, following Casper back into the room. He sat back down next to him, reaching for his hand and squeezing. I love you, Jean. Even if you don't love yourself.

Jean looked a bit distant, letting Marco squeeze his hand. Fuck…. He watched Casper sit back down behind his desk. “What if I can’t leave my job?” I really can’t…. It pays the bills, and I thought getting promoted would be a blessing since I didn’t get a proper education…. But it's turned out to be hell. “I can’t leave…. I can’t…” I’ll lose my 401K if I just up and leave… I’ll lose everything! “I have no education, and there aren’t any other businesses around here that I can do minimal computer work…. There’s not, not even here …

Casper sighed, thinking. “You need to do a lot of hunting since you don't have a degree or anything. ...honestly, maybe night classes and anything to bring in money during the day would work better for you I think… you really shouldn't stay in that poisonous environment.” I don’t know what else to tell you...

Jean only nodded, his leg starting to bounce in anxiety. “So…. What happens if it persists?” What if I have to rely on those damn pills just to get it up? I can’t do that to Marco....
“We’ll worry about that if nothing happens. But I do think that if you cut all your major stressors away, you’ll go back to normal. But let’s not worry about that, okay? It’s very unlikely that if you go on the correct path that this will persist.” You’ll be fine.

“.... So what am I not secreting?” You said I wasn't secreting something and that it wasn't helping me... “Do I need to take supplements or something?”

“Oh, I didn’t say? Testosterone. Your levels are really low compared to where they should be.” It’s a problem...

Jean looked down in shame again, simply nodding. “Is that it then?” Can we go? Now that I know I’m not a functioning man? Even my body agrees....

Casper sighed, nodding. “That’s it for now; I’ll be calling in a month or two to see how things have changed, if any. Okay?” I wanna keep an eye on you.

Jean nodded standing and ushering Marco to stand up too. “Thank you Casper....” You even paid for my prescription... Wait. “Uhm.... How should I pay you back?” His eyes said everything about the pills. I can’t not pay you for them... It might break the bank... But....

Casper shook his head, chuckling slightly. “Pay me back? How about you treat Marco to a nice night in bed tonight?” He smirked as Jean flushed completely before nodding and dragging Marco out of his office. Hopefully they’ll do okay...
It's been wonderful. Lathe was in the middle of getting dinner ready, a flock of boys all running around, antsy and waiting to be fed. Mila's absolutely adorable... Eren has her on his hip all the time, and I get to hold her a lot too... she's so cute... and the boys have all been a handful; but they're manageable. They love their huge bedroom in the attic, they love the beds with slides as just how much room they have. It's perfect. Lathe reached it's a spoon to remove a hot lid from a pot, easily keeping it from boiling over. Sharon has her baby too- the same night as Mila, actually. Calliope Galilea. She's adorable too- Sharon sent me all sorts of pictures and put them in the group chat. It's so amazing... Lathe looked over his shoulder as the phone rang, running over and picking it up, holding it to his ear with his shoulder as he reached to balance out the shopping list while he had a moment. “Hello?”

“Lathe, it’s Scotty.... I need you to come in and help me with a surgery... like now...”

Lathe was stunned, looking back over to the kitchen, James, Eren and Jake all busy cooking. “Scotty, what happened? Isn't someone else available?” Why me?

“Marco is in two pieces... and I know that we’ve never tried it before, but now that it’s FDA approved I can try it without his consent which is good because he’s fucking dead Lathe! Get your ass over here now ! I’m getting copious amounts of his blood and we’re gonna see how far we can stretch the boundaries of the Serum.”

Lathe nodded, setting down his pen, his mind settling. Marco. He didn't feel grief in that moment- he felt nothing. “I'm coming, Scotty. Less than ten minutes.” Lathe hung up, the phone instantly ringing, picking it up again. “What?” I thought that was it?

“Lathe.... Bring Eren to the hospital... Jean's about to break down and I can’t handle this by myself when I'm trying to get everything that happened down... Please... Marco had a ring on him... and he was in a horrible car accident... Just, please come quickly... I can't bear to see him sobbing like this...”

“I'm already about to leave to perform the surgery, Ieva. We’re gonna see if the serum can save him somehow. I'll bring Eren.” ….he had a ring on him. That thought hit Lathe in the chest, things beginning to register. “…he was gonna…” He was gonna propose… “...I'll bring Eren. It won't be long. Ten minutes.” Lathe hung up again, walking to the kitchen and pulling Eren aside, his voice quiet so the kids wouldn't hear. “Eren, Marco’s been in a really bad accident. Jean knows and he really needs someone to comfort him. ...He's dead, Eren. And if the serum can't save him from this, he'll stay that way. ...he had a ring with him. Jean needs someone there with him while Scotty and I try to put him back together.” We need you now.

Eren looked at Lathe like he had two heads, struggling to process everything that he said. “M-Marco…?” His eyes were wide with fear. Oh god no… Not freckled Jesus…. He nodded, looking towards the kitchen, knowing the boys were capable of feeding the younger squad. “What should we do with Mila?” The boys don't know how to take care of her… Me, you and Mom do...

“We might have to ask a favor of Sharon and Hannah to watch her for a bit… Go grab her and her stuff, okay? I'll text her.” Lathe watched him nervously nod and go to grab her bag, taking out his phone and typing quickly.

LQ: Sharon I need a huge favor

LQ: Can you please watch Mila for a while? Maybe the night? She needs somewhere to stay where someone can take care of her

SW: Are you all going to the hospital or something? What the hell is happening?

SW: Hannah just left for the hospital after Casper like dragged her out of the house…

LQ: You know Marco?

SW: What the fuck happened to my cinnamon roll?

LQ: A car accident happened… and he's kinda dead

LQ: But Scotty and I might be able to fix that SW: You get your child over here and go reverse death

SW: Go save my cinnamon roll

SW: And if you can't

SW: Tell him Calliope, Maverick and I all love him to bits.... okay?

LQ: Okay. We’ll tell him.

SW: Now get fucking moving!! Don't waste time!!!
Eren ready. “Sharon’s home. She’ll take her, but Casper stole Hannah for the hospital already.” This is very serious.

Eren nodded, making sure that he had enough formula and bottles in the bag for Mila as well as clothes and diapers for a couple days. “Okay, let’s get going.” He got her into her carrier, covering her in a blanket as he got her into the carseat. Did you tell the boys yet? “Dad, did you tell the boys we’re leaving?” I know it’s Thursday… they have off tomorrow so we don’t need to worry about them being up late… it’s a long weekend.

Lathe immediately ran back into the house, looking to James. “Hon, Eren and I need to go to the hospital. Marco is in a lot of danger and we need to help with that, okay? You're in charge.” He watched him nod, going into the flock of boys. “Boys, Eren and I need to go for a bit- we might not be back for a long time, but we’ll be back before you know it, okay?” He smiled as they all rushed him to hug and kiss him goodbye, kissing their foreheads before they flooded back to the couch. Of course. He made sure to kiss Jake’s forehead, leaving the house. He was soon enough donning scrubs, entering the operating room and seeing Casper, Hannah and Scotty surrounding Marco’s mangled corpse. He was completely split open as covered in blood, and someone had closed his eyes, his head tilted to one side. “...fuck…” He moved near his head, gently brushing a hand through his hair. “...we do realize that if his brain is too damaged, that might not mend. And if he does wake up after this… he probably won't remember anything. Memories can't heal… if his brain cells are dead his memories are just gone.” He looked up, his expression grave. “If we don't think he’ll wake up as Marco, we need to wonder whether this is worth it- to make him live without any memory. Jean will see a ghost haunting him of what he had and doesn't get to keep, and Marco won't know how to function at all in society, maybe not even know how to speak. Do we really want to do this?”

“Do you want him dead?” Hannah’s words were hard and right to the point as she was getting an EEG ready on Marco’s scalp, watching as Scotty worked with the artery and veins in his neck. “Did you reroute them yet?” She looked over as the machine finally came to life, running blood through Marco’s brain and out again without going to the rest of his body. Alright time to shock it… “Are we clear?” She watched as Scotty and Casper backed away from Marco’s body. She took the two pads, setting them on the lowest possible setting on either side of Marco’s head and then shocking him. I swear to God it this doesn’t- She sighed in relief as she heard the EEG start to steadily go off. “Okay, brain’s functioning, let’s put the rest of him together while we have the heart-lung machine running blood to his brain…. Her eyes were hard as she looked to Lathe. “He might have some damage… but doing this first will help the chances for there not being as much…” I really hope it does… And thank the Lord I had a professor who did experiments with cadavers… I thought he was crazy but he might be onto something… “Lathe, what’s the reading on the EEG?” I need to know… but I’m making sure he’s not pooling blood anywhere...

Lathe nodded, setting his determined gaze on his body. Okay. We’ll get you back together. “I just hope he’s the same Marco we know when he wakes up.” Lathe looked to the monitor, seeing the lines etched across it and start to be printed out. “Is it supposed to be wavy?”
“Yes, as long as it’s not flat, that means his brain’s working.” She looked over his head, making sure that there was no swelling or bruises forming anywhere. “Okay, I’ll keep tabs on his brain activity. You three start to patch him up.” She took over Lathe’s position next to the monitor, watching the scans come in. Deep sleep… That’s good for right now, I just need to make sure that the lines keep moving and don’t flatline…

Lathe nodded, looking over his entire being, his intestines spilling from his stomach, his heart visible, still. “Scotty… how long do we have before his heart needs to get going? …how much time do we have for this?”

“I don’t want to keep his brain on the heart-lung machine for more than five hours…. So we start with the heart first, and closing up open arteries and veins…. As well as trying to put his ribs at least somewhat in place, because once we have the veins in place, we’ll put him together and reattach the machine to his whole body and administer the Serum.” The machine will keep his blood moving… and that should heal the rest of his body together… we worry about main arteries and veins for right now…

Lathe nodded. “Okay. As soon as we get the major stuff put together, we’ll get the serum going.” Lathe sighed, looking over his entirety, everything a mangled, broken and bloody mess, his lips slight parted, a scrape on his face and a tooth chipped in front. We will put you back together… They immediately set to work, Lathe starting to carefully piece his veins together as Scotty began suturing his torn heart, everything going well except for the moments Hannah yelled at them to back away from him to shock his brain, keeping it from entering cerebral death. They worked steadily for a few hours until they were ready to hook him up to another machine, blood transfusions already injected with serum beginning to flood his being. They held their breath as nothing happened for a moment…

And they watched his heart beat once in his chest. Then twice.

And then it began to steam.

Everything picked up extremely quickly- they needed fans to blow away the steam and keep his innards visible, taking out the sutures where the growing flesh forced them out, carefully guiding his organs back together and into place, helping his bones grow straight and his skin stay open until the inside was done. This is working…

Hannah watched as the lines on the EEG started to quickly oscillate, sighing in relief. He’s okay…. Mental activity is stable. “He’s not a vegetable… he’s got good electrical waves going through his brain… the serum finally got there… it’s probably fixing whatever perished in the time the brain didn’t have oxygen…. It’s working… It’s actually working… HOLY FUCK PROFESSOR STEIN Lathe nodded, not taking his eyes off of Marco, busy cleaning off his skin and making sure they didn't miss anything, his body starting to look rather healthy and normal in places. …… He's starting to look okay. ……how the fuck is science allowing this.

Scotty had his eyes on Marco, waiting for his chest to move as soon as his heartbeat was stable.
Come on… breathe! You need to breathe for this to be successful… “He’s not out of the woods yet… He’s not breathing on his own.” He looked to the machine administering the bright red oxygen to his body, the steam already starting to lessen from around Marco as he was healed completely and fully. “Come on, Marco… breathe…”

Marco’s lips parted, his bare chest rising as he inhaled, the collective sigh sounding in the operating room. His body lay still on the table, aside from his heartbeat being steady, and his chest rising and falling as he started breathing completely on his own. The serum worked it’s way to the tube where the machine was pumping blood into his system, starting to reject it and force it out.

Lathe moved to remove him from the machine, turning it off and watching the needle holes immediately heal. He's okay… physically… Lathe looked to Hannah. “How's his brain? Is he sleeping, or…?”

“Yeah, he’s in a mix of deep sleep and REM sleep… Natural coma…. Which I would’ve expected, but he might take a long time to wake up from this, though with the way his brain activity appears… He should be able to wake up…” Hannah gently unclipped the nodes around his head, turning off the machine. “Well, we can retract time of death…” Holy fuck…. We brought back a dead body…. “I think it’s best we don’t speak of this outside of this room… Can we agree on that?” It'll be misused… If we say that it can be used to reverse death...

Lathe nodded, looking around all of them, running a hand through Marco’s chocolate hair, watching him sleep. He kissed his forehead, looking worried. “If anyone hears that we brought you back… this drum will be used to keep people alive for too long… this isn't meant to make you immortal. You'll eventually die anyway from age… we can't say anything.” This doesn't leave the room.

Scotty nodded, hooking up an IV to Marco’s arm and making sure he had fluids. “Alright, well, let’s get him moved into a room, I’ll stay silent… I won’t be able to talk about this anyways without loosing my license as it is…” My lips are sealed, we’ll get leva to change his records…
before they get processed.
Lathe nodded, helping wheel Marco to a different room, settling him on a bed carefully before going to the front lobby, seeing Eren there with Jean. Jean looked like a complete mess, his eyes still red, staring blankly ahead of him, clutching a small velvet box. “Jean?” Lathe smiled to him when he and Eren looked up, going over to them. “He's asleep- alive and in one piece. He should be okay. But, uhm, I should tell you…” He held up a hand when Jean nearly jumped out of his seat. “We’re not sure how much he's gonna remember… we don't know how many of his original nervous cells died and were replaced. He could remember things patchily. I'm just warning you for when he wakes up. But you can come see him.” Of course you can. I just hope he's not too different…

Jean jumped out of his seat as soon as Lathe said he could see him. I don’t care that he can’t remember me! I just want to be able to see him! And to hold him... I want him in my arms again... He was close to tears as he begged Lathe to show him where Marco was. I need to see him.

Lathe smiled, leading them to Marco’s room, opening the door for him and watching him quickly step inside. He watched him carefully approach Marco, hesitating for a moment before climbing into the bed next to him, curling up half on top of him. Lathe smiled, walking over to him. “....he loves you.” He looked to the box still in Jean's hand. He was gonna marry you...

Jean smiled sadly, feeling new tears fall. “D-Do you think he’ll remember that?” Will he remember that he loves me? He rested his head on Marco’s chest, hearing his heart beating, sighing in relief. He’s alive... Jean sniffled as he opened the bloodied box to see the blood covered ring. “He was dead… wasn’t he?” Ieva wouldn’t tell me… all she told me was that he was in bad shape....

Lathe looked between them, his voice quiet. “...yes, he was... but it's not recorded like that. It'll stay that way, because if people knew about it… it’d be so misused….” Lathe smiled faintly, looking over them. “I think he will. You're you. And you mean a lot to him.” You really do...

Jean watched as Mr. Bodt came into the room too, much more collected than he’d ever hoped of being. Fuck... He probably wants me gone... He started to shift to get up to let the older man have his time with his son. Probably hates that his son's gay...

Mr. Bodt watched Jean start to shift away as soon as he came into the room, holding up a hand and stopping Jean. “You don't have to move, Jean, it's okay. I'm not gonna separate you two.” He sat down next to his son, looking over him. “...he looks so peaceful… fine and healthy, even… but we won't know until he wakes up…” He sighed, looking to Jean and seeing him shifting uncomfortably. “You're allowed to hold your fiancé in this kind of situation, you know.” It's fine.

Jean could only nod as more tears spilled down his cheeks. He never got to ask me... He didn’t ask... “Thank you… Mr. Bodt…. But he never got the chance to ask…” He tried to smile weakly, his lip trembling as he held onto Marco. What if when you wake up you never wanna ask me?
Mr. Bodt looked over him with surprise and then sadness, his voice gentle. “I'm sorry, Jean… there's hope he’ll wake up and remember exactly what he wanted to ask you.” Hopefully he will… you both picked very well. He watched Jean bury his face in Marco’s neck, his eyes melancholy. I’m sorry...

Jean closed his eyes, trying to relax as he held onto Marco, not even noticing that he had fallen asleep on top of him, completely exhausted.

It was the early morning, nearly two AM, Jean still asleep in the crook of Marco’s neck, Lathe asleep in a corner and Mr. Bodt nodding off in chair, keeping a vigil for Marco. They all jolted awake when Jean’s phone went off, rubbing the sleep from their eyes, all the monitors beeping normally. Marco's fine, still….

Jean grumbled as he pulled out his phone from his pocket, holding it to his ear, his voice rough even after clearing his throat. “H-Hello?” Who the fuck is this? Wait, what time even is it?

“Jean Kirschtein? You're an hour late for work. Care to explain that?”

Jean sighed, looking at the clock on the wall. Why the fuck are they calling me at two in the goddamn morning? “Daz, why the fuck are you calling me at two in the morning? I don’t start work until six.”

“As supervisor it's your duty to be here early and oversee our work. You're not spending nearly enough time checking our work.”

“You know what, no. I’m not coming to work today, and I was gonna call in earlier, but I need to take a personal day because my fiance is in the hospital.” I am not leaving Marco's side no matter what you say. “Daz, why the fuck are you even at work at 2 in the fucking morning?”

“Because I have your number and expected you, and you didn't show up. And are you sure you have any more personal days to use? You just took quite the vacation not too long ago…”

Jean grit his teeth, sitting up and letting go of Marco as he slipped off of the bed. Fuck Daz… “What the fuck do you mean you expected me? You never told me jack shit! You fucking liar, you’re just trying to get me fired aren’t you? And I have plenty of personal days left dammit!”
“Wow, that's some... very unprofessional language, Jean. It'd be a shame if someone heard you cussing me out.”

“Daz, my fiance is in the hospital, I do not have time for your games, go back home and maybe I won’t put in for a deduction on your payroll. I’m not coming in, I am taking a personal day. You can be in charge of everyone else you you want Daz, you can figure out how it feels to be in my shoes.” Jean grumbled under his breath as he walked out of the room and down the hall. I can’t be yelling at him in the hospital... that’s unprofessional in itself...

“Of course .”

“Good, now fuck off.” Jean growled into the phone and hung up, quickly emailing his superiors and informing them of the situation, including putting Daz in charge for the rest of the day. Fuck Daz and his want to get into the building at fucking 2AM. He’s fucking nuts...

Mr. Bodt quirked an eyebrow as Jean came back looking pissed. “Why is your work calling you at two in the morning?”

Jean shook his head, moving to curl back up to sleep. “With any luck I’ll get fired…” Or Daz will understand how much shit that everyone puts me through, because they certainly won’t stop anytime soon...

Mr. Bodt’s eyebrows both shot up. Well, even I can understand that any workplace calling you at two AM for no good reason must not be a very good place to work... hm. They all relaxed after another moment, the tension in Jean’s form draining from him as he laid with his arm over Marco’s chest, his leg over his. He really does love him.

Jean’s whole body relaxed, taking in Marco’s scent as he nuzzled his face into the crook of his neck. I just want you to wake up... Wake up... please ...

And at the end of the day, Jean was fired. Lathe stood in the cafeteria, acquiring food for the three of them. Jean looked worried but he seemed so relieved... he refuses to leave Marco for more than a few minutes to go to the bathroom. That's the only time he's not curled up on top of him, sleeping or just looking over his face. He wants him to wake up and love him. ...I hope Marco does... Lathe came upstairs soon enough, handing out sandwiches. “Jean, you need to eat.” He sighed as Jean shook his head, burying his nose in his cleaned hair. “Five more minutes?” He chuckled as he nodded, setting it on the table and going to sit down and eat his own.
Marco’s eyelids fluttered open, blinking a few times before looking down, seeing a familiar someone nestled into his neck. Why are you all curled up to me? “Jean…?” He watched him sit up, a bit surprised at the emotions in his eyes. .....what the hell......? I don't understand. “......I must be dying.”

“Oh my god… you’re awake!” Jean’s eyes were wide with surprise and happiness, immediately leaning down and stealing a kiss as he cupped his cheeks. You’re awake! You remember me!

Marco was confused as Jean’s hands held his cheeks tenderly, his eyes wide with shock as Jean’s lips pressed against his. He's..... he's kissing me...... Marco was still too shocked by everything to enjoy it, pushing Jean off of him, not understanding why his heart tugged to see Jean look so confused and hurt. “Jean, I… wh-why? What's going on?” He looked around the room, seeing Lathe wave to him a bit nervously. “Am I in the hospital?” A nod. “......someone tell me what the hell is going on, please.” Why am I in the hospital with Jean laying on top of me? .....and it probably didn't mean anything that he kissed me... he's probably just happy I'm not brain dead. .....guh, the kiss was kinda nice though...

Jean stared at Marco in shock as he was pushed away, looking down in sadness and shame. He doesn’t remember me... He slowly shifted off of the bed, trying to rein in his tears. “Y-You were in a really bad car accident… W-What’s…” I’m not even sure I wanna ask... “What’s the last thing you remember?” Did I lose you too?

Marco thought hard. “...my graduation party was most recent, I think… a car accident? Was it really that bad? I feel fine…” He looked over himself, seeing no marks. I'm fine though...

Jean’s eyes widened and tears instantly started to form in his eyes. I lost you too.... Oh my god, that was... That was three years ago... He sniffled, bringing a hand up to cover his mouth, trying not to cry. He looked down, tears falling down his cheeks as he nodded, his lip trembling. Jean took a few shaky steps before walking out of the room and closing the door behind him. He doesn’t remember... He looked down to the box in his pocket, slowly pulling it out and flipping it open. Fuck.... He pushed me away... There’s no use.... Is there? I’m just destined to be alone... He didn’t even realize he’d walked away and out of the building until he felt the cool leather of his steering wheel against his forehead. Fuck.... Did I leave? He swallowed hard, banging his head on the wheel, wishing he’d forget. Why? Why does it always have to be me? Jean’s shoulders shook as he sobbed, letting out a loud wail as he slammed his fist against the dashboard, not caring that he was on the verge of hurting himself. Why did he have to leave me too?

Lathe has followed him, seeing the empty look in his eyes. He was quiet as he followed him, wanting to make sure he didn't get himself into a crash. He stopped when Jean got into his truck, watching him begin to melt down with sorrowful eyes. He ran over to his truck as he started punching the dashboard, opening the door. “Jean, please…” He was prepared for the flurry of fists headed his way, catching Jean’s wrists as he weakly struggled to hurt him. The fit passed after a moment, Jean’s motions getting weaker until he collapsed into Lathe’s arms, trembling and sobbing. Lathe held him close, gathering him up and running a hand through his hair, murmuring soothingly, trying not to let his voice crack. I’m sorry… I’m so sorry...

“I-I… I lost h-him…..” Jean couldn’t help but hiccup as he tried to speak, his face red and blotchy as tears rolled unceremoniously down his cheeks. I…. I lost my Marco… I lost him… He’ll have no idea what the hell is going on… He doesn’t love me anymore. Jean pulled out the box in his pocket, crying more, though he looked like he was about to throw it as far as he could chuck it. This is useless now isn’t it?

Lathe reached for his hand, closing it around the box again, Jean shaking in his arms. “Maybe we can remind him… it took time with Eren… maybe he just needs time to remember that he loves you… please, Jean, be patient with him. He's confused and needs a friend with him. ...Marco mentioned something a while ago…” He held him close, slowly swaying with him. “He told me that he'd had a crush on you for a really long time. I asked how long… he said since the summer before Junior Year. But he's shocked and nervous and doesn't understand what's going on. It's not total rejection… he's too confused right now.” He’ll remember that he loves you so much...

Jean’s lip trembled, and his brows furrowed as he shook his head. “I…. I still had Annie during his party… He’s completely forgotten everything that had to do with ‘us’... I don’t think my heart can take trying to fall in love all over again.” I don’t think I can do this at all...

Lathe nodded, his hands running over his back. “We can show him all the pictures of you two… all the pictures of what happened… tell him everything that happened between then and now. It'll be hard… but we need to tell him what's happened with his life… if not you, then his Dad or someone who knows everything…” Someone has to tell him.

Jean shook his head looking down at the ring box. “Why bother? I'm not gonna get my Marco back…” He threw the box into one of the cup holders in his truck, closing the door and leaning on it, covering his face with his hands. Why does everyone need to leave me? Is this my punishment for something....? I’ll learn to feel numb…. That’s what you mean by okay.” Jean stressed as he shrugged out of Lathe’s arms and started to head towards the hospital door again. “Isn’t he getting discharged since he’s up? And he’s perfectly fine?” Jean’s words were emotionless, expecting Lathe to follow.

Lathe went after him, his voice quiet. “We need to monitor him for a little bit, but he’ll be set loose before the end of the day… and Jean…” Lathe turned him to face himself, finding it hard to speak. “…there’s more to life after heartbreak than numbness. ...I was planning on proposing to my first girlfriend Viola when she died in a car crash on the way to our date. This isn't too different… except you’re being given a second chance. He was dead, and now he's not. If you can't keep hope that you'll manage to make the man who already has a crush on you fall in love with you again… or that he won't at least somewhat remember what you had after he's told everything and sees all the pictures of you two being adorable… then… then learn to do what lots of people have to do… and move on. But please, for the love of God, you have the chance. Try.” Lathe swallowed hard, looking at him intensely. You're lucky. You have to give this a shot. If you believe in anything, try to believe that this can work.

Jean could only nod, so unsure of what to think anymore. He pushed me away… He was gonna propose and now he won’t even kiss me… He had his head down as they returned to Marco’s room, Hannah already having the nodes attached to his skull and looking at the data being recorded. He’s gonna be here for while… Jean had a lost look on his eyes as he sat down in a chair, his leg tapping in anxiety, his elbows on his knees as he hunched over himself. What if Marco doesn’t want to date me anymore? Doesn’t want to propose? I’m supposed to just forget it all?

Marco was studying Jean as he came back, thinking. He kissed me…………… is it because I had an accident? Or because he………… he likes me? I really hope it's because he likes me..... but… doesn't he have Annie? I mean… I think he still does… but why is he the one to be here? He's been a good friend, but… I wouldn't think he'd be here even after I'm awake… He was curled up to me… I felt so warm while I slept… I felt a weight on me… and something on my neck… he was so close to me… guh, I wouldn't mind him holding me some more…. “...Jean? Can I borrow your phone?”

Jean picked his head up as his name was called though he winced when he heard the tone. It’s not the same…. It might never be the same. “Uhm…. Y-Yeah, that’s fine…” He pulled out his phone unlocking it and handing it over. I don’t know why you want it… Jean’s eyes looked over to where Hannah stood by the EEG machine silently. She’s still watching his brain activity?

Marco took it, wanting to open a notes app. Did he get a new phone? He opened a messenger app, typing and forking it back over.

Jean, why did you kiss me?

Jean looked down at the message and his shoulders slumped as he sat on the edge of Marco’s bed. He typed quickly, handing it back with a sad smile on his face. You don’t remember…. Well, this’ll
You don’t remember… If it weirded you out… I’m sorry, I was just so glad that you woke up, and you remembered what my name was.

Marco quirked an eyebrow, typing.

No, I just…. I mean, if it was something wasn't just… just happiness, then… I thought you had Annie still… I just I didn't know if it wasn't platonic… It's okay, I just didn't know… and uhm… what don't I remember…?

Jean swallowed hard, his hands shaking as he tried not to cry.

Well, you’re missing three years…. Annie left me about four months after we graduated… But that’s understandable with what happened to you.

Marco’s eyebrows shot up, typing quickly.

I’m so sorry Jean, I don’t remember... three years?! Surely I'll remember bits and pieces eventually, but that’s…. oh my god. But… are you sure that… Fuck, how do I word this…

Well, I could feel a weight on top of me in my sleep… you were buried in my neck… and you kissed me when I woke up, and… you looked so hurt when I shoved you away and I just…. I don’t understand… did something… happen… between the two of us? I’m missing three years… …did I manage to… fuck, is that something that happened? Do I not remember dating you? It would make sense… he looks so ready to cry… fuck, that's it, isn't it. …holy shit. He watched Jean stare at the phone in silence without typing, looking at him with a deadpan glare. “If you don't tell me, I'll just ask Dad instead.” I wanna know.

Jean looked down at the phone, his eyes seemed to lose all hope within them. I can’t tell you we were in a relationship… I can’t force you to go out with me…. He simply nodded, locking his phone and looking down and away. You don’t remember any of it… I’ll keep the ring hidden from you, you won’t have to tie yourself down to me… His hands shook in his lap as he stared at them, unable to look at Marco. He doesn’t remember….

“Jean.” He stared at him, waiting for him to look up at him after a long moment. “Tell me straight and let's not dance around this. Did. We. Date ?” Goddamnit, tell me!
Jean looked at him before quickly looking away. “Y-Yeah, we did… but it doesn’t have to be like that if-if you don’t want it to be.” Jean’s voice quivered, still unable to look at Marco, his hands shaking as he felt the tears well in his eyes. Fuck… This isn’t how this is supposed to go…. You’re not supposed to know, you’d be so much better off without me…

“…really?” Marco sounded hopeful, his eyes sparkling. “Jean, I… I’ve had a crush on you since the summer before Junior year… I don’t wanna hurt you, but… i-if it's okay… while I'm trying to remember… can we start over?” Please just say yes so I get to kiss you again… I didn't get to properly enjoy it...

Jean covered his face as he started to cry. His shoulders shook as he sobbed, hunching over his legs on the edge of the bed, his elbows his knees, supporting his head. Fuck… I don't know if I can do this… Not now, not with everything that’s wrong with me… You’ll just think I’m a freak. But I want him back…. Jean was torn as he sat there crying, not caring that Mr. Bodt and Lathe were standing near the door, and Hannah’s attention was drawn to him as well.

Marco watched Jean start sobbing, sitting up and being careful of the nodes as he wrapped his arms around Jean’s middle, looking up to him. “...I'm not gonna make you start over with me… you don't have to. ...but I really want to remember. You can help me remember! Tell me stories, show me pictures, anything . But… if you'd rather move on… if it'd hurt too much… can I at least have one more kiss?” I didn't know it was possible to miss something you don't remember having...

Jean slowly stopped his sobs as he looked to Marco with his teary face, sniffling and wiping at a stray tear. Well… Starting over might not be so bad… He shifted, cupping Marco’s cheek. “W-We can start over....” I can forget my heartbreak if it makes you happy.... Jean leaned in, his lips timidly brushing against Marco’s. I don’t know what to do anymore....

Marco felt himself flush down his neck, his heart tugging as Jean softly kissed him. Fuck… he's mine … Marco’s eyes fluttered shut, feeling Jean pull away and reaching to catch the back of his neck, both of them hovering there, gazing at each other for a long moment. They slowly leaned in and kissed again, their arms winding around the other, Marco feeling like he was floating. His hands are so gentle... He felt a hand gently wind into his hair, not giving a single fuck they weren't alone, drowning in his tender touch. He didn't notice the people around him leave them be, too wrapped up in Jean’s careful touch. Oh god, I love this.... gah, I'm gonna get hard if he keeps this up… fuck.... I... His face was on fire as Jean’s tongue made its way into his mouth, making out like they were about to make love. I love this so much... all those dreams have nothing on this... I want his hands everywhere... please ... open mouthed kisses down his jawline. When Jean reached his ear he started his way down Marco’s neck, listening to him. God, I missed this…. I haven’t really ever taken the lead like this…. And I should really stop before I get your hopes up…. Because I can’t get it up....

Marco gasped as Jean kissed down his neck, his hands tangling in his hair as he sucked a mark onto his neck. “J-Jean…” Marco’s hands hovered over his shoulders uncertainly before latching on, running all over his shoulders and neck. He whimpered as he felt hands running up his sides to his waist and back, feeling his blood rushing south. He whimpered quietly as he felt himself harden under his gown, quietly panting. “Jean… I-I’m sorry, I…” He felt himself flush red, one hand going to cover himself. “I-I’m sorry, I… Y-You don’t…” You don’t have to take care of me… I mean…. He drew into himself a bit, feeling himself go lax with relief as he felt a hand cup him, massaging gently. “Oh God, Jean…” He sighed deeply, moaning faintly as lips met his neck again. “Y-You don’t have to take care of m-me…” You deserve me taking care of you more than I do this...

Jean carefully moved his hand under the hospital gown, his mouth still very much at Marco’s neck. His hand was timid at first as he grabbed onto Marco’s hot length, feeling it pulse between his fingers and give it a small squeeze. Jean blushed as Marco yelped slightly, shifting to get a better position which was right next to him, he could do it a bit more discretely. Damn… To think that you were the one who always did this to me…. I guess it’s time to return the favor.

Marco was completely red, his legs spreading on instinct as Jean stroked him, a breathless moan leaving him, clinging to him. “J-Jean… oh god, Jean…” He let Jean shift him, finding himself in Jean’s lap, his back to Jean’s front as he pumped his length. “Jean… oh my god, so good…” He panted, his legs apart as Jean worked. He could feel teeth grazing his shoulder, melting into Jean as he felt his other hand slowly running over the soft inside of his thigh. His hand reached behind him, holding the back of Jean’s head, the other resting on the hand going over his tanned flesh. “You feel wonderful…” He had a dreamy, pleasured look in his eyes, breathing hard. So much better than any wet dream… so much better than my own hands… so good...

Jean’s fingers worked over Marco’s length, his other coming up his side to tweak his nipple under his gown. Fuck, the sounds you’re making are hot… He wished they would go straight to his length, but it barely moved, his pants not even tight. “Marco....” His words were husky beside Marco’s ear, a smirk on his face as he continued to pleasure him. “I want you to cum for me…” It sounds like you can just about any minute...

Marco let out a sharp cry, hearing Jean gently shush him, shaking in his hands. “O- Oh…” His mouth was open in a silent moan, shuddering as he came harder than he ever remembered feeling, jerking as Jean milked him. He became a puddle in Jean’s arms, going completely lax in his arms. He sighed as Jean slowly ran his hands up and down his frame, soothing him. So good… “Jean… that was… guh, amazing….” He sighed deeply, completely at ease in his arms. He’s warm… and his touch is so careful and tender… I love it.... ..................he loves me. ...and I don't remember loving him. His expression shifted, turning his head, meeting Jean’s lips with a feather-light kiss.
“Thank you, babe…” I don’t know what pet names I’d have for you… maybe babe… but I dunno if you’d love or hate it…

Jean smirked at the pet name, chuckling a bit as he shifted Marco to sit back down and stand. “I guess I’ll always be babe… Won’t I?” He shifted his pants, wanting to hide the fact he wasn’t hard in the slightest. “What clothes do you want? I’m gonna need to go back home and get you clothes…” I can hide the ring too….

Marco smiled dreamily, pouting a bit when Jean left the bed. He reached for him, making a grabbing motion, smiling when Jean came over to kiss him again, hugging his middle from where he sat. “Hm… can I have a pair of jeans that you like, any tee shirt you like, and can I please borrow a hoodie?” I wanna look nice for you… and if I get to wear something that smells like you… I’d be so happy…

Jean rolled his eyes, ruffling Marco’s hair with a smile. “Yeah, I’m gonna go get you clothes, and let the doctors come back in.” He kissed the top of Marco’s head, about to pull away when he noticed the wet spot of Marco’s gown. He blushed, grabbing the blanket at the end of the bed, pulling it up to cover and hide it. “Keep this pulled up… To hide your mess…Will you be okay while I’m gone?” I don’t want something to happen to you…

Marco blushed as he shifted, realizing his sticky cum was still between his legs. “Y-Yeah,,. it's really sticky and weird… but I think I'll live…” I can manage… He watched with wide eyes as Jean suddenly seemed to have on idea, not resisting when Jean moved the blanket back and shifted him, his voice shaky. “J-Jean?” I wanna know what else you wanna do to me...

Jean smirked, shifting into the bed again. “Close your eyes…” His voice deep and husky. I might as well clean you up like a good bottom should. He waited for a moment before moving under Marco’s gown, eyeing the puddle of cum between his legs and on his cock. He licked his tongue across Marco’s length, beginning to clean it. I hope you like this...

Marco gasped as he felt the tongue lap over his soft length, whimpering as Jean cleaned him. He spread his legs wider again, his hands moving under the gown to gently hold Jean’s hair. “Jean… oh god…” I’m so sensitive… but it feels so wonderful… He could feel himself slowly hardening again, panting. “Oh Jean, please, m- more …” I need you… fuck...

Jean smirked as he felt Marco’s hands on his scalp, reassured that he was on cloud nine as he teasingly licked around Marco’s head. He had sufficiently cleaned him up, starting to pull away from him. Hmm, I can tease him… He pulled away, hearing Marco whine in need for more, simply leaning over him and kissing him sweetly. “You gotta be a good boy for me…” He smirked, shifting off the bed and starting to leave, making it to the door just as Lathe knocked on the other side. “He’s all yours; I’m going to the apartment to get clothes for him.” He explained before slipping out of the room, disappearing down the hallways.

Lathe shook his head as Jean darted off, chuckling quietly as he poked his head in and saw Marco, blanket pulled up, a small hickey on his neck, his eyes starry and glowing. Of course. “We’re gonna come back in, Hon. That enough alone time with Bae?” He grinned as Marco blushed. “I'll go get them.” Lathe went a bit down the hall to retrieve them all.

Hannah smiled as she sipped from her to-go cup, a tea tag hanging from the side. “Is he ready for me to take the nodes out?” I’m not gonna walk in on Jean and Marco going at it? …. Right? She followed Lathe into the room seeing Marco bright-eyed and in complete awe. She shut the machine off smirking. “Thanks for your data for how the brain functions during sexual intercourse…” She grinned wickedly, starting to gently remove the nodes from his scalp.

Marco flushed, gaping. “W-We didn't... h-he…” He turned completely red, clamming up and looking down, letting her take them out. “H-He just took care of m-me…” He didn't want me to do anything...

Hannah shrugged. “What counts as sex is debatable….so thanks for your most gracious data.” She teased and got the last node out of his hair. “Okay, so the trick to getting all the gunk out is using conditioner first, then shampoo and conditioner again…” She smiled looking to Lathe. “My stuff’s all set, so I think he can be signed out and then just wait on clothes…” She took the large stack of paper from the EEG, a happy smile on her face. I’m glad he woke up... And it appears I got to his brain in time...

“...you're welcome?” Marco reached up to where one of the nodes was, making a face as he felt the gel. Gross. He looked up as Lathe was the only one left in the room, feeling awkward. They all know now… fuck, am I going to get yelled at or something?

“Marco, chill. You look scared of me.” Lathe ambled over, poking his shoulder. “I'm not gonna kill you, I promise. What you and Jean do is your business. You're a twenty-something who can do what he wants as long as we can tease you about it.” Lathe sat down on the bed, noting how wary Marco was of him. “...you don't remember us talking every time I came into the bakery and becoming really good friends. You don't remember it. And I know that because you're still so nervous of me. .......and you must not remember all the dinners at our house on Saturday when we would invite everyone we knew and loved like family.” Lathe was quiet, studying the floor. “You'll still come over on Saturday with Jean… right?” Please?

Marco looked to him with confusion a bit, thinking. “We’re friends besides saying hi in the grocery store or something?” He watched Lathe nod, the older man having a morose look, reaching over to him, gently patting his shoulder. “I'm sorry, Mr. Quo… I just can't remember this… do you have pictures?” I wanna remember.

Lathe nodded, getting out his phone. “Lots and lots…” Lathe opened his pictures to the ones from the past Christmas, handing it over. “This was Christmas…”

Marco looked them over, scrolling. “I don't know a lot of these people… what are their names?”

Lathe pointed to their second-newest family member, James. “Remember him? The boy who turned up one night in the middle of dinner for scraps and ended up living with us?”

A memory faintly tugged at his mind. “That sounds vaguely familiar. I sorta remember seeing his face somewhere. What's he like again?”

“He's seventeen, wandered for years and years down from Nebraska. He didn't have much of a grasp on anything normal in American culture and didn't have the vaguest idea how to function as an adult. He's become a great chef and a very insightful person to tell all your woes, and he's in chemo right now, fighting a cancer in his brain. He's a sweetheart and we all love him.” He's great. “We haven't officially adopted him, but he'll always be family.”

“...I get the feeling that I knew that at one point.” Marco’s brow furrowed, mulling over the information, feeling it register a bit better, another thought coming to mind after a moment of quiet silence. “...he didn't know that a goose wasn't a chicken.” That was a thing. ….I think?

Lathe grinned widely, nodding. “That's right. He got to hold a chicken and say hi- and he learned they don't bite when you take their eggs.” You're remembering stuff with prompting after a while and this is wonderful. In this case, not all of your brain cells must have been killed. Maybe a few here and there interrupted normal neural patterns, and you just need to find those paths again, but they are there to be found. That's good. It'd be impossible to recreate them from scratch if your entire brain had died.

Jean came back in, having been told that Mr. Bott had signed Marco’s release papers, and watching him leave to go man his post at the bakery. He smiled as he heard giggling, coming completely in and seeing Marco and Lathe look over pictures from Lathe’s phone. Oh dear... “What are we looking at now?” He set the bag down next to Marco, a soft smile on his face as he looked at the two of them. Right back to being best friends? .......... But what about me ?

“The pictures from Thanksgiving…” Marco smiled, going through all of them. “I remember bits and pieces of this… I remember Casper and Scotty held you down for your rabies shot and you screamed…” Marco couldn't help giggling at the memory, trying to hide his smile. “I'm sorry, I'm sorry, it's just really funny to see pictures…” That was horrible… but it was also great...

“That… That was two years ago….” Jean told him, trying to seem happy but failing ultimately. He looked down to the bag, trying not to cry. “I brought you clothes, if you’d like to go put them on.” I need to put myself together at this point....

Marco saw his tears expression, reaching for him, looking apologetic. “Jean, I know, Mr. Quo has been showing me some of the different big holidays…” He caught his middle, pulling him close. “I saw the ones from last Christmas… and I remembered a thing.” He tugged him down by his shoulder, murmuring in his ear. “I remember the riding crop…” Guh, I remembered the gift and thought of you… I don't know if we’ve used it yet… I don't remember anything sexual, really, except what just happened… ugh, I wanna remember what it was like… it's been two years... we must've... Marco, don't get hard again . That's creepy. Stahp.

Jean just seemed to have his heart crush even more. “Okay, well we can tell you more when we get back to ou-... my apartment…. Why don’t you get dressed?” Jean pulled away from Marco as his heart clenched. You don’t remember.... And I can tell by the way you said that it was a riding crop.... You didn’t call it that when we played....

Marco nodded, taking the bag and trying to keep he damp spot hidden as he stood. He was glad when he was left to dress himself, putting on a tee and jeans, pulling out a hoodie and donning it. He realized that it smelled nice after a moment, the thought registering. It smells like Jean. He smiled, coming out into the hall after he got his shoes on, going to latch onto Jean. “Okay, I'm ready.” We can get going.

Jean smiled weakly, leading him out to his truck, letting him get in the passenger side. “Alright to my apartment we go...” Why does it have to be like this? Why can’t he remember? His shoulders slumped as he turned the ignition and started the truck up, carefully driving back to the apartment complex. I’m gonna need to start looking for a job too... And I’ll sleep on the couch tonight...

Marco was quiet as they drove, looking around. He got out when they parked at the apartment complex, following Jean at his side. Before long they were inside, Marco looking around. The whole place smells like Jean.... I love it.... Marco looked over as Jean finished kicking his shoes off, going to hug him and bury his face in his neck. Mine. .....and I’m so, so sorry......

Jean was shocked as Marco instantly hugged him and wrapped his arms around him. “M-Marcos?” What are you doing? His eyes were wide as he slowly pried Marco’s arms from around his waist, looking confused as he pushed him back a bit. “I should make you food, you haven't eaten… You’re probably hungry.”
Marco was confused as Jean pushed him away, his brow furrowing, wrapping his arms around himself. “Y-Yeah, thank you….” A thought tugged at his mind as he watched Jean open a cupboard only for a packet of Ramen to fall out and scare him. There's something… He watched him pull out actual pasta, the thought clicking. Wait… he can't cook. But it's just pasta…. I feel like he's done this before. Marco shuffled up behind him, leaning his cheek on his shoulder blade, his hands lightly at his waist. Mine.

Jean just sighed as he put the water into the pot and letting it boil on the stove before putting pasta in. He waited patiently in silence before grabbing the strainer from the cupboard and draining out the pot, turning the burner off and putting the pasta in it again. “Marco can you grab the bo-” His eyes seemed more pained than ever as he reached to bowl two bowls out. “S-Sorry….” I just want you to remember everything… This is breaking me in more ways than one…

Marco sighed, kissing his cheek, trying to placate him. “I’m sorry, Jean…” You won't have your boyfriend back completely for a while it seems… Marco shifted as Jean did, thanking him as he was handed a bowl, going to sit at the table with him. He stopped and stared at it, thinking. Which side is mine… He seemed to remember something, sitting down. I think I picked right... because I remember kicking Jean's feet under the table.

Jean turned with his own bowl and he seemed to feel his heart shatter as he noticed where Marco was sitting. He decided not to say anything, sitting down and struggling not to let out another choked sob. Fuck… This is so much harder than I thought it’d be…. No…. I really can’t sleep with him tonight, I can’t with him tonight… He brought up a fork full of pasta, struggling to chew his food, the sinking feeling in his chest too real.

Marco picked at his food, eating a bit more than half of it, studying the garlic sauce pooling at the bottom. “Hey Jean, you put the oil on the list, right?” His mouth ran off before he knew it, looking up in surprise. What?

Jean froze for a moment, shaking his head and going to stand and write it on the list that was on the fridge. “I-I...I’ll add it….” How come you can remember useless things like the lists we made... But you don’t remember me? Or anything that pertains to me? You sat on the wrong side… “T-Thanks…” His voice was weak and so obviously broken.

Marco stood, going to hug him, pouting when Jean gently pushed him back, latching onto him. “Jean, I'm sorry…. I'm in here somewhere….” I'm hurting you.... and I don't know how to fix it....

Jean shook his head. “I just want you to remember…. I just…. I want you back… And it must sound so bad, that I don’t want this version of you… But…” He sighed quietly, his arms gently and jerkily wrapping around Marco as he leaned his head down to cry, sobs wracking through his whole body. I must sound like such an ass to you.

Marco took in a deep breath at that, cradling Jean close. “No, I… I understand… you want the Marco that remembers everything… and I'm just Marco…” He gently swayed them, letting Jean cry. “It's okay baby, it's okay…” He rubbed his back, coaxing the tears out of him. I know you need to cry… I'm apparently not myself anymore… and that must hurt… “...I won't make you suffer like this if you don't want to hurt so much…” I won't make you hurt like that… I wanna keep you, but this isn't just me… it'll kill you if I don't remember everything soon…

Jean shook his head, his grip getting even stronger around Marco’s waist. “N-No… Please don’t l-leave me too….” He sobbed into Marco’s shoulder, tears running down his cheeks and creating wet spots in his hoodie. I don’t think I’d be able to handle it… Not after everything we’ve gone through. “It’s my fault you were in the crash anyways…. And I’ll never be able to forgive myself… I just n-need to b-bear with it….” Jean started to hiccup as he clung onto Marco, almost squeezing him tight enough to make breathing a chore. He can’t leave me again…. No….

“Oh-Okay, Jean, I don't have to leave. I'll stay, I promise.” Marco slowly led them to the living room, settling them on the couch, tugging Jean on top of him. “Don't think that this is your fault… it isn't…” He ran a hand through his hair, holding him close. Don't blame yourself...

Jean shook his head, hiccuping again. “N-No…. It's my fault…. B-Because I wouldn’t w-wait for you….” You were late for our date… So I started to drive to the city to go to the restaurant…. You were late because you were picking up the ring weren’t you? “O-Oh my god …” Jean's eyes were wide with distraught tears spilling down his cheeks even quicker than before. I should’ve waited… I would’ve been the one driving then....

Marco looked worried, pulling Jean further up, nuzzling into his neck. “Jean, please don't cry… it's okay… I’m in one piece, I'm here. It's okay, it's okay…” You're nearly hysterical… please don't cry so much...

Jean just simply sobbed as he held onto Marco, shaking in his tan arms. He opened his mouth to speak but gave up as he cried until he exhausted himself of his tears. Fuck…. How long was I crying for? It feels like my cheeks are soaked... He shifted his head, turning to see the large wet spot on Marco’s hoodie. Jean felt a hand slowly thread through his hair as he finally quieted. He’s alive…. I should be happy…. Why can’t I be happy? Why can’t I have a normal life?

Marco cooed to him quietly, nuzzling into his neck. “I'm sorry babe…” Marco turned his head, softly kissing his neck. I'm sorry… Marco held him close, kissing up to his ear, holding him close. I can't be what you want and remember...
Jean slowly calmed down, reaching to hold onto him. “I’m sorry… But you should probably get to bed, you have work tomorrow morning….” You’ll probably like going back to the bakery… He shifted to sit up, sniffling and rubbing at his face after finally haven cried his eyes out.

Marco shook his head, running his hand over Jean’s side. “I’m not that tired… and I can just tell Dad I need another day to get used to stuff. He’ll let me off another day… if you want me to.” He sat up as well, one arm winding around Jean’s waist, the other tenderly cupping his tear-stained cheek. I remember that I work there… and Mr. Quo made sure of that.

Jean shook his head. “You should go… I need to go job hunting as it is… So maybe I’ll drop you off… You never know, getting back to your routine might help.” Jean let Marco hold him, his eyes trained on the floor, so afraid to look at him. I don’t want to be selfish… I need to learn…

Marco nodded, tilting his head and gazing up into Jean’s eyes. “Babe, look at me.” He waited, finally meeting Jean’s eyes. “I’ll go to work and you can go job hunting. But please don’t try to change every part of our routine. If we just try to act as close to normal as we feel comfortable with… I’ll remember faster.” He studied his eyes, his own soft. I wanna make this right.

Jean nodded, averting his eyes again. “I just… I want some alone time right now… I’m gonna sleep on the couch…. Do you know where the bedroom is or….?” I don’t know what you remember. His thumb ran over Marco’s hand on his waist, unsure if he wanted to actually sleep with his arms around Marco or if he would brave the couch.

Marco looked saddened at that. “I’ll give you some time alone… and I do remember where the bedroom is… but please don’t sleep alone. I would think you’d rather have someone to hold on to.” He held him a bit closer, resting his forehead on his shoulder. “I’ll hold you if you want.” Please? You look miserable…

Jean looked over to Marco for a moment, nodding once again. “O-Okay… I’ll climb in eventually…” He turned his head and quickly pecked Marco’s cheek before he had the chance to react to it. I just wanna go look at the ring again…. And I wish you would ask again… But I’m not gonna get that… am I?

Marco nodded, gently catching Jean’s chin after his cheek was kissed, softly brushing his lips to his cheek. “Okay, babe. You come to bed eventually, okay?” Marco let Jean slip from his lap, brushing his thumb over his cheek before leaving him to himself.
I didn't fall asleep for awhile- I ended up going into the kitchen a few hours later and dragging Jean back into the bedroom. He looked like he'd been crying… and I just held onto him and he clung to me… and he cried even more... He's.... he's in a lot of pain... and I can't fix it. He seemed happy for a second when I gravitated towards my side of the bed… but he just… it didn't last. Marco blinked awake, Jean still on top of him, feeling his warm breath huff against his neck. He sighed at the feeling, his hands slowly running up and down his back. That feels nice… ...I hope to god I don't have morning wood...

Jean groaned as he shifted, his eyes slowly cracking open. His head was instantly pounding, grateful that the hand on his back moved to his scalp as he sighed. “Hmm…. What time is it?” He croaked out in curiosity, his voice and eyelids still laden with sleep. I’m on top of Marco? When did that happen?

“It’s a bit before seven… it's still really early…” Marco gently massaged his scalp, smiling faintly as Jean relaxed. “Your head hurting?” He made a sympathetic noise as Jean made a quiet sound of pain, pecking his temple. “I'll go get you some aspirin.”

He was soon enough behind the bakery counter, absently gazing over the empty bakery. I made sure he was okay before I left…. I didn't want to go to work... I wanted to keep trying to convince him that everything will be okay… but that won't help… routine will help. I kissed his cheek… he wouldn't let me give him a real kiss, even a fleeting one…
Jean came into the house holding two bottles of bourbon hours later. I'm useless, I can't get a job anywhere... No one wants to take on a high school dropout... He didn't even bother with a glass, just sitting down on the floor with the bottle in his hand, opening it and tipping it back. Feeling the slow burn of the alcohol had him relaxing and taking another swig, then another, and another.

Marco came home after six, kicking off his shoes. “Jean, you home yet?” He could hear a quiet sound from their bedroom, the apartment mostly dark except for the small bit of light from the far window. “Jean?” He came into the bedroom, seeing Jean with a nearly empty bottle of bourbon in his hand, the deal on the floor. Another sat next to him, not yet touched. He drank an entire bottle of liquor?! “Jean! What the hell!” Marco marched over to where he was on the floor, snatching the bottles away from him. “This is too much for anyone, let alone a lightweight like yourself!”

Marco stopped for a split second. ....why do I know that? “Jean, baby.” He set the bottles behind him in the desk, going to where Jean still was, too drunk to resist a hug. “I'm sorry....” Guh, you smell like you bathed in alcohol...

Jean wobbled a bit when he was hugged. Huh? What's going on? He felt his stomach lurch a bit as he was moved. Shifting he tried and get away, feeling the bile rise in his stomach. “F-fuck…” He even sounded like he was gonna throw up, which he eventually did, liquor and acid spilling from his mouth and on the wooden floor. Fuck...

Marco moved out of the way as Jean spoke, knowing instinctively it was coming and glad he wasn't a direct target. He winced as he saw the puddle on the floor, gently rubbing Jean’s back as he vomited. He was glad when Jean sucked in a shaky breath, stable for the moment. “You're really sick, babe... c’mere.” Marco slowly helped Jean stand, getting him to the bathroom and parking him in front of the toilet. “Aim for this if you need to throw up again, okay?” Marco left for a moment, coming back with a cup for water. “Come on Jean, teeny sips.” You need to not be drunk as hell...

Jean shook his head, quickly regretting it as he threw up again in the confines of the toilet this time. “I... wan’ m-my alcohol.... B-back...” He swayed on his knees as he stuttered, looking around the room with glassy eyes, trying to find his bottle of liquor, yet too intoxicated to get up and look for it. I wanna keep drinking... It makes it not hurt anymore... I don’t wanna hurt anymore.

“You can't have it back, you're really drunk already. Please, baby. Drink a bit, okay?” Marco gently cradled his jaw with one hand, the other holding the glass to his lips, sighing in relief as Jean took a small gulp obediently. “Let's see how you feel in a bit, okay? Then we’ll see if you can move to the couch.” I don't want you throwing up all over the furniture if you don't have to.
“But I want it back…” He whined like a child, trying to weakly swing at Marco, his hand hitting his side like he was trying to grab at Marco and not hit him. “Ge’ ‘ff” Jean’s words were slurred as he tried to get to his feet, his head spinning from his movement, and his stomach not appreciating it. I’m gonna be sick… He almost fell on top of the toilet as he threw even more alcohol up with the water he’d just drank.

Marco winced, keeping Jean from hitting his head on the porcelain as he threw up, still rubbing his back. “Just let it happen, Jean. Better out than in.” He didn't try to make him drink any more water at the moment, just trying to comfort him. “You'll feel better if you get it out of your system. No more, babe. You've had enough.” You drank nearly the whole damn bottle and would've had the second if nobody stopped you. ....I don't know how to deal with this…

Jean grumbled something about his head hurting as he sat back down against the toilet. My head hurts… I want to make it stop hurting… He struggled to stand again, wobbling on his feet as he tried to get around Marco to go back into their room and grab his liquor. Jean didn’t even make it out the door before he fell over, tripping over his own two feet. He made a loud noise akin to a groan of pain as his body slammed down onto the hardwood flooring below him, not having the strength to even get up at this point, his head spinning out of control.

..........I can't deal with this. I need help. Marco patted his pockets for his phone, realizing he didn't had one. I need a phone. He patted Jean’s pockets when he couldn't resist, opening it and looking through all the contacts. Who.... who.... .... He read one name, thinking for a moment. They say he mother henned everyone in college when they were reckless, drunk, or both. Marco texted the number moments later.

JK: Mr. Quo, it's Marco

JK: Jean is really, really drunk and I don't know what to do

LQ: I'll be there in ten minutes

LQ: Are you at the apartment?

JK: Yeah we are

LQ: I'll get there

LQ: Don't let him leave, drink or drown in his own vomit

JK: Got it

Marco put the phone on the counter, going to carefully heave Jean back into the bathroom. “Come here Honey, you need to stay put so that you can feel better for a bit. If you're well enough, then you get to go to the couch and have water.” That's it. No more bourbon.
Jean shook his head. “It makes the pain go ‘way…” He slurred as he tried to get away from Marco. “Y-You’re nuh real…” You’re not my Marco… I want my Marco back…

Marco’s face fell, still wrapping him up in his arms and dragging him back into the bathroom. “Please, baby, listen to me. You're not thinking straight and I'm gonna take care of you, okay? Now please just sit down and try to relax, okay?” He kissed his cheek, trying to convince him to behave. Please?

Jean weakly tried to push him away again, struggling to stand. “Nuh uh…” He whined, trying to crawl away once he got his arms free of Marco’s hold, though he wasn’t getting anywhere when Marco wrapped his arms around his waist. He barely felt it. No… I want my Marco back… You’re not Marco… You don’t sound like him…

Marco stayed there with Jean in his arms while he waited for Lathe to come and help, sighing quietly as he weakly struggled and kept repeating the same thing over and over. ……I'm not his Marco. ………………..I've hurt him too much…… I can't stay and keep tearing up his heart…. I can't .... He didn't hear the knock on the front door, nor the jingling of the spare key in the door, jumping when suddenly Lathe was in the doorway. “H-How’d you…?”

“I've known where the extra was for two years.” Lathe knelt next to them, catching Jean as he swayed forward on his knees. “Jean? Jean, please, don't fight us. We’re trying to help you feel better.” Please don't struggle, Jean… “You've had a lot to drink, Hun. Let us take care of you.”

“Nuh uh…. I wann’ Marco…” His voice slurred as he still tried to push them both away. This isn’t my Marco…. I want my Marco! Jean had tears in his eyes as he struggled to push them away, starting to hiccup which would only lead to more vomit. I want my Marco! But he’s not gonna come back…. Is he?

Lathe caught him again, guiding him back in front of the toilet as he started hiccuping. “Marco’s here, Jean, he's okay. He's here, see?” Lathe watched Marco move to Jean’s other side, the freckled man cupping Jean’s cheek. He’s here. …..and somehow alive.

Jean shook his head again, prompting him to empty his stomach into the toilet once again. “… ‘hats nuh m-my Marco…..” Jean whined, his whole body shaking as he started to cry. That’s not my Marco!

Lathe looked between Jean and Marco, his face falling as he understood. He doesn't remember everything... he doesn't remember being in love with you so much he wanted to marry you...

“Jean... I don't have any answers for you...” They rubbed his back as he vomited, managing to get him to rinse out his mouth with water. “Jean, please, just relax, okay?” Lathe got him to sit against the wall, running a hand through his hair. I can't fix that...

Jean’s lip was quivering as tears ran down his cheeks in streams. I... I want my Marco back... The one that loved me, even though we can’t do anything in the bedroom... The one that knew all my quirks, the one that knew when to give me space... The one that knew when I needed a hug.... The one that wanted to marry me..... And I can't have him anymore.... He sniffled, trying to calm himself down. Do I have to keep going? Put up with it? Try and make him happy again.... But he won't understand anything... He’ll get frustrated with me... And he’ll leave.... I don’t want to let him go, but it hurts so much to keep him with me....

Marco felt ready to cry himself, shifting next to Jean, hugging him and burying his face in his shoulder. I can't stop myself from clinging to him.... why ...? “Jean, I.... I'm so sorry I'm not the Marco you had... and that I'm not the one you want... I'm so sorry that got taken away from you...” I can't keep hurting you like this... I can't ...

Jean just looked away from him, his eyes starting to close. I'm tired.... He had finally cried himself to sleep after a few minutes, his body going lax against the wall and Marco. I want my Marco back...

Marco cradled him close, letting out a ragged sob when he felt Lathe’s hand on his back. I made him drink a whole bottle of bourbon and cry... I'm making him miserable... I can't give him what he already had... “W-W-What........” I don't know what to do ....

Marco was reluctant to follow Lathe out into the room. I... I don’t want to make him miserable like this.... He drank a whole bottle, and if I didn't stop him he would’ve had the other too. He came out of the bedroom and sat down on the couch, holding his head in his hands as he leaned over his knees. “What do I do?” His voice was small, hating that he didn't know what to do. I can’t stay with him if this happens to him.

Lathe sighed and sat next to him, pulling him out of his tiny ball and pulling him in for a hug, feeling him shudder. “It's okay if you need to cry... and I don't think... I don't think that if this is how much Jean is hurting…. that you can stay here.” He gently rubbed his back. “...I think that for a long while at least, until you get your memories back and only then… until that happens, you two can't be dating… I think even a casual friendship would hurt him too much…. ...for a lot of big reasons.” He saw the ring… he knows you… you wanted to marry him… that you were gonna propose...

Marco started to cry as he held onto Lathe, feeling oddly comfortable in his arms, like he’d cried to him about something before. I.... “So…. Y-you’re telling me…. That I should l-leave?” Marco felt like the world was falling down on him, and he had no idea why just the thought of leaving Jean hurt so much. Why? Why does it hurt? What is he to me? I don’t understand....

Lathe cradled him close, letting him cry. “Marco, it hurts to say it… but you're not the same Marco that Jean knew. You're not that same as when we were besties. You've lost memories and changed. And you and Jean were at a point where nobody thought there was anyone for one of you besides the other… and Jean has a heart to mend… because even if you do regain your memories… it'll be a long while before you remember enough to pick up again where you left off.” It'll take time...

“Where did we leave off? I’m so confused… He seemed so okay with me earlier… Then just… He broke down…” Marco sniffled, trying to refrain from breaking down himself. I can’t... I don’t want to leave him.... Where did we leave off? Why won’t he tell me?

“Marco…” Lathe hesitated, looking down, thinking. ...he'll never leave if he knows... “You and Jean had dated for so long… and Jean’s always been one to keep his actual feelings to himself. He… maybe he realized he couldn't lie to himself that everything was perfect. ...because it's not. No matter how much we want it to be right now.” He rubbed his back, one hand going through his hair. Whether we like it or not, a lot of shit isn't going to be the same for a long while...

Marco could only nod. “D-Do I move back in with my D-Dad?.... It seems like a lot stuff is here.... How long have I lived with him?” It seems like all my stuff is here...

“...it must've been a year and a half that you've lived together… a long while…” Figuring out what's yours and his would be difficult… besides clothes... “I think your Dad would understand with everything that's happened… but if it just doesn't work, and I can't imagine it not working out, you can always stay with us awhile.” You're like family- we're here for you.

“No... I-I was honestly surprised that my Dad didn’t bring me home from the hospital…. I... I want to stay… But I don’t wanna break him anymore than he already is…” That’s cruel.... “But I don’t think i’d be able to leave him if he’s awake…” I don’t think I’d be able to face him at all, if he knew I was going to leave... But just leaving him alone would be cruel...
“He's sleeping… Marco, I don't think there's much to do besides take your clothes and go home… staying would just… it'd slowly crush his heart.” You can't do that to him…

Marco nodded, shifting to go grab his things, confused on how he remembered what was his and what wasn’t, small tidbits flashing before his eyes. But it's not enough, I don't remember any of this in full… He heard the sheets move behind him, looking to see Jean sprawl onto his back. It's for the better… Marco grabbed his clothes, somehow coming across a suitcase with his name on it, taking it and packing clothes in it. He could feel his heart starting to become painful. I don’t… I don’t want to leave… And I don’t know why!

Lathe was quiet as Marco packed, shadowing him in the bedroom door. He watched morose as Marco closed the suitcase, going to the bed and giving Jean a feather-light kiss in his sleep. He held out a hand for him, guiding him to the front door as his head hung. “I'll drive you home, Hun. ...I'm sorry.” I know it must hurt… even if you're not too sure why it hurts as much as it does…

Marco sniffled, nodding as Lathe led him out the door. Fuck…. I don’t wanna leave him. But I can't keep hurting him. He sat down in the passenger seat, his suitcase in the trunk of Lathe’s Thunderbird. Marco looked out the window, watching the houses go by until he was in front of his own house, tears in his eyes. “I…. I can’t talk to him… Can I?” What's going to happen to him?

Lathe was quiet as he turned off the car, looking to him. “.......I don't think so.” He hugged Marco tightly, letting him shake in his arms. He waited until he stopped sobbing, kissing his forehead before letting him go, making sure he got inside okay. ........I'm sorry.

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

The flight here wasn’t so bad… It was only a few hours, not enough for me to try and bother sleeping. Lathe held my hand the entire time as we were in the front section of the plane, with only the two of us in our part of the row. Eren really went all out when he got us these tickets…. Like, all out. We left around 10 this morning, which put us at the airport at around 3, customs wasn’t that long of a line and we got through relatively quickly, the hotel having a shuttle bus waiting for our arrival…..Eren…. How much of this did you plan out for the two of us? Ieva was quiet as she watched the city pass slowly, crossing over a large bridge to get to the island, watching the crystal clear water peek through between the different resorts. Before she knew it they were getting off at their resort, the driver helping Lathe get their luggage out of the shuttle and onto a dolly. She watched one of the hotel staff come and push it as they were directed towards the front desk in the large marble lobby. It’s so beautiful…. She noticed the peaceful quiet that also came from the rest of the resort. No kids… Thank god … I needed this…

….this is happening apparently. Lathe was still a bit on edge, trying not to think about everything left at home. Construction started just a few weeks ago… Okay maybe two months ago, and the kids are being a handful and a half, and Mila is a bit of a handful too just by herself and Eren’s in charge of everything and I just… “Reservation for Quo.” Lathe managed to sound neutral as he spoke to the friendly man at the front desk, squeezing Ieva’s hand as she looked around the nice lobby, gazing around himself a bit. It does look really nice… who the hell am I kidding, it’s really fancy… I don’t deserve this… Ieva does, but… not me… Lathe kept Ieva close as he was handed two key cards, immediately giving one to Ieva. They were pointed in the right direction to their room, walking down a long hallway. He was still a bit wound up even with all the time he had on the plane to get over his nerves, instinctively wrapping his arm around Ieva’s middle, keeping her close. Three whole weeks… just us… and no work to do. No bills to pay, no kids to wrangle, just… us. ……………I don't know if I'll last that long….. He waved the keycard in front of the sensor, the door clicking for them, gazing around the room. His jaw dropped as he took everything in. It's too fancy… it's wonderful… and it's too much….

Ieva’s eyes were wide as she came in after Lathe, she looked at the huge room with the large jacuzzi bath near the sliding glass door which led to a large balcony that overlooked the beautiful crystal clear waters in front of the hotel. “Oh my god… This place is gorgeous ….” She stepped inside moving to sit on the very large bed against the wall, a huge smile on her face. “La-…..” She was cut off as she looked up to see his face. “Lathe?” Her voice was instantly softer to try and get his attention. “Come here… We can call the kids if you want…” You look like you’re about to cry…
Lathe gazed around the room blankly, his eyes red, holding his head in his hands. He was even paler than normal, his mind going in circles. I don't deserve this... I don't deserve a second of it... I'm supposed to be home with the kids, making dinner and making sure construction goes well and making sure everyone gets their bedtime stories and not be here doing nothing when I don't remember the first damn thing about being romantic... Lathe barely noticed Ieva speak, slowly shaking his head, his gaze fixed far away.

Ieva slowly walked up to Lathe. “Lathe honey... Can you hear me?” I hope you can... “It’s just me... Okay?” Her voice was soft and calm as she slowly pulled him towards the bed, letting him lay down and holding onto him. “Lathe, honey..... C-can you hear me?” Please... Please hear me... She tried cooing to him, her hands running through his noir locks. I don’t want you to panic about this...

“I don’t... I don't deserve this…” Lathe looked ready to freak out, shaking as Ieva wrapped him up in a warm embrace. “I should be home because there's so much work to be done, I don't deserve to do nothing for three weeks and I don't remember a single thing about being romantic and I'm gonna do nothing but worry and ruin everything for you...” Lathe let everything spill out, trembling as he clung to Ieva, his chest aching. It hurts... I can't do this... you deserve it... and I don’t... .....help me not worry... “H-Help me n-n-not w-worry...” His voice was tiny and his breathing was shaky, panic slithering into his stomach.

Ieva nodded, shifting onto his chest, her legs straddling his sides as she felt his arms tightly wrap around her waist. “No, don’t say that, Lathe... You should be here with me, you deserve everything...” She slowly shifted to nestle her face into his neck, gently kissing his soft flesh. Please relax... I want you to be able to relax with me.... You deserve this, you never had a vacation except for our honeymoon...

Lathe couldn't help letting out high-pitched whines of distress as she shifted on top of him, so scared that she was going to shift away. Don't leave me.... please... He shuddered as she kissed his neck, feeling himself warm a bit as she did, his voice quieter. “I-It doesn't feel l-like I deserve anything like th-this...” I don't... I'm not supposed to have another vacation,... there's too much to do...

Ieva shook her head. “You deserve it.... Please believe me.” Her words a soft whisper as she kissed his ear gently and sweetly. Soon she moved her head, under his chin, gently kissing the skin as she felt his arms loosen from around her. That's it, calm down.... Please calm down...

It feels wonderful... Lathe slowly began to melt in Ieva’s arms, his voice soft as fret a while of quiet thought. “.........I do?” I... I deserve this? ............no............right?
Ieva nodded against his skin, gently kissing around his other ear. “You deserve a reward for being the best Dad that any of our kids could possibly want… For being there to support Eren while he learned how to handle Mila… For being able to try and help Marco get back into things… You’re an amazing man Lathe…. You deserve something just as amazing for a thank you.” Ieva kissed a towards his chest, her lips trailing down to his collarbone, her hands pulling the fabric of his shirt out of the way. It’s in the way… I want you to relax…

I….. “I…. it doesn’t feel l-like it…” Lathe’s voice was shifting from distressed to contented, sounding calm as she kissed down his chest. He let out a faint sound as her hands stroked soothingly over his slightly heavier frame. I’ve always been so scared… that I’m not doing things right… that I don’t measure up to your ideal husband… I never have any time to practice Judo or use the gym we have anymore… I… I’m starting to lose my muscles and my shape… and I know how much you liked them…

Ieva soon had her fingers around the hem of his shirt, tugging on it a bit. “C-Can I take it off?” I wanna make sure you’re okay with this…. She shifted up a bit so that she could pull his shirt off the instant he said she could. “I…. I wouldn’t want to be here with anyone else Lathe… You’re an awesome parent… You’ve raised Eren well, he’ll be able to do it, and he’s got Armin and Marco… And the rest of the village if he needs help.” She tried to soothe him more, trying to see if it would work or not. Please be okay … Please...

Lathe hesitated at her question, shifting nervously. “B-But…. I…. I-I just… A-Am I… s-still as attractive to y-you?” I can't sleep nearly every other night… and trying to watch boring TV helps… but just mindlessly eating leftovers and not having any leftover time for the gym hasn't been nice to my body… He shrunk as she gave him an ‘are you fucking serious’ glare, his voice tiny. “I-I don't exactly look the same… I-I keep gaining weight and I don't work out anymore really and I just… w-worry you’ll…” Worry you'll stop loving my body....

“Lathe….” Ieva trailed off as she pulled off his shirt, looking down to his abdomen, noticing that he had in fact gained a bit of weight, the normally hard lines of his muscles softened. She let her hands trail down the softer lines, a smile of appreciation on her face. “You still have abs… I don’t really care, your baby face hasn’t changed at all… and you haven’t changed the way you are on the inside, so why should it matter if you put on some weight?” Her voice was soft as she kept her hands on his abdomen, making sure that he knew she didn’t care at all if he’d lost some muscle tone. “You juggle everything around like a pro…. I’m not worried about this… I’d never be able to stop loving you, and I hope that the same would go for me too…” She murmured, her eyes hopeful as she locked her gaze with his. I really hope you won’t stop making love to me even if I run out of eggs… Because I’m going to.

Lathe looked vulnerable, his eyes hopeful as she looked him over with soft eyes. “.........I thought you’d hate it..... …..is it really okay?” I don’t want you to look at me and be disgusted….. I wanna look nice for you....
She nodded, picking up one of his hands and kissing his knuckles. “Trust me, you’ll look hotter than a majority of the men your age here…. You’re in your 40s Lathe… You’re fucking hot, and don’t ever think that I wouldn’t tap that….” She grinned cheekily, kissing his palm as he opened his hand for her lips. Please be okay with this… I really am okay, because it’s you… I wouldn’t ask you to change for me…

Lathe desperately tried to calm down at that, but the mention of how old he was sent new thoughts spinning. “B-But….. w-what about the gray hairs and the lines around my eyes and near my mouth whenever I look something other than bored…? I-Is that okay t-too?” I want to be good enough for you…

Lathe…. Ieva’s eyes looked over his face, shaking her head. “Do you even realize that I’m getting those too?” She leaned down to wrap her arms around his neck, hugging him. “I wouldn’t want you to change at all, I love the way you’re aging… I love it, and it’s sexy…” The few grey hairs you have are barely noticeable… But even if they were it would be hot as all hell.

Lathe shook his head, reaching a hand up to cup Ieva’s cheek. “Th-That’s different… you’re so beautiful it hurts… and I’m just…. “ I look in the mirror and keep thinking about how I’m never going to be good enough for you….

“Lathe… Why do you keep degrading yourself? You know I love you no matter what… Is it me? Am I not telling you enough? Because I can tell you even more if that’s what the problem is……” I don’t want you to think that I would ever stop loving you. She kissed his cheek as he cupped her face, a twinkle in her eyes.

Lathe clutched her closer to his chest, his voice tiny. “Y-Yeah… b-but you could tell m-me every minute of every day and it wouldn't be enough…. His grip got tighter, though his hold in her cheek was still the gentlest thing. “…I just wanna be enough for you…” He looked up to her, his eyes desperate. “H-Help me feel like enough… I wanna stop hurting so much…” It always hurts...

Ieva nodded. “I think I have just the thing.” She murmured, kissing him sweetly before getting off of him carefully. She went to the bag she packed and started to open it up, though she started to strip simultaneously. I wonder if you know where I’m going with this…

*Lathe couldn't help the instinctive whine of protest as she left his lap, looking over as she moved, flushing as her clothes started hitting the floor. “I-Ieva…?” He looked confused, his eyes widening as she pulled a toy out of her suitcase, drinking it in as he flushed scarlet. He nearly drooled as he looked it over. It's bigger than the one we already have, it looks like… “That looks new…”...I want it...
Ieva smiled softly, slowly coming towards him left in only her panties, her bra having come off moments before. She let him look over the larger toy, the bottle of lube in her other hand. I wanna make you feel wanted ... “It is.... You like it?”

“It looks bigger…” Lathe could feel himself quietly ache, looking up over Ieva's nude form, feeling himself hardening. “I think I'll love it…”

….. He’s all yours... Ieva slowly clambered onto the bed, shifting to sit between his legs, her hands coming down to unbutton his pants, unzipping them and starting to pull them off of him. “You tell me if I need to slow down or do anything for you… Okay?” I want you to be comfortable. She leaned down, kissing his abdomen as she teased his boxers with her fingers.

Lathe spread his legs for her as she climbed up without even thinking about it, shakily nodding as she spoke. “Please, just… be gentle….” Please... He took a light hold on the soft sheets as Ieva gently ran her hands up and down his creamy thighs, throbbing with anticipation. I want it... really badly... He flushed scarlet as she tugged his boxers down, her hands returning to his thighs, whimpering as she teasingly brushed up and down the sensitive flesh and kissed all over his chest. *I want it....

Ieva was gentle as she let her hands wander his creamy thighs, her thumbs gently going over the skin. Her lips were still setting opened mouth kisses on his abdomen, following the softer lines of his abs. She soon made her way down to the coarse hair that led to his nether, kissing his base as her hands still ran up and down his thighs. I want you to feel really good. Ieva slowly kissed up his hard length, getting to the tip and gently licking over his slit. *I got a new one that vibrates ....

Lathe was rock hard as she kissed up his length, gasping as she lapped his slit, shaking, his legs trembling as her hands still ran over them. “F-Feels good…” I miss this.... Lathe whimpered as her hands moved to his knees, his legs easing apart completely for her, his body heating up much more. *I want it....

Ieva shifted to lower her body closer to Lathe’s, grabbing the bottle of lube she had set aside. She opened it up, letting the lube drip onto her fingers, letting it warm up before slowly poking at his entrance. She let her finger swirl around, trying to get him to relax as she licked large strips up the base of his hard length. *I missed doing this with you... We should do it more often...

Lathe tensed a bit as he felt a digit slowly rubbing circles around his entrance, his back arching, wanting to give her better access. “P-Please be gentle...” He felt her murmur against his base, soon feeling a finger slowly finding its way inside. He breathed deeply, trying to relax. I missed this kind of love... it's been too long.... A thought hit him with guilt, trying to shove it back down. Don't make this even harder... He couldn't help the tormented look that flash past his eyes. *Stop it... don't think about it like that...
Ieva felt him tense up around her, cooing to him as she brought her free hand to gently rub his length. “Lathe… Do you want to keep going?” You’re so tense… She looked up to see the torment in his eyes, trying to figure out what to do. Do I stop? Did I do something wrong?

Lathe looked down to her, his look one of poorly hidden guilt. He nodded, his grip on the sheets tightening as he tried to calm down. “Y-Yes… I-I do, b-but…” If I tell you you’ll think that what you do isn't enough for me… I don't want you to think that…. He soon shook his head, looking away. “N-Nevermind…” I can't tell you… fuck, but now you're going to ask what's wrong… and I don't wanna tell you… but I feel too guilty...

Ieva looked to Lathe, watching him look away, picking up that he didn’t want to talk about it. Okay…. She nodded quietly, slowly easing in a second finger when she thought he was ready. You don’t have to tell me…. You can tell me when you feel comfortable…. She focused on him, trying to make him see stars as she gently massaged him open and worshipped his length. I can focus on you….

Lathe couldn't help it, still feeling guilt squeeze his chest as Ieva took his nerves in stride, continuing on like nothing happened. ... but I should tell you…. I should tell you… “I-Ieva…I-I should tell you… uhm… y-you know how we never really did m-much when things started getting r-really busy?” He looked very scared as Ieva nodded, looking up to him. “W-Well… I-if I had time in the middle of the day… I just… I missed being intimate with you, a-and…” He flushed scarlet as Ieva looked to him, looking away as her hand slowly stroked him. “I-I’m sorry… I’ve kept touching myself… I craved touch so much and there was never time and we were always exhausted when it got late and I don't want you to think you're not enough but—” Lathe was cut off as his length was encased with heat, his mouth wide with a silent moan as her tongue ran firmly over his slit. So good… are you not… mad…? “A-Are you… n-not mad…?” He breathed deeply, letting out a low moan as Ieva bobbed on him. Too good...

Ieva bobbed her head on him and kissed his length as she came off with a lewd pop. “Please tell me… It’s perfectly normal for you to want to be intimate…. All you need to do is ask.” I’d help you at least… “You don’t have to feel ashamed… Or guilty, it’s only human… I used to do it too….” Not much anymore, but I take that to being exhausted with all the kids… She gently eased her fingers towards where the bundle of nerves was, hoping to calm him down further.

“I-I didn't want to keep you from sleep… you always looked exhausted…” Lathe whimpered as she kissed his length, his words quiet. “I-I’m trying to learn how to- o- oh…” Lathe was cut off again as his prostate was firmly brushed, the pleasure causing his hips to buck up a bit. “A-A-Ask….. o-oh God, Ieva…” He moaned loudly as Ieva brushed the nerves again. “I-I'm not good at.. a-asking… a-and I just…” He whimpered, a note of pain in it. “I didn't know at all what pleasure was until we had our first night together… I'm not used to it at all… it feels like… like something to be ashamed of… I always feel so ashamed every time.. b-but…” But I crave love and I haven't been getting it…
Ieva shook her head, leaning up as she slipped her fingers from his entrance. She moved up to kiss at his neck. “Never be ashamed, I’m okay with you masturbating… Who knows… Maybe I’d like to watch you some time…” She leaned back up with the corner of her lip under her teeth. I hope I can love you more… Our relationship needs some work…

Lathe flushed even darker, slowly relaxing as Ieva kissed his neck and spoke. “I'm sorry… maybe I'll let you watch sometime…” Lathe sighed deeply as Ieva stretched him. “I missed you so much…” Lathe reached for her, clinging to her. “I missed you… I missed being able to do more than just spoon you or kiss you goodbye or hello… I… I needed you…” Lathe hurt to say it. “I need you… I need this really badly…” Please… “Ieva… I love you so much… …please love me…” Please make love to me until I can't remember ever hurting…

Ieva nodded, wincing as she heard him whine as she moved away from him. She stripped herself of her panties before pulling on the strap on and getting it all set against her hips. Ieva crawled back up onto the bed between Lathe’s legs, lubing up the vibrator before she slowly let the tip enter him, bending over him. Her hands came to cup his cheeks as she leaned down to kiss him deeply as she slowly rolled her hips to insert inch by inch. I want you to feel okay with this….

Lathe’s cheeks were painted red as Ieva settled in between his legs, a look of hunger in his eyes. It's so big… He clung to Ieva as she leaned onto him, his breath coming in deep pants as she sunk the toy into him. He shuddered as he finally felt her hips grind against his as they became flush, a needy moan leaving his lips, trying to keep his hips from pushing back against hers. I feel so full…

Ieva was busy grinding down into him, making sure that he was comfortable with the larger strap on. She was kissing up and down his neck, licking his earlobe every so often, a soft chuckle leaving her lips. “Hmm…. Should I turn it on?” She asked with a giggle. She let her hips pull back and slowly thrust into him again. I wonder if you knew why it was bigger or not…

Lathe’s brow furrowed the smallest bit in confusion, the expression muted as his jaw fell slack as she rolled her hips. “Wh-what do you… haah… m-mean, turn it… o-on… oh…” Lathe could barely speak as she ground into him, completely spread open for her. You can have me… as much as you want...

Ieva smiled and she moved her hand to part of the strap on, pressing something and feeling it begin to vibrate against herself and knowing that Lathe would be able to feel it. How does it feel? It’s on a low setting right now…. She kissed at his neck still, making sure she ground her hips further into him. I hope you'll like it…

Lathe’s mouth fell open as he felt the toy begin vibrating inside of him, letting out a loud gasp as Ieva ground deeper into him, clinging to her and keeping her in place as it vibrated dangerously close to that coveted bundle of nerves. “O-Oh God Ieva, right there, feels so good… m-more…”

It's so close…. If it was shifted just the tiniest bit… and if maybe it could go stronger… fuck, can it…? Lathe was nearly drooling at the idea, effectively turning into a pliable puddle in Ieva’s arms. More… god, please, more...

Ieva smirked, kissing and licking at his collarbones as she held onto his hips, using them as leverage. I like this... You’re certainly enjoying it. She listened to the music of his moans float around the wide room, a happy smile on her face as she continued to thrust into him. I wonder if he’d ask for me to turn it up… It can… I think a lot more too...

Lathe was a moaning mess as she thrusted into him, feeling the buzz of the toy inside of him and all around his prostate. More….? “I-Ieva? C-Can it… can it go higher than th-this?” Please turn it up if you can… His answer was a sudden increase with Ieva grinding into him, making him cry out with bliss. “So good….”

Ieva soon had her mouth latched onto his collar, sucking soft marks onto him, knowing that he’d probably want to go topless if they went swimming, so she kept the hickeys to a minimum. She let her hips pull out again and then thrust into Lathe’s prostate, grinding down into it. I love this… I love this so much…. He’s enjoying himself with me…. But……………. No, I can’t think of it like that… That’d be too selfish of me, I’ll let him enjoy himself...

Lathe cried out as she held her hips and ground into his prostate, latching onto her tightly as pleasure washed over him. “Oh god, Ieva, please, just stay here, please …. So good…” His expression melted to one of helpless pleasure as she turned it up even more, feeling warmth running through him. “O-Oh god, Ieva… fuck, I wanna cum like this… it's so good…” He gasped as it turned up even more, holding her to his chest tightly, his thighs shaking. “O-Oh god… oh ….” It feels too good...

Ieva waited patiently, grinding her hips down further into him. He enjoys it, I should be happy for him…. But…. No, don’t think like that, you still love him, that hasn’t changed. Her kisses trailed down to his perked nipple, grabbing it and sucking on it. “Y-You feeling good?” She struggled to speak over his moans, grinding into him further, the toy finally turned up to the highest setting.

“F-Feels so good… oh …” Lathe shuddered as he felt his orgasm creeping up on him quickly, unable to help himself and reaching one hand to his length, clamping around his base. “Too good…. n-not yet…..” He tried to keep himself from cumming, the resistance futile. He bought himself a few more seconds of bliss before he felt Ieva’s hand shoo his away and hold him firmly, his thighs trembling as he teetered on the edge. “O-Oh… I… Ieva…” He cried out loudly, feeling Ieva stroke him firm and quick as he came, covering their chests with white as he rode out his release. He whimpered as she milked him, clinging to her, feeling boneless. “I love you so fucking much…. ” He sounded ready to cry as he spoke, slowly rocking them. I love you....

Lathe enjoyed the full sensation for a long moment, a lazy smile on his face. His expression faltered a bit as Ieva apologized, sighing deeply as she drew out of him. “Why be sorry…. It's okay….” Lathe’s voice was quiet, running his hands all over her back. Mine...

Ieva shook her head and nuzzled into his neck to hide her face as she felt shame wash over her. I can’t tell him… Because then he'll feel like shit too… “N-No…. It’s nothing…..” She sniffled as she clung to him, her fingers running through his hair, trying to calm herself down.

Lathe gently rubbed her back, his voice quiet and warm. “It's okay babe… you can tell me what's the matter… you don't have to cry…” You sound ready to cry… He tangled their limbs, quiet. Talk to me, love.

Ieva shook her head against his neck, struggling not to let the tears fall, but ultimately failing as she let the hot tears run down her face and onto Lathe’s neck. I… I can’t tell you…. “I-I’m sorry…..” She whispered, a soft sob escaping her as she clung to him, though one of her hands ventured down herself and moved to unclick the toy, shimmying it down her legs and putting it aside before really curling up to him now that the toy wasn’t between them. I'm sorry that I'm not enough… That I can't pleasure you enough… That I can't give you any satisfaction… I’m so sorry….

Lathe was worried as she started crying, coping to her and helping her shift to take off the toy. He held her close, turning his head to place soft pecks all over her cheeks, brushing the tears away. “Ieva, Honey, it's okay, you don't have to cry… please, tell me what's wrong. I won't be upset, I won't be mad… tell me… it hurts to see you cry…” I hate seeing you cry...

Ieva shook her head as she held onto him, burying her face into his neck again, struggling to calm herself down. No…. Cause you'll feel horrible if I say anything. “I’m sorry….” She whispered quietly as she clung to him, loving that he was still holding onto her even when she wouldn’t tell him. I love that you'll still hold me like this…. Even when I'm a mess….

Lathe held her close, slowly moving until she was under him, dipping his head and softly kissing her neck. “...you know that whatever you say… that I’ll still love you as much as I always have.” His hands slowly ran up and down her sides, admiring her figure. You're always going to be my wonderful, beloved wife… and I won't let whatever you can't say change that.
Ieva turned her eyes, a sensation of guilt overtaking her stomach as he touched her. “I-I’m sorry…. T-That…. I’m n-not e-enough…” Fuck… I said it... He’s probably gonna feel guilty as all hell now too…. Dammit! I didn’t want to ruin this vacation! Ieva turned her head to the side, guilt running through her, making her feel anxious and worried.

Lathe looked up to her, worried, his voice gentle. “What? Ieva, you're wonderful… you're more than I could have ever hoped for. You've always been so much more than enough in everything. What on earth makes you say that?” I don't understand...

Ieva sniffled raising her hand to rub at her face, not caring that the small amount of makeup she had put on smeared. “Because… You always wanna feel loved… But I keep trying… With just myself and it’s not enough unless I throw a toy in there… I’m trying Lathe…. I-I’m sorry I’m not enough for you…” I wish I could be…. I wish I could please you all the time, but I can’t…. And it hurts...

Lathe looked stunned, wrapping his arms securely around her, holding her flush to his body. “Ieva, I'm so sorry I made you feel that way… when you got that toy for me for Christmas and wanted to try it, I just… it feels amazing and different… and me wanting to do it more doesn't mean that I think you can't please me with just yourself… but it's a different way that you make me feel really good… and I'm sorry you think I want it more than you… and that I can't pleasure you while you’re taking care of me… I just… sometimes I just really want it… and it's not me thinking that I need real pleasure… it's me missing that feeling of being full… but it's all you…” Lathe softly kissed at her neck. “...would you let me show you how much?” I don't want you to ever think you're not enough… because you're always too good for me…

Ieva was quiet as she let Lathe’s words register in her mind as he spoke. But you always look like you're on cloud nine when I use a toy.......... I haven’t seen you like that any of the times it was just me and you.... She sniffled, rubbing at her face, not caring that her makeup was everywhere. “....O-Okay….” Her words were weak as her arms wrapped around his shoulders.

Lathe kept her wrapped up in his arms, slowly kissing at her neck. His hands ran all over her sides as he slowly made his way south, his lips latching onto one of her nipples, sucking gently. I want you to feel really good… because with the way you make me feel… you deserve it so many times over… One hand teased the other bud, the other going to her nether, starting to rub slow circles around her clit. “You're soaked….” He could feel the slickness against his thumb, his other hand moving down as well to gently pull her folds back, exposing the rosy skin and the tiny nub that made her shudder.
Ieva gasped as Lathe’s lips latched over her nipple, enjoying the feeling of being sucked on. She whimpered when his mouth left her skin for a moment before gasping in pleasure as his fingers found her wet entrance. “L-Lathe…..” Shit…. His hands are like magic … But he’s doing it for me…. He won’t do it for himself….

Lathe hummed onto her other bud, lapping at the soft skin. “You're so wet… just for me…” Lathe looked up to her as he dragged his tongue between her mounds. “You’re so beautiful… I want you to remember that I’ll always want you…” He pressed a kiss over her heart. “You’re always perfect for me…” I love you… His thumb darted back and forth, rubbing her clit with vigor as she shuddered. “You make such beautiful sounds…”

Ieva felt her body tense as Lathe’s thumb rubbed vigorously over her clit. She whimpered with need as she spread her legs and felt her toes curl as she got more comfortable with Lathe working her open. *Fuck…. If you’ll always want me why don’t you just take me then?* Ieva’s eyes widened when Lathe stopped, knowing instantly that she’d said that out loud… Fuck I screwed up… Shit shit shit shit….

Lathe stopped, though his thumb resumed its slow circles as he leaned up, murmuring in her ear. “Because you deserve to feel as wonderful as you make me feel…” His hands left her, his tip brushing her folds, and his hands going back to her hips. “You deserve the best kind of love that I can give you… you deserve to have it for hours… but you deserve what you want too…” He kissed her neck. “So tell me what you want.” Let me know how to make you feel good.

Ieva was quiet, wiggling her hips to try and get him to understand her want. “I-I…. I don’t want you to think a-about me…. T-Think about yourself…. P-Please… J-Just once…. I… want y-you to enjoy yourself… I want your everything…”

Lathe’s eyes flickered with confusion for a moment before he understood, giving her neck a rough suck before slipping into her heat, shivering at the sensation. “Y-You're so warm… so wet…” He drew out of her before sinking back in, hearing a shaky moan in his ear. “You're so…” His hands ran all over her, feeling every curve against his body. “…so gorgeous…” He was soon enough pounding into her, his face buried in her neck. So perfect…

Ieva’s cries got louder and louder, her legs curling around his hips, driving him in further. Oh my god… So good… She could feel the heat pooling in her abdomen already, even with Lathe having just started. Fuck…. “L-Lathe… Don’t s-stop…. Please… Ah!… Ngh, d-d-don’t…” She cried as her body tensed again. It feels so good…. I wanna cum….

Lathe smirked, nipping roughly at her neck. His hands cupped her ass, massaging the globes as he pounded her, tilting her so their hips went flush with every thrust. “You feel so good, love… I love all the moans you make… I won’t stop until you tell me to… even if that means I pound you all night…” Lathe sounded like it was a promise, his voice deep. I want you to feel better than anything...

“F-Fuck… Lathe… I’m gonna cum….” She whined as her arms wrapped around his shoulders again, holding him down as her nails dug into his shoulders. A loud cry erupted from her throat as she felt the wave of pleasure wash over her, juices leaving her in an even faster pace. Fuck… It feels so good… She continued to moan wildly and unabashed as Lathe continued to pound into her. This is what I want… You to be rough with me… Please ...

The night dragged on, their room filled with their moans and cries of pleasure. Lathe woke up in the afternoon the next day, Ieva resting on his chest, both of them still nude. He smiled when he saw her peaceful face, brushing her hair from her face with one hand. So beautiful… He cupped her jaw, the brushing of his thumb on her cheek enough to make her eyelids flutter. “Good morning, beautiful.” Lathe smiled to her warmly. You’re wonderful...

Ieva smiled softly, shifting to peck at his neck, humming in content. “What time is it?” I’m starving… We fucked right through dinner…. And I assume slept through breakfast… “I’m hungry….” She whined like a child, curling up to his warm chest. But I don’t wanna get up...

Lathe chuckled, shifting to sit up with her still in his lap. “Let’s get dressed and go hunt down lunch, okay? It's almost noon.” Food sounds good… Lathe kissed her sweetly, helping her to her feet. He glanced over to their bags, studying them. I have good clothes in there… but do I wanna bother going through them? Lathe chuckled as Ieva dragged him over, helping her open them. Apparently so. His eyebrows shot up when she simply pulled out her swimsuit, tilting his head in confusion. Why…? ........oh. “By the pool?” He smiled as she nodded, kissing her cheek. “Sounds great.” It does...

Ieva smirked, pulling out two bikinis. “The navy blue one…. Or the Royal blue one?” She asked holding the two colors up to her breasts, hiding her nudity for a moment. You pick… Which will make everyone else jealous of you?

“Hmm…” This is a hard question… “I wanna say Royal Blue…” Lathe moved to kiss the corner of her lips, smirking as his hand swept over her side. “It makes you look even hotter…” You’re too gorgeous...

Ieva smirked, pulling his head down to kiss him. I love this…. I’m so happy we get to be here together…. And understand each other….
Lathe melted into the kiss, holding her close. I love this… we can learn to better understand what we want… “Hm… so what swimsuit are you gonna make me wear?” He chuckled as she rifled in his suitcase, shoving a pair of dark red trunks at him. Of course. “Red, hm? You certainly seem to love the color….” He smirked. You always seem to be all over me whenever I wear anything red.

“I do… And that's why you're gonna wear it!” She giggled, slipping into her bikini and grabbing a coverup to slip on.

Lathe grinned, stepping into the trunks and grabbing a black tank top to keep on until they reached the pool. He was happy as Ieva seemed to immediately latch onto his arm, walking with her from the room. This is going to be wonderful…

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

We’ve been here for a week now…. I think, I’m honestly not sure at all… I don’t really check the calendar much. I’ve gotten much tanner, to a point where I was almost mistaken as a local… And Lathe’s even getting tan from all the sun we’ve been getting. We also got a list of everything that Eren bought for us, and so far we’ve gone biking around the island, and we’ve gone scuba diving! It was really cool to see all the colorful fish swim around us, and we even got to see a sea turtle and swim with it. We went to the spa a few times and got full body massages, it was so nice and relaxing… I swear I feel more energetic than I have in years. We’ve gone at it like rabbits too, getting better with reading each other and making sure we have enough time for cuddles. She shifted in the lounge seat as she looked over the waves softly crashing down into the shallows. I’m debating…. Do I wanna go swimming in the ocean again? Pretty sure the last time I went in with Lathe we almost did it in the water…. She glanced over to where Lathe was relaxing and holding a bottle of water. This cabana is really nice too. It gives us shade and privacy, but we can still have the sand under our feet. People have also come around and complimented me on how pretty I am, and how much I’m ‘glowing’ apparently…. I wonder if Lathe’s noticed anything…

Lathe was content to listen to the waves, comfortable in his lounge chair, on the edge of drifting to sleep. He opened one eye when he heard Ieva shift, blushing as he saw the look she was giving him. You look so happy… He reached a hand out to her, smiling as she laced her fingers with his. “You look so happy…” Lathe looked over her, noting another look in her eyes. “...I could just stare at you forever… you're so pretty…” You've just... you've been practically glowing all week... and it makes me so happy to see how happy you are.

Ieva smiled broadly, her thumb running over Lathe’s knuckles as far as she could reach. “How long have we been here?” She asked softly as she shifted to sit on the edge of his lounge chair, looking down on him with happiness following all the way up to her eyes. How long has it been? We’ve done everything at least once, and we get to do it all again! “Can we go snorkeling tomorrow?”
“It's been seven days… today’s the eighth… and of course we can.” Lathe smiled, making room for her, smiling as she curled up next to him. He pulled her close, settling the water on the ground. We still have so much time left...

Ieva smirked, resting her head on his bare chest. “Eren was right, we definitely needed this…” He’s been doing good with all the kids... “We should do something for him after this… Now that he knows what it means to be a Father…” She pecked his skin gently, her eyes looking into Lathe’s as she pondered what they could possibly do.

Lathe hummed in agreement, thinking as Ieva cuddled into his chest. “Hmm…..” What would Eren love the most...? “........do you think that Levi would be allowed to come home again?” Maybe…?

Ieva shrugged. “I’m not quite sure how his commander would handle something like that for him or his squad… We should skype him and ask…. Make sure that he keeps it a secret from Eren if he can…” A surprise is always the best type of reunion...

Lathe nodded, thinking. “We do need to check, there's quite a chance he won't be able to. But if he does get to come home… he'll be able to see Mila… and he and Eren can be as intimate as they want...” Eren would be so happy if he woke up one day and Levi was on top of him... and it wasn't any kind of dream.

“Hmmm…. The last time they would’ve been intimate would be Christmas last year.” That could be a gift for him.... “Oh... Did he wanna go touring?” I know he’s been working on some songs with you.... But I’m not completely sure... She stayed curled up to his chest, taking in the scent of the seawater that lingered on him. I could get used to this...

Lathe nodded, thinking. “We were thinking about putting him on tour again… I’d done a lot of writing while he wasn't singing, and I’d put together quite a few songs to do… we rewrote a lot of them because he liked melodies with different lyrics or he wanted to slow them down or speed them up… but he has enough to publish two new albums at the moment… but he said I should pick a few of them for the project first before he went through them and picked some.” There are quite a few long cutscenes that need to be blocked still, and there's plenty of ambient music to write and orchestrate... “...but Levi should come home for Christmas again if he can...” He should be with his new family for Mila’s first Christmas... she needs to meet her Daddy...

Ieva nodded, moving to stretch against Lathe before curling up to him again. “They had his song on the radio the other day.... The one he put up on YouTube.... He must’ve put it up on iTunes or something.... The Despacito cover...” She smiled remembering how he’d asked her to help him with the pronunciations. He did a really good job of it.
Lathe nodded, smiling as she stretched like a cat on top of him. “Yeah, he did a really good cover of it… so he's definitely still on the radar… he should get a few more songs out and see that people are aware of him again and then go on tour… make sure his name is still floating around first.” I think he'd still have shit tons of people coming out to see him either way, though. “But I'll get on him about scheduling stuff. He'll probably want to take it to Germany as well.” I know he would.

Ieva smiled and nuzzled her head into his chest. “Hmm, our boy’s growing up right under our noses.” She smiled, her hand coming to trace senseless patterns into his tanned skin. “You’ve certainly gotten tan…” I like this… It makes you look thinner too… Not that I’d be complaining about your size. “Are we having dinner at the Chef’s Plate? Or are we having dinner on the beach?” She asked lazily, enjoying the body contact.

Lathe smiled, holding her close. “I like the tan… It's better than looking like a pale ghost… and that's a good question…” Lathe ran his hand over her back, playing with the bikini string for a moment. “Would you rather have me in my trunks and tank, or in a red dress shirt?” Your pick...

Ieva groaned. “Is both an option?” She asked as she shifted to straddle him leaning down to make out with him, enjoying the peace and quiet they had in a secluded cabana on the beach. It's so quiet… Hmm, I wonder if he’d do it here with me… And then after dinner?

Lathe smirked, melting as she kissed him. “Hm… that can be arranged…” He let his hands wander her sides as they kissed, shifting to kiss her neck. He tugged at the string of her bikini top, the fabric falling as he flipped them over, kissing down her chest, glad for the privacy of the cabana. It's so nice that we have this vacation together… we both needed it...

Ieva left out soft sounds, glad that were relatively far away from anyone and the sound of the waves would overpower any curious ears. “Fuck…. Lathe…. Hmm…. I want you to really suck me… Please… We can go slow tonight…” She murmured quietly as she spread her legs, her bikini bottoms drenched in her slick. I want it bad… I want it real bad...

Lathe chuckled quietly, kissing down lower as he untied her bikini bottoms. He slipped them off, his hands holding her hips as he kissed to her nether, his tongue slowly dragging up her folds as he gazed up at her. I haven't done this in a while.. every other time so far you've just been desperate for me to pound you.. not this time...

Ieva’s eyes widened as she gasped and moaned, wiggling in his arms. “L-Lathe… Shit…” She whined as his tongue stopped for only a moment, sighing as she felt the wet muscle trail up her folds. It feels really good… Mhmm…. His tongue feels really good…
Lathe smirked, his eyes shaded. “Hm… you refuse to let me do this all week…” He lapped at the rosy skin, hearing her moan. “…when it feels this good…?” He didn't need to hear an answer; he was happy enough to hear the sounds coming from her throat without Ieva’s permission. You sound amazing...

“L-Lathe… Oh fuck…” Her hands made their way down to her chest, squeezing her nipples and teasing them harshly. Oh my god ... It feels like I’m in heaven... Ieva let her legs widen a bit to give him better access, her heels coming up to wrap around his back. Fuck...

Lathe looked up as she teased herself, his hands sliding up her stomach to her chest, slowing her down and teasing them himself, rolling the buds in his fingers. “Don’t worry, love…” He sucked at her clit. “We have all afternoon, and I wanna slowly coax an orgasm out of you for once…” I wanna be gentle... Lathe’s mind flitted around as he lapped at her folds, thinking as he drew out their foreplay. She always loves this so much, with it just being me.... I wonder if she’d be okay with.... but she might not want to get any involved... but... I think she’d love it.... hm....

Ieva was a wanton mess as Lathe’s lips and fingers teased her. “F-Fuck… Lathe… Baby....” She felt her toes curl up a bit as Lathe’s teeth grazed her clit by accident. Her head threw itself back from the jolt of pleasure. Oh my god... I love this so much... But I don’t wanna be teased.... She felt the heat slowly starting to creep into her abdomen. I’m so sensitive ... I’ll be cumming quicker than he can think about it...

Lathe teased her clit with his tongue before latching on again, sucking roughly. I know how much you loved sucking on it hard... He looked up as she trembled, his hands rubbing all over her. “Feeling good, babe?” You certainly look like it... He continued as she simply let out a strangled moan, hearing her cry out his name and feeling her shake in his hands, feeling her juices run over his chin. ...she's already cumming? Lathe pulled back and rubbed her with vigor as she came, prolonging the bliss as she writhed under him. He kissed her stomach as she melted into a glowing puddle, lapping up her juices before kissing back up her chest. “...sensitive... hm?” Lathe smirked as she flushed, kissing the underside of her jaw. “It’s okay, love...” There’s plenty of time to do this more...

Ieva groaned as she came down from her high of bliss. Fuck.... “Hmm.... That felt really good...” She purred as he kissed her and his hands went down to her sides. Is he gonna continue? I really want him... All of him... She squirmed her hips, trying to get him to at least understand she wanted him badly. Take those trunks off... I want you...

He smirked as she still wiggles her hips while staring up at him, his thumb brushing over the lip caught in her teeth. “Hmm... more?” He watched her nod, slipping his trunks off, revealing his nether. “More sounds wonderful...” He slid his hands up and down her sides, helping her relax and come down from her high, easing her legs back open. He nipped at her neck as he sunk into her heat, both of them groaning at the sensation. So warm... so slick...

Ieva let out a loud moan as she felt Lathe sink into her. “Fuck… Lathe…” She felt her insides quiver as he plunged into her heat. She wiggled her hips, grinding down on him and smirking as she got him to moan loudly. Oh fuck yes… Moan for me… Her hands came up to his shoulders, her nails clawing at his back, leaving small marks where there was skin and not a tank top. Fuck you’re so hot….

Lathe whimpered as she ground her hips onto his, wincing as he felt her nails dig into his shoulders. “C-Careful, babe…” He leaned down to kiss her, slowing their pace. It's okay… Lathe drew near completely out of her, plunging back into her heat and starting a steady pace, grinding deeply into her, whimpering as he did so. So perfect...

Ieva whimpered as well, a soft groan leaving her as she tilted her head to the side to breathe. Fuck... So hot.... It's warm too... She let her nails ease up on his skin as she closed her eyes and let her lips fall open in soft cries of bliss. “Oh my god… Lathe… T-there…” It had not taken long for Lathe to find her overly sensitive area, a soft whimper leaving her throat once again without her consent.

Lathe steadily thrust onto that one spot that was driving Ieva insane, nipping at her neck roughly. “You sound so beautiful, babe… please, let me hear you…” Don't try to hold them back… His hands played with her nipples, grinding into her. I love this....

Ieva let out a sinful whine as she clung to Lathe above her. Her whole body shook as she felt him thrust into her coveted area. “L-Lathe….” She moaned out his name, feeling the warm surround her and her coil starting to tighten. Fuck... I’m gonna cum again...

Lathe felt her start to tighten around him, warmth pooling in him as well. “I-Ieva… oh god, baby…” Lathe started to pound into her, feeling hot. “Oh god… I'm gonna cum....” I wanna cum so badly… He whimpered, his hands speeding up their teasing until he was as rough as she had been. So good...

Ieva nodded, her hands coming to tangle in his hair. “Cum inside… please... ” She begged to him as she was pounded into him.

Lathe shuddered as she spoke, bringing one of her legs up over his shoulder, pounding into her heat. “Oh… oh Ieva…” He shuddered, still pounding her as he came, crying out in bliss. So fucking good… I love this...
Ieva let out a loud cry as she let the sensations overtake her being. “LATHE!” She screamed out his name in bliss as she clung to him. Oh my god…. That was amazing… She could feel him inside, warmth spilling between the two of them, unable to hold it all inside, letting her head fall back in bliss, trying to catch her breath.

Lathe cradled her close, cleaning them with his tongue before curling up around her protectively, a towel over them to keep them warm. Mine…

The next few days passed peacefully, the both of them spending much of their time entwined. Lathe was warm when he woke up with only a few days left on their trip, curled in the blanket. Warm… He reached for his other, his eyes cracking open as he was met with a warm spot and not a wife. Huh? He picked his head up as he heard something, his gut sinking as he heard retching in the bathroom. She's sick…? Lathe got out of bed, looking to the clock. *Four AM…. *Lathe remembered something, thinking as he moved to the bathroom. …*this happened after we were married… but, she's not… .....is she? We've been going at it like rabbits… “Ieva? Are you okay?” He knocked on the doorframe, his voice one of worry.

Ieva shook her head, prompting another spew of vomit to erupt from her. Fuck… I can't stop… “N-No…. I don’t think it was what I ate… I had it before….?” Ieva froze, looking towards where she kept boxes of feminine products, the gears starting to turn in her head. Wait… “What day is it?” Oh my god… Did I miss my period? Have we been here that long already?

“I think it's around the eighteenth… we have three days left here…” Lathe thought, looking to where she looked, then looking back to her. “...do you think…?” ............are you really …?

Ieva was quiet for a moment. “I missed my period…. For a week without even realizing it… I think I might be…” Her face lit up at the realization, though it was quickly taken away by another bout of nausea causing her to hurl once more. Oh my god! I'm pregnant!

Lathe’s face lit up, grinning and nearly bouncing on his toes with happiness. You're… you're pregnant … He winced as she vomited again, kneeling next to her and rubbing her back. He handed her a cup of water as she went for a few minutes without vomiting to wash out her mouth. ...oh my god… He let one hand move from her side, brushing over her stomach soothingly. ....you have a new tiny life inside of you now…. oh my god…

Ieva couldn’t help but smile as Lathe moved to her side. “You’ll have to deal with me being pregnant all the time again… Sore feet, sore back…. sore everything…” She murmured to him and kissed his cheek, setting her hand on top of his, enjoying the presence of the hand on her stomach. I can’t believe it! This vacation… We must’ve done it here… because we didn’t have sex much before we came here… “Eren’s vacation…. We’ll have to take this more often if we want more kids… definitely did the trick.” She chuckled, a happy smile on her face.

Lathe smiled, nuzzling into her neck. “Hm, certainly worked… good food, a big bed, you, and nothing but time… I could get used to it…” Lathe chuckled, his free hand holding her close. “And I'm sure plenty of time in the hot tub and plenty of back rubs will do the trick… as long as you stop resisting every time I try to help you with something…” His fingers splayed over her stomach. I wanna keep this one… I want a tiny human of our own to fuss over….

Ieva smiled and nodded, feeling safe in his hold. “Thank you… for this… for everything… I know you’ll be a great father.” She leaned in to kiss his lips chastely, not wanting him to taste the bitter aftertaste of her bile. “I can’t wait to tell Eren he’s finally gonna be an older brother… and that Mila’s gonna have an aunt or an uncle aside from Tucker and Jake… and James at this point.” She smiled and kissed his chin leaning her head against his chest, content.

Lathe smiled, cradling her close. “They're going to have a big family that loves them… and I'm gonna be the best Dad that I can be.” ..........is your work gonna stay the same now? I know you’re not as active as you used to be… you probably are. I just... I don't want the baby hurt... “You're gonna be a wonderful Mom...” I'm sure of it.

Chapter 94: Side Story 9: Lathe and Ieva (Vacation of Dreams)

Chapter Summary

So... um... I made a goof... this was supposed to be around the middle of the last chapter... but it's before the whole pregnancy thing just so you all know!

Lathe stepped from their rental car, the bag hanging on his arm inconspicuous. Hopefully she’ll be okay with all of this... I think she won't kill me two seconds in, at least... Lathe was careful to stow the bag out of sight when he got back to their room, getting changed when he looked to the clock. We agreed to go to the restaurant for dinner... Lathe finished dressed in a nice green shirt and dark slacks, going to check on Ieva at the bathroom mirror. He couldn't help but feel nervous when he saw her, knowing all too well the plans he had for them later that night. It's gonna go horribly... but she might like it... but what if she doesn't?

Ieva raised an eyebrow as she was putting on her make up in the mirror. “What are you so jittery about?” I don’t get it? We’re just going out for dinner.... What gives?

Lathe straightened up, trying to give her an easy smile. “Sorry- it's nothing, babe.” Quick- change the subject. He looked her over, smirking as he saw her choice of dress- a long midnight blue gown. His arms wrapped around her middle, careful not to jostle her as she put on her makeup, his hand running up and down her side. “Ieva, you look gorgeous …” You always are... but hot damn...

Ieva smirked, looking over her shoulder as she started to put everything away. “Hmm, as opposed to any other night?” Is that how you see it? She chuckled as he grew flustered, smirking, standing in her tippy toes to kiss his lips. God, I could watch him all day...

He gaped, not knowing how to respond, grateful that she was joking and relaxing as she kissed him. He sucked on her bottom lips for a moment before kissing her jaw, one arm still around her middle. “You ready, Hon?”

Ieva nodded, holding onto his shirt as he kissed across her jaw. “Y-Yeah.” She gasped out, her entire face flushed. Yeah... I’m ready to go down to eat...

Lathe grinned, going down to the restaurant with her, so happy to have her hanging on his arm. She's so wonderful... Dinner was peaceful, both of them blushing darkly every time they glanced up to the other. Lathe had a hand around her waist as they made their way back to their room a while later, immediately turning to her when the door was shut, gently pressing her to it. “Ieva, there's something I need to ask you… I wanna make sure you're okay with this.” He paused for a moment, gently cupping her jaw, tilting it up to look at him. His eyes grew dark, his voice soft and low. “…Will you be my slave for tonight?” I wanna do so many things to you… only if you'll let me.

Ieva was quiet for a moment in pure shock. He wants me…. To be a slave for him? Of course.... She nodded as she bit her lip, looking down submissively. “M-Master… Can I take my dress off… Please?” Her voice quiet and submissive as she kept her head down.

Lathe smirked, softly brushing his lips to her cheek. You can do this. “You may…” He caught her chin before she could move, his voice gentle in her ear. “In case you need me to stop anything, the word is Vase.” He kissed her ear before he let her go, moving to acquire the bag from the nightstand and setting it on the table. He drew three things from it- a small candle, a lighter, and a riding crop, setting the last item aside for a moment. He lit the candle, leaving it on the table and taking the crop with him as he sat on the edge of the bed. He looked up to Ieva, seeing her standing by the door in just her bra and panties, her dress pooled around her feet. She's so beautiful… “Come here, slave.” He nearly winced, the word feeling wrong on his lips. You can do this. ...I'll get used to it... He held a hand out for her as she walked over, pulling her close to straddle his lap, his one hand running over her back, the other still holding the crop. “My little slave.... I hope you remember how to please your Master…” His voice was syrupy, a dark little smile on his lips. “All you have to do is exactly what I say, and I allow you to drown in pleasure... but, if you don't… the consequences may be... harsh...” He dragged the leather end of the crop over the back of a thigh, making her shiver. "Unless, of course, you want me to… or we can skip to the fun part..." I wanna know what you pick...

Ieva bit her lip, her eyes absolutely feral. “I’ve been a bad girl, Master…. You should punish me first…” Her voice was teasing and innocent as she leaned back a bit further to give him a better view of her body.

Lathe looked over her, feeling a glare settle on his face, finding the right character. “Hm, such a little vixen...” Lathe shooed her off of him, moving and tugging her to the bed by herself. “Kneel on the bed, legs apart, head on the sheets… I need to make sure my slave doesn't even think about stepping a toe out of line…” ...this is gonna be fun.

Ieva immediately took the command in stride, clambering on the bed. She spread her knees apart, bending down and placing her head on the sheets. I wonder what he’s gonna do… I wonder if he’s really gonna be a master...
Lathe paced behind her as she got in position, eyeing her legs with distaste for a moment. He tapped her thigh sharply with the crop, his tone firm. “Further apart.” He looked satisfied when she obeyed immediately, studying her form. ...I like this. The leather of the crop slid over her ass, his tone questioning. “Are you going to obey me, slave?”

Ieva gasped as he tapped her with the crop, enjoying the small sting it left her with. She spread her legs further for him, watching him eye her like a piece of meat. Oh... Yes, I like that look... She nodded hurriedly at his question. “Yes, Master...” I can play innocent for right now...

He gave her a ass a sharp tap, just enough to sting, hearing her gasp at it. “Oh please, it can't hurt that much.” Another sharp tap, and she was silent except for a tiny whimper. “Much better.” He ran the crop down one thigh teasingly, watching her tense. “Are you going to do what I say without questioning me?”

Ieva’s body tensed as she grabbed onto the sheets underneath her. He doesn’t want me to do much more than whimper.... Hmm.... “Yes, Master...” Her voice was small with her head smashed into the bed sheets. I can do that. She shuddered as she felt the now warm leather glide over her skin, as if looking for the perfect place to strike.

Lathe looked her over, the crop snapping on the inside of her thigh, close to her hips. It ran over the area, inspecting. “Will you only cum when I tell you to?”

Ieva was quiet for a moment, shivering from the anticipation of the crop. “M-Master.... What if I’m too sensitive?” What if I can’t hold it... I could barely hold back at all while you were doing anything to me on the beach the other day... Her eyes looked worriedly back at Lathe. I don’t know if I’ll be able to hold out...

Lathe snapped her other thigh near her hips, thinking. “...let me put it this way... if you're about to cum, and you tell me, I'll stop only until I can build you back up again... but if you don't...” He snapped her halfway down one thigh. “The punishment might not be too nice.... But don't worry... I'll take my time coaxing your release out of you... understand that, slave?”

Ieva’s eyes widened as he spoke. “Y-Yes, Master...” She murmured quietly as her whole body shuddered from the anticipation. Oh my god.... What’s he going to do to me?

Lathe smirked, snapping the crop to her other thigh. “Very good. And every time you moan, and when I let you cum, won't you be calling for me ?”
“Of course, Master….” Ieva could feel her heart beating over a mile a minute, racing as Lathe took over. He’s actually being dominant… Oh I am going to enjoy this…

Lathe snapped against the back of one thigh, looking her over as she nearly trembled. “And you understand that if you step out of line, I won’t be so gentle… and if you seriously disobey me… I may not have much mercy… you understand, slave?”

Ieva swallowed thickly, nodding for only a moment before she shifted to get comfortable, her legs a bit wider than before and her ass in the air. “Yes, Master.” Her small reply came only a few seconds later. What’s he gonna do to me first?

Lathe gave her one last smack with the crop, moving over to her, his hand barely brushing over her skin as he traced up and down the inside of one thigh. “Very good.” He leaned the crop against the side of the bed, watching her. “On your back, arms out and legs apart.”

Ieva was quick to shift, rolling over and situating herself on their large bed. She laid down on her back, spreading her legs and arms out as Lathe asked. Her eyes were full of curiosity, not daring to move as she watched him. Where’s he going? What’s he getting?

Lathe slowly paced to one side of the bed, looking her over like a piece of meat. “Now, slave, I’m sure you know what this is for…” Lathe picked up the candle, looking to her for a moment. “…do you?”

Ieva looked to the candle, swallowing thickly once again before nodding. I still have my bra and panties on, and I swear to god if you ruin the nice pair with wax I will kill you in your sleep… “Yes, Master.” Her voice was devoid of emotion as she watched him with her eyes, trying to see what he’d do with the wax and where on her.

Lathe smirked, seeing that look in her eyes. “Don’t worry about your lingerie… in fact, take the top off, won’t you?” I don't wanna ruin that pair… it's my favorite.

Ieva froze for a moment, unsure if she was allowed to move to take it off. She shifted to sit up, bringing her arms to her backside, unclipping the straps behind her and shrugging it off. She laid it down beside her before returning to her laid out position. I had to move to get it off… But will he be mad?

Lathe noticed her hesitate, picking up the crop and slowly dragging it up her side. “Good… and I know I said not to move… but if I order you to do something and two orders contradict….” He brushed the side of one mound, though the leather left her without snapping at her. “The last thing I said goes. Very good.” He studied her. “Now, my little slave, I love seeing you so spread out for me… I don't want to have to tie you up… just keep your arms and legs in place….” He knelt on the bed, holding the candle. “And I'll take care of the rest, hm?”

Ieva nodded subtly before thinking that he might want her to verbally communicate her approval. “Yes, Master.” She watched him kneel, holding the candle above her. Is it going to hurt? I've never really played with wax before…

Lathe could see her uncertainty, the crop slowly running up and down the inside of her thigh, not snapping at her. “I appreciate hearing you, slave… if I ask you something, I expect to hear back from you… and if you have anything to say, address me and I’ll listen. I’m a good Master… I want to take care of my slave…” His voice was dark and too sweet, the candle hovering over her chest. A single drop of wax fell onto her mound, close to her nipple, yet not quite there. Let's see what you sound like…

Ieva let out a low gasp as Lathe let the wax drip, feeling a shudder run through her body from the few moments of warmth. It was over quickly, the wax beginning to cool and harden in a moment, which led to a sensation she’d never felt before. Damn…. Maybe I really like this… Oh geez… But what if this is a one time thing? What if he'll never do this again with me?

Lathe smirked as he watched the pleasures expression flit over her face. “You like it, hm, slave?” He waited for her response, letting wax slowly trail around her rosy nipple in a thin stream.

Ieva struggled to keep her legs apart as the sensations went right to her crotch. She could feel herself getting wetter as the wax overtook her nipple. The action elicited a loud moan from her throat, her body humming with pleasure. “Y-Yes Master…” It does feel really good…

Lathe smirked, letting the stream trail over her nipple, coating it with the hot wax. “Good…” He still let the crop run up and down her thigh, seeing them slowly shaking as she moaned. He saw one foot inch closer for a moment, very gently tapping the soft flesh, not even enough to sting. “Apart, slave.”

Ieva whimpered for only a second before she struggled to open her shaking thighs. Fuck… This is hard to do… She let out a whine when he had completely covered her nipple in wax, which made it impossible to feel the hot wax cooling on her skin. I want more.

He watched her heels dig into the sheets, staying open. “Good…” He slowly let the wax trail across her mound to her other bud, slowly surrounding it with wax. You certainly seem to love this… “Does this feel good?” He heard a breathless moan and stutters in response, chuckling quietly. “Tell me how it feels, slave.” I'll let the lack of English slide.

Ieva let out another high-pitched cry as Lathe lathered her other nipple. “I-It feels really good, M-Master.” Her body was shaking from the restraint she had on her legs. I can’t close them… I need to keep them open…

Lathe layered the bud with wax, smirking as she let out louder moans. “Gorgeous…” Lathe soon set aside the candle when they were coated to his approval, his hand going to her first bud, the wax having cooled over her chest. He lightly rubbed at it, slowly peeling the cool wax off of her. He discarded the wax onto the table, slowly massaging her bud with his fingers. “Do you want more, slave?” You certainly look like you would…

Ieva struggled to keep her body in check, her heels digging into the mattress, and thighs shaking. Oh god… If he does it again… I won’t be able to keep my legs apart… “C-Can we do something else Master?” She wanted to pull her thighs together and hide the fact that she was dripping wet with so little stimulation. My panties are soaked… I wouldn’t be surprised if the bed underneath me is soaked too…

Lathe smirked, dragging the crop over a shaking thigh, giving it another gentle tap. “You’re shaking, slave…” He watched her slowly calm as he blew out the candle and peel the wax away. She was still panting when he peeled the last of the wax away from her buds, setting the crop to lean against the bed, sweeping the wax into one hand. “Stay, slave. Don’t move an inch.” Lathe’s tone left no room for argument, going to the bathroom and discarding the wax, getting a damp washcloth. He came back, smirking as he saw her still spread open for him, going to gently clean her chest, his head dipping to suck on one cleaned bud as he took care of the other. He smirked as he heard her whimper, kissing the bud before teasing the other for a moment. He lapped at it for a moment, leaving to get rid of the washcloth. He rummaged in the bag when he came back, a few other choice things in the bag. “...you want something else, slave? You have been a very good slave for me so far… should I let you choose? Or maybe…” Lathe drew out a black silk blindfold, smiling dangerously to her. “...make it a surprise?”

Ieva’s eyes widened as she saw the blindfold. “Can…. Can it be a surprise M-Master?” Her voice was full of pleasure as she looked to the large black bag he had. Is that why he was gone so long…? She shuddered as Lathe came closer to her. He’s gonna put it on…

Lathe stalked over to the bed, one hand gently cupping her jaw, studying her face. “Sit up, won't you?” His voice was still dark as he spoke, his words deep and dangerously sweet. He smirked as she obeyed, glancing to her legs as she pulled them closer to sit, and kept them there. “Did I say you could bring your legs together, slave? Do I have to use the crop to get you to behave? Surely I don’t have to bruise that beautiful skin...” He tied the blindfold on, chuckling as she immediately spread them again for him. “Much better.”

Ieva kept her legs spread apart, mindful that she was now blindfolded and couldn’t read Lathe’s expression. Oh my god, this makes everything feel so much better. She put her arms behind her to hold herself up as she sat waiting for Lathe. I wonder what he’s gonna do?

Lathe softly nipped her neck, slipping from the bed. “Hm… I suppose you can sit like that… but if you want to lay down, you may…” Lathe went through the bag again, opening a small box and taking out a small gold colored bullet and a small tube. “…I’d recommend it.” She’ll love this… Lathe moved to the bed, settling between Ieva’s legs. He uncapped the small tube, swiping up some of the gel with his finger. One hand ran over her stomach, making his presence known as he swiped the gel over her rosy buds, already feeling the tingle on his finger, wiping the rest off on the sheets. That should feel good… His hands slipped down her thighs to bring them together, slowly dragging her soaked panties down her legs and dropping them on the floor out of the way. He spread her legs again and moved one hand to part her folds with a thumb, slowly rubbing her clit in small circles. His other hand ran over her thigh, watching her reaction.

Ieva had laid down as per Lathe’s recommendation. She shivered as Lathe spread the cool gel over both of her nipples. What the hell? When she felt the tingly sensation start to form she sucked in a ragged breath. Oh my god… it feels so good … “M-Master…” She could barely keep herself from arching her back as she felt Lathe’s thumb rub against her clit in slow circles. “Oh… Oh fuck…. Ngh…”

Lathe smirked, his eyes raking over her body. “…you like it?” He chuckled as she let out another gasping moan, picking up the small gold bullet with one hand, still running circles into her clit. “I want to hear exactly how this feels…” Lathe reached for the small remote and turned the bullet onto its lowest mode, vibrating in his hand. His hand left her clit for a moment, only to spread her folds, the bullet pressing against her clit, humming. This should get quite a reaction...

Ieva let out a loud gasp her legs closing up a bit and her back arching though she struggled to push apart her legs once again. Oh my god… If feels heavenly. She let loud moans rip from her throat, enjoying the sensations that got warmth to pool all over her. It feels so good...

Lathe reached the hand not holding the bullet to one of her thighs, his thumb rubbing over the softer flesh of the inside. “Are you keeping these legs apart for me, slave? Or do I need to tie you down….?” He trailed off, looking over her with that same calculating gaze. I'd love to see you bound underneath me...

Ieva was quiet as she thought about it, the pleasure forcing her thighs closed. “T-Tie me up...
Master, please…” She begged him as her back arched off the mattress once again. I want it…. I don’t wanna have to worry about my legs being open…

Lathe smirked, turning the bullet off, setting it out of the way. He took his sweet time going back to the bag, getting out two long ties. He soon had her ankles tied, the length going over the edge, under the bed and up again, letting him spread them as wide as he wanted. The same for her arms, which were kept perfectly outstretched. I wonder if you're normally like this…? Well, better question. Would you enjoy this becoming a part of normal sex? ...I have no idea.

Ieva gasped as Lathe tied her down to the bed, eagerly waiting for his attention to return to her. She was confused when his touch didn’t come back to her. “Master?” Where’d you go? She tugged against the rope, trying to see what room she had, quickly realizing that Lathe had tied her down tightly. Her breath hitched as the bed creaked quietly, Lathe’s weight causing it to dip. I almost feel scared… But I shouldn’t... It’ll feel good... I know it will…

Lathe knelt between her legs once more, bending down and licking a single strip up her rosy folds, tonguing her entrance, listening to her shaky moans. He came up, his hands running over her thighs. “Remember, slave, you're not allowed to cum just yet… so if you're really close, you tell me, and I'll bring you back down. Understand? I don't want to have to cover these pretty thighs in bruises…”

Ieva nodded as she gasped, trying to find the strength to use her words. “Y-Yes Master.” She groaned with pleasure as Lathe’s tongue returned to her folds, licking up and down them. Shit, I’m not gonna last very long... It feels so good... I can feel the warmth building already...

Lathe tasted her slick, kissing her rosy flesh. He reached again for the small gold bullet and the remote, holding the small toy to her slick clit and turning it on, just a bit higher than the lowest setting. I wanna see how long you last...

Ieva’s eyes widened under the blindfold, her back arching as much as it could. “O-Oh…. Oh fuck… Master …. Oh my god… It feels so good ...”

Lathe smirked, leaning down as he held the bullet, his tongue gently lapping at her folds as it still vibrated against her clit. “Do you feel good , slave?”

Ieva nodded. “Y-Yes Master… I feel really good.” Her voice was high as her body shook. It feels really good. She could feel her body warming up and the coil beginning to tighten. “M- Master …” I don’t wanna cum...
Lathe gazed up to her, quirking one eyebrow. “Are you thinking of cumming, slave?” He ran one hand over a trembling thigh. “You know you're not allowed to… should I stop?”

“Y-Yes…” She whined as she arched her back. Oh my god… It feels really good, this should be illegal with how good it feels. She whined more when he didn’t take the bullet off fast enough. “Master!” I won’t be able to hold it.

Lathe took the bullet away, nearly growling as her pants still increased in pitch. “Don't you dare, slave.” You can hold off.

Ieva let out a cry as the bullet was finally taken away, though she felt herself teetering on the sweet edge of bliss. She whined as she felt her heat start to recede a bit, pulling her away from the edge. Fuck… I wanna be able to cum… this is torturous. She let herself pant as she calmed down, her breathing slowly evening out.

Lathe let her be as she slowly came down from her high, studying one of the last two toys he had gotten. He pulled it out, waiting for her to calm down and for her breathing to steady before he spoke. “You've been such an obedient slave… you get to pick one last thing….” His voice deepened, looking over her. “…the thing that makes you cum…” He ambled over, one hand trailing over the soft flesh near her nether. “Either we can try a new toy… or I let you have my cock… your choice.” I wonder which you'll want…?

Ieva took in a deep breath, closing her eyes to think. I wonder… “Can I have both Master?” She made sure her voice was full of innocence as she spoke, her head tilted towards where she felt the bed dip with weight. I can’t tell where he is…

“Not at the same time…” He studied the rabbit vibrator in hand, looking her over as he knelt between her legs again. “But yes… but which do you want first?” Pick.

Ieva tried to squirm as she felt his weight shift to between her outstretched legs, suddenly feeling very exposed. “T-The toy master… Please…” What did you get me?

Lathe smirked, reaching for the lube and coating the toy. “As you wish, slave…. I'm sure you’ll love it…” He gently parted her folds, nudging her entrance with the tip and slowly slipping it into her heat, a small vibrator meeting her clit. “Can you guess what I got you…?” I haven't turned it on just yet…
Ieva gasped as she felt the toy fill up her needy hole. Oh my god... It’s big... What’s it going to do? “D-Did you get m-me a vibrator Master?” Her voice was weak, unsure of what to make of the sexual toy.

“Not exactly…” He smirked, flicking a switch and turning it on. He heard it begin to hum and vibrate, watching Ieva’s shocked and pleased expression.

Ieva’s body jolted, straining against the restraints. Oh my god... It’s moving … She could feel the base of the toy beginning to move inside of her and her clit was exposed to yet another vibrating piece. Oh fuck... I’m not gonna be able to last with this…

Lathe grinned as she let out a choked moan, followed by more and more gasping breaths. “…do you like it, slave? Do you want a bit more?” He turned it up a notch in intensity, watching her writhe. Gorgeous...

“Ngh…. M-Master…” She moaned out his name, her toes curling and heels digging into the mattress as far as possible. Oh my god... It feels so good...

Lathe looked over her entire being, keeping the toy in place as his hand ran over her. “Do you want to cum like this, slave? I could give you even more…” Another click, and it was one step from the highest setting. “…if you don't want it to stop… but why would you want to if you're having so much fun?” Lathe was trying to convince her, smirking. I know it must feel so much better than just me...

Ieva’s moans were loud throughout the room. “Oh my god… M-Master… Please, don’t stop…” She begged, trying to move her hips back onto the toy. It feels.... Better than it's ever felt before... Holy shit... It’s so good...

Lathe gently pushed the toy deeper, turning it up to its highest setting. “Such a good slave for Master…..” His voice was dripping with dark affection, caressing her shaking thighs. “Slave…?” He heard her moans get higher and higher, smirking, knowing she was just on the edge. “ Cum for me.”

Ieva felt herself finally being pulled over the edge, her body pulled into over drive. She felt like she was on fire as her body shook, and more juices leaked from her, to a point where the vibrator was pushed out of her folds to drop on the sheets below. Her breathing was heavy, and her intake sharp as she basked in the glow of her orgasm. ......... I have no words for how good that felt... I loved
She was panting as her body slowly came down from her high, her juices still dripping from her entrance and soaking the sheets under her. Fuck…

Lathe smirked as she cried out, moving the toy away and switching it off as she basked in her glow, clambering over her and running his hands all over her body soothingly. “So perfect…” He kissed the spot over her heart tenderly, moving to untie her from her bounds. He kissed up her arms as he untied her wrists, down her legs as he did her ankles. When she was free he cupped her jaw, kissing her before untying the blindfold. He gazed at her with soft eyes, smiling faintly. “How was it, love?” I hope it was good…

Ieva looked into Lathe’s eyes, her eyes adding to the completely wrecked look she had on her face. Her eyes were hazy from lust and her face was completely flushed. “It was really good… Master…” I don’t know if I should go back to calling you Lathe yet. She didn’t move, intent on following orders until she knew she was released.

Lathe chuckled, his thumb brushing her cheek tenderly. “You don’t have to call me Master anymore…” Lathe softly kissed her cheek, smiling. “And that’s a wonderful thing to hear…” He slid his hands under her thighs, bringing her with him as he moved off the bed to stand, carrying her to the jacuzzi. “Let me take care of you, Hon…” I wanna treat you right. He very carefully set her in the warm water, turning on the jets before stripping, feeling his own length still aching from the sight of her writhing. She’s so beautiful… I wonder if she’d be up to another round…?

Ieva groaned as she was set in the two person jacuzzi, enjoying the warmth of the water. She sighed in relief when the jets were turned on, the tension she didn’t know she had leaving her body. Oh my god… It feels so nice… She closed her eyes as she let the water relax her, taking in the scent of the bath salts and oils he had used.

Lathe stepped in after her, his still hard length standing proud when he sank into the water, going to gather Ieva into his arms. He kept her close to his chest, and he knew she could surely feel his length in her folds. “Ieva…” His lips brushed her neck. “…are you up for another round?” Please…?

Ieva whimpered as he pulled her close, soon relaxing into Lathe’s arms. She shuddered as she felt his length brush against her slippery folds. Oh shit… He’s hard… Her skin filled with goosebumps as she felt his lips against her neck. She gasped, her arms slowly coming to wrap around his shoulders. “Mmmhmm… I did ask for both.” She murmured, sounding out of breath as Lathe kissed at her supple flesh.

Lathe smiled faintly, shifting to sit with her in his lap, the water making it easier to lift her up. He held her close to him as she sunk onto his length, sighing deeply with relief as their hips met, his aching cock finally getting attention. “You’re so warm…” Lathe held her hips with a firm grip, Ieva let out a high pitched gasp, her whole body shaking against Lathe. Oh my god… It feels so good. “Hmm, Lathe…. So big…. I feel so full…. ” She shifted her hips down on him, gasping as he slid against her bundle of nerves. Oh fuck…

Lathe groaned into her chest, lifting her and letting her slip back down. “It feels so good… I was aching the entire time… watching you moan and writhe with everything I did to you… so beautiful…” He whimpered as they started a steady pace, slowly speeding up as he ached for release. I wanna cum so badly…

Ieva’s arms tightened around his shoulders, keeping him close. I want you. “Lathe… Please …” She begged him as she whimpered in his ear. I wanna cum… Even though I just came, I want you to make me cum again.

Lathe held her to his chest tightly, whimpering as they sped up, both of their quiet moans filling the room along with the sound of flowing water. Feels good… “A-Ah… Ieva… you feel so…” He whined into her neck. “So good… so perfect…” His grip on her tightened, coming close to the edge very quickly. “I-I'm gonna cum…” I really wanna cum…

Ieva moaned loudly, her breath hitching as she let Lathe move her around as he pleased. “O-Oh my god… Lathe… I’m gonna cum too.” She whined as he thrusted right onto her sweet spot, moans leaving her throat without her permission. Her nails bit into Lathe’s shoulders, making small scratched as she finally reached her climax and cried out in bliss. Holy shit… I came… I came again… oh my god… She slumped down onto Lathe as he kept pounding her through bliss. “L-Lathe…” Fuck I’m sensitive…

Lathe let out a muffled cry into her neck, releasing deep inside her, growing lax and feeling bliss wash over him. So good… He felt every ounce of tension drain out of him in the hot water in the glow of release, Ieva cradled in his arms. Mine.
Lathe woke up warm and sleepy, Ieva’s back flush with his front, a hand splayed over her growing stomach. Tiny life… Lathe blinked, glancing to the clock on the wall. It's early... just enough time for cuddles... Lathe softly pecked her shoulder blade, his light hips to her neck causing her to stir.

There haven’t been any complications to speak of- only because terrible morning sickness and constant aches and random cravings are normal. Lathe gently rubbed her bare stomach, smiling faintly. *Tiny life…. there's been plenty of tiny and not-so-tiny life while we were gone… Maisie had more puppies, so Blake at some point apparently got some action… Mila’s gained a few pounds. She’s a healthy, happy baby who giggles at everything and she’s just too cute… and Eren got more horses shipped from Germany. Three of them: Gretchen, a cherry bay mare; Tristan, a black gelding; and Margie, a black mare. They’re very well trained and broken, like Luna and Charlie, and because of that Eren has volunteered to host a horse riding camp for the last week of August. Even Arya is big enough now to hold a small person- Im sure Rico is now aware of that. He chuckled as he thought about the small boys playing in the field, only Rico brave enough to let Eren set him on Arya… who promptly broke away and attempted to escape. I'm surprised he held on so well when she started trotting away. I'm proud of him. Lathe let his mind drift, feeling leva’s hand cover the one on her tummy. Eren had done a wonderful job taking care of everyone, and James gave him a lot of help, but Eren really ran the whole show. And it's pretty much stayed that way a bit while we've been home. Eren does a lot more than I used to let him do. And soon enough, I'll really be a lot busier than normal. The center just down the street finished construction early due to the beautiful weather. They have to paint all the walls, then put furnishings in place, and then they save the fun part for us. Hannah, Sharon, Eren and I all take a brush to the walls after that and paint on quotes and fancy designs. We have quite a few cartoon characters and scenes already thought out. All the library books have been shipping in, all the computers need to get hooked up, we need to find a kitchen staff, a general lunch monitor and free time staff so that none of the kids get themselves killed, and a maintenance/janitor person… and I talked to Mike, he's gonna check the whole thing out when it's done and see if he’d be okay with informing the teachers that this is going on and that they could host extra classes and be paid more per class… we’ll still have to see about getting the kids credits for classes if stuff happens over the summer… but it's wonderful. A place for kids to go to hang out after school, have snacks and dinner, study, go to extra classes either academic or not… a place to be after school if they have nowhere else they can or want to go. A basketball court is being paved, so is one for tennis, the soccer field is being staked and will be drawn out later… but... you can just go there for free... and stay all day if you wanted, and be fed breakfast, lunch and dinner, and read books and play games and learn how to do stuff or to do better in math or whatever class you need help in, and it's just…. it's perfect. And because I own the land all up the road, a huge sidewalk is being paved with a big stone wall up to the waist near the road so nobody gets hurt. Streetlamps are getting put in place and little breaks in the wall for any reason, and I know that probably nothing is gonna happen to the kids if they walk... but we’re cutting the tree line back about ten yards and putting a tall fence in front of it. I'm still thinking about a blue light system since it's a long walk, but I don't think we should allow them to leave the center when it's dark and they're not being driven or in a pack of four or more... especially for the kids who aren't thirteen yet, a pack of four six-year-olds isn't very safe...

......maybe we should get a bus…. Lathe was distracted by this line of thought for a moment when leva kissed his knuckles, smiling. “Good morning, love.” He leaned over her, their lips gently touching. I love you. They made out lazily for a little while, Lathe being careful of her stomach. They broke apart after a while, Lathe pecking her nose before turning to the nightstand for the pad of paper and pen, beginning to scribble his thoughts down. If over thirteen, four or more if going home at dark. If not, driven home by guardian or by bus. Blue light system just in case. Keep the open part of the sidewalk completely and well lit at all times.... Lathe smiled as he felt arms wind around his middle, setting them aside. “Hm?” Lathe looked to Ieva, smiling as she looked up to him.

Ieva curled up to his side, trying to pull him back to lay down with her. “Come back and sleep a bit longer…” I want to hold onto you more. She could hear the shifting of feet in the next room, knowing Eren was up and either putting Mila back to sleep or getting ready to work down at the barn for a little bit. “Or we can go and make pancakes the American way for everyone…. I heard Eren went all out with his German food…. ” She nuzzled her face into his side, trying to get him to agree on something. If you're up... let’s go parent our children... We’ve barely seen them since we got back yesterday afternoon.... “We haven’t seen Eren at all yet… c’mon… It’s Sunday....” She murmured to him. Decide what we’re gonna do.

Lathe smiled, nuzzling into her shoulder. “As much as I'd love to cuddle with you more, we should probably go save the children from Eren’s German food.” He kissed her sweetly, stepping out of bed with her and going to the closet to get dressed. I need something that isn't pajamas if I'm gonna be cooking...

Ieva nodded, shifting off the bed as well, and going towards the bathroom to go and shower. “You get cooking then, I’ll meet you downstairs.” I wanna shower first, I feel absolutely exhausted, but maybe a warm bath’ll do me good? Or maybe a cold shower?

Lathe nodded, taking his time as he got dressed. He padded down the stairs not much later, smiling as he saw James feeding Mila a bottle on the couch. Aww... “Good morning, James. Eren’s out back, I assume?”

“Yeah, he won’t sleep no matter how much he needs it…. Can you make breakfast? And force him to go back to bed?” He’s literally been walking death for two weeks, and wearing a face mask to keep any of us from getting infected with whatever he’s got helps.... but it's really bad...

Lathe’s eyebrows shot up. “Has he not been sleeping?” Maybe he got overwhelmed with taking care of stuff...?

James nodded. “I’m surprised you didn’t hear him, he’s always coughing and he put Mila in my room so that he wouldn’t wake her up in the middle of the night. He’s gotten a huge fever.... And he’ll sometimes throw up at various times during the day.... But he still insisted on taking care of everyone… He’ll be back inside so-” He was cut off as the door opened along with the all too familiar muffled cough of Eren coughing into the mask and his elbow. There he is.... It’s a wonder you didn’t hear him last night.... Because I sure did...
Lathe looked over to the back door, his eyes widening as he saw Eren with a mask over his face, pale as a ghost. Shit. “Eren, you look horrible …” Lathe immediately moved to his side, feeling his forehead. “You're burning up… you need to get in bed. How long have you been sick?” Oh my god…

Eren shook his head, feeling dizziness take over and leaning into Lathe a bit more. His voice was quiet, muffled from the mask, and obviously pained. “Um….. Two…. Two and half…..” Eren murmured, his bloodshot eyes looking up to Lathe’s worried ones. I didn’t want you to worry, I’m doing okay being the adult here…

“…..two and a half? Days? Weeks ?” His eyes widened with worry as Eren weakly nodded, wrapping an arm around him to keep him on his feet. “Eren, you're not fit for Dad duty right now. Let's get you upstairs, medicated, and rested.” Lathe started to lead them to the stairs, having to reach down and haul Eren over his shoulder as the man swayed on his feet. You're lighter than I remember…

Eren groaned, not trying to struggle as he was lifted, letting his body go lax as he was put on his bed. The sheets were wet with sweat, and had been for almost the whole two weeks. I didn’t have the energy to change the sheets…. I’ll just lay down in the sweat puddle I guess. He coughed horribly, his body violently shaking as he turned his head away from Lathe. I can’t get Dad sick…..

Lathe looked confused as his hand brushed the sheets, feeling the sweat puddle that was the fitted sheet. You're really sweating… “Eren, you can't sleep just yet…” Lathe picked him right back up and out of the bed, taking him into the adjacent bathroom and depositing him on top of the toilet seat. “How does a bath and then a nap on fresh sheets sound?” That'll make you feel less gross…

Eren let out a soft groan of affirmation, sitting back on the toilet seat and feeling his body shake the instant he tilted his head back. His whole body violently shook with each cough that filled the air, horrible sounds coming from him as he hacked up a bit more than mucus. Fuck…. It hurts…. Thank god I haven’t gotten anyone else sick…. He watched Lathe move from getting the tub set to starting to strip him of the clothes that clung to his clammy and pale skin. God, I can only imagine what my skin looks like…

Lathe rubbed his shoulder soothingly as he coughed, helping him undress. “Eren, you look like a ghost… when did you last take a bath?” You don’t look too good… Lathe left him in just his boxers, making sure Eren wouldn’t be scalded by the water when set in the tub. It's warm… good.

Eren shrugged as he was set in the tub. He could already feel the filth and grime starting to shed from his body like layers that had to be removed. “I… Was afraid I wouldn’t be able to lift myself
I've been so weak…. I'm afraid to even try holding Mila, let alone go near her because of how sick I am…

Lathe looked immensely worried, grabbing a washcloth. “Honey, why didn't you take some time to try to recuperate? James and Tucker could've helped a lot to run the house. It wouldn't matter to me if dinners were simple and you had to order food out. If you can't even lift yourself out of the tub, there's a problem.” Lathe helped Eren wash, his voice gentle. “I understand there's a lot of little people in this house to take care of, but if you needed to call in reinforcements, you could've. I know we have a lot of neighbors and friends who would be willing to come over and help out while we were away and you were sick with plague. Struggling through a sickness this bad isn't worth it, especially if you're too weak to even bathe yourself.” You really pushed yourself… “You worked so hard to take care of everyone and I respect that… but you need to take care of yourself too.”

Eren looked at him with a shaded glare. “You would've done the same thing…. I tried to call in Armin, but he got sick after two days of help so I didn’t want anyone else to get sick… I couldn’t cook for long periods of time…. I made a lot of German Crock P-” Just as he was about to finish his sentence he began coughing, turning away from Lathe since he had taken the mask off for once. He coughed out a bunch of mucus which went everywhere as well as tiny chunks of mucus which almost resembled rocks. Eren groaned, leaning against the cool tile instead of Lathe as he brought a shaking hand to his face and tried to clean up his chin. Fuck…. That was a bad one… At least I didn’t throw up…

Lathe was stunned as Eren coughed up mucus, looking very concerned. “Eren, if I wasn't a doctor, I'd say you were dying.” Lathe worked diligently to clean his face and his body, shampooing his hair. “I understand that I'm stubborn when I have the flu or a cold, but this is a whole other thing. Two weeks of being this sick… with a newborn in the house and six small kids on top of everyone else… my god, I would quarantine myself…” Lathe rinsed his hair. “I'm going to get you medicated after this and set you right in bed after I change the sheets. I'll wake you up for food later. But now, your priority is getting better so that you don't get anyone sick, god forbid Mila comes down with whatever you have.” She can't get sick... she's still so small...

Eren nodded. “I haven't held her since I got sick….” James has been a big help, since you and Mom were gone. He leaned his head back on Lathe’s hand, enjoying the gentle touch. He feels so nice. “I'm sorry….” I feel like I failed you…. I didn’t want you guys to worry while you were gone...

Lathe's face fell, massaging the shampoo into his scalp, the steam seeming to clear Eren’s nose as mucus dropped down his face, wiping it away with a cloth. “It's okay, Hon. The sooner you get better, the sooner you can go back to making German dinners and holding your daughter. I bet she misses you.” He smiled softly. “Get better for her, okay?”

Eren nodded, feeling his exhaustion finally take over and his eyes closing. His head rolled to the side in his hand. I’m so tired… His breathing was ragged as his body relaxed against the porcelain tub.

Lathe smiled as Eren fell asleep, finishing cleaning him up and draining the water from the tub. He lifted him out and helped him get into dry and clean clothes, letting him nap on the couch in the nook while he changed the sheets. Soon he was tucking Eren in, wiping his nose and making sure he swallowed down some medicine. “I'll wake you up for food later, Honey. Sleep.” Lathe kissed his forehead, going downstairs and finding James cooking pancakes, Ieva holding Mila on the couch. He gave James a grateful smile, the teen saluting him before going back to cooking, a pile of pancakes sporadically growing next to him. He's doing very well… Lathe went to sit with Ieva, kissing the teeny baby’s forehead. Such teeny…

Mila giggled, reaching her tiny hands out towards Lathe’s face as he came into view, a happy smile on her face. Her eyes were starting to lighten, their color not as dark as they had been at birth. She reached her little hands out to him as she babbled, wanting to be held.

Lathe smiled, Ieva shifting and handing the babbling baby to him, Lathe having a soft look in his eyes as Mila tugged at his tie. “Hello Mila. My, how pretty you are…” He held out a finger, smiling as she latched on, trying to suck on his fingertip. “But that's not food…” Lathe barely brushed her cheek, distracting her when she looked ready to cry that she couldn't suck on his finger. He stuck out his tongue for a moment, smiling as she giggled more. She's so cute… ...I want one… He reached one hand for Ieva, squeezing her hand and sending her a loving look. ….and I’m gonna have one soon…

Ieva smiled looking at her with happiness. “We’re gonna have our own soon… we didn’t tell the boys yet… They’ll be happy.” She smiled, curling up to him as he held Mila close.

“They'll all be ecstatic that there’ll be another kid to play with in the house. They all adore Mila, I can imagine they'll love our own little kid…” Lathe smiled dreamily, Mila resting on his chest as he leaned back, one arm holding Ieva close and the other keeping the tiny baby from slipping away. I can’t wait…

Mila giggled as she attempted to crawl, just barely getting to squirm. She babbled, blowing bubbles from her mouth as she ‘spoke’. Her hair was growing in thick, like Eren’s when he was a baby, not that anyone would know that though. She definitely had his bubbly personality, and her tiny fingers tried grasping onto Lathe’s shirt.

Lathe smiled, peeking at her with one eye. “Hm? You like the blue?” He watched her grasp the old blue sweater he wore, reaching for his kerchief and gently dabbing at the tiny dribbles of drool on her chin. He chuckled as she latched onto the blue cloth, going to peck her forehead, watching her eyes sparkle. She's so happy... I hope you grow up to always be this happy…
Days passed like this, James seamlessly taking over the kitchen while Lathe and Ieva wrangled the kids, always holding or playing with Mila, making sure she was fed and her diaper was clean, making sure that she got her naps. She's wonderful… Lathe smiled, looking at the new pictures on his desk. There was a photo of all of them taken at Christmas, the entire living room full of guests, and Eren’s lap full of Levi. He looked to the other, taken just before he and Ieva left for vacation, with all six of their new charges all smiling toothy smiles at the camera. I love them all so much… He looked back down to his notepad, thinking as he wrote carefully. ‘Maintenance worker and groundskeeper needed. Flexible hours, must be able to operate machinery.’ He thought, crossing it out and rewriting it. ‘Must be capable of heavy physical labor, including operating large snow blowers and lawn mowers. Day to day jobs may vary based upon need. No experience necessary.’ He was about to write down the number when a thought occurred to him. …no experience necessary… He wondered why it stuck with him, thinking and gazing over the pictures again. His eyes settled on Marco who smiled at the camera, his arms full with Jean. …I haven’t heard from him in a long while…. Lathe set down his pen, leaning his head in one hand. I wonder how he is… maybe I should give him a call… I heard he changed apartments, but his phone number probably hasn’t changed… last I heard he was struggling to find a job… …maybe he’d like this one? Lathe thought a moment, reaching for the new cell phone on the desk. I got a phone for work stuff since this is a big production and all... He looked to his regular phone for the number, punching it in and calling. …pick up…

Jean took a few seconds to answer his cellphone, a huge sigh leaving his lips as he grabbed for it. He opened it up, pulling it to his ear as he answered the unknown number. “Hello?” Which job is calling me now? To tell me that they’re declining my application…

“That depends… What’s up?” Jean asked as he shuffled to sit up on the couch. What do you want now? I’m trying to separate myself from everything…. You don’t sound like you really wanna chitchat about stuff… “I just wanted to call and see how you were doing, but I also wanted to see if you'd be interested in a job opening at the new student center that’s opening soon…” You still looking for something to do?

“What student center… And what does the job entitle?” He shifted to get to his feet, going to grab a sheet of paper to start writing down details. What kind of job is this?

Lathe grinned as he heard the rustle of paper. “Well, just about a year ago I had the idea. Basically, we had a student center built where anyone in school can come. It kinda acts like an after-school program, but it'll also operate on weekends: a kid couple come in on Saturday and be fed breakfast lunch and dinner, they could go to a remedial math class or go to a class or club and learn something new like cooking for example, read in the library or use the computers in the lab, use the chemistry lab if they're old enough and there's someone supervising, play on the playground or one one of the courts, color, do anything, really, until they have to go home. And they don't have to pay a cent for it. I was thinking it could keep kids out of trouble, can help boost grades and keep extra help options open to the people who need them, teach life skills like cooking or banking because that isn't taught in schools anymore, make sure everyone is aware of how to wire a light switch and how to build basic stuff… just normal stuff you should know. And we need a maintenance person and groundskeeper. That's where you could come in. Day to day your jobs could vary, but you’d need to keep the lawn and especially the soccer field mowed and marked, snowblow the walks in the winter, fix stuff when it gets broken because the kids are gonna eventually break everything, keep the place lit, all sorts of random upkeep. The hours would be pretty flexible, and just because this is a nonprofit doesn't mean you won't be paid well.” I'll make sure you get a fair wage like everyone else we end up hiring.

Jean was quiet for a moment as he looked down on the sheet of paper he had barely written on. “... When would I start?” I need to know, and manage how I’m paying for rent… He tapped his fingers on the small desk he had, moving to get the bottle of liquor from the counter. I’m gonna drink to that... If I can finally get a job!

“Well, we haven't completely finished painting the damn thing, but if you wanna come out and help build all the shelving and load books and organize classrooms- you can start, say, next week Monday? I can have a contract written up by then. Would fourteen dollars an hour sound fair to you?” That number will go up eventually, don't worry.

Jean wrote it down. Fourteen an hour would be five dollars more than I was hoping for... “Y-Yeah… that would be great, what time should I come in?” It's labor, but I can do that if I drink enough coffee to keep myself awake at work...

“Well, I would say it'd be pretty normal hours, nine to five… but since the first week or two is all just gonna be random assembling and stuff and there's plenty to do, you'll have a full paid hour for lunch and you’ll be paid seventeen an hour for every hour after your eighth each day, not including if you leave to go get dinner or something. And that’s pretty much gonna be the same sort of policy for the time you’re there. I still have to write all the specifics down. Does that sound good?”
I hope so. “You'll have a spare key and can clock in and out as you please, but remember that if a single screw is missing when you leave, I know where you sleep.” That's a lie. I don't know where you live now.

Jean gulped audibly. Shit… Does he really know where I live? I thought I moved far away enough…. “I uh… Uhm… Yeah that’s totally fine…” He struggled to smile, already fearing the threat Lathe imposed.

“Jean, I don't know where you live, that's a lie. I'll need your address when you actually sign up for this job though, so it'll change. But I'm not gonna murder you, don't worry. I'll see you Monday then?” He heard a quiet affirmation, another thought coming to mind. “Oh, uhm, another question… ...you wouldn't mind coming back to dinner next week, would you?” We miss you. “You don't have to, I'm just asking.”

Jean was quiet on the other end of his phone. “I don’t think I can… I can’t face him… I can’t Lathe, I’m sorry that you guys tried to get me better before everything happened, but…. I can’t…. I’ll be at work on Monday morning.” He murmured into his phone before hanging up abruptly.

“It’s-” Lathe was cut off when Jean hung up, quietly sighing. He pulled up the number again, texting him.

LQ: It's okay, Jean. Whenever you feel strong enough, we’d love to have you again.

Lathe didn't get a reply. It was read, but there wasn't any response. He didn't expect one. Instead, he went back to his laptop to draft up a contract for him. There's plenty to get ready...

Jean sighed as he read the text, closing his phone and letting out a sigh of relief as he took the bottle of liquor and raised it to his lips. He groaned as it burned the whole way down his throat, enjoying the feel of it. Drink for a small victory…. I’ll be able to pay for rent at least...
Chapter 96: The Skype Call Part 3

Eren’s eyes cracked open slowly to see the dark room. I’m gonna be sick… He struggled to move his head far enough towards where the bucket was on the side of the bed, barely making it before he threw up everything he had eaten earlier. Fuck… I think that was lunch… I’m not sure anymore… He closed his eyes, laying in the awkward position since the sheets weren’t covered in sweat there. I’m exhausted, and I can’t move…. He resigned to the fact that he wouldn’t be able to hold Mila for at least another week at this rate. But I want my baby girl back… Eren was trying to keep his mind off the putrid smell that wafted up to his nostrils. He hated that he couldn’t smell anything else aside from things that smelled absolutely horrible. It smells really bad… Where’s my phone? Dad would want me to call him… His eyes scoured the room, seeing his phone was sitting on Levi’s nightstand, on the other side of the bed. Fuck… I can’t move and get it. He groaned, deciding to close his eyes and try to sleep.

Lathe was scribbling down random ideas into a notebook in the kitchen, his laptop on sleep next to him. Oooh… I wonder if we can do that? Making the common room for the college-level students Thieves-Guild style… since it’s still blocked off for the moment, we could …. He looked up as he heard a quiet ringtone, smiling and pulling up the Skype request. He answered, soon met with the image of Levi. “Hey Levi! Sorry, Eren can’t really talk. He’s been sick for at least a month now. But we’re praying he’ll get better.”

His fever should break any day now….

Levi sighed a bit, nodding. “Okay, I was worried when he didn't pick up… Can I see Mila? Or is James occupying her attention still?” “I wanna see my baby girl, Eren’s probably asleep, and I’ll let him stay asleep…”

Lathe nodded, smiling. “I’ll go get her, James can fork her over for a bit.” Lathe left for a moment, coming back with the tiny infant in his arms, the girl giggling as she saw Levi. Lathe picked up her hand, waving it to Levi as he shifted her. “Mila, look, it's Daddy.” Say hi. He beamed as she happily babbled, reaching a tiny hand for the man on the screen. She recognizes you.

Levi felt his heart melt. “I swear, she’s going to be the death of me…” He looked around to see if anyone was near him before turning to the screen again. “Is anyone else within earshot?” “I wanna make plans again…”

Lathe looked around, shaking his head. “…no… one second though. We have to make sure our little witness doesn’t spill anything.” Lathe turned to Mila, looking at her seriously. “Mila. This is very important. Are you going to tell Eren everything we said as soon as you see him?” She just stared at him for a moment before tugging on his tie, giggling. “…you have sworn to secrecy. Good.” Lathe looked to Levi, trying to look serious with a babbling baby in his arms. “We’re all clear.”
Levi smiled. <“I’m coming home for Christmas again… We could always speak in German. I’m sure the small ones don’t know what that is… And better expose Mila to it early.”> I have a feeling she’s gonna grow up speaking it fluently like Eren…

Lathe grinned, nodding. <“Bilingual kid, of course.”> He thought for a moment before giving him a shit-eating grin. [Not French, though? It sounds cool.] I know you know it. I remember these things.

Levi shook his head. [No, Eren wouldn't want her to know because he doesn’t… Maybe she can take it in High School or something?] Eren would kill me…

[Good point. And if she does want to learn it then, she’ll have plenty of help getting used to it. But for now, it's good to use it so Eren can’t overhear anything.] He smiled, pecking Mila’s forehead as she gazed up at him. [You've gotten your time off set and everything?] That's what it sounds like.

Levi rolled his eyes. [Did you say he was sick?] I’m pretty sure you told me that. [And yeah, I’ll be able to make it hopefully at dinner… I couldn’t get an earlier flight in, and I’ll drive home with Erwin. That way we’ll be a big surprise for everyone because I’m assuming Armin is gonna be over?] That’s usually how it goes…

[Oh yeah, we’ll demand that he comes for dinner of course. It’ll be great! I can't wait. Eren’ll be so excited, and Mila will most likely latch onto you the second she gets the chance.] Lathe smiled. [Though I'm pretty sure you'd only mind that when she won't let go long enough to have your, ahem, ‘alone time’ with Eren.] Yeah, that's a thing. He grinned as Levi blushed. [Luckily you have babysitters for a family, so you're pretty much good.]

Levi groaned as he held his head in his hands. [Ugh… Don’t remind me… The videos he sends me are fucking torture…] What do you think about that? If you are going to tease me… I get to tease you back…

Lathe’s eyebrows shot up, smirking. [Oh, so I'm sure you're still very familiar at least with all the sounds he makes…] Nice slip, Levi. Beware my wrath.

[I miss his voice… The music videos are torture… What the hell were you thinking about? He’s sent them all to me before he put them on YouTube…] Levi gave a feigned look of being scandalized. How could I slip up like that!? Ah!
Lathe quirked an eyebrow, not believing him. [I’m sure that’s what you meant… you totally didn't mean something else that Eren recorded that was meant solely for your eyes and ears. Suuuuuure.] I don't buy it.

Levi shook his head. [Believe whatever you want… How was your vacation? I haven’t heard from anyone since you were gone for a few days… How did it go?] I hope you found time to relax while you were there...

Lathe chuckled as Levi changed the subject, his face lighting up as he remembered. [Oh, we haven't told you- while we were gone… Ieva conceived!!] Lathe was nearly squealing with excitement, his eyes shining with happiness. We’re gonna have our own tiny human! I can't wait!

Levi’s eyes widened, a huge smile on his face. [Oh that's so exciting! I’m so happy for you!] He had a bright smile on his face as he watched Mila look at Lathe in mild surprise and wonder as he squealed. She’s wondering why he sounds like a newborn...

Lathe looked over Levi for a moment, realizing something. I've never seen you smile like that before… besides when you heard the news about Mila and saw her for the first time. He tucked the image away in his mind, looking to Mila as she gazed up at him, wearing a mildly concerned expression. [I'm sorry Mila, Grampa Lathe is excited.] He kissed her cheek, bouncing her to make her giggle. There, all better. [I really want this to go okay, I want her to really take it easy and let me take care of her and I just… I'm so excited… I just can't wait…] he cradled Mila close, the baby clinging to his sweater. He sighed, his eyes closing for a moment as he was lost in thought. He seemed to remember Levi was there all of a sudden, looking stunned a bit and smiling sheepishly as Levi gave him a look. [...]What can I say, I'm a daydreamer…]

Levi rolled his eyes. [Do you know how far along she is? Or has she not gone for that appointment yet?] I know you guys just got home… And maybe you don’t want to know anything? He watched Mila cling to Lathe’s sweater, fascinated with the fabric.

[It's only been a week since we found out, she’s scheduled in a few days for a checkup… but given how long it would take for the hormones to start changing stuff to a point where we would notice, it probably happened the first few days we were there. We’ll have a better idea after she goes to that appointment.] Lathe looked down as Mila tugged at his sweater, smiling. “Yep, that's my sweater. It’s purple today. You like purple?” He got a happy gurgle in response, smiling. Purple!

Levi chuckled softly, watching Mila contentedly. “Alright, Lathe, time to give Mila to someone else, I wanna see the horses Eren messaged me about. I’ve heard he’s hosting a riding camp soon, but I guess he won’t be if he’s too sick to do it.” I don't know how bad he is...
Lathe nodded, smiling and sighing. “Oh-Kay… I guess I can give her to someone else…” He went to give James Mila again, gently prying her from his sweater. He came back and picked up the laptop, bringing him outside. [Alright, so we kinda have lots more horses….] Lathe flipped the camera, showing Levi the new row of horses peering at him curiously. [And even if Eren is still dying, I suppose I can teach it, and Marco is helping out with it, so I'll have him. We don't wanna cancel it or reschedule; it just wouldn't work out.] Yeah, we can't do that to the kids who signed up.

[And these are all the same breed of horses?] I think Eren said something about that… He looked to the horses, wishing that he could reach out and touch them, and get away from his reality for a bit. I really hope that I'll be able to make it home for Christmas… It's August… I got a ways to go first.

[Yeah, they are. Eren really wanted more Bavarian Warmbloods, so he just went and got some. They're all wonderful.] Lathe pet the nose of the one closest to him, thinking. [...]their names escape me. We came home and they were here. I don't know what Eren named them.] He must have them all named by now, of course.

Levi nodded, understanding. [How bad is he sick that you don’t want me to talk to him even for a few minutes?] How bad is he? I don’t understand… He’s like you... He’s almost never sick...

Lathe looked at him, his expression wary. “.......he's literally caught some kind of plague. He’s coughing up hunks of mucus, throwing up nearly everything he eats, soaking the bed with sweat, and trying to sleep it off until his fever breaks. He's really bad and you don't need to see that.” Nope.

Levi seemed to pale. “How long has that been going on for? I can only imagine what he feels like… He likes to cling to people when he’s sick… And I can’t imagine anyone wanting to get near him.” Geez, I wish I could say at least hi to him before I have to leave tomorrow...

Lathe sighed, nodding. “He's tried his best to be a normal functioning adult, but he's been a mess since a week into our vacation. So he's on week three. If you really do wanna talk to him and believe me, I get it, we can go up and see if he's awake. Horribly enough, this is just about the time when lunch would reappear....” Why is this a thing.....

Levi grimaced. “I'd like to at least say ‘hi’.... I’m leaving the base again tomorrow, I want to see him again before I go…. Please.” I don’t care if he’s throwing up or not...

Lathe nodded, understanding. “Of course. It should cheer him up to see his Bae.” Lathe carried the laptop back into the house, coming upstairs and lightly knocking on Eren’s door. “Eren?” He quietly opened the door, seeing Eren peer at him miserably from the bed. “Levi is on Skype. He'd like to say hi since he's leaving the base tomorrow.” Please say hi...

Eren shifted to sit up, quickly regretting how quickly he moved, leaning over and dry heaving over the almost full bucket. Fuck... I can’t even really sit up. He groaned, weakly looking over to Lathe once he was done. I wanna say hi...

Lathe moved closer and set the laptop down for a moment, very carefully helping Eren shift to sit up and setting the laptop in his lap, going to get a new bucket to replace the old one before emptying it. Gross.

Levi looked Eren over as he was faced with the sick man, his voice gentle, a soft smile of his face. “Hey... it's good to see you, even if you are infected with the plague.” His voice was lightly teasing, looking over him. I miss you. Even if you are gross and sick right now.

Eren smiled softly, nodding his head slowly. “It's good to see you too.” He croaked out in his harsh voice. I haven’t talked much... But it’s nice to see you're doing well...

Levi looked him over, feeling a twist in his chest. I don't want this to be the last time I see you. I wanna come home on Christmas when you're well and have you and Mila all to myself. “...Eren...I want you to remember that I love you... so much... and Mila too. When you're well you have to give her lots of hugs and kisses for me, okay?” I wanna come home to you both.

Eren looked confused for a minute. “You’re going off base again?” This is the fifth time this year... You always get like this when you have to go off base... you’re afraid you’ll never come home. “You better get your ass back home or I’ll never forgive you...” He trailed off as he started to cough again, struggling to calm himself down and not cough. I don’t want you to be like that...

Levi gave him a weary smile, nodding. “Don't worry, I'll try my damndest. I wanna be able to see you and our daughter again.” I wanna come home okay. I want to live so that I can come home and give you and Mila the family you both deserve.

“Even if I’m sick you’ll clearly wanna see me...” I want you to stay ... “I want more when you come back...” I want you to be tied to me... Because I’m not sure you’re going to ask me anymore...

Levi studied him, the look Eren was giving him making him think he didn't mean sex. .....right, you don't know about me coming home for Christmas. .........if we do come home on time, on Christmas... that’d be quite the Christmas present if I did.... but.... I don’t know... Levi gave him a soft look, trying to soothe him with his tone. “I'll always want to see you. ...and, I know. Don’t worry; when all this is over you can handcuff me to you and you don’t ever have to let me go.” I want to give you what you want... I wanna make it official... but.... It needs to be special... and I don’t... I mean, doing it on Christmas when I come home would be special... but I don't wanna have to leave you just a week after it and know that you were even closer to having me before... before losing me...

Eren’s eyes seemed to lose their luster in an instant. Handcuff you to me?.......... So you’re really not going to propose to me then? He felt an odd feeling in his chest, like he wanted to throw up, but it was also mixed with guilt and sadness. “Okay....” I get to keep you at least... Right?

Levi saw the overwhelming sadness in his expression, his heart twisting. ...I would propose to you now if it meant you wouldn’t look so miserable.... ...I’m making him hurt so much by putting it off... maybe... it’s doing more harm like this... than it would if I just did it before I left... “It’s okay, Hon. Really. ...You’ll have as much of me as you want soon enough.” ...maybe I should ... but like... when I’m home for Christmas.... I’d have time maybe to find a ring over here... or I could make Lathe help me find one... I should. I need to do it. Anything to stop that from hurting on top of that fact that I’m in danger. Levi gave him a gentle smile, wishing he could reach out and smooth out the sad lines from his face. Please don't look like a kicked puppy... I want to marry you.... but.... I'm shit at being romantic and I have to ask and shit and just... if anyone would fuck this up, it'd be me.

Eren struggled to smile for Levi, nodding. “I know... A year and a half, that’s all I got left to wait...” He glanced over towards the door, knowing Lathe was on the other side. “You get your ass home.... Or I don’t know what I’d do....” He whispered to Levi. I don’t think I’d be able to handle losing you... Not even with Mila with me...

Levi looked him over, his face falling. His voice was quiet and tender. “...I'm gonna fight like hell to come home for you two... but... if I don't... promise you'll live for me. Live for Mila. Please.” I don't want her to go without her two dads... I don't want her to only know me in images on a screen and know nothing else....

Eren swallowed hard, looking down at his hands like he was going to cry. I don’t think I could do it.... I don’t think I’d be able to live with myself if I couldn't have you with me....

Levi felt his insides fill with dread, his voice soft. ...you couldn't do it...? “Eren, please... no matter what happens, Mila needs her Daddy... she loves you, she'd miss you... if you won't do it for yourself, do it for our daughter... I want her to grow up with you... please ...”
Eren shook his head again, trying not to let the intense feeling of sadness overwhelm him. He wasn’t surprised that Mikhail jumped on the bed and forcefully took his hand away from his wrist. I couldn’t do it... I couldn’t.... Mikhail was keeping him from curling up in a ball as tears started to quickly form, sobs alerting Lathe, who came in to see if everything was alright. I wouldn’t be able to handle myself... I wouldn’t be able to do it.... Eren started to cough all over again, but it was worse now due to his already tearful state. It hurts...

Lathe set down the clean bucket, going to gently kiss the top of Eren’s head. “It’s okay, Honey. It’s okay.” Lathe ran a gentle hand through his hair before reaching for the laptop. “Say goodbye, Honey.” Lathe made sure Eren at least gave him a weak wave before taking it away, kissing his temple. He left him be, bringing Levi with him. He shut the door quietly, going down the hall to the nook and sitting down. He stared at him for a moment. “...it's gonna kill him if he sees you again and you don't propose. He really needs that, Levi.” You need to do it.

Levi watched as he was taken away from Eren. “I think I just made everything worse for him...” He sighed, running his hands through his noir hair, wishing he didn’t need to be in Iraq at the moment. I want to come back.... But the mission we have now... “I won’t be able to call in three weeks... We’ll be out for closer to two months... So he won’t hear from me for awhile...” It’s scheduled that we’re out that far...

Lathe sighed, nodding. “...okay, kid. And he's... he misses you so much... and he's dying waiting for you to make this... to make it official. He's been waiting for a ring for a long time, long before you even first left... I can't tell you to just bite the bullet and propose, but...” Lathe gave him a look. “Bite the bullet and propose, dammit.” Just do it! Please!! When you come home, ask him! I can help!

Levi looked like he was weighing his options. I can’t do that to him... not if there's a chance of me not coming home... which there very well is... Which is why we all got Christmas off... Eyebrows is making that a thing. [Dad.... I-I... I can’t do that to him.... Not when we leave base every other month....] I could only imagine how badly that would tear him up...

Lathe sighed, looking tired. [...Levi, Eren loves you. I know you don't want to hurt him... but... he's hurting so much because he feels unwanted... and that's on top of the fear of you not coming home at the end of this.... if anything, it'll hurt a little less for him. He'll know that when you come home at the end of everything, instead of there being this uncertainty... he'll know that you're gonna sweep him off his feet and keep him. He needs to have that light at the end of the tunnel, Levi.] ....he needs to know for sure you're gonna keep him.

Levi looked to Lathe, nodding. [I don’t have a ring... and I wanted the proposal to be special, because we all know I don't have a single romantic bone in my body.] I want it to be good for him.... I really do...
[If you come home on Christmas Day at dinner, with Erwin… it'd be a real surprise for everyone there… and it’s be a really sweet Christmas present, I think. Or I am get a hold of reservations for you two somewhere nice, you could propose sometime you're home while you're both dressed up and stuff… I can help you find a ring too… I can help you if you really want to do this.] Please let me help you do this. ....Eren needs this.

Levi nodded. [I think I’d like it to be a bit more private… But I’m not sure what Eren would want… I’ll definitely propose when I get home.] It needs to be done… He had determination set on his face as he looked at Lathe. [I need help with a ring… but I can’t talk right now, I’m sorry but I gotta go pack for off base….] I don’t want to leave the conversation like this… but I need to go.

Lathe nodded, understanding. [Okay Levi. I'll do some hunting and see if I can figure out what Eren might like, show you a few things next time we talk. We’ll get all this sorted out, Hon. And I'll get you two reservations somewhere nice for New Year’s.] Lathe winked, smirking mischievously. [That sound good?]

[Yes… Thank you. Tell Mila I love her, and give her more kisses and hugs from me, since Eren can’t.] I wanna be able to see her in person… I wanna be there for her.

Lathe nodded, smiling. [Don't worry, I'll give her lots and lots from you. ...Try to stay safe, Levi. Love you.] We miss you.
Chapter 97: It's not a Dream

Thank fuck Eren’s not dying anymore. Lathe was just across the street at the new center, marking boxes and making sure things were being assembled and put where they were meant to go. That horse camp thing starts today- everyone who signed up was a girl… except for Henry. I’m pretty sure he signed up because he knew Tucker was helping out and he wanted to hit on him some more, which works I guess. Marco signed up to help, so he’s on his way too- Lathe tugged at the collar of his dress shirt, feeling a bit warm. He looked outside to where Jean was assembling a shelf on a padded blanket on the concrete, his shirt having been discarded a bit ago so that he didn’t overheat. ...I’m pretty sure Marco’s gonna appreciate the view. Lathe sighed, pulling out his cell phone and dialing another number when he saw the clock. Where the hell is that guy with the air conditioning unit, he was supposed to be here an hour ago at latest...

Eren was in the middle of moving the saddles around for the girls. They’re all gonna learn how to saddle a horse… He smiled as he heard the sound of tires on the gravel outside. That’s either a kid or Marco. He troweled off his forehead before placing it on his shoulders going out to greet the first arrivals. Not Marco… But there’s his truck coming in now. He smiled at the girl and shook the Mom’s hand and they both seemed to squeal that a singer was teaching a riding class for a week. Marco help, I’m not good with people… He noticed Mikhail’s paw on his jeans, reaching down to pet his head, smiling to him.

Marco nearly missed the turn into the driveway, distracted by the sight of a shirtless Jean just across the street. He has abs…. dammit, I want a closer look… He sighed dejectedly as he turned into their driveway instead, wanting to ogle the two-toned man instead. He got out of his truck, smiling and waving to Eren. “Hello! Here for the riding lessons?” He watched the woman nod and the girl beam at him excitedly. “You’ll really like all the horses he has, they're all very friendly. I can take you out back to the barn?” He gave Eren a quick wink that the girl and her mother missed as he led them back. I know you need a break from the squealing fans.

Eren thanked him silently, going over to run across the street and inside. “Dad! The first girl is here! When should we break for lunch?” I know we said we’d provide, and I know you’ll like that. It's early, and the boys are at their summer camp so we don’t need to worry about them. Eren came to where the man was in the office, going through paperwork. You’ve been doing that a lot lately...

Lathe looked up to him, smiling. “I’d say just around… what time is it?” He looked to the clock. “How about noon-thirty? I'd have things ready for them and set out by then. Where are they eating again?” Where do I put all the food?

“The picnic tables are by the barn, can you put it all there? And no one has allergies… I checked again… umm… Marco’s here, so I’m gonna get back and see if more people have arrived yet.” Eren quickly came up to Lathe, kissed his cheek and then ran out the door to go and get back to the barn. He waved to one of the Moms who was leaving after dropping off their daughter. He was surprised to find that everyone else was there, even Henry, who was trying to get Tucker to look at him. He’s going to be flirting the entire time... He sighed quietly before coming up behind the girls. “Alright, who’s ready to pick their horse for the week?” You get to have a limited selection... “Andrea will need to ride on Arya though.” He watched her nod and then the girls went off and picked their horses inside the barn and pet them as they stuck their heads out. Each stall door was adorned with a saddle which was for that specific horse. Eren turned to Marco. “So... you’re not afraid of any of them right? Because it’s me, you, and Tucker to keep track of the horses... two girls have prior experience, so I’ll be with them mostly... doing small jumps eventually... Just follow my lead and we’ll be okay...” Eren gave him a cheeky smile as he got Charlie out for Henry, easily tacking him and getting the stool out for Henry. He can hop up...

Marco shook his head. “I’m fine with all the horses, don’t worry.” He gave a sound of surprise as he felt one suddenly lipping at his shirt, turning and seeing Henry grinning impishly from on top of Charlie. Henry... Are you trying to instigate something, Henry?

“Nooooooo.....” Henry grinned, though he was soon distracted by Tucker bending over as he tacked one of the horses, getting a decent view from on top of Charlie. ...this is gonna be torture... but dammit, if I get him to maybe look at me and say something it'll be sooooo worth it.

..... aaaaand he's fantasizing about Tucker again. Marco sighed, going to help one of the girls tack their horse. He at one point glanced out the barn door, able to see the front of the center from where he was, a shirtless Jean still working away. ..... I might not be the only distracted one here...

Eren made sure that once the girls and Henry were on the horses that they each grabbed two and led them into the large arena. He let go of the older girls and let them walk their horses around on the other side of the arena, keeping the newer riders with him and Marco to fix their posture. He sent Tucker to watch over the girls walking the mares. This’ll go over well. “Okay, so everyone sit up as straight as possible, and have your toes pointed up a bit so the stirrup is more situated near your heel.” He walked over to Andrea to help her up and move her arms so the reins were more comfortable in her grip. I want to be a good teacher for this...

Tucker had to keep his eyes off of Henry as he got up on the horse. Don’t look at him, he’s not a knight in shining armor... Don’t look at him, he’s just like the rest of them... Trying to get close, and then use me... He rubbed at his throat as he watched the two girls expertly handle their horses in their walk. Why is he even here? I can feel him staring holes into my back... It’s uncomfortable...

Henry kept his posture perfect when Marco went by, though he slouched a bit when he wasn’t looking, wanting Tucker to see and correct him. He felt himself flush when Tucker sighed, immediately straightening up when he felt the hand ghosting his back. He looked to Tucker, both of them turning scarlet as they made eye contact, wanting to look away and not able to for a moment. ..... I want you to say something... anything...
Tucker looked away first as he let his hand slide off of Henry’s back. Come on, pay attention dammit… Why the hell do you have to be like this? He looked towards one of the smaller girls, going to help her with her footing and keep his mind off of Henry. I wanna forget about it… Why the fuck do you have to keep reminding me about it?

Henry sighed, feeling morose as Tucker left, still feeling the ghost of his hand on his back. ....you still have all week. All week to get him to open up just a little.

The morning went easily, all of the girls perfecting their posture on their horses. Soon enough it was time for lunch, one of the picnic tables filled with food and paper plates and cups. Everyone was munching happily, Marco sitting at a table facing the house and the road, still forlornly gazing over to the small speck of bare skin that was Jean. Guh… I wish I had a better view… He looked over the other girls as his mind wandered, snapping out of it when he saw the older girls a table over passing a small pair of binoculars between them, staring over at the complex and talking seriously. ……are they admiring Jean? He tried to seem inconspicuous as he stood, going over to them. “….what’re you looking at?” Be cool.

One of the girls jumped, turning around and hiding the binoculars behind her back. “N-Nothing.” She stuttered with a huge blush on her face. We weren’t watching the hot guy across the street…

Marco quirked his eyebrows, thinking. ….you can use this to your advantage. “If you let me borrow those I won’t tell anyone what you’re doing.” I wanna see him… he has abs…

The girls looked between each other for a moment before handing them over and giggling with him as they laid on the Hay bales, looking across at Jean as he moved, his muscles stretching. “He’s hot… I wonder what his name is…”

“Carissa… There’s no way he’s gonna talk to us, we’re 15…” Megan hissed at the girl who had handed the binoculars over.

“But Megan… Look at him!”

“First off, his name's Jean-” He had to pause as the two girls squealed at the French-sounding name. “-and sorry, but I've had dibs on him for years. He's mine.” I want him.
Crissa gasped at Marco. “Well, if you’ve had him for so long why haven’t you taken him for yourself?” I want to know why… It also means you’re gay. She raised an eyebrow at him, obviously unimpressed.

“...it's kinda a weird story…. well…” It doesn't really matter- if they were gonna say something about you being gay, they’d’ve said it. “.....I was on the way to a date of ours and I got into a really bad car crash… I forgot a lot after that… including nearly everything from our relationship…. we broke up because it was killing him trying to start over, and I can't very well just march up to him and demand he take me back because I remember as much as I do now… I remember a hell of a lot more than I did when I first woke up… and I seriously miss him… but he's moved and I think he blocked my number in his phone and it's just a mess…” I miss him...

Both the girls gasped and instantly hugged him. “Oh, I’m so sorry… I didn’t mean to bring that up.” Carissa was the first to speak in their small hug. I didn’t mean it… Don’t cry, I can’t handle men crying...

Marco gave them a weary smile, awkwardly hugging them back for a moment. “I-It's fine, it doesn't feel too weird to talk about it anymore. I just wish things could go back to normal now that I remember what normal had been for years…” I miss it so much... “I've got half a mind to march over there after camp is over… but honestly, I'm not that brave… but the binoculars are very appreciated.”

The girls giggled as they waited for their turn to spy on him. “But why won’t you ask him out again? If you remember more?” Megan asked curiously, watching him through the binoculars and getting a full view of Jean’s abs and swooning.

Marco sighed, running a hand through his hair and forking over the binoculars again. “....because…. if he's moved on I don't want to undo all of that… I've already caused him so much pain… I just… and I'm scared he won't want to even look at me… I don't want him to reject me again … but... I really miss him…” I didn't know it would hurt so much.... until I remembered what it felt like to hold onto him at night... .....the bed always feels too cold and empty...

“You’ll never know if you never try…” Carissa spoke as she handed the binoculars over to Marco. He’s looking over this way… I wonder if he spotted us...

Marco took them back, looking and swallowing hard as he saw Jean look back at them, straightening up as he saw the three of them observing him. He seemed to flush down his neck when he saw Marco holding the binoculars, turning away quickly and trying to ignore them. He's so damn adorable... and hot, definitely hot too.... Guh... “.....maybe I should…” ..... I could do it... I could walk right over after camp is done and have his tongue down my throat in ten minutes… that would be wonderful… but what would I say? ‘Hey Jean, I remember like everything about our relationship, now take me back, dammit!’ That’s not exactly perfect flirting material… ……if I'm gonna do this, I need help. Who would know what to say? He looked over to Eren, thinking. ….I could just ask Eren. He'd probably know what to say. Maybe. “….you know what, okay. After camp, I'll interrogate Eren for help figuring out what to say, then just… go for it.” …I want to. I can do this.

Megan giggled and nodded, though all three of them picked up their heads as Eren whistled for them loudly. He had a riding helmet on and Charlie tacked up beside him. Eren's really good looking too… I wonder if he looks good without his shirt? His arms are covered in tattoos… And they’re so detailed…

Marco caught Megan gawking, giving her a small nudge. “He's taken, so don't think about it.” Levi would kill you. Even if you are just like fifteen.

Megan looked up to Marco. “But he’s hot and he doesn’t have a ring on! How do you know he’s taken? I can dream, can’t I?” He’s so hot… And he’s famous!

Didn't he put Levi all over his instagram? I thought everyone knew he had a boyfriend. “Well, maybe… but I'm pretty sure once his boyfriend comes home from Iraq he’ll have a ring to flaunt. And they kinda have a kid now, her name’s Mila. So.” That's a thing.

Megan looked like the words were new information. “That must be hard, not having a ring while he’s gone… I could only imagine what I would feel like… But what does he look like when he’s with her? Is it adorable? Do you have pictures…” She looked up at Marco, trying to use her puppy eyes on him. I wanna know these things!

“Yeah, he's dying for a ring… and I think I do…” Marco pulled out his phone as they walked, handing it over when he found a picture of him holding Mila one night before dinner, the baby happily tugging on his hoodie strings. She’s so adorable… “She’s just a few months old.”

Megan almost squealed as she saw the picture. “Oh my god! That’s so cute!!” Oh my god! She’s so cute! We didn’t know anything about this! His Twitter and tumblr have been quiet. “She’s adorable…”

Marco smiled. “Yeah, she really is. I’m surprised he hasn't been flooding his instagram with pictures of her. I'll tell him his fans want to be in the loop.” He let them hawk at the Live Photos on his phone until Eren whistled again for their attention, stowing away his phone. “Don't worry- Maybe you'll see her this week.” You just might, if James decides to come wandering outside. He's
The girls giggled and went where the others were gathered. Eren got all their attention before he hopped up on Charlie and he walked him around, showing how he could handle a horse without using the bridle and how he used his legs, showing them it was possible. All the kids watched in awe, wanting to try it, and so they were allowed to, Eren walking each of them through it on Charlie. They’re doing well…

The rest of the day went well enough. Henry didn’t manage to get a peep out of Tucker, though he did manage to coax a few fleeting touches and scarlet blushes out of him, and convinced Eren to let him stay for dinner. Eren had taken his shirt off an hour after lunch when he got enough comments about his tattoos, and all the girls gawked at their intricacy, all of them more than a little excited for the next day. Marco made sure that when the last of the girls were picked up he immediately dragged Eren into the barn, looking at him seriously. I have to do this. Today. “Eren, I need your help. And you need to be really serious with me and not dance around anything or else this won’t work.”

Eren looked at Marco and nodded, noticing his seriousness. He motioned towards the hay bales. What are you going to ask me about? He sat down and waited for Marco to start. You’re serious about this…

Marco sat down with him, sighing, his elbows on his knees, feeling dread slowly drop into his gut, holding his head in his hands. He stared hard at the floor. “…..Eren, I remember so much about everything Jean and I had. And it's killing me… The more pictures I saw and the more stories I heard the more I started remembering on my own and remembering all the dumb little details… and… the bed has started feeling colder and emptier and I just… I miss him so much… but I feel like there's something important missing… so if there's something important about our relationship that I might not remember, tell me… because if I don't go over there and try to get him back now I'm really gonna regret it…” I miss him… so much…

Eren was quiet for a moment, shaking his head. “I… I really don’t think I should tell you about anything, because Jean seems to have finally pulled himself together…..” I shouldn’t tell you, ‘cause he’s staying for dinner…

Marco looked up to him, a hurt look in his eyes. “I-I know he's tried his best to move on… but…. It's not like I was a completely blank slate, or that it feels like something optional…. …it really hurts… and I want to have him back… and I hope to God he doesn't have a breakdown and reject me but I really want to try because I’ve started hurting and it hasn't stopped… If I can, I really want to make him happy… please just tell me… I want as best a chance of this working as possible… because whether you tell me or not, I'm marching over there. You can't stop me. I won't let you.” I have to do this. “…please… just tell me.” Help me win him back over.
I have no choice... “You were going to propose... You were late for the date because you had to get the ring for him... Jean found out... He’s probably kept the ring with him since... He was heartbroken, he wanted you to remember... And do you remember any of the doctor’s visits?”

How much do you remember? Jean is probably not gonna wanna do anything with you... Knowing him he probably doesn’t have any viagra on him anymore...

Marco was quiet, thinking. “...Mr. Quo gave me the address for the place he got the ring for his wife... I remember deciding it sounded good, and going in... I had it made custom, I remember...” Marco smiled, thinking. “I knew he wouldn't want anything vaguely feminine, so it didn't have any gemstones... but it was both yellow and white gold, and etched really nicely... I dunno, it was nice, and he has two-toned hair... I thought it'd be perfect.” Marco thought some more. “Doctor’s visits... the ones with Casper? ...about Jean having ED?” He watched Eren nod with mild shock. “I thought those were just really weird and sarcastic dreams... apparently not. But... it does make a couple other memories make sense...” The ones where he’d take that pill before letting me have my way... He shivered as he thought about it for a moment. “...I kinda thought that by that point I would remember the first time I thought ‘I wanna marry him’ and I did... but I never really remembered what came after that... just lots of memories tangled up on the couch and then there are the memories of the dog and just... just coexisting all tangled up... it's nice to think about.” I miss it... I miss it all...

Eren sighed as he looked at Marco. “Marco... You can’t... Jean’s finally getting back to himself, okay?... You can’t do this... Jean... He... I’m sorry, but you fucking broke him when you left like that, he cried on the phone with me! He never calls me, Marco...” He sobbed on the phone until I lied to Lathe and went out to go comfort him...

Marco felt anger twist in him unexpectedly, gritting his teeth. “...I don't want to lose the man I want to marry just because of a damn car crash... it’s not like I wanted this to happen. It's not like I wanted to leave him. And just as I remember how much I love him, you're trying to convince me to move on because he has too. I... I don't think... I don't think he doesn't still wonder what it would be like if that crash hadn't happened and we were still together. ...I'm sorry Eren.” Marco stood, letting out a deep breath. “...I'll try to get this right.” I don't wanna break his heart again.

Eren watched him leave, shaking his head. They're both staying for dinner I take it...?

Marco went past his truck and across the street, Jean nowhere in sight though his truck was still parked in the lot. Inside? He went inside, waving to Lathe who looked quietly curious as he went inside. Where is he...? He heard quick footsteps, catching a glimpse of him as he slipped into a maintenance closet, sighing quietly. He's hiding from me? Really? Marco went up to the closet, opening the door to see Jean looking over a sparsely filled shelf, seeing the scarlet blush he was struggling to keep down. “Hey Jean... can we talk?” Marco didn't step too close to him, holding the door open to let him come out, not wanting him to feel cornered. Just be cool about this. Don't Jean looked over his shoulder for a moment, shaking his head. “Marco… I really don't think we should….” You left… You didn't stay when I was drunk… He looked down, his jaw set as he slipped out and walked past Marco towards his office. I don't really want to…

Marco looked defeated for a moment as Jean just ghosted past him, sighing, his eyes setting on him again and following, careful as he reached a gentle hand for his shoulder, just touching it, enough to turn him a bit. “Please Jean…” Marco looked for the right words, speaking before Jean could dismiss him again. “I know you've done so much to move on from me and you probably want nothing to do with me anymore after all the pain I put you through but I think I’ve finally come back to all my senses and I just… I’d really like it if we could talk a little… even if the most it does is give me a bit of closure about us not being together anymore.” ...at least help brace me for the rejection...

Jean was quiet for a moment before he pulled away and started walking from him. “Come on…” We can go to my office in the basement.... He walked without turning back, trying to look as emotionless as possible. He can't know I'm still hurting...

Marco gave him a tiny weary smile as he started them for his office, following him at a respectable distance. He was quiet when he was led downstairs, quietly thanking him as he held the door for him. He sat opposite Jean’s new desk, neither of them looking at the other, quiet for a moment. “......I know this whole thing of me trying to talk to you now is shitty and selfish of me and I’m sorry… because I know that it must hurt still… I left you when you were most vulnerable… ...I remember buying that ring, Jean. I'm so, so sorry I didn't even remember we had dated when I woke up.” He sighed quietly. “I…. It started to feel weird after a few months when I slept alone. ...it took me a while to realize it was because there wasn't someone to hold onto… and I remembered Curly when I set a bowl of dry cereal and a bowl of water on the ground for some reason… and when I realized that there wasn't anyone bugging me whenever I opened the back door. And… and everything came in little bits and pieces, sometimes I’d be in the middle of brushing my teeth and I'd remember the time you tickled me by surprise while I was brushing my teeth and the horrible mess that ended up being… and sometimes I just dreamed long memories, like when Dad took us fishing and you got so excited when you caught a sunfish that you kissed me on the cheek with Dad right there and normally you'd refuse to even touch me around him… and I remember all the random cooking lessons I had to give you when you tried making dinner and I you were so proud when you finally couldn't just make chicken cacciatore, you could pronounce it too…” Marco had his head in his hands, looking over the desk. “I thought all the memories of being in Casper’s office with you during those appointments were all just dreams because Casper was being so serious about gay sex and you were actually talking to him… but then I remembered every once in awhile I would have the dreams where we… where things get heated… and then you taking the pill just before it makes more sense. ..........I loved you.” Marco looked up to him nervously. “....and I'd be lying if I said it didn't hurt to hear everyone say not to try, that you'd moved on… and I know it’s so selfish to hope for anything besides ‘let's just stay friends.’” He looked away again. “I don't want to guilt you into anything… and I'm so sorry for stirring this up again… but I just really needed to tell you that… that I feel like I'm back to being Marco… …and that even if it's childish and selfish I don't want to have to let go too.” I'd love if we can go back to being us… and I can go back to living with you and laying on your chest as we watch Harry Potter marathons that we’re too busy making out during to really notice… I wanna learn what your hands all over me feel like all over again… please...

“I was holding a knife to myself when Eren found me…” I feel like I should tell you this… But I feel like it’s wrong to tell you…. “I called him because it hurt… And I know he’s tried… I couldn’t bring myself to do it no matter how much I wanted to… He talked me out of it… And I moved, erased your number from my phone… And deleted any messages from any unknown phone number… I had to get rid of Curly, cause I couldn’t pay for dog food… And my money that I earned went towards a new much smaller apartment, a gym membership and alcohol….. I don’t think you’d want me anymore… I’m not that Jean you used to know….” Not when you fucked with my head like that...I couldn’t deal with you leaving me...

Marco looked heartbroken to hear it, not knowing what to say. I... I broke you… “....I'm so... so sorry you had to go through what I made you… I never wanted this to happen… I always felt like everything was missing because so much time had passed and I remembered so little… I always ached… and even when I started to understand why, it's not like it helped make it stop… it just hurt even more when I felt the cold bed and knew someone was missing… I… I'm so sorry that everything broke you like that… I'm so sorry you lost me and couldn't even keep Curly… I'm so sorry…” He looked up to him. “...but I want to believe you're the same wonderful man I fell in love with.” you can do this. “....Jean, please, don't feel obligated to, but… we can try this again. We can try to go back to the ‘normal’ we had… if you want.” Please, say yes ....

Jean was quiet for a few seconds, before he stood, keeping his head down as he came around to the couch that was across from his desk. He stood in front of Marco for a moment before he kneeled down on the outside of his thighs, straddling him. I don't want you to leave me... His hands came up to cup Marco’s face. His own had tears streaming down each cheek as he shakily ducked down to steal a soft kiss. Please don't leave...

Marco had him wrapped up tightly in his arms the moment he settled in his lap, one hand familiarly running up and down his side. This feels.... He let his eyes flutter shut as he was kissed, warmth slowly blooming in his chest, the feeling squeezing on his heart. ...so familiar it hurts.... He slowly kissed him, his hands slowly roaming him. ...but I always topped... The notion finally clicked, Marco slowly shifting them, not breaking their lips apart as he sat Jean on the couch, one knee between his legs, his hands slowly running down his front. ...I missed you... He let his hands brush down to his slightly parted thighs, bravely cupping him and feeling him, not at all hard. *...Right. And I doubt you have any Viagra on you, so... Marco broke their kiss, slowly kissing over to his ear, massaging him through the fabric. “It's okay, Hon... I'll just have to work for it.” He nipped his ear. And I'm more than happy to oblige...

Jean shook his head, his blush going all the way down his neck. “It’s okay… really… even if I’m not hard… I won’t be anymore...” *I had one more meeting with Casper... and he said I'd probably never be able to get it up ever again… I’ve resigned myself to that fact… “T-There’s lube and condoms in the bottom drawer…” His breath was hitched as Marco nipped at his ear. He slowly slumped down to lay on the couch, his body shaking. I don’t know what to do…

Marco gave him a sympathetic look, softly kissing his neck. “I’m sorry babe… I want to take good care of you anyways. Of course I will.” He gave his neck a soft kiss before leaving for the desk, quickly rummaging for the tube and package. “I’m not going to ask why you have these…” He came back, straddling Jean’s lap. “…was it because you knew I would be hired here too…?” He ducked his head down to kiss at his neck again, tugging at his shirt, wanting it off. I wanna kiss everywhere… I wanna make up for lost time… He managed to get it off, his hands running down his abs. “They’re even better than before…” He ducked down, not even trying to resist the urge to kiss and lick every last line of them. I wanna make you feel really good… I wanna make love to you… and I wanna at least try to give you one more release… even if that’s all you’ll be able to manage for the rest of the time we’re together…

Jean smiled, gasping as Marco’s mouth latched onto him. Oh shit… He’s really gonna try and get me hard… isn’t he? He could feel the blush come out of his pale skin, making his chest look rosy. He let out a soft whimper when Marco expertly located all his sensitive areas one by one, and he felt the blood rush south for the first time in months. He might actually get it… “N-No… In case I…. I-I ever got h-hard out of the blue…” I wasn’t going to miss an opportunity if it presented itself…

“You wanted everything you’d need to take care of yourself…” Marco gently sucked on one of his rosy buds, Jean slowly shifting underneath him. I can understand that. Marco slowly lapped at his bud, his fingers hooking in his pants, wanting them gone too. …though… “I guess to be fair…” He was about to take off his own shirt when Jean stopped him, letting him help take it off slowly and sensually, revealing his tan skin, a bit heavier than he was when they dated, the lines of his body soft. He was about to speak with worry when he felt his hands move all over his sides, sighing as he saw the loving look in Jean’s eyes. … I don’t have to worry…

Jean’s hands glided over Marco’s soft flesh, his thumbs massaging his hips and hooking into his pants. “A-Are you sure?” If we do this… You’re not allowed to leave… “You can back out now…. But if we do this… I’m never gonna let you fucking leave my sight…” Jean’s tone was serious, his eyes portraying complete sadness with lust and warmth underneath it all.

Marco drank in the emotions mixing in his eyes, slowly leaning over him and laying on top of him, oh so slowly grinding their hips together, feeling a beat of victory when Jean’s legs eased open even more for him. His lips brushed his ear, his voice low. “If only I had a ring with me…” He gently nipped his ear, kissing the spot behind it. “I’m going to do everything I can to stay with you, even if it kills me. I want to keep you, Jean. I wanna have you. I want to make you feel loved.” He slowly kissed his neck, feeling Jean’s hands slowly come up to hold his hair. I wanna love you.
Jean let soft moans escape his throat as his hands ran up Marco’s sides and into his hair, holding onto him tightly. I want this to last… please tell me this isn’t a dream… “M-Marco…” He moaned out Marco’s name as he felt the heat slowly beginning to pool in his nether region. Maybe I can get hard… maybe Casper was wrong?

Marco smirked as he heard Jean moan, kissing his chest. “You sound so beautiful, Jean…. you’re so handsome…” Marco slowly pulled Jean’s jeans down, easing his thighs open for him, slowly kissing up the soft inside of one as his other hand ran over the other, brushing close to his nether. His hand drifted to his still-clothed length, looking over as he felt it. He’s getting hard. “You’re getting hard, Jean… is that how good this feels?” I know the one time I actually did a tiny bit of dirty talk you loved it… just small stuff…. Marco nibbled the flesh, going to gently nip at his clothed length, the bulge slowly growing. “I wonder what would make you rock hard… would it be when I’m gently nipping your base? When I’m sucking your tip and running my tongue over your slit? Or maybe when I’m slowly fucking you into the couch? I wonder how long it’d take me to make you cum…” He hooked his fingers in the waistband of his boxers. “I’d make love to you all night until I made you cum…” I would…

Jean let out a high pitched cry as Jean nipped at his growing base. “F-Fuck… M-Marco…” Jean stuttered as he looked down at Marco’s eyes, seeing how dark with lust they were. Oh shit… He’s gonna do all of that isn’t he? “P-Please …” He begged, moving his hips into Marco’s hands. I want them off.

Marco let his eyelashes flutter as he slowly dragged his boxers down, revealing his half-hard length. He immediately dove in, his hands running over his thighs, keeping them open for him as he slowly licked and nipped at his base. I wanna make you scream and moan and cry out until you lose your voice… Marco let his lips brush up his length before pressing a gentle kiss to his tip, slowly starting to suck on him. He tastes the same… like Jean.. and it's still… different… and a good kind of different.

Jean’s eyes were wide as his hands went directly to Marco’s hair, gripping at it. “F-Fuck…” He felt his whole body go rigid as he felt his blood rush to groin and feeling it fully harden for the first time since he’d been diagnosed. Oh my god…. I… I’m hard… Marco got me hard… He felt his toes curling, and his legs instantly wrapped around Marco’s shoulders to keep him in place.

Marco slowly sucked on him, bobbing his head. His hands roamed over every bit of his skin that they could reach, coating him with saliva. He wasn’t done when he pulled off of his length, dipping down to even give his balls some attention. I wanna relearn everything about you…

Jean gave a soft gasp before a loud and needy groan ripped from his throat. Oh my god… He shifted a bit, to better display his ass for Marco, his hands still tangled in Marco’s dark brown hair. “M-Marco… I-I need you please…” He begged him, wanting him to hurry at least a little bit. I can’t take it like this anymore… I want you, I want you to love me again…
Marco chuckled quietly, lapping at the skin before pressing a small kiss to his needy hole. “Don't worry… you'll have me.” Marco cupped his cheek, a gentle touch so that he knew he would be sated soon. I'll love you. Always. Marco reached for where the small tube and condoms had fallen, getting the lube and slicking his fingers. “I'll be careful, Hon. Tell me if it hurts.” He slowly lapped at his neck as he traced the pucker with his finger, slowly slipping it inside. Tell me how it feels...

Jean hissed at first, instantly tightening around his finger. His nails gripped into Marco’s bare skin, trying to open the skin. I can’t... It’s gonna hurt all over again... “Slow... please...” I haven’t done anything to myself while you were gone. He whimpered as he tried to shift to a comfortable position.

Marco nodded, slowly reaching his other hand to give his length slow pumps as he adjusted, wanting to keep him feeling pleasure. I want you feeling good... I know it must hurt after so long... “Tell me when you're ready for more, Hon...”

Jean nodded, slowly relaxing around his finger. “Slowly... please... Y-You can put more in...” His voice was small as he reached his hands up to hide his face as Marco focused on his lower half. God this is embarrassing...

Marco slowly began slipping in a second finger, lightly nibbling at his neck. “Please babe, don't hide your face... I love all the expressions you make.... I still have the image of the face you make when you cum seared into my mind... beautiful...” Marco softly kissed his neck. It's okay.

Jean swallowed thickly, looking away as he slowly uncovered his face. “B-But it’s embarrassing...” My face is flushed... I’m a grown ass man for crying out loud... I shouldn’t be reacting like a freaking virgin...

Marco leaned up, softly kissing his cheeks. “It's not embarrassing, Jean... the expressions that you make every time we’ve made love... I love all of them... you're so handsome it hurts...” He pressed closed, very slowly thrusting his fingers in and out of his entrance. “You're just perfect for me...”

“He... Ngh...” Jean shook his head as Marco spoke. “I’m not perfect, Marco...” I know I’m not perfect in any way, shape, or form. He hissed in pleasure when Marco’s fingers brushed over his bundle of nerves. It feels so good... I’m still hard... “M-Marco... I’m gonna need a condom t-too...” He shuddered at the thought of being able to cum for the first time since he started taking Viagra. Maybe this is what I needed?
Marco nodded, still kissing up his neck. “Okay, Hon. Just breathe.” Marco slowly prodded for the bundle of nerves, easing in a third finger a bit after. He still slowly rubbed his length, his hand twisting. “Feeling good, Hon?” I want you on cloud nine...

Jean’s hand went to grab at Marco’s wrist. “M-Marco… I’m not kidding…” I can feel the heat building… I’m not gonna be able to hold it if I cum… He whimpered, arching his back with a moan as his prostate was rubbed forcefully. Yes please...

Marco immediately slowed his ministrations, his hand leaving Jean’s length. “…I’m sorry Hon… but you can’t cum just yet…” He moved to get him a condom, his hand still buried inside of him. He tore the wrapper with his teeth, slowly rolling it down his length. “Almost there, Hon. You'll have me soon. So soon.” You're almost stretched enough...

Jean whimpered against the gentle touch as the condom was rolled onto him. Fuck… Fuck fuck fuck… He cried out as Marco rubbed at his prostate again shifting to try and push back on it. I want to cum...

Marco slowly sucked on his neck, knowing he was leaving a hickey as his fingers slipped from his heat. “Almost, babe…” Marco murmured reassurances to him as he quickly shed his pants and boxers and rolled on a condom, coating himself generously with lube. His hands slowed after that, tenderly holding his waist, looking up to him. “Tell me when, Hon.” His tip lightly brushed his entrance. I'll go at whatever pace you need.

Jean nodded, moving his legs to wrap around his waist. “Please… Please Marco… I want you…” He didn’t know why but he could feel his face heating up. I want you to hold me again…. Please… I missed you so much. “I l-love you…” His words came out with a hiccup as fresh tears rolled down his face.

Marco let one hand come up to his face, brushing away the tears that he could. “I love you too, Jean… so much…” He slowly pushed inside of him, both of them panting as they slid closer and closer, their hips soon flush, scrambling to pull the other flush with their bared skin. He's so warm… “Tell me when to move, love… tell me how you want me to love you…”

Jean picked his head up, burying his face into Marco’s shoulder as he wrapped himself around him. “I want your everything… make me forget we were apart… I don’t care if it hurts… I want you …” His voice was shaky at best as he clung to him, sniffling as he cried still. I want you to fuck me into oblivion… Maybe I’ll be able to get hard if you do this more… Maybe I’m not impotent after all?

Marco nodded, his hands gripping him solidly. He slowly drew out before thrusting back inside of him, relishing in the deep blissful gasp as he ground into him. “You sound so sexy…” Marco kissed his neck, starting to suck more hickeys onto his skin as he started a steady pace, wanting Jean to adjust to him at least a bit before he got carried away.

He couldn’t help the absolutely wrecked noises that were leaving his throat, his hands gripping into Marco’s bareback. The burn of being stretched was slowly being replaced with the pleasure he had known so long ago. “Marco…” His voice was high as he let out a breathy moan, his eyes closed in utter ecstasy. I want more.

Marco let the moans drive his motions, soon finding himself pounding into Jean as he sucked mark after dark mark at his throat, feeling dangerously possessive. You’re mine. “Jean… oh Jean…” He could feel the heat between his legs, panting as he heated up. I’m getting close… “Jean… I’m getting close, love…”

Jean shook his head, clinging to Marco. “D-Don’t leave… please…” His voice sounded desperate before a loud cry filled the large office as he came, filling his condom. He felt his body go slack, his grip loosening. “Shit… Marco…” He whined as he felt that he was still hard between the two of them. Fuck… It feels so good after so long…

Marco sped up as he came, finding himself dangerously close. Jean’s cry was enough to force him over the edge, his own release soon following him, panting as he rested on his chest. He’s still hard… Marco sighed, gently rolling his hips, hearing Jean let out a quiet moan. “…if I get each of us a new condom… will you let me make love to you?”

Jean was quick to nod. “Y-Yeah… please…” His hands were shaking as he reached in between the two of them to take off his condom, noticing how full it was and how red his member was. Fuck… I’ve been blue balled for too long…

Marco threw them both away, about to roll a new one onto him when he changed his mind, dipping his head down. He slowly lapped at his length, tasting the remains of his release, cleaning his length. He gave it a teasing suck before he pulled off, rolling on the condom. He did the same for himself, lining himself up and slowly pushing in again, both of them sighing as he started a deep, slow pace.

Jean could feel the tears bubbling in his eyes once again. “F-Fuck… Marco… I-I’m a mess…” I can’t keep it together… what’s it gonna look like when we walk out of here? He let out a soft sigh as Marco ground deeper into him. He feels so good… Better than what I remember.

Marco just kissed his cheeks, his voice soft. “You're so handsome, Jean. It's okay to cry, it's okay.
I'm here.” He paused, looking over his teary, lovesick expression. “I love you so much, Jean.” I really do…..

Jean whimpered, wrapping his arms around Marco’s shoulders, trying to pull him down. I want you to kiss me… Please kiss me! I want to know you love me.... He let out another sigh as Marco complied and kissed him deeply. He opened his mouth up to let his tongue in, his heels digging into Marco’s back to push him in deeper. It feels so good… Jean felt the tears roll down his cheeks as they kissed, not caring at the moment that he was a complete mess. Marco seems to love it....

Marco happily kissed him, his tongue prying into his mouth, tasting him. He was as close as he could be to him while still able to thrust as hard into his heat. I love this so much...

Jean whimpered occasionally, his body shaking with need and want, trying to get all of Marco wrapped up around him. Shit… I really hope I don’t regret this anytime soon… His hands started to thread through Marco’s hair, feeling the heat beginning to surge towards his lower half all over again. I want it…

Marco held him as close as he could manage, murmuring sweet praises in his ears at every moan and sigh, at every twitch and quiver. He’s so…… he’s perfect… “Jean… I’m gonna cum….”

Marco held onto him tightly, never wanting to let go.

Jean groaned, holding him closer, his lips moving to latch onto Marco’s ear. “Please…. Marco… I want your everything…” And I want to be able to sleep with you by my side… and not a bottle of liquor...

Marco let out a low moan in his ear, grinding deeply into him. “Okay, love…” He picked up the pace a bit from his slow thrusts, steadily driving deeply into him. I hope it feels as good as it does for me.... “O- Oh …. Jean...” Marco let out a choked sound, crying out into his shoulder as he came a second time, thrusting even harder into him as he did. So good...

Jean let out a loud cry, his arms clinging to Marco as he came again, filling the condom. Oh my god… The complete bliss he felt had him hold onto Marco where he was, trapping him. He tilted his head a bit, kissing at Marco’s neck lazily. “D-Do you wanna come home with me tonight?” I hope you will… I don’t want to sleep alone knowing that I could have you to curl up to...

“Please…” Marco sighed as he settled on his chest, a look of peace on his face. “I miss sharing the bed with someone… I miss holding onto you….” ...maybe after we get used to it again I can move in again….? I'd love to... “And when we get used to being with each other again… I can get all my stuff from my Dad’s?” I’d like that...
Jean nodded against shoulder, keeping his whole body wrapped around Marco so he couldn’t pull out quite yet. “I don’t wanna let go…” He whispered quietly, his voice sounding hurt as he clung to him. Even his legs were wrapped around Marco’s waist, keeping him against him in warm bliss.

I don’t want to leave… This could be a dream…

Marco nodded, shifting to sit up with Jean still in his lap and firmly sunk onto his softening length. He murmured as Jean desperately whimpered, holding him reassuringly. “I’m not letting go yet, babe, it's okay.” sitting back and letting his hands run up and down his back. He softly kissed at his shoulder and neck, kissing the marks he’d left. “I'm sorry, I kinda left a lot of hickeys….”

You’ll be really hot while you're working the next couple of days if you can't ditch your shirt.

Jean nodded, still holding onto him, and kissing at Marco’s neck as well, though he didn’t leave any hickeys. “I don’t care….” I can just say they're bruises if I need to take my shirt off. He shuddered as Marco’s lips latched onto yet another patch of skin behind his ear, a soft whine escaping him. Fuck… His mouth, I miss having him all over me… “Y-You actually got me h-hard too…” And kept me hard…

Marco smirked, a glimmer of victory in his eyes. “I wanted to make you feel good… I guess it worked. Casper can suck it.” He nipped his neck a bit more roughly. “You deserved to be loved like this… you deserve better than what I can give you after how long it's been…” You deserve everything…

Jean shook his head moving his neck away from him and cupping his cheek so he looked up. “I just want you, Marco….” He leaned in for a lazy kiss, enjoying how their lips tangled. I want this to not be a dream… I really do…

Marco smiled faintly, one arm wrapped around Jean’s waist, the other slowly moving over his shoulders, playing with the shorter hair at the nape of his neck. He held him close as they made out, enjoying the hands running all over him. He's… I missed you so much… He broke their kiss for a moment some time later, pecking the corner of his lips and glancing up to the clock, his eyebrows shooting up. We’ve been here a while… “Wanna get dressed and go have dinner? I'm sure Lathe invited you to stay for food too… and if not, he’ll let you anyway.” He gives too many shits about us. And he can be a bit of a pushover sometimes, especially when it comes to feeding people.

“Yes… that’s fine.” He murmured, whimpering as he shifted off of Marco’s limp length, not wanting to get off of him. He’ll probably think it's weird that I still want him buried inside me… He looked at everywhere but Marco as he took his condom off, tied it and threw it away, scooping up his clothes to start getting dressed quickly. I wish I had time to take a shower, I look like a fucking mess, I can feel how puffy my eyes are…
Marco poured as Jean seemed to move too quickly, doing the same with his own condom though he caught Jean by the waist, feeling him freeze up. He gently pulled him back to his chest, softly pecking across his shoulder. “Relax, Jean… it's okay. We're in no real hurry. And you don't have to be embarrassed about how you look. I can still read your mind.” He turned his head with his hand, softly kissing his cheek. “You look unbearably handsome, Jean, and you don't have to give a shit what the people at dinner are gonna think about how you look. They've always been family, Jean. That didn't stop when you stopped going to dinner. It's okay.” It really is. They all care about you.

Jean was frozen inside of Marco’s arms, shaking his head. “I doubt they’d want to see me look like I’ve been crying… I-I should go home…” He swallowed thickly As he pulled on his shirt, still not looking directly at Marco. Marco wouldn't want you back…. Why would you think any of this is anything but a dream?

Marco took gentle hold of his chin when he tugged on his shirt, quietly coaxing him to look at him. “Jean, these are the same people that giggled the entire time we explained hickeys to a nine-year-old and make fun of each other for having them. These are the same people who’ve invited you over every Saturday for a feast and even decided you deserved chance after chance when you kept being an ass to Eren and let you come back for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Lathe hooked you up with a job I'm sure is paying a hell of a lot more than anything else you don't need a degree for and they're all trying to make you feel welcome again. They all kept sending you food to make sure you were eating until you changed apartments and nobody could find you. They all care so much about you, and I'm sure they'll understand if you feel brave enough to go over there with me and let me hold your hand. It doesn't matter that your eyes are a bit red. They all know how much this whole thing has hurt you and if anything they'll be so happy that this is the end of all that sadness.” They all love you. They're family.

Jean shook his head. “This is all just a dream… Isn’t it? I should go home before I even think it’s reality… It can’t be real, Marco wouldn’t want me back… You’re just a figment of my imagination.” I really wish you weren’t… But you are …

Marco just gave him a look. “I give an emotional speech and that's the reaction. If I smack you, will the pain prove to you that this is real?” I just wanna go eat food with you and play footsie under the table so you can stop looking so damn miserable.

Jean turned to Marco, looking like he was about to cry all over again. “Marco I can’t tell what’s real and what’s not anymore! Okay?!” He practically screamed. “I can’t fucking tell anymore! One night I’m laying next to you! And then the next I’m at your fucking funeral!” He screamed at him, having finally snapped, tears beginning to stream down his face. “I can’t tell what’s reality anymore, for all a I know I drank myself to sleep and this is a liquor induced dream which I wish was reality but isn’t!” His voice was broken and full of pain as he screamed at Marco. I can’t tell anymore… I wanna be able to tell, but I can’t…
Marco looked stunned, carefully reaching for him when he stopped, cupping one cheek, his thumb gently running over his skin. Jean looked broken, and Marco picked his words carefully. “Jean…” He slowly stepped closer, enveloping him in his arms, burying his nose in his neck. “I’m so, so sorry I did that to you… I can’t apologize enough for all the pain you’ve endured… I want to help you learn what’s real. And I’m real. Right now, I’m here. And it’s okay if you don’t believe me until you wake up in two months and realize this is one hell of a long dream- too long to be a dream. It’s okay. We have time. And if you don’t wanna go to dinner and maybe wanna let me take you out somewhere or would rather go back to your place and order pizza and just lay on the couch… all of that is okay. We can do whatever you want now. It’s okay. Whatever will make you happy.” I just want you to be happy...

Jean sniffled as Marco held him. “W-We can go to d-dinner…” I have a feeling this is just a long ass dream… Might as well make the best of it right? He gave Marco a weak smile as he pulled away. You should get dressed...

Marco gave him a weary smile, gently pecking his nose. “Okay, Hon. Let’s get dressed, okay?” He let his hands slip from him, going to gather up his own clothes. He was dressed soon enough, reaching for Jean’s hand as he awkwardly shuffled near the stairs. He laced their fingers, feeling his chest flutter. “Is this okay?”

Jean nodded, following him silently. Yeah, this is okay… I’m gonna wake up from this to have been a dream… Aren’t I?

Marco let them past Lathe’s empty office and out of the building, walking with him across the street and up to the house. He gave Jean’s hand a reassuring squeeze when he knocked, taking a deep breath himself. It’s okay.

There was a couple of excited voices all piping up at the idea of guests, hearing someone shuffling to the door. “Chill, back up, make way-” James opened the door with Mila securely in one arm, stopping at looking at them for a moment. …hm. I thought …. Not anymore? …. oh. He smiled warmly to them, backing up. “Come in, please. Guys, back up, please!” James looked to the flock of kids with exasperation, shooing them out of the way. They love guests, of course.

Jean didn’t know what to do as the children all giggled and ran back to the kitchen table. Maybe this wasn’t a good idea? His grip was tight on Marco’s hand as they were led inside to the kitchen table and given seats next to each other. Jean didn’t look up as Eren came around to fill their bowls with soup and such…. I don’t wanna look up...

Lathe came around with a few stray plates of food, setting down the basket of rolls in front of the two of them. He rested his hand on Jean’s shoulder, smiling when the man looked up nervously. “I'm happy for you two.” I'm so glad things are working out. He let them be at that, going to sit at his place when everything was at the table. I won't press too much.

Jean was confused for a moment, watching him move back to his seat. Happy? But you're never happy with me... You hate me being here... You gave me the job out of pity... Did you even give me a job or did I imagine it? Jean’s brow furrowed as he struggled to fight the urge to curl up to himself. He let go of Marco’s hand, grabbing at his shirt near the hem and tugging it.

Marco looked over when he saw Jean’s head duck down, seeing him nearing a nervous breakdown. “Jean?” He looked worried, his voice a whisper as he leaned over to him, resting a hand lightly on his back. “Do you just wanna go home? We don't have to stay here.” It's okay.

Jean shook his head, fighting the urge to pull his feet up to his chest. He wasn’t expecting to hear Blake bark at him and slowly clamber up in his chair. Fuck... The dog, no... why.... Jean looked at Blake with broken eyes for a moment, too scared to see what the reactions around the table would be as he heard everyone quiet. This isn’t okay...

Marco watched Jean look nervously at Blake, the dog licking his cheek. Marco took gentle hold of Jean because Blake couldn’t, slowly coaxing him out of the chair and onto the floor. Marco held him while Blake licked his cheeks, Maisie nudging his foot and Mikhail watching from his spot next to Eren with perked ears. “It's okay, love.... It's okay.” Marco murmured soothingly to him, sighing in relief as Jean reached out shakily to pet Blake. You can do this. You're fine.

Jean felt his ears ringing as he pet Blake, the warmth on his back feeling comforting yet foreign all the same. What is this? What’s happening to me? I don’t understand ... Jean’s vision grew blurry before he realized that he was crying. Oh my god.... Why? Why can’t I tell?

Everyone at the table was very quiet, James silently motioning for the kids to not stare and go back to their food, a worried look on his face. Lathe and Eren both moved to kneel by them, the older man murmuring first. “Would you feel better if you laid down for a bit, Hon?” He looked to Jean worriedly. You look really out of sorts... I guess this whole situation with Marco can do that to you... given all the pain it's already caused you... I'm not surprised this is a really emotional transition...

Jean shook his head, his hands leaving Blake and gripping onto his shirt, which caused him to curl up to himself against Marco even more. I can’t... I don’t... I don’t wanna wake up.... “I don’t wanna wake up....” I like this dream... It's gonna fall apart soon...
... oh. He thinks it's a dream. Lathe and Eren shared a glance before the two of them and Marco did, all understanding. He doesn't want it to be. “Jean, hey, it's okay. Try not to curl up so tight, okay? Just breathe.” He watched as Marco turned Jean sideways in his lap, helping the two-toned man to unfurl a little bit. How to get him to realize this isn't a dream..... …… well …. “This isn't a dream, Jean, we promise.” ……he'd probably think it's dumb... but... maybe it'd help? “…would it make you feel better if we walked you through the dream tests?” He spoke when he saw the confused look he was given. “The dream tests are three simple things you can do to check if you're dreaming. People use them to help improve lucid dreaming abilities, but they work for any dreams. Do you want to try them? It might help.”

Jean looked at Lathe with confusion before he nodded, looking down at where his hands were clutching his shirt. What am I supposed to do? Is this a way to trick me? I don't want the dream to end... Because it's too good to be true...

Lathe smiled faintly. “Okay, Jean. They're all really easy. You see the big clock there?” He pointed to the wall clock, the hands slowly ticking away. “Read the time and remember it.” He waited for him to nod after a moment. “Now just look away from it, look anywhere. Then, all you have to do is look again and check that it's the same time. A lot of the time in dreams the time changes randomly or the words of a book or on a piece of paper become complete nonsense. Is it the same?”

Jean was afraid to look but he was relieved for only a moment to see that the clock was the same time. But what if I'm just imagining it? What If I'm imagining that it's the same? Jean looked vaguely confused as he sat up, rubbing at his head. Is... Is this real?

Lathe smiled as he saw the momentary relief. “Okay, second one?” He waited patiently for the slow nod. “Okay. Look at your hands. All you have to do is study them.” Lathe watched him confusedly unlatch them from his shirt and inspect them. “Our hands and feet are complicated parts of the body. Because they're so far away from the rest of our bodies, and because they're so complex, it's easy to dream them up incorrectly. Do they look right? Nothing extra, nothing missing or blurry?”

“Y-Yeah...” Jean’s voice was still weak, though he seemed more relieved than ever. What's the last one...? I... It seems like this is real... But I'm not sure...

Lathe nodded. “Good, there's just one more. If this is a lucid dream, you'd be the one in control of it, and normal functions would be thrown out the window. So it's going to sound silly, but pinch your nose, then close your mouth, and see if you can still breathe.” Try it. It's the one test you really can't get around.

Jean was quiet for a moment before he nodded, pinching his nose and covering his mouth to try and breathe. When he realized he couldn’t he shuddered a sigh in relief and wrapped his arms around Marco and started to cry. It’s real... This is really real... Oh thank god...

Marco gave Lathe a look of gratitude, wrapping Jean up securely in his arms. “It's okay Jean, I'm real, it's all real... I'm here for you babe, it's okay...” He softly kissed his temple, trying to soothe him as he cried. It's okay now. You know it's real. You're a lot more sure than you were before. It's okay.

Jean sighed in relief, pulling Marco down for a rough kiss, not caring that it was rough. I want you to hold me... I really do... Please hold me, because I want you more that anything ... His hands were clutching Marco by his shoulders, wanting him to understand.

Marco cupped his cheeks as Eren and Lathe respectfully looked away and moved to go back to their seats, knowing that things had been fixed. He kissed him back just as forcefully, his arms solidly winding around him, keeping him even closer to his chest. He broke from him after a long moment, murmuring against his lips. “Jean… I’ll ravish you when we get home… let's try to eat for right now, hm?” He sighed as Jean pouted, hanging onto him tighter. “…you can sit in my lap if you want.” You'll probably take me up on that.

Jean nodded, moving to go sit between Marco and the table, enjoying that Marco’s arms were wrapped around him....

Marco kept his front pressed to Jean’s back, usually keeping one hand on Jean’s thigh, gently running his thumb over the denim. When we get home, you’re all mine... Dinner passed easily after that, most of the people at the table trying to hide their giggling as Jean made himself at home in Marco’s lap. He smiled as they were given cake for dessert, not giving a single shit and insisting on feeding Jean the cake. Because I want to.

Jean’s eyes widened as Marco started to feed him, but he gave in without any resistance. I like this... I really like this a lot... He ate without a fight, glaring at Eren as he rolled his eyes and went to take Mila from James to keep her occupied while he got dessert. I think I can handle this... Especially if he comes home with me...

Marco smiled as Jean cooperated, watching a tiny bit of frosting get stuck in the corner of his lips. “You have something…” He leaned in to kiss it away, smirking as Jean flushed. “…There.” I wanna show you off... you’re mine. Nobody else's.

Jean’s entire face flushed in embarrassment, moving to hide his face in Marco’s shoulder. “M-Marco…” He whined softly, leaning his head down to hide his face. You are being so Tucker looked over where Henry was sitting as he picked at his cake. Why the hell is he still here? All he’s done is hit on me all day! I don’t get it… Why do you keep trying? He kept his head down as Henry looked up. I hate it, don’t you realize that? I want to stay away from you! You keep working your way in! I don’t want that anymore…

Henry internally sighed as Marco kept feeding Jean, looking over to Tucker. If they can work shit out… why can’t we? I want this to work, dammit… Henry didn’t realize he was staring at Tucker until all of a sudden they were making eye contact, a tiny bit startled. He soon just gave him a soft smile, winking bravely before turning back to his cake and hoping his hair hid the scarlet blush that crept down his neck. I don’t know what to do… It’s not as easy as just getting up and kissing you… I’d get punched for that.

Tucker looked away a blush on his face as well. Shit… He’s too goofy for his own good… What am I supposed to do about that? He shook his head focusing on his cake, and immediately getting up to help Eren with dishes. I don’t want to talk anymore… I know that Eren’s gotten accustomed to it too, just incase Mila grows up mute as well, he wants to be prepared, he’s tried to teach me sign language…. But texting is just so much easier… and Henry blows up my phone… Can’t you take a hint? That if I don’t text you I don’t want to talk to you? He grit his teeth and his brow furrowed as he dried off the plates, not realizing how tight his grip was until he broke a plate and shattered it in his hand. Huh?

Lathe looked shocked as the plate in Tucker’s hand suddenly broke, looking worried. “Whoa, just set the pieces down, did you cut your hand?” Lathe inspected his hand, finding all the cuts on his hands. “What the hell happened? What’s wrong?” Lathes voice was hushed, looking at him incredulously. What the hell is going on?

Tucker’s brow furrowed as he let Lathe hold his hands and take the shards out of his hand, grimacing as they were pulled out. I don’t have my phone on me… Dammit… He looked back to where the kids had dispersed and Eren was picking up the dishes and scraps from the table. Henry was staring back at him and he set his jaw again, glaring at him. Why the fuck are you still here!?

Lathe followed Tucker’s line of sight, sadness settling in his gut….oh. “Tucker, Honey…” Lathe looked to him seriously, his voice quiet. “…I know there’s a lot going on in your mind about what happened, but he genuinely cares about you and the solution is not to be a dick to him. At least be civil, okay? I know he's probably not taking no for an answer- he's a persistent kid- but have some patience. Maybe trying to work something peaceful out would be easier than hating him.” He's been hitting on you every single time I looked outside- I could see it. He gives many a shit about you.
Tucker shook his head, angrily glaring at Henry before huffing and crossing his arm over his chest, the other still held by Lathe as he took out the pieces. I don’t have my phone so I can’t even argue with you about how annoying it is! I stopped talking because of him! And he doesn’t realize a damn thing! He winced when Lathe pulled out a big piece, which happened to be the first bleeder. Fuck, that hurt…

Lathe lightly smacked the back of his head, giving Tucker a disapproving look. “If you're gonna be an asshole about all of this, at least wait until I'm not around to see it.” You're pushing it. “I get that his persistence is probably annoying as hell as the stuff he did scared the everliving crap out of you but you need to understand that not all relationships go over the exact same way.” Lathe gently rinsed his hand of blood before continuing. “I have no real idea as to why you detest the idea of a relationship with him so much besides the fact of how your first crush ended up. But this is a different situation entirely, Tucker, and you need to understand that. You're the same age, you actually know him and have spent plenty of time together, and a great deal of the time you're under supervision where nothing bad would last for more than a second or two tops. Why the actual hell do you hate him? Because it'd be so much easier if he didn't give a shit about you? It doesn't look like that working, Tucker. He seriously cares. And I know him well enough to know it's legitimate. I hope at some point you grow up enough to realize that. …I know you can't exactly respond to me right now, but honestly, that's not the point right now.” He handed him his phone anyway, a new note open. “I'm so done with this whole situation.”

Tucker’s brow was furrowed as he listened to Lathe. I don’t want to talk with him, I don’t like him eyeing me up! Why do you keep letting him over? I haven’t talked at all because of him! Why are you swearing at me? You never ask if I’m okay with him around! Why don’t you ever think of how I feel about everything that happened? Tucker kept his head down taking his hand from Lathe once he was done and giving back the phone. He turned, moving to the table to grab his own phone. No one thinks of me… No one ever thought of me, why did I think this place would be any different?

Lathe read over everything, his face darkening a bit. He gave Eren a look, watching him nod and go to get a container for soup before going to grab Tucker’s arm, marching him out of the dining room into the downstairs nook. He sat Tucker down, sitting next to him and looking to him evenly. “Tucker, first off, this entire situation isn’t just about you. There's a lot more to this situation than you think. Do you honestly think the only reason I invite him to dinner so much is just to torture you? Don't tell me you haven't seen me send him home every single time with extra food. We’re both aware that in his house, money is tight and he could use the extra food. It's why all three of them come over on Saturdays. It's not to torture you. And I’m sorry that you feel that way because of all the pestering on Henry’s part, but don't try to tell me I haven't asked how you feel when every time I try to ask you flat-out ignore me. You've shoved away every memory from it and I've been trying to get through to you so maybe something could be solved but you haven't let any of it work. And I know that it can be a bit uncomfortable with all the flirting, but I'm sure he feels a bit uncomfortable with all the iciness you've been showing him for months. He keeps trying to either fix things or convince you that he's nothing to be afraid of and you've just met him with a lot of anger. And I swore at you because I'm fed up with how childish you've been about this when it'd be so much more easy to at least pretend to be civil. You could at least not glare at him every goddamn time you see him and maybe things would work out a little less shitty than they feel right now.” I'm so over this.

Tucker was quiet as he listened his brow furrowing as he thought about everything Lathe said. I don’t want him to think that he has a chance though… What he did before… I don’t want to go through that again… If I stop glaring he’s gonna end up trying to do that again. He closed his eyes, putting his face in his hands and let out a loud muffled groan, a way that he would get out his frustrations as of late. Tucker took a deep breath, only nodding and locking his phone. With my luck I’ll get grounded… maybe it’ll work if I just ignore him altogether? That way I won’t glare at him...

Lathe sighed, snatching the back of his shirt and sitting Tucker back down. “Oh no, not yet. In a minute. …..I hope you know that if you are straightforward with him enough and say ‘I don’t want to date’ in a text or especially face to face it would be a lot more effective than ignoring him and hoping he gets the hint. If you're really uninterested, just let him know without having to make guesses based on the hints you dropped. At least tell him to wait until you're ready for an actual relationship. Something.” Anything.

Tucker nodded, looking down to his phone as he opened it up. Shit… Do I really have to tell him? I don’t want a relationship… I’m scared it’s gonna happen again… You can tell me how you feel Henry would react with me… But I can’t… Not after what happened. I like him, but I can’t handle him staring at me… Or trying to flirt, I don’t want any type of relationship… At all… I know what his family situation is! But I don’t want to have to deal with him! I can’t refuse him because I like him too! But I’m so utterly afraid of a relationship… I hate it… But I’ll stop glaring at him… I wanna keep my distance because he shouldn’t be interested in me, he can pick any girl he wanted just off of his looks. I can’t take his request seriously, and I hate that he tries to get me to talk by goofing off! He did it during the camp today! All day! Just to get my attention! He’s going to lengths he shouldn’t be going and it’s freaking me out. Tucker handed his phone over as he curled up into a ball. You can’t always look and see how I feel about his flirtatious nature, it’s scary… I mask my fear with anger, because if you show fear they'll overpower you...

Lathe sighed as he read Tucker’s text, sighing. “…I'm sorry, Tucker. It's okay. You're right that no means no… and with what you've been through it's very understandable. I know that he wouldn’t do anything you don't want… but that's not going to change anything. I’m sorry.” Lathe handed his phone back. “You're old enough to make your own decision about this. I'm sorry I keep forgetting that.” I'll back off.

Tucker took the phone back, silently reaching his palm out for Lathe, having quickly learned that it was for apologizing. He kept his head down, knowing that he should be lucky that Lathe even thought about how he felt in this situation. Why does he have to keep trying…? But I still have to apologize though, because apparently being an ass is bad if you don’t want someone hitting on you…. He kept his head down, and eyes focused on his rough hands, his eyes swirling with mixed emotions that Lathe couldn’t see.
Lathe ran his hand down Tucker’s palm, opening his arms, silently asking for a hug. He smiled as Tucker accepted, running a hand through his hair. “Just be straight with him about it. And whatever happens, I’m here for you, okay?” Lathe felt Tucker nod, smiling and pecking his forehead. “Okay. Come on, Hon.” It'll be okay. Lathe stood, walking back into the kitchen, seeing Henry still shuffling his feet by his chair, his bag over his shoulder. He's waiting for Tucker...

Tucker followed after, a little more calm than when he broke the plate. He saw Tucker standing by his chair, rolling his eyes as he saw him shuffle. Can’t sit still… He raised his hand as Henry was about to talk opening his phone up. I do /not/ want to go out with you. I do /not/ want to talk with you. Stop trying. It’s annoying as all hell! He forked over his phone, crossing his arms as he looked at him with a schooled emotionless face. You’re gonna cry, aren’t you?

Henry stared blankly at the screen, even as it grew dark and shut off. ………..there aren’t any chances left for me. Henry didn't look up, staring at the floor, his voice small and quiet. “……..I'm sorry for trying so much… I didn't know you hated it… I'll leave you alone....” Henry gave him his phone back, feeling his face heat up as he wanted to cry. “I'm sorry...” He turned away from him, feeling his eyes grow red as he made it to the door, leaving quietly and beelining for his bike as the tears started falling. I thought I had a chance… I thought he kinda felt the same way and that we could make it work..... ...I guess not...

Tucker sighed as he watched Henry run off. Maybe he’ll stop texting me and i’ll be able to breathe…. He shook his head, heading for his room and closing the door. Why does it hurt so much? To see him crying like that?...... It hurts....

Lathe watched sadly as Henry scurried away, seeing the telltale signs of tears. Oh no.... poor kid… Lathe sighed, letting him and Tucker run off before going to clean the rest of the kitchen. He heard a ping on his phone some time later, pulling it from his pocket. ...Kevin’s texting me?

KP: Care to enlighten me as to why Henry’s a crying mess?

KP: He won't tell me...

LQ: Remember when I told you about Henry having a crush on Tucker?

LQ: Tucker got fed up with all the relentless flirting...

LQ: I don't know what he told him but he wanted it to stop...

LQ: ...I'm sorry, but that's the situation....

KP: .... So you’re telling me he got rejected?
LQ: Yeah... and knowing how Tucker was feeling about everything ten seconds before it happened he probably didn't try to let him down gently...

KP: goddamn it... He's gonna be a mess For awhile then....

KP: Thanks for telling me.

LQ: I'm really sorry... there wasn't much I could tell Tucker...

LQ: If he doesn't want to come to dinners on Saturdays anymore I can still send food home if you'd like that

LQ: I know he probably doesn't want to be around him too much and probably won't for a while...

KP: He's gonna suck it up and learn though, because the world is a bad place...

LQ: ....the kid’s fifteen I don't want him to hurt /too/ badly... he's got enough of that for now

LQ: If you send him over I'll just send him home with food

KP: He’s 16 now... He’s gotta learn to man up cause he’s gotta get a job soon.

LQ: If the kid looks miserable he's coming back home. That's all I'm saying.

KP: Alright, well, we’ll see everyone on Saturday then... I'll try and keep him occupied for the week, I can’t imagine that he’s gonna wanna go back to camp.

LQ: Yeah... I'm really sorry about all this... it's not like there's much I can do to fix it...

KP: Well, I might be able to convince him....

LQ: ...I just hope he survives the week.
Like all other times of the year, time marched on, not stopping as time ticked down to Saturday dinner, mercifully carrying on through it. ….. that dinner wasn't awful… I mean, it could've gone better. Tucker just ignored Henry the entire time and when he left to go to the bathroom he looked like he had been crying when he came back. He's really been taking it hard…. Lathe was in his new office, going through paperwork for the building, the sound of kids laughing and playing muffled well by the walls and the door. We've already got more kids than I ever thought would show up… it's wonderful. None of the parents could believe that this was here- we made it easy to sign up, and they could be here nearly every day of the year; there are few exceptions- Thanksgiving and the day before it, and from Christmas Eve to January 1st. I don't wanna keep our workers stuck here, and we all need time with our actual families. I hope that works out fine. Lathe scrolled through the list of things for the library, still trying to assemble a good collection of books. Eren’s been helping to teach the kids who come after school, which is wonderful- he's got all the German classes taken care of, and he's been helping with every subject the kids ask about. It's great! Sharon said she had a lot of stuff on Latin, but I know the Latin classes at the school were kinda small… if she wants to give us her stuff, though, it'd be very appreciated, of course. I think she wanted to help organize a Home Economics class, which would be good. A computer skills class too. And Hannah was thinking about drawing class… if she ever had the time… all of us seem busier than normal. Jean’s seemed so much happier ever since he and Marco got back together. He's a great worker, and Marco is really good with all the really little kids that get dropped off for the whole day. ...Ieva went in for her two-month checkup just an hour ago ish… probably more than that… and I'm hoping everything is going perfectly… I'm so happy… I'm gonna have my own kid … well, I mean, we have plenty of kids right now and Eren, Jake and Tucker certainly aren’t nothing but I made this one! Well, helped. ...Ieva’s doing most of the work tho. ….I didn’t do too much of anything but I’m still so excited!!

Ieva got in the house… Okay, I have everything I need. I put two buns in the oven and I have the pictures… Oh that’s right! She took out a silver sharpie, drawing two hearts around their two small humans. That's everything! Ieva took a deep breath as she took out her phone, excitement lining her voice as she hummed waiting for Lathe to pick up. Come on... Pick up! I can't wait to tell you!

Lathe immediately rifled through the papers on his desk for his phone when he heard her ringtone. He smiled as he picked up, sounding a bit nervous. “Hey Hon! Is everything okay?” I don’t have to worry about something… right?
“Can you… Can you come over to the house? ...Now?” I can’t wait to see your face.

Lathe felt dread twist in his stomach, swallowing. “I-I'm coming Hon, are you okay? You're okay, right?” Don't tell me you have to tell me something other than it’s okay… He was walking quickly from the building, jogging across the street. Please be okay...

“J-Just come into the kitchen…” Ieva hung up with that, getting the camera ready to record this whole thing. You’ll be so happy...

Lathe looked legitimately scared, bolting up the driveway and running through the front door. He saw Ieva in the kitchen, not even bothering to shut the door behind him as he ran over to her. “Ieva, Honey, are you okay? What happened? Is something wrong?” He nearly looked ready to cry, his hands moving to her waist, a thumb brushing over her stomach. “I-It’s okay, right?” Tell me it’s okay...

Ieva but her lip, turning to Lathe. “T-There’s a hint somewhere in the kitchen… You gotta look for it….” She told him quietly, looking down from him. Shit, you look ready to cry...

Lathe looked at her in confusion. “...w-wait, what?” He looked around him for a moment, looking back to her. “…I-I have to look? Can't you just tell me?” Is it really that bad that you can't tell me? He felt his face heat up, trying not to cry. I want you and it to be okay...

Ieva shook her head. “You gotta look, I’ll give you a hint… It’s in an appliance…” That is a good hint right? If it’s in the oven…?

... the hell? Lathe was scared and really confused, sniffling and turning from her, feeling ridiculous as he started inspecting the kitchen. What the fuck is going on…? He felt dumb as he checked in the microwave, peering in the toaster and glancing over the contents of the dishwasher. “...what the hell happened…?” He looked to her incredulously, looking weary. He sighed as she shook her head, going to the ovens to check them, opening an empty one, and stopping when he saw two hamburger buns sitting on the shelf of the unlit oven. “....why…?” He looked to her in confusion, gesturing to them. “What the hell is this for?” I don't understand... is this like... a huge joke or something? Because it isn't funny...

“Think about it… What do some people say when they wanna say someone’s pregnant without saying it?” She looked at his face and saw the fear in it… I think this was a bad idea… But I thought it would be a cool thing to do…
Lathe quirked an eyebrow at her, looking back to the oven again. “....why'd you put two hamburger buns in the oven? I knew you were pregnant, and if this is some kinda metaphor, why use....” His expression shifted, looking to her. “.....there's two.” ...wait.

Ieva couldn’t help but smile as she pushed the picture with the hearts towards him on the table. I’ll let you figure it out....

He picked up the picture, studying the two tiny, growing humans in it. ...you… there’s... “...there's two...” Lathe set it down again, moving around the table and taking a knee, holding Ieva by the hips and pressing kisses all over her stomach, nearly crying in relief and happiness. There's two of you... oh my god... we're gonna have twins ...

Ieva smiled as he kissed her stomach, smiling as she ruffled his hair. “I’m on bed rest from now on, so I’ll be home for the rest of the seven months... My doctor wants me to take it easy.... We won’t know if their identical or fraternal for awhile...” We need to see if they are the same gender...

Lathe held her close, still gently kissing all over her tummy. Two tiny little lives... Lathe looked up to her with one cheek still pressed to her, his eyes glistening. “You’re gonna let me take care of you, right?” I wanna make sure you have everything you need... I want this to be as smooth a pregnancy as possible for your sake and for the kids’ sakes.

Ieva nodded and smiled happily. “I’m sorry, I wanted you to find them and figure it out yourself...” She ran her fingers through his hair, smiling wildly. I love this... I love you...

Lathe chuckled breathlessly, his eyes fluttering shut as he held her close. “...never terrify me like that again...” I was so fucking scared I was about to break down... I thought you'd... but you're okay.. and they're okay... ...okay.

Ieva smiled softly, moving to kneel down and kiss his cheeks, her hands gently holding his head. So I’m off of work now... “I can help out with the kids more now.” We’re gonna be actual parents...

Late smiled a goofy, lovestruck smile, pulling her close into a lazy kiss. You'll be home now, and we’ll have two more little humans to fuss over... I'm so happy...
The doorbell rang on a Thursday.

Lathe was just finishing a mug of coffee when it did, setting it on the counter next to the shopping list. It's probably another confused parent… we still get plenty of them. He walked to the door, opening it and blinking. A marine stood on his doorstep, and he felt dread immediately slither into his stomach. Oh no… “Y-Yes?”

“Mr. Yeager?”

“Uh, th-that's my son, sh-should I go get him?” …this isn't good…

“Yes, he’s been listed as the significant other to Levi Ackerman. This information is for him.”

Lathe nodded, a look of fear on his face as he left for the upstairs, knowing he was probably with Mila. “E-Eren?” He found him in his bedroom, cradling Mila to his chest, seeing his peaceful expression, watching it slip when he saw his own worried and scared look. “Th-There’s someone here to speak to you…” I can't believe it…

Eren’s expression fell before he nodded and he held Mila out for Lathe. “Can you hold her?” This can’t be good whoever it is… Dad looks like he’s seen a ghost…

Lathe nodded, taking the tiny toddler and trying to give her a smile as she looked up to him and poked his cheek. It's okay… your Daddy is gonna be okay… Lathe shadowed Eren, in the nook at the top of the stairs, still plainly able to hear, watching them from the couch. I don't want to hear it… but I should…

Eren opened the door again, all the color draining from his face as he saw the man standing with an envelope. “Um… You were looking for me?” I don’t want to know what you have in that envelope.

The marine nodded and handed him the white envelope. “I regret to inform you that your significant other has gone MIA… the base lost contact with him a week ago…”
Eren’s face fell even more as he moved a hand to cover his mouth, trying not to cry. “Th-Thank you for telling me…” Levi…. His mind had gone blank except for the fact that he’d never said goodbye to him, and that thought alone made tears fall from his eyes. He watched the marine nod before turning and walking back to the military vehicle he brought here. Eren closed the door behind him, slumping down to the floor and burying his face in his hands. No… I… I can’t lose him…

Lathe came down the stairs, his own expression grave, hugging Eren with one arm, his other still full of Mila. “They'll find him, Eren, they'll find him… he might've run into a bit of trouble but I know he’d do his best to get out of there… he’ll be okay…” He’s got to be okay… he can't just leave you behind like this… he was gonna pick a ring later this week… he has to be alive somewhere… he's somewhere…

Eren could only shake his head as he shifted to cling to Lathe, tears streaming down his face. “I don’t want him to be gone…” I don’t want him to be gone… I want him back home! I want him to hold me, to love me… I want him back…

Lathe gently rubbed his back, Mila looking at Eren with wide eyes as he cried, the toddler reaching for Eren as tears streaked down his cheeks. “Eren, Honey, he's not gone. He’s still out there somewhere, trying to get somewhere safe. He's got a really hard job but he's a very good soldier. I'm sure he’ll turn up in a couple of days. He’ll turn up, and he’ll be okay. I just know it.” …I seriously fucking hope so. “He's gonna come home and you three are gonna make the most adorable family and you'll be happy… he’ll come home for you and for Mila.”

Eren could only nod as he sobbed on Lathe’s shoulder, sniffling and holding onto him tightly. I want him to come back… what if he doesn’t come back to me?

Chapter 99: Everything Goes to Hell

Levi’s eyes slowly got adjusted to the low light as night fell, setting a dark blanket over the desert, the dry heat leaving with the sun. Well, it only gets harder from here on out …. I’ve still got everyone, that’s a plus. My usuals are still with me, Reiner, Bert, Farlan, Izzy… got my two snipers: Ivan, and Keith… The new guy, his name’s Tyler, he’s still younger than all of us, fresh out of the academy, the only private that I have in my special operations squad. He paused, raising his hand and the everyone followed suit, becoming silent, listening to the sand hiss around them in the wind.

“Sarge?”

He listened to the soft feminine voice come through their radio. “Easy, Iz, I’m counting.” Levi’s eyes tracked movement over the rough sand ahead of them. The wind was picking up the sand, both a blessing and a hazard that Levi knew all too well. I hate this part… We’re within two clicks of the reported base… and claims appear to be true, there’s definitely guards here, not just an abandoned building. He turned his head looking back to everyone in a uniform line, though keeping watch in all directions. “Two hostiles one click north of us, objective location two clicks north east… There’s bound to be more hostiles on the way in… Prepare yourselves… and keep your radio low… Bravo, Charlie: head two clicks north, follow the hostiles, we won’t infiltrate objective location until 0100 hours. Wrap around and look for more if you have time.” He barely needed to know that Bert and Reiner left, were silent in the sand. Okay, I have five in my command. “Delta, Echo: head two clicks east and locate the hostiles on the other side of objective location, make a sweep to meet Bravo and Charlie… Foxtrot, Golf: You two stay here, we’ll need sniper coverage, this is the highest point closest.” That’s the reason that you two are here… the only reason I asked Eyebrows to take you two.

“And me?”

Levi picked his head up, seeing Tyler, looking at him with uncertainty. “How quiet can you be?”

“As a mouse, Alpha.”

Levi nodded, weighing the options as he saw his two subunits go towards their objectives. “Have you been in a firefight, Kid?” I don’t want to throw you in the mix if you can’t handle it, the other six are well prepared for a heavy fire fight...

“No, Alpha.”
Levi could hear the slight fear in his voice. I could ask him... and always stick to his side... It might not turn out as bloody as I think it will. “Alright, you’re with me, and if you fuck up, it’s on you.” *I don’t wanna lead you into death.... But this is a job our unit gets on a weekly basis. These damn outposts in the middle of the fucking desert.*

“Confirmed, Alpha. Hotel on tail.” Tyler stepped carefully as they started walking, trying to keep his breathing steady. You can do this. This is what you signed up for. This is what all that training was for. Don't let it all fail you now.

Levi nodded, taking Tyler through one of the back doors of the closest building to them. This building... It's got nothing in it but artillery... and supplies. He looked to the mass of weapons that were being stored precariously on shelves. “Bravo, Charlie... we found a ‘den’...” These fuckers... There’s gotta be more fire power on this base alone than what we can manage at this point. This is gonna turn into a firefight that we have no hope of winning. “All units disengage...” We can’t win this one, we’d need more fire power...

Tyler looked over the huge mass of weapons, swallowing hard as he saw stacks of boxes of bullets, guns and gun cases strewn about, everything piled high on quickly assembled metal shelves. ...oh my god. There's no way any people we find are gonna be easy to take down... shit ... He silently followed Levi as they carefully left, trying to ignore the few things strewn over the floor, the random live grenades stuck anywhere they would fit. If one thing went off in here... my god, the explosion...

Reiner and Bertholdt gave each other a look, speaking quietly. “Acknowledged, Alpha. Bravo disengaging.” This can't mean anything good.

“Charlie disengaging.” There's got to be a literal shit-ton of armaments in there to getLevi to call this off.

The radio chat filled with sounds of people disengaging, much to Levi’s relief. “Meet back at.” He was cut off as he heard footsteps behind them. His eyes were wide as he pushed Tyler into the corner of the room and out of sight from the man with the AK-47 strapped to him. We’re not getting out of this. “Hotel, get out of here...” This is not your fight... Levi took the first shot, before ducking behind some shelving, waiting for another hostile to come in his direction. His gun pointed right to his head and blew a hole in it as he heard an alarm sound. Shit! Levi looked back to see Tyler shaking in his boots. “Get out of here!” He screeched at him, picking up a few grenades from the shelves next to him and nodding. Get out, and get away from here.

Tyler couldn't bring himself to move as he was shoved back, watching with horror as the hostile dropped like a sack of bricks, his head covered in blood before it hit the ground. Holy fuck... He Levi whipped his head around from stabbing a hostile in the neck, bodies surrounding him. There are so many of them. “Hotel! Get out of here! Bravo! I need Hotel out of here! We’re in the southern outskirts…” I swear to god if he doesn’t leave here alive… Levi was caught up with trying to keep Tyler in the present world that he was quickly becoming surrounded by hostiles. Fuck…

“Acknowledged. I’m heading your way.” This can’t be good…

Tyler didn’t know what to do, watching with horror as Levi found himself swarmed. I can’t let them kill him… he’s gonna die… His grip on his gun was shaky. Maybe if you fucking did something about it, he’d fucking live! SHOOT THEM! Tyler looked terrified as he brought the gun up again, the sights settling on the first hostile that came through his scope. …just like target practice. Breathe… The gunshot was a lot quieter than he expected, the recoil not what he remembered as the hostile fell at Levi’s feet. …and shoot. Target practice. He shifted his sights, another quiet bang as another body fell. There are more targets… He shot another as they turned their head towards him, watching them go down. That one had brown eyes. Another one ran for him, and they went down too. That one looked shorter than some of the others… and that one has much lighter skin. He seemed mindless as he shot one after the other, his expression blank. I haven’t missed any yet. This is my best practice yet.

Levi grabbed a gun off of the shelf, pointing it at the hostile behind Tyler and shooting him just over his nose. Fuck this is getting bad. “FoxTrot, Golf, get closer and give us coverage… I’m going in, no one follow. I’m calling an air strike in ten minutes, so get out of here… Hotel, get out of here.” He looked towards a bend hearing more shouting as he loaded up on guns and ammo. I need to do this, because you just killed 8 hostiles for the first time… Levi had his gun at the ready as he moved out, kill shot after kill shot ringing in the small building.

Reiner was silent as he quickly skirted the building, his gun held up as he neared an opened door. He moved inside, announcing his presence by taking down the first three hostiles he saw, moving further into the huge warehouse. He tried not to be distracted by the towering caches of weapons, instead shooting down every figure he knew wasn’t friendly. He was stunned as he Tyler seemed to aim straight for him, his eyes widening. “Hotel, wait–” He head the bang, feeling a form slump against him, getting out of the way and watching a knife fall from a limp hand. He looked back to Hotel, taking on his blank expression. ……..oh no. “Hotel, come on, we have orders to clear out unless we wanna blow up with the rest of this warehouse. Let's go!” He grabbed his arm, tugging him up to follow him, surveying the floor littered with dead people and pools of smeared blood. We can't stay here.

Tyler looked up to him and only sort of saw him, his attention mostly taken up by the other figures still coming into the warehouse. He silently raised his gun, shooting them before looking blankly back at Reiner. Target practice. He let Reiner drag him along, keeping his gun up and an eye out for any other hostiles. Target practice.

Levi grabbed more grenades and ammo from the shelves before shucking one into the building once he knew that Reiner and Tyler were out of the building and in safety. He sighed quietly, running away, much to the confusion of the hostiles, until the initial blast went off, which caused a chain reaction, blowing up the warehouse and making it daylight outside as hostiles retreated away from the base. Fuck… He felt a searing pain shoot up his leg, wincing, knowing he hadn't gotten behind the closest building fast enough. Fuck…I hope they got out of here… His ears were ringing horribly, and he grimaced, knowing his ears were most likely blow out. Shit… When did I say 10 minutes… Are they far enough away from here? He heard another explosion go off, the blast knocking him over, even with the building behind him, though he quickly realized with the blast that the building behind him was no more… And he was on his stomach and not standing. When the fuck… All he heard was explosion after explosion, the ringing barely silencing them. He closed his eyes as the concrete kept him covered, sand covering his wounds that he didn’t know when he got. My ears are bleeding… He didn’t want to but his grip was loosening on his gun, his eyes starting to close. I love you, Eren…

Tyler stopped when he heard the first explosion, something in his mind making him stop and let Reiner struggle to keep him going. Something isn't right… “…Bravo…. …did we forget Alpha?” Tyler looked back to the building as it still glowed white for a long moment, the bang louder than anything he had heard before. if he was in there… then… then he's dead. He looked stunned as another building suddenly exploded, the air strike having started. “Alpha? Alpha, are you there?!” Fuck, is he dead?! Tyler looked to Reiner, then looked down as he saw something, seeing smears of blood all over his legs and feet. That's not… that's not mine…. That's not my blood… That's not my corpse being torn to shreds by some huge fucking explosion… “Oh my god… what the fuck have I done …?” I abandoned Levi… fuck, there's no way he isn't dead… he's… he's dead…

He's gonna lose it. “Hotel, please, stay with me. We need to go, it isn't safe here.” Reiner tugged Tyler along, seeing the kid turn pale as a ghost. This isn't good… we need to get somewhere safer before he becomes hysterical… it's gonna happen, I can just see it…

Ivan came up to them, watching Reiner drag Tyler. “Is he hurt?” Levi was our medic… If he’s hurt we’ll need to call in a chopper… His eyes looked around to where Tyler was. Oh he’s gonna break down, we need to get away from here, Sarge's orders…
“He’s not hurt, but he’s gonna have a breakdown soon. He was completely emotionless in that warehouse, he probably killed a dozen hostiles… have we heard anything from Alpha?” He’s not responding- at least, not that I can hear.

Ivan swallowed hard, shaking his head. “No… I’m going to call in a chopper, the air strike started, if he’s in there… he’s dead… We need to get out of here… Make sure you calm him down before he thinks about pointing that gun at himself…” He’s just a kid… fresh from the academy… Ivan turned to check on the rest of the group they came with, grateful that the majority were uninjured, Farlan having been cut by a hostile, though it was nothing serious. We lost Alpha…

Reiner felt a sinking feeling in his gut, nodding. we lost Levi. Reiner snapped out of it when someone nudged his arm, seeing a worried-looking Bertholdt, the taller man looking to Tyler. Reiner realized how much Tyler was shaking, reaching for him. “Hey, hey, look at me. Come on, look at me.” Reiner waited for Tyler to pick his head up, giving him a weak smile. “You did a really good job for your first real firefight. I know there’s a lot going on in your head right now, but you need to understand that you did the most that you could do and you came out in one piece. And that’s very important. No matter what condition Alpha is in right now, you did a damn good job covering him while you were with him. I’m sure with how you’ve done, he’s proud of you.” You must’ve gotten at least a dozen of them picked off. You did some good shooting for your first real fight. That’s something.

Tyler took in a deep, shaky breath, nodding slowly. “O-Okay…” He looked past Reiner as explosion after explosion went off. “…he’s dead, isn’t he.” He let out a shaky breath as Reiner was silent, all the answer he needed. ......I’m sorry, Alpha. Tyler let them tug him along and onto the chopper, letting them take him away. I’m sorry I left you to die.
We haven’t heard anything about Levi for a week… And I hate it, I can’t sleep, and I’ve been pacing the house. Mikhail’s been trying to get me to calm down… It’s not helping… Eren had settled down on the couch, hoping to try and get some sleep after eating his fill of lunch. I hopefully can sleep, Dad’s putting Mila down in the crib upstairs…

Lathe gently swayed with Mila in his arms, trying to help lull the infant to sleep. It's been hard… Eren’s looked like a ghost for the past week… He cried so much when that marine left… I keep thinking… about what would happen if… if he doesn't get found. I really hope he does… Mila needs both her Dads… and Eren needs Levi… …….I made a silver star the night we found out and hung it in the window… I don't know why I hadn't thought of it before, but I just kinda did it on autopilot….. …..I hope it stays silver… He sighed as Mila sized against his chest, gently laying her down in the crib and pulling the light blanket over her, a small stuffed puppy next to her. “Don't worry, Mila…” His voice was soft and quiet, smiling to her wearily. “Your Daddy is gonna come home… and he's gonna be here for you when you grow up.” He gently kissed her forehead, hearing the doorbell moments after he left the side of the crib. He immediately reached out and lightly rapped on the wooden door frame, looking down the hall to the front hall. …..it's been a week. …………….this is it, isn't it.

Eren had gotten up when the doorbell rang, going to it and he froze when he saw the three marines in dress blues on their porch. He looked to the folded flag in one’s hand, a large gold star in another’s hand… And a papers in the third man’s hands. No…. The tears were instantly there as he heard the words leave the man’s mouth.

“Sergeant Levi Ackerman was killed in action earlier this week during an air strike he ordered… We’ve come to offer you a flag and a golden star for his service.”

……………..my son is dead. Lathe looked heartbroken from where he stood on the stairs, rushing down when Eren was dragged to the ground by Mikhail, a mess of tears and grief-stricken cries. He knelt down next to Eren, scooping him up into his arms, letting him cling to him as he cried. He murmured to him soothingly, his voice quiet. “Stand up with me, Eren, please, come on, easy…” He carefully eased Eren back onto his feet, turning to the marines on their front porch. He led Eren back up to them, helping him take the flag and the star, the small pile of papers. “Thank you...” If it was an air strike.... “.....they don't have his body… do they.” If he's really gone... he's just... in the sand somewhere.

The marine turned to Lathe. “I’m unsure sir, I believe they were going to try and retrieve as much of him as possible, or at least his dog tags… I’m sorry for your loss…”
Eren’s eyes were glassy as he held the flag close to his body. I…… He’s gone….. He could barely keep from crying as he heard the words. He… He ordered the air strike? He willingly killed himself? What?

Lathe slowly nodded, swallowing. “O-Okay. Thank you.” Lathe didn't know what else to say as the men left, shutting the door. It was dead silent inside until Eren let out a shaky sob, Lathe helping him over to the couch, letting him clutch the flag tightly to his chest, the papers and star going to sit on the coffee table. “Eren, I'm so sorry…” Lathe pulled him close, feeling him shudder harder as he did. “I'm so, so, so sorry…”

Eren was a complete wreck. “He… H-He can’t be dead…. He… He’s supposed to come home… He’s supposed to be alive still!” He was quickly becoming hysterical as Lathe held onto him. “He’s supposed to be holding me…” He’s… He’s not gonna be here anymore…

Lathe looked helpless, cradling him closer. “I… I'm so sorry, I just… I don't know… we don't know everything that happened out there… he was trying to make the best decisions he could out there… I…” …killed in the airstrike he ordered… Lathe knew better than to try to give Eren false hopes, his voice gentle. “I'm so sorry… I'm so sorry….” He sounded like a broken record, not knowing what to say as they tangled together. I'm sorry… I'm sorry he's dead...

Eren inconsolable as he held onto Lathe tighter, his cries even woke up Ieva who almost immediately saw the gold star and knew what happened. He cried himself to sleep, his fists clinging onto Lathe’s shirt. I want him back...

Lathe held onto Eren tightly, letting him lay on his chest, the flag wrinkling in Eren’s iron grip until he grew lax, sighing as his eyelids fluttered shut and his breathing evened. He's asleep… He looked up to Ieva, his expression sad and weary. “….he's gone.” I don't want him to be… he can't be… it’s just… it doesn't sound right… He has to be alive… right? He's alive somewhere and they haven’t found him yet and his radio broke so they don't know yet… that's… what happened…. ………….right? He let out a quiet sob, the first few tears falling as he stared at the gold star. ….I want you to be alive...

Ieva moved to sit on the couch, to put Lathe’s head in her lap as tears started to form. “D-Do you know how? I-Is he coming home?” Even if he is in a box...

Lathe shrugged one shoulder, looking up to her. “H-He was killed in an airstrike he ordered.. they… they’re thinking of sending someone out to look f-for him… e-even if they only find his dog tags… b-but… an a-air strike, he…. he's….” Probably in shreds somewhere… all in little pieces… my own son, in little pieces....
Ieva nodded, taking her hand and wiping away the tears that formed in her eyes. Oh my god… Levi’s gone… What is Eren gonna do? This is gonna kill him on the inside… Are we gonna lose two sons over this? “H-He did what he thought was best…”

Lathe nodded, gently petting Eren’s hair. “I really hope whatever he did… however things ended up…. that it at least wasn't for nothing.”
“Alpha? Alpha, do you copy?” Reiner spoke clearly into his radio, Bertholdt next to him as they started walking, the taller man holding a sturdy laptop, a small blip on the map directing them to the GPS chip from Levi’s helmet. “He's silent.”

“His radio could be broken… he's supposedly this way.” The noirette led them down the site, the environment still and quiet. He stopped them and looked down, picking up a small scrap of metal. “This is the tracker…” Not attached to Levi… He dropped it, looking around. “….if there's much left of him, it'd probably be just around here.” He watched Reiner nod, the two of them moving and sifting through the sand and the wreckage, carefully feeling at least for the metal tags. Come on… please, at least your tags… we need to send something home…

“Charlie?” Reiner heard a ‘hm’ in response, staring at a concrete block. “...does that blood look fresh to you?”

“What?” Bertholdt looked to where he pointed, seeing a small pool of blood soaking into the sand from underneath a concrete block. “...oh my god.” They paused for a split second before immediately looking underneath the block. Bertl going around and peering underneath, catching a glimpse of silver eyes slowly blinking at him. Holy fuck. “Bravo, he's alive! It's him! Help me move it off of him!” They both dug their heels into the sand, heaving the block to the side and managing to drag Levi out from under it. He felt sick as Levi’s leg dragged along at a sickeningly unnatural angle, as if his bone had been turned to flimsy rubber. “Bravo, his leg is seriously injured.” I'd say fucked up, but… “…make that seriously fucked up. He needs medical help and fast.” He heaved him up, Reiner lifting up the broken part of his leg to keep it somewhat straight as they got back to the helicopter. “Alpha! Alpha, can you hear me?” He looked to Levi, worried. Can you still hear? Did your ears get blown out?

Levi opened his mouth to speak, though he started to cough almost instantly, which ended up with him coughing up blood. Fuck it hurts… It hurts all over… I can’t feel my leg… my throat is dry… and my back feel like it’s on fire… His face contorted in utter pain as he felt the blood begin to move from his back to the floor of the chopper. I need water… I went three days without it… fuck…. Levi tried to move his arm without hurting himself though he quickly found it impossible.

Bertholdt immediately nodded. “It’s okay, you don't have to speak. You've gone three days trapped under that concrete, we’ll get you some water… just stay with me, Levi, stay awake for us. We’ll get you fixed up soon.” He reached out as he was handed a water bottle, helping Levi lean up and drink from it. “Small sips, don't worry, there's time.” Bertl kept him up and drinking for a bit until Levi couldn't stand to anymore, laying him back down and helping clear away his mouth as he coughed up blood. “Just stay calm, Levi, stay as all as you can manage. We’ll fix you up soon.” He looked to his hand when he pulled it away from his back, seeing the blood drenching it. …oh my. “You've got wounds on your back, Levi-” I probably shouldn't try flipping you over… “Are they bullets?” He watched him nod, coughing up more blood and helping him wipe it away. “Just try to rest, Levi, but stay awake for me. Just stay awake, and we’ll do the rest.” You’re gonna live if it kills you. …that doesn’t make sense but close enough. Just live, dammit!

Levi nodded and he swallowed the water down, relieved for only a moment. My throat… but I can’t feel my toes on my left leg… which means it’s crushed I’m pretty sure. He looked over to Reiner, trying to get him to listen. “Tour-Tourniquet…” I need a tourniquet on me or I’m going to bleed out the rest of my blood… Shit… Eren’s gotta be heartbroken… They probably told him I was dead… Fuck… He’s gonna kill me…

Reiner immediately nodded, getting the supplies he needed to cut off blood flow to his leg. He cringed as he moved his leg, the flesh bending so unnaturally he nearly wanted to throw up. Oh my god… that’s just wrong… Reiner managed to tie off his leg without revealing the contents of his stomach, worriedly looking the rest of him over. “You said about your back- gunshots?” He watched him nod. “We’re almost there, but while we have the time we should try to stop the bleeding, okay? We’ need to sit you up…” Reiner helped him up, and it hurt to see the tortured look on Levi’s face. “It won’t hurt for too long, Levi, don’t worry.” Reiner had Bertl help him get the bulletproof vest off of him, cutting off the shirt underneath and seeing the smattering of wounds in his back. Not good. “Bertl, we’re gonna need something to cauterize the wounds. We need to get the bullets out to do anything.” He grabbed the ruined cloth of his shirt, carefully wiping away the blood. He got the tweezers out of the medical kit, waiting for Bertl to get back at his side with a searing hot piece of metal. “Sorry Sarge- this is gonna hurt like hell.” He got a good grip on the first bullet, quickly pulling it out and moving the fuck out of the way for Bertl to immediately cauterize the wound, holding Levi’s shoulders so he didn’t lurch forward in pain, hearing him grunt and gasp at the bullet coming out and let out a pained cry as the metal seared his flesh shut. “I’m so sorry, but we need to do this and buy as much time as we can. You can do this, it's not forever.” Reiner watched him grit his teeth and nod, going to do it again. They managed to get four of the bullets out before they landed, and after that he was whisked off the chopper, out of their hands. …even if it just bought him five minutes… I hope they use those five minutes well.

Levi groaned, trying to steel himself of the burning pain that shot through his whole body, especially when his leg was tied off. He barely felt himself being lifted off of the helicopter and put into a stretcher and marched to the hospital, put in the OR and put under after he had more blood added into his system.

The doorbell rang exactly two weeks after the first, one week after the second. The gold star hung in the kitchen above a small shelf with the folded flag, the embroidered silver star in the window having been changed out for a gold one, his name and rank in neat cursive underneath. …now what..? Lathe looked paler than he had in a long while, another sigh leaving him as he saw the star. We miss you. He ambled to the door, opening it and seeing the well-dressed Marine standing there. “…did you at least find my son’s dog tags?” He didn’t even wait for him to speak, his voice and face tired. I miss him...
“Actually, I come bearing good news… Sergeant Levi Ackerman was found yesterday morning in the rubble, He’s currently being treated for his wounds at a hospital on base until he’s stable to be transferred to Home Ground… We’ll send mail informing you of his movement through mail, but I came to apologize about our mistake on labeling your son’s Significant Other as KIA.” The marine bowed his head slightly, acknowledging their mistake.

Lathe just stared at the man for a moment, attempting to wrap his head around what he had said. “...Levi's not dead. ...and once he's stable they're bringing him home for treatment.” He received a respectful ‘Yes sir’ before just staring at him for another moment. “.........he's not dead. ........I have to tell everyone …” He gave the man a disbelieving smile, sighing as he felt a weight slump off of his shoulders. “Oh my god I have to tell everyone and when Levi gets home I have to kick his ass for scaring us to death. Thank you, really, so much.” Lathe gave the marine a grateful smile.
......my son’s not dead…. he's gonna come home…

The marine nodded, offering a hand for Lathe. “I will make sure that the letter gets sent as soon as he lands safely on Home ground.”

Lathe shook his hand, smiling. “Thank you so much.” He waved as the marine left, running upstairs immediately to go get Mila from her crib. He picked her up, letting her bring her soft blanket and stuffed puppy as he cradled her close, murmuring in her ear. “They found your Daddy, sweetheart… he's gonna come home soon and he’ll get to hold his little girl...” He kissed her head, going over to their bedroom. Ieva was on the bed, sipping a glass of water as she messed around on Lathe’s laptop. “Honey? There's good news.” He was still quiet, holding the sleepy Mila securely to his chest. “They found a very much alive Levi… he’ll be home as soon as he's stable for treatment.” Our son is coming home... in one piece, mostly... alive...

Ieva’s eyes went wide as she turned to look at Lathe. “You’re being serious ?” Oh my god! “Did you tell Eren yet?” She got up from the bed and made her way over to him. “Are you okay with taking Mila over there? She just laid down to sleep...” But I want to go over and tell him too...

“I wanted to tell Mila even if she can't understand, I just got excited. But if we both want to tell him, she's coming with us.” He gently bounced Mila a bit. “Sorry, Honey, but you'll have to wait just a teeny bit for your nap. We have to go tell your Dad the good news.” Lathe smiled as Mila simply squirmed a bit in his arms before settling again when he set her on the bed, wrapping her up in her blanket with her puppy. She looks like a taco... a tiny baby taco... this is too adorable... “Let’s take the baby taco and go tell Eren.” Lathe smiled, cradling her close. He's just across the street, so it's easy. “He'd be in the middle of teaching German right around now, but that doesn't matter. Let's go interrupt class.” We have a baby. The kid's will forgive us.

Ieva looked at him and simply smiled and let him hold Mila all bundled up. “Be careful with her on the stairs.” We don't need anything happening to her while we walk over there… She led them across the street, holding open doors for them. I hope he'll be okay when you tell him.

Lathe carefully held Mila to his chest, protective of the dozing toddler as they crossed the street. The parking lot had a decent number of cars in it from parents picking up kids or teens who already had licenses, walking in as Ieva held open the door. Lathe nodded to the security guard who saluted him, grinning. “They found Levi.”

Jeff’s eyebrows shot up, looking at him in surprise. “…you're kidding.” He grinned when Lathe shook his head, laughing quietly. “I’m so happy to hear that. You're goin’ to tell Eren?” He watched them nod. “Ah, then I'll be listening for the tears of joy. Little Mila needs both her Dads.” Thank god he’s okay… if anything, the news that your loved one is dead is the only kind of news you want to be wrong.

Lathe grinned. “She does.” Lathe pecked her head, walking on to the first classroom, noticing the older kids at the cafeteria tables quieted a bit when they saw the baby sleeping against Lathe’s chest. Lathe knocked quietly on the classroom door, he and Ieva poking their heads in. “Eren?” He grinned at the chorus of ‘awwww’s he heard from the girls as they saw Mila with her face sleepily smushed against her soft puppy. She’s a little celebrity.

Eren’s hand dropped from the board as he saw Ieva and Lathe. “Did they find….” He trailed off as he looked down, feeling a lump form in his throat as he motioned them to come into the classroom. <“Did they find his body?”> They won’t be able to understand me… We can talk in German in the level 1 class…

<“If you mean the one that's living, breathing, and coming home once he's stable, then yes. They found that body.”> He's coming home for you.

Eren’s eyes widened and he looked to Lathe like he had two heads. <“B-But… They said he was dead… H-He’s alive?”> Oh my god… Is Levi alive? Please say your not fooling with me...

<“They somehow found him on the site after the airstrike… I don't know how, but he's alive, and he's gonna be okay. When he's in stable condition they’ll put him back on American soil. Your daughter still has both her Dads, and you still have your Levi.”> You both get to keep him.

Eren looked like he was ready to cry, sitting back down on his desk and holding a hand over his mouth. <“Oh my god.”> He couldn’t stop the tears that formed in his eyes, turning to the student and down to Mikhail. “Go let them pet you, go on…” He shooed the dog off to the mass of children who eagerly got out of their chairs to go and pet the dog. <“You're not joking… right?”>
Lathe shook his head, smiling faintly. <“A marine in dress blues showed up on our doorstep not fifteen minutes ago. He's alive and they'll have a letter for us as soon as he's back in the US. You'll still have him to hold, Eren. You can keep him.”> He's yours.

Eren simply broke, moving over to Ieva and holding her close, not wanting to crush Mila since Lathe was holding her. “I can’t believe it… I can’t believe it at all… I want him to come home… Is he alive? Is he okay?” Eren’s words rushed out of his mouth as he looked over at Lathe hoping for answers. Please tell me he remembers who I am and what I look like...

Lathe sighed, smiling and giving him a one-armed hug, the other full of sleeping tot. “I know that he's alive, but it sounds like he's been hurt. That's all I know. We should learn more soon when he gets back to the states, but for right now let’s hope that he’s gonna come out of this just fine, okay? He's a tough guy. I'm sure he'll be okay.” He’ll get through whatever he has to right now.

Eren nodded and he hugged both of them tightly while the kids were distracted with Mikhail, who was secretly enjoying the pets. I'm so relieved… “He’s okay…”

Lathe beamed, pecking his temple. “He's okay.” If he's not I will kick his ass into next week.
Chapter 102: Home

The next few days passed by in a kind of tense excitement, Lathe of course being the one to again answer the door to another Marine, receiving one last envelope. He's back in America! We can go visit him! Lathe told everybody within minutes, going to book plane tickets as soon as possible. We need to go see him. And we need to bring the tiny human too. So, two seats...? I'm not sure if Ieva is coming, what with the twins... is it safe? I'm a doctor and I don't know. What the hell. two plane tickets. It turned out to be a question that answered itself because the morning of the departure, Eren was already gone, having stolen Mila to take a train to see him. He even stole the baby. “Hey, Honey?” Lathe gently shook Ieva awake, softly kissing her lips as her eyelids fluttered open. “Eren stole the baby and took a train to go see Levi. Now that we have an extra plane ticket, want to come with me?” I looked it up, you'd be fine... if you want...

Ieva shifted and nodded, sitting up slowly and carefully making her way to the bathroom. “Can you pack me some clothes? I don’t care if I look good I just want to be comfortable…” I need to get dressed... But I can take a quick shower first I think...

Lathe nodded, going to grab a small suitcase from the closet. We only need one, we can split it in half. We won't be there for too long I don't think. Lathe went about carefully packing clothes for them, enough to last them a few days when he heard the shower shut off.

Lathe chuckled, bringing her a cozy outfit. “Here you go Honey.” He handed it to her, pecking her cheek before leaving her be to change. He himself was soon dressed, waiting for Ieva. He smiled as she stepped into her shoes and shuffled behind him, helping her down the stairs. He made sure to write out a note for James, leaving him in charge before leading her to the car. Four hours. That's all the flight is. It's nothing. It felt like a short flight, and Lathe let Ieva use him as a pillow as she slept. .....soon.

Ieva barely stirred on the flight there, though when they landed she woke up. Her hands were gripping onto Lathe’s shirt, holding onto him since she hadn’t put her seatbelt on tightly cautious of her stomach. I don’t want to do anything to them... I really don’t... She sighed in relief as the plane was guided into its dock and they were all ushered off. I want to go see him. “We should go right away... Maybe we’ll see Eren and Mila...” I assume Eren’s going to get there first before thinking about a hotel room...

Lathe made sure he held onto Ieva well as they descended, not giving her the chance to sway forward and fall. Nope. I won't let anything happen. Lathe nodded, walking with her off of the plane and going first through customs before they could acquire their luggage. He wheeled it behind them as Ieva called for a taxi, knowing that any taxi they saw outside would be already taken. It wasn't an hour before they were walking up to the hospital, approaching the front desk. His eyebrows shot up as he saw Eren at the front desk, Mila in his arms, gazing around the room. The bag with all of Mila’s things was slung over one shoulder, and the baby immediately giggled as she saw Lathe and Ieva, throwing up her arms, nearly dropping her puppy. “Gah!” Grandpa and Gramma!

Eren turned to look where Mila was waving her arms, seeing Lathe and Ieva and he seemed to sigh as he leaned up against the desk. “Did you guys just get here too?” He looked like he hadn’t slept in a week, looking back to the lady at the desk when she finally gave him a room number and how to get there. He thanked her, motioning Lathe and Ieva with him. I want to go see him, and you can hold Mila while I kick his ass...

Lathe nodded, taking Mila from him, picking up her stuffed puppy when she dropped it. “No, don't drop Toby, you get to keep him.” He gave it back to her, kissing her cheek as they followed Eren. He and Ieva smiled excitedly when they saw the correct room number, following Eren inside and watching as Levi’s face lit up-

A split second before Eren smacked him clear across the face. Well shit. He sighed as Eren then crashed their lips together in a deep kiss. Of course.

Eren’s eyes had a look of murder in them as he smacked Levi across the face, though as soon as Levi was about to say something about it he grabbed his shirt and leaned down to kiss him. At first it was sloppy, but turned out to be a rather deep kiss, which Eren sat on the edge of the hospital bed for. Oh my god, he’s back... He lifted his hand up to run through Levi’s hair as he kissed him, soon breaking away to breathe. Eren couldn’t help the sob that left his throat, leaning his head against Levi’s shoulder and holding onto his hospital gown tightly. “I thought I lost you…” His voice was barely above a whisper as he clung to Levi. I don’t want to lose you.

Levi winced at the hard smack, stunned. ...I probably deserved that. He had just opened his mouth to speak when he suddenly found Eren’s tongue tangling with his, reaching to hold onto him, his eyes slipping shut. I missed this... I was scared I wouldn't come home... that nobody would find me... Levi held onto him when he broke away, one hand carding through his chocolate locks. “...I'm so sorry... I... I did what I could... to get my squad out of there alive... I... I didn't think they'd come looking for me... that they'd find my busted helmet and leave... I got crushed under concrete... Bert and Reiner found me... I couldn't speak... I'm so glad they saw me...” He clung to him tighter. “I wouldn't be able to forgive myself if I left you... it was torture, being there for three days with nothing to do but think...” He looked up as he heard a sound, much clearer than he remembered, seeing the tiny baby in Lathe’s arms reaching for him. “...Mila.” He reached one arm for her, his eyes pleading with Lathe. “Let me hold my daughter, please.” I wanna hold her.

He watched Eren make room for her, carefully reaching for her and taking her from Lathe, smiling breathlessly as she giggled at him, throwing her hands up again. “Lee!” Levi! Daddy Levi!
Levi was close to tears as she exclaimed it, cradling her close, giving her kisses all over her cheeks. “It’s Levi… It’s Daddy… I’m here, Honey… I’m here.” My own little daughter… He reached his other arm for Eren, pulling him close too. …my family…. I… Levi looked up to Lathe, smiling faintly. [Mr. and Mrs. Quo, may I please have permission to marry your son?] I want to… so much…

They looked at each other for a minute, giving each other a look before turning to look around in thought, stroking imaginary goatees. [Hm…. should we let the guy who has a child with our son and makes our son happy as hell marry him… or not? It's a big decision.]

[Just say yes, please.]

They sighed, looking to him and grinning. [Yes!] Go right the hell ahead.

Eren looked between them all with the stank eye, not appreciating the language he didn’t understand. “I get here for ten seconds and you’re already telling secrets?” He seemed hurt in more than one way as he buried his face into Levi’s shoulder, trying to understand his motive. I don’t get it… Why are you keeping secrets from me already? He looked ready to cry all over again when he looked to Mila and how she was trying to grab at Levi’s nose. Oh god……… That’s adorable...

Levi was faced with the important task of keeping Eren from crying whilst fending off a tiny human. “Eren, babe, I'm sorry, I had to ask them something important. We’re not keeping big secrets from you, it's okay.” Levi softly kissed his cheek, brushing their lips together. “Don't be upset, please… it's okay. I’m okay. …mostly.” He watched Eren look to him with worry, sighing quietly. “…my left leg kinda got crushed, so the bone is practically all metal right now…” It wasn't pretty, I was told...

Eren looked shocked as he shifted to lift up his blankets to see a cast from Levi’s knee and down. “It wasn’t amputated? Do they think you'll be able to walk properly?” I hope they do… I really want you to be okay…. He watched as Mila finally got hold of his nose and tugged on it while blowing bubbles and giggling. Fuck… That's adorable …

Levi looked to Mila, giving her an exaggerated pout as she tugged on his nose. “Dat’s meh node.” He gently moved his head around, Mila still latched on. He smiled, looking with sympathy to where Eren was staring at his leg. He gently pried Mila off of his nose, kissing her tiny nose and letting her squeeze his finger instead. “I should be able to, but I have to go through physical therapy. I'll probably have a limp for a while, and either a cane or crutches for a bit. I dunno, we’ll have to see how things go. We’re hoping I get used to it sooner rather than later.” I want to be able to use my legs, please and thank you.
Eren seemed to sigh in relief and move to curl up to Levi, not caring that he kicking off his shoes in the process and that he was holding onto whatever he could tightly. I feel like I can finally sleep now that I know you're safe. He managed to fall asleep with his face buried in Levi’s neck, his body warm against him. I’m tired…

Levi chuckled as Eren curled up him, scooting over and making room for him. He held him to his chest, surprised when Mila too seemed to loosen her grip on his finger, laying her head down on Levi’s chest. Levi smiled at the adorable sight, tugging the blanket she was wrapped in up a little higher, kissing both of their heads as they fell asleep. Now that they know I'm okay, it's apparently nap time… He looked up as he heard a click, seeing Lathe and Ieva with their phones out, taking pictures. Levi couldn't bring himself to glare, just giving the camera a small smile. I'm home… and my family's okay…

I hate these. Levi managed to maneuver to the kitchen from the bedroom upstairs, making tea before he realized he had no good way to get it to the living room couch. I can't carry shit, I go so fucking slow, and it's just ugh. And the kids kept stealing them the first couple days so I'd be stuck in one spot until someone tracked them down again. It's so dumb… He sighed, simply deciding to sit at the counter and drink the tea in silence. And Eren and I haven't done anything since I've been home… not even a single handjob to speak of… I miss him… I want something… Levi glanced out the window and across the street. He's so busy with the new center, too. Don't get me wrong, it's a great thing, but… I want attention too… He sighed, abandoning his mug in the sink. He looked up as he saw an SUV pull into the driveway, quirking an eyebrow as Sharon got out, holding something. Why's she parking over here? Her classes are across the street. He managed to get to the door and open it with his crutches nearly falling over, looking her over. “Hey Sharon… what do you need?” You look suspicious.

She grinned, rocking back on her heels. “So, a little birdie told me you hate your crutches more than anything and hope they burn in hell.”

“…that isn't not true…”

She chuckled. “Exactly. So, Lathe and I decided that you could use something a little better than crutches now that you're managing your leg better.” Sherry brought the object out from behind her, a black cane with a silver handle, various etchings and rings decorating the metal. “We thought you'd appreciate something a little classier.”

Levi blinked, reaching for it and inspecting the handle. ...that's very detailed… “Wow, uh… th-
“Oh, uhm, another thing. Grip the black part near the handle real quick with one hand.” She waited for him to, noting the suspicious look he gave her. “Now grip the handle with the other.” And he did. “Now twist counter-clockwise.”

Levi did just that, feeling it move and click. The handle felt looser, slowly pulling it back. He stepped back a foot as he drew out a long silver sword, the blade etched with tiny words and designs. “....holy shit.”

She grinned madly. “We thought you'd appreciate it. We had it made a while ago, it's kinda part of a character's design… but since you're the person the character is based off of and could use it, it seemed fitting to let you have it.”

Levi didn't know what to say, looking stunned. “You put me in.. that…” He swallowed, giving her a faint smile. “Th-Thank you, really. It's very thoughtful.” It's very nice. “And now I'll look a lot scarier than I do with my crutches. Gotta make sure the kids know how much of a badass I am.”

Sharon laughed. “Don't worry, I think it'll do the trick. I'm gonna run over to start my classes- you be careful with that thing, Levi, it's sharp.” She waved before leaving, jogging back down to her car to park it closer to the center. It suits him.

Levi waved and shut the door, leaning his crutches against the wall. He held onto the cane with his left hand after he twisted it shut again, slowly walking with it. ...this could work. He didn't feel strained after he walked a short lap around the couch with it, going to make himself another mug of tea. He held it with his right hand, able to easily make it to the couch with it. He sipped it, slowly smiling. ...victory.

Eren was the first to make it back from the center, holding a few papers that needed to be graded. Mikhail was at his heels still. His eyes looked over to Levi on the couch, his crutches nowhere in sight. “Did the boys steal your crutches again?” He sighed as he set the papers down on the coffee table going to sit with him on the couch. How the leg holding up without the cast on it now? You got the boot on last week…

Levi smirked, picking up the cane lying on the floor. “I apparently have this now, and not only do I not have crutches to wrangle, I can carry stuff.” This is a major improvement. Levi leaned over for a kiss, pouting when Eren immediately turned his attention to his papers. “Eren…” He moved closer to him, one hand resting on Eren’s thigh, leaning in to softly peck his neck. “Isn't there anything else you'd rather be doing…?”
Eren looked at Levi with a raised eyebrow. “You really shouldn’t with your leg, and your wounds are still healing on your back.” I know they’re small, but I don’t want to push you. “You need to focus on recovery, I don’t want to hurt you more…” I really don’t. He did his best to distract himself from Levi’s approaches, struggling not to shudder with his lips on his neck. Oh my god… He’s pushing it…

Levi shifted to better kiss his neck, one hand bracing to balance him as the other cradled Eren’s jaw. “…please? We don’t have to go all the way… just something, anything… because hanging onto you at night and only sleeping is killing me…” I’ve waited too long for you…

Eren’s gaze was calculating. “Go upstairs…” I need to grade the papers, they won’t take me long… It might take you that long to get to the stairs and up them. He turned back to the papers, grabbing his red pen and marking something on them. If you realize what I’m getting at you’ll go upstairs…

Levi smirked, nipping his neck before letting his hand slip from him. Yes! He picked up the cane, making his way with a little more ease to the stairs, taking his time to get up them. He walked on to the bedroom, deciding to get comfortable. He stretched out like a cat on top of the bed, settling in, waiting for Eren. …don’t keep me waiting…

Eren was up in ten minutes, making sure that the house was quiet as he opened their door, moving to close and lock it behind him. He moved to strip himself of his shirt to show Levi how far down the tattoos had gone. “It’s gonna be hard to mark me now…” You won’t be happy about that… He crawled onto the bed where Levi laid stretched out.

Levi reached for him, pulling him onto the bed next to him, slowly rolling over onto him and burying his nose in his neck. “Hm, It's okay… I can mark you here…” He gently nipped the side of his neck. “Or maybe here…” He moved to kiss at Eren’s chest, nipping a spot on his pecs. “The tattoos make you look even hotter… it's a miracle…” He latched into one of his buds, slowly sucking it. I wanna draw this out… I miss this…

Eren let out a soft sigh as he felt Levi’s lips on him. He groaned even more, his body reacting even more to Levi as he was touched. Fuck… His lips feel like magic… His eyes closed as he shifted slowly under him, spreading his legs for him. Fuck I missed this…

Levi let his hands moved slowly down Eren’s front, tugging at the waistband of his pants. I want them gone… He stopped when he felt a hand on his chest, letting Eren take his black jacket off of him, letting him help with the buttons of his white shirt. His back wasn't bandaged anymore, the scars where the bullets had gone still prominent. He sighed as Eren tugged him up further, gasping as Eren’s lips latched onto one of his own pink buds. Oh… “...m-missed this…” So much...

Eren wouldn’t let up, shifting so that Levi was on his back and his hands were all over his now tanned skin. Oh my god…. He’s almost as dark as me … He hummed as he latched his mouth on Levi’s other nipple, his hands moving to get his pants off, pulling them down quickly. I want to please you...

Levi whimpered quietly as Eren’s hands worked to unbutton his pants, groaning with frustration when the boot got in the way. Make it go away… He sighed as he helped Eren get his boot off, carefully pulling them and his boxers off and out of the way. He spread his legs for Eren, looking up to him with wanting eyes. I need you… please… He watched Eren hesitate, reaching up a hand to gently cup his cheek. “Eren, it’s okay… If something starts hurting I’ll tell you and we can stop or change positions so that I’m not in pain… but I haven’t barely felt any discomfort for a while. I think I’ll be okay, babe. Please… I need you.” He looked to him with pleading eyes. I want it...

Eren swallowed as he looked at Levi, nodding silently, moving carefully over him to the nightstand. He rifled through the drawer and brought out a condom and lube, his eyes on Levi’s body as he settled between his thighs. You’re not keeping your promise… But that’s okay....

Levi paused as he saw the hurt look in Eren’s eyes, reaching out to stop him. “Eren, what’s wrong? If you’re really not okay with this, I won’t make you do anything… tell me…”

Eren shook his head, moving to take Levi’s length in his mouth. I can’t be selfish… I knew he wouldn’t keep it… I shouldn’t be upset… I should just be glad he still wants me at all… You wouldn’t be able to do it anyways… He swallowed down Levi’s whole length, trying to distract him.

Levi gasped as Eren suddenly sank down his length, though he reached for him, pushing his shoulder. Something’s not right… He pushed him off even though he ached, looking to Eren seriously. “Eren, babe… tell me what the matter is… because if you’re not happy with this, then I don’t want it…” I’m not gonna force you to please me… He gently cupped Eren’s cheek as he saw guilt wash over Eren’s face, his voice soft. “Talk to me, Honey…”

Eren felt the guilt wash over his whole body, shaking his head and looking down. “N-No, i-it’s fine… I can wait…” You probably don’t even remember what you promised. “D-Don’t worry about anything…” His head moved away from Levi’s hands, moving back to take his length in mouth again. I can do it...

Levi stopped him again, sitting up. “Eren, please, stop…” He lifted Eren’s chin up, softly kissing him. why are you so upset? “Eren, please… help me understand… I'm sorry that I can't do much to please you in return with my leg and back keeping me from doing everything I normally can… but… …if you want to wait until I'm better so that I can properly take care of you, that's okay.” He softly pecked his cheek. “I'm okay to wait.” You deserve better than what I can give you now…

Eren shook his head, “I-I'm fine really … I’m okay, I can do it…” I know you want it... I know you do... “I can do it...” He shifted to sit in Levi’s lap, kissing at his cheeks, holding his head. I should've known you wouldn’t remember...

Levi looked worried, thinking. …you keep sounding like you expected something different.... I... I must've promised you... “Eren, love… if I promised you something when I came home… I just… I can't give it to you because of what happened. Just my leg got fucked up and my back isn't perfect yet and even though I'd love to ravish you I just... I can't yet… and I'm so sorry for that… as soon as I can, I will… because you deserve that… you deserve so much more than what I can do to you now…” Levi blushed as Eren pecked all over his cheeks, smiling. You're wonderful...

Eren murmured something against Levi’s skin and he simply nodded. I’m sorry that I can’t pleasure you... Even if it’s all you want... He buried his face in Levi’s neck, wrapping himself around Levi, trying not to hit any of the wounds on his back. I don’t want to hurt you...

Levi held onto Eren, tugging the blanket around them, his hand running over Eren's back soothingly. “Babe… can you help me get dressed and my boot on again? I just… I don't want anything happening to my leg...” He kissed his neck. “But then we can cuddle all you want… promise.” All the cuddles.

Eren nodded slowly and carefully easing Levi into his boxers and some sweatpants before putting the boot on him again. Should I give him a shirt? He probably wants a shirt... So I should put mine on too. He clambered off the bed, picking up the clothing they discarded earlier, slipping on his shirt with ease. He moved to unlock the door his head down in a bit of shame. I fucked it up, I couldn’t hide anything from him... Shit... I need to work on that...

Levi smiled as Eren buttoned up the soft shirt he’d worn earlier for him, reaching for him when he stood at the now-unlocked door. “Babe, come here, please...” Levi waited for Eren to come back over, pulling him on top of him. “It's okay. Hon… soon enough I'll be well enough to take damn good care of you...” He pecked his neck. “...we can still make out if you want to.”

Eren shook his head hurriedly moving to turn his head away from him as he curled up to his side, his ear resting on Levi’s chest as he had done so many times before to try and get himself to calm down. He barely noticed that Mikhail came into the room and jumped up on the bed. *I’m.... I’m..... He could see his hands shaking and let Mikhail come and lay down between them, petting him to try and calm from. I’m okay…

Levi watched Eren worriedly, gently carding a hand through Eren’s hair. “Eren, babe, it’s okay that we called that off for now… I'm okay to wait. You're worth waiting for. And if you want to wait until you can have my everything… then we can wait.” Levi looked to him, smiling softly. It’s okay.

“It’s not fair to you though…” He murmured quietly, glancing at the soft smile before looking away. “You’ve been dying for touch… I shouldn’t deny you that…” He nuzzled his head into Levi’s chest, listening to his heartbeat, trying to calm down. I want to be a good boyfriend… Cause you’ll leave…

Levi’s voice was soft, feeling his slight hard-on go down. “I promised you that the first intimate thing I’d do was ravish you… and I should keep that promise. Otherwise, it's not fair to you. I wanna be good to you- and that includes keeping my promises.” ...does that still include me proposing on New Year’s? ...I think it does... I said I would, at least to Lathe... and... you’re dying for a ring... I need to do it before anything else happens. Levi softly kissed the top of Eren’s head, his voice gentle. “...I'll make good on all my promises.” I need to stop making you wait. I need to... I need to stop wasting time. Because you and Mila deserve a real family.

Eren nodded, curling up into Levi’s side more and enjoying the warmth of his body. His own body going lax as his eyes closed and all he heard was the steady beat of Levi’s heart. He’ll wait for me… I’m happy…
Chapter 103: Love, Lust, and Lashings

Levi was happy to leave the doctor’s office without the boot. His expression was still neutral however, and his weight still slightly on the silver and ebony cane, though it really wasn't necessary. *I do like the cane, I'll admit. And thank fck I don't have to deal with that boot anymore. I'm free to walk and do whatever I want now. ...and that includes fucking Eren into the mattress the second we get home.* Levi nudged Lathe as the two of them walked to the car. “Hey Dad?”

“Hm?”

“Since we’re out, and you have the day off and can drive me around, let's go ring shopping.” I still have to do that. “Oh, and maybe look for someplace nice to propose? A nice restaraunt?” I need to do this for him.

Lathe chuckled, smiling. “Okay, okay. We can. Which would you rather do first?”

His answer was immediate. “The ring.” I need a ring. He got into the car easily, smirking as Lathe took them to the jeweler on Trost.

“You don't have to buy anything here, there are others up in town, but keep an eye on styles you think Eren would like.” Lathe made sure Levi nodded and understood before getting out of the car, leading him inside. They were inside for about half an hour before leaving, Levi looking deep in thought. Nothing really looked right here. The next few hours were spent driving to town and looking around for nice restaurants as they went from one jeweler to another, Levi trying to find a ring that spoke to him. Lathe kept a careful eye on him as they lingered for a while in one shop, Levi looking over everything in the case, always seeming to gloss over more masculine bands and look over the ones set with stones. They're all certainly very nice... They were there a while, Levi asking the man behind the counter to show him some of the different rings, letting him inspect them. After a while they had left, and all they had to do was wait the three weeks for the custom order to be finished. A band of tiny diamonds, and one emerald and one sapphire... “It's going to be a beautiful ring.” Lathe smiled to Levi.

“I really hope he likes it… I don't know if you noticed, but I'm not exactly what you would call romantic… I'm giving this my best shot.”

“You're doing just fine, believe me. And Eren’s dying for a family- you could offer him a ring woven out of three blades of grass and he’d say yes.” Don't worry.
Levi chuckled at that, rubbing the back of his neck nervously. “I’m gonna be nervous either way.”

“I know- you're the one proposing. It's part of your job to be nervous. Here, let's keep looking for a place to take him.”

Levi hopped back into the car with him, taking a bit longer until they had four good options of where Levi could take Eren. They called the place Levi wanted most first, seeing about making a reservation, sighing as they were told everything was booked. They tried the second and were told the only opening was at five, not thinking it good enough but marking it down on the page to call back just in case. They were finally greeted with good news the third call around- a very late opening where they would be there at midnight. Perfect. Levi took it, smiling as they hung up the phone. “....that's when I'm gonna ask. I'm gonna ask him to marry me…. he’ll say yes…. right?”

Lathe smiled, patting his back gently. “Of course he will.”

...of course he will. ...he's Eren, and we have Mila. Of course he will.

Eren sighed as he looked down at one of the boys as they snitched the food he was making. “I told you that you have to wait until we sit down!” He grumbled but sent the boy off with another scrap of cooked chicken. I swear, all they do is eat. He muttered something in German as he had to shoo another away from the bowl of chicken. “We are not gonna have anything to eat at this rate!” He had gotten on the last straw as the fourth kid came and stole food. “Alright! That’s it! All of you go get dressed! Tucker! You’re taking the kids outside to build snowmen! The one who can make the biggest one wins a prize!” Eren shouted out, his patience obviously drawn to a thin wire as the boys all scattered and ran upstairs to put warmer clothes on for underneath their snow gear. During his shouting fest he hadn’t heard the door open, shaking his head and going back to rip apart the cooked chicken. <“I swear they never listen unless I yell…”> I hope Mila won’t be like this…

<“They're boys… it's what they do.”> Levi ambled up to him with a slight limp still, having left the cane at the door so he could properly wrap up Eren in a hug from behind. “I got the boot off today…” He smiled into his shoulder, gently nipping his neck. “We both know what that means…”

<“Do I know what that means?”> Eren asked slyly as he turned his head to kiss at the corner of Levi’s mouth, smiling as his hands continued to pull apart chicken. He leaned into Levi’s touch, so happy that his arms were wrapped around his waist, a smile creeping on his face. The anger he’d displayed only moments before completely wiped away thanks to Levi. Damn… He knows how to make everything better…
Levi quirked an eyebrow, kissing his nose. “Hm, I think you do…. I think quite a few things will be put to good use…. and maybe we can have some fun with all the new toys you bought…” I saw plenty of new ones in the videos...

Eren’s face flushed in embarrassment. <“If you’re going to talk like that you better be speaking German or so help me god I will murder you if one of the kids hears you…”> He half growled at Levi, no real threat in his words as he tilted his head to the side, letting Levi have at his neck. You’re gonna ravish me…. I hope at least…

Levi smirked as the skin was bared to him, gently sucking at the flesh. <“Hm, you’d rather hear in German how hard I'm gonna fuck you into the mattress? Is that what you want?”>

<“Language…”> Ieva looked at them with an amused grin as she saw Levi slowly pull away from Eren to glare at her. <“I know none of the kids can understand what you’re saying, but please try and refrain from fucking on the counter… the same one Eren happens to making dinner on…”> She giggled as she ran a hand over her abdomen, watching Eren gape like a fish. Oh this is too good...

... And we are caught yet again by the ‘Mom-dar’... <“B-B...But...B-”> Eren could barely form words as a blush graced his features, running all the way down his neck and hiding the red spot that Levi had created just seconds before. He was a stuttering mess as she laughed. Oh geez...

<“I’m just teasing... I’ll go put Mila’s crib in our room so you can get to know each other again…”> She smiled and walked off, heading up the stairs and calling for Lathe to come help her with something as she got to the stairs. I love teasing them... It’s too much fun...

Lathe grinned evilly as Ieva teased them, following her up the stairs. Their reactions are just too perfect.

Levi sighed as they left, draping himself right back over Eren. <“Hm… I could use some time to get reacquainted…”> Levi ran one hand over his thigh, his eyes slipping shut, simply listening as Eren cooked and taking in Eren’s scent.

Eren was content as he hummed, looking out the window as he saw the boys having given up on their quest to build the biggest snowman and were now in a massive snowball fight. <“They’re all gonna be freezing when they come in…”> He murmured and moved his head to the side for Levi to have access to his neck again. Mila’s napping with James right now... He’s going into surgery next week, after Thanksgiving... He’ll be home for Christmas is everything goes correctly.
Levi smirked, softly kissing his neck again. <“Mm, we can just give them hot cocoa with dinner…
that'll fix it. And dinner'll be nice and hot. They'll warm right up.”> They'll survive.

Eren smirked, letting out a soft gasp as Levi’s lips trailed over a sensitive spot. <‘I’m so happy they went back and found you… I was so worried about you…’> I know I haven’t really talked about you being home much… but I… I think I can talk about it with you now… He hummed softly as he finished up with the last chicken breast and went back through the bowl and started to tear it further apart.

Levi sighed, resting his cheek on Eren’s shoulder blade, his voice quiet. <“...I thought that I was gonna die out there. I was either going to stay crushed under that cement for years and years, or I was gonna be found. When I heard those footsteps, I thought I was gonna get shot. ...but I wasn't gonna be. I'd spent a lot of time coming to terms with the idea that I was gonna die out there… and then suddenly I wasn't.”> It happened so fast...

<“They told us you were missing before you were dead....”> He trailed off quietly as he moved to the sink to wash his hands. <“They gave me a flag and everything… You never told me you put me down as a significant other… What’s up with that?”> You haven’t mentioned anything like that to me before...

Levi suddenly felt nerves wash over him, his eyes flickering to where the shelf in the kitchen still held the flag, the silver star hiding the two gold stars behind it. <“....give it a little more time and you’ll know why, babe.”> Levi softly pecked his neck. <“I'm sorry you thought I was dead for so long… I'm sorry I almost left you two alone...”> I wanted Mila to grow up with both her Dads...
...and she gets to... thank god...

Eren was about to ask Levi about it before he let out a soft moan, leaning back into Levi’s touch as he held him close. <“Do you think you’ll go back?”> I know I don’t want you to go... But you worked hard to be a marine.. And now... You’re.... you’re home... But are you gonna enlist again?
Eren felt his hands begin to shake as he thought about Levi returning and losing him for real. He swallowed hard, closing his eyes to try and rid himself of the thought. What would happen then?

Levi let his hands drift as Eren shook, his voice gentle. < “I'm not going back, Eren, I'm not the same. My leg is full of metal and I'm still not good as new after all this time. I haven't tried running or jumping because I'm still limping when I walk. If I really did want to enlist again, I'd’ve gone to Wichita General Hospital and had the serum fix my leg good as new… but Eren… I have a family.
I was in danger, was declared missing, then dead, then in critical condition, and now my leg has a metal bone. I got a Purple Heart out of it… I think that's enough of the military for me.”> I'm done.
Levi let one hand slip under Eren’s shirt, gently rubbing the warm skin of his stomach with his thumb.
Eren nodded, seemingly letting out a sigh of relief. So he'll stay home.... He really will... He had a soft smile on his face, along with a blush as he felt Levi’s thumb on his stomach. He could feel the warmth the small gesture gave him. <“Hmm… I still need to make dinner though…”> Eren trailed off as he shifted out of Levi’s hold for a moment going to grab barbecue sauce he’d made earlier. The boys like barbecue chicken... And we probably won’t have leftovers...

Levi sighed, his hands still resting on Eren’s hips as he moved. He stayed behind him like that as he made dinner, leaning against his back and listening to him work. He pouted when too many things were going on at once to hold him, retreating to the counter when he was shooed away. He leaned his head in one hand, his legs crossed, studying Eren. He shut his eyes, sighing quietly. He jolted a bit when he felt a hand on his shoulder, Eren waking him from his light doze. The table was already filled with food. “Dinner?” He smiled faintly as his nose was kissed.

Eren smiled softly, ushering him to the table where he normally sat, going to call the boys in and get everyone from upstairs. They'll be excited... I wonder if Tucker will eat, he's been down lately, worse than he was before... Levi's getting used to him not saying a word... But Lathe still tries to get him to talk every once in awhile... He shook his head, telling Lathe and Ieva dinner was ready through the door before going to pick Mila up from where she laid on James and gently shake him awake. “Dinner...” He smiled as he followed downstairs, the boys coming in and shaking themselves off of snow, their faces bright red from the cold outside and Tucker wordlessly helping to get their snow gear off. Oh... Jake went outside too? Hmm...

Levi was out of sight for a moment, coming back with towels to lay on the floor as they dripped slush. He helped them hang up their coats on the long row of pegs, helping them get off the ice crusted onto their hair before letting them run off. They got water all over the floor... Levi mopped the floor with his foot, drying it with a towel. He left the towels in a neat pile to hang up later, Jake tugging him to the table when he took too long. “Okay, okay, I'll sit down so you can eat.” He smiled faintly as he was given a toothy grin, sitting next to Eren and immediately going to nudge his feet under the table.

Eren smiled as he held Mila in his arms, feeding her small spoonfuls of baby food. He hooked his ankle with Levi’s, letting his plate go empty for now while he fed her. She's so cute, and she eats well... He looked up when he heard a sigh rip through the room, Tucker looking down on his food without interest. He felt his heart sink a little. I wonder what's up with him? I tried to cheer him up... This is one of his favorites, I noticed he hasn't been eating... Eren spared a worried glance towards Lathe. What are we supposed to do?

Lathe caught it, sending a small helpless shrug back. I don't know what to do anymore! If this is all about the Henry thing.... I'm starting to think that if he was okay with a relationship, he wouldn't've rejected Henry. I'm starting to think to him, the idea is terrifying and really nice at the same time. ....I can maybe talk to him later, but right now, there's not much more to do... “Tucker, make sure you finish everything or you can't leave the table.” He saw him look up in surprise. “I know you weaseled your way out of eating lunch, so you get to eat all of dinner, okay? It's your favorite- it shouldn't be too hard.” We're worried about you.

Tucker looked up, swallowing before quietly nodding. I don't know if I'll be able to stomach it all... I know that Eren’s trying to cheer me up, but last week was brutal at school.... We're getting closer to when teachers start assigning papers for over Christmas break, and the counselors are breathing down my neck to figure out if I wanna go to college or not.... He slowly brought the fork to his mouth, trying not to gag as he forced it down. Tucker managed to swallow, and forced himself to slowly eat the rest of the plate as the number of people at the table slowly dwindled down to just him. I can't eat it all... He sighed, softer this time, and leaned his head on his hand, his elbow on the table, his eyes were glassy as he stared at the rest of the uneaten food on his plate. I can’t finish it...

Lathe was quiet as he cleared the rest of the table, watching Tucker put his head down in defeat. He went over to him, his hand gentle on his back. “...Tucker, I think we need to talk a bit...” His voice was soft. You're not in trouble... but we're so worried...

Tucker looked up and nodded, feeling the uncomfortable lump in his throat. Oh god, what are you going to talk about with me? That I'm depressing to be around? Probably.... He slowly pulled out his phone, waiting for Lathe to start talking at him. This is usually how it goes, you talk first...

Lathe sat down next to him, looking him over for a moment. “....I know that I don't know everything about what’s had you so upset lately... so I just wanted to tell you that I'm always here to talk to if you need advice or someone to rant and complain to. If there’s something you want to talk about, you can tell me, or we can leave it at that and I’ll let you do what you think is right about them. You're fifteen and can make your own choices; but we want to be here if it gets to be too much. ...anything.” Lathe was quiet after that, waiting patiently for any response.

Tucker was quiet as Lathe spoke. Okay, not what I was expecting you to say... But you noticed... Joy ... He let out what seemed like the millionth sigh of the day and opened his phone up, quickly opening a note and writing in it. Henry got a girlfriend... I know I did this to myself... But it hurts, a lot... He bit down in his lip hard enough to make it bleed as he handed his phone to Lathe. He didn’t care that he could taste the metallic liquid. I did this... And I wish I could just cut open my chest and pull out my heart and be done with it... It feels like it got trampled...

Lathe read it over, sighing quietly. “Honey, I'm sorry...” I know you really care about him... “...there's not much to say about this in particular... it may or may not last... but you can't just go and wreck their relationship if you've suddenly changed your mind... ...have you been thinking about trying to take back what you said, and starting a relationship?” Are you actually interested in dating him?
Tucker felt the tears he hadn't been able to shed before finally surface. What right do I have to take back what I said? He's happy.... I can't do that him... I wish I could go back and tell him how much I love him, but we can't all have what we want... I realize that now, I'm gonna try to finish eating, I'll clean up the dishes when I'm done. He handed the phone back to Lathe, picking up his fork and forcing himself to eat another bite as he let the tear silently roll down his cheeks. I realized it too late...

*...Tucker's in love and hurting... and I don't find it too hard to think that Henry is still hurting too... He hasn't come to dinners in a long while... he was utterly broken for a good week, and was very out of sorts for a while after that... Lathe thought for a long moment, standing after a bit. “...I think it's very likely that Henry is still really hurting after what happened... he was so upset after that.... he really cared about you. I wouldn't be surprised if he still does. It's not very uncommon for people to try and get over one breakup- and I know you didn't date, but still- with another boyfriend or girlfriend. Kinda sorta like a distraction... ...now it'd be seriously crossing the line to say anything that's trying to intentionally trying to break them up.... but there's nothing that's stopping you from sending him something well written that pretty much goes ‘I was a dick, I'm sorry, I'm here if you need anything, if things don't work out for you I’d like to give things a try.’...it's always an option.” You could try. “...how long have he and this girl been dating?”

Tucker looked down at his phone, trying not to submit to the bile rising in his throat. No, you can’t get sick... Force it down. I have no right to tell him that. He’s happy, he smiles at her like he used to smile at me... Now his eyes are so cold towards me.... He could feel his gut clench. They’ve been dating since the end of September... So two months now, and I’m starting to lose it... Funny right? How I can push everyone away, even the one who I love because I’m afraid of getting hurt, only to feel like I’m dying on the inside everytime I see that smile that isn’t directed at me... Tucker let the tears roll as he stabbed the rest of his food, forcing himself to swallow and hold it down. I can’t get sick...

Lathe sighed, gently rubbing his back and reaching for his kerchief, Tucker’s phone set on the counter next to him. “You always have the right to talk to Henry. One well-thought-out message to him is allowed, and after how he reacted to it.... I think it's appropriate. At least the apology. But if you word things well, this could fix plenty of things. I know it's very easy to mask hurt with anger, and it's very easy to do whatever is convenient to distract yourself from any pain. If that's what this is, and it sounds like it... He could just be leading this girl along and not really intending for it to go anywhere... she could end up getting hurt either way. It's only two months- that's not very long when it comes to dating. Unless they knew each other well beforehand, they probably don't have too much of a connection. I think you should write something out and send it to him. See what happens. If anything, it'll make him stop glaring at you. And I can imagine it just makes it worse to see that.”

Tucker nodded silently, taking his plate and going to wash the dishes, like he said he would. Maybe I should text him... But with my luck he’s blocked my number. His mind was everywhere as he washed the dishes in silence, tears still freely flowing down his face and dropping from his chin. He probably hates me...
Lathe followed him, gently taking a plate from him. “Honey, please, you go do what you think is right. Don't worry about the dishes. Just worry about yourself.” Lathe gave him his kerchief before letting him run off, sighing as he ran upstairs. Poor kid... good luck.

Tucker ran upstairs to his room, locking the door behind him as he looked down to his phone, opening Henry’s contact info before he started to type out what he wanted to say.

TQ: Hey, Henry, it’s me…. But if you deleted my number you’ll have no idea who this is so it’s Tucker. I don’t know if you’ll get this, you probably already blocked my number, and to be honest I probably deserved that. I wanted to tell you that I’m sorry, and that I was an ass when I rejected you before school started. I know you really liked me, and I’m just realizing now how much I like you as well. You probably don’t want to hear any of this, and that’s understandable… But I wanted to tell you I’m sorry… And your girlfriend seems nice... I’m really glad that you’re happy, please don’t stop smiling, even if it’s not at me, okay?

HP: ……To say I'm happy isn't exactly true....... I really cared about you and it really hurt for you to be so blunt when you rejected me... and I mean, she's okay.... just..... this is gonna sound really dumb but she's not you... and that's the problem... I still really care about you, you know.... and I really appreciate the apology...

HP: ………does this mean you want to go out with me?

TQ: You’re dating someone, I can’t break that relationship up, I’m sorry that it came out like that after you guys have been together for this long, I just... I couldn’t take it anymore....

HP: Tucker, it's been two months and we haven't done much of anything... she's just... I feel bad because I'm barely paying her any attention and I know I'm not gonna care enough to really pay much attention in the future either… I just... I thought it'd distract me... and it wasn't working... I've been hurting this whole time really... I was thinking about breaking it off... if I get to have you maybe as a boyfriend... I'd really like that... if you're seriously okay with it...

Tucker felt his breath get stuck in his throat. Fuck... But... But I’m still afraid...

TQ: Henry.... I’m not sure that’s a great idea.... I’m still having issues with relationships...

HP: Tucker that's very okay... I didn't expect you to be able to suddenly flip the switch from not okay to okay when it comes to this sort of thing... we can go at whatever pace you want I'll never complain about being supervised if having someone else there makes you feel a lot better about this until I can prove to you that you can trust me. I really want to do this right if we’re gonna do this and you deserve that.
Henry didn't need any more confirmation. He scrambled up from his bed, turning off his Xbox and shoving clothes into a backpack. He ran down the stairs and stepped into his boots, getting his coat and hat and gloves. “I'm going for a sleepover at Tucker’s! I'll be home eventually!” He was gone before anyone could respond, setting off down the street, careful on the icy roads. He took a while, but soon crashed through their front door, his face red from the cold.

Everyone in the front hall jumped out of their skin at the sight and sound, Lathe running over to him. “Jesus Christ, kid, are you okay? And how did you get in?!?” He watched as Henry held up the spare key normally hidden outside. “...take off your boots and hang everything up. I'm assuming you wanna talk to Tucker.”

“Please?”

“Wow, you said please. I'll run.” Lathe went up the stairs quickly as Henry got his shit sorted out, knocking on the doorframe. “Tucker? Someone’s here to see you.”

Tucker picked his head up from staring at his phone with a hurt face. I think I made it worse... He hasn’t responded to me yet. Who’s here? He handed Lathe the phone, confusion and sadness clearly written across his face.

Lathe smiled to him. “Let me guess- Henry stopped mid conversation because he was too busy running over here to say hi.” Yeah. He's here. ...that sounds like something he would do.

Tucker’s eyes widened and he barely registered that he was running down the hallway until he’d already hit the end of the stairs, everything seeming to stop as his eyes met Henry’s. He was still pulling off all of his snow gear and he looked at him and smiled softly, his feet carrying him over to Henry with amazing speed, almost knocking him over with the force he slammed into him with as he wrapped his arms around Henry’s shoulders, his face buried into Henry’s neck as he tried not to cry. Don’t cry... Don’t cry... He’s here, he’s right here...

Henry was stunned as Tucker nearly knocked him over, his hand rubbing his back gently, sighing as he felt the small puffs of Tucker’s breath against his neck. “...I'd love to be your boyfriend.” Please...

Tucker’s grip on Henry got tighter as he held onto him, softly crying. “I-I love you…” His voice was harsh from disuse, quiet as well, right next to Henry’s ear. I don’t want you to leave… Please don’t make me go through that again…

Henry was stunned as he heard the sound, practically melting. “…I… I love you too.” Henry reached one hand to his cheek, softly kissing the corner of his lips for barely a moment. I don’t wanna overstep anything… He made sure his hold was gentle enough for Tucker to break free if he wanted.

Tucker turned his head, leaning to press his lips against Henry’s soft ones as he melted into his touch. I don’t want this to end… Please tell me it’s not going to end…

Henry smiled into their kiss for a moment, breaking it for just a moment, murmuring against his lips as he shrugged his coat off. “Let me get the rest of this off…” He quickly hung everything up before turning back to him, glancing over to the living room and seeing the couches unoccupied. He looked over to the kitchen for a moment, Lathe having settled with a book at the table just out of sight of the living room. Ah. Henry reached for Tucker’s waist, gently pulling him to the couch. He sat down with him, slowly coaxing him to lay on top of him, looking up as his hands rested on his waist. “…is this okay?”

Henry nodded, shifting on top of him and curling up to his chest, his face buried into his neck. “Yeah… it’s okay…” He murmured quietly as his hands gripped his shirt. He’s comfortable… It’s so nice… It’s not scary at all…

Henry smiled, one hand coming up to play with Tucker's hair. “……can we make out?” I wanna kiss you again… He blushed violently as Tucker picked his head up and looked at him. “……please?” I wanna…

Tucker was hesitant at first but soon he leaned his head down to press their lips together once again, feeling a shiver run down his spine at just how right it felt. His lips are soft… I didn’t think about it like that before… But now I can’t stop…

Henry kissed him slowly, one hand cupping his jaw and the other running up and down his side. He tilted his head, feeling his cheeks heat up as they kissed. He’s…. I don't wanna stop… Henry was very careful as he let his tongue swipe at Tucker’s lips for an instant, pulling back when Tucker froze for an instant. “W-We don't have to, it's okay, I just-”

Tucker’s eyes were wide as he looked at Henry, shaking his head as he spoke, cutting him off and kissing him, leaving his mouth open for him. You just surprised me is all… but we’re not doing more than French kissing tonight… and cuddles if you stay the night…
Henry was surprised as he was cut off with a kiss, his eyes slipping shut as their tongues tentatively moved and brushed, both of them shivering. He tastes nice… Henry grew limp as he felt Tucker press closer, his tongue invading his own cavern, whimpering quietly, his grip on his shirt tightening. I really like this…

Tucker tensed for a moment as Henry’s grip tightened minutely. He went rigid, trying not to pull back from Henry, wanting so much to be okay with this, trying to distract himself with kissing Henry deeper, though he was quickly getting out of breath, pulling back and burying his face in embarrassment. Oh shit… He’s still holding my shirt tightly…

Henry felt his grip loosen as Tucker pulled away, his cheeks flushed, his eyes glazed over. I love this… He blinked when Tucker found his way into the crook of his neck, his hands lighting resting on his shoulders. “Are you okay, Tucker? …why’d you stop…?” Henry sounded breathless, wanting more. His hands came up to cup Tucker’s cheeks. You’re okay… right?

Tucker was quiet for a moment, shaking a bit in his arms. “T-Tight…” He murmured quietly, sighing in relief once Henry’s hands weren’t gripping to his shirt. He stopped… Tucker felt like he could breathe again as he nuzzled into Henry’s neck more, trying not to cry. He won’t hurt me….

Henry needed a moment, the thought finally processing. Oh…. oh shit, that’s right… nothing even vaguely rough… “Hey, I'm sorry, I'll be much more gentle… here, let's try this…” Henry nudged Tucker a tiny bit, coaxing him to take hold of his wrists before moving them above his own head. “...you're in control of the stuff we do…. I want you to know that.” You can control this. I trust you.

Tucker looked at Henry with confusion before he understood what he was talking about. He shifted to straddle Henry’s chest, his hands still pinning Henry’s above his head. I'm short… I need to scoot up to even be able to reach. He finally got comfortable, leaning his head down and pressing his lips to Henry’s a bit more timidly than before, though he was quickly growing more accustomed to it.

Henry sighed as their lips met, a blush creeping up his neck as he felt his tongue invade his mouth. His toes curled a bit as Tucker pressed their kiss deeper, letting out a helpless and pleased whimper. I love this…..

Tucker tilted his head to the side their kiss going even deeper as he tried to coax Henry’s tongue into his own mouth, finally resorting to sucking his tongue into his mouth and teasingly using his teeth gently. I…. I don’t know what’s gotten into me…
Henry whimpered as Tucker nibbled at his lip, kissing him back as best he could while still pinned, not wanting to upset their balance. Fuck, you're a great kisser... Henry whimpered as they made out, wanting more, even though he didn't know what. ...what's gotten into me...? My god, I must sound like a dying puppy... He gasped quietly as all the small sounds rewarded him with a broken kiss, lips brushing down his jaw. ...fuck... He was melting under Tucker’s lips, a whimpering and breathless puddle.

Tucker kept Henry pinned as he shifted to kiss at his neck, trailing down from his jaw and leaving small open mouth kisses as his free hand ran through Henry’s hair. You’re making such beautiful noises.... Tucker soon braved licking a stripe up Henry’s tanned skin, smirking. How will you take that?

Henry couldn’t help letting out breathless sighs and quiet moans, his breathing shaky. Fuck, I can't get hard... but it feels really nice... I don't want him to stop.... He gasped as Tucker locked up his skin, his whimpers even sharper as he kept lapping at his neck. “T-Tucker, w-wait.... I-I'm gonna get hard....” He whimpered as his lips left his neck, instinctively tilting his head back and baring the rest of his neck as he let out a distressed sound. I don't want you to stop but I can't get hard... He jolted from his thoughts when he felt Tucker shaking, looking up to see him staring at him in terror. Shit. “Nonononono, Tucker, it's okay, I don't want to, what you were doing felt so good but it was too good and I know you don't want that so soon... we’re never going to do anything you don't want, I just didn't want to get hard and scare the crap out of you or make things awkward, I just... please don't be so scared, I was trying to stop it from happening... please don't be so scared...” Henry pleaded with him, knowing better than to move a single muscle. Don't freak out... please...

Tucker shook horribly as Henry tried to correct the situation, though he let go of Henry and moved to curl up at the end of the couch, hugging a pillow to himself as he stared at Henry with wide eyes. He peered over the edge of the couch, seeing that Lathe was still in the kitchen, reading from his book. Dad’s still here.... He seemed to calm down a bit at that thought, though he looked at Henry with slight fear. He doesn’t want to do anything?

Henry looked to him carefully, mimicking Tucker’s position, hugging his knees to his chest. “I don't want to do anything... and I know you don't want to... is it okay if we just... cuddle or something? I'd love to hold you...” Please?

Tucker looked to him like his head was chopped off. You.... You want to hold me? He seemed like he’s just short circuited but he slowly crawled over to Henry, stopping every few moments if Henry moved. He was finally by his side, leaning on him, still curled up and hugging the pillow to his chest, trying not to panic. I... I can do this...

Henry slowly wrapped his arms around him, guiding him to lay down. He managed with a bit of time and reassurance to end up spooning Tucker, his hand on his waist. He softly kissed the back of his neck, his voice quiet and infinitely gentle. “I love you, Tucker.” ... I meant that.

Tucker seemed to melt into Henry’s hold closing his eyes as he relaxed against his chest. You feel comfortable... Soon enough Tucker’s breathing evened out beside Henry, his head resting on Henry’s arm, using it as a pillow. I’m tired...

Henry could feel his arm fall asleep, feeling a bit awkward. I'm cold... He looked up when he saw something move, infinitely grateful as Lathe got them pillows, Tucker included, so no arms fell asleep. He sighed as a blanket was drawn over them, mouthing ‘Thank you’ to the older man, who smiled. He moved closer to Tucker, burying his nose in his hair. He smells so nice... He found himself falling into a deep sleep, the lights dim, though a light was left on in the kitchen to see by.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Eren had gone up to their bedroom first, making sure that he had enough lube to last them the night before he stripped and hopped into the shower. I need to shower... Dinner was nice, I’m glad everyone ate... Even Tucker... He sighed as he let the water rush over his back, relaxing the muscles from the stress he had earlier. What I would give for a spa day...

Levi wasn't far behind him, hanging up the black jacket on the stand in their room, walking over to the bathroom as he heard the water run. Hm... He knocked on the door, opening it just a crack so he could hear him. “Mind if I join you?”

Eren peeked out of the shower. “Hmm… should I be afraid that you want to come in?” I think we might not make it out of the shower if I let you join. He watched Levi open the door further, motioning for him to come in with his finger, curling it towards him slowly and seductively as he stood, steam pouring away from the water. We haven’t had shower sex in a while... But will you be able to lift me with your leg the way it is?

Levi came in and shut the door, stripping out of the rest of his clothes, discarding them sensually and showing off his toned body. He carefully stepped into the shower behind him, his arms immediately wrapping around Eren from behind, his hand moving over his chest. I missed you... He tilted his head to nibble at his neck, his eyes slipping shut as his lips and tongue went to work.

Eren let out a moan without even thinking about it. Oh my god... I need it... “Levi...” His voice was intoxicating as he dipped his head, giving him more room to nibble at the un tattooed flesh. Fuck, I missed having his hands on me...
Levi smirked as Eren gave him an immediate moan, going to nip roughly at the joint of his neck. “Patience…” Levi kissed the spot he dragged his teeth over, smirking faintly. His hands ghosted to his hips, turning Eren around and prying the washcloth from his hands, standing on tiptoe for a moment to kiss his nose. “You're not getting out of a proper shower.” And I'm not gonna push my luck and try to fuck you here in the shower… that has sketchy written all over it… Levi reached for the soap, deciding that teasing Eren with touches all over as he cleaned him was in order.

Eren whimpered with every touch, frozen with pleasure as he let Levi touch him all over his body. “Fuck Levi… you're a fucking tease…” He hissed out his words, leaning into his grasp as his length was grasped to be washed. Oh god… Please, even if it’s gentle, touch me more…

Levi got down on one knee to wash Eren’s length, softly kissing his hip as he slowly washed him. I know. Levi could feel Eren slowly hardening as his nether flushed, rinsing him and giving his head a soft kiss before going to wash his legs, still gently nipping his base. You make all sorts of wonderful sounds whenever I tease you...

Eren’s whole body shivered as Levi looked at him with hungry eyes, not sure what to do as his legs suddenly felt like jello. He leaned a hand back on the tile wall to brace himself, wobbling a little on his feet from the pure pleasure. Fuck… He's making me feel hot… I can’t even think straight anymore at this point…

Levi kept a hand on Eren’s hip to steady him, gently kissing his head one last time before standing, pulling Eren flush. “Something… bothering you…?” Levi smirked as Eren just flushed with embarrassment, kissing his neck. “You've been good…. we can skip washing your hair….?” He reached down, slowly stroking Eren’s hardening length. “I know you'd much rather be doing other things… or, having other things do you …” Let me take care of you...

Eren’s words caught in his throat as Levi stroked his length, slowly and surely. A soft moan left his throat without his permission. He could see the feral look in Levi’s eyes as he nodded, feeling like a newborn fawn with how wobbly his legs were all the sudden. “P-Please…” He begged as Levi shut off the water from them. I want it… I want you so badly.

Levi smirked, guiding Eren from the shower, drying him off. He held him up as he shook, drying them both and letting the towel fall to the floor. Fuck the towel. He slowly guided Eren to the bed, easing him back onto it and clambering over him. He lifted one of Eren’s long legs, seeing him flushed and spread open for him as he kissed down the length of the limb, gently nibbling at his thigh before his mouth found Eren’s length, giving the sensitive flesh wet kisses, mouthing lightly at the tip and watching as a drop of precum beaded there, kissing it. That's so hot….

Eren whimpered as Levi mouthed at his length, his hands gripping into the sheets below him. “L-Levi…” You said your first meal back would be sausage… Mine in particular… He let out a loud gasp as Levi’s lips closed around his tip again. Fuck … He squirmed, spreading his legs further apart. I want him…

Levi slowly bobbed on his length, his hands slowly running up and down his naked form. He’s so beautiful… Levi sucked hard on him for a moment before coming off of him, lapping up his shaft soothingly. He then latched onto his tip and sucked hard, pressing his tongue flat to the head. He watched Eren writhe under his tongue, smirking. I love teasing him…

Eren groaned, reaching a hand up behind him and grabbing a pillow as a body stretched. He whimpered and whined as Levi teased him. <“Bastard… If you’re gonna be a tease… At least stretch me out while you’re out it…”> He almost growled as one of his hands went to push Levi’s head down on his hard length. Fuck I want it… I want more from you…

Levi bobbed down as Eren pushed his head, though he came right back up, smacking the soft flesh on his thigh as he gave him a teasing look. <“Patience… or I’ll drag it out more…”> Levi reached for the lube in the nightstand, coating his fingers and tossing the tube aside. His hand slowly slipped between Eren’s legs, tracing his hole with one finger as he dipped his head down, gently sucking on one perky nipple as his first finger plunged inside. So warm… and he’s so soft… He quirked an eyebrow as there was very little resistance, Eren barely tightening as he went to two fingers, then to three. <“Have you been doing things yourself…?”> Levi’s voice was dark, gazing up at him as the image burned in his mind. That’s hot…

Eren hummed quietly. <“Maybe… I’ve been dying for you to take me…”> I’ve been waiting for so long to you to ravish me like you said you would. <“I don’t wanna sleep tonight.”> He squirmed, thrusting his hips down on Levi’s fingers with a heavy moan. <“Oh shit… Levi…”> He whined for the older man, wanting him to hurry up, his moans desperate.

Levi smirked, softly kissing his hip. <“Who said anything about sleeping…?”> Levi drew his fingers out of him, reaching for the lube and coating himself, not bothering with a condom. I wanna feel all of you… Levi let his tip nudge Eren’s entrance, feeling the man already wrap around him, ready to be taken. “I love you…” Levi murmured in his ear as he slowly pushed in, kissing under his ear as he ground their hips together. He’s so warm…

Eren let out a loud cry of bliss as Levi entered him fully, whimpering quietly for a moment as he clung to Levi’s upper body. His legs wrapped around Levi’s waist, wanting him to grind even deeper. I want all of you… “I love you… all of you… metal and all.” He murmured and tilted his head to the side to offer him his neck to mark up. My whole neck will be bruised after tonight… I’m not gonna sleep at all either…
Levi smiled as Eren spoke, diving in to mark up his neck, slowly beginning a steady pace. Eren’s nails digging into his back and his legs around his waist coaxed him to go harder, soon pounding into him as he left dark marks up his neck, neither caring how visible they would be. Mine… ...he’s so perfect.....

Eren felt the noises that Levi forced out of him get louder and louder and higher in pitch, but something wasn’t right. He pushed on Levi to get him to get off, trying to get him up off of him for a moment. His eyes were full of love as he pushed him up further, getting him to draw out of him. You’re probably confused as all hell, but it doesn’t… I feel like Missionary is all we do… I want something different.

Levi looked confused as Eren pushed him off, looking hurt for a moment. “W-What is it…? What’s wrong?” He looked worried, looking Eren’s neck over. “Did I hurt you?”

Eren shook his head, moving his legs under him as he kissed Levi deeply, though pulled away with a toothy grin. “We always do that position, I want something else…” He murmured before flipping himself onto his stomach, letting his knees up, presenting his ass to Levi while he pressed his cheek to the mattress. I want to be had… maybe this’ll make it feel better?

Levi breathed a quiet sigh of relief, smirking when he saw Eren presenting his ass to him. Hmm….. Levi couldn't resist, his hands cupping his cheeks, pulling them apart, exposing his hole. He dipped down, his tongue pressing against his entrance, slipping inside the loose muscle. He’ll forgive me.

Eren’s eyes widened as he felt Levi’s wet muscle enter him, yelping at the sudden surprise. A soft mewl left his lips as he closed his eyes and enjoyed the sensations with a huff. He whimpered more as he felt his whole body flood with heat, wanting it to continue but wanting more at the same time. “Le~vi…” He whined for him, spreading his legs farther for him. I want you… I want you to wreck me… to make love to me all night… Both… any… just please ravish me.

Levi chuckled quietly, bringing his tongue from him and kissing his hole before picking up his spine, nestling into his neck, his tip brushing his entrance. “This much better…?” He felt his tip slowly enter him, going agonizingly slowly, his own length aching. I wanna hear you say it...

Eren whimpered as he pressed into him slowly, feeling his whole length brush against his prostate due to the angle. < “F-Fuck… Levi…”> His voice was a quiet gasp, full of pleasure as his hands gripped the sheets in a white knuckle grip. Fuck it feels good… It feels good to be full.

Levi smirked, burying his face into Eren’s neck, picking up exactly where they had left off, thrusting deeply into him, looking for the angle that made Eren louder than before. You make the sexiest sounds... holy shit... “You're so handsome…” Levi let his hands roam his front. “Just perfect for me…”

Eren was a mess as Levi spoke to him. “Hmm... talk dirty to me... Please... ” I never ask for that... But I want it, I want to hear what you can come up with. His breaths were coming out in gasps, and he was in utter bliss. Eren’s face was flushed, and his hands grasping onto the sheets below him in pure ecstasy as Levi thrusted onto his prostate. It feels so good... fuck I can barely think... His mouth was filling with saliva, already knowing that he was drooling from this. Oh I’m gonna be so fucking sore... but I couldn’t care less right now...

Levi smirked, lightly kissing Eren’s neck. “Mm, you're so tight... you're just drooling for me... how does it feel to know I’m gonna pound you and tease you, tie you up and make love to you for hours? Know that you're not gonna get any sleep as I torture you with pleasure? I'll have you begging all night for release... I’ll make you my little slave all night... and we all know that slaves that behave... are allowed to cum...” He reached lower, slowly and firmly stroking Eren. “What do you say...? Will you be my slave for the night?”

Eren whimpered as he heard each and every word, his body feeling like it was on cloud nine. *<“M-Master...”> His accent rolled off his tongue spectacularly, his length leaking precum faster than he’d ever thought possible and Levi rubbed his length for all he was worth. *<“Master... I-I’m gonna cum...”> He whined as he tilted his head so he could look back at Levi over his shoulder. I wanna see you, but this feels so good ...

Levi’s look was dark, his voice smooth. *<“You’ve been a good slave for Master...”> He ran his thumb quickly over the slit of his length, hearing his cries of pleasure. <“Cum, slave.”> I wanna see you cum for me.

Eren swore he saw stars as everything went black for a moment, his body catapulting off the edge of ecstasy. It feels so good... His body grew lax as he came into Levi’s hands, his eyes closed in unconscious bliss.

Levi could feel Eren slump under him as he came, letting out choked moans as he came inside of Eren, shuddering. So good... He took a moment to catch his breath before drawing out of him, shifting Eren to lay him on his back, sweeping the hair from his shut eyes. Hm, you're unconscious... hm. Levi pondered this as he went to clean off his hands, coming back and deciding to rifle through their box of toys in the closet, pulling out a silk blindfold and comfortable restraints. Let's give him something to wake up to...

Eren’s body was pliable as he was unconscious, though he started to stir as Levi started to restrain him. I feel warm... But also cold... Did Levi steal the blanket again?

Levi gently tied the blindfold in place, deftly locking his wrists and ankles in the soft cuffs and tightening them, spreading him. He gently dragged a hand up his thigh, gently kissing his neck. “Are you awake yet, slave? You shouldn't keep your Master waiting...” His voice was gentle as Eren stirred. Wake up... you'll want to be conscious for this...

Eren’s eyes opened, confused for only a moment when all he saw darkness. What the fuck... Oh... I passed out? <“Master?”> Eren’s voice was timid as he tried to move, quickly finding that he was bound to their bed. When did he...? Did he tie me up when I was out?

<“It's okay, my slave, I'm right here...”> Levi cupped Eren’s cheek when he looked worried for a moment, persuading him to relax. <“Your Master is going to take very good care of you... if you'll let me...”> I need to make absolute sure this is what you want...

Eren swallowed thickly shaking his head. <“C-Can you take the blindfold off?”> His voice was weak, almost scared that Levi wouldn’t. I want to see you, and I don’t think the blindfold with help get me off... It’ll put you out of sight... I don’t want to think of losing you... He whimpered when Levi took even the slightest moment to respond. <“P-Please... M-Master?”>

<“Of course, please, don't worry...”> Levi quickly moved to remove the blindfold, taking the silk away and looking into Eren’s nervous orbs. <“Better?”> You sounded really nervous...

Eren wanted to reach up and touch Levi’s cheek though when he wasn’t able to move he sighed quietly and nodded. A weak ‘thank you’ left his lips as he watched Levi move above him. He’s not disappearing from my sight... He’s okay...

Levi smiled faintly, brushing their lips. <“In case you need me to stop something, the word is ‘Tea.’ We can change anything you don’t like, Hun.”> Levi left his side at that, going to their box again and studying its contents, string for a moment. There’s a lot of shit in here... He took it to the bed and rifled through it between Eren’s spread legs, looking for something. He set a few toys down between Eren’s legs, setting the rest of the toys aside. <“You bought yourself quite the collection while I was gone...”> Levi went to put it back, noting that something else stood beside the riding crop in the corner. He took out the slender piece of flexible wood, narrowing at the tip. Hm... <“A cane, slave?”> He walked with it back to the bed, running it over his soft flesh. <“It's like you're asking to be punished...”> He looked up to him, his eyes hooded. <“Have you been a bad slave? ...do I need to teach you a lesson?”> Levi’s expression was one of schooled indifference, looking over his flushed body.
Eren looked at the wood, his eyes widening as he felt it come across his skin, trying to shy away from it. What… No… No no no no… He could feel panic beginning to swell as he looked at what position he was in. Does he want to? On my stomach? Eren’s were fearful as he plead with him. <“N-No Master… I-I’ve been a g-good boy…”> He could keep his body from shaking as he watched the flexible wood run over his thighs and away from his stomach… His body twitching away from it.

Levi saw the fear in his eyes, taking it away from him and leaning against the side table. <“Good.”> He looked him over, thinking as he studied the toys he had for him. <“I don’t like that position.”> Levi went to undo the restraints, tossing them aside. <“I want you back on your knees slave, ass in the air for me.”> It’ll make this so much better...

Eren nodded in an instant and flipped to his knees immediately getting the position Levi wanted him in with his head pressed to the mattress. Like this? This is good… Right? He eyes Levi cautiously, trying to figure out what he was going to do to him with the toys behind him I know I saw Anal beads… But… I don’t know what else there was...

Levi watched him move, smirking as he immediately got into position. He picked up the cane again, watching Eren tense. <“Don’t worry slave… I won’t really hurt you… unless you deserve it.”> Levi gently tapped his thigh. <“Further apart.”> He smirked as Eren immediately obeyed, getting the lube and slapping a cock ring. He moved behind him, slowly slipping it on to Eren’s length, giving a few good pumps to harden him more. <“You’re still so soft, slave…”> He gave him a disapproving look for a moment, thinking. <“We need to fix that…”> Levi took the bottle with him as he went back to the array of toys, picking up a butt plug and slicking it, hearing Eren sigh as it slipped into his entrance. He gently tugged it, hearing his deep gasp. Good. He looked between two toys, deciding on the latter- a small bullet vibrator. This is new. Levi moved the toys out of the way, settling between Eren’s legs on his back, facing his cock. <“On your elbows, slave.”> He smirked as he made more room for him, reaching up and running one thumb over his slit, hearing him let out a shuddery breath. He turned on the small bullet, holding it to Eren’s slit. <“Are you not turned on by your Master, slave? Does this not feel good to you?”> Levi’s voice was slightly dangerous as Eren slowly hardened. <“You’re barely hard…”>

Eren whined from the stimulation that the vibrator sent through his whole being. <“M-Master… I just came…”> He whimpered as he ever so slowly started to get hard again. Oh my god… He sounds like he’s angry… Is he? Is he angry? Eren let out a loud moan once again as he shifted his legs a bit wider to try and appease to the man below him. Is he angry?

Levi let out a disapproving ‘tch,’ quirking an eyebrow as he hardened very slowly. <“It’s no excuse slave…. you’re saying one thing…”> He turned up the intensity to no avail, despite Eren’s louder moans. <“But your body is saying otherwise.”> Levi took away the bullet, slipping out from under him, picking up the cane. <“If that’s how well you take to my teasing… let’s see how well you take to being punished.”> Levi ran the thin wood over his ass, looking over him. <“Down further, slave.”> He watched him drop from his elbows, giving him a decent snap with the cane, seeing the red line on his cheeks slowly bloom. <“Better.”> He has him another sharp smack, much more than enough to sting. <“You need to learn to obey your Master, slave…”>

Eren’s eyes were wide as Levi smacked him with the cane, his head tilted away from Levi, struggling to hide his yelps and whimpers from him. His knuckles were white from their grip on the sheets, not sure what to think of the sharp sting that went through his whole being. It hurts… But it feels good. He groaned out at the warmth that filled his being with each harsh snap, trying not to moan too loudly.

Levi quirked an eyebrow as he caught a choked moan with a particularly hard snap, looking over his trembling form. <“…is my slave enjoying their punishment…?”> He looked between his legs without shame, seeing his cock hanging, rock-hard. <“I see that your punishment turns you on more than touching… maybe I’ll just stay away from your cock then…”> Another sharp snap. <“If that's what turns you on… but then again, what good is a punishment if it’s your favorite part?”> Another thwack. <“Maybe we’ll find the riding crop better suited for punishing such a bad slave…”> I wanna see if you'll object or not…

Eren stayed silent, his whole body shaking, so unsure of what to think. I like the pain… But it really hurts… And you sound like you’re angry… angry at me… Did I do something wrong? His eyes closed as he tried not to cry, remaining silent aside from a loud whimper he let escape from his mouth, not meaning to. His eyes widened and he hoped to god Levi hadn’t heard him, though he knew it was useless, the older man most likely had heard him. What’s he gonna think? Eren was torn his mind a muddled mess as his ass almost radiated heat from the abuse it took.

Levi looked genuinely worried when he heard the pain-filled whimper, moving to Eren’s side and gently lifting his chin. He saw all the unshed tears, immediately dropping the act. “Eren, Honey, are you okay? You’re about to cry… was it too much?” You look so distressed and you didn't use the safe word… are you scared to use it?

Eren nodded quickly. “I-I’m sorry Master… I’m s-sorry I’m a b-bad boy…” He murmured through tear filled eyes before he looked down where his hand were shaking and grabbing at the sheets under him. I’m okay right? You aren’t angry at me… Right? He couldn’t help but shift a bit, uncomfortable with how hard he was between his legs.

Levi shook his head, moving the cane out of the way and moving to take off the cock ring and take out the plug, murmuring in his ear. “No, Eren, you haven’t been bad… it’s okay, Honey… you're so good to me… you're perfect, it's okay…” Levi ran a hand over his slightly bruising ass soothingly, shifting behind him again, draping over him, his hands soothingly going over his entire body. “Let me take care of you, baby… will you let me make love to you?” I'm so sorry…. I'm so sorry, I thought you'd be okay with this…
Eren watched Levi move to behind him again, spreading his legs almost impossibly wider. “Yeah…” His voice still a bit weak, and obviously pained as Levi held his bruising cheeks. They hurt. Sitting down is gonna be a bitch tomorrow... Fuck... His eyes were no longer filled with tears as Levi’s gentle voice filled his ears. He’s not angry...

Levi’s voice was soft as he again filled Eren, breathless as he praised him. “You're so handsome, so warm and slick for me…” Levi slowly rubbed Eren’s length, starting a slow, deep pace. “So hard for me... you're so good Eren... so good for me…” You always have been... I wasn't trying to intimidate you, I was teasing... I wanted an excuse to see how you'd react to the cane, and you just fell apart... I need to be careful with how angry I sound...

Eren whimpered every now and then when Levi’s skin touched the marks on his ass a bit too hard. His body stretched out under Levi as he was held gently and filled to the brink. It feels nice, like this... I like this... “Ha... Levi... Y-You can go faster...” He could feel his coil beginning to tighten, arousal filling his whole being.

Levi hummed, though instead he only ground deeper. “You sound so amazing when you're about to cum...” Levi gently kissed his shoulder blades. “So gorgeous... I'm close...” You're wonderful ...

Eren whined with need as Levi ground deep into him. “F-Fuck…” His voice was high as he clung to the crumpled sheets again. It feels so good... He closed his eyes, focusing on the heat that was running through his body. “L-Levi... you feel so good... take care of me...” I want you to promise... but... that would be so selfish of me.

Levi smiled faintly, his hands running over him, his grip gentle and secure. “I'll take very good care of you, Eren... I always will.” Levi kissed his neck, groaning into his shoulder. “So good...” He found his breath turning to pants, the heat between his legs overbearing. He cried out quietly into Eren's shoulder as he came again, filling him further. So perfect...

Eren let out a soft moan as he came all over his chest, as he’d been toying with himself for the better part of that round. He shuddered as he tried to regain his breath. That was good... It almost knocked the wind out of me... Eren sighed softly, shifting down to relax his aching knees, letting Levi slip out of his heat as he laid face down, breathing harshly. His hair was wet with sweat from the exertion that Levi put on him already. I can only imagine how much more he wants to do...

Levi laid down next to Eren, brushing the damp hair from his face. “Come on babe, how does a bath sound...? We at least need to clean you up a bit and clean you out...” He ran a hand up and down his back. “We can't let it sit; you'll get sick.” We don't want that. And you look worn out... we don't have to do any more tonight. We’ve got lots and lots of time now.
Eren mumbled something incoherent but nodded and shifted his elbows under him to try and push himself up, and he managed to. His eyes closed for a moment before stepping towards the bathroom, hissing as his ass moved with each step. Fuck that’s gonna be really painful...

Levi helped him to the bathroom, starting to fill their tub with hot water. He gently eased Eren in, reaching for the shampoo to wash Eren’s sweaty hair, the bubbles cleaning the sheen from the rest of his chest. He had a very gentle touch, cleaning him with reverence. “You’re so beautiful, Eren...” I’m so lucky...

Eren mumbled something that sounded like an apology, gripping onto his arm and trying to pull him into the tub with him. You too... I don’t want to be alone... His eyes plead with him, trying to get him to understand. Please... I don’t know why but I don’t want to be away from you anymore...

Levi smiled faintly to him, kissing his nose and placating him with quiet murmurs as he shifted to get in. “Okay, I’m coming...” You really want me close... Levi pulled Eren carefully into his lap, going back to shampooing him. “I’m right here, babe... don’t worry...” It’s okay.

Eren seemed to relax more when he was in Levi’s arms, letting him wash his hair, and letting him rinse it out as well as condition it. He shifted, wincing as he tweaked his asscheeks, whimpering as he felt the heat of the welts flare once again. “Fuck...” he swore under his breath, trying to get comfortable again. Shit this is not gonna be fun... dammit I’m gonna have to have a wrap or something on my ass, I won’t be able to go riding... Charlie won’t be happy.

Levi looked worried as he saw the pained look on his face, helping him adjust. “I’m sorry Eren, you sounded like you were enjoying it... I’m sorry for going overboard...” Levi gently rubbed his lower back, not wanting to ghost over his ass and cause more pain. I'm sorry...

Eren shook his head moving to lean back against Levi, sigh softly against him. “It’s alright...” You wouldn’t have known because I had the cock ring on... So you would never had known... He whimpered again as he shifted and leaned his head against Levi’s shoulder, trying to stay close to him as much as possible. I don’t want you to leave...

Levi stopped trying to condition his hair, holding him close to his chest. He shifted them a bit, Eren straddling his lap. He held onto one thigh as his other hand moved behind him, gently rubbing his entrance. “I need to clean you out, Hon...” He gently sucked on his neck as his fingers eased into his loose and slick hole, going deep to coax out his release. I came twice... you're pretty full...

Eren whimpered as Levi’s limb brushed over his now heavily bruising ass. “It hurts.” He whispered quietly keeping his head buried in Levi’s shoulder. God, my ass is gonna be bruised to...
Levi apologized, hearing another pained whimper. My arm can't move out of the way exactly... human limbs don't do that. “Here, let’s try this...” Levi shifted them, getting behind Eren, coaxing him to spread his legs as he knelt in the bath. Levi held one hip as he again felt his way inside of him, trying to help the cum drop along and out of him. You can't get sick...

Eren hissed as he was shift, Levi now able to see the damage he’d done. Fuck... He was quiet as Levi’s fingers went even deeper inside. It feels good. But not enough to override the pain.

Levi looked over Eren’s bruising ass, wincing as he saw the welts on his skin. “I’m so sorry.... I really am... I didn't think I was doing it so hard...” Levi heard a quiet pleased whimper, looking down and seeing Eren slowly harden as his fingers pushed deeper to clean him out. Hm... Levi reached around him, careful not to touch his bruised skin as he took his length in hand again, firmly stroking him once more. You deserve all the pleasure I can give you...

Eren’s eyes widened slightly and he let out a soft groan as Levi worked the drops of cum out of him. He whined when Levi grabbed his length and started to stroke it. Of fuck... He’s trying to get me to cum again? So soon?

Levi’s voice was gentle as he handled him. “I can stop, we can let it go down... but you deserve as much pleasure as I can give you....” And you were already hard...

Eren shook his head. “D-Don’t stop...” He let out another loud moan, shifting back on his fingers a bit. It feels good, I want it to feel good... Not hurt...

Levi nodding, kissing all over Eren’s back as he worked, feeling the cum slowly drip from his hole. “Just relax babe... let me do the work...” He calmed him as Eren tried thrusting back on his hand, keeping him still. Relax... let me take care of you...

Eren whined but stilled and let Levi work his fingers inside of him. “O-Okay...” He murmured quietly, his eyes closing as he relaxed more and got looser around his fingers. He’s being gentle... I like this...

Levi stroked him, brushing against his prostate as he felt for the last few drops of cum. He heard Eren’s breathless moans, murmuring against his back as he felt him tighten around his fingers. “Let go, Eren.” He coaxed him ever closer to the edge, his hands firm as they moved. I want you to feel Eren groaned as he got closer, his breathing coming out in pants as he got closer to the edge. It feels so good... "L-Levi..." He called out his name as his hips moved back on his fingers, so close to the edge. I'm gonna cum soon.

Levi rubbed his prostate in slow circles, the last of the cum dripping from him. “I'm here, Eren... Please, I want to see your face when you cum...” You always look so amazing when you do...

Eren whimpered turning his head towards where Levi was, his face flushed. Soon enough, his orgasm came and rushed the pleasure through his whole being. Holy shit... He came, pearly white jets leaving his length, his breathing heavy as he leaned on Levi, weakly. I'm spent... Fuck...

Levi drank in the beautiful image, slowing his ministrations and pulling his hand from him. So beautiful... “Let's get you in bed, love...” Levi rinsed him and moved to drain the water, helping him out of the tub and dry off. You look so tired...

Eren hissed when Levi touched his rear, or even let the towel touch it. “Be gentle, please... Can you actually get the numbing cream?” This needs to get taken care of...

Levi nodded, trying to dry him with as gentle of a touch as he could manage. “Okay, I'll run to get it.” Levi went to the next room and got in a pair of sweatpants and a hoodie before leaving their room, going to a hall closet and getting the coveted medic bag. I think Dad repainted the insignia on it. Levi came back to the bedroom, getting a glove on and taking out the cream. He guided Eren to the bed, coaxing him to bend over the bed so he could work, both of them blushing in embarrassment, though Eren was scarlet. Levi softly kissed his shoulder, a hand ghosting over his back before he uncapped the small tub of cream. “I'm gonna start... tell he if I'm being too hard on you, okay?” Levi gently started to brush the cream over the welts, wincing as Eren hissed. I'm sorry...

Eren was silent save for whimpers and cries of pain, his hands hanging onto the sheets with a white-knuckled grip. I can't take this... I really can't... “Fuck Levi stop!” Eren cried out halfway through, moving away from his touch in pain. It feels like you're burning the skin...

Levi immediately took his hand away, his other hand gently running over his back. “Let's wait a bit for the pain to go away, and see if the cream is really working...” Levi moved next to him as Eren kept the position, gently carding a hand through his hair and softly brushing their lips to Eren whimpered as he was forced to lay down, the stinging sensation not going away. Fuck it hurts… It hurts a lot… “L-Levi, it hurts…” His voice was weak as he moved away from his lips, trying not to cry. He felt every welt that ran across his asscheeks, feeling like they were each on fire. I hate this… Eren closed his eyes, struggling to calm himself down.

Levi laid down with him, reaching out to gently cup his cheek, at a loss for what to say or do.

*...what can I tell you…? I don't know what to do… you're gonna be in so much pain for a while… fuck… I didn't think this through… “I'm so sorry…..” This is my fault… “....do you want me to see if I can get my hands on some serum? A little so you're at least not in agony…?” It'll help...

Eren nodded, moving to shift towards the center of the bed, wanting to keep his legs on the bed, though he let out a cry of pain as he moved. “Shit…” His voice was high from the pain, looking to the stick with distaste. “You’re not allowed to use it like that again.” Eren mumbled, trying to calm down and not cry.

Levi nodded, kissing him and trying to soothe him. “Okay, I won't, I promise.” Levi stood, walking to the door after throwing away the glove with cream still over the fingers. “I'll go talk to Lathe…” I know he has serum… under lock and key, of course… Levi walked silently to their bedroom, peering in through the slightly opened door, stopping himself from knocking when he saw Ieva asleep without Lathe, the bathroom dark. Huh. He crept downstairs, his eyebrows shooting up as he saw Lathe curled up in the corner of the couch, ignoring the TV as some war documentary played, staring forlornly into a bowl. …? “Hey Dad…?” He saw him look up, seeing him curl up further into himself, avoiding looking directly at him. “I'm… uhm… are you okay?”

Lathe shrugged one shoulder, his eyes sad. “Yeah, I'm okay I guess…” Lathe looked up to him, forcing a weak smile. “What’s up, Hon?”

“Uhm, Eren’s….. well… I just got the cast off, and Eren and I were kinda busy… and uhm… we maybe went kinda overboard with uhm…. with the cane, and uhm…. can we have some serum…?”...Please?

Lathe sighed, nodding, barely even reacting to what he said. “Yeah, sure….” Lathe set down the bowl, dragging the quilt with him as he went downstairs into the storage room, unlocking a small fridge and getting a single small vial of serum. He brought it upstairs, handing it to Levi. “You’re a trained medic. You know where we keep the needles and where the key is for them, and where the biohazard disposal is… inject around the affected area, and remember that you can always use more, but you can't take it away. Try not to leave him with extra serum in his system.” Lathe seemed out of it, not barely looking at Levi as he spoke. Can I go back to the couch now…?
Levi took the small vial, reaching to hug Lathe before he could get away. “Thanks… and are you sure you're okay? You look so upset…”

Lathe sighed, leaning on him a bit as he was hugged. “I'm okay, Levi. I'll survive.” He pecked his head, shooing him away after a moment. “Now go, take care of Eren.” ...I have to go back to thinking...

Levi warily nodded, leaving him be. He looked back when he reached the top of the stairs, seeing Lathe back in his spot on the couch, staring at some point ahead of him. ....it's so unlike him.... Levi turned away and shoved aside the worry, going back to their bedroom and seeing Eren still largely unmoved on the bed. “I have the serum, Hon… one second…” Levi went to get the injection ready. It'll be a second...

Eren nodded, tears having run down his face as he waited patiently. Well today's my lucky day.... I'm getting a needle in my ass... great. He closed his eyes, his hands still gripping the sheets below him as he waited patiently. I want this to be done.... Maybe Levi will let me thank him for getting the serum?

Levi soon got the shot ready, wiping a spot on his ass clean gently. “Alright, don't think about it, just one two three…” Levi quickly administered it, taking care of the needle. “That's it- I'll grab tissues.” He ran off and came back with a handful just as the first drop of blood fell from Eren's nose, some of the bruises beginning to fade.

Eren groaned as Levi pressed the tissues to his face, feeling his ass on fire once again. Fuck I forgot how hot you get... His whimpers died down as he felt the pain lessen. The welts already had disappeared, the bruises fading with them. Oh thank god... He felt the air around him get warmer as the steam formed from where his bruises once were. It's warm...

Levi sighed in relief as the bruises faded to a green before they stopped steaming. That's just fine. “They're still a bit bit bruised, but only barely. How do you feel...?” Hopefully better…?

Eren shifted, thankful that he could actually move with little discomfort. Better… He moved to pull Levi fully on the bed, putting the bloody tissues on the nightstand for now before he situated himself in Levi’s lap, looking into his eyes as he wrapped his arms around him. “Hmm… Better...” His voice was lazy as he leaned in to kiss Levi passionately, his mouth open and waiting for Levi to kiss him back.
Levi smirked as he found himself with his lap full of Eren, eagerly leaning up to kiss him, feeling his tongue invade his mouth, letting him push him back on the bed, feeling him drag down his sweatpants, wearing no boxers underneath from his haste. “Someone’s… eager…” ...are you gonna top this time…? Because if you are, fuck, please ....

Eren grinned as he pulled back, mischief in his eyes. “Let me do the work, hmm?” He murmured quietly into Levi’s ear as he kissed at his jaw for a bit before trailing down to his chest and kissing every scar he found before making his way to Levi’s length and stroking it a bit. I want you hard when I ride you...

Levi sighed as Eren kissed down his chest, holding his head gently as he licked at his skin, his hands in his hair. He whimpered quietly as Eren’s hand closed around his length, letting out a breathy moan. “Feels good…” I love it when you take control… It feels good to let you take the reins sometimes...

Eren soon crawled back a bit to settle on Levi’s side, his mouth latching itself to Levi’s length. He swallowed the whole thing down without gagging, managing to suck at him harshly. I haven’t given you a blow in a long time… And I haven’t ridden you in a long time...

Levi let out a choked moan, trying not to tug at Eren’s hair as his back forced itself into an arch, trying not to buck up further into his mouth. “E-Eren… oh fuck ….” I forgot how good you are at giving blowjobs…. Fuck....

Eren looked up to Levi, his eyes watching his body shift and twist. Good… He likes it… He smirked, humming as he lathered Levi in his saliva, pulling off of him after a few moments, using a hand to jerk his length a few times. When his fingers were sufficiently coated, he reached back to start and slick up his hole, returning his attention to Levi’s length. I’m so glad he likes this… Eren’d head bobbed, his eyes shaded as he watched for his reaction.

Levi watched Eren slick himself up with dark eyes. “Babe… you…” He settled further into the bed when Eren pulled off of him, watching him come further up, hovering over his length. His hands drifted to his hips, spreading his legs a bit, looking up to him with shaded eyes. You're so beautiful...

Eren spread his legs as he sat down on Levi’s length, a loud moan escaping him as he was fully sheathed. Fuck…. “Hmm, you fill me up so good…” He whined as he lifted himself and accidentally pulled him out, moving to hurriedly put him back inside. I wanna be full...

Levi smirked, his pants quiet as Eren bounced in him, helping guide him back onto his length. His hands were gentle in his hips, looking over his tan frame without shame. “You're so perfect…”

How am I so lucky to have you…?

Eren smirked as he bounced himself, soon grinding down onto Levi’s length and squeezing his insides with a lopsided grin on his face. “Hmm, you like the tattoos? Have you felt the muscle under them yet?” They’re hard to notice… But I’m not sure if you have really….

Levi nodded, his hands going up to his chest and arms. “I really like the tattoos…” He was surprised to feel much firmer muscle underneath the skin, gently feeling his arms. “...have you been working out?” I appreciate this….

Eren shuddered as he felt Levi run his hands over his body again. Damn… His hands… I miss him touching me, and holding me… And admiring me… Which is what he’s doing right now… He nodded, yelping as Levi teased his nipple out of the blue. What the hell? Eren let out a low moan. “I-I’ve been lifting, hay bales… And working the horses…. It's hard work doing barn chores… Riding is a lot of core strength too….” His voice got a bit higher as the pleasure started to really sink in again, his face flushing down to his neck, looking down and noticing his dick bouncing with each movement, leaking precum.

Levi smirked, looking him over, catching his length as it bounced, feeling the slickness. “You’re so slick… and I love the muscles….” He slowly stroked him, gazing up at him with lust and awe. “It makes you even hotter….” I love you...

Eren’s face darkened even more, creating an even darker red on his features. Holy shit… He thinks I look good… A small smile crept on his face before he felt a wave of pleasure pass through him, threatening to pull him over the edge, but he squeezed himself tight around Levi, wanting to hold off on his own climax until he got Levi to fill him. I want you to fill me up.

Levi whined as Eren squeezed around him, feeling his own release approaching, albeit slowly. “Eren… nngh…” He panted, his grip tightening a bit when he started getting really close, whimpering in warning. I wanna cum...

Eren heard his whimpers, which drove him to work faster, shifting a bit so he would be able to roll his hips and find his own prostate. His eyes widened when he did, grinding down deeply on it and shifting his hips to keep pressing Levi to it. He swore he could feel his eyes roll back from the sensation. Fuck… So good… Eren couldn’t concentrate much more than that, barely acknowledging the noises that left him as he continued his ministrations. Levi feels so good…

Levi felt himself tense as Eren mewed while he shifted on him, seeing him with his back arched, reaching blindly for Levi as he struggled to stay in his blissful state. He’s.... “A- Ah … Eren… E- Eren…” Levi gasped, whining as he came, his hips slowly rocking back and forth, gently pushing further into Eren. So good...

Eren whined as Levi ground even harder and deeper into him, finally finding his own release. His toes curled in utter bliss, his body slumping down a bit, trying to stay up, but unable to keep himself upright. He sighed as he curled up to his chest, breathing hard from the pure ecstasy. “Hmm…. That felt really good Levi…” Eren whispered quietly near his ear, his eyes closing as he relaxed. Maybe it’ll be okay if we sleep?

Levi sighed as he felt Eren nestle into his neck, his arms gently finding their way over his back, running up and down his sides. “You always feel so wonderful…” Levi sighed deeper, letting his eyes slip shut. I love you...

Eren smiled more in his sleep, snuggling closer to him and trying to stay warm. The two of them having fallen asleep on top of the covers.
Chapter 104: Illness is a Bitch Part 4

Eren woke up after only a few hours, a horrible feeling in his gut, lifting himself off of Levi, realizing that he hadn’t pulled out nor cleaned himself up at all. Fuck… He tiredly stumbled along, feeling the rising bile in his stomach, making it to the toilet in time to hurl. Fuck, I forgot to clean up…

Levi let out an instinctive sound as the heat around his length was gone, waking up fully when he heard the sound of sickness in the bathroom. *…f*uck. We never cleaned you out that second time. “Eren?” Levi got up, not minding his own nudity when he went to the bathroom, knocking on the doorframe. “Are you okay? We forgot to clean you out again… do you need help…?” I can help…

Eren looked over his shoulder once the bout of sickness had finally washed over him. I don’t think I do…. Well… He looked over to the large tub. “Can-Can you fill it with hot water? I wanna wash up… You can go back to sleep…” I know this is a rude awakening.

Levi nodded, going to turn on the hot water. “I’m not gonna let you be sick alone… I forgot to take care of you and clean you out… let me take care of you…” It’s only fair… and it feels wrong for you to trust me so much and let me have you and then just leave you alone when I didn’t take care of you…

Eren looked up to him as he sat back against the wall near the toilet still, waiting for the bath to be drawn. “It’s alright, I’m gonna take a bath and that’s it…. I can do it myself…” He murmured quietly, watching the hot water steam. I can shower… I need to try and be alone without needing to cling to him… He’ll get sick of it real quick.

Levi looked hesitant, shifting on his feet. “It’s… I’m supposed to be the one taking care of you… I didn’t do that… I wanna take good care of you.” Levi offered a hand to him, gently guiding him to the bathtub. “Here, let me wash you and clean you out… okay?” Let me take care of you…

Eren shook his head as he stepped in carefully, slowly easing himself down. “Levi… Really, just go get some sleep okay?” I don’t want to argue with you about this… Because if I let you touch anywhere near my ass I’m gonna get hard again and you’re going to jerk me off and then I’m gonna pass out in the bathtub… Eren shook his head, closing his eyes as he tried to calm himself down from working himself up. “Just go sleep…”

Levi sighed, going to gently kiss Eren’s forehead. “Okay, babe.” I’ll wait for you… Levi went back to the bedroom and slipped under the covers, trying to stay awake as Eren took his time in the bathroom. I wanna cuddle, dammit…
Eren let himself sink all the way to his shoulders, watching the water still as he did. He couldn’t contain the sniffle that left him, feeling his eyes well with tears. Fuck... I know I shouldn’t be like this... I’m acting like a fucking kid again... He let his tears fall silently and he moved after about half an hour to finally clean himself. He was quiet as he cried, already feeling the headache blossom in his temples. Shit... Crying quietly is hard to do... He cleaned himself up, going back to sit into the warm water, sitting in it and not realizing just how long he was in the tub until he shivered. When did it get so cold?

Levi woke up early in the morning, the sky still a deep grey. He reached blindly for Eren, wanting the extra warmth, finding only cold sheets. Eren...? Levi sat up, blinking and looking around, hearing a small sound from the bathroom. “Eren?” Levi stood, quietly padding over, lightly knocking. “Eren?”

Eren at that point had gotten out of the bath and his eyes were puffy as he sat wrapped up in towels near the toilet. He sniffled, reaching for the tissues he brought to his side to blow his nose.  My nose is running more than it should if I was just crying.... I... I don’t know what the fuck is wrong with me... I threw up too...

Levi slowly opened the door a crack, seeing Eren with puffy eyes and a runny nose. “Hon, were you crying? What's wrong?” Levi looked very worried as he suddenly came to Eren’s side. Are you okay?

Eren looked up as he came in, looking down and away as he curled up into himself and held his knees close, much closer than he'd been able to accomplish in awhile. I think I might be sick again... Fuck... “I-I...” He stuttered at first trying to think of an excuse as he felt the bile rise once again, leaning over the toilet and expelling the small amount of acid in his stomach. Shit, definitely sick...

Levi winced, reaching a hand for him, rubbing his back. You don't look too good... “I think you might be sick... I'm going to go get you something nice to wear and help you into bed when you're up to it.” Levi softly kissed his temple. I'm one room away.

Eren shook his head quietly, regretting it as he dry heaved and the sensation making his head spin further, prompting even more tears. I wanna tell him I’m sorry... For being a horrible lover, because here I go getting sick when all he wants to do is probably spend time with Mila... Now he’s gonna feel obligated to take care of me... The useless person who demands too much of him.... I’m really not that great a person... Shit ... He whimpered as he cried in silence, turning away from Levi to hide his teary face. I can’t do that to him... Maybe having a kid was a horrible idea? What have I done? I’ve ruined his chances..... Shit.... He whimpered, holding his head as his headache worsened with his mind in overdrive.
Levi looked even more worried as he saw tears start falling, kneeling next to him, his hand gently running up and down his side. “Eren, what’s wrong? You’re crying…” Please don’t cry… He gently turned him when Eren looked away, his voice soft when he saw his splotchy cheeks, wiping some of the stray tears away. “Please, talk to me.” I hate seeing you cry...

Eren shook his head, his hands shaking as he struggled to push him away. No… I don’t wanna! You’ll see it too! He let out a ragged sob for the first time since he had started crying horribly. Eren kept his eyes closed as he tried to push Levi away. You’ll leave me if I’m too clingy, I need to be able to be in a different room than you and not have to cry… And now I realize really how fucked up I made this when I begged for a kid!

Levi looked even more worried, his hands gently cupping Eren’s cheeks when he weakly tried to shove him away. “Eren, please, tell me what’s wrong. I hate seeing you cry… and you know I’ll love you no matter what you tell me.” You can talk to me… you don’t have to be scared that I’m gonna judge you...

Eren whimpered shaking his more, pulling his hands away from his face. “N-No…. I-I fucked up…” He sobbed more as he moved to throw up again, panic already beginning to surge through him as he knew Levi wasn’t about to leave him be. You’ll leave… I can’t trust your words… I can’t and it hurts that I can’t… you hate seeing me cry? Well right now the only way for me not to is to be in the same room as you and we all know that’s not gonna fucking work.

Levi looked hurt, gently embracing Eren and pulling him a bit closer. “Eren, it’s okay, please, don’t be upset… what’s the matter?” I don’t know why you’re so upset…. I can’t think of anything...

Eren whimpered before he started to curl up to Levi’s side, enjoying that he actually put his arms around him. Maybe I still have a few more months before he tells me he wants to leave? He was still sobbing, his whole body shaking horribly, his forehead warm from fever.

Levi looked helpless, knowing he wasn't getting any answers out of him. Levi held Eren closer, shifting and managing to stretch to the sink, getting a cup for water for him. “Here, rinse out your mouth.” Your mouth probably tastes very gross right now… and the stomach acid isn't gonna be nice...

Eren slowly reached for the glass, moving out of his lap to go and greet the toilet once again, spitting out the last of the water in it before flushing it. He whimpered as he moved to curl up to Levi’s side. Fuck… He’s taking care of me...
Levi set the cup back on the counter, carefully scooping Eren up and standing, going slow so he didn't upset his stomach. “Let’s get you dressed and back in bed, Hon. You could use some sleep.” He carried him to the bed, setting him down and going to get comfortable clothes together for him. He helped him dress, tucking him in before taking the towels back to the bathroom. He came back, getting back into bed and nestling next to Eren, coaxing him closer to curl up to him, gently petting his hair. It's okay… “Try to sleep, Eren…. We want you to feel better.” I'm not gonna let you force yourself to function while you're sick...

Eren shook his head, sniffling as more tears rolled down his cheeks. “B-But…. The horses….” I need to go take care of the horses, and teach class later today…. He did nestle up to Levi, his head resting over his heart, listening to it beat. It's so calming… But I'm not gonna have it soon am I?

Levi sighed, kissing the bridge of his nose. “It's okay… I'll go down when you fall asleep and take care of them… or I can ask someone… and I’m pretty good with German, I can teach your class today. I'm kinda fluent. And I have nothing to do, really. I'll take care of you. You needed a day off sooner or later.” You've really been working a lot ever since the center opened. It's good that the kids have the extra help, but you've seemed overwhelmed lately with just… with everything….

“I'm…. I'm sorry…” He mumbled quietly, sniffing as he shuddered, curling up to Levi with the covers pulled up to his chin. I'm cold… Even though I'm in warm clothes… He probably doesn’t wanna take care of a sick person… Shit, I gotta try and get better, cause I need to take care of Mila too…. Levi hasn’t really been able to hold her for more than hour or so… His eyes closed as he tried not to think about his aching body and the headache he had. I fucked up….

Levi murmured to him, bringing him closer when he shivered. “Don't apologize, Eren, you couldn't help getting sick… It's okay. I don't mind doing the stuff you normally do. You need a break anyway… you're always doing everything. Lathe’s rubbing off on you too much.” Levi smiled faintly, petting Eren still. “I'll take care of the horses, take care of Mila, take care of you, teach your classes… it'll work out okay. And I need something to do besides twiddle my thumbs.” Seriously... I need something to do around here.... I've been doing jack shit for weeks...

Eren shook his head slowly as not to upset his stomach. “I-I’ll be fine…. I can live without.” He cut himself off as he realized what he was going to say. I can’t say that… Cause that’s a complete lie at this point, I'll probably wake up crying because he’s not in the room with me… Eren felt more tears bubble to the surface, starting to cry all over again. And to think I almost had to live without you….

Levi looked surprised as to how easily Eren almost said that, looking hurt. …could you really live so easily without me in the picture….? You can't mean that…. “Eren, please, I know you don't like feeling useless and I know you don't want to be taken care of but you're sick and I'm here… it's my job to take care of you. To make sure you're okay and that you get better. Just focus on resting, and in a little bit I'll get up and get you food if you're hungry, then go take care of the horses.” It's still Eren couldn't help but begin to sob all over again, moving to get up from off of Levi, his face pale as he sobbed harder. He curled up to himself, hugging his knees to his chest as he cried loudly. “I’m… I’m so sorry…” You probably hate this…. That I can’t even say what I want properly…. He struggled to calm himself down, hearing a soft whine on the outside of the door knowing that at least one dog was standing there waiting to be let in. Fuck… I can’t control my emotions.

Levi sat up with him, shifting behind Eren to wrap his arms around his waist, softly pecking all over his neck. “It's okay, it's okay…” Levi held him close as Eren cried, his voice soothing in his ear. Please don't cry… I hate it when you cry… you deserve to be happy...

“N-No… No it’s not… it’s not okay… I’m a fucking mess…” Eren cried more as he heard a woof, not wanting Mikhail to wake up the whole house so soon. He scrambled out of Levi’s grasp, moving to grab his hoodie and socks. I'm going outside to go cry on Charlie’s back... Cause he’ll be warm...

Levi looked concerned as Eren got out of bed, following him and setting the hoodie right back down. “Eren, please, you're sick. You need rest. You really need this. I don't want you going out and aggravating your symptoms. You don't deserve to be sick any longer if you can help it. Please, let me take care of you.” Levi turned him and pulled him into a warm embrace, doing something he rarely did and giving him the puppy eyes. Please?

Eren looked at him and sniffled. “B-But y-you’ll get sick too…. Y-You should go be with M-Mila… B-because you haven’t b-been able to hold her much...” You just got out of your crutches... And I need to prepare myself for when you’re not around... You won’t stay forever... You'll wanna leave...

Levi sighed, holding him still. “Eren, it's okay… you deserve to have someone fuss over you. I have the rest of my life to give Mila all the hugs and kisses I want, but I want you to get better when you get sick. I can hold her again soon. I don't give a damn if I get sick. You're gonna let me baby you because I want to take care of the man I love.” I want to do this. Don't worry, Hon.

Eren sniffled and nodded, looking to his hoodie and grabbing it again. “C-Can we go to the barn? I-I feel more comfortable on Charlie…” I remember when I was a kid I’d always go and cry on the horse’s back when I was upset. I wanna do it again...

Levi sighed, nodding. “Okay. I'm coming with you though.” Levi quietly mother-henned Eren, making sure they were both dressed warmly enough for the early morning before opening the bedroom door. He pet Mikhail as he stood outside the bedroom door, the dog sniffing at Eren’s legs when he squeezed past Levi. He saw Blake sitting there too, staring up to him with wide eyes, whining quietly. Aw… Levi sat down next to Blake, gently hugging him and petting him for a moment. You're my favorite. “Eren's okay, Blake. He's bit sick, but he’ll be better soon.” Levi smiled faintly to him, letting him stand and walk to Eren, sniffing his hand as well. They care about you, Eren.

Eren had kneeled, letting the two of them stand on either side of him and lick at his face, smiling a bit. He still had tears rolling down his eyes every now and then, his hands shaking. His eyes slowly looked up to Levi, sniffling. “Can… Can we go now?” Mikhail will probably follow me… Blake’ll probably stay in the house, Nene’s not up yet, and Krampus is probably with the boys upstairs….

Levi nodded, petting Blake one more time before standing. “Yeah, let's go.” Levi led Eren to the stairs, Blake whimpering before turning back to his dog bed, going to lie down. Mikhail followed them, waiting when Levi made them put on shoes and continuing out the door to the barn. Levi brought Eren out to see Charlie, helping Eren feed all the animals. They're all pretty hungry…

Eren coughed every now and then, making sure all the horses got their fill before he went to Charlie’s stall and he left it open a crack. He used the wall to get up on the horse’s back, sniffling as he laid down on his back, his arms wrapping around Charlie’s thick body as much as they could. Eren let himself cry as he hugged the horse, who of course stood there looking at Levi as if judging him. I just wanna cry… I’ve needed to for a long time…

Levi watched Eren drape himself over Charlie, looking worried. This is what he wanted to do? ....oh my..... Levi let him be, going around and finishing the chores before he heard the sniffling quiet down, seeing Eren still on Charlie’s back, sound asleep. Oh my…. that's adorable… but I can't carry him... uhm.... Levi got out his phone, firing off a text.

LA: Dad?

LQ: Yeah? What's up

LA: Eren fell asleep on Charlie’s back… and I'm not allowed to carry him

LQ: ......I’m coming

Levi waited patiently, putting things in order and looking over as Lathe came into the barn, still looking a bit sleepy. He pointed to Eren, Lathe sighing.

“Poor kid… looks like he's been crying…” Lathe went and helped Eren slip off of Charlie, the horse letting him, simply sniffing his hair for a moment. “Is he okay, Levi?” Lathe looked worried.
What was he crying about?

Levi looked down, shrugging. “I have no idea, he was crying when I found him this morning… And he was throwing up, I think he might be sick… I tried to get him to tell me what was wrong, but I couldn’t get him to talk. I have no idea what’s wrong with him….” I don’t want us to fight… But I don’t know what to do… I wanna protect him and take care of him, but he won’t let me…

Lathe sighed, carrying him from the barn, Levi following him. “...He really loves you, you know.” Lathe seemed hesitant, picking his words carefully. “....and...... he's dying for that ring…. Levi, I think he has separation anxiety….. and he's trying to deal with it himself…. he's been trying to pry himself from your side, and I think I've been the only one who sees how pained he looks whenever he has to leave your side or whenever you need to leave him for just two seconds, or regardless of however long it takes… and you know… I remember him saying that if you two had a kid, you'd have to stick around for eighteen years. …..I think he was serious. It was his way of hanging onto you when you didn't propose. He needs you, Levi.” He does...

Levi nodded, silently thinking about the situation. “I wanna do it on New Years… Start the year off right… But what if that’s not soon enough for him? Thanksgiving is next week… Is he gonna be like this for a month? He almost said that he’d be perfectly okay without living with me…. It hurt…..” He almost said it so…. Easily. Levi hobbled around in the snow, Mikhail at his side, the two of them following Lathe up the stairs and into the house. It’s still early… I should’ve let Eren sleep on Charlie a little longer, Dad’s gotta be tired, he was up late last night…. I wonder if Tucker and Henry are still asleep, they were dead to the world last night while Dad watched TV....

Lathe sighed, carrying Eren inside and to the stairs, both he and Levi smiling as they saw Henry and Tucker still entwined on the couch, looking peaceful. They'll make the cutest couple... present company excluded. “I think Eren wants to not feel this way…” Lathe carried him up the stairs, waiting as Levi took his time. “It's not like I think Eren wants to not love you so much, but I think he wants to be able to be away from you without feeling so alone… he's trying to convince you and himself that he's okay without you stuck to his hip. I know it must hurt.... but he's not willing to admit that he's having this anxiety…” Lathe laid Eren down in their bed, turning back to Levi when he was tucked in. He had faint circles under his eyes, looking older than he was, sighing for what felt like the hundredth time. “I should go make breakfast for everyone… Henry and Tucker will wake up soon and we know how much they'll eat…. well, how much Henry eats…” Kid’s a black hole.... Lathe moved to leave for downstairs, stopping when Levi caught his arm. “Huh?”

Levi shook his head. “Go sleep, I can handle breakfast, Eren’ll be asleep for awhile, I don't think he slept at all last night… Go sleep and cuddle with Mom while you can, her baby bump is already getting big and she’s only four months along.” Levi smiled at him softly. I need something to do, and you look like you could sleep for a couple decades....

Lathe gave him a weary smile, giving him a hug. “Levi, you're a saint… I could use more sleep...”
I keep not being able to fall asleep... Lathe let him go, ruffling his hair and grinning when Levi weakly swatted at his hand. “Okay, okay, I'll go. Make sure that you wake up the lovebirds when food’s ready. And if Henry stays over awhile, please hang around and keep an eye on them while you can... Tucker needs to get used to Henry being his boyfriend and learn to trust him... I don't have to explain why, correct?” He watched Levi nod. “Good. And I can take over as babysitter later if you want to take care of Eren’s classes. We can't let him get everyone sick, so that's a thing.” That needs taking care of.

Levi nodded. “They’re just German classes, right?” I'll be able to manage German classes. He looked over as Eren moved, coughing for a moment before stilling. At least he’s still asleep... “I’ll make sure everyone eats, the squad is still asleep, so I’ll make them breakfast too, they’ll wake up once they smell food.” I know the boys, they smell bacon and they are out of the bed in a second...

Lathe nodded. “Yeah, just German stuff. Eren’s class binder is in the room, and you know which one Eren’s classroom is. And wait until the last minute if you make bacon.” They'll be up in two seconds. Let's let them sleep until then and hold off releasing the tornado. “I’ll be asleep if you need me...” Lathe wandered off, content to go lay down again until he had to eat and go across the street for work. Just ten more hours, please.... Lathe went into their bedroom, happy to curl around Ieva like a sleepy cat, gently resting one hand on her bump and smiling. Tiny humans....
Chapter 105: Moving Forward

Levi sighed, smiling faintly as Lathe wandered back to his room to sleep, going downstairs to make breakfast. He got out every ingredient he needed, making a huge pan of breakfast quiche. It was in the oven in half an hour, Levi cleaning the kitchen meticulously. They'll want bacon too, most likely… the kids all need some kind of protein with breakfast… Levi fished two big links of sausage from the fridge, cutting them into disks to fry. They'll like this… and because it's pork sausage it'll go with the ham in the quiche… He jumped as he heard the fridge open, seeing Tucker getting out a jug of juice. “Shit, Tucker, you scared me.” He quirked an eyebrow as the teen simply shrugged, still going to get out a glass. “How’re you doing? Enjoy waking up with your new boyfriend?” Levi’s tone was quietly teasing, smirking as Tucker blushed. I'm glad you two pulled your heads out of your asses. Tucker’s whole face heated up, giving Levi the finger for insinuating what he had. He’s an ass… But at least I’m not alone with Henry. {What did you make?} Resorting to sign language… Because I have no idea where my phone is. He poured himself orange juice silently, waiting for a reply. If Eren taught me you must know…

The man smirked. “Come on, we all know how much you wanted that. And I have no idea what that meant.” I know like, five words. Levi forked over his phone. “Here, type it.”

Tucker looked at him for a moment before hesitantly taking the phone. What did you make? He handed the phone back, lifting his glass to sip at his juice. So Eren didn’t teach him sign language… Got it…

Levi looked at it, looking over and lightly kicking the oven. “There’s a quiche in the oven, and I’m cutting up pork sausage.” Levi looked back at him, glancing over to the living room as he hear a creak and a confused sound. “Sounds like your boyfriend’s awake. Better go give him his good-morning kiss.” Levi gave Tucker a flat glare, his tone a bit sarcastic. He smirked as Tucker flushed and scurried off to the living room, turning his attention back to the chopping board. He sighed as he heard the sound of lips smacking moments later, the shifting of weight onto the couch. “Just don’t fuck on the couch and you’re fine!” Levi called over his shoulder, smirking as he heard exasperated and embarrassed sounds, the sounds of them making out quieting. Of course I'm the one who has to babysit the horny teenagers…

Tucker froze as he heard Levi call out to them from the kitchen, his eyes going wide with fear for a moment before he more hesitantly kissed at Henry’s lips. I don’t wanna do that… Please don’t try… Please don’t try to fuck me… I’m scared you’re going to.

Henry caught his look of fear, cupping his cheek and gently guiding him to look at him, still with a sleepy look on his face, his expression calm and caring. “Don’t worry, Tucker. Nothing will happen until you want it to.” I promise. He let his eyes flutter shut again when Tucker leaned down to kiss him with added vigor, his hands gently roaming his back. He’s okay… good. And thanks for terrifying him Levi. We appreciate it.

Tucker soon pulled back, shifting off of him as he stared at him with wide eyes. What’s he gonna do? Is he gonna stay here today? Or is he gonna go home? He was silent as he watched him, almost expectantly, his chin on Henry’s chest.

Henry quirked an eyebrow at Tucker, his hand coming up to pet his hair. “Hm? What’s up?” Tucker was quiet, tilting his head, looking curious. “....Tucker, use your phone.” Henry stretched an arm for the coffee table where his phone had been tossed sometime last night. I need to read your words.

Tucker nodded, taking the phone and quickly typing. Are you leaving? Or can you stay?

Henry read the words, blushing and looking at Tucker. “I’d like to stay if you all wouldn’t mind… I don’t really have anywhere to be…” Please? I’d have all day to just do shit with you… I would get to steal kisses and cuddle… I wanna stay...

Tucker nodded laying his head down on his chest as he shifted on top of him and he typed out a few things. We can raid the basement or we can go build a fort… Depending on how warmly you dressed…

“I did bring my jacket… but I don’t have snow pants… and if my jeans get soaked I don’t have anything else to wear… I actually didn’t really bring another set of clothes besides pajamas which I kinda didn't change into...can we raid the basement for video games? The couches have good cuddle potential…” Henry smiled as Tucker blushed, playing with the hair at the nape of his neck. “Or we could go outside and play on the snow and I can make you fork over some of your clothes when mine get soaked....” He chuckled as Tucker turned an even darker red at the mental image of Henry in his clothes. “You’re so adorable when you blush…” You always are, even if you aren’t blushing… They jumped when they heard a knock on the wall, seeing Levi standing near the stairs, both of them flushing.

“Breakfast is ready- come and get it before the squad gets here and eats everything.” Levi turned to get up the stairs, about to wake up the squad and everyone else, bringing a plate up for Eren. They can have first dibs on stuff.

Both of them looked at each other before sitting up, going over to fill their plates with the best-looking food before the six boys all flooded downstairs, along with Jake and James, the latter holding a sleepy-looking Mila who tiredly ate her baby food as James helped her use a spoon. The quiche was quickly gone, the sausages all eaten up after breakfast was finished, Levi busily cleaning up and Lathe making sure all the boys washed their hands before running off to play. He herded them out of the theatre room when Tucker handed him his phone, nodding to them. Thank god... we can have our privacy...

Tucker lead him downstairs, loading up the Wii and pulling out the Mario Kart disc. We haven’t played this together yet... He should like this... He got the game all set up and got the wheels in place as well around the remotes. This’ll work. He turned and had the wheel out for Henry to take. I hope you're okay with this at least...

Henry took it, grinning evilly. “You've made a very bad decision. I just so happen to be the King of Mario kart.” I'm actually not shitty at it. That's good. They set up a race series, playing for hours, bickering back and forth as to who was the better player, laughing maniacally as the other fell to their doom or got hit by shells. Henry grinned as Tucker fell from Rainbow Road get again, looking to him. “Just admit it, Tucker! I win!” He watched Tucker look at him evilly, pausing the game. Huh? He had half a second to react before Tucker pounced, tackling him. He laughed, blushing when Tucker became flush with his front, both of them reaching with grabby hands to pin the other down, yelping. They both eventually landed onto the floor with a grunt, Tucker ending up on top of Henry, both of them laughing at what they'd just done. Their laughter died down as they slowly realized they were flush, Henry’s thigh between Tucker’s legs and feeling a hardness between his legs, his own hardon clothed and settled near Tucker’s hip. ...oh... oh shit.... Henry looked up as Tucker seemed caught between want and panic, his hand coming up to cup his cheek. “Tucker, please, don't panic... it's okay.... really....” He studied him, his eyes widening when Tucker shivered and ground down on his thigh minutely on reflex, watching him flush. ...does he...? “Tucker… you know you can say no to anything… if you want.... would you let me take care of you? I don't mean anything like all the way, it's too early for that, but... if you want...” Henry didn't know what else to say, shifting a hand down and very gently cupping the bulge in his pants, very slowly palming him. It's okay.... Please don't freak out... His body laid flat on the floor, his other hand moving to pin itself to the floor, glancing away, all signs of submission. You're the one in control...

Tucker let out a small gasp as he looked at Henry, watching him move. I'm hard... And his hand feels really good... He whimpered a bit as he ground into Henry’s hand, sighing at the friction it gave. He's being gentle, and not taking over...

Henry gave Tucker a gentle smile, his eyes wide with awe as he heard Tucker gasp and give him a shaky moan. He sounds... Henry shifted so that Tucker knelt, helping him unbutton his pants and tug them down and off of him, his hands careful as he dragged down his boxers. He looked Tucker over, grasping his length and giving him a slow pump. He's skinny... He let his other hand cup Tucker’s cheek as he slowly started pumping him, hearing the moans begin to drip from his throat. ...but he sounds so amazing, I don't mind...
Tucker’s whole body was simply thrumming with pleasure as Henry continued to fondle his skinny length. His eyes widened as he let out a sharp cry when his fingers got close to his head. “H-Henry…” His voice was weak, and full of pleasure as he whimpered. His shaking arms came up to grasp onto Henry’s shirt as if hanging on for dear life. It feels really good… But it feels really weird with him doing it… My body feels like it’s on fire…

Henry let his hand speed up a bit, teasing Tucker’s head when a brush against it earned him a loud gasp. His eyes were dark with lust as Tucker moaned in his ear, his other hand moving all over his side and front. “You sound wonderful ….” I love this…

Tucker let out a ragged breath as he leaned his head against Henry’s shoulder. It feels really good, it feels better than when I do it to myself… He couldn’t help but buck his hips up into Henry’s hand, wanting him to keep rubbing him. I want it… But I’m scared to go past this… He’s being gentle right now… But what if he’s not gentle later on? What then?

Henry wrapped his arm around Tucker’s back, keeping him close as his strokes grew faster. He held him as he heard his panting grow more and more ragged, feeling him begin to shake in his arms. “You’re so wonderful like this…. please, Tucker… I want to hear you when you let go….“ Please… I want to know what it sounds like when I make you cum….

Tucker whimpered, holding onto Henry as his orgasm got closer, his body feeling warmer than he thought possible. “H-Henry… I-I can’t… M-mess my clothes….“ I can’t have Dad know… Because he’ll yell at me… He whimpered, curling his toes as he got closer and closer to the edge, feeling the burning in the pit of his stomach building. I wanna cum…. His hands feel godly …

Henry slowed, slipping further under him when an idea came to him. “Don’t worry….“ Henry reached up to hold Tucker’s hips, a bit intimidated when he was faced with his length. He still leaned up and sealed his lips over the tip, gently sucking. If you cum like this, your clothes won’t get messed up….

Tucker saw stars as Henry sucked on his head, immediately cumming from the pleasure. Oh my god…. Oh my god …. He let out a loud cry of pleasure as one of his hands gripped onto Henry’s hair, keeping his head where it was as he came hard into his mouth. Holy shit… That felt…. That felt amazing…. He groaned as the sensations of warmth and pleasure spilled over him more than they ever had before, his face buried into the crook of his arm, shaking as he held himself up. That felt better than trying to fuck myself on the dildo… Shit… Tucker’s whole body was shaking as he let go of Henry’s hair, watching him. What’s he gonna do now? He’s gotta be hard too…

Henry tried his best to swallow every drop of cum, needing a moment before coming off of him, gently lapping at him for a moment before tilting his head back to gaze up at Tucker as the other teen knelt over him, his smile lazy. You sound so hot… He moved back up to face Tucker, softly pecking the corner of his lips. “Was that okay? I hope you liked it…

Tucker nodded quietly, though he moved back away from him as he pulled up his boxers and his pants, keeping his eyes away from Henry. He’s hard too… What’s he gonna do now? He could feel the panic that was starting to rise in his chest, his eyes wide as he silently moved away. I’m scared…

Henry sighed as he leaned up on his elbows, resigned. I have to take care of myself, don’t I…. He looked up as Tucker curled into a ball on the couch, watching him with scared eyes. Huh? “Tucker, are you okay? …is it because I’m still, uh…” He nervously drew himself together a bit, his length throbbing. “Y-You don't have to take care of me if you don't want to…. just, tell me where the nearest bathroom is….” I need to take care of this…

Tucker watched him with scared eyes as he moved, his hand shaking as he pointed to the door down a small hallway. He’s still hard… He’s not gonna do anything right? He said he wouldn’t hurt me…

Henry nodded, trying to seem non-threatening as he stood, turning away and going to the bathroom. He let out a soft sigh as the door was shut behind him, leaning against it as his pants and boxers slid down his hips. He didn't need long to cum, the memory of Tucker’s flushed face and pleased cries still burning in his mind. My god… Henry was back about seven minutes later, sitting down on the couch as Tucker shrunk away from him, mimicking his position. “Tucker? Can I give you a hug?” You look so scared of me… I don't like that…

Tucker stared at him like his was crazy before he slowly crawled close to him and curled up to his side. “I’m sorry…” He murmured quietly, huddling up to him. You had to take care of yourself… But you took care of me too…

Henry gathered him up into his arms, gently petting his hair. “It's okay… You can take your time until you feel comfortable enough to do anything… I'm never gonna force you to do anything… it's okay, Tucker… it's okay…” Henry cradled him close, wrapping him up in a warm embrace. It's okay… “I got to hear you and see you like that… that's more than enough for me.”

Tucker nodded and he cuddled into his side, content with just laying with him. I can deal with this right now…
Levi came up the stairs with a bowl of soup awhile later, softly knocking on Eren’s door. He came inside quietly, seeing Eren still fast asleep in bed. He's so adorable… Levi ambled inside, setting down the bowl and pecking his cheeks to wake him up, kissing his nose as his eyes fluttered open. “Hey Eren, I made you lunch. You should eat. Do you feel much better?” Hopefully you do...

Eren groaned, shooing Levi away. “Go away….” He whimpered, trying to nestle back into his bed. I wanna sleep, I feel like shit … Eren shifted, feeling his stomach turn… I feel like absolute shit, I wanna sleep and not think about how much I threw up in the bathroom...

Levi sighed, shifting to turn Eren onto his back slowly so he wouldn't feel nauseous, softly kissing his temple. “Please? I made soup…. it's beef and barley…” Lathe would let me make it if I made a triple batch of it… so I did.

Eren shook his head. “I don’t feel good Levi…” I don’t wanna throw up more. “Levi… I don’t wanna throw up…. I hate it, my throat is like raw already.” I’m sick… I don’t wanna be sick, I wanna sleep it off.

Levi sighed, nodding. “At least try to drink some water… it'll maybe make your throat feel better…” Please?

“I-I can try….” He whimpered as he sat up, looking up to him. My whole body aches....

Levi helped Eren sit up, taking a small bottle of pills out of his hoodie pocket. “Here, these’ll help with your fever, and you'll need the water anyway…” Levi gave Eren two of the pills and patiently waited as he took them, lifting a cup of water to his lips when his hands shook terribly trying to grasp it. He helped Eren drink slowly, coaxing him to get half of it down before letting him stop. “Okay, you don't have to finish it, I know you don't want to…” Levi ran a hand through Eren’s hair, feeling his hot forehead. “You're still very warm… I'll let you rest…” Levi moved to help Eren shift again to lay down, tucking the blanket around him, kissing his forehead, his temple, his cheek. “Feel better…” I hope you do soon...

“A-Are….” Eren trailed off as he stopped himself from reaching out for Levi, watching him sit at the edge of the bed. Of course he’s leaving… He doesn’t want to be here… He wants to hold Mila… He closed his eyes as he felt his stomach turn. Fuck I don’t wanna throw up…
Levi looked worried as Eren clammed up, looking nauseous. “Eren, are you okay? Don’t try to talk if you don’t think you can, just relax….” Levi gently tangled his hand in Eren’s hair, keeping his head still. Don’t throw up…

…. You don’t want me to talk because you don’t want to throw up… He doesn’t want to clean it up. And you’d be wasting pills… Eren nodded slowly, moving to turn on his side so that his stomach could settle, he turned his back to Levi, knowing he’d leave and feeling his gut clench worse. Sickness, and depression do not mix… But I can barely hold this down, I wouldn’t be able to hold down my pills as it is…It’s gonna get worse… Isn’t it?

Levi sighed, very slowly shifting to lay parallel to Eren, his hand on his side. “It’s okay….” He waited a moment until Eren’s breathing had evened, his voice soft. “…what did you want to ask me?” You wanted to ask a question…?

… I can’t ask him…. “Y-You’re not gonna m-make me eat… Right?” I don’t think I can handle it, so it’s a good a white lie as any. He whimpered moving Levi’s hand from his side. I don’t really want you touching me, I can’t blame it on the sickness now… But it’ll just give me false hope. He should leave anyways… Right? I mean, he’s gonna get sick at this rate, and he can hold Mila now…*

What? No, I gave up on that. “No, I’m not, I told you it was okay if you were feeling too sick to……..is there anything else you wanted to ask?” …you didn’t sound like that was gonna be your question…. I dunno, it just sounded different…

Eren shook his head. “Y-You should go hold Mila, get her used to having you hold her… Cause James won’t be able to in less than a week.” That’s coming up… That’s a good excuse…. Why do I do this to myself?

Cause you know he’s only in it for her, not for you.

But why?

Because what could he possibly like about a fuck up like yourself?

…. Point….
Levi looked at him oddly, leaning up on one elbow. "that doesn't make sense... "We both know how much Mila clings to me whenever I do get the chance to hold her... she likes me a lot... ...Eren, is there something else...?" You know you can tell me anything...

“I don’t want you getting sick.....” You shouldn’t be here, giving me hope.... I can deal with life without you, for all I know you’re gonna try and take custody of Mila, and argue about my mentality being the reason and then I won’t be able to see her again. He felt his face go pale and his heart sink further into his stomach, trying not to let the tears surface. Don’t cry... It won’t help, it’ll make it worse...

“You're not gonna get me sick, don't worry…” Levi looked him over as his face grew red, seeing his eyes turn glassy, his expression softening into one of worry. “Eren, please don't cry… talk to me... what's wrong?” I don't understand...

Eren shook his head, immediately regretting it as he weakly moved away from Levi, feeling his stomach twist into a knot as he wobbled on weak legs into the bathroom, closing the door as he sunk down in front of the bowl, starting to throw up, and after about five minutes, started dry heaving because nothing was left. Tears were streaming down his face as he sat back, curled up in a ball on his side on the floor. His hands were over his ears, trying not to be loud as he cried. I don’t wanna be ripped away from her... But he can do that... He can do that...

You’re right, he could....

It’s scary...

He’s scary, I can’t believe we like him, all he can do is hurt us...

Levi was quiet as Eren threw up, wincing as he waited on the bed. He listened to the silence that followed, hearing the quiet sobs and standing. He's crying... Levi came over when he heard the sobs, lightly knocking on the door. “Eren? Eren, can I come in?” Let me help fix this...

Eren was still crying as he covered his ears with his hands, like he’d done years ago to keep them from being chopped off. He whimpered as he heard Levi’s voice calling his name again, his eyes searching the room and not seeing him, panic flooding through his body, causing him to dry heave once again. He’s gone... He’s gone... Dad’s coming back.... Where’s my collar?
Levi looked concerned as he heard more dry heaving and panicked breathing, opening the door and seeing Eren leaning over the porcelain with terrified eyes, his gaze darting everywhere, not seeming to really see Levi. What the fuck has gotten into him? Levi knelt next to him, resting a hand on his arm. “Eren, look at me, please. You’re okay. It’s all okay. Please don’t be scared.” Please don’t...

Eren’s eyes were filled with terror as he slowly reached out to cling onto Levi’s sleeve. “I wanna go home…. I wanna go home, Levi take me home, Dad’s gonna be home soon… He’s gonna hurt me, I don’t have my collar on….” Eren’s words have everything away as he whimpered, moving closer to Levi, hoping he would be the real one and not the one that had tormented him. Levi’s nice, right?

No... He’s just going to pin you down and take you... He just wants your ass, not you...

Eren’s eyes widened when his internal monologue finished, looking at Levi with horror, his hand slowly letting go of his sleeve and his whole body beginning to shake. No no no no no no no...

Levi looked in his terrified eyes, things clicking. What the fuck... what- He looked over his shoulder as he heard scratching at the door to the bedroom, the dogs trying to come in and help calm Eren down. Oh shit... he must not have taken his pills. “Eren, your Dad won't be home for a little, we can still fix this.” Levi decided to play along, getting the pill bottle. “You just need to take some of these before he gets home and you’ll be okay. It's okay, I'll help you.” Levi dumped the right dosage into his hand, giving Eren the PTSD meds and getting a cup of water. “Just take these. That's all you need to worry about. I'll help you make sure Dad doesn't hurt you.” ...I can't believe this is happening again... I know you're not talking about Lathe... Levi looked back as he heard a knock at the door, a quiet voice. ...shit...

“Levi? Eren? What's going on?” Lathe listened with an ear to the door, motioning for the dogs to stay put as he opened the door and slipped inside, seeing the bed empty and the bathroom door ajar, pausing. “Are you two okay?” I hope it's nothing too serious...

Eren’s eyes were wide. “I wanna go home...” His words were high pitched, letting out a ragged sob as he started to rock himself. He had swallowed the pills but refused the water. “I wanna go home… I want you to stop leaving...” His breathing was getting worse, quickly turning to gasps for air. I wanna go home... I don’t wanna stay here...

Levi looked helpless, turning to your bedroom where Lathe was. “Dad, help, please ... I don’t know what to do...” Levi turned back to Eren as he felt him jerk in his arms, watching the beginnings of a seizure. Fuck. “Dad, he's having a seizure...” Levi carefully laid Eren down on the ground on his side, waiting for it to pass as Lathe knelt next to him. A minute... two..... “I think he forgot to take his PTSD meds.... he was so out of it...” I don't know what he was talking about.... Levi was scared as Lathe called the ambulance at three minutes, both of them still waiting at six minutes when Eren finally stopped jerking, slumping into the floor. Oh my god… Levi carded a hand through his hair, both of them waiting for the ambulance to come get him. I just want you to be okay…

Ieva was the first to realize that the flashing lights down the road were headed towards their house. Huh? What the hell? She was confused, opening the door to watch paramedics hurriedly pull out the gurney, and bring it towards the house. What the hell? “Lathe?” She called out into the house, James holding Mila closely as she cried in his arms, not liking the sound the ambulance had made while it pulled in. What is happening? Why are they here? Don’t tell me Eren’s so sick he needs to go to the hospital?

Lathe was just leaving the bedroom to get the paramedics, looking to Ieva helplessly. “Eren had a six minute seizure… we had to call an ambulance.” Lathe had to run at that moment, letting the paramedics in and directing them upstairs. He's not in great shape...

Ieva raised a hand to her mouth, feeling emotions already beginning to overwhelm her. Oh my god… He had a seizure? From what? What happened? She rubbed at her large baby bump, trying to calm herself down, knowing full well that her doctor did not wanted her to stress at 20 weeks. I’ll let them handle that and I’ll stay home with the kids.

Eren’s body was motionless aside from his chest rising and falling in slow patterns. The paramedics had brought the flat board up with them, leaving the gurney at the base of the stairs. The two of them surrounded Eren, getting vitals started right away, and bracing his neck. They asked if he had hit his head, and relieved when they were told ‘no.’ They slowly shifted him to his side to put him on the board, strapping him down to it, his unconscious body easy to move.

Lathe led Levi out of the bathroom to make room for the paramedics, looking to him and seeing his wife, scared eyes, his fists clenching and unclenching. Oh no. “Levi…” Lathe gathered him up in his arms, feeling him stiffen and shake. “Levi, please, it's okay…” Please don’t panic….

Levi looked at Lathe. “What happening? I don’t understand… Why is he having a seizure?” He felt absolutely useless in this situation, his training as a medic not having prepared him for this moment. What’s happening to him? Please tell me I didn’t do it…

“He was panicking about something, his mind was in overdrive… the serious stress could've brought it on… it wasn't your fault, Levi, if he forgot to take his PTSD meds there's no telling what the stressor was… come on Hon, come with me.” Lathe brought him downstairs after Eren as he was carried, making him put on shoes and bringing him to the car. “We’re gonna go be with him, okay, and make sure that he gets better.” Someone needs to be with him…
Levi nodded, swallowing hard as Lathe drove him, watching the ambulance peel away from the house before Lathe followed it, going to park and going right into the ER entrance. He followed, his eyes peeled for Eren in one of the bays. They found him still unconscious and Scotty looming over him with a clipboard.

“Alright, how long was it?” He asked when he heard the footsteps stop behind him, knowing it was either Lathe or Levi, or both. He’s completely pale… And skinny, has he been eating much?

“Six minutes…” Lathe kept a reassuring hand around Levi, seeing him pale as he saw Eren unconscious on the hospital bed. You can't panic now, Levi… you can't… “We think he forgot his PTSD meds and freaked out, and the stress caused it…” That's the theory…

“Okay…. Well, his eyes look okay.” He said as he flashed light into them, watching them react properly. “That’s a good sign after all that, and he’s breathing on his own, but he smells like acid… Was he throwing up?” He moved to get a glove on his hand before opening Eren’s mouth and wincing at the smell and the sight of the inside of his mouth. Like a desert in there… Jesus… “When and what was the last thing he ate?” Does he have food poisoning on top of this?

Levi nodded slowly. “He woke up sick this morning, threw up… I let him sleep until like half an hour ago and woke him up for food but he could barely drink water… he threw up again, broke down in the bathroom, and that's when he… had the seizure…” That's that… I guess….

Scotty looked to the bags under his eyes. “Are you sure he slept last night?” It looks like he’s been up for awhile.

Levi thought. “I-” I left him to bathe… but… he was in towels when I found him.... .....was he.... “...he didn't sleep… I left him to take his bath last night and I wake up to find him in towels…. he didn't…” What the fuck… He was up all night…?

Scotty nodded, putting his light back in his pocket and going to pull the curtain around them. “Alright, Levi, do the honors of stripping him…” *I don’t wanna, you can do it, and I’ll check over him really quickly then… “I’m gonna go get an IV started, Lathe there’s a gown in that drawer right there, I’ll be back in less than five minutes… So be quick about it.” Scotty went out, making sure you couldn't see into the room and then went to get the IV and a needle. They should be done by now, right? Scotty sighed in relief as he came in to see Eren in a hospital gown, Levi sitting on the other side of him, holding his hand. “Has he been crying?” His eyes were bloodshot, but that could also be due to the vomiting and seizure, but I should ask... He carefully cleaned up Eren’s arm before putting the IV into him to get some fluids into him. He's thin....
“Yeah… he was…” While he panicked and thought Grisha was coming home to hurt him… Levi held his hand, studying his fingers. I want him to be okay… He looked lost, not knowing what else to do with himself.

“Lathe go get me a coffee will you?” I wanna talk to Levi alone… He glanced at Levi before looking back at Lathe, watching him leave, waiting a moment for Lathe to get out of earshot. “What are the bruises on his legs?” Please tell me it was sex and it is not what I think it is…

Levi looked down to the marks on his hips, still faint circles on his hips. “Uhm…. th-those are kinda bruises from fingers….” Hanging on too tight…. Fuck I don't wanna tell you this shit… you're Scotty, it's weird…

Scotty sighed in relief, nodding and looking over the rest of him. It's not HSP… That's great, there goes the doctor thinking worse case scenario. “What did he say to you before the seizure happened?” I can tell he was freaking out, Mikhail’s underneath the bed right now, doubt either of them realized the dog followed them… He had his gloves on as he gently held Eren’s head, feeling his temperature and getting the thermometer out and spreading his legs a bit to insert it. He’s still passed out which is concerning, but for now I’m going to write it off as illness and sleep deprivation…

Levi looked away as Scotty went to insert the thermometer, thinking. “Uhm… he was saying something like Dad was gonna come home soon… but he didn't mean Lathe, he meant Grisha… he needed his collar or he was gonna get mad and beat him…. He was freaking out… I made him swallow his pills but he refused water… and then he started seizing…. he only took them because I told him if he did Dad wouldn't be mad… I didn't know what else to say, I thought playing along would work… so that he's snap out of it faster….” I feel horrible for having to do that...

Scotty nodded, letting Eren’s body back into the original laying position. He then put the oxygen tube for his nose. “Alright, well I’m going to suggest not playing along…. It seems to make things worse… But it could be any number of things if he didn’t have his PTSD pills… We might have to put him back on daily injections…” That would help, Levi and Lathe and Ieva all know how to wield a needle.

Levi nodded, looking Eren over. “Okay… I just… in that moment I thought it would work to get him to take the pills… I didn't know what else to say, he wouldn't’ve believed me if I told him Grisha was dead… he just… he seemed nearly hysterical and I didn't know how to fix it….” I'll do better….

Scotty nodded. “Has he been anxious lately?” That could cause the stress… He looked through his vitals, jotting them down and pulling up a stool to sit by Eren’s still body. He’s still breathing, his heart rate looks okay… “And why did he seem hysterical?”
Levi slowly nodded. “Yeah, he's been on edge lately… I think he's been worrying about me and Mila… and he kept saying stuff like ‘Get her used to you holding her instead of taking care of me’ and it all just sounded weird… I don't know what to make of it, I think…… maybe he thinks I care more about Mila? But he knows I love them both… uhm…. he was hysterical because he thought Grisha was coming home and that if he didn't have his collar on he’d be beaten….” That's a thing….

Scotty nodded. “Has he seemed like himself? Clingy? Or distant?” He pulled out his pad of paper to write notes. This might be a psychological issue as well, not just physical…

“That's a thing….

“Uhm… he always wants to be around me, I've noticed… and he looks really hurt whenever I leave like even for just two minutes to use the bathroom or something… but I don't think he likes that he's so clingy…. he looks so embarrassed whenever he follows me around…” I can understand wanting to be around me… I almost died, and you all thought that I did… but it's been awhile… and you're still latched onto me as tightly as ever… I don't mind much, really… but… I don't know...

Scotty sighed jotting down notices. “Has he put distance between him and Mila?” This seems like something that I can’t fix… I'm not a psychiatrist….

“.....a bit…. I know that while I was gone, when Eren had classes and stuff James became the child wrangler… but now when he’s home he doesn't go get her and play with her as much….. I’ve been playing with her and taking care of her a lot more… I kinda think he is… but… I don't know why….” I thought we were fine....? He hasn't wanted to hold her.... at all, really.... why not?

Scotty sighed quietly, looking to Levi. “How often do you tell him you love him? And what does he do when you say that?” This is looking more and more like a problem a therapist should be dealing with...

Levi looked to Eren, thinking. “I try to tell him every day… like, every night before we go to sleep and stuff… I'm not that great of a romantic, but… I know he needs to hear it…. he… he always looks like he doesn't want to hear it… or he looks really sad… he looks a bit guilty whenever I kiss him on the cheek because I can… he doesn't… he doesn't look as happy as you'd think he would…” I don't know what to do… is it me? Am I doing this wrong?

... Damn… “Have you mentioned anything about leaving? Did he ask if you were leaving?” This seems like separation anxiety, but I think with what happened to him when he was young… And when you had ‘died’ he was a wreck....
Levi shook his head, looking over Eren’s tired face. “I never said anything about it… but he asked if I was gonna go back… of course I told him ‘Hell no.’ I have a leg full of metal and a Purple Heart, that’s enough for me.’ Levi looked up, thinking. “But whenever like we’re just sitting on the couch and I shift a bit to get comfortable Eren like grips my sleeve really tight and he looks over to me all scared… it’s like he’s so afraid of me leaving his side…” ....does he really have separation anxiety... like Dad said…?

“Well…. It would be separation anxiety… But he’s over 18… So I don’t know where his head is, I dunno where his head is right now....” Scotty set his pen down, looking at Levi. “You and he both need to visit a therapist….” He looked over as Lathe came back in with his coffee, taking it from him and sighing. He could still think his Dad is still around from the first time around, before Lathe... But I’m not sure...

Levi sighed, nodding. “Yeah… we should. I didn't think it'd be so bad…” Levi ran his thumb over his knuckles, studying them. This isn't good... we should go... and I need to really talk with him... about how much I love him and Mila....maybe actually proposing would fix all of this... it'll be fixed in a month..... not that long to wait, Eren... I'll put a ring on it, don't worry...

“You were dead for a week in his eyes, Levi…… And I bet he feels like you’re gonna leave him any second by the way he’s been acting.” I really don’t think that he thinks you’re going to stay... “We’ll see when he wakes up… I’m sorry but there’s not much I can think otherwise… I might need to keep him overnight....” Scotty sighed quietly, looking at Eren’s pale face, slowly starting to get colorful again. Well he was definitely dehydrated...

Levi nodded, raising Eren’s hand to his lips, softly kissing his knuckles. He dropped their hands back onto the bed after a moment, staring down at the ground. “...I'm staying overnight with him. .....and I'm going to do everything I can to always stay there for him.” I don't want to leave him...

Scotty nodded, looking over to Lathe. “Alright, I’ll go find a room upstairs and admit him…” He walked out of the room, though he stopped to look at Lathe. “Have you heard anything from Damien? I tried calling him to see how he was doing and he didn’t reply…. And the mail came back… He’s not in California anymore....” I kept in touch with him, I’m not sure how much you did....

Lathe quirked an eyebrow, shaking his head. “Nah, I haven't. He hasn't been responding to the group chat texts, and we know how Phoebe said he went silent a bit after the wedding… normally they’re always talking. I dunno…” I'm kinda worried... “Does anyone have Iroh’s number? Maybe we can talk to him… but, you don't think he's....” In trouble... arrested somewhere... ...dead...? Nah, he's not dead... he's Damien, it'd take a hell of a lot to kill him.
Scotty shook his head, shrugging a shoulder before disappearing for a few minutes, coming back to the room with a nurse. “Alright, we got a room for him… You gonna follow us up? Or do you wanna go back home and get clothes and food for you two first? I know Eren hates hospital food…” He’ll need to eat when he wakes up too…

Lathe and Levi looked at each other, the older man sighing as Levi inched closer to Eren, smiling.
“You want me to go get stuff for you?”

“Please.”

Lathe chuckled, nodding. “I’ll bring stuff, don’t worry. You keep an eye on him, okay? Make sure he doesn’t panic when he wakes up, okay? Take care of him.” You’ll be fine. Lathe left at that, heading back to the car. I’ll bring all that soup Levi made, and a bag with clothes and stuff for both of them…

Levi looked to Scotty when Lathe left, standing to follow upstairs. I need to be here for him… so that when he wakes up he knows I didn’t leave… that I stayed.

Scotty lead them up while he pushed Eren and the nurse took his IV holder, walking them to the elevator and getting them up to the second floor. They wheeled him to a small private room with a couch and a few chairs. “The bathroom is connected, so as long as you’re here, we can close the door… He might be unconscious for a few more hours so I’ll text Lathe what room he’s in… Need anything else?” Did I give you the proper run down? I don’t think I forgot anything…

Levi shook his head, looking Eren over. “…no, I’m okay.” He waited until he and Eren were left alone, gently shifting Eren over a bit and climbing up to lay next to him, curling up into his side, an arm around him. Mine… He didn't move when Lathe came in some time later with the huge container of soup and overnight bag, staying put at Eren’s side as the man left, leaving them to take over the German classes. Levi lightly sized for the next few hours, left to his thoughts in the quiet room. …he's scared I'll leave him…. …..I just.... ....just one month until you propose... then it'll be fine... and therapy should help him get better too.... Levi looked up when he felt Eren shift a bit under him, looking up worriedly and seeing Eren giving him a small smile. “Hey Eren… how are you feeling?” Levi ran his hand gently over his side. You don't look as manic as before...

Eren looked at him with slight confusion, hearing his stomach rumble and the feeling of emptiness gnawing at him from the inside. “ Starved …. I threw everything up, didn’t I?” My throat sure feels like I did…
Levi nodded, smiling faintly as Eren’s stomach rumbled loudly. “Here, there’s food for you. Dad brought the soup from the house.” Levi sat up, going to get him a bowl of the still-hot soup, having been set in a Croc-Pot to keep from going cold. Levi ladled some out for him, getting him a spoon and setting it on Eren’s tray. “We know how much you hate hospital food…” I could use food too…. I’m hungry… Levi turned away again to get himself some, soon sitting on the edge of Eren’s bed again to eat.

Eren smiled softly, though it turned into a sad smile after a second, looking down to the soup. “You remembered?” Please tell me it was your idea…right? He was a bit shaky as he lifted the spoon to his mouth, groaning at the taste. “You made it….” I can tell, there’s fat in the soup, Dad usually scoops it out, but you don’t…. It’s so good… He wiggled his toes as he took another spoonful, chomping down on it happily. I’m gonna miss this when you leave…. His eyes almost instantly watered, the thought upsetting him. I don’t want him to leave me….

Levi nodded, smiling faintly when Eren looked happier than anything as he ate. “Yeah… I knew you liked this soup… I hope it tastes okay….” He watched him nod, though his expression became one of worry as Eren suddenly looked ready to cry. “Eren? Are you okay, what happened?” Levi reached a hand for him, his thumb brushing his cheek. What happened?

“Y-You’re not gonna stop making it… Are you?” Please say no… Eren looked up to look into Levi’s eyes as a tear rolled down his cheek and Levi’s thumb brushing it away. Please tell me you’re staying here with me… And you’ll keep making me your soup?

Levi looked over him, thinking. He thinks you’re not gonna be around to make it anymore soon… “Eren, there are plenty of decades left to have this soup…. I’ll make it for you whenever you want. You don’t have to worry about not having it.” I’m not gonna go anywhere…. I wanna stay.

Eren seemed to let out a whimper of thankfulness before he started to really cry. A shaking hand coming to cup Levi’s hand on his cheek. He’s not gonna leave anytime soon… Maybe having Mila to tie him down wasn’t a bad idea? He’ll stay, right? He sniffled, a happy smile on his face before he started laughing softly. I can’t believe it…

Levi set down his bowl, his other hand going to cup his cheek as well. He leaned over to softly kiss his cheek, looking him over as he started laughing. “…What?” You’re giggling….

“I’m happy… I like your cooking…” He murmured, moving his hand to grab at his shirt, but he stopped right before he could. I’m not sure if you’ll let me cling still… I want to, but it’s embarrassing as all hell… I don’t want to cling, I wanna be able to be away from you too…
Levi looked to the hand outstretched to him, reaching for him and lacing their fingers, holding their hands close. It's okay... “I'm glad you do... I'll make sure to cook more...” Levi gave him a reassuring look, his features soft. “I love you...”

Eren smiled more, sniffling quietly. “I love you more...” He murmured softly, his heart melting as Levi intertwined their fingers. “So... Do you wanna tell me why I'm in the hospital?” Eren looked down to his food, letting go of Levi in favor of filling his mouth with deliciousness. I'm starving... So I know I threw everything I ate up...

Levi nodded, letting him go. “You.... you had a six-minute seizure... you were nearly hysterical this morning when I found you... you hadn't slept and hadn't been able to take your PTSD meds.... it was a mess... I was so scared... Dad called you an ambulance... I'm glad you're awake... you're pretty dehydrated too, you threw everything up... I'm just... I'm glad you're awake and okay... ...and I love you even more.” I really do... and I'm so glad you're okay...

Eren paused as he heard Levi tell him he loved him more. So... You're not gonna leave me then? Really?

But love doesn't last... He’ll move on from you.

*I don’t want him to-

Then you better step up your game and make yourself better for him. You’re completely useless otherwise.

Eren swallowed thickly, taking another spoonful of soup. “Dehydrated?” I would feel like shit because of that?

Levi watched the emotions flicker in his eyes, slowly nodding. “Yeah... and... you know I mean it, right? Every time I've told you I love you, I've meant it... I love you more than anything ...” You're everything to me...

“What about Mila?” The words were out of his mouth before he even realized his internal monologue had thought them. His eyes widened and he covered his mouth, looking down and away in shame. *Don’t answer that, she’s yours... Of course you’ll love her more than me.... Why did I even ask?
Levi looked at him in shock, stunned. What? “Eren, I love Mila too… she’s our daughter, of course I love her to bits… that’s no question. But it’s not a matter of who I love more. What matters is that I love both of you too much to ever want to let you go. I want to hang onto both of you for as long as I can… as long as life will let me.” I love you too much to ever want to let go…

Eren felt the tears form in his eyes once again, the familiar sting gracing him as he tried to hold on his sobs. “How can I be so stupid? How can I be so jealous of my own daughter?” I don’t get it…. I hate that I’m like this… “Why can’t I be happy with myself?” He started to curl up into a ball as he began to shake again, his eyes already turning bloodshot from crying.

Levi moved his bowl and tray out of the way, moving closer and wrapping his arms around him. “Eren, please, don't cry… it's okay… if anything Mila should be jealous of how much we’ve been together lately… and it's not like I don't love having you there with me all the time, I really do. You don't have to be jealous of her when you're the one I've been giving most of my attention to.” Levi gently held Eren’s chin, tilting it up to look at him. “Eren, there are so many reasons to be happy with yourself… you're allowed to feel this way. It's okay.” Levi leaned in to brush their lips, a small kiss before he pecked his nose. “I’ll love you no matter what.” I really will.

Eren started to hiccup as he curled up into Levi’s arms. “What i-is there to be h-happy about? I-I’m u-useless….” I haven’t been able to sing at all in like two or three months… Or paint… Or do anything really… What am I supposed to be doing? He leaned his head onto Levi’s chest trying not to hiccup as he sniffled. I wanna hear what you got to say about this because I’m a fucking wreck…

Levi held him close, his tone soothing as he ran his hands over his back. “Eren, you've got so much… you're an amazing rider, you’ve got classes full of kids that look up to you and love what you do because you're helping them understand German and you're helping with anything else you can… we have our own daughter for God’s sake… a beautiful, healthy baby girl and she's got two Daddies that love her and love each other… isn't there anything in that to be happy about?” I adore Mila… how can you not be happy?

Eren shook his head. “…. T-There’s something missing….. I feel so empty inside… I don’t wanna be empty anymore… I wanna feel full, and be able to enjoy the things I do.” He murmured quietly, his hands finding their way to Levi’s shirt and gripping it. You just listed everything I do…

And he didn’t say a damn word about how he thought about you….did he?

No…
Because he doesn't love you….

Levi’s eyes softened, holding him closer. ……..I can't make you wait another month. I'm not gonna make you suffer anymore. “Eren, I think I can maybe fix that…” Levi shifted on the bed until he was on one knee, reaching down and taking Eren’s hands into his own, his voice soft. “Eren, I know I don't have a ring and this is a hell of a time to ask, but… will you marry me?”

Please… I don’t want to stall anymore...

Eren’s eyes widened as he watched Levi’s lips move. …………… Did he just…? He tried to keep his jaw from falling as he looked at him with pleading eyes. “A-Am I… s-serious?” I need to make sure…. He glanced up to where Levi held onto his hands. You're being serious right now?

Levi felt himself flush, his cheekbones painted pink. “Eren, I know this is unexpected and the least romantic thing ever, but I'm shit at being romantic… and I can't wait any longer to ask. I want to marry you so we can raise our daughter together and be a family and maybe have more kids if we want and grow old together and make each other happy… because you make me so happy… will you please do me the honor of marrying me?” I mean it… I really mean it… please say yes...

Eren’s eyes filled with tears for a new reason now as he hurriedly nodded, reaching to pull Levi down into a hug. “Y-Yes…” His voice was a bit shaky as he let the new tears fall, a smile on his face, his heart beating so quickly it triggered an alarm on a monitor, Scotty stepping into the room about thirty seconds later worried he would be seeing Eren seizing. Eren’s arms were wrapped tightly around Levi’s shoulders, a sigh of relief leaving him. I'm so happy… He wants to stay… He’s gonna keep me and Mila...

Levi nearly crushed him to his chest as he heard him say yes, shifting so he was practically in his lap, straddling him. He said yes … Levi embraced him, turning his head and meeting him for a deep kiss, the single kiss quickly turning into a heated makeout session. He's mine… I'm gonna keep him now… He didn't hear the door open, not giving a damn about anything besides Eren. Mine ...

Eren held onto Levi even tighter as he was kissed. He’s…. He’s gonna marry me? And love me forever? He smiled under their heated kiss, his eyes closing as his hands tangled in Levi’s undercut. It’s getting long, he’s gonna need a shave…
Chapter 107: Awkward Conversations

Scotty’s eyes widened at the sight and he shook his head, covering his eyes before he turned and quietly closed the door, taking his phone out and opening up his conversation with Lathe.

SO: I think everything's gonna be okay.... Eren scared me half to death with his heart monitor blaring

SO: so I run in and find that Levi’s in Eren’s lap making out with him heatedly...

SO: Damn... It was hot, I’m not gonna lie

LQ: Scotty, stop being a creep

LQ: Those are my children

SO: it was hot though... Pretty sure I should go stop Levi from choking Eren with his tongue tho...

SO: Or should I just watch and call Casper and see if they're up for a foursome? Ha...

LQ: Scotty that's really creepy, just leave them alone... and don't watch them, guh I need to get that image out of my head

SO: .... I wonder what Casper would say if I asked him about a foursome?

SO: Come on... Admit it, it’s hot, you have one son with the smoking bod... And the other has the golden voice...

SO: I’m kinda jealous.... Wonder what he sounds like if you play him right...

SO: Hehe

LQ: Scotty that's not cool seriously, stop...

LQ: They're my sons, that's seriously fucking messed up...

LQ: What the fuck is wrong with you?!

SO: But didn’t they already kinda sorta have a foursome before?

SO: ..... Many things...

LQ: It was with people that were their age and they were around like all the time... they were all really good friends

LQ: I swear to fucking god if you actually think you're gonna ask them I'll come over there and punch your teeth out

LQ: We’ll see how attractive that makes you to them
SO: Oh come on! Take a joke Lathe…. I can imagine shit can’t I? Like you’ve never thought about how it would look to watch your sons go at it?

SO: How much you wanna bet that you could look up FanFiction of them?

SO: I bet you $500 you can… $5,000 that it’s sexual…

LQ: That's fucking bullshit, I'm not looking that shit up

LQ: And if you wanna imagine shit you don't have to go and fucking tell me! Keep that shit to yourself!

LQ: It's fucked up!

SO: ……………. You look it up yet?

LQ: Fuck no I'm not gonna look it up! What the fuck is your problem?

LQ: Stop fucking texting me until you decide to grow up and stop being a fucking creep

SO: …. Sorry, Casper's mad at me, and swore abstinence…. It’s not going over well for me…

SO: I apologize for my behavior… But I’ll be releasing your son tomorrow… He’s up and awake

SO: and I assume Levi was feeding him something at one point…

SO: …… Sorry

LQ: ………it's fine.

LQ: I'm glad he's awake and not dying

LQ: ...I hope things with you and Casper get better soon

LQ: Because that sucks...

SO: …………. I don’t know what I did either, and it’s bothering me to no end, but I don’t know how to fucking talk about it…

SO: shit I gotta go, bye!

LQ: Bye…?

LQ: Yo Casper

LQ: I has a question

LQ: I heard that you're pissed at Scotty and swore abstinence but like

LQ: He isn't aware of why you're so mad at him so LQ: ....?

CP: Oh for the love of God, is this a ploy he’s pulling to try and get me to stop yelling at him?

LQ: What? No, I was just texting him and this whole thing happened and he was being kinda shitty and I yelled at him and he actually apologized… he's upset because you're so upset and he doesn't know how to fix that

LQ: He had to run tho, but I wanted to know what's going on if it's okay

LQ: Maybe help fix things...?

CP: He forgot our fucking anniversary…Again!

CP: He never fucking remembers it! I even got him a gift and he had no fucking clue why!?

CP: Why can’t he realize I’m pissed at him because of that!? That it wasn’t just some senseless gift and that there was a reason behind it!?

LQ: ...Casper, keep in mind that Scotty can be seriously fucking dumb sometimes LQ: Actually, a lot of times.

LQ: And the man isn't exactly sentimental

LQ: So question

LQ: Is the date on the calendar you have in the kitchen?

CP: Yes… Does he look at it? No...

CP: I took him out for a change and he doesn’t think that something might be up? We went out to Dave & Buster’s in the city and then I got us a nice hotel room for the night and the bed had rose petals on it and everything! But he didn’t say a damn fucking thing about it!

CP: I’m sorry…. I’m frustrated with him…. I’ve been trying to drop hints but apparently he’s even more dense than I thought he was...

LQ: ………wow

LQ: That's a first class Anniversary thing you did

LQ: And that's a whole new fucking level of density on Scotty’s part

LQ: He apparently has the emotional sensitivity of a pile of bricks

LQ: …..okay, so I have an idea.

LQ: The next time you see him (preferably when there are no witnesses and no yelling) tell him this:

LQ: Scotty you dense motherfucker, I've been pissed at you because you forgot our Anniversary for the third year in a row. Please actually //look// at the calendar so you know when important shit is coming up, and you're still not getting any more sex until you make up for all those Anniversary gifts I gave you.

LQ: But like completely calmly and with a straight face

LQ: He'll actually listen to you if you do it that way

CP: ..... He remembered it two years ago.... So I tried to change it up a bit when we didn’t do anything on our anniversary last year...

CP: Am I doing the wrong thing? I feel like I can’t get through to him anymore...

LQ: I feel like you need to be more straight with him

LQ: Not like not being gay anymore that's fine

LQ: But like if you're mad you need to just not yell at him and tell him exactly why

LQ: Because he's dumb and needs help understanding this shit

CP: Why does being gay have to be this difficult?

CP: Why does Scotty have to be so dense?

CP: I’m contemplating my life choices atm.... Instead of working, because I’m too pissed at him to give a fuck about work rn

LQ: Casper if you're really contemplating why you decided to say yes when Scotty asked you to marry him then like I am not qualified to help you anymore

LQ: And not every relationship is sunshine and rainbows- it takes work

LQ: Some more than others

LQ: I'm pretty sure even if either you or Scotty was a chick (and legit it'd probably be you tbh) I'm pretty sure it'd be just as difficult if not even more because you'd have to deal with making another human and then getting it out of your body

LQ: And we both know how not pretty that is.

CP: He doesn’t want kids.... If I were a woman he would’ve gotten fixed or something like that....

CP: Fuck I even pushed him to agree on one... But it just.... It doesn’t feel right, he doesn’t //actually// want a kid....

CP: I can’t deal with this I’m crying at my desk and eating ice cream straight from the tub... I’m a fucking mess

LQ: Do I need to come over and give you moral support?

LQ: You sound like you need it...
LQ: And honestly I think it’s less of Scotty not wanting one and more of him being sure he’ll accidentally kill it

CP: it still hurts tho…. And yeah, you should probably come and stop me, my body won’t like me if I eat this whole thing…

LQ: Casper stop you're lactose intolerant

LQ: I don't care how many Lactaid you took stahp

LQ: I'm coming

CP: but it’s creamy goodness! I can take as many of those damn pills as I need!

LQ: No you can't- take too many in a short amount of time and you'll grow resistant and then you won't be able to have /any/ of the creamy goodness

LQ: Think about it

LQ: A future without ice cream, or butter…. or god forbid

LQ: Cheese pizza.

CP: you're coming to pry it out of my hands right?

LQ: No shit

LQ: And just to be safe I'll eat the rest so you can't have it when I leave

LQ: Like a true friend would

CP: you better drive fast…. It's almost gone as it is…

Lathe was soon enough parked and in the building, waving to the person at the front desk and heading up the elevator. He marched straight past Casper’s secretary and onto his office, prying the carton from his hands, sighing. “Casper, you ate the whole damn thing.”

Casper’s eyes were red and bloodshot as he let Lathe tug the carton away from him. “There’s another one on the freezer.” He mumbled miserably as he pointed to it, curling up into a ball. My stomach hurts…. But I don’t really care…. It was worth it… Maybe…

Lathe sighed, his expression softening as Casper curled up in his chair. He threw away the carton and the plastic spoon, going over to him and kneeling next to him, carding a hand through his hair. “I'm sorry, Casper… I'm so sorry things aren't as smooth as you'd like them to be… ...but even if he is a goddamn imbecile, he loves you.” He really does. “I know he’d give anything to keep you, and he wants you to be happy… but he still needs conditioning before he's the perfect husband… and even then he's gonna have his idiot moments. He has a lot of those.” It's a wonder they ever let him loose in a hospital….
Casper could only nod and snuffle as he felt Lathe’s hand run through his hair. “I’m sorry…. You probably don’t wanna deal with this, especially with all the kids you’re in charge of… I’m stupid…. I’m sorry for making you come here….” Fuck now I feel even more guilty…. I made him come out here, and all he has to do is say a few words and I wished I hadn’t bothered him. “Life isn’t always smiles and rainbows, I should know that, I’m sorry, I need to grow up too…” I need to realize life isn’t perfect…

Lathe shook his head, still running his hand through his blue locks. “It's okay, it's not like there's any problem needing someone to vent to and be there for you. And James is more than capable of child wrangling for a little while. It's not stupid. And even if we know that life isn't gonna be perfect, it feels good to complain about it to someone. I understand.” Lathe gave him a small smile. “It's okay. You know I'm always here.” Don't feel bad. It's okay.

Casper looked down at him from his perch on the chair. “Can I have a hug?” He asked quietly, wanting to curl up to someone. Because I stupidly told Scotty that I was abstaining from sex until he got his shit together, but it seems like that’ll never happen…

Lathe nodded, shifting up and kneeling one knee on his chair, pulling him close. He felt the man shake, sighing and holding him close. “It's okay… it'll work out…” Lathe murmured quietly to him, trying to calm him. It's okay….

Casper held onto him and cried for awhile, though soon they shifted to the floor so Casper could sit in Lathe’s lap like a little kid. I feel like I’m back to being a teenager, crying over Scotty, because I'm gay and he’s not…

Lathe held onto him, cradling him close. It's so hard... and I know how long you've wanted to have him... and having him isn't as easy as you'd thought it would be... that must really hurt... “Things will smooth over eventually, Hon…. eventually they will.” It'll get easier.

“Hopefully…. It was a single word that Casper croaked out before he shifted and got up from Lathe’s lap, offering him a hand to help him up. I should just go home, and claim the couch as my own…. It basically is at this point…

Lathe stood with his help, giving him one last hug. “You can't just go home and drink away the sadness, Casper… go home, try to distract yourself until he gets home, then tell him how it is and enjoy the makeup sex… that's all I can tell you… but please don't try to use liquor to avoid this. You two need to be able to talk and stuff. It's important.” Please don't hurt yourself more...
Casper shook his head. “I’m not gonna drink…. I’m gonna sleep, I have no idea when he’s coming home anymore….” I don’t know anymore, it’s like we’ve detached ourselves from each other… He moved to get his car keys, and his jacket as well. It's probably snowing outside, I can lay on the couch after I start a fire in the fireplace…

Lathe sighed, walking him down the hall to the elevator, giving him a hug before they parted when they left the front doors. “Don’t worry yourself sick. Just do what you can to fix this.” He watched Casper nod, walking off to his own car. ….I can only hope this gets fixed.
Eren’s hands still had a death grip on Levi’s shirt, not wanting to let him go. Their lips had barely parted from each other for the past half hour, Levi still very much in Eren’s lap. He’s such a good kisser…. He hasn’t stopped holding me. Soon Eren had to pull back, gasping for air as his stomach growled. Oh right, I didn’t finish eating…

Levi chuckled as he heard Eren’s stomach, feeling hungry himself. He looked over Eren’s saddened features, his cheeks red and his lips scarlet and swollen from the attention. “You’re so handsome…” Levi softly kissed his cheek. “You should finish eating… so should I. And then there’s still plenty of time to make out.” Levi smirked, shifting a bit. Let's get you fed...

Eren looked over towards his half eaten bowl. “Can you put more in it?” He seemed a little breathless, the heart monitor having been shut off remotely and no longer squealing at them. It’s peaceful here…. Never thought I would say that about a hospital...

Levi nodded, leaning in and giving him one more kiss, stepping from the bed and going to add more soup from the Croc-Pot. He came back with the soup, handing it back to Eren before picking his own bowl back up, both of them attacking it eagerly. Food...

Eren groaned at the taste as he raised his spoon to his lips again. “I love this…. He murmured after he swallowed down the whole thing, eagerly eating it all. I love this so much .... He’s gonna marry me! But what if he doesn’t get you a ring? Eh... Do I really need one? For all I know we’ll go and get tattooed for it. He nestled into Levi’s side as he finished off his bowl, giving him puppy eyes to give him more. I want more of this goodness....

Levi looked over as he nearly finished his own bowl, smiling faintly when Eren gave him the puppy eyes. “Okay, okay, more. Got it.” Levi stood with the bowl and refilled it, handing it back to Eren. “Don't eat so much that you get sick, babe. It's tasty, and it'll be there later too.” There's plenty.

Eren smiled, taking the bowl with a soft thank you. He ate much slower than before, savoring the taste. I love this.... It’s so good. “What else can you make?” I wanna try it all ... He leaned into Levi’s side, getting comfortable next to him. I love this.... I love this a lot... I feel like my chest is full...

Levi thought as he ate. “Lots of stuff… I can make the pasta everyone likes, and the sauce too, and I could really make anything if you gave me the recipe… I remember this recipe for bread that I haven't made in a long while… I could make whatever you want.” Whatever it is, I can cook for Levi was solid as Eren leaned on him, both of them eating contentedly. I love this...

Eren soon had eaten everything in their bowls and he was beginning to yawn. I’m tired.... He looked up as Scotty came in, seemingly exhausted and checking Eren's vitals before he administered a few shots which he explained were his medications. So I’m on shots now? That’s how this is gonna work? Eren glanced over to Levi, watching him as he ate the last bit of his soup. Is he gonna stay here tonight?

Levi finished off his soup, setting their bowls on the side table. He yawned, nestling onto Eren’s chest a moment later, not caring that Scotty was there. He’s mine. “Is this okay?” Levi rested his cheek on Eren’s chest, looking up to him, laying completely on top of him. I don’t want to move.

Eren nodded, happy that Levi was holding onto him. His hands moving to thread through Levi’s hair as he listened to Scotty explain that he was gonna be released tomorrow. He watched the older man leave, a soft sigh leaving his lips as he looked down to Levi. “You gonna sleep like that?” You almost never sleep on top of me...

“Mhm....” Levi burrowed further into him, curling up on top of him. “Is that okay...?” It’s okay.... right...? You’re warm, and I’m tired, and you make a really nice pillow.... ...also I don’t wanna move...

Eren raised an eyebrow, looking at him. “If you come up here I can be the big spoon?” I know I usually have you be the big spoon, but I can hold you if you want.... He patted the bed beside him, a soft smile on his face. You like me holding you, so you might...

Levi smiled faintly, shifting up and curling up next to him, relaxing when arms curled around his middle, feeling Eren’s lips brush his neck. I like this... “Mm....” Levi sighed quietly, melting when Eren softly kissed up his neck. I love it... I’m always the big spoon... I like it when you hold me sometimes too....

Eren smiled, making sure his arms were wrapped solidly around Levi. I wanna hold you sometimes too.... “Good night, Levi...” He murmured, kissing up Levi’s neck to his ear and licking it teasingly. I wanna sleep... Soon enough his eyes closed and his breathing evened out. He’s mine....

Levi felt a small whine catch in his throats when Eren licked his ear, needing a moment to relax again, feeling the steady huff of his breath against his neck. “...goodnight Eren.... I love you.” Levi fell asleep a bit after that, the night passing peacefully. They woke up early the next morning, looking over as Scotty came in with Eren’s medicine. Levi watched Scotty carefully as he was shown how to give Eren his meds via needle, accepting the small box with the syringes and Eren woke up a few minutes later, looking at the two of them discussing where the best place to put the needles was for his medicine. He shifted to curl his arms around Levi’s waist from where he was sitting up. “Mm... ‘mornin’...” His voice was rough from having just woken up and he yawned as he shifted to sit up and lean against Levi’s back. Do we get to leave yet...?

Levi smiled faintly when Eren draped himself over his back, reaching a hand back to play with his hair. “Good morning, Hun...” He enjoyed the arms around his middle, listening to Scotty as he continued. I love this... Soon enough they were being left to themselves, Levi looking back to Eren. “Do you want to eat more soup first or get dressed and go home?” Your pick.

Eren grinned as he rubbed his body against Levi’s back teasingly. “I wanna go home...” He kissed at Levi’s neck, again licking at his ear in hopes that he understood. You asked me to marry you, we better be celebrating with lovemaking...

Levi sighed, leaning back into him. Guh... “That's very doable...” Levi turned his head, grateful when Eren met him for a lazy kiss, tasting him. He pulled back and teasingly nipped his nose, getting off of the bed. Levi rifled through the bag Lathe had brought for Eren’s clothes, handing them to him. “Here- better than going home in scrubs.” Really tho...

Eren thanked him and started to strip off his gown, getting it off before he started to put his own clothes on. I wanna go home... “Levi... Whatever happens... You’ll still love me?” Right? His voice was soft as he looked up to him. I wanna make sure... I really wanna make sure... Eren looked at him as he slipped his tank top on, thankful the IV was out of his arm.

Levi looked back to him, going over to him before he could get himself stuck in any other garments, hugging him close. “I'll always love you, Eren... I want to keep you forever... I always will...” I promise.

Eren smiled leaning down to kiss Levi happily. I love you... His arms wrapped around Levi’s waist, holding him close. You wanna keep me, that's all I'll ever need...

Levi embraced him, letting their tongues meet before reluctantly breaking the kiss, sighing. “If we keep this up we’ll never get home...” Levi leaned up, softly nipping his earlobe. “And I have plans for you when we get there...” Levi let go of him, his cheeks pink as he turned away. “Get dressed so we can get you out of here.” I wanna take you home...
Eren blushed nodding as he slipped on sweatpants and a hoodie, waiting for Levi to get dressed, Scotty having come and discharged him. I wanna go home! Scotty told them to wait for a minute before he came with his keys and his coat, ready to go home. “You gonna give us a lift?”

Scotty nodded, motioning towards the door. “Let’s get you two home, then I need to go home myself.” Casper is gonna flip his shit when I get home…. He didn’t even text me that he noticed my absence…. At least I don’t think he did. My phone died…. He’s gotta be pissed at me. Scotty unlocked his car as they got close, rubbing at his eyes. Shit, I’m exhausted….

Levi followed, taking the Croc-Pot that had gone from hot to warm overnight, their bag slung over his arm. You look exhausted… Levi and Eren sat in the back together, leaning against each other on the quiet drive home, noticing the sad and more than tired look in Scotty’s eyes. He thanked him quietly when they pulled into the driveway, letting him be. Whatever’s going on, even if it’s just normal doctor stuff, I’m not gonna get involved… Levi kicked the door when they got to the front door, waiting for Lathe to unlock it.

Lathe sighed as he heard the kicks, wandering over from the kitchen and unlocking the door for them. “You’re home?” He saw the car turning around in the driveway, waving. “Oh, Scotty drove you.” He stepped out of the way, seeing the quiet focus in Levi’s expression as he brushed past him to set down the Croc-Pot, Eren waiting by the stairs for him. Ah. ….yeah, I’m not about to get in their way.

Eren waited for Levi at the stairs and as soon as he set the crockpot down he started to make his way up the stairs. I wanna feel you again… I want you to love me…

Levi followed him, needing an extra minute to get up the stairs still, soon padding to their room. He shut the door behind him, seeing Eren stretched out like a cat on their bed, looking comfortable. Levi walked to the bed, climbing up over him, seeing Eren look up at him with feigned disinterest. “Well you look comfortable…”

Eren smirked and nodded, stretching out even further to a point where his stomach showed from his clothes being raised, the soft flesh teasing Levi. “Hmm…. I am comfortable… You’re here with me …” He smirked and leaned up to kiss him as he came closer. *We have all the time in the world, and I’m feeling much better now too….

Levi leaned down and softly kissed the smirk off of his lips, settling down lower and straddling him, his hands lightly roaming his front as he did. We have time… we have as much time as we need. Levi kissed the corner of his mouth, going to suck at the soft flesh of his neck, taking his sweet time. We have all day to make love… there’s no rush…
Eren tilted his neck to the side, letting Levi take over his neck. “Hmm…. Your lips…” He let out a soft sigh of pleasure as his hands moved up to Levi’s waist, his fingers messing with the hem of his shirt. We’re gonna take this slow… Aren’t we?

Levi smirked a bit, taking his time leaving marks down his neck, paying rapt attention to the soft spots at the joint of his neck, listening to Eren’s quiet mewls as he nipped at it. He sounds wonderful… Levi let his hands slip under his sweatshirt, brushing his sides lightly, stopping when Eren jerked. He slowly did it again, chuckling when Eren quietly cursed him for tickling him. His hands wandered more firmly, distracting Eren with his wandering lips.

Eren’s eyes closed as he focused on Levi’s lips moving down from his neck towards his collarbone but stopping when his hoodie wouldn’t allow him further access. “J-Just take it off…. And quit tickling me…” He murmured in Levi’s ear, moving his hands over Levi’s abdomen. I wanna get a move on…

“Patience… and maybe.” Levi smirked, slowly taking the hoodie off of Eren. He chuckled when Eren impatiently flung it away across the room, his hands firmly planted on his chest. “Patience, Eren…” Levi leaned down, nipping at his collarbone. “We have all day to make love…” There’s nothing but time right now…

Eren groaned as Levi took his sweet time. He’s really gonna draw this out, isn’t he? His eyes followed Levi’s movements, shuddering as his hands ran down his body. Oh my god… It feels so good… “I don’t want to be patient… I wanna be had by my fiancé…” His eyes were laid back as he looked to him, his hands running under Levi’s shirt, feeling his abs.

“Scott fucking Octavian.” Casper’s eyes were sharp with anger the second Scotty came into the house, standing from the couch when he was ignored in favor of heading for the stairs.
…..remember what Lathe told you. “Don't just fucking ignore me! Get back down here so we can talk.” Casper’s tone left no room for argument, his arms crossed, holding himself back from seriously screaming at him. Don't try to piss me off more. I'm barely able to control myself.

Scotty stopped, turning to look at him with tired and sad eyes, his shoulders slumped. “Okay, you’re obviously pissed at me, but can we talk after I’ve showered? I haven’t slept in three days, and I need one desperately, can I at least do that real quick before I’m resigned to the fucking couch for a week?” I’m sure that's how this argument is gonna end up isn't it? At least let me wake up before you start yelling at me, and maybe I'll be able to figure out why you're so mad at me…
Casper took a moment to really look at him, the anger draining out of him as he saw how exhausted he was. He looks like death learned to walk. “...oh my god.” Casper’s anger was forgotten, coming up to him on the stairs, a hand on his back. “You look terrible… let's get you showered and in bed. What I’m mad about isn’t important right now.” Can’t have another anniversary if you die from exhaustion...

“Not important? Not important!? Casper, you’ve been mad at me for over two weeks! We’re fucking talking about it when I get out of the fucking shower....” He sighed, shaking his head, pinching the bridge of his nose. “Look I’m sorry, just let me take a shower first, and then we’ll talk.” He sighed, turning into the bathroom and starting to undress. I need to calm down, yelling at him won’t help my case.

Casper sighed, stopping Scotty before he could shut the door. “Scotty, after you take your shower, you're going to go straight to bed, so let me speak. You forgot about our anniversary, and yes, it was on the calendar. You remembered the first year we were together but not last year, and I got pissed because you had no idea that anything out of the ordinary was going on when I took you into the city and we went to Dave and Buster's, and the hotel room bed had rose petals and everything. I was hoping you’d remember, and I got pissed that you didn't but it's my fault for just being angry instead of just telling you why I was pissed. But it isn't gonna do any good to be mad now when you look like actual, literal death so just go take your shower and come to bed after so we can sleep and actually just exist together without any harsh feelings, okay?” Casper let out a deep breath after that, feeling much better having ranted. ...it felt good to say all that....

Scotty sighed, looking down at Casper and hugging him tightly. “Look, Casper, I’m sorry, I’ve just….. No nevermind I’m not even going to make excuses…. I’m really sorry about that.” He leaned down, kissing his forehead, but his head spun the instant he did it. Fuck... My head hurts, I really should’ve come home sooner....

Casper felt Scotty lost to the side, holding him up. “Yeah, a shower can wait. Let’s just get you in bed, Hon. ...and it's okay... as long as you figure out a way to make it up to me.” Casper left the clothes Scotty had managed to shed on the floor, bringing him to their bedroom, sitting him on the bed and tugging off the rest of his clothes until he was left in his boxers. Casper stripped as well, tugging him into bed and pulling the covers over them, curling up into his chest. “Sleep well, Hun…” You'll need as much of it as you can get...

Scotty shook his head as he was pushed into the bed. “Casper…” I should take a shower, I really need one... “...I should be on the couch…” He muttered quietly as Casper curled up to his side. I shouldn’t be on the bed, you’re pissed at me… And for a fair reason too.... I fucked up...

Casper shook his head, laying on top of him so Scotty couldn’t move in his exhausted state. “Nope. You're comfy, and exhausted, and I was pissed for far too long to be justified. You're staying here.” Casper kissed his bare chest, pecking the spot right over his heart and nestling in. Mine.
Scotty groaned, reaching down to rub his hands over Casper’s body. “Baby…. I should really take a shower tho….” Then once I take a shower I can escape and then I can go lay on the couch. I smell horrible … He groaned as Casper kissed his chest, trying not to let his body get the best of him. If you get hard now, he is never gonna let you touch him ever again.

Casper made a dissenting sound, trying to hang on. “If you really wanna bathe, you're taking an actual bath and I'm coming with so you don't slip and fall or drown when you fall asleep…” Casper shifted with him as Scotty sleepily stood, staying stuck to his side.

Scotty nodded weakly and they made their way to their large tub in the bathroom in the hall. “Hmm, I'll get the water started…” He kneeled down beside the tub and started the water hot. I need to wake up, especially if Casper really wants to talk. “Are you gonna come in with me?” ….. That's a bad question to ask... He probably will, and I'll get hard… Fuck ...

Casper nodded, kneeling next to him. “If that's okay…” Please? It'll be nice and warm... and I get to cling to you...

Scotty nodded, looking over to the side for a moment before he shut the water off and he stood to strip himself of his boxers. He cursed himself when his length was at half mast already, wanting attention. Fuck, can’t I just relax for him for once? Why does my body need to betray me?

Casper stepped out of his own boxers, his eyebrows shooting up when he saw Scotty's slowly hardening length. He's hard? ….? Casper stepped into the bath after him, settling in his lap, careful to keep their hips from meeting as he reached for a washcloth and the soap, starting to wash Scotty’s chest with care. It's not like I'm mad that you're getting in the mood... I just didn't expect it... we haven't been intimate in a while.... I miss you too...

Scotty looked away in shame. “C-Casper…. I think it’d be better if I washed myself…” I can’t handle you touching me right now.... You probably don’t want anything to do with me at the moment anyways... He closed his eyes, reaching out to grab Casper’s wrist before he got any further down his chest, knowing that he was fully hard. Fuck ....

Casper pouted, glancing down for a moment. Is he... he is. “Scotty…” Casper surrendered the washcloth, though he leaned forward, his hands on his chest and lips brushing his neck. “It's okay… do you want me to take care of you?” His hands very slowly drifted down his chest. “I'd love to…” Please let me...
Scotty looked at him with confusion. “But you said…. You said you were practicing abstinence…” Why does even being in the same room as you make me hard like this? It's embarrassing that I can't control my urges…

Casper sighed, leaning his forehead against his shoulder. “I know I said that, but I was being an asshole and not even telling you why I was pissed and I've been really shitty to you and it hasn't been fair… if you want me to, I can take care of you… I wanna make it up to you… or you can decide what happens… if we leave it alone… or something else…” Casper softly kissed his collarbone. “I wouldn't mind that something else…” Let's hope you know I don't mean you jerking yourself off.

Scotty was torn. I'd love to tap that… But… “Why do you need to make it up to me? I was equally shitty to you by forgetting… We could call it even?… No, scratch that… It’s not even at all, you deserve a week’s worth of dates… You deserve it all… And I'm sorry I'm a horrible fiancé…” We haven't even started planning that yet…… How are you even with me still?

“You're not horrible…” Casper started softly kissing his neck, shifting forward a bit more in his lap. “You need some work though.” Casper smiled, pecking his neck. “But I really do love you… and I want some nice dates, Scotty. Nice ones.” Casper gently lapped at his skin. “We’ll get around to becoming husbands eventually… I’m okay to wait… as long as you keep me until then.” Please keep me… I wanna keep you...

Scotty nodded and smiled softly, noticing how close he was getting to his hardness. “And what exactly counts as a nice date? I was under the impression that Dave & Busters was the best place for a date….” I know it's not…. But I could pull your strings a bit, find out what you really want, and make it perfect.

Casper smirked, sucking a mark onto his collarbone. “Hm…. a nice dinner out, just you and me…. maybe skating in that outdoor ice rink in the city… there's stuff to do…” Casper held onto him as he shifted forward another inch, feeling the tip of his hardening length brush Scotty’s, biting back a whimper. “…you'll figure something out…” I want it… damn....

Scotty struggled to stifle the moan he felt rise in his throat. “Mmm… Yeah… I'll figure something out…” He looked to the wash cloth that had been forgotten. “Maybe you should finish washing me up first?” He handed the cloth back to him, shifting a bit closer and struggling not to let out a whine as their lengths touched more. I want him… But will he want me?

Casper nodded, swallowing down the desperate sounds his threat wanted to make as he hurriedly finished washing Scotty, still trying to be gentle as he got him clean, jerking every once in awhile as their lengths shifted against the other. I want it… Casper tossed the washcloth out of the way, going to carefully wash his hair. He reached to drain out the bathtub the second his hair was completely rinsed, looking at Scotty with desperate eyes. “Scotty… after we dry off, please… have me…” I really really want it...

Scotty’s eyes looked simply predatory when Casper said those words, following him out of the bath and drying off. He reached for Casper’s ass, squeezing it teasingly every now and then. I’m allowed to touch… I wanna touch. Soon Scotty was standing behind Casper, his towel forgotten on the floor and his length pressed on Casper’s asscheeks, his hands holding his hips. “Hmm, I wanna make love to you Casper…. I want you screaming my name…. I don’t give a fuck that it’s like 9 in the morning....

Casper nearly became putty when he murmured in his ear, leaning back into him, his legs spreading a bit on their own. “Scotty… I want that…” So badly. He turned, reaching up as he was suddenly lifted from the ground, holding onto him as Scotty brought him from the bathroom to the bedroom, laying him down on the bed. He moved further onto the bed as Scotty went to get the lube and condoms, stretching and getting comfortable, watching Scotty with quiet lust in his eyes. I want you to love me....

Scotty looked over to Casper where he stretched. “What do you think? Condoms… Or?” Do you want me to use a condom? We don’t have to if you don’t want to… He waited for a response, his length already starting to weep precum in excitement. I wanna do this well...

Casper looked over him, shaking his head. “N-No… I wanna feel you cum inside…” I want it… Casper watched him climb over him, letting Scotty turn him over and position him, his ass in the air. Please… do everything to me... Love me… I want all of it...

Scotty smirked and he grabbed Casper’s ass cheeks, pulling them apart. I wanna eat you out, I know you always liked that... He dipped his head down, licking a stripe up his hole, watching his body shudder. Oh yeah.

Levi smirked as Eren shuddered under him, his hands gently keeping his mounds apart as his tongue dipped in and out of his hole. You always loved when I did this... He pushed his tongue deeper, hearing Eren’s warbled moans. He sounds amazing... I'll never get tired of hearing all those sounds...

Eren’s body shuddered as he let out a strangled sound, his mind complete mush from the slow pleasure that Levi had dragged him through. Oh my god.... “L-Levi....” He grabbed at a pillow to put under his chest, his grip tight on it as Levi’s tongue slid into his ass again, causing him to let out a soft keen. “Fuck….” It feels so good, my body feels so warm...

Levi slowly fucked him with his tongue, massaging the soft flesh in his grasp. He let his tongue slip from him, kissing the pucker. “Feeling good?” He let the tip of his tongue tease his hole. “More…?” I love seeing you so wrecked... so beautifully wrecked... because of me ....

“Oh god…. Yes… Please…” Eren whimpered as he pushed back on Levi’s hands a bit. “I want more… It feels so good…” He whined as Levi teased his hole, licking it over and over again. It feels wonderful... His tongue is gifted, so gifted... “You’re making me melt Levi….”

Levi chuckled, pecking his hole again. “That's the idea... it's all about you ...” Levi leaned forward again to slip his tongue inside as far as he could, feeling Eren shuddering, his ass gently pressing back against his mouth. He's perfect... he deserves everything I can give him...

Eren groaned loudly, feeling his face flush with embarrassment from the level of noise he made. Fuck, his tongue is so good... He felt the heat already flowing south, making his body warm, and his nether ache. Shit... his hand moved on its own to grab at his length, wanting to touch himself and relieve the burning sensation that was building within him.

Levi felt him shift his weight off of one arm, looking over and seeing his hand move to his nether, reaching out and catching his wrist. “Eager, are we?” Levi pressed his tongue flat to his hole, moving his hand back to where it originally was. “Just let me do all the work... enjoy it... enjoy the burn... I know it aches....” Believe me, I feel that too... “But would you rather hurry things along.... or let me eat you out just a bit more....? Suck on your length like a lollipop for a little longer...? Make love to you more? Take more time teasing you...?” I wonder what you'd pick...

Eren was quiet as he felt with the pleasurable burn in his stomach. “M-More.... Please...” I wanna cum... I really wanna cum, I want you to make me cum. He pushed back on Levi’s hands, wanting him to be pulled apart and taken but knowing Levi was gonna eat him out to completion first.

Levi smirked, dipping his way down to finish eating him out. His tongue worked and worked on him until Eren was near the edge of bliss, drawing out of him and rolling Eren over, settling between his legs and slipping his lips as far down Eren’s length as he could go, gently sucking him, his hands forcing his thighs open for him. I wanna taste you... and hear everything ...

Eren whined from loss when he was flipped. I was just about to cum! He opened his mouth in protest, which was quickly forgotten as Levi sucked his length. The sensation sent him into overdrive, letting out a cry into the room. His legs were shaking as his toes curled and he filled Levi’s throat with his cum. Oh my god…. Eren’s hands were running over Levi’s shoulders, not sure what to make of the odd sensation of Levi sucking his length, even when he’d just cum. Fuck, it’s so good…

Levi did his best to swallow his cum, lapping up all the cum that dribbled from his mouth, cleaning Eren’s length. He kissed his length before kissing up his chest, nipping his neck. “Don’t worry…” He reached for the lube, nibbling his earlobe. “I have so much more planned for you…” I want you on cloud nine...

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Casper was shaking as he came down from his high, his entrance slick with saliva and cum decorating the sheets below him. His tongue is always amazing… fuck… Casper looked back to Scotty, seeing him get the lube and coat his fingers, his back arching again as he settled between his legs again, presenting his ass to him. I want them...

Scotty was gentle as he inserted the first lubed finger. His lips never left his flesh, kissing him all over his ass cheek, and watching his body shudder. I wonder how much he’ll let me finger him…? He groaned as Casper pushed back against him. Oh my god, he’s such a tease. His teeth grazed against his supple flesh, as if trying to get him to stop moving around. I wanna do the work...

Casper’s body tried to move on its own, a sharp nip to his ass getting him to still a bit, shaking as a second finger entered him, shifting his legs further apart. Deeper... please... I wanna feel it.... Casper whimpered helplessly, wanting so much to push his hips back with every thrust of Scotty’s fingers, staying still instead, and it was killing him.

Scotty hummed when Casper finally stayed still. “Good boy…” His words were dark, and deep as he kept his eyes glued to Casper’s twitching hole which basically sucked in his two fingers. He started to scissor him, waiting for him to react to how close he was to fingering his prostate. How will you react to it?

Casper whined as he got closer and closer to his prostate, his voice breathless and high. “Scotty… please, deeper… please …” You’re so close to hitting it… His eyes widened as Scotty suddenly brushed over it very firmly, trying not to shake too hard as he did it over and over, his length as hard as a rock and throbbing as he did. Fuck.... more... please, more...

What was once two fingers became three, firmly rubbing against the bundle of nerves that made Casper’s body go wild. That reaction…. Is priceless…. He smiled more and more as three easily went deeper within him and rubbed him incessantly. I wonder if you'll be able to cum just from this? He looked at Casper shaking below him, looking to the side to see his length weeping again, adding to the mess under him. Gonna have to do laundry I guess…

Casper was nearly drooling, his hands clenching and unclenching the sheets below him, slowly rocking in time with Scotty’s motions. “Oh god… Scotty… o- oh … m-more…” I want it… I wanna cum…

Scotty grinned as he watched Casper move in time with his fingers. “You want more babe?.... You sure?” He waited for a nod before inserting his fourth finger and really pressing down on Casper’s prostate. Damn…. He’s gonna cum soon, just from my fingers… He hasn’t done that in awhile…

Casper sighed as the fourth finger entered him, stretching him out. He gasped as the pressure on his prostate increased, moans and pleas tumbling from his mouth. “Oh god, Scotty, so good … o- oh…. S-So close….” He could feel himself teetering on the edge, his nether aching for attention and release. His eyes were wide as he saw Scotty reach for his length and close his hand around his shaft, cumming instantly, infinitely grateful for the merciful strokes of his length. He shook as he came, slumping down when he was empty of Scotty’s fingers, his ass still in the air. He looked back to him, quietly enjoying the look Scotty was giving him. “...I want you …” Please?

Scotty came up behind him, letting his length rest between Casper’s asscheeks as he pushed their hips flush. He leaned over him, bending his head down to kiss as his neck. “Hmm…. You want me like this?” His voice deep and husky, his eyes full of lust and want. You want me like this? Hmm… I could torture you this way… And you wouldn’t be able to do a single thing…. Nope, get your mind out of the gutter, this is about Casper, not about how frustrated you are!

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Eren whined as Levi’s lips and fingers left him. I feel empty…. I want you to fill me up again…. “L-Levi…” Eren whimpered, shaking his hips, wanting to entice him to continue. I want you to make love to me…

Levi looked him over, wiping his hand on the sheet. It needs washing anyway. “Hm? Do you… need something?” Levi shifted, his hands running over Eren’s back to settle at his hips, kissing up his spine. I wanna hear you say it….

Eren whined, shaking his hips back onto Levi’s hips. “I want you…. I want you to love me…” He turned his head to look at Levi, his eyes full of lust and want. *I want you….
Levi smiled softly, kissing his shoulder blade. "Mm... I'd love to." Levi let him go, reaching for the condoms, about to tear one open when he stopped. "Do you want me to or not...?" Levi gestures to the box. He smirked, whispering near his ear. "If you say no, I'll help you clean up later..." I wanna give you everything... and if it means making you cum a fourth time, I'm certainly not gonna complain.

Eren shivered at the thought, smirking as he turned to kiss Levi's cheek. "Hmm, I don't want you to wear any...." He tilted his head back gasping as Levi attacked his neck. God I love this.... I love that he's being like this... I love it... I love it so much... Eren pressed his ass back against Levi's thick length, wanting more.

Levi nipped at his neck, his hands moving to slick his length, tossing the tube of lube to the side with disinterest when he was done, wiping off his hands before they met Eren's hips. He softly pecked the flesh of his neck, his tip brushing his hole. "Tell me when, Hun...." I want you feeling nothing but pleasure.

Eren's mouth opened, letting moans fall from his lips as he felt Levi's length brush his entrance. "P-Please... I want you Levi..." He whimpered as he felt Levi slowly push into him, the heat already surrounding him increasing tenfold. Oh my god, this feels amazing... Like this is the first time all over again...

Levi stilled inside of him when their hips met, letting Eren adjust for a little before slowly pulling out and thrusting back in. He made love to him like it was their first time, slow and careful, his lips softly nipping at whatever skin they could reach. "Beautiful..." Levi's hands roamed him as Eren moaned quietly, holding him securely to his chest. Mine... all mine...

Eren groaned, pushing back into is thrusts to make sure he would go deeper. "Hmm, Levi... deeper.... Please..." His words were separated with high pitched moans, while his hands clenched and unclenched on the sheets, feeling Levi fill him with his whole length. It feels so good.

Levi relented a bit, his hips grinding against his, going deeper and earning him gasps and quiet whimpers. He softly kissed his neck, murmuring in his ear. "Feeling good?" You sound.... too good....

"Yes... Oh my god, it feels so good... Levi... Oh good..." He reached behind him to run his fingers through Levi's undercut. It feels so fucking good...

Levi let his hands wander further south as he steadily thrusted into his heat, one hand closing around his length and slowly pumping him. "You sound wonderful..." Levi nipped a bit more roughly at his neck, feeling heat pooling in his abdomen. It feels so good....

Eren let out a loud cry as his length was pumped. "L- Levi !" He whimpered as Levi got rough biting him. He could feel the coil in his abdomen beginning to tighten. I'm gonna cum soon...

Levi left marks all over his shoulder and neck as he pumped him, holding himself back, focusing on Eren. This is about him. You don't get to cum until he does. "Eren... let go... I want to hear you come undone." I want to hear you... you sound so wonderful...

Eren slowly wrapped his arms around Levi's shoulders pulling him down flush to him. You're so handsome... And you're all mine... He pulled back to breathe, smirking as he looked up to Levi. "Hmm, you filled me good..."

Casper sighed as he felt Scotty fill him, though he slipped flush to the bed when his body became dead weight, still buried deep inside him. "Wh- Scotty?" Casper squirmed weakly, Scotty not moving nor even grunting in response. "Scotty?!” Casper got his hands and feet to cooperate, shifting him off of him, groaning when his length slipped from him. He turned over, seeing Scotty completely out. "Scotty?! Are you okay?” Casper shook him, panicking when he didn't respond at all. Fuck. Casper looked around the room, not knowing what to do. He got up, going to the bathroom to fill a glass with water, taking it back to the bedroom and shifting Scotty so he wouldn't soak the bed doing what he was about to do. His head hanging over the hardwood, Casper splashed him with the water, panicking and dropping the cup when Scotty didn't react at all. He hurriedly went to check his pulse and make sure he was breathing, not sure what to do. Fuckfuckfuck... I need help... Casper grabbed for his phone, calling Lathe. Pick up pick up pick up...

Lathe looked to his phone, picking it up when he saw Casper’s name on the screen. Oh no, do I need to go stand between them while they yell at each other? He took in a deep breath, setting down the last food bowl for the dogs and answering his phone. “‘ello?” What do you need?

“‘Lathe? I'm sorry if this sounds awkward but I need your help. Scotty and I may have… done it… but I don't think it's good that he immediately passes out after where even a cup of water to the face or a vigorous shake isn’t waking him up. What should I do?!” Help!

“Okay, okay, first off calm down…. Get Scotty onto the bed and make sure that his mouth and nose aren’t blocked by anything okay?” Shit.... This could be serious if Casper’s panicking this badly... But let's wait a bit before I drive there...
“Okay.” Casper set the phone down on speaker, getting Scotty back entirely onto the bed, lifting his chin and peering down his throat, listening for a moment. “His breathing isn't obstructed, and his pulse is normal…” I don't know what's going on…..

Lathe nodded. “Alright, did he take anything before you guys acted like bunnies?” Did he take Viagra or something? Anything like that?

“No, he didn't… no meds or anything…”

“Okay, what did you guys do before you started your intimate time?” Was he exposed to something? If his heart rate is normal he wouldn't be having a heart attack…

“He just… he came home from work and wanted to take a bath, and I maybe joined him… after he got cleaned we went to the bedroom but that was it… nothing out of the ordinary really…” Nothing odd happened… I dunno…

... Got home from work? “Casper… How long has Scotty been at work? He seemed really tired when we dropped Eren off at the ER yesterday…” He could be sleep deprived...

“It's been…. uh…” …shit, how long has it been? “Uh…. I think… …three days…” He listened to the silence on the other end. “…that's the problem right there, isn't it.”

Lathe nodded. “Yeah…. I think that’s your problem right there…” He hasn’t slept in three days? Man that guy is a wack job…

Casper sighed, nodding. “Okay, I'll let him sleep… I'll panic if he hasn't woken up in twelve hours and smacking him does nothing… …thanks for putting up with my shit…. I just called you and asked why my sleep deprived fiancé passed out minutes after we finished having sex… …you deserve a medal or something…

Lathe chuckled. “Make sure he gets back into a reasonable sleep schedule… Okay? It’s only nine in the morning….” I would ask how you had sex so early… But Levi and Eren are at it upstairs right now…. I’m not gonna ask. “So did you clear everything up? And have good make up sex after your abstinence?”
Casper blushed, nodding. “I'll make sure he sleeps… and it was really nice, so stop judging me… but we made up, we're okay now...” I think so, at least... “He owes me a week of dates now though, and he is aware of that. I'll make sure he doesn't forget.” I want my nice dates.

“Good luck with that with his schedule....” He works crazy hours now... it's gonna be hard with how much he works... I can see how the anniversary completely slipped his mind...

Levi softly kissed Eren’s neck as he picked him up, feeling his legs wrap around his middle as he walked them to the bathroom. He turned on the water to fill the bath, gently setting Eren on his feet, his lips still busy marking him up as they waited. Mine...

“L-Levi....” Eren whispered softly into his ear as he was marked, his voice rough from being completely wrecked. Fuck... That felt amazing... Hmm, and he’s been kissing me all over since. “Are we gonna bathe together?” I thought you were gonna get the toys and clean me out that way...

Levi hummed, sucking another mark under his ear. ‘If that's okay… unless… you'd rather keep playing…?’ Levi’s hands ran all over him. “We can bathe now and either nap or get out the toys…. or we go back now, and I'll torture you with bliss first....” Levi nipped his neck. “...which do you want?” You can pick.

Eren hummed, looking back towards the room with longing. “What if we d-did the toys in the bath?” We’ve never done that yet? And you might enjoy that.... I dunno, it sounds interesting...

Levi quirked an eyebrow, smirking after a moment, nibbling his skin. “Hm… that's an idea… you can pick...” Levi’s hands were light on his waist, teasingly kissing the corner of his lips. Whatever you want.

Eren smirked and he kissed Levi’s lips softly. “I want the dildo… Hmm… And the sound…” I wanna feel really good... “Please?” His eyes were begging as he looked for Levi’s approval.

Levi smirked, the tip of his tongue grazing Eren’s lower lip. “Hm... I'll allow it.” Levi let Eren scamper off to fetch them, turning back to the bath and making sure the water wasn't too hot. Hm... it's fine. Levi stepped into it since it had finished filling, turning when Eren came back to the bathroom. He carefully tugged him close, settling them in the very warm water, Eren in his lap.
Levi didn't hesitate to get handsy, his hands roaming all over Eren. “Hm… tell me…” One hand moved down Eren’s arm to where he held the toys. “Which do you want first…?” He leaned forward, nipping his ear. “Or do you want both..?” I love teasing you.

“B-Both…” He mumbled, handing them over to Levi and shuddering as his ass was massaged. “L-Levi? A-Are you gonna be gentle?” I don’t want you to be rough like you were last night…

Levi’s lips hovered over his neck, pausing as he heard his tone. He murmured quietly, softly kissing the flesh. “I'll be gentle, Eren. Don't worry.” I won't be rough. Levi set the toys on the ledge of the bathtub, pulling Eren close to his chest. He reached for a bottle of conditioner, pouring some onto the clean ledge. His now-slick fingers drifted to Eren’s lower half, rubbing his entrance in small circles. “I'll be very gentle.” Levi slowly eased his fingers inside his loose hole. I need to clean you out first... and then we can have more fun....

Eren whimpered softly at first as he was touched, the sounds soon dying down as he got used to the finger in his loose hole again. “Mmm… Levi....” He moaned out Levi’s name, his eyes shaded as he looked into Levi’s eyes, adoration and love filling them, hinted with a bit of lust. I want him to enjoy himself too... I hope he’ll be okay while he’s with me... I hope I’ll be able to pleasure him enough...

Levi was unable to look away from Eren’s eyes as he worked him further open, his own eyes giving way to a loving look. “You're so handsome…. and I love it when you look at me like that...” Levi cupped his cheek with his free hand, watching Eren’s jaw drop a bit, his pupils going wide when he brushed his prostate. He's... fuck...

Eren let out a loud cry as Levi brushed his prostate again, pushing his hips back down on Levi’s fingers, wanting more as he felt Levi’s cum starting to leave him. He's cleaning me out.... His fingers feel so good... He finally looked away as he slumped down a bit, leaning on Levi’s shoulder, and trying to move his hips again.

Levi held Eren close, mouthing at his shoulder as he kept cleaning him out, feeling the white drip from him. He reached deeply, taking his time as the rest slipped out. He didn't stop after he was cleaned, rubbing slow circles into his prostate. I want you feeling very good.... We have lots of time... lots of time to take care of each other....

Eren whimpered softly as he felt Levi’s fingers rub his prostate again, shaking his head. “L-Levi… Stop….” I’m gonna cum too soon if you keep doing that... And I wanna cum from the sound and the vibrating dildo....
Levi slowed immediately, his hand drawing out of him. “Eager, are we?” Levi reached for the dildo first, slicking it and bringing it south. Levi held Eren close as he slid the toy inside of him, hearing Eren groan when it was as deep as it would allow. Levi reached for the sound as well, leaving Eren full for a moment as he slicked it, giving his length a few teasing pumps before slipping it down. I can just tell… having both of these going at the same time will have you practically screaming with pleasure….

“Oh god…. Oh god yes ….Hmm, Levi t-turn them on…” I want them on, though I know it's gonna push me over the edge really quickly. It feels so good …. Eren begged him as he kept his arms around Levi’s shoulders and his legs spread for Levi, the warm water making him feel everything. It’s heavenly ...

Levi nipped his ear, reaching down to turn the vibrator on, simultaneously clicking the sound to its lowest setting, hearing the deep gasp Eren let out as he did, a long moan following. “…mm… feels good…?” The lowest settings and you sound like you're in heaven ...

“Fuck Levi… It feels good…” It feels really good. He let out a loud cry as he shifted and hit his prostate with the dildo. His eyes blown wide with pleasure and desire. “O-Oh fuck!” Eren’s length jerked with the pleasure and he could hold in the moans and gasps that fell from his lips, his thighs beginning to shake. Holy shit…. It’s right there, it feels so fucking good… I can feel it up my spine, it's so good...

Levi smirked. “You like that, hm? Does this feel…” He turned it up another click. “... better?” He chuckled lowly as Eren’s moans got louder, turning it up one more, as well as the sound. I love that expression... the one where you're dying to cum….

Eren was struggled to hold it in, his face twisting a bit from the strain. “L-Levi… C-Can I cum?” I wanna cum, I feel so warm, I’m not gonna be able to hold it for much longer… But you'll need to take the sound out, or I won’t be able to cum… He whined, looking into his eyes and hoping he would say yes and jerk him to completion. Fuck I wanna cum...

Levi smirked, turning the dildo up and drawing out the sound, his hand wrapping around his length. “ Cum , Eren.” He watched with awe as Eren’s expression shifted, seeing the bliss filling his eyes as he came all over their chests. He's so… so… I keep saying perfect… but there's no word for it... too beautiful...

Eren had a fucked-out expression on his face, slumping down into Levi’s grasp as his whole body shook from bliss, feeling the vibrator still working in his ass. He groaned as he reached back and started to pull it out, completely spent from their activities. I’m exhausted… That was so good… Shit, I wanna cuddle now…
Levi drew the vibrator out, turning it off and rinsing it in the bath water. He set it aside before running his hands all over Eren, smiling faintly, “Hm…. let’s get you washed… then we can nap, okay?” He heard an assenting hum, taking a washcloth and going over Eren’s body with tender touches. I’m here…. I’ll take good care of you.
Chapter 109: Sexuality

It's so much quieter without all the boys... Lathe was upstairs in his study, trying to work through the paperwork that had been piling up. Three different families wanted two each... they're all in the same neighborhood still, way up north of Wichita, which is good. They'll all be in the same school, they'll stay friends most likely. It's very good- before I could finish explaining everything they all clung to each other crying... they were scared of being separated. They're all like brothers. I love them all to bits... it was hard to send them off to their new homes. ...but they all got their Christmas quilts early, so at least they got those. Lathe glanced up, leaning his head in one hand as he saw one of the many pictures on his desk, all the boys enraptured by a movie on the TV, tangled in blankets with legos and snacks strewn around. ...and there are pictures. Lathe smiled, sighing and looking back down. One week 'til Christmas...... things are really looking up. Eren and Levi are all over Mila, she's still healthy and adorable as ever... Ieva's having a bit of trouble getting around the house, she's already so big with the twins.... there haven't been any complications with them... her 26-week appointment is just after Christmas... and James... he's cancer-free. I'm so happy... Eren's gotten to be so much happier after the engagement... he's drawing and singing and painting again.... Jake has been bumped up into eighth grade instead of fifth, and he's the top of his class.... he's a brilliant kid.... Tucker and Henry have been doing okay, Henry's over pretty much everyday now. They stay inside a lot, play video games... I'll still have Tucker running to me if things start getting out of hand a bit... but he's getting better at letting Henry in. Everything is going so well .... Lathe set his pen down, staring boredly at the paper, sighing. Then... why, if.... if everything's so great... I feel so empty... Lathe dropped his head on the desk, his eyes shut, thinking. ..........fuck...... I ache.... Lathe tried to swallow down the guilt, thinking of the few dreams littering his sleep for the past month, a faceless form setting his skin on fire. Why do I feel like this...? I want Ieva to be enough... why do I feel like she isn't? She's pregnant with my kids... she's a wonderful wife... but... why am I being so selfish? What's happening to me? Lathe buried his face into the crook of his arm, trying to calm down. Am I falling out of love? But I love her, I know I do... but I ache ...and it feels like the dreams always make me feel better for split seconds better than she has made me feel... I don't understand... I want to understand... I want to know why every time I've had those dreams that... that form or whatever it is looms over me and I feel so relieved that I'm not on top... I don't get it.... Lathe felt his throats tighten up, rubbing at it, not sure how to make the tightness go away. I can't be falling out of love... I don't know what the fuck is happening... I didn't last a day before I gave in and googled Eren and Levi when Scotty had mentioned it... I found so much... and not a small portion of it was sexual... I want to feel guilty... I read ten words and knew exactly what it was and I couldn't stop reading... I got hard as I don't know what the fuck is wrong with me... Lathe was struggling to breathe, letting out a tiny choked sob. I don't know what's wrong with me....

Eren was on his way upstairs from the kitchen, having made lunch for everyone. James was already situated in the kitchen, Levi was feeding Mila her food and he’d already helped Ieva downstairs into the dining room to eat lunch. Now, I just need to get Dad. Eren knocked on the door before opening it, hearing a choked sob, his eyes widening. “Dad? A-Are you alright?” His tone was full of worry, closing the door behind him and going towards the desk. Shit, what’s wrong? What happened?

Lathe jumped as he heard Eren come in, shaking his head and rolling back in his desk chair, holding one hand up to hide his face with his wrist. “E-Eren, please, go away… I'll be downstairs soon, j-just give me a minute…” I need to compose myself…. I'll break down if I go down there now...

“Dad, you know you can talk to me about things…. Please? I know you’ve been there for when I needed to talk, it’s the least I can do for you….” He paused, thinking. “I can bring your food up for us… If you wanna talk about it…” You look like whatever it is you’re thinking of is wearing you down, and I think it has been...

Lathe shook his head, drawing a bit into himself. “You don't have to do that… u-uhm… I don't know if I can talk about it…” I don't want to…. I don't want to have to explain it… Mental images conjured up from what he read flashed in his mind, and his face burned with shame. Fuck...

“Dad… You know I wouldn’t judge you, no matter what, right?” You look like you want to hide something…. From me no less… Am I not trustworthy? “I can go get you your lunch if you wanna stay up here for now…” He trailed off as he looked down, heading towards the door slowly. I won’t argue with you if you don’t want to talk about it… But I would hope you would know that I wouldn’t judge you...

Lathe shook his head. “I-I'm not hungry right now… and…” ........if I were to talk to anyone about this… “...you promise you won't judge me…? It's not… I-I don't know….” I don't know what the fuck is happening..... ......help...

“Why would I judge you when all you been to me is accepting? … You could’ve left me to get infected and die bleeding out because I was gay… But you didn’t, you accepted me from day one… Why would I do anything less than that for you?” Eren spoke quietly, reaching for the door, and opening it. “I can bring you food in an hour? Does that sound okay?” You should eat, I know how you've felt with gaining a few pounds, but I’ve been making health foods lately… And Mom likes them… And so does everyone else....

An…. an hour…? “....I thought we were gonna talk…?” Lathe’s voice was tiny, knowing he wouldn't be any more ready to talk in an hour than he was then. I don't wanna have to suffer thinking about this for another hour… if I'm gonna tell you... and I should… I should do it now...

“You want me to grab food for us now? I can come back up here with it while you collect yourself?” Eren offered, looking a bit hopeful that he was willing to talk. If he's willing to talk I can get food now… I nmjust thought he would maybe push me away still....

Lathe slowly nodded, watching as Eren quietly closed the door, feeling too exposed in his chair. I wanna curl up… Lathe was in autopilot, moving to the floor under the desk, holding his legs to his chest, his face buried in his knees. It hurts… make it stop...

Eren got the food together carrying up the sandwiches and salads for them as well as fresh juice. He should like this. He made his way carefully up the stairs and into Lathe’s study, though he was confused when he didn’t see anyone. “Dad?” Where did you go?

Lathe picked his head up when he heard Eren, his voice weak as he spoke. “….I'm under the desk…” I'm sorry I'm such a fucking embarrassment… what the fuck am I doing as an adult hiding from my problems underneath a fucking desk? …how the fuck am I qualified to be a fucking father? I'm a shitty excuse for an adult….

Eren set the tray of food down. “Do you want me to get some pillows and blankets for the floor? Or do you think you’d be okay with sitting on a chair? Whatever you’re more comfortable with, okay?” Eren’s voice was soft and non threatening as he poked his head out from the side of the desk to see Lathe curled up fully under the desk. I see we’ve got a few things to talk about.

“.....can we have a nest please?” Lathe was quiet, his face red. I don't want you to make too much of a fuss over me…. “I-If that's okay…. I don't want to sit in a chair… being curled up feels better....

“Yeah, I’ll make one on the other side of the desk, but if you feel comfortable here, why don’t you eat part of your sandwich while I go get everything and make it?” I can build a huge fort for us to ‘hide’ in and then bring enough blankets for you to be swaddled...

Lathe slowly nodded, accepting the plate from Eren as it was handed to him. It looks tasty… Lathe slowly started to eat, hearing Eren go in and out of the room many times over, hearing rustling. ... what is he even doing...? Lathe had eaten half of his sandwich before he had the courage to poke his head out from under the desk, seeing that Eren had moved the furniture all aside and built a pillow fort for them, blankets pooling in the middle. ... Lathe set his plate back in the tray, still hiding when Eren came back in with more pillows, watching him silently as he left empty handed. Lathe slowly crept from the desk, wading into the fort and tugging blankets around him, curling into a corner of the fort, leaning back against where it leaned against the wall, comfortable and watching quietly for Eren. ...I'm allowed to be in here... right...? It's comfy...

Eren came in with another armful of blankets, setting them inside of the fort, his eyes bright as he saw Lathe curled up. Oh good, he’s comfortable. “It’s not too overboard… Is it?” I hope not, but you seem to like it.

Lathe shook his head, burrowing further, clutching the quilts closer to himself. “It's… I like it.” It's nice... Lathe was still scared as Eren came into the fort with him, his heart tugging. ...help... Lathe shifted, moving closer to Eren, leaning against him, his head on his shoulder. He was silent for a long moment before he spoke, his voice tiny. “...I don't know what's wrong with me...” Lathe breathed in shakily, feeling Eren’s arms wrap around him. “Everything's been going so well and the kids were adopted and Jake is a brilliant kid and Tucker is happy with Henry and you and Levi are happy and Mila is a happy and Ieva is gonna have twins... but... I... I feel so empty....” Lathe could feel the hot tears streaming down his cheeks, shaking. “It feels so wrong... something feels so wrong... and it hurts so much... and I don't know why... I-I don't think I'm falling out of love... b-but... how can I be in love with Ieva... and still f-feel that kind of empty...?” I want it to be enough... why isn't it enough...?

Eren was quiet as he held onto Lathe as he cried, letting him cry and rant knowing he would feel better if he let it out. Hmm.... Maybe it’s not a Dad problem like I thought it would be... well, let’s start with small questions. “Do you still love Mom?” Start small, this should be an easy question for him then we’ll explore his thought process...

“I-I love her so much... she’s wonderful... she makes me so happy... I know she does...” I really don't think I'm falling out of love... after that vacation and when we found out she was pregnant things really were so much better for us...

Eren nodded. “And if Mom wasn’t pregnant... You’d still love her the same?” Could this be an expectant father issue? The one I kinda went through?

“I would... I'm so much happier because we've been trying so long for her to conceive... but even if we didn't... I'd still love her to bits...” She's wonderful... and the fact that we’re expecting is just even better....

“Would you love her the same if Mom was a man?” Are we having a sexuality problem here? Are you bi-curious and you feel like you’re missing something because of that?

Lathe was quiet. ......... He thought for a minute, trying to picture what Ieva would look like as a man. ....... “...I... I think I would......” ........she could make you feel the way you want to if she was.... The thought made him flush, trying to hide in the blanket, still clinging to Eren’s shirt.

Eren nodded, holding him close. “Are you questioning your sexuality?... Like are you confused about feeling a certain way? Or wanting something different?” How are you supposed to say it? I feel like you just need to ask... But I’m not sure if I’m asking the right questions...

Lathe was still before he slowly nodded, sinking a bit with shame. “U-Uhm... I just...” .....you can tell him. …you’ll be okay…. “F-For Christmas a while ago… u-uhm… I’m sorry, I don’t know how to say it any other way… uhm….” Lathe’s voice was small, his face scarlet. “Ieva bought a strap-on for my present and we used it… and I don’t know what the fuck happened after that… it was like a switch flipped and I’ve just… it’s like I just crave having her top… I’m sorry you probably don't wanna think about it but it's been driving me insane and I don't know what the fuck is happening to me…” Help me understand…

Eren was quiet as he took everything in, gently rubbing Lathe’s back to try and soothe him. “You know it’s alright to question your sexuality… Which is what I think is happening… Especially after you’ve gotten a taste of the homosexual side of things….Do you wanna talk about different sexualities?” That might help you feel less confused… I think?

Lathe slowly nodded, trying to relax against Eren’s chest. “Yeah… please….” I know a bit about it and I'm okay with people who are whatever other sexuality… but that whole community has been changing… and I don't know what I am.....

“Okay, well, let’s start with basics, Asexuality…. Basically not interested in sex, so that one’s out of the question I imagine?” But you know, putting it out there…. Just in case you have that preference now...

Lathe nodded. “That's not it…” I can't stop craving it… that's definitely not it....

“Okay, then there’s heterosexuality, which as you know is when people of the two sexes come together in a coupling… And this can result in a biological kid on their hands…” Basically the relationship you and Mom have when you're on top...

Lathe was quiet. “....it's not like I mind it… but… it just feels incomplete when it's only that…”...I just need a word to put to what I'm feeling...

Eren nodded. “Then there’s homosexuality, which I am under… not necessarily Levi though, I’ve never actually asked him what his sexuality was… eh, another question for another day. But you know… gay, queer, lesbian…. A bunch of other names which people can refer to themselves as… Though it’s pretty much strictly the same sex, so I doubt that’s you.”

Lathe shook his head. “It doesn't fit… I mean, like…. boobs are great….” Lathe immediately turned scarlet, a hand clapping over his mouth as he felt Eren start shaking with laughter. Oh, my god.
Eren struggled to contain his laughter, his body shaking a bit, and he had to bite his tongue to save himself from full on laughter.

Best quote ever…. It shall be known as such… “I mean I can understand that statement on the artist side of things… but we’ll scratch that off the list for now. There’s bisexuality…. Where either of the sexes would work…” I think Levi might be bisexual…. Not sure though…

Lathe shrugged one shoulder, still embarrassed. “Maybe… …what else is there…?” I don’t know if that quite fits though…..

“There’s Demisexuality, and that’s where sexual attraction to someone only occurs after you’ve grown emotionally attached, and deeply at that….so like they would be the last person to go out on a one night stand.” Eren told him and continued to rub his back. This is a good definition for you, I know you kept yourself for Mom… For when you were married…

Lathe thought about it. “…that one fits better….. …is there anything else…?” I know there are plenty…

“Well…. Let me think.” He tapped his chin for a few moments before his eyes lit up. “Pansexuality… Basically if they associate themselves as a human… They’re fair game as a lover or spouse…” Whatever you prefer to call them…

Lathe was quiet, settling against Eren’s chest. …would I really care if Levi was a man…? He was glad that Eren was patient as he thought. ………..probably not. I probably wouldn’t ever be convinced to do a one night stand…. and I can appreciate a nice set of abs… …now that I think about it all that staring at other guys at the gym makes more sense… “…..I kinda wanna say pansexual works best… because I can’t see myself giving a shit about how someone thinks of himself in terms of gender as a determining factor in whether or not I’d date them… it just seems dumb…. no offense, I know you don’t hate people who aren’t guys…” Smooth save, Lathe. Good job.

Eren shook his head chuckling a bit at his comment. “It’s just how we prefer things… Well me at least… I can appreciate a good set of boobs here and now too, I mean, they’re fun to draw… But so is Levi’s dick so… Win-win I guess…. Anyways… Do you feel a bit better now?” I hope you do, you sound better, and more confident… At least to me…

Lathe quietly chuckled, still curled up to Eren. “I do… …oh.” Lathe felt his gut twist, feeling dread wash over him. …how am I gonna tell Levi? “What do I tell Levi? ‘Hey, I just figured out I’m pansexual. That means I still love you, but now want cock.’ …what the actual fuck happened to my filter…” Lathe buried his face in his hands, not knowing what to do. Fuck...
Eren shook his head. “Do not tell her that, she’ll get the wrong idea of what Pansexual means, don’t do that… I would explain it to her, and I know you still love her and make sure you reassure her of that, it won’t really change the way your relationship works I don’t think… Maybe a few more toys here and there… But otherwise still the same I would imagine?” Right? This isn’t gonna screw with your relationship too much is it?

“I was exaggerating, I'm just too worn out to have any kind of filter…. and I really hope it won’t… I don't think it will if I just explain it correctly… but I kinda hope that it changes just a little bit… because once she has the twins and we’re able to have sex again I want the empty feeling to go away…” I don't wanna ache anymore…

“You do realize you can still….” Eren trailed off as he thought about his words. “Well, if you only have a strap on, not much is gonna happen, but I could always give you a dildo, you shouldn’t be penting yourself up while Mom’s pregnant, it’s not healthy for you…” You should be able to relieve yourself too, I’m sure Mom would understand…

Lathe was quiet. “….we do have, uhm… a vibrator… and I maybe got a sound… but… I just… you know I never did anything like that until Ieva and I started dating… I can't help but feel so guilty about touching myself… I know she’s told me before that it's okay but it just…. I want to… But it feels wrong…” I don't know how to deal with that…

Eren thought about it, looking up at the blanket pattern. “What if you asked Mom to help you get comfortable with it? Until you could do it on your own?” I know Mom would help you because it'd be better for you to release some of your frustrations and other things… “I’m sure Mom would understand… And I can give you a dildo that has a base so you don’t have to hold onto it…. If you want that?” I don’t use it much since Levi likes to use the vibrating one and hold onto it…

“…I… that might work better…. I'll have to get up the nerve to ask sometime… and uhm….. ...what do you mean?” ….? I don't understand…

“About the dildo?” He watched Lathe nod. “Oh, it’s got a suction cup on the bottom so you can stick it to almost any surface you want and then fuck yourself on it…” I haven’t used it in awhile, it should still be in my closet…. Well that was blunt… uhm… ......it might be better than craning for a good angle… and having my hand get tired and cramped… “....if it's okay…” Please…

“Yeah, do you want me to go get it now? Or do you want to talk with me some more? Or do you want to go talk to Mom?” Knowing Dad he’s gonna clean it like seven times over even though it’s washed before and after every time I used them... eh, he’ll do it, I know he will, but I wanna make sure he’s comfortable...

Lathe quietly nodded. “Can you go get it? ...I'll tell Ieva later today… and I don't really have much else to say…” I don't know what else there is to say...

Eren nodded, pecking Lathe’s forehead and slowly unwrapping his arms from him and then getting out of the fort and heading towards his room. He noticed Levi putting Mila down in her crib awhile after having eaten, and a smile on his face as he went to the closet. Though when he shuffled a few things around, his brow furrowed. What the hell? Why isn’t it here? “Hey, Levi?”

Levi set Mila in, kissing her forehead. “Yeah?” Levi’s voice was quiet, not wanting to disturb her. What’re you looking for?

“Remember that dildo that had the suction cup on it?” His voice was soft as he turned to look at Levi, his arms crossing over his chest as he leaned against the closet door.

Levi thought for a moment. “...the one that you used in those videos you sent?” He watched Eren blush and nod. “...I haven't seen it, why? ...Eren, if that's what you're thinking, not now. We’ll wake her up and it'll be awkward.”

Eren shook his head. “No, I had a conversation with Dad about his sexuality, and I think it’ll help him if he’s got something to relieve himself with if he’s stressed, but I put it in my closet... And I haven’t used it in forever....” His mind was reeling for where it could possibly be before he thought of someone. “Tucker…” His voice was quiet as he moved from their room to the teen’s room, seeing him at his desk with his Legos, closing and locking the door behind him. “Tucker... We need to talk…” If you don’t have it, I have no idea where it would be because no one else would be able to reach it...

Tucker looked up from the intricate castle he was constructing, sighing and typing quickly into his phone, handing it over. What’s up? And be careful not to step on anything, I don't want to rebuild the six spires. No thank you.

“I’m only gonna ask once, and I want you to know I’m not mad, but I want your honest answer okay?” He handed Tucker his phone back, carefully making his way to Tucker's bed and sitting down on it. Can’t destroy anything here...
Tucker’s eyebrows shot up, his mind running in circles as he nervously nodded. Fuck, what could I be in trouble for? What’d I do? I don’t remember… shit

“Did you take a dildo from my room?” I mean, I wouldn’t be mad, but I would much rather have you ask for these things… Especially if you wanna talk about it…

Tucker froze before he completely flushed, looking down. Fuck… he noticed… it'd been so long since I took it… Tucker was completely still before he slowly nodded, his eyes glued to the floor. ….are you gonna tease me about being a needy whore now…? Just… get it over with….

“Do you want me to order you one? Cause I’m gonna have to confiscate it from you right now….” I wouldn’t mind, you don’t have to look like that… “Pick your head up, there’s no need to be embarrassed about it, it’s natural, you’re a growing teen…”

Tucker slowly looked up, surprised at his attitude about it, typing again. You're not… mad that I took it? I thought you'd be pissed… or at least tease me about it…

Eren took his phone, reading it for a moment before shaking his head. “Why would I be mad? You’re 17 now Tucker… And technically the legal age for the state is 16, and I know you found it earlier this year, so I don’t really care… But i’m gonna need it back, and if you want another one I’ll get you one…. The only thing that comes out of this is that Dad’s gonna probably give you the ‘talk’ after this…” You’ll be embarrassed, but you’ll be fine… Eventually.

Tucker swallowed, taking his phone back and hesitating before typing. ...okay… and uhm… ...I kinda want to look for something else if that's okay… and thanks for not freaking out… I'll get it… Tucker handed him his phone before going to his nightstand, shifting things around before coming back with it, embarrassedly surrendering it, spelling with one hand. {It's clean, I promise.} I knew not to be dumb about having it…

Eren nodded, and thanked him, taking it and hiding it in his shirt and getting it out of sight. Just incase Jake walks by… “Okay, well, you don’t have a credit card or anything yet, so if you find something or a few things you like you can send me a cart and I’ll order it for you.” Eren smiled and ruffled his hair before he carefully got up and made his way towards the door. I’m glad that he took care of it at least…

Tucker stared after him as he left, thinking…. that just happened. ……..now maybe I can actually get something nice …. The lego castle was abandoned in moments as he scrolled through his phone. *Hm… decisions….
Lathe was nearly nodding off in the blanket fort when Eren came back, looking up to him tiredly. Hm? “That took you awhile…” Is your closet that cluttered?

Eren shook his head. “You’ll never believe where I found it….you’re gonna have to give Tucker ‘the talk’…” How are you gonna react to him having a dildo?

Lathe’s eyebrows shot up. “…are you telling me that Tucker snatched your dildo and has been using it?” …. well shit. Eren having used it is one thing… “…I’m not so sure I want it now…”

“He took good care of it, don’t worry, and if you are that paranoid about it I will give it back to him and order you a new one…” I told him I’d order him one… Hell I said I’d order him a few if it makes him feel better about himself…

Lathe hesitated before nodding. “...yeah… I'd much rather have my own… it's just… I know he probably took care of it but just… the idea of where Tucker in particular put that just doesn't feel right…” Lathe shivered. No. Absolutely not. “It was weird enough that you used it.”

Eren just sighed shaking his head and mumbling something about giving it back to Tucker. “Okay, well I’m going to go return it where I found it then go order you a new one then go to sleep… You can probably go down and rub Mom’s feet, she’s probably on the couch with Delia again…” I swear, she’s been a cat magnet…

Lathe nodded, though he sighed as he sunk further into the blankets. “I should go downstairs…. …but I also don't wanna move.” I'm comfy… and tired… “...can you hand me my sandwich?” Lathe reached vainly for the plate, far away on the desk four feet away from him. Cannot… reach… sandwich…

Eren chuckled and handed him the tray of food. “When you finish eating promise me you’ll talk to Mom… Okay?” I want you guys to be okay…. And not stress out about anything…

Lathe sighed, nodding. “...okay. I'll talk to her.” Lathe made room on the floor for the tray, eating quietly when Eren had left. …you can do this. Lathe barely thought as he finished lunch, taking the tray downstairs and putting away the dishes in the dishwasher. You can do this. Lathe kicked the dishwasher closed, coming over to the couch where Ieva was, Delia on her chest, purring as she was pet. Aw… “…Hey Honey?” Lathe sat down next to her, biting back nerves. You've got this. She'll understand. …right?
Ieva looked up, her fingers still carding through Delia’s soft fur. “Yeah, Hun?” What’s up? You were upstairs doing paperwork and stuff, did you finish yet? I wonder if Jake will wanna help with Dinner? He’s been in his room a lot lately with his homework, though I’m pretty sure he finished everything for break already...

Lathe hesitated, taking a deep breath. “There’s something important I need to tell you. Uhm... I’m pansexual. I-It doesn’t mean I don’t love you or anything, it’s okay.” He held up his hands, hurriedly correcting himself when Ieva looked stunned. “I-It means that I would be fine dating any human of any gender... but... I wanted to tell you... because, uhm... remember how you bought that strap-on for me for Christmas forever ago?”

Ieva’s eyes were wide as she was trying to process everything that he was saying. Huh? Pansexual? ..... Any human? But didn’t you just say you loved me?.... The strapon.... She nodded silently, waiting for him to continue. Are you more interested in men now because of this? Ieva couldn’t help but put a hand on her abdomen almost protectively. You’ve wanted kids since you were a teen.... What will happen now?

Lathe couldn't help but feel guilt twist in his gut when he saw her hand drift to her huge bump, swallowing hard. “I-It was a completely new feeling for me, and I just... it feels as natural to me for you to be on top as it is for me to be on top of you, if not more so... I just wanted to tell you... because I'd just be a lot happier if when we're able to be intimate again... if you topped some more... and... while we can't... I just felt like I needed to tell you that I've been going absolutely insane and I've been feeling so empty and I just... I hadn't done anything to myself before you... and I can't help but feel so guilty about it... I wanted to ask if it's okay if I give in for once...” Lathe buried his face in his hands, embarrassed and feeling guilt weigh him down like a lead jacket. I don't know what else to tell you... “I love you so much and I'm sorry if this all seems so confusing but I just needed to tell you...” Don't ever think I don't love you and the two tiny lives you're carrying.

Ieva looked at where he was, his face buried in his hands. She knew she wouldn’t be able to sit up from where she was lying without help. Her hand carefully reached for his hair, carding her fingers through his locks. “I’ll always love you Lathe.... If you don’t want us to change, we won’t but if you want us to change we can.... I won’t hold it against you.” What we did was new for you, I wouldn’t be surprised if you wanted to try and find someone else.... I’d be sad.... But if it made you happy, that’d be fine...

Lathe looked up, shaking his head, desperate for her to understand. “N-No, we don't have to change, just...” He sighed, curling up to her side and resting one hand on her stomach, his thumb running over her bump. “Honey... this isn't some new thing... I think I've been this way all my life. ...it's just that now there's a name to it. And we don't have to change much of anything. You gave me a taste of a different kind of pleasure and I just can't get enough. It's not that I came to some realization that I’m not what I thought- I’d never labeled myself before... ...all that I'd want to change is that sometimes I’d love it if you topped… that’s all that has to change. Nothing else. I’ve never stopped loving you. Nothing could change that.” You're too precious to even think of giving up.…

Ieva seemed to sigh in relief as he cleared things up for her, leaning her head to the side, and resting her head against his. She moved her free hand to lace her fingers with his. “You could’ve asked, I won’t mind…. But I’m sorry we can’t really do anything while I’m pregnant…. “We could technically…. But I doubt he would want to have sex with me looking like this. She whispered quietly as she looked to where their hands were intertwined on her large abdomen. I can’t believe I’m at 25 weeks already….

Lathe breathed a sigh of relief, twining their fingers, their laced hands resting on her stomach. “It's okay, I know we can't with you as far along as you are… I just needed to tell you… because it's still not a thing I'm used to…” I feel so bad every time I do it… or want to….

Ieva shook her head, rubbing her thumb against his hand. “Don’t worry about it…” I know you’ll want something else…. I should’ve known better… “It’s okay….“

Lathe turned, softly kissing her cheek. “I’ll always love you to bits, Ieva. That hasn’t changed at all. I don't think it ever will.” Lathe’s fingers spread over her tummy, resting his head on her shoulder. He stared at her stomach, smiling faintly. Tiny humans… Lathe slowly shifted forward, his hands gentle on her stomach, his lips brushing her bump, his voice low and quiet. “Your Daddy loves you two so much… I want you two to know that.” He looked up as Ieva jumped a bit, feeling one of the babies kicking. …aww…. Lathe faintly smiled, his eyes fluttering shut. “You’d better be good for your Mommy…. she’s working overtime making sure you’re both okay. Maybe let her sleep sometimes, hm? She likes to do that. Does that sound fair?” He felt another kick, gently rubbing her stomach. …I think only the one is kicking… …huh…. “……Honey, is it okay if I go get a flashlight?” I wanna do the thing….

Ieva looked at Lathe, almost rolling her eyes. “You’re gonna wake both of them up…” At least he’s showing interest in how much the babies are moving. “Go ahead, I can nap later….” She shifted a bit to brace her stomach as he shifted off the couch. It is weird… Only one is moving when we speak.

Lathe smiled sheepishly, kissing her lips softly. “I'm sorry, I'll leave you alone in a little… I wanna say hi to the other one… I think only one of them is kicking…” Hm… Lathe ran to the kitchen to fetch a small flashlight, coming back and clicking it on. He held it against her stomach, his hands still splayed over her tummy, smiling as he felt both of them kick. Aw… he moved it a bit, feeling them shift a bit closer to it. He clicked it off after a moment, placing small pecks all over her stomach. “You two be nice to your Mommy, ya hear? We both love you lots and lots….“ Lathe kissed her bump, feeling them both kick the spots he kissed, coming up as they kicked his mouth. “Hey, all this love and this is the thanks I get…” Lathe smiled, rubbing her stomach. “I know you two like partying, and I wanted to say hi… but maybe let your Mommy get some sleep sometime in the next year, hm? Word is Mommies like sleep.” Lathe kissed her one last time. “…but we’ll love you to death even if you do deprive her of sleep. …..we’re obligated to.” Lathe chuckled as Ieva poked his shoulder, giving him an amused look. “Okay, maybe not only because we’re obligated to… …..your Daddy loves you.” Lathe gently rubbed her tummy, leaning up to softly kiss Ieva, Delia purring from her spot on Ieva's chest. “I love you…. I really really do….

Ieva smiled softly, kissing him back just as softly. She couldn’t help the tears that started to well.
He’s so gentle…. And I feel like it's for the first time… Why? Why do I feel like this now? Is it because I’m expecting him to leave? She sniffled, reaching a hand up to rub at her eyes and hide her face. Shit… And now I’m crying about it...

Lathe gave her a sympathetic look as she started crying, softly kissing her cheek and cupping her cheek with a careful hand. “It's okay… it's okay…. ” He held her close, letting her cry. I love you...
I'm right here for you...

“I’m…. I’m sorry…” She whimpered and tried to move away from him, feeling her face grow bright red in embarrassment. “I’m so… So sorry…” I can't handle it... I hate these hormones that are screwing everything up. She could feel the twins kicking around and responding to her tears and stress. Fuck… The babies...

Lathe looked worried, wrapping his arm around her, his other on her stomach, feeling the babies kicking as she cried. “It's okay Honey, I know you can't help it… it's fine, I'm right here for you…. ” Lathe softly pecked her cheek, nestling into her neck. “It's okay, love. It's okay.” Really, it is.

It's not okay…. I still don't understand what you mean.... Are you gonna leave me after I have them? She whimpered as she leaned her head towards him, sniffling as she tried to calm down. Ieva closed her eyes trying not to think about it. I should be happy that he’s paying attention to what I tell him about the twins... That he’s here right now...

Lathe held her close, kissing her head. …..maybe it's still hard to understand. “....Honey… you know that I'm not just staying for the twins… right?” Lathe’s hand rubbed her stomach soothingly.
“I'm not just staying because you're pregnant. Even if the word describing my sexuality changed it doesn't mean that I wasn't always this way. It means that I could love anyone and I picked you. I love you so much... I only want the way we love to change sometimes. That's all that's gonna change. I'm always gonna hold onto you, I'm always gonna love you, and there isn't ever gonna be anyone else. I'm so happy with you. I just need to make sure you understand that.” I love you...

Ieva stopped crying as he spoke, looking up to him with large eyes. “Y-You’re not gonna leave?”
You’ll stay?

Lathe looked up to her, his eyes soft. “I’d never dream of it.” Lathe placed pecks all over her cheeks, nuzzling closer to her. “You’re all mine… my beautiful wife….” You’re wonderful….

Ieva smiled softly as she sniffled. “Can you help me up?” I’m hungry… And I’m starting to get weird cravings too….

Lathe nodded, offering her his hands and helping her slowly sit up, easing her to her feet, Delia shuffling up onto her shoulder, mewing as Ieva started walking with Lathe’s help. Kitty….

Ieva thanked him quietly, heading towards the kitchen with him. “I hate that I’m getting so unbalanced on my feet… And my belly button popped…” She complained as she leaned on Lathe for support. I don’t wanna harm the twins…

Lathe was steady as they walked, supporting her. “That sucks… but it won’t be forever…. all three of you will be just fine. Fifteen weeks.” Fifteen weeks until teeny babies….

“Yeah…” She smiled when she got to the counter seat and looked at Lathe. “Will you make me some more food?” I’m still hungry….

Lathe chuckled, nodding and helping her into the seat. “Yeah, I’ll cook you something. What’re you in the mood for?” Your eating habits have been whack for a bit now… I have no idea what you’ll want. Some of your favorite things you’ve turned away from in disgust, so I have no idea what’s going on.

“Can I have a Caprese Salad with Turkey?” I know we have mozzerella and tomatoes… And basil… But I want some turkey too!

Lathe nodded, fishing for ingredients in the fridge, getting out a cutting board and starting to chop up the ingredients. “Do you want me to warm up the turkey or no?” Is it okay if it’s cold? You’ve been getting progressively picky and it's not hard to warm it up on the stove a bit.

“No, I want it cold…” I want it really cold, I wanna cool off, I feel like I’m getting warmer the more I’m cooped up in this house. “Can you ask if we can go riding with the twins?” I wanna do something, even if there’s 6 inches of snow on the ground…
Lathe looked up to her, his voice careful. “Honey, you’re on bed rest and halfway through the second trimester… I don’t think going riding is a good idea. Getting in and off would be hard, and god forbid if you fall….” It’s just not a good idea...

Ieva whined and put her head down on the counter. “But I wanna do something! I’m getting sick of being sick in the house and watching bad TV shows… I don’t have any kids to watch anymore, and Eren and Levi are taking care of Mila…” She whined as she watched him continue to make her food. I wanna do something! Even if we just go out for a bit...

Lathe sighed quietly, handing her her salad and a fork, watching her pout and stare disappointedly at her salad. I hate seeing you so upset… “I’m sorry, there’s just not much you’re able to do carrying around two teeny humans…” He thought, an idea popping into his head. He looked out the window, seeing the center across the road, a couple kids making snowmen and forts outside in the snow, one of the hired college students keeping a careful eye on all of them with a thermos in hand. Hm. “...do you maybe want to go over to the center after you eat? I'm sure the kindergarteners would like someone new to read to them if you want. It'd be a change of scenery, give you something to do. They'd all love you, I'm sure.” We get a lot of little kids on the weekends- we’ve more or less become a free daycare.

Ieva looked at him with wide eyes. “R-Really?” There’s kids over there right now? She picked at her salad uninterested now, though she still continued to eat it. “Can we look for nursery stuff?” We haven’t done that yet... At all ... fuck.... “Can we go shopping for nursery stuff?” We need to do that...

Lathe nodded. “We can do that too... and yeah, we’ve been having tiny children dumped on us from day one because we’re practically a free day care service. I don’t mind, because a lot of the kids are learning to read and draw and stuff. And it’s good that they’re being social and making friends. And some of the kids are really small, like two or three years old small. We actually have a couple healthcare providers flitting around on weekends and we’ve got some college students trained because there are a few kids who are showing signs of autism, they’re around the age it's becoming more apparent they have it. They're learning to be a bit more social, even if all they do is color and talk to the students. They have their own big room in the center, we have times for coloring, reading, and we give the students a break and set the kids down for naps... everything’s going well. …if you want to go out shopping for nursery things today we can. And we still need to decide what color we’re gonna paint the walls.” I wanna doodle all over the walls.... God please...

Ieva nodded, eating her salad with a little more interest and just eating it. “I wanna go shopping, I need to get out of the house... Please ?” I’m so bored with being in the house...

Lathe sighed and save her a small smile, coming around to kiss her cheek. “Of course we can. But you have to promise me that the second you feel too tired or out of sorts, you'll tell me, okay?” He rested a hand on her bump. I wanna make sure all three of you are okay.

Ieva nodded, smiling as he touched her abdomen. “Will people think I look fat?” I hope not.... I know I'm huge as it is... and I bet people think I'm ready to pop.... “I don’t wanna be fat.”

Lathe gave her a gentle look, drifting behind her, both his hands on her middle.“They won't think you're fat, honey... anyone who sees you, in a store to buy things for a nursery or not, will know that you're carrying tiny life inside of you... and that's beautiful.” Lathe softly kissed her neck, softly nipping her neck as he felt her relax in his arms. Mine....

Ieva nodded, taking her fork and eating the rest of her salad. So good, absolutely perfect ... She held onto him to get off the stool, walking towards the stairs. “Help me get dressed, so we can go!”

Lathe sighed, following her. “Alright, Hun.” ...this'll be an adventure....

.......*oh. My god. It was hours before they were back home, the boxes of things all piled next to the front door, Lathe collapsed on the couch. ....I just... my god, her baby brain is horrible .... She found a crib she loved and changed what color she wanted five different times before going back to the first one.... she almost cried three times in the store because she saw all the tiny baby outfits and thought they were too cute, then when we were picking mobiles she couldn't decide between elephants or fish, and then she didn't know which stuffed animals they would want, so we got one of every animal she liked and got upset when she couldn't decide if she even liked any of them or not...... fifteen more weeks ......... shit ...... ....and we still have to decide what color she wants the walls of the nursery and what color the carpeting should be..... ......I love her, but my god, that was hell.... .....even if everything we picked out was adorable...... .....it was hell.

Eren nudged Lathe after he flopped down. “We’ve got some choices for dinner, you can eat when you want, Mom’s raided the food and sat down at the table already.” I know you wouldn't mind sleep. He smiled as he watched James come down the stairs, quickly followed by Jake and Tucker to get food. Good everyone else is coming down to eat too... You guys came home with a lot of stuff, I can only imagine how much more Mom’s gonna want and how much she’s gonna make you bring back...

Lathe nodded, shrugging and pulling a blanket over himself, his voice quiet. “Thanks, but I'm kinda wifed out from today... please don't tell Ieva I said that.” Lathe picked his head up and looked to the table, glad that she hadn't overheard. “...the trip to the store was low key a nightmare.
Be glad neither you nor Levi have to deal with baby brain.” ...I'm so done.... I need a nap....
“Well… I made all sorts of her new wacky favorites and some other dishes, so why don’t we try and find you something to eat?” Eren reached a hand down to lift him up. Come on… You need to eat…

Lathe whined in dissent, pouting childishly when Eren dragged him to his feet again. “Mur…” Lath followed Eren anyway, looking over the array of foods on the kitchen table. what are half of these again…? “...I don't recognize some of these…” You haven't made some of them before I don't think… they smell weird….

“Well, Mom’s been wanting Asian food…. So we have some Asian dishes with what I had on hand…. Mom likes it so, I’m not gonna complain, but it’s Sesame Deer…. Instead of chicken, it tastes pretty good actually, but lacking the chicken smell…. Mom wanted some pork, so I attempted Lo mein… then there’s brotchen, like usual, and some pasta dishes…” Mom got some of everything…

Lathe looked over everything, slowly shaking his head and getting a plate, reaching for the pasta. “I at least know I'll like these… I recognize them.” I'm not feeling adventurous right now, just give me familiar pasta and I'll be happy….

“Hmm, Mom wants some Raviolis, so There will at least be cheese ones for you to munch on… And we only have a few days until Christmas… And it’ll just be us this year, that’ll be nice…” It’ll be really nice…

Lathe nodded, thinking. We don't have to entertain a huge house of people…. we already have all our presents in the mail since yesterday… all we have to do is chill. That sounds ridiculously nice… “…make sure to add shredded spinach to the cheese ravioli… we need to make her eat vegetables somehow.” She's just been eating the most random crap…

“Yes, Dad…”
The past week has been both good and bad. The twins won’t stop kicking me all over the place, I swear I’m waking up every other hour now to go pee, so I nap while I can. Nene, Delia and I have become the best of friends, and getting up is even more of a chore as I gained another 2 pounds and I feel fat. Jake’s gotten interested in how the twins are developing and I swear he waits around the corner with a flashlight so he can feel the babies move around… He’s almost as fascinated as Lathe at this point. She sighed as she was finally able to lay down on the couch with the TV playing some random Christmas movie marathon still, Jake at her side playing with the flashlight. I need to ask the doctor why only one moves when we’re talking… And then both react to light… “Jake Honey, you can play with the babies later, will you let me sleep for a bit please?” I really didn’t get any last night after all our Christmas festivities…

Jake looked up at her, his eyes wide. “But Mo~om…..” He pouted when she shook her head, turning off for flashlight. “Okay…” He leaned up to kiss her cheek before scampering off, leaving her in peace. I'll be able to play with them later…

Ieva sighed in relief as she watched Jake scamper off. Oh thank god… Peace and quiet. She sighed, closing her eyes to get some sleep, only to hear a phone ringing near her. Oh my god…. What do I need to do to get peace and quiet? “Whose phone is that even? Lathe!” I can’t get up…

Lathe looked up from his book, coming downstairs. “What? The phone?” Lathe listened for it, rifling through the cushions when Ieva gestured vaguely to her right, finding it. Eren lost his phone… who the hell is this? It's not in our area code… Lathe decided to answer, running upstairs to get Eren. “Hello?”

<“Is this Eren Yeager?”>

…..uhm. <“This is his father, I can get him for you. Who is this?”>

< “This is Dr. Schwäggler, I'm calling for Hannes Holtz... Eren is listed as his health care proxy.”>

Oh shit. <“Oh, uh, I’m getting him right now.”> Lathe peered into their bedroom, seeing Eren holding a sleeping Mila. “Eren?” Lathe was quiet, coming in with the phone. “There’s someone on the phone for you. It’s about Hannes.” I don't think it's that good… Lathe set down the phone before taking Mila from him, swaying to keep the toddler comfortably asleep.
Eren looked shocked as he took the phone and handed Mila over to Lathe. <“Hello?”>

<“Eren Yeager?”>

<“That’s me…. Can I help you?”>

<“You are listed for Hannes Holtz’s health care proxy, so as his primary physician, I, Dr. Schwäggler, am allowed to disclose his medical information with you.”>

<“Yes, I understand, what happened with Hannes?”> This is bad… Vatri is getting old.

<“It seems he’s developed quite the case of pneumonia, and he’s currently hospitalized due to the condition.”>

Eren’s eyes widened. <“I’ll book a flight, I’ll be there within the next two days, please call me if his condition changes.”> I hate planes… But I will book a flight for this…

<“Of course, Mr. Yeager, we will be expecting you.”>

Lathe’s eyes were wide as he heard Eren. …but… <“Eren, what the hell is going on?”> Why are you flying out to Germany? Is Hannes gonna be okay? What happened?

Eren swallowed hard, looking down at his phone after he ended the call. “Vatri… He’s hospitalized…” I need to book a flight… He pulled up an app on his phone already starting to look of flight prices and times from various airports. That’s the quickest way to get to Vatri…

Lathe looked immensely worried, nodding. “Does he need surgery? What’s going on?” Help me understand….

“He has pneumonia… But Vatri hates hospitals… If he went to one, it’s bad, and if he’s willingly staying in the hospital, it’s worse. I probably need to take care of his horses too, so I need to fly out there…” He was quickly approaching the verge of tears. Oh my god, he could be dying… What if I don’t get there in time?
Lathe moved, gently laying down Mila in her crib before moving to hug Eren tightly, trying to calm him down. “Eren, please, he’ll be okay. If he's in the hospital he's going to be receiving good care. And I understand you want to go out there, and it does sound like you're needed.” ....Levi can do a romantic proposal some other time. “We’ll miss you if you're not home for New Years… and it doesn't sound like you will be. But that's okay.” Lathe pecked his temple. “You're so ready to drop everything for Hannes. He raised you well.” He really did...

Eren smiled softly and nodded, letting a few tears fall. “I can only imagine how far he let the pneumonia go before he went to the hospital….” He hates going there, I can't imagine how much worse it is after holding it off.

Lathe sighed, keeping a solid hold on him, rubbing his back. “Whatever condition he’s in, I'm sure he’ll only get better from where he is now. You can look up tickets, get things arranged. Do you want to bring anyone with you…?” One of us should go with you maybe… Levi could be moral support....

Eren shook his head. “I’ll take Mikhail… But you guys need to stay home.” Everyone’s got someone to take care of, it's better if I go alone, and I know the area, so I can get a rental car while I’m there...

Lathe sighed, nodding. “Okay… but if anything changes and you need someone else there, you call and we’ll express ship you one boyfriend, okay? Oh, excuse me- fiancé.” Lathe grinned, kissing the tip of his head. “You need to take good care of Hannes, and good care of yourself too. Don't forget that.” You need to not kill your own health worrying about Hannes’.

Eren nodded and smiled softly and he moved to go down to his studio to look up flights on a bigger screen. His hands were shaking as he wrote things down, going back to the kitchen where Lathe was. “Would you be able to drive me to the airport tonight?” There’s a flight at 10 tonight....

That was quick. Lathe nodded, smiling faintly. “Of course. You get packed and tell me just about when we should leave, okay? We’ll make sure you eat before you go.” You should have dinner first.

Eren nodded, moving to peck his cheek before he went back and booked two seats for the flight and all the connecting flights to get to Germany. I need my passport and Mikhail’s ID too… He printed off all the information he needed for the two of them, biting his lip as he did it. I’m.... I’m going on another plane... Fuck ...
Lathe was busy getting dinner ready, looking back when he saw Eren come out of the studio, looking depressed and scared as he stared at the flight information. "...he hates planes...." Lathe went to give him a hug, smiling to him reassuringly. "You'll be okay on the planes, Eren. It'll work out okay. "...do you think you’ll visit Carla when you're there?"...you should.

Eren froze as he heard Lathe speak his mother’s name, looking up to him and trying not to cry. I didn’t even think about going to see Mom.... What kind of son am I? He nodded, unable to speak, knowing it’d come out in a sob.

Lathe softly kissed his cheek, giving him a gentle look. “...give her some flowers and love from me, okay?” I’d love to have met her... I hope she’s okay wherever she is.

Eren nodded, letting a tear fall down his cheek before he quickly moved to wipe at his eyes. I will, I’ll get to see Mom for the first time since we buried her...

Lathe looked away when his tears fell, handing him his kerchief, letting him go. I won’t make you stay and be sad... I don’t think visiting her even crossed your mind. You’re so worried about Hannes. “Dinner’s in about an hour, Hon. We’ll leave a little after then.” Lathe let him run off, sighing, his chest feeling heavy as he looked over to the piano. She raised him well... Very well.

Eren ran up to his room, shuffling through his clothes and started to grab shorts and t-shirts as well as some long pants and long sleeves. There won’t be snow on the ground when I get there... It might not even be cold...

Levi looked up from his laptop, watching Eren pack with wide eyes. Huh? “Eren? What's going on?” Levi shut his laptop, sitting up. You look like you're getting ready to leave for somewhere.... What happened...?!

“I'm going to Germany...” Eren said without looking up from the drawer he was shuffling through and pulling out what he wanted to. I need to go see Vatri, and I’ll be leaving soon... Shit... I hate planes...

Levi’s eyes were wide, standing. “Why are you going to Germany? What happened?” Tell me! Levi went up to him, resting a hand on his shoulder. Calm down, you look ready to panic...

“Vatri’s hospitalized... And I’m his health care proxy, I need to go.” I need to, he could get worse, he hates being in hospitals. The hospitals in Germany aren’t that great either... Eren moved away from his hand. “I’m sorry but I need to pack.”

Levi’s eyes widened. Hannes is in the hospital… ...and you're the person he's want there most. Proposing again… isn’t as important right now. “I understand. You pack, okay?” Levi kissed his cheek, letting him keep packing, going back to his laptop. I'll let you do your thing.... it's something you have to do, I understand.

Eren was grateful Levi let him pack in peace, even if he was internally losing it. He went over everything he packed multiple times to make sure he wasn’t forgetting anything. He almost didn’t hear Mila crying when she woke up, his head raising to the crib. Oh no, Mila… Eren got to his feet, making his way to the crib and picking her up and gently holding her to try and calm her cries. Don’t cry baby…. Where’s Levi? “Don’t cry, Mila…” He trailed off as she wailed louder and he set her down on the changing table and got her out of her onesie. He struggled to shush her as he cleaned her up, getting a new diaper for her and setting her back in her onesie again. Eren sighed as Mila screamed again when he picked her up. “Mila… Don’t cry, baby… Mum’s right here… You don’t need to cry… Please don’t cry baby.” Fuck... Is she hungry? She ate an hour ago tho... I have no idea what to do... Where’s Levi, he understands her so much better... when did he even leave?

Levi picked his head up when he heard Mila’s cries, looking back to his laptop on the couch as they quieted a bit. Eren’s got her... He looked up worriedly again when they picked up, getting up and heading upstairs when they didn't stop. ...is she okay? Levi came into their bedroom, watching Eren trying to calm her down. “Eren?” He went over to them, reaching for Mila. He accepted her when Eren immediately handed her over, cradling her close and giving her a finger to latch onto. “Hello Mila… don't be upset, we’re right here.” Levi took a step closer to Eren, pecking his cheek before looking back to Mila, his head resting on his shoulder, Mila between the two of them. “Your Daddies are right here, Hon. It's okay.” She didn't quiet down much, still looking distressed, and he sighed. He moved from Eren’s side, looking in her crib for her stuffed puppy, not seeing it. He peered underneath, seeing it had fallen through the slats of the crib. Ah. “Eren, I think she wants her puppy.” He nodded to the animal, his hands still full of upset child. “Don't worry Honey, we’ll get your puppy…” Please don’t cry, it's okay...

Eren looked at Levi in confusion at firsts before he saw the stuffed dog and seemed to sigh in relief. Is that it? He picked up the stuffed dog and moved to hand it to Levi, looking at Mila with saddened eyes. She likes Levi more too.... And Levi understands her so much better than me, and he’s only been with her for two months... Eren swallowed the lump in his throat as he turned back to go over what he had packed once again.

Levi smiled faintly as Mila quieted when she had her puppy, grabbing it tightly and smushing her cheek against it. Aw... “You like your puppy?” He smiled as she gazed at him with wide eyes before turning her attention back to the soft floppy ears on the toy. Too adorable... Levi shifted her to one hip, freeing up one hand as he looked to Eren again. “Alright, she's fine now- ...Eren?” Levi looked worriedly to Eren who was pointedly looking away from them, seeing his upset expression. “...are you okay?”
Eren nodded, leaning over to kiss his cheek before going to the dresser, rifling through the little shirts and pants. “Hm…. which do you want, Mila?” Levi pulled out a small shirt with stripes, shrugging a shoulder when Mila swatted at it, not looking happy. “Okay… then….” He pulled out one with polka dots, smiling as she tugged on it hard possessively. “Okay…..” He let her hold onto it while she pointed at pants, getting her dressed and putting on her shoes, kissing her nose when she was all dressed. “Beautiful little girl….” I love you. Levi held her close, catching her puppy when she dropped it, nudging her nose with the soft paw as he walked her to the stairs. He came down carefully, happy to have the weight on his hip. My own little girl....

Mikhail was right behind Eren’s feet as he situated everything he needed by the door. I’m leaving tonight... Well, Mila will be fine with Levi taking care of her... Right? He swallowed, hearing Mikhail whine for his attention and he smiled softly, moving to put Mikhail’s vest on already so he didn’t have to rush and put it on him when they needed to go. Mila will be fine... She loves her daddy very much...

Levi ambled over to the kitchen table, setting Mila in her high chair, gently takin her puppy, kissing her forehead when she reached for him. “It's okay Honey, he's gonna sit right here for when you're done. We don't want him getting all messy, do we?” He gently set the puppy on the table where she could see him, getting her a bib and gently tickling her when she pouted, making her giggle. There's that smile. Levi looked up when he hear Mikhail whine, seeing Eren with a sad look on his face as he watched them. .... “You okay, Eren?” Why are you so upset...? Besides the obvious....

Eren nodded. “Y-Yeah…. I just wish I didn’t have to leave so soon....” He looked over towards where Lathe was just finishing up making dinner. At least I get to eat Dad’s food before I have to leave and I have no doubt that I’ll be making food for Vatri when I get there...

Levi nodded, going over to softly kiss him, their lips barely brushing. “Hannes needs you…. it says a lot how quick you are to drop everything and rush there.” It really does. Levi gave him a soft smile, going to sit, Mila between them as always.

Eren smiled as Levi pulled back, but he noticed how little Mila looked at him and always grabbed towards Levi in her senseless babbling. She hasn’t spoken her first word yet....
Chapter 111: Changes

The airports were hell. The flights were okay, but I got shit for having bought Mikhail a seat on the plane, and apparently they overbooked one flight and he was shouting about Mikhail being in a seat and the woman told him I’d purchased the seat for him and the guy went off the handle. He didn’t care that people had their phones out and even the woman behind me was defending me at that point. They delayed the flight because the guy had to be pulled off the flight. That was from Wichita to Vegas... Then from Vegas I flew to Chicago, and from there to Berlin. Those flights weren’t so bad. Berlin to Munich was another fucking nightmare with Mikhail in a seat beside me. I gave up and just let the woman yell at me that it wasn’t right for a dog to be sitting in a person’s spot, even if they were a service dog. They upgraded me to first class and she complained the whole trip... I got out of the airport without anyone really realizing who I was. Customs was fine and the line was short, so I rented the car at about 9pm here... which means it was two in the afternoon back home. I drove another half hour to Shiganshina, and finally got to Vatri’s home around 10 at night, one of the hands waiting for me and giving me the list of everything that was done on the daily and where the hospital was and when visiting hours were. He was helpful, and I swear he was hitting on me... He even asked if he needed me to go and be the translator at the hospital when I go... Then I may or may not have told him off in German to get his ass off Vatri’s porch and go home. I have 47 horses to take care of before 8 in the morning tomorrow... Eren sighed against the door and he opened up his phone, finding now new text messages.

EY: I’m home, I’m in one piece, I have an early morning again, so I need to sleep. Night babe, tell Mila I love her, and I love you too.

LA: Okay, I'll give her enough hugs and kisses for the both of us. Sleep well- Love you too.

Levi put his phone on sleep and set it in his pocket, turning back to Mila, the teeny toddler sitting on the floor with him in the living room, watching her pet Nene, the dog nosing her gently. Nene’s good with her... she knows to be gentle... Nene ducked her head away when Mila smacked at her face, Levi reaching to calm her. ...and she’s very patient. “Don't hit Nene, Mila. Gentle, okay?” Levi took her hand, helping her pet Nene without making her flinch. She’s getting acclimated to all the animals well. They all like her- and she needs to know not to harass them and make them upset.

Mila looked up to Levi from where she sat on the floor, her hand still in Nene’s fur. She shifted forward a bit, moving to crawl towards Nene to get closer. Mila gurgled a few words, smiling as Nene stayed still as she got to her side, putting both hands on her and rubbing her closed fists over her fur, giggling. Dahgie...

Levi smiled faintly, reaching for her hands. “Your hands are teeny little fists….” Levi took one of her hands, spreading her fingers and setting it on Nene’s back again. “Like that, Honey.” He did the same, showing his spread fingers, watching her slowly mimic him, her other fist opening. You're learning......it's gonna be a nightmare when you stop crawling everywhere and learn to walk and run... you'll be chasing the dogs down like there's no tomorrow... you're already trying like hell to Mila continued to babble as she watched her hands open and close out of little fists. She kept them open as she put them against Nene’s fur, successfully getting her feet under her and standing as she held onto Nene’s fur. She giggled as she looked at Levi, giving him a toothy smile. Dahgie! Dahgie!

… ....she's standing. .....we’re all doomed. The house isn’t exactly baby proof. Levi smiled nevertheless, watching her steady legs. “Wow, you're up! I'm proud of you, Mila.” He was about to continue speaking when Nene slowly stood up, watching as Mila stayed up with Nene as her balance, the dog slowly taking a step. .....does Nene know how this works? Levi stood, dumbfounded when Nene very slowly tried leading Mila along, the toddler slipping, only to be caught by Levi. “I've got you, Honey. Come on, like this.” Levi took one small hand, the other hanging onto Nene’s coat, helping her take her first few steps. She's walking ....

Mila couldn’t stop giggling as she got her feet under her, holding onto Nene’s fur with a strong grip. Her smile was bright and filling the room, which quickly caught Jake’s attention, who watched Mila walk around. She stopped to stare at him, watching him stare back at her, but she began to cry. Muh? Muh Muh?

Levi looked at Jake, both of them looking at each other with surprise before Levi knelt down, hugging Mila close. “It's okay, Honey, don't cry. I'm right here, Jake was just watching you walk. We’re both so proud of you, Honey.” It's okay....

Mila still cried as her hands slowly clamped onto Levi’s shirt and refused to let go. Muh muh! She sniffled as she was raised up off the floor and into Levi’s arms, looking around her surroundings as the dogs all looked up towards where she was being held.

Ieva came to stand beside Jake, her hands on his shoulders. “Is she okay, Levi?” What happened? I heard giggling two seconds ago, I swear...

Levi shrugged one shoulder, bouncing her on one hip. “I think so…. she was giggling like mad while she was walking and then she stares at Jake for two seconds and starts crying…. I don't think she’s hungry, and she was changed half an hour ago…. I don't know... it's not your fault Jake, you didn't do anything.” Levi turned his head and kissed her forehead, moving to sit on the couch with her on his chest, his voice a quiet murmur. It's okay Honey....

Mila soon quieted, her crying spell over for the moment as she laid on Levi’s chest, reaching her fist to her mouth and mouthing at her own fist. Her teeth were still coming in and her teething phase still in full swing. She sniffled, drool and snot running down her face as her head was against Levi’s chest. Her mop of hair stuck out all over the place still. Mila’s steel eyes watched Jake and Ieva leave the room, her eyes closing as she listened to Levi’s heartbeat, but it wasn’t Eren’s…. She noticed.

Levi smiled faintly as she quieted, reaching into his pocket for a wad of tissues, knowing to keep plenty on hand. Messy tiny humans… Levi gently wiped her face clean, wiping off her hand and shifting with her, reaching for a teething ring on the coffee table and giving it to her, letting her mouth at it on his chest. He sighed, playing with her thin hair, gently moving it back in place. Tiny human… my own beautiful daughter…..

……..can I go home yet. Hannes looked around the hospital room boredly and with distaste, his nose crinkling at the smell of antiseptic. I hate the hospital…. when can I leave again? I have horses to take care of, why couldn't they just give me some pills and ship me home? Hannes looked up to the door as it opened again with a done expression. What, another nurse going to check my lungs? What does that make it, the fourth time today? He blinked when he saw Eren in the door, his face slowly cracking into a smile, his voice a bit weaker than normal. <“Eren? Oh, I'm so happy you're here! Please tell me you’ve come to take me home. I can't stand it….”> He smiled nevertheless when Eren came up to him, accepting a tight hug. I missed you.

<“As much as you would love me to take you home, you’re stuck here… I’ve heard that they’ve had to drain your lungs a few times already… You’re not leaving.”> Eren was firm as he held onto Hannes, glad he was alright. Thank god you’re not on death’s door, though I probably should’ve thought you’d be fine... I mean you are one tough motherfucker…

Hannes frowned, grumbling when Eren let him go. <“I’m still convinced they’re not giving me the good drugs. Aren't these people supposed to just give me something and after a few minutes everything feels better?”>

<“No, Vatri, that's called morphine, and you are not getting your hands on any of that…”> Eren shook his head and chuckled. <“I got in last night…. Technically yesterday afternoon for me, and left the night before… I had to go through four airports to get here, Vatri… You’re staying in this damn hospital until you get your ass 100%”> I expect no less from you!

Hannes’ eyebrows shot up, giving Eren a smile, sitting up and reaching for him. <“You hustled over here for a grumpy old man like me?”> He smiled as Eren went in to give him another hug, pretending to put him in a choke hold. <“And now that I've got you, give me some damn morphine.”> “Vatri! I can’t give you morphine! And I came over here because the doctor made it sound like you were on death’s doorstep!” Eren shouted, expertly getting out of his hair, a smile on his face. “When did you change me to be your health care proxy?” Don’t I need to sign off on that?

Hannes rolled his eyes, grinning. “Of course they scare you into thinking the funeral’s next week. And I did after I came home from that visit to America to see you…I was so happy you were alright and that you still gave a damn about me. …I don’t really have anyone else that cared. I knew I could trust you the most with my health.” You're responsible. And you won't make dumb decisions if and when the time for decisions comes.

Eren smiled and nodded. “Fair… Fair… But what do I do about the 47 horses you now own? Hmm?…. I woke up at six this morning and to do all the chores took me 3 hours with 5 other barn hands…” You have too much space, legitimately we had to take a ATV to get to the separate barns…

Hannes sighed, thinking about all of them. “I love all my horses… it feels weird to not be out there taking care of them… they're all alright? I hope the hands didn't give you too much trouble…. If any of them did, give me their names and I'll kick their asses for you.” Hopefully none of them got on your nerves….

Eren rolled his eyes. “Like you’re in any condition to kick asses right now… I’m fine, though the late night crew you got… That guy Moritz, he’s a total flirt, he thought I couldn’t speak German because I was from America… So am I allowed to instill the hand of God on them? They acted as if I knew nothing.” It was quite amusing that Charlie recognized me instantly and he let me hop on his back the way I used to… Vaulting over his rump much to the amazement of the two hands in that barn. He sat back until his back was against the bed, his legs dangling off the side as he laid at the end.

Hannes laughed, smiling. “Believe me, I could still get up from this bed and kick some major ass for you. But you have my permission to make sure they know you know your shit. And Moritz is…. he's Moritz. Feel free to harass him as you like, just don't get him killed or seriously injured unless he actually deserves it.” I don't want to have to deal with that lawsuit.

Eren rolled his eyes. “Yes, Vatri… No maiming… Got it, I’ll try not to… They were surprised when I got on Charlie, he seemed happy to see me, we even went around bareback for a bit.” Happy old horse… He’s like what, 35… 34 by now? I remember riding him around as my first ever horse… That was almost 20 years ago… Holy fuck I’m getting old…

Hannes smiled, thinking. “I'm glad you came and saw him… he’s getting pretty old, I'm sure it made him happy to see a familiar face. You were always his favorite.”> Hannes smiled wistfully, remembering a tiny Eren riding the big horse, smiling like a million dollars. I miss those days…<

<“How’s your daughter doing? Is she on her two feet yet? She’ll be driving you nuts the instant she is.”> You were quite the little terror when you were two and three… you ran into everything… walls, tables, people, horses… thankfully the horses all just kinda stood there when you hit their legs…

<“No, not on her legs yet, she’s been trying to stand up on her own and hasn’t been successful yet… But you need to watch her carefully now, because she’s crawling all over the place.”> Eren’s smile faded a bit. <“She’s with Levi…. Oh, we got engaged too… I forgot to tell you that…”> Probably should’ve told you that first…

Hannes smiled, chuckling. <“She’ll be terrorizing the house soon enough, that's mistake number one- don't underestimate the ability of small humans to drive you insane in a new way every day. And Eren, I'm so happy for you two. I'm happy he makes you happy.”> It's more than obvious how much he means to you. That's good enough for me.

Eren smiled, chuckling a bit. <“She’s starting to teeth… And I swear Levi can read her like an open book and I can’t figure out when she’s hungry or just dropped her toy… At least he’s with her right now, she probably doesn’t even realize I’m gone.”> I miss them though, already… It was too quiet without listening to her mumble in her sleep and Levi’s heart beat… It was too quiet in my room.

Hannes gave him a gentle look, waving it off. <“Eh, I doubt things are going to be that easy back at home. Nothing ever goes easy when it comes to little kids. Trust me- I’d give it three or four more days before he’s calling you in a frantic tone saying Mila won't stop crying because she misses you. Believe me- sometimes I was sure you didn't give a damn about me and then after I left for two seconds to use the bathroom you’d cling to my leg because you missed me. She loves you, Eren. Whether you think so or not.”> She's your own daughter. She loves you.

Eren smiled and nodded, watching one of the nurses come in and squeal when she saw Eren. And here come all the screaming women… Oh geez… He tried to fend off their pleas for autographs, signing a few before he got the nurses to go and get the doctor. I wanna talk with him about how he’s doing…
Chapter 112: Never Underestimate the Baby

It's been a nightmare. Levi was trying to get Mila to quiet, trying everything he could to calm the piercing wails audible throughout the entire house. She won't stop crying and screaming and I don't know why…. She’s not hungry, her diaper’s clean, she has her puppy, I’ve been holding her and everyone’s tried to coo to her all day, and Nene licking her cheek only got her to quiet down for two seconds out of surprise… why…. She’s gonna wreck her voice screaming so much…. Levi struggled to get her to drink water, not knowing what to do. Why are you so upset? Five days without Eren and already this has gone to shit. ....wait. “Mila? Do you miss Mum?” Levi looked to her, trying to get some confirmation, realizing she quieted a bit when he said ‘Mum.’ “Do you miss Mum, Honey?”

Muh muh…. Mila quieted as she thought about Eren and looked around for him quickly beginning to cry all over again, her cries just short of being as loud as her screams. “Muh muh!” She cried as she held onto Levi’s shirt, wanting Eren to hold her. Muh muh!

Oh. Levi was so proud of her when he pulled her up into his arms. Her first word .... ....I need to get Eren on skype right the fuck now and stop her screeching. “You wanna see Mumma? Okay, we’ll get Mumma for you.” Levi pulled out his phone, typing with one hand.

LA: Eren, Mila has been screeching all day at the top of her lungs because she seriously fucking misses you

LA: She said her first word- Mumma

LA: She misses you so much and can you //please// Skype so that she doesn't ruin her little throat?

LA: We can't take any more screeching

EY: Levi, I’m at the hospital… Things got complicated yesterday, Vatri is getting his lungs drained again.

EY: I really can’t call right now…

EY: And it's late here… I’m waiting for Vatri’s procedure to get done before I head back home to take care of the horses again...

LA: I'm sorry, I just haven't been able to get her to quiet down at all...

LA: I'm gonna see if I can find a video of you somewhere on YouTube that she can listen to...

LA: But Eren even if you can't really call and just send a voice message for her to listen to

LA: That'd be wonderful
LA: I really hope things get better on your end.

EY: I hope so too, his fever isn’t breaking yet, I might be here much longer than New Year’s…

EY: There should be a ton of video’s on my YouTube…

EY: Try and get one that //doesn’t// have swearing in it!

LA: No shit, we’re not having her second word be ‘fuck’

LA: I’ll try that

LA: But if you find time and send a random video and I know you're seriously busy but if you do, I'm sure she'd love to hear from you

EY: I’ll try, and maybe the Der Mond video? It’s slow, it might get her to sleep?

LA: Oh my god if it gets her to nap I will miraculously love you even more than I already do

Levi went upstairs with Mila, murmuring to her as he did, searching for the video on his phone. Come on… where are you… Levi clicked on it, letting the ad play, kissing Mila’s nose when the song began playing, the sound filling the room. He slowly swayed with her. “Listen, Mila, it’s Mummy.” Please?

Muh muh! Muh muh! Mila’s cries quieted as she heard Eren’s voice as the song played. She stopped crying, listening to Eren’s voice, his head ducking against Levi’s shirt as he swayed. Mila was obviously tired as she listened, her whimpers quiet from being thirsty and her throat sore from crying and screaming.

Levi could hear the hoarseness of her whimpers, gently setting her in her crib with the song playing. “I'll be right back, Mila, don't you worry.” Levi ran off downstairs, getting the bottle he’d been trying to get her to drink from, coming back upstairs with it. He lifted her again from the crib, sighing with relief as she accepted it tiredly but without protest. Thank fuck, she’s drinking it…

Mila raised her arms up to hold onto the bottle as Levi fed it to her, her eyes closing after she sucked down the entire bottle. The song on repeat steadily calmed her down. Muh muh… Muh muh hul…

Levi sighed, setting the empty bottle down. One is enough for now. He burped her, still slowly swaying with her as the song played. He was relieved as she fell asleep, wiped out from her day-long tantrum, waiting a while before laying her in her crib with her stuffed puppy. He left the room, breathing a huge sigh of relief as he listened to the quiet house. Oh god... sweet, sweet silence....
Mila was only asleep for two hours before the crying started once again. Though this time it was mostly due to the full diaper she had and how thirsty she was. “Muhmuh!... Muhmuh!” Mila repeated the word, wanting Eren to come and pick her up. Muhmuh hul!

Levi was quick to come upstairs with another bottle, having one at the ready for when she woke up. He saw her in the crib, picking her up and quickly realizing her diaper was full. Oh my. “I’m sorry Mila, Mumma isn’t here right now… let me change your diaper and give you a drink, okay? We can listen to Mumma too.” Levi set his phone down on speaker, quickly turning on a playlist of music from Eren he’d put together, knowing it would come in handy. He set her on the changing table, glad that her cries quieted again when she heard his voice. Thank god he has so many videos up…

Mila let Levi clean her up, looking up to him as his brows furrowed in concentration. Muhmuh? She reached for her toes, grabbing them, making it a bit difficult for Levi to clean her up, but she giggled as she heard Eren. Although, the joy fell as the music stopped from the incoming skype call. Her eyes closed almost immediately and her tears formed quickly. Wah muhmuh …

Levi’s eyes widened as he saw the call incoming, immediately accepting it when he saw the name, propping the phone up. “Eren! Eren, I’m just cleaning Mila up, I’m so glad you called.” She’s about to have a meltdown ….

Eren was holding the phone to his face looking as Mila turned to look at him. He waved to her, smiling. “Hi Mila. How’s my baby doing? Are you being a good girl?” I know you weren’t happy today…

Mila’s eyes widened as she reached for the phone, looking behind it for Eren, expecting him to be there. “Muhmuh?” Her tone was questioning as she tried to touch Eren’s face.

Levi finished getting her dressed, picking her and the phone up to sit on the bed with her in his lap. Levi smiled softly, bouncing her with his leg. “It’s Mumma, Mila.” Levi looked up to Eren, shaking his head. It’s been a goddamned nightmare but we love her anyway.

Mila’s smile had returned as she saw Eren, reaching out to try and touch the screen. “Muhmuh… Muhmuh.” She held both of her arms out towards the phone, as if Eren could reach through it and hold her like she wanted him to do. Muhmuh hul…

Levi gave her a small smile. “Eren can’t pick you up, Mila…. it's him, but it’s a video.” He tapped one part of the screen, the surface flat. “I'm sorry Honey….” Please don't cry.

Mila was confused as he spoke, looking up to Levi with confusion and holding her arms out for Eren still. Mu mhuh hul… Her arms waved for him to pick her up, wanting to be held by him.

“I’m sorry honey, I’m not there…. I’m sorry baby…” Eren’s heart hurt as he watched her try and grab for him, and want him to hold her. Awe… She really misses me… I can only imagine how much…

Levi shifted Mila a bit, his arm solidly wound around her. “I'm sorry Honey… Eren will be home soon though. And when he’s home he’ll scoop you right up and he’ll hold you as long as you want, m’kay? Mumma misses you too, you know.” Levi kissed her temple, gently bouncing her. Please don't be upset that he can't hold you….

Mila was quiet for the rest of the skype call, falling asleep to Eren’s voice, and didn’t wake up when Levi set her down in the crib. Mu mhuh...

Eren sighed in relief as she fell asleep. “Are you holding up alright?” I can only imagine that I’ll be here for awhile. Vatri’s gotten worse since I got here...

Levi gently kissed Mila’s forehead before setting her in the crib, sighing when he took the phone with him to the nook. “Just barely… I get the feeling she’ll wake up screeching for you again…. she misses you a lot…” She doesn't know how to deal with not having you around…. she wants you to be here… “Did you know she stood up on her own yesterday? She looked so happy when Nene and I helped her take her first steps…. and she looked so upset when Jake was there to watch… but Mumma wasn't.”…. she's growing up… and she wants you to be there when she does...

“She stood up on her own?” Eren sounded surprised and his face showed both how tired and how happy he was. “That’s great to hear… You and Dad are gonna have to baby proof the house, especially with Mom expecting twins too…” Oh my gosh, we’re gonna have so many small children running around soon… Ah, my heart … “Vatri’s fever isn’t breaking and it doesn’t appear the antibiotics are working… So their gonna try giving him a different one…” He needs to get better… He needs to…

Levi nodded, smiling faintly. “Yeah, we have to make sure everything is set up so they don't run into everything and break things…. we need to get playpen fencing… it'll keep them corralled until they learn how to climb over it…” And they'll learn. Eventually, they will. “We’re gonna have lots of tiny humans running around soon… …I really hope things get better for him. He’ll get better. It might take time, but something will work enough to break his fever and get him better.” Something Eren nodded and rubbed at his eyes, trying to hide the tears that formed. “I’m sorry… I know it’s only 9 there… But it’s like four in the morning here… I need to wake up in an hour…” Shit… I can’t believe I’ve barely got time to sleep at this point… Or eat… I don’t remember when the last time I ate was…

Levi’s eyes widened, sputtering. “Eren, you need to sleep! You're not gonna be any use over there if you're dead on your feet. Hannes has people over there helping take care of the horses, right? Let them work and sleep for at least three or four hours… or sleep in the hospital room so you're there for Hannes if something changes. But you need to sleep. If you keep this up I will personally fly over there with Mila and smack you upside the head, then force you to sleep. Take care of yourself.” Please.

“I know… I know… I just, I came home at 10, and then at 11 they called me that they needed to drain his lungs again, so I went back and I just… He’s so pale… He looks like he’s not gonna make it…” Eren sniffled as he rubbed at his face. I need to sleep… maybe if I cry myself to sleep I’ll be able to actually sleep and not worry he’s gonna die on me…

Levi’s features softened, his voice gentle. Fuck… why can't I be there? You need a hug… and moral support… “Eren, don't say that. Hannes is gonna be okay. He has very qualified doctors looking after him and monitoring him. They're not gonna let pneumonia take him- trust me. He'll be okay. It could take time, and plenty of it, but he'll be okay.”……..I should be there with you… you shouldn't do this alone.
Chapter 113: German Living

…..hell hath no more fury than a baby upset. Levi cradled Mila to his chest, waiting for the taxi to drive them to the hospital, the driver not very talkative, which he was grateful for. The day after that Skype call Mila woke up as a screaming terror again and we just couldn't take it. I practically had Eren’s music playing nonstop of shuffle for her to keep her from crying and screaming herself hoarse. I applied her for a passport that day so we could go and see Eren… we were lucky it got here so fast. It’d been four weeks before it came in the mail, and I can understand that, given she’s a tiny baby who can’t really commit any crimes. Getting her through customs was easy… and the plane ride would’ve been a lot worse if she didn’t have her over-ear headphones on. They’re the fancy noise-cancelling ones, but she cried when her ears popped… and I can understand that. Your ears hurt like a bitch after ascending and descending… but it went okay. She slept a lot of the ride and if she wasn’t sleeping she was content to let me play with her and her puppy. She’s still teething… that’s a thing. I just… it could’ve been worse. And I’m glad it's over because she can stop missing Eren so much now. Hannes is…. he's alive. But he's still in bad shape. But we’re hoping. Levi thanked the man when he was dropped off, thankful that he got his luggage out of the trunk for him, wheeling it inside after paying him, Mila in the other arm with a duffle bag on his shoulder.

We have enough to last us for a few weeks… and I’m really glad that my leg is strong enough to let me carry so much at once… I only barely felt the strain in the airport. It's like… kinda like normal. Levi found getting directions to Hannes’ room was rather easy, signing in and walking down the hall, Mila staring with wide eyes around the wing. He smiled faintly when he saw the room number, knocking quietly. He heard a weak ‘come in,’ opening the door and nudging it open with his foot, coming inside and stopping short as he took in the room. Hannes looked grumpy and pale as he looked to the door before he recognized Levi, Eren looking extremely tired as he slumped over the end of the bed, as pale if not paler than Hannes. Oh my god. <“Hey, thought we’d come say hello.”> Levi moved the luggage and duffle bag against the wall, coming up to Eren when he lifted his head, feeling his head spin as he sat up.

Fuck… Mila’s gonna want me to hold her… He didn’t realize he let out a groan as he sat back, reaching his arms out towards his over excited daughter as she moved all around in Levi’s arms wanting Eren to hold her. “This is gonna be confusing for her, one moment it will be English, then the next will be German…” He murmured, not even realizing how badly his arms were shaking as he held his arms out for her. I wanna hold my daughter… But I don’t know how long I’ll be able to with how dizzy I am, as long as I sit back in the chair I should be fine…

Levi looked at his state warily, shifting Mila as she squirmed. You don’t look too good…. like you’d drop her… “Here.” Levi moved to sit next to Eren, giving him Mila and tugging them both into his lap, making sure they were secure. Here… you won’t fall or drop her now. He smiled as Mila clung to Eren, her face bright as she giggled uncontrollably.

Eren smiled as Mila giggled, leaning down to peck her forehead as she held onto him. “When did you land?” His voice was ragged as he leaned his head against Levi. I’m exhausted… I stayed here last night…

“Muhmuh! Muhmuh!” Mila babbled happily as she clung to Eren’s shirt, a huge smile on her face. Muhmuh hu!

Levi held them both close, nuzzling into Eren’s neck. “We landed maybe two hours ago… we came straight here from the airport. …Eren, I'm sorry, but you look terrible … have you been eating?” Levi sounded legitimately worried, feeling Eren’s side. You’re thinner…

Eren’s eyes were half way closed already. “I-I think I ate some toast….” I’m not sure what morning that was anymore, they all blur together now…. “You could’ve told me you were coming…” He murmured, nuzzling his head against Levi’s shoulder. He didn’t mind Mila between them, holding onto his shirt and playing with the buttons. I’m exhausted… I don’t know what the last time I slept was…

Levi looked worried, keeping him from falling as Eren fell asleep, keeping Mila from squirming out of their laps. He turned after he heard a cough, giving Hannes a sheepish look. < “It's good to see you again Hannes. Holding up somewhat?”> You look like the embodiment of death, but I can't exactly tell you that.

< “Why can’t they just give me the good drugs and let me go home? I wanna get back to my horses, I’ve been in this place for too damn long.”> The older man spoke a bit harshly, obviously annoyed with the amount of time he’d spent here. I wanna go home! Eren’s barely getting sleep because he’s worried, and I don’t want him to worry so much… I keep trying to get him to eat too and made sure the nurses forced him to eat the other day…

Levi chuckled, shrugging one shoulder. <“I’m sure if they had a miracle drug to give you, they would. And Eren’s been taking good care of your horses. You’ll be able to go home eventually and take care of all of them. It sucks being stuck here… believe me, I've had my own share of living in hospitals….”> Yeah… not fun. <“Do you know if Eren’s been eating or sleeping at all? He looks like death and I'm worried…”> He's probably been too worried about you and your horses to worry about food or sleep….

< “I’m not sure, I can’t stay awake much longer than two hours at a time… I know he’s been here this whole week, and he’s had a barn hand come and bring him clothes, as well as updates on the horses…. I know he’s worried… I know that's why he rushed here, but I fear it's taking its toll on him.”> Hannes had to pause a few times to cough, his body shaking but not as badly as it had early in the morning. My fever hasn’t really gone away either… So he’s really stressing…
Levi nodded, looking worried for the both of them, looking to Eren again. The man was pale as a ghost, the circles under his eyes painfully dark. He's so exhausted... <"He looks so tired…"> He needs a break... Levi sighed, not knowing what to do for the moment, especially when Mila started squirming even more. Levi tried to calm her, tugging her close to his chest. He shook Eren awake, his perch on the bed delicate. “Eren, you're about to fall. Come on.” Levi helped Eren ease down to sit on the floor, Mila immediately getting to her feet when she was set down, slowly walking over to the side of Hannes’ bed, tugging on the sheet. “Mila, that's not for you.” Levi reached for her, trying to get her attention from where he was stuck on the floor, Eren’s head in his lap. Don't crash into anything... Hannes... help...,

Hannes looked down to Mila, slowly moving his hands to her shoulders and catching her. <"Gotcha!”> I see she’s already started to really walk. He shifted enough to pull her up into the hospital bed with him and made sure that she didn’t tangle her with wires. <"Hello Mila.”> Are you adorable....

Levi smiled faintly as Hannes caught Mila, seeing the toddler look at him with confusion. <"We haven't taught her any German yet. She’s barely said ‘Mumma.’ Doesn't mean she doesn't like you anyway.”> Levi smirked as Mila grabbed at Hannes’ nose, the man making a face at her. This is too adorable....

<"Ah, well, I remember when Eren was this small…. He was adorable, but a little devil, you'll have to watch where she is in the house when you guys go back, she’ll disappear in an instant…”> Believe me, I turned my back on Eren for not even a minute and he was gone, out the doggie door and into the barn already by that point... Running into everything ...

Levi chuckled, nodding. < “Oh I know, once she learned to walk by herself she’s been running everywhere. We’re lucky that the dogs all love her and herd her away from dangerous places- she almost ran and fell down the stairs already, she managed to get out of her crib somehow… Nene woke up and blocked her way; she got lucky. But I've been keeping an eye on her a lot lately.”> She's an energetic little thing....

<“Ah I see, she’s a little escape artist like her father… I swear, once Eren got to walking on his two feet at 8 months old, he escaped the crib almost on the daily, we had to practically lock him into it at one point and he still managed to escape.”> The escapist genes have been passed down I see. He chuckled as Mila played with his nose, unsure of what to make of his words. She still doesn't know what the hell I’m saying... <"So if she gonna learn German first? Or English?”> I would imagine Eren wanting her to be fluent as well.

< “English first… but she’s surely going to be learning German too… once she has an okay grip on some English we’ll start talking to her in German too.”> Levi explained, petting Eren’s hair, chuckling as he thought about a tiny Eren escaping his crib and causing havoc. That's adorable...
Hannes nodded, giving Mila a finger to play with, making sure she didn’t pull at the cords he was attached to. <“That’s good, and I assume you’ll teach her sign language and French as well?”> I remember someone saying something about people being fluent in your house.... <“Are you still living with Eren’s parents?”> His voice quiet as he saw Levi brushing Eren’s hair back. They’re adorable...

Levi glanced up at that, nodding. <“We still are, yeah… I think Eren wanted to have a house built a ways down the road… but I don't know. I wouldn't staying… and it's not like we’re… what's the word, mooching off of them? We help pay the bills… and I think they're glad we help keep the foster kids they have out of trouble…”> Levi faintly smiled. <“But I think we’d both like a place of our own… somewhere that's just ours. ...she’ll probably learn sign language… French…..”> Levi hesitated, thinking. <“Mom and Dad are both fluent, and a lot of their friends are… as am I…. but I don't think that'll be one she’ll learn. We have to be able to talk without her understanding somehow. We need to keep our secrets.”> Levi smirked as Hannes chuckled, sighing deeply. I don't know what we’re gonna do about housing… ....I'd kinda like to have our own place...

Hannes nodded, gently bouncing Mila as she whined a bit, trying to figure out why the hospital gown felt weird. He chuckled, giving her back his finger, which she took. <“Wait until Eren puts her on one of your horses… I hope she’ll be just as good a rider as him…”> She'll just wanna be around the horses all the time... <“And keep an eye on the doggy doors if you guys have any, Eren used them as escape routes to get to the barn…”> That was a nightmare trying to figure out how he got outside so quickly, especially when he couldn’t reach the door knob...

Levi chuckled, imagining the scene. <“I get the feeling as soon as she sees one of the dogs doing it she’ll start doing it too… that'll be fun panicking about where she went...and I’m sure Eren would love to put her on a horse as soon as possible. If she's anything like him, she’ll fall in love instantly.”> Eren loves horses... I'm sure Mila will too.

<“Knowing Eren he’s gonna put her on Charlie before you guys leave. I can see it happening alread-”> Hannes was cut off due to a coughing fit, holding Mila with one arm, while coughing into the other. Damn, my throat hurts. <“Why don’t you take Eren back to my home? Take your luggage with you… I can watch Mila for you until you come back.”> Eren’s keys are in his pocket, and you’ll be fine, we drive on the same side of the road as you...

Levi looked unsure for a moment, looking back to Eren, carding a hand through his hair again. He needs rest... and you'll take care of Mila... Levi begrudgingly nodded, giving the man a grateful look. <“Okay, I'll get him home and in bed... and I'll be back for Mila... and I'll probably stay until Eren calls and demands to know how he got home and to come back.”> Levi smirked. It'll happen.
Directions to my house are rather simple… When you pull out of the parking lot, make a left, then keep going until you see a sign for Bavarian Warmbloods Stables… It’s on the right…”

Pretty easy to get to and the horses’ll be out in the pastures by then…

Simple. <“Alright, thank you… I’ll try not to leave you with her alone too long in case she gets fussy… and I’ll make sure Eren’s taken care of.”> Levi shifted, feeling in Eren’s pockets for car keys, pulling them out. <“I’ll figure out which car is yours. I’ll see you in a little while.”> Levi scooped Eren up off the floor, taking him from the room and down the hall, his weight not bothering him much. You’re lighter than I remember… Levi managed miraculously to get Eren in the truck and home, settling him into the room that had Eren’s clothes and hoodies strewn about. He took off his shoes before laying him down, tucking him in. He left a note on the side table and kissed his head before leaving again, not wanting to leave Hannes in charge of Mila for too long. She can get fussy… and she’ll probably want to walk around some, play a bit…

Hannes wasn’t in the room by the time Levi came back, nor was Mila. The two of them in a break room with the nurses as they gushed over Mila, who seemed to enjoy the attention. Hannes couldn’t help showing off his granddaughter of sorts and he was proud that she wasn’t fussy at all. She’s a good kid, and she’ll keep Eren on his toes, which is good. The kid deserves it after how much he made me panic over him…

Levi looked around for them, taking the duffel bag with Mila’s things as he hunted for them, eventually having to go to the front desk and talk to one of the nurses. <“Uhm, excuse me? I'm looking for Hannes, he's not in his room…”> He kinda has my daughter, so…

<“Oh he’s the one with the baby right?”> She watched as Levi nodded and she led him towards the large break room and where one of the nurses was holding Mila while Hannes watched in a wheelchair. <“She’s your’s right? She’s very cute.”> The nurse let him into the room as Mila was passed to another nurse, her grip still on her toy. Muhmuh? Muhmuh?

Levi saw Hannes’ proud expression as the nurses all cooed over the little girl, Mila looking around at all of them, her expression a bit confused, but happy with the attention. Levi felt a surge of protectiveness that startled him, taking a step forward to get her before catching himself. It’s not like they’re gonna hurt her, she’s fine…. She’s fine. Levi breathed an internal sigh of relief when the last nurse in the break room handed her back, holding her close. He smiled faintly as Mila gripped his shirt. She’s had her fill of attention I guess… she’s her own little celebrity I suppose.

Mila whimpered when she was in Levi’s arms. “Muhmuh? Muhmuh h-hul…” Muhmuh! Her eyes looked sad as she looked around the room without seeing Eren again. Muhmuh!

Levi’s features softened, giving her forehead a kiss. “Mumma is sleeping at Hannes’ house… he’s really tired. Mumma will hold you when he’s awake and rested, okay? He needs his sleep.” Levi gently bounced her, hoping she didn't cry. Please don't cry… I shouldn't go home with you and leave you alone with a comatose Eren….

Hannes watched as Mila asked for Eren again, starting her small cries as she buried her face into Levi’s shirt. Oh no… She wants Eren…<“Levi, you can take her to the house and go sleep too, I can sleep while you guys are gone. I’ll be fine, and they’ll call Eren if anything goes wrong…”>

I’ll be fine, you probably would want to sleep too. I know Eren was in the air for a long time, but were you?

Levi sighed, giving him a grateful look. <“Thanks… I could use the rest, and Mila really wants Eren… I’ll grab my bag from the room and go then. We’ll see you again later, Hannes.”> Levi left and headed for the room, bouncing Mila, trying to calm her with his murmurs. “We’re gonna go see Mumma now, Honey, okay?” He grabbed his suitcase, heading for the truck and driving home. It wasn't that much longer before Levi was slipping into bed with Eren, settling Mila on Eren’s chest as he laid flat on his back. Levi slung one leg over Eren’s, hanging onto both of them. Mila quieted as she was set on Eren, settling in and soon falling asleep with the both of them. I could use a good nap….

Mila woke up after a few hours as she’d slept mostly on the plane. She still felt Levi’s arms around her back, slowly crawling up Eren’s chest and staring at his face. She poked him, as if trying to see if he would wake up, doing the same for Levi when Eren didn’t budge. When she got out of Levi’s hold she made her way to the floor where Mikhail laid. She walked over to him petting him ‘gently’ as Levi had taught her to do. “Dahgie.” She murmured quietly as she pet Mikhail who stayed still for her. Dahgie!

Levi stirred as he heard a sound, picking his head up and thinking. Huh…? What’s… Levi suddenly realized Mila was absent, sitting up and looking around for her, seeing her petting Mikhail on the floor. She's okay… “Mila?” Levi got up from the bed, stretching and ambling around to get her. He was surprised when she didn't come to his open arms, instead running around him and out the door. ....huh?

Mila followed Mikhail through the doggie door in the front and followed him towards one of the fences. She was fast as she followed the dog around, giggling the whole time. Soon enough she dropped to her knees to follow Mikhail out into one of the pastures. Dahgie! Peh dahgie!

What!? Levi ran after her, watching her use the doggy door with shocked eyes, unlocking the door and barely remembering to close it before he was running barefoot after Mila. “Honey, come back! You don't even have shoes on!” Levi reached one of the fences, easily hopping over it and running after them, whistling for Mikhail. Come on, get back here! How are your tiny legs going that fast!?

Mikhail stopped and came back coming into a clearing where he could be seen by Levi…… But Mila wasn’t with him, and she was shorter than the tall grass she was running through. She giggled as she was headed towards the tall horses in the pasture at the other end, already they noticed something in the grass and we're starting to get spooked. Peh dahgie!

Levi was close to panicking as he heard Mila’s giggles still moving away from him, looking at Mikhail as he followed him. “Mikhail, get Mila.” Levi didn't stop running, grateful when Mikhail peeled ahead of him and into the tall grass. Where is she!? Levi heard a soft umph and the piercing whinny of a spooked horse, watching it rear up high before trotting away, his heart stopping as he heard a loud wail. Fuck, did she get stepped on!? Levi found her in the grass, Mikhail licking her cheek as she cried, on her back and stuck in the grass. She just fell over... Levi heaved her up into his arms, holding her close to his chest. “Oh my god, Mila, you're okay… oh I'm so glad you're okay…” Levi pressed kisses all over her cheeks, starting back for the house. “Don't you ever scare me like that again…” Please… no more heart attacks....

Mila still cried as she was picked up though she quieted as one of the horses came over to them curiously. “Dahgie…” She held her hand out stretched towards the horse, thinking it an oversized dog. She sniffled, quickly forgetting the tears she shed. Peh Dahgie!

Levi turned as the horse approached, smiling faintly as she spoke. “This isn't a doggie… it's a horsie.” Levi reached for the horse as it came close, gently petting it’s face. He moved them to pet their neck, the horse chill with them. “See? Horsie.” He kissed her cheek when Mila reached to pet them, a look of wonder in her eyes. It's a big horse. Lots bigger than you.

“Dahgie?” She asked questioningly, looking up to Levi as she reached to pet the coarse hair with two hands, which quickly became dirty due to the horse having been outside and rolling around recently. Mila flinched as the horse tossed it head as it sneezed, causing her to tense up in Levi’s hold from the sudden movement. Dahgie?

Levi held her close, chuckling as she looked scared when the horse sneezed. “The horsie just sneezed, Honey. They're fine. You're okay.” Levi petted them again, looking to her. “Horsie. Can you say horsie?” You've got two so far… make it three....

“Peh dahgie.” Mila continued to pet the horse, giggling as it turned it’s head and sniffed near her ears, letting out a sharp squeal of joy. Dahgie!

Levi chuckled, holding her close. “Pet horsie. This is a horsie, Hon. That's a doggie.” Levi pointed to Mikhail. “This is horsie.” Levi pointed to the horse sniffing her. “Horsie.” It's a horsie. If it's not, then damn that's a big dog.
Mila just stared blankly at Levi for a few moments before grabbing his shirt with her dirty hands. “Muhmuh…” Muhmuh? Peh dahgie?

…..Mumma, doggie, and pet. …..close enough. Levi made a face as she left dirty handprints on his shirt, giving her nose a kiss anyway. “Okay, let’s go get your hands washed and see Mumma, okay?” Levi walked them back to the house, carefully getting them over the fence and to the home. He went right to the sink, washing their hands and going to change her out of her dirty clothes, as well as changing his own shirt. Don’t want dirt everywhere… Levi set the dirty clothes neatly aside, making sure the door was closed so Mila couldn’t run off, picking her back up and going over to where Eren was still knocked out, settling back in the bed with Mila between them. ….I have my own family now. ….I love you two….

Mila crawled up onto Levi’s chest, gripping at the fabric of his shirt with interest. She started to drool a bit as she was intent at gripping the fabric letting it go flat and then gripping and pulling it again. …. Huh? She seemed to be amazed as she let go of the shirt and watched it flatten out against Levi’s chest.

Levi smirked as she played with his shirt, the sport mesh quick to snap back against his chest. Mhm. My shirt does that. Levi was happy to let her play with his shirt, his head heavy on the pillow. I’m still so tired… but you’re awake, and god knows you need supervision. … unless we lock the door. Levi got up with her, going to do just that before laying back down. Better.

Mila continued to grab at Levi’s shirt, watching it snap back into place quickly. She watched with fascination for awhile, staying quiet as both of her parents slept. Soon enough she started to look around the room for anything of interest. Muhmuh?

Levi slept soundly with Mila on his chest, Eren and Levi shifting closer to each other in their sleep. Levi blinked awake when he heard sniffling, Mila trying to get his attention as she cried. Huh? He looked to the time, understanding. “Hungry?” He picked her up, going to get the baby food from her bag, taking her to the kitchen. She stayed mostly still as he fed her, wiping her mouth clean when she was full, going to play with her in the living room, feeling well rested. She’s too cute…. After a while Mila was happy to drape herself over Mikhail, a teething ring in her mouth and her hands buried in his fur.

Eren blinked awake as he heard giggling, feeling how stiff his body was as he tried to shift, looking around the room in confusion. When the hell did I get home….?…… Hannes! Eren instantly bolted upright and noticed his shoes were off, quickly slipping them on and patting himself down for his key. Keys… Keys… Where are my keys?

Levi heard hurried footsteps in the bedroom, scooping Mila up and going to the bedroom, Eren rushing out just as he reached it, nearly crashing into him. “Eren, whoa!” Levi rested a hand on his shoulder, seeing the frantic look in his eyes. “It’s-”

“Where are my keys?!” Eren asked, freaking out a bit. *I need to get back to Vatri… I need to know he’s okay, how the fuck did I even get here?!

“Eren, I have them, it’s okay-” Levi paused as he heard Mila whimper, looking down to see her teary eyes. *Oh no… “Nonono not you Mila… you’re perfect, it’s okay.” Levi kissed her head, looking up to Eren again as he bounced her, wanting to keep her crying at bay. “Eren, at least eat something before we go back to the hospital. Hannes told me to take you home and let you sleep. You looked like death and if you can’t even remember when you last ate then there’s a problem.” You need to eat.

Eren looked at Levi with confusion. “Levi… I need to go to Vatri! He’s in the hospital, I need to make sure he’s alright!” I need to! He was getting slightly agitated, not really noticing how loudly his stomach growled. I don’t care if I can’t eat...

Levi sighed, going to get Mila’s things together. “Let me get Mila’s stuff packed and I’ll drive us. Here.” Levi handed Eren his daughter, not listening to his momentary protest before going back to packing. *Just hold the baby and let me pack.

Eren held Mila to his chest, gently bouncing her in his arms. “Has Mila eaten?” I hope she did… It’s after lunchtime for her… But I’m not sure cause her internal clock is all screwed up now. He winced as he heard his stomach growl which of course startled Mila and she started to whimper, close to crying. “No baby, shhh… Mumma’s got you.”

“She ate, I made sure of it. But you obviously haven’t.” Levi slung the duffel bag over his shoulder, coming back over, kissing Mila’s cheek. “Don't worry Honey, Mumma is hungry is all. You're okay.” Levi looked at Eren pointedly. “The instant we get there we’re getting you food, for Mila’s sake if not yours. Scaring her with your stomach isn't that great of a thing.” Nah- don't make her cry please...

Eren nodded, ushering them outside and towards the car. At least she ate… But i still can’t believe you guys came… I could’ve handled this on my own… maybe… He was quiet as he got into the car, getting in the driver’s seat before realizing he didn’t have the keys and reaching an open palm out for them. His eyes didn’t come up to meet Levi’s. Is he mad at me? He sounded kinda angry… But I can’t tell if he’s angry with me or just stressed… It could be either… it could be both… he’s angry with me isn’t he?
Levi fished for the keys, handing them over. He saw the look on his face, leaning over the console, looking up to him. He gently pulled his face down, giving the corner of his lips a soft peck. “I love you, Eren.” I really do."

Eren couldn’t stop the blush that formed on his cheeks. Shit… He smiled but turned away and started the car, heading towards the long driveway to the road. I swear I can’t tell anymore when he gets really angry at me."

Levi was quiet for the short ride, getting Mila out of the back with her carrier and her bag. Levi started walking up to the lobby with Eren, leaning over and kissing his cheek again. Because I can. They went inside, Levi letting Eren speed walk to Hannes’ room. He’s gonna be fine, he looked okay when he showed off his sorta granddaughter. I’m sure a few hours didn't kill him.

Eren got to the door and opened it without knocking, a sigh leaving him in relief. Hannes was laying in his hospital bed, asleep, and his color seemed to have returned to his face. Oh thank god… He’s okay. He smiled, trying not to let tears fall from the slight improvement he had. His color is coming back…. Did his fever break?

Levi came in soon after him, smiling faintly when he saw the pale skin slowly regaining its color. He looks better…. Levi set down the bag as well as Mila for a moment, fishing out a baby carrier. “Now normally I make you carry her around, but since you're about to be eating like a starved wolf…” Levi put the harness on, soon having a little Mila squirming against his chest before making a happy noise at the freedom of her limbs. “Alright-” Levi looked to Eren as he looked ready to burst out laughing, giving him a glare, the effects sharply weakened by the presence of the child on his front. “Something funny?” ......I probably do look ridiculous."

Eren had raised a hand to his mouth to prevent from laughing and waking Hannes. “From head to toe…. She’s almost half the size of you already.” I wonder who’s genes she got for that? Will she be my height? Levi’s height? Between us? Eren couldn’t help but watch as Mila still squirmed against Levi’s chest. It's fucking adorable too…. He pulled out his phone and got about 20 pictures in a few seconds.

Levi glared at the camera, sighing as Eren smiled widely. “...let's go get you food.” Levi shook his head, walking from the room and down the hall, Eren at his side. He glanced over as Eren looked over his shoulder, blankly watching the empty hall in front of them. He gasped as Eren quickly moved and kissed his neck, feeling a flush fight it's way onto his cheeks. <“....You bastard....”> Levi’s voice was faintly breathless, a bit closer to him as they walked. I missed you... I missed having you there...

Eren chuckled, though the sound was quickly covered by the sound of his stomach growling. Holy fuck it’s loud… He covered his stomach with his arms in embarrassment. <“I guess I could eat
Levi smirked, tugging him along. “Yeah, you need to eat. You need to not just take care of Hannes; you're supposed to take care of yourself too. But since you haven't done it on your own, it's become my job to make you.”> Yeah. You've been letting yourself go to shit and it's not good.

Eren nodded as he was tugged along, accepting his fate as Levi led them to the small cafeteria. I don’t know what kind of food they would have here… For all I know it’s macaroni and cheese…

Levi led him inside, looking around. “Alright, Eren, pick something or I'm gonna pick for you.”> Whatever gets food in your stomach fastest.

Eren looked at the few options he had, deciding on a sandwich as well as a yogurt parfait. This I should be able to eat… I hope… He held up his choice for Levi to see he decided before he went to go and pay. I have the German cash, I doubt you do…

Levi nodded in approval, looking around and getting himself some soup. Levi fished in his wallet when he went to pay, pulling out the German printed Euro to Eren’s surprise. I made sure I had cash on me. He paid for the soup, following Eren to a table, looking around and fetching Mila a high chair. I kinda can't eat with you attached to me.

Eren settled down to eat, his stomach grumbling the whole time. Shit, I really don’t remember when the last time I ate was. He shook his head, watching as Mila fought Levi as he tried to put her in the high chair. She doesn’t wanna go in it… She’s used to being on someone’s knee…

Levi sighed as Mila got close to tears, lifting her up and into his lap instead. He made sure she was settled, leaning down, murmuring against her hair. “You're gonna behave if I let you stay in my lap, right?” He heard an unintelligible word, but it sounded happy, so Levi decided to let it go. He started to eat, gently bouncing Mila on his leg. We’re spoiling you rotten...

Eren ate with Levi in the peaceful silence that was only disturbed with Mila’s random babbles as she chewed on a teething toy. <<“So she’s started to walk by herself?”> I still haven’t really seen her walk on her own… God, I’m a horrible parent for not being there for her…

<<“Yeah, she has. She's been running, too. And she’s taking after you. When I woke up earlier today she’d gotten off the bed, pet Mikhail, then run with Mikhail outside through the doggy door and I had to chase after her. She’s turning into a little escape artist.”> Those tiny damn legs move
Eren chuckled a bit and smiled softly. \("\text{Think she’ll have the musical talent to boot?}\)\) I hope she does, she can start early that way... But if she doesn’t I don’t know what to do... \("\text{I hope she never goes through what I went through with either of us or with anyone else}\)\) He took a bite of his sandwich, his eyes solemn. \(\text{No one should ever go through what I went through}\) Levi faintly smiled, setting down his spoon. \("\text{I have a feeling that if you're not the one setting her in front of the piano, Dad will beat you to it. …and she’ll have a good life. We’ll give her lots of love and she’ll be happy and know what a good relationship is. And know how to kick ass if she needs to.}\)\) Levi gently nudged Eren's foot with his own, giving him a reassuring look as he held Mila close, gently pecking her cheek. “Our beautiful little daughter…” I love you.

Eren nodded, chewing as he listened to the buzz around the small cafeteria. \("\text{We’re putting her on a horse tomorrow…}\)\) If Vatri’s fever’s broken then I don’t have to stay for the whole day, just have to visit... I still need to visit Mom...

Levi sighed, shaking his head. \("\text{Of course…. she thinks they're just really big dogs. She wouldn't say horse.}\)\) ……I can kinda understand that, but still. Horses. \("\text{I think she should at least be able to say horse before being allowed to ride one.}\)\) It seems logical....

\("\text{I didn’t really speak for a year after I first got on a horse… I was practically mute until Charlie helped me to open up a bit more… honestly I don’t care, I think you’re just jealous cause she hasn’t called for you yet.}\)\) Eren pointed out, switching over to his parfait. Opening the plastic top and then spooning it into his mouth. Damn it’s good...

Levi frowned, looking down to Mila, speaking in jest. \("\text{What’s the big idea? Do you love him more than me?}\)\) Levi watched Mila look up to him with wide eyes, both of them having a staring contest before she looked away, reaching for Eren across the table. \("\text{I knew it. I'm obsolete.}\)\) Levi gave Eren a weak look, though he couldn't help the tug in his chest. ... she hasn't asked for Daddy yet... ...why not...? \("\text{As long as we’re careful to make sure she doesn't fall off.}\)\) I want her to be okay....

\("\text{You think I’m just gonna let her sit up there by herself? You must be crazy…}\)\) Eren clarified and watched Mila reach out to him, but quickly lost interest as Levi gave her a teething toy. Who knows... maybe she’ll have the attention disorder that I probably had when I was a kid... He shifted a bit as Levi ate his soup. \("\text{She’ll say it soon... don’t worry…}\)\) I believe... she’ll say it soon, we just need to encourage her...
Levi nodded, though the thought still swirled in his head. „I want her to say it soon…. I need to hear it….” “You’d better make sure she doesn’t get killed on one of those horses.” His tone was borderline disinterested, not wanting to give away his growing worry. „maybe she does like him more than me… she’s always pining for him to hold her whenever he can… she has favorites…

„Would you prefer to come on the trails with us? I’m sure we can find you a horse to ride.” You haven’t really ridden by yourself in a long time… He watched Mila giggle and hold up the toy to Levi as if showing off an accomplishment. The toy a bit bloody from having her tooth finally come through her gum. Did she just get another one in?

Levi looked to the ring, his eyes wide as he saw the blood. “Oh my…” He reached into his pocket, wiping off the toy with tissues and looking in her mouth, seeing a tooth just beginning to peek out from her gums. “Yep, there’s one more. Another teeny tooth.” Levi gently dabbed at her gum with the tissue as the bleeding slowed, looking proud of her. “You’re growing up right under our noses, Mila. Soon you’ll have lots and lots of teeny teeth.” Levi kissed her nose, watching her smile. She’s so adorable...

Eren smiled scooping up another bite of parfait, watching a few nurses walk in and get snacks and then walk back out again. I need to talk with Vatri’s doctor to see how he’s doing. He smiled as Mila tried to grab the toy from Levi’s grasp. “She still wants to chew it through…. Maybe there’s another one coming in?” I can’t tell but it seems like they’re all coming in soon.

Levi sighed, giving it back to her. “Maybe… she’s been teething like it’s going out of style.” Levi watched her continue chewing on the ring, picking up his spoon again. “....and I’d appreciate having my own horse… I need to keep an eye on you two.” I don’t want anything happening to my little girl. Levi’s voice tried to keep his thoughts hidden, seeming a bit playful at most.

“You’re almost as protective as Dad at this point…” Eren chuckled as he watched Mila gurgle. She’s so freaking adorable… I love her… I love them both. “So has she calmed down since you got here? I know I haven’t really held her much since you’ve gotten here….” She was so adamant about me that you came here… but now she just wants Levi to hold her aside from a few occasions…

“Eren, she wouldn’t stop literally screeching for hours and hours while you were gone. By day five we were going insane and I was sure she would scream her vocal chords out. She’s so much better… she missed you so damn much….” Levi gave him a pointed look. “And is there a problem in the idea that I don’t want Mila trampled by a horse or falling on her head? She’s still really small, Eren.” I’m allowed to be protective of her.

“She’s not gonna get trampled… believe me, I never got trampled when I escaped the house and ran out into the fields… that was always fun, the grass was longer than I was tall, so it always freaked Vatri out when he couldn’t find me… usually he went to where there were a cluster of horses staring at something and it was usually me… And don’t worry, she’ll be sitting in the saddle right in front of me, she’ll be fine.”> I promise she will be. Eren threw the look back at him in challenge. Our daughter will learn to ride… and she will be amazing…

Levi stared at him with a deadpan look. <“....Eren, when she pulled that stunt and ran out into the fields, I couldn’t see her in the grass and neither could the horses. She ran into a horse and spooked it. It reared up high before running off. It scared the shit out of me when she cried and I thought she'd gotten stepped on. She just fell over. Eren, I was fucking scared. So excuse me for being protective.”> Levi couldn’t help himself as he snapped at Eren, feeling a deep worry painfully tug in his chest. I want her to be okay…. I really do....

Eren stopped, looking down as Levi snapped at him, quietly apologizing and knowing not to press further on the subject. I’ll let you take care of her. <“If you don’t think I should… I-I won’t…”> I can understand where you’re coming from especially with that… He looked down at the last bit of yogurt in his cup, scooping it out to eat. I shouldn’t have pushed the topic… Shit, Levi’s probably mad that I want her on a horse so soon…

Levi looked over him as Eren looked down, regretting what he’d said. <“I didn't... I didn't mean that…. I'm just worried about her because she scared the shit out of me just earlier today and I want her to be okay. But I know you'll keep her safe…. of course you will. She's your own daughter… and you're such a good rider…. I shouldn't have said it like that... I'm sorry.”> I'm just worried about her.

Eren shook his head, getting up and taking care of their trash, feeling fuller than he had since he’d gotten there. You’re worried, I understand... I put Vatri through the same shit, so I can only imagine what she’ll do when we get home. <“Let’s go see if Vatri’s up, shall we?”> Eren’s voice a bit quiet and timid, trying to change the subject. I won’t do it, you’re worried about her... I can wait...

Levi nodded, scooping Mila back up into her harness and going to throw out his empty paper cup. He followed Eren back down the hall, very aware of the tension that hung in the air between them. He stopped them when they were out of sight of anyone, moving to catch Eren’s jaw and softly kiss him. I'm sorry.... Levi pulled away, not knowing what to say, and looking away, his cheeks pink from embarrassment and shame.

Eren stood stunned for a moment before he raised a hand to gently touch his lips. <“Did you just....?”> He trailed off as he followed Levi towards Hannes’s room. I hope his fever is broken… I hope he’s awake too, but at least if he’s not he’s getting rest… Eren was thankful that Hannes was up, and speaking with his doctor when they arrived. Okay, good I can talk with him about Vatri’s health then. He followed the doctor out of the room leaving Levi and Mila with Hannes. They’ll be fine...
Chapter 114: Brawl

Levi came in with Mila, letting Eren and the doctor leave to talk. Levi sat down with Mila, letting her out of the Cartier when her grabby hands reached for Hannes, bored of the noirette handling her at the moment. <“You're looking better, Hannes.”> He was- color was returning to his face, and he looked a bit less grumpy. He looked even better when his hands were full of Mila, smiling.

<“My fever finally broke…”> Hannes answered simply and he gave Mila his fingers to inspect. <“Why did Eren look upset?!”> He hasn’t figured out he can’t hide anything from me… But from you apparently he can…

Levi looked down a bit, sighing. <“I kinda snapped at him over lunch…. he wants Mila on a horse soon and I'm worried about her getting hurt… just today when she got out the doggy door and into the fields she crashed into a horse and they got spooked….. they reared up so high and just ran off…. I was terrified she'd get trampled… I'm scared that she’ll manage to get stepped on or fall off… and I got kinda defensive when Eren told me I was being too protective…”> I don’t want to make him upset…. <“I didn't mean to sound so harsh…. but it happened anyway….”>

Hannes nodded, understanding for the moment. <“He’s never taken well to being yelled at or even really chastised… But you’ll learn, and he needs to too. You both need to be able to tell when you can no longer push buttons, and that eventually it’ll set someone off.”> Every couple goes through difficult times and problems… You're no exception.

Levi nodded, looked away again. I just don't want him to hurt so much whenever I accidentally lose my temper…. and Mila’s barely two….. I don't want her hurt.... she's so small… I want her to be okay.... I have the right to be overprotective as hell. <“I'll try to be careful.”> Levi didn't know what else to say, pointedly looking at the floor.

<“Be careful about what?”> Eren’s voice was small as he came back into the hospital room. Vatri’s got ahold of Mila again, I wonder if she didn’t want Levi holding her? He glanced at Vatri as he raised a hand and shook his head, Eren nodding and dropping the question in just a few seconds. He walked to the opposite side of Hannes from Levi, sitting down on a stool. <“Your fever broke, which is a good sign but you'll at least be staying until the end of the week.”> You’ll be able to go home soon.

Levi looked up, a smile tugging at his lips, keeping a rather neutral expression. <“That's good to hear. You won't be stuck here much longer.”> It's quite obvious you hate it here.

Hannes seemed relieved, bouncing Mila a bit as she giggled. His eyes widened when he heard her “Vadi….”

She said my name… Well, at least tried to call me what Eren calls me. <“Yes, that's me… I’m Vatri…”> He beamed as she giggled more and started to repeat it over and over again.

Levi watched with wide eyes as Mila spoke. She learned to say Vatri… And she's known him for two days. I'm her fucking father… Levi could feel jealously swirl in his head, one hand clenching and unclenching from a fist before he caught himself, hanging onto the edge of the chair with a white knuckles grip and looking on. .....doesn't she give a damn about me…?

Eren looked surprised as Mila started to call Hannes Vatri as well. Oh geez…. He glanced over to Levi, looking down as he saw him gripping the chair. He’s gotta be mad…. Probably because Mila hasn’t called for him yet…. Shit, it’s my fault isn’t it?.... I kept saying Vatri this and Vatri that.... Eren kept his face towards the floor as he curled up into the chair across the bed from Levi. He swallowed hard, watching as Vatri settled Mila down so he could cough.

Levi looked up, watching Eren curl into himself, seeing his guilty look. .....is he still upset from when I snapped at him? Or is it about Mila….? Levi looked away again, needing a moment before he stood from his chair, moving to sit next to Eren, silently leaning his head on his shoulder. .....I don’t know what else to do…. I'm not too sure why you're curled up but I want you to know I'm not mad at you....

Eren watched Levi come over closer to him, letting him lean his head on his shoulder without bothering him. They stayed like that, Mila content to let Hannes hold her while she chewed on her toy. Hmm….. It’s quiet, it’s so unusual… Eren looked up as a nurse came in with some medicine. <“I think it’s time for us to get going for the night, I’ll make sure the horses are taken care of, you get some rest okay?”> Eren smiled when Hannes nodded, leaning over him and giving him a big hug and picking up Mila as the nurse came closer. “You wanna say goodbye?” Eren asked Mila, her eyes blank as she looked up to him before she leaned into his chest. I’ll take that as a no...

Levi faintly smiled as Mila tiredly leaned against Eren, looking to Hannes. <“Sleep well, Hannes.”> Levi picked up Mila’s bag, following Eren to the car. The drive home was short, and Levi set the bag down in the bedroom while Eren went to feed Mila. Levi came back out into the kitchen, wrapping his arms around Eren’s middle and resting his cheek on his shoulder blade, feeling clingy. I’m sorry....

“You wanna feed Mila? I need to go take care of the horses outside…” Eren offered him to take Levi shook his head, just burying himself in his shoulder. “I just wanna hold onto you for a minute……I'm sorry I made you upset……” I didn't mean to… Levi didn't want to let go, one minute stretching to two, three, and past five. I'm sorry….

Eren hummed in response, shifting a bit on his feet but leaning into Levi’s warm chest as he fed Mila the whole jar. Kinda glad I don’t have to burp her anymore, Levi probably won’t let go for awhile. “You know it’s okay… Right?” I’m used to being yelled at, I should just get used to it from you… Shouldn’t I? He turned a bit, pecking Levi’s head, making sure he kept a hand on Mila as she stared at them.

Levi shook his head, still latched onto Eren. “It's not okay, I got upset and snapped at you and didn't even properly apologize… I'm sorry….. I lost my temper and I don't want you to be upset….” Please don't be…. “It's not okay….”

Eren nodded, moving in his arms so he could wrap his arms around Levi as well. “No, it’s okay, I pushed you until you snapped, I should be the one apologizing…. But I get why you don’t want her on a horse. I’m not upset, I don’t want you to think I am.” I might have been while we were there but I think you're right now… I can go out riding later. When the hands are here to help bring everyone inside. “You did nothing wrong, Levi.” He murmured in his ear leaning his cheek against the top of Levi’s head, watching Mila play with her spoon. She’s gonna wanna feed herself soon…

Levi slowly nodded, nestling into Eren’s chest. “….okay…. I still shouldn't have gotten so mad… she's our little girl… I want her to be safe…” She deserves to be safe. Levi slowly relaxed into Eren’s arms, his breathing steadying. I love you… i missed having you to hold on to….

Eren nodded and smiled softly as he kissed Levi’s head again. “Why don’t you go play with her and see if she’ll say Daddy for you? I can go take care of the horses…” Maybe I can get out on the trails before Moritz gets in… His hands drifted up and down Levi’s back, trying to get him to calm down a bit, and relax.

Levi leaned heavily on him, enjoying the contact. His hold on him tightened when Eren moved, catching himself before he whimpered. Don't leave…. Please stay….

Eren sighed softly, holding him closer for a moment. “Don’t worry, I’ll only be out for an hour or two…. I’ll come right back, and you can bond with Mila some more.” You’ll get to hold me all night, I promise you will…

Levi slowly nodded, untangling their limbs and letting Eren go, looking to Mila. “Hey Honey…” Levi lifted Mila from the counter, bringing her into the living room and sitting on the couch with her. He watched her yawn, yawning after a moment as well. “Tired?” He watched her snuggle into his chest, gently playing with her hair. “Honey, can you say ‘Daddy?’” He watched her look up with sleepy and curious eyes. “Daddy?” Please… I wanna hear it…

Mila looked at Levi with curiosity, smiling as she held onto his shirt and giggled. Da! She happily smacked at his chest as he said ‘Daddy,’ knowing that it was him. Da!

Levi smiled faintly. She recognizes the word… I think. “Can you say Daddy, honey? Daddy?” Please? Levi held her close, his eyes quietly pleading.

“….da…..” Mila was quiet as she mumbled it out in a jumble of words. “…da!” She giggled excitedly, hitting against his chest. Da!

Levi smiled, relief filling him. “Da da?”

“Da!” Mila giggled and shifted as if to try and stand on his legs. “Da… Muhmuh…” Da hul…

Levi smiled faintly, though he felt a tug in his chest when she said ‘Muhmuh.’ Does she want him again? The thought immediately left him when she managed to stand on his legs, balancing with her tiny hands in his, catching her as she moved forward and hugged him around his neck, holding her close, hearing her say ‘Da’ over and over. His heart felt full as he held her. I love you….

“Da… Da…. Muhmuh?” She asked quietly and tried to straighten herself out so she was looking into Levi’s eyes. “Muhmuh!” Muhmuh hul! Muhmuh hul!

Levi chuckled, standing with her, listening to her squeal as she dangled for a moment before she was secure against his chest. “Let's go say hi to Mumma, okay?” Levi went to the front door, making sure he had one of her teething rings with before leaving for the barn. It was a long walk, Mila pointing out all the huge doggies as they went. Levi kissed her nose as they stopped at one stall, Mila intent on petting their nose. He continued on when she was happy, rounding a corner, stopping dead in his tracks. Eren was against the wall of a stall, one of the other hands cornering him, seeming very insistent on flirting with him, their hands on the wall, trapping him. What the Levi saw the hand look over at him. “Yeah you fucker, I'm talking to you. What the fuck are you doing with my fiancé?”> Levi walked over to them, his cold glare settling on him. Back the fuck up.

Moritz turned to Levi, a twisted grin on his face. “Oh please, he isn’t taken, Eren’s single, not a ring in sight… So scoot along.”> His face hardened as Eren tried to move away from him. He stepped forward, getting his knee between Eren’s legs pinning him further with both arms and his leg. Oh no, you’re not going to get away from me anymore.

Levi’s eyes widened, seething yet very aware of the tiny child he held. Careful of his cargo, not wanting to set her down where she could run off, he moved and shoved the hand as hard as he could, sending him to the ground and away from Eren. “You son of a bitch, you stay the fuck away from my fiancé. And our daughter.”> He smirked as he looked up with an incredulous expression. “Yeah, he's got a kid. He may not have a ring yet, but that doesn't mean he’s single. So do us both a favor and stay the fuck away from him.”> Get the fuck out of here.

Moritz looked stunned as he was pushed to the ground, quickly getting up and glaring at Levi. “What the fuck? You actually like something about this short fucker?”> He growled at Eren who had hidden from him behind Levi. Though it didn't really work, because of how tall he was. What the fuck? You're fucking gorgeous and you're wasting it on that short stack?

“Enough to agree to marry me. I’d recommend you shut up and go do whatever it is you’re supposed to be doing. Didn't anyone ever teach you to not piss off a soldier?”> Levi wasn't intimidated in the least, turning a bit and giving Mila to Eren, staying in front of them to protect them. Stay the fuck away from my family.

Eren’s eyes widened as he watched Moritz tear off his shirt in challenge as Levi stepped closer to him. “L-Levi…” His voice held complete fear and worry as he held Mila close, taking a fearful step back. He’s just like those men…. All those years ago…

“Eren, get back. Don't let Mila see.” Levi cracked his neck, fixing Moritz with a hard look, watching him carefully as he heard Eren run off behind him. He saw Moritz look desperate as Eren ran off, ready for when he charged at him, fist swinging wildly at him. Levi easily caught it, twisting hard and shoving him to the ground, his elbow and knee digging into his back as he twisted his arm. “Want a do-over and a broken arm, or do you wanna apologize to Eren?”> Have your pick, asshole.

Moritz let out a sharp cry of pain. <“Don’t do it! Don’t break my arm! I need to be able to work dammit!”> He shouted and he struggled underneath Levi. <“What the fuck even are you!? You’re too fucking strong to be human!”> Holy shit! What the hell? I didn’t even stand a chance…
“I warned you not to fuck with a soldier or their family. It's common sense not to shove yourself between the legs of someone’s fiancé, or hell, anyone. It's fucked up. Now are you gonna apologize or do you wanna learn how to pop a shoulder back in its socket by yourself?” Levi’s grip tightened, not beyond making good on his threat. Apologize.

“Alright! Alright! I’m sorry! I’m sorry alright!” He shouted, his loud voice attracting the other hands that were arriving for work. Oh, good maybe I can get them to help. “Lance! Get this fucker off of me!” He pled with the man who came rushing in, though as soon as he saw Levi’s glare he stopped in his tracks. Huh?

Levi gave the hands that came around the corner a look that kept them at a decent distance, looking back to Moritz. “Looks like you're not getting out of the shit you got yourself into. You'd damn well better swear you’re not gonna touch, flirt, or even look at Eren, you hear me?” Levi looked ready to commit murder, his tone icy. “I'm not above permanently fucking up your arm.”

Swear it.

Moritz went rigid. “Okay! Okay! I swear! I won’t do anything!” His voice was high as Levi strained his arm further, still struggling to wiggle out from under him. I need my fucking arm!

Levi nearly growled at him. “Good. If I ever catch you trying any shit with him, I won't just shatter one arm. And I wonder what your chances of getting a date will be if you don't have any teeth left...” Levi let go of his arm, getting up and letting him scramble to his feet, nursing his sore arm. “Now get the fuck out of my sight.” Levi watched him run off, the other hands all looking intimidated and quickly dispersing. Good. Levi looked back to Eren, his demeanor doing a complete 360. “Are you okay?” Levi looked worried, his tone soft. I hope he didn't do too much....

Eren had sunk down to the floor in Charlie’s stall, holding Mila close to his chest as he shook. I can’t stop shaking... I can’t.... Mikhail was already starting on his way towards the stall, coming to calm Eren down. I’m panicking... Levi... I’m scared...

Levi quickly found him, kneeling next to him, gently brushing the hair from his eyes. “Eren, Honey, it's over. I took care of him; he’ll never bother you again. It's okay. You and Mila are safe. I'm right here.” Levi wrapped them both up in his arms, kissing all over Eren’s and Mila’s cheek. You're okay.

Eren could only nod, relief washing over him as he held onto Mila tighter, which made her fussier. He didn’t realize he was crying, whimpering as Mikhail tried to pull him out of Levi’s arms. I’m scared... He’s gonna rape me! He’s just like the men!
Levi heard Mila whine with dissent as Eren held her tighter, his voice gentle in Eren’s ear, one hand moving to his arm. “Eren, love, you're squeezing her. It's okay, you're safe. Nobody's gonna try to hurt you. I'll make sure of it.” It's okay.

Eren continued to shake in Levi’s grasp, holding onto Mila tighter without really even processing it, at this point she started to whine more, and had the starting signs of tears. I'm scared.... He’s gonna do it again… “H-He’s gonna do it again….” He did it before... He’ll do it again...

Levi’s eyes widened but he shook his head, gently taking Eren’s arms and nudging his forehead with his own, slowly prying them open and letting Mila squirm into his lap, clinging to him, her eyes teary. “Eren… what do you mean ‘again?’ Did he already do something before…?” Levi's insides twisted with dread. Oh no ....

Eren nodded, curling into his side. “H-He’s done that b-before… A-And he’s grabbed m-me too.” He whimpered as he shook beside him, tears rolling down his face. H-He was gonna do more... I know he was…

Levi was nearly seeing red, trying to keep himself in check, reminding himself that he had arms of upset toddler and shaking fiancé. You can beat the shit out of him later. Levi murmured quietly to him, watching out of the corner of his eye as Charlie stood, coming over and laying near Eren, sniffing at his hair. “It's okay, Eren. We’re here for you. He's never going to touch you again. I'll come with you when you have to do chores out here from now on if it'll make you feel better. But I don't think he's gonna mess with you anymore. I'll break his arms if he tries anything.” Levi made it sound like a promise, nestling into his neck. It's okay.

Eren whimpered as he moved to hold onto Levi’s shirt. “T-Take me home… I wanna be home…” I don’t want to be in the barn if he’s here… I wanna go inside. He couldn’t stop the tears that quickly formed in his eyes. I wanna be safe, and lock the door.

Levi nodded, giving Eren Mila back. He scooped the both of them up, letting them out of the stall and walking back to the house. Levi let them inside and set Eren and Mila on the bed, taking his shoes off and tucking them in, Mila on his chest. “You rest, okay Eren? I’ll be back soon. The door will be locked; you're safe.” Swear it.

Eren nodded, looking as Levi left his side. “W-Where are you going?” He seemed panicked as he held Mila who was struggling against his arms only a little now. I don't want him here... I need to tell Vatri... he’s a pervert…
“I'm going to head to the barn and make sure they all pick up the slack since you're not there. And that hand and I need to have a little chat.” And by that, I mean I'm gonna break his nose. “I'll try not to kill him, but at this point, he just might piss me off enough for me to want to.”

Eren nodded and settled into the bed with Mila on his chest, calming down as he gave her a pacifier. That should keep her quiet, and maybe let her sleep while Levi’s gone… I don’t wanna be alone for long…

Levi smirked, leaving and locking the doors behind him, heading for the barn again, rage in his steps. The hands that he came across all moved right out of his way, looking for the right one. He found him easily enough, the hand not noticing him until his fist smaller into the metal of a wall, the loud sound making him jump out of his skin. <“You. I just so happened to find out that wasn't exactly the first time you harassed Eren like that. So, what, you're into fondling taken men in the middle of barn halls? Is that it? Or is that just because you didn't have enough time to fuck him against the wall?”> Levi’s tone was impossibly cold, his eyes sharp. I want answers.

< “What would you expect me to do? He never said he was taken… He had no ring… He was up for the fucking taking…. ”> Moritz growled at him, trying to take a more intimidating stance. I’m much taller than you… I can use that to my advantage.

Levi didn't appear to give a shit about his tone, taking another step forward, smirking when Moritz took a step back. Gotcha. <“So if someone isn't wearing a ring, they're free for you to rape and have your fun with? You do understand that when people date they still don't have rings? And I'm damn well sure that cowering against the wall of a barn isn't any kind of consent anywhere in the world. Your head is seriously fucked up if you genuinely think you don't deserve to be a broken mangle of limbs for that.”> That's fucked up.

< “Oh come on! He never said anything to me! He just looked away! I figured it was in embarrassment…!”> Moritz’s voice sounded pleading, wanting Levi to stay where he was and not come closer. I thought I was off the hook!?

<“Did you even fucking ask him?!”> Levi took another step, hearing the fear in his voice as he stepped back again. <“Did you even think about what would happen if what you did got back to Hannes or to the police? Did you think you'd be off the hook insisting that it was consensual when there's a man with a pissed off boyfriend who knows there's no way in fucking hell Eren would ever want shit from you?”> You piece of shit. Levi looked ready to kill him, his fists clenched. You wanted to fight so fucking badly, so fight me now. Do it.

Moritz backed away in fear, shaking his head. <“N-No… I didn’t think about that ‘cause I thought I could charm him…”> I thought I was getting through to him… <“Why the fuck are you taking it out on me? You should be angry that your fiancé looks so damn enticing!”> Moritz glared and soon he stepped forward, moving to grab at Levi. I can use my height…

<“Sure, blame the victim, not the fucking pervert.”> Levi saw him reach for him, not hesitating to grab his arm and turn him, his fist connect with his nose, hearing a sick crack and shoving him away, watching him collapse to the ground and scramble to get up. <“I'd come to terms with the fact you're gonna lose your job right about now. Hannes just so happens to care a shit ton about what happens to Eren; and I'm sure he'd be happy he doesn't have a near-rapist on staff anymore.”> Not my problem.

Moritz stared at Levi with wide eyes, his hands coming up to touch his nose as blood dropped down his face. <“you fucker!”> He shouted, running at him and shoving them out into the hallways of the barn. I can get help from the others… <“Lance!”> He shouted for help, hoping it would come.

Levi barely stumbled, hopping back as he was shoved, moving with him before digging his toes into the ground and tackling Moritz as he kept coming, easily taking him to the ground. He rolled him over, his knee in his lower back as he took hold of both his wrists, not caring about the legs kicking at his hip from behind. <“You need to calm the fuck down before I make good on that threat.”> Levi started slowly twisting his other arm. <“I don't hear your friends… they're not coming to help. Now are you gonna try to beat me up again or are you gonna pack up your shit and leave quietly?”> I want you the fuck out of here.

< “I’m not giving up my fucking job!”> Moritz yelled out and he finally got his body weight to move, rolling over and struggling to get his arms free as he kicked at Levi. I'm not gonna let that fucking happen...

Levi found himself under the hand, shifting and thrusting up and shoving him to the side, quickly getting to his feet as the hand hit the ground again. <“You don't seem to understand. The second Hannes hears about this you're gonna be out of a job. He won't give a shit about what you or your friends say; Eren and I will be good enough. You're done.”> You're not gonna be here long.

Moritz groaned as he got up, looking at Levi with a twisted grin. <“Well if I’m gonna be gone so soon, I’m glad I held that ass while I could….Eren didn’t even move when it happened, he let me use both hands and massage him. You shoulda heard him… You’d be jealous…”> His voice was so high, it's no wonder he can sing like that … He grinned as he taunted Levi, standing up again, putting up his arms ready to fight.

Levi fixed him with a flat look. <“…you do realize you're confessing to sexual assault… right? It'll come in handy when I file that police report….”> I don't want this staying off your record. <“I wonder what any future employers would think of that…”> They'd probably deny you any job ever...

<“You can't do jack shit, you fucking American! You have no power here!”> He shouted, his anger boiling over as he started throwing punches again. I will beat you! I can do it!

Levi easily dodged his punches, returning one straight across the face, on guard. <“Just because I'm an American citizen doesn't mean you can go ahead and molest my fiancé and get away with it, you fucker. If that was true, I could burn down your house and not get in trouble for it. And that just makes no fucking sense, right?”> Levi glared at him, punching his jaw again when Moritz tried to grab his neck. Fuck you. Levi heard a shout from down the hall, immediately jumping back from Moritz and putting his hands up, Moritz still coming after him, bracing for the blow. He felt pain explode in his face, backing up against the barn wall, watching though slotted eyes as an officer tackled Moritz to the ground, looking to the other officer, his hands above his head, wrists pinned to the barn wall by himself. <“Officer, I don't know what you've been told, but there's a lot more going on than what you're seeing.”> I can't fuck this up.

<“And just what am I seeing? Who called?”> The officer looked around when finally a younger boy popped his head out of the doorway of the barn, looking in.

< “I-I did… Moritz started fighting… But he’s b-been assaulting H-Hannes’s son…. A-Almost since h-he got here a m-month or so ago…”> The young boy no older than 16 stuttered as he came fully out from hiding. I got scared when I saw the blood… He’s still bleeding…

< “Turn around, sir… We’re taking you both to the cruiser…”> The cop was calm as he waited for Levi to turn around, glad his hands were already up. His partner was still cuffing a struggling Moritz, who was kicking and screaming to be let go, that it wasn’t his fault.

<“It’s Eren’s fault! It’s his fault! It’s not my fault!”> Moritz struggled futilely, soon enough grabbed and dragged to his feet to be taken to the cruiser. Fuck!

Levi obediently turned and moved his hands behind his back, knowing struggling would be a terrible idea. He turned his head, looking worried as he spoke. <“Please, the man that man assaulted is my fiancé. He's at the house with our daughter and he's going to be terrified if I don't come back and only hears that I've been taken to the station. The doors are locked; someone needs to get him, please. He has PTSD, he'll have a panic attack if he doesn't know I'm okay.”> I can't just leave him there…. he needs me... I can't leave him and Mila alone....

The officer looked at Levi with confusion for a moment before he nodded and he pushed Levi into one of the cruisers, making sure that he didn’t hit his head on the way in. He conversed with the other officers that had come to assist them. “Apparently the man who was assaulted is in the house… And he’s got PTSD and a kid with him and the doors are locked.” They thought about the best way to go about getting in the house, knocking first, and when the door didn’t budge they resorted to looking around for a key first before they destroyed the door.

Muhmuh? Mila watched Eren curl up on the bed, shaking and crying. “Muhmuh?” Mila felt sadness wash over her as Eren cried, tugging at his sleeve, not understanding. “Muhmuh!” She cried when Eren ignored her, her tears slowing when she heard a knock outside, going to the floor. She slowly walked to the door, staring at it before reaching for the knob, managing to get it open before she fell over, crawling into the living room. She made it through the doggy door, looking with wide eyes to the two men on the porch. “Muh….” She got to her feet, scared as the men moved towards her, bolting off. “Da!” Muhmuh sad! Dah fix! Mila heard one of the men call after her, running through the field and towards the barn, her little legs carrying her through to the barn and past it to the parking lot, a hand chasing after her, seeing Levi in a cruiser. “Dah! Dah!” Mila ran to the car and crashed into the side, her little fists smacking on the metal. “Dahda! Muhmuh sah! Dahda fih!” She looked ready to cry again, wailing loudly as she was picked up, terrified. No! Muhmuh hul! Dahda hul!

The officer sighed in relief as he finally picked Mila up and held her, looking at Levi through the glass, pointing to her and then to Levi, watching him nod. “Okay, the kid’s out of the house… Now we just need the witness….” The officer tried to get Mila to calm down as she wailed, gently bouncing her as he watched his partner kick in the door, screams barely audible to him. What the hell?

Levi watched with wide eyes as the Officer kicked in the door of the house, knowing from Mila’s high pitched wail and the Officer’s expression that things were going to shit. Holy fuck…< ”What kind of shitshow are you running?! Eren’s gonna have a seizure at this rate! Let me out of this car so I can fix this mess! He's gonna draw so far into his head he won't speak to me for weeks! You need to let me fix this and get this fixed!”> Levi pleaded with the Officer through the crack in the window, looking scared and desperate. This is gonna be bad if I don’t get over there now. < “He's terrified he's gonna be raped, he's missing a daughter and fiancé and your partner just busted into the house! I could've given you the keys!”> What the fuck?!

The officer looked to Levi contemplating things, before he opened Levi’s door up and carefully helped him out as he held a squirming Mila. He unlocked Levi’s wrists and let him go to the house. Why does he think he’s going to get raped? We’re the police… He reached to his walkie talkie and radioed to his partner to stay away from the man and that his fiancé was coming to try and calm him down. I hope things haven’t escalated too badly…

Levi thanked him as the cuffs were removed, looking to the Officer’s name tag. Officer Frankel. <“Keep her safe.”> Levi immediately bolted for the house, running through the field to get there faster. He passed the other Officer, coming in the front door. “Eren? Eren, baby-” He went into the bedroom, seeing Eren rocking on the bed, tears streaming down his cheeks, Mikhail whining for attention. “Eren, Honey…” Levi moved onto the bed, tilting Eren’s head to look at him, seeing recognition flicker in his eyes. “Eren, Honey, I'm here. I know you're scared but everything’s okay. That hand that touched you is in a cruiser right now and the person who broke the door is an Officer- he was just trying to do his job. I'm so sorry you got so scared. And Mila is with the man’s partner, she’s okay.” He watched Eren’s lips move, his heart breaking. You'll be a good boy… “It's okay Eren, you're so good, it's okay. It's okay Honey, you're okay, and Mila’s okay.” Levi looked into his eyes, willing him to calm down. It's okay.

Eren continued to cry as Levi held him, looking to his eyes. I’ll be a good boy I promise…. He glanced over to the door where he saw the police officer, his breathing worsening. “I'll be a good boy I promise… I promise… I promise!” He got louder and louder with every promise, wanting the man in the hallway to be gone. I'll be a good boy! I don't want it again…

Levi looked over his shoulder, seeing the man there at a loss for what to do. < “He has PTSD and he was expecting that man you cuffed to come here and rape him…. breaking down that door probably caused the attack… he's in very bad shape…”> Levi turned back to Eren, cupping his cheek. “Eren, Honey, please don't be so scared… it's just a police officer. He wanted to make sure you're okay. Nobody is going to hurt you, Eren. I'm so sorry I wasn't here for you. Look at me, Eren.” Levi locked eyes with him, his voice gentle and firm. “You've been so good. And nobody is going to do anything you don't want them to. You're okay now. …..they need to bring me to the station… do you want to come with me? We can't stay here…” Levi shifted until Eren was in his lap, the officer standing out of sight in the hall, Levi petting Eren’s hair. It's okay….

Eren looked at Levi as he crawled into his lap, gripping onto his shirt. “I-I I wanna go… Go home…” He murmured as he held onto Levi. I wanna go home... Where's Dad? I want Dad… Mikhail was starting to growl at them, trying to alert them of Eren’s impending seizure. He could sense it and knew it was coming from the stress.

Levi watched Mikhail growl, knowing what was coming. Oh no. Levi gently guided Eren onto his side on the bed, laying with him and brushing his hair from his face. “Eren, Honey, we can go home later this week Eren when Hannes is all better. It won't be long before we can go home, okay? Just relax, look at me babe.” Levi held onto him, softly kissing his cheeks as Eren breathed deeply. It's okay…. “Stay with me, love. Just stay calm. It's okay. I'm right here.”

Eren didn’t really understand why Levi moved them around but he let him be moved, trying to calm down as Levi told him to stay with him. “I wanna go home…” He murmured quietly as he looked around the room. Where am I? i’m not in your apartment… Or in the old house… Am I in Germany?

Levi was quiet, still carding a hand through his hair, sighing in relief as Eren calmed down. “It's okay, Eren… soon we can go home. Here, let me carry you. I have to go to the station, and Mila is worried about you.” She was so upset that you were upset.

Eren nodded, shifting slightly, wanting Levi to pick him up. I wanna go home, if we can go home soon I’ll go… He wrapped his arms around Levi’s shoulders and buried his face into his neck as he tried not to cry. “H-Home…” I wanna go home…

Levi sighed, heaving Eren into his arms and standing, walking with him from the room. He saw the officer, stopping to explain the situation. <“He had a panic attack, he’s very easy to set off right now. Please, just let me carry him with me. If I leave him alone he’ll surely have a worse attack or a seizure from the stress.”> Levi watched the man slowly nod, walking all the way back to where the cruiser was, seeing Mila sniffing in the officer’s arms, looking upset still. “Mila, Honey?” He smiled faintly as she looked at them and reached for them, Eren reaching a hand for her as he was in Levi’s arms. Mila stopped fussing the second she was in his arms, pressed against her parents. So adorable… <“Officer… what do I do? I can't leave him here… and if he sees him…”> Levi made sure Eren couldn’t see inside the squad car, looking worried. <“He nearly had a seizure…”> This is going so well.

The officer glanced over to his partner discussing things briefly before they called in for another cruiser. It only took a few minutes before they pulled up into the driveway and parked near the occupied cruiser. A woman stepped out looking at the two. <“Does he need to be cuffed?”> She looked to Levi carrying both Eren and Mila without breaking a sweat at all. It was settled after a few minutes that Levi, Eren, Mila and Mikhail were put into the back of that cruiser while they went and got the statements from the remaining hands quickly. It was enough to set a charge on Moritz’s shoulders.

Levi held Eren close in the cruiser, not letting him out of his lap while he didn’t have to. He gently pressed his forehead to his temple, his voice soothing as Eren shook. “It's okay, Honey. I'm here. You're with me, and we have Mila safe and sound. They're going to talk to all the hands and have enough to get him out away for a long while. He'll never bother you again. You're safe with me here, Eren. You're so safe. Mila’s safe too. You're okay. It's all okay.” Please don't worry…. “Just relax, Honey. Just relax, you're okay. You're here in my arms. It's alright.”

Eren closed his eyes as he shook, trying to forget about it, his arms coming up to cover at his ears, shaking his head. “N-No…” They're coming… They’re gonna find me… “I wanna go home…” I want Dad… He jumped when he heard Mikhail bark on the outside of the car, he had gotten his vest and was whining as he stood by the car, sensing Eren in distress.

Levi looked up as he saw Mikhail, speaking through the crack in the window. “Mikhail, quiet.” Levi motioned for him to sit, another motion commanding him to be silent. I'm sorry, but you're freaking him out. “We can go home soon, Eren. Soon enough we’ll be home. It'll be okay.” Levi slowly rocked them, his voice soft. “You're safe in my arms, Eren. You're safe now. Nobody is gonna hurt you now.” I've got you.
Eren whimpered as he shook, burying his face into Levi’s shoulder. He shook as he heard three officers approach, looking at the dog with the vest. Soon enough Mikhail was loaded in the back with the three of them and they started their way to the station. His grip tightened on Levi’s shirt, his breathing becoming heavy and erratic. I’m scared… Where are we going?

Levi held him and Mila close, his legs bracing them, wanting to keep them from jerking as they stopped and started, their seat belts foregone. “Eren, we’re going to the police station. They need to talk to you and me about some stuff that’s happened today and over the month. I know it’s scary but you have to do your best, okay? Just stay calm, Honey. I’m right here. You’re right here in my arms. I’ve got you, Honey.” I love you. Don’t be scared.

Eren could only look on as their surroundings changed, the woman picking up Mila, who instantly got fussy and then Levi carrying Eren in as his whole body shook. Is this where they are? Did you take me to them? Eren’s eyes were full of fear as he clung to Levi’s shirt, burying his face in his shoulder as he tried not to panic further.

Levi murmured to him as they went in, Mikhail obediently following with his leash in his mouth. “It’s okay Eren, the Officer has Mila. We can trust her. We’re at the station; the officers here have the job of keeping us safe. You’re okay here. You’re safe. Nobody can hurt you here. It’s okay.” Levi followed the woman into another room, looking around. …did you bring us into a break room…? I’m probably wrong….

The woman pointed to the couch. <“Calm him down… We’ll speak with the assailant first.”> She left them be, the room quiet since almost all the officers in town were with this case.

Eren whined as he held onto Levi tighter. “A-Are they coming? D-Did they take Mila a-away?” I want Dad… I want Mila too… I wanna go home.

Levi sat with Eren on the couch, looking back up as he realized the woman did still have Mila. He and Eren reached for her, grateful when the tot was again in their arms, curling around her. “Eren, look. Mila’s right here, she’s okay. And they’re not coming to get you; nobody is. You don’t have to be scared of anyone right now. You’re okay, and all these people are here to protect you from anything bad. We’re gonna keep you safe.” You and she are just fine.

“They’re…. They’re not coming to get me?” Eren asked as he scooped Mila up, holding her close to him and trying to calm himself down with Mikhail’s head on his thigh as well. I need to calm down… I need to calm down, I wanna go home…

Levi shook his head. “No, nobody is. That guy who touched you is in the officer’s hands now.
They're gonna make sure he gets put away for the stuff he did. You're safe now. You are okay, and your daughter is too. You're okay.” I promise. He softly kissed his cheek, willing him to believe him.

Eren nodded. “I don't wanna be touched again…” He murmured as he held Mila close letting her play with his hair, and pull on it. I just wanna be yours… He was quiet, starting to calm down as he reached to pet Mikhail’s ears as he really started to calm down even more. I'm not gonna get taken away…

Levi faintly smiled, nuzzling into Eren’s neck. “I'll do my best to not let it happen again. You've got lots of people watching out for you now.” We're here for you. Levi was content, sitting there with his family. My own little family…

Eren soon enough relaxed to a point where he was falling asleep on Levi’s shoulder, curled up in his lap and Mila knocked out on his own chest. I wanna go home…

Levi let them sleep, cradling them close, Mikhail laying down at his feet for a nap of his own. The dog instantly lifted its head when the woman came back some time later, watching her expression soften a little when she saw the pile of them. <“Ma’am?”> What happened with that guy?

< “We need to take you and your fiancé back for questioning, and we would like to know if you would like to press charges.”> He could go in for sexual assault with the list I have, and at least 10 counts of it… Her voice was quiet, as if not to wake Eren and Mila.

Levi nodded. <“We would like to press charges, that's for sure…”> Levi looked to Eren, gently shaking him. <“Eren? They need to question us now…”> He watched Eren wake up, giving him a calm look when he looked confused for a moment. <“We’re at the station; they need to question us.”> It's a thing that needs doing.

Eren looked around with wide eyes, seeing Mila asleep in his arms and beginning to stir a bit, the woman standing near the door and the empty break room around them. “I wanna go home…. This isn’t home… He could be here…” I don’t want him to be here… I don’t wanna see him...

“Eren, that hand might be in the same building, but he's not gonna be able to get you. You're fine. And once Hannes is better in about a week, we’ll go home.” It's okay.

Eren nodded, holding Mila close to his chest as she stirred, hoping she would stay asleep. “C-Carry me?” His voice was still timid as he leaned into Levi’s arms. I don’t wanna be alone... That’s scary...

Levi looked up, unsure. He stayed sitting with Eren and Mila in his arms, his voice wary. <“Are we allowed to be in the same room for questioning, ma’am?”> I want to keep him with me.... he’ll feel much better if I’m right here.

<“Considering the circumstances… I’ll allow it...”> She led them to the interrogation room that they used, chairs having been brought in to surround a metal table. <“Sit.”> Her voice was a bit harsh as her partner came in with a large file and set it down on the table before sitting. Big stack... for which one of them?

Levi followed her, helping Eren sit in the chair next to him, nudging his foot with his own to reassure him. He saw the large file she came in with, not batting an eye at it. Yep.... that’s Eren’s file for you....

The woman opened up the file, looking through Eren’s records. <“Alright, what happened with Moritz Schultz?”> She said, looking to Eren pointedly. This kid’s had it rough, I can tell here... Damn...

Eren swallowed thickly as he looked over to Levi in nervousness. Is he gonna be mad if I talk? He glanced down to the floor, holding Mila to his chest still. <“It um... It started as soon as I got here.... He started flirting with me, and trying to impress me by speaking English with me... I ignored him and went inside to sleep... I-I didn’t think that he’d try and touch me the next day... He touched me, holding me by the waist as I was doing barn chores... and he tried to flirt some more... I-I tried to ignore him again, but he kept doing it over and over again b-before he finally pushed me to the ground when I was bringing a horse in and none of the other hands were around... I tried to get him to stop but he’s stronger than me... and he kept me pinned under him as he grabbed me... I-I thought he was gonna rape me, but he... he just slid his hands into my jeans a-and grabbed at my ass...”> Eren swallowed thickly and looked away from Levi. You’re gonna be mad I didn’t tell you... aren’t you?

Levi looked worried, reaching over and gently touching his arm. It's okay. I'm sorry.... I'm really sorry I wasn't there to help you. Levi gave him a look, imploring him to keep going. It's okay.

Eren jumped a bit when Levi touched him but soon calmed down, rubbing Mila’s back to keep himself calm. I need to calm down... I need to... Or I’m gonna panic again. <“O-One of the hands was getting to work l-late and so he got off of me so h-he wouldn’t get caught....... I thought he would stop like I asked but he did it again, and I really thought it was gonna happen this time... He’d gotten my pants down to my knees and was struggling to keep me pinned and try and pull his pants down... H-He got bit... Charlie grabbed him b-by the hair and kicked him and I ran away...
After that he didn’t do anything except flirt with me… He tried to get my attention and I tried to ignore him, because I didn’t want to have a panic attack alone…” I closed myself off… I remember you tried to call me, and I kept declining your calls… You were probably worried about me and Hannes…

Levi seemed expressionless, though his eyes were pained. Shit…. that could've been a hell of a lot worse…. I'm so glad he didn't get that far…...and it explains why you didn't want to take any calls for a while…. I'm so sorry… Levi kept his hand on his arm, a reassuring and steady presence. It's okay. Don't panic. It's over.

Eren struggled to swallow, shaking his head not wanting to talk anymore. < “N-No more… No more… Please ...”> His voice was weak as he started to cry all over again. I don’t wanna panic… It could’ve been so much worse…

Levi immediately turned to him, wrapping him up in his arms. “It's okay, babe, you don't have to talk anymore… just breathe, it's okay. It's over.” Levi gently rubbed his back, letting Eren hold Mila close and helping him calm down. It's okay.

Eren shook his head as he held Mila to his chest, shaking as he struggled to calm himself down. “N-No more… D-Dad promised n-no more… I don’t want it again…” I don’t… I don’t want it! He whimpered, moving his hands away from Mila, curling around her so she wouldn’t fall, but he covered his own ears. He wanted desperately to hide. No!

Levi carefully held onto him, his voice soft. “Eren, Dad meant it when he said that nobody would ever get away with this again. That man is being put away and as long as I'm here with you, you're safe. I know it was scary being alone with him, but we’re here now. It's okay now.” It'll be okay.

Eren shook his head furiously, curling up more as he continued to cry. “N-No…. I-It almost h-happened…” It almost happened twice…. Oh my god… I was practically raped the other day… Before you got here… He whimpered, not realizing that Mila was starting to wake, not liking being squeezed.

Levi looked worried, looking to where Mila was squished to Eren’s chest, on the verge of wakefulness. He gently took Mila, cradling her against his own chest, his other arm around Eren, still murmuring into his ear. “Eren, I'm so sorry… it's over. And he won't be around to hurt you anymore. You're okay. He didn't get as far as he wanted. It stopped. He's gone now. You don't have to worry about him anymore. Please, it's okay.” Levi nudged his chin up, looking at him with soft eyes. It's okay now.
Eren looked into his eyes with fear apparent in his eyes. He flinched when the woman coughed to get their attention. Huh? Why is she here? I don’t get it… Why is she here?

<“Okay, that’s enough about past events… Eren what happened today?”> What happened that started the fight?

Eren shook his head, curling up further into himself and not wanting to talk. I don’t want to… Not anymore… He’d closed in on himself, no longer going to let anyone in as he covered his neck with his hands and covered his ears with his wrists as he curled up tighter. Mikhail whined and tried to get Eren’s attention, but it wasn’t working.

Levi gently shook Eren’s shoulder, trying to coax him to listen. “Eren, please.” Levi gently took one of his hands, tugging lightly and leaning where Eren could see him, his voice soft. “Eren, please. If you want this guy put away you need to at least tell us a bit about what happened, okay? Then you’ll be done with it.” Please. Levi looked down as Mila made a sound in her sleep, looking back after a second. “Eren, please. The part where you have to see him is over. Just tell us what happened and you can forget all about it.” Please.

Eren was shaking horribly. <“He-He grabbed me… And pulled m-me off of Charlie… H-He told me he was g-gonna t-take me… And I couldn’t stop him…”> He pulled himself away from Levi as he cried and closed himself and his mind away from the world around him. I wanna go home.

Levi sighed as Eren spoke again, gently rubbing his back. “It’s okay… that’s it, it’s done.” Levi looked back to the woman. What questions do you have for me…?

The woman continued to write everything down, making sure that she had everything. <“Who started the fighting?”> I need to know… I need to know what happened…

Levi looked to her, his expression neutral. <“I may have gotten angry at that hand, but he was the one who threw the first punch.”> I wasn’t stupid enough to just start wailing on him.

The woman nodded still taking notes. <“You confronted him? Were there witnesses?”> There must have been… we were called in… I think it was one of the younger hands that called it in…

Levi nodded. Just tell the truth. <“Earlier I’d found that hand with Eren against a wall, and I went up to him and shoved him off Eren when he shoved his knee between his legs, because Eren was frozen with fear and couldn't do anything. He tried to fight me then too, but I managed to pin him* and make him apologize before letting him go. When I heard that wasn't the first time this had happened, I went back to confront him about it being a repeated thing. I got mad, and he looked angry as hell too… but I knew enough not to try and hit him if he didn't. I just wanted to make sure he knew not to go messing with him like that. You can understand how furious I was. But I only acted in self defense.”> He started the fights. Not me. I might've been mad, but he started swinging first. <“He was calling for help from some other hands, but I didn't see any in that particular hall of the barn. After he started throwing punches I wasn't exactly looking to see if any showed up if I didn't hear footsteps.”> I was kinda focused on the fight…

The woman nodded and set her pen down. <“You’ll need a ride home… we’ll press charges against him, and he’ll probably have a court date relatively soon.”> She paused, glancing over towards where Eren was curled up and crying in his chair. <“Will he be okay?”> The woman was concerned as she watched him shake. I don’t know what to make of it…

Levi looked wary himself. <“I really hope so.”> “Eren?” Levi gently nudged him, his hand on his shoulder. “It's done now, we can leave. We’ll go back to Hannes’ house. You'll feel better after a good night’s sleep. Does that sound okay?” Please… it's done.

Eren was still curled up tightly to himself, whimpering and flinching away from Levi’s nudge. I wanna go home… I wanna go home… I wanna go home. He started to rock himself, tears streaming down his cheeks as his eyes grew glassy and his look far away. I wanna go home…

Levi gently rubbed his back, leaning his forehead against his temple, his voice soft. “Eren, love, you're okay. It's all over. We can go now. Please, take Mila and I'll carry you two out to where our ride is, okay? Can you do that? Then we can sleep and the rest of the week will be gone before you realize and we’ll be able to go home. Just take Mila and let me carry you, okay? You're safe. I'm right here, and you're safe.” Please.

Eren didn’t respond to him, his eyes glassy as he rocked himself. *I wanna go home… I want Dad…
I wanna go home…* He wasn’t there anymore, he’d blocked himself off from the world, and not even Levi was able to knock on the door.

Levi looked worried, looking to Mila still asleep in his arm. I need two hands for this… The woman seemed to understand, standing and offering to take her. Levi gave her Mila gratefully, looking back to Eren and coaxing him to unfurl, scooping him into his arms, leaning their foreheads together and speaking quietly. “Eren, can you hear me?” He softly pecked his cheeks when the Officer started to lead them to the car, momentarily without any eyes on them. *Please.
“Eren, Honey, you're okay. Please, let me know you can hear me.” Please.*

Eren still didn’t respond. He didn’t move as he was lifted aside from his steady breathing. His eyes seemed worse than only a few moments ago, staring right through anyone and anything, I want Dad... I want Dad...

Levi was getting a bit scared, quiet on the drive back and as they all walked to the house, setting Eren on the bed and putting Mila in her crib. Levi thanked the officer and her partner before they left, closing the kicked-in door which refused to fully shut, setting a chair to brace it before going back to the bedroom, carding a hand through Eren’s hair. ...what do I do... .....Dad will know. Didn't Eren say something about Dad? I think he did... he might like to hear him. Levi reached for the laptop, quickly signing in and sending a skype request for Lathe.

Lathe heard his phone buzzing in his pocket, setting down his pen and taking it out, immediately answering when he saw the name on the screen. “Levi, hi! What's-” His voice died in his throat when he took him in. “...What's wrong?” His voice was soft, looking worried. You look like you've gone to hell and back... and are you starting to get a black eye? The fuck?

“It's Eren. One of the hands at Hannes’ barn... he tried to... hurt him. He's so shaken up, I caught the guy in the act, he didn't get in his pants, but he'd managed to a week or two ago... just... I got mad and there was a fight and we were taken to the station.... long story short, we’re not in trouble, and the guy will have a court date soon. And Eren’s so shaken up... help, please....” I don't know what to do...

....... “Levi, give Eren the laptop. Sit him up, and set me in his lap.” Lathe glanced up to make sure the office door was shut, the sound of kids playing in the center muted. He was soon faced with a glassy-eyed Eren, his expression gentle as he saw him, sitting down on a couch. “Hey, Eren. It's been awhile since I've seen you.” Hopefully my voice will help a bit... you were always good with telling me stuff like this...

Eren looked up a bit from where he was curled up, seeing Lathe. His eyes were still glassy and he appeared to be looking right through the screen. He slowly reached out to the screen to try and touch Lathe, whimpering when he couldn’t touch him. Dad... I want Dad...

Lathe sighed as Eren reached for him, his smile sad. “I'm sorry I'm not there, Eren. But you'll be home soon, I hear. And when you come home you can have all the hugs you want. I miss you too, you know.” We all do.

Eren whimpered as he pulled his arm back to curl up to himself. I wanna go home... “I-I’m scared...” He whispered, finally speaking after a few hours. I wanna go home, I don’t wanna stay here...
Lathe gave him a small smile. “I know it's scary… bad things happened and you'd been hoping to put everything behind you. But it's over now, and you can move forward again. Levi's there to keep you safe. And you'll be home soon; In about a week, I heard?” He watched Eren slowly nod. “Eren, just hang on until then. And when you and Levi come home I'll make you whatever you want for dinner and give you plenty of hugs, okay? It won't be forever, honey.” You'll be home soon.

Eren swallowed shaking his head, curling up more to himself after he put the laptop on the bed, off of his lap. I wanna go home, I wanna go home... “I wanna go home....” He murmured quietly, starting to rock himself where he was curled up. Mikhail whimpered and pawed at his knees, trying to get him to calm down.

Lathe gave him a weary look. “I know, Honey. But you need to stay until Hannes can go home, okay? It won't be long. You have Levi and Mila, and I'm always a call away whenever you need to hear or see me. It's okay. You'll be okay.” You will be. I'm trusting Levi with you.

Eren shook his head more, Mikhail slowly getting Eren to unfurl and pet him. He licked his face in his attempt to calm him down further. I wanna go home. “I don’t wanna stay…” He mumbled as he held onto Mikhail.

Lathe sighed, looking at him with sad eyes. “...if you really don’t want to stay anymore, we can fly you home and Levi can stay with Mila… but you two should stay together. If you’re still desperate to come home tomorrow after you sleep well, then we’ll see about bringing you home, okay?” We can fix this.

Eren could only nod as he became quiet, holding Mikhail close to his chest as he struggled to calm down. “O-Okay…” He murmured softly and he looked down. I just wanna go home...

Lathe gave him a soft smile. “Okay Honey. I'll let you sleep; it's getting late over there. ...I love you, Hon.” I really do.

Eren nodded as he held Mikhail close. He didn’t speak after that, Levi taking care of Mila when she fussed about a diaper and food, but he barely noticed them leave or come back. He was lost to the world as he laid down with Mikhail on his chest, struggling to fall asleep as he closed his eyes. I wanna go home.

Levi changed Mila and helped her eat, wiping up her chin whenever she missed her mouth with the spoon. Soon he was laying her down to sleep with her stuffed puppy, settling into bed with Eren, having changed into looser clothes. Levi curled up around Eren, spooning him and kissing his shoulder.
Chapter 115: Seizures

Levi woke up with the space next to him cold, bolting upright when he saw Eren was missing, the house deathly silent. Where is he? He stepped into shoes and carefully picked up Mila, carrying her with him as he went outside to look at the pastures, seeing Eren far, far out on Charlie, riding bareback and practically laying on top of him. He's so far out there…. I should just let him be. Levi went back into the house, settling back to bed with Mila on his chest, falling asleep again. When hours had passed and Eren hadn't come back, he went out again with Mila, taking his time walking across the pasture and looking up to Eren, a small bag on his arm. “Hey Eren.” He saw Eren’s blank expression, his eyes glossy and sad. “You've been out here a long time. I have food for you if you're hungry.” He watched him slowly shake his head. “...you need to eat at least something, Hon. Just a granola bar, please.” Levi fished for it, holding it out to him. Please eat.

Eren shifted, looking at the granola bar with only slight interest. I just wanna go home, but Charlie’s comfortable… He took it, opening the package and taking a small bite as he laid back down on Charlie’s back. I wanna be left alone… And Charlie will protect me… He already almost bit one of the hands…

Levi gave him a small smile of approval, taking a small cloth bag and tying the very long string he attached to it loosely around Charlie’s neck. “It's has more food and a water bottle in it in case you want it… I'll leave you be. I'm going to take Mila with me to the hospital and check on Hannes, okay? Do you wanna come? You don't have to if you don't want to.”

Eren shook his head, looking down in silence. I don’t wanna go, I’m safe with Charlie, I don’t wanna be alone in the house. He stretched as he laid over Charlie’s back. The horse’s ears perked towards Mila, interested in her as she tried to grab at him. Charlie’s okay with kids…

Levi looked down as Mila reached for Charlie, stepping a bit closer so she could pet his nose. “It's Charlie, honey. He's a horsie. Can you say ‘horsie’?” Please try...

“Dahgie!” She said excitedly as she pet his nose. Dahgie! Dahgie! Dahgie! She giggled as Charlie snorted at her. Mila let out a loud squeal before petting Charlie again.

Mila looked confused before she waved as well, pouting when they started walking away. “B-Buh… Muhmuh…”
Levi made a face when Mila looked overwhelmingly saddened, coming back over and looking to Eren. “Honey… can Mila have a hug before we go?” She didn't get to see you at all today. She misses her Mum.

Eren shifted, turning his head to look at them, Mila reaching for him. Levi doesn’t want her on a horse…. He groaned as his body ached as he hopped down from Charlie, stumbling a bit before getting his proper footing. I can hold her, I’ll be able to do it…

Levi reached with one arm to catch him as he swayed, helping him steady himself. “You didn't need to hop down, it's-” He stopped himself, thinking. I said before that I didn't think her on a horse was a good idea. “....Eren, I overreacted earlier… I'm just being too protective of her. It's okay for her to be held on a horse, and if you're right there in the saddle or on the horse with her, she can ride. I take what I said before back. It's… it's honestly a very nice idea. She certainly loves the horses already.” Levi handed her over, smiling when Mila squealed happily and grabbed at Eren’s shirt. So adorable.

Eren held her as she held onto him, slowly shaking his head. “You don’t want her on a horse…. I won’t put her on a horse, even if I’m on it …” His words were mumbled and his voice rough from not using it. I won’t make you worry. “S-Should I come with you?” He murmured quietly, looking down and away from Levi’ gaze. He’s gonna yell if I didn’t jump down... I don’t have a saddle...

Levi gave him a soft smile, his hand going to rest on his arm. “Eren, really. I got mad and I was feeling really protective of her. It's fine if she rides, saddle or not, as long as you're there. Really. I take everything else I said back. Please, it'll make her so much happier if she gets to spend time with you and the big doggies.” He chuckled quietly as a small smile graced Eren's lips for a second. “And you don't have to come. You can stay here by yourself or with Mila if you want. It's up to you, Hun.” I don’t mind.

.... Is he testing me? He probably doesn’t want to trust Mila with me while I’m prone to a panic attack any second… “Y-You should take her with you… Vatri will wanna see her.” He mumbled quietly, gently prying her from him and holding her out for him to take. I’ll stay home with Charlie and Mikhail...

Levi watched Mila’s face immediately shift, looking on the verge of tears as she realized she’d be leaving her Mum and the big doggie. “Eren, she looks so upset… please, it's okay.” Take her. She’ll be just fine. Levi’s eyes were pleading, genuine.

Eren shook his head, still holding Mila out to Levi. I don’t… I can’t… Not to her… He kept his head down, his eyes glued to the grass. Mikhail was whining as he pawed at Eren’s legs, trying to Levi sighed, taking her. “Okay.” Levi stepped forward anyway, reaching for Eren with one arm and hugging him, Mila cradled between the two of them, her tiny fist reaching up for Eren. He tilted his head, softly pecking Eren’s neck when he felt arms slowly encircle them. “We love you, Eren.” They stood like that for a little while, Mila calming down, surrounded by her parents. She didn’t fuss when they split up, leaning against Levi without squirming. Levi gently kissed Eren’s cheek, leaving him be as he went back across the pasture. We’ll be back soon.

Eren watched them leave, feeling his guilt and anxiety quickly consume him. Fuck… I made him leave… But he probably wouldn’t want to me to keep Mila anyways… And I won’t put her on a horse, he doesn’t want her on a horse… He could feel Mikhail grab his hand and try and get him to reality. Eren simply fell to the ground with a blank and glassy stare.

Levi left him be, getting Mila’s bag and going to the truck, driving the short distance to the hospital. He went to Hannes’ room, smiling faintly when he looked a bit better, though still ruffled. <“Good afternoon, Hannes. You're looking much better.”> This is great!

Hannes smiled warmly at the two of them looking to his vitals. <“Apparently I’m allowed to go home in three days… Where’s Eren?”> Why’s he not with you guys? What happened? Hannes looked up to Levi, seeing a swelling black eye. <“Who beat you up?”> Did Eren do that? I know he’s feisty… But yeesh…

Levi looked a bit hesitant, shrugging off the bag and deciding against sitting in a chair, sitting on the end of Hannes’ bed, Mila immediately reaching for the man. Levi former her over, the man happily accepting the tot while he thought. <“Uhm… a lot happened last night… I caught one of your hands with Eren pinned against a wall, trying to uhm… touch him… I think the guy’s name was Moritz? But I easily got him off of Eren and had him pinned when he got violent, making him apologize before letting him run off… it wasn't the first time he'd done that, I'd heard… and he had tried uhm… taking everything from Eren, if you understand… and I got so mad I went to confront him again about it… I said I'd take it to the police… and he swung at me and it just escalated… another hand called the police and when they showed up I immediately stopped fighting but he managed to get a punch at my face in before he was tackled… It was… it was a mess… Eren had a panic attack and the officer kicked in the door because he was in there with Mila and the cop wasn't patient enough to get the key and it made it worse… he's… he's been either a wreck or just… not there… the questioning at the station didn't go well, there aren't any charges against me, just Moritz… but Eren had a tough time with it… and this morning he went out early to ride Charlie, bareback, just laying on his back… I made him eat something and hug Mila but I left him alone mostly… he's… he's hurting and he really misses home as he misses Dad a lot too… I think he’ll only really be better once we’re home.”> Levi rambled on, not really a ring about being eloquent for the moment. He's a mess… and I can't fix it….
Hannes was quiet, his face changing as emotions swirled through him. That all happened to Eren? He never said a word about it to me though? What happened that got him so afraid? He sighed softly as Levi finished, holding Mila as she tugged at his nose. He gave her a finger to hold onto and she happily accepted it. <“Are you sure you should be leaving him alone? I-Is Eren okay… Up here?”> He was worried as he tapped his forehead, knowing what Levi said and hoping he misunderstood. Please be that, he shouldn’t be broken anymore… He’s gone through too much…

Levi looked at him, shrugging. <“He’s gotten through much worse before… I think he just needs time to move on from this. Because of what he went through before… I think he just needs some more time. He didn’t expect this kind of shit to ever happen again… he needs time, but he'll be okay.”> He will be. I know it. <“He’ll be okay with Charlie… knowing him he won't move for a few more hours.”> He'll stay on Charlie and be okay. He has food and water. …he'll be okay.

Hannes nodded but he still looked worried. <“Levi… I-I’m not entirely sure you should be leaving him alone. I don’t like the feeling my gut has right now…”> *I don’t like the sound of this situation… I don’t like it one bit….

Levi hesitated, thinking. He felt uneasy himself, not too sure what to make of it. <“…..do you think I should go back and keep an eye on him…? Just in case something happens? Will you be okay by yourself? I know it must get boring in here by yourself…”> ….I probably should go make sure he’s okay…

Hannes nodded. <“Of course! I’m just glad you could come visit today, go home, make sure Eren’s okay…”> He pecked Mila’s forehead before holding her out for Levi to take. She should go home too and be with her Mumma… <“There’s a door in the basement that I think will fit the front door… You could replace it if you get bored… It has a lock on it, and it’s the same key.”> That might make Eren feel safer.

Levi nodded, taking her back and picking up his bag. <“Alright. I'll see if he's in any better shape tomorrow and I'll bring him if I can… I'm sorry if I don't come tomorrow.”> Levi gave him a small wave as he left, his strides quickening when he saw Charlie trotting along riderless by the fence, whinnying in distress with Mikhail going in circles near the wall, barking for attention. Oh shit. Levi immediately got out and hopped the fence, running where Mikhail led him and finding Eren in the grass, on his side and absolutely still, drooling heavily. Eren had a seizure. Fuck, I don't know how long for… “Eren?! Eren, can you hear me?” Levi knelt next to him, brushing his hair out of the way and peering at his glassy eyes. “Eren? Eren, please!”

Eren’s body lay still on the ground, the only part of his body moving was his chest, and that was just barely. His eyes were glassy, and completely glazed over, staring at a fixed point around Levi’s knee because of where his head was. He continued to drool, which came out in long streams down his cheek. Eren’s fingers were locked in odd positions from his seizing. He was covered in dirt and there was some blood across one of his arms due to seizing and his arm catching a rock. The wound was messy, and full of dirt at this point. He looked worse for wear as he laid still, completely unresponsive.

….he needs a doctor. Levi heaved him up carefully, bringing him to the truck and laying him down carefully in the backseat, buckling him in an awkward way so he wouldn't slide off the seat. He let Mikhail hop in before he drove back to the hospital carefully, carrying Eren inside the lobby, looking to the nurse at the front desk whose face immediately washed over with worry. <“He had a seizure, I don't know how long it was, but I found him like this. And his arm got cut, probably on a rock or something when he fell off his horse. He was riding when I left him…”>

The nurse quickly got a bed and got Levi to set Eren down. She quickly paged the neurologist before starting to clean out the cut thoroughly. It needs to be cleaned out and bandaged before it gets infected.

Levi set him down, letting the nurse work while they waited for the neurologist. He spoke up after a moment of thought. <“This isn't the first time he's had a seizure… he's been really stressed lately for a lot of different reasons, and the extreme stress causes them for him… it's happened a handful of times before.”> This isn't the first time we've dealt with this.

The nurse looked to Levi with concern before nodding and continuing with her task. <“I’ll tell the neurologist.”> She bandaged up his arm before leaving them in the ER bay.

Eren’s body laid still, though his fingers started to twitch, Mikhail starting to growl at Levi. He was going to have another seizure, while Mila slept in the back seat of the car.

Levi watched his fingers twitch and lock up, cupping Eren’s cheek and murmuring. “Eren, Honey, can you hear me? Eren, please, it's okay, you'll be okay, just stay calm.” The only response was a violent jerk, his eyes holding a flicker of fear as Eren started jerking with another seizure. Fuck. Levi kept him on his side, looking to the clock. Half a minute… one minute…. two…… two and a half…. Levi sighed with relief as it stopped after two and a half minutes, Eren slumping back onto the bed after that, drool still dripping from his mouth. Fuck, this isn't good…

A nurse came in a few moments later holding the sleeping Mila and her bag. <“Should I bring her to Hannes? Or….”> You left the car unlocked, so I grabbed her before someone else could… I've been around Hannes long enough to know she’s yours.

Levi looked up, seeing Mila asleep in the nurse’s arms. Oh my god… <“Y-Yes, please, I couldn't get her yet, Eren just had another seizure for two and a half minutes….”> …Help.
The nurse’s eyes widened and nodded, leaving and paging the neurologist once again and putting Eren at the top of the list. She then went with Mila and brought her to Hannes, who was extensively worried that she was here, which meant Levi and Eren were here as well.

Levi stayed with Eren, still murmuring into his ear as they waited. “Eren, please… you're scaring me…. it's okay though, you're gonna be okay… we’re in a hospital and the people here will know what to do to help you. It's gonna be okay.” It has to be.

Eren’s eyes had finally closed after a few minutes, still drooling profusely. The nurses were worried as they hooked him up to all the machines to check his vitals. It was nearly a half hour later when the Neurologist came to evaluate Eren’s condition.

Levi was sitting next to Eren, in a chair with his hand on Eren’s limp one, looking over him and the machines with slightly fearful eyes. He schooled his expression when the neurologist came in, looking up to them with quiet expectancy. What are you gonna say? Is his brain okay?

<“This has happened before?”> You seem like you're waiting for answers…. I’d need to do testing for that. <“Who’s his primary? They must be informed.”> He checked Eren’s eyes with a light, liking the way they retracted. He’s responding well…

Levi nodded. <“It's happened before, a few times, but it's been a year since the last one… uhm, his primary doctor is in America… he's not a German citizen.”>

<“Alright… I need their number so I can speak with them, I’ll get a translator as well… Do you know if he hit his head?”> I see his arm his bandaged.

Levi shrugged, thinking. <“When I left he was on his horse… so he definitely fell… but I'm not sure if he hit his head. Probably. And I can speak English on a native-speaker level, I can talk to the doctor with you.”> That'll work easiest.

<“Alright, call them, it should be around morning for them now… It’s about 3 here… Where are you from? What time is it there?”> I want to get this addressed now… And it’s at least 6am there…

Levi took out his phone. <“We’re from Kansas, it should be about…. 8 AM?”> Ish? Levi dialed the number, holding it in front of him on speaker, waiting for Scotty to pick up. Come on Scotty.
Scotty’s eyes slowly cracked open as he heard his phone going off. Who the hell? He groaned, coughing as he turned to grab his phone, looking at the ID. Why is Levi calling me? “H-Hello?” His voice was rough, followed by a coughing fit. Fuck my throat hurts…

Levi heard the rasp in his voice. He doesn't sound too good himself… “Hey Scotty, uhm… I'm sorry for waking you up if I did, but uhm… Eren and I are in Germany right now with Mila, and Eren had two seizures today… and the neurologist at the hospital here needs you to know that and I need to act as translator because I think he needs to ask you stuff…” It's a thing….

Casper’s head poked in the door, seeing Scotty awake again and with his phone, frowning. “Don't they know enough not to call you on a sick day?” Really. “The soup still has about an hour, by the way.” Chicken noodle. The only thing you'll care about eating when you're this sick.

Scotty shook his head at Casper, coughing weakly. “What happened, Levi?” What happened with Eren? I knew Eren was in Germany… But you guys too? Man, I have been out of the loop. He coughed again, his whole body shaking as he coughed up some phlegm. Fuck that’s gross…

Levi hesitated when he heard him cough, hearing Casper in the background. You're sick… “Eren came over here originally to take care of Hannes’ horses and to make sure the guy was alright… but one of the hands at the stables was apparently hitting on him pretty aggressively… and they touched him and came close to raping him… I was able to stop it when it almost happened again yesterday and long story short fights were to be had, the police were sled, and he's in trouble and I'm not. But Eren… he's been a wreck… and he was out on the first Charlie, the one from when he was a kid, all day, just laying on his back… when I came back from the hospital a bit later he was on the ground and drooling, it was obvious he had a seizure but I don't know for how long…. and he had another one at the hospital, two and a half minutes.” He looked up to the nurse. <“I just relayed everything that happened today to him, I'll translate when he says something.”> He watched the neurologist nod.

Casper was silent as he heard Scotty speak, going to get a box of tissues and thrusting a handful into Scotty’s hand. Casper gave his temple a kiss before going to sit next to him on the bed, wanting to listen. …..I'm allowed to listen, right? ….it's Levi, and I'll hear it anyway. I probably am.

Scotty looked to Casper, sighing before he put the phone on speaker. “Alright what do his vitals look like? Are they all over the place? Or are they normal?” Is he in stable condition?

Levi looked up, reading the monitor. “….his vitals all look normal. They've looked okay since he was hooked up… at least after the second seizure passed….
Scotty nodded, coughing horribly for a few seconds before a soft groan was heard. “Have they given him anything? Has he eaten? Did he drink anything?” I need to know these things.

Levi shook his head even though Scotty couldn’t see. “No, he’s been unconscious the entire time… he ate at least part of a granola bar just before I left him, but he’s practically on an empty stomach… he didn't have breakfast…” That wasn't a thing...

Scotty sighed heavily. “He should be eating… Anyways, what do his eyes look like? Does he have any bruising around his cranium?” That’s something the neurologist will probably answer. He coughed up another clump of phlegm which grossed him out as he hacked it into a tissue. So fucking gross.

“His eyes are glossy and his stare was distant when he was still conscious, and from what I saw they’re responding well to light. Let me ask the neurologist about the other thing.” “Sir, his doctor asks if there’s any bruising around his cranium… and how well would you say his eyes responded to light?” It looked decent to me… but I need to hear what you’re thinking.

<“His eyes are well, they may be a bit slow, but that’s normal after successive seizures…. I’ll check his cranium again, but he appears to have no bruising.”> He spoke softly as he checked Eren’s skin again. I’m not positive that he fell...

Levi nodded, letting him inspect his head again, speaking when he shook his head. “Scotty, the neurologist says that his eyes’ response is a bit slow but that it's normal after having had successive seizures. There isn't any cranial bruising, so I don't think we can be sure that he fell…” It doesn't seem like it...

Scotty nodded, only to end with another long coughing fit, with a few tissues full of phlegm. “Alright, he should be fine… But I wanna know as soon as he has another seizure… Okay?” He shouldn’t be having so many in a short period of time. “I want him admitted though, and a full test done when he wakes.”

“Got it.” “He says that he should be fine, but he wants to know the instant he has another seizure if he does, and when he wakes up he needs to be fed and have a full test done. He needs to be admitted.” Can't get around it.

<“Alright, do you know who his health care proxy is?”> They must be called because he’s being admitted. The man looked over Eren’s limp body, as he slowly breathed. It looks like he’s
...it might be me... but I think it's still Lathe...

"That'd probably be his father... Should I call him, or do you need to?"

"I should really be the one to call, does he know German?" I'm not very good with English, I need to work on it more.

"Yeah, he's fluent as well." Levi looked back to his phone. “Alright, Scotty, I'll let you go back to being a sick mess.” Your whole schedule is probably booked with just being sick and sleeping it off.

Scotty let out a very fake laugh before becoming serious. “Hahaha... Fuck you too, call me if anything changes.” He murmured before he leaned his head back down into his pillows. I wanna sleep... It's still early...

Casper sighed as he flopped right back down, putting his phone back into charger and tucking him in, not caring that he was fussing so much over him. He saw Scotty smile when he kissed his cheek, and it made it worth it. “I'll let you sleep until food is ready, Honey.” You'll get better soon.

Levi hung up, watching as the neurologist walked over to the phone at the wall, giving him the number to dial. This'll be an interesting conversation... I wonder if it'll get him out here?

Lathe was dozing on the couch when the phone rang, a nearly empty plate of waffles in his lap, startling a bit when his phone rang. Huh? Lathe picked up his phone, looking at the international number. He shrugged, answering it. “Hello?” Who are you?

"Hi... Is this Uhm, Lathe Quo?" That's how you pronounce it right? He tapped his fingers against the wall, waiting for a response.

Lathe immediately felt more awake, setting the plate down. "Y-Yes, that's me.... what is this about?" My sons are okay... right?

"My name is Dr. Streigler, I'm the neurologist at Shiganshina Hospital, I'm calling on behalf of one Eren Yeager." Oh this'll be a wild conversation.
…..oh shit.…..neurologist? <“.....oh my god, what happened?!”> I talked to him yesterday and he seemed fine…. what the hell happened?

<“It appears that your son has experienced two successive seizures within the span of two hours, he’s being admitted, and due to hospital procedures, I’m to inform you of his admittance.”> If this has happened before, I can imagine what you’re thinking…

Lathe paused, thinking. Two seizures in two hours.…..well shit. <“Because of what I’ve heard has been going on lately with him over there I’d say the cause is most likely stress… this happens when he’s seriously stressed out. If he’s kept calm it shouldn't happen again. Is he awake at all? What are his vitals like?”> Lathe’s entire demeanor shifted, switching to doctor mode. Tell me everything.

< “He’s currently unconscious, his vitals are stable and his reaction to light is a little slow, but with how close the seizures were it seems normal…”> Wait... Are you a doctor too?

Lathe nodded, thinking. <“...okay, sounds right… uhm, when he has seizures he has a tendency to drool, just putting that out there… when he wakes up, priority number one is to keep him calm. He could get scared if he doesn't recognize where he is, and it could trigger another seizure. It would be a good idea to check his memory if something seems off when he first talks- check if he remembers what a chicken is when he sees a picture of one and stuff like that. He should probably have a CAT scan or an MRI to check for any brain damage when he's in a little better shape. If something looks wrong and looks like lasting damage I'd like to know about that as soon as you do.”> ......<“And make sure he eats, will you? He forgets to do that a lot and since he's been caring for a loved one in the hospital he's been neglecting his own health. If he looks a little sickly that'd explain it.”>

The doctor nodded. Definitely a doctor for a father... <“Of course, Sir. We’ll keep you posted, and I’ll do a full evaluation on him when he wakes.”> I’ll go the whole nine yards too.

<“Thank you very much, that sounds good. I'm sure a Levi Ackerman is there with him? Short, black hair, perpetual scowl?”>

<“Yes, he brought Eren in.”> Is he making sure this man is with Eren? Is this his bodyguard or something? Isn’t this man famous?

<“Good- does he have their kid? Is a toddler anywhere in sight?”> Knowing Levi he probably forgot Mila in the car and the cops are showing up just now to save her.
The doctor looked confused before glancing over to the man again and sighing. "No sir, there’s not a toddler in sight…”>

"I see no child with Levi…"

"Can you ask him who has the kid? If he left her in the car I need to get over there and smack him because you're not allowed to do that.”>

> Not a thing.

The doctor nodded, putting the phone to his shoulder. "Mr. Ackerman… Where’s your child?”>

Did you forget her like this man thinks you did?

Levi looked surprised at first, speaking after a moment. "A nurse got her from the car; Hannes has her.”>

She's fine.

The doctor relayed the message to Lathe, a soft smile on his face. "Anything else I can do before I get back to work?”>

Is there anything I should know?

.....called it. "Yes, please kindly inform Levi that the next time I see him he will promptly be smacked into next week for forgetting his kid. Thank you, and I hope the rest of your day goes well!”>

Lathe hung up after that, thinking. ....yeah, he's dead for that one.

The doctor hung up, looking to Levi. "Apparently you’ll be smacked the next time you see him…..”>

Is he actually going to beat you? Because it sounded like he would.

Levi sighed, running a hand through his hair. "Yeah, I kinda expected him to say something like that… and the worse part is I know he’ll actually do it.”>

He registered the strange look he was given, speaking again. "It's not like he beats me or anything, he’ll smack me for forgetting the kid in the car and then immediately apologize and start fussing over everything in sight.”>

It's how he works.

The doctor simply nodded before looking to Eren. "He’ll be here awhile.”>

He looks peaceful while he sleeps…. "Is there anything I should know about before I evaluate him when he wakes up? Any pre existing conditions I should know about?">

His eyes gazed down at the floor seeing Mikhail lay down on the floor with his vest on. Who's dog is that?

Levi nodded, looking to Mikhail. "Uh, yeah, Eren has PTSD… that's his service dog, Mikhail.”>

Yeah…. that's a thing...
“Okay so what topics should I steer clear of?” The man pulled out a pad of paper and a pen, starting to write Eren’s details down. I can evaluate him pretty quickly if I know what won’t set him off...

Levi hesitated, speaking. “He has PTSD because of sexual abuse a really long time ago… but given the past month he’s been really on edge… just don't try to allude to anything like that, and I'm sure you wouldn't have anyway. I'm sorry but your presence and especially touch is going to make him nervous, but that's why I'm here. And knowing Dad, if and when he comes, Eren’ll feel a lot better and be a bit more comfortable.” Sorry, but Eren's not gonna want anything to do with you when he wakes up.

The man nodded. “Understandable, I can definitely steer clear of that topic… A nurse will come by and move Eren out of the ER and into a room soon.” I need to go prepare some tests for him and see if I can schedule the MRI and the CAT scans...

“Thank you.” Levi watched the man leave, reaching for Eren’s hand when he had left, watching Eren peacefully sleep. I wish you'd wake up and be okay.... but it's not going to be okay for a while.... and I'm so sorry about that...

After a few minutes, a nurse came and brought Eren’s bed up to Hannes’ room. He’d been shifted over to make room for another hospital bed as Eren was rolled in. Mila was happily pulling on his scruff of a beard, giggling when she saw Levi, moving to stand on the older man’s lap to get to Levi. Da!

Levi quickly moved to catch Mila when she stood, trying to take a step and about to fall. “Honey, be careful!” Levi pecked her nose, bouncing her and settling her on his hip. He looked to Hannes, seeing the absolutely disbelieving look on his face. … oh. “Uhm, Hannes… Eren had had a seizure when I found him… he had another after we got here. We think he'll be okay, but we can't be sure until he wakes up.” …this is a thing… please don't panic...

Hannes looked shocked before looking at Eren’s limp body. “Has he woken up yet?” I’m worried about him.

Mila giggled as Levi picked her up. “Da!” She excitedly held onto him and looked at Eren sleeping on the bed. “Muhmuh?” She calmed down as she called for Eren again, but he just laid there. Muhmuh?
<“No, he's still unconscious….”> Levi faintly smiled as Mila clung to him, seeing the confusion in her eyes as Mila called to Eren, one of her hands reaching for him. “Mila, Honey, Eren’s sleeping right now, okay? He's really tired.” It's not completely a lie… seizures exhaust him…. Levi shifted his hold on her, cradling her closer. It's okay, Honey.

Mila shifted her gaze to Levi, mumbling something before she lifted her hand to chew on it. Tee hur…. She whimpered a bit as Eren laid motionless. “Muhmuh…” Her voice was whining, wanting Eren to hold her, not really noticing how white he was.

Levi sighed, going to the bag and getting her teething ring, letting her chew on it while he wiped off her hand with a tissue. “Mumma’s asleep, Honey.” Levi went and sat next to Eren, Mila crawling out of his arms, his eyes sad as she curled into the space by his chest, nuzzling into his neck. She missed him already… “Gentle, Honey.” Levi reached for her, smoothing her hair as she settled, letting her stay there. …….. Okay.

Mila was content to lay where she could hear Eren’s heartbeat. She was only fussy for a moment, chewing on the ring as another tooth started to come in. Muhmuh…

Levi sighed quietly as he sat there, dropping his head, his eyes shutting. ….I thought today might be okay… and it's not. Levi covered his mouth with his wrist as he yawned, looking back over to Mila, who was happy to lay with her ear pressed to Eren’s chest, teething like her life depended on it. Another tooth is probably coming in…

They stayed like that for awhile, Eren’s heartbeat still slow on the monitors and Hannes getting more and more worried about him. He’s been unconscious for hours! Mila’s already broken her gums for two more teeth, took a three hour nap and woke up crying for food and her diaper to be changed. He hasn’t stirred at all. <“Levi… Is this normal?”> I’m so worried…

Levi sighed, nodding. <“More or less… seizures exhaust him… and I'm sure with two of them happening in succession he'll be out a while more…”> Levi had long since shifted, deciding not to give a damn that Hannes was there and laying down behind Eren, spooning him a bit, an arm over him to make sure Mila didn't squirm and fall off the bed. I'm tired… but I shouldn't sleep… but I've been half-sleeping this whole time… and then I think I actually did sleep…. fuck it, I'm not allowing myself to care if I fall asleep.

Hannes nodded, going back to his book of puzzles, the nurses coming to check on them at regular intervals. Eren had just about slept through dinner when his eyes opened slowly. Mila was the first to notice, giggling. “Muhmuh!” She shifted to put her small hand on Eren’s forehead, trying to get to her feet.
Levi lifted his head, immediately sitting up and picking up Mila before she could topple over. “Careful, Honey!” He immediately pecked her cheek, looking down as he saw Eren shift the tiniest bit, standing and coming around the other side of the bed, trying to hide the wiry in his voice. “Eren? Eren, can you hear me?” Levi gently ran a hand through Eren’s hair as he came to, watching his eyes flutter open, his voice soft. “Don't worry Honey, you're okay. I'm right here. You're safe.” You're just fine.

“My body feels like lead.” Eren groaned as he shifted, feeling how stiff and heavy his body felt. “What happened? I remember you made me eat something…” What happened after that? Why am I in a hospital bed? In Hannes’ room?

Levi sighed, though he was inwardly grateful when he spoke. Thank fuck he remembers this morning… “Eren, you had a seizure this morning after I left for the hospital… I came back a bit later and you were on the ground, the seizure already having passed. You had another one when I brought you here… I'm sorry you feel like shit.” Levi gave him a small smile, still carding a hand through his hair. “Are you hungry at all, Hon?” You should be… we’re making you eat either way.

Eren was about to open his mouth before his stomach spoke for him. “Food.” He agreed, looking to Mila as she held her arms out for him to hold her. He smiled and shakily reached for her after he sat up. He smiled as she sat down on his lap, and he glanced over to see Hannes was asleep, an empty plate by his bedside. So I just missed dinner?

Levi nodded, making sure his hold on Mila was steady enough. “Yeah, we’ll get you food. I'll be right back, Hun.” Levi left, going down the hall and stopping the first nurse he saw <“Excuse me, ma’am? Eren Yeager just woke up and needs dinner. He was unconscious until just now.”> Surprisingly, he seems rather okay.

Chapter Summary

Hello, Hello

Update:

I've started Uni.... it's hell, well hell in a good way, but I'll try and get chapters out as much as I can, most likely they won't be long, but they'll hold a lot of meaning to the story, so yeah... have fun reading!

......Eren's been....... not himself... Lathe was still washing dishes long after dinner was done, taking his time. When he and Levi came home from Germany with Mila, he.... he's so far back into his old mentality.... when he came back he clung to me and cried for an hour.... it was so hard to see him like that... The dishes took him another hour, glancing up and seeing the time, sighing quietly. I still have paperwork to do... Lathe settled at the kitchen table and got to work, coffee making him jittery and anything besides tired when midnight rolled around, craving something sweet. I shouldn't.... I've kept gaining weight... It didn't take long for him to crack, curled up on the couch with a bowl of ice cream and a wedge of chocolate. I feel like I've been abandoning Ieva when it's this late and I'm not in bed... I get to sleep so late and wake up early... and we've got three more months until the twins are born... He was only vaguely interested in the war documentary, watching the images without really listening. And... my new... uhm.... toy came in the mail... and I've felt too guilty about it still to use it... even if Ieva said it was okay... she's never in the mood for anything sexual these days, I don't want to bother her... Lathe stared at his empty bowl with sad eyes. When she has the twins, and she really sees how much weight I've gained... will she even think I'm still attractive? Will she want to give me what I want? Lathe sniffled, going to rinse the bowl and put it in the dishwasher, going upstairs to their room. He was careful to be silent as he changed, settling in and unable to help from curling away from his wife, the space between them feeling so much bigger than a few inches. I'm sorry I'm a shitty husband..... Lathe stared off across the room, feeling his body slowly fall asleep, blinking and finally feeling himself blink out of consciousness.

He sat on the couch in the living room, the quilt spread out behind him, warm. The room around him was blurry, but his focus was snapped up to the brunette in his lap, the hands in his hair, appreciatively stroking over his shoulders and up his neck, the touch warm. ...?

The man’s eyes were soft as he held Lathe’s jaw gently, his fingers delicately curling into his dark black hair. His lips parted a bit, looking over Lathe as he sat in his lap, his legs cross around him expertly. “Hmm.... So handsome....” His voice was rich and a bit deep, but full of love and passion as he dipped his head down to Lathe’s neck, placing gentle kisses on the pale skin. So handsome…

Lathe felt himself gasp, immediately tipping his head to the side, slowly leaning into the touch, melting as his lips brushed his skin. … really…? “Y-You think so?” Lathe’s voice was small, his hands slowly wrapping around their trim waist.

“I don’t think so… I know so.” He murmured in his ear, gently kissing the sensitive spot and feeling Lathe shudder as a result. So sensitive… I love it. “I wanna hear everything, Lathe, don’t hold back.” The brunette let his eyes open lazily as he mouthed at the man’s neck, his hands moving to finger at the hem of his shirt.

“I want it off… So I can worship this body.”

Lathe made a small sound as the man gently tugged at his shirt, his face heating up with an embarrassed flush. But… “I-I’m not in the same shape you're used to… I’m sorry…..” Lathe felt close to tears, ducking his head down. I let myself go to waste… I worked so hard and then I stopped taking care of myself….

The man shook his head, removing his hands to bring them up to cup Lathe’s cheeks. “No, that doesn’t matter to me, not at all… I’d still love you no matter what you looked like, you certainly did the same for me…” He murmured and moved to lean in and kiss Lathe’s eyes, gently licking away the tears that threatened to fall. I don’t care, I would never care…

Lathe wanted to cry even more when his tears were kissed away, his heart tugging at the words. He held onto him tighter when the man gently pulled his sweater over his head, undoing the buttons of his shirt without barely any struggle. He flushed when it slowly slid off his shoulders, out of the way in a moment. He felt himself being pushed gently onto their bed, not remembering being carried up the stairs. It didn’t matter for long, shivering as the man nibbled at his neck, down to his chest. He reached and held onto his shoulders for purchase, whimpering incessantly as he started to pay attention to his chest. P-Please be gentle, please… It’s too much…

Eren sighed softly, shifting to move and kiss at his neck again. “Don’t worry, I’ll be gentle, and if anything feels off, or you don’t want to do anything, you tell me.” His bright teal-green eyes were soft and full of emotion as he slowly trailed down his chest once again with gentle open mouth kisses. I want you to feel safe, and secure.

Lathe breathed out softly, nodding. “O-Okay…” Lathe still held onto him tightly, gazing down, his breath catching when he recognized the eyes staring up at him, unused to the kind of love in them. W-Wait… Lathe’s mind stuttered when Eren gently nipped at one of his buds, shaking. He knew for a moment that he should be shoving him off, but after that confusion filled him. Why would he shove this beautiful creature away? When he blinked he forgot the reason of his discomfort, the emotion in those eyes making him feel safe, warming him to his toes. He tried not to squirm as Eren started to lavish him with attention, his breathing even and deep. How could I deserve this...?

Eren’s eyes were soft as he closed his lips around Lathe’s nipples, sucking softly. I want you to feel utter bliss. “Tell me what feels good... Okay?” I want to know...

Lathe let out quiet, breathy moans as Eren sucked on the sensitive flesh, his hands roaming over his clothed shoulders. I want the shirt off... He watched Eren leave his skin, a whine leaving him before he could stop it, unable to bring himself to move when Eren sat back in his lap. He watched him slowly take his shirt off over his head, his skin decorated with those same beautiful tattoos, the dark linework and colorful flowers everywhere on his arms and chest, even spilling onto his back. He held him close to his front when he shifted back down, his legs instinctively spreading when Eren shifted further down his chest. “O-Oh...” Lathe felt very warm as Eren gently kissed his stomach, feeling very conscious of the soft flesh. “I-Is it really okay?” I'm so sorry...

Eren paused looking at him with confusion. “What’s okay? Shouldn’t I be asking you that? Or would you rather top?” His voice soft and gentle as his hand moved to gently cup his bulge, kissing his stomach more as he waited for his answer. I don’t understand, I’m okay with this... But are you not?

Lathe shook his head immediately, sighing shakily when Eren gently handled him through his pants. “It’s n-not that, I... I don’t want to top... I just...” He looked away, ashamed. “I’m sorry I haven’t kept myself in better shape for you...” You’d like it better if I wasn’t this pudgy... I don’t wanna be like this if you don’t like it...

Eren shook his head. “If that’s what you're worried about, I don’t mind at all... I love all of you, every last bit, from your head to your toes. Don’t have a warped sense of what your body looks like, you’re beautiful, and if people can’t see that, they don’t deserve you. You’re amazing just the way you are, no matter if you’re as skinny as I was when you found me, or if you're on the thicker side, like Hannah is... You’re you, that’s all I want, and that’ll never change.” Eren murmured to him lovingly, his words full of compassion and love. His hands working on pulling Lathe’s pants down the whole time, intent on pleasuring him. I want you to feel good about yourself...

Lathe felt hot tears trail down his cheeks, not speaking for fear of letting out a sob, nodding. What did I ever do to deserve you... His lips parted in a gasp when Eren nipped lightly at him through his boxers, his heart feeling heavy with the affection Eren poured into him, still nervous when Eren slowly tugged down his boxers, gasping when he felt his hot tongue on him. “O-Oh...” Lathe spread himself more for him, his hands running through his hair. “F-Feels good...” He sounded weak, his toes curling. Please...

Eren let his tongue lavish him, swirling around his tip before backing off of him and looking into his eyes. “Can you flip over and get on your hands and knees for me?” His words were soft and his eyes held nothing but warmth. I want to really treat you right…

Lathe slowly nodded, looking away and shifting for a moment, not wanting to ask. I don't know if he'd be okay with it though… Lathe shifted onto his hands and knees, looking behind him as Eren shed his pants, still wearing his boxers for the moment. He shook with nerves when Eren settled onto the bed behind him, not knowing what to expect. What are you going to do to me? Lathe felt fear run through him for a moment, though it settled somewhat when he felt hands tenderly holding his thighs, steadying him. Please…

Eren smiled softly, gently kissing his ass cheeks, moving to gently rub his thighs to calm him down. I want you to be okay with this… He slowly moved his kisses towards Lathe’s pucker, licking a broad stripe over his quivering hole and watching the shiver that ran through his body. Good…

Lathe gasped, shaking when Eren did it again. The sensation felt so strange and so wonderful, arousal filling his belly as Eren slowly lapped at him, feeling the tip of his tongue gently prod him. He slowly pushed back into him, his face flushing as his muscle slowly entered him. “Oh Eren…” Feels so good… Lathe’s thighs shook, his length aching for attention. More… please, please more…

Eren smirked, shifting his hold so his hands moved his cheeks apart, giving him better access to his ass, and let him dip his tongue deeper. His own length was straining against his tight boxers, wanting to be set free, and a wet spot was already forming on them. Fuck, his body looks divine… I want him, but I doubt he’d want it rough…

Lathe let a moan rip from his throat as Eren reached deeper with his tongue, feeling hot, his blood still flowing south. Oh god… “Eren… I… I want it….” Lathe loved the feeling of his tongue, but he was still aching with want. “It feels so good, but I really want more…” Lathe whimpered as Eren’s muscle left him, looking back as Eren suddenly held a small tube of lube, swallowing hard. Guh… I wanna feel good…

Eren shifted him to lay across his lap, his hardon hidden from his view that way, as he was able to gently grab at his ass. “Hmm, you sure? You don’t have to do this if you don’t want.” He leaned down and kissed his lower back, feeling him shiver from the gentle touch, coating his fingers in lube still. I would like to really drive you wild… But I’m not sure you’d like that…

Lathe slowly slid down from his elbows, his face pressed to the soft sheets, presenting his ass to Eren. “I-I’m nervous, but… I want this… I really want this…” He sounded breathless, trying to keep his nerves down when Eren coated his fingers with the slick substance, his knees parting a bit more for him. He held his breath when his fingers ran around his pucker in a slow circle, making a small sound as the first finger entered him, trying to relax around the intrusion. It feels weird...

Eren made sure he kept kissing sensitive areas all along Lathe’s back as he gently worked his finger inside of him. He made sure he was gentle as he worked in a second finger, curling them, looking around for his prostate to try and get him to relax. Fuck… I am really hard, and the sounds he’s making… They’re going right to my dick...

Lathe mewled at all the attention, moaning loudly when Eren brushed that spot inside of him. Oh... “Eren… Eren, o-oh god...” Lathe felt like he was falling apart, the burn of the stretch as he added a third finger barely noticeable over the pleasure. So good... His eyes were screwed shut, shivering with the sensations. I love this....

Eren felt a blush overtake his features as he held Lathe close to himself. “I love this…. I love the way you sound when we’re like this… I love everything about you.” He nuzzled into him, feeling his fingers easily able to corkscrew around, a soft smile tugging on his lips. I wanna be inside of him, will he still want it?

Lathe blushed scarlet, feeling like it was their first time, everything so new and wonderful to him all over again. He blushed at his words, feeling him smile against his back. “I-I love how gentle you are with me when I... w-when I can't handle anything else...” How have you put up with me? Lathe moaned softly as Eren rubbed slow circles into his prostate, melting further into the bed. He quietly groaned when the fingers left him, looking back to Eren, shaking his head when he reached for a foil wrapper nearby. “N-No... I...” He blushed heavily, looking away. “....I want you to cum inside....” I wanna feel everything... “...please be gentle with me...” I don't want rough... I'm so sorry... but I can't take anything else right now...

Eren looked down at Lathe with surprise written across his features, slowly nodding and he shifted to get behind him, his length aching against his boxers which he finally decided to strip off of himself, letting his length leak precum as he shifted to grab the tube of lube. I should coat myself, he’s not gonna wanna touch my dick in any respect, I know he’s not gay, at least he’s let me go this far...

Lathe watched him, nearly drooling when his eyes rested on his length. Red, hot... he's dripping ... “E-Eren...” He reached back and swatted at his hand, looking up to him, his knees spreading more for him. “Like this… please...” He watched Eren’s expression, his face falling when he read his expression, shifting around to hold him close, burying his nose in his neck. “I... I might not be entirely gay... but that doesn't mean I’m entirely straight... I want you... so badly...” Lathe softly kissed his neck, feeling Eren hesitate in his arms, shivering at the touches. “You're everything I could ask for… please, don't doubt how much I want this...” I really want you...
Eren looked a little wary. “I should really put the condom on.” He murmured quietly, letting his head roll to the side, a low groan leaving his mouth as Lathe kissed at his neck. His lips feel nice…. I know he doesn’t want it rough… But at this rate…. I’ll be nothing but if I feel how warm he is…

Lathe felt fear grip in his chest for a moment, not wanting Eren to disagree. “B-But I want to feel everything… I really want to…” Lathe felt almost desperate, clinging to him, burying his face in his neck. I wanna…

Eren was easily swayed as Lathe clambered into his lap, shifting him so that his length poked at his entrance, wet and warm. He kissed Lathe’s ear, gently pushing his hips down onto his length as he sat there, holding onto him closely. You’ll like this position better I think, you can control what’s happening, and it’s hard to be rough with you on top of me…

Lathe draped himself on Eren, holding onto him tightly as he hovered over him, anxious. He felt his tip slowly enter him, gasping deeply as he sunk down his length, his head falling back at the sensation. He was so warm and wet, so much better than cool plastic, a stiff rod of silk. “O- Oh …” Lathe wanted to cry as Eren gently ground up into him, choking back a sob at the pleasure. I love it… I love it so much… I've missed out on so much… “I love it…” Lathe clung to Eren, trying to lift himself and sink back onto Eren, unused to the movement. “I wanted this so much…” I always wanted to know… it feels so much better than what I imagined…

Eren helped him move, his hands gripping onto his hips and helping him shift almost off of him before he plunged into him again. I want to be good for you, but is this okay for you? He turned his head to lap and kiss at Lathe’s neck, gentle as he let the man over him set the pace. I’ll let you lead….

Lathe struggled to lift himself and sink back down, his legs shaking as he was overwhelmed with everything, how right it felt to be full of Eren’s hot length, feeling him pulse when he shifted his hips on him, settled in his lap. I want you to take over… “Eren… please…” Lathe pulled Eren back with him, still buried in his heat as he fell onto his back, Eren over him. “C-Can you please…?” I want you to take care of me… I’m so sorry I’m being selfish…..

Eren looked over his whole body before he reached over him to grab a pillow, lifting his hips so that he could easily get his thighs under Lathe to really get going. “I-I’ll try and be gentle… But I can’t promise anything with how you look under me.” I really can’t, I can’t control myself…

Lathe nodded, slowly wrapping his arms and legs around him, groaning when Eren slowly thrusted into him. “I-It’s okay…” Lathe whimpered as Eren started a steady pace, looking up to him with love-filled eyes. “I get to have you…” I’m so happy….
Eren shifted forward bit by bit, his mouth latching onto Lathe’s skin as he formed an even pace, moving his thrusts around to look for his prostate. Where is it? His eyes widened as Lathe’s grip got tighter and his cries louder as he hit a certain spot. His hands grabbed the older man’s hips thrusting into that spot harder, wanting more and more to hear those sounds again.

Lathe cried out when Eren found his prostate, clinging to him tighter when his thrusts grew faster, shaking as he felt his coil tightening faster and faster. “Eren, o-oh my god… I-I'm gonna cum…” His voice was high-pitched, suddenly seized with fear. It's going to be over so soon…. “Y-You'll stay?” Stay with me… keep me warm…

Eren nodded against his neck. “Of course I’ll stay… Now relax…” He murmured huskily into his ears as his thrusts became jerky. Fuck you feel so tight…

Lathe stilled as he teetered on the edge, tightening around Eren, letting Eren pound into him, loving every second of it. He heard Eren moan loudly in his ear, feeling him cum inside of him, the sensation making him cry out loudly, his nails digging into his back. His head fell back as he blinked and let out a silent scream in bliss, his hands gripping the sheets as he looked up to the dark ceiling of his bedroom, cumming hard and panting as he orgasmed, slumping into the bed, confused for a moment at the lack of a beautiful brunette in his lap. What… His head fell to the side, his eyes widening as he saw locks and locks of bright hair. Ieva… and… I just… I… He looked back to his chest, the white streaks of cum on his bare chest doing nothing to calm the nausea rising in him. I dreamed… that, Eren and I.. we… and I loved it… Lathe was out of bed in an instant, managing to shut the door before he was curling over the toilet, vomiting everything in his stomach. Oh god… What the fuck is wrong with me?! Lathe dry heaved over the toilet for a long while before the crying started, going to rinse out his mouth when he was sure the vomiting was over, going to clean himself up. He looked in the mirror, feeling upset and utterly broken as he saw the white streaks on his pudgy stomach, his eyes red and puffy with tears. He looked over his entirety, feeling disgusted and sick, trying not to break down as he stared. I'm… I'm disgusting…

Chapter 117: Tears

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes.

Eren woke up when a crack of thunder clapped over the house, effectively shaking it. He let out a quiet yelp, seeing the bright flashes illuminate the room, and the tears instantly rolled down his face as another clap of thunder sounded. No... No more... No more... He shook as he curled up into a ball, starting to rock himself back and forth as he cried in silence, looking over towards Mila as she shifted. No no... No no... My fault... If she wakes up she'll cry... Levi doesn't want me to hold her....

Levi rolled over as the thunder sounded, the crack that faintly shook the house making him wake, sitting up. He looked over, seeing Eren curled up in the dim light. “Eren?” Levi shuffled closer to him before a shrill cry pierced the air, swearing under his breath. “One second Eren, I'll get her.” Levi for up and lifted Mila from her crib, bringing her to the bed with them, coaxing Eren closer to hold her between the two of them. “It's okay, it's just thunder. Your Daddies are right here, Honey.” Levi kissed her forehead, moving to kiss Eren’s cheek. “You have nothing to be scared of, love. It's just thunder. I'm right here.” You don't have to worry.

Eren shook his head, moving to curl up to himself tighter as he shook, let out a loud sound of fear as another boom of thunder sounded overhead. I'm sorry, i'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm sorry... He kept murmuring on autopilot, not even realizing he was doing it. His eyes glistened with tears that quickly fell down his cheeks. His knuckles were white from his grip on his own legs, hugging himself close, trying to hide away as Mila’s cries and screams got louder from the thunder as it got closer and louder.

Levi held Mila to his chest with one arm, the other wrapping around Eren and kissing at his tears, his own voice gentle and sweet just for him. “Eren, you don't have anything to be sorry for, it's not your fault... the thunder isn't your fault, Mila’s crying isn't your fault. You're okay, we’re all okay. It'll be over soon, Honey. Promise.” It's okay. Levi reached for a moment to tug the blankets around them, cocooning them before hugging Eren back to his side. It's alright.

Eren grew instantly stiff against Levi, now flinching every time Mila cried as well as every crack of thunder. He kept his head tucked down on his knees, sniffling and hiccuping as his tears came back full force, though his murmurs were nonexistent. I'm scared... I want Dad... I made Mila cry.... She's scared of me.... And Levi doesn’t want me to touch her.... He thinks I’m crazy.... Am I crazy? I probably am....

Levi noticed Eren grow stiff, shoving the blankets wrapped tightly around them away, feeling him relax a bit more. “Eren, Honey, hold Mila with me. She’ll feel better.” Levi pressed against him, Mila reaching for Eren in her teary, scared state. She wants you...
Eren’s eyes were wide with fear as he turned his head to see Mila reaching out for him with just as much fear in her own eyes. He glanced over to Levi, his whole body shaking as he felt his walls crumble around him. No…. Eren shook his head, still trying to grip his legs and keep them as close to his chest as possible knowing that his hands were shaking worse than anything. You don’t want me to hold her… Y-You even told Dad….

Levi understood, keeping Mila close to himself. “Mumma is scared too, Honey, it's loud and scary right now. But you don't have to be scared, neither of you do. Just hang onto me, Honey. You'll be okay.” Levi felt her clutch his shirt, Levi hanging onto them as the storm raged, rubbing Eren’s back as he cried. I can't fix this… at least not now….

Eren flinched at first, though soon he became accustomed to Levi’s gentle touch as he cried. He whimpered as the thunder slowly faded away. Mila fell asleep in Levi’s arms as the thunder lessened. I’m scared… Mila was crying because of me…. Fuck…. Levi’s probably mad at me…. He shook, whimpering as he still held himself tightly, watching Levi get up to put Mila back in her crib.

Levi turned back to their bed when Mila was in her crib, going to Eren and gently running a hand through his hair, his lips gentle on his temple. “Eren, Honey, none of this is your fault. It's all okay. Please don't be upset, it's okay. I love you so much.” Levi gave him a small smile. It's alright. “Do you want me to go get Dad for you?” He might make you feel better… I know he’ll be okay with helping you calm down and sleep again...

Eren stopped shaking for a moment, thinking about it. If you go and wake up Dad he’ll lose sleep… And he’s been tired lately and pushing me away… He swallowed hard shaking his head as he slowly unfurled, shifting to move towards the door. His eyes were bloodshot and full of fear as his hands shook horribly against the doorknob. I wanna go out…. I can’t bother Dad… And I can’t let you not get any sleep either...

Levi watched him shake, standing and resting a hand on his arm, another on his waist to steady him. “You're shaking so terribly… let me walk with you…” You look ready to topple over...

Eren shook his head. “N-No….. I’m s-sorry, g-go back t-to bed…” He flinched as Levi touched him, back away from him as he moved to struggle with the doorknob. I can’t let you go without sleep… And I can’t stay here, Mila will cry again. It’s my fault....

Levi nodded slowly, helping him open the door before kissing his temple and retreating back to bed. “Goodnight, Honey.” Levi settled back into the covers as it rained, unable to hear much over the sound of rain on the roof. I hope you feel better soon...
Eren watched him go back to sleep, glancing down the hall towards Lathe, wanting to go run to the man for his comfort but too scared of being a nuisance. He carefully clambered down the stairs. Maisie following after him as he slipped outside in the rain without shoes or even socks to protect his feet. It's cold. The water's cold…. He made sure to close the door behind him and slowly walked to the barn as he shivered, his hands shaking so bad that it took him a long time to open the barn door and then close it again. It's warm in here….

The house was slow to wake up on a Sunday, Jake practically obligated to be up before eight, watching cartoons by the time James was coming downstairs to help make breakfast. Lathe was soon to follow, the two of them cooking and letting Levi and Ieva sleep in, allowing Tucker and Henry plenty of time to make out and get handsy before they had to get up and eat. We might as well just add Henry under the insurance plan already, he's over so much. Lathe looked over his shoulder as Levi padded downstairs with a sleepy Mila, smiling wearily to him. “Hey, Levi. Eren still sleeping?” He's been so tired lately...

Levi paused, shifting Mila as she tried to fall back asleep in his arms. “He didn’t come back to our room last night…. I thought he was with you? He got freaked out after the storm last night……” Levi trailed off looking around the room and seeing that Eren was in fact not up yet. Shit… Where is he??

Lathe blinked. “He never came into our room… I thought he was with you.” Lathe looked to James, then to a shocked Jake and Levi, the two of them immediately shutting off the burners, James going to sweep the first floor while Lathe went to take the second. “Levi, check the basement, we need to find him. The storm must’ve scared the hell out of him.” I can't blame him, it was really bad...

Levi nodded, taking Mila with him as he walked down the stairs, getting to the basement and turning on all the lights. He opened up one door, searched the room before exiting and leaving the room going to the next one. Making sure that I check everywhere…. He even opened up the small cabinets and closet spaces, becoming worried when he didn’t see him. Where are you?

Five minutes they were convening at the base of the stairs, all of them looking frazzled.

“I checked behind all of the couches, in the dining room and bathroom and pantries, the studios too, and I even scouted the porch. He's not there.”

“He's nowhere upstairs, and I even checked up in the attic. He's not there.”
“He’s not in the basement, I checked every nook and cranny…. Did one of the dogs follow him?”

_How many do we have?_

Lathe quirked an eyebrow in thought, whistling. He heard many yaps coming from the living room, a small flood of dogs coming to them, sitting at their feet. They counted heads, adding one for Blake still sleeping in the living room. “They're all here… does anyone know where Eren is?” They tilted their heads at him. “Eren. Find Eren. Fetch Eren.” That seemed to get the message across, Maisie bee lining for the doggy door, the other dogs and pups following. _Oh my._

Levi looked worried, handing a sleepy Mila off to James before he threw on a coat and shoes and beelined after the mob of fur. _Where did he go?_ His eyes widened as they all slipped inside of the barely opened barn door, moving to push it open himself. _He was wear too little clothing last night! He was just wearing boxers and a tank! And he came outside!_

Lathe quickly stepped into his boots and ran after them, scanning the barn for Eren. _Where would he be… “Charlie’s stall?”_ Lathe and Levi immediately went to the extra large stall, opening it and peering inside. Charlie was still asleep, hay piled around him. They sifted quickly through the hay before they were sure he wasn't there, doing the same for Luna and Arya’s separate stalls, looking more and more worried with each passing moment. _Where the hell is he?_

Levi looked at him in worry. “I-I don’t know… I don’t know what’s going through his head anymore, he didn’t want to stay in the room with me and Mila… He thought Mila crying was his fault again…. “I have no idea where he is… Where did he run off to? Oh god, he doesn’t have any clothes on, he’s gonna get sick again. Levi could feel his chest clench with worry, looking around the last stalls and noticing that Eren was not in their stalls either. _Where are you, Brat?_

Kanji whined quietly, sniffing around the barn with the other pups. _The big human that likes the other big humans…?_ He scampered into Charlie’s stall, sniffing, looking around. _He was here, but he left…_ He trotted out again and went to the slightly ajar barn door, going out and running over to the chicken coop, sniffing the air and listening intently. _He's in there!_ Kanji squeezed in between some of the netting and the side of the coop, crawling up the small ramp into the coop and finding Eren curled into the far corner, yapping loudly and running in tight circles, as if he were chasing his tail. _I found him!_

Lathe heard the pup yapping outside, he and Levi going out to the chicken coop, seeing Kanji get chased out by the hens and roosters. _Oh my… “Kanji!”_ Lathe plucked him from the pen, holding him up. “You're getting into trouble again?” He watched the pup squirm intently, yapping at him. _Huh. “Is… Is Eren in there?” What._

Levi moved inside the pen, going to the back of the hen house where they would get in to acquire the chicken eggs. It's still locked. “Lathe, do you have the key on you?” He crawled in, I bet he did, he likes to hold Carla… And I don’t see her anywhere…

“Not on me, no… here, the pen’s strong as hell. Step in.” Lathe helped Levi step in, pointing to the small opening for the hens. “Try there, I'll go get the keys if you can't fit.” Lathe left and set Kanji on his head, the pup yapping as he walked. Hello, pupper.

Levi shifted to see how the hell he was supposed to be able to crawl into that fixed hole. How did Eren get in? He laid down on the little walk way up and stuck his head in seeing Eren shiver as he held Carla close to him, the hen seemingly calm in his arms. How the fuck did you get in there!? My shoulders are way too broad for that. “Dad! Get the key! He doesn’t have a shirt on!” His eyes were wide, seeing his fiancé shivering in just his boxers. Where did your tanktop go?

Lathe got the keys, running back with them and with Kanji on his shoulder instead. He hurriedly unlocked the henhouse, seeing Eren inside with Carla. “Oh my god, Honey…” Lathe felt his heart breaking to see the freezing man, letting Levi past him to gather him into his arms. Oh my god…

Levi’s eyes were wide as he gathered Eren, seeing that his fingers were blue as his lips and his teeth chattering, his eyes barely opening as he was picked up. Shit! He stood carefully, looking to Lathe with worry. “Can you make him warm broth? I’m going to go out him into a warm bath.” He shifted Eren trying to shield him from the rain that continued to pour.

Lathe nodded, gently taking Carla and setting her back in the pen before shutting the door, herding all the pups and doge back into the house. He got them dried off, going to make chicken broth. He poured some into a mug when Levi carried a freshly bathed Eren down the stairs. He carried it over to them, looking worried as Eren mumbled the same words over and over. He's sorry...? “Eren, Honey, this isn't your fault at all. You're okay, everyone's okay. Here, drink this. You'll feel better.” Please.

Eren’s eyes were still fearful as he looked to the soup set in front of him, his words a bit louder as he apologized endlessly. His hand came up to scratch at his wrist, turning his hand into a fist and hitting his head as tears formed. I’m so sorry... I burdened you... I should've been up to make breakfast.... He sniffled more as he apologized and still hit himself. I’m so sorry...

Levi reached out and caught his hand, he and Lathe both quietly murmuring to him. “Eren, it's okay, you didn't have to make breakfast or do anything for us. It's okay, you did just fine. Really. Please, don't hurt yourself.” The two of them gave him small smiles, reassuring him. It's okay.

Eren whimpered as he was held, weakly tugging at his arm to be let free wanting to scratch. Mila started crying because of me... Dad had to make breakfast because of me.... Because I keep fucking up... “I’m sorry.... I-It’s all m-my fault...” He stuttered, fresh tears welling in his eyes. I hate this... I really do...

Levi cupped his cheek, gently kissing all over his cheek. “None of it is your fault, Eren. It's all okay. Mila crying, the storm, me waking up, it's none of your fault. It's okay, I'm fine and Mila’s fine. It's okay.” Levi held Eren close, his smile tired. It's okay.

Eren shook his head, feeling his whole body tense as Levi leaned in closer to him, though soon he was used to the comforting contact. I... I-... it's my fault.... “V-Vatri... W-Where’s Vatri?” He asked with wide and fearful eyes, looking to Levi for answers. I can’t bother Dad... He’ll push me away, just like he would’ve last night if so bothered him...

Levi looked stunned, silent for a moment before he found the words. “Eren, he's still in Germany... we were there a few weeks ago.” He's still there...

Eren’s eyes seemed to go a bit dull as he grabbed at his hair and pulled on it hard. The new word on his lips was ‘stupid’, calling himself that as he tugged on his longer hair. Stupid.... He’s not here... You’re a bother... He didn’t want you to stay....

Levi took Eren’s hands from his hair, looking up to Lathe with worry. He needs his meds... He watched the man disappear, holding Eren to his chest, kissing over his features. “You're not stupid, Eren. You're a very intelligent man... I love you.” He kissed his nose, smiling faintly to him. I'm right here.

Eren watched Lathe walk away from him, his eyes wide with fear. He’s... He’s leaving.... No, no no! Eren pulled away from Levi, scrambling on weak legs to chase after Lathe, his arms tightly wrapping around Lathe’s middle, fear obvious in his eyes still. Don’t go...

Lathe was on weak legs when he felt Eren pressed to his back, his mind flooding with every lewd image that had burned into his mind, blushing scarlet and feeling sickness twist at him. He turned and gently pushed him away, his voice still firm. “E-Eren, I'm sorry, but please don't do that...” I can't handle that... He looked up when he heard sniffling, his face becoming one of heartbreak when he saw Eren’s expression. He looked broken and betrayed, hopeless and scared. Oh... “Eren, just go sit with Levi while I get you your medicine, okay?” Lathe struggled to kiss his forehead before trying to scurry up the stairs, trying to force the images away for the twentieth time in the past 72 hours. Guh....

Eren stood there where Lathe pushed him away, looking down at his hands and sinking down to the floor in defeat. I’m….. I’m a nuisance… Aren’t I? I don’t do anything helpful….. His head dipped lower in sadness and heartache. My own father wants nothing to do with me…. He sat there, his shoulders slumped and shaking slightly as he cried. I can’t…. I don’t wanna be useless….

Lathe’s eyes widened, his hands coming up over his mouth in shock. Oh my god… …..what… what the fuck am I doing?! Lathe knelt on the floor in front of Eren, looking to his face. This Eren… and the one in my dream…. they’re not the same. This one here needs you to be their father and to help reassure them. “Eren, love, I’m so sorry…. I didn't mean it, really. Please don't cry, honey.” Lathe reached for him, gently cradling him to his chest, feeling him clutch at his sweater tightly. “Your Daddy loves you. I'm so sorry, I wasn't thinking… please don't be mad at me. I love you, Eren. Please don't be so upset.” Lathe pulled out his blue kerchief, gently wiping away his tears, kissing Eren’s cheek. “Your Daddy loves you, Honey. He thinks you're wonderful, and smart, and he cares about you so much. I love you, Eren. I'm so, so sorry.” Lathe insisted on helping Eren, giving him his kerchief. “It's okay to cry, Honey. I got upset, and I hurt you. I really shouldn't have. I didn't mean it. Please forgive me.” Lathe held out his hand, palm-up, asking for forgiveness. Please…

Eren just continued to cry looking down and away from him where he sat, his hands shaking as he clung to Lathe’s sweater. I'm useless…. You're only saying this because I was crying…. I should stop crying…. He sniffled, turning his head away from Lathe as he tried to wipe away his tears, letting go of Lathe’s sweater to rub at his own eyes. I need to stop, I'm being a nuisance…. He doesn’t want me to cry, he probably doesn’t want me to be here....

Lathe insisted on helping Eren, giving him his kerchief. “It's okay to cry, Honey. I got upset, and I hurt you. I really shouldn't have. I didn't mean it. Please forgive me.” Lathe held out his hand, palm-up, asking for forgiveness. Please…

Eren looked at the hand present to him in confusion. But he doesn’t need to apologize. He shook his head moving his own tearstained and shaky hand to rest over Lathe, asking for his own forgiveness. I probably deserved it.... His other hand grabbed at his hair, tugging on it to try and get him to stop himself crying, muttering about how ‘stupid’ he is. I’m stupid…. You don’t want me to cry…. I’ll stop crying…. I’ll stop crying when people are around… I’ll smile instead? Eren tried to turn his head to smile at Lathe but it didn’t look like any natural smile, obviously forced and his eyes held no gleam for it with how bloodshot they were.

Lathe moved his hand under Eren’s, gently closing it and holding onto his fist, bringing him completely into his lap as he shook harder. “It's okay, it's okay… you don't have to pretend to be happy don't stop crying, it's okay. And you're not stupid, love. You're so smart, and you're wonderful. You didn't deserve me pushing you away. I'm so, so sorry. Please forgive me.” I fucked up...

Eren rocked himself as he shook in Lathe’s lap shaking his head. “I deserve… I deserve…. I deserve…. I bad…. I deserve…. I deserve…. I nuisance....” He repeated the words over and over again sounding like a broken record as he took both hands now to pull at his hair, not bothering to be gentle with himself. I deserve it…. I’m stupid, and I can’t stop crying even with a smile...

Lathe scooped Eren up into his arms, bringing him to the couch and sitting with him still in his lap, gently untangling his hands from his hair. “No, no honey, you didn’t deserve that. You did nothing wrong. You wanted to hold onto me and I pushed you away. I’ve been pushing you away too much lately and I’m so sorry for that. I’ll stop, Honey. I’ll be a better Dad for you. You’re absolutely not a nuisance. You’re a wonderful piece of this family; I’d be heartbroken if we didn’t have you around. We love you, Eren. I love you.” Lathe kissed his cheek gently, peppering his face with kisses. I’m sorry… don’t feel so badly about yourself...

“That nuisance…..” Eren murmured, though he was slowly starting to calm down in Lathe’s arms, he hadn’t realized Levi had left and gotten his medication until he came back with a syringe. He sobered up right then and there, looking down with dull eyes and holding his arm out. Oh no…. They must think I’m crazy…. Which is why I have medication…. Right? They don’t want to be bothered with it, so they give me shots. Eren kept his eyes closed as Levi cleaned his arm, barely acknowledging that Levi had given him a shot before he felt him put a bandaid over the spot. He swallowed hard, sniffing and looking away from both of them. “I’m sorry…” I need to stop, everything is so fucked up in my head… I need to stop relying on people.... They probably hate it, I know they do… Dad pushes me away, even though he says he’s not going to anymore, I know he will, everyone does.... Eren lifted his head to see Mikhail staring back at him. I know... I’m thinking about it again, but can you blame me?

“Don’t be sorry, Honey.” Lathe held Eren close, gently rubbing his arm as Eren’s head rested on his shoulder. He dragged a blanket over them, making sure Eren was warm. His voice was gentle. “You’re no nuisance to any of us, Eren. We all love you. You have nothing to apologize for. It’s okay.” Lathe looked up when Levi came back into the room, making room for him, the two of them shifting Eren between them. It’s okay...

He’s doing really badly this morning. Levi settled next to him, wrapping his arm behind Eren’s middle and leaning his head on his shoulder. He shifted and kissed his cheek, the two of them showering Eren with affection, holding onto his hands so he wouldn't tug at his hair. “Be gentle with yourself, Eren. It's okay. You don’t deserve to hurt. It's alright.” He leaned over and very lightly brushed their lips. “....I love you.” He faintly murmured in Eren’s ear, his eyes warm. It's okay....

But do you really?.... I thought you loved Mila, you can’t love both of us at the same time. He was quiet as he slowly calmed down wrapped up in their arms. Dad doesn’t have time for me, he pushed me away too... He’s getting rid of me, because I’m useless.... I’m a nuisance .... He watched Mikhail whine at him, moving to put his paws up on the couch and try and lick at his face. You can’t make it better Mikhail.... You really can’t...
The two of them curled up into Eren’s sides, murmuring in his ears, reassuring him and promising that they loved him. Lathe watched Mikhail lean up and lick at Eren’s cheeks, smiling faintly when Eren faintly giggled for a moment. It was over as soon as it began, though, Eren gently nudging the dog away. He had settled down as time passed, watching Levi shift up to stand, going to scoop Eren into his arms. It was in that moment he realized the man was asleep, limp in Levi’s arms. “We’ll let him sleep until lunch, okay?” He watched him nod and disappear up the stairs, standing and putting the blanket back. The day was rather quiet after that, time passing uneventfully until dinner came, Eren finally joining them at the table, quiet, his hair ruffled from sleep. Lathe set a plate in front of him, gently ruffling his hair further. “Sleep okay, honey?”
You look a lot better than this morning….

Eren nodded, though he still kept his head down and his gaze to the floor. “Y-Yeah, I’m sorry about how I acted, I’ll make sure that I take my meds properly.” I can't hug you, you'll push me away from you like you did this morning…. Maybe I should go…. I think I should….

Lathe softly smiled, kissing the top of his head. “It's okay honey, you couldn't control your actions because you forgot your meds. It's okay, we’ll help you remember to take them on time, okay? That starts today.” He gave him a small smile, leaning down to give him a gentle hug, his face falling when Eren shifted away from him, giving him a bit of a saddened look. “Are hugs not okay…?”

You’re just forcing yourself… Eren shook his head and looked down, holding his wrist awkwardly, too ashamed that Lathe was forcing himself to hug him, knowing that he was doing it just to make Eren feel better about himself. I don’t want you to force yourself to think about me. He kept his head down as he moved to pick Mila up from Levi’s lap and go and get her food for her. I'll let Levi eat in peace, he probably hates that he needs to take care of both of us a majority of the time.

Lathe felt hurt, though he gave him a weak smile, nodding. “Okay. You talk to me if you change your mind, okay? We love you.” Lathe went to sit at his own plate, picking at the food he’d given himself. It tastes good, which is a plus, I guess… it'll work…. I don't want anyone worrying….

Eren could only weakly nod as he sat down beside Levi and helped Mila eat her bits of solid food. She’s doing well, which is good… He smiled faintly, though it didn’t last long on his face. She’s barely around me anyways…. She’ll be fine if I leave… Eren was already going through ways to leave in his head and where he would go. Mom probably wants me gone to make room for the twins…. He shook his head, not bothering with his own plate for the moment, making sure Mila was fed. She’s much more important than me….

Levi helped Mila eat, smiling faintly as she ate her cooked carrots. Thank god she doesn't hate her veggies… Levi wiped her chin with a napkin, losing her cheek when she had finished everything. He himself had worked through half of his plate, frowning a bit when he saw Eren’s, untouched. “Eren, you should eat. You haven't had anything all day.” You need food.
Eren looked over to his plate and nodded, shifting his attention to his plate and silently beginning to eat. You’re probably worried… Am I getting too skinny for you? That’s probably it… You probably hate holding a twig, but you’d hate holding me if I were bigger than this… He swallowed his food, looking down at his red wrist from the scratches he’d made. Fuck… I need to start wearing wraps around my wrists.

Lathe finished his plate, staring at it for a long moment. It tasted good… Lathe excused himself to go to the bathroom, locking the door and turning on the water, though he didn't bother with the sink. He prayed no one was listening as he turned to face white porcelain for the third time that day. It can't stay down…

Levi finished his plate, smiling as Mila reached for his finger when Lathe came back to the table, looking paler than usual. He seemed fine when he sat down, immediately drinking from his coffee mug. He looked over when he saw Eren scratch at his wrist, reaching out and gently catching his hand. “Don't do that, Hun, you're hurting yourself.” You shouldn't.

Eren watched Lathe come back, seeing how pale he was before he drank some coffee, seeming alright. He glanced over to Levi, shaking his head for a moment, going back to eating his food. I’ll get packed when you sleep, and I’ll go over to Armin’s…. They won’t have to worry…

Levi’s face fell, though he stood and went to pick Mila up, letting James silently take her and go to the living room with the child. He moved to help with the dishes, only taking Eren’s when he was sure he had eaten enough. He looked to Lathe, seeing his hand shaking a bit when he was handed a plate. “Dad, are you okay?” You don't look that great…

Lathe gave him a quizzical look, nodding. “Yeah, I'm fine.” Just believe me, don't ask questions… I'm fine. He sighed in relief when Levi went back to the dishes, busying himself as well. It's okay. They're not suspicious….

Eren moved to get up and help with the dishes, though he quickly realized that Lathe and Levi didn’t want him there, shooing him away, which only made his heartache worsen. I’m not a good boy… I’ll never be good enough for them… He sniffled as he walked to the studio, looking over the projects he’d started so long ago and never finished. ………… Maybe I could use what I’m feeling to write new music?

Lathe and Levi finished with the dishes, the older man gently patting Levi’s shoulder. “See if you can round up Eren to go to sleep, okay? You and he have both had a long day. You need rest.” It'll do you good to rest, maybe cuddle… I'll be down here a bit longer, I have stuff in the gym to do first…
Levi nodded, drying off his hands, folding the towel back up and carefully setting it back. “Alright, I’ll go see where he wandered off too, I should grab Mila too… Maybe I should do that after I get Eren to sleep, James can hold her a little longer.” I want to hold him, his eyes still aren’t as bright as they are when he’s happy.

Eren was picking up various pieces of charcoal, looking it over with dull eyes. Should I make a big piece with it? I could theoretically, It would be easy… Maybe I could paint the wall, take a video and keep the door locked while I sing or something?…. Maybe… But I need to think of words first…

Levi knocked lightly on the doorframe, looking over to Eren as he sat with the charcoal, seeing his dull eyes. “Eren? Want to come upstairs and sleep? Or do you have ideas?” He smirked faintly as he studied the stick of charcoal. You might be having an artistic moment, I’m not sure…

“Can… Can you see what color paints there are for the wall?” His voice was small as he looked over the charcoal still. I could do it… I think I can… Dad would probably send me to therapy after… Who knows, maybe I’ll feel better if I go to therapy…

Levi nodded, going over to Lathe’s half of the studio, skimming the boxes of wall paints. He soon came back, leaning against the doorframe. “We have white, black, the primary colors, some metallic ones, and that glow-in-the-dark stuff you like.” He made sure we’re stocked up…

“Are there any dull colors? Like greys and browns… maybe odd shades of blue?” Eren murmured as he moved to set the charcoal down, moving to tear down a massive picture he had been working on ages ago, which hung on the wall. He barely showed any emotion as he tore it apart, pulling the pegs out of the wall, making sure the white surface was even. I’ll need these two walls, which means I’ll need to take that down too… His gaze was set on the picture in charcoal of Levi holding Mila to his chest. I…. I can’t take that down….

Levi walked over to Eren, looking where his gaze was, his eyes shining when he saw it. “Eren, I didn’t know you drew that…” He looked over Mila’s peaceful sleeping face, her cheek to his chest, seeing the faintest hint of a smile on his face. It's wonderful… He looked to the largely unfinished work torn up on the table, realization hitting him. …oh. “Eren, if we’re careful we can take it down… I don’t want to tear that one up…” It has Mila in it… and she’s so adorable…

Eren felt his chest tighten more, shaking his head, looking away as he scratched at his wrist. I can’t take it off… If I touch it… I’ll end up destroying it… There’s a reason I’m not in that picture… It’s because you look so fucking happy together… He barely recognized that he was crying until a sob wracked through him.
Levi’s expression softened, going to wrap him up in his arms when Eren sobbed, pulling him to his chest. “Eren, please, it's okay, really. I love the drawing, I really do, but it's okay to take it down. Please don't be so upset. It's okay, really. It's okay, Honey. Stay with me.” Levi pled with him, kissing his temple. It's okay.

“T-Take it down…” Eren harshly whispered, looking away from him, shaking his head as he pushed himself away from Levi. I need to take my pills... I’m gonna fucking lose it if I don’t… He hiccupped as he started walking towards the door, bolting away, only to bump into Lathe and be sent crashing to the ground with more tears in his eyes. Fuck... He looked up with broken eyes as he broke down on the floor in front of Lathe. Shit...

Levi followed when he heard a crash, seeing Lathe looking at Eren with wide eyes, putting two and two together when he saw Levi’s expression. The two of them fell to the floor with him, lifting him and carrying him to the living room. They held onto him, Levi practically in Eren’s lap as he murmured in Eren’s ear. We love you so much...

Eren just continued to shake and cry, clinging to the both of them like his life depended on it. “I-I…I-I-I…” He could barely speak over his sobs, which made his whole body shake more in their arms. I need my pills... I need my pills... Someone go get my pills... please… Eren whimpered as he cried, not knowing how long they were sitting there before Mikhail dropped something in his lap, but he was too afraid to see what it was.

Lathe looked to see what Mikhail brought, beaming. “Mikhail, can you get a water bottle from the pantry? Water bottle. Fetch.” He watched Mikhail scamper off, sighing in relief when he heard the crinkle of plastic, soon a bottle being dropped in their laps. Lathe fiddled with the bottle of meds, pressing them into Eren’s hand. “Here, Honey, your meds. Take these, oka-” It didn't take an instant for Eren to swallow them down, obediently drinking half the bottle of water when it was given to him. “Okay, Eren.” He set the bottle of water down, going back to holding Eren tightly, he and Levi nestling into his shoulders. “We’re both here for you, Eren. We love you so much.” More than anything.

“I-I’m sorry…” He whispered as he clung to them, slowly starting to calm down from his crying fit. “I-I’m sorry, I… I couldn’t stop…” He murmured, calming down to a point where he could talk and sniffle, feeling how tight his cheeks felt from the tear trails. Fuck, I probably look like a mess... I... I’m so sorry, how do you two always hold me like this for the whole time I have one of my fits? I don’t get it...

“It's okay, you couldn't do anything about it.” Levi kissed his cheek, gently rubbing his stomach with his thumb absentmindedly. “We’re always going to be right here when you need us, Eren. We’ve got you. ....I love you, Hon.” He whispered in his ear, nuzzling into his neck. I really do...
“D-Did you take it down?” He asked softly, tilting his head to the side to make it easier for Levi to nuzzle him, feeling his body slowly fill with warmth as Levi held him close to his chest. You’ll still hold me even after all the shit I put you through?

Levi slowly shook his head. “I didn’t… I didn’t have the time. And I don’t want to take it down. It’s a beautifully done piece… even if it’s missing Mum.” Levi smiled faintly and softly kissed Eren’s neck. I love you. “We don’t have to take it down. But if we do, we’re doing everything we can to keep it in one piece.” I love that piece...

“It… It’s gotta come down… I-I need the wall….” Eren murmured looking down a bit. “I… I can’t touch it… I’ll rip it… Can you guys take it down?” He murmured quietly, looking up to Lathe with a bit of hope in his eyes. I really hope you can do it… You two look happy in it, without me, but I don’t need to be in there... Maybe one day, but not now...

Lathe and Levi smiled, nodding, the younger man speaking with a faint smile. “Yeah, we’ll take it down. But tomorrow. And after it’s down, it’s getting sprayed to set it and getting hung back up somewhere. It's too nice.” I love it...

Eren shook his head letting go of the two of them. “N-No… Take it down… Take it down, I don’t wanna rip it…” Eren set his head down on his knees, curling up as he thought about ripping it. I'd be stuck with Mila.... And you would leave me.... You really would....

Levi looked surprised as Eren let go of them, shifting to help him unfurl, kissing his cheek. “Eren, it's okay, we can take it down and put it away. It's okay if you don't like it. ...one of these days I hope you can maybe draw all three of us together… you, me, and Mila... my own wonderful little family.” I'm so happy I have you.

Eren blushed a bit as he was kissed, his words catching in his throat as Levi spoke. No.... I can’t draw that yet, I’m not your family, Mila is though. He shook his head looking down. “Take it off the wall…. Please.” His voice was desperate, waiting for the two of them to leave him be and go take the picture off the wall. I want it gone...

Levi nodded, softly brushing their lips as they stood, going with Lathe to take down the picture.

“I know where the spray to seal the picture is. Here.” Lathe went to a shelf and fished the can out of a box, getting a piece of blank paper and going to set the picture while it still hung, the extra paper keeping it from hitting the wall. “In case it would otherwise get smudged.” Lathe fanned it with the paper when he was done, looking to the tacks embedded in the wall. “Levi, get one of the finer flat screwdrivers from the junk drawer, would you? If there isn't a good one, grab that small jeweler’s kit.” That’d have something in it.

Levi looked at him and just shrugged, moving to get a flat screwdriver and handing it to Lathe carefully. “I don’t know why he wants it taken down… He… He tore down the other one he was working on.” When was the last time he was in here? He hasn’t been in here since we came back, has he?

Lathe took the fine screwdriver, carefully wedging it under the tack, prying it off, seeing it skitter across the floor. “Pick them up, could you? I’d rather not stab my feet. ….and I think…” Lathe pried off another one. “It’s because it's just you and Mila in it….he hasn't been in here in so long, either. He forgot what he felt when he was making these different pieces of art. I think he forgot the fondness he must’ve felt when drawing this, and with his mentality the way it's been lately, he must've forgotten how it was to draw anything.” He gestured around them. “The happiness, the sadness, the reservedness and the sensuality… he's probably forgotten it…” I think that's what happened...

Levi was quiet as he picked up the tacked from the floor. “He was gonna tear it…. But he stopped himself, I have no idea what he’s doing with the wall…. He wanted darker colors…. And greys and Browns…. I have no idea what he’s going to do…..” Not at all, nor with how he’s been functioning without the pills and relapsing so much… He made sure he picked them all up, looking to the picture of him and Mila. “Will he be able to work on it still? Or not?”

Lathe shook his head, very careful as he pried out the last tack, the sheet draping over his hand. He moved it to the table, still in perfect condition. “No, he won't be. But he signed it… it's done.” Lathe pointed out the hidden signature, going to get a large sheet to make a folder for the art. “It's a beautiful piece…” Lathe quietly admired it for a moment. Very well done...

“Yeah…. I just wish that he’s get better, he’s not himself anymore…. He even broke down at least twice today, maybe three if you count his escapade to the chicken coop.” I want my Eren back, the one that blushes, and laughs with me, and says snarky remarks…. I want him back to his old self.... Is that selfish?

Lathe sighed quietly, going to hug Levi, feeling his head drop onto his chest. “It's okay… He'll feel much better after he's back regularly on the meds… his system got thrown off after that trip….he'll be okay soon.” Don't worry.

Levi nodded, wrapping his arms around Lathe, though his arms started to feel up his sides, his brown furrowing. Is he thinner? No, I have to be imagining it, right? I'm just used to thinking about it because of Eren’s habit of not eating... Levi sighed, closing his eyes and enjoying Lathe’s arms around him. “I’m going to start looking for a job soon…” I won’t be in the house much…

Lathe felt panic rise in his chest as Levi felt his sides, sighing in relief when he didn't say anything. Thank god… “Of course; what did you have in mind?” There's a lot you could do….

“I’m looking into the paramedic requirements… I have all the training for it, but I’ll need to go to the gym again to work on my upper body strength…. And make sure my leg works good…” He murmured, letting go of him and looking towards the door. “I should get Eren to bed, so he can wake up in the morning….”

Lathe smiled, going after him and catching his shoulder. He turned Levi a bit, pecking his temple. “I’m proud of you.” Lathe chuckled when Levi shooed him away with a grumble, meandering with him back to the living room, the drawing having been quickly shoved behind a cabinet in Lathe’s studio. They came back in to where Eren was, Lathe giving his forehead a small peck before letting Levi scoop him up. “Goodnight, Hon. Love you.” Sleep well.

Levi picked Eren up from the couch, carrying him upstairs. He laid him in bed before clambering in next to him, seeing James had already set Mila to sleep. “Goodnight, babe.” Levi kissed Eren’s cheek, settling next to him and letting Eren curl up in his arms.

Eren needs to find himself again

Levi felt cold when he woke up, blinking awake slowly, feeling for Eren. He's up… the bed’s cold. Levi got up and stretched, picking up Mila when she heard the bed creak and fidgeted in her crib. He gently bounced her as he went downstairs, seeing Lathe cooking breakfast. “‘Morning, Dad. Is Eren downstairs?” He was doing better last night....

Lathe looked over his shoulder, slowly shaking his head. “I haven't seen him.” They were silent for a long moment before all the burners were off again, Lathe jumping into his boots. “I'll check the barn and chicken coop, you get this floor, the studios, and the basement. James-” He watched the older teen salute. “You get the second floor and attic.” This is yesterday morning all over again.

Levi nodded, going to look over the art studio first, noticing that everything had been moved away from the walls, but Eren was no longer in the room, checking the closet and still nothing. He went through everything on the first floor, the living room, the closets, the kitchens… No sign of him whatsoever. Eren… Where are you? He cooed to Mila as she fidgeted in his arms, making his way downstairs to the basement as well and looking everywhere with no sign of him. Oh no... Where’d he end up going? Levi made his way back up the stairs, checking the porch once more, though he noticed that Eren’s shoes were missing, along with a coat and his scarf. Oh no… Fuck .... Levi moved to put Mila in the hands of Jake, making sure he sat on the couch with a pillow under his arm so she was cradled carefully before slipping on his own shoes and running towards the barn. “Dad! Dad he’s gone !”

Lathe jumped down from the ladder up to the loft, running outside again. “He's not here! He didn't take Charlie or Luna- where is he?!” Lathe pulled out his phone, dialing their neighbor quickly. “I'm calling Armin's since he's so close- if anyone, he’d see him.” Lathe had the phone on speaker as they walked back inside, nervous. Come on, pick up... please ...

Armin groaned as he shifted, carefully lifting Eren’s head from his chest. He grabbed his phone from the nightstand quietly padding to the hallway and shutting the door to answer it. “It’s barely eight in the morning on a Saturday…. What?” His voice was tired as he yawned, rubbing the sleep from his eyes. I bet this is about Eren, even though he said that he told them that he was coming here.... I’m exhausted, Eren kept waking up and crying, then he got up to take pills and then he fell right asleep, I’ll make sure he takes them properly...
“Armin, I’m so sorry for waking you up, but have you seen or heard anything from Eren? He’s gone missing and we’re worried about him.” He just up and left… “His car and the horses are still here so he left on foot…” help...

“He came over last night…. We’re still sleeping because he came over and woke me up… He doesn't want you to come get him if last night’s tear fest was anything to go by.” Armin answered, yawns separating his words as he made it downstairs. I need coffee...

Lathe and Levi looked at each other with wide eyes, sounding worried. “Did he say much of anything? Or did he just… cry?” This sounds bad….

“Well, he cried for awhile, kept saying he was useless and a nuisance…. You pushed him away when he went for a hug, that really fucked with his head…. He thinks you're forcing yourself to be nice to him. He doesn’t feel like part of his own family, mostly because Levi keeps Mila…. He’s hurting, and his pills are only helping so much for him…. I know a lot about what happened, and I kind of understand why he ran away…

Lathe winced as Armin spoke, rubbing the back of his neck. “I didn't think about it… he started crying so much after I did that… wasn't a very good moment…” I fucked up.

“And I do kinda monopolize Mila… but Eren shies away when I try to hand her over…” Not good….

Lathe sighed. “Armin, do you think you could hang onto Eren for a little longer before we come get him? He sounds like he needs a break for a bit… but we’ll come over after lunch to retrieve him, if it's not too much trouble… we're sorry for waking you up…” Yeah… sorry...

Armin sighed as he held the phone to his ear. “You should probably leave him here for a few days… He’s not that great right now, and Mikhail followed him, so he'll help with his pills and stuff, but I can handle him, I’m home most of the time anyways.” He rubbed at his face, shaking his head. Eren was adamant that neither of you two come to get him…. “He’ll think you're forcing yourselves to come and get him, and he also thinks that you don’t want him to handle Mila, Levi… I’d let him go home on his own time, but I’ll talk to him.” He’s a mess, and I hate seeing him like this...

The two of them sighed, nodding in resignation. “…okay. Thank you, Armin. Really, it means a lot that you're willing to put up with him… and with us. Please talk to him… let him know we’re here waiting with open arms for when he feels okay enough to come home.” We’ll miss him by the end of today.

Armin nodded, even though the two of them couldn’t see it. “Well, we’ll be over for dinner today at least, have fun with making all that food without the German cook on staff.” I know Eren makes a lot of the food for the dinners. “I’ll talk to him, don’t worry.” He hung up after a few goodbyes, sighing as he got out a mug for his coffee, pouring himself some before he went back upstairs to his room, seeing Eren still asleep and sprawled all over the bed. Figures… I’ll talk to him when he wakes up.

Eren shifted in his sleep, slowly waking up around two hours later, grateful that Armin was in the bed with him. Moving to reach for his bottle of pills he took them and sat up, rubbing his face. “They woke you up, didn’t they?” I bet they called already…. I thought it might take longer, but since you’re up I assume they called…

Armin nodded, still laying back on the bed, propping himself up on one elbow. “Yeah, they did. They couldn't find you; they got worried.” Armin gave Eren a sympathetic look when he curled up, going to rest a hand on his shoulder. “Eren, they really do care about you. Even if it doesn't feel like they're not showing it very well sometimes. You can stay here a while and recenter yourself, but soon enough you’ll have to go back home. They already miss you. You can relax for today, but tonight we’re going over for dinner like always. You won't have to cook, you can just come with, eat, and leave if you like. But I really think you should come with. By the time dinner rolls around, Mila is going to miss you lots and the rest of your family is too. But I know it's hard to remember that sometimes.” It isn't easy to remember for you….

Eren nodded, moving to curl up to Armin again. “I always feel like such a burden, and I can’t help it… I take my pills, and they make me sleepy, and I’ll forget to take it again, and then my emotions get out of control, and I swear I cried for three hours yesterday.” I want to be normal… Can I ever be normal? He sighed, snuggling close to Armin’s warmth.

Armin sighed, bringing Eren in for a hug. “You could probably set reminders on your phone to take them, have alarms set up. And you can't help what happens when you forget your meds; improvement on that will come with time. But for right now, you're doing what you can to improve and take care of yourself. And that's what's important. You're no burden… Lathe and Levi love you so much and they try to show you and tell you all the time, it’s obvious to everyone else… but it's okay if you have trouble seeing it. You'll learn. And you'll begin to remember that they love you too.” They do care about you…. a blind man could see it.

Eren sighed quietly. “They didn’t sign up for this shit…. I’m so afraid they’ll just up and leave soon… Mila’s turning 1 soon, can you believe that?” Mila’s turning one in less than a month… My baby…. Well, Levi’s baby… “Levi doesn’t want her on a horse either, so I guess she won’t ride horses then….” I wanted to teach her so badly, but Levi doesn’t want her on one…. “And Dad doesn’t want me to hug him… He’s forcing himself to be kind, isn’t he?” Eren closed his eyes, trying to calm down before he burst into tears. I’m gonna cry if I don’t stop…

Armin shook his head, letting Eren bury his face in his shoulder. “Eren, your Dad isn’t forcing himself to be kind. He’s always been so kind to everyone, and even then he’s had a soft spot for all of his family. But he’s been… he hasn’t felt himself lately, he said. He didn’t mean it, Eren. Doing that is anything but normal to him. …and Mila’s barely one. She’s still so small, she's barely walking yet. I can understand if Levi is worried about her being on a big horse, but I doubt he’d forbid her from ever riding one. …and they're not about to leave. You and Levi have a kid, and Lathe built a whole house for all of you to live in. He's settled here; he's not going to want to leave, and he's not going to force you to leave.” He’d be fine with you and Levi staying there forever if you wanted… but I know you and Levi are going to want your own place soon to start your own family…. Levi's talked about it before a few times… not many… but a few.

“The twins are gonna be born in less than three months… They’ll take over everyone’s time… And maybe they love me, but I don’t feel like I fit…” Eren murmured, looking at the wall. “I might go on tour…. I probably should, I’ll have to write more music…. And find a band to stand behind me….” He murmured, his eyes still dull. I won’t be there anymore….

“You don’t have to tour if you don’t want to.” Armin rubbed his arm gently. “It sounds like you really want to stay and just find your space in your home first… and I think that should take priority. Don’t worry too much about writing music or getting a tour together just yet, just find the strength to go home and remember they love you first. And sure, the twins are going to need a lot of attention. But that doesn't mean you’re loved any less. Little kids are a lot of hard work; you of all people should be aware of that.” Armin’s smiled faintly. “You should take your time learning how to fit in again in your own home before you try to go and find your place elsewhere. Otherwise, you won't have much of anywhere to go after.” …you need to learn to be okay at home before you can be okay anywhere else in the country or even the world...

“What am I supposed to do at home? I’ve got nothing to do except take care of the horses… Maybe cook, but… No one wants German food anymore, even Henry asked if I could make normal food like Levi.” Even the endless pit got tired of what I was making, how is that even possible?

Armin sighed quietly, thinking. “Maybe you could switch things up a bit, try a new kind of cooking… and I think it would do you some good to get back into art. As a way to express your thoughts and things, drawing and painting could do you well.” It should, at least.

Eren thought about it, nodding as he gave a weak smile. “I could… I’d need to go shopping with someone to make sure I don’t buy the whole fucking store, but yeah I could… I guess I could start getting back into art… Even with my melt down yesterday… Fuck I acted like a complete child. How the hell does Levi even wanna marry me? I mean he could take it back any second he wanted to, I don’t even have a ring yet… who knows maybe I never will.” Eren muttered quietly, looking down to his hands, which were devoid of jewelry. Fuck, now my mind is going off on tangents and this is making it fucking worse... But if I go back to art and try and be normal, maybe they’ll think I’m better? Maybe I won’t have to go to therapy?

Armin gave him a gentle smile. “Levi’s over the moon for you, Eren. He really does love you. You and he have a kid together too, so it’s not as if he’d disappear forever anytime soon. He wouldn’t want to, anyway. He loves you. And he wants you there for Mila too.” He's crazy about you, it's obvious. “I can go with you to get art stuff if you feel up to it while you’re here. Maybe doodling in peace and quiet will do you good.” *It sounds like it'd be good therapy of sorts... ‘But as for today, you should just rest and relax. You barely slept last night with all your crying, and there's a dinner to attend.’ You need sleep.

Eren nodded, shifting a bit off of him. “Can you get my charcoal pencils and my charcoal paper? Dad knows where they are…” He murmured quietly. It might help to have a different subject to draw than Mila, Levi, the boys, or the horses... Maybe... I wanna be able to draw in peace though, that sounds really nice for a change. Even though my studio is supposed to be soundproof, I can still hear Tucker in the garage sometimes. His eyes looked at least a bit hopeful that Armin would retrieve his art supplies for him, practically begging after a few silent seconds.

Armin sighed good-naturedly, nodding and gently patting Eren’s back. “Alright, I'll grab it for you. Don't get into trouble.” Armin went to the dresser, setting down his mug and grabbing a change of clothes. He changed quickly in the bathroom, draining his coffee as he went back downstairs. He rinsed his mug before he snatched his wallet and keys, going to make the short drive to the Quo residence. He knocked, knowing how early it was to ring the bell and awaken everyone inside, chuckling when he saw Mila scamper to the door before James swept her up, the teen opening the door to him. “Hey James. Uh, Eren wants his charcoal pencils and sketchbook.” I don't know where he keeps that stuff....

Lathe looked over to them, nodding when the blonde looked to him. “Alright, I'll get it.” He quickly went to the studio, grabbing the box of charcoal sticks and pencils, as well as a sketchbook, going to hand them over to Armin. “...thank you.” He smiled to the blonde. I don't know what to do about him half the time... maybe he needed a break from us... you're too kind.

Armin smiled, nodding. “Of course. He'll be just fine.” Armin left shortly after that, soon plopping the book on the bed, setting down the pencils with it. “This what you wanted?” It'd better be. I don't wanna go to the trouble of leaving the house again...

Eren shifted on the bed to sit up, inspecting the pencils picking them up along with the sketchbook. “Thank you... Are you doing anywork today? Or are we going to just chill?” Your house is quiet... I love it... It’s never this quiet at home, not until it’s late, but then I can’t sing because I risk waking everyone up at the same time. He slowly flipped through the various sketches in previous pages. “Should we eat breakfast?” He asked softly. I can help... The phrase unspoken, but...
implied.

Armin nodded, though he set a hand on Eren’s shoulder when he moved to stand. “Is it alright if I make us breakfast? You’re my guest- you don’t have to help.” It’s fine.

Eren thought about it before he nodded. “Alright, that works…” He trailed off, but shifted to get his clothes from his bag he’d hastily made. Yeah, but I’ll come downstairs and keep you company.

Armin nodded, seeing Eren start to hastily get things together to dress. He reached out and touched his arm, looking away defensively when Eren looked up to him and froze. “You don’t have to rush to keep me company and follow me around if you don’t want. Take your time getting dressed, come downstairs in a bit, it’s fine. Take your time adjusting to what’s going on.” *You’re trying to be 100% comfortable with this too quickly…. *

Eren looked at him for a moment, perplexed, slowly turning his head away as Armin’s words sunk in. “O-Okay...I’ll-I’ll meet you downstairs then.” He murmured quietly, looking down to his clothes. He looked over to Mikhail by the door. Shit, he kinda just followed me… and I didn’t bring him any food… Fuck… He sighed quietly, pausing in his rush to get ready. I need to calm down.

Armin gave him a sympathetic look, turning and seeing Mikhail in the doorway. Dog. I don't have any food for you…. Armin stopped in the doorway to pet Mikhail, smiling faintly when he sniffed his hand and allowed it. “I’ll cook for us… but then we should both probably get your things from the house for while you're here. Changes of clothes, Mikhail’s stuff, all that. Think a bit about what you want.” We should get it soon so Mikhail doesn't starve. “We’ll feed you, don't worry.” Armin smiled as Mikhail looked up to him and licked his hand, letting him trot over to Eren as he went downstairs. You need your things…. you just booked it in the middle of the night.

Eren nodded, letting Mikhail come and trot over to him. He slowly calmed down as he ran his hands through Mikhail’s fur. Well, Armin’s right, after breakfast we’ll have to go back, because you need to eat at least something that’s supposed to be your food. It took him a few minutes to calm down before he reached for his clothes again, slowly getting undressed and into new clothes. Yeah, I’ll need new clothes, I only brought pajamas and today's clothes…. Armin’s right... well, Armin’s always right so I guess that isn’t a surprise.

Armin took his time making breakfast, though it didn't take long for him to be pouring pancake batter into a pan, soon hearing the patter of paws on the floor, Mikhail sitting quietly at his feet, leaning his head against his leg. Aw... “You can have breakfast in a little bit, Mikhail. We’ll get your stuff soon.” Armin patted his head, hearing him whine. He had to keep making breakfast, plating their pancakes and setting the table. It's weird to set the table for two now... I keep feeling like any moment Erwin’s just gonna hug me from behind and kiss me good morning... Armin had a sad smile on his face when Eren came downstairs, thinking. I miss him...
Eren looked at Armin’s sad smile, looking at the table set for two. Oh shit, I didn’t even think about it, fuck, I fucked up…. He put his head down, mumbling an apology. I shouldn’t have come here… I should’ve stayed home, who knows, maybe it was worse to come here. He sat down anyways, though he was too afraid to look Armin in the eye, Mikhail having come over to his side of the table and set his head in Eren’s lap.

Armin couldn’t help but feel his heart jump when he heard quiet passing to the table, almost hearing Erwin’s solid footsteps, trying not to show his disappointment when he saw Eren, smiling. “I hope you’re in the mood for pancakes.” Armin sat across from him, his feet tucking under his chair, unable to keep his mind from wandering. Erwin always sits there… Armin looked around as he chewed, considering the house around him. It's so big, even for just two of us… but since it's just me all this time… ...it's too big.....

Eren thanked him quietly, the meal close to silent as Eren kept his head down. I didn’t think how Armin would feel… I just sorta came over, I just…. He grimaced as Mikhail whined, giving away his agitation. Fuck, it doesn’t help that you’re giving me away! He picked up the piece of pancake with his shaking hand trying not to seem suspicious. He’ll probably want me gone, because I’m not Erwin...

Armin snapped out of his daze when Mikhail whined, seeing Eren’s hand shaking. “Eren, are you okay? I’m sorry I’ve been quiet, it's nothing to do with you.” I just... sometimes I'm reminded of how alone I am in this house....

Eren nodded, quietly apologizing as he set his fork down, still keeping his eyes down. “I-I… I should g-go home… Shouldn’t I?” You probably want me gone too...

Armin's face fell, his voice soft. “You don't have to go home, you should go back on your own time, when you feel up to it. It'll take a few days to settle back into yourself, I know… I just… I don't know how I keep managing to forget that I'm so alone in this big house…. ...I just really miss him....” Armin leaned his head in his hand, staring at the table. I feel like if I say his name I'll just start crying....

Eren nodded, putting his hands in his lap and letting Mikhail lick them, to calm himself down. “He’s coming back in October, you’ll be happy to see him.” I know you will, you haven’t seen him since Christmas, which wasn’t that long ago, but I know you didn’t want to give him up. He looked down at Mikhail, his hand moving to scratch by his ears. I probably seem like a brat for crying about Levi hating me…. Shit, he’s probably sick and tired of my antics by now.

“T’ve been counting the days… I miss him so much…” I can't wait until then.... I've been craving his touch... I miss his voice... Armin didn't realize he'd called silent again until he heard Mikhail shift a paw, his nails clicking on the floor. Oh. “I'm sorry, I keep spacing out. Here, are you finished?” He watched Eren nod. “Alright, I'll wash dishes. Go get some shoes on, and know what you want to take back from your house, okay?” Get that sorted out....

Eren nodded, grabbing his phone from his pocket and making a list. I’ll have Dad print off some sheet music while I pack clothes and such. He kept a his eyes on his phone, though he soon enough was engrossed in petting Mikhail’s head again. I reminded him, I should really just go home... He doesn’t deserve to be bothered with all my shit...

Armin was soon done with cleaning up, going to grab his keys again, looking to Eren. “Ready?” He watched him nod, going to his truck with him. The drive was short and quiet, the radio faintly playing. They pulled in after a little, Armin hopping out. He looked back when he didn't hear the other door open, seeing Eren frozen in the passenger's seat. “Eren, it's okay. You can do this.” It's okay.

Eren was frozen in place looking to Armin to try and get a bit of courage to return to him. I can do this... He was slow to come out of the car, heading towards the door. Should I just go in? Or should we ring the doorbell? I don't know what to do....

Armin led him up to the door, smiling when Lathe opened the door. They were led inside, Mikhail going straight for his food bowl and whining loudly until Jake filled it, munching away. He's really hungry.

Levi was curled up in the nook upstairs, looking down when the door opened. Eren... He unfurled and went down the stairs, catching Eren and burying his face in his shoulder, hugging. “Eren, you scared me.... I missed you.” I was so scared when I didn't wake up next to you this morning...

Eren’s eyes went wide as Levi wrapped his arms around him, surprised by the gesture. What is he doing? He's hugging me? He slowly and jerkily moved to wrap his own arms around Levi. His body was still tense as he held him, not completely sure what to do. I... I’m not sure if I should be doing this... Since I’m leaving with Armin again.

Levi gently ran his hand over his back, trying to help him relax. It's okay... You're okay... “Lay down with me?” Levi’s voice was quiet, his eyes hopeful. I missed you... I want to cuddle, if it's okay....

Eren looked away from Levi, shaking his head. “W-We came to grab some stuff... I-I’m not staying...” You’ll probably be mad that so don’t want to stay. He got more tense in Levi’s arms, Letting go of him and attempting to step back and away from his hug, I need to get clothes, then get Mikhail his food.

Levi looked genuinely hurt when Eren pulled away, schooling his expression when he realized how vulnerable he must look. You're not staying. “O-Okay…” Levi looked down, turning away to go back to the nook, wanting to curl away from everyone. Okay… I can be alone….

Eren watched him turn and leave feeling mixed emotions in his chest and gut. He dropped the hand he didn’t even know he raised, feeling a sense of guilt wash over him as he slowly followed Levi upstairs but went towards their room to pack. Shit, I probably made everything worse… For all I know Levi’s gonna take Mila and leave…. Which he has every right to do, and I’m honestly surprised he hasn’t called off our engagement…. All these thoughts were pooling in his head to a point where Mikhail was whining right next to him and he didn’t even acknowledge him.

Levi turned around at the top of the stairs when he heard Eren following him, saddened when he walked right past him. He went to the couch and curled into a corner of it in a thick quilt, sighing when Lucifer meandered over and nestled into the nest right with him and made himself comfortable in his lap. Oh… Levi gently pet the cat, his mind running in circles. I miss him… it's barely been a few hours, and it feels like he’s been gone for so much longer.

Mikhail continued to whine, beginning to bark and try and get Eren’s attention, but alas, that woke up Mila, which lead to her cries sounding from her crib. With the added cacophony of noise, Eren finally snapped out of his thoughts, moving to go and pick up Mila and try and coo to her. Shit, what do I do? Was she still sleeping? Or did she wake up early and Levi put her down again? He quickly became frazzled as she continued to cry in his arms, not seeming to want to calm down in the slightest, even after Eren got the idea to change her. Why do you always cry in my arms? And then once Levi picks you up you’re perfectly fine?

Levi came to the door when her cries didn’t quiet, seeing Eren with an armful of crying child. Oh. He stopped himself from just going and taking her, thinking. If I don’t let him take care of her, he’ll think I’m trying to steal her away from him… He instead looked around, seeing her stuffed puppy on the floor, having fallen from between the bars of the crib. He went and picked it up, going to Eren and handing it to him. “She likes it when you play with her- it’ll calm her down.” She’ll love it.

Eren looked surprised by the stuffed puppy, taking it with confusion written on his face. You’re not gonna take her? But you usually take her away from me…. He lifted the small stuffed animal to let Mila see it and she slowly calmed down, grabbing at the puppy with wide and happy eyes. Huh? She…. She actually stopped crying for me? Eren has the barest hint of a smile on his face as he ignored the large bag he’d been packing and moving to sit on the bed with Mila in his arms. I’m… I’m surprised, usually she doesn’t want anything to do with me when she cries.
Levi smiled faintly when Mila calmed down, moving to sit next to Eren on the bed, leaning his head on Eren’s shoulder. He watched Eren nudge Mila’s nose with the puppy’s paw, Mila’s giggle bright. Aw.... “She loves you, you know.” Levi let his eyes fall shut. “I want her to grow up with you there for her… with both of us there.” I love you… “I love you, Eren.” I do.... so much....

Eren couldn’t help the flush that suddenly formed on his face. He said it... He said he loved me. He also couldn’t help the wide grin that crossed his face as Mila sat on his lap, playing with the puppy Eren had given her. Eren turned his head, looking over to Levi. “You’re not mad?” He asked softly, his eyes looking into Levi’s for the barest hints of anger. I want to make sure you’re not gonna kill me if I leave...

Levi shook his head, looking up to him. “....I know you probably need a break from everything… it's a busy house and it's hard to find a space to be alone… it's never really quiet… it's okay. But we’ll miss you… you come home when you feel better, okay?” Levi leaned up and softly kissed his cheek. It's okay... I can cope.

Eren’s face flushed even darker when Levi kissed his cheek, stumbling over words that didn’t want to come out of his mouth. Fuck, I’m not making any sense. He shut his mouth, looking over Mila quietly chewing on the puppy’s ear as she looked at them. “Y-You should probably take her…” You’ll want her back, won’t you? He shifted his hold on her, lifting her to set her in Levi’s lap. I need to pack, I shouldn’t keep Armin waiting.

Levi chuckled as Eren stumbled over his words, shifting to hold Mila between them, the toddler still looking up to them with wide eyes. He held her in their laps, going to gently cup Eren’s cheek, his eyes soft as he studied his face. “Eren… may I kiss you?” I want to… but you probably don't want me to right now....

Eren looked surprised before he looked away for a moment, thinking about it. He bit his lip as his mind went in circles about the decision before he carefully looked back to Levi’s piercing silver eyes and nodded timidly. You can kiss me... there shouldn’t be any harm in doing that, right?

Levi looked relieved, leaning up and gently kissing him, their kiss chaste for a long moment. Levi gently brushed his lip with his tongue, grateful when Eren opened up for him, letting Eren come to him and feeling his tongue wrap around his own. Levi held onto him, gently nipping Eren’s nose when he broke their kiss, looking a bit playful. “I love you… you're coming back for dinner today, right? It's Saturday…” We feast tonight...

Eren looked completely flush when Levi bit his nose. “Y-Yeah, we’ll be back for dinner.” He murmured quietly and smiled softly, getting up off the bed. I need to get my bag downstairs, and Levi nodded, cradling Mila in his lap as Eren packed up, getting her a teething ring to chew on instead of her puppy’s ear. She’s still teething like crazy… “We’ll have to figure out what we’re doing for dinner without you here to make German foods with us. Knowing dad, he’ll go nuts with the Italian fare. If that’s okay. It’s been mostly the same every week. Not that I’m complaining, it’s always been delicious. But a bit of a change would be good. And I’m sure Dad will find a way to make ravioli very interesting.” He’ll be busting out the pasta roller and have a whole huge pot of sauce simmering in no time….

Eren chuckled, shaking his head. “Henry complained about it, he doesn’t like when I cook apparently.” Well when you stay at our house and we make you food, you end up getting what people can make.

Levi rolled his eyes. “You see what happens? We give him free food and he complains. I wonder what he’d say if Lathe set a bowl of squid-ink pasta in front of him. I know dad’s been waiting for a good night to try and make some.” He’s wanted a day of Italian cooking for a while… “I do love your cooking. I really do. But a different kind of feast would be nice too.” I want ravioli….

Eren looked at him and nodded. “Yeah, Dad will get to have a field day, I’ll see you guys tonight.” He murmured quietly and smiled as Mila chewed on the puppy’s ear again. Still teething… She’ll still be teething when I get home. He picked up the duffle bag he made for himself before he made his way to the stairs and he went around it towards the studio and grabbing a few other things he wanted for his art supplies, Mikhail following at his heels. I can draw…. I’ll probably draw Armin, he’ll be the only one around….

Levi chuckled as Mila chewed her puppy’s ear again, the scene too adorable to bear, taking a picture of her before giving her back the teething ring, letting her crush the pup to her chest as he held her for a moment, standing and swaying a bit with her in his arms, his heart softening as he heard her happy little sounds. My beautiful little daughter… Levi brought her downstairs after a little, wanting to catch Eren before he left. He watched the pups swarm them as soon as they were on the ground floor, all of them yapping for Mila’s attention. They all love her… and she loves them. Levi set her down, the pups knowing to be gentle with the toddler, Mila giggling as they noses her cheeks and her tummy. They knew better than to take her stuffed animal, the first incident ending quickly with her screeching cries. They all love her- she gives them all lots of pets. Levi looked up from playing with the puppies as he heard footsteps, seeing Eren with his duffle bag of things. He gently scooped Mila up, going to catch him, Armin and Lathe still talking over by the door. “Hey.” Levi gently rested a hand on Eren’s shoulder, smiling faintly. “Say goodbye to Mila and I?” He came close, Mila between them, hanging onto the shirt of her Mum. “She’ll miss you. …I’ll miss you too.” Levi rested his head on Eren’s shoulder, drinking in his scent. I love you….
Eren smiled, taking Mila from Levi’s hold and bringing her to his chest. “You be good for Daddy, okay Mila?” He watched her giggle, a small smile on his face as he dipped down and kissed her nose. I love you baby... He carefully handed her back, carefully unfurling her hands from his shirt, leaning down to peck Levi’s forehead as well. “We’ll be back for dinner.” He murmured, straightening himself to look at Armin, holding Mikhail’s dishes and a large bag of his food. Good... He’ll be fine with us.

Levi blushed faintly as Eren kissed his forehead, leaning up to gently nip Eren’s ear before taking Mila back, chuckling as she again nibbled at her puppy’s ear, the teething ring on her grasp disregarded. “That's not to chew, Mila. That's to play.” He gently let her close her yap on the ring again, going to sit on the couch with her, making her puppy meander over her tummy and poke her with its nose. You're adorable...

Armin looked up when Eren came over, smiling. “Ready?” You've certainly got quite the armful of stuff....

Eren looked to his duffle bag on his hip, filled with clothes and art supplies. I think I got everything. “Yeah, I should have everything.” He glanced up at Lathe, taking a bit of a wary step towards Armin. “So we’ll be back for dinner then.” You don’t have to force yourself to be affectionate, I realize you don’t want any hugs from me.

Lathe looked crestfallen when Eren stepped away, holding out his arms. “Okay, but can I please have my goodbye hug?” I want hugs...

Eren looked at him with a confused gaze. I'm not... You don’t..... He sighed looking at Lathe and away. I'm not too sure you're not forcing yourself.... “Lathe... You don’t have to force yourself, I’ll be fine.” You pushed me away, there’s no chance in hell you’d want a hug from me unless I really needed it, which at that point you would force yourself...

Lathe looked like a kicked puppy, drooping. “Eren, I'm your Dad... I'm not forcing myself to do anything. I'm your Dad and I love you, and I want my hug. Yesterday morning was a fluke- I'd been feeling weird and unlike myself for weeks up to that point, but today you scared us and I miss you already. I don't know how else to get you to understand.” I don't know what else there is to say. “Can I please have a hug?” I want one... I was worried sick this morning....

Eren looked to see Lathe’s eyes after he asked for a hug again. You look like you're ready to cry... And at this rate I would expect Mom to be like this... Not you ... He sighed quietly, setting his duffle bag down before he walked up to him, wrapping his arms around the older man and letting him hug him. He struggled not to tense up but soon relaxed in the hold. This is Lathe.... He gives big hugs.......... Maybe....
Lathe tried to resist the urge to crush Eren to his chest, one hand running over his back as the other carded through his hair. “I love you, Eren.” He kissed the top of Eren’s head before letting go, giving him a small smile. “You keep out of trouble, okay? Be good for Armin. Don’t trash the place.” That would not be good.

Eren smiled softly and nodded, picking up his duffle before he waved to the rest of the family, Ieva absent and still in bed. Well, she’ll see me tonight, hopefully, with everyone else. He followed Armin in silence, getting into his car and letting him drive the short distance to his large house. “Can you take Monday off?”

“Take Monday off.” Eren looked over to him and smiled. I’m glad I grabbed my laptop, though I could really do it on my phone…. He smiled, hopping out and helping carry Mikhail’s things into the house. We could go for two days… That should be enough to relax…

Armin quirked an eyebrow, opening the door for him. “Why? I wanna know what you’re thinking up.” This is suspicious. He let Eren get Mikhail’s stuff situated in the kitchen, going to sit on the living room couch, looking over the large room. Erwin liked this end of the couch better… he wouldn’t have to crane his neck when we cuddled…

“Spa day… downtown? What do you say?” I could use a spa day, I really could, and it would be nice to enjoy it with someone. “We’d leave tonight, sleep overnight have our day tomorrow, and then sleep overnight again and then drive home Monday afternoon after lunch or something like that.” That should work, right?

Armin pondered it, unable to shake the want for strong arms around him, sighing quietly when he remembered how far away he was. “Yeah… I could use it… and this house feels too damn big…..” Armin fished out his phone, wanting to make the call and take off if he could on such short notice. They’ll give me the time off… I’ve only requested off for a day twice before…

Eren smiled, nodding and going through his phone to get numbers of places to call and get reservations. Shouldn’t be too hard.

I’m a little while Armin had put his phone away, a small smile on his face. “Approved. You have a place for us to go yet?” You’ve called at least four different places so far…
Eren smiled softly and looked to Armin, sitting down on the couch beside him. “Do you wanna go to a small shop? Or do you wanna go to a rather large place?” It’s up to you, I’m fine with either at this point.

Armin thought, crossing his legs at the ankles. “Hm… I’d rather go to a larger place, honestly….” I dunno, either is really fine I guess….

“Alright we’re going to Healing Waters, it’s a bit more upscale but it’ll do, I’ll call them back and set up the day for us, is there anything you want me to get especially for us?” I’m good with everything, I don’t know if there’s anything that you would specifically want.

Armin slowly shook his head. You can't get me what I want… “No, I'm good.” I miss him… Armin was quiet, looking up at the ceiling. I can't wait until he comes home….

“Alright. I’ll go call in our reservations for the whole day then.” He smiled and shifted off the couch, going to go call the place in the kitchen, and making sure that when they got there they wouldn’t be surrounded by fans or anything. I never really thought about getting a guard… I might, but that would seem a bit impersonal, they’d follow me around to make sure I didn’t get mobbed all the time.

Armin was absentminded on the couch, his eyes shutting. He didn't know what to do with himself, not wanting to browse the Internet mindlessly like he so often did. His mind was filled with a certain blonde, wanting to be scooped up in his strong arms again. When you come home, I'm not letting go….

Eren finished off their finalized plan for what they were going to experience, making sure the two of them would be in the same room the whole time. We get there early and spend practically the whole day there. He smiled, ending the call and looking over towards Armin, about to yell that they got the spa day before he saw his closed eyes. Well, now is as good a time as any to draw him, I’ll be quiet.

Armin was still as Eren moved around, not having the energy or the will to do much else. It's just Eren, he can do his own thing. Armin could almost feel arms around him as he lingered on the edge of sleep, daydreaming. He wanted to feel soft breath on his neck, cracking open an eye when he heard the scratch of charcoal pencils on paper. He didn't move when he saw how intently Eren was staring at him. “Are you drawing me?” His voice was quiet, not wanting to disturb the peace. It certainly looks like it...
“Uh, y-yeah…. I can stop… If you don’t want me to.” I never really asked if I could draw you, I guess I should have. He flushed with embarrassment, putting his pencil down and looking down from his stare at Armin. I’m sorry.

Armin faintly chuckled, waving one hand so as not to mess his hair, knowing Eren was already a bit of a ways along. “No, it's fine. I don't mind at all, as long as you make me look pretty.” He and Eren chuckled at that, the blonde letting his eyes shut again as charcoal again met paper. It'll look good…. And it's something for Eren to do to relax.

Eren chuckled and smiled softly, slowly picking up his pencil and drawing image after image of Armin as he rested on the couch. This is relaxing and it helps me to draw people a little bit better...

Armin hadn't moved much, occasionally shifting when Eren had finished one sketch and flipped to a new page to start another. He looked forlornly across the room, feeling the ghost of touches around his middle, on his neck. Armin sighed quietly after the third hour, stretching and standing when Eren tore off another sheet full of him. “Are you hungry at all? I know we just had breakfast, but it's been awhile…” I want something to do besides mope..... cooking fixes that....

“Sure, I can draw you while you’re cooking, so I can move my stuff to the kitchen.” He smiled softly, shifting to put the papers in a neat pile. I wanna draw still, it’s very relaxing.

Armin nodded, going to fetch his light blue apron, seeing the green and grey one still hanging neatly next to his. He looked away, going to make them lunch as Eren drew. The day dragged on, Armin puttering around the house and Eren following with his drawing tools in hand, finally looking to him. “I’m going to get changed so we can go to dinner, alright?” I always feel like I'm underdressed going to your house for dinner..

Eren nodded, packing up his art supplies and looking over the dozens of sheets of paper he created of Armin. They look pretty good… hmm, I wonder if Erwin would be up for letting me draw them when he got back? His face completely covered in a blush once he realized a few other things that could very well happen when Erwin got home. All of us would be home… We might end up coming here for a break from Mila, so we could have a night to ourselves… That would be nice, a double date? He smiled at the thought, looking over his arms and instantly knowing that he would have to wash up before they went over. He headed for the sink, carefully washing everything off and cleaning out his fingernails. Levi and I haven’t gone on a single date since he came back home...

Armin quickly found a nicer pair of jeans and a button-down shirt, coming back downstairs. He laughed when he saw Eren trying to dig the charcoal dust out from under his nails. He stood by the table as he waited, looking over the many pictures of him. Wow… “These are all really good, Eren.” You always manage to impress...
Eren’s face flushed even more from Armin’s words. “Oh-um-uh, th-thanks.” He smiled softly as he glanced over his shoulder. Fuck, I haven’t really thought about going out on a date with Levi since we got back, though I don’t think I can really be blamed for it. “I-I’ll be done soon, sorry.” His hands shook a bit from the embarrassment he felt running through him. Levi’s probably upset about this… Why did I running away from everything would help? His shoulders tensed from the thought, though soon they slumped, insecurities sweeping over him.

“It’s okay, Eren, take your time.” Armin studied all of them, thinking. “….do you think you could maybe draw Erwin and I when he comes home?” I want one of us… you’d do a wonderful job….

Eren’s face flushed an even brighter red, lewd images crossing his mind before he nodded hurriedly. “Y-Yeah… I can do that…” I’ll probably draw you two when he gets home anyways, it’s good practice with two people. And you’d probably want platonic pictures, I would imagine. His hands shook slightly as he cleaned out the last of his nails. He shook his hands out after turning the water off, drying them. He picked his head up as Mikhail came to his side, holding the bottle of his pills. “Th-Thanks Mikhail.” He murmured, taking his pills with shaking hands.

Armin came over to him when he saw his hands shaking, settling a hand on his shoulder. “Eren, are you okay? You don’t have to if you don’t want to….”

Eren looked at Armin and he blushed even more, stammering even worse now that Armin was touching him, looking down a bit and holding out the bottle in his shaking hands. I won’t be able to open them with my hands like this. “I-I… I can’t do it.” He told him, swallowing hard, attempting to change the subject. I can barely get my head out of the gutter… Fuck… I haven’t had sex in a long time either, I think it’s making it that much worse….

Armin saw Eren’s face flush, noticing the look in his eye as he uncapped it for him. What’re you so worked up about…? Are you…. oh. Armin’s mind flickered to one specific drawing on the studio wall, a fucked-out Levi staring at the viewer with dark eyes. Oh. “Uhm…. Armin didn't know what to say for a moment, setting down the bottle of pills. “Are you thinking of a… less than PG drawing? I didn't mean that when I said it, but…”* He thought for a moment as Eren flushed further red, his own cheeks pink. “I wouldn't exactly be opposed…” Guh, if you drew that… I’d have to frame it and put it where I could always see it in the bedroom….

Eren looked at him with wide eyes, taking the pills he needed from the opened bottle and letting Armin close it back up. “W-Well I-I could do more t-than one…” He murmured quietly to him, fidgeting a bit on his feet. Shit, now I’m just thinking about Levi… and sex…. Which we haven’t had in such a long time, and mostly because of me.
Armin blushed further, smiling faintly, looking a bit embarrassed. “That’d be really nice…” The last time the four of us did anything like that… You and Levi going at it was so damn hot… I wouldn’t mind watching again… Armin set the bottle on the counter, giving him a shy look. “Come on, let’s go have dinner, okay?” When Erwin comes home, I want you to draw us… everything from head to toe… as many as you want.

Eren nodded following him to the car, settling in with Mikhail on his lap. “Did I… Did I do the right thing? I know I haven’t done anything with Levi for so long… but I… I ran away from him… I-I’m basically going on a date with you before I’ve gone on a date with Levi since he got back.” Basically… And I’ll drive us there so you can sleep in the car…

Armin stared at the steering wheel, thinking quietly for a moment. “…I don’t think it’s exactly a wrong thing to do… but I know he’d hurt if he knew what we were going to do tomorrow… he’s probably wanted to do something like this with you for a while… but first he was recovering from his injury, and Mila’s still tiny and needs attention, and then you went to Germany for your sick Vatri, and things happened and you came back in a different state of mind. He’s probably been waiting for the right time to take you away from the familiarity of home, thinking it was better for you than trying to drag you out and go places with him. ….he’d probably be upset, even if he tries to say it’s alright.” Even though he can be so well masked, it's no secret it must hurt to hear this kind of stuff….

Eren nodded, shifting a bit and petting Mikhail to calm down a bit before they finally pulled up, noticing that almost everyone was there already. Are we late? Did I make us late? I’m not really sure what time you usually come over because I’m in the kitchen… “I-I think I’ll go home Monday night… i-if that’s okay?” After I’ve spent a nice relaxing day with you and then drove home.

Armin nodded, looking over to him and smiling faintly. “That’s just fine, Eren. Whenever you feel up to it.” Armin hopped out of the truck with him, walking up to the front door. It was soon opened a crack by a mop of fiery hair, Sharon keeping the puppies at bay.

“I’d love to let you in, but puppies.” Puppies.

Eren was surprised, looking down to Mikhail who stuck his head into the door and growled a little which sent the puppies off towards their mother. Well... that works I guess... He smiled as they were let in, making sure no one got outside. Once he was inside he took off his shoes, only to be attacked by a small child. His eyes widened as Mila clung to his leg, bending down to pick her up. “Mila, what are you doing by yourself? Where’s Daddy?”

“M-Mumma! Mumma!” Mila refused to let go of him, latching on when Eren lifted her up into his Levi saw Eren’s surprised expression, coming back over with her abandoned toys. “She was so upset when you were gone for so long… she’s been asking for you for over an hour. Music kinda helped…” He gently nudged Eren’s nose with her stuffed puppy, which Mila promptly snatched from his grasp, chewing happily on the ear. “But she wanted the real thing.” He smiled faintly, stepping a bit closer and gently nosing at Eren’s cheek, kissing a spot on his neck. “As did I…” I missed you already…. He chuckled when he heard Eren sputtering, holding his blushing mess of a fiancé around the waist. I love you.

“Levi?” Armin looked to Eren, sure that he saw a wisp of steam coming out of his ears as he sputtered from embarrassment, tilting his head and smirking. “I think you broke him.” He looks really embarrassed… but you’re being really sweet, so I guess that explains it.

Eren flustered even more as Armin spoke too, his eyes wide from the added embarrassment. This isn’t going well, not with what I’ve been thinking about in the last fifteen minutes. He looked to Mila holding her close to his chest and running a hands through her soft hair. “Well I’ll be home soon baby, don’t you worry, okay? You gonna be good for Daddy while Mumma’s gone?” His words were soft as he walked away from the embarrassment before heading towards the kitchen and seeing Lathe and James having an absolute field day with the pastas. “What… is this some sort of Italian feast now?”

Lathe and James fervently nodded, James with an armful of sheets of pasta dough, Lathe still rolling the last of it. “We’re almost done, the filling is cooked. We just need to fill them, cook for a minute since the filling is cooked already, and then everything’s done.” They shooed him out of the kitchen, Lathe kissing his forehead before sending him off. “Go, be sociable!” Do the thing! He turned when James tapped his arm, demanding he get to cutting out pasta discs. Fine, fine.

Eren let them shoo him out of the kitchen, heading towards the family room where Marco was sitting in Jean’s lap, the two of them all lovey dovey, Casper in Scotty’s lap on the other side, Armin in between the two couples. Ieva was sitting with Hannah, her hair a bright blue, which made her stand out from the crowd. Wow…. It’s bright. “Mila, honey, I’m gonna give you to Daddy, okay?” He asked, trying to pry her off and hand her to Levi who sat near Sharon, discussing video game characters most likely. I’m not sure where I should sit…. Conversations have started without me…

“-obviously Chess, but I thought he might work well as the tailor, even though I kinda want to go with Marco- oh?” Sharon looked up as Eren approached them, seeing Mila still vainly hanging onto Eren, looking ready to cry as he gently tried to pry her from him. Oh my…. Sharon gently bounced Maverick on her knee, looking over to Levi. What’s he doing?
“Eren?” Levi looked up as Eren tried to hand him Mila, seeing him struggle with the baby. “Eren, she wants to keep you, I think.” Levi smiled faintly, reaching up. “Here.” He saw Eren’s relief, though it quickly turned to surprise when he pulled Eren into his lap, settling his back against his front, kissing his shoulder blade. “Better?” They looked over as Sharon giggled, the redhead with a happy look in her eyes.

“Everyone’s being too sweet with each other, I’m getting so many cavities…” She cackled as Eren flushed red, tilting her head a bit. “....I think I have an idea as to who you should be….”

“But Marco would make a better tailor.”

“Yeah, I can see that… it's decided. But still, you'll kill me if he isn't in there somewhere.”

“Not really. I'd only maim you.” Slightly.

Sharon chuckled. “I'd rather not risk it.” She watched Maverick squirm in her arms, reaching for Mila. “Hey Honey, you wanna say hi?” He likes Mila…. They're already friends. They bonded over the puppies last time we were here.

Eren let Mila shift in his lap, letting her look at the older 3 year old. I can’t believe he’s three already…. He’s so big, and so adorable… He watched the two of them stare at each other, Mila chewing on her puppy’s ear still. She's just gonna stare at him because she doesn't want to let go of me...

Maverick watched her chew on her puppy, reaching out and poking her foot. “Puppy?” It's a nice puppy… I want one...

Eren glanced over at Maverick, looking down to where the puppies were huddled by their feet, reaching down and scooping one up for Maverick and putting the pup in his lap. I swear we have puppies here all the time.... He shifted back in Levi’s lap, instantly flushing when he knew that he was sitting directly on Levi’s crotch. Oh fuck...

“Puppy!” Maverick was shifted back further in Sharon’s lap with the puppy, petting the puppy and giggling when it licked his face. Puppy! He reached for Mila when the girl seemed interested, Sharon making room to sit them both on the couch between them, letting the puppy clamber over their laps. Puppy!!
Levi’s arms wrapped more firmly around Eren’s middle, shifting him a bit further back into his lap, right over his crotch. Fuck... “Sometime soon, love.” Levi gently nibbled the spot behind his ear, his voice a quiet murmur. Mine.

Eren’s eyes widened a fraction as he felt himself almost move his hips against Levi as if on reflex. He caught himself, blushing profusely as Levi nibbled behind his ear, moans catching in his throat. Oh my god…. He’s holding onto me… He sunk into the strong arms wrapped around himself and almost seemed to purr, tilting his head to give Levi more room. Mila let go…

Levi flicked his eyes over the rest of the room, checking if anyone would notice. Jean seemed busy kissing Marco; Scotty and Casper were in a stalemate as the former threatened to tickle the latter, the blue-haired man threatening abstinence; Armin, Hannah and Ieva were wrapped up in a conversation and Sharon was busy sitting on the floor with the puppies, bringing the two toddlers with her to play with them. Levi even caught sight of Henry and Tucker tucked away in the nook around the corner from the living room, tangled in a quilt, smothered with each other. We’re not being watched.... Levi dipped his head down, his teeth gently scraping Eren’s tan neck, slowly nibbling and nipping at him, his hair hiding him, though with the position it wasn’t hard to figure out what was happening. I love you… so much…

Eren... Don’t you dare let a sound escape your lips! Eren hastily grabbed a pillow to cover his front as Levi nipped and sucked at the back of his neck. Oh my god… I wanna moan so badly… “L-Levi…” His voice was quiet and full of want and need. Your lips feel amazing…

Levi glanced up as he heard a swear from the kitchen, Lathe and James sheepishly looking over to them when heads turned. “Uh, sorry… ten more minutes. We’re a lowkey mess right now…”

Perfect ... Levi gently nipped Eren’s ear, his voice quiet. “Eren, would you come with me for a minute?” He stood up with him, nearly dragging him to the bathroom and locking them inside, pushing Eren against the door. His motions slowed from that moment on, going to kiss his collarbone, his hands running down his sides. I’ve missed you… so much…

Levi was met with a soft moan that quietly made it’s way from Eren’s mouth. His hands went up to run through Levi’s undercut, loving by the feeling that went through his whole body. Fuck he got me hard with barely any effort… “L-Levi…. We… We can’t…” You and I both know we can’t do anything in 10 minutes…

Levi looked up to him, his eyes soft. “I don’t want to go all the way with you right now… there's no time for that. But, if you’d let me…” Levi slowly fell to his knees, his hands on his hips. “I’d love to show you how much I adore you…” *I want to taste you….
Eren swallowed hard, shifting from against the door, making sure it was locked before he walked towards the long counter and hopped up on the sturdy marble. I know I won’t be able to keep myself standing if you give me a blow. “I’d like that…” Eren eyes were already blown and an obvious bulge in his pants as he waited for Levi.

Levi shifted when Eren moved, settling between his legs, unbuttoning them and helping Eren drag down his pants and boxers. His hands ran over his thighs when the annoying fabric finally found the floor, nipping gently at his base, lapping at the underside of his length teasingly. All mine… I’ve missed this….

Eren couldn’t help but let out a shuddery whine. “Levi…. Fuck…” “I’ve been so pent up, I’m not gonna last long at all… Not with the way that he’s looking at me like that…” He lifted a hand to his mouth trying to stifle his moans, knowing better than to let them out. I can’t let them out…

Levi gently licked up to his tip, gently fondling his sac as he took his tip into his mouth. Levi slowly began sucking, bobbing his head. I want you to fall apart… I want you to relax… and feel good.

Eren let out a soft whimper as Levi took his length into his mouth. Oh fuck… “Le-Levi…” Eren couldn’t help but run his hands through Levi’s hair, the black silk running through his fingers and exciting him more. Fuck his mouth feels so good… He couldn’t help his toes starting to curl, and his leg crossing over his shoulders, hooking at the ankles. He could feel his whole body heating up from the intimate position they were in, a loud and shaky gasp leaving him as Levi sucked particularly hard.

Levi hummed on him, rocking his head back and forth, taking in as much of Eren as he could. He gazed up at Eren, his eyes full of affection, handling him with care. Just relax…

Eren’s eyes were wide with bliss, letting out another choked moan. His mouth… Oh my god, it’s so warm… He already started shaking from the absolute pleasure, trying not to get too worked up so soon. I don’t wanna cum right away, though it would probably be better if I did…

Levi gazed up at him, hearing the few choked sounds he made, pulling off of him and letting his low voice breathe against his shaft. “Please, Eren… cum and let me taste you….” He slowly worked his way back into Eren’s length, not holding back. I wanna taste you…

Eren shook his head, his hold on Levi getting tighter as he sunk down on him. “I-I don’t wanna…. N-Not yet…” fuck it feels so fucking good, I’ve missed this, I’ve missed you. He had a fucked out look on his face as Levi continued to suck him, almost as if he intended to suck him dry, which he most certainly did.

Whenever you wanna… Levi slowed his bobbing as Eren whined, taking his time to work Eren up to where he was shaking hard with pleasure. Please… Levi looked straight into his eyes, sucking hard on his tip, his tongue toying with his slit. I want you to cum for me… please…

Eren couldn’t hold himself back, biting at his thumb to lessen the moan that escaped him. Oh fuck! He came hard into Levi’s mouth, unable to shake off the pleasure, letting it send him over the edge. He panted, trying to catch his breath as he shot stripe after pearly stripe into Levi’s mouth, filling it and then some. Shit, I was pent up.

Levi struggled to swallow, catching what dropped out of his lips with his hand, lapping it up and licking Eren’s softening length clean. He licked his lips, standing and giving Eren a gentle kiss, his hands on his hips. “You’re so beautiful like this…” Levi brushed away some of the damp hair stuck to Eren’s forehead. “All mine…” Levi kissed the corner of his mouth, surprised when Eren tugged him closer, melting into his kiss. I miss this…

Eren pulled Levi into a deep kiss, his hands twined behind his neck. He only pulled back to breathe, resting his forehead against Levi’s and looking into his eyes. “I’ll be home Monday night….” Maybe you’ll put Mila in James’ room?

Levi gazed into Eren’s dark orbs, nodding breathlessly. “I’ll have James take care of Mila for the night…” Levi’s hands ran over Eren’s lithe frame, melting into his embrace. Mine. “And I’ll have you all to myself for the night…” I miss you…

Eren blushed down his neck at that statement, moving to scoot off the counter. I need to put my pants back on, and look presentable… “Yeah… But I’ll be gone all day tomorrow…” He murmured quietly. Everyone probably knows exactly what we did. Fuck.

Levi sighed, helping Eren stand and redress, pecking his neck. You’re going to be gone… probably out enjoying yourself somewhere. “Okay… you come home ready to relax for me, okay?” Levi nestled into his neck, a small patch of pale skin tempting him. “Eren… please, can I mark you here?” Levi nibbled the skin, feeling possessive. You’re mine… I don’t give a damn that it’d be visible. You’re mine and nobody else’s.

Possessive, are we? Eren hummed, tilting his head to the side and letting Levi nibble at his neck. I can do that… That would be fine…
Levi’s eyes sparkled for a moment, pulling Eren flush as he dove in to attack his neck. He sucked hard, the hand on his neck holding him there encouraging him, scraping the skin with his teeth and leaving a large red mark at the juncture of his neck. He lapped at the skin in apology, hugging Eren tightly. You sound more like yourself already.... maybe it's been kinda suffocating around here for you.... we should have the talk again when you get home, about our own place... somewhere to raise Mila where she won't just be one of the herd...

Eren let out a loud groan, his fingers digging into Levi’s hair as he was marked. Shit, that’s gonna be awkward for our spa day... But oh well... He hummed when Levi licked at his neck, a soft smile on his face. “We should go get ready…” He murmured quietly, looking at the mirror and seeing how ruffled their clothes and hair was.

Levi hummed, pulling away and smoothing out the wrinkles in Eren’s shirt, helping to somewhat tame his hair. He left it beautifully tousled, smirking. Damn, you look hot like that... He adjusted the collar of his shirt back into place, the red mark peeking out from the fabric. “Perfect.” I love it....

Eren looked to Levi, rolling his eyes and playfully pushing him back. “Okay now what? You slip out of the bathroom first? Or should I?” I could always go hide in the studio and pretend I'm looking through my art...

Levi quirked an eyebrow, shaking his head, a devious smirk on his face. He took Eren by the waist and opened the door, pulling Eren with him back into the living room. He sat back into the couch with him, pulling him in his lap. Nobody batted an eye at us... He glanced up as Casper and Scotty gave them a knowing look, wagging their eyebrows at them. Well, they batted their eyebrows, but that doesn't matter. They're idiots.

Eren shifted and buried his face into Levi’s neck, murmuring profanities and cursing him to the high heavens. “Fuck you, Levi.... Not funny.” I don't want anyone looking at me like that... He felt the couch shift, glancing at Mikhail as he sat staring at Levi and judging him. At least someone’s on my side! Do you think!?

Levi shot Casper and Scotty a death glare, managing to get both of them to turn their attentions back to the other. “Sorry, Eren…” Levi thought as he held him close, soon deciding to tilt his head back a bit, murmuring in Eren’s ear. “...Mark me.” He looked down when Eren looked up in surprise, his voice still quiet enough only for him to hear. “Right now, please. As much as you want. I don’t give a damn who sees.” You can be possessive of me too. I wouldn't exactly mind it.

Eren’s eyes held a feral glint in them, his hand moving his shirt to the side, giving him open ground near his collar. “You asked for it.” He murmured almost evilly, bending his head down and biting down on Levi’s shoulder, hard enough to break the skin and feel the metallic tang of blood grace his tongue. You said I could… You get to make up for Scotty and Casper being asshats…

Levi bit back a gasp, struggling to remain silent as Eren bit at his neck, covering him in bites. “I-Is seventeen enough?” I’m gonna get hard if you keep this up….

“How many hours am I gonna be gone?” Eren asked him softly, licking his teeth, which still were a bright red from the amount of skin he opened. One for every hour…

Levi thought, trying to function with Eren sucking harshly at his skin, the sound of yipping puppies drowning out the faint smacks of his lips. “Uhm…. fifty?” He held back a moan when Eren moved to a new spot on his neck, holding onto him even tighter. Guh…..

Eren opened his mouth again to latch onto Levi’s neck, biting down into the flesh over and over again. He was keeping track of how many he made, making sure that he licked all the blood clean from each of the bites, soon shifting to the other side of his neck for more room. He’ll have a collar on… And he won’t be able to do jack shit about it…

Levi let Eren mark him, sighing quietly when Eren finally relented biting him, letting him lap at his wounds, relief filling him. I have so many… Levi ran his hand over Eren’s back, leaning into the tender touch. I like this…. They all jumped as Lathe whistled from the kitchen, grabbing their attention.

“Dinner’s finally ready, so come to the table before James and I eat everything ourselves!” It looks sooooooo good….

Levi stood when Eren clambered from his lap, glancing up as Tucker and Henry came over from the nook. He saw them gape at his bruised and marked neck, holding his head up, proud of the many marks. Yeah, I’m his. And he’s mine. Deal. Levi sat down next to Eren, tempted to climb into his lap. He decided to wait until Mila was fed, going to fill his plate, smiling faintly when Mila giggled as she ate. Beautiful little girl….

Eren had picked up Mila and had her situated in his lap, and her food on his plate first. Gotta make sure you eat, then I’ll pass you off to someone so I can eat… He smiled more as Mila held onto him and let him feed her, happy she wasn’t being fussy about it. She’s cute…

Levi ate slowly while Mila was being fed, moving as soon as Eren had set her back in her high chair. He shifted to take over Eren’s lap, his half-eaten bowl of ravioli in front of him, looking up to Eren, his voice faint. “Feed me?” He smirked leaning his head back on Eren’s shoulder. “I’ll happily return the favor…” I’m not used to doing this kind of shit… I hope I’m being okay for you….

Eren was surprised by the intrusion, blinking a few times as his mind processed what Levi had said. F-fuck… What does he want? I’m so confused… He looked to the bowl of Ravioli, picking up a ravioli with Levi’s fork and holding it out for him. This is what you want to do?

Levi’s eyes lit up, leaning forward and taking the ravioli from the fork with his teeth. Levi relaxed into Eren’s chest as Eren did it again, feeding him the rest of his dinner, catching the stunned looks from the teenaged couple a few seats down, Levi smirking at them smugly before Eren fed him another piece. Yep. If you’re bold enough, you get shit like this. Try it sometime. Nobody else at the table really paid them much mind. Nobody here really cares about this kind of PDA… we just yell at people to get a room if they start making out in the middle of the living room or something.

Eren continued to feed Levi even sending the bowl down to get refilled and lifting more raviolis for him to eat. You never let me do stuff like this with you… Though it's okay, I enjoy this, and I can always eat later… His eyes softened as he fed Levi another ravioli, wild thoughts spinning around in his head.

Levi smiled faintly when Eren lifted one last ravioli to his mouth, catching his wrist, gently taking the fork from him. “Here, I'm full…” Levi turned in his lap, holding the bowl, offering a ravioli to Eren. Please? He smirked triumphantly when Eren ate it, going to get him another. I love this… it's simple, and it's just… really nice.

Eren let his cheeks bloom with color as Levi insisted on feeding him. You don’t normally do this… What’s up with you? He gave him a questioning look, leaning forward to take the next ravioli.

Levi’s eyes moved to Eren’s lips, seeing a small drop of sauce. “Oh, you have something there…” Levi leaned forward and quietly kissed the spot, licking up the sauce before moving back again, picking up another ravioli. We haven’t done much lately… I’ve been meaning to do something nice with you… anything would have done… and this seemed like a good idea. He looked up, seeing a scarlet flush high on Eren’s cheeks. Soooo worth it.

Eren had words caught in his throat, taking the ravioli from his fork and eating it. Okay, okay, I’ll eat it… He looked away from Levi, the blush still on his face as he ate the raviolis he was fed. This is childish… Especially for you, I’m honestly surprised you did it…
Levi fed him until the bowl was empty, gently pecking his cheek. “Still hungry?” I can get you more....

Eren shook his head, shifting a bit uncomfortably from Levi’s weight on his lap. He’s heavy... And it’s all muscles, good lord... “Levi.... C-Can you get off of me?” My foot is falling asleep and it’s uncomfortable as all hell...

Levi nodded, looking worried when he stood from Eren’s lap, helping him stand. His leg fell asleep... “Sorry… I wanted to....” It was nice... we’ll have to do it again...

Eren nodded, taking his plate and Levi’s and helping to clean up the table in silence. I should still help with dishes, it’s the least I could do before I leave.

Levi followed suit and helped with the dishes as always, everyone else migrating to the living room to talk a bit more for a while. It's always a chill kind of party on Saturdays... Levi caught Eren when they had finished, bringing him out of sight of the living room in the hall that led to the studios, gently pressing up to his front. Levi nestled into his neck, hanging on tightly. You looked anxious to leave... I'm gonna miss you... even if it is one day.

Eren looked to him, a little grateful he’d been whisked away. Oh thank god, I didn't want that embarrassment to continue. “I’ll be home soon... Don't worry.” He wrapped his arms tightly around him, holding him close. I’ll be home soon...

Levi didn't want to let go, grateful to have him leaning into his touch, for once not minding the contact. You're not shying away from me... thank god... Levi leaned up to kiss Eren deeply, yielding when he felt Eren grab a fistful of his shirt, taking over the kiss forcefully. Shit... Levi held Eren’s head, his fingers tangled in the dark hair. I like this... I'll miss it... I hope you come home wanting to pick up where we left off...

Eren kissed Levi back roughly, pulling at his hair a bit to make sure he held the upper hand. Shit, I almost don’t wanna leave.... But I have a long drive with Armin. He pulled back to breathe, a trail of saliva still connecting him. “Hmm.... I’ll be back home soon...” He murmured quietly to Levi, shifting his head to the side and kissing Levi’s cheeks all over. I like this... Maybe when I get back we’ll kiss for hours.... I could do that...

Levi blushed as Eren kissed all over his cheeks, his hands still in his hair. “I'll be waiting for you....” Levi let his eyes flutter shut when Eren gave him one last kiss, long and slow, sucking on his lip before pulling away. Levi let him go, following him back to the living room. ...he has to go now.... but when he comes back, he's all mine. Levi felt his heart flutter when Eren kissed him goodbye, him and Armin leaving for the night.

Chapter Summary

Sorry, this is so late guys! I promise there will be more updates soon!

~Duke

PS. Don't kill me! Uni's doing that for me!

Levi blushed as Eren kissed all over his cheeks, his hands still in his hair. “I'll be waiting for you...” Levi let his eyes flutter shut when Eren gave him one last kiss, long and slow, sucking on his lip before pulling away. Levi let him go, following him back to the living room. ...he has to go now.... but when he comes back, he's all mine. Levi felt his heart flutter when Eren kissed him goodbye, him and Armin leaving for the night.

Levi managed to sleep, waking up the next morning to help with breakfast. He was surprised when Henry and Tucker came downstairs, each of them consciously trying not to hide a single dark bruise on their necks, their places mirroring the other's. Levi smirked, giving them a nod of approval. Be damn proud of it. Sunday dragged on and on, Levi’s mind continually stumbling back to Eren, unable to keep from thinking of everything he could do to him, keeping him up late into the night. His thoughts were interrupted by Lathe helping Ieva down the stairs, looking worried out of his mind. “Dad? What's wrong?” You two look terrified .... His eyes widened, looking to Ieva. The twins...

“I think they're just false contractions, she’s probably fine, but they're twins.” Lathe explained hurriedly, gently guiding Ieva along to the door to put on shoes. “We’re worried... just in case something happens, I'm taking her to the hospital. You're in charge, okay? I'll call if anything changes and when we should be home.” You'll hear from me.

Levi nodded, his brow furrowed a bit. He went over to them, giving Ieva’s cheek a kiss. I hope they're okay... they're twins... two small lives. He rolled his eyes when he was pulled in for a hug by both of them before they left, going back to his work, worry in the back of his mind. He was relieved when Lathe texted him a few hours later, saying that Ieva and the twins were just fine, and that they'd be home for dinner. She's okay... she and the twins are alright.

When Monday came, the bruises on his neck were still very dark. After gazing at his neck in the mirror for a long while Levi found himself fidgeting with a leather strap, his fingers worrying over the buckle. I could... I want to... perhaps it would get the message across. Levi couldn't help it and fastened the collar around his neck, even taking his time to fish a toy out from the back of the closet, getting himself ready for when Eren came home. He refused to give a damn when he when he went downstairs. The perpetually shocked expressions of their two resident teens were still very amusing, stunned when they came home to find Levi leisurely cleaning the house with a tank top and collar on as if it were natural. His hips swayed a bit more than normal, both from nerves and how he was dressed, and for... other reasons. I can't wait to answer the door for Eren like this....

Eren had pulled up in the driveway around 8pm, opening the door and letting Mikhail go outside to venture to the house while he carried everything in. The dog slipped right through the doggie door, his vest still tight on his body as he searched the house for someone to take it off of him. And he just leaves me out here... wonderful. Eren set his things down, pulling out the keys from his pocket and jingling them around to try and find the house key. It's locked... It's always locked, where's the fucking key?

Levi stood from the couch when Mikhail trotted inside, sashaying to the door, knowing Eren was home. He saw him come up to the porch, opening it for him and leaning against the doorframe, staring at him with a faint smirk. “Welcome home.” He had a knowing glint in his eye, watching Eren’s expression shift. I wonder what you'll do...

Eren’s eyes widened as they looked over Levi in all of his glory. Oh my god... Is he...? He’s wearing a collar? He looked around towards the semi-empty living area over Levi’s shoulder knowing they must’ve eaten dinner already. “Uuhm... A-Are you gonna let me in?” Eren bit the corner of his lip seductively, looking as innocent as possible for him. I have a bag still... even if it’s on the ground for now...

Levi looked unimpressed, tugging gently at his collar as he pretended to think about it, looking away. “Hmm, I was thinking about it, but I think I will. You know how lonely I get...” Levi feigned innocence, stepping back and letting him inside. Please, get the fuck in here... just drag me upstairs already...

Eren’s eyes widened for a different reason this time, looking away sheepishly, bending down to pick up his bag and keeping his head down in shame. He was lonely?......... Fuck, what did I do? Did I make this worse? He could feel his face heat up as Mikhail trotted towards him sitting in front of him and whining a bit. “I-I’m sorry...” He murmured, bending down again and unclipping Mikhail’s vest. I left you alone when you didn’t want to be....

Levi’s eyes widened when the comment made guilt flit by Eren’s expression, going over to him and making him stand back up, his arms wrapping around his middle. “Eren, I'm fine, I missed you, but I wasn't so lonely...” Levi leaned up, softly pecking his neck. “I'm so glad you're home, though.” Levi pulled back to gaze up at him, his eyes quietly pleading with him. “I've been thinking... maybe fifty bites aren't enough...” I want more...

Eren looked at him with shock, melting into his touch easily, without tensing with his hold. “I could… I could fix that…” His whole face flushed in embarrassment, his slightly shaking hands holding onto Mikhail’s vest, not sure what to do with it for the moment as he was wrapped in Levi’s arms. What are we gonna do now?........ He’s acting weird again, I don’t know what’s up with him…

Levi pried the material from Eren’s hand, dropping it next to the door and bringing him to the stairs. He walked upstairs with him, pulling him into their room and locking the door before pressing himself to Eren, his arms around his middle. “Eren…” Levi blushed violently, looking away, his expression frustrated as words failed him. Fuck… come on, say it… Levi seized up, needing a moment before he helplessly leaned into Eren, his voice small where he buried his face in his shoulder. Fuck… “Eren… I want you to take over…” He fist his hands in his shirt, pulling back and showing him what he'd done. And that's not even everything… “Please…”

Eren’s eyes were full of shock, but quickly started to melt away from the lust underneath it all. His hands were gentle as he reached up and he slowly unclasped the collar from around Levi’s neck, letting his fingers run over the bare skin. “Hmmm… you want me to take over?” I know we’ve done it before… but you’ve never put the collar on before…

Levi nodded, refusing to meet Eren’s gaze, suddenly feeling very vulnerable in Eren’s shifting hold. “Y-Yeah… please…” I… you haven’t really taken over and dominated, ever… I want to know what it’s like to be on the receiving end of all the attention I’d given you before… I really want to know… Levi found himself backed up against the door, shivering when Eren’s dark eyes settled on his. Please… I want to know…

Eren let his body rake over the loose tank top that Levi had on. “Hm… you need to get some rope, and the blindfold… and a toy… go fetch.” Eren murmured seductively into his ear, nipping at his earlobe and trying to make him work for it. I’m not so sure I’ll be the greatest at being the top… especially with what you want me to do…

Levi shivered as Eren murmured in his ear, immediately moving to obey him. He went to their closet, turning to look at Eren, his voice quiet, rope in one hand and a long piece of black silk in the other. “I’m sorry- rope or silk…?” You could honestly want either… He had a matching silk blindfold in his hand, nervously holding the crop as well. Is this okay…?

“The silk… and get a different toy, put the crop away.” Eren muttered, taking the blindfold and the long strip of silk from him. This’ll work well… He moved everything towards the nightstand, a little quiet as he waited for Levi to return. I don’t want to use the crop, you didn’t like it last time I used it, and I remember you were nursing those bruises for days.

Levi hurriedly moved to obey, finding himself unable to decide which toy he wanted. He reached for the anal beads, bringing the things to the bed and setting them down. He looked up to Eren, his head tilted submissively. What're you going to do to me...?

Eren took the beads inspecting them for a long moment. “Get the lube that you want... the edible kind...” He murmured quietly to him, a soft look in his eyes as he looked over Levi. I wonder if he’ll strip for me...? Maybe he’ll ride me too? Or maybe I could treat him like a dog? ...No, that doesn’t really seem right...

Levi was a bit disappointed when Eren's eyes softened, going to get the lube, setting it on the bed as well before sauntering up to Eren, grabbing his collar, looking up to him deviously. “Why won't you use the crop on me? Don't I deserve to be punished? I've been less than good while you were gone...” Levi was fishing for the reaction he wanted, pouting when Eren’s look didn't change. Dammit, don't lecture me on how I got badly bruised last time you used it on me...

Eren quirked an eyebrow, shaking his head. “Why should I punish such a good boy?” He pulled Levi into his lap, taking the collar from his hands and throwing it away and out of reach. He sat on the edge of the bed, holding Levi by his lower back. “We don’t want this beautiful skin to bruise... unless I put it there myself... Even you said you wanted more bites.” He murmured softly, reaching up to kiss his nose.

Levi was shocked as Eren turned the mood around, torn between being upset and giving in to the gentle touch. Fuck... but... “E-Eren...” Levi blushed as his nose was kissed, looking away. He felt himself settle comfortably in Eren’s lap, unsure. ...is this how it'll go? I didn't think you'd be like this... ...fuck, I should be thankful you want to do anything at all. Levi sighed, leaning into Eren, his nose nestling into the crook of his neck. “...j-just please take good care of me...” You can do whatever you want...

Eren saw the uncertainty flit across Levi’s eyes before he felt him nestle into the crook of his neck, his hands softly running up and down his sides as he held him close. Hmm, I haven’t really held onto you in a long time. His fingers were gentle against Levi’s skin as he slowly lifted his tank top up. Come on, take it off, I wanna be able to touch you...

Levi lifted his arms, letting Eren rid him of the clothing, tugging at Eren’s top, wanting it gone. He nestled back into the skin, gently nipping at the flesh until Eren shifted him, gasping as lips met his sensitive neck, slowly moving with him, in time with each dragging kiss. Guh...

Eren gently kissed at his neck, his hands running slowly up and down Levi’s front, making sure his touch was light, almost like a feather. I... I want you to be hard with just simple touches everywhere... He kept Levi under him, mouthing at the bites and bruises on his neck and collar. I want you to remember what it felt like getting these before I keep going down with them...
Levi whined quietly, letting Eren turn him and gently push him on the bed. He reached for Eren’s dark brown locks, tilting his head back and letting his tongue and lips roam everywhere. Please... feels good...

Eren reached up, pulling at his wrist and lifting his head away from his skin, kissing at the pale skin on his wrist, and up towards his palm. His eyes held longing in them, not caring that he was going unbearably slow. I want you to feel everything... I want your senses on overdrive. He smirked when he sucked a slender finger into his mouth, giving it a hard suck before lathering in saliva as he twirled his tongue around the digit.

Levi watched Eren suck on his finger with dark eyes, relaxing into the bed as Eren did.It's going to be a long, slow night, isn't it? Levi wasn’t complaining as Eren suckled and licked at him. *... I could get used to this..."

Eren absolutely worshipped his fingers, one by one until he’d showed them all the attention they deserved. He smirked, taking his wrist and holding it tightly as he dug his teeth into the pale skin, feeling the metal tang of blood fill his mouth as he broke the skin. His grip was strong as Levi tried to pull his arm away, holding it in place as he bit down again and again on the inside of his wrist. Mine... All mine ...

Levi struggled against his grip, a little worried as Eren’s teeth dug into the flesh just above his pulse point. “E-Eren...” Levi struggled to not shove him roughly off, his tone one of faint warning. *Stop..."

Eren stopped, licking at the blood from the teeth marks. “Yeah?” He asked softly, looking at him with worried eyes. You said you wanted more bites.... Was this wrong? I wanted you to cover you in them.

“N-Not there.... there's a vein there...” It's freaking me out... Levi sighed quietly when Eren nodded and shifted further up nibble at his arm, nervous as he skirted his elbow and the visible vein there. *I'm sorry..."

Eren nodded, getting to the top of his shoulder before he sunk his teeth into Levi’s skin once again. Here is okay... Right? I can bite here? He pulled back, licking at the wound with careful timidness. *I don’t want to freak him out..."

Levi gently nudged into Eren’s touch, relaxing more when he found his shoulder. The shoulders and chest are all okay… there's nothing there that'll freak me out… Levi squirmed as Eren set to work, feeling him cover every inch of his shoulders and chest and stomach with bites, feeling himself aching in his jeans. More... it's been so long.... His hands gripped Eren's shirt, pleading with him. “More...”

Eren looked up to him with wide eyes, shaking his head. “Not yet.” He murmured quietly, sitting up and twirling his finger, motioning for Levi to flip over on the bed. I wanna do your back, because you’re sensitive in your lower back... And I’ll be able to knead your ass...

Levi groaned quietly, turning over and getting on his hands and knees until Eren smacked his ass, dropping flush to the bed. He was rewarded with hands all over his ass and lips on a shoulder blade. Oh... Levi unconsciously spread his legs wider for Eren, his hard length trapped between him and the bed. He gave out small moans and cries, feeling Eren bite at his sensitive lower back as he kneaded his ass and coaxed him to rock his hard bulge against the mattress. Fuck...

Eren smirked as he squirmed, his hands digging into his ass, though he felt something press against his thumb, his eyes widening. “Levi?” His voice was soft and full of surprise as he pulled him up off the bed, his hands cupping his jaw and the bulge in pants. “What’s in your pants?” He asked softly to him, nipping at his ear as he held him against his chest. He knew Levi would be able to feel his own bulge against his lower back. I wonder....

Levi leaned back into him, dizzy with arousal and wanting so badly to feel the bulge pressed to his back somewhere else. He felt Eren rubbing the tip of the toy inside of him, sighing deeply when it moved. “I-I maybe wanted to be ready for when you came home... I-I've had it in all day…” It was so hard not to practically rut against any chairs today... “I want you...” Please...

Eren smirked, moving his hands to his front and unzipping Levi’s pants, pulling them down over his hips, along with his underwear. I want you trembling under me in absolute ecstasy. “Grab the lube... And the beads.” He murmured softly to him, nipping at his ear before pushing him down against the bed and getting rid of the pants and underwear he had. His eyes traced over Levi’s lithe form under him. Oh... He looks awesome...

Levi moved when he was stripped nude, grabbing the beads and the lube, handing them over to Eren. He turned over when he took them, kneeling on the bed with his head pressed into the mattress, presenting his ass to Eren, the handle on the plug visible. I want you to have your way with me...

Eren looked at his ass with amazement, reaching out to touch the soft skin and rub it between his hands. His thumbs teased at his plug, pressing it forward before he pulled it out, looking to see how loose Levi was for him. “Shit... That’s enticing Levi...” I won't be able to hold myself back....
Levi groaned as the plug easily left him, feeling loose and empty without it. “I wanted to be good for you...” Levi shifted, not minding that he was showing off his loose hole to him. “Please, Eren... I’d love to be full again...” I want it....

Eren smirked, kissing his ass cheek as he grabbed the lube and lubed up the anal beads. “Patience Levi...” I want you to feel really good, and I can see that you’re already dripping in precum... He smirked softly and rubbed the lube into the toy, making sure that it was covered before he pressed them at his hole, smirking as they sunk in easily. _Fuck that is hot..._

Levi groaned as the beads started to enter him, feeling the rod of beads slowly press at his prostate right away, a guttural moan leaving him as they sunk deeper and deeper with ease. _Fuck..._ Levi arched his back, shifting to get more comfortable, panting as Eren slowly began to draw the beads out and push them back in, moaning loudly. _God it feels good...._

Eren smirked, watching the beads leave Levi’s hole, and then get sucked back in. _Fuck that's hot... I wonder what it would feel like to have the small beads in... While I entered him... Or would he not like that?_ Eren pondered the thought as he watched, his bulge aching in his pants. _Fuck, I'm hard..._

Levi was a panting mess, rocking his hips back onto the beads not much later. “Eren... n-need you... please...” _I want it... I've ached all day...._

Eren pushed the beads all the way in, leaving them there as he pulled away from Levi, shifting off of the bed to take off his pants, his length aching. _I should probably wear a condom..._ He shuffled to the nightstand, grabbing a few foil wrappers from the drawer and putting them on the bed, crawling up to his side. “Hmm... Should I get the small ones? And leave them in?” He asked softly, his lips brushing over Levi’s lower back, the sensitive area, making the shorter man shudder.

Levi didn't barely have to think before he was nodding fervently, looking back to Eren. _Anything..._ He was still as Eren went to the closet, knowing better than to shift or to take the beads out himself.

Eren was quick to find the string of smaller beads, coming right back to him and slowly pulling out the anal beads. He replaced them with the string of small ones, watching each get sucked up into his quivering hole. “Levi... Give me a condom...” He murmured in a husky voice, his one thumb teasing Levi’s hole. _I wanna go slow... And let you enjoy this..._
Levi nodded, reaching for one of the wrappers on the bed, feeling the beads move inside of him. He gave it back to Eren, settling back on the bed, trying to relax. Fuck... I ache....

Eren ripped the condom with his teeth, rolling it onto himself expertly before he nudged his tip against Levi's hole. “Hmm, you ready Levi?” I want you to feel everything.

“Yes...” Levi let out a deep gasp when suddenly Eren sheathed himself in him, the beads and his length filling him up. “Oh....” His voice was shaky, gasping as he drew back as thrusted in again, his moans quickly filling the air. Oh my god...

Eren gasped as he filled Levi until their hips met. He gasped even more as he felt himself slide against the beads within, the new sensation making him feel a bit on edge. “F-Fuck Levi, you're so warm...” Eren sang his praises about him, whispering in his ear as he worked up a slow and steady rhythm. It feels heavenly ...

Levi shuddered at the praise, whimpering when he felt a tongue drag up his neck. Oh god... “E- Eren...” Levi moaned lowly as Eren thrusted into him, his length and the beads filling him, and filling him with pleasure. So good...

Eren smirked, moving to kiss and bite at his neck more as he kept his slow pace. “Hmm, you like the beads Levi? Should we use them more often?” I guess we could change it up a bit... I could always treat you in bed.............. Don’t think about it Eren, he loves you.... Eren’s thrusts faltered for a moment before he got back on track, trying to distract himself.

“God, please...” Levi was putty in Eren’s hands, looking back when he felt their rhythm get thrown off. “Y-You okay?” You look sort of upset...

Eren nodded. “Y-Yeah I’m fine...” He stuttered as he bucked his hips into Levi, already feeling the heat raising in his body. He bent over Levi’s back and kissed at the nape of his neck, wanting to distract both himself and Levi. Don’t think about it, it’s not just about you... This is about Levi’s happiness too...

Levi deeply sighed as Eren kept thrusting into him, reaching back and gently guiding Eren’s head to him, murmuring in his ear. “Eren, I love you... so much...” Levi had to let go right after, collapsing back into the mattress and shuddering. More...

Eren felt his length get even bigger as Levi’s words went right to his nether. “Shit Levi...” I don’t... want to cum without you cumming too…. Shit I haven't even found your prostate yet… He started to panic a little, his thrusts faltering once again as he shifted to move his thrusts in different directions, trying to locate it. I want you to be in utmost pleasure…

Levi whimpered as Eren shifted around, smacking the mattress to get his attention. “Eren, please. It doesn't matter that you haven't found my prostate- it feels so good, just please keep the pace… it feels so good…” More… Levi whimpered as Eren continues, the anal beads rubbing him everywhere.

Eren had a conflicted look in his eyes as he held Levi’s hips simply nodding and he kept his forehead against Levi’s shoulder, kissing the skin where he could reach. He was quiet aside from a few grunts as he thrusted into Levi rhythmically once again. I'll do it like he wants it… I'll try not to cum… The beads feel really good against me, I can only imagine what they feel like for you…

Levi moved with Eren, craving the sensation of being so full. Oh god… Levi pushed back on Eren’s hips, thankful when Eren ground deeper into him. “Eren, like that… please, just like that…”

Levi felt himself nearing the edge, his nether burning in the best way. I want to cum…

Eren heard Levi’s voice get higher and higher as he ground into him, his eyes closed as he focused on pleasing Levi. He shifted his hand under him to stroke Levi’s neglected length, feeling the shorter man shudder as Eren kept him pinned in place with his weight. You're gonna cum soon…

Levi shook when Eren’s hand wrapped around his length, tutting into his hand. So good… “E-Eren, I…” I'm gonna cum… Levi tensed around Eren, tightening around him as he cried out. He came into Eren’s hand, panting as he did, helplessly moving his hips with Eren’s thrusts. God…

Eren kissed at Levi’s shoulder again as Levi came, bringing his hand up to Levi’s mouth to lick it all off. His other hand held a tight grip on Levi’s hip, waiting for his second hand so he could absolutely ravage Levi. I wonder what it’ll feel like with you like this? And with the beads?….. Maybe I shouldn’t…. His grip loosened on Levi’s hip, still staying flush with Levi, grinding into him. He’s warm…. And tight…

Levi pressed his hips back into Eren, whimpering at how sensitive he was. “Eren… m-more…” I don’t want this to be over yet… He pressed back until Eren’s hands tightened on his hips, crying out quietly as Eren started pounding into him. He sounded desperate when Eren slowed after a particularly sharp cry, trying to keep the rhythm going. “Eren, please, don't stop…” God, please don’t…

…. But you sounded like I hurt you? Eren was conflicted as he kept his hold on Levi’s hips gentle for the moment, keeping his slow rhythm once again. I don’t want to hurt you, Levi... His eyes were full of worry, along with undeniable want as he held Levi’s hips. This is about you Levi, I know you didn’t want me to stop, but I don’t want to hurt you, even if I don’t cum from it...

Levi whimpered incessantly, trying to push back on Eren and pick the pace back up. “Eren, please, I want it harder... please give it to me... you won't hurt me, there's no pain, I'm just so sensitive... but I want you so badly...” Levi tilted his head back, catching a glimpse of Eren’s eyes. “Please, Master...” I want it... it feels really good...

Eren swallowed hard, looking down at his ass as he nodded, shifting Levi’s knees farther apart before gripping at his hips and starting to pick up the pace once again. He could feel the heat building in his abdomen again, his face flushing as Levi continued to cry out with each thrust. Are you this sensitive because we haven’t done this since you got back? Or are you this sensitive because I’m actually hurting you and you won't tell me?

Levi’s cries were full of pleasure, gripping the sheets for dear life. “O-O- Oh, Eren...” He moved with Eren’s thrusts, whimpering loudly. “So good...” He could feel himself slowly hardening again, his face buried in the sheets. More...

Eren’s eyes trailed over his body, watching him squirm underneath him as he grabbed at the sheets. Fuck... I’m gonna cum soon if I keep this up... But it won’t be anywhere near you cumming... I need to hold back then. Eren thrusted in a bit shallower though he kept up his rhythm, trying not to give it away that he was trying to hold himself off.

Levi noticed instantly, his voice shaky. “E-Eren, please... m-more.... don't slow down... I need it...” He was a mess, not caring as he begged for Eren to keep going. More... god, please, more...

Eren shook his head against Levi’s shoulder. “I need... to slow down...” His voice was strained as he kissed at the nape of Levi’s neck, wanting to try and get him to understand. You’re getting harder... If I slow down a little, I can bring you right back up... “Don’t... w-worry, I’ll... take good care... of you.” He spoke between thrusts and kisses to Levi’s neck, his hands still gripping Levi’s hips and keeping him in place. I can’t cum yet... Cause then we’ll have to stop...

Levi begrudgingly nodded, relaxing into the mattress, letting Eren move for the both of them. Guh... He felt the beads rub him with every little movement, sighing with the pleasure even as Eren slowed. I shouldn't complain if I'm going to be drowning in pleasure for even longer...

Eren made sure to go slow to keep himself from his own climax. Once he knew he was out of the clear he shifted his hold on Levi, a little softer as he reached to feel how hard he was, smirking when he was hard. Oh good… He gently pushed Levi down so he was flush with the mattress again. “Hmm, you want it hard again?” He asked, kissing at Levi’s ear as he ground into him, the heat slowly rising in his gut.

Levi spread his legs wider, feeling his length rubbing against the fabric beneath him, grinding down into it when Eren thrusted forward. “Oh god, please…” Please… Levi gasped as Eren massaged his globes, gasping and crying out when Eren suddenly slammed into him, arching back of the bed as Eren didn't relent. “O-O-Oh god….” More…

Eren smirked, pounding into Levi as he massaged his globes. Fuck he feels amazing … He continued to grip him, letting out low moans and huffs as he worked him. “Hmm, y-you like this?” You’ll want more surely…. I’m sure this’ll be all you’ll ever want…

Levi moaned wantonly, so unused to hearing the sounds tumbling from his throat, but nowhere near able to stop them. “Oh, Eren… I love this…” So good… Levi whined as Eren lapped at his neck, tilting his head down to give him room. Feels so good… He rutted into the mattress, feeling his own orgasm creeping up on him again. “G-Getting close…”

Eren looked a bit surprised by that, looking down at Levi with a bit of curiosity. Shit… I waited too long again…. He nodded, continuing his motions and feeling the burn in his abdomen, not nearly as great as what Levi must’ve been feeling. Fuck, he’s gonna cum again… I hope he does… Eren hummed, kissing Levi’s neck and making sure to keep his pace the same. I want you to love this…

Levi tightened around Eren, trying to hold off. “Y-You too…” I want you to feel good too… Levi tried to still his hips, gasping as Eren sucked on his neck. Oh… “Please…” You should feel good too…

Eren hummed as he continued. “I’ll take good care of you, don’t worry, let go Levi…” He murmured quietly into his ear, his voice soft. I can always just finish myself off after you're done…. Then I can flip you over and clean you off…

Levi made a sound of dissent, his voice shaky. “B-But I want you to feel good too…” Levi felt Eren slide in and out of his loose hole, blushing scarlet when a thought came to him. If he wasn’t wearing a condom, this wouldn't be over yet… we could go in the bath for another round… but I can just drag him to the bath later… Levi looked away, still clenching around Eren, wanting to drive him closer. Please…

Eren’s groans got louder as Levi clenched around him. “F-Fuck… Levi… Relax…” Shit that felt amazing, but it’s not enough… “I’ll finish… don’t worry, Levi. Just l-let go.” He stuttered as he thrusted into him deeply, making sure that he was still keeping his rhythm though it was getting harder with Levi getting tighter around him.

“N-No… d-don’ care….” Levi didn't relent, trying to stay tight around Eren. “Want you to feel good…” He braced himself on the bed, gripping the sheets, trying desperately to hold off from cumming. You should cum too…

Eren grunted, moving to an unmarked area on his shoulder and sinking his teeth into his skin again, feeling Levi tense under him. He came again… Fuck he’s tight … He groaned as he still inside of Levi’s tight heat, the burning sensation in his abdomen wanting to release, but not enough behind him to push him over the edge. Shit…

Levi gasped, choking on a breath as he came, grinding against the bed desperately. Oh god… He melted bonelessly into the bed, shifting his head to look back at Eren when he pulled out. He lifted his head when he saw the condom on his red length was empty, shifting. “Eren…” Levi looked a bit upset, though he was cut off when the small beads were pulled from him, his slightly clouded eyes settling on Eren. You know what. That’s it. Levi shifted, reaching for the silk that had gone unused. He reached for Eren, dragging the condom off of him and pushing him down, straddling his chest. I’ll just have to do it myself.

Eren’s eyes were wide as Levi pushed him down in confusion when his chest was straddled. “L-Levi?” He was confused obviously, his eyes slightly panicked, his mind going over a hundred miles an hour. What happened? What did I do? I thought you liked it? What did I do wrong?

Levi saw his panic, stopping and leaning down, his lips brushing his ear. “Eren, that was wonderful… I loved every bit of it… but if you're not going to let yourself have release…” Levi reached for his wrists, the silk wrapping around one. “I'll just have to do it myself… if that's alright of course.” Levi tried to sound seductive, his voice low. Let me take good care of you…

Eren looked at him with still panicked eyes, looking up as he felt the silk on his wrist, his eyes widening further, his hard length dribbling precum in streams. Fuck… Did I Did I not do it right for him? I thought he wanted to feel good? He yelped a bit as Levi licked his ear, his whole face flushing from embarrassment. Fuck what do I do?

Levi gently nibbled his ear, though he leaned back when he felt Eren tense up. He looked over him, a finger tracing his chest as he held the other end of the long silk loosely. “...is this okay, Eren?” Can I do this for you? I want to…

“What-What are y-you doing?” Eren stuttered, feeling his heart beat right out of his chest. I'm Levi looked up to him, his expression soft. “I want to take good care of you… you took good care of me, but I don't just want to repay you…” He toyed with the end of the fabric. “We haven't done anything in the longest time… and you've just become more like yourself… I know it's only so much to tell you I love you…” Levi rested his hands on his chest. “So let me prove it. As much and for as long as you can stand.” I want to...

Eren looked at him for a moment, nodding as he looked away. Alright… I thought you wanted me to treat you…. He didn’t realize he had mumbled the words, a defeated look in his eyes if Levi would pay close attention. “T-That’s fine…” I’m still confused as to what you mean… You took my condom off… I thought you wanted to be the bottom tonight?

“Eren, you did treat me…” Levi leaned down to kiss his chest, his hands on his shoulders, the black ribbon loose on the bed. “I loved it… but it'll be a wonderful treat to watch you fall apart…
you deserve it…” Levi looked up again, gently kissing his unmarked neck. “...you'll let me?” You don’t sound like you want to...

Eren nodded, silently consenting for him to continue. I don’t deserve it, not after what I put you through. “But you need to promise me that you'll make me take my pills before I go to sleep, o-okay?” His voice was timid as he chanced a glance at Levi’s silver eyes. I don’t really… I mean I’m not opposed to it, but I don’t deserve it...

Levi nodded, though he shifted to stand, letting Eren stretch out. “Let’s do that now, alright? Then we won't forget later when we won't want to get up…” Levi went to retrieve his pills and a glass of water, handing them over to Eren. “Alright?” This should be okay...

Eren nodded, taking the pills in his unbound hand and raising them to his mouth to take them. He drank from the glass he was given, his hardon still red from being denied release twice. It’s starting to get really uncomfortable… What’s Levi going to do?

Levi set the glass aside when he was done, settling again on Eren’s chest. He reached up to tie him to the bedposts, leaving him unable to move his arms much, and with spread legs. He leaned back to admire his work, his eyes glinting. Perfect. Levi stood and sauntered over to the closet, going to rifle through their toys. Hm… this, of course, this perhaps… and this. Levi walked back to the bed and laid out the toys, settling with a bottle of lube and a different plug, moving to coat it. I want you loose… and you'll feel it with every little movement...

Eren looked to the plug wearily. He’s gonna use toys?
Why would he want to touch you himself? He didn't even oppose to you wearing the condom.

... I thought that’s why he wanted to be bottom? To have me please him...

And look where that ended up, you being tied to the bed because you couldn’t do it right.

Eren’s whole face flushed in shame as he closed his eyes, waiting for Levi’s touch. He could tell his body was still shaking a little as he couldn’t move his arms. I wanna be able to please him...

Levi’s hands on his chest shook him out of his daze, the noirette looking down at him with worry. “Eren, please, are you okay? Just... let me untie you...” Levi reached up to take off his binds, releasing his hands quickly. “I'm sorry.. I pushed you into this... If you don't want this it's alright... but I want you to know that either way, you've so good for me... at least let me help you finish... you deserve it...” You do... “And of course... that face you make when you do is wonderful too...”

Eren shifted to sit up, rubbing at his wrists, looking down to his hard on between his legs. I'm surprised it hasn't gone down yet. “You... Y-You don’t have to...” He murmured quietly, looking up to Levi with shame lacing his features before hurriedly glancing away. I'd like to think you'd want to touch me too... But you looked so angry at me earlier... “I-I don’t want you to be mad at me...”

Levi gently cupped his cheeks, tilting his head to look at him, resting their foreheads together. “Eren, I'm not mad at you... I could never be. I was just upset that you wouldn't give yourself release... ...I love you so much.” He gently pecked his cheek. “And I want to make sure you remember that. My hands and tongue and everything aren't enough... you deserve everything. Let me give it to you.” I love you... I want you to stop forgetting that.

Eren was silent as he let Levi speak, slowly nodding before he leaned up to kiss Levi, softly at first, letting his lips part when Levi brushed his tongue against his lips. O-Okay... His movements were slow as he wrapped his arms around Levi’s shoulders, finding himself in Levi’s lap. I'll let you...

Levi shifted, going to untie Eren’s legs, letting him settle in his lap. He pulled Eren close, settling him in and reaching to gently knead his globes, glancing over to where the lubed plug still rested. “Will you let me use the plug...? You can say no to anything...” You don't have to do everything.

“Y-Y-You can use i-it if you w-want...” He murmured as he buried his head into Levi’s shoulder. I should’ve known you didn’t really want to touch me... Eren let his shoulders slump a little, but still kept his arms around Levi’s shoulders, and his face away Levi’s sight.

Levi hesitated before he set it back down, his hands coming up to Eren’s shoulders. “Would you rather I just use myself? Lips, tongue and teeth… fingers…” Levi dipped down to gently suck on Eren’s shoulder, holding him flush to his chest. “Would you like that better? I'd love to ravish you like that…” Is that better…? If it’s me and not just toys?

Eren nodded hurriedly against his neck, burying his face against the marked skin. “P- Please …?” His voice was quiet as he clung a little tighter to Levi’s shoulders, his legs wrapping around his waist and pulling himself flush with Levi. I want you to touch me...

Levi nodded fervently, his hands running over his back, his voice quiet in his ear. “Yes, Eren… always yes…” Levi cradled the back of his neck with one hand, the other running down to his ass, softly nipping his shoulder. “Let me take good care of you…” Levi reached for the lube, gently nudging Eren over and onto his knees, keeping the tube nearby as he faced Eren’s entrance. I know how much you love this… His tongue darted out and lapped over the pucker, feeling Eren already shivering in anticipation. I love doing this with you...

Eren let out a loud moan as he felt Levi’s tongue against his entrance, his hands instantly grabbing at the sheets below him as he cried out. “L-Levi…” He whimpered as Levi continued, his whole body shaking from the amount of pleasure he felt. My... My length.... Fuck... I’m leaking... So bad... He could feel the tremors running through his body, shaking with pleasure.

Levi’s tongue pried further, his hands close to Eren’s base as he moved with him, letting Eren rock back into his tongue. “Does that feel good, Eren?” Levi murmured against his skin, his hand wrapping around him and slowly stroking. “Better…?” I want to hear everything you're thinking about all this...

Eren’s eyes widened, a low guttural moan escaping him as Levi closed his hand around his length. “F-Fuck… D-Don’t… Don’t touch it… I-I’m…” Eren felt his cool tightening even further, so close to the edge that his length was absolutely weeping as he was touched lightly. Fuck it feels so good, but I want you too...

Levi immediately let go of him, his hands returning to his thighs. “I know you're close… is there something you'd rather cum to…?” I want to hear it... “Should I finish you with my tongue…?” He traced a hand down his chest, tweaking a nipple. “Maybe with my fingers?” Tell me what you want.

“T-Tongue.. A-a-and fingers…” He stuttered, turning his head to look back at Levi to see if he would comply. Please ... He spread his legs even wider, letting his ass be presented to Levi. I want your fingers and your tongue.
Levi nodded, easing Eren down so his elbows were on the mattress, diving back in with his tongue, plunging the muscle deeply into him.

“I can do that….” He ran his hands all over his body, hearing Eren mewl in pleasure.

“You make the best sounds while you’re like this.”

Eren shuddered, a loud whine leaving him as his coil tightened more. “F-Fuck! Le- Levi!” Eren shouted as he finally came, a large load once again.

Fuck! His whole body absolutely shook from the pleasure that pushed him over the edge. Oh my god…. I think I see stars…

Levi finally reached down to stroke Eren when he shook from his release, milking him of it. He felt him melt into the bed, sliding down to press his cheek into the bed, his ass still facing him. He cupped Eren’s globes, his voice soft. “Do you want any more, Eren?” He kissed one cheek near his entrance. “Do you want me to make love to you?” You look like you need gentle…

Eren’s eyes were glazed over in pure pleasure. He shifted to lay down his whole body on the bed. “mmhmmm.” Eren nodded, looking a little love drunk at the moment. I want it… I want you…

Levi chuckled, shifting to be flush to Eren’s back as he reached for a condom and the lube. He stopped when Eren caught his wrist, chuckling quietly when Eren tossed the condom away. He gently kissed Eren’s ear, slicking himself up. “If you’re tired after this, I’m still going to drag you to the bath… clean you out after this…” Levi’s hands found Eren’s hips, lined up with his entrance. “You ready, Eren?” I'll be gentle, don’t worry.

Eren shook his head a bit and wiggled his ass. “C-Can y-you stretch m-me?” We haven’t had sex in awhile, and your tongue felt really nice, but I don’t want it to hurt… His eyes looked hopeful as he looked over his shoulder to Levi. I don't want it to hurt.

Levi nodded, shifting down and grabbing the lube again. He soon had a slick finger running circles around his pucker, slowly plunging into him, stretching him a bit. He felt around his warm cavern, feeling Eren bend and relax around him. Always so soft… so warm…

Eren let out a shuddery breath as he felt Levi insert the finger into him one after another. “Ah…. Shit…. Levi… I-I wanna see you…” He murmured quietly, rutting back on his fingers as they filled him. “I wanna see you when you make love to me….” His words were heady as he attempted to flip himself over.

Levi felt his heart tug as Eren spoke, helping him roll over before going back to fingering him open. He scissored his fingers, staring at Eren as he whimpered. “You’re so handsome…” He smirked when Eren blushed, drawing his hand out of him when he loosened around the three fingers he’d had inside. “Ready, love?” Are you comfortable?
Eren let out a whine as he fingers left him, a blush taking over his whole face as he spread his legs even wider for Levi. “Yes…. Yes please …” Eren begged him and he looked at Levi with want in his eyes. I want you, I want you to hold me...

Levi seemed to hear him, leaning down and wrapping his arms around him, holding him flush as he slowly began to enter him, going slow when Eren whimpered. “Take your time… it's okay…” It was a long few minutes before Eren was adjusted, Levi trying hard to stay still when he finally became buried in his heat. So good...

Eren whimpered, wrapping his arms around Levi’s broad shoulders, wanting them to be flush. “Stay… Still…” You’re fucking huge... It's a good thing I asked you to stretch me.

Levi nudged Eren’s cheek, going to suck marks onto his neck as he adjusted, distracting himself. Levi bit at his neck gently, grinding a bit deeper into him. I won't start just yet... not until you say. He smirked as he was rewarded with a loud moan. ...but I’ll do just enough to get those sounds out of you.

Eren’s eyes widened impossibly as he let out a loud moan, his toes curling when Levi ground against his prostate. “F-Fuck… Oh god, Levi…” He whined when Levi stilled inside of him, moving his hips, trying to entice him to move a little bit more. That felt amazing ...

Levi pulled back a bit for a very shallow thrust, his hips rolling against Eren’s. “Like this…?” He murmured in Eren’s ear, feeling Eren’s hard length trapped between their stomachs. You’re dripping... so slick...

Eren let out a loud cry, his fingers gripping at Levi’s back. “Haaa..... Yes… L-Like that…” Eren whimpered as he rolled into him. “Oh my god… I-I love you, please don’t stop.” He murmured quietly into Levi's ear as he held his head to his neck, tilting his head to the side in offering. Mark me... Please ...

Levi melted, his voice soft in his ear. “I love you too, Eren... so much…” Levi dipped his head again and sucked marks onto the tan skin there, his hips slowly moving as he thrusted into him. So good... Levi moaned softly into his ear, his nether aching from the pleasure.

Eren shifted, a soft moan leaving him as he pressed back as much as he could into Levi’s thrusts. I want it... I want you so bad… He felt his heart melt as Levi softly spoke to him. His legs moved to curl around Levi’s lower back and push them closer together. “Y-You do…?” Eren shivered as Levi kissed a sensitive area on his neck. \textit{I feel warm… I want him to feel good… Does he feel good too?}

Levi kissed the mark he made softly, his voice tender. “So much… more than I could ever tell you…” \textit{Words aren't enough…} Levi began nearly pulling out before thrusting back in, keeping a slow and deep pace. “So good… you feel so good…” \textit{I love this…}

Eren let out moan after moan slowly becoming a mess under him. “L-Levi… fuck me… Please…” \textit{You were gentle… but I want more now… I want to really feel you, all of you, your strength and your power.} “I want you to fill me up…. I want another kid…” Eren murmured to him quietly as he pulled his head back against the mattress and cupped Levi’s jaw. \textit{I want another precious human with us…}

Levi pulled back from him, his eyes full of surprise. “You want another?” He watched Eren look up to him and timidly nod, his mind in overdrive. \textit{Another little kid…} A soft smile broke out over his face, leaning down and pulling him closer, burying his face in his neck. “I'd love that… I'd love to have another little kid with you…” He drew back and thruster harder into him, relishing in the pleasures gasp it drew from him. “Like that?” \textit{You surely sound like you love it…}

His cries were the epitome of pleasure as Levi thursted into him harder and deeper. He nodded, feeling his mind begin to fog up as Levi held his hips. “Y-Yeah…” \textit{It feels good… I can feel it trailing up my spine…} \textit{I want it… I want it bad…} He could already feel the heat building in his abdomen. \textit{I want a kid… I want more of Levi's kids…}

Levi was soon pounding into him, his voice soft in his ear. “I love you so much, Eren… I-I… I’d love to make a family with you, more than we have now… as many little kids as we want… I can't wait to have you and keep you and love you like this for the rest of my life… you're all mine…” Levi bit his neck. “And I'm all yours.” \textit{Mine …}

Eren let out a loud guttural moan as Levi bit his neck, his breathing starting to become labored pants as he got closer. “I-I love you, Levi…” \textit{I love you... I love you, I love you a lot…} He curled his toes, feeling his heat pool in his abdomen, knowing it wouldn’t be long before he came between them. “Levi… I’m gonna cum…”

Levi groaned, feeling Eren clenching around him, knowing he was close as well. “I love you so much…” Levi rolled his hips as he thrusted, feeling Eren’s length slide between them. \textit{Please… cum…}

Eren’s face was flush, feeling the emotions bubble to the surface, tears forming from the bliss and happiness. He let the pleasure take over and he came between them. Seeing stars for a moment before everything turned black and he went slack against Levi, he clenched around him tightly.

Levi felt himself on the brink of orgasm, though he pulled out as Eren went slack, cumming on his stomach. He panted as he saw Eren decorated with their releases, leaning down to gently peck the corner of his lips. Beautiful. He managed to get himself up from the bed and clean them as best he could, soon curling on top of Eren and dragging a sheet over them, feeling the press of bare skin on his body. I love this… and I love you. We should have at least one more little kid… and I think it's time we leave the nest and make our own family. I love this house… but it's time.
Chapter 120: To Find a Home

Levi hadn't barely been able to touch his tea since he set his mug down, trying to get Mila to eat, not knowing what the issue was when she wouldn't eat her cheerios. They're even the honey ones, you love those! Right? Levi tried in vain for a few more moments before giving up, taking the bowl away before she could knock it onto the floor. What do you want?! He went to the fridge, showing her a few strawberries, sighing in relief as she smiled. He quickly cut one up and let Mila nibble on it as he cut up the rest, quickly using the cooling water in the kettle to make her oatmeal and dumping the strawberries all over it. Please eat it... He sighed in relief as Mila accepted it, jabbing at it with a spoon and taking bites. Thank god she's eating... Levi finally sat down, taking a sip of tea. We're going house hunting today... Mila's been incredibly fussy all morning... it took forever to get her into clothes she liked... Levi quickly wiped her face when she began to make a mess, trying to get her to eat and not only play with her food. It's going to be a long day... Eren's been doing much better... he's done lots of drawing and painting.... he's been singing too... I think he's putting an album together... Dad’s written tons of stuff since he last covered anything, so he has plenty to pick from... and mess with, of course. None of Dad’s songs will come out unscathed. And some of them are kinda short too... like not even a minute long... I dunno, it's what happens. He gets a good melody in his head and writes it, then writes an accompaniment, and then adds harmony, and then makes words. Or he makes words and then just pretends that he knows the melody and writes it down and then it actually sounds good. Whatever it is, it works, and Eren has plenty to play around with. Levi looked up to the wall, a new painting on one of the walls, an oil on canvas of a gorgeous creature, nondescript with tall, shining black eyes that glittered in purples and gold, flecks of color on their muted skin. Their inner corners pointed sharply down to a point, their raised chin and lack of any prominent facial features- any nose largely absent- giving the impression of mysterious and deceitful grace. Dad and Sharon have been doing a lot of work on that game... I think they're conspiring with someone else to work on it. But all the ideas Dad’s getting that won't go into the game, he's been doing stuff like that with it. ...I hope today goes well. Levi smiled faintly. We talked with Mom and Dad about us leaving... Dad looked upset but I can understand... and he just hugged us really tight and wouldn't stop telling us he loved us... he's going to have really bad empty-nest syndrome for a bit... but I hope the rest of the kids will all keep him occupied. He has plenty of other baby chicks to fawn over.

Eren came down the stairs, his hair still a little damp from his shower, his shirt a simple button up long sleeve with a darker vest over it, along with khakis. Hmm... we’ll see what we can get done with the house hunting, I kinda liked the area near the school, it's not too far away from here... Eren was buttoning his sleeves when he finally got to the kitchen, kissing Levi’s cheek. “Did she eat?” I know she’s been fussy all day... and I know I should help, but, I feel like every time I pick her up, I have an urge to paint, I have no idea why... but I do... He smiled as Mila picked up another spoonful of oatmeal and strawberries, nearly missing her mouth as she ate. That's adorable... even if she’s a mess...

Levi sighed, though he faintly smiled as his cheek was kissed. “Yeah, she actually is. She refused a scrambled egg, even with cheese, honey cheerios, and nearly knocked both onto the floor. But she’s eating strawberry oatmeal.” Eh, the egg was tasty. Levi ran a hand through his hair, fidgeting with the cuff on his charcoal grey dress shirt for a moment. He was wearing very dark grey jeans and black boots, reaching for Eren and gently pulling him close when he had acquired his own mug of tea. Mine. He softly pecked his cheek, enjoying the quiet of the house, keeping a careful Eren smiled as he leaned back into him, holding the mug to his lips. “I wanna paint my studio when we get back…” I thought of a good song, and I think I’m ready to do it… and I can edit the video for it… and make it look nice… and then I can paint over my wall and do it all over again for the next one. He took a deep breath and smiled. “So, do you wanna hold her? Or do you want me to hold her?” Who are we gonna set up for the pouch? He glanced over his shoulder, looking at Levi with soft eyes. I swear she’ll be fussy for either of us.

Levi thought, sighing. “I can take her… you took her the other day when we were on errands…” He already felt tired of the day, humming quietly when Eren brushed a hand through his hair. That feels nice… Levi leaned into Eren’s side, enjoying the pets. Today’s going to be a headache of a day.

Eren chuckled quietly, shifting to put his mug down and lean down to give Levi a real kiss. His arms wrapping around his shoulders to pull him closer, a wide smile on his face. “Why don’t we put her crib in James’ room tonight, hmm?” I know the sex we had like two weeks ago was great, and we’ve gotten better with each other since… but we haven’t done anything else… not even a handjob here or there… I wanna do something tonight… Even if it’s just cuddling without having to worry about being bothered.

Levi smirked, giving him a suspicious look for a moment. “Does that mean what I think it does?” He watched Eren faintly blush. “That’s what I thought…” He gently kissed Eren back, letting Eren lean into him. That sounds nice… “You’re insatiable…” He sipped from his mug, leaning his head on his shoulder. This is really nice, actually… it's quiet… peaceful.

“Does that matter? I wanna have fun, I’ve been taking my pills on time, and I feel a lot better… like better enough to do the song I want to do…. but I knew that I’d never be able to do it until I got better…” It needs to get out there… it needs to, I need to do it, I think once I do it I’ll finally be able to come to terms with what happened.

Levi nodded, looking up to him. “I’m really proud of you… I really am…” Levi rested a hand on Eren’s thigh, gently rubbing his thumb over the cloth there. You've been doing so much better… I really admire that… that you've worked so hard and now you're here.

Eren smiled, leaning back into his gentle touch, looking over Mila as she finished up eating. “Alright, wanna clean her up?” I’ll go grab the holder for you, and help you put it on.

“Yeah, thanks.” Levi kissed his cheek before standing to get a soft cloth, dampening it and going to gently clean Mila’s face. *It's a miracle you didn't get any- He sighed as he saw a bright red spot on her shirt, wincing a bit when she cried as she saw it. Oh my… “It's okay, Honey, we can get you a new shirt.” He lifted her from her chair and kissed her cheek, bringing her upstairs. “We can get you a new shirt…” He opened the drawer full of shirts, still in disarray from her last shirt-picking session. Anything you want.

Mila looked down at all the shirts, beginning to pout and her lower lip start to tremble. I don’ wan these shir’ Da! “N-No!” She shouted her new favorite word, looking away from the shirts laid out and down at her own.

“You have a spot on yours… you want me to clean it?” I guess I can….? He sighed as she stared at him, kissing her cheek. “Okay…” He watched as Eren came into the room with a questioning look, setting Mila on the bed and taking her shirt. “I’m going to wash this spot out of her shirt…. I'll use the hairdryer to dry it.” She's being really fussy…

Eren smiled and nodded, moving lay down with Mila. “How are you today Mila? Pretty fussy if you ask me.” He smirked, running a gentle hand over her belly as she giggled, leaning his head down to blow raspberries on her soft flesh, which enticed more laughter. Maybe if she laughs she’ll be happy about going to a few houses today.

Levi chuckled as Eren spoke, going downstairs and fetching the detergent. He washed the small shirt in the sink, rinsing it thoroughly and using the hairdryer to dry it quickly. Soon he was slipping it back onto Mila while it was still toasty and warm, smiling in relief as she happily babbled. Thank god… Levi kissed her cheek, watching as Eren lifted up the baby carrier. Here we go.

Eren helped secure the carrier on Levi, and made sure Mila was all snug in it before they walked downstairs. “Okay, Mila goes in the car seat in the back, I'll drive… Mikhail!” He called for the dog who immediately came to his side and sat obediently. Eren bent down and picked up his vest and slipped it on him, smiling as he picked up his own leash for the car ride. He’s a good dog.

Levi nodded, settling Mila in her car seat before going to sit up front with Eren. The car was quiet, the radio quietly playing. This'll hopefully go okay… They got put at the first house, their sales person getting out of their car when they arrived, the silver-haired man greeting them.

“Good morning! I hope you're all feeling well.” The man smiled broadly to them, his eyes lighting up when he saw Mila in Levi’s baby carrier. “Aw, good morning beautiful!” He gently reached a finger for her, smiling as she giggled and tugged on his finger for a moment. I think we’ll get along rather well. “Alright, I looked over all the information you've given me, and we’ve got a few houses within most of your specifications and the price range you gave. I'm sure you'll find at least one you really like, and if not, there are other days and more options. If any ideas come to mind about things you'd want to add to your wish list of things you'd like, tell me, okay?” I’ll do my best.

Eren smiled as Mila seemed to instantly attach herself to the man in front of them. He held Mikhail’s leash, trying not to freak out from his over enthusiasm. He’s not gonna be a wack job… we hired someone good to help us look for a house… He took a deep breath, calming himself down as he almost moved to hide a bit behind Levi, a bit of his anxiety setting in. Shit, still not good with social interactions….. it’s okay Eren, you just need to last today and then you can cuddle Levi tonight.

Levi watched the man move with a careful eye, nodding minutely after a moment. He made Mila laugh, and he still seems pretty competent. Good. Levi caught Eren by the waist, his thumb gently brushing his side as they followed him to the house. It’s okay. He's a bit enthusiastic, but that's not exactly a bad thing. Levi gave him a quick peck, his attention on the salesman as they went inside.

“This one here is closest to the school, we’re just a block away at the moment, and I know that was one of the must-haves, to be within bussing distance. This is nice because when your little one grows up, if she wants to stay after for anything, she’ll be able to walk or bike home and not need someone to come and get her. That’ll be in quite a while, but it’ll happen so fast, it's good to think about it now.” He opened the door, letting them inside. “Four bedroom, two bath, and there’s two other bathrooms, one just there and one in the basement. It’s a relatively open floor plan, and a notable feature of this house is the amount of natural light it gets. Looking at the back of the house, you're facing east-” He gestured to the far wall, the angled ceiling over a large set of sliding glass doors and window, nearly taking up the entire wall. “-and that means in the early morning, there'll be plenty of beautiful light. And with the window over the door, you'll get plenty of evening sun too. This is a bit on the higher end of your price range, but it’s still very easily within it. And there’s always room to negotiate.” There really is, don't worry. “A nice big garage, fits three cars, or two cars and extra stuff if either of you are particularly outdoorsy. A big backyard too, good for a German Shepherd. And a growing daughter, of course.” Lots of space to run around. The man let Mikhail sniff him, knowing not to try to pet him. Service dog.

Eren looked around the rooms in awe. “Belgian Malinois.” He corrected as he passed the man, going back to look towards the backyard. This house…. this is beautiful. We’d have to paint the walls white… or I can paint right over them I guess. He stopped at the back of the house, letting Mikhail look out the window to the backyard. That’s a good place for him to run around with Mila… we could get a pool too, and still have room. Eren smiled more as he looked at the backyard, thankful that it was so large, and right behind it was the ending of the forest. Maybe some deer too?

The man had the good grace to look a bit embarrassed. “Ah, alright. I'm certain that either way they'll need quite the space to run off energy. And there’d be lots of extra space as well when if you decided to add a swing set or an above ground pool, perhaps. In-ground if you so wished. I’d keep an eye out for some wildlife too, since we’re rather close to a forest. Deer like to wander around so you could see some further in the brush in the evenings.” That happens a lot with the houses around here. “We’ve heard one or two reports of foxes, but it's been a few years. And it's to be expected. But you most likely won't have an issue at all with that.” I sincerely doubt it.

“It doesn't sound like it should be an issue. We currently live right next to a huge forest and haven't had any real problems. Just some deer.” Levi looked around, thinking. Wide halls, nice counter space, plenty of room for a long dining table, a roomy couch or two too... Levi opened the back door, inspecting the porch. Wood, big... it could use some stain, but it’s an easy fix. And there's lots of space for a picnic table and umbrella... outdoor furniture too.... and a grill... the garden could use some work... I don't think we'd want just barren dirt or grass. We need some color in there...

Eren looked around as well, going to look back in the house, asking where the basement was, and following the man. I can do it... I can go down on the basement... well, maybe not. “U-Uhm… wh-where’s the light switch?” Eren asked quietly as he looked around the wall near the door. I need to turn the lights on before I go down... or I need someone to go down first... fuck I hate basements. Eren’s hands started to shake, Mikhail sitting back and taking his hand into his jaws to prevent Eren from scratching himself. I know... I know...

The man looked a bit at a loss for what to do, obviously recognizing what was happening. “It's alright, they're on the wall just to the right as soon as you open the door. The panel turns all of them on. Would you prefer I follow, or would you want to follow me, or...” He trailed off, trying to gauge what was happening. I'm not entirely sure what to do... you're distressed and I don't know how to fix that...

Eren nodded. “C-Can you turn the lights on... and go down first? M-Make sure they're all on?” Eren leaned down to pet Mikhail to help him calm down, smiling when the dog slowly let go of his hand. Good boy. He got up and followed ye man towards the door, Mikhail whining as Eren simply stared at the door, frozen in place for a moment. I need to make sure it looks okay... I need to do this, I can't be afraid of my own basement...

The man nodded, giving Eren a bit of space as he walked to open the door, turning on all the lights on the panel and walking downstairs, his eyes sweeping over the empty, warmly-lit space. He walked a bit into it, his voice gentle as he asked upstairs. “Everything’s on, you can follow if you like.” He looked around, keeping from watching Eren as he slowly came downstairs. Whatever it is, I'm not going to push it. It's not at all my business- but you shouldn't be afraid of the basement if you're interested in living here.

Eren nodded, slowly walking down the stairs and keeping his eyes on Mikhail as he made it all the way down, looking up and sighing quietly as he made it. Okay... that's fine, I can do this... I really can... He looked around the warmly lit area, most of the walls white to make it look brighter. It's not bad... this isn't the basement like at the old old house.... he can’t pop up anywhere... he's gone. Eren swallowed as he saw doors underneath the staircase they’d come down. “St-Storage?” Eren asked and pointed towards them. Is that what they are or are they for the utilities?
“Yes, storage. There’s a sliding door here-” The man went to one wall, pushing it aside, hearing the sound of wheels rolling as he revealed a closet-like room with a water tank and other things. “Which holds all the utilities that need regulating and so on. Water and such is in here.” He let Eren inspect it, making sure not to step between him and the way out. He led him to the stairs, opening them and showing him the neat shelving installed. “There’s plenty of room down here; you could and most likely will extend shelving, but this could be for things you don’t need your daughter getting into.” Anything toxic or breakable shouldn’t be within her reach.

Eren nodded slowly, backing up and looking around to how large the main room was. There’s outlets… it would be easy to build a false wall in the corner and soundproof it… “U-Uhm… D-Do y-you know what’s above the corners?” I’d need somewhere to record… I mean I could always go back home, but if I’m singing late at night… I’d rather do it at home…

The man looked around, thinking. “Hm… I know that that corner is at the boundary of the kitchen that’s closest to the door… so the kitchen is just above that corner, the living room is above that one, that corner is under the garage, and that one is just under the dining room.” He quickly rifled through the folder he was carrying, pulling out a floor plan. “…yes, that's exactly it. This is what it looks like.” He handed Eren the sheet, the lines of the basement bold with the first floor in faint grey, showing the dimensions relative to the rest of the house. That should be okay. “Why, if I may ask?” I'm curious.

Eren nodded and he looked through the house plans he was handed. “Oh right… Levi organized this outing… and I probably look a lot different than what the public is used too… do you follow music?” If I drop my name you might know who I am… there’s a good chance of it…

“Sorry, I'm not too familiar with American music. If you're someone I should know I'm sorry for not recognizing you.” The man smiled sheepishly. “What’s your name? I should recognize it.” I probably will… I listen to the radio a lot but I never really see pictures of any of the artists…

“I’m Eren Yeager.” Eren smiled widely, looking at the floor plans. “It’s fine, I’m actually glad though, you’re treating me like I’m a normal human, even if I’m known for music around the world…” I know that event that I did in Germany really spread it across Europe. “It’s for a recording studio… It’s easy to make a false wall and make it sound proof this way… but not necessarily sound proof for the floor above.” That’s a little harder to do…

The man’s eyes instantly lit up. “Oh my gosh, I do know you! You're very popular still all over Europe! Don't worry, I won't treat you any differently. I'll keep in mind though that you need a space to record where you're not disturbing the space above you, yes?” He watched Eren nod. “Alright, that actually is a bit of an issue with one of the other houses I had listed to visit today… because of the way the basement is, and I'm assuming you'll keep recording mostly in the basement,” He watched Eren nod, digging out another sheet. “There’s one home where there isn’t any good space for it. Because of where the garage is, you’ll always be under the dining room, the living room, or the kitchen.” He showed Eren the paper. “I can add having a basement space underneath, say, the garage, as a must-have? It'll save a bit of trouble.” It's a necessity with what you do...

Eren smiled and nodded. “Thank you… really, that’s really helpful with the house hunt, so um… can you show me around upstairs?” He asked quietly, heading towards the stairs to go up to the main floor. I wanna see what is upstairs... I like this house...

The man nodded, leading Eren upstairs. “Of course. A question, actually… you have listed that you wanted at least four bedrooms and two baths… why is that, if I could ask?” You only have one little girl- so far, at least...

Eren followed him, a soft look on his face as they got to the stairs. “We’re looking for another surrogate at the moment, for child number 2.” His smile was wide as they walked up the carpeted stairs and to the large hallway with a lot of doors. This looks really nice...

“That's wonderful to hear. This house certainly had plenty of room for both kids to have their own rooms as they grow older, with an extra for whatever you'd like to use it for. Oh, this is attic access here.” The man gestured to a door at the end of the hall. “It isn't shoved into the roof of a closet, which is a plus, it's a stairway with a sliding trap door.” He opened it, showing him the panel in the ceiling. “Shall we?” He opened it when Eren nodded, turning on the lights from another panel and stepping up into the space. “It’s got flooring down, which is good. However, it does have plenty of exposed insulation, and the ventilation could use some work.” He gently poked at a torn piece of foil covering the insulation. “But it could easily be used for storage, which makes the stairs leading up to it particularly nice. Less of a hassle moving things.” He thought as Eren inspected it, rifling in his bag. “Actually… I have a bit of an idea. There's this one home that’s a bit out of your price range, and I'm not exactly sure what you’re going to do with all the space you've asked for so far, but there's something a bit more upscale you might like… and I don't currently have anyone else really looking at it. But since you're a bit of an exception, maybe the extra money is worth it.” He handed him a few sheets of paper. “Five bedroom, three full bath with the master bedroom’s bath quite a bit nicer. There’s a study in the master bedroom and off of two the other rooms, extra space all over, and there’s an in-ground pool. I'm not pressuring you into anything, but if this sounds more like something you and your husband would be interested in, I could very easily show you today since we’re skipping one of the houses.” I thought it might interest you.

Eren looked up as he spoke, only one word finding it’s way into the back of his mind. Husband.... I don’t have a ring yet.... All I have is his word... “Fiancé, actually... and yeah, I’m sure that would actually be better... could we see that next?” I would like to see that... I think I might like a big house, since we’ve been living in such a big house for so long.
The man blushed, embarrassed. “I'm sorry, Mr. Yeager.”Dammit, I keep assuming things. But he has a daughter. …..wait, is he wearing a ring? He glanced to his hand quickly. Nope, no ring. Huh. Rings are signs of engagement all over Europe… I dunno… honest mistake. “Of course we can. Let’s inspect the yard, yes? And we lost your fiancé a while ago.” He looked faintly amused, walking with Eren back to the stairs. …I don’t think it's my place to ask why you don't have a ring.

Eren nodded and moved to look around for Levi and Mila. He leaned down to pet Mikhail as he wagged his tail next to him. He’s not concerned… so I don’t think I need to be. He went outside to try and find where Levi was. “Levi?” He called for him, stepping out on the deck to look for him. Where did you go?

“Yeah?” Levi wandered over from the side of the house, inspecting the siding. “The siding could use some washing, and the garden needs work… we also should have a gate put in so that Mila and Mikhail don't end up running off. Or anyone else.” He smirked faintly as Eren smiled, stepping onto the porch again. “I do rather like it…” It's nice… He looked around, thinking.

Eren nodded. “Hmm… I wanna go see the other house he has… It’s bigger than this one… I wanna see it first…” I wanna say it’s nice for a starter house… but I like the big house we have now… I kinda want a big one too.

Levi quirked an eyebrow at him. “A bigger one?” He watched Eren nod. I'm beginning to wonder if you want more than just two… “Of course, we can go see it.” This one is pretty nice, but I'm not sure if I like it enough to buy it… I dunno, it just feels a little different than what I hoped...

Eren nodded, pulling Levi back into the house. “Can we go see the big house you were telling me about?” Eren asked him hopefully. I wanna go see the house… If we get a big house… we could always adopt too...

The man nodded, smiling widely. “Of course! Let me get you the address… it’s actually just a few streets over, still very much within walking or biking distance…” He quickly wrote it on a post-it note, handing it to them. “Just follow my car and we shouldn't get lost.” You’ll like it. He led them out the front door, making sure it was locked before going to his car again.

Levi settled Mila in her seat again, looking over to Eren as they sat inside. “…were you thinking of having more than two?” He reached over and gently took his hand. “It's a lot of space, what you seem to want… is you want to foster, or…” Or have them as our own?

Eren looked over to him, a soft smile on his face, but it was slowly diminishing. “Would you be opposed to fostering? We’ll be old enough in a year or two…” Please say you’ld be okay with it… I want more than just two…

“I’d love to foster more kids with you… I just would want to know if we’re going to be buying a house with five or six kids in mind.” He chuckled faintly, leaning over to softly kiss him. “I’m very happy with that.” It was nice to have all those kids to take care of at home… they’re all little shits, yeah, but still… “And I’m okay with more than two.” He gave him a gentle look. I’d like to have a big family…

Eren seemed to sigh in relief. “I know you wanted to help pay for the house… but if it’s more than our price range, I can pay for it… it wouldn’t put that much of a dent in my account.” I’d still be able to have a black card and everything else…

“I don’t really have much saved, so anything too far out of our range I really won’t be able to pay for… Mom and Dad would give me gifts and my paramedic job pays half decently, but it’s not nearly as much as you have… and my pension isn’t much to look at…” Levi shrugged, leaning his head on his shoulder. “Though I guess if I’m going to marry you that either way, we’ll both be paying for it…” Then we’ll practically be one entity… Levi smiled faintly, cupping Eren’s cheek gently. “I can’t wait…” He softly kissed the corner of his lips. Mine… all mine…

Eren blushed as Levi kiss the corner of his lips and cupped his cheeks. “What’s the address again?” I wanna make sure we’re going to the right place… and you have the sticky. Eren turned to start the car, and put it into drive. Let’s go look at the house…

Levi sighed quietly, nodding. “Okay-” Levi gave him the address, meeting their energetic salesman again. He got out and got Mila from her seat, gazing up at the much larger house. Shit… this one is really big…

“Don’t be intimidated- just take it in.” The man smiled as Levi looked over the facade, looking to Eren as well. “The gardens are still rather well-kept. It’s no small feat to keep them nice but if you find an hour or two here or there they’ll stay beautiful. There’s no fence here already, but that’s probably because it’s such a huge yard, it wouldn’t be too cheap. But it’s nice, you have this overhang here-” The man led them up to the stone porch, a nice stone wall lining it, shaded by a stone overhang. “-so you could have a few tables and chairs out here. A couple plant pots are actually molded into the stone here-” He gestured to the small parts in the wall that held poppies. “-and I always thought that was a nice touch. This house is a lot of stone and wood on the outside, but don’t worry, the inside is a lot better for a kid to run around in.” He unlocked the heavy front door, letting them in. It’s very nice…

Eren looked up as they were immediately greeted with wooden stairs which led to the second floor and vaulted ceilings. “Oh wow…” It’s big… and roomy… I like it… He stepped further inside with Mikhail, looking to the large room to the left of the entrance which also led to the kitchen in the far corner. Open spaces… barely any walls… which is nice, we can have her on the floor in here and I’d be able to see her from the kitchen…

“It's very open…” Levi tilted his head back and gazed up at the ceiling, able to see where the stairs went up, a small balcony before disappearing off, presumably to the bedrooms. Levi rested his hands over Mila’s tummy, letting her tug at his finger, kissing her head. “Do you like it, honey?” He wandered further in, looking over the stove that was built into the counters and flush with the marble countertop, looking over to the hearth. It's very fancy…

Eren smiled as he walked towards the other side of the house, the room’s context once again, and the space large enough to have a table for everyone for dinner. We could have everyone here… we could fit everyone here. He smiled more as he circled the back side of the house, seeing the door to go down into the basement as well as a very well hidden pantry. Large windows overlooked the sprawl of a backyard and pool. Oh look at that… all the dogs would love that here too… They love the pool at home… and the kids would love it too…

The salesman smiled as Mila giggled and threw up her arms. “I know, it is really nice! And there’s actually something rather special about this house upstairs, so before I forget, come with me…” He motioned them to the stairs, bringing them into the master bedroom. The first thing that caught their attention was a bookshelf, the only piece of furniture still in the home, a single statue left on it of George Washington. “It'll look much less suspicious if you put more things on it, but the people who built this house had an idea…” He reached for it and tipped it forward, all of them hearing a click. He gently guiding the bookshelf to open for them, a warmly lit room on the other side. “And this is in addition to the other room there, which can be used as a study. Do with this what you will.” He backed up a few steps, letting them inspect it. I'm sure you'll find something to do with it.

Eren was really hesitant about going into the room. “L-Levi, you first…” He stuttered as Mikhail whined a little. I don’t like secret rooms… even if I used them when I was younger… I’m still kinda afraid to go into places first…

Levi nodded, stepping into the small room. Small, but not cramped. “It's okay, here.” Levi reached for Eren, gently taking his hand and bringing him into the room. “It's okay. It's nowhere near as big as the other rooms, but it's plenty.” His voice became very quiet. “I think I know just what to use it for…” That would be great…

Eren felt his whole body shudder and he nodded as he let go of Levi’s hand and made his way out of the room. “I wanna see the master bathroom…” It was his on the spot excuse to get out of the room. He went to the bathroom, carefully sitting down and letting Mikhail come to his lap and help to calm him down. I’m freaking out, I know… it’s new places… I know, I know… I’ll get better…
Levi looked a bit worried, giving Eren a bit of space and inspecting the bookshelf for a moment until he heard Mikhail whine. He went to the bathroom, looking around. Shit, it's nice... a walk-in shower and that bathtub is huge... it even has jets... fuck, I love it. He looked to Eren, coming over to him and smiling when Mila immediately reached to pet Mikhail. "...I'm sorry if I'm making this more difficult." Levi gave him a soft look, turning to look back over the nice stone tiles. "It's very nice in here... lots of room everywhere..." It's so upscale...

Eren nodded as he sat against the side of the tub, petting Mikhail to calm himself down. "It's fine... just... n-new places and... Um... you know h-how I feel about s-small entrances..." I don't necessarily like them, and I'm already kinda on edge... "I really like the master bedroom though." It is nice...

Levi nodded, kneeling next to him, gently carding his hands through his hair. "Yeah... it's okay. It's to be expected, since everything is new... don't worry, you have me here." Levi gently held Eren, helping him calm down. "There’s lots of room everywhere which I like... and the downstairs has lots of carpet... and the fireplace looked nice too." He talked quietly, helping Eren calm down. It's okay.

The silver-haired man lingered out in the bedroom, near the door to the hallway, unable to hear anything that was being said. Eren seems very nervous... It's not my place to say anything. I know there was that huge case a few years ago, things happened, he's gotten better... I'll just try to make sure they have their space. Maybe go a little slower with this- he's on edge.

Levi waited for a little with Eren, soon gently kissing his cheek. "Ready to go again?" It's okay. I'm here. Levi’s arm immediately moved around his waist, helping him to his feet, his hand staying on his waist. Mine.

Eren nodded, shifting to move forward, glad that his wobbly legs didn’t instantly give way. "Thanks... can we see the rest of the rooms?" I wanna see them... I wanna see the other bedrooms and how big they are... how many kids we can foster...

Levi nodded, smiling faintly. "Yeah, of course." Levi kept a strong arm around him, walking with him back into the bedroom, grateful that the man simply gave them a smile and led them through the house. The bedrooms are spacious, like everything else... There are two more full baths here, which is good, if we're going to have lots of kids who all need baths... They gazed out the windows of one room, looking over the expanse of the backyard. Shit, this one is really nice... I really like it...

Eren was thankful that the real estate agent understood that he needed to take everything a lot slower. "W-We’d be able to foster... and we’re right by the school..." It would be so doable... and we’re close to Dad… “C-Can we check the basement? I need to know what corner Tucker needs to make a wall for… O-Or actually is there an a-attic?” Eren looked back to the man to ask. I should probably go up before going back down…

The man nodded. “Yes, there’s an attic. It looks much better than the other we’ve seen.” He walked along with them leisurely, opening a door that led them upstairs. He walked up first, giving them time. He walked further in a bit, showing them the space. “Good wooden flooring, and the insulation is also new behind these panels.” He gently pushed one panel in, the three of them watching it shift a bit before settling back into place. “This would be a nice place for storage, or you could have half storage and half either a space for beds and such or you could have bean bags and things settled around here, a place to hang out if you’re going to have a lot of foster kids around like you mentioned. A space that’s a bit out of the way would probably be appreciated, especially if they’re twelve or older.” A bit of privacy. “The ventilation is all working well, so it shouldn’t be too hot up here during the winter. You don’t want to have heavy icicles, especially two stories up.” That wouldn’t be good. “And a few windows, of course.” He pointed out a few small windows, plenty of small spaces to tuck away. I’m sure you’ll have at least one kid come through who needs their solitude…

Eren looked at him and then back to Levi. “Yeah, that should work right?” He looked back over to Levi for a moment. Wait, what would we do about the kids if you have a job and I get called to sing with someone? Or something like that? “Sh-Should we go l-look at the b-basement?” Fuck I’m stuttering again…

Levi slowly nodded. “Yeah, we can.” He slowly walked with Eren as the silver-haired man walked down the stairs first, stopping Eren and giving him a slow, soft kiss. “It's alright. We’ll talk about anything that's worrying you in a little while, okay? We’ll sort out the details.” It'll be okay.

Eren nodded and smiled softly, pecking Levi’s cheek before slowly making his way down the stairs in front of Levi and Mila. I can do this… we can do this, it’ll be okay, I can stay home and do art…

Levi followed him, staying at his side when he could, his arm around his waist. He murmured to Mila when she got a bit fidgety, letting her tug on his fingers. “I'm sorry Honey, you’ll have Toby back a bit later, okay?” He’s lost in the wash somewhere… we’ll find him again soon. He let his arm slip from Eren when they reached the basement, letting Eren go ahead of him when he gave him a look. You can do it.

Eren took a deep breath, looking away from him and Mila to look down the stairs. I can do it… He swallowed thickly as he saw the man at the bottom of the stairs. Oh fuck it, I can do it… He grabbed the handrail and brought Mikhail down with him, his breathing a little harsh as he had to force himself to open his eyes to see the wide open space that was even bigger than the first home. Oh wow…
The man gave him plenty of space, smiling warmly when he finally opened his eyes and saw the expanse of space. “It’s quite a lot of space, isn’t it? Plenty of room for anything you want. That corner there?” He pointed a ways off. “That’s directly underneath the back porch, and with the extra muffling from the soil and concrete and then the wood, nobody’s going to hear you. The space under the stairs holds the water tanks and all the utilities.” Look around. The man slowly meandered the room, inspecting everything again. It's very spacious...

Eren’s eyes were wide as he slowly stepped closer towards the far corner. “This is even bigger than our basement right now….” And that’s a hard thing to do… wow… it’s so big! And open! We could add sooo much to it!

Levi wandered, looking around. There’s a crap ton of room in here…. Wow… that's an accomplishment. “And because it’s got a good amount of height to it, we could maybe do something like stadium seating… just an idea for movie nights, maybe…” Levi looked around. There’s the space for it… Yeesh, only two houses in and I love it… He sighed as Mila squirmed and looking up at him with her doe eyes. Dammit… “Okay…” He lifted her from the pouch, holding her hand as she stood and walked with him. She needed to move somewhat… He was surprised as she suddenly yanked her hand away, scampering up to the salesman. Oh no… “Mila!” Levi called her name, trying to get her to come back, walking after her. He was stunned at the man’s response.

“Hello, beautiful.” The man knelt on one knee, smiling to her. “Needed to stretch your legs?” He smiled as she babbled, letting her latch onto his hand, chuckling. “You certainly look happy. I hope you like this one. Your Daddies seem to.” He gently nudged her back to Levi. “Come on, your Daddy needs you back.”

Mila looked over towards Eren instead, walking with her arms reached out. “Mumma…” I want Mumma!

Eren’s eyes widened as Mila started her dash over to him, bending down and picking her up and cradling her. What is it now? “Hello, Mila…” He kissed her nose, smiling happily as she giggled.

Levi smiled faintly as Mila went to Eren, not missing the look on the salesman’s face. He loves the cuteness… “At least she’s not as fussy as she was this morning… a little energetic, but that’s okay.” Levi continued to look around from where he stood, thinking. “….I really like it, Eren…” I really do… I can see this as being home...

“I think we should have Dad come and look at it before we get it…” Eren turned to look the salesman. “You said no one was interested?” Right? So we can think about it for a little bit? Cause I’d like to take this house…
“No one else has a price range that this house falls in at the moment. If you're legitimately interested I can certainly give you time to sleep on it, bring in second opinions and things like that. I can keep it just in your scope for the moment.” I'll make sure you can have this one if you do decide you want to have this one be home.

“Could you? We would really appreciate it.” I'm sure Levi could call you again once we see when Dad can come? I would like that better, with his opinion...

The man smiled broadly, immediately getting a pen and writing something down on a piece of paper. “Of course, of course. You have dibs on this house for the moment. You can call me again when you're ready to see it again and make a decision. That sound okay?”

Levi nodded, smiling faintly. “That sounds great, thank you.” Dad should come and look at it with us... see if he notices anything else... and if he likes it at all. He will... ...yeah, he will. I just know. He let the man bring them back upstairs, shaking his hand when the door was locked behind them. This has been a successful day... I like this one...

The man smiled as Levi shook his hand, turning to Eren and seeing his hands full with leash and toddler. Aw. “It’s been a very lovely morning- I hope the rest of your day goes well. And goodbye, Hon.” He smiled as Mila shook his finger, the three of them going to their respective cars. Today is a good day.

Eren helped Mila and Mikhail onto the back of the car, making sure Mila was settled before he rounded the car to the driver’s side. That was... well, it could be worse... “S-So home?” He asked quietly, looking over to Levi in the passenger seat.

Levi nodded, smiling faintly and leaning over to kiss his cheek. “Home... I want more tea and cuddles on the couch...” I demand it. He chuckled as Eren flushed, pecking him one last time before letting him drive. I'll stop harassing you for the moment...

Eren smiled and he put the car in drive, immediately going to drive back home. He noticed Lathe’s car wasn’t in the driveway when they pulled in, his eyebrows furrowing. “Levi? Did Dad call you?” My phone was on silent... and yours might've been too...
Eren smiled and he put the car in drive, immediately going to drive back home. He noticed Lathe’s car wasn’t in the driveway when they pulled in, his eyebrows furrowing. “Levi? Did Dad call you?” My phone was on silent… and yours might’ve been too…

“If he did, I didn't notice… mine was on-” He went deathly silent as he pulled out his phone and saw ten missed calls. ….oh my god. “Eren…” Holy shit…

Lathe was clasping Ieva’s hand, feeling the bones in his hand shift as she squeezed back with a death grip, wincing internally at her pained sounds. “I've got you, you can do this…” Lathe tried to be reassuring, trying to hide his fear. Your water broke a month early… and once your water breaks, there is no stopping it…

Ieva’s eyes were bulging as she felt yet another contraction rip through her abdomen. “F-Fuck… Lathe, it hurts….“ I can understand how those ones before are considered false contractions! Oh my god this hurts like a motherfucker! She squeezed his hand as the doctor assessed her position and where the twins were. Ieva didn’t pay much attention to his words other than when a nurse on her other side told her to push as much as she could. The first one…

“It's okay, you can do this… just focus, love, I'm here. You'll be okay.” He held onto her as he heard the nurses speaking, her screams of pain continuing for what seemed to be forever. He looked back as Ieva gasped in relief, hearing a loud screech. They look like a bruised and beaten potato… but they're alive.. oh thank god... “One more, love… you're doing so well…” Oh my god… this is happening…

Ieva’s eyes were dead set on Lathe’s face, angry only as she spoke her words. “I will kill you if we have another set of twins!” Just one is enough struggle! Her look softened as she let out another pained cry, feeling another contraction course through her, then another and another. Moments turned into minutes, and minutes quickly turned into an hour with Ieva laying there in pain, and another baby that seemed to want to stay. Fuck it hurts... It hurts a lot…

Lathe was exasperated and in shock. That second one just won’t be born… what the hell? I know it was probably really nice in there but it's time to come and live out here now…. Lathe held onto her tightly, the hours dragging on and on. Lathe never left her side, trying to soothe her and keep her calm. It's okay…. The sixth hour finally dragged on, jolting when leva suddenly gasped, gripping Lathe especially tightly. I think it's happening. “It's okay, just hang on and do what feels right…” It's okay. Just keep your head about you.
Ieva’s pained cries of labour picked up again, a nurse coming in and checking her over and immediately calling for the doctor to come back into the room. She let all their words tumble over her ears, looking over to see Lathe with a pleased look on his face as the doctor told him something, a horrific scream leaving her throat as she felt a particularly painful contraction. She had tears running down her face, and the back of her head becoming sweaty again, only after a few moments. Oh fuck it’s happening, he’s coming... the baby's coming!

Lathe held onto her hand tightly, his other going to run through her hair for a moment, trying to soothe her as she cried out in pain. “It's alright, you're doing so well. You're almost there. Please, just hang on. You're doing wonderfully.” It's going to be okay.

Ieva could only push as her strength was starting to leave her, thankful that the ordeal was finally over after a few minutes. Oh thank god... It’s over... It's over... Ieva hadn’t even realized that the baby hadn’t screamed, the doctor getting a nurse to grab something and taking him to the counter to try and clean out his airways. He’d been born alongside the placenta and a bit of it caught in his mouth, not allowing the baby to breathe. Ieva’s head leaned back on the bed, her eyes starting to close from exhaustion. It’s over...

Lathe looked extremely worried as they cleaned his airways, his hand still in Ieva’s hair, gently murmuring to her. “You did so wonderfully, it's over… you did so well, we have two little babies now...” He sighed in relief as a shrill cry sounded in the room. “And there it is... you’ll see them soon... they look like teeny bruised potatoes but they're beautiful ...” They're ours ....

Ieva could barely nod, letting her eyes slip shut as she fell asleep, finally feeling the pain killers start to sink in. We're done... I'm done... they're breathing... Lathe can take care of them... She sighed a bit as he body fully relaxed. I'm exhausted...

Lathe smiled faintly as Ieva relaxed and gave into exhaustion, turning as he heard the doctor come up to him. He found himself with a small bundle in his arms not a moment later, his baby boy gently washed and wrapped up in a blanket. “...I have a son...” He smiled, nearly crying as he gave them a faint kiss on their forehead, chuckling as they tiredly squirmed. “It’s Daddy... you're beautiful...” He looked up as another nurse came in, reaching another arm and letting her hand him his daughter, wrapped in a blanket. “Honey....” He smiled as she immediately squirmed at his voice, reaching up to the sound. “It's me, honey... it's Daddy....” He softly kissed her cheek, turning to Ieva, so close to crying. “Ieva, they're beautiful...” You have to see them... please...

Ieva’s eyes slowly cracked open, a soft though sad smile on her face. “Hmm... I’m gonna sleep... I don’t think I’d be able to hold them...” My arms feel like Jelly.... Her eyes were already starting to close once again. I’m exhausted....

“Okay... you can sleep... Mommy deserves it...” Lathe smiled, kissing her cheek. My beautiful wife... He didn't know what to do, his arms full of newborn. I need to call Eren and Levi... “Can you please hold one for just a moment? I need to get Eren and Levi here as reinforcements…”
Because children…

Ieva nodded, slowly taking the boy, and pulling him up to her chest, feeling him squirm around. I’m exhausted… I don’t know why… but I don’t… I don’t feel happy about this… I mean, I’m glad they’re healthy, but… I’m not excited. She sighed quietly as she gently touched over his ears with her finger, noticing he didn’t move in the slightest. Hmm?

Lathe took out his phone and turned it off silent, his daughter jumping a bit when it immediately pinged. “Sorry, love…” He noticed Ieva’s slightly worried expression, looking to his son. It wasn’t long before another incoming call made his phone ring, his daughter squirming at the sound, his son’s reaction next to nothing. “….oh my god. You made him deaf.” He's deaf!

Ieva’s face seemed to pale, and tears instantly formed in her eyes as Lathe made it even more obvious. This is my fault isn’t it… Oh no… what if she’s gonna turn out to be deaf as well and lose hearing with age? She held him a little looser, watching as he didn’t squirm, even with Lathe beginning to get out his phone. Oh fuck…. This is my fault…

Lathe stopped the second he saw Ieva begin to cry, immediately going to brush her hair out of her face. “Nonono, Ieva, love, I'm so sorry… it's okay, he'll be okay. None of it's your fault, you never would've known. There's nothing else you could've done. But look at him.” He gently touched their son’s head, smiling as he turned to him and reached out, letting him grasp a finger. “Look at how beautiful they are… you went through hell to give us these two…. And you did such a wonderful job… We’ll give them lots of love and support…. and we’ll make sure they're happy….” Lathe moved to softly kiss Ieva’s lips, still cradling his daughter to his chest. “I'm so sorry for saying it like that… we’ll see what can be done when he gets older. And we’ll make sure he learns ASL. We’ll make sure they grow up happy.” He smiled gently to her, his eyes full of love. I'm sorry… but look at what wonderful things you've given us… I'm so happy…

Ieva shook her head, her eyes turning away as she began to refuse her son, holding him out for Lathe to take back. You want him back, you don’t want anything to happen to your precious son. I’m sorry that he’s deaf! Her eyes were full of sadness as she continued to cry, even after Lathe took back the baby. He loves them more…

Lathe took him, his hands too full of his son and daughter to call anyone. “Ieva, please…” He was grateful when a nurse took his daughter for a moment, getting out his phone. I have to call help… He quickly dialed Eren’s number again, anxious. “Eren? Ieva had the twins. They’re okay, just please come help.” We need you here…

“Levi and I will be there in a second, we’re grabbing James and making sure Mila’s taken care of. We’re coming!” Eren quickly hung up and went to grab Levi.
Ieva was still crying and refused to look at any of them. You’re upset, I couldn’t give you whole kids… you’re angry they’re not gonna be perfect… you’re mad at me… you’re gonna leave and look for someone else…. She continued to cry, the exhaustion of labor still tugging at her for her to sleep. I wanna sleep, but I can’t…

Lathe held onto his son, taking his daughter back and sitting on the edge of the bed. You don’t look happy at all… “I’m sorry I said that like that, love… but it makes sense. One of them always responded to light and not to our voices. But it’s okay. I love them… they’re our own little children… and I love you so much … you’ve given us such a wonderful gift…” He softly kissed her cheek. “Love…. what are we going to name them?” Please, help me pick names… we never finally agreed on any…

Ieva just shook her head, looking away from him as she covered her face with a shaking hand. “Wh-Whatever you want…” She sniffled, turning her head away from him and looking out the window that was open. “I don’t…. I don’t want them….

Lathe looked stunned, a thought filtering through his head. “...Honey…” He shifted a bit, softly kissing her temple. “I think I know what’s wrong… “It’s okay to not be excited… or even not want them right now… it happens to a lot of new mothers… but I know you had a few names you kinda liked… please? I want you to be okay with what we name them…” Please?

Ieva let out a breathy sigh as she looked at him with red and puffy eyes for a moment, a tired look on her face. “Just pick what you want… I want to sleep.” I’m exhausted, can I just close my eyes and forget about what just happened? They’re your kids anyways… you can name them…

“...okay, love.” He looked down at the two ring squirming babies, softly kissing his daughter’s nose. “I know we talked about passing on weird names… but I don't think we should be mean and name them after anything in a machine shop.” He smiled when that got a small quirk of the lips out of Ieva. “...the boy…. How about Andromedus? That sounds nice… and the girl can be Perseus so we can call her Percy… does that sound okay?” He watched Ieva silently nod, not even looking at them. “Any ideas for middle names?” Please? Anything…. “...Perseus Aureus sounds nice… but Andromedus needs a middle name.” He looked over Ieva’s indifferent expression, giving her a soft look. “...what about Andromedus Leone?” More silence. Please say something… Lathe couldn't help but feel hurt, shifting to gently nuzzle her cheek. “I just want you to be okay with what we’re going to be calling them for the rest of their lives….” Please, say something…

Ieva just looked down at her shaking hands. “That’s fine…” Her words were short, looking up to see Eren and Levi coming through the door. Oh good I can sleep now… She sighed, shifting to lay on her side, her back to all of them and closing her eyes. I’m tired, I wanna sleep.
Lathe looked lost, turning when he heard footsteps. His arms were full of his children, looking nearly ready to cry. I know it's normal... but she won't even look at them... and they're beautiful... He tried to give them a smile, the look in his eyes tormented as he cradled them to his chest.

They're wonderful... He nodded to the hall, bringing them from the room. “Your mother... she has postpartum depression...” A tear trailed down his cheek with no free hand to wipe it away. “She won't even look at them...” But they're so beautiful...

Eren looked at Lathe with shock, picking up the small child swaddled in blue, holding him so that Lathe could fix himself. What do we do? “Have they been fed yet?” Maybe she'll want to help feed them... but I'm not sure... she hasn't looked happy in awhile, and I thought it was 'cause she was stuck on the ground floor. Eren gently cradled his younger sibling, a soft smile on his face. “They’re too adorable not to want... she’ll come around Dad...”

“Postpartum depression can get really bad... and they haven't been fed yet... Ieva wants to sleep...” He nestled his daughter closer. “...she wouldn't even help name them...” Lathe gently held the tiny girl, unable to stop the tears. What if she never even wanted... and she never told me?

Eren looked at him with wide eyes. “Dad... you know that those things can happen... and I’ll be right here with you, should we go see if a nurse can get a bottle for them?” We can start them off with formula, it’ll be okay, Mom can rest for a bit.

Lathe wanted to say yes, looking at his daughter's face. “....okay.” I don't know if Mommy will want to feed you, honey... Lathe gently pressed kisses all over her cheeks, trying to stop crying. I'm sorry... I'll give you both enough love for the both of us... Mommy will love you soon... I promise...

Eren walked with the swaddled baby, finally finding a nurse and asking if she could get two bottles, she looked the slightest bit concerned before she nodded. She came back with the bottles and handed Eren and Lathe one, going inside the room to check on Ieva. “How long was she in labour for?” I'm not sure... I know it could be long...

“Seven hours total... Percy took an hour... and Andromedus took six...” He wouldn't come out... Lathe watched Percy with soft eyes as she ate, smiling faintly. My own little daughter... You're so teeny...

Levi looked between the boy in Eren's arms and the girl in Lathe’s, his smile soft. “Mind telling us which is which?” I can't tell by the names...
Lathe smiled sheepishly. “Yeah… I’m holding Perseus Aureus… I liked the name Percy… and that’s Andromedus Leone… we couldn’t let them get away with normal sounding names.” He smiled as they chuckled, watching his daughter. I hope you like your name… I always liked mine… even if it sounded weird to all the other kids…

Eren chuckled softly. “So how’s it feel to be a Dad?” They’re your kids, you were helping create them… you must be so happy. “So this is my little brother Andy?” Eren asked surprised the newborn didn’t move at the sound of his voice. Huh?

“…it feels like when you said yes a week after I met you…” It’s like when I adopted you… “…that's little Andy… oh, uhm… you remember how one baby would never respond to your voice, but responded to light?” He watched them nod. “…that's because Andy is completely deaf…” He can't hear you…

Eren looked at him with wide eyes, unable to stop the tears that formed in his eyes. He… he actually… oh wow, I can’t believe it, after all this time? And this is the exact feeling? He smiled weakly, his lip quivering as he cradled Andy a little closer. “My little brother’s so cute and adorable…” Even if he can’t hear me…

Levi smiled softly, wrapping his arms around Eren’s middle, resting his head on his shoulder. “He really is…” He gently swayed them, letting Eren cry, gently rubbing his side. It's okay… He sighed as Lathe moved and kissed Eren’s cheek, blushing faintly when Lathe did the same with him. “Stop being so emotional, old man…” So many tears…

Eren rolled his eyes, but smiled nonetheless. He made sure that Andy ate it all before shifting him to burp him gently. He’ll be just fine, they both will be. “W-We found a house, it’s only a few blocks away… and Everyone can come over on Saturdays for dinner…. and there’s enough space for us to foster…” Levi’s 27 and I’m 25…. We can both do it…

Lathe’s eyes shone at that, his smile wide as he looked between the two of them. “You really want to foster, too?” He watched them nod, his heart swelling. “I’m so proud of you two… you'll let me inspect the house first, right?” He watched them smile and nod, patient as Percy finished off her bottle, gently burping her. “Good… you’ll do wonderfully…” I just know it…

Eren smiled even more. “The house is a little expensive, but it’s near the school… and big enough to raise a flock of children…” And we’re close enough that I can go back to your place to ride Charlie, and Levi won’t have to worry about Mila escaping or getting hurt since there aren’t doggie doors. He smiled as he held Andy as his eyes slowly closed, the child relatively quiet. He’ll be okay, he’ll grow up just fine. I know he will…
Lathe smiled. “That sounds really nice… it sounds like it'd be perfect. ...do you know if you want more than just two? Of your own, I mean…” I've been wondering…

Eren shrugged, looking back to Levi. “Maybe, but we’ll have to see when we get baby #2… Do you think you guys’ll be home for dinner? Or should I bring you some food?” They might want Mom to stay since it was an early birth...

“I think they'll want to keep her here a little while… if you could bring food, that would be wonderful…” Please. Lathe could hear Percy’s steady breath, smiling faintly. You'll be home soon. “I haven't finished their quilts yet though… you'll have to be patient, they'll be done soon enough.” He smiled, thinking. I didn't think we'd be getting you so early.

Eren smiled softly, looking over to Levi. “Do you wanna hold him? I can go home and make sure everyone’s fed and ready for bed before I come back with food.” I need to make sure no one is starving and Mila gets put to sleep on time. She needs her beauty rest.

Levi nodded, gently taking Andy from him. So small… Levi looked between the two of them. “...which one was born first?”

“Percy was.”

“Ah. She’s the big sister-” Oh wait, you said this… “...by a whole six hours.”

“Six hours can really teach you stuff.”

“Agreed…” She shall wield her title well.

Ieva shifted to lay back down on her back, her still damp hair all over the place. I'm exhausted but I can’t sleep… I feel really weird… and empty, but relieved at the same time…

Levi kissed Eren’s cheek. “I'll make sure Dad doesn't kill them… thanks.” He let Eren go, looking down to the sleeping baby in his arms. They're adorable… they look beaten to hell… but they're adorable… He looked to Lathe, sitting with him on a bench just outside the room. I'm sorry Mom isn't as happy about this as you want her to be… it'll be over soon. She’ll love them… I know it.
Lathe drove them home the next day, the two tiny babies buckled into the backseat. He drove especially carefully, he and Ieva rather quiet as the radio played. It's going to be okay.... oh, crap, I wonder how all the animals are going to react to the new babies... They soon parked, Lathe retrieving Percy while Ieva wordlessly took Andy. He walked them to the front door, opening the door quietly. He shut it after them, looking up as Krampus yapped loudly upon seeing them. Within moments the animals swarmed around them, all of them sitting down a few feet away. Oh my- He was surprised when Delia and Nene walked through the pack and up to them, expectant. Lathe slowly knelt down, holding Percy carefully. “Mommy had her twins… this is Percy…”

Ieva watched as Delia and Nene nosed at the new child, sniffing and licking her. She watched as the two then came to her next to inspect Andy, letting out a sigh as she kneeled to let them inspect the baby. You can look at him.... I wanna go sleep in our bed... I'm tired, I don't wanna hold him anymore…

Lathe watched them sniff and then very gently lick both of them, meandering back to the group and lying down with them. It cued the other dogs to stand and slowly sniff at them, learning their scents. They've been accepted into the pack... Lathe watched the ritual, smiling as Krampus gently tugged on Percy’s blanket. “You're not allowed to steal her, Krampus…” He gently tugged back on the hem of the blanket, the dog dropping it for once. Wow- you're actually listening.

Eren soon enough rounded the corner, carefully helping Blake to get to his feet and let him walk up to the babies. He smiled when he licked their heads gently. Awe that’s so cute... and he's at least gotten to say 'hi' to them. He glanced at Ieva his brow furrowing a bit. “Mom?” He stepped a bit closer, a soft smile on his face. “I can take Andy....” He was surprised with how quickly he was handed the child and then passed for the stairs. Oh....

Lathe smiled as Blake gently licked their heads, warm as Blake gently nuzzled them. “Hi, Blake.. this is Percy and Andy…” He sat on the floor, letting the dogs swarm around him, laying down and giving them company. He looked up as Eren was handed Andy, watching sadly as Ieva bee lined for the stairs. .....come back... Lathe felt his face burn, hot tears running down his cheeks. He reached for his son, wanting to hold him. I want my son...

Eren looked down a bit, sitting beside Lathe and letting the animals come up and sniff him more and lick his head. I'm so sorry about Mom.... she'll pull through, I know she will...

Lathe held his children in his lap, sniffling and crying as the animals piled around them. “I'm sorry... I promise Mommy loves you...” He smiled to them as they opened their eyes, reaching for them and letting them grip at his fingers. “Mommy loves you... and Daddy loves you too... so much...” He looked up as Nene settled herself in his lap, the small dog looking at the two babies and whining. He watched Percy and Andy stare with wide eyes, both of them reaching for her paws, gently feeling her. “That's Nene... she's a nice puppy... she likes naps... I'm sure you'll get along very well...” Lathe smiled, not noticing as Eren took a picture of them. You're adorable...
Eren smiled happily, looking at the picture on his phone. That’s awesome … He leaned back to lay down and be covered in fur as animals laid out on top of him. I’m tired… “We put the cribs together in your room, so they’re all set to to sleep.” I know you’ll be waking up to feed them like every other hour, but you know we’ll do our best to help.

Lathe smiled gratefully. “Thank you… and I finished their stuffed animals the other day… so they’ll have company…” One has a lion and the other has a horse… Lathe gently pet Nene, smiling as she fell asleep there. “I hope they'll be okay…” I want to do this right.
The next two weeks were exhausting, Lathe being given the arduous task of waking up every two hours in the night when they cried, calming them, feeding them, changing them, and making them sleepily giggle until they fell asleep again. I love them... but I also love sleep... ...and Ieva still won't help... He rose before they could cry out again, wandering over to Percy’s crib. He was surprised to see her blinking up at him, her little face red. What. He reached for her, his eyes wide as she felt warm. Oh no.... He went to Andy, his face also red. Shit... He picked them up, gently holding them to his chest. Oh my god... they're sick... I don't have any medicine for this... anything I have is too strong.... “Come on, loves...” He carried them downstairs with him, going to warm up bottles for them, if just to keep them from getting thirsty. Medicine... what do I do? Come on, I was a surgeon in a children's hospital, you think I would know this... ibuprofen... not too much.... He set them on the carpet near the couches, the dogs shifting to watch over them as he quickly went to get his bag and pill cutter. He very carefully cut the pills he needed into small enough pieces, crushing the right dose and adding it to their formulas. They'll drink it like this... He went back to where they laid, picking up Andy and beginning to feed him. Come on, it's okay... you need your strength...

Ieva woke up needing to go to the bathroom, coming back to look at the babies and noticed that they were missing. She couldn’t help the sinking feeling in her gut, her eyes wide with sudden fear as she saw the empty beds. Oh my god.... Where are they!? She immediately threw a shirt on, rushing down the stairs to see Lathe trying to feeding them bottles, but both of them fussing around. “Lathe?” What's happening... what's wrong? Why does this feel wrong? Lathe watched her come over to them, stunned as she gently took Andy.....you actually look really worried... "...If you're feeling up to it, you could maybe try to feed him... there's a bottle if you don't want them suckling...” I know you haven't wanted to feed them... you don't have to...

Ieva shook her head, moving her tank top off of her shoulder and bringing Andy up to her front. No, I’m worried about them... they might want this.... She shifted to sit back and hold him properly, a soft smile on her face as she felt him latch onto her nipple and start to suckle. It was the first time she’d smiled while holding them. He is pretty adorable...

Lathe smiled as Ieva fed Andy, the baby immediately latching onto her. It's good... that you're actually feeding them, that you seem to really care... maybe them being sick did something...? Lathe simply held Percy, cradling her. “...would you want to feed Percy too?” You haven't really bonded with them much at all... and your milk is going to be the best thing for them right now... I’m so happy you're not still uncaring, especially since they're feverish...
Ieva nodded. “Yeah, I will once Andy’s done…” It’s the least I could do, and it’s not too bad to let them do this, so I’m not worried at all to let Percy suckle too. “Hmm… is it weird that it feels better for them to be suckling?” My breasts have been aching a lot since I had them… is this why?

“It’s not weird at all… you’re in really good health and you’ve been producing milk, enough more or less for two. It’s what you’re made to do after giving birth; women have done it for hundreds and hundreds of years… it’s natural to.” I think that’s it… you’ve been making milk and it hasn’t been going anywhere… Lathe let Nene gently nudge Percy, the baby squirming a bit. At least you don’t seem to be too terribly warm… a couple degrees which isn’t good… but not a lot.

Ieva nodded and took Andy off of her, handing him to Lathe and taking Percy. “I’ll feed her, can you burp him?” She asked quietly. Shifting her tank top around, she exposed her other nipple and started to feed Percy, who also immediately latched onto her. They’re so hungry… I wonder why they were refusing the bottle...

Lathe took Andy, gently holding him, burping him. He slowly swayed with him, smiling as he yawned. He's tired… he hasn't been able to sleep… “They haven't slept for a while… I’ve been up since four…” They're not feeling well at all… Lathe gently pet Nene, trying to fend off his own tiredness. I want to go back to sleep… please… Lathe leaned back against the couch, gently rubbing Andy’s back. Please, please sleep… He sighed in relief when he looked again and Andy’s eyes were closed, his breathing steady. Thank god… “He’s finally asleep…” He smiled to Ieva, his own eyes shutting as he held his son. I'm tired…. He dozed off, blinking awake when he was gently shaken, Andy still against his shoulder, his arms instinctively holding him there. “...hm?” Sleep.....

Eren smiled softly at him, glancing over to Ieva. “You wanna wake Mom up? It’s 8:30… and breakfast is ready.” We have pancakes and eggs and bacon and sausage… I got enough pictures of them all asleep together… definitely going on social media… because it’s fucking adorable.

Lathe looked around, realizing that Andy was still fast asleep on his shoulder, Ieva curled up next to him with Percy on her chest. Oh my god… Lathe smiled, leaning over and softly kissing his wife awake, his eyes warm as she blinked awake at him. “Good morning, beautiful… breakfast is ready…” Gah, I love you....

Ieva looked up with bright eyes, shifting to kiss Lathe back. “Hmm… good morning, handsome.” She flirted back as she kissed his ear, making sure not to disturb Percy’s sleep. “Should we go put them in the crib?” They don’t feel as warm...

“It’s been two hours… I think we should let them eat first… then we can put them to sleep and have breakfast…” They eat every two hours… it makes sense, but it kills when they wake up every two hours in the night… “I can feed them if you want to go eat…” It’s okay, I know you only breastfed them for the first time two hours ago… they can have formula...

Ieva shook her head. “I’ll feed them.” She smiled softly, rubbing her fingers gently on Percy’s scalp to try and wake her. You can eat first… I don’t know how much I’ll be able to feed you two… but we can try… She looked to make sure no one was really watching as she shifted her tank top again. The boys don’t need to see my nipple.

Lathe shifted, curling next to her as she fed Percy, resting his cheek on her shoulder. His eyes slid shut as he held Andy, holding him close. I feel better than I have at all for the past two weeks… it's been so stressful… He heard the boys all come downstairs, staying with Ieva as she handed him Percy. “…I'm glad you're doing this…” You haven't done much for the past two weeks for them… you went from barely looking at them to going into Mom mode… I appreciate it…

Ieva handed him Percy, carefully taking Andy as he began to cry. She cooed to him, moving to let him suckle her, looking to Lathe as he burped Percy. “I’m sorry…. about everything… I don’t know what happened… but last night… I just… I don’t know… it all clicked I guess?”

“It's okay… this sort of thing happens… I'm surprised you got over it just like that… it normally doesn't happen like that… maybe you just saw the babies missing this morning and got worried… whatever it is, I'm glad you're okay.” Lathe kissed her cheek, rubbing Percy’s back gently. You're okay. “Does this mean you'll help take turns when they wake up at two in the morning?” Please?

Ieva nodded, shifting to curl into him more. “Yeah, I will, but you get to change the diapers…” I'm gonna have to start hitting the gym too… from all the extra baby fat on me. She sighed quietly, closing her eyes for a moment as Andy suckled quietly, his eyes half closed. He’s still deaf, he probably has no idea what we sound like or what anything sounds like...

Lathe made a mock gagging sound. “I guess as their Daddy I can do that…” He smiled as Ieva elbowed him. “Yeah, of course.” It's okay. Lathe was quiet for a long moment, looking to Andy. “…even if he can't hear us… we’ll always make sure he knows we love him… and we’ll give him all the support he needs…” It'll take getting used to… but he’ll be okay. He's our own wonderful son… I love him...

Ieva nodded, leaning her head down as Andy soon detached himself from her nipple, handing him to Lathe for the moment to fix herself before taking Percy back. I can hold her while I’m eating, or someone else will wanna hold her...

Lathe smiled to her. “Shouldn't we let them go sleep upstairs? I can put them to bed if you want to go get something to eat.” They're both ready for a nice long nap…
Ieva nodded, holding Percy still. “Well… let’s go put them to sleep…” You might need a hand since there are two of them…

Lathe stood, helping Ieva up and walking with her to the stairs, a hand around her waist. Mine… He kissed her cheek as they entered their room, going to Andy’s crib. A colorful quilt was spread across the mattress and tucked in, a soft stuffed horse occupying the space. He gently kissed his nose, settling him inside. “You get some sleep, Honey. You need your rest, especially since you’re sick….” He smiled faintly, nudging him with the horse and chuckling as he immediately grabbed for it. You have another little friend….

Ieva smiled as she watched Lathe put Andy down in his crib moving over to the similar crib that Percy had, settling her down and giving her a stuffed lion, watching her instantly grab for it. I have a feeling she’s gonna love lions…

Lathe moved over to Ieva as she looked down at Percy, wrapping his arms around her and softly kissing the back of her neck, his voice warm. “I love you…” You're wonderful…

Ieva smiled, melting into his touch as he held her. “I love you too…” It feels so nice to be held again. She smiled softly looking towards the hall. “We should go eat, and then we can come back and sleep… Eren can handle Sunday cooking on his own.”
Chapter 123: She's Never Getting on a Fucking Horse

Levi sat back on the couch with Mila, sipping from a mug of tea as she chewed on Toby’s ear. There’s no use stopping her. She does what she wants. Levi was pleasantly surprised when Eren came up behind them, tilting Levi’s head back for a deep kiss. “Mm, what was that for? I must’ve been good…” He smirked as Eren blushed. I love teasing…

Eren’s whole face was flushed. “I’m gonna go out and ride for a bit, I need to exercise the horses, I might take them out on the trail one by one…” It’s unseasonably warm, so we’ll be fine… they need the exercise. He smiled and leaned his head back again to kiss his nose.

Levi enjoyed the attention, feeling Mila stand on his legs to reach for Eren. “…why don't you take Mila riding with you? I'm sure she'd like to ride with you.” She loves the horses.

Eren froze, pulling away from the both of them. “I’m not going out for that kind of riding Levi… I can’t… I don’t want her on a horse.” You don’t even want her on a horse! He looked away as he moved to head towards the back door, Mila calling for him, forcing him to come back and kiss her forehead. My little baby… but she’s not allowed on a horse per her father’s orders.

Levi watched him walk, gently catching him when he came back to give Mila a kiss, shifting his daughter so he could pull Eren into his lap. “Eren, I want you to know that whatever I said before about putting her on a horse, things have changed. She's older now, she's not so close to being a newborn that she’s in danger. She would love to ride a horse a little and I know that you wanted her out on a horse too… I think you should ride with her at least a little bit…” It’d be good for you and for her too…

Eren immediately shook his head, shifting to get off of Levi. “Not today….” And probably not ever…. I don’t care how much you tell me you’ve changed your mind…. I’m not letting her on a horse because you snapped at me for it while we were in Germany. I don’t even bring her near the horses anymore… He got up and head towards the door, leaving Mila with Levi. *No….

Levi watched Eren move, sighing quietly. He looked to Mila, his expression soft. “Honey?” That got her attention, her mouth still chewing away on Toby’s ear. “Do you wanna go visit the horses?” I know you like the horses.…

Mila’s eyes seemed to glow as she giggled. “Pleez Daddy?” I wanna see the big horsies! Mumma won’t let me see them anymore.
Levi smiled faintly, kissing her nose. “Okay Honey. We’ll go see the horsies.” He stood, going to slip on his shoes, heading outside with her, going towards the barn. Of course, we got more horses…

Eren was inside the barn, getting Charlie racked up with riding gear, already wearing his helmet. He glanced over when Levi was coming over towards him, Mila in his arms. Huh? “What are you doing outside?” I thought you were gonna stay in?

“Mila wants to visit the horses…” He walked with her inside, going to Charlie when she pointed at him. He let her reach for his nose and gently pet him, Charlie sniffing her hair before accepting the pets. She likes you best still.

Eren looked at Levi like he was crazy. Holy shit… okay, well, she’s still not getting on a horse… He sighed moving to unclip Charlie’s tether and lead, holding him by the bridle and pulling him away from Mila. “Alright, I’m going riding.” She’s not getting on a horse…

Levi saw it coming from a mile away, Mila’s face looking heartbroken before she reached insistently for Charlie, looking ready to cry. Oh no… “Eren, wait…” Levi reached up, touching his arm. “You don’t have to go anywhere with her there with you… but could she at least sit in the saddle with you for a moment? She doesn’t have to actually ride if you really don’t want her to, staying still is okay. I’d just rather hold off the waterworks…” He gave him a sheepish smile, gently bouncing a teary Mila. Please?

Eren pulled his arms away rubbing as his face as he sighed, trying not to give into Mila’s tears eyes. “No, Levi, I’m not gonna put her on a horse,” She’s not getting on one. He sighed, making sure Charlie sidestepped before he walked him towards the trail. I’m not gonna give… you didn’t and quite honestly it’s freaking me out that you’re bringing her so close to the horses when you were adamant about keeping her away from them.

Levi sighed, looking around and seeing Dawnstar looking at them from one stall, tilting her head and shaking her grey mane. Hm. “Do you wanna ride a horsie, Mila?” He gently bounced her, trying to quiet her wails. I’m a half decent rider… I can walk in circles with you.

Mila nodded as she cried, rubbing her fists against her eyes as she cried more. “Why Mumma ma? I do?” Did I do it? Is that why Mumma won’t let me ride?

“You didn't do anything honey… I said a while ago that you were too little to ride, but you're not anymore… but Mumma still won't let you. But Daddy thinks you're a big girl- you can ride a horsie.” He kissed her cheek, gently setting her down and carefully keeping an eye on her as he get Dawnstar from their stall and tacked. We can go in nice big circles... that'll be okay. In a little while Levi had his helmet on, settling Mila in the saddle in front of him. He had her tucked against his front, having Dawnstar go at a slow meander to the doors of the barn, onto the large circular trail around their yard. He smiled as Mila giggled uncontrollably, his voice soft. “Having fun already, Hun?” You look so happy.

“No! No! No!” Mila giggled as she practically bounced in the saddle in front of Levi. I wanna do more!

Levi chuckled, one hand around her as he let Dawnstar walk a little faster, making sure she stayed in the saddle. You'll bounce right out of we're not careful at this rate.

Mila was a happy mess as Levi walked Dawnstar in circles for her. This is awesome!! She barely heard the thundering of hooves getting closer towards them, only noticing when Dawnstar stopped where she was, her ears flicking back for a moment. Huh? She looked up to see Eren’s angered eyes blatantly on the back of Levi’s head. Mumma’s mad...

Levi turned when he heard hooves on the ground, seeing how angry Eren looked. ...what. “Eren, she's big enough to be on a horse, I'm being very careful with her. And did you see how happy she was?” She's having a lot of fun. “I know what I said before but that was when she was barely a year old and I didn't want her to get on a horse when she was still that small. It might have only been a year but now she has all of her teeth, she can speak coherently, and she can outrun either of us. She’s big enough to ride.” She really is...

Eren’s anger slowly turned to betrayal, shaking his head and looking away from them, his voice small. “Fine, do whatever you want then.” I didn’t want her on a horse because you fucking yelled at me for mentioning it... I didn’t bring it up almost ever! You keep pushing the topic onto me every time I try to ride! I’ve been trying to keep her safe and away from my supposedly dangerous best friends. He turned Charlie back to go back the way they came. I see how it is... make me the villain, Mila will like you more... and then you'd get custody...

Levi looked really worried, guiding Dawnstar to Charlie’s side. He reached for Eren, stopping both of them. “Eren, please... I'm so sorry for going ahead and just doing this despite what you said... but you're not around to hear her ask why she can't go riding every time you leave to go ride... I always thought you just kept saying it because I said it a year ago, and I know I got really upset with you, but it was because she was barely a year old then... she couldn't barely use her limbs then... I'm sorry if you actually mean it, that you don't want her riding. I'm not trying to make you look bad to her... but she can't understand why she isn't allowed to ride the horses or even go and pet them... she’s older and more able, which is why my answer has changed so much... but I won't let her ride anymore and I'll get off of Dawnstar with her right now if you really don't want her riding. It's your decision too. She's your daughter.” It really is...
Eren just shook his head, looking down at his hands. “It’s fine, let her ride, you said she was happy….” He urged Charlie on, leaving the two of them there, guilt settling in his chest as he left. I’m a horrible father to her… if she wanted to do it so badly and I’ve just been denying her… well, what good am I to understand what the hell she wants. He looked down at his shaky hands, watching as Mikhail sprinted to walk beside Charlie and look up to Eren every few seconds. Mikhail’s gonna be covered in mud, and I’m gonna have to clean him too.

Eren froze on top of Charlie as he heard Mila’s wails. “Goddamnit.” He turned Charlie around and trotted with him back to where Dawnstar was. Goddamnit Eren, don’t be a pansy and cry about it. She probably wants to yell at you for not letting her ride.

Mila sniffled as Eren came back, reaching for him in demand to be held. “Don’ be mad, Mumma… and don’ be sad…. Please…. Mila clung to his shirt, burying her face into his chest. Mumma…

Eren sighed, plucking her from the saddle in front of Levi and putting her in front of him as she clung to him. What do I even do with you, I can’t necessarily trot with you on Charlie… guess we’re going back into the barn. “Alright, why don’t we get you inside?” You’ve had your adventure for today…

Mila sniffled. “O-Okay…” I rode horsie… it's okay… Mila held onto him as they rode back to the barn, still clinging to him. Mumma…

Levi didn’t know what to say as they walked back to the barn, tying up Dawnstar and getting down to take off her tack. In a while when he had them back in their stall, he caught Eren around the waist before he could escape. “...I'm so, so sorry… I-I don't know what else I can tell you… a year has gone by and I'm still very protective of her but she’s better handling her own limbs… I know I might suggest it a lot but it's because of how often Mila asks…. I don't know what there is that I can say to make this vaguely better…” I didn't mean to upset you… but I have no fucking clue how I was supposed to tell you my mind had since changed besides asking if she could go with you…

Eren tensed in Levi’s hold, though he relaxed after a few moments. “No I’m sorry, I’m just bad at parenting…. take Mila inside, I gotta wash off Charlie.” We found a mud pit… His hands moved to slowly untangle Levi from him looking at Charlie with dull eyes as he untethered him, leading him to the shower stall. He made sure Mila was still standing where he’d told her to stay put. Fuck she’s probably never gonna ask me about anything ever again is she?
Levi caught Eren by the shoulder, turning him before he could get away and pulling him close, his voice gentle. “You’re a wonderful parent, Eren… never doubt that.” He softly nipped his ear, letting go of him and slowly moving to get Mila. It’s okay.

Eren watched them leave, his head down as he put Charlie in another set of tethers in the shower stall, cleaning all the mud off of him and making him look beautiful. “What do you think Charlie? My husband wanted Mila nowhere near horses, then all the sudden he asks me to bring Mila along, and I’ve been keeping her away because a very specific someone wanted me to keep her away from my beautiful dangerous beasts… So he puts her in a saddle. Daddy: 1…. Mumma: …. probably at like -4 at this point…” She’s probably not gonna wanna talk to me, great, I’ve fucked over our relationship for the long run haven’t I?

Levi settled Mila in the living room, in front of the wooden train set on the floor. “Maisie, Krampus?” He watched the dogs shift to make room for Mila. “You keep her out of trouble while I go talk to Mumma, okay?” He softly kissed Mila’s forehead, going to the barn again. He was quiet as he came in again, his voice soft as he wrapped his arms around him again. “Eren… we should talk…” I don’t want things to get heated where Mila could hear…

Eren looked back to him, a soft sigh leaving him as he resigned himself to talking. “I thought you didn’t want her on a horse? Levi you practically snapped at me for bringing it up once! And then you go ahead and tack a horse, and ride around with her! What the actual hell?” Why? Why did you do it? You yelled at me! I was scared you would yell again if I brought it up anymore.

Levi looked surprised at his sudden outburst, his voice calm. “Eren, she was one when it happened and I’d barely been home six months… she didn’t have that good of control over her limbs and I was still so scared she was going to get hurt… but look at her now, she’s running around like it’s her job and she’s always asking to pet the horses, see them, ride them… she loves the horses, and they all love her too… they’re gentle with her, Dawnstar was so careful when she sniffed her, and Charlie’s always been even gentler than he always is… and even when I yelled at you about putting her on a horse at age one, it wasn't entirely justified… I knew she'd be safe with you, because you're such a responsible rider… but she's our baby girl and the idea scared me… she's still so small… but she's got enough personality for one and a half, and she's a tough little thing… I was wrong to snap at you the first time around… I'm really sorry about that… the possibility that she could get hurt, however small, stuck with me then… I want her to be happy, and I don't want you to think I'm framing you as the bad guy here… I just want her to be okay.” I really want her to be okay…

Eren sighed and nodded. “I’m sorry, I just…. I was scared… you snapped so quickly at just the mention of it. I didn’t bring it up again because so figured you wouldn’t be okay with it… And then you started asking if I wanted to take her with me, and I just… I didn’t know what to think about it…” Eren shifted in his hold a little, uncomfortable with the way he was holding him and squirming out so that he could continue to wash Charlie’s legs, Mikhail waiting patiently for his turn to get clean. “I’m sorry I overreacted… I should’ve realized you’ve changed your mind by now.” His eyes were downcast as he washed the muddy suds off of Charlie’s hind legs. *How could
I not understand with how much you ask me?

“It's okay... I wasn't being very clear with everything I’d said and done... I yelled at you when you didn't deserve it...” Levi let go of Eren, watching him. “...I'm really sorry.” I don't want you to be upset with me.

Eren looked down and sniffles a little, rubbing at his face with the inside of his shirt to dry away the tears. “It’s fine... I just... I need to get used to it, I know you haven’t been home for a long time, but Mila’s your responsibility too... not just mine, and we’re probably gonna fight like this a lot... I’m sorry, I thought for some reason that you’d be pissed at me if I ever accepted the offer to take her riding... pretty stupid to think that, now that I’m looking back at it...” I’m stupid, that’a a given, I never went to college to get a degree and just rely on music and sales... and concerts... speaking of which. “I’m probably gonna go on tour within the next year...” I’ll need to, I can pay off whatever we would need for the house, I can buy it right now, but we’re gonna need to furnish it...

“It's okay... you're not dumb, I was just being a distressed parent... and I hope we don't ever get too angry at each other, much less where Mila could hear any of it...” I don't want to fight with you. It'll happen again... but it doesn't mean I want to. “A tour? Just in America, or over in Europe too?” Levi wanted to hug Eren, seeing him cry, but letting him work to wash off Charlie. It's okay...

Eren sniffled a little more and shook his head. “Just the states... I need to find a band to put behind me though... and an album out first... I’ve got a lot of recording to do when we move in...” A lot... that’s probably an understatement... “You can go back inside...” You probably left Mila with the dogs, and you probably wanna go and watch her again... He shifted to stand, getting on the other side of Charlie to keep washing him off. He got covered in mud so quickly...

Levi shook his head, seeing Charlie’s tack. That doesn't exactly look clean. “It's okay... And I know you'll have a lot of work to do when we move in...” He moved to get what he needed, settling in to clean the tack. “But I want to spend time with you...” I don't know if you want closeness... but I want to just be around you right now...

Eren looked over towards where Levi settled, but the tack, sniffling once more. “Make sure you use the right soap for everything... and take his bit off before you clean the bridle.” His voice was a little weak as he washed off Charlie’s entire body and then got out a squeegee to get the water off of him. There... that's better... He shifted to start putting braids into his mane, his fingers working flawlessly, even as they shook, Mikhail sitting right beside him. I know... I’m still freaking out... I know I know, I can’t break down... it was just a little argument, right? That’s it, right? He doesn’t hate me......... right?
Well you don’t have a fucking ring that’s for sure….

But he said…

Don’t give me that! He said this! He said that! His word apparently means jack shit after what happened in his conversation!

But he…

Eren, it’s not gonna happen, you’re not gonna have a ring…

Levi kept a careful eye on Eren, worried when his hands shook really hard. Shit… “Eren?” Levi stood, moving to gently take Eren’s hands in his own. “…you know I love you, right?” He saw the conflicted look in Eren’s eyes, gently pulling him close. “I love you so much… please don’t be upset… I’m not mad at you, or anyone… It’s okay…” He felt Eren shake harder at that, his mind flickering back to the ring stashed away at home in a dressed drawer. …I need to… soon… Levi took Eren’s left hand, kissing his ring finger. “Soon, you'll have something to put here…” He looked up to him, his features soft. “And then I get to keep you…” That sounds so nice….

You can’t trust anything he says… He lies… He doesn’t keep his promises and his views change… who knows, maybe you’re too fat to be loved… I bet he doesn’t even wanna buy that big house with you, he probably would’ve liked the other ones… You should go back and look at the others.

But….

No, he hates it, he definitely does… That room? That’s where he’s gonna keep his side chick… And make sure you don’t know until it’s too late and he wants to move away… He’s already got Mila wrapped around his pinky instead of your’s. It’d be so easy.

Eren couldn’t help but begin to sob and shake as his mind supplied even more details of how his life could turn around. He struggled to swallow, only nodding and leaning his head against Levi’s shoulder as he struggled to try and calm down. He’s… He’s not like that though, I don’t want him to be like that though.

Levi held Eren close to him, looking over towards the barn door. It's a really nice day... and we don't have anything to do... it would be so nice if…. “...we should go to Medicine Lodge today…” He held Eren tightly, looking to him when he made a sound of confusion. “It’s so nice out… There’s more than enough time to pack a nice lunch, drive to the trails… the Gypsum hills are supposed to be beautiful for riding in, and it won't be too hard with Mila since she's taken so well to it… I want us to do something today…” I want you to say yes so I can go and get that ring while we’re at home getting ready… I need to…
Levi held Eren close to him, looking over towards the barn door. It's a really nice day... and we don't have anything to do... it would be so nice if... “...we should go to Medicine Lodge today...” He held Eren tightly, looking to him when he made a sound of confusion. “It's so nice out... There’s more than enough time to pack a nice lunch, drive to the trails... the Gypsum hills are supposed to be beautiful for riding in, and it won't be too hard with Mila since she's taken so well to it... I want us to do something today...” I want you to say yes so I can go and get that ring while we’re at home getting ready... I need to...

Eren looked at him skeptically for a moment. “O-Okay... We can do that... You want to ride too? I can pull out Dawnstar and Charlie and make sure we have all our tack... Do you want to get Mila set up then?” He was slowly starting to calm down, the aspect of riding more appealing to him than sobbing the rest of the day. It's to get my mind off of things...

Levi nodded, smiling faintly. “She can ride with one of us... though I'm sure she's been dreaming of riding the big horse with her Mum... I'd love to ride too... it's relaxing... I haven't don't as much as I would've liked to lately.” He gently rubbed Eren’s back, tilting his head and softly kissing Eren, chaste and sweet. Mine.... shit, I'll have to have Dad help make lunch... oh my god, I'm going to do this...

... You’re right, she probably would... Eren nodded and sniffled, unable to stop the blush forming on his cheeks, rubbing at his face as he pulled his hands away from Levi. That’ll do... “I’ll get the horses into the trailer... you want to get food?” It’s still pretty early in the morning... We have breakfast pretty early.... And that’s not that far of a drive North for us... Maybe 45 minutes.

Levi nodded, gently kissing Eren’s cheek. “Of course... I'll get lunch for us all put together and pack some extra things...” Mila will need her own stuff, and so do we... Levi gave him a gentle look. “I should have everything ready by the time you get things cleaned and in the trailer with the horses?” That's enough time... maybe...

Eren nodded, his blush flourishing even more, and getting darker. “Y-Yeah... I need to get the keys to Mom’s truck so I can put the trailer on it...” That’s hard part number one... getting the trailer on... and I can call and tell them that I’m coming to ride with my..... Boyfriend? Fiance? I mean I don’t have a ring to even say that it’s official.

“Okay, I'll bring the truck back with the trailer with me when I've got everything ready... does that sound okay?” He kissed Eren when he nodded, wrapping him up in his arms, his tongue gently brushing Eren’s before he broke it, softly kissing his nose. “I'll be back soon, don't worry.” He chuckled as Eren blushed darkly, finally untangling them and going to the house. Levi walked very quickly to the house, bee lining for the stairs before he saw Lathe, sipping coffee at the counter. “Dad?” He watched Lathe quirk an eyebrow at him. “…I'm going to propose properly today… can you help make lunch?” He watched Lathe’s expression shift to one of shock, about to continue speaking when Lathe held up a finger.

Lathe tipped his head back, finishing off his mug in a few gulps and wiping his mouth with the back of his hand before fixing Levi with a look. “I don't know where it is you're doing this.”

“We’re going trail riding in Gypsum hills, in Medicine Lodge.”

“Nice choice. I'll make you lunch, of course. You run and get everything else ready, okay?” I've got this.

Levi looked immensely relieved, accepting a big hug from Lathe, standing on his toes to kiss his cheek. “Thanks Dad…” Levi left, going to get Mila. “Hey Honey… come and help me pick out what you want me to pack, m’kay?” Come on Hun. Levi managed to get a bag together for all three of them, coming downstairs and seeing the bottle of champagne tucked away and chilling on the counter, a pile of nice dish cloths piled around. “…you're too good at this whole romantic thing.”

Eren was getting together the tack they would need for the two horses, making sure everything was in order before he set it out. I can tack them while we’re there… He smiled softly, pulling Charlie and Dawnstar out once more and tying them off on a fence post outside, grabbing helmets, and Mila’s little helmet Lathe got for her for her tricycle. “Jesus… Levi didn’t even put this on her when they went riding…”

Levi helped Lathe fill the picnic basket, the nice towels wrapping around the bottle and tying closed to hide it and protect it, more laid down in the basket. Levi took over cutting up fruit for Mila when Lathe turned as a pot of water simmered, watching him add a glass bowl over the top, chocolate added to it. Why’s he melting chocolate? His question was answered when Lathe rinsed off strawberries, looking sheepishly grateful at his quick wink. He knows what he's doing… Levi took over strawberry duty while Lathe set to making sushi, glad they had containers with room for crushed ice in separate compartments, keeping the chocolate from melting and their lunch from growing too warm. They carefully packed glasses for the champagne, a nice picnic blanket set aside. .....it's done...

“Okay, Levi, let's see if we have everything. Champagne?”

“Check.”
“Sushi?”

“Check.”

“Mila food?”

“Check.”

“Check, check, check.”

“And here’s water bottles…” He carefully added a few, shutting the lid. “Only one side opens, so Eren could grab a bottle of water and not see the champagne or glasses. Now. You have the ring, right?”

“Y-Yeah…” Levi’s hand went to his pocket, feeling the small velvet box tucked away. I’m going to do this…

“Levi, he already said yes once… he’ll say it again.” Lathe smiled, bringing him close to his chest. “I’m so proud…” I’m so happy…

Levi smiled softly, hugging Lathe tightly. “Thank you… for everything…” You do so much…. Levi slowly untangled them, kissing his cheek before picking up the basket and blanket. “I’m going to put this in the truck and get the trailer for Eren…” He got the keys from the small table, fishing in the basket full of the other sets of keys. “Oh my…” He went to the living room, picking up Mila. “You ready, honey? It’s a big day today…” He kissed her cheek, thankful when Lathe opened the front door for him. “…I love you…” He looked to Lathe with soft eyes, then to Mila. “…both of you.” I’m going to propose… oh my god, I’m doing this…

Mila looked to Lathe as they left. “Bye bye papa…” Where are we going? Where’s Daddy taking me and Mumma? She looked around as Levi set her down in the truck for a moment to run to the car and get her car seat. Why truck?
Lathe smiled warmly, waving. “Bye-bye Mila…” I hope you all have a good time riding... and I hope things go over well...

Levi went to get her car seat, settling it into the backseat of the truck and soon buckling Mila in. “It’s okay, Mila. We’re getting the trailer so we can take the horses to a really nice park to go riding. You can go riding again today. Does that sound fun?” He chuckled as she happily giggled, kissing her nose and giving her Toby. “We’ll be there before you know it.” He went to get into the driver’s seat, moving the truck closer to the trailer and hitching it to the back after some struggle. Finally. He drove the truck back all the way to the barn, parking in front of it. He got out, going inside the barn and kissing Eren’s cheek where he stood feeding Charlie an apple. “I’ve got everything ready for us, and the trailer’s right outside…” We can get the horses in the trailer...

Eren nodded, making sure that Charlie and Dawnstar were ready to be loaded, carefully taking some wraps and wrapping the lower section of their legs. He kept Charlie tied, reaching for Dawnstar first and loading her. He carefully crawled out through the crawl space and made sure that Dawnstar was secured from behind before grabbing Charlie and loading him as well. It’s a good thing we got a two horse trailer. He crawled out doing the same for Charlie before he grabbed some hay and moved to crawl back in to put it where they could reach. “Okay, Levi… you wanna grab the tack? And put it in the back of the truck?” I can make sure that the trailers closed and that Mila’s all comfortable.

“Yeah, got it.” Levi opened the back of the truck’s bed and went to get the tack, careful to make sure they had every piece they needed for both horses. He made sure they all had their helmets as well, moving to draw the cover over the back so that nothing would happen to it. He moved to get in the driver’s side, softly kissing Eren before starting the truck. Mine. He was careful with the horses in the back, getting them back to the driveway and then onto the road, starting their trip. It’s such a nice day out... this’ll be perfect...

Eren smiled when they got out on the road, looking back as Mila played with her puppy in the back seat. This’ll... this’ll be good for us, I called… I come here often enough that they don’t mind me coming out on my own anymore...

Levi let the radio quietly play, reaching when they got on the highway for Eren’s hand. He gently rubbed the back with his thumb, careful as he drove. Today will be a nice day... After a while, Levi eventually had to let go of Eren’s hand, getting them off the highway and soon pulling into a large parking lot. He found a place to park, making sure the trailer was in the lines before shutting off the engine. “We’re here, honey.” He turned around, seeing Mila bounce excitedly in her seat. She's so happy.

“Okay, I have to unload Dawnstar first, so I’ll be getting her out.” He opened the door to the truck, hoping it and going to open up the back of the trailer, making sure Dawnstar would be able to get out without hitting anything. He got into the crawl space, moving to push on her chest and push her back and out of the trailer. Eren held onto her lead as she looked around the wide open area. Yeah, take it in, you’ve never been here before…

Levi got out as well, leaving Mila in the cab with the windows down as he got out the tack for Dawnstar. He set to tacking her up, watching as she looked all around, her ears flicking around at every sound. It's nice out here… you'll like it.

Eren crawled back into the trailer, easily getting Charlie out of it. He looked around once before he shifted on his feet, knowing they were going for a trail ride. Oh he knows… Eren smiled and tied him up, going to the back of the truck and grabbing his tack. Gotta make sure we have everything…

Levi soon had Dawnstar completely tacked, letting Eren continue to tack Charlie while he got out the picnic basket, carefully fixing it to Dawnstar, the blanket tied to the back of the saddle and their bag of extra clothes and Mila’s things tied to the other side. That should be fine. They're not really heavy. Levi then went to get Mila, smiling to her as she giggled at the horses standing near the trailer. “Do you wanna ride with Mumma or Daddy first, honey?” You can pick.

“I ride with Daddy?” She asked, looking stunned as Eren handed her her tricycle helmet that was still pretty big on her but was still a helmet. I put on?

“Levi, make sure she wears a helmet this time, please?” Eren asked, handing Levi a helmet as well. “You too.” We can’t have you two riding around without helmets… no, absolutely not.

Levi looked a bit sheepish, nodding. “Yeah… I’m sorry I forgot about those earlier.” They're important. “Come on, Honey, you need your helmet.” Levi helped her latch it on, letting Eren hold her while he quickly latched on his own helmet before going to mount Dawnstar. He smiled as Mila was handed up to him, settling her against him and shifting around part of his jacket, tucking her against him. You're not going anywhere. “You can ride with Mumma too in a little while, Mila, don't worry.” You should ride with him too…. I know he'd love to.

Eren smiled, moving to make sure he closed the windows on the truck, leaving them only open a crack. He then locked the truck and put the leads for the horses in the trailer, and closed the trailer up, hopping up onto Charlie a moment later. “Alright, where do we wanna go?” Where do we want to ride too? Towards the hills? The creek?

“I want to say towards the hills, and we can hook around to the creek after a while. It'll be a bit cooler down there and shadier for around lunchtime.” It's beautiful down there... He watched Eren nod, setting them off walking, their horses going nearly side by side. I hope this goes okay... He watched Mila look around the new space, Toby still firmly in her grasp. He untied the small soft piece of yarn that was around Toby's neck as a collar with a bow, one end having been stitched to his fur. He gently tied it with a bow around Mila's wrist instead. I don't want you dropping him.

Eren smiled as they continued on the trail without much spoken between them, Mila getting excited and pointing when she saw deer or any animal of any kind. She's so cute... He smiled grabbing his phone and taking a few pictures of Levi and Mila together. That's adorable...

Levi held Mila close to him, answering her every excited question about all the wildlife they saw. She wants to know all the names... Levi glanced to his watch after a while, looking to Eren. “Do you want to hook over to the creek now?” It's getting to around when we eat. He watched Eren nod, stopping Charlie and Dawnstar. “Okay, honey. Ready?” He carefully handed Eren Mila, chuckling as she immediately latched onto him. Aw...

Eren smiled and held his arms around her as he urged Charlie forward at a trot instead of a walk, helping Mila get adjusted with the new pace. It's okay, you can go a bit faster while I'm holding you... And I'm hungry... He turned his head, looking back at Levi with soft eyes. “Come on slow poke!”

Levi’s eyes glinted, his voice playful. “Who're you calling slowpoke?” He urged Dawnstar on to a trot as well, hearing Mila’s excited squeal at the faster pace. This is really fun...

Eren smiled more, going a little faster as Mila got more comfortable and making sure she was secure in his arms. “I’m calling you a slow poke, old man!” I love teasing you, and you’re getting much better at riding a horse.

“Oh, I’m old?” Levi easily kept up, feeling confident as they rode along. This is okay... and Eren’s a good rider. He'll take good care of Mila.

Eren smiled at him even more, keeping their pace as they headed towards the creek bend, slowing as they came up on it, Mila still giggling in his arms. He smiled, leaning down to pat Charlie’s neck. Good boy... “Alright, where are we gonna sit and eat Levi?” This is all up to you, you brought us here...

Levi blushed, looking around. We’re alone. It was quiet save for the sound of their horse’s hooves, the creek quietly running past. “Up a little bit…” He smiled when a small series of waterfalls came into view, a small space cleared under a large tree just a bit to their left. “Right here.” Levi jumped... down from Dawnstar, holding her bridle as he was given Mila. He let Eren jump down, helping him take down the things they'd packed. He felt nerves squeezing in his chest as they laid down the thick blanket, Mila sitting next to the basket and playing with Toby quietly. “Eren?” Levi reached for him before he could sit down, catching his hands. He looked up at his faintly confused expression, calming when he saw his viridian eyes. “Eren, you make me so happy… I love you so much… you've given me so many wonderful things… and we even have our own beautiful daughter… I'm so happy that we’ll soon have our own home and many more kids to share it with… and I know I already asked, but you deserve so much better than that…” Levi slowly knelt on one knee, the air quiet as he pulled out the small box, opening it and showing him the ring. “...Eren, will you marry me?” Please? You deserve a ring… you deserve everything…

Eren watched Levi get down on one knee, and open the small ring box, a ring with emeralds, sapphires and diamonds lining it. He gasped, surprise in his features as he covered his mouth with his hands, feeling tears well in his eyes. Is this why you brought us all out here? So that you could do this. “L-Levi, it’s beautiful....” I’ve already said yes… do I need to say it again?

Levi looked up to his teary eyes, his own expression hopeful. “I thought you'd love it… is that a yes?” I need to hear it… please?

Eren nodded furiously, shifting to his knees and wrapping his arms around Levi’s shoulders. “Yes! Yes of course!” Oh my god… I-I.... I have a ring! He wasn’t lying! He couldn’t help but cry as he clung to Levi, holding him close, making him shift to sit down and climbing into his lap, wrapping his legs around Levi’s waist. He refused to let go of his clinging, wanting to make sure that Levi wouldn’t let go of him as he cried. Oh my god, it’s… it’s actually happening.

Levi buried his face in Eren’s shoulder, holding him tightly. “Eren, here, please...” He took the ring from the box, coaxing Eren to lean back long enough for him to slip the ring onto his finger, overwhelmingly happy as Eren immediately kissed him. I love you....

Eren couldn’t help the building of emotion in his chest as he smiled even more when Levi slipped the ring on his finger. He was unimaginably happy, leaning in to kiss him deeply, not caring if Mila was watching them or not. Levi proposed to me... And I said Yes!

Levi cupped Eren’s cheeks, kissing him back deeply. Mine... all mine... He soon broke from him when they heard a sound, Mila staring at them.

“Lunch?” Another one of her new words. I want food... I'm hungry... “Why’s Mumma crying? Is Mumma sad?” But you look happy... why?
Eren smiled as Mila spoke, shifting out of Levi’s lap as he chuckled, rubbing at his face. “No Mila, I’m not sad, Mumma’s crying because I’m happy.” Eren smiled as he picked Mila up and put her in his lap. “And you know what that means?” I wonder…. Levi might have told you… but I’m not sure.

“…i-is it because Daddy loves you?” Mila stared up at him with wide eyes. “Daddy says it lots…” Is that why?

Eren chuckled. “Daddy loves me very much Mila… so much, that he’s gonna love me forever… and soon we’ll have a big house, and you’ll get to have older brothers and sisters, and maybe younger brothers and sister, how does that sound?” How does that sound for you?

Mila beamed, looking up at him. “Tha’s a long time…” Forever is a long long time… papa told me...

Eren nodded, running a hand through her hair. “Yeah, it is a long time… and Daddy’s gonna love the both of us for that long…” He really will, we’re engaged for real this time. “Hmm, do you know what happens when me and Daddy get married?” I wanna know if you know…

Mila thought for a moment. “Y-You get to w-wear fancy clothes an’, an’ then you eat cake! Papa told me ‘bout it!” She smiled up at him, proud of herself. I remember!

“Did Papa tell you about his wedding?” He asked, not paying much mind to what Levi was doing around them as he held Mila, though he knew he was getting lunch out. Oh geez, what am I gonna tell Dad when we get home!?

“Uh-huh! He wears a ring too, and I asked him ‘bout it, and he told me ev’rything! Papa lets me ask questions! He tol’ me about how a kid gets to, uh, sca’er flower pe’als an’ stuff?” Flowers!

Eren smiled, picking her up and kissing her nose as he held her above him, laying back so she was in the air a few feet. “Oh Yeah? You wanna be my flower girl for my wedding?” That’ll be interesting, you’d probably race down the aisle and do it as quick as you can...

Mila squealed as she was held, looking overwhelmingly happy. “Wan’ throw petals!” I wanna! She giggled even more as she was brought back to Eren’s chest, feeling him sit up, watching Levi bring something out of the basket. “Wha’s that?”
Levi untied the cloths from the bottle of champagne, the glasses sitting next to him. “Something special for your Mumma and I…” He took the foil off from the top of the bottle, carefully loosening part of the wire hood and going to twist it open carefully. He smirked as it popped open, Mila squeaking at the loud sound. He poured a glass for Eren, handing it to him before pouring one for himself. Something fancy… damn, I really owe Dad for this…

Eren smiled, taking the glass. “Not too much Levi, one of us has to be okay to drive home… and I would like to remember tonight.” I really would be really nice if I could… He sipped at the glass, helping Mila with her own food, watching as Levi pulled out sushi for the two of them. Oh wow…

“Don’t worry, I want to remember this too…” Levi set out the dish of delicate sushi, getting out two pairs of chopsticks. He smiled as Eren untied Toby from her wrist so she could eat without getting him sticky, spoon in hand and actually managing to get the food into her mouth. He shifted a bit closer to him, softly kissing his cheek. Mine.

Eren couldn’t help the blush that formed on his cheeks. He leaned closer to Levi, smiling softly, picking up a piece of sushi with a smile, watching as Mila ate. I could get used to this… I can’t wait until she’s on her own horse… and then we’d need a bigger trailer…

Levi reached for sushi as well, enjoying the peace around them. This is really nice… In a little while, the sushi almost gone, Levi reached into the basket again, bringing out the chocolate strawberries. He opened the lid, picking up one and offering it to Eren with a glint in his eye. Please?

Eren looked at him with surprise. “Oh… you play soooo dirty.” He murmured and instantly inclined his head to take a bite, savoring the sweetness. This is awesome… I like having dates like this…

Levi smirked, letting Eren lick the last of the juice from his fingers before going in for a sweet kiss, reaching for another. I love this… He and Eren stole kiss after kiss as they finished off the strawberries, letting Mila nibble on two before packing up to continue on, riding side by side.

“Lathe, where the hell is the pasta roller?”

“IT’s in the second drawer down from right behind you!” Lathe was unpacking a bag full of silken
“I need a tennis ball or something…” It’s a good thing we don’t have too many things that are breakable…

“And where are my apples?” Sharon flitted around the kitchen, rifling through grocery bags, Casper and Armin behind her, getting food ready. We’re having lots of people over. Someone has to make the food for the engagement party.

“Ooh, I’ve got this!” James handed Percy and Andy to Scotty, leaving the man looking stunned to suddenly be responsible for two tiny babies. He snatched the ribbon out of Lathe’s hand, quickly going upstairs and to the corner near the nook. He quickly scaled the wall, on a wooden beam and tossing the ribbon over them before they could blink. This will look really cool!

Lathe nearly had a heart attack as James was suddenly on the beams, his eyes wide. “James, you’d better be careful as all hell or I’ll wring your neck!” He had to admit that after a little, the light greys and blues and greens looked beautiful hanging in the air. Okay, that’s a lot nicer than I thought it would be.

Tucker looked up as a roll of ribbon hit the floor near where he was vacuuming, grabbing it and throwing it back up at the ceiling, James easily catching it. Not where I’m vacuuming! He vacuumed around the couches where the dogs were, making sure to take the brush attachment and vacuum Krampus. If he won’t move, he’s getting vacuumed. He quirked an eyebrow as Krampus wagged his tail furiously, rolling over onto his back and letting Tucker vacuum his stomach. …you like this? ….okay I guess. Tucker continued to vacuum Krampus, shrugging.

Marco stopped his cleaning to drag Jean over to where Scotty was, taking Percy from the awkward-looking man. He looked to the tiny baby who stared right back at him before reaching up for Jean, successfully getting his nose. “….I want one.” He looked at Jean with wide doe eyes, his lip faintly quivering. I want one…

Jean looked at Marco with wide eyes, a blush furious across his face. “In time Marco… in time, don’t rush anything…” We’re not even engaged… or are we? I’m not necessarily sure anymore, I mean I know you were going to and a lot of shit happened and we’re back together busy are we? Jean couldn’t help but chuckle as Percy grabbed at Marco’s nose this time.

Marco smiled softly, fending off her grabby hand and letting her take hold on his finger. “I know… but I’m just making sure you know.” He kissed Jean’s cheek, smiling. It doesn’t sound like you’d be against one… I’m happy about that.
Eren stretched after hopping off a Charlie, reaching up to take Mila from Dawnstar’s saddle so that Levi could get off. “Hmm, let’s go put you in the truck Mila.” I know that you probably wanna take a nap, it was a long day for you. He looked back to Levi already starting to untack Dawnstar, a smile on his face as he wrapped his arms around his back, his mouth latching onto his neck. Fuck, I’m horny… this isn’t good we have a 45 minute drive...

Levi stilled when Eren sucked gently on his neck, groaning and leaning back into him. “Damn tease…” He leaned his head back onto his shoulder, feeling teeth scraping his skin. Fuck, that feels good… He felt himself twitch with interest, turning around to hug Eren close. “Damn, it's going to be a long drive…” Guh… the things I would do if we could...

Eren smirked, kissing his neck still as he turned. “Hmm, I’ll let you fuck me when we get home…” I’m feeling up for it… I’d love too… Hmm, maybe even in the barn, Mila will be asleep by the time we get back...

Levi smirked, nipping his ear. “Did you really think I wouldn't take care of my fiancé?” He picked up the hand that held his ring, kissing it. You’re mine. He held Eren close for a long moment before they finally untangled, hurrying to untack the horses. I want to get home already… I need you...

“Then get us home, Sarge.” Eren teased, already starting to load up Dawnstar into the trailer. I wanna go home… I’m horny as fuck...

Levi looked at him with dark eyes. “You're asking for it, Private.” He smirked, settling their things in the back. The ride home was quiet, their twined hands resting on Eren’s thigh as they drove. Levi felt wound tight to snapping when they got out of the truck, putting away the tack as Eren unloaded the horses, relieved when they were finally in their stalls and Levi could catch Eren, his lips latching onto his neck as Mila peacefully slept in the truck, alone in the barn. Finally… I need you… I need you now.

Lathe and everyone saw them coming home, their cars parked at the center just a five minute walk away to not seem suspicious. They all waited for them to come back from the barn, Lathe glancing at the clock after a while. They should be done by now. “Henry, Tucker? Could you two go out to the barn and retrieve them for us?” They're taking a while.

Tucker looked over to Henry and nodded, taking Henry with him. He probably wants Henry to come so that someone can actually get their attention. He smiled as Henry almost instantly twined their fingers as they headed towards the barn, hearing something he didn’t expect to hear. Oh my god…. That’s Eren! He froze for a moment as a loud moan came from the entrance, Henry pushing him to look over the side… Oh fuck that’s hot…
Levi had Eren against one of the empty stall walls, their clothes heaps on the ground as Levi fucked up into him, holding up his weight as he sucked in his neck. Fuck… I've needed this… He felt Eren scrabbling for hold at his back, his moans music in his ears. You sound beautiful…

Henry saw them with wide eyes, both of them seeing them from the side, flushing a deep, deep shade of scarlet at the sight. Holy fuck that's hot… It took him a long moment before he yanked Tucker back, both of them staring at each other, half hard and stunned. They were silent as they quickly began walking back to the house, the image seared into their minds. Holy shit….

Tucker struggled to move his pants around to hide his hardon, swallowing thickly as he opened the door to the house, his whole face red from embarrassment and the scene he’s just watched. Even after seeing it a few times… I still get worked up over it…. They could easily be porn stars…

Lathe and everyone turned to look, Lathe facepalming as they came in alone and shifting uncomfortably. “….they're really, aren't they.” He let them nod in embarrassment and scurry off, sighing quietly. They're like rabbits…

Tucker went to his room, his mind racing as he felt his length completely harden. Oh shit… there’s no way this is going down anytime soon… He glanced up when Henry knocked on the door before coming in and closing it, grabbing a pillow to hide his hardon. You don’t need to feel obligated to take care of it…

Henry looked to him as he hid himself, moving to kneel next to the bed, knowing Tucker felt better when he wasn't taller than him. “I know we’re obviously a ways away from doing anything like that…” He looked up at him with gentle eyes. “But can I help you fix that..?” He glanced to where he was hiding himself, licking his lip. I wanna taste you again…

Tucker looked suspicious for a moment before he nodded and removed his pillow hiding his length and he started to unbutton his pants. Pointing to the door to try and tell Henry to lock it. Please… I don’t want to be like Levi and Eren and get caught…

Henry smirked devilishly, going to quickly lock the door before settling on the bed, lying on his stomach between Tucker’s legs. He nuzzled his bulge, gently kissing his clothed hardon. He reached to pull away his boxers, immediately pressing wet kisses all over his tip and down his shaft. You always sound wonderful when I do this…

Tucker’s eyes were focused on Henry as he kissed up and down his hard on. Fuck… it feels really good… “Mmm…. h-Henry…” Tucker’s voice was weak from disuse as he carefully threaded a hand into Henry’s hair. Fuck his lips always feel really good…

Henry chuckled faintly as a hand immediately went to his hair, enjoying the gentle touch as his lips immediately went for his tip, sucking agonizingly slowly as he looked up through his eyelashes. Fuck, you're always so hot when I get you like this…

Tucker’s whole face was flushed, letting out a ragged breath as he tried to keep the soft moans escaping him quiet. Fuck he feels really good… and it’s the only time that I’ll talk to him, even he knows that… fuck what if he asks me to talk to him during sex… That’d be embarrassing… He let out a hoarse whisper of Henry’s name, his fingers digging into his hair and gripping it.

Henry quietly moaned onto his tip, pulling off of him, his lips teasing his head. “You sound wonderful… I’m so happy with whatever you'll give me…” Henry looked up to him, slowly moving down his length, his lips sliding down around his shaft. I love this… and you sometimes speak when I do… I love hearing your voice…

Tucker’s whole face was flushed as he watched him, knowing he wouldn’t last long with how aroused he was. “H-Henry…. F-Fuck.…” It feels really good. His toes curled as the heat pooled in his lower abdomen, wanting to hold it off.

Henry bobbed a bit faster, softly humming as Tucker gripped his hair. He pulled back to let his tongue play with his slit, pumping his shaft and feeling Tucker pulse, trying his best to swallow everything as he came in his mouth, shaking under him. He watched his face, his own cheeks flushed. He's so hot…

Tucker shook as his chest heaved, letting his head rest back on the pillows. His voice was quiet as he shifted to grab for his clothes. “Th-thank you… Henry….” It felt really good… You’re getting really good at it…

Henry caught his hands, gently helping to ease him up and put him back together, his head resting on his stomach when he was done. “Thank you… for giving me that…” He looked up to him, his voice soft. “I love to hear your voice… you don't have to give me more if you don't want…” He softly kissed his stomach, happily noting that he felt soft. “It just makes hearing it that much more precious…” I love hearing you speak…. He looked up to him, his features soft. Mine… all mine…

Tucker blushed as he spoke, giggleing a little bit as his stomach was kissed, ticklish. “Hmmm… Are you gonna stay over again?” Tucker’s voice was still rugged and quiet, unsure if he would or not. *You usually stay over, and we usually sleep with the door open… and I usually run the instant I feel you get hard but… I think I can do it this time…

“I'd love to…” He looked up to him with wide, innocent eyes. “Can I? I get cold all by myself…” You're warm… it's nice having someone to hold onto….

Tucker bit his lip and nodded, turning his head to look at Henry better and he nodded. “Y-Yeah… You can.” You'll have to ask someone for condoms… Oh god, what if I tell Lathe? What would happen…. Would he kick Henry out? Tucker’s body got tense with nerves, so unsure of what to do as his mind ran in circles.

Henry smiled warmly, looking worried as Tucker tended underneath him. “…are you okay..?” He slowly shifted further up, holding onto Tucker’s waist, his head on his shoulder. It's okay….

“Y-Yeah…” Tucker shifted as a sinking feeling landed in his gut. I don’t want to ask… what if they still hate me after what I said when I got here… and I’m not ready for Dad to know that I’m having sex… let alone that Henry’s staying over for it!

Henry didn't look convinced, shifting to hold Tucker flush to his chest. “…you can tell me anything you need to whenever you're ready… I just want you to know that.” Henry kissed his cheek, simply lying there with him. It's okay, whatever it is. He was grateful as Tucker very slowly relaxed, gently rubbing his side with his thumb. It's okay.

Tucker nodded and shifted to curl up into his chest, his eyes closing for a quick nap. I'm tired… Even a blow job takes everything out of my system... But I just need a short nap and I'll be fine…

A few more minutes passed before Levi came in through the back door, carrying a sleepy Mila, Eren behind him. He was stunned as he saw the number of people there, all the decorations set up. “Wh-What-”

Eren looked around as well, a huge blush forming on his face as his eyes widened to the size of dinner plates. “U-Uh Hi…?” Eren’s voice was weak, and a little hoarse. His shoulders sore as he came inside, Mikhail trotting to his side from his embarrassment. Oh god, why are there so many people here!? It’s Sunday! They were all over yesterday!

“Hi!” Mila threw up her arms, dropping Toby and looked surprised at the chorus of ‘awww.’ Huh?
“They're not here for no reason, you two, Eren.” Lathe smiled to him. “...you're wearing a ring.”
* I'm so happy. *

Eren’s eyes widened as he looked down at his slightly shaking hand the blush traveling down his neck and too his ears. Oh my god... I... I just fucked with Levi... and everyone here knows now. He swallowed thickly and nodded, feeling like he needed to apologize for his behavior, but he didn’t. He kept his mouth shut as he looked down at the floor, Mikhail whining loudly for him to come to the floor, which he did after a moment, feeling him lick at his face. Fuck, I'm shaking pretty badly...

Levi and Lathe were immediately at his side on the floor, Lathe gently pulling Eren to his chest. “Eren, it's okay. You don't have any reason to be so nervous or upset. We’re all here because we love the two of you. You make each other happy... and we’re so, so proud of both of you...” Lathe pulled them into a small group hug, smiling faintly. “I'm so, so happy for you.” You'll be so happy together.

Eren looked up a bit as Lathe pulled him closer, trying to apologize but the words dying in his throat as he tried to speak. Great time for my vocal chords to stop working... He shifted, looking away from him and towards Levi with scared eyes. We just had sex! How are you taking this so calmly! I’m freaking out here!

Levi softly kissed Eren’s cheek when he looked to him, glancing to Lathe. “....did you know-”

“....does anyone give a shit?”

“Not even vaguely. You two had a damn good excuse.”

Levi snorted at that, smirking and looking to Eren again, cradling him closer. “…what do you say? Am I allowed to show off my handsome fiancé?” Please?

Eren swallowed thickly before he nodded, forcing himself to relax and try to control his shaking. I can do this… Th-They apparently don’t care... and the ring is beautiful, I should be showing it off... He watched Mila squirm out of his arms and run off somewhere in the house, moving to stand on shaking legs. Fuck, I can’t stop my shaking...
“Tiny human!” Sharon caught Mila before she could get anywhere, settling her in one hip and meandering over to where Eren and Levi still were, giving him a careful smile. She touched his arm, her smile soft. “I'm really happy for you two.” She shifted Mila in her arms. “I think you lost this.” She chuckled as Eren turned redder. It's okay.

Eren looked at her for only a moment before looking down towards his feet, keeping his head low out of nervous habit. “L-Levi… can you take Mila?” My legs feel like I'm a newborn horse… They're shaking horribly. He glanced up for a moment as Casper and Scotty came closer to them. Oh no… what're they gonna think?

Levi took the tot as the two of them came close, smiling faintly as they were pulled into a gentle hug, allowing the contact, even if it got him a face full of blue hair.

Casper rubbed Eren’s back, smiling to him when he leaned back from him. “I'm so happy for you two… you take good care of him or I'll flay you alive.” Casper pointed a finger at Levi, chuckling as the noirette simply gave him a deadpan look. He knows.

Eren was still kinda shaking as he lifted his hand up for Casper to see the ring in its beauty. I really like it, it's beautiful…. “L-Look….” It looks so pretty…

Casper smiled, taking his hand and inspecting the ring. “It's a beautiful ring…” Casper smiled to him, pulling him into another hug. “Levi’s going to take very good care of you…” Casper murmured in his ear, trying to help him calm his shaking. It's okay.

Eren nodded slowly, soon jerkily wrapping his arms around Casper as well. “Th-Thank you….” He murmured quietly to Casper, looking over his shoulder to Scotty. What are you gonna say?

Scotty gave him a gentle look, looking between him and Levi. “I don't know how it is that you’re planning on having a flock of tiny Milas….” He smiled as the tot immediately looked at the sound of her name. “…but I really hope that you two will be happy… you're already off to a good start.” You'll be good for each other.

Eren looked to him and smiled softly, lifting his hand up from around Casper and showing him the ring. You might wanna look but I'm not sure if you will…. He let Casper hold onto him, his shaking slowly fading away, though his legs continued to shake.

Scotty gently took his hand, looking over the ring. “It really is beautiful… you both are very lucky to have each other…” He let go of Eren’s hand, his eyes soft. I hope you two are happy.

Eren smiled, slowly letting go of Casper as Hannah and Sharon came up next. They wanna see the ring too? His legs still a bit wobbly as Hannah carefully took his hand.

“It’s just gorgeous!” Sharon beamed, both of them taking in the shining gems. She smiled as Maverick looked at it to, staring with wide eyes at it. “Even Maverick loves it.” It's lovely.... She pulled him into a one-armed hug, Maverick reaching for Eren’s shirt too. “I’m so happy for you.” She looked over to where Levi was, holding onto Eren’s waist with one arm. “You damn well better take care of him- I have a baseball bat collection and a damn good swing.” She smirked as Levi rolled his eyes, getting a chuckle out of him.

“Don’t worry, Sharon. You don't have to tell me.” I was going to anyway, of course.

“You better, we have a bat collection and about three Roller Derby teams who wouldn’t even think twice about coming down here to beat you tiny butt in!” Hannah chuckled and shifted to hug Eren as well. You’ll be absolutely fine.... She smiled as they pulled away to allow Marco and Jean to come up to them.

Marco still had Percy close to his chest, looking between the two men. “...you two are really good for each other… it’s been so obvious to everyone who knows you… you have a daughter and now you even have a new brother and sister…” Marco looked to the tiny baby in his arms. “I hope that if you two have more kids, and I know you really want more… I hope that they make you proud…” Marco gently hugged Eren before lightly hugging Levi, still very careful of the tiny baby in his arms. You two will keep each other standing… no matter what.

Eren smiled softly at Marco, looking to Jean where he was standing, seeing him flustered. Oh jeez… He’s gonna say something… Isn’t he?

Jean shifted from one foot to the other, looking at Eren. “...look, I know we haven't exactly been great friends… ...but I'm happy that you're happy. You both deserve each other… I hope everything for you two works out.” ...you deserve to be happy. He felt like he should give Eren a hug, hesitating, not sure if he could. He probably doesn't want me to.

Eren shifted on his wobbly legs, moving to try and hug him. It’s okay to hug me.
Jean shifted forward, hearing the room go quiet as he gently hugged him. He gently rubbed Eren’s back after a moment. this is okay. “...I really am happy for you.” I’m not always an asshole... I should probably get around to apologizing for all that shit sometime.

Eren smiled and held onto him to steady himself. “Don’t think of yourself as any less… Okay?” His voice was quiet as he spoke to him, making sure that only Jean heard. I know you have a bad image of yourself...

Jean stilled at that, though he soon relaxed a bit into him. “...I'm really trying...” Marco tells me all the time how much he loves me... I'm still so nervous about everything... I'm trying... He actually enjoyed the contact, not wanting to let go. Shit... “...I'm sorry that I've been a serious ass to you so much...” ...I don't know how the fuck you've gotten so angry at me and how I've pissed everyone off so much and yet you still keep inviting me back...

Eren smiled softly, holding him close. “We forgive you... we always forgive you, Jean.” He murmured quietly, looking over to Marco. “You’ll have to man up and propose to Marco this time.” I bet you will, and he'll say yes.

Jean blushed, feeling warm. I don't know how you all manage to keep forgiving me... but it's good to know... I have friends here... “I-I know... I want to... he deserves something really nice for it... give me a while, okay? I'm still getting used to us being together again...” It still feels strange sometimes... but I'm always so happy that it's real...

Eren nodded. “Take your time... ask us if you guys ever need anything...” He smiled softly, letting go of him, watching Armin come over to hug him immediately. His legs still wobbled around as he hugged him. Fuck my legs...

Armin smiled into his shoulder, resting his cheek on his shoulder. “It's about time you bastard...” He looked to Levi, both of them quirking an eyebrow at the swear. “Now let me see the ring.” He pulled back, beaming as he inspected the shining band. “It's beautiful...” He grinned, crushing Eren to his chest. I'm so happy Levi finally pulled his head out of his ass.

Eren smiled and nodded. “Y-Yeah...” At least you haven’t mentioned anything about us fucking out in the barn. His legs were still wobbling like a newborn as he looked over towards the stairs. Henry’s here with Tucker? Oh well.... I’m sure he’s heard us fucking...

Henry had an arm around Tucker’s middle, gently pulling them forward. He smiled up at Eren, going to cling to him. “I'm really happy you're happy…. you're like a big brother to me… and it's so nice to see you so happy…” I know you've wanted this…

Eren’s eyes widened as Henry hugged him tightly. “I-I am?” I’m like a big brother to you? Eren smiled at him, hugging him closer. “I’m happy that you’re happy too….” Tucker’s comfortable…

Henry smiled, nestled into his shoulder. “You are… you make me feel welcome and you let me take home leftovers and sleep over all the time and give me all kinds of food even though I'm a black hole… and I've been over so much that you've roped me into cooking sometimes too and I don't burn water anymore… you taught me how to ride a horse too and you've just been really nice…” He looked over to Levi, his head down a bit as he slowly let go of Eren, shuffling over to hug the noirette too. “I'm sorry if you don't like hugs much… but I really look up to both of you… I don't have a very good role model at home besides Kevin, and even then, it's…. I'm just glad to have both of you… being here and being around you all feels like home....” I'm so lucky....

Levi was stunned as Henry went for him next, wrapping an arm around him as Henry made a quiet sound. He's crying…. Levi smiled softly, letting Armin take Mila from him and wrapping Henry in a hug. “...I don't mind it… ...it's really something else to have you think of me like that….” Levi rubbed his back soothingly. “You're family to us…” You try your best to be polite and you make Tucker happy… you help around the house when you're over on the weekends and Dad is trying to get you to do something besides lay in bed all day and you don't complain...

Henry buried his face in Levi’s shoulder, needing the quiet moment, unable to stop his tears. I really care about you.

Eren watched their moment, smiling softly, moving to tug Tucker to him. “Come here.” He smiled softly as he pulled him him close. Come here, I want a hug from you too.

Tucker froze up as he was hugged, slowly relaxing into him. …… His fingers slowly gripped the back of his shirt, his voice hoarse as he whispered into his shoulder. “...I'm happy for you…” You and Levi were made for each other…. you deserve to be happy together...

Eren smiled softly, listening intently to his rough voice. Oh thank god… he actually talked… “I’m happy you're happy too.” He smiled more, kissing Tucker’s forehead with a happy smile.

Tucker clung to him, glad for the quiet. Thank you… He eventually had to pry himself from Eren, everyone soon migrating to the dinner table to eat, a large spread set out over the table. The mood was a bit calmer than normal, every couple at the table either nudging their partner’s foot or hooking ankles, some leaning on the other. Mine. It was a sentiment that everyone shared, conversations rather quiet. Armin, James and Jake were the only ones without someone to tease, though the they all ended up with dogs and cats around their chairs, fending off puppy eyes begging for scraps. They all ate their fill before a cake was cut, the night ending a bit early with how many of them tended to leave just after dinner, Marco dragging Jean home with a look in his eyes and Casper wrapped around Scotty.

Can we go upstairs? Levi scoped out the room, noting who was still there. …. Sharon and Hannah are just leaving… and Armin left a few minutes ago… we’re safe. It took him barely a minute to reach for Eren’s waist and heave him into his arms bridal-style, carrying him upstairs. James has Mila…. and we have plans…

Eren’s eyes widened as he was picked up bridal style, but he let it slide a huge blush on his face instead. “Hmm, what are you gonna do to me Sarge?” His arms wrapped around Levi’s shoulders, a sultry look in his eyes. I want you…
Chapter 125: Side Story 10: Tucker and Henry (Goals)

Tucker watched them leave, Henry still sitting next to him, with a pillow between them. I... I think it's time... His hands shook a little as he grabbed for Henry’s hand to pull him up the stairs once Levi had scaled them.

Henry let Tucker pull him along, unused to the sudden urgency. “T-Tucker?” He let him bring him into his room, watching him shut and lock the door before he was suddenly pressing to his front, his hands shaking a bit as he held onto his shirt. “Wh-What...” He was unused to the look in his eyes, nervous but wanting, looking determined in a way as he was settled in the bed, Tucker in his lap. What...

Tucker still shook a bit as he cupped Henry’s cheeks with his hands, moving to kiss him on the lips, his mouth open already to let Henry have access. Please understand... I want you to understand that I’m ready...

Henry was stunned as he was kissed, the thought slowly registering as his hands slid down his neck and over his shoulders, Tucker settling further into his lap, over his crotch. .....are you... Henry pulled away, looking over him. “...Tucker, are you...” His hands gently settled on top of his thighs. “...are you ready?” Is that what this means? ...are you really?

Tucker looked to him and nodded, biting at his lower lip, adding a hint of seduction to his innocence. His cheeks were on fire as he looked at Henry. I hope you’ll be okay with it... I really do... I want to, I really want to, and I know you’ll be gentle.

Henry looked at him with awe, flushing scarlet. Oh fuck... He wants to... “...d-do you have anything? Lube, condoms?” We need those... He looked lost when Tucker sheepishly shook his head, trying to think even as his hands slowly slid down his chest. Fuck... where could I get some now? He didn't need to look down to know how hard Tucker was, his own cock stirring. Fuck... “...wh-where would we get some?” We need some... doing it without lube is a really really bad idea... and we should use condoms...

“E-Eren..... o-or D-Dad.....” Tucker’s voice was weak as he looked down at Henry’s hardening bulge. Oh my god.... I want it, I want it really bad, and we aren’t prepared for it in the least.
Henry looked helpless, knowing he couldn't do nothing about Tucker, the teen already panting with want in his lap, hardening even more. Fuck… “Eren and Levi are probably already in the middle of things… I don't want to interrupt that…” fuck, I have to ask your Dad… for lube and condoms … He swallowed hard, rolling over and settling Tucker on the bed, softly kissing his cheek and gently cupping him for a moment, massaging him. “….I'll be back…” It hurt to leave Tucker splayed with want on the bed like that, willing his hardon to go down, his nerves at asking Lathe making it go down. shit... He slowly moved downstairs, seeing the man in the kitchen. “.....u-uhm, Mr. Quo?” Henry shrunk as Lathe turned to look at him. Fuck...

“Yes, Henry?” He looked over to him, surprised when he saw how embarrassed he looked. “.....are you alright? What is it?” What?

“...u-uhm… I'm sorry for bothering you like th-this, but….. uhm…. c-can I…. uhm…” His voice was incredibly small, staring at his feet. “H-Have some lube and condoms…?” Fuck…. you know I'm about to fuck your son... ...shit... He slowly stepped away from him, ready to be yelled at. Fuck...

...now the embarrassment makes sense. Lathe turned a bit pink despite himself, giving him a small smile. “Henry?” He waited for him to nervously look up. “...if you're down here asking someone like me for that, and it takes a hell of a lot of guts, it tells me you actually give a damn about taking proper care of my son… and you'd damn well better. I'll get you two some things, okay?” He had a hand on his arm, walking with him upstairs. I'm surprised… but at the same time I'm not… Tucker cares so much about you… and if he trusts you enough to do that… you're obviously worth it to him.

Henry was stunned as Lathe didn't snap at him, walking awkwardly with him, flushed red. He waited outside his bedroom door as he heard him move for a moment, flushing as a package of condoms and a tube of lube was handed to him. “U-Uhm, th-thank you….” Fuck...

“...Henry, you're like family here. And you mean so much to Tucker. Take good care of him…. okay?” Lathe watched him nod, letting him scurry away. I'm glad they asked rather than deciding to make a stupid decision…

Henry shut and locked the door again immediately behind him, looked to the bed where Tucker lay, watching him whimper as he stood there. Fuck… Henry moved to the bed, climbing up and over him, the two packages set aside on the bed as his hand went for Tucker’s bulge. Fuck... you're just splayed out for me…
Tucker let out a soft squeak as he was grabbed, soon enough becoming putty in Henry’s hand. “Ngh… H-Henry…” fuck I want more than just your hand… please? He looked up to him with wanting eyes, making a soft noise as he reached to pull at the hem of his shirt. I want it off, I want everything off…

Henry smiled breathlessly at the amount of arousal in his voice, leaning back to pull off his shirt, throwing it off the bed. He reached to do the same with Tucker, though his motions slowed way down, slowly bringing it off of him with reverence and dropping it from the bed. He immediately dipped down, wanting to catalogue every bit of his bare chest. Mine…

Tucker shivered under his hold, breathing in sharply when his mouth latched onto his collarbone. Oh my god… this is… is really happening. He squirmed a bit as Henry’s hands brushed his sides, trying not to force him off from being ticklish. Don’t tickle me… please…

Henry stopped when Tucker jerked a bit as his hands met his sides, soon realizing he was ticklish. Oh yeah… I forgot about that… His hands moved with gentle purpose, rubbing his sides up and down, his shivering turning from a fear of being tickled to pleasure as he slowly sucked a mark onto his skin. I won't tickle you…, He held onto him, grateful for the extra bit of flesh at his hips. I like this… you sound so wonderful…

Tucker let out a soft sigh, shivering in his hold before he shifted his legs a little wider, giving Henry more room. I-I like this… I like this a lot… He closed his eyes for a moment, looking back with blown pupils from the sensations that were driving up his spine. His hands feel really nice…

Henry looked up to him, slowly hardening as he saw the look Tucker was giving him. Oh fuck…. Henry melted under Tucker’s bedroom eyes, his tongue slowly wandering down his chest, tentatively lapping at a pink nipple, slowly sucking on the nub. Does this feel good? I really hope it does….

Tucker’s body jerked as he led out a sharp moan, his hands working into the sheets below him. His back even arched at the sensation, his body stretching out for Henry to appreciate. His mouth feels amazing…

Henry watched Tucker’s reaction with lidded eyes, his voice beautiful in his ears. He sounds so amazing… He tucked away every little sound he made, gently licking and sucking at his bud before kissing over to the other, letting one hand coming down to slowly massage him through his pants. You're so hard already…
Tucker’s breath hitched, his legs spreading further. “O-Oh fuck, Henry… m-more please …” Tucker’s begs were quiet however accompanied by large puppy eyes. I want you to take my pants off… I want more, I feel really good…

Henry watched him with wide eyes, barely believing he was allowed to as he reached for Tucker’s pants, unbuttoning them and sliding them off. He took a moment before reaching for his boxers, slowly pulling them down too. They were soon gone, admiring his face flushed down his neck, panting with want, his chest moving steadily and his length laying glistening with precum on his stomach. He watched as he leaked another drop under his gaze, shivering at the sight. Oh fuck that’s hot… Henry moved to strip as well, naked in barely a minute before he shifted to kiss across his hip, hungry to taste him and lapping at his tip, his mouth eager. …you always taste wonderful…

Tucker’s eyes watched every movement, enjoying that Henry’s nakedness actually brought him excitement rather than fear. I’m not afraid, he’s not going to hurt me… he’s going to be gentle. His hands gripped that sheets below him once more as he felt Henry’s tongue on his length, lapping at his precum. Oh my god …. It feels so good…

Henry was more than happy to lave at him with his tongue, tasting him. I love doing this… He gently cupped his sac, slowly massaging him as he kissed his tip appreciatively. “You’re so handsome like this… my god, look at you…” He looked over him, flushed and helplessly aroused. Fuck… He was at stiff attention, aching for attention yet ignoring himself for the moment. “….I-I, uhm…. I’ve done this before myself….. so I’ll be careful…..” He was embarrassed to admit it, reaching for the lube and unwrapping the plastic seal. I wanted to know what it was like…. Guh, it was good…

Tucker flushed. “I…. um….. I-It shouldn’t hurt…. I’ve…. I’ve used th-things before…” It really shouldn’t hurt too badly, so you’re okay… oh god why did I tell him that? Tucker’s face instantly flushed and looked down towards Henry’s hands.

Henry flushed at the mental image, remembering when he'd watched Tucker fucking himself with a certain toy, moaning his name. Oh fuck…. “It's okay… you're not the only one…” I just barely saved enough… I was going insane… He blushed, settling further between his legs and pouring lube onto his fingers. “I'll still be really gentle…” I want this to feel good…

Tucker nodded, shifting to spread his legs further and close his eyes as he let his head rest on his pillow. Oh my god, I want it to happen so much… He took in a shaky gasp as he felt Henry’s fingers at his entrance press in. Oh fuck… please …
Henry slid in a tentative finger, feeling how easily he relaxed around him. He gently nipped at his base as he moved, a second slipping in without much effort. Just relax... Henry stretched him achingly slowly, grinding down lazily into the mattress where his own length was trapped, sucking on him teasingly. I want this to feel good...

Tucker was on cloud nine, soft moans and mewls leaving him as he was stretched. “H-Henry… oh god… Henry …” He couldn’t help the soft words coming from his lips, wanting to kiss him but knowing Henry wanted to stretch him out completely. Oh my god it feels heavenly, my own fingers have never felt this good before....

Henry continued to lazily suck on his length, scissoring him. He eventually added a third finger, slowly spreading his fingers in him. He felt his warm, soft heat, searching for something. Where... He soon found a small bump of nerves, feeling Tucker violently jolt when he brushed it. He held him down, firmly pressing down and moving over it, watching his back arch lewdly as he let out a high sound, breathy and intimate. Oh fuck... he sounds heavenly.... He massaged that spot, hungry for his chorus of moans. You sound so good...

Tucker couldn’t help the sounds coming out of his throat, his legs already starting to curl up from the pressure. Oh fuck it feels really fucking good, and he found my prostate. “F-Fuck....” Oh please I want you to fuck me, please hurry.

Henry was aching as he continued to loosen him, his hand drawing out of him when he was loose enough. Fuck, I want it... He has nearly shaking as he picked up the package of condoms, fumbling it open and taking out a wrapper. He looked back to Tucker, seeing him spread out under him. ... I need a better angle... He reached for an extra pillow, settling it under Tucker’s hips. Better... He tore open the wrapper, managing to get the condom on and adding a generous amount of lube, his hands shakily moving to Tucker’s hips. “R-Ready?” He watched him shakily nod, very slowly pressing into him, watching his expression immediately changing. God... I love the view....

Tucker couldn’t help but arch his back as he felt Henry press into him, feeling him stop as he bottomed out. Oh this feels... this feels amazing. He shifted a bit as Henry stayed sheathed inside him, his hands coming up to pull Henry down, wanting to kiss him. Please I wanna kiss you, I really want to...

Henry let Tucker pull him down until their chests were flush, overwhelmed with the intimacy of it as they kissed, sucking Tucker’s tongue into his mouth, the muscles sliding against each other. Fuck... He very gently ground deeper into him, feeling Tucker whimper in the back of his throat.
Tucker whimpered as Henry ground deeper into him, letting his tongue explore the cavern that he was sucked into. His arms wrapped around his shoulders, scratching in his attempts to find something to hold onto. Oh fuck, he’s got me full…. I’m not… I’m not afraid of this….not at all.

Henry felt Tucker grip his shoulders, taking it as his cue to very slowly move his hips back a few inches before thrusting into him, careful as he began a tentative pace. You probably still need to adjust…. They whimpered and moaned into each other's mouths, not wanting to break their hot kiss. Fuck… you're so warm… and tight….

Tucker was the first to pull back to breathe, tilting his head to the side to give Henry his neck as an open surface. I know you like to leave bruises…. “M-Mark me…” Please?

Henry looked over him with dark eyes, immediately going to mark his skin, softly kissing the flesh before finding a spot he liked, licking and sucking before moving on. You’re all mine… A few were dangerously close to being obvious and above to collar, but Henry didn't care, still steadily thrusting into Tucker and marking wherever he could reach. You sound wonderful.....

Tucker’s eyes were wide as the sensations built all over his body. “F-Fuck me, p-please Henry…..” I wanna have you fuck me, it feels really good now… but I want more…. He let out a soft whimper as he turned his head to give Henry more access to his neck, wanting to be marked.

Henry blushed at his heady voice, gripping his hips tighter as he picked up the pace, his forehead on Tucker’s shoulder, moaning quietly as Tucker’s own cries grew louder. Fuck, you sound so good… and you feel wonderful… “You're so warm…. you feel amazing…” Henry tried to keep marking Tucker, most of his focus on his hips, pounding into him. Fuck…

“O-Oh Henry…. y-you feel… oh shit !” Tucker instantly swore as Henry found his prostate, his eyes widening further as his back arched. Oh my god, it feels so good… “Oh my god… H-Henry, right there… feels so good… I’m gonna cum soon….!” Tucker could feel his coil already beginning to tighten, and heat pool in his stomach.

Henry felt Tucker scratching at his back, trying to grip his shoulders. Oh my god… He could feel himself getting close too, clutching him to his chest. “You feel so good… fuck. Tucker….. I- I'm….” He tried to hold off as long as he could, aiming for his prostate and letting out a breathy cry as his hips stuttered, still pounding into him deeply as he came. Oh fuck….
It wasn’t much longer before Tucker let out a strangled cry of pleasure, decorating their chests in white, his whole body relaxing as they stilled. His hands slowly came down to his sides, and his legs laid out flatly as he panted. Oh my god… that... that was my best orgasm as of yet... “Holy fuck, Henry...” That felt amazing!

Henry slowly pulled out of him and sat back on his haunches, looking over him. “...my god, you're beautiful...” He looked over his chest, immediately moving to lick up every drop of white on his chest. He soon crushed Tucker to his chest, kissing all over his neck. Fuck... you make me so happy... Henry was glowing, smiling widely.

Tucker let out a soft squeak as he was crushed to his chest, his eyes wide. “H-Henry... I-looser...” Don’t crush me, you can still hold onto me, but don’t crush me please... His eyes were still hazy as he stayed curled up to Henry even when his arms loosened. Much better...

Henry slowly had to let go of him, taking off the condom and throwing it away. He quickly tossed on his boxers and a shirt, kissing Tucker’s cheek when he protested. “I’ll be right back.” He quickly ran to the hall and snatched a washcloth from the closet, running it under hot water and cleaning his own chest quickly before going back to the bedroom and cleaning Tucker as well, wiping off his chest and, very gently, his length and further down around his entrance, wiping away the extra lube there. Better. He went to rinse it out, coming back and forgetting to lock the door in his fit to shed the clothes, sliding into bed with Tucker as soon as he could. He wrapped around him, enjoying the feeling of their bare skin pressed together, smiling softly. “....I love you, Tucker.... thank you so much for that...” It was so good...

Tucker’s eyes were full of adoration as he immediately curled up to Henry’s side, his head resting on Henry’s chest as their legs tangled. “I love you too....” Tucker’s voice was a little stronger, a happy smile on his face as he ran a finger over Henry’s abdomen, not noticing the multitudes of heavy bruises that were starting to form on his skin. Hmm... he’s comfortable...

Henry smiled at his voice, looking down to him, his eyes widening as he saw the large bruises on his neck. “Wow. I really marked you up... I didn't think I did it so much...” He ran a finger along the edge of one in a circle, nearly every bruise at least the size of a golf ball. .....damn, did I really do that much?

Tucker couldn’t help but purr as Henry ran a finger around a bruise on his neck. “Hmm.... feels nice...” I don’t care if you marked me up a lot, your hands feel really nice on my neck like that... Tucker was already starting to close his eyes to let his exhaustion take over.
Henry smiled as Tucker purred, shifting to turn off the light on the nightstand, the golden light going out and curling up to him. He pulled Tucker nearly on top of him, kissing his cheek softly before letting himself relax. All mine.

Tucker smiled, not minding that he was shifted on top, curling up to him and quickly falling asleep, not even caring that he’d slept in, honestly not even wanting to go to school on that Monday. I’m tired, and I’m with Henry…

It was early morning when the house began to wake up, James, Jake, and Lathe all rising early. Jake settled in to watch cartoons while James made him breakfast, Lathe feeding Percy and Andy. He sighed as neither Henry nor Tucker came down like usual for breakfast, giving the kids to James for the moment before going upstairs. They can't lay down yet, they just ate. They're too young to do that right away. He walked to Tucker’s room, listening for a moment to the quiet. After a moment he lightly knocked, his voice soft. “Boys? Are you coming down for breakfast?” Silence. Another knock, a bit louder. “Henry, Tucker? It’s a school day.” Still silence. Of course… He quietly opened the door, quickly glancing in to see it was safe. It was obvious their clothes were anywhere but the bed, though their bare shoulders was all that was visible, a pile of limbs on the bed. That's adorable…. ...wait. Lathe looked over Tucker’s shoulders, the huge bruises covering him. That doesn't look right. “Tucker, Henry?” He moved back behind the door when he finally heard them shift, his voice warm. “Don't worry, I'm not looking. Are you two going to go to school today?” ….you probably should. ….but I can't exactly stop you if you wanna go in late. “...and Tucker, put something on your lower half and come over here.” I need to inspect those bruises because even if Henry really is just that possessive there's no way he actually did that…

Tucker nodded and waited for Lathe to leave before he stood up, not realizing just how many bruises were all over him. He shifted to grab his boxers, moving towards the door. Why does he need to see me? He made sure Henry was hidden before opening the door and standing in front of Lathe, looking at his shocked face. Huh?

Lathe looked over his shoulders and neck, completely covered in huge bruises. “…there's no way that Henry did all that…” Lathe pulled out his phone, turning it around and showing Tucker what he looked like. Oh my god. Lathe let Tucker look at himself in shock as he inspected him, gingerly touching his neck where one outlier of a mark had bloomed to the size of a baseball. Holy shit… why are you so bruised… .....there's a word for it, uh… Haemophilia…? But we would've noticed… unless it's mild enough… “I wouldn't panic, I think I know what's going on, but it's okay.” Don't freak out.

Tucker looked at him in shock, lifting his hands. {Why am I so bruised? Henry didn’t do this…} Please don’t think that Henry did it! Please! I want him to stay! I don’t want you to kick him out “It’s okay, it’s okay. This makes a bit of sense given how when you were cutting before it took awhile to stop the bleeding. It's called Haemophilia, and if you have it, it's mild. But it would explain why a small hickey would bruise so much.” Lathe very gently touched one, watching his expression twitch. “I think you're okay…. your blood just takes a bit longer to clot than normal. You're okay.” He looked between the two of them. “...now. Are you two going to classes, or would you rather stay home?” I'll allow you to skip this once....

Tucker looked a bit hopeful as Lathe spoke. {Can we stay home for today?} I don’t want to… I wanna stay with Henry and cuddle...

“I think I can allow it…” He smirked, ruffling Tucker’s hair. “Go ahead. I can make you two breakfast later in the day.” You need to eat sometime. Lathe left them alone, hearing the door shut and lock again. It's okay.

Henry reached for Tucker, pulling him into bed again when he got close enough. “...too many clothes…” He tugged at Tucker’s boxers and threw them aside, pulling them flush. “...mm…. better…” I like being able to feel all of you...

Tucker’s eyes widened as he was hastily stripped. He couldn’t help the blood that rushed to his face and to his dick. Oh shit... I'm horny again now...

Henry opened his eyes again when he felt Tucker hardening against him, lazily shifting to kiss at his neck. “Mm… you're warm…” He ran his hands down his chest, holding his hips. Mine...

Tucker squeaked as he felt Henry’s hands run over his body, feeling himself harden more. Oh fuck, please ... He whimpered, trying to grind himself against Henry, wanting that sweet friction. It felt so good, I want it so bad.

Henry chuckled quietly as Tucker moved against him, one hand moving to his nether and very slowly stroking him, kneeling between his legs as he lapped at his neck. ...fuck... I could get so used to this....
Tucker flushed as his hard length was grabbed. “H-Henry…” Fuck I want more than just your hand, I want to have sex again, you felt really good inside of me… He tilted his head to the side, allowing him to mark him more on his bruised skin.

Henry sighed quietly as he heard Tucker’s voice, smiling and kissing up his neck. “I could get used to this…. ...do you want all the way?” Henry pumped him with a firmer hand. “I’d love to….”

Tucker heard Henry’s lustful and husky voice, his eyes widening to the size of dinner plates. “P-Please?” His voice was weak as he let out a loud moan. Oh fuck it feels good. I want more… he’ll do more right? Tucker looked over Henry’s taut body, appreciating his strength. It feels… it feels really good…

Henry smiled, nipping his jaw. “Of course…” He shifted, picking up the tube and package from where they’d fallen onto the floor. He snapped open the tube of lube, his slicked hand going to his entrance again. He gently mouthed at his bruised neck as he slid two fingers into him, loose enough that it didn't hurt. I want you…

Tucker’s mouth fell open as he moaned out soft profanities, opening his legs up wider for Henry. “Oh Henry, fuck….” Your fingers feel amazing working up and down my skin. “C-Can you h-hold me…. after?” I wanna cuddle after…. Even if it's because you're still inside of me…

“Of course… why wouldn't I want to?” Henry slowly scissored him, very slowly easing a third finger inside. “Of course….” He murmured quiet promises into his shoulder, his fingers thrusting in and out of him.

Tucker relaxed at his words, appreciating that he was holding him in his arms as he did this. This is… this is nice, I really like this… “Hmm Henry… hurry up…” I want more I want you …

Henry chuckled, kissing his nose. “Eager, are we?” He smiled as Tucker just gave him an unapologetic look, kissing him softly as his fingers dove in deeply before leaving him, reaching for the condoms. He shifted a pillow under his hips, leaning back as he opened the condom. You'll feel good so soon…. don't worry…

Tucker looked at his eyes with with his own lust filled ones, his pupils blown and biting a corner of his lip to try and seduce Henry as much as he could. I want you inside, I feel so empty… I want
Henry smiled breathlessly at the look he was being given, slicking himself up and shifting to cover Tucker’s body with his own. “...my god, look at you...” He softly kissed down his neck. “Just spread open for me...” His length brushed his hole, his arms winding around him as he slowly pushed inside, cradling Tucker to his chest and arching his back. I want you to feel good...

Tucker let out an immediate cry of pleasure, feeling Henry sink down and fill him. “It feels... really good Henry...” Your dick is perfect, it fills me up, and it doesn't even hurt to be stretched...

Henry softly kissed his jaw, his voice a soft murmur. “You feel so wonderful... but you can't be too loud... it's okay...” Henry let Tucker grip him tightly as he began to thrust into him, hearing his whimpers in his ear. I've got you.

Tucker nodded, though he continued to struggle holding off his moans. Oh my god... it feels... it feels amazing! His hands gripped his back, trying to find something to hold onto as he was held close to Henry’s chest. Oh fuck it feels good...

Henry quietly moaned into his neck, his pace becoming more steady. “You feel so good... you're so warm... I love it...” Henry held him closer. “...I love you...” Fuck, I really think I do... and you trust me so much... enough to give me this... and it's amazing...

Tucker could feel his heart beating out of his chest, his eyes wide. He barely noticed as the blood began to rush from his nostril. Oh my god, it feels so good.

Henry looked over his face, stopping abruptly when blood fished from his nose. “Holy shit!” That's a lot of blood! Henry’s brain short circuited, reluctantly pulling out of him and quickly moving to snatch the box of tissues off of the desk, shoving a handful at Tucker. “I'm so sorry but your nose is really bleeding...” He looked really worried, making him pinch his nose with the tissues. Come on.

Tucker was confused as he swore and pulled out, upset he didn’t come back to him. “H-Huh?” He raised his hand to his nose, pulling it back to see the bright red. Huh? What the hell? Well I haven’t had one in a long time.... He pinched his nose, though knew there would be no stopping it as the first wad of tissues quickly became soaked and there was no sign of stopping. “Can you get my pants?” Fuck… Dad can help…

Henry nodded, sadly throwing away his empty condom and helping Tucker with his pants. He went to get his own on as well, still half-hard and very horny. Fuck…

Tucker immediately grabbed more tissues, taking them with him as he moved to the door and then down the stairs. His face was white as he went right up to Lathe, his tissues filled with bright red. Fuck…

Lathe turned at the sound of footsteps, stunned as Tucker came up to him. “Oh shit…” Lathe brought Tucker over to the table, sitting him down and getting him more tissues. “There’s nothing we can do besides pinch and wait, Hun…” He looked up as Henry soon followed, cheeks pink and looking scared. Shit. “You’ll be okay, it’ll take a bit longer to clot, just stay calm.”

Tucker looked at him with tears in his eyes. “I-I haven’t had one…. in a long time…” Tucker panicked, starting to cry. I didn’t want it to happen now! Why did it have to happen now!?

...oh my… it must've ruined whatever was going on… “It's okay, you're fine… it has nothing to do with whatever you two were up to, I'd just say it was rather random… maybe you were due for one, I don't know. It'll take a bit to clot, but this certainly isn't going to happen every time.” It won't. It's not medically a thing. Lathe gently rubbed his back, moving a bit so that Henry could come and sit next to him, wrapping his arms around him and pulling him closer.

“Please don't cry, it's okay…” It's okay… we have the rest of today to do whatever we want…

Tucker struggled not to cry as Lathe rubbed his back and Henry held him. Fuck… I'm tired… I want to sleep, my head hurts... He whined as Lathe kept his nose pinched. I wanna cuddle with Henry…

Lathe made him keep his nose firmly pinched, swapping out tissues quickly after a few more minutes. “You'll be okay soon…” It was an agonizing seven minutes before Lathe gently dabbed at his nose, the bleeding stopped as Tucker very gently sniffled. “Be careful, okay? It'll bleed easy if you do anything to aggravate it. But you'll be fine.” He tossed out the bloody tissues, turning as he heard the floor creak.
Henry shifted out of his seat, scooping Tucker up into his arms. Mine. He cradled him to his chest, making his way upstairs with him. I need you, still…

Tucker smiled as he was picked up, holding onto him tightly. I don’t want him to let go… “C-Can we play video games after we cuddle?” Tucker sniffled, resting his head on Henry’s shoulder.

Henry nodded, setting him on his bed and going to lock the door again. …the mood’s probably gone… He settled in next to him, burying his face in his shoulder, looking morose. I'm so happy that I have you… but fuck nosebleeds…

Tucker pulled him down onto the bed, his arms wrapping around his waist. “Was I good?” Was I any good for you? Even if it was only for a minute or two?

Henry nodded, turning pink. “You really were… you… you wouldn’t be opposed to trying that again… would you?” I still really want you… He gasped as Tucker’s thigh ended up between his legs, a small sound escaping him as he hardened a bit against him, grinding onto him. fuck… he’s moving with me… The limb gently moving against him was a blessing, Henry trying not to hold onto him too tightly. Fuck….

Tucker looked down at him with a flushed face. “Do you wanna put it inside?” I want you too… I really do… “I want to feel you fill me up.” I want it, I really want it…

Henry didn’t waste any time in shifting over Tucker again, stripping them hastily. I need you… He ached as they were finally bare again, nearly shaking as he tore open another foil packet. Some more lube and he was all over him, rolling Tucker over and soon sliding into him in one smooth motion. Fuck….

Tucker’s eyes were wide as he was on his hands and knees with Henry at his back. His hands gripped the sheets below him as he lowered his body, spreading his legs a little wider and arching his back for Henry. Fuck, he feels wonderful… and perfect. He couldn’t help but moan as Henry shifted. It feels wonderful.

Henry’s body curved with Tucker’s, beginning to move in and out of him, thrusting deeply. Feels so good... They both moaned as Henry thrusted particularly deeply, his hands roaming his front, taking his length in hand and lazily stroking him. I want you to feel good...

Tucker was a shaking and shuddering mess as he fucked himself back on each of Henry’s thrusts. “Oh Henry… f-fuck me there… please.” His voice was small, moaning into the sheets below him to try and stave off from screaming in pleasure. Oh fuck his hands feel amazing!

Henry’s toes dug into the sheets, fucking hard into Tucker and hearing his muffled cries. Holy fuck…. He could feel Tucker clenching around him, his own nether burning. Fuck.... “Tucker… I'm gonna cum…” It feels so good....

Tucker whimpered and nodded, feeling himself tighten around Henry. “C-Cum then….” I want it… I want you to be on cloud nine… He could feel the heat in his own gut beginning to wash over him, close to the edge but not quite.

Henry whimpered, burying his face in his shoulder. “Tucker… oh...” Henry quietly cried out into his shoulder as he pumped him quickly, still pounding him roughly as he came. Holy fuck...

Tucker’s whimpers and moans continued, getting closer and closer to getting thrown over the edge, his whole body tightening, his eyes closed as he wanted to release, the sensation in his gut overpowering. Oh fuck, it feels so good…. I’m gonna fucking cum.

Henry pulled out as he softened, overly sensitive. His hand immediately replaced his length in Tucker’s slick warmth, going for his prostate as he still pumped him. Cum… I want to hear you when you do...

Tucker couldn’t hold it any longer, finally coming undone. “Henry …” He let out a soft cry of his name, gripping the sheets as he came into Henry’s hand, a pleased look on his face. Fuck that felt amazing.

Henry carried him through his orgasm, his hand slipping from him as he went lax, coaxing him to lay down. He softly kissed all over his neck, his lips gentle. Gorgeous... “I'll be back, Tucker....” He managed to get in boxers and retrieve the same washcloth from the night before, hot and damp again to clean off his own hands before going to gently clean Tucker, wiping away the extra lube from his entrance. He softly kissed him, gently playing with his hair for a moment. “I’ll be back…”
He smiled as Tucker pouted, nipping his nose. “Promise.” He left when Tucker rolled his eyes, going to rinse out the cloth and hang it up. He was stunned to walk into the bathroom and see Levi there, leaning against the counter seemingly casually. Fuck… Henry was very aware that he was just in boxers, intimidated by the older man. …I’m dead.

“So. You and Tucker have any fun?” Levi gave Henry an even look, rolling his eyes when Henry looked ready to combust, faintly smirking. “Relax, it's fine. You're family.” His expression immediately switched to one of distaste. “But if you hurt him I will hurt you a hundred times worse. Got it?” He deserves someone who will treat him right. You'd damn well better hope it’s you.

Henry flushed, nodding. “Y-Yes… uh….. S-Sir….” Fuck. Henry kept his head down, going to rinse out the cloth. Fuck…

Eren finally meandered towards the bathroom as he stretched out from his festivities with Levi, his lower back aching as he wore only a pair of boxers. He heard the water running, stepping in to see Levi and Henry with his head down. “Awww— good morning…” Eren yawned as he stretched out before looking at him with dilated eyes, glancing towards the washcloth he was washing. “Take it you and Tucker had some fun, eh?

Henry didn't think he could turn a darker darker, glancing over to Eren as immediately proving the thought wrong. Holy fuck… he's covered in bruises and hand marks… “U-Uhm….” Henry didn't know what to say, simply stating pointedly at the cloth, wringing it out and putting it up to dry. Dammit….

“Oh they had fun, all right. He's doing his job, taking care of our little brother.” At least nobody has to tell you how to take care of him… I appreciate that.

“I take it Dad gave you condoms? And the spiel?” Eren smiled and ruffled Henry’s hair, pulling him in for a hug. “If you guys need anything…. fun… just ask us, and don’t be afraid to ask, and if he comes running to one of us crying… you better hope you’re dead before I find you.” Eren kissed his cheek before moving away to wrap his arms around Levi’s shoulders. I want you to fuck me in the shower…. we haven’t done it in the shower yet… “Sarge….” Eren’s voice was high pitched as he whined. I wanna fuck.

Henry felt weirdly warm when Eren hugged him, scarlet as his cheek was kissed. He watched Eren go to cling to Levi, scurrying out of the bathroom. “I'll let you be…” I don't want to get in the middle of that… He went back into Tucker’s room, seeing the teen laying on the bed, looking morose. Fuck… Henry immediately shed his boxers and slid into bed next to him, pulling their nude bodies close under the covers. “Sorry- your brothers stopped me…” I’m here now. He softly kissed up his neck, nuzzling him. Mine.

Tucker immediately grabbed him and laid him down on the bed, curling up to his side and putting his head on his chest to listen to his heart beat. The position was comfortable and something he would always do when they napped together. I want you to hold me, I want you to sleep with me…

Henry held onto him, settling further into he bed. I’ve got you. He enjoyed the intimacy of it, falling asleep with Tucker on his chest. They dozed through the morning, Henry finally nudging Tucker around eleven. “Can we please go get something to eat?” Please?

Tucker shifted, looking up to Henry and nodding, shifting to grab his clothes from where his boxers had been ripped off. Hmm… I can wear these still… He got up to grab a shirt and pants from his closet, letting Henry watch his back. He’s not gonna hurt me…

Henry moved to pick up his own clothes, stopping Tucker wen he put on his shirt. “Here.” He helped him put on his own sweatshirt, smiling at the sight of him wearing it. “Much better.” He went to his backpack, snatching another one to wear. I’m still cold though. He wrapped him up in a hug when he was dressed, lifting him suddenly and carrying him out of the bedroom. Mine.

Tucker yelped as he was picked up, though he relaxed within a few seconds as he was carried downstairs. He’s carrying me… I could get used to this… I could really get used to it…

Henry set him down near the kitchen island, kissing his cheek. “What do you want to eat?” I can make something… In here often enough, I know where things are {Waffles.} Let’s see if he remembers sign language… Tucker waited patiently as Henry stared at him. Does he not remember anything Lathe taught him?

Henry looked at him, thinking as he raised his hands. {Okay, I’ll make waffles.} He saw Tucker’s relief as he mouthed the correct word, going to get out the cookbook and quickly flipping to the bookmarked recipe, washing his hands and setting to work. I’ll make food…
Tucker smiled and looked back at him. I know we’re trying to go to the same college… I wonder if we could get an apartment together… would Dad let us? His brows furrowed as he thought about it. It’s closer to Wichita… so we wouldn’t be able to commute….

Henry only had to search for the proper things for a moment, getting out the bowls and utensils, and all the ingredients. It was a little while before he was heating up the waffle make, getting out some cut-up strawberries from the fridge and adding sugar to some in a bowl. By the time a waffle was set on Tucker’s plate the strawberries were syrupy, setting a waffle with strawberries and powdered sugar in front of the teen. He shyly smiled, handing him a knife and fork. I hope you like it…

Tucker smiled widely. He remembered I like strawberries. He smiled softly, looking down at the food in front of him. Tucker didn’t hesitate to pick up a fork and eat happily. It tastes really good… just like Dad’s…

Henry sighed in relief as Tucker happily ate, making himself a waffle and soon sitting to eat with him, glancing over to him. “Tucker, you have some syrup there…” He leaned over and kissed his cheek, licking up the drop of sweet red juice from him before going back to his waffle as if nothing happened. I like that I'm allowed to do that now…

Tucker’s whole face was red as he paused in his eating. Did he just… holy shit, he just kissed me, and licked the syrup off my face… His hands turned shaky as he struggled to comprehend what happened. Oh fuck… I can’t…. He put his fork down before he dropped it, trying to calm himself down. Why am I so worked up over a kiss?

Henry looked over to him, worried when his hands shook. “Tucker?” He reached for him, taking gentle hold of his hands. “Are you okay? It's okay if you don't want me doing that….” It's okay…

Tucker shook his head, his face still flushed as he looked at his food. I’m fine… I don’t know why I’m so embarrassed… He took his shaking hands back, moving to grab his fork, which clinked against the plate as his hands shook. Fuck, I wanna eat…

Henry didn't know what to do, slowly shifting to wrap his arms around Tucker’s middle, resting his cheek on his shoulder. It's okay. He gently rubbed his stomach, trying to calm him. It's okay. I'm right here. I'm not going to hurt you.
Tucker let out a sharp yelp as Henry’s finger’s ran over his side, tickling him. Oh fuck! His eyes widened as he let instinct take over and shove Henry away, panic in his eyes as he got off the chair clutching his stomach region. He hadn’t even realized he did it until he noticed how far away he was from Henry. Oh shit… I freaked out again… fuck… Tucker looked down his whole body shaking from even more embarrassment. Fuck.

Henry didn’t know what to do, his expression shifting. Wait... you’re ticklish. “Did I tickle you?” He blushed as Tucker nodded shyly, chuckling and going to hug him. “Sorry…. I didn't mean to.” He could hear the very quiet shifting of floorboards behind them, looking to see Lathe leave them be as soon as Tucker hugged him back. Oh.... ...Tucker's okay... but your Dad got worried...

Tucker watched Lathe leave them be, thankful that Henry understood what he did. He shifted them back to their seats to sit down and continue eating. I wanna finish up eating...

Henry sat down again with him, going back to eating. He soon finished his huge waffle, going to rinse his plate and clean up the mess. Dad will- .....Mr. Quo... he’ll kill me if I leave a mess out...

Tucker brought up his plate once he was done and started to help. I wonder if Dad would let us? I have a bit of money saved up from my job, probably not enough for an apartment… but maybe...

Henry put away the dishes when they were dried, going to catch Tucker in a hug, his cheek on his shoulder. “...do you know what we’re doing in college?” I think about it a lot.... because I'll be relying on financial aid and stuff... I'm banking on scholarships or financial aid or god forbid student loans.... It's a big thing and I have to worry already...

Tucker looked over to him and shrugged. I have no idea, Dad said he’d pay for it... but does that include dorming? I’m not really sure...

“...okay… I'm just kinda worried.... because I have no fucking clue how I'm going to be paying for all of this... financial aid and scholarships don't cover dorm costs and there isn't a good university nearby that a commute to is feasible for… I just… I'm worried…” I don't know how I'll pull it off... I have to get a degree, I won't last if I don't....

Hmm… I’ll have to ask Dad one of these nights... {I get it, you’re worried, and you don’t want to have Kevin worry about it.}
“I don’t … he worries about enough, and even then we wouldn't have nearly enough even with everyone combined… and Greg is starting next year and that's something we’re already feeling…” There aren’t ever any snacks in the house anymore…. and Brett has been complaining because he’ll get the munchies and he won't have anything to eat… “I'm just really worried…” I don’t know how the fuck it's going to work...

Tucker nodded, shifting to hold onto Henry. “We’ll think of something.” His voice was rough and weak, leaning his head against his chest, listening to his heartbeat. We’ll think of something, I know we will.
Chapter 126: Move In

Levi let Mila and the dogs loose in the new home, looking over the newly painted walls, some of the furniture in the living room already in place. We still need the bookshelf, the two end tables, the ottoman…. the curio cabinet too… Levi went to get another box from their car, unpacking the new sets of kitchen utensils and pans. *Lots of new everything… I really like the plates and silverware we got…. He set them in a cabinet, pulling out one piece that was wrapped extra carefully in tissue paper. Levi unwrapped the old yellow mug, the sketches of trains all over it. Dad said we could have this… he wanted us to. He tucked it away on the shelf, smiling faintly. It looks nice there… He shut the cabinet door, looking around at the piles of non perishables still in bags around the kitchen. …it's expensive to furnish a house…. not just with furniture, but with all your basic ingredients, spices, food, towels, blankets…. light bulbs, foil, everything… ...it's insane. Levi looked down as Krampus nudged his foot, kneeling down and hugging the dog. “Hello.” He let him lick his cheek, leaning back after a minute. He likes hugs, apparently. He's always so happy when Mila gives him hugs, and he begs everyone for them now… “You're not getting into trouble, are you?” An innocent stare. *Yeah, right. “O-Kay.” I completely believe you.*

Eren carried in another box from their car and set it on the island where Levi was unpacking things. “You know we could’ve ordered food for dinner and gone shopping tomorrow?” After we dropped Mila off at daycare… He watched as Krampus looked up at him, curious. “You can get a hug if you're good….”

“I didn't want the first thing we ate in our new home to be takeout… and besides, as soon as we’re done unpacking the kitchen I'll get a roast in the oven….” He stood, going to hug Eren, kissing his cheek. “It sounds better to me than Chinese….” Dad let us have a shit ton of recipes… which is good, because I've wanted to have lamb again for a while, and it's a special day…

Eren rolled his eyes. “At least I married a good cook…. where’s Mila?” Don't tell me you let her run off? He pulled away from Levi, looking around the large living room for her, and towards the backyard. He sighed as he saw her outside with Maisie, a sigh of relief leaving him, Blake having joined them outside as well. Well she’s got good dogs with her…

“She has natural babysitters… and it’s fenced in, so she'll be okay. They're good dogs.” He smiled, kissing his neck. “And we’re almost there, but thank you.” I'm glad I don't suck at cooking…

“Yeah, But there’s a pool in the backyard and she doesn’t know how to swim….?” That’s the part that I’m worried about, though Maisie is keeping her distracted pretty well. He sighed and moved to go and grab yet another box from the car. My god, how did we fit all this in the car!?

“Okay, good point…” He and Eren moved to the backyard, opening the door. “Maisie? Mila?”
Levi went to catch Mila, grateful when Maisie started to guide Mila over. “We can play outside later, Honey. You can have fun inside.” You really should be supervised… Levi took off Mila’s shoes, letting her free inside, Blake tiredly ambling inside as well. Levi knelt down to give the dog a hug when he quietly whined, watching his tail slowly wag. You’re really getting old…

Eren sighed in relief when Mila was inside, grabbing another box, then going back to get the last and take it upstairs to their room. This one is our toys that we brought… and thank god we already put the beds together, I made sure that that was done first, that way we can unpack until we need to go to bed…

Levi donned an apron and got to work getting out the ingredients for lamb, getting it in the oven and setting the internal temperature of the meat thermometer. This thing has a probe so it’ll yell when the meat’s done… which is great… after how easy they made making dinner at home I demanded we get an oven that had one. Levi then set to stocking the pantry, organizing cans and jars, filling bins with potatoes, onions and garlic, and organizing the baking goods. He filled a ceramic jar with sugar and set it on the counter next to a butter cup. It's coming together… He set a pot of water on the stove to boil, preparing asparagus as well. Eren doesn't really like asparagus, but I kinda love it… and Mila likes it with a little lemon… Levi soon had peeled potato chunks boiling, fussing over the stove as Mila ran around. He turned and scooped her up the second she came into the kitchen, sweeping her back into the living room. “Daddy’s cooking, honey, just stay out here for now, okay? Play with the doggies.” He smiled as she looked over to Blake, sitting down and petting him. Good. He went back to the kitchen, working. The lamb had been in the oven two hours before it was finally done, Levi lifting it out and tenting it. Done. He hung up his apron, the mashed potatoes and asparagus done, a plate of stuffed mushrooms sitting under foil, extra lamb sauce in a small dish. “Mila?” Levi smiled as she ran to him, catching her and heaving her up. “Hey honey. Dinner’s ready.” Levi kissed her cheek, going to the stairs. “Eren?” He called upstairs, his eyes bright. I made dinner… He came upstairs when he didn't hear a reply, wandering into the bedroom. He sighed with a faint smile as he saw Eren curled up on top of the covers, still in his clothes with a box of clothes open beside him, a pile of shirts next to him. Oh… He took out his phone and took a picture, going to gently shake him awake. “Honey? Dinner’s ready. You can sleep again after you eat.” You’ll want to eat… it's a very nice dinner…

Eren blearily blinked as he shifted to sit up, rubbing at his eyes as he yawned. “M’kay….” I guess I can wake up to eat… it smells really nice… He looked over to Levi, a smile on his face as he leaned over to kiss him. “I love you…” I’m really happy…

Levi smiled, reaching up and softly kissing Eren for a long moment, nipping his nose. “Come on, before anything gets cold.” He held his hand as they went downstairs, setting Mila in her high chair, pulling out Eren’s chair for him. The food was already set out on the table, Levi reaching to fix a small plate for Mila. She can eat most of what’s out, and it's lot of vegetables… He cut up a piece of meat into very small pieces, tender enough for her to chew. I think you'll like it… you're not too picky…

Eren skirted around the table, looking around for the food bowls for the four dogs. He grabbed their dog food, filling each bowl and calling for them to come and eat. They get to eat too. He smiled softly, shifting to sit down between the other two, making sure Mila ate. This is nice, with just the three of us, kinda lonely but... we’ll get used to it.

Levi sat down with them, glad they Mila nibbled a piece of mushroom and filling before giggling happily. She likes it, thank god... He and Eren both had wine glasses, sipping from it occasionally, the quiet feeling strange. ...we’ll get used to the quiet. And soon we’ll have foster kids to worry about... ...hopefully it won't be so quiet for too long.

Eren shifted as his phone started to go off, his brow furrowing as he ignored it the first time, before it went off once more. Who’s trying to call me? I don’t wanna go and get it, but it’s annoying.

Levi quirked an eyebrow. “You can get it... I wanna know who it is.” Who'd be calling you? Besides Dad or Mom...

Eren nodded going to walk upstairs and get his phone. He opened it up answering the call when he saw Jessie’s contact. “Hello?”

“Hi Eren! I’m not bothering anything am I?”

“No, you’re fine, Jessie, what’s wrong?” Why are you calling me?

“Oh nothing’s wrong... actually something good is happening.”

Eren’s eyes widened as he heard her. Is she.... “Are you....” Are you pregnant?

“Just finished the pregnancy test, and it came back positive...”

Eren’s eyes widened as he felt tears line in his eyes. “Do you mean....?” Please tell me it’s mine.

“In 8-9 months you’ll have another little one...”

Eren couldn’t believe the joy that he felt rush through his body. He thanked her profusely before... racing down the stairs and moving right to Levi’s side and kissing him passionately, not caring that he made him put his utensils down. That can wait.. I’m so happy.

Levi set his utensils down when Eren suddenly kissed him, letting him shift into his lap. He broke their kiss, breathless. “Wh-What was that for?” Why’re you so happy?

“You’re gonna be a father again.” Eren said, happily bouncing in his lap. He turned his head kissing up Levi’s jaw, happy tears running down his face as he waited for Levi to finally understand. We’re gonna have another little kid!

Levi paused, smiling slowly when it clicked. “...Jessie’s....” He held onto Eren tightly when he nodded, going to kiss him deeply, cupping his jaw. Oh my god...

Eren didn’t hesitate, not caring that Mila could’ve very well been watching them. I don’t care... I’m so fucking happy right now.

Levi held Eren close, the two of them making out for a long moment before he broke their kiss, softly pecking his cheek. “We can celebrate some more later, love...” He smirked, gently shooing Eren from his lap. Don’t worry. He gasped as he felt Eren firmly grasp him through his pants, still as Eren slowly moved his hand. “Eren… please, Mila’s right there...”...and ah kinda wanna finish dinner... “A-After dinner...” Please...

Eren nodded, kissing Levi’s cheek before sitting down in his seat again. I’m so happy, at least we don’t have much more unpacking to do... Thank god, we can break in our room.

He looked up when Eren moved, seeing Mila staring at the with wide eyes. “Mila, your Daddy and your Mumma love each other very much....” He leaned over and kissed Eren’s cheek again, looking over her plate. “Do you like dinner, honey?” Your plate is almost empty.

Mila shifted and nodded, picking a few asparagus spears and lifting the pieces to her mouth. I like dis...

“That’s good. Do you want more?” You’re probably still hungry. Levi took another sip of wine, watching Mila make a face, trying to decide. Are you hungry, or not? A big question.

“More?” Mila asked quietly, putting her fork down and waiting for more. Can I has more? I want more food. I is hungry…!

Levi smiled, taking her plate and cutting up more pieces of everything, setting it down for her again. A little more of everything. He sat down again, looking over Eren as he went back to eating. ...I wonder if you'll like what I got us for the secret room…. I hope you aren't freaked out too much by it… I'm planning on being careful introducing it to you, but I'm hoping you like it… you should... Levi soon set down an empty wine glass, his plate clear, feeling warm. I want you…….it is set up upstairs… I had it brought upstairs early today… and you haven't said a word about it, so I doubt you went in there and saw it… hm. Levi stood with his empty plate, going to rinse things and fill the dishwasher, storing leftovers. I'll be nice to future us and clean up...

Eren picked up his own finished plate and his glass of wine giving Levi his plate with a peck on the cheek. He leaned back against the counter, watching Mila eat. A smirk grew on his face as he reached down to grab at Levi's crotch again while Mila wasn’t looking, sipping from his wine in his other hand. I wanna get handsy with you before we do anything in our bedroom... I still need to put away the rest of the shirts and things.

Levi stopped when Eren’s hand gripped his crotch, letting out a slow breath. “...you bastard…” He muttered under his breath at him, trying to continue to work. Fuck...

Eren only chuckled, rubbing his hand against Levi’s large bulge. I want you to jump on me again like you did after you proposed to me... That night… that I would like to do again… I wonder if he would fuck me in the shower too? Eren hummed as he continued to fondle him, getting bold and unzipping Levi’s pants enough to reach into them.

Levi stopped what he was doing, grateful that the leftovers were already away when he put down the plate in the sink, shutting off the water. “Eren… let’s put Mila to bed, hm?” Levi looked over Eren with dark eyes, hunger in his orbs. I need you... I'd fuck you over the counter if Mila wasn’t there...

Eren’s smirk widened behind his wine glass. “She’s still eating, Levi… Let the girl eat.” He murmured, moving his hand to stroke his length inside of his pants. I want to see how long you can last with this temptation.

Levi gripped the edge of the sink, sighing deeply as he was stroked to full hardness. Oh fuck… Levi couldn't stand it, moving to drag Eren just out of sight, pushing him against a wall. “You're being very naughty, Eren…” Levi gasped when his length was squeezed, his head falling on his shoulder. Fuck...
“Hmm, am I being naughty? I thought I was being nice... But since I’m not being nice, I guess I’ll stop.” Eren squeezed his length one more time before he shifted away from him and went back to the kitchen to help Mila clean up, leaving Levi alone. “All done Mila?” He watched her nod, picking up her dishes, setting them in the sink and then picking her up to take her upstairs. Wonder how long he’ll stay there?

Levi needed a long minute to calm down, tucking himself in and going upstairs after Eren took Mila to their bedroom. He came in, seeing Eren setting a clean Mila in her crib, smiling when he kissed her head. He too went to give Mila a kiss, soon turning to Eren. “…I must admit… that was rather nice…” Levi pulled him flush, murmuring in his ear. “…perhaps you deserve a reward… ...would you maybe like to see how our our little bunny den is furnished?” It's rather nice, I think…

Eren’s eyes widened a bit. “Hmm… We need to put the rest of our clothes away first, okay?” He asked softly a small smile on his face as he tried to hide his slight fear. You already furnished the room!? When! I don’t remember you even going up there! ..... I’m... I’m kinda scared.

Levi nodded, kissing his cheek. “Don’t worry, I know you'll like it.” I really hope so… I was careful when I picked it all out... Levi helped Eren hang up the clothes that were strewn around, stowing in drawers the ones that didn’t require hanging up. Soon Mila’s clothes were all organized the way she’d want, Levi looking to Eren and pulling him flush, holding him. “…are you ready?” He murmured quietly. “We’ll go as slow as you want with things, remember that.”

“Y-Yeah… S-Slow though…” Eren nodded, shivering as Levi’s hand ran up and down his back. Yeah… I can do this… I can be okay with this.

Levi nodded, slowly pulling him with to the bookshelf, tipping the small statue forward until the bookcase very easily slid aside. He paused, letting Eren take in the scene. The hardwood floor was switched for a rich cream carpet, the walls painted warm scarlet with a soft yellow light overhead. In the center of the small room was a bed at hip height, plush and red, curving in a way that coaxed the legs apart and the head to tip back and relax. The metal stand wasn’t overly obvious, the bolts into the floor hidden by a piece of metal. A large chest, also at his height, was pushed against the far wall, padded and plush with a red top and black box. The top had it’s own curve, a bed on top of the storage. Levi didn't try to push Eren inside, holding onto him and waiting for him to take it in. It's okay... you can go in when you think you can...

Eren peered in, surprised with the area’s warm feel to it. Oh.... oh wow... His curiosity spurred him to continue looking into the room. What is this... It looks homey... Like you should live in this room... But that certainly doesn’t look like you should live with it... Eren was curious, and slow as he approached the bed at hip height, looking it over. You could fuck on this...

Levi let Eren wander in slowly, looking over him as he inspected the bed. “It's really rather comfortable…” He reached for Eren’s waist, gently lifting him up and settling him on the small bed. His hips fell exactly in the dip of the bed, his legs naturally falling apart and dangling off the end at the knee. His back gently curved with the bed, his head on the small cushioned headrest.

“...how does it feel?” It looks like a perfect fit…

Eren looked at Levi as he was lifted with wide eyes, a small gasp leaving him as he sat back into the comfortable seat. Oh wow… This is… This is really nice… He blushed furiously as he noticed his legs spread and the space between them big enough for Levi to come right to his crotch. Oh my god… It’s the perfect height. He couldn’t help the instant spark of arousal that made his length jump in his pants. Oh fuck… I think… I think I’d be okay with this…

Levi looked over him, smirking when he saw his bulge grow. “You like it? I looked everywhere for something nice…” Levi stepped easily between where Eren’s legs were spread, the bed going out to Eren’s knees, a cutout letting him go right up to Eren’s hips. “It’s so perfect…” He gently ground their hips together, watching Eren’s head fall back. “It came with some other things too…. there are all kinds of straps and things to hold your arms and feet too… we won't use those right away…” Levi turned to make sure the door was shut behind them, a baby monitor sitting on one of the shelves on their side. Just in case… He turned back to Eren, easily bending over to make their chests flush, kissing up his neck. “I just want you to get familiar with it… because I'd hate to let something like this go to waste… especially if it makes you look like that without even trying …” Legs spread, back beautifully arched, head back, hard… fuck, perfect. Levi gently rested his hands on Eren’s thighs, teasing near his crotch.

Eren’s blush flourished all the way up his ears. Oh my god… He shifted, trying to grind back but realizing that it was difficult with his knees hanging off the edge. Oh… he’s in control of me… I think… I think that could work… Eren nodded hurriedly as he felt Levi’s hands on his thighs near his crotch. I want you, and this bed would make it so easy …

Levi smirked, softly kissing up his neck. “Good…” He let go of him, beginning to strip as he walked over to the shelving on their side, retrieving a bottle of lube and condoms. He was shirtless when he came back to Eren’s side, setting them down next to him and helping Eren sit up. He pulled his shirt up and over his head, tossing it aside and going to hold onto him, sucking marks onto his neck. I’ll be gentle this first time… I want you to like this.

Eren watched, his eyes following Levi’s movement as he stripped his shirt off and then came back with lube and condoms. He smiled as Levi helped with his shirt, feeling his arms wrap around his waist and hold him up. Soft sighs left him as Levi made marks on his skin, his legs spreading to the very edge of the leg rests. Fuck his mouth feels really good, I’m so hard and he’s barely touched me… “Hmm, Levi…” You can do more…

Levi left a dark mark on his neck, gently easing him back down and reaching for his pants. He unbuttoned them, slipping them off and dropping them on the floor. He looked over Eren’s naked body, his length flushed on his stomach. “Beautiful…” Levi dipped down, sucking lightly on Eren’s tip, teasingly licking his slit. I love this.

Eren’s eyes widened and he watched with surprise as Levi licked his tip and sucked on it. “Oh fuck…. Levi…” Goddamit, it feels really fucking good, and I can't tell if it’s because I’m extra aroused or not… He felt his length twitch from just the thought of Levi fucking him on this bed of sorts. I want it, I wanna get fucked…

Levi smirked as he felt him twitch, coming off of him. “Someone’s excited…” He moved to shed his own jeans, looking over his body. God, I'm really glad I decided to risk it and get this… Levi kicked his jeans and boxers away, reaching for the lube. He soon had a slick finger circling his hole, easily able with the new space to take his length into his mouth as he slid a finger into his heat. I hope this feels good…

Eren’s head rolled back along with his eyes as he felt Levi’s finger enter him. Shit, there was basically no resistance… I’m getting looser… fuck. He let his back arch and follow the curve of the bed, watching Levi’s motions carefully, a shudder running through him as he felt warm heat encase his length. Oh fuck me, he’s gonna want me to cum a lot…

Levi loosened Eren, able to fit in a second finger with barely any effort. “You’re beautiful…” Levi nipped at his base, watching precum leak from his slit. “Do I need to get out a cock ring for you?” I can't have you cumming so soon….

Eren’s eyes widened, watching Levi look up at him with dark eyes. “I-I’d r-rather not…..” Not right now…. this is our first time on this… I don't want to use any toys… His eyes were pleading with him silent, a tinge of fear that he would put it on him anyways.

Levi nodded, kissing his tip. “Of course….” Levi scissored him slowly, gently sucking on his tip. You taste wonderful.

Eren shifted a bit, slowly getting more comfortable with his lower legs hanging off of the edge. It still kinda feels weird… He watched with dark eyes as Levi sucked his tip and scissored his hole, feeling a shudder run up his spine as his fingers brushed near his prostate. Fuck… That felt good…

Levi teased him as he was stretched, a third finger slowly entering him. He rubbed around his prostate in circles, smirking as Eren moaned breathily. You sound wonderful…
Eren let out breathy moans and small curses as he felt Levi’s fingers circle around his prostate, but not directly touch it. Oh fuck… Hurry up Levi… I want you to fuck me, shit… I’m so hard. “Levi… I wanna get fucked…” I really want it…

Levi chuckled softly, kissing his tip. “I know…” He opened him a bit further, finally slipping his hand from his warmth. He reached for a condom and the lube, soon gripping his hips and letting his tip brush his entrance. “What was it you wanted again, Eren? You’ll have to tell me…” I want to hear you say it…

Eren’s eyes were full of lust as he looked at Levi. “Fuck me… please, I want your hard cock…” I want it now…

Levi gave him a dark look, sinking into him in one motion. Fuck, you’re tight… and so warm… “Oh fuck…” Levi moaned softly, leaning down to kiss and lick at Eren’s neck as he adjusted. I love it…

Eren let out a soft cry as Levi sheathed himself in one go. Oh my god… It… it feels so fucking good. “F-Fuck me, Levi… please…” I want it… His voice was high as he shifted around, trying to get Levi as deep as possible.

Levi gripped his hips, gently grinding further into him. “Fuck… Eren…” Levi looked over him. “You want it hard?” He watched Eren fervently nod, snapping his hips into him once and listening to him cry out. “Like that?” I want you to really beg for it…

“Yes, please, Sarge… I want you to fuck me… Fuck me really good, I’ve been a bad Private.” Please tell me that’ll get me what I want… I want you to really go at me, please.

Levi smirked, his eyes dark. “I won't stand for any insubordination, Private…” Levi held his knees, lifting them up and wider apart. He snapped forward into Eren’s heat, beginning a brutal pace. I'll make sure you can't stand right for a week…

Eren’s eyes widened as he felt Levi thrust into him with brutal force, a loud moan leaving him. His back arched more, his head against the headrest as his toes curled instantly. “Oh fuck, Sarge! Fuck me there!” Eren’s shout was loud as he felt Levi ran him right on those sweet bundle of nerves, making him see stars. Holy shit! It feels… oh my god…

Thank god this little room is soundproof… Levi thrusted harder into him, holding him apart as he fucked into him. “Don't you dare cum, Private. Not until I say.” Levi looked over him, his length flushed and bouncing on his stomach. God… that's hot…

Eren’s cries grew in volume as he struggled to hold off the building tension in his lower abdomen. The sensation of pleasure running up his spine and spreading throughout his entire being. “Sarge…” He whined as he looked at him with pleading eyes. “I wanna cum… I really wanna cum.”

“Hmm…” Levi pretended to ponder it, setting down one leg and wrapping his hand around Eren’s length, squeezing his base. “Do you really?” He chuckled darkly as Eren whimpered, going to quickly stroke him, knowing he wasn’t far behind. “Then cum…”

Eren’s eyes widened as he was stroked quickly, letting out moan after moan in quick succession. Oh my god… It feels so good… “F-Fuck… Levi!” He cried out as his whole body clenched, his orgasm taking over and making his body shake. Holy shit, my ass is gonna hurt a lot… Shit… But it felt so good, it was worth it.

Levi moaned as Eren clenched around him, gasping as he came inside of him. “Oh fuck…” He was breathless as he fucked Eren through their orgasms, letting down his leg and bending over to kiss all over Eren’s jaw and cheeks, his hands running over him, his voice full of quiet praise. That was wonderful…

Eren shifted a bit, letting his back rest against the bed, a soft sigh leaving him as he felt Levi’s hands all over him and rubbing at his muscles. “That felt great…” Fuck I’m tired… He felt exhaustion hit him like truck, his chest heaving. “Fuck Levi, can we take a bath?” Please, I wanna get clean… and use the big tub.

“Of course… you deserve a nice hot bath…” Levi pulled out of him, picking him up and opening the door. He gently set him on the bed, tugging a sheet over him while he went to start their bath and toss out his condom. You’re probably exhausted… Levi came back to get him, cradling him to his chest and bringing him to the bathroom. He gently set him in the tub, slipping in with him and letting the jets turn on low. This'll feel nice…

Eren groaned as he felt the warmth incase him, leaning back into Levi’s arms. “Hmm… That felt really, really good… I-I think I’m going to enjoy that room Levi.” His voice was soft as he rested his head back on Levi’s shoulder, closing his eyes as he relaxed. I wonder if he will massage me…

Levi smiled softly, his arms wrapping around him. “Do you feel okay? Does anything hurt?” I can help however I can…
“Hmm… Can you rub my back? Near my hips?” I know it’s gonna be sore for a while, but I might as well be prepared for it.

Levi nodded, going to gently kiss Eren’s neck as he went for his hips, his thumbs carefully digging into the meat of his hips, hearing Eren groan. Hopefully you won't be out of commission tomorrow…

Eren let Levi dig his thumbs into his supple flesh, trying to be quiet, as not to wake up Mila. “Shit, I’m gonna have bruises for a week, that table is both good and bad for my health.” He chuckled, looking back at him as he sighed when Levi rubbed a particular knot out of his lower back. That feels much better.

Levi carefully worked out the knots of tension in his muscles, letting Eren rest his head back on his shoulder as he worked. “Feeling better?” He chuckled when he simply heard a soft contented sigh, his hands leaving his hips when Eren turned boneless in his arms. He reached for the bottles of shampoo that had already been set out, going to lather Eren’s hair, his fingers playing with the hair at the nape of his neck, keeping the bubbles out of his eyes.

Eren let out repeated soft sighs as he relaxed, Levi taking care of him. “This is… this is nice…” He mumbled tiredly, letting Levi do as he pleased at the moment. Shit, my back is starting to hurt again… I’m getting too old to do this shit…

Levi washed Eren, rinsing him of the soap and conditioning his hair as well. He let him relax against his chest as he washed himself as well, dunking his head under the water to rinse. Good. He smiled as he saw Eren’s sleepy expression, helping him out of the tub and drying him off, soon settling him into bed and slipping in next to him. You must be exhausted…

Eren immediately snuggled up to his side a happy smile on his face as he draped himself over Levi’s pale skin. “Hmm… mine.” He muttered possessively, a sweet smile on his face.

Levi pulled him flush, enjoying the warmth. “Mm, you're warm.” Levi enjoyed the feeling of their bare skin completely flush, nuzzling into his shoulder. I like this. He felt heavy, drifting to sleep after a short while. Mine…
Chapter 127: A Death in the Family

Chapter Summary

I'm only kinda sorry

~Duke

The days went on, the house soon filling with their things, online shopping carts still full of things they were pondering getting. Levi was waiting around with other EMTs later, bored to death. There hasn't been anything for a few hours... and that's good because it means nobody's been mutilated lately, but I'm bored as hell... He jumped as his phone rang, immediately picking up. “Eren?”

What's up?

Eren was completely hysterical on the other line, tears and shouts barely made understandable. THERE’S BLOOD EVERYWHERE AND HE’S NOT MOVING!!!

Levi immediately stood, suddenly scared. “Eren, what's wrong? Please, calm down a little and tell me, please!” Oh shit... what happened??

“Come home....” There’s so much fucking blood! He stopped moving. “Nononononono! BLAKE!!!”

Levi was stunned as Eren shouted, sounding frantic. “I'm coming home, Eren, I'm coming home. I'll be there soon, please, just stay calm!” Fuck.... it's time... Levi stowed his phone away and looked to the others with him, all of them nodding to him. ...fuck... He immediately left, running back to his car. I have to get home... He jumped into his car, going as fast as he could to get home. He was shocked to see Eren in the street, holding Blake, another car stopped nearby. He parking in their cul de sac and jumped out, running to their side. “Eren, is he....” Is he still alive?

Eren looked up with tears in his eyes as a bloody hand continued to groom through Blake’s fur. He shook his head, sobbing even more as the fact became obviously clear. No, he’s not alive anymore... my dog was killed... He’s not alive anymore...

Levi felt his chest squeeze, reaching to very gently pet the dog. “...we love you, Blake...” He looked up as Eren shook with sobs, reaching for his phone. You need Dad... He called him, glad when he quickly picked up. “Dad? Blake, uhm... he got hit by a car... we need you here... we’re just outside the new house.... can you please come?”
“...oh my god... I'll be right there, don't worry.”

Levi hung up, going to gently cup Eren’s cheek with his other hand. “It's okay, Eren… was he still alive when you found him?” I really hope he at least died in your arms… if he had to… it would be better to be with someone you love…

Eren could only nod as he cried heavily, trying to pick Blake up and get him out of the street, the pool of blood under Blake finally visible. He... The car didn’t even stop for him… he was trailing along from our walk, and they just ran him over… He made such a horrific noise...

Levi looked up as he heard a sound, seeing the car that had pulled over start to drive away. “The fuck?!” He immediately picked up his phone, quickly moving to take pictures, getting the license plate. What the fuck. He didn’t have the energy to go after them, going to help Eren move Blake from the street onto the grass. He gently petted him, hugging Eren with his other arm as the man broke down. You loved Blake… you’ve had him for as long as Dad’s been your Dad… it’s been a very long time… Levi tried to keep him calm, glad when Lathe suddenly came around the corner on his motorcycle, quickly parking and tearing off his helmet.

Lathe looked crushed when he saw the pool of blood in the street, going over to where Eren was sobbing and kneeling next to him, hugging him and burying a hand in his hair. “Eren, it’s okay, I’m here… I’m so, so sorry…” ....Blake was so good for you… you loved him, and he loved you too.

Eren was inconsolable, holding onto Lathe, not caring that his hands were covered in blood, and leaving the red evidence all over them. He’s… he’s… he’s gone ... and he won’t come back. Why won’t he come back!? Eren continued to cry as he soon shifted to lay down right beside Blake, curling up to the stiff body and clutching him close, tears streaming down his face. “Blake… Blake come back buddy…. come back to me… please ….”

Lathe felt his face burn as he started to cry, watching Eren curling up to Blake, sniffling. “Eren…” Lathe gently carded a hand through Eren’s hair, one hand gently reaching to pet behind one of Blake’s ears, still soft and floppy, ...fuck... “...I’m so sorry Eren…” Lathe looked over them, his voice quiet. “...I miss him too...” ...at least he got a hug the last time I saw him...

“Blake… Blake come back… please… wake up…. wake up Blake…” please! I need you back! Eren’s fingers were starting to spasm, as he struggled to pet Blake’s stiffening body. Mikhail immediately coming close to them, but not daring to take over Blake’s spot next to Eren.
Lathe laid down next to him, hugging Eren from behind. “I'm so sorry, Eren… he's been there for you for so long… he's done so many good things for you… you've had him almost as long as I've had you as my son… ...he's had a good life. We loved him as much as we could while we could. I'm sure that he was happy to at least have you here with him when he died. If he remembers anything wherever he is, I'm sure it'll be how much you loved him, and how much he loved you.”

He always cared about you… at some point it stopped just being his job and started being his nature…

Eren shook his head. “He’s coming back! He needs to come back! I want Blake back… I want him back… he’s coming back…. come on Blake… wake up.” Eren began crying horribly as he tried to shake Blake’s stiff body to life. He needs to!

Lathe reached for his hands, he and Levi going to gently bury his hands in his fur, gentle. “I'm so sorry, honey…. I'm so, so sorry…” He's not coming back… Lathe gently pet Blake with him, curling up with him. “I'm so sorry…” It'll be okay… it hurts so much right now and it will for a while… but you'll be okay soon…

Eren shook his head extensively. “No!! Blake! Come back!” He shouted shaking Blake’s still body, his fingers continuing to lock fully and his arms beginning to spasm as he started to freak out. No! I want Blake!

Lathe held onto Eren tightly, keeping him still as his panic attack began. “Honey, please, I'm so sorry, but Blake is gone… he loved you while he could, but it was time for him to go. As terribly as that time came, it had to. He's up in heaven now, or wherever it is that good dogs go, and he's happy. It's okay to be sad, and it's okay to be angry, but he can't come back. But wherever he is, he'll be waiting for you…. it'll be a long time, but he'll be waiting. We have so many pictures and happy memories. But he was old and he slept so much…. it was time.” He was going to any day…. it had been getting hard to ignore that.

Eren shook his head, trying to fight off Lathe weakly. “No! Blake! I want Blake!” I want him! I want him to wake up! I want him to be alive, and to cuddle! I don’t want him to go. Eren’s screams and cries were already starting to attract neighbors out of their houses to investigate. I want Blake!

Lathe tried to calm Eren down, shifting him a bit closer to Blake and letting him bury his nose in his clean fur, the scent of Blake seeming to calm him down somewhat. Lathe gently pet his hair, his voice gentle. “…he loves you, Eren. Wherever he is, he still loves you… he loves you so much… it'll take a long, long time, but sometime you'll be able to be with him again.” ….It's a nice thought… ...I kinda hope so.

Eren took awhile but soon enough his cries quieted, though his panic attack was still in full swing, his fingers locked in odd positions and his whole body shaking. I want him back… I want him back.
He didn’t realize he was moved until Levi was holding him and carrying him towards the house, Lathe picking up Blake and heading towards the backyard with him. I want Blake… where’s…. where’s Dad taking him…

Lathe gently picked up Blake, bringing him to the backyard through the gate and gently setting him on the grass near the back of their yard. …here? He turned, seeing Levi helping Eren walk into the backyard. The man sniffled, rubbing his eyes with his sleeve. “…..is here okay?” I can get a shovel… Lathe knelt next to the dog, gently petting him. …I miss you already…

Eren immediately nodded, moving to sit down right by Blake and pet him. “Y-Yeah…” Yeah, it’s okay, we’re not giving this house up… I don’t care what you say Levi… even if it's destroyed in a tornado… we’re coming back to get him….

Lathe nodded, standing. “I can go home and get a trench shovel… make something to hold him real quick…. if you want….” We have wooden board… I can make him something…

Eren immediately nodded, shifting to put Blake’s head in his lap and let his hands run through Blake’s fur as he started to cry all over again. I want him to come back… but he’s not… he’s gone…

Lathe nodded, gently hugging Eren. “…I’ll be back soon with something nice for him…” Lathe kissed his cheek, looking up as Levi knelt next to Eren, hugging him and leaning his cheek on his shoulder. He could see how glassy his eyes were, his expression morose. Lathe kissed his cheek too, giving him a small smile before standing and leaving them for the time being. I want this to be nice for him… Lathe looked over what he had created nearly two hours later, a wooden coffin with hinges, simple with a flat top. it's too plain… He reached for a cup on the wall and plucked out a sharpie, starting to doodle. Blake’s name in neat letters, surrounded by little accents and flowers. ……… Lathe went inside, going upstairs to the sewing room. He rifled through a small stack of quilts, pulling one out covered in red, brown, and gold patterns. this one… He folded it up, bringing it downstairs and setting it inside the wooden box. He carried it to his car along with a shovel, going back to get a different shirt, a black button-up. He stopped on the way back to their house, arriving with the box, flowers piled on top, and a small sapling. He set the box down before getting the small tree, picking up the shovel. He was silent as he started to dig, Levi and Eren still there, laying down with Blake. It took a long time, though a large pile of dirt grew, finally big enough and deep enough for the box. He set the shovel down, looking to Levi and Eren, the brunette still breathing in Blake’s scent. “Eren… honey…” He knelt down with them, one hand resting on Blake’s head. It's time to say goodbye…

Eren shook his head, holding onto Blake tighter. “I don’t wanna let go of him…. why can’t he be okay?” *Why? Why can’t he be with me still. And curl up next to me on the couch…. and die of old “...I'm sorry... but sometimes bad things happen to good people... and good dogs... It would have been so much better for him to go without any pain and just fall asleep warm and surrounded by family... but if something like this was going to happen... at least he had somewhere there to be with him when he was hurting. All we can do now is say goodbye, tell them how much we love them, and then give him a place to rest. It's all we can do for him now. But we've always told him how much we loved him when he was still alive... we didn't let him forget. I'm sure he'll remember that.” Somewhere, he knows he's loved. Lathe leaned down to kiss Blake’s head, stopping when Levi slowly shifted. The noirette gently played with Blake’s ear, giving his head a kiss. ...we’ll all miss you... Lathe moved to get the quilt, gently wrapping Blake up and lifting him into his coffin. They all gave him one last pet before shutting the lid, the clasps on it shutting very tightly. They all very gently lowered it into the hole, all of them crumbling a handful of dirt over the top before Lathe picked up the shovel again, filling it in in somber silence as Eren sobbed in Levi’s arms. He planted the sapling just at the head of his grave, patting down the dirt and setting the stone down. The flowers rested over the top of the dirt patch, all three of them sitting in a quiet pile for a while, holding each other. I'm so sorry....

Eren was quiet as he curled into Levi’s arms. “Can we... can we go see Charlie?” I wanna lay down on Charlie... and I wanna calm down... I wanna lay down with Charlie... and cry myself to sleep... Eren’s head pounded from all the crying he’d done for the past few hours. I miss him already...

Levi nodded, slowly standing with him. “Okay...” You always feel better when you're with Charlie... it helps when you're upset... Levi looked over as Lathe picked up the shovel, looking worn. ...he looks so much older than we is... “...thanks, Dad...” You did a lot for him...

Lathe gave him a tired smile. “...He deserved something nice.” He did... he was a very good companion for Eren for a very long time... Lathe let them lock the door and walked with them to the front, putting the shovel in the back as Levi settled Eren into the passenger’s seat of their car. It was a quiet drive, Lathe not even bothering to turn the radio on as Levi and Eren followed in their car. ......he's gone. Lathe parked, going to give Eren and Levi a soft kiss before they went to the back. “Stay for dinner tonight.” I'll make something homey....

Eren nodded, clinging to Levi to be able to walk, his legs shaky. Fuck, my legs feel like jello... and I'm probably gonna fall asleep on top of Charlie... He was thankful that Levi could help him along, and help him up onto Charlie’s back when they got to the stable, Mikhail having followed them there, and currently sitting by Levi’s feet. Eren sighed as the warmth from Charlie’s body flooded into his front, a soft sigh leaving him as fresh tears formed once more. Fuck... I miss him...

Charlie let Eren lay down on his back, turning his head and looking back to him, whimpering quietly. You're crying... He looked down to Mikhail, he and the dog sharing a look. I'll let him be sad… he needs to be upset and cry sometimes… being happy all the time can't be done…

Levi gently patted Charlie’s nose, letting him out into the yard. You can meander around… Eren just needs to be with you right now. He looked over at Dawnstar, the horse straining their neck for him. Hm? He came over, chuckling quietly as they thrust their head into his chest. “Okay, okay.” He gave in and gave Dawnstar pets, his mind slowly wandering. ….I'm really going to miss him.

Eren was woken by a shrill cry, panic setting in immediately as he snapped his eyes open. Mila! He looked up to see Levi carrying him, and the familiar surroundings of Lathe’s house. Oh, we’re at Dad’s… wait! He looked up as Ieva walked up to them with a crying Andy in her arms. Oh… it’s just Andy… He heaved a sigh in relief, looking back to Levi. “I-I think I can walk now…”

Levi nodded, setting him carefully down and letting him lean on him as they walked. “Dad made burger bombs…” It's been a long time since we had them… “And pigs in blankets, potato wedges, mac n’ cheese…” Comfort food…

Eren smiled softly as he settled against Levi’s side, slowly making it to the long table and seeing the expanse of comfort food. “Thanks Dad.” His voice weak and rough as he rubbed at his red and puffy eyes. I really appreciate this…

Lathe smiled to him, handing them plates. “Of course… do you want tea, or something else?” I'll get you things…

“Tea would be great… please and thank you.” Eren’s voice was soft as he took his plate, noticing Ieva come back with Andy suckling on her and no one seeming to really care. Hmm, at least she’s holding him now…

Lathe nodded, looking to Levi and watching him nod as well. He went to get them mugs of tea, setting them down as James meandered in with Percy. He chuckled as he and Ieva swapped kids, Ieva feeding her daughter. I'm just glad that she really cares so much about them… Lathe waited for Henry, Tucker and Jake to come downstairs, getting them plates before sitting down himself with a plate and coffee. It all looks tasty… I just wanted you to have something familiar to eat…

Eren smiled as everyone came down to eat, happy that no one asked about the memory too fresh in his mind. They’ll notice eventually, especially with Mikhail sitting right next to my chair, his head in my lap. He took the first bite a small groan leaving him as the taste exploded in his mouth for his burger bomb. It tastes so good…
Levi filled his plate, starting to eat. He absently pet Mikhail with one hand, the table quiet save the sounds of eating. This is nice… Dad hasn't made burger bombs in a long time… Levi sipped from his tea after a moment, feeling strangely warm. …I'm glad Dad made this…

Eren looked down a bit, petting Mikhail between bites and even giving him some potato wedges which he cut into small pieces and let cool down. You've been a good boy…. I guess it’s your turn to try and get Maisie now… hmm… maybe I can get another Blake after you can’t help anymore either… He smiled softly, eating his fill and then some. Dad made a lot, I’m glad…

Nene sleepily ambled up to the table, curling around Tucker’s foot- the one that Henry’s hadn’t hooked around- and quietly whined, looking up to him. Feed me? It smells tasty…

Tucker looked down, a weak smile on his face. Oh fuck… she knows I can’t help but give in. He sighed, cutting up a potato wedge and letting Nene eat it from his fingers. He tried to go back to his food, though he ended up sneaking her more and more pieces.

Nene happily ate the pieces she was given, enjoying the pets from him before going to bug Henry, her head in his lap, quiet as she looked up at him. He likes me… he'll give me food. She happily ate the potato she was given from him, accepting their pets before going to curl up. Today is a good day.

Eren soon enough stood to help with the plates and make sure that Mila did in fact eat at least a whole burger bomb and some wedges. She’s gotta stay strong… hmm, I wonder if we’ll do fruit smoothies for dessert today? Since we kinda pigged out at dinner.

Lathe did indeed get out fruits, promptly followed by juice and ice cream. These things aren't exactly healthy… but they're tasty. We can afford a sugary dessert once in awhile. He cut up fruit when the kids asked for them, making them smoothies. They're pretty much milkshakes, but that's okay. Normally we don't use ice cream… but today it's okay.

Eren smiled as Lathe pulled out the ice cream. “Dad, can you make Mila’s with yogurt?” Not ice cream, she can’t have too much sugar in her system yet… strawberry and juices are okay. But I don’t want her having ice cream yet. He picked her up, taking her to the bathroom to wash her up. Even though we didn’t have messy food… It’s all over you.

Lathe smiled, nodding. “Of course.” Lathe made hers with plenty of milk and yogurt, giving Eren a cup of her dessert when he came back. It's in a sippy cup so it shouldn't spill everywhere…. key word shouldn't.
Eren thanked him quietly as he took the cup, settling Mila in her high chair again and giving her the sippy cup which she quickly took. At least she’ll drink it all. He worked around Lathe, helping to get the ingredients prepped for each smoothie, a smile on his face as Tucker signed the ingredients to him. He’s getting much better with his sign language.

Henry thanked them quietly when he got his smoothie, looking to Tucker and reading his hands. He tapped his arm, signing a bit unsurely. {What does that last sign mean?} He repeated it, looking confused. It's probably a fruit I don't know.

Tucker looked at him for a moment before pointing towards the dragonfruit that Eren picked up. I should probably sign it to him again. {Dragonfruit.} Did you get it this time?

Henry repeated it slowly. “Dragonfruit?” He watched him nod, taking a moment and signing it twice more. ...oh. Okay. {Thanks.} I need to get used to all these words... He picked up his cup again, sipping from it. Tasty.

Tucker smiled and kissed his cheek before taking his drink from Eren and signing a quick thank you. Hmm... I wonder if he’ll go downstairs and watch Netflix with me...

Henry blushed as his cheek was kissed, letting Tucker tug him along. “Games or Netflix?” He let him spell out the word, smiling. “Okay.” He caught him by the middle, walking with him. Mine.

Tucker dragged Henry down to the basement, moving to get Netflix all set up to watch a movie. Hmm... should we watch a horror film? Or an action movie?

Henry immediately shook his head when he hovered over a horror film, quickly signing to him. {Please- anything that isn't horror.} No thank you. I just wanna cuddle and watch cars explode or whatever.

Tucker nodded and shifted the mouse back over to action, turning on Hot Fuzz and leaning to curl into Henry’s side, sucking on his straw. I have a milkshake and a movie... and Henry...

Henry shifted, pulling Tucker into his lap and kissing his cheek before looking back to the screen. This is nice... ....it's warm, I have a milkshake, dinner was great... I have a family now... a less dysfunctional one at least... and I have you. Henry smiled, keeping Tucker close. Mine.
Eren helped to make Lathe’s, looking to Levi. “What do you want in yours, Sarge?” He smirked at the nickname, knowing it would get him riled up. Who knows, maybe we’ll have Mila stay here the night… I mean, Day care is right across the street for her.

Levi looked over him, quirking an eyebrow and faintly smirking. Of course… “Strawberries and peach, Private.” Two can play at that game.

Eren smirked as he got everything together, fixing up his milkshake. Oh my god… I could so sing that song… fuck I have it stuck in my head now. My milkshake brings all the boys to my yard, and they’re like, it’s better than yours, damn right, it’s better than yours…. Eren’s face instantly flushed at the thought. Oh fuck.

“Something you wanna say, Private?” Levi chuckled quietly as Eren completely flushed, watching him. You’ve got something in your head...

“Sarge… Do you remember what track 8 of Disc two of ‘Covering It Up’ was?” I don’t know if you remember because it was so long ago… but you never know… you might remember...

Levi quirked an eyebrow at the question. …what the hell? What song could he be thinking of… …..wow, I’m dumb. “Milkshake?” There's no way he's not thinking of that one...

Eren couldn’t help but snort and nod with a huge flush on his face as he handed Levi his milkshake. He came right up to his ear and began to seductively whisper to him. “My milkshake brings all the boys to the yard… and they’re like, it’s better than yours.” Oh this is too good not to tease you with.

Levi was shocked as Eren leaned over, though it took all of his willpower not to dissolve into laughter. Fucking hell… He covered his mouth with his wrist, ducking away from him, his eyes bright. Shit..

Eren smirked at him and shifted to kiss his cheek, before scampering back to make his own. Yup, now I can’t get that song out of my head.

Levi let him kiss his cheek, composing himself before sipping at his own milkshake, hugging Eren from behind as he made his own. Mine. “...you wouldn't mind making good use of our new toy when we get home, would you?” We haven't used it since that night...
“Hmm… You get to ask Dad if Mila can stay here overnight… and you need to actually go to work tomorrow too, Okay?” Eren asked quietly, leaning up to kiss him softly. I love you, but we need to make sure we actually do what we’re supposed to...

“Of course… I’ll make sure we don't stay up too late…” We’ll have lots of time to ourselves… Levi kissed his neck, letting go and meandering over to Lathe. “Hey Dad?”

Lathe looked up at him, tilting his head, his eyes narrowed. You want something. “Yeah, Levi?”

“Is it okay if Mila stays the night here? Please?” Daycare is just across the street...

“Any particular reason?” He watched Levi hesitate, catching the pink flush on his cheeks. “That’s what I thought.” Lathe shook his head good naturedly. “Alright.” He rolled his eyes when Levi kissed his cheek and stalked back over to Eren. Of course...

Eren watched him come over, pouring his own milkshake into his glass and grabbing a straw, innocently sipping from it. “I see it pulled in Sarge…” Bringing all my favorite boys to the yard.... And by yard I mean the kitchen.

Levi smirked at him. “The milkshake you’re holding isn't the one I'm interested in.” Nope… He wrapped an arm around his middle, pulling him close and softly kissing his neck.

Eren smirked, keeping a straight face as Levi kissed at his neck. Hmm, I think I'm gonna like tonight. He sipped at his smoothie, watching as a majority of the family curled up on the couches to watch the last bit of the Harry Potter movie marathon. That’s so cute...

Lathe took Mila to the couch, curling up with Ieva. James and Jake curled up around them, surrounded by a small sea of dogs, puppies, and cats. I like this. Lathe looked over to the two in the kitchen, smiling faintly before turning his attention to Ieva, kissing her cheek. I can understand... you two can have each other to yourselves.

Eren smirked as Lathe’s attention turned away from them, turning his head to whisper into Levi’s ear. “If you fuck me here, you’re dead… but… heavy petting’s okay I guess.” His lips feel wonderful on my neck.
Levi smirked, shifting around to Eren’s front and setting his milkshake down, not caring as he wrapped his arms around him and began to slowly suck on his neck. He heard Eren faintly sigh, gently nipping his flesh. I love the way you sound...

Eren let Levi continue, shifting a bit and giving him better access to open skin, even if his hair was starting to get in the way with how long it was. I wonder if Levi’ll tie me up to the bed? I think I might even be okay with that.

Levi brushed away some of his long hair, gently nibbling at the soft flesh. I can’t wait to get you home... I wonder if you’ll let me use all the straps? It’s still rather early into the night... we have more than enough time for me to torture you with pleasure... I’d love to... “...do I get to tie up my beautiful fiancé?” He softly kissed his shoulder. “I’d love to… I’d do so many things to you...” I really want to...

Eren hummed thinking about the option. “I think I might let you...” His voice was sultry as he was kissed, turning his head to watch Levi’s actions. Yeah... I think I could handle it.

Levi looked up at him, his eyes shaded. “That’s wonderful to hear...” He turned around to pick up his melting milkshake, pressing into Eren’s front as he sipped from it quietly, enjoying the arm that went around his waist. This is nice.

Eren grabbed his milkshake with the other hand, sipping at it as he held Levi close to him. I like that you’re all over me still, especially after you got me the ring...

Levi was content to stand pressed against him, absently watching from where they were. I kinda miss living here with the family... but not as much as I thought I would... I have my own family now. He looked over his shoulder at Eren, flatly glaring with a quirked eyebrow as he felt Eren grab his ass. That’s rather blunt.

Eren tried to look oblivious, his eyes still focused on the TV in the other room. Try not to laugh from his glare.... try not to laugh... Eren soon enough let go off his ass, only to grab at it again, his thumb going towards his crack. I will tease you...

Levi’s head slowly fell back onto Eren’s chest, his legs slowly shifting further apart, letting Eren handle him, out of sight behind the kitchen island. Damn... He felt Eren teasingly thumb over his hole through his jeans, pressing back into his hand. Hm, we haven’t done it like that in a while... but that’s for some other time...
Eren chuckled at his reaction, ducking his head down to kiss his neck. I love this... He smirked, soon letting go and moving to wash his cup. I finished mine...

Levi glared at him when he stopped, picking up his nearly finished cup and downing the rest, going to wash his as well. The second it was put away Levi caught Eren by the waist, pulling him flush. “...let’s go home...” Levi gazed up at him with dark bedroom eyes, his fingers gently playing with the hem of Eren’s pants. I want you...

Eren nodded instantly, shifting to grab his wrist before he could pull more on his pants. Levi... He shifted off of him and moved to go kiss Lathe and Ieva goodbye and give Mila a hug goodbye as well. I like it here...

Levi followed him, kissing Lathe and Ieva on the cheeks before kissing Mila’s nose. “You're going to stay here for the night, Mila. But it’s okay- Mama and Papa will take good care of you.” Of course they will. He let Eren tug on his wrist after that, feeling warm when his own cheeks were kissed goodbye, letting Eren walk with him to the door and to their car. Mine.

Eren led him to the car, slipping into the passenger seat. I'm really kinda glad that we stayed for dinner.... Now we have to go feed the dogs at home.... just the three of them now.... He seemed to slump in his seat at the thought.

Levi got into the driver’s seat, leaning over to softly kiss Eren when he saw him slump a bit, not knowing that to say. I'm sorry. He got them home quickly, turning off the car and catching Eren before he could leave the car. He leaned over, unbuckling his own seatbelt and softly kissed his neck as a hand went to his crotch, gently palming him. He heard Eren groan, feeling him slowly hardening in his hand. “Let’s feed the dogs and then get you upstairs... okay?” I don't want you to be too upset... It's really sad that Blake is gone... but you've cried and cried so much today... I want you to have at least a little bit of pleasure or happiness today.

Eren nodded, making his way away from the car and starting towards the front door. He was greeted by three wagging tails and six perked ears. It's okay, just feed them and then let Levi take you upstairs...

Levi followed him inside, helping Eren to feed the three dogs. He and Eren both paused when they saw Blake’s bowls sitting empty, the water bowl still having some left inside. ...he's gone. Levi turned to Eren, catching him in a hug and murmuring softly into his ear. “Let’s get you upstairs, love...” I'll take good care of you... you deserve to be happy... even if it's just for a little while before you remember...
Eren nodded, letting Levi drag him up the stairs and into their room. He let go then, moving to strip his clothes and head towards the shower. I wanna clean up before we start… would that be okay?

Levi shed his clothes as well when he realized what Eren wanted, following him into the shower. He caught him when they stepped into the hot water, Levi reaching for the soap, his tongue already getting newly acquainted with his collarbone as he began to wash him. I'll take care of you.

Levi shed his clothes as well when he realized what Eren wanted, following him into the shower. He caught him when they stepped into the hot water, Levi reaching for the soap, his tongue already getting newly acquainted with his collarbone as he began to wash him. I'll take care of you.

Eren watched him take over washing him with surprise. We haven't done this in a long time… a really really long time… He hummed softly, smiling as Levi cleaned him up, a sharp gasp leaving his mouth as Levi got close to his length. Fuck…

Levi very gently handled his length with a soapy hand, feeling him slowly hardening. “Mm, I see someone’s excited…” He gently moved his hand a bit further back, brushing his taint before lightly rubbing over his hole. “Mm, you're going to be so tight…” Teasing you is so much fun…

Eren nodded, moaning softly as Levi rubbed over his hole. “Fuck… W-Why don’t you stretch me out then, Sarge?” Eren’s voice was a little strained as he tried not to let his legs shake. Already having spread them on instinct, it was hard not to allow it to happen.

Levi smirked, cupping Eren’s jaw. “You know what, Private, that’s a wonderful idea.” Levi reached for the small tube of lube that he had decided to stash in the small wire basket. It's better than conditioner for this sort of thing. He poured some into his hand, his hand reaching down to slowly circle his entrance again. He sucked at Eren’s adam’s apple as he slowly pressed inside, his other hand holding his cheek to the side, giving him more room. This should feel good…

Eren watched him grab the tube of lube from the shower basket, his eyes hungry as they followed the movement of his hands to his entrance. Fuck I want his fingers inside of me… He shifted as soon as he felt his fingers circle his hole, his leg moving to hold itself up against a small ledge, giving Levi easier access, especially with his hand holding onto his ass cheek. Fuck yes, please stretch me out…
Levi held Eren close, lapping at his neck as he began to slowly feel inside of him, his voice soft. “Just relax…” He waited a while before sliding a second finger inside of him, nipping his tan flesh. You’re always so warm… I love it…

Eren couldn’t help but moan, his arms wrapping around Levi’s shoulders, not caring that he was leaning on him a bit to stay balanced. He tilted his head to the side to give him access to his neck more, letting him nip without a care in the world. Fuck his fingers feel really good…

Levi gently scissored him, his lips gentle on his neck. He massaged Eren’s cheek, his fingers slowly twisting inside of him. He carefully added a third, his fingers curling inside his heat. Where is it… He felt Eren drawn in a shaky gasp as he brushed one spot, letting him melt into him with a shaky breath as we slowly rubbed it. That’s it…

Eren left out a soft huff as he moved to relax against Levi’s body, letting his leg shake a bit from the strain of keeping it lifted. Fuck it’s starting to feel really weird… He whimpered as Levi rubbed his prostate, clinging to him and trying not to let his knee buckle. “Sarge…” Eren whined his nickname, kissing at his neck.

Levi gently shifted him as he shook, pressing him to the wall and letting his legs weakly hook around his waist. I can hold you up. “Mm? Is this better?” Levi reached around him, his fingers sliding back into him comfortably. I’ve got you.

Eren nodded, soft moans leaving him as his fingers slid back inside of him. “Mmm yeah…. Fuck, Sarge… I want you to fuck me…” And fill me up… I haven’t had you fill me up in so long…

Levi smirked, his voice smooth in his ear. “Do you want me to fuck you here, Private? Or would you rather wait for me to tie you down and tease you until you can’t even remember your own name?” Which do you want?

“How do you want it, Private? Hard… or slow?” I’ll do whatever you want…
“S-Slow… please?” You can go rough when you tie me down… I don’t wanna be bothered about that right now…. I just want you inside me and filling me up… and we haven’t done slow in such a long time…

Levi nodded, letting his tip slowly press inside of him. Slow sounds good… Levi eased himself into Eren’s warmth, groaning as he bottomed out. Fuck.. you always feel so wonderful when you're bare around me….

Eren let out a soft whimper as Levi fully seated himself inside of him. Oh god… it feels… it feels so good… “Sarge… your cock feels so good… feels so amazing…” It feels fabulously wonderful… I feel so full, and he’s warm, it feels so nice. I like doing it without a condom…

Levi slowly slid in and out of him, Eren’s cavern feeling like warm silk against him. I needed this… He started a slow and deep pace, his hands gripping his hips. “You're so soft…”

Eren shifted back a bit so Levi could get even deeper inside of him, bent over and braced on the wall. “Hmm… you like it? You like how soft I am?” I want to know…

Levi sighed softly, grinding deeply into him. “I do… you feel so good like this…” Levi ran his hands over his hips, teasing near his base and rubbing all over him. It feels really good…!

Eren smirked, letting his face lean against the cool tile as he kept himself supported. He couldn’t help but shiver as Levi’s hands worked all over him. Hmm, I wonder if he’ll give me a massage again tonight?

Levi slowly bent over until his front was flush with Eren’s back, grinding deeply into him. Beautiful…. He took hold of his length, slowly pumping him in time with every thrust. You sound so sexy…

“Oh… oh my god….” He looked over his shoulder, seeing Levi’s face near his, a smile across his lips as he felt Levi thrust directly on his prostate. Oh fuck ! He let out a guttural cry, full of pleasure and lust as his coil tightened. Fuck I want him to fill me up.

Levi snapped his hips into him again, his hand doing slow drags up and down his length from root to tip as he did. I love this… He made a choked sound, his length burning. I need to cum…
Eren knew Levi was getting closer with the way he was holding onto his hip with his free hand. Oh shit he’s gonna cum, and he’s gonna fill me up… “P-Please Levi… f-fill me up.”

Levi bit his shoulder, a dark mark blooming under his lips as he sucked hard. Fuck… He gripped him tightly, soon pounding into him as he came with a low moan, his wrist moving quickly on his length. Cum….

Eren felt Levi fill him with warmth, feeling him pulse with each and every thrust he gave him. Fuck he gave me everything. He shifted a little and moved to spread his legs wider as Levi pumped him, his own coil snapping and white covering the tiles in front of them. His loud cry of bliss echoed off the walls as his body shook in pleasure. Shit that was… we haven’t done it slow in so long….

Levi slowed as Eren’s orgasm shook him, pulling out as Eren trembled. He shifted to help him back upright, kissing him softly. That was wonderful…. He gently kneaded Eren’s ass in his hands, smirking as Eren sighed. “...should I clean you out now, or later when we have a bath?” You're going to need to get cleaned up after the rest of our fun…

“Hmm… I think later should be fine…” He hummed, closing his eyes as he curled up to Levi as he grabbed his asscheeks. “Fuck Levi…. Hmm…. you can tie me up… but if I start panicking you need to take them off okay?” I need you to realize that I’d probably be really susceptible today…

“Of course… I'm not going to gag you or anything, and you can always tell me what you do and don't want… we’ll use ‘red, yellow, green,’ okay? I want to be careful this first time around.” This is the first time the two of us are doing something like this together... I want it to go well.

Eren nodded, looking him over, a weary look in his eyes. “Don't blindfold me… please…?” I don’t want you to blindfold me… It’d remind me too much of what happened.... so many years ago….

“No blindfold… maybe with time you’ll get to the point where you want to be blindfolded… or you might want something else… but that time isn't now, and it doesn't have to ever come. I'll take good care of you, Eren.” I will. Levi gently pulled Eren from the shower, deciding they were clean enough and reaching for the towels. He dried them off, gently pulling Eren with him to the small room. It was still lit with that warm light, the bed looking inviting. Levi kissed Eren’s cheek before easing him onto the bed, laying him down. He went to the box on the far side of the bed, opening the lid and looking over the padded pieces. I’m thinking the ones for the legs… hm. “Eren?” Levi went back empty-handed near his legs, lifting his knees from where they were and lifting them, spreading them. He could see everything from the new position, smirking. “There are a few extra pieces to this bed… do you want the ones that keep your legs just like this?” *I’d love to have you tied like that.

Eren’s whole face flushed as he looked at the position. He nodded, watching Levi grab the extra padded pieces for his legs to rest on, finding that they too were a perfect fit for his lanky body. Oh wow, this spreads me out so well…

Levi easily fitted the parts into the covered holes in the bed, carefully lifting Eren’s leg into before pulling it where he wanted and tightening it. He did the same for the other, taking the straps around their backs and pulling them around Eren’s knees, tightening them. His feet fit firmly in the stirrups, fastening those as well before going to step in the space cut out between his legs. He rested his hands gently on his thighs, looking over him. “What about your arms, love? Do you want those tied up too?”

Eren bit at his lip, silent for a few moments as he debated it. I know he would like to tie me up… but… I just… I can’t do that… what if I freak out with my arms tied up too? I already can’t move my legs…

Levi watched him think, nodding after a bit. “I won't if you don't want me to… this is already a lot… and it's gorgeous.” Levi kissed Eren’s ankle, smirking as he looked down the long limb to his nether. *Beautiful view… “I won't if you don't want me to.” It's not a huge deal.

Eren nodded, looking to the side as his face flushed. “N-No…. I don’t want you to tie my arms.” I hope that’ll be okay for you…

“Of course. You just say the word, and it's done. That's the same for your legs. If you don't like it…” He softly kissed his other ankle. “Then I'll untie you. Easy as that.” Levi had a devious look in his eyes as he went to the shelf on their side, a box with most of their toys residing there. He took it to the box behind Eren, settling it on the plush surface. “Hm… what should I use…. I rather like this one… this one, of course… you make the most beautiful sounds with this one… and your face when this one makes you cum… perfect…” He could hear Eren's quiet whimper, looking back to see him hardening. Good. He came over with a cock ring, softly kissing his hip. “Can I use this, Eren?” I need to keep asking…

Eren watched him kiss his hip, a blush forming high on his cheeks, nodding at the sight of the cock ring. Yes… you can use a cock ring, especially if you're gonna wanna control when I cum or not… He looked over towards the other toys he’d pulled out, his eyes widening when he saw the thick dildo he had. Fuck…. hell yes…

Levi brushed a thumb over Eren’s tip, slicking the ring with the bit of precum. He gave Eren’s length a few slow pumps to slick his length, sliding the ring down his cock all the way to the root. Perfect. He looked over him, thinking. ….he might like it… he might not want to do anything too out there besides being tied up today… but I kinda have to ask… “Eren?” Levi rested a hand on his hip, his thumb gently ghosting over the flesh there. “….you can say no, and we can save it for sometime else… but would you let me use melted wax with you?” I wanna know… It’d be wonderful if I could...

Eren’s length jerked at the mention of melted wax. Oh fuck… I take it that would be my answer for you? “Y-Yeah…” he stuttered with a huge blush on his face. Yes, we haven’t done that in awhile...

Levi smirked, going to softly nip at his jaw. “Wonderful….” He gently took hold of his length, slowly pumping him as he kissed his neck. “I might not have tied down your hands… but that doesn't mean I don't want you to keep them at your sides, Private.” Let's see how well you can do that… He let go of him, heading over to the box again and getting out a small candle and lighter, igniting the wick and letting it burn. He picking up a plug in the meantime, reaching for the lube and slicking it up. “We can't have you getting too tight again… you need to stay nice and loose for what I have planned…” He walked between Eren’s spread legs, brushing his thumb over his hole. Beautiful. He brought the toy down, slowly inserting the plug and making sure it was firmly seated inside of him. He smirked as Eren clenched around it. “Now, love, we’re going to play a bit of a game… this is a rather new toy I've wanted to try out with you…” He gently nudged the base of the toy, lifting up his hand, a small remote visible. “This particular toy will let you feel the vibration everywhere… if you can go so long without making a single sound, I'll reward you… if not, you'll get quite a bit of wax…. It can sting, but it's not bad after a little while… “How does that sound, love?” I want to see how well this works...

Eren couldn’t help the shudder that ran down his spine at the thought. “That sounds… really good…. I think I might be able to hold off...

Levi smirked, one hand on his hip as he looked over him. “Ready?” He watched Eren nod, seeing his face shift as he clicked on the plug. “To ten.” Levi murmured the numbers, watching Eren’s breathing pick up a bit. He likes it... good.

Eren had just about made it to ten seconds before he let out a soft whimper, grabbing at the bed below him. Fuck! I almost made it… this is gonna be really hard, fuck… but I get to be waxed now...

Levi tsked, walking back to the box. “You were so close… but a deal is a deal…” There’s a decent bit of wax melted… He walked back to his side, holding the candle up high and very slowly tipping it, wax dripping down and onto his chest. He circled one nipple, then the other, before he was out of wax, hearing Eren cry quietly whimper. “You can do better than that, love. Fifteen.” He looked over him as the wax slowly cooled, counting for him.
Eren was completely silent as he moved. His eyes were wide as he looked at the wax being poured on him, trying not to make any noise as Levi counted down. He swallowed thickly, heaving a sigh of relief as he made it through the 15 seconds of pleasured torture. Fuck this is gonna be harder than I thought…

Levi smirked as Eren made it the whole fifteen seconds, rubbing his hip. “Very good.” He went to put down the wax, moving between his legs again. His lips hovered over his length, murmuring quietly. “Fifteen again.” He immediately took Eren into his mouth, slowly sucking on him and sliding further and further down, taking more in. I'm sure this is torture…

Eren’s eyes widened as he watched Levi slowly sink down on him. The sucking sensation quickly threw him over the edge, a loud cry escaping him as his body jerked from an orgasm and he wanted to cum but was denied. Fuck... I wanna cum... this is... he's gonna put wax on me again…

Levi had mercy and sucked him through his dry orgasm, coming off of him. “That sensitive? I thought you’d be able to hold off longer…” There wasn't much more wax melted, Levi taking the candle and slowly pouring it over Eren’s nipple, watching him hiss before quietly sighing. “That feel good?” He watched him lazily nod, setting the candle back down. “That feel good?” He didn't stop his slow motions. You're very sensitive…

Eren struggled not to let a sound leave him, his toes flexing and his legs straining against his bounds. Oh fuck... this... fuck I'm sensitive... especially after an orgasm... oh fuck! Eren had to close his eyes as his whole body went rigid, trying hard not to make a sound still, his body on edge. Fuck it feels too good... I'm not gonna last! Hurry up Levi!

Levi watched with wide eyes as Eren’s head fell back in a silent cry, his body quaking with another orgasm. Holy fuck... He finally hit thirty, immediately going to suck his length. “Very, very good Eren… my god that was hot…” Levi decided to give Eren a break, simply lapping at his length. “I want to hear you now… it's okay to right now…” My god…

Eren was breathing hard, his whole body tense still as Levi lapped at his oversensitive length. Oh fuck it kinda hurts but it still feels really good… I can’t believe I could stay quiet… He whimpered as Levi’s tongue teased his slit, looking at the small stream of precum that was struggling to come out of him. Fuck it hurts… but it hurts so good…

Levi came off of him, his hands gently running over him. “You’re so good…. you want more?” He gently rubbed his stomach, his touch soothing. It's okay.
Eren nodded, looking down at Levi with desperation in his eyes. “Fuck me… fuck me please…” I wanna be filled with your cock again… Even if I have the plug inside it’s not enough… I want your cock…

Levi looked over him, smirking. “Do you want me… or would you rather have a toy? Something bigger, thicker?” I wouldn’t blame you… it feels very good…

Eren looked torn, looking at Levi’s hard length for a moment before looking towards their box of toys. “C-Can I have a toy?” I can take a toy… but I’ll want your cock too… fuck I can’t decide… can I have both?

Levi paused, smirking. “If you can't decide, might I make a suggestion… do you remember those anal beads we have?” He wandered over, showing them to Eren. “What if you have these, and me?” Would that be better?

Eren squirmed a bit, nodding. “Please?” That would be amazing… I really want that to happen. He watched Levi bring them over close to him, his jaw dropping a little as he drooled a bit. I want it… I really want it…

Levi smirked at Eren’s expression, having slicked up the toy with a generous amount of lube. He stepped between his legs, taking gentle hold of the plug and slowly easing it out of him. He went to put it down for the time being, coming back and easily sliding four fingers inside of him. “Look at how loose you are…. so ready for my cock…” He took the beads, going to slowly slide them in and out of him, watching each bead disappear inside of him. “Look at you…” That's so hot…

Eren mouth was wide open as he let moan after moan leave him, his body shaking as he felt the beads move within him. Fuck I can feel them inside of me… “Levi…” he whined when he wasn’t immediately filled with his length. “I want your cock…” I wanna be full.

Levi smirked, the beads sliding inside of him, his own cock slipping inside. He made a quiet sound as he gently ground into him, feeling the bumps of the beads all along his length. Damn…

Eren let out a loud cry as his back immediately arched, his length struggling to weep more precum. Fuck it feels really good… “Don’t go easy…. Please don’t… I want you to fill me up with cum, and I want it hard…
Levi smirked, his hand gently going to pump his length. “Should I let you cum?” He teased his tip, drawing back a bit before snapping into him. We can drag this out… or I can go hard with you…

Eren looked at him with wide eyes about to open his mouth before his head snapped back in a loud cry with the thrust Levi just impaled him with. Oh fuck! Oh fuck! Oh fuck! He whimpered as Levi’s fingers pumped his length, and teased his tip. “F-Fuck… I wanna cum…” I really do, and as soon as you take that off I’m gonna cum all over the place…

Levi watched Eren’s expression shift, beginning to pound into him. I’ll make you cum. Levi stroked him, toying with his tip. I’ll make you feel good…

Eren shifted around his hips as best he could, trying to get Levi to thrust into his prostate and once he did, along with the beads, his whole body jerked. Oh fuck, I wanna cum! I wanna cum! Levi take it off! I wanna cum…

Levi reached for him, the cock ring sliding up and off of him, watching with wide eyes as Eren jerked and cried out, cum splashing over his chest in thick white streaks. Oh fuck… Levi felt Eren clench around him, pounding him through his orgasm.

Eren’s cum kept coming, spilling out three times his usual load due to being build up with the cock ring. His eyes were closed in utter bliss and his jaw wide open as Levi continued to pound him through orgasm. Fuck it feels amazing…

Levi held onto him tightly, moaning as the beads rubbed all along his length, soon enough spilling his own load into his heat. “Fuck…” He pulled out of him, gently pulling the beads out of him and going to softly kiss all over his hips and stomach. Beautiful…

Eren chest was heaving, his whole body aching as he felt his length go limp on his stomach, still dribbling small beads of white. Fuck… that was, that was probably the most intense orgasm I’ve had as of yet…. He let his head lay back, trying to catch his breath as he closed his eyes. Fuck…

Levi very gently rubbed his side, going to put the toy down before coming back and untying Eren. He eased his legs down to a more comfortable position, leaving for just a moment to get a hot washcloth, gently cleaning him up. “That was wonderful, love…” He softly kissed all over his cheeks, very gently scooping him up into his arms. “Let’s get you into a hot bath, okay?” You deserve it.
Eren nodded weakly, letting his eyes close as his head rested against Levi’s shoulder. Fuck... I’m gonna be sore for a long time... He groaned as Levi finally set him down in warm water, jets assaulting his sore muscles. Fuck it hurts, but it feels good at the same time...

Levi wrapped him up in his arms, going to carefully massage his sore muscles. “You were wonderful....” He smiled as Eren’s head fell back with a groan. “I’ll take care of you tomorrow too... if you’re hurting....” You probably will be... we went pretty rough...

Eren shook his head. “Work...” You gotta go to work... you just kinda left during the middle of the day today... He sighed, letting him pull him close, hissing when Levi pressed too hard near his hips. Fuck my hips hurt...

Levi sighed, easing up on his hips. He worked carefully, smiling when he found a knot in his hips, Eren groaning as he worked them out. “That feel good?” He let the heat of the water soak into him. It feels really nice...

Eren nodded tiredly, his head tilted back on Levi’s shoulder with his neck exposed, covered in marks. I guess I’ll be able to record the song I wanna do tomorrow... I’ll have to go back to Dad’s and finish up the video on the wall...

Levi slowly massaged him, smiling as he dozed. I need to clean you out. He gently shifted Eren, a few fingers slowly going to open him up a bit, letting his cum drip from him. Just relax...

Eren’s eyes cracked open as he felt Levi reach his fingers inside of him. “Hmm.... it’s in there deep... and I think the toys pushed it back further...” I was so full... It felt so good... He whimpered as Levi eased the cum out of him, slowly getting used to the feeling of being empty. It feels... it feels okay, I still ache all over...

Levi gently eased the white out of him, softly kissing his neck as he did. He held Eren closer when he had the last of it out, gently rubbing his chest. “Let’s get you a bit washed...” He reached for the soap, gently handling Eren’s tan limbs as he washed him. You’re really tired... you can sleep soon...

Eren let Levi work with his body, laying limply. He didn’t respond to anything Levi had said, already having passed out on his shoulder a few minutes ago. I’m tired...

Levi washed him, carefully rinsing him and draining the tub when he realized he was passed out. He lifted him from the tub, waking him up enough to have him barely stand long enough to dry off.
He picked him up when he was only slightly damp, letting him fall asleep on the way to the bed, settling him in. Levi went to dry himself off quickly, coming back and retrieving their toys, going to wash them and put them away. He shifted the sheets around when he was finished, making sure he had an alarm set for the morning and curling up to Eren, gently holding him. You're wonderful.

Eren woke up in a cold sweat, gasping for air as his eyes snapped open, and his body lurching into an upright position. Where am I? He looked around the darkness which slowly gave way to a familiar room, his breathing beginning to calm down as he looked over next to him, Levi sound asleep on his back. Oh thank god I’m home. It took a few long moments to finally tear his eyes away from his sleeping fiance to look at the clock, his eyes widening when he saw the bright glowing red numbers. It's only 2:37? Fuck… I’m not gonna be able to sleep at all… and Levi gets up at 7 for work… Eren sighed quietly, shifting to curl up to himself a bit, his head on his knees and ears covered with his hands. I forgot to take my pills… for like the first time in 2 months… Fuck…

Levi slowly blinked awake when he felt the bed shifting a bit, sleepily reaching for Eren. “Babe? It's really early… sleep…” He gently tugged him close, waking up more when Eren made a small sound, taking in his form. …what. “Eren, love, are you okay? Do you hurt?” Are you in pain? He immediately went to gingerly touch his waist, gently pressing on the flesh in a few places. You were rather achy last night… we weren't exactly gentle…

Eren smacked at his hand, not really hurting him but enough to get the point across that Levi prodding at his side was not welcome. I forgot to take my pills, fuck I need to go take them now before they get worse… He just shook his head when Levi asked him what was wrong again, getting up from the mattress, not expecting his legs to completely give out under him and send him to the floor, only then the pain shooting up his spine. The all too familiar ache became too real for him and he broke down, slowly curling into himself from his sprawled out position.

Levi looked confused when Eren smacked away his hand wordlessly, immediately getting up when Eren thudded to the floor. What the fuck?! Levi knelt next to Eren, recognizing the fear in his eyes. Oh fuck… right… your meds… “I'll get you your medicine, Eren…” Levi ran to the bathroom, hurriedly getting out the proper dose and a cup full of water. He was too tired to take them last night… I completely forgot… fuck… Levi hurried back with the pills, handing them to Eren with the cup. “Here, you'll feel better…” Please.

Eren struggled for a few moments to pick himself up, his back aching worse than it had ached since they’d gotten the new house. Fuck… I should’ve remembered… I know I can’t forget them… He let out a shuddered sob before he reached for them, taking his pills and downing them along with the entire glass of water. He set them down, feeling the lump in his throat grow from his sobs, curling up into a ball and moving to lay down and get off his spine. It hurts… we went really rough….

Levi shifted to pull Eren closer, his touch gentle. “It's okay… do you hurt anywhere Eren? Tell me…” You’d start feeling it by now… He watched him whimper and nod, very carefully shifting his arms under him. “I’ll be careful, just let me get you onto the bed…” Levi slowly picked him up, getting him onto the bed and gently rolling him onto his side. He shifted into bed behind him, gently embracing him from behind. “I’m so sorry it hurts… do you want anything? A massage? A hot soak? The heating pads?” Let me take care of you.

Eren sniffled as he shook his head trying to calm down. “I-I’ll be fine…” I’ll be okay, you need to get to sleep… “Get some sl-sleep Levi…” I don’t want you to be exhausted because I can’t put up with a little bit of pain…… Okay, maybe a lot of pain… Eren had shifted only a few inches before he felt a sharp pain run up his spine and cause him to hiss. Fuck… don’t move…

Levi paused when he heard Eren hiss, his fingertips going to very slowly brush his lower back up his spine, hearing Eren whimper with every small nudge. ...ouch… you’re in a hell of a lot of pain… “I’m going to get the heating pads, it should help your muscles relax…” He slowly shifted off the bed, coaxing Eren onto his front. He quickly went to the bathroom, bringing back a box of heating pads. He carefully positioned them on Eren’s lower back and spine, plugging them in and turning them on. He gently touched the back of Eren’s thigh when he shifted uncomfortably, watching him wince as he pressed with his thumb. He let the pads drape over him there as well, kneeling next to the bed as they slowly heated up. I want you to feel functional at least somewhat today if I can help it… He retrieved a small bottle from the nightstand in the meantime, shifting further down him and opening it. I got massage oil after last time… Levi was careful as he started on one of his calves, feeling for knots in the muscle.

Eren tensed for a moment before he felt Levi slowly working oil into his skin, and gently rubbing his muscles. He relaxed almost immediately and shifted his head to the side so he could look back at Levi. Shit… He’s too good to me… He’s staying up even though he needs to wake up earlier than I do… I could’ve just stayed in bed all day and rested. He whimpered as Levi found a large knot in his other calf just below his knee. Fuck he found it….. And I’m kinda surprised that it hasn’t forced me to limp around yet.

Levi could feel all the tension in his calf, carefully digging his thumb into that spot, coaxing the muscles to relax back into their proper places. He gently rubbed the oil into his skin, his flesh heating up under his attention. He smiled as Eren groaned, ghosting back over his calf and making sure he had done what he could before moving on to the other with a fresh hand of oil. He slowly worked out what knots he could find, gently removing one of the heating pads from his thighs when he was done. He got more oil before he carefully set to work, the warm muscles much easier to coax back into place, working out all the spots of tension he could feel. You were really stretched last night… and by that I mean that your position wasn't the most natural. Your muscles cooled weirdly… He softly kissed the back of his neck, working diligently. It's okay.

Eren seemed okay with Levi’s menstrations, that was until Levi’s hands got to the dip in his back over his spine, sending a shock of pain up his spine with each touch of his thumbs. “Fuck! Levi stop…” He swore loudly, closing his eyes and gripping the sheets under him. It fucking hurts, holy shit… maybe having my legs that high in the air isn’t such a good idea…
Levi immediately stopped, kissing across his shoulder in apology. “I'm sorry, I'm sorry….” Levi put the heating pads back, tiredly rolling over onto his back next to Eren and curling up to him. *I'm tired… “Do you think you'll be okay today?” Can you function?

Eren had his head facing the wall, not Levi as he shifted to lay down. At least he won’t be able to see the pain in my eyes. Fuck… I hope I didn’t throw out my back… Eren let out a soft groan and nodded. “Y-Yeah… I should be fine, what do you want for dinner?” I should be able to cook you something…

Levi thought, shifting a bit to kiss the nape of his neck. “Grilled chicken… it's easy enough to make.” And it's really good… Levi tugged a sheet over them, enjoying the heat from Eren and the pads. Warm…

Eren didn’t move when Levi got up to get ready for work, he laid perfectly like he was still asleep, his chest barely rising and falling, and his body aching with every small movement. Think I'm asleep, so you don’t worry about me…

Levi went to get washed and dressed, coming back to the bed and smiling faintly as he saw Eren. He gently rested a hand on his back, going to kiss his cheek when he heard a tiny whimper, his hand shifting to his shoulder. “...Eren? Eren, are you awake?” He stared at him for a moment before his eyes finally cracked open, stunned at the amount of pain in his eyes. Oh fuck… “Eren, how badly does it hurt? Tell me…” You might need medical attention at this rate… fuck…

Eren shook his head as best he could. “I’m fine….” His words were mere whispers that he could barely get out, he didn’t want to tell him that he couldn’t move almost anything without pain shooting up his spine. I need to be careful getting up…

“No you're not. You need medical attention. I'm so, so sorry, but I'm really worried.” He leaned in to softly kiss his cheek, standing and grabbing for his phone. I need to get you to a doctor… fuck, who should I even call? …..Scotty. He's actually at the hospital, so… Levi dialed his number, anxious as it rang. You've got to be up by now…

“Hello?” Scotty’s voice was rough as he settled back down in bed, curled up to Casper. My day off and someone’s calling me….

“Scotty? Shit, I'm sorry for waking you up, but we have a bit of a problem… things happened, and Eren’s in a lot of pain right now, in his lower back and up his spine. I don't have any real medical equipment, I don't know what to do…” Fuck…
Scotty sighed closing his eyes knowing that he had to actually get up and go to work. He carefully removed himself from Casper to sit on the edge of the bed. “Well first off call him an ambulance, you’ll wanna get him on a backboard… I’ll get up and meet you guys there…”

Levi nodded, his voice even. “Okay, I will. Thanks…” He hung up, dialing 911 directly after. We need an ambulance… After one was on the way there wasn't much else to do, Levi carefully removing the heating pads and carefully getting Eren into a pair of boxers. At the very least you should be covered. He went downstairs, texting his boss and waiting for the ambulance to arrive. Dammit…

Eren hissed as he was moved, his tears beginning all over again. Fuck it hurts…. it hurts a lot… I don’t wanna go to the hospital… He whimpered more as sirens grew closer, hearing heavy feet enter the house, unsure why there was a second siren distinctly different. Did…. Did they send fire rescue too? Because I’m on the second floor?

Levi brought them upstairs, going to Eren’s side as they brought in a backboard. “Eren, they're here. It's okay, you'll be fine.” Levi was next to him as the paramedics carefully rolled Eren over and lifted him onto the board, hearing him cry out in pain. Shit.

Once Eren was on the board he was strapped down so his back was in one place and hastily given a neck brace before more men came in to help carry him. He was unfamiliar with the six who carried him down the stairs in fireman’s apparel, trying to look around for Levi. Where is he? Is he coming? Please tell me he’s coming….

Levi was on the heels of the procession, locking the door quickly before jumping into the ambulance with them. He was at Eren’s side when he was ushered into place, looking surprised as Mikhail immediately shuffled in under his feet, whimpering. Oh… Levi gently pet him, a hand going to gently card through Eren’s hair. “I'm right here, Eren. You're okay. You'll be just fine.” Levi gave him a gentle look. It's okay.

Eren looked at Levi, as best as he could with the neckbrace restricting his movement. “Scotty…?” Is he the doctor who's gonna be taking care of me… he is, right?

Levi nodded immediately. “Scotty will be the one taking care of you, Hun. It might take a little bit for him to get there, but he'll be there to take care of you.” He'll be there soon…. and we know him enough to be honest about stuff…. I don't think we could tell another doctor what happened…
Eren looked like he was relieved to hear Levi say that. Thank god... this would be too embarrassing otherwise... but he’s probably gonna call Dad because of it... shit.

Levi gently pet his hair as they drive to the hospital, coming with him as he was moved inside to a room. “Scotty should be here soon... we have to tell him what happened, but don't worry, I'll threaten him so that he doesn't tell Dad. He might tell Casper, but Casper is hella gay and he'll probably just laugh and then move on.” Casper wouldn't tell Dad; he's chill.

Eren closed his eyes with a heavy sigh. “Dad’s still my health care proxy, he’s at least going to find out that I’m here…” I haven’t changed that... I need to change it to you now...

Levi sighed, gently playing with his hair. “We need to change that… I’d rather hear about you directly than have Dad call me in a panic.” That'd be better. Levi was patient as they waited, the room quiet as Mikhail jumped onto the bed, curling up on Eren’s legs. Aw...

Eren reached his hand out carefully to pet him, finding he was okay with the movement and relaxing for now. It wasn’t long before there was a knock at the door and Scotty came in, coming right over to finish hooking up Eren’s vitals and check his eyes.

“So, who wants to talk first?” You we're both there I presume... “Or are we gonna wait for Lathe to get here?” I already called him, even if you didn’t...

Levi and Eren looked at him, the noirette looking faintly angry. “This isn't something Dad should know the specifics of. I swear to god, if you tell him what exactly happened I'll flay you alive.” Levi gave him a death glare. You won't breathe a word of it to him.

Scotty sighed quietly. “He’s gonna have to know eventually, at least a generalization, and how they work into Eren’s condition... So if you want to get this over with before he gets here... I suggest you explain what happened.” This is gonna be a mess when he gets here... We need to get X-rays and and MRI...

Levi sighed, pinching the bridge of his nose. This is going to be messy to explain to Dad... “...Alright. Uhm... Eren and I happened to get a new bed specifically for, well, things.” He saw Scotty quirk an eyebrow. “It’s curved, making it comfortable for the back to arch. But it also can let you position the person any way you want. Well... last night, uhm, Eren’s legs were positioned up high and apart... and we weren't exactly gentle... and he ached afterwards but I didn't think it would be this bad... most of the ache went away after a good massage... but his back and spine are still in a lot of pain...” That's pretty much the gist of it...
Scotty nodded looking over the rest of Eren’s practically naked body. “Okay, I see…. So your back was in an odd position… Do you know how long approximately? And have you done that position more than once?” Scotty pulled out his notepad, jotting down details. I need to know, I need to know what I need to look for.

“That’s pretty an hour, an hour and a half…. and we did it before where his back was arched, but his legs weren’t up at all. That was an hour and a half, I think.” That was fine...

Scotty nodded, looking over Eren, shifting to gently touch his feet. “Can you move your toes?” Hopefully you can…

Eren hummed in agreement, slowly moving all his toes, thankful that it wasn’t painful to move them. I can move them…

“That’s good sign number 1… alright Eren can you try bending your knee?” He watched as Eren tried to pick up his knee, watching his face almost immediately contort and a loud cry of pain rip from his throat. Well… this isn’t going to be fun for him…

Lathe knocked on the door, coming in, looking worried. “Hey.” He walked inside a bit, seeing Eren on the bed with a neck brace. “What happened to you? Did you hurt your spine?” Lathe looked around, his eyes finally landing on Scotty. Tell me!

“I need x-rays and MRIs of his back, but from the looks of things you either really strained your lower back when you fell down the stairs, or you aggravated something from not riding with the correct posture….” You are so lucky I can make shit up.... Scotty then asked Eren to bend his other knee, hearing another strained cry as he dusted the sheets under him. You definitely did something to your lower back.

Lathe looked to where Eren was struggling to lift his leg, coming over next to him. “I'm sorry, Eren.” That's awful... He gently reached to pet his hair, giving him a faint smile. You'll be okay... after an X Ray and MRI we'll know what's exactly wrong.

Eren could only look back at him, feeling tears prick in his eyes. We’re not gonna have sex for awhile... I can imagine that....

Levi gave Eren a gentle look, going to hold his hand. I think you're okay... you maybe bruised something a bit badly, strained a few muscles, but you'll be okay...

It was an hour before Scotty could get Eren into the X-ray machine, having a team carefully hoist him onto the cold flat table and position him to get good pictures of his spine, one in particular sticking out to Scotty, enough for him to order prints right away. Scotty then took Eren down to MRI where the same process of having a team of people lifted him happened and Scotty’s suspicions were proven right. He herniated a disc....

Levi looked to Scotty, Lathe mirroring the taller man’s expression. “...something happened to his spine, I can tell… I just don’t know exactly what…” I don't know the word for it...

Scotty sighed quietly. “He herniated a disc in his lower back… which is why he’s in pain… it’s common, treatable if he wants to go through with surgery, but we could always see what the serum will do….“ Definitely a lower spine herniated disc...

Levi pondered this, thinking. “...I know nobody is really using the serum as of yet…” He watched Lathe and Scotty shake their heads, staring at the photograph. “...it’ll be a lot easier than going through surgery… and as long as it’s being monitored, he should mend rather easily…. I don’t think it would take that big of a dose to fix it....” Probably not...

“No, but we haven’t seen if it can happen yet…. so I’d rather start with surgery and insert the serum directly…. and then allow the serum to close up his skin after we’ve made sure that it’s corrected, and if not, I’ll have everything ready right then and there to fix it...” It's his spine, if not correctly fixed he’ll never be able to ride without pain... possibly walking could be an issue as well.

Levi nodded, looking over as Eren was carefully lifted from the machine. ...I want him to be okay. “That sounds like a good idea...” He gave Eren a faint smile, going to gently ruffle his hair. You're gonna be okay... I'll let Scotty tell you what it is...

“Eren you herniated a disc in your lower back, which means your disc structure is compromised and it is more compressed in the area and most likely pinching a nerve… we’re gonna need to do surgery, but we’re gonna see what the serum does before I try and correct it myself.” We’re still gonna open you up though...

Levi gently petted Eren as he was told, giving him a reassuring smile. “You’ll be okay… even if the serum doesn’t work, Scotty knows what he’s doing. You’ll be okay.” He gently kissed his forehead, his eyes soft. I didn't think that one night with the new bed would make this shit happen... damn.
Eren looked at him, closing his eyes as he sighed quietly. “Okay…. when are we gonna do this? Today?” I mean, I would imagine so….

Scotty nodded, scrolling through the OR schedule. “Yeah but you’re gonna have to wait until 3 in the afternoon for an opening.” That’s the best I can get you…

Levi nodded, walking with them back to Eren’s room. “We’ll wait…” He can't be in pain like this… He went to sit next to his bed when he was set down, kissing his cheeks. You'll be okay.

Eren could only close his eyes and wait, not even bothered when nurses came in to check his vitals and take blood for testing before his surgery. Fuck…. I don’t wanna go into surgery… I’m gonna be on my stomach too… Why haven’t they just flipped me over yet?

Levi held onto him as the day wore on, grateful when Lathe retrieved breakfast for him. Eren isn't suppose to eat before this surgery… He looked up to the man when he rested a hand on his shoulder. Hm?

“...I trust that you'll take care of my son. I'm going to go back to the center. He's in good hands.” I'll let you two be alone. He kissed Levi’s his cheek before going to peck Eren’s forehead. “You'll be okay, Eren. I'm sure of it.” You'll be better in no time.

Scotty was waiting in his office, getting together a group of nurses from that shift to be able to help with Eren’s surgery around 2:30pm he went down to meet Eren at pre-op. “Okay Eren, we’re gonna flip you over and lay you on your stomach, and then we’re gonna knock you out okay?” Scotty smiled as Eren agreed and his team flipped him over. Alright, let’s mark your back where I’m going to cut. He used a marker to dash lines near his spine as another doctor knocked Eren out and they closed off the OR, starting the surgery once a spare pack of blood came in for Eren’s blood type. Alright let’s get this over with….
Chapter 130: Anesthesia

Levi was waiting for Eren a bit nervously, feeling the hours tick by. What the fuck…. Scotty said two hours… it's been four... shit... Levi was anxious when Lathe returned with lunch, giving him a look. ....I don't know what to make of this. He let Lathe sit next to him, a quiet between the two of them as they ate. ....I hope it's nothing too horrible... maybe the serum didn't work and it's just being really tricky... that's probably it... hopefully...

Scotty finally came out of the double doors, a weary look on his eyes. Looking at the clock on the wall it was already past 8pm… Over 5 hours of surgery…. shit, that was…. and now I have to tell the both of them. He cleared his throat as he stood in front of Lathe and Levi. Fuck...

Levi looked up as he finally spotted Scotty, standing. “What the fuck took so long? Is he okay?” Levi looked over Scotty’s tired face, feeling nerves tugging at him. Is he okay? He is, right?

“Calm down, let me take you two to a back room, okay?” We need to make sure you two are because seated when I tell you this… He led them to a secluded area and told them to sit down, feeling his own face drain of color once more as he tried to think of what to tell them.

Levi and Lathe sat down, Lathe watching Scotty’s expression change. ....I know how this goes. You look so worried... maybe I should just ask. “It's cancer, isn't it.” Lathe was blunt about it, watching Scotty stiffen. His voice had been oddly calm, looking down when Scotty didn't respond. ....of course it is.... why would I ever get to have a son that's allowed to live a long life...

“We’re going to say it’s just a tumor for right now.... it appears it compromised the structure of the disc, and he aggravated it and caused it to collapse which forced the tumor out towards the spine…. It took awhile to find the mass and get it all out, that probably took up the majority of the five hours, then I used the serum and it corrected everything… and closed him up nicely, so he’s trying to get out of anesthesia… but he hasn’t woken up yet…” Scotty sighed quietly and looked down at his shaking hands. He normally doesn't have a problem coming out of it… but this time he is.... He soon got up and led the two of them to Eren’s usual hospital room, the brunet still asleep, and not showing any changes on vitals. Fuck… come on kid, wake up.

Levi looked over Eren’s still body, coming up to his side and climbing up next to him. He laid down next to him, curling into his side. I hope it's not cancer… Levi clutched at the thin gown covering him, feeling Lathe’s gentle hand in his hair. ....I want him to be okay.

It took another hour for Eren’s eyes to finally crack open and he looked over to Levi with a dopey smile on his face. I have a hottie in my bed… is this heaven? Or did he fall from heaven?
Levi felt Eren’s breathing change, looking up to see his smile. oooh, he's still loopy. This'll be fun. “Hey honey, how do you feel?” He softly kissed his cheek, giving him a playful look. I'm so glad you're awake…

“Did it hurt when you fell from heaven?” Eren asked in complete seriousness as he looked at Levi. Did it? His eyes quickly turned into puppy eyes without letting up from them. Tell me…

Levi looked stunned, his eyes lighting up after a moment as he gently kissed his cheek again. “No… you were there just in time to catch me.” fuck, you're being cute…

“Holy shit, you’re hot… When I get better, will you go out with me? Wait are you single? Please tell me you’re single… Is that a wedding ring?” Eren continued to ramble off questions as he looked over Levi’s entire being. His eyes turning a bit glassy as he saw the ring. But then why did he kiss me?

Levi watched him ramble with a soft smile, his cheeks a bit pink as he lifted up his own left hand. “It's an engagement ring, yes…” He then picked up Eren’s hand, showing him the ring on his own hand. “And this is the ring I proposed to you with last month…” We’re engaged. “So no, I'm not single.” Levi kissed the corner of his lips. “I happen to be happy with my fiancé.”

Eren blushed across his face and his eyes widened. “I’m pretty sure I’m dead, because I’m in heaven right now… Holy shit… Dad’s gonna freak out when he finds out I’m dead…” Eren’s head rolled to the side a bit to see Lathe sitting there and looking at him. “Oh shit… looks like Dad’s dead too… we’re all in heaven now, but I won the jackpot.” Eren wouldn’t stop talking, his eyes flying across the room and looking everything over. He then got distracted with his ring, and ended up shutting his mouth to stare at it with wide eyes. Pretty.

Levi and Lathe were struggling not to burst out laughing, Levi keeping Eren close and letting him ramble. This is adorable. “It's pretty, huh? Sapphires and Emeralds… you like it?” He chuckled as Eren stared at it with sparkling eyes. He loves it…

Lathe caught Levi’s gaze, trying desperately not to laugh. I'm not dead, but his reaction to me being dead is pretty damn funny…

Eren looked up at Levi again, his eyes widening once more and looking all over him. “Are you lost?... I don’t think this is the modeling agency…. Did someone call SWAT? Because you’re the bomb…. ” His eyes were staring right into Levi’s looking through the greyish blue orbs and trying Levi hid his mouth behind his wrist, smiling as Eren continued rambling on, feeling warm. He leaned over in a short break to kiss him, gently cupping his cheek. You're so damn sweet… Levi broke their kiss after a moment, shifting to nearly lay on top of the brunet. You're wonderful… even when you're loopy and on drugs…

“Do you have a name?” Eren asked completely innocently, his puppy eyes on overload as he looked at Levi crawling to lay on top of him.

“Do you have a last name? ‘Cause I wanna borrow it…” Please?

Levi smiled, softly kissing him. “You're more than welcome to it… Eren Ackerman… I kinda like the sound of it…” We haven't talked yet about last names… I guess we're technically doing it now, though.

“I must be dead… because you’re an angel…” Eren’s smile was wide across his face, gasping in shock as Lathe finally lost it and began laughing loudly in the room. Huh? We’re all dead…

Levi couldn't help but start laughing into Eren’s neck when Lathe finally lost it, his eyes bright. “Eren, love, you're perfectly fine.” Levi leaned up, pressing kisses all over his cheeks. This is great… He looked over to Lathe, watching the man beaming as he held up his phone. Oh my god, he's recording this. This is great! Levi looked back to him, nestling into his neck. All mine.

“Wow, fuck, if I’m not in heaven I’ve sure seen it now… Don’t stop smiling because damn that’s beautiful.” It is… oh my god it’s beautiful…

Levi couldn't stop smiling if he wanted to, kissing all over Eren’s cheeks. Fuck, I love you. “You're being too good to me…” He kissed him again, happy when Eren looked dazed and more in love than ever. Holy shit…

“Are you a magician? Because whenever I look at you everyone else disappears…” His eyes were blown as he looked at Levi, and only Levi, ignoring Lathe for the moment.
Levi gently held his cheek, looking at him with shining eyes. Fuck, they're all so cheesy... I love it... Levi gently played with Eren’s hair, the touch tender. I love you.

“Your ass is so nice, it’s a shame that you have to sit on it.” Eren immediately waggled his eyebrows, a grin on his face. It’s very round.

Levi’s eyebrows shot up, looking over as Lathe sputtered and turned red. Yeah, that one wasn’t meant for you to hear. He understood when the man went to leave them be, looking back to Eren. “I’d take a seat elsewhere, but you're still recovering, honey. It'll get put to good use soon, though.” Levi gave him a wink. We’ll be back to doing things soon enough....

“Fuck me if I’m wrong, but dinosaurs still exist, right?”

Levi pretended to ponder the question. “Well, the closest descendant of the dinosaurs, the chicken, is still very much alive and well, so I guess I don't need to fuck you on that one....” He chuckled quietly as Eren gave him puppy eyes, kissing his nose. “But I guess since pterodactyls aren't around anymore... I should... sometime soon.” I'll take care of you when you're not high on drugs.

“Are you a trampoline? Because I wanna bounce on you.” Eren couldn’t help the cheeky grin that made it across his cheeks. I really do...

Levi smirked, his cheeks turning red. “Is that so?” He watched Eren nod. “You'll have plenty of chances to do that as much as you want...” He kissed his temple. I like loopy Eren...

Eren giggled like a child, his mind reeling. “If you were a squirrel, would you help me bust a nut?”

Where are you getting all of these from? “May~be.” He watched Eren pout, kissing him deeply for a moment. “If you asked nicely...”

“Hmm I’ll ask nicely, but I’m gonna call you leaves, ‘cause I should be blowing you.” He giggled once again, his eyes happy and light. I like you...

Levi chuckled. “Then I might as well call you a raspberry, because you're my favorite thing to eat...” I haven't eaten you out lately.... we need to fix that.
Eren’s face completely flushed, his eyes bulging a little bit. “I know my ABCs…. but I always forget the fourth letter… could you give it to me?” Eren tilted his head to the side and bit his lip, trying to be playful. You’ll eat me whole…

Levi looked over him with shaded eyes. “In a little bit…” Depends when the drugs wear off… and when you stop aching enough to let me tie you up again…

Lathe left them the second things got sexual, hunting down Scotty. “Scotty? Eren’s being loopy as hell and flirting with Levi like you wouldn't believe.” The number of cheesy pickup lines he knows is surprising… and vaguely impressive.

Scotty looked over paperwork, looking exhausted. “Yeah, well, we actually had him under anesthesia, so I would imagine he’d be loopy.” It doesn’t surprise me… He put the papers down, and went to go grab a few things from a nurses stand. Let’s go see him then.

Lathe walked with him back to Eren’s room, giving Scotty a gentle look when he saw how tired he looked. “…thank you, Scotty.” You’re always here to take care of my family… and I really appreciate that.

Scotty nodded, pausing as he looked into the room, Eren and Levi blushing like idiots. “Levi called and woke me up this morning… I owe Casper, fuck…” I swear, Eren needs to stop getting hurt on my day off… I promised Casper it would be all about him, fuck I need to get shit together…

Lathe looked at him, his thoughts clicking. “…today was going to be a date day, wasn't it.” He watched Scotty nod. “Oh shit, uh…” You two never have days off together… ever… “I'll try to convince him not to kill you. It's really bad timing…” Shit, he probably wants to flay you alive… he's probably eating ice cream again… dammit.

“Yeah, actually, Eren’s gonna be spending the night for observation… can you go and make sure Casper’s not eating ice cream?” Please? He’s probably really pissed off at me…

Lathe nodded, patting his shoulder. “I'll go make sure he's okay… somewhat…” Lathe gave him a small smile, turning to leave. I need to make sure he's okay… if he gives in and eats a shit ton and then takes a ton of lactaid he'll grow resistant to it and then goodbye cheese pizza…
Scotty nodded and thanked him before stepping in on Eren’s room and checking his vitals as Eren continued to giggle and try and talk to him, though he just ignored him, not up to speaking with him. I’ll just snap at him...
Lathe went to his car, pulling out and driving the short way to Casper and Scotty’s house. He parked in the driveway, the window flickering blue and grey as the TV was on. Uh oh. Lathe went up to the door and knocked, watching Casper open it, going from angry to defeated. “Casper?” ...you look like hell...

Casper sighed and simply left the door open for him, motioning him forward. “You can come in.” His voice was rough as he moved back to the couch and picked up his tub of ice cream and spoon again. Scotty probably fucking sent you for damage control… god dammit why can’t he just take a fucking day off!

Lathe shut the door behind him and immediately snatched the tub out of his hands before he could eat more than a third of it. “Casper, you know you can’t eat so much. You’ll never be able to eat cheese pizza again.” Lathe went to put it away, hearing Casper make a sound of protest. “Future you will be happy I did this...” He turned when he had put it away, seeing Casper’s death glare. ...fuck, he’s really upset. “...I’m really sorry your date day was screwed over. It was just really bad timing… it turned out Eren had a big tumor in his back, on his spine… and I wouldn’t’ve trusted anyone more than Scotty to operate on him… I know it doesn't fix the fact that you were alone all day… and I'm really sorry about that.” You two don’t have much of an overlap in free time...

Casper gave a defeated sigh as he curled up to himself, running a hand through his light blue hair. Fuck, I can’t even really be mad at it at this point. “It happens every time…. and I even had to cancel reservations that we had…” Scotty had planned the whole day and he looked broken when he woke me up this morning. “It’s not even worth it, being mad, is it? I mean, I get it, he’s a doctor and his schedule will never allow him to come home, but you would think that he would tell the hospital he’s not on call for once?” Is an actual date alone with him too much to ask? Casper sniffled, tears once more beginning to erupt from his eyes. Fuck I’ve been crying all day... and now this?

Lathe moved to sit next to him, hugging him and letting him cry, rubbing his back. “I'm really sorry… Levi told me he had personally called Scotty because he was really worried- something was really wrong, especially with his spine, and Scotty knows his file forward backward and sideways. And he's one of the few doctors who actually use the serum… he couldn't have known that you two were going to have a day together… it was horrible timing...” I'm sorry...

Casper nodded and sighed quietly moving to grab the remote to turn the TV off. “I’m gonna go shower and then go to bed, I need to wake up early, I have a meeting tomorrow morning.” He looked absolutely horrible, his eyes puffy from crying all day, and face ashen. I just wanna be able to cry in peace… and Scotty’s probably not gonna come home anytime soon… He stood up walking towards the stairs. “Can you lock the door behind you?” Please?

Lathe stood, catching his shoulder. “Casper-” He paused when he heard Casper’s stomach growl, thinking. “...have you eaten anything besides ice cream?” He watched him look away in embarrassment, sighing quietly. “I'll let you shower, but only if you come downstairs right after. I'm making you dinner.” You need to eat.

Casper sighed quietly. “Lathe, it’s already past nine…” It's basically the time I go to sleep... He sighed once more as his stomach growled again, and he could feel the bile rising in his throat. Definitely ate too much ice cream...

Lathe could see Casper raise a wrist to his mouth, ushering him to the bathroom. You look sick... He stayed outside the closed bathroom door, going into the kitchen and giving Casper privacy. Damn... He rifled through their pantry, lifting out ingredients. He had everything he needed for pasta when Casper came into the kitchen, looking pale. Shit... “I'm making you dinner. Go upstairs, take a shower, and then you can come back downstairs and have pasta the way you like it.” You always liked the pasta I made. “You'll feel better after a hot shower and a warm dinner. Please.” Let me.

Casper could only nod before he walked away in silence. He’s gonna give me a lecture when he sees the amount of ice cream I had. He sighed as he made it upstairs, going through the motions and grabbing himself some pajamas as he walked into the bathroom. I'm gonna be sick again… fuck...

It didn't take long for Lathe to be working in full swing, sighing as he went to throw out tomato skins and saw the numerous ice cream cartons in the trash. Holy shit... he's probably been eating ice cream and throwing up all day... He went on cooking, rolling out the pasta with a rolling pin and cutting it up as the tomatoes simmered. ...the two of them need to fix this shit... it shouldn't get so bad that when they have a date day and it gets cancelled Casper’s this depressed... it's horrible... He made plenty, waiting for Casper to come downstairs before putting in the noodles. ...I hope he feels a bit better after this... and I hope to god he didn't take so much lactaid that his system is flooded with it... that’d be bad.

Casper sat at the kitchen table, a miserable look on his face. Go on, lecture me and tell me how much I’m acting like a child, go on.... I know you’re gonna do it, get it over with. His eyes downcast as he stared at the table in front of him, unable to pick his head up to look at Lathe. I can’t… I can’t look at you… I’m horrible...

Lathe was patient as the noodles boiled, going to clean up the kitchen. He soon set a bowl full of pasta and sauce in front of him, gently resting a hand on his shoulder and smiling softly before he turned away, going to clean the kitchen, even working on the dishes already in the sink. I can do stuff... and I'm not about to lecture you about why not to eat a shit ton of ice cream. You've heard it before and it's not what you need now. You're trying to cope and I'm just going to help.

Casper was surprised as he looked up, watching Lathe go back to cleaning. “You’re not gonna lecture me?” This is a first... You always lecture me whenever I vaguely even touch ice cream.

“What good is it gonna do, first of all? You're a grown ass man as a doctor who knows damn well what happens when someone lactose intolerant eats a shit ton of dairy and then takes too much lactaid. You've heard it before.” Lathe looked over to him. “...and I can understand being pissed off and really upset when you barely see him, look forward to a day just about you two, then find out that very morning it's been cancelled. I'm sorry about that... but I just want you to feel a little bit better, and lecturing you isn't the answer.” It's just not. Lathe turned back to the sink, starting to fill their dishwasher.

Casper could only nod. “I didn’t take any Lactaid….” He quieted down as he picked up his fork and began to eat. Thank god... actual food...

Lathe looked to him in shock. “...are you telling me that you would eat a shit ton of ice cream, throw it all up, and then start over again? All fucking day?” He watched Casper stare at his plate in silence, his fork twirling slowly around and around a few noodles. ...holy shit... “Casper, honey…” Lathe moved to him, pulling up a chair and going to hug him. “You can't do that to yourself…” You're really making me worry...

“But I wanted a fucking day to myself with Scotty! Is that too much to fucking ask for?” He cried, a sad whimper escaping him. I hate this! I hate that this always happens to us! Why can’t I just have the day to myself with him? He closed his eyes, trying not to sob more. “I’m a fucking child, because I thought if it got bad enough I would just go to the hospital, and then he’d have to come see me one way or another…” It was stupid and childish...

Lathe’s eyes widened, looking up to him. “You were trying to put yourself in the hospital just to see him?” He watched the tears start streaming down his face, pulling him close. “I'm so, so sorry that today went to shit... it was horrible timing... and I'm so sorry that you were stuck home alone... but when Scotty comes home, please don't kick his ass... Levi called because Eren was in pain and he had to go through surgery with him... I'm so sorry that we took all his attention away from you but he looked so tired afterward... and he looked so hurt and dreading of what was going to happen when he came home... he wanted to spend today with you... and it just didn't work... I'm so sorry, but he loves you and he didn't want to have to come in on a day he'd rather be spending with you... it's a day off wasted... but you two can have another day together soon... have Scotty take off one day and demand to not be on call. You're a CEO, for god's sake- you can have things rearranged. Make another day this week to spend together. Even if someone in our family is unlucky enough to need him, we’ll go bug someone else. You deserve to have him to yourself more than you do now.” You're both so busy... “You two need a vacation together...”
...that wouldn't be a bad idea... you two definitely need it.

Casper just broke down, clinging onto Lathe as he pulled him close. “These things always happen, we always plan the whole day and then he can’t go... it’s so... it’s just...” I’m so sick and tired of it... “I.... I don’t want our marriage to be like this too...” I know it hurts to think about losing him, but at this rate he’s practically married to his job....

Lathe sighed quietly, holding onto him. “Things definitely need to change... you two need some kind of structure... like one day out of the week or every two weeks you don't work... cut down on hours... but you need more than just once a month or less and for half of them to be cancelled...” This isn't healthy...

Casper could only nod as he shifted around. He sniffled, calming down after a few minutes and moving to eat. “Thanks for making food...” At least one of us got dinner... Scotty's probably scared I’m gonna beat his ass...I mean, I’m mad, yeah, but he always takes it out harder on himself. “Did he.... did he look scared?” That I was gonna kill him?

“...he did... he's going to come home exhausted and probably camp out on the couch... he was really sure that when he went home he'd have to face your wrath.. he was so upset that today didn't go the way it was planned...” There's no way he'd rather work than just be with you all day...

Casper nodded, quietly twirling the noodles onto his fork. “Yeah... he probably will, and they’ll probably give him tomorrow off...” They usually do when he gets called in...

Lathe looked over him, his voice soft. “...do you have anything important tomorrow? Or just paperwork?” I know you said you had to shuffle things around, but that doesn't necessarily mean that it's all tomorrow.

“I have a meeting in the morning I gotta go to... so I should probably go to bed once you leave...”
And sleep alone because Scotty thinks I’m gonna kill him. He felt his body deflate at the thought.
Shit... I really fucked up... he shouldn’t be afraid to come home.

Lathe watched him slump in his chair, gently rubbing his back. “I'm so sorry... you and Scotty need to talk soon about having another day set aside for the two of you. Pull strings at your work, ask him about taking another day off... and about making sure he's not on call. But one of us has to text him and tell him that you're not going to kill him... and that you don't want to sleep alone.
Being alone to sleep is going to really hurt in the state you are now...
Casper sighed quietly shaking his head. “He’ll still sleep on the couch… he’s been tiptoeing around me lately… I feel like such an ass…” He’s always afraid he’s gonna upset me… and that’s not healthy…

Lathe sighed, about to speak when the front door clicked, their heads shooting up. ...he’s home? I thought he’d be there until at least eleven… huh. Lathe looked to the clock, his eyebrows shooting up. ...it is eleven… well then. “…Casper, Hun.” He looked to the man next to him, watching him look back at him, almost scared. “It's okay. Just go talk to him. Hug him, welcome him home. It's okay.” You two can't be so afraid of the other like this… it's really unhealthy.

Casper slowly nodded, standing from the table and shuffling to the front where Scotty was hanging up his jacket. He saw Scotty stiffen the second he heard him, slowly coming up to him and wrapping his arms around his middle, burying his face in his chest. “Welcome home, Scotty…” I missed you so much…

Scotty stood there awkwardly for a moment before his hands slowly wrapped around him. “I’m really sorry about today Casper, I know we had everything planned out, but…. There’s no excuse… I really need to learn to put you first. “I’m sorry… Did you eat something? Lathe’s car’s still here, do you want me to go?” I can go get myself something to eat if you’re still in the middle of talking with him…

“Lathe made me eat dinner… I ate a lot of ice cream again…” It didn't hurt as badly as being alone… and I hurt even more when I stopped… so I kept eating and it distracted me… “I missed you… and it's okay… you were on call but Levi called you so early and it was really serious and you had to go and make sure he was okay… I had to cancel our plans and my stomach and throat hurt from all the ice cream but it hurts less than you being gone so I didn't stop…” I need you. Casper clutched Scotty close, craving touch. Hold me… please…

Scotty felt guilt take over his system. “I know, I’m so sorry Casper…” He timidly leaned his head down to kiss the top of his head, his own arms unwrapping from Casper. “Why don’t you go and eat a bit more, and try and settle your stomach before bed? I need to take a shower.” You won’t be able to sleep that great and you have a meeting tomorrow morning, so you should probably make sure you can sleep… Scotty tried not to let the guilt and pain show on his face, or in his voice. I feel horrible…

Casper shook his head, burying his face in his shirt. You smell like you… you just smell like clean after you take a shower… “I'm not hungry anymore… I ate enough… I just wanna go upstairs and sleep with you… you're forbidden from sleeping anywhere but the bed…” I need someone to hold onto me.
Scotty sighed quietly, shifting to pick Casper up and hold him to his chest. He turned away from the stairs heading towards the kitchen and setting Casper at the table and getting him to let go of him for the moment. “Eat, Casper… I know you just ate ice cream all day, so your stomach is going to be hurting all night… just eat this, okay?” He kissed the top of his head, ignoring Lathe’s presence for the moment as he searched the fridge for some food to eat. I’m starving… I didn’t get to eat yet…

Casper nodded, looking up as Lathe touched Scotty’s arm, silently asking if he wanted the rest of the pasta. He always makes a lot… there’s some left… He ate steadily, hooking ankles with Scotty the second he sat down. Mine…

Scotty thanked him quietly, grabbing a bowl and filling it before he poured himself a glass of bourbon. I need to be actually able to sleep tonight… Fuck I’m not going to be able to anyways. He sat, letting Casper hook their ankles, and quite surprised that he was being so touchy feely at the moment. Isn’t he pissed at me? Because he could actually schedule around today…. But not again… Scotty couldn’t help but let his shoulders slump as he ducked his heating face with shame. I’m a horrible fiance…

Casper looked up as Scotty set down a glass of liquor, watching as Lathe quietly washed the dishes before walking to the doorway. Lathe?+ He watched Lathe pause, his words slow enough for him to understand. It's been awhile since we've used Russian. +...thank you… for making me eat and stopping me from killing myself with ice cream…+ It was bad…

Lathe took a while to process it, his words unsure as he gave him a small smile. +...it's what friends are supposed to do. If something’s got to kill you, ice cream isn't the thing you want to do it.+ He watched Casper chuckle, giving them both a small smile before leaving quietly. They can have their peace.

Scotty’s voice was weak as he thanked Lathe and wished him good night. He kept his head down and his eyes downcast as he sipped at his drink, eating quietly. I don’t want to upset him… He’ll just eat more ice cream, and I won’t be able to stop him without taking him to the hospital… and then he’ll be even more mad because I’d probably get roped back into work again… He let out a sigh louder than he’d planned, his face still ashen and weary. He’s still hella pissed at me…

Casper didn't miss the broken look in his eyes, finishing up his warm noodles, picking at the small pieces of tomato left. He waited for Scotty to finish his bowl before standing, slowly shifting to sit in Scotty’s lap, curling up into his neck. Mine.

Scotty let him without protest. “I’m sorry….” His voice weak as he carefully wrapped an arm around Casper, his other lifting the glass to his lips to finish the glass off. I know you said I can’t sleep anywhere but the bed… But I don’t think I’ll be able to sleep, and I don’t want to disturb you… You have to get up early…

“I-I want a vacation…” Casper’s voice was small, burying his face in his neck. “I want to take off two weeks with you and go somewhere where we don’t have to worry about you being called into work and I don’t have to go to boring as hell meetings… we can just be with each other and have fun and relax and just do whatever… I really fucking miss you…” It’s a pleasant surprise when I wake up and I’m not alone, and an even better surprise when I don’t fall asleep alone… but even then you’re always so exhausted… I’m very lucky if I get even some sleepy morning sex or just a sliver of attention… we haven’t done anything much for a while..

Scotty nodded as he listened to Casper. “I know I’m not the best fiance… but we can do that, I’d need to schedule it way in advance… where do you wanna go?” You pick, it’s better if you’re happy about what’s going on… and it would be nice to take a break sometime… He shifted to get up, scooping Casper up once more and heading up towards their room. I can deal with the dishes tomorrow…

Casper clung to him, his legs immediately wrapping around his middle. “Somewhere warm… by the water… I dunno.. we can figure that out soon… I just… anything to get to have you to myself a little…” I need you.

Scotty nodded, quiet as he held Casper and carefully walked up the stairs, setting him on the bed before he pulled away so that he could grab pajamas. I’m not gonna be able to sleep, but maybe I’ll be able to hold onto you until you fall asleep… and then I’ll sit in the bathroom and read… maybe contemplate how shitty I am…

Casper lay limply on the bed, watching Scotty dress. He reached for him when he was done, making him slip into the bed and turn out the light. Casper immediately tugged on the taller man, Casper clinging to him. “Stay…. please try to sleep and stay with me…” I need you here right now…. Casper nestled his nose into his neck, breathing him in. Mine… He slept soundly, feeling warm when he felt something bringing him from sleep. He blinked awake, groaning as he felt himself stretched full. What… He felt Scotty kissing all over his cheeks, feeling a gentle hand on his length. You…. “Scotty…” Casper felt want settle in his abdomen, reaching up and winding his arms around him, his legs spreading for him. You managed to get like this while I was asleep… fuck, it’s a damn good way to wake up...

Scotty continued to kiss at his cheeks. I know you need to actually get up soon, but I figured you might want some attention first… He hummed as he slowly pulled out and snapped his hips back inside, grinding down into Casper for a moment before he repeated the process. I know you don’t like me wearing a condom… but I needed to for today…
Casper gasped at the sudden burst of pleasure, clinging to Scotty as he moved. “Oh… o-oh…” Casper panted as Scotty began a deep pace, quietly moaning. Fuck... I needed this...

Scotty chuckled, his hands at his hips as he continued with his pace is slowly pulling out, snapping into him and grinding down on him. His mouth barely left his neck or his shoulder, marking him, but making sure it could be hidden. Fuck, I want you on cloud nine... and you certainly sound like you're getting there...

Casper held onto him, softly moaning as Scotty marked him. I needed this so much... “Scotty... oh my god...” Casper buried a hand in his hair, his chest heaving with every breath. Fuck you're so deep...

Scotty smirked, kissing at his neck more, his voice rough as he spoke. “You like this? You like getting fucked in the morning?” Hmm, if you say yes I'll be inclined to do it more often...

“I love it like this... you're here with me, at least one of us wakes up hard... fuck, I could get so used to this...” I would appreciate a good fuck in the mornings... Casper slowly rocked with him, whimpering as he was roughly handled. “It feels really good...” I want this more...

Scotty chuckled darkly, nipping at Casper’s ear and tugging on it. His grip around Caspers soft flesh tightened on his hips. I wanna fuck you.... I wanna give you everything. He pulled his hips back, snapping them back deep inside of Casper before he repeated the process and set a brutal pace. “Hmm, I wanna hear you Casper...” I want to hear you beg for it.

Casper gasped as Scotty sped up, crying out as he was pounded. “O-Oh Scotty... fuck... hah, f-feels really good...” His legs wrapped around his waist, feeling pleasure burning in his abdomen. I wanna cum...

Scotty continued to pound into Casper, soft grunts leaving him as he kissed at his shoulders and his collarbone. Fuck, I need to make yesterday up to you, and I don’t know how to do that... You’re always so pissed at me... He shifted his hold, letting go of Casper’s hips and moving his arms to curl them around Casper’s body, holding him to his chest. I still feel horrible about it.

Casper latched onto him, feeling his hard length rubbing against their bare stomachs. He enjoyed the feeling of Scotty flush to him, his voice breathy. “S-Scotty... h-hah....” He tried not to tug too hard on his hair, crying out and arching his back when he finally came between the two of them, Scotty pounding him all through it. Oh fuck...
Scotty continued to pound him, feeling his own coil tighten and promptly snap just after Casper cried out. He settled inside of Casper, resting his forehead against his shoulder, just taking in his scent. He’s still probably hella pissed at me for yesterday… “‘m sorry…” His voice was muffled in his shoulder, and his arms still wrapped tightly around Casper’s middle. I don’t wanna let go, but your alarm is gonna go off soon.

Casper held onto him tightly, enjoying the closeness as he slowly came down from his high. “…you owe me for yesterday… but I’m not mad. And I mean that.” He nuzzled into his shoulder. “I miss you… and I could certainly get used to waking up to this…” Fuck, this was a really nice surprise…

“I know I do, and I’ll keep that in mind.” He murmured, kissing his neck before slowly letting go and peeling himself off of Casper. “Do you wanna shower?” You probably do, we’re both a mess… He slowly pulled out shifting to take the condom off, tied it off and got up to take it and throw it in the trash. Even if you said you’re not mad…. I’m still guilty… and I saw how much ice cream you ate yesterday… I feel like shit…

Casper slowly nodded, turning over and shutting off his alarm. I don't want it to blare, no thank you… He sat up, seeing where Scotty had dropped their clothes into a pile and smirking. Of course. He stood, stretching and going over to his fiancé, hugging him from behind. “…I love you.” …there are things we have to work on… and we’re certainly nowhere near perfect yet… but I really do love you.

Scotty let out a sigh of relief as he heard Casper speak a soft smile forming on his lips as he turned around to peck Casper’s cheek. “I love you too…. Let’s get in the shower, shall we?” He asked quietly, a soft look on his face, and the guilt in his eyes and features well hidden. Casper doesn’t need to know… I’ll probably always feel guilty about it…

Casper smiled, holding onto him as they walked to the bathroom, grabbing their fluffy towels on the way. “I don't want you to feel guilty about yesterday… and I don't want you to feel guilty that it's happened before. I just want us to talk later about fixing this kind of thing.” We both lead very busy lives… but we need time for each other.

Scotty followed him quietly. But I can’t help but feel guilty… I know you kept telling me not to… but I can’t fucking help it… He turned the water on hot, watching as the steam slowly rose up. Yeah, well, Casper’s gonna need to shower and then leave right away because he has a meeting… Scotty let his shoulders slump a bit. I’m not on call today, but the nurses can discharge Eren, and he’ll be fine, he was doing fine after surgery…
Casper stepped into the shower with him, immediately pressing flush to Scotty’s front, kissing across his collarbone. Mine. He held onto him, relaxing when Scotty moved to wash him. This is nice…

Scotty was gentle and thorough as he washed Casper. Just make Casper happy…. that’s all you need to do… He was silent as he washed Casper off, moving to wash himself. “Have a good day at work…” You gotta get dressed and go…

Casper pouted, not wanting to let go of his fiancé. He relented after a moment of thought, sighing. I have that fucking meeting…. “Thanks, Scotty.” Casper leaned up on tiptoe, softly kissing him. “I really love you.” Maybe I’ll see about coming home a bit early… you’ll be alone all day…

Scotty smiled and pecked his forehead. He smacked his ass with a playful glint in his eyes. “Go on, get to work.” You kinda have a meeting, and from what I remember it’s important.

Casper gave him a scandalized look, smirking when he stepped from the shower. “Alright, alright. If you say so, Master.” Casper winked before he pushed the shower curtain back, grabbing a towel and going to dry off and dress. I do need to get going…

Scotty watched him leave, his eyes going downcast as he heard him leave the bathroom and head towards the bedroom. Fuck… I’m gonna end up drinking today…. shit, maybe I should go in and release Eren anyways? Yeah…. Casper’s got a pretty full schedule today if I remember correctly…

Casper rifled through his closet, dressing in an ivory dress shirt and charcoal grey pants. I look fine. He grabbed his wallet and keys, looking over Scotty when he walked from the bathroom not long after with a faint smirk. “I’ll be seeing if I can maybe get out early…” He winked, descending the stairs. I'll be home soon enough.

Scotty looked surprised, watching him walk down the steps. “Don’t skip work just to come home, you have a business to run!” You’ve been avoiding running it for years…

“Yeah yeah, I guess. I should hire someone to do that for me.” He grinned widely, obviously joking. “But I think the boss can get to come home early every once in awhile.” I don’t really take days off…

“Don’t slack off Casper!” Scotty called to him from the bedroom as he rummaged for clothes. *I could just sleep… I mean I probably should but I can’t…. I won’t be able too… just like I couldn’t Casper cackled, the door locking behind him as he went to his car. I can't be late. He was glad that time seemed to have mercy, the day going by at a decent clip, looking to the clock. It's one…. I already ate, I got plenty of paperwork done... yep, I'm done. He packed up, handing his secretary a small stack of finished papers. “I'm heading out. These are all done- have one of the interns run them down to the mail room when you spot one, okay?” They need to get distributed. And I told you I'd be gone after one, so we're good. I just had paperwork anyway, and most of if got done.

The secretary nodded taking the small stack from him and going through them quickly to make sure they were in fact completed. “Oh, a delivery came for you while you were in the meeting, and I completely forgot about it, my apologies.” She quickly scurried to one side of her office to give him a large and long white box with a red bow wrapped around it. I believe it's from a lover...

Casper looked surprised, taking the box. “Oh, that's fine- hm.” He took a step towards the door, looking up to her with a smile. “I'll see you tomorrow.” What is this? He went back to his office in the meantime, setting down his bag and going to unwrap it. What is this? He untied the bow, opening the lid and smiling widely as he saw two dozen roses nestled with baby's breath in the box. They're beautiful. He looked for a card, finding a small note and smiling as he read the name in neat golden script printed onto it. Do your goddamn job, Casper. I love you. -Scotty. He rolled up the ribbon and put it in the box, closing it and going down to the lot with it, feeling warm. That's really sweet of him. He smiled softly the whole drive home, setting down his bag and going to unwrap it. What is this? He untied the bow, opening the lid and smiling widely as he saw two dozen roses nestled with baby’s breath in the box. They're beautiful. He looked for a card, finding a small note and smiling as he read the name in neat golden script printed onto it. Do your goddamn job, Casper. I love you. -Scotty. He rolled up the ribbon and put it in the box, closing it and going down to the lot with it, feeling warm. That's really sweet of him. He smiled softly the whole drive home, walking up the drive and unlocking the door quickly, dropping off his bag. “A little package came for me at the office today…” Casper’s voice drifted from the front door, hunting for his lover. Where are you...

Scotty was sitting on the couch, the coffee table supporting his feet and an empty bottle of bourbon. His eyes were bloodshot as he stared at the black television, barely looking up when Casper came in. Shit... This is pathetic... He's gonna be pissed at me, but I couldn't stop myself... Fuck, I need to limit myself on drink next time... If there even is a next time, he's probably gonna kill me now. His shoulders slumped almost instantly, tears starting to form. Fuck... I don't want him to be pissed...

Casper stopped when he saw Scotty, setting his things down and immediately coming to his side. “Scotty?” He pulled him close when he started crying, his hand running through his hair. Fuck, you drank a lot... “It's okay, love... it's okay....” I'm right here. It's okay.

Scotty couldn’t help but begin to cry, letting Casper pull him close. Fuck... he's gotta be pissed at me, even though he says it's okay... It's not okay. He sniffled and tried not full out sob. He's pissed...
Casper shifted to bring Scotty into his lap, gently holding him as he cried. “It's okay, love… I know yesterday didn't work out as planned but it's really okay… I love you and even though I wasn't happy yesterday I know we can fix this… we can fix this and be a lot happier… but you can't beat yourself up over this so much…. it really is okay. I'm not mad at you.” It really is okay.

“Casper…. You ate twenty seven pints of ice cream… You were throwing up all day because of it… Like hell you’re not mad at me… You wouldn’t have eaten that much! You looked like you were trying to put yourself in the hospital…” Scotty pulled away from him as his emotions bubbled to the surface. Fuck! I can’t snap at him, it’ll make everything worse…

“I didn't eat that many… but… I was just so upset… I looked forward to our day together for two weeks and the morning of, I wake up so happy that I get you to myself… and then I'm told that our day is cancelled… I was so upset and lonely and sick of never seeing you and I wanted nothing more than to just have you to hold onto… but right now I'm not drowning in sadness and I know that we can work to fix this. We can change how we do things and have more time to ourselves and with each other. We can do that.” We can.

“I took out the trash Casper… I counted every fucking one of them…” He cursed himself for snapping once more at him, putting his elbows on his knees and running his hands through his hair. “I’m sorry, can I just… can I have five minutes?” So that I can calm myself down and not snap and yell at you, because I don’t wanna do that to you…

“........love, let me clean you up and get you upstairs, okay?” You look so tired. Casper gently rubbed his back, softly kissing his cheek. …maybe I did eat that much… shit…. I really wasn't thinking when I went and bought all of it…

“I don’t think I can sleep Casper…” I tried last night and even with the alcohol I had last night I couldn’t fall asleep… Fuck.… He let Casper rub his back, his head down. “I’m so sorry… I’m a horrible fiancé…”

“You drank a lot… let's get you upstairs, I'm sure you'll sleep.” Casper helped Scotty to his feet, guiding him to the stairs. “You're not a horrible fiancé, Scotty… it's just that being engaged and being married means that we can't keep living the way we do. We need to change our schedules a bit. It's okay.” Casper got him into the bathroom, trying to coax him into washing his face. You need to get a bit cleaned up.

Scotty let Casper drag him along and gave into washing his face up, though in reality he simply doused his whole face and rubbed his hands all over his face. He let Casper dry his face off, shifting a bit as he was dragged and deposited on the bed. “Casper I can’t sleep….. I tried last night… It didn’t work then…” It’s not gonna work… and if I do fall asleep, I’m gonna knock out completely and probably not wake up for awhile…

“You need rest…” Casper moved to strip him, fetching soft pajamas and leaving them on the side table, shifting to lay over Scotty’s legs. I can help you relax. He softly kissed at his clothed length, teasingly nipping him. Just let me do this…

Scotty’s head spun as he was laid back on the bed, feeling Casper’s weight on his legs, confusion settling in. “Casper?” His voice full of confusion as he felt Casper’s mouth on his clothed length, the sensation instantly making him hard. Oh fuck… what’s he doing?

“I want you to feel good… and maybe this will tire you out…” Casper gently nipped at his quickly hardening length, dragging down his boxers and nuzzling his base, his tongue dragging over the flushed flesh. I hope this feels good…

Scotty’s eyes widened, his hands gripping the sheets underneath him. Oh fuck… he’s… he’s gonna give me a blow. “Fuck… Casper…” He watched Casper engulf his hard length, a gasp leaving him as he felt Casper’s nose in the course hair surrounding his base. Oh shit…

Casper easily took him down to the root, gently sucking and rubbing his bare thighs. You sound wonderful when I do this… He slowly pulled up on him, his lips gracing his tip. Mine.

Scotty watched him with shaded eyes. “Oh fuck… Casper… you don’t have to…” Fuck but it feels so good… But I’ve been so shitty to you, why are you so willing to do this?

“But I want to…. I want you to be able to sleep…. ” Casper gently lapped at him. “And you deserve it…. ” I don’t tell you how much I love you enough… we have a lot to work on, but we’re getting there. Casper kissed his tip before his lips parted, taking him in again, all the way down, feeling his coarse hair on his nose, swallowing around him. I want you to feel good… I want you to be able to relax after this and sleep….

Scotty shut up after that, letting out shudders gasp after shudder gasp as he tried not to buck his hips. Oh fuck it feels so good… His hand came down to run through his blue hair before he threaded his fingers through it and grabbed it. Fuck it feels really really good…

Casper let him grip his hair, one hand gently cupping his sac, massaging him. “Does it feel good?” He rubbed the tip of his tongue through Scotty’s slit, looking up to him. Does it?
“Fuck… yes it does Casper….” Fuck... your tongue, it feels amazing. He groaned, bucking his hips up and feeling his tongue run up his length, a soft moan leaving him. So good…

Casper let his tongue run all over him, listening as he panted. He took him into his mouth again, bobbing faster. Just let go... you deserve to feel good...

Scotty swore loudly, his climax hitting him after a few more moments. “Casper.... fucking shit…” He let his head fall back on the bed, knowing better than to try and push Casper away from his over sensitive length. Fuck, he knows I'm still sensitive... It sent a shudder down his spine, his length still hard in Casper’s hands.

Casper swallowed down his load, still lapping at him as he remained hard. “Hm, you don't seem to be done, love…. you seem to still be very interested…” He chuckled deeply as he softly nipped at him, wrapping a hand around his shaft. I'll sate you.

Scotty groaned as he felt Casper’s hands on his shaft. “Fuck… Casper …”Fuck you know I’m sensitive after I cum, and you're still rubbing me... He let out a small whimper, letting his body relax into the sheets below him, closing his eyes.

Casper looked up at him as he pumped him, his lips toying with his tip. “Just relax, love….” He stroked him faster, watching his face. I know how sensitive you are... but you're still so hard, and until you can relax enough to sleep, we can play.... “Would you like it better if I used something else?” Casper gave him an innocent look, shifting onto his knees with his back arched, tempting him.

Scotty opened his eyes, looking over Casper’s figure and seeing his ass in the air. “Damn, Casper… Fuck, I want you to ride me…” His whole face heated instantly as he realized what he said. Fuck, alcohol really is liquid courage....

Casper smirked, kissing his tip. “You know, I like that idea.” He shifted to slowly kiss him, shedding his clothes in his lap and going for the lube and a condom. I don't want to have to clean myself out after... I just want to focus on you.

Scotty watched him move around, his eyes not leaving from Casper’s skin, watching with fascination and utter want. He’s beautiful... and I still can’t believe he agreed to marry me... If we ever get there.
Casper was soon enough nude in Scotty’s lap, going for the lube and kissing at his neck as he reached back to stretch himself, not wanting to get hurt. I want this…

Scotty hummed, turning his head and letting Casper kiss his neck, his hardon leaking profusely. Fuck, this is amazing… “You're gonna get fucked twice in one day…” He murmured, his hands coming up to grab Casper’s asscheeks and pull them apart. Mine…

Casper sighed deeply as Scotty parted the flesh, reaching deeply to stretch himself, quietly sighing as he slid his fingers in and out. Fuck. He nipped at his neck, groaning as he made it to three fingers. I want it…

Scotty let him, letting out soft moans as he soon let go of Casper’s ass cheeks, letting the jiggle back into place before smirking and smacking one and then the other, leaving large red hand prints on his ass. “Fuck that’s hot…”

Chapter End Notes

I'm sorry for the abrupt end to this chapter but I need inspiration to smack me in the face to write anymore... any suggestions?
Damien was quiet as he read his paper, glancing up occasionally to Iroh next to him, still going through a book of crosswords. ....I still don’t understand why we have to be wearing tuxes... then again, I’m glad I didn’t fight it, since everyone else on this plane is too. He tugged at his collar for a moment, glancing out the window. ...this is going to be interesting....

Iroh looked around at the members on the plane with them. Aniki didn’t send who I thought he would, which either means he’s dead or moved up in the world... ^Mori, when will we be landing? ^

^Soon, Iroh-sama.^

^And I assume Brother expects us at the estate when we land?^

^You are correct, Iroh-sama.^

He sighed and nodded, looking to Damien over his crossword book. “I’m going to be speaking a lot of Japanese today, you best learn quickly, I know you only know a handful, but they’ll take advantage of you because of the language barrier, and know that I can’t always protect you from them…” You’ll have to prove yourself to Aniki and his followers.

^I’ll do what I can.^ He showed him his paper, every article in kanji, a card in his hand with notes to help him. ^I’m getting there.^

^I’m impressed the fucker knows that much.^

Iroh pinched the bridge of his nose as a majority of the men started to laugh. Fuck it. ^Oi, knock it off, don’t think that just because I’ve been in the states that I’ve forgotten everything I’ve been taught.^ He watched them quiet and straighten themselves out. Bunch of dogs that have a far worse bark than bite. “Felix, down.” The dog snorted, laying down but keeping his teeth bared still. At least none of them have decided to shoot anyone yet, that’s a plus.

Damien gave the man who had spoken a raised brow, looking back to his paper. They all look a lot more uncomfortable now that they know we both can understand them. Of course. Damien was unfazed, taking a sip of his water. I feel like this trip is going to be hell with some sprinklings of amazing. Or vice versa.

Iroh sighed, shaking his head and looking at Felix, petting him and grabbing his vest as they went in for a landing at the airport, being taxied to the hangar the plane usually stayed in. ^Is transportation ready? Or are we waiting like sitting ducks?^ I like everything on time and on the move, the less time I have to be here the better...

...sitting ducks? He’s talking like we’re being hunted. Damien straightened out the few bands on his right hand, the metal rings inconspicuous. ...then again, these guys all look shady as fuck, so. Damien stood straight next to Iroh, the tallest of the group by far, looking around with apparent disinterest.

^They’ll be here in a few moments, we’re going to unloaded the plane Iroh-sama.^

^Go, make it quick, I want to be gone in less than 10 minutes.^ He waved them off, moving to readjust the holsters where his guns were hiding under his jacket. ^Let me guess, you packed all of yours away?^ Knowing you you probably did... Iroh’s eyes had hardened as he looked to Damien, reaching into his back pocket and pulling out a black handgun for him.

^Yes…^ Damien was stunned as Iron handed him a gun, taking it and instinctively slipping it into his breast pocket. ^I have other…^ Fuck, what was the word? Uh… ^ah… weapons, on me…^ I think that’s the right one…. His voice was quieter, glancing over to the others. .....wow. This could apparently go very badly. I have rings on both hands and a few knives, but I didn’t know I’d need a fucking gun.....

Iroh sighed, shaking his head for the moment and grabbing Felix’s leash and holding it. “Felix, follow…” He’ll follow me… He stepped outside of the plane just as three black SUVs pulled up beside them, their luggage and some boxes being added to the back of all three cars. ^He comes with me, if any of you object you’ll find a bullet in your eye before you finish your sentence. He was met with silence, relieved and walking towards the SUV in the middle, motioning for Damien to follow him.

Damien didn’t even bat an eye at his words, following him silently, not even looking at the other men. …this is life now. Damien got in beside Iroh, studying the face of their driver for a moment. ...okay. Once I memorize faces, I’ll feel the tiniest bit better about this shit.

^Tomaki, take us to the estate, Brother wants to see me.^
Of course, Iroh-sama…. and where shall your guest be staying?

He’ll be staying with me, at all times, and is not to leave my sight, is that clear?

Yes.

Iroh nodded, settling back in the seat and petting Felix as his head laid in his lap. “You’ll get used to this eventually. I hope you’ve seen people get shot before…” That’s the first thing he’s gonna have me do when I get back, and have you do...

“I have.” It’s not pretty…...holy fuck, what’s going to happen when we get to the estate? Damien was quiet, looking out the window and going over defensive and offensive techniques in his head, remembering every way he’d ever learned to disarm an attacker. ...I’m a head taller than anyone else here, and much heavier so far… as long as I can disarm an opponent and keep them from drawing more weapons, I could easily win in a fight....

Iroh waited in silence as the drove away from the airport and drove 10 minutes away to the estate, guards at the gate, opening them up for their SUVs and closing them once more. The rest of the winding driveway was very wooded, a very tall building standing in a clearing at the end of it, long outdoor walkways leading to other smaller buildings of the same like and build. “We’re here…” I wonder who I’ll be shooting today.

“Alright.” Damien got out when Tomaki opened the door for him, immediately skimming the edge of the woods around them, taking in their surroundings. Very wooded, well protected, completely walled in... yep, we’re gonna die.

Iroh-sama, where would you like your belongings? And the belongings of your guest?

Put then in my house, make sure all of it gets there. Will we be eating with the family today?

Big Brother will tell you, we’ll get everything moved, sir.

Iroh swore under his breath, whistling for Felix to follow him and stay at his side, making sure Damien followed him as well into the house. The maids bowed in his presence, and pointed towards the sound of someone groaning in pain and a fist meeting flesh. Does he ever learn?
Damien contained a grimace as he heard the sound, his face completely blank when they were led into a room with three men tied and kneeling in a line, a man currently holding one by the collar and repeatedly punching their face. Oh my god. He didn’t move, standing next to Iroh, breathing slowly. .....Whatever the fuck happens, I’m keeping Iroh safe.

^Well, if it isn’t my little brother, come to join us have you?^

^I have, Want do you want me to do?^ Iroh’s face was blank as he crossed his arms over his chest.
Fuck I’m really gonna have to shoot someone.

^Well, I was originally going to have everyone take a turn with you until you’ve learned… but it seems like you haven’t forgotten…^ Hiro set the man he was beating up down, waving to the line of them. ^Go ahead, they tried to skim money off the top… your guest too, or he doesn’t stay with you.^

Iroh sighed, reaching into his jacket and pulling out a gun, turning the safety off and barely hesitating as he shot two of the three in the head, looking over to Damien. You better fucking do it, I gave you a gun...

Damien was completely still as Iroh shot the two men, waiting for Iroh to look at him before taking out his gun, looking to the third man. ^Look at me.^ His voice was commanding, lifting the gun when the man obeyed and shooting him right between the eyes without hesitation. Good, I still have decent fucking aim…. but holy shit… He watched them hit the ground, turning the safety back on and slipping it back in his jacket like nothing happened.

^Will we be joining the family for dinner?^ Iroh looked unenthused as Hiro looked over every aspect of Damien. Fuck this is already going badly.

^Yes, and I’d like you to sit to my right, I’d like to get to know your…. guest.^

Iroh nodded, bowing before turning and whistling for Felix letting him follow and waiting for Damien to follow him as well. You’ll get lost if I leave you all alone.

Damien immediately fell into step next to Iroh, thinking, ...I’m going to have to talk to that bastard tonight… great.
Iroh led him in silence out of the larger home and down the pathways to his own home. Their boxes and luggage already having been carried into the main hallway. “Grab your things, we’ll unpack, because we’re gonna be here awhile.” I can tell already... it’s going to be a bitch trying to go back home... even if he lets us.

“All right.” Damien grabbed their suitcases and brought those into the bedroom first, immediately unpacking his guns, hiding two more on his body. ….I have a feeling I’m going to need these. He switched out his plain bands for more squared-off rings, the tops neatly decorated and textured. Just in case... He began to put their clothes away, quickly finishing and going to help unpack kitchenware, producing a knife out of nowhere to open the boxes. ….fucking hell, I’m so paranoid... I feel like they’re going to try and jump us any second...

Iroh sighed quietly, pulling out two bed spreads for them, and setting them up appropriately before going to his closet and smiling as he saw his kimono. I should change... He got dressed in the dark blue fabric that hugged his frame perfectly. Well, it fits better than the last time I wore it... that’s a plus. “Damien?” Where have you run off to?

“Yes?” Damien walked in from the kitchen, stopping when he saw him. “...that looks really good on you.” It really does. Damien looked him over, stepping over to him and gently pecking his cheek, his hands on his waist. Fuck, I’ve been right next to you this whole time and I still missed you. “Do I have to worry about being affectionate while we’re in... I’m assuming our own house? Er, yours, excuse me…”

“Not necessarily, but Tomaki may come in and out just to check we’re alive every now and then, and to drop off my assignments...” I fucking hate doing what he makes home do... balancing his fucking checkbooks, and making sure all our bills are paid and everyone is paid as well. “I’ll be taking you with me when we go to work tonight, we should get some rest, I usually sleep during the day anyways...” I normally was only awake at night anyways...

“That makes sense...” Yeah, they probably do most of their ‘work’ at night... Damien turned and began to undress, neatly hanging up his tuxedo, the guns still in the pockets except for one, taking it out and stashing it closer to the bed. He went to put on simple black sweatpants and a tank top, sighing, thinking when he looked at his rings. .....I don’t want to take them off. “Forgive me for being paranoid, but I’d rather keep my rings on…”

Iroh chuckled, leaning down to kiss his lips softly. “I’m going to wait for Tomaki to come, he’ll be here soon, we don’t wear our tuxes to dinner, he’ll find you something proper to wear.” It needs to be like that... otherwise Aniki will kick you out.
“Alright. ...what could he possibly bring?” What counts as dinner-wear for your family...?

“Alright.” That doesn’t sound too bad. ....might be a bit difficult to hide guns or knives in there, though. He sighed, stretching. “....I’ll stay up until your brother comes...” I don’t want to leave you alone.

“Tomaki isn’t my brother, Hiro won’t dare step foot in my house, unless he become gay as well.” He fucking knows but he doesn’t understand it...

“...ah. Alright....sorry.” They know... which is going to be fun. Then again, it’s a bit obvious they know, but still.

“Get some sleep, I managed to get a few hours on the plane...” Not much, but enough... He kissed Damien softly once more before going through the door and sliding it shut. Tomaki should be here soon.

Damien nodded, sighing and going to settle on their mattress. I’m tired already... ....Guh.

It wasn’t long before there was steady rapping on the door, Tomaki waiting patiently outside, smiling softly when Iroh opened the door. ^Hello, Iroh. May I come in?^

Iroh nodded, letting him in and sliding the door closed again. ^Will you be taking us out tonight as well?^ He led Tomaki to the kitchen to sit at the low table, smiling softly as Tomaki went to make tea immediately. I forgot about that habit of his...

^I will, yes.^ Tomaki went about the kitchen, thinking. ^I’ll be the one driving you two around, mostly. ...It’s good to see you again. How’s America?^

^It’s nice, I’ve met with Damien’s friends, and they’re all good people, we may need to return for another wedding soon... I’m not sure when it will be but I know we’ll probably be here for at least that much longer....^ We’ll be here for awhile... ^It’s not illegal there.... to be gay...^
^...are you two married?^ Tomaki looked over to him, immediately looking at his hand. No ring....

^No, I would’ve had to invite Brother to the states… we’re not married, dating… we’ve been dating since I started college almost.^

^...I’m sorry how difficult it’s going to be for the both of you here… but I’m happy if he makes you happy.^ Tomaki have him a cheeky grin. ^And you’d better invite me too.^

^Quite honestly I would expect for the entire organization to come except for the Little’s… Damien needs a yukata for dinner…. but you saw how tall he was….^ I want to sleep a bit more, tonight will be a long night.

^It’s hard not to notice, he was a head taller than everyone else there. I already have our tailor working double-time to get his ready. They’ll be able to get something for his form ready before dinner, no worries. ...oh, and, ah…^ Tomaki went to get teacups, setting one down for each of them. ^There’s no doubt in my mind that your brother will test your boyfriend soon… I know he’s not going to appreciate the paranoia he’ll be living with for a while, but it might pay off soon…^ He’s going to be tested, no doubt about it. And failure is probably going to mean death, so.

^I know…. I hope that he’ll do well, I can only imagine…. how far behind are the books?^ You would know how much of a headache it’s going to be… Iroh reaches to sip at his drink, smiling as he drank the whole thing.

^You have your work cut out for you, sadly… I’m sure he made sure that you’d have plenty to do. Nothing too extreme, though. It’s been worse.^ Tomaki refilled his cup, smiling. You can handle it.

^That’s a relief to hear…. How many people?^ How many more hotels do we have? Or host bars? Or women? How many do I have to make sure get paid? Iroh drank from the glass, relieved with how much it relaxed him. ^Can you get me the cherry blossom Assam tea? For tonight?^ I want some of that tonight with dinner...

^We have 784 people right now- we’ve taken on quite a few since you were last here. And of course- blooming tea, tea bags, or loose?^

^Blooming and loose, please, the loose can come to my residence, the blooming for my crystal pot at the dinner table… now, if you’ll excuse me, I need to catch up on sleep as well…^ He stood up, moving to their bedroom and crawling under the covers with Damien, curling up to his side. I’m tired…

Tomaki nodded, cleaning up and seeing himself out. Alright.

Damien woke up when Iroh came in, curling around him protectively. I’ll keep you safe. He fell back asleep, waking up three hours later, his hair standing on end. Something is fucking wrong. He immediately sat up, reaching in fear for his gun, bolting out of bed when the door crashed open, a barrel pointed at his head. Fuck.

Got him! The man smirked, only to groan in pain as he got a fist in the gut, lowering the gun. Fuck!

Damien immediately went for the gun, disarming the man and hitting him solidly in the face with the butt of his own gun, feeling his nose break under it, taking him and throwing him into the hall. Fucking hell… He looked up as he heard more sounds, raising his gun and looking another man dead in the eyes as they started to aim, pulling the trigger and watching them fall. Protect Iroh. Damien ran down the hall at the ready, listening and turning when he heard footsteps, jumping at the man when they rounded the corner, grabbing the gun and wrenching it from their grasp, taking hold of them and flipping them, smashing them onto the floor hard. He took the clip out of the gun and threw it across the room, seeing movement out of the corner of his eye and throwing the gun itself, hitting a man in the cheek. Where the fuck are they coming from?! He rushed them while they were blind, taking their gun and knocking them out with a blow to the temple. Fuck… Damien rounded the house three more times, a total of twelve opponents scattered for him, seven running with their tails tucked, two knocked unconscious on the floor and three more lying dead in puddles of blood. is it over? Damien scouted the house, soon coming downstairs and grabbing a pitcher of water, dumping it on the first of the unconscious men, waking them up just in time to be thrown onto the sidewalk, making sure to throw the second on top of them before they could get up. Fucking hell…. but, what about the bodies…? Damien turned to see one of the three in the living room, thinking. I don’t know… Damien went to find spare cloth, dragging the corpses out onto the front lawn, closing their eyes and covering their faces. all between the eyes… at least they didn’t suffer, I guess…. Damien came back inside to mop up the blood, needing the better part of an hour before he came back to the bedroom, finding Iroh awake. “….Iroh….” Fuck… He got into bed, pulling them close. you’re safe…

Iroh sighed in relief as Damien came into the room, hugging him tightly. Is… is everything okay? Are you okay?” I heard gunshots, and bodies drop… I was so afraid it was yours. “How… How many were there?”

“Twelve… there are three dead… I’m fine, I’m completely fine…. I was scared, I just wanted to keep you safe….” Damien kissed Iroh neck gently, trying to get the smaller man to relax, lying them down. Mine….
Iroh sighed in relief, curling up to him and kissing his jaw. “Oh thank god you’re alright… they’re… they’re probably getting the bodies now…” I was so worried… So worried you’d be gone...

“I put them on the lawn… I cleaned the blood… …I just…. Fucking hell…” Damien reached to undo the kimono, relieved when warm skin pressed close. “I’m sorry, I just…. I needed to know you’re okay…” He kissed his cheek, aware of every tiny sound. I’ll keep you safe....

Iroh nodded, holding onto him and letting him hold him close. Fuck he’s holding me, I’m gonna get horny…

“D-Damien…” He almost purred as he was kissed on the neck, his body feeling warm as he became aroused. I love this....

Damien could very soon feel Iroh hardening against him, smiling softly. …I’m not in the mood for all the way…. but… Damien slowly slid down to kiss at Iroh’s middle, tugging down his underwear. I haven’t done this in awhile… I hope I’m still decent at it....

Iroh gasped softly as he felt Damien kiss down his body. “D-Damien?” What? What are you doing? Fuck, just because I’m horny? Is that why? I should be able to hold it.

Damien looked up to him, his cheek resting on his hip, his lips close to his base, Iroh’s length lying bare. “…is this okay?” You don’t look completely sure....?

Iroh’s entire face was completely red, nodding as he squirmed around. He hasn’t done this to me in… should I even be letting him do it? He’s…. His breath hitched as he felt Damien’s tongue on his length. We haven’t had sex in a long time either....

Damien lapped at his length, very careful as he took his tip into his mouth, the mewls coming from Iroh instantly making him hard. Fuck it. Damien came up, a hand going to slowly stroke him while he reached for lube. Fuck it, I want him....

Iroh watched as he shifted, reaching for Damien’s clothes to try and get them off of him. I want them off… all off… “Damien… you’ll be… please?” I won’t ask you to be gentle, but I want it....

“You can ask… I’ll be gentle, don’t worry…” Damien shed his clothes, smiling as he looked over Iroh, splayed in the bed with an open kimono under him. The silk feels really nice… Damien poured lube onto his fingers, going to kiss all over his front as his first finger went to his opening. I’ll take good care of you....
Iroh was a moaning mess for the next hour as Damien pushed and pulled at his pleasure, making him bend and writhe in bliss. They slept together for a long while before he woke up to get himself ready for the dinner. Tomaki should be here soon with the yukata for Damien… “Damien… honey, you need to wake up for dinner…”

Damien stretched like a cat, managing to drag himself out of bed, rubbing the sand from his eyes. I could use a lot more rest… He meandered to the bathroom, smiling and wrapping his strong arms around Iroh for a moment, kissing the back of his neck lightly. “I love you….”

Iroh flushed completely as he looked over his shoulder and up to Damien. “Tomaki should be here with your Yukata soon… he’ll probably be wearing his own and help you get into it….” I need to get into my own. He stood on his tiptoes to kiss at Damien’s chin going to the closet to pull out his black kimono. Damien might really like this on me…

Damien nodded, washing his face and shaving, quiet as he looked himself over in the mirror. ….not even a nick from shaving…. and yet I dumped three corpses on the lawn… He looked up when he heard a faint knocking, going to the door, opening it and seeing Tomaki. The man smiled faintly up at Damien. …he really is tall. “I have your yukata ready. I assume you’ll need help getting it on?”

“Please.” Damien let Tomaki in, closing the door. Iroh likes this one… I wonder why.

Tomaki quickly helped him put it on as well as help him hide and show him where to hide everything inside before bowing respectfully to him. ^Brother was very pleased with your work today, you may be wanted more and more from him.^ I only know so much English…

Damien smiled, returning the gesture. ^I can imagine…. thank you.^ I don’t know what to make of that just yet.

Tomaki smiled and opened the door, looking out to see Iroh in the black kimono. *Oh wow… he must really be trying to impress everyone… ^Shall I escort you to dinner?^

^Please. And thank you.^ Damien paused when he saw Iroh, wanting to pull him closer. ….fuck, he looks good. Damien was a bit unsure, offering his elbow. “…I don’t know if it’s proper if I lead you or not….”
Iroh smiled softly, holding onto the fabric. “It’s generally not, but I’ll allow it for now.” He smiled, holding onto Damien and making sure that Tomaki was leading them to the correct place, looking around the table to see multiple men beat to a bruised pulp as well as some looking away once Damien entered the room. He kicked their asses…

Damien felt a strange pride as he led Iroh into the room, seeing nine very thoroughly beaten men at the table. They took away three place settings… Damien led Iroh to the spot on Hiro’s right, sitting in the next seat over, quickly skimming the room with his eyes. Okay, simple layout… escape would be easy.

Hiro’s eyes were on them the entire time as they walked in and sat down. ^Now that everyone is here, we’ll be starting dinner…^ He set his glass of sake down, the sound a cue for the maids to bring in plates and plates of food for everyone to share. I want to know how he walked away unscathed… there were 12 of them, and I only came out with 9 in the end…

Damien looked over the food as it was set on the table, copying everyone else at the table, very grateful that he could use his chopsticks. It smells good… strange, but good… He paused for a moment, paranoid, making sure that at least two other people at the table had taken what he had on his plate. One plate in particular was set in front of them, but he didn’t touch it, passing it along. Not yet… I don’t trust it.

Iroh looked over his slowly growing plate, eating what he could as he knew Hiro was watching the both of them. This’ll be interesting.

^So, Iroh, Who is your guest? I’d like for you to introduce us.^ Hiro looked at Damien with the same intense brown eyes that Iroh had, only with a darker aura in them. I want to know.

^This is my husband and bodyguard, his name is Damien, and I’m sure you’d be happy with him if he started training your men? Even your best 12 couldn’t beat him.^ Iroh said it with a smirk, looking down the ring he’d placed on his finger before they came. Damien will have to deal, if we’re married you’re already part of the family, not easy to get rid of….

Damien looked up, playing the part easily, nodding to the man. ^It’s a pleasure to meet you. And your men fight well…^ Damien looked over them, many of them with very bruised faces. ^…but not well enough.^

Hiro looked over the remaining 9, shaking his head. ^They should be shot for their failure… but I suppose a second chance and new training is in order…^ I want his strength… when the fuck did he get married?

^I think after watching three others fall, they’ll be a bit more eager to succeed…^ Damien took a slow sip from his cup. ^I’d want to know who trained them in the first place.^

^He’s already been shot, he wasn’t worth meeting… train them well, I’ll get you access to the dojo and the first few I would like you to teach.^ The nine that survived, they’ll be trained first.

Iroh seemed to sigh in relief as Hiro approved of Damien. He’s…. Everything is going to be okay for awhile…

Damien nodded. ^Of course. We’ll begin when you see fit.^ Damien continued to eat, relaxed. He approves of me…. good.

^Tomorrow, to make sure you’re at your best.^ Hiro grew quiet during the meal as everyone else did. I need to keep an eye on them…

^Of course.^ Damien continued to eat, watching the nine men shift uncomfortably and wince with every bite. ….if I try to train them while they’re hurt, they’ll be useless. ^Brother?^ Damien could tell Iroh was holding his breath as he spoke. ^If I try to train nine men who can’t even sit still and wince with every bite, they’ll be useless in training. If you have men other than these nine to train, they should go first. Once these nine can move without pain, they can properly be trained. I can’t work with them if their movement is hesitant or restricted.^

Hiro looked between Damien and his men. Where has he been this entire time? ^That works as well, I’ll get you a list, and give you an even ten… you’ll start after you escort Iroh where he needs to go.^ You’re still a bodyguard… I’m not sure I’ll accept your marriage yet.

^Of course.^ Damien nodded, thinking. First and foremost, I keep my husband safe. ...husband. Huh. I can get used to that.

Hiro seemed pleased, finishing his plate before leaving. After a few moments everyone seemed to sigh in relief. Iroh sighed quietly, leaning into Damien’s shoulder. I’m going to eat a bit more, then get dressed to go to work.

Damien immediately wound his arm around Iroh’s middle, continuing to eat. …. The food is really good… at least I can look forward to meals, more or less.
Iroh smiled, eating a bit more before standing. “Let’s get going, I need to get changed for work…”
I can still nap a bit more as well...

“Of course.” Damien stood as well, gently guiding Iroh from the room again, his head held high.
Mine. He walked them back to their house, closing the door behind them, turning Iroh to softly kiss him before speaking. “Do you think your brother approves of me?”

Iroh blushed as he was kissed, holding onto his sleeve as he spoke. Well…. “He approves enough to keep you alive for the moment… just know you’re okay for a few weeks…” I hope he’ll like you more and more...

“Alright… I’ll make sure he realizes I’m much more valuable alive than dead. If he tries killing me again, he might find himself my next target…” Damien paused, thinking. “....I really hope I don’t sound like a murderer to you… I know I’ve killed four people- technically five- in the last twelve hours but it hasn’t sunken in yet and I just… I want to keep you safe…” Damien let go of Iroh, looking down. ....fucking hell... .....why do I feel like this is going to ruin everything?

“Don’t kill him, we’d have to permanently move to Japan if we did that, and I’d rather not have to deal with the legalities of becoming the Head.” Absolutely not.... “I don’t mind, really, I grew up around this stuff… I know you haven’t really talked much about your work but, it’s never bothered me… other than the fact that you’re huge and could quite possibly crush me without realizing it...” That’s.... that’s really what I’ve been most afraid of...

“I…. I’ve never done much killing in my work… there were dozens of instances where things went so violent that the suspects I was tracking were shot, but I was the one doing the shooting exactly six times… and every single time there was no chance for me to disarm, to talk the situation down, or do anything else, and a part of my mind had shut down and accepted that I was probably going to die the second before I killed them.... ....I’m not used to it, and I have no fucking clue how your organization is getting away with it, but.... I don’t want you to think I’m changing. ...and I know I’m big, it’s obvious there’s a big difference between us… but I’m always so, so careful with you.” Damien pulled Iroh closer by his waist, a hand running over his back. “I don’t want to hurt you… after all-” Damien winked, smirking. “-you’re my husband now.”

Iroh rolled his eyes and smiled softly. “Well, I’m not afraid of you, I know you won’t change and you won’t hurt me. Just know that if it ever comes down to you or me…. choose yourself, because you’d just be killing both of us if you chose me....” I need you to know this now, I don’t know how many people know I’m back in Japan....

“....okay.” Damien moved to softly lap at his neck. “...I’ll keep you safe however I can… I’ll do everything to protect you… but I know that people will want to hurt you… and I’d rather you not suffer if it’s inevitable….” I’ll do what I can…. and have mercy if I need to….

Iroh sighed in relief that he understood, tilting his head to the side to give him access to his neck. He’s being gentle. “Tomaki’s going to take over work for tonight, and bring back the books for me to complete… I’m tired, and I don’t really want to go out tonight.” Knowing me, I’d be going to the red light district...

“Alright. Will I be staying here with you, then?” He watched Iroh nod, smiling and pecking his neck one more time. “Okay. Maybe you can teach me how to do the books… they’ve probably saddled you with work enough for three.” I’ll help you.

Iroh nodded, leading him to the bedroom to get changed into sweatpants and a sweatshirt that was five sizes too big on him. Damien’s hoodies are my favorite… He walked back down to the kitchen to start making tea, waiting for Tomaki to arrive. “You’ve balanced a checkbook before, right?”

“Of course….” Damien smiled when he saw him, leaning against the counter. “…you look good in everything… but you look even cuter in my stuff…” Damien couldn’t help it, his arms winding around Iroh from behind, holding onto him affectionately. I love you.

Iroh continued to blush, holding onto Damien’s arms as they wrapped around his torso, staying like that until the kettle started to whistle. Time for tea… fuck I’m really tired… “Damien, can you feed Felix?” He needs to eat...

“Yeah, of course.” Damien got out the dog food, smiling when Felix immediately trotted over to him at the sound of the plastic, setting down his bowl of food and water, petting them. Good woof. Damien looked up as Iroh picked a tea jar from the cabinet, curious. “Whatever kind of tea that is, it better have enough caffeine.” It’s gonna be a long night.

Iroh nodded, smiling as he steeped the tea for a long time before drinking it, waking up a bit more. He was wide awake when Tomaki brought the first book and 2 boxes worth of papers that were supposed to be filed with it. Time to start. He tried to teach Damien as much as he could as he slowly got more and more exhausted throughout the night, so used to going to sleep hours ago. I’m tired… When his eyes started closing Damien would make yet another pot of tea and try to wake him up. I’m really tired… It was around 5 am when Iroh started to really fall asleep, Tomaki having brought in 7 books and 18 boxes worth of papers to sort. I wanna sleep, I can’t concentrate...
Damien finally gave in when Iroh started to really sway, catching him. “We can finish these later, okay?” He watched Iroh nod, putting down his pen and scooping up his husband, carrying him to the bedroom and lying him down, curling around him. Sleep…. we could both use it… ...I’m so fucking tired….

Iroh whined when he was laid down, weakly trying to pull off the clothes he was wearing. … want off… too hot…. He gave up with the hoodie over his head and the pants around his knees. Fuck it….

Damien chuckled, taking off his clothes and tossing them off the bed, undoing the belt of his yukata and lying it on the floor, going right back to pull Iroh against him. Mine….

Iroh rubbed his face against Damien’s chest, happy with the closeness. “Hmm…. I love you….” I really do….

Damien smiled, pulling Iroh closer, rubbing his back. “....I love you too…. So much.” He kissed the top of his head, letting himself relax and exhaustion wash over him. Sleeeeeeep….

Iroh slept the entire night, only waking up when Tomaki came in with yet another book and three more boxes. I’m so fucking tired… I need more sleep. He got up to use the bathroom, looking at the large bath that was there and already full. A bath…. in hot springs water… that sounds wonderful...

Damien woke up when Iroh moved, settling in. Want Iroh back… He got worried when he was gone for more than just two minutes to pee, getting up and shuffling to the bathroom, stunned to find Iroh tiredly sinking into a hot bath. “Iroh, honey?” You’re gonna fall asleep in there…. Damien moved into the room, smiling when Iroh tiredly reached for him. “I’m coming, I’m coming…” He shed his boxers, stepping into the tub after him. Mine.

Iroh smiled as he came into the hot springs, happy that he was being held, his body heating up as he felt Damien’s hands on his hips. His hands are really big…. Hmm, I wonder if we’ll shower together… probably…. right?

Damien moved Iroh to his lap, sinking into the water with him up to their necks, sighing deeply. This feels really nice…. Damien let his hands slowly wander Iroh’s front, over his stomach and chest and down over his hips, lightly ghosting over his inner thighs. I love you.

Iroh hummed in contentment as he was handled gently, nuzzling against his neck and kissing the skin there. I like this, this is really nice. “When we get a house together… can we get a really big bath like this?” I really really like this one...
“Mhm, that would be great….” I like it.. a lot… Damien tilted his head to the side, letting Iroh nip at the skin, groaning. Mine.

“And…. can we actually make it like this house? I…. I miss having a Japanese style house.” You don’t ever see these in America….

“I think I’d like that… it’s really nice…” ...I could see myself living in a house like this permanently… Damien moved to softly kiss the smaller man, turning him over to straddle him, keeping him close. I love you. ….I want you to be happy.

Iroh smiled softly as they switched places, kissing Damien back just as softly and languidly as he did. I wonder what I’m gonna end up doing except for sleeping… He gently moved to kiss up his jaw, feeling the stubble against his lips. Hmm, it kinda tickles….

Damien smiled as Iroh started to kiss all over his face, chuckling softly. “You’re wonderful, you know that?” Damien let his eyes slip shut as Iroh kissed him again, letting their tongues meet. Damien pulled them flush, his strong arms keeping Iroh firmly in place, being careful not to hurt him.

Iroh let Damien pull him close, giggling a little as they pulled apart. This is amazing… it’s… it’s almost less stressful than back in the states… but our schedules are all out of whack. “Hmm, I wanna sleep more when we get out…”

“We’ll check what time it is when we get out, we might have time for more sleep…” Damien smirked, chuckling at how happy Iroh looked. “….it’s so nice to see you this happy… who are you and what have you done with my Iroh?” Damien poked his belly, happy. I love you.

“I’m not stressed… and I’m home, this is probably the safest place I’ll ever be… well, maybe except for your house… but we don’t have a house yet, do we… Husband?” You only had the lease…. didn’t you?

Damien smiled, shaking his head. “We don’t have a house just yet, husband, but I’d be very happy to have one with you… when we’re back in the states, if you want, we’ll buy a plot of land, and have one built just the way you want it… it’ll have plenty of room for nice hot baths like this and it’ll look just like home… I’d love that, wouldn’t you?”
“I would love that, we should definitely do something like that…” He kissed at Damien’s stubble some more, his hands gently running through his hair. “Hmm, when do you think we’ll be invited back to the states? Wait, we never told anyone we were coming here, did we?” I don’t think we ever did….

“No, we didn’t…. oops.” Damien and Iroh laughed for a moment, the larger man letting his hands wander Iroh’s sides. “Do we need to be invited back to leave this place…?”

“Probably, I don’t see Aniki letting us leave anytime soon…” Fuck, how are we supposed to tell them…. “You might have to call one of them eventually….”

“I’m worried about the line being tapped, honestly… that sounds like something they would do. Maybe we can send a letter? Sneak it out of this compound to mail it?” That would work. “Easier than trying to sneak away to have a phone call… unless we get a good opportunity…”

“That’s true…. Hmm, I’ll think about it, I hope you know the address…” Someone’s address at least...

“I don’t have addresses in my phone, and I only know Lathe’s address off the top of my head…. but it’s been so long, the other ones I have are probably wrong by now…. People move and stuff… “Lathe can send gossip around quick, he’ll let everyone know we’re at least alive.”

Iroh nodded and kissed at his neck. “I can get the letter out, don’t worry about it…” I know someone who will mail it, and won’t think twice about it...

“Good….” Damien tipped his head back, sighing deeply. “….you’re wonderful… even if I’m vaguely terrified, I think we’re gonna be okay….”

Iroh nodded and smiled happily as he hummed. “We’ll need to get out soon and shower…” I need to do work after I sleep… that means I need to go to the host club...

“Alright….” Damien moved to gently nudge Iroh’s head back, kissing up the column of his neck and lapping at the soft skin affectionately, soon standing, Iroh’s legs around his waist. “Let’s get you cleaned up….”

Iroh squealed as he was lifted up into the air, holding onto Damien for dear life. I don’t want him
Damien smiled and carried the man into the shower, turning on the hot water and waiting for it to heat up. Come on. He soon stepped in, sighing deeply. Feels nice.

Iroh sighed as well when the warmth was returned to his skin, looking at the small stools on the floor. They should be sturdy enough for Damien. “Hmm, sit with me?”

“Of course….,” Damien slowly moved to sit, smiling at Iroh as they held onto each other, looking him over. “….you’re really handsome….” I love you.

Iroh flushed to his ears, grabbing for the soap and a brush as they were covered with warm steam from the water. We’ll stay warm while we’re showering. I wonder if… if I should help him with his slight morning wood? I’ve been practicing…. “If-If I’m h-handsome, what does that m-make you?”

“Hm….. what would you say?” Damien gently rubbed his hips with his thumbs, smiling softly. “You look really nice like this…. Spread out in my lap….” I like it…. a lot….

Iroh was about to speak before he sputtered with Damien’s words. He likes this? With me in his lap like this? His whole face was red as he moved to bury his face in Damien’s neck from embarrassment. Oh fuck….

Damien chuckled, his hands rubbing his back. “No, don’t hide… I can’t help it….” Damien gently lifted Iroh’s head back up. “Were you going to say something?” I wanna know what you were gonna say….

Iroh shook his head, moving to hide his red face once more. “You don’t get to know anymore.” Nope, I’m done … He took the brush, lathering it with the soap before starting to scrub Damien’s back with it. Time to get clean….

“Awww….” Damien moved Iroh further up in his lap, pressing their foreheads together as he murmured. “Please? I wanna know….”

Iroh looked at him with doe eyes for a moment before looking away in embarrassment and starting to shrink in on himself. But that’s…. that’s embarrassing… “I….I-I…” He was struggling to force himself to speak. I can’t tell him...

Damien sighed and smiled softly, pulling Iroh flush to himself, rubbing his back. “It’s alright, don’t be embarrassed… but I’m gonna wanna know what you’re thinking of later, okay? But don’t worry about that now.” Damien turned to kiss his cheek, gently nipping his neck. It’s okay...

Iroh shuddered as his neck was nipped, whimpering a bit. I’m gonna get hard and it’s gonna be awkward... “D-Damien...” d-don’t... He whimpered as he was held, curling up a bit more. I need to do so much today... I can’t sleep...

Damien paused, pulling back a bit. “...I’m sorry...” He loosened his hold, leaning his cheek on his head. “It’s okay, really… we can just focus on getting clean if that’s okay… and you can have your own stool if you want. I just want you to be comfortable...” I’m sorry... I ruined the mood...

Iroh nodded, shaking a bit as he crawled off of Damien’s lap and to the next stool. I need to get clean. His hands were shaking and his head down as he started to wash himself, hiding his front and his face from Damien. Need to get clean, he’s probably really mad at me...

Damien watched as Iroh began to shake, moving to gently tip his head up to look at him. “It’s okay, honey... I love you.” Damien kissed his cheek and then pecked his lips, smiling faintly as he pulled away. “No worries, no shakes, no nothing. It’s all okay. Let’s get clean so we can get you into something comfy, okay?”

Iroh still shook as he was kissed gently, turning his head away and ducking it down as he washed the rest of his body, covering himself in suds. Fuck... He’s gonna get pissed that I’m still shaking...

Damien sighed softly, beginning to wash himself. “…it’s okay, love.” It’s okay. Damien was quiet for a little, soon reaching for the shampoo. “Is it alright if I wash your hair?” You need to relax a bit.... let me....

“I-I-I can g-get it....” Fuck I’m stuttering... Iroh closed his legs tightly, not letting Damien see anything as he curled up to himself on the stool. This is... this is really embarrassing.

Damien watched Iroh curl up, noticing something. Oh. “Honey.... do you want me to take care of you?” Damien smiled softly. “I want you to be happy and comfortable, honey...”
Iroh shook a bit more. Fuck... “N-No... I’m... I’m fine...” He reached for the shampoo, taking the bottle and putting it in his lap for extra measure. He doesn’t need to, fuck why am I so horny all the damn time?

“Iroh... are you sure? ... I don’t want you to think you’re an inconvenience....” I’m sorry....

Iroh’s hands continued to shake ever so slightly as he scrubbed at his hair, his body hunched over his lap, trying to will himself limp. I need to stop getting horny whenever he touches me gently... otherwise this is gonna get really awkward. “I’m sorry... I-I’m f-fine...”

“....Iroh, I’m worried...” Damien very carefully took hold of his wrists, his voice soft. “Look at me, okay?” He waited for Iroh to look up, smiling softly. “You don’t have to hide it, honey.... I’m flattered... when we’re done getting clean, I’ll take you back to the bedroom... I’d love to take care of you... you’re my husband now, after all... I love you.”

Iroh face grew even redder, only nodding a bit and quieting down. *He.... Okay... His body relaxed a bit, slumping but still hiding his lap. This is gonna be embarrassing, I.... I just freaked myself out enough to lose it. Shit. He was quiet as he reached back up to scrub his hair which was slowly getting white with the added shampoo.

Damien sighed, reaching for the bottle and washing his own hair, grabbing the conditioner as Iroh was rinsing out his own hair. “May I?” I want you to relax....

“Iroh looked over his shoulder to see that Damien was holding the bottle of conditioner. He wants to do my hair? “O-Okay...” He scooted the stool closer to Damien and kept his back to him, which his hands covering himself. This is gonna be really embarrassing.... fuck I’m a mess...

Damien nodded, giving himself a generous amount before setting the bottle down, going to massage it into Iroh’s hair. His fingers moved slowly, massaging his scalp. He smiled as he heard a small sound, leaning down to gently peck the nape of his neck. “Feel okay?”

Iroh shuddered as Damien pecked his neck, his face heating up again. He knows I like when he does this. He made a small sound of assent and let him work his fingers through his hair. It won’t be enough to get me hard again... Iroh let his shoulders slump as he realized his situation.

Damien’s brow furrowed when he felt Iroh slump, glancing down. What’s wrong? Is he...... oh. Damien let one hand continue working while the other slid down his back, starting to softly kiss up and down his neck while he traced all over his side. We can fix that.

Fuck, he’s gonna get me hard again… should I make him stop? Or is he gonna keep doing it? Iroh let out a shaky gasp as he shuddered with Damien’s movements, not sure if he should let him continue or not. He… well, I can’t really tell him no…

Damien moved his hand to Iroh’s front, gently holding his wrists, slowly coaxing them to move from over his hard length. “It’s okay to be aroused… it’s okay to want it… don’t be embarrassed, don’t be ashamed… it’s okay, love…”

Iroh felt his face flush in shame at his words, tears pricking to the surface. He’s… he’s constantly reminding me like this but… I can’t help but think I’ve just gotten more needy… It didn’t take long for him to sniffle, his body starting to shake as he cried silently, or as silently as he could manage. This is embarrassing, he’s trying to get me back into the mood and I’m fucking it up.

Damien immediately stopped, turning Iroh around and holding onto him, trying to calm him down. “I’m sorry, love, I’m sorry… I don’t wanna push you too hard….” He rested his cheek on his head. “I… I want you to be okay with the fact that you have a body and that it does what it does…. but it’s okay to need time to get there…” It’ll take time…. it’s okay…

Iroh shook as he was pulled into Damien’s arms. “I’m… I’m sorry, I didn’t mean…” He shut himself up as he cried more, embarrassed about how this entire exchange was happening. It… it felt nice what he was doing but… I just… He whimpered as he looked down to his already flaccid dick, reaching to scratch at his head and remembering there was conditioner in his hair. I need to rinse it out…

“It’s okay, you don’t need to apologize… everything is stressful right now… but you really don’t have to be afraid of what I think or how I’m going to react to what you need or want, okay?” You’ll be okay… Damien looked up, gently leaning Iroh back to rinse out his hair, bringing the man into his lap and shutting off the water. “Let’s get you dried off… I can make you some tea and get you clothes too…” I want my husband to be comfortable…

“Y-You should get s-some more sleep, s-so you’re wide awake when you….,” When you go and teach them in the dojo… I probably won’t be seeing him a lot… Tomaki will probably drive me around… He gasped as he was lifted when Damien got up and set down as a towel was wrapped around him, only to get picked up once more.

“Soon.” Damien lifted Iroh up, carrying him to the bedroom in the buff, setting him on the bed and thoroughly drying him off, gently handling his arms and legs. You’re handsome… Damien went to the closet and pulled out another silk kimono, showing Iroh. “This one okay?” I want you to be comfy….

“I’m… I’m not going o-out for awhile… s-shorts and a t-t-t-shirt are f-fine…” Iroh twiddled his thumbs, looking at Felix as he came to lay his head in his lap, starting to pet him. He knows I’m not okay… fuck, Damien’ll know… but he probably already knows…

“Okay…..” Damien got out one of Iroh’s pairs of shorts and a pair of boxers, though he went through his own things to find an old t-shirt, handing the pile to Iroh. “Is this better?” You like wearing my stuff… and you know that one’s my favorite shirt… I know you like wearing it…

Iroh looked at the pile and nodded, carefully moving Felix’s head off of his lap and going back towards the bathroom to change. If I change with Damien in the room..... but it feels like I’m running from him… I don’t think I’ve changed in a different room than him since we started dating...

Damien was surprised when Iroh left the room to change, quickly dressing in comfortable clothes before meandering to the kitchen to start making tea. Tea might help…

Iroh got dressed, sighing as he stepped out of the bathroom and walked towards his office. I need to get a lot done today. He shuffled inside, closing the door behind him, glancing over the stacks of papers he needed to go through for one book. Well shit… this is going to take all day…. well, Damien is gonna be busy training people today too...

Damien soon gently knocked on the door, his voice soft. “What kind of tea do you want, Iroh?” There are a lot to pick from.…

Iroh looked up and then back down to the ledger. “I’ll be fine, Damien….” You don’t need to make me tea… “You should get back to sleep a little…”

“Honey, the water’s already hot… the tray is all ready and everything…” Damien came in, gently kissing the top of his head. “I want you to have something nice to snack on while you work…” Please?

Iroh stilled and shrunk as he felt Damien’s hands on him. “I’m… I’m sorry…” I don’t know what to tell you.
Damien immediately took his hands off his shoulders when he froze up, his voice softer. “Don’t apologize, honey… I’m sorry if I’m still being pushy… I wanted to do something nice… I know you enjoy tea… please, pick a kind… there are at least twenty in the cupboard, I want it to be something you like…”

Iroh looked up to Damien his eyes still slightly fearful as he looked up to him. “The… the… the rose blossom is… is okay…” I can drink that.

“.....honey?” Damien moved to kneel next to the desk, his head below Iroh’s, trying to seem as non threatening as possible. “....Iroh, honey, you don’t have to be scared of me… what’s wrong, really?” Damien let a hand rest on the edge of the desk, their fingers lightly touching. It’s okay…

Iroh shook his head, his hands shaking ever so slightly even as their fingers touched. What if…what if he gets hurt? “I’m s-sorry…. f-for bringing y-you here…” You probably want to go home… He felt his face heat up, tears easily prickling in front of his eyes. He’s gonna wanna leave, he doesn’t want to stay...

Damien immediately shook his head, his look gentle. “....Iroh…. I want to go wherever you go…. I want to keep you safe and wake up to see you every day… I didn’t want you to come here alone, knowing what I knew and especially now that I’ve seen it… it’s going to be hell, but with you here, I’d do it again… of course I would…. please, don’t cry…. I want to keep you safe…” Damien went to lace their fingers, his thumb rubbing against Iroh’s. “I love you… and we’re going to make the best of our time here, no matter what.”

Iroh sniffled as he looked to their laced hands. “Can you let Felix in here?” I don’t wanna be alone while I’m doing this because I’ll fall asleep… He gently reached with his free hand to trace gentle lines on his hand. I want you to be okay with all my baggage… you always say it’s okay, but I can’t help but think it’s not...

Damien nodded, smiling and standing up, opening the door and letting Felix trot right in. He knew you were upset.... Damien left for the kitchen, soon coming back with a tray of tea, the pot, cup, cream and sugar all balanced easily next to a plate of cookies, setting it on a corner of the desk, pouring a cup as Iroh pet Felix. Damien set the cup down within easy reach, going to kiss Iroh’s cheek, just at the corner of his lips. “...I love you… I’m gonna go sleep, but if you need anything, and I mean anything, don’t hesitate to wake me up, okay?” I wanna be there for you.

Iroh nodded, sniffling still and picking up the mug of tea with a soft smile. He’s.... he’s actually okay with being here... He watched Damien leave them, setting the tea down and grabbing a cookie. I wanna sleep too.... but I already got out all this stuff... and he found the cookies... and made me tea...
Damien meandered off to bed, settling in and knocking out after a few short minutes. .....I’m so tired... He woke up when he felt shifting, seeing the clock on the wall showing an hour had passed before he realized Iroh was settling under his arm, drawing the smaller man close. “Finished with your snack, hm?” He smiled as Iroh nodded, chuckling and petting his hair. I love you.

Iroh nuzzled into his arm pit, holding onto his shirt. Wanna sleep again… He hummed as he felt Felix get on their bed as well. I can stay here... Iroh went lax as Damien ran his fingers through his short hair.

Damien was relieved that Iroh finally relaxed, kissing his head before falling asleep with his arms around him. Mine… He yawned as a quiet alarm on his phone woke him, stretching like a cat and reaching blindly for the noise, hitting snooze and immediately turning over to pull Iroh closer, his nose buried in his hair. Warm...

Iroh whined as he was jostled from where he was nestled, waking as he heard Damien’s alarm. Fuck… my head hurts… I don’t wanna get up…

Damien whined as he heard Iroh start to, making them both sleepily giggle. “We can rest for a little while longer…” He settled Iroh back in place, petting him gently. “....mm, you’re comfy…”

Iroh shook his head. “Don’t wanna get up…” My head hurts… and I feel really warm. I just wanna sleep...

Damien chuckled, cradling him against his chest. “It’s okay…. we don’t have to get up for a little…. ” We can stay put for a while.... They relaxed in the quiet before Damien’s alarm went off again, hitting snooze a second time. Ten more minutes....

“Damien, you need to get up…” I wanna sleep, but you have to go and start training people at the dojo. “Tomaki will be waiting for you…”

Damien groaned, stretching. He’s right… He stood, going to he properly dressed in comfortable and form-fitting clothes, wearing all of his rings. I’ll need these in case anyone tries something funny. Damien looked back to the bed, seeing Iroh lying in misery. Aw… Damien meandered over, kissing his head. “...are you okay, honey? Besides feeling exhausted.” Are you alright?

Iroh shook his head, burying himself into Damien’s pillow. My head hurts, and I feel really warm...
Damien looked upset, thinking. I wanna take care of my husband… I have no idea what Aniki would think if I tried to tell him I have to take care of you instead of train anyone… “Do you want me to stay and take care of you?”

Iroh shook his head as he snuggled further under the covers. You need to go train people. “I’ll be fine…” He’ll train people and be gone for a bit… I’m tired…

“Are you sure? I can stay if you don’t want to be alone.” Damien gently ran a hand through his hair, his brow soon furrowing. “You’re warm….” I don’t like it.

“I’m just gonna sleep…. don’t kill them, okay?” I don’t know how long you’ll make them train for…

Iroh sniffled as he left, his head pounding. Everything hurts… I should get some pills…

Ten minutes passed before there was a quiet knock at the door, a soft voice filtering through. “Iroh? Can I come in?”

Oh, Tomaki is here…. “Mmhmm…” I’m tired…. His eyes were red as he turned, his body covered in sweat as he looked up to Tomaki. My head hurts… I don’t wan na get out of bed…

Tomaki’s eyes widened as he saw Iroh, setting down the tray he was holding and running to the bathroom to get a cold cloth. “Iroh, you look awful… no wonder Damien sent me over…” Nooooo…

Iroh coughed as he laid back in bed, whimpering as Tomaki put a cold cloth on him. “Can… can you get me some pills?” I feel like shit, fuck, I should’ve known this would happen…

“Yeah, I have some here….” Tomaki reached for a small silver container on the tray, soon handing Iroh a few pills and a glass of water. “Drink the whole thing, you’ll need it….”
Iroh nodded, letting Tomaki help him sit up a bit to take them and feeling his head spin. Holy shit, I’m gonna be in bed for days at this rate…

Tomaki held Iroh steady as he drank, gently lying him back down. “You’re gonna need a lot of rest, Iroh… here, we need to do something to help with your temperature…” Tomaki went to the closet and found the thinnest robe he could, coming back and coaxing Iroh to strip to his boxers to redress him in the thin cotton cloth. You need to cool down. Tomaki went to get fans set up in the room, wet cloths draped over their fronts to chill the air. Circulating air will help.

Iroh whined as he had to redress, sighing as he was allowed to lay down once more. Tomaki knows what to do… he’s taken care of me while I was sick before…. Damien was gone at work the last time I was really sick…

Tomaki want satisfied until the air in the room was at least five degrees cooler than before, keeping the blinds drawn and the room dim, going to brush out Iroh’s hair and try to clean it somewhat with the brush and a cold, wet cloth. Keeping your head from getting too hot is really important. Tomaki was right at Iroh’s side when he woke up after his nap two hours later. “Are you hungry at all…?”

Iroh whimpered and shook his head, nuzzling into Tomaki’s gentle touch. My head is still pounding but I’m exhausted, I don’t wanna be exhausted…

Tomaki chuckled, gently petting Iroh’s hair, sighing. “I’ll get a cloth again, you’re really sweating…. how does your head feel?”

“Like it’s splitting open…. can you give me pain meds too?” I need to know… I really need to know because my head fucking hurts like a bitch. He whimpered as his hair was tugged even the slightest bit.

Tomaki immediately nodded, opening the silver container and fishing out a small magenta pill, cutting it in half, then half again, before handing it over with water. “That should help a bit.” He helped him sit up enough to drink the entire glass, setting down a thick towel over his pillow and under his head before getting to work, carefully beginning to wash his hair. “You’ll feel a lot better if your head doesn’t feel disgusting.”

Iroh groaned, feeling his stomach turn and flutter. Fuck, I’m nauseous… He huffed as Tomaki’s hands went through his hair, washing his head, closing his eyes as he tried to go to sleep.
Tomaki was very careful not to move his head too much, a damp cloth gently rinsing out his hair, drying it carefully. “That should feel better… and the pill should be kicking in any minute now…. You really didn’t need the whole thing, but you needed a bit at least.

Iroh whimpered for a moment before closing his eyes and quickly passing out. I’m tired… Damien’ll be home soon...

Tomaki was relieved, cleaning up a bit and going to work on the books while he had the chance, his head shooting up when he heard someone at the door three hours later, putting down his pen and walking quickly into the hall, seeing Damien. “Hello Damien. Training going well?”

“We’re in the middle of lunch right now… They gave me twelve men and I’ve already had three pass out from exhaustion.” That’s fun.

“…Wow. Aniki isn’t going to be happy with them…. Nope, that’s bad…

Damien shrugged, taking off his shoes. “I need to see who out of them is actually in good physical form and can actually withstand some intense stuff. I have some that we’re doing as well as you really can and some who really needed a break. They’ll all get better soon, though. ...is Iroh okay?”

“Iroh’s very sick, sadly…. his head has been hurting him the most, he has a fever, and he’s been sweating constantly, but I’ve tried to keep him comfortable…” Tomaki led him into the bedroom, holding the door for him. “I gave him a low dose of morphine and it really helped, he’s been knocked out for a while…”

“Thank you…” Damien knelt next to the bed, gently petting Iroh’s hair, surprisingly sweat-free. “Iroh, honey? Can you wake up?”

Iroh groaned, barely cracking his eyes open. Fuck… “....ired…. I’m tired, my head feels like it’s still splitting.

“Sorry for waking you up, I wanted to see how you were doing…. are you hungry at all? Need more medicine?” Tell me…
Iroh nodded weakly, trying to open his eyes up more. More meds…. my head hurts…

He looked over to the tray, thinking as he picked up the smaller piece of morphine. “This is morphine, right?”

“Indeed.”

Damien helped Iroh sit up enough to take the small pill, petting him gently as he drank the water. “Any food, honey?”

Iroh shook his head, nuzzling into his warm hand as he started to sweat all over again. I’m nauseous, I don’t wanna eat anything…

Damien nodded, gently holding him and petting him, soon moving to lie on the bed next to him. My baby…. Damien looked up as Tomaki came in after a few minutes with a plate of food, accepting it with a surprised look. “Oh, thank you…” Damien sat up, a hand still in Iroh’s hair. Sleep… you’ll feel so much better…

Tomaki smiled softly, looking over him. “He’s…. this…. this has happened before, I’ll try and get him back to health…. but he could very well be sick for a long time…”

“Damn…. I hope he’ll be okay…” Damien kissed Iroh’s head, worried. “Do you think he’ll be in any shape to attend dinner…?” That’s important… and I don’t want him to be left here alone during dinner…

Tomaki shook his head. “No, he’ll stay here, I’ll watch him, but you’ll have to go. Aniki will be okay if you tell him he’s ill.” You’ll be okay…

Alright…. and thank you for taking care of him…..” I can’t leave him alone… Damien quietly ate, soon standing. “I should go get the nine goons back into the dojo for training.” I need to go…

“I’ll keep working on the books and make sure that he’s okay… you should probably get back to work…” It would be best if Aniki sees tired men. “You should go…”
“Alright… thank you.” Damien kissed Iroh’s forehead, smiling to Tomaki before leaving, heading for the lawn behind the dojo. I left them here… they should be back by now.

Hiro sat hours later at the head of the long table, waiting for everyone to arrive as he looked over contracts. I need to make sure that Iroh gets on the books as soon as possible, I need to know what we’re looking at... He gritted his teeth a bit as he looked up to see Damien coming in wearing his Yukata, followed by the twelve that were to train with him. Wait… why are there only nine? And one looks to be limping quite badly....

Damien jerked his head when they were all inside, watching them all obediently sit, giving the man just behind him with a heavily bruised face a dark look before he fell right into line. Good. Damien moved to take his place next to Hiro, settling in. ^Your men did well enough today... three are missing, as is obvious. They passed out from exhaustion before lunch, so they won’t be joining us. And before we could begin again after our break, one of your men attempted a mutiny of sorts... he’s been thoroughly dealt with. But with what hell they’ve been through, they all did very well. I know much better where to start when we begin again tomorrow. ...also.^ Damien took a small sip from his glass of water, looking over to Hiro. ^Iroh’s fallen ill, so he’s unable to join us. Most likely he’ll be out of commission for a few days.^ It’s bad.

That explains his absence.... Hiro nodded, looking over the rest of the table with a heavy glare. ^You’ll return to work the day after next, rest yourselves and if I hear you misbehave once more... which would be going against my orders, you’ll be dealt with.^ He watched as the man with the beaten face swallowed thickly and rubbed his neck. It looks like he’ll behave now. ^You’ll take care of Iroh tomorrow and think of a training regimen for the rest of my men to start following.^ I want everyone in good condition...

^Of course. I have a few ideas, so I’ll put them all in writing for you. And thank you.^ I wanna take care of my husband... Damien sipped from his water, looking up as the maids began to bring in the food. I’m hungry.... He chuckled softly as the nine men tried to eat with restraint, still scarfing down their food. They’re like wolves.... but they’ve earned it.

Hiro watched them eat, hissing and groaning when they reached too far, and managing to catch a few glimpses of bruises. Well if my men are better at hand to hand combat, that’s one thing.... ^Can you teach in weapons as well?^

^Some, yes. I can do normal and throwing knives, some work with baton-like weapons like baseball bats or staffs, and some more physical work with pistols and rifles. I know very little when it comes to swords, but I’m still in training for that myself, actually...^ I need to find a new trainer for that, I want to keep learning that...

^We’ll find you a proper teacher, how fluent are you in Japanese? Do you know any other languages besides English?^ I need to know…. I might need translators.

^I can handle a normal conversation, and I’m almost fluent, but I’m not at a native level. I’m fluent in French as well, and I know enough Spanish to manage a conversation. I know very basic Russian, but that’s mostly because I haven’t studied it in quite a while.^

Hiro nodded, lifting his bowl to drink his Miso soup, thinking. ^You’ll have to come with us when we go to France then… we have a deal coming up soon.^ Iroh won’t let him leave…. but I need someone to stay in charge.

^Of course. As long as Iroh will be with me.^ That’s my one requirement.

^Iroh needs to stay to run the syndicate…^ This is going to be interesting…we may need to knock him out and then bring him. ^We’re only staying for two days to secure the deal…^

^...I understand.^ Damien sipped at his soup. ^In that case, Tomaki will need to remain at Iroh’s side at all times. We don’t want anything happening to him.^ Damien thought quietly, his brow furrowed. I don’t like the thought of leaving him alone… ^As long as the trip isn’t extended past three days, I have no issues with that.^ Three days. Two for the deal, and one extra in case. That’s it.

^Tomaki will stay with him while we’re gone, don’t worry about it.^ Hiro seemed to relax a bit. I’m surprised he gave in that easy…. maybe he knows better than to oppose me?

Damien nodded, looking over the table, eating slowly. I’ll have to tell Iroh…. ….I really don’t want to get us in trouble. Iroh’s not as respected as he probably should be, and I’m a complete outsider. I don’t have anywhere near a good enough rapport with anyone to oppose Hiro.

The rest of the dinner was quiet, Hiro leaving after one of his guards spoke to him. Iroh was drenched in sweat again as he woke up, coughing and huffing, his entire body feeling cold and clammy except for his forehead and back. It hurts…. it hurts all over...

Damien ran for the bedroom once he was inside their home, kneeling on the bed and reaching to gently pet Iroh. “Honey? Are you okay? How do you feel?”

“…..disgusting….”
“Do you want a bath?” Bath….. get you warm and clean….

“…yeah…” I feel gross… and I’m still nauseous. Iroh whimpered as he was shifted around, weakly clinging to Damien as he was settled against his chest, barely having the strength to hold onto his yukata.

Damien easily lifted Iroh up, walking with him in his arms to the bathroom, having him stand for just a moment to undress him before setting him in the hot spring. You’ll feel better soon.

Iroh whimpered as he was set in the hot water, tears welling in his eyes instantly. My head… my head hurts… He started to cry as he was leaned back against the wall of the bath. It hurts… I want Damien… “....Da-a….” I feel dizzy too...

“I’m coming, I’m coming….“ Damien quickly undressed and stepped into the bath, seeing his crying husband, gliding over in the water and soon pulling Iroh flush to his body. “I’m here, I’m here…. it’s okay… what hurts, honey? Are you okay?” I’ll fix it....

“M-my heeeaa….” My head hurts so fucking much... Iroh started to cry more, clinging to him and whimpering horribly, my chest hurts too... It was only a minute more before he started to cough horribly, his whole body trembling.

Damien kept Iroh close, turning his head. “Tomaki! Can you bring that morphine in here?”

The man was in the room in a second with the pill, looking away from the two of them as he handed it over, going to get Iroh cool water. “He’ll feel better if you’re the one playing nurse.” He’ll appreciate it.

Iroh whimpered but took the pill as he was given it. He whimpered as cool water was pressed to his forehead to try and cool him down. I feel so stiff and sore..... He whimpered, shuffling closer and yelping as their lengths touched, a heavy blush forming across his face as he quieted down. Fuck.... that felt nice...

Damien relaxed when Tomaki left again, jumping a bit as Iroh yelped, looking over his face. ....oh. Damien gently pulled him closer, sighing softly as their lengths rubbed. “....is this okay?”
Iroh nodded, holding onto Damien’s shoulders as he was held by the hips. He’ll be gentle… but… but I miss him being rough… He let out a strangled moan as their lengths rubbed together, beginning to harden.

Damien was surprised at his sudden moans, cradling Iroh closer, rocking against him as one hand went to stroke the two of them. I want you to feel good… this’ll help take the pain away…

Iroh whimpered for only a moment before they turned into pleasured moans. His face buried in Damien’s neck and his legs splayed out on either side of Damien’s thighs. Fuck…. it feels a lot better. “....m-m....”

Damien stroked them faster, moaning softly and rubbing Iroh’s back, feeling very aroused as Iroh moaned and panted in his ear. Fuck, I miss hearing you… you’re…. “M-Mine....” I love you...

Iroh shuddered as Damien’s hand ran up his sensitive back, making him moan a bit louder. He tried to quiet himself down, yet failed miserably when Damien started to tease his slit. Fuck… I want him to go rough… “....r-rough.....” Want bruises and marks… I want your hands all over me....

Damien was shocked, looking down to him, nudging his head up to meet his eyes. “Are you okay with rough?”

Iroh nodded slowly, shifting to lay his head on Damien’s shoulder as he tilted his head to the side. His offered skin was a pale white and unblemished. I want marks… I want handprints. He gasped as Damien’s hands gripped onto his hips, breathing in deeply. Fuck yes....

Damien held onto him tighter, looking down to the skin being offered to him. …. mine. Damien immediately went in, nipping and lapping at the skin, his rough kisses soon turning into harsh sucking, his teeth grazing the skin. You’re all mine....

Iroh let out a very loud moan as he felt mark after mark being added to his skin. His hands wandered down Damien’s front, feeling his abs and down to his length. He took the massive length into his hands and started to fondle him. Want marks all over...

Damien moaned as he was handled, his lips starting to meander from Iroh’s neck, going to his front and his collarbones, latching onto him, his arms firmly wound around him. Mine. All mine.
Iroh was a shuddering and moaning mess very quickly, his hands ending up letting go of Damien’s length as he was pulled close. Fuck, he’s rocking me against his length… is…. is he gonna put it in? When was the last time again? We…. We were here, right?

Damien held onto him tighter, his voice soft. “I’ll give it to you the whole way later, okay? Not while we’re in the spring… I can already see how I want you on the bed… on your knees, spread out… shaking… you look so excited…” Damien smirked, kissing up Iroh’s neck. “Your toes are curling, and you’re more than ready to be stretched out… fuck, I’d love that….”

Iroh whined as he was teased, sighing in relief as Damien kissed up his neck. “….N-now?” I want it, I want him…. He let his knees bend as he spread his legs out more, giving Damien a full few of his length and his entrance. Fuck, I want him to like everything…

Damien’s eyes raked over him, his look dark. “… now.” Damien stood with him in his arms, carrying him back to the bedroom and putting him on the bed, leaving to quickly bring a towel and dry him off, throwing it aside and letting his lips seal over his tip the second he was done. I want you… so bad….

Iroh was relieved that Tomaki had left and wasn’t in the hallway when Damien picked him up. He squirmed a bit as he was dried off, letting out a loud cry as Damien started to suck him off. Oh fuck… oh fuck…. I’m gonna cum if he keeps it up…. His back arched beautifully as he whined, the intense pleasures taking over.

Damien popped off of him, moving to get the lube from the nightstand and coating his fingers with it, moving to Iroh’s entrance again, watching as a finger went to trace the pucker. “Ready?”

Iroh instantly nodded and spread his legs as far as he could with his back arched like it was. He gasped as he felt Damien’s thick finger enter him almost immediately. Oh fuck, it feels really nice… I really really like it. Iroh gripped at the sheets under him as he started to moan, Damien’s finger moving every which way.

Damien began to stretch him out, soon going up to two fingers, worried as Iroh whimpered. “Doing okay?” I don't wanna hurt you…

Iroh nodded, closing his eyes as he let out a loud gasp. Fuck he found it… it feels really good, I’m not gonna last… I’m really not gonna last… His length was leaking profusely with each movement of his fingers.
Damien smirked, going to tightly grasp Iroh’s base, his fingers retreating to focus just on the ring of muscle, hearing him huff in frustration. “Not yet, love…” Almost.

Iroh whined as he was denied release, grabbing for purchase on the sheets and trying to lift his head to look at Damien as his back sunk against the sheets. I want it… “D-Damien…”

“So soon, love… so soon…” Damien continued to stretch him out, watching as Iroh slowly relaxed around him. “I don’t want to hurt you….” I want you to love every second of this…

Iroh was moaning as he loosened around his large fingers. “D-Damien, I want it… please, we haven’t in… in so long…” Iroh had tears quickly welling. I hate that he can’t do what he wants with me so often…

“I’m so sorry, I know it’s been a long time…. we’ll fix that… I’ll have you as much as you want… we should enjoy each other….” Damien leaned down to kiss his hip, his look gentle up to him. “Don’t cry…. you’ll feel so wonderful soon….” He slipped in a third finger, carefully feeling the soft flesh. It’s okay.

Iroh moaned softly as he was handled gently, gasping as Damien added more lube to his fingers. Feels cold…But it’s okay now. He whined a bit, struggling to move from him, wanting to curl up to a pillow, rolling onto his stomach with his ass in the air. “Damien….” I want it rough… like you like it...

Damien looked him over with dark eyes, moving to slick himself up. “Fuck, you’re beautiful like that….” He lined himself up behind Iroh, gripping his hips tightly as he began to slowly sink into him.

Iroh’s grip tightened on the pillow under him as he quieted down, slowly becoming accommodated to the stretch. Oh fuck, he’s big…. he’s really big… really really big… I can already feel the bruises coming in, fuck, it feels so nice to be covered in them again...

Damien let his tip slip in and out of him for a little, trying to stretch out his hole more before slipping in further, careful as he slowly sheathed himself fully into him. “….fuck, you’re tight…. are you okay?” Damien rubbed his hips, his grip loosening for a moment. I don’t want you to be in pain….

Iroh nodded, gripping onto the pillow below him as he held in his breath with Damien fully sheathed in him. It feels so fucking good... but I’m gonna be sore tomorrow.... worth it... He felt Damien’s grip loosen ever so slightly, feeling his heart sink as his grip almost loosened completely. He’s..... I thought we could maybe....

Damien sighed, nodding. “Good...” His grip tightened again, slowly drawing out before snapping his hips deeply into him, making Iroh gasp. “Are you going to behave for me?”

Iroh felt his heart skip a beat as Damien’s grip tightened and he snapped into him, feeling a shock wave of pleasure run up his spine. Oh fuck.... His mind was a frazzled mess as he tried to comprehend everything that was happening. We’re.... we’re doing it rough... he gets what he wants....

“Iroh, love... are you going to behave?” Damien asked again, his hands running over his sides. “I’ll be good to you if you behave...”

Iroh shuddered as he felt Damien’s hands all over him, coming back to reality after a bit of coaxing. “Y-Yes Master.” I love that he’s gonna do this again, I wonder if he found the room... he probably didn't.

“Good, good...” Damien snapped his hips deeply into him again, his grip tight as he started a slow, hard pace. I need you to loosen up some more first....

Iroh tried to think back on what he was supposed to do with Damien taking charge, his mind still hazy from his head cold. I’m not supposed to utter anything until he talks to me... His eyes widened as Damien snapped his hips back into him, trying not to moan, but letting a soft yelp leave him with every hard thrust that pushed him forward and made his ass jiggle. Fuck, he’s still.... it’s like he’s stuck, but fuck it feels wonderful....

Damien looked him over, smirking. “I wanna hear all those sounds, love... let it all out...” He snapped his hips forward again, starting to go faster. It’s okay... and fuck, it feels good....

Iroh let out a loud yelp with a particularly hard thrust. It kinda hurts.... it feels like he’s getting stuck in me.... and trying to rip his dick out.... He whimpered in between pleasured moans, struggling to stay in play with each hard thrust. Need more lube.... and more pillows.

“C-Can I h-have more l-lube and-and pillows, M-Master?” Please? You’re getting stuck... you need a lot more lube... and I need more pillows... my knees are starting to hurt. He whimpered when Damien slowly pulled out, feeling his insides grip onto him and try and keep him inside.

Damien slowly slid out of him, going to rearrange the pillows, getting Iroh more comfortable. “I’ll be good to my slave... if you need anything, ask nicely for it...” Damien kissed Iroh’s cheek, moving to slather on more lube. This will be much better... Damien slid into him again without warning, smirking as Iroh shook a bit. “Better?”

Iroh nodded, gasping and crying out in bliss as Damien slammed into him. Oh fuck, it feels so good. He moaned loudly as he felt Damien’s rough hands all over him. I want it... I really want it.

Damien smirked, gripping his hips and keeping him firmly in position, his hips beginning to move, thrusting deeply into him. I want you to scream...

Iroh was quiet at first, gripping onto the pillows below him. It feels wonderful... I’m gonna be covered in bruises. He slowly got more comfortable with letting out loud moans, his volume increasing as his mind grew fuzzy. I’m warm...

Damien held onto him, soon leaning down and beginning to suck marks all over his back. He’s all mine... “Let me hear you... it’ll make your master so happy....”

Iroh flushed as he heard Damien’s words, trying not to hold back like he’d been doing earlier. He’s marking up my back too.... “Hnhg.... M-Master.... f- fuck ...” Oh fuck he found it... that spot... He could already feel his length leaking precum down onto the pillows and sheets below him. It’s so good...

Damien smiled as he heard Iroh’s louder gasps, his hips snapping sharply into him. “Good.... you’re being very good for me....”

Iroh closed his eyes as he took in the sensations that were flooding his body. I feel warm... I think I have a fever... I probably do, and I’m covered in sweat too... He let out a loud cry as Damien snapped his hips roughly onto his prostate, making him see stars. Oh fuck fuck fuck.... Iroh’s eyes opened just a crack, tears bubbling to the surface from the pure pleasure he faced. Fuck, so good...
Damien kept up his pace, feeling a pleasuring burn as he heard Iroh’s cries. “You feel so good….. so, so good….” Oh my god…. fuck…. Damien nipped roughly at his shoulders, his hands moving all over his hips and sides. Mine.

Iroh didn’t even realize that he was getting as close to climax as he was as his whole body shook. He cried out in bliss loudly as he came, crying softly as his grip loosened. Oh fuck it feels so good… Iroh was still hard as Damien continued to pound him, his climax prolonged.

Damien felt Iroh clench around him, gasping as he came inside him, pounding into him deeper, soon grinding into him, moaning loudly. “Oh god, Iroh… o-oh god…” He panted, his grip loosening a bit, looking down to his husband, shocked to see tears. “Love, are you okay? You’re crying.” Damien moved to kiss away his tears, still hard inside of him. Fuck, I love you… I really hope you’re okay…..

“Y-Yeah, I’m…. I’m o-okay…” His voice was unconvincing as he sniffled, but he didn’t sound like he was in pain. Iroh’s hands were shaking as he slowly grabbed at the pillows under him. Damien’s still hard…. are we gonna go for another round?

Damien nodded, still kissing at Iroh’s cheeks, slipping out of him and gently turning him over to better hold him, jumping a bit as their lengths brushed. He’s still hard… are we gonna keep going? Damien held him close, his voice soft in his ear. “Do you want more, love?”

Iroh was still letting the tears roll down his cheeks as he was held close. So he wants more? We can do more… “Y-Yes M-Master…” We can do more… it’ll probably feel really good… I wonder if he’ll put me in his lap again. “Can… can you use more lube?”

“Of course, I’ll be good to my slave….” Damien sat up with Iroh in his lap, gently rubbing his back as Iroh cried. “….are you sure you’re okay?” You’re really crying…. I don’t want to keep going until you’re ready….

“It…. It was a lot… I’m… I’m sorry M-Master…” It was… that was probably the best orgasm I’ve had… Iroh leaned against his chest as he was held, shuddering as his back was rubbed.

Damien chuckled, softly kissing his neck. “I’m so happy my slave is happy…. it’s such a compliment, that you felt so good you cried…” Damien looked at him, his eyes soft for a moment as he wiped away his tears. “You let me know when you’re ready for more…”

Iroh whimpered and nodded as he curled into his chest. I need to calm down. His hot face was nestled against Damien’s neck as he took everything in. It’ll take a long time...
Damien soon moved to lie down, keeping Iroh on his chest and rubbing his back, sighing softly, relaxing. Take your time, love…

Iroh calmed down after half an hour, kissing at Damien’s neck. “M-Master?” Is he still hard?

Damien had nearly fallen asleep, humming softly. “Hm? Is my slave feeling better?” He chuckled as Iroh nodded, rolling them over to loom over Iroh, nosing his way into his neck, kissing at the pale flesh. …I’ve gone completely soft…. I don’t know if he’d be okay with just cuddles or not…...I don’t want to disappoint….

Fuck, I ruined the moment…. “I’m… I’m sorry…” I took too long to calm down… Iroh felt his gut sink as tears started once more.

Damien looked up to him, immediately moving to cradle the man to his chest. “Iroh, love, it’s okay…. you’re allowed all the time in the world to calm down and feel better… It was long enough for me to go soft, but we can still have fun if you want…” Damien looked over his pale flesh, now looking bruised and battered. “….aren’t you sore? Look at you…” He held him more gently, his hand rubbing his hip lightly. “You're so bruised…”

Iroh shook his head, whimpering as he curled up to himself. “I’m sorry… I… I’m sorry Master…” I took too long… “I-I took too long… You…. you don’t want it..” He shook as he started to cry all over again. I fucked up so much…

“Iroh, love, I’m not master right now, don’t cry…” Damien curled around Iroh, rubbing his back soothingly as he cried. “Honey, please, it’s okay…. I’d still love to have you if you want to.” I just wanna make sure you want it…

“I don’t want you to stop…. please don’t stop… that… that was the best orgasm I think I’ve ever had…” I don’t want you to stop, because you’ll be gentle from now on.

Damien’s eyes went dark, feeling his blood beginning to flow south. “That good, hm? I’ll have to have you like that more often…” Damien moved to press Iroh into the bed, starting to nip roughly at his neck and suck marks into his skin. You like the rough and possessive sex, hm?

Iroh gasped as he was pressed to the mattress, turning his head to the side. I’ll give him more skin… “You… you won’t stop?” I don’t want him to…
“If you want it this rough and possessive every time, I’ll give it to you like that…” Damien looked up to him with black eyes, his voice velvet. “...would you like that?”

Iroh looked at him and eagerly nodded, reaching up to kiss his cheeks. “Pl-Please? I like having my Master back.” He giggled a bit as he felt rough hands on him, moaning out as they gripped his hips. I’m gonna have bruises for days...

Damien chuckled at Iroh’s eagerness, tugging him closer and going to deeply kiss him, his hands roaming freely all over his body. I’ve missed you....

Iroh relaxed, kissing him just as deeply before he started to wrap his thin limbs around him to try and get leverage. I wanna be in his lap, he... he'll play with my chest... we left all the toys in the storage unit... I don’t know what’s here anymore...

Damien panted softly when they broke apart, holding Iroh securely to his chest. “Iroh, love... where are all of our toys hiding?” I have some in mind...

Iroh flushed completely as he looked down a bit. “I-I left them at home in the... in the storage unit... I um... I think there might be some st-still downstairs...” I don’t think he took them when he left...

“Downstairs?” Damien smirked, kissing his cheek, standing with Iroh in his arms. “Show me?”

“The... the door next to the bathroom door...” Iroh clung to his front, holding onto him as Damien held onto his ass. Oh fuck it feels really nice...

Damien walked with him through the house, not minding his nudity. “Mm, you’ve been hiding your toys from me?” Damien reached the door, sliding it open, pausing when he looked into the room. “...Iroh...” .... Wow .

“Y-You were sleeping.... and and I thought I-I should clean up... I just cleaned the straps and and the bed... but I didn’t open the drawers to s-see what was here...” I don’t really know what’s here... Iroh was still clinging to Damien with every bit of strength he had in him, his body already starting to shake from the exhaustion.
Damien felt Iroh shaking from the exertion, moving into the room and slowly setting Iroh on the black leather bed, laying him down. “Relax for a minute, love…” Damien looked over to a dresser, opening the first drawer and moving a protective sheet of velvet aside that had been catching dust and keeping out bugs, seeing a large collection of dildos, cock rings, and anal beads. Wow. He set the cover back over the toys and slowly shut the drawer, opening the one under it, full of gags, handcuffs, different straps for the bed, and blindfolds, all in different colors and fabrics. “….this is all quite… extensive…” Wow. He opened the third, his eyes hungry as he looked over the many implements. Wow…. canes, whips, paddles… collars with spikes, collars with bells…. plugs…. some even have tails….

“I uhm….. I used to date someone who was really into Bds, and he got it for me… I guess he left everything here too…” I wonder if he’d be able to tell what I like? He squirmed a bit on the bed, rolling onto his side a bit awkwardly due to the curve of the bed which was natural for a human body laying back.

Damien slowly nodded, looking over the assortment, reaching in and picking up a small leather whip, the wide leather strips looking well-worn but still in perfect condition. “This looks well-used…” Damien showed him, chuckling as Iroh turned scarlet.

Iroh’s entire face flushed red as he nodded. “M-Master, I-I like that o-one…” He shifted on the leather bed so that his ass rested in the low dip, his upper body splayed out on the higher section, his legs at either side of the bed as well. I remember when he would tied me down and whip me until all he saw was red on my back…. That thought instantly got Iroh hard. Rubbing his leaking length against the soft leather under him.

Damien smirked, meandering over to him and gently rubbing his back, his hand going down the curve of his spine to his ass and up again. “Where do you like it, slave?”

“M-My back and m-my butt, M-Master.” I’m still stuttering, this is embarrassing...

“Alright, slave…” Damien moved to gently kiss his shoulder blade, the leather soon coming down on his ass, watching as Iroh whimpered. “This is going to be fun…”

Iroh shuddered as he heard his tone, closing his eyes and quieting down. Does… does he like the room? Is he gonna keep me here like…. like my past master did? He swallowed thickly, whimpering as he felt the soft sting on his lower back.

Damien looked him over, bringing the leather down onto his ass again, worried as Iroh’s whimpers got louder, stopping when Iroh didn’t stop and began to shake. “Iroh, honey, what’s wrong?”
Damien set down the toy, going to hold onto him, rubbing his back gently. “Is it too much, or is it something else? …bad memories?”

Iroh whimpered looking down and away from Damien as he stopped. “I-I’m sorry M-Master…”
I need to calm down…. “I-I’m okay….” He didn’t sound convincing as he sniffled, reaching to rub at his face.

Damien shook his head, moving Iroh gently to climb onto the bed as well, pulling Iroh into his lap, kissing all over his face as he shook. “It’s okay, love… take your time… ...do you wanna talk about it?”

Iroh looked at him with wide eyes, fear filling them as he looked down to Damien’s lap. But I can’t take my time… if I take my time we won’t end up doing anything… “I’m… I’m fine… p-promise, Master….”

Damien saw where he looked, shaking his head. “Honey, don’t worry about me… I want to keep going, but I only want to if you’re okay… I promise. Take your time, think and calm down, talk to me if you want or need to, and I’ll hold you the whole time….. okay?”

“Y-You won’t k-keep me here w-will you?” Not like him? You won’t force me to stay here?

“No, of course not… even if we get really into it, this place isn’t a prison…” Damien gently rubbed his back. “You’re free to stop whatever we do whenever it gets to be too much. Say the word and I’ll stop, untie you, bring you back up for a bath or a nap… when we’re in play, you’re my slave… and when you decide, I’ll be yours.” I’ll keep you safe and happy.

Iroh nodded, moving into Damien’s lap. “Can… can we do this? In here?” I want new memories… Iroh whined a bit as he pawed at his large chest, trying to entice him. I want another round… I don’t feel sick right now… I don’t wanna feel sick.

Damien chuckled as Iroh pawed at him, catching his wrist and going to kiss him deeply, moving Iroh onto the bed, soon breaking their lip lock. “Sit like you were before…..”

Iroh giggled a little, sitting back as he was and spreading his legs a bit further apart, so his ass cheeks were tight against each other. I want… I want him to do that to me… will he fuck me too?
Damien smirked, looking him over, the whip soon cracking on his ass, watching his cheeks jiggle as they began to turn red. “My beautiful slave…” He changed direction and lashed across his back, watching Iroh whimper, the sight making him slowly harden again. "I kinda like this…"

Iroh let out a loud sigh as his entire back was covered in red marks. “M-Master…” Fuck it feels nice… my body's really warm… really really warm…

“Yes, slave?” Damien lashed across his ass, soon reaching to massage one bruised cheek. What?

Iroh groaned in bliss as he was massaged. “Can… c-can you massage everyth-thing…” Fuck I want it, his hands feel so fucking good. “P-Please?”

“Of course…. will a nice hot soak help?” He smiled as Iroh nodded, scooping his husband into his arms. I love you.

“Can… can you massage… inside too?” I can feel your seed inside, and it's starting to come out… He gasped in bliss as Damien grabbed his asscheeks and held him like that on their walk to the bathroom.

“Of course…” Damien brought him upstairs to the bathroom, stepping into the hot spring and sinking into the water with him, settling the man in his lap with his legs spread over his lap. His hands went first to his entrance, letting two fingers slip inside. I'll clean you out first…

Oh fuck the hell yes. Iroh picked his knees up to curl them to the side as his toes curled up as well. I need it, oh it feels so good… “Hmm, can you reach farther?”

“Mhm…” Damien moved a bit to press further into him, smirking as Iroh began to cling tighter, feeling up his soft walls, coaxing out his release. “Mm, you’re so warm…."

“Hmm, you made me like this… can you fix it?” Iroh looked at him with devilishly innocent eyes, spreading his legs as wide as he could to show off his hole. I want him, I really really want him inside again…

Damien smirked, slowly moving him over his length, reaching for a bottle of lube they had tucked away on the shelf. He slicked himself up quickly, looking up at Iroh. “I think I know what’ll help….“
Iroh nodded eagerly, biting his lip a bit to look interested. I want it... I really really want it. “I’ll trust you...”

“Good...” Damien let Iroh sink into him, gently rocking his hips as their hips met. “Good... taking me so well...”

Iroh moaned loudly, his toes curling and flexing as he was rocked on Damien’s length. I want him to fuck me... “Am... Am I being a good boy, M-Master?” I need to be a good boy for him, I’ll be his good boy...

“Mm, yes, you are... you’re being very good for your Master...” Damien turned them, letting Iroh slip off of him, flipping him over so he knelt on the bench, his ass above the water as he bent over the edge of the pool. Damien stood, sliding right back into him, starting a fast pace even in the water. Mine... all mine...

Iroh gasped as he was entered suddenly, feeling warmth pool in his gut and in the back of his head. I need to lay down after this... He moaned loudly as he was slammed into, shaking a bit as he held onto the edge, trying to keep his knees from spreading too far.

Damien moaned as the pleasure built, soon grinding into Iroh as he came, moaning deeply. Oh fuck... Iroh’s own cries echoed in the room before he slumped, Damien pulling him into his arms, petting him. “How was that, honey? Feeling good?”

Iroh nodded, his head spinning, his chest and the edge below him covered in his own cum. He was breathing hard as he looked back to Damien. Fuck, I feel really warm... Iroh started to cough again, his whole body shaking as his illness came back to bite him.

Damien realized what was happening, gently lifting him out of the bath. “Let’s get you in a proper bath, love...” Damien went to turn on the large tub, filling it with cool water, setting Iroh on a stool and beginning to massage his legs and feet while they waited. I’ll keep you as comfortable and happy as I can...

Iroh groaned as he was massaged, letting out quiet groans of pain as he felt the sting settle into his muscles. It hurts... “Fuck, it really hurts... but in a good way...”
“Good…” Damien smirked, careful to dig out the knots in his thighs and calves, careful as he massaged his feet, soon kissing the sole of his left foot, then his right. “I love you…” Damien soon reached to pick him up, climbing into the cool bath with him in his arms, sinking in. *Fuck, cold… *at least Iroh will be more comfortable here.

Iroh sighed in relief at the cool water, leaning back into his chest. “Hmm… how bruised am I going to be?” Probably a lot… hmm, well I don’t need to go anywhere at all really right now, which is good...

“Probably very…” Damien continued to massage him, soon enough carrying a well massaged, washed, and very tired Iroh to bed, lying down with him, sighing deeply. ….France soon...

The next three days were a blur, Damien reviewing French on his phone every moment he could, doing his best to remain calm and diplomatic. ….I can do this. And Iroh is okay…. ….he’s gonna be okay.....

...My head is still killing me which is just making my temper come alive. I think I’ve snapped at five people now... Iroh sighed as he and Tomaki walked into a host club, beautiful men and women alike sitting with their customers, bowing their heads in respect to him, and the newer employees respectfully doing the same. Time to get this book sorted out… the numbers I have aren’t right…  I want Damien to come back home… his bruises are starting to fade...

Damien was relieved when everything went smoothly, more than content to read the paper on the plane ride back to Japan, pleased with himself as he needed his flash cards less and less to read the Kanji. I’m getting better… He made it through all the headlines and more than three-quarters of it before they had to disembark, glad to have been undisturbed, anxious to be home. I want to go home and see Iroh… I want my welcome-home kiss.

Iroh was still out and interrogating the host club’s manager and owner, showing them the numbers they were given and then the ledger and showing them how it didn’t add up. ^Explain yourselves, or I’ll put someone new and less incompetent in charge.^ Iroh gave them a proper tongue lashing as he smacked each of them before turning to leave. *^You have 48 hours to come up with the missing 1,125,000 ¥.^

Damien walked towards his home when he was dismissed, entering the house and finding it silent. He did a complete walkthrough of the home and found it completely empty, trying to relax and going to change. This collar is too tight. He was soon in the kitchen in a yukata, making tea. They have really good tea here, I have to admit....
Iroh came in not even an hour later to the scent of cookies and tea. He pulled off his shoes at the front door and then started to loosen his tie as he walked towards the kitchen. “Damien?” Is he home? Or is it someone else?

“Iroh?” Damien stopped what he was doing, immediately coming to the front hall and embracing his husband, kissing him deeply. “…I missed you. Are you okay?” He looked worried, looking him over. I don’t see any bruises…. are they hidden?

Iroh smiled, breathing in deeply as they kissed. “Hmm, I’m in need of a nap, a massage and some hickeys…” He leaned forward, nuzzling into his chest. Fuck, I wanna be covered in his marks again. Iroh unbuttoned the first couple buttons on his shirt, slowly showing the fading marks bellow his neck. Hmm… I smell Assam tea...

Damien looked down, smirking and going to gently kiss Iroh’s neck, his hands catching the smaller man’s. “Hm, let’s get you full of snacks first, okay? I don’t want my cookies and tea to go to waste….” They’re really good."

Iroh’s face was flushed as he let out a small gasp from the attention his neck received. “Hmm, is it Assam?” That’s what it smells like… He pulled off his suit coat, letting it hang on the arm of the couch, setting his tie there as well. I want this shirt off…

“It is… good guess.” Damien watched as Iroh shed his shirt, pulling him close and running a hand up his back. Mine. “Let’s go….” He walked with him to the kitchen, lifting Iroh up and setting him on a seat at the counter, comforted for a moment by his familiar weight. I’ll get you food."

Iroh sighed softly, leaning his head against the table and watching him make food. “How was France? Aniki wasn’t hard on you, was he?” I hope not… we need him to like you...

“He was rather impressed, actually…. the man he was making the deal with, Mr. Reveille, was curious about his new bodyguard and ended up chatting with me most of the time… apparently I’m entertaining to talk to. He seemed pretty happy the entire time… which made negotiations a lot less tense, and made him want to bring out the good liquor.” Damien smirked, kissing the top of Iroh’s head as he set down a small plate in front of him, as well as a small platter with tea and other things. “Do we have any silver polish?” I want to do something productive...

Iroh shook his head, picking up a cookie and eating it. “Almost everything in this house is porcelain… don’t bother with the few things that are silver…” I’m surprised you even found the silver tray.
“I like the silver…. but okay.” Damien sat next to him, nudging his feet under the table. He took a sip of his tea, smiling when Iroh went for another cookie. “Are they any good?”

Iroh smiled as he bit into them. “No, they’re terrible… make me a new batch…” He pulled the plate of cookies towards him. I want a lot of cookies… these are awesome, you haven’t made these ones in forever…

Damien chuckled, standing and heading back to the kitchen. “Then it’s a good thing I have another bowl of batter mixed… you interrupted my placing on the tray. How dare you.”

Iroh gasped, taking a cup of tea and sipping from it quietly. “I sent Tomaki on an errand run, and he’s coming back with food…” I’m hungry… even though ‘dinner’ was hours ago…

Damien chuckled, spooning more dough onto the tray in little balls. “I see you’re prepared for second dinner, then. I hope you told him to bring enough for me too…” Food would be nice…

“I did, don’t worry, I hope you like fresh sushi…” I made him get a fuck ton of it from the place I like…

“That’s more than okay with me.” Damien smirked, soon setting the tray in the oven, starting to wash the dishes he’s used for cooking. I’m hungry… He looked up as he heard knocking on the door. “I’ll let him in.” Damien dried off his hands as he walked, smiling when he saw Tomaki. “Hello- come in, come in.” Damien moved out of his way, his voice soft. “Thank you for keeping Iroh safe.” I was worried….

Tomaki smiled as he came in, carrying two bags on each arm with take out boxes as well as carrying three large trays of sushi. “No problem at all, are you eating in the kitchen or the dining area?”

“Dining area!” Iroh’s shout came from the dining area and where he was munching on cookies and drinking tea, having already gotten out two sets of chopsticks. He’s gonna learn how to use them…

Damien let Tomaki go ahead, following, sighing softly as he saw Iroh with chopsticks. “You’re about to make a big deal out of this, aren’t you?”
“Yes.”

“Even though I already know how to use chopsticks?”

“But do you really know? Your abilities will now be tested…” I want to make sure, because you’re not touching a fork for anything here...

Damien sighed and nodded, giving Tomaki a look as the man chuckled. “I can use chopsticks just fine.” Damien sat next to Iroh, thanking Tomaki as he set down plates in front of them. He picked up his chopsticks and easily picked up a piece of sashimi, looking over to Iroh as he chewed, giving him a look. Don’t question me and my abilities.

Iroh raised an eyebrow as he picked up the next piece, watching him almost fumble it. “Hmm…. sure…” He was quick to grab the pieces he wanted as well as open up a box of tempura shrimp and start to grab those as well to eat. “Thank you Tomaki!” He called as he heard the door open and then slide shut. He heard me...

“Mhm. Totally a pro.” Damien popped the piece into his mouth, trying to get a piece of shrimp, making a face when he couldn’t manage after two tries. “Oh come on…” Damien gave Iroh a look as the man snatched the piece out from under his chopsticks, reaching to pull the man close and leaning forward to snatch the piece from his lips with his teeth, chewing triumphantly. Mine.

Iroh looked at him and shook his head. “I said you needed to use chopsticks, damnit!” That’s what you need to use! Not stealing food from me!

“But I wanted that piece…” Damien smiled cheekily, turning back and surprisingly managing to pick up a piece, eating with an arm still around Iroh. I love you.

Iroh smiled, leaning into him and finishing off his plate rather quickly. I need more food… a lot more food… He made another plate for himself, the first container of sushi almost gone as he did so. I’m starving, probably because I couldn’t eat much when he was gone...

Damien was happy to eat with him, managing the chopsticks well enough to tug playfully on a piece of food Iroh had already picked up. “Aw, but I wanted that one…”

“Fuck no, it’s my food… off.” Down boy…. my food, I will shank you if you steal my food. Iroh took proper control of the piece of shrimp and started to eat it, glaring at Damien. My food.

Damien was stunned, backing off, nervously taking his arm back from around his middle. “Sorry…” Damien went quiet, silently eating. …fucking hell, I thought he was okay with that…

Iroh watched his reaction, his eyes widening and looking down at his plate feeling guilt roll in his stomach instantly. Fuck…. I snapped at him. He sighed quietly setting his chopsticks down and rubbing at his temple as he stared at the food. I should get meds… I’m even snapping at him now, shit.

Damien saw how Iroh’s mood shifted, setting his chopsticks down, turning and hugging him gently, kissing his cheek. “….I love you….” Please don’t be mad at me…

Iroh smiled softly, leaning into his arms and chest. “I’m sorry… I-I didn’t mean to snap… my head hurts…” He whimpered a bit as he curled up more to him. I want my head to not hurt…

Damien nodded, gently petting him. “Let me go get you some aspirin, honey…” Damien stepped down from his stool, soon running back from the bathroom with a bottle of pills, dumping two into Iroh’s hand. “I’ll get you water, too…”

Iroh nodded, accepting the pills and starting to take them, taking the glass when it was offered to him. “Thank you.” I like this… this is nice… he’s getting me what I need.

“Mhm.” Damien sat next to him again, letting Iroh curl into his side, still eating. I’m still hungry…  “I eat a lot slower than you with these chopsticks involved…” Dammit. ….I’ll get better soon.

“Tis’ why I said your skills would be challenged…” Iroh smiled softly, grabbing a shrimp with his fingers. I get to use my fingers…

Damien poked at his fingers with the chopsticks. “Hey, you’re cheating….” Damien picked up another piece, offering it to Iroh. I can feed you too….

“I said you had to use chopsticks… I never said I had to use them.” Iroh ate the piece he was given, enjoying it. “Hmm, are you gonna feed me?... oh, you need to write what you want for whoever we’re sending something to.” I can do that…
“I’ll write it when we’re both done eating… and of course I’ll feed my husband…” Damien chuckled as Iroh turned scarlet, eating another piece of shrimp, picking his way through every plate and feeding Iroh whenever he opened his mouth for food. I love you.

Iroh was happy to put a few leftovers away. “Write what you need to and I’ll send it to get mailed…” I can get it tomorrow when I go to get money from the businesses...

Damien nodded, heading to the office and getting out a few sheets of good paper, thinking for a while before beginning to write. ....Lathe will know enough to tell everyone. But this’ll take a little while to explain...
